Since the days of the harpsichord the piano has stood in innumerable homes, closed and mute, a silent witness to the lack of skilled hands to coax forth its melodies—a locked treasure chest to a multitude of music lovers. But at last a key to unlock its treasures has been found.

any piano perfectly.
This device, the Chase & Baker Piano-Player, has a complete mas-tery over the piano, and plays any composition under the guiding hand of the operator with faultiess accuracy. It is, in fact, a skilled musician without a soul, affording to anyone the power to render a piece with the precision of a prac-ticed pianist. And the greater the operator's skill and taste, the more beautiful will be the interpretation. The Chase & Baker Plano-Player is pre-eminently perfect in con-struction and in operation. It can-not play a false note, it never slurs, but plays always with abso-lute precision and certainty of

AFGHAN UNREST IS INCREASING

Looking for Kitchener's Arrival in India—Death of a Royal Soldier.

London, Monday, Nov. 17 .- A dispatch to the Daily Express from Calcutta says that there is considerable unrest in Afghanistan, which is increasing. The brothers of the Ameer are intriguing at Delhi. The military maneuvers are likely to be postponed for these reasons, and an army corps will be held in readiness to move to the frontier in case of necessity. The arrival of Gcn. Lord Kitchener, who will assume supreme command of the troops in India, is awaited with some impatience.

ROYAL SOLDIER DEAD. Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar died here this morning. He was born near London in 1825, and was married morganatically in 1851 to Lady Augusta Gordon-Lennex. He entered the Brit-ish army in 1841, served in the principal battles of the Crimea, commanded the Home and Southern army districts at various times, and was for the five years preceding 1890 commander of the forces in Ireland. He was colonel of the First Life Guards, and was created field marshal in 1897.

"A STORY OF WATERLOO"

Theatricals at Sandringham Palace-

Notable Event of Kaiser's Visit. Sandringham, England, Nov. 17.-The Sandringham, England, Nov. 17.—The theatrical performance given on Saturday night at Sandringham House was the crowning event of the German Emperor's visit to England. The invited guests began to assemble at 9:30 o'clock in the theater, which has accommodation for 250 theater, the strains of gan to assemble at 9:30 o'clock in the theater, which has accommodation for 250 persons. At 9:50 o'clock the strains of the National Anthem announced the coming of the King and Queen, the German Emperor and the Prince of Wales and the royal family. Sir Conan Doyle's one-act drama, "A Story of Waterloo," was presented, in which Sir Henry Irving, Lionel Beimore, Benjamin Webster and Mabel Hackney sustained the principal parts. At the end of this piece, Arthur Bourchier, assisted by Gerald Biron, H. B. Warner and Violet Van Brugh then presented Leo Trevor's play, "Doctor Johnson." Both plays were heartily received. King Edward then commanded Sir Henry Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Bourchier (Miss Violet Van Brugh) to take supper with the royal party. Sir Henry Irving had the time to change from his theatrical costume into evening dress, but the King insighted the Rourehier evening dress, but the King insight of the Rourehier of the strain costume into evening dress, but the King insisted that Bourchier should attend the supper still attired in his costume representing the corpulent Dr. Johnson.

TO BOYCOTT STREET CARS

Labor Element of Schenectady is Aroused.

The Movement Involves All the Businessmen of the City.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 17 .- The first test of the strength of the boycott against the Schenectady Railway by the trades assembly, representing practically the entire labor element of this city, will come this evening, at the close of the work day in the General Electric Works and the local plant of the American Locomotive Company. At this time, the lines of the railway are usually crowded with passengers, but this evening, according to the claims of the trades assembly, there will not be a union man on the cars. The boycott is to be extended to the merchants of the city, and it is declared that all such persons who use the lines of the company will be included in the boycott. Seventy-one men, one from each union, will watch the cars, and will be aided by others if necessary. Every union man found riding on cars will lose his union card. Every business man will be warned not to ride again and will be boycotted if the warning is disregarded. If any employe continues to ride after being warned his employer will be notified to discharge him. It has also been decided to extend the boycott to the use of gas and electric light, both of which are maintained and controlled by the Schenectady Railway Company. Members of the unions, business men and the general public will be asked not to use gas or electric light, and the trades assembly is considering petitioning the common council to cancel the contract which the company has for lighting the streets with arc lights. The trades assembly has arranged for the importation of 70 carryalls to carry men to and from work. The trades assembly officers state positively that it will not tolerate violence of any sort. There are about 250 motormen and conductors employed by the Schenectady Railway Company $2 60 a day, and the refusal of the company to insist that these men join a union is the cause of the boycott.

Shippers From South America Prove Powerful Rivals to U. S. Packers.

New York, Nov. 17.-The position of the beef trade in this country is in a very interesting state at the present moment, says a Tribune dispatch from London. Although smaller quantities of dead meat have been shipped refor the most part, of a double track cently from the United States, yet prices have not been maintained at all successfully by the great American houses in the Smithfield market.

This is on account of new competition from South American meat shippers, which has become to the great satisfaction of the English element in Smithfield, of a formidable nature. Finding they were prevented by the English Board of Agriculture from shipping cattle alive to England, the South American houses some months ago set to work in earnest to ship dead meat. At first they tried freezing it, but with poor success, for the cargoes came to market in much the same state as Australian frozen meat-hard and altogether outclassed by the American chilled beef. The latest shipment from South America, however, was, in the opinion of the market. practically as fine in condition as the American chilled beef, and it sold at prices only a shade below those of the American commodity. The problem if cheaper meat also is brought nearer to selution by the news that Argentina has agreed to accept the terms which the board of agriculture has so long stipulated for as the only condition upon which British ports could be re-opened to live stock from that country.

