Upon the suggestion and advice of Mayor Graham, argument on this notice of motion was postponed to a special meeting which was called last Thursday night. On the suggestion and advice of Mayor Graham the special meeting was adjourned without having disenssed the subject other than to refer the whole matter to the board of con-trol for a report. Controller Percy Moore told the aldermen that it would take a money bylaw ratified by the people next January, and for an amount at least equal to $15,000 the city to collect the garbage. Mayor Graham has written to other cities for statistics on garbage collection but the aldermen say they don't want to know what other cities are doing. According to a statement issued today it is said that Mr. Boss has prepared a report showing his income and expenses and by this statement he does not make more than $2,500 a year. The action taken by the council has caused several statements to be prepared including the one by Mr. Boss and another one by Walter C. Dodd, garbage superintendent Mr. Dodd's statement shows what the city pays for garbage collection.

Some Interesting Figures. Mr. Dodd's figures it is shown that the city expends about $46,000 in the garbage department. Of this amount the city pays to Mr. Boss the sum of $34,456. This latter amount is for 32 men and 32 horses furnished by Mr. Boss for collecting garbage. The city furnishes the carts, and has appropriated $500 for keeping the carts in repair. The and horses are supposed to work every day except Sunday and the price for one man and one horse as set forth in the contract is $3.50 per day. According to this contract price the 32 men and 32 horses ought to bring Mr. Boss $35,168 a year. He is supposed to make 25,000 calls a week.

Plot Which Cost Austrian Grand Duke and Wife Their Lives Believed To Have Been Carefully Laid.

[Canadian Press.]
Sarayevo, Bosnia, June 29.—Details were known today of the deaths of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife, who met their deaths at the hands of the young assassin, Gavrio Prinzip, while on an official visit to the Bosnian Capital. The bodies of the two victims were embalmed and placed in a catafalque in the chapel of the palace, where they were surrounded by a magnificent display of wreaths and other floral emblems from all parts of the country.

According to the semi-official report of the tragedy, at the time the fatal shots were fired Field Marshal Oskar Poiorek, governor of Bosnia, was seated in the archduke's motor car. Count Francis Von Harrach was standing on the footboard of farmer seems to have more than the the car, acting as a shield to the occupants, of whom he had smallest quantity left. New potatoes are much later this season than they generally are, according to the farmers.

None will be on the markets here this

The archduke was joking with the count about his precautions, when the reports of several shots rang out. The aim of the assassin was so true that each of the bullets inflicted a mortal wound. For an instant after the attack Field Marshal Poiorek thought the archduke and the duchess had escaped. Neither the archduke nor the duchess uttered a sound, but a moment afterward the blood spurted in great gushes from the victims' mouths and throats, and it was seen that they had been mortally wounded.

today from Sarayevo and brings additional evidence that the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg, was one of the most carefully planned crimes ever attempted and carried out against royal personages. Indications from the scene of the bloody tragedy show that it was engineered by persons possessing more mature organizing ability than that of the youthful assassins. It is generally thought in Austria and Hungary that the plotters had their head-quarters in Belgrade, the Servian capi-Servian hatred of Austrians, which has always been violent, has, it is pointed out, recently been foment-

Lieutenant-Colonel Eriz Merizzi, ed by the newspapers in Belgrade, who had been wounded by the bomb and Bulgars throughout Servia and duce them to sacrifice their lives in the belief that they will go down to history as patriots.

Contrary Effect.

Yesterday's crime seems to have contrary effect to that desired by its authors, for even before the bodies of the murdered couple have been interred, the Austrian authorities already are contemplating severe measures against the Serbs among the inhabitants of Austria and Bosnia, and these are likely further to embitter here, when they heard the news of the assassination shouted: "Thank God we need not do it ourselves:" and Russia, the protector of all the Serbs. Archduke Francis Ferdinand it is asserted today, was well aware of the danger he was running during his tour of Bosnia, which he undertook as inspector-general of the forces of the empire, a title which had been conferred upon him last year by Emperor Francis Joseph. His chief task was to inspect the Austrian army, which has guarded the Servian frontier during the recent Balkan wars and prevent any encroachments by Servian troops.

Was Warned. The Servian minister at Vienna told Archduke Francis Ferdinand of the peril of his visit to Sarayevo at the present time, and implored him, even if he insisted on going there himself, at least to leave the duchess at home. When the Duchess of Hohenbergen was informed, however, of the dangerous nature of the ourney the archduke was about to take, she said her place was at her husband's Difficulty in Distributing 350 Man Wanted On Charge of Pupils to Other Schools a Serious Objection.