NOVA SCOTIA COAL

Shipments to the St. Lawrence This Season 1,200,000 Tons.

Halifax, Nov. 17 .- By the end of the present week the Dominion Coal Company will have sent 1,200,000 tons of coal to the St. Lawrence market this season. On Thursday night there were four steamers at the international pier, Sydney, and within 48 hours all were away, with aggregate cargoes of 17,-600 tons for Quebec and Montreal. The company have about five steamers to load for Montreal, and then shipments will cease for the year. The shipments to the St. Lawrence this year exceeded those of any previous year by 300,000 tons. Next year the company expects to beat this, and they have chartered six steamers, with a total tonnage of 60,000, to carry additional shipments. The company in-tends to ship coal from Sydney all winter, and it has secured a large ice plow to keep the harbor free from drift

Royalty's Interest in Charitable Work

Takes Tangible Form.

London, Nov. 17 .- The Bishop of London has ordered the prosecution of the Rev. Middleton Evans, vicar at St. Michael's, Shoreditch, for the introduction of Roman services into the regular liturgical use of the English Church. The bishop himself will be the prosecutor, under the church discipline act of 1840, and the services of aggrieved parishioners will be dis-pensed with. The Bishop of London by a single pointed protest has enforced discipline informally against Dean Fremantle for expressing heretical views respecting the incarnation, miracles and the resurrection. Fremantle at once shifted the responsibility for heresy upon the reporter who took notes of his address, but was subsequently left in an awkward position by the production of evidence that the report was submitted to him before publication. THE NEEDLEWORK SHOW. The interest which the royal family takes in all charitable undertakings shows itself constantly. It was particularly manifested at the show of the London Needlework Guild, where warm clothing collected for the poor of London was on exhibition. children of the Prince and Princess of Wales were liberal contributors, and an entire table was covered with the gifts of the youthful Princess Victoria of Wales and her brothers. The little lady had knitted several pairs of muffatees in pink wool. Here and there were traces of a stitch or two dropped and recovered with conscientious painstaking. One can imagine the chubby fingers wielding the needles and suddenly dropping the whole thing when some even of great nursery importance occurred. Prince Edward and Prince Albert crocheted comforters. All three had bought warm thinks for children out of their pocket money. Their father, the Prince of Wales, had contributed 600 articles. The King sent 59. The Princess of Wales' number amounted to more than 15,000. These same little princes at the present moment, quite without their knowledge, of course, stand in the way of the consummation of the King's proposal to transfer Osborne House and its grounds in the Isle of Wight to the nation as a convalescent home for consumptives. appears that Queen Victoria left the house and land as private property in strict entail to the sovereign and his heirs. The Prince of Wales has, of course, given his assent to the King's generous desires, but under the Queen's will his sons have rights which should be considered. The point will, it is expected, be raised in the House of Commons.

BULLET WAS A BOOMERANG

Deflected From the Revolver-Proof Cloth.

Bounded Back and Wounded the Inventor of the Material,

Chicago, Nov. 17 .- A flattened bullet deflected from a strip of revolverproof cloth nearly closed the career of Rev. Casimir Zeglen during a test of the resistive qualities of the fabric he has invented. The missile, which was fired point blank at a section of the cloth fastened to an oak plank, rebounded to the end of the hall, striking the ingenious Polish priest on the head and inflicting a scalp wound. The wound was dressed and the test proceeded. The accident was the more serious of two that occurred from deflected bullets. E. Welleck, who acted as marksman during the test, was also hit in the foot by a flying ball. Twenty business and professional men had gathered in Washington Hall to experiment with the impenetrable cloth, when it was discovered that a bullet might be transferred into a dangerous boomerang. The spectators had their eyes fixed on the piece of cloth that was to resist the force of gunpowder. Zegler stood to the rear of the group. Coincident with the sound of the first shot, the inventor uttered a cry and dropped to the floor. The others looked as he struggled to regain his feet with a seared expression on his face. He clapped his hand to his head, and a hurried examination was made by his assistant. It was found that the bullet had torn the scalp. A call was sent for an ambulance but he call was sent for an ambulance, but be-fore it arrived the wound had been dress-

The thickness of the fabric was a quarter of an inch, and its weight is half a pound to the foot. It diverted lead bullets from a 32 and 33-caliber revolver, readily sending the balls flying over the hall. A small indentation was made in the planking beneath, and the bullets showed the imprint of the weaving. Dents in some cases were made half an inch in depth. A heavier sample of cloth suitable for cuirasses was also subjected.

New York, Nov. 17. - An American special from Boston, Mass., says: There are signs of a revolt among the advanced Christian Scientists over Mrs. Eddy's ukase prohibiting healers from trying to cure contagious and infectious diseases. Some of the more prominent healers say that it is merely a matter of present expediency.

Mrs. Eddy refrains from statements.

But her personal mouthpiece here, Farlow, upholds her action. To the question how the Christian Science healers can tell if a patient is suffering from a contagious malady, Farlow said that they could tell as readily as a physician or any layman. We differ only in our mental recognition," said he, "and it is only in our mental recognition that our treatment applies. In our mental work we deny the reality of the malady, though in its physical aspect we recognize the "It is proper to call in a physician,"

Washington, D.C., Nov. 17.-Commander Seaton Schroder, naval governor of Guam, has sent to the Navy Department a detailed report of the damage in that island by the earthquake of Sept. 22. The disaster occurred in the daytime, and but one child was killed and a few of the townspeople of Agana were hurt. There was considerable loss of property, however, and funds are asked for to make the necessary immediate repairs. It is feared that the rented building used as a naval hospital is damaged beyond repair, and the sick are being cared for in a nearby chapel.

The Marine Corps fared worse, and $14,000 will be needed to repair their property. The public buildings of the islands suffered severely from the earthquake, and Commander Schroeder thinks the total cost of repairs on them will be $22. total cost of repairs on them will be $22,-100. RESULTS OF EARTHQUAKE SHOCK WHAT HE DEEMS A LIVING WAGE mguer Price of Coal Not Miners' Affair-Some of Baer's Statements Denied.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 17. - President Mitchell, of the Mine Workers' Union, occupied the witness stand throughout both sessions of the coal strike commission Saturday. For four hours and a half, he took the cross fire of two of the brilliant attorneys of the coal companies and ended the day with few scars as a result of the battle. David Wilcox, of New York, general counsel for the Deleware and Hudson Company, and Wayne MacVeagh, of Philadelphia, who is representing the Pennsylvania Coal Company and the Hillside Coal and Iron Company, were the personal questioners and they put hundreds of questions to Mr. Mitchell. The members of the commission frequently interrupted with questions. Mr. MacVeagh's cross-examination was, as a rule, very keen. He questioned Mr. Mitchell on the demand for an increase in wages, and pressed the national president hard when he asked him if he cared to carry the responsi-bility of increasing the living expenses of the great mass of our peo miners could not assume the responsibility, as it was a situation over which they had no control.

Mr. MacVeagh then took up the demand of the men for trade agreements, which practically means recognition of the union. He asked Mr. Mitchell what sort of a contract he would draw up and the latter replied that he would favor an agreement as outlined in his suggestions to the commission on Friday. Mr. MacVeagh declared that there was nothing in Mr. Mitchell's suggestions that the companies must enter into partnership with the United Mine Workers and inquired if that was one of the miners' demands. Mr. Mitchell answered that it was, whereupon Mr. MacVeagh said his company was endeavoring to ascertain and would continue to ascertain what reasons there were for attempting to compel them to enter into that agreement.

ple of the Eastern States who would ultimately have to carry the burden if the demands of the miners for higher wages were granted. Mr. Mitchell's reply, in substance, was that the

that the conditions as presented by Mr. MacVeagh were true, said he could not for lack of familiarity with the community, deny his assertions.

The question of an eight-hour day was then taken up. To the direct question of whether he, as president of the union, had a right to curtail the hours of employment each day of the miners. Mr. Mitchell said he thought he had, and made an explanation by saying that if one miner worked more than eight hours a day it would probably result in the other men being compelled to work the same number of hours.

During Mr. Mitchell's examination by Mr. Wilcox the fact was brought out that if the increase in wages was granted it would increase the expenses of the companies about $12,000,000 a year. In regard to child labor, Mr. Mitchell said he was in favor of a state law which would make the minimum age for a boy to go to work at the collieries 14 years instead of 12. He regarded as living wages for a miner not less than $600 a year.

Mr. Wilcox took up one of President Baer's statements, and Mr. Mitchell said that it was susceptible of several interpretations. "For instance," he said, "Baer is quoted as saying that slate-pickers received 85 cents a day. That may be true in some cases, but we know that that amount." All this week will probably be taken up by the presentation of the miners' case. Mr. Mitchell may be on the stand several days.

ANOTHER ANSWER TO THE MINERS. Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—The statement of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Com- Company, of Kingston, has issued pany, submitted to the anthracite coal strike commission, now in session at Scranton, Pa., in answer to the demands of the miners, was made public here today. The document says: "The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company owns and controls about 1,400 acres of coal lands

As to mniers' claims for better wages, document states that in 1901 for a day

> As the outcome of his efforts a meeting was called to organize a branch of the Socialist-Labor Brotherhood. About 30 attended. In the midst of the proceedings, Organizer Gonzale made some uncomplimentary references to King Edward. A north end German demanded an apology, and when this was not forthcoming, taunted Gonzale with having several unsettled bills, and referred to him as a "Yankee renegade." The meeting broke up in wild confusion, the organizer being forcibly ejected from the hall and warned to make himself scarce in the neighborhood hereafter.

EVERYTHING WENT. Terrific Explosion of 2,400 Pounds of Ammonia-Firemen Powerless to Check the Flames.

ARMOUR'S BIG PACKING PLANT

Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 17.-The big plant of Armour & Co., which occupied three and a half acres of ground at the extreme south end of the stockyards district, was totally destroyed by fire which started at 12:50 o'clock yesterday morning, on the second floor of the fertilizer building. The loss, estimated by Chas. W. Lennox, manager of the company, is total, or $900,000. The insurance is $721,500. The cause of the fire was said by Mr. Lennox :0 have been either spontaneous combustion or an imperfect dryer. Quickly the Armour private fire department was called out, and the entire city department followed. By 1:20 o'clock six streams of water were being thrown upon the fire, which was destroying the fertilizing building, but the pressure was inadequate.

The fertilizer building, which was of brick, 120x60 feet, four stories high, was located between the beef killing house and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway tracks on the east. The floors and contents of the building burned like chaff.