New Princess Avenue Building Expected to Care for Alexandra Pupils.

The discussion by the members of the board of education to establish industrial training exclusively at the Alexandra School, has stirred up considerable protest to the scheme. Some residents have gone so far as to register their protests with the board.

It is the idea of the board to have some 350 pupils attending the Alexandra School distributed to the Talbot Street, Rectory and the proposed new Princess Avenue Schools. Just how this will work out has not been predicted at the Rectory and Talbot Street Schools are being run to the fullest capacity at the present time and conditions at the Talbot Street School, especially, are said to be overcrowded.

Not For Manual Training.

The Alexandra School was built for manual training, and if the industrial courses are made permanent considerable expense would be incurred to make the building conform to the new work. The industrial advisory committee now rents certain rooms in the school for the industrial work, and if the building is taken over by this committee, which has charge of all industrial work in the schools, it will have to go to the council and ask for $125,000 to buy the building.

May Abandon Riverview School.

WORLD CRUSHED BY DRINK

In Morning He Tells Parishoners of Necessity of Foregoing Visionary Ideals.

Farewell sermons in Dundas Centre Victoria College, Toronto,

At the morning service, Rev. Mr. Johnston preached from the text, St. Matthew, xvii, 4, "Let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, one for Moses, and one for Elias." Jesus had taken the three disciples, Peter, James and John, up into the mountain top, where he was transfigured, and Moses and Elias appeared unto them. Peter had seen Jesus, the situation with regard to temperance." lowly teacher, going about, humbly do-ing good, the Christ of Galilee, the Christ of Samaria, but he could hardly believe that this was the Messiah. If the people, however, could have seen the Saviour's transfiguration and glory, if the disciples could carry back with them the story of it to the people, Peter, thought that many conversions would be made, that all would be ready to acknowledge the Saviour. As a reminder of the glory of the mountain top, he would build tabernacles to Jesus and to Moses, and Elias, who apthe bright cloud had passed away there God. This was the real Saviour, the Christ who went about healing the sick and helping the poor and suffering. This was mistake Peter had made, that he would have liked to believe in the Christ in the glory of the mountain top. And this was the mistake that the Christian church was making, said Rev. Mr. Johnston. The world was being neglected, while the church was idly enjoying the glory and inspiration.

"I do not condemn the mountain top experience. The man who has known it can best se the servant of mankind, but he must not stay up there. The mountain top is to Christian service as the dynamo is to the motor, or the gasoline tank is to the automobile, and as Pentecost was to the healing of the sick, and the saving of the people that followed the Pentecostal

"If a year has gone by, and I have, in the hands of God, been the means of bringing new visions to you to the mountain top, where you have caught new visions and new glimpses of the life of God, I have done you worse than good, If you consider that is the end of my work, and I have not stimulated you to ject "The Course of Meroz." new zeaf in your Christian service and you work for the betterment of humanity. The surest way to petrify the human heart is to stir up its emotions and then betterment of human ference the sin of doing nothing

Rev. Mr. Johnston expressed regret at leaving London after a brief pastorate. He would have liked to have had the call to collegiate service come at the close of three or four years of pastoral work at Dundas Centre. But he had not sought it may have been fear of the cost, his new appointment, and he thought he should obey the call. He was grateful to and indolence. When your food has not been properly digested, your body has not received the benefit it should. The exertions of the gastric juice have been confined entirely to removing the unmasticated, undigested portions of food, which they cannot properly digest as speedily as possible from the body, therefore only giving the blood a small percentage of nourishment with which to feed the tissues. No wonder then that Indigestion and Dr. W. J. Stevenson, the local Liberal Dyspepsia attack the stomach. No medicine can surpass Burdock Blood Bitters as a cure for this particular disease. It regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, makes pure blood, tones the stomach, and thus restores perfect health to the debilitated system.

Mrs. Mary MacKay, Hunter's Mountain, N.S., writes:—"I was troubled with Indigestion for more than ten years. The last day was marked by an able address to the commission by C. S. Haight, who has conducted the case from the point of view of the owners of the Storstad, the collier which rammed the Empress, a reply by Butler Aspinali, K.C., who has acted for the C. P. R., and a general review of the evidence by Edmund L. Newcombe, K.C., who has represented the Dominion Government.