At 1:25 o'clock the roof fell in, and a moment later the fire burst through into the beef killing house. Simultaneously the cattle chute ignited, and lasted about five minutes, when it fell with a great crash. From the beef killing house to the oleomargarine building was only a step, and when the lard was ignited the fire presented a most spectacular appearance. The big beef house, where 500 carcasses were hanging, caught fire at 2 o'clock. By this time the entire plant, except the hog house, was a lake of fire. The roar was terrible. The country for miles around was lighted up. TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Suddenly there came a terrific explosion, followed quickly by another and then another. Twenty-four drums of 100 pouds of ammonia each exploded before the reserve supply in the ammonia cistern was reached. That ignition almost razed the entire plant from its foundation. At 2:30 o'clock the flames burst through the heavy fire wall that sep-arated the big hog house from the other buildings. The hog house was the last building to the north and the largest of all. Steadily the fire crept grinding rooms of the Gananoque

> After the fire got a good headway in After the fire got a good neadway in the hog house all hope of saving any part of the plant was abandoned. The shops, chicken packing plant, ice houses and ice runway and smaller department houses were consumed in quick succession. At 3 o'clock the fire continued with unchecked fury. The efforts of the firemen seemed without result. The terrible roaring continued unabated. High brick walls crumbled and fire walls were absolutely value

From a spectacular view the fire was a magnificent sight. At 3:25 o'clock the fire department had given up the fight. It was apparent that all its efforts were useless, and the entire plant would be destroyed. The fire continued to burn all day, and in the afternoon there was another terrific explosion, which threw bricks and pieces of iron for hundreds of yards, endangering thousands of spectators, but no one was seriously hurt.

OTHER DESTRUCTIVE FIRES.

New York, Nov. 17.—Scores of men and women whose names are familiar in society strove in vain to save from the flames the old home of the poet, William Cullen Bryant, at Roslyn, L. I. All the furnishings of the house, including rare paintings and some valuable contents were destroyed.

LUNATICS AT SANDRINGHAM. Sensational stories were current at Sandringham regarding the arrest of suspicious individuals in the neighborhood of the royal residence. As she noticed Holden standing on the edge of the walk she stepped up to him and struck him on the jaw with force enough to lay him on the pavement, at the same time remarking: "I understand, Charley Holden, you say I am not a decent woman. Take that." Holden crawled to his feet, and be fore he collected his senses he had been given another punch which sprawled him in the mud. Holden then flew up an alley, while hundreds of Operation Early Next Year. New York, Nov. 17.-An innovation on the Chicago-Detroit trains on the compartment sleepers in place of the straight sleepers formerly used on this run. The new compartment sleepers, the Harrisburg and the Petersburg, are now in use daily, and the change is a welcome one to the passengers. The rates have not been raised with the change, and the accommodations are much better than ever before. The two compartment sleepers are two of the most beautiful cars on wheels, and have just been turned out of the shops. They are extra long and have eleven compartments, each containing lower and upper berths. All but one of these compartments are double and arranged en suite for convenience in family travel. Each room is arranged with wash bowl accommodation, and the wall opposite the berth is completely mirrored, the glasses being beautifully beveled and costly. The wash bowl is of the folding variety, and when closed resembles a small dresser. In fact, each compartment is like a stateroom in a steamer, and the berths are much more comfort-in dark mahogany, as is also the entire interior of the coach, and the frect is beautiful. The compartment car service is destined to be a very popular move, being so far in advance of the straight sleeper as to make the permanent substitution of the new cars necessary after the patrons of the road become accus-tomed to them. London, Monday Nov. 17. A Constitutional Sovereign.

King Edward's active interest in public affairs is the subject of much comment. London Truth asserts that he is determined to be as much a King as George the Third. This is merely Labouchere's cynicisms. George the Third or the present German Emday. One has only to contrast the auwielded by George the Third with that allowed to Edward the Seventh, to realize the tremendous polit-Ical progress of Great Britain in less than a century. George the Third not only reigned, but governed. During the greater portion of his reign he practically chose his own advisers and controlled the foreign and domestic policy of the nation. He constantly intrigued with public men; he formed a King's party in Parliament and the country, and openly passed around the word when he wished measures to be killed. He prevented Pitt from adopting Catholic emancipation and exacted pledges of obedience from his ministers. He was responsible for the American revolution and for prolonging the war when his cabinet would have made peace. He interfered in every department of state. He was an undisguised Tory and fought the Whigs as zealously as any Tory leader. One of King Edward's highest qualifications is the even balance he has always maintained among all parties. Whatever his political sympathies may have been he has never revealed them by word or deed and as Prince of Wales was on terms of intimate friendship with public men of all shades of opinion. He has been even more careful in this respect than was his lamented mother, who, though a model constitutional monarch, showed strong personal preferences. It is natural and desirable that the King should seek to cultivate an intelligent interest in the affairs of state. Statesmen who served under the late Queen have testified to their indebtedness to her wise counsel in many important matters. The King is a man of excellent judgment. and mature experience, and no doubt his Ministers welcome his advice; but his power in respect to public questions is merely advisory. Mr. E. S. Clouston's annual address as president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, has attracted wide attention. As general manager of the Bank of Montreal, Mr. Clouston speaks with the highest authority on the business conditions of the country. The prosperity enjoyed since 1897 continues unabated, and he sees no clouds on the horizon "save perhaps an undue and speculative desire for financial expansion to anticipate the profits that still lie in the future." He points out that railway earnings, clearing house returns, figures of foreign commerce, the failure list, bank statements, in a word, all the tests by which the material conditions of a country are Judged, indicate that Canada is experiencing an exceptionally high degree of prosperity. Every Canadian knows this, but it is a pleasant story and can hardly be repeated too often. The particular value of Mr. Clouston's address is in that portion which deals with the Canadian banking system in its relation to the present commercial development. The assets of Canadian banks have increased within a year from $553,900,000 to $610,928,000. Ten years ago they were only $291,000,000. The rest account in the past year has increased from $36,903,000 to $41,130,-000. Note circulation, a very accurate measure of the activity of a country's business, has jumped from $34,000,000 ten years ago to $56,000,000, a year ago. Public deposits in 1892 were $161,000,-000: now they are $359,800,000-a ratio of increase truly marvelous, Mr. Clouston says, when contrasted with the size of the population and its com paratively slow increase. Commercial loans are $110,000,000 larger than in Canadian bankers are authorized to paid-up capital. During this autumn they have nearly reached the limit of their note circulation, and the question of providing against a shortage of currency system should be undertaken. He believes that any legislation looking to the provision of easy facilities for inflating the currency will weaken the stability of the banks and tend to impair the system which has been es- secretary of the Ontario Bureau of tablished. He goes on to say:

"It has been suggested that banks steady usage, producing sufficient fuel be permitted to issue circulation to for the town, with some over for shipthe extent of their paid-up capital ment;" and this official says, further: and their reserve fund or a portion "With this plant in successful operaof it. To base circulation on a rest account would be a departure, and and most elastic systems in the witness very general activity in peat world. Viewing the fact that the fuel manufacturing banking capital during the past 25 years has practically remained stationary, the remedy seems simple. If we do not choose to adopt it, then it should always be possible in emergencies to obtain notes from the Government by deposits of gold or Dominion notes, but this does away with the elasticity of the system, and if indulged in to any great extent will inevitably lead to periods of aggravated financial stringency, such as are not uncommon with our neighbors across the line. The opening of branches in hitherto unoccupied districts in the Northwest (by facilitating the deposits of currency) will relieve the tension to some degree, but if Canada advances as we hope and expect she will I am afraid it is only a question of time when we may be brought face to face with the same expected of it.

If Mr. Clouston's conservative views prevail, there will be no apprehension as to the stability of the Canadian banking system, which has no superior in the world. It has easily weathered the financial cyclones which periodically sweep over the United States, the party.' and which have naturally some reflex influence in Canada, but it is now being subjected to a new test-the test of an unprecedented commercial expansion.

Whitney and Sutherland.

The Brantford Expositor, referring to Mr. Whitney's London speech, says he has convicted himself of wholesale slander, as there is not a particle of evidence to support his charge that an organized attempt had been made to steal or destroy one or more ballots in every polling division in the Province 'If these charges are true, why have the Conservatives abandoned all their protests against Liberals save in two constituencies?" the Expositor asks. 'Mr. Whitney must accept either one of two horns of a dilemma. If there was ballot tampering in every constituency, and he knew of it, by not entering petitions, or by consenting to 'sawoffs,' he has become a party to the same. If, on the other hand, he was a party to no such bargaining, then the petitions were not entered or were abandoned for want of evidence with The clothes she wore a year ago which to support any charge of

P., at the Whitney ban-land, Would now look out of place and queer, would now look out of place and queer, would now look out of place and queer, voted for him. He and his friends canvassed Liberals with professions of independence, and secured some Liberal support. There was, therefore, nothing strange in suggestions coming from Liberal sources that Mr. Sutherland was free to do as he had agreed, and even to reflect in the Legislature the political complexion of the riding which he had been elected to reprasent The Sentinel-Review continues:

"If anyone has approached Mr. Sutherland corruptly, by all means let us know the particulars. Vague insinuations with the object of discrediting the Ross Government will not do. He ought to know that the Government is not responsible for loose talk which may for loose talk which may have been indulged in by local parties. When Mr. Sutherland compares the Ross Government to Tammany, he offers an insult to the Lib eral party, and belies the sions of independence and fairness which he made in order to secure Liberal votes. Mr. Sutherland has surely been ill-advised in making this grave charge against the Ondovernment and in heaping abuse on its friends. Nor is he well advised in discussing at this stage the events I his own election trial, when he is not kimself out of the woods. Our own belief is that honors are easy between some parties who were try ing to secure evidence for this trial, and those who were trying to destroy the evidence which there was to be had. No one ought to know better than Mr. Donald Sutherland what the operations of the old Conservative legal machine have been in this district for months past. And he himself and two friends went to a hotel where the latter made most reprehensible efforts to influence the evidence of one of the witnesses Modesty should have prevented Mr. Sutherland from at this stage discussing the trial, and indulging in sweeping denunciations of the Ontario Government and of Liberals 'From a professedly independent candidate, Mr. Donald Sutherland, M. P. P., seems to have drifted very rapidly into an extreme and violent partisan. We confess that we dil not expect it of him.

STORY OF CAPTURED SPY

How British Slaughtered the Mad Muliah's Men.

More Spearmen Fell in Recent Fight Than Could Be Counted.

Birberar, Nov. 17 .- A captured spy is authority for the statement that the Mad Mullah's losses in the recent battle were 150 riflemen killed and 200 wounded. His losses in spearmen were so numerous that it was impossible to count them.