Mr. Aspinall said that he could not understand why Mr. Haight had indicted Captain Kendall, when, if it was true that the steering gear had broken down, he wring gear had broken down, he at be biamed for the collision and ave absolutely no reason to com-

Mr. Newcombe said that probably neither the officers of the Storstad nor the Empress had intentionally lied. He thought, however, that they were both to blame, the Storstad for having ported her helm in a fog, and the Empress for

He suggested that the rapid foundering of the Empress was due to the watertight doors not being closed, in a large measure, and he thought, if it was found that portholes had enabled water to reach the interior of the ship, never again should it be possible for them to be a cause for disaster. They should be closed by a signal from the bridge the moment a fog appeared. The same applied to the watertight doors.

After thanking counsel for their close application to their several tasks, Lord Mersey adjourned the sittings of the commission.

As undue summer exposure usually leaves an undesirable surface of tan, dust or grease, often freckles, too, it is more sensible to remove such surface than to hide it with cosmetics. There's nothing better for this than ordinary mercolized wax, which actually absorbs an unwhole-some complexion. The thin layer of surface skin is itself absorbed, gently, gradually, so there's no inconvenience, no detention indoors. Spread the wax lightly over the entire face at bedtime and take it off in the morning with warm water. If you will get one ounce of mercelized wax at the drug store, use for a week or so, you may expect marked imprevement daily. When the underlying skin is wholly in view your complexion will be a marvel of spotless purity and beautiful white-ness.

Don't let those summer wrinkles worry you; worry breeds more wrinkles. Banish them by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½-pint witch hazel. Used daily for awhile this will be found wonderfully effective.

Mr. Cosens stated in his opening remarks that he did not preach temperance because it was a political issue of the day, but as a minister of the gospel, he desired to preach a sermon straight from Bible teaching, and according to the doctrines of the Methodist Church. He felt proud that Methodism had always stood strong for prohibition. temperance principles were installed into me as a child; when I was old enough to write, I signed the pledge, and I thank God I have been a total abstainer all my life. "Our social life today is cursed by the legalized liquor traffic. One of the greatest curses in connection with the traffic, one which affects society and the home the most, is the treating system." "It is a kind of Ishmael," he said, "its hand is against everyone, and our hands should be against it. I am glad the churches are taking such a stand for temperance, and that the Methodist Church is standing so unitedly against the liquor traffic. That the proposed legislation to bolish the bar is the most advanced and most sane prohibition ever offered Ontario, was the statement of Rev. D. N. Preaching from the text: "Of your ownselves judge ye not what was right," the pastor pointed out in no uncertain terms the duty of citizens to form an intelligent opinion of the great moral issue before the province. Each has its distinctive functions, but the civil government is head over all in the body politic. "The civil government, which has licensed the manufacture and sale of ntoxicating liquors, is the only power that can prohibit the business. "Therefore, our appeal is to the electors to send men to parliament who will stop every agency, legal or illegal, that thrives by what Judge Morgan recently called the beastly habit of drunkenness.'

"Of all public institutions the Christian church has the strongest reasons for seeking the suppression of the liquor traffic. The issue between the church and the saloon is direct. The one stands for inspiration, the other intoxication. The one leads men to righteousness: the other promotes drunkenness. The church is a saviour of men, the saloon is a destroyer of men. The liquor trade has not been effectively suppressed. The proposed legislation to abolish the bar and give to the electors the power by majority vote to banish the liquor stores, is the most advanced, most sane and effective prohibition ever offered the citi-

THE EYES OF THE WORLD ARE UPON ONTARIO

THE EYES OF THE WORLD UPON US.

When The Advertiser says that the eyes of the world are upon Ontario it is not merely endeavoring to print a catchy phrase. The statement is literally true.

During the last week requests have been received by this office from a number of newspapers published in Michigan and Ohio asking for dispatches as to likelihood of success for the Rowell cause. Michigan, just across the border, is intensely interested. Ohio, with a state-wide prohibition campaign in prospect, is vitally concerned, and on Saturday it was stated by a former resident of that state that if the Rowell policy was successful at the polls on Monday there would undoubtedly be a victory in Ohio when the voting came.

The verdict of Ontario is certain to have an effect upon the temperance sentiment of the North American continent. Its responsibility extends the length and breadth of North America, and is not even bounded by the oceans, because the Old Land is taking a vital interest in Mr. Rowell's fight with the traffic. As in Canada, the brewery party of the Old Land is the Tory party. The Liberal party has had to fight the liquor interest there as it police court in one morning. is now fighting them here.

The campaign in Manitoba, where a referendum on the question of abolishing the bar is demanded by the Liberal party, will depend to a large extent upon Ontario's decision.