General Manning has issued an order to the Somailland expeditionary force, advising officers to take three months' independent reserve supplies. The difficulties attending the coliec long screed abusing the Dominion tion of transport and the making of Government for refusing to grant a commissariat arrangements are caus ing delay in the advance, as it is impossible to rely upon local supplies for food or transport. General Manning will be unable to march until the ar baren tract it seems to suppose and rival of supplies, as the country is without resources, although the Somali tribes are not unwilling to render as-

As the units of the field force arrive, General Manning will disband a portion of the Somali levies, retaining only a picked body for service as mounted infantry.

The position of the Mullah, who necessarily profits by the delay in the advance, makes protracted operation inevitable. Since Col. Swayne retreated from Mudug the Mullah has advanced his outposts to within a few miles of Bohotle, and his spies and scouts make daily reconnal ances of the position of the garrison. The Mullah possesses 2,000 rifles,

Maxim and large quantities of ammunition. His men's rifles are mostly of modern French make, coming from Jibutil, but there are some Martinis and a few Lee-Metfords and Mausers among them. Besides his riflemen, the Mullah is accompanied by 15,000 spearmen, and has at hand reserve supplies of camels up fine dis aftuhnoon an' I hates to and sheep. According to native accounts, he is now issuing bombastic manifestoes.

FORTS ON THE LAKES

United States Projects for Defense Inland Sea Ports.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 .- Projects for the defense of the great lakes and the St. Lawrence River are under consideration by the war department. It is planned that eventually strong fortifications shall guard the numerous important cities on these inland seas. Although the first plans for this defense was outlined nine years ago, the protection of the insular posses-sions is now considered more important, and unless Congress should be more liberal than is expected, all the money available during the next few years will be invested in the installation of coast defense in the Philippines, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the numerous naval stations of the United States throughout the world.

Gen. Gillespie, chief of engineers of the army, and a board of engineer officers, last summer, made a tour of the great lakes and considered their defense. They went from the Straits of Mackinac down Lake Michigan to The straits connect Lakes Huron and Michigan, and are wholly within the jurisdiction of the United States, a valuable strategic position to which, however, there is an easy approach from the Canadian side. With the straits strongly fortified it would be a difficult matter for a fleet to enter Lake Michigan.

The Welland Canal, connecting Lakes Ontario and Erie, is another point which will be fortified in course of time, and its defense will be an outer protection of Cleveland, Buffalo, Sandusky and other cities.

HYPNOTISM BLAMED

As the Cause of the Rabe-Busche Scandal at Omaha.

Omaha, Neb. Nov. 17. - Rev. Thos. Anderson, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, yesterday received a letter, anonymous as to signature, in which the writer declares that he has reason believe that Rev. W. C. Rabe and Miss Augusta Busch were hypnotized. The couple were found dead on the floor of the pastor's study of the German Baptist Church, Wednesday morning, Nov. 5. The anonymous writer asserts that on the night of Nov. 4, he stopped at a saloon on his way home to get a glass of beer. While drinking a friend dropped in, laughing wildly. Upon the writer's positive pledge that would not divulge a secret, the friend told the writer that he had hyp-notized a man and woman, both of whom were very religious, and who scouted his powers of hypnotism pelled the couple to play all kinds of tricks, and then put them to sleep on the floor in each other's arms. He ask-ed his friend how long he intended to let the couple sleep, and the friend responded, "About an bour," and said he had turned off the gas so no one could see them and cause gossip, and was then going back to bring them out of

AILSA CRAIG BURGLARS

Desperadoes Threaten to Shoot Constable-Citizens Join the Hunt.

Ailsa Craig, Nov. 16.-Three daring burglaries were committed here this orning between 4 and 5 o'clock. The perpetrators were three unknown men pposed to be tramps. C. R. Watcher's welry store was entered and $100 worth of goods taken, while ready-made clothing, hats, etc., were stolen from White & May's drygoods establishment. They also broke into the Queen's Hotel and extracted about $2 in silver from the till and carried away considerable of the bottled liquor. They were discovered at White & May's store, and word was sent to Constable Priestly, who was soon on the scene. He overtook them on the railway track just east of the town, but they turned on him and threatened to shoot him. The odds were too great against him and the men got away. He succeeded, however in obtaining the clothing and the liquor. Citizens and constables are now scouring the country in search of them. Up to the present no trace of them has been found.

DREADFUL WEEK IN OLD LONDON

Sensational Murder by the Girl Oom Paul Kruger Tells Why Kitty Byron.

Killing His Servant-Other

Dark Deeds.

London, Nov. 17.-Every day during of fresh murders, besides murder trials, the execution of the law on some three or four murderers, and numerous suicides and attempted suicides. No other murder, however, was so sensational as that by a girl named Kitty Byron, of a member of the stock exchange, named Baker. Then great interest was taken in what is known as the Crown Inn poison mystery, a barmaid, Maud Marsh, who had been living with the proprietor of the inn, the medical testimony, been poisoned with arsenic in her daily food. This case is still in the coroner's stage and seems likely to be a very protracted business.

Still more ghastly has been the trial of a Sunday school superintendent, William Gardiner, charged with the murder of a servant, Rose Harsent, who was found with her throat cut, in a room, which had been set afire with the evident intention consuming her body. The evidence in this trial was most sickly, but it has come to a standstill for the present the jury disagreeing, which means prisoner will have to remain in jail till he comes up to be retried next January.

On Wednesday seven tragedies were investigated by the police and coroners' courts of London. In one case two young men fought over a girl; one of them killed the other. A man named William Lewis was charged with killing his young daughter while he was under the influence

Willful murder was the verdict returned against a man named Brown, who killed his wife after most brutal torture. He made three deliberate attempts to kill her before he succeeded. The verdict of willful murder was also returned against a 20-year-old girl named Ida Kirk for killing her child. Pressed hard to reveal the name of the father of her murdered infant, the girl said she loved him too much, and bravely re-fused to tell, saying she would rather die. Another story of love and hate was revaled by the coroner's court. A young soldier named Murcutt, just returned from the war, fell in love with a girl who already had a suitor. She transferred her love to the soldier, who has been found shot. Still another case has a pathetic side A school teacher struck a boy, with ac-cidentally fatal results. When the police went to arrest him, he was found dead He had swallowed cyanide of potassium.

This year has indeed been a most remarkable one for murders, there having been almost twice as many as last year.

MANY CRIMINALS GO INSANE.

A report read at a recent meeting of the Academy of Medicine, Paris, by Dr. Jouffront, who studied criminology in France's largest penal colonies, certifies that 36 per cent of the convicts became insane on the prison diet; that their brains, already feeble, grow rapidly worse, and that after a time they become completely irresponsible. In one establishment the lungery specialist courted with dishment the lunacy specialist counted 255 prisoners tainted with insanity.

The report expresses the hope that a commission composed of mental special-ists will be appointed to examine, with a view to transfer to an asylum, those whom it is a crime to subject to the hardships of a convict settlement.

CREMATED ALL HIS FAMILY. A dispatch from Saloralja Ujhely, Hun-A dispatch from Satisfal Ojnely, Hun-gary, states that a butcher there, named Michael Malarczek, has murdered his father, mother and three other members of his family, by setting fire on Thursday evening to the house in which they dwelt, and thus burning them to death murderer committed the crime out of re-venge for a refusal on their part to give him a sum of money he demanded. Malarczek first intended to die with them, but changed his mind and jumped from an upper story of the house into the street. He was immediately arrested, and the police had considerable difficulty to keep the crowd from hanging him.

SEVERAL TRIALS AND HANGINGS DEWET'S BOOK ON LATE WAR

Sunday School Official Charged With Defeat of Boers Due to Appalling Treachery-Noble Characters Were Rare.

Berlin, Nov. 17 .- The Lokal Anzeiger the past week there have been stories prints from the advance sheets a summary of General Dewet's book, "The Struggle Between Boer and Briton." It says the work dispassionately, dignifiedly and frankly reproaches England for provoking the war and for committing cruelties in conducting it, but the author does not tremely rare among the fighting Boers. Stupidity, cowardice, lack of discipline. faithlessness and abominable treason, were to be met with among them to an appalling degree. Had there not been so many traitors in their own camp the Boers would never have been so utterly defeated.

OOM PAUL'S STORY. London, Nov. 17 .- The Times publishes further extracts from ex-President Kruger's memoirs, dealing with the Sand River convention, the war of independence of 1880-81, and Mr. Kruger's four presidencies. Referring to flight from Pretoria after the relief of Mafeking, when Great Britain's troops began to stream into the South African republic, the ex-president says:

'It became daily clearer that in my old age I should have to leave wife, home and all that was dear to me in order to seek refuge in the east of the republic, and there commence the struggles anew. The thought of departure lay heavy on my heart, the more so as my wife was so old and weak that I could not think of taking her. On my last day in Pretoria, May 1900, I received an American lad, Jimmy Smith, bringing an address, in which thousands of Philadelphia school boys sent a message of sympathy to a leader of people engaged in defending their independence was obliged to desert Pretoria or allow myself to be taken prisoner. Age prevented me from riding; it was therefore impossible for me to accompany the commandos further." Mr. Kruger then describes his "long pligrimage" to Europe via Lorenzo Marques and his reception in France. The Scottish Presbyters of Cape

The admiralty is considering the advisability of adopting a measure closely resembling the navy personnel bill passed by the American Congress. A departmental committee is sitting, and has had submitted to it various reports regarding the workings of the new American system. It is said the committee is likely to adopt a plan by which engineers now serving will retire with an honorary line rank, but that in the future engineers will be selected from the cadets of the training ship Britannia, and therafter will hold executive rank. One of the great difficulties in the way of the plan is the Britannia's lack of facilities to accommodate a sufficient number of cadets to supply both sections of the President Mitchell Again on the Stand -Interesting Statistics.

Scranton Pa., Nov. 17. - President Mitchell, of the Miners' Union, resumed the stand today upon the convening of the coal strike commission in the Lackawanna County court house, and his cross-examination by Wayne Mac-Veagh, begun on Saturday, was continued. Mr. MacVeagh represents the Erie Company, which operates its mines under the names of the Pennsylvania Coal Company and the Hillside

Coal and Iron Company.
Mr. Mitchell, who has been on the stand since Friday morning, brought with him a number of documents and books, which he frequently referred to in order to refresh his memory.

The wage rate shows an average of $385 per year for the mine workers, wages of laborers being included with those of the miners in the calculation. A protest will be made on behalf of the Schuylkill miners to the commissioners, against the acceptance of the proposition of the Reading Company to base the rate of wages on the price of coal. This was the system in vogue here before the strike of 1900 and mine workers say that to return to it would be very unsatisfactory. In his examination of the strike leader today, Mr. MacVeagh asked: "Mr. Mitchell, do you think you have the right to ask for an increase in wages which, if granted, would increase the cost of living to hundreds of thousands of the poor? The miners' representative replied that there are 500,000 persons in the anthracite fields who are starving, and it is their fundamental right to ties during the strike. Replying to questions by Mr. Mac-Veagh on the right of private parties to protect their property, Mr. Mitchell said that the provision in the miners' constitution against pickets grew out of the Homestead strike, when a number of private detectives were employed as guards, most of whom, he declared, had been recruited from the slums of Philadelphia and other large cities. Mr. Mitchell insisted that the city, county and state authorities were competent to handle the matter. The eight-hour day question was taken up and in reply to a query as to whether he had a right to limit a man's labor to eight hours a day, Mr. Mitchell re-

Glass was the most talked of player in America last year because of his disqualification before the Princeton lickin' and Harvard games. He was not eligible to play on Yale's team, according to her own rules, because he had played before at Syracuse University, and last year was his first year at Yale. With the rules so plain that they could not be misinterpreted, Yale wanted to her, thus bringing his face on a level with play him. Harvard protested, and then Walter Camp announced to the play than Heffelfinger would were he to return to college. Then Yale reluctantly dropped him from her team. This year there is no bar to his playing, and he has tossed aside every forward that has lined up in front of him this year. This giant towers above other Yale men and those of the opposing teams. Up to the last ten minutes Harvard was absolutely outplayed in every way, being weak on the defense and without concerted offense. In this 1:03. latter respect the lack of spirit in the backs was noticeable. Graydon, whose hurdling and plunging have been features of other games, seemed to make no effort to advance the ball. In the last few minutes of play, with the gloom so deep that the spectators could scarcely distinguish the players, Harvard woke up and made two touch downs, Dartmouth's men being too badly used up to make resistance. Barnard, for Harvard, missed two goals, one from in front of the goal posts. A Multitude Of Children Visited our Big Toy Opening on Saturday and saw Santa Claus (the real live Santa Claus) in his workroom. He talked and shook hands with hundreds of delighted little people. But still there were numbers of the smaller ones who could not get near enough to talk to him, or to have a guess for the three handsome prizes.

And Santa Claus (dear kind old gentleman), who notices everything in connection with the children, saw this, and he was ever so sorry about it all. So he has arranged to be here tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon from 2 until 5:30 o'clock, when he will receive the rest of the guesses, and entertain the children.

Santa Claus is very anxious to have the mothers bring the very little tots to see him tomorrow. Everybody welcome. All children entitled to a guess.

'Faust" Presented by Alan Tabor at the Grand.

Alan Tabor and his company presented "Faust" to fair-sized audiences at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening. In essaying the role of Mephisto, Mr. Tabor naturally invites comparison with Lewis Morrison, who has for so long made the part his own. Mr. Tabor, it must be admitted, suffered in the comparison. He is too wooden and mechanical, and he fails to inject into the lines of the piece the mocking cynicism and sardonic mirth that is called for. Miss Helen Hawthorne, as the simple Marguerite, was too simple altogether. Marguerite, in her finding of the jewel casket in the garden scene, was represented as using the senseless babble of a three-year-old child, instead of artless utterances of a surprised maiden. The support was mediocre. The scenic effects were good and a touch of realism was supplied in the garden scene in the shape of a fountain, which spouted an attenuated stream of real water.

PUTTING IT STRONG

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears. The trouble with Dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "bitters," "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sus-

Believes That Its Conditions Are Not Impossible.

Rev, S. D. Chown, D.D., who was recently appointed secretary of temperance and moral reform in the Methodist Church in Canada, spoke of the coming referendum last night at the First Congregational Church. His address, which was given immediately after the regular evening service, was forceful and interesting. Rev. Messrs, C. T. Scott, W. H. A. Claris and T. S. Johnson were on the platform. Mr. Scott presided and introduced the speaker, and Mr. Johnston made a brief address. Dr. Chown said that in years past when the struggle for a plebiscite was on, the meetings had been very large. little money subscribed. Reversed circumstances now prevailed. The audiences, while representing the voting class, were small, but it was gratifying to know that the people were opening their hearts and giving freely to promote the movement. He said that he was glad to bring a message of dress, he announced that the election | both sides converted into the ranks of of officers was the first business, and the prohibitionists; also that Premier vote as their consciences directed

The question, "Do you think you will ever get prohibition?" was common a few years ago, while the one most generally asked now was, "How will it be before you have prohibition?" In this change of public thought and chair. After expressing thanks for the opinion, the speaker said, there was a bright ray of hopeful light. One of the causes of this conversion was the fact that temperance speakers now could have sufficient time in which to tell the people what they wanted. In the past they were allowed to speak but a few minutes, whereas no anti-prohibitionists were afraid to put representative to debate with opponents. The liquor people by this dmitted that their position would not allow of public discussion. P. for East Mid- famed Tammany Hall had obtained their money through the vices of the people, and there was no distinction between this and the source from which our revenue money came. The speaker was glad to note that politics did not come into the issue to any extent. A voter should cast his ballot conscientiously, and with a moral meaning, and with no regard as to how his father voted. Some Liberals had said that the last election had hurt them considerably, but Dr. Chown thought that any man, believing in the Liberal party and wishing to do it a good turn, would vote for the referendum. He thought also that the Conservatives would not lose by easting their ballots for prohibition.

Both parties should and would be

Supposing the temperance people gave up the fight, they would simply rule themselves out of court. They would simply put themselves in a position where they could not go to the Government and ask them for an improvement in the license laws. On the other hand by showing the Government that they were a power in the community they would have advanced temperance legislation. He said that a prohibitory law could be enforced, especially in Canada.