We can have no doubt about our responsibility; we should feel equally certain about our duty.

HE HAD THE OPPORTUNITY. 66 FROM time to time an opportunity lity will have been strengthened. The arises. We will be watchful and fight will still go on. The Conservative seize those opportunities, and go further in minimizing the evils of the liquor trafof words, the electors well know when they remember that Mr. Whitney threw down the greatest opportunity of his political life in that direc tion, when he refused the fair and candid offer of Mr. N. W. Rowell of his the bar-room, the festering sore spot of the whole iniquitous business, and with which would go the treating system which Sir James, in a panic once propose to attack by legislation, but never did.

THE HYPOCRITE.

THE man who talks temperance all the year around and then when there is a crisis when his politics must be rejected is the individual who can destroy the Rowell policy at the polls

Some years ago there was a temper ance candidate in the London field. He entered a three-cornered fight, in which the present Conservative candidate was cured enough honest Liberal votes to defeat the Liberal candidate. It came to be definitely known after the election that more than 600 Liberal temperance people had been true to their principles and had voted for the temperance can-

There were some ardent temperance Conservatives in the campaign. They professed to be supporting the temperance candidate. They were active in getting him to run, and appeared at his interests at the polls.

In the same polling booth were several Conservatives and Liberals acting In the interests of their respective can-They were mistrustful of the ardent temperance men, and between them they decided to find out how the votes of the temperance men were cast. Did they discover that the temperance men had voted for the temperance candidate? Not at all. Both of these men voted for the Conservative candidate.

They are the types of hypocrites who can defeat the Rowell policy today.

THE FUTURE.

OMORROW morning we shall be able to tell our readers something of the of the immediate future of Ontario. If the vote goes as we expect it to go; if the Liberals have worked with their old time energy; if the people who have been calling for a leader strong enough to lead the country in the path of truth and righteousness, recognize the man they want; if those who have been praying and speaking and working for the abolition of what they say is Canada's curse have voted as they prayed; if men can break from party alliances, in their desire for the public welfare; if the real sentiment of Ontario finds expression in the vote that it cast today, then Mr. Rowell will be premier, and Ontario will have the most advanced government, it Then progressive legislation will be adopted, the revenues of the province will be guarded, unseemly expenditures will cease, racial difficulties will be harmonized, the bars will be closed, the retail sale of intoxicants will stop, the Workingman's Compensation Act will come into force at once, and will be improved at the next session, laws will be life among both high and low will be raised. A SILLY ARGUMENT.

[Stratford Beacon.] The wine list at the Ontario Club, To ronto, has about as much to do with the knowing, however, what Mr. Hanna present campaign as the staying of any good respectable citizen of Stratford at any hotel in Toronto with a bar has, and yet this is brought out repeatedly to influence electors against Mr. Rowell. Some of the arguments used against him, stores campaigning in the interests of as this one is, are childish, which might be overlooked, but it is also malevolent.

And it is not Mr. responsible for the disgraceful condition in the French school districts to which the Government commissioner, Dr. Merchant, called attention, Under circumstances, the attempt to hold Mr. Rowell responsible for what Sil James Whitney has done is both inpudent and contemptible.

ONTARIO'S EDUCATION DEPART-

[Brockville Recorder.] Years ago it was the proud boast Ontario people that this province led all Canada in the superiority of its educational system, and when is came in com-petition at world examinations the leading prizes came our way. The people of Ontario, as well as of Canada, remember with satisfaction the work of a Ryerson, a Ross, a Marcourt, for under men there was a gradual yet steady development along proper lines, the teaching in our public, separate and high schools becoming more practical whatever of the working of the set system. No person, even in the remodegree, ever suspected Dr. Pyne of ing in touch with the great work educating the young. Mr. Whitney warned against the selection of such inefficient man for minister of educat-yet he persisted. Finding that fund getter at the head of the education department, those who knew something of the situation begged of him to select as deputy minister a man from the ranks of public school teachers or public school inspectors—one who would be thoroughly in touch with public school necessities. This was urged on the floor of the Legislature for days before a deputy minister of education was chosen. These solicitations, however, had no effect on the Prime Minister, and he caused to be selected as deputy minister a journalist, who, though a fine fellow, had no exneither in touch nor in sympathy with it. The result is only too well known all over this province, and the public school system is now in a hopeless muddle, and no longer can the boast be truthfully made that Ontario leads her sister pro vinces in educational matters. The public schools are being neglected ecause the department is ignorant of their requirements. Last year they were robbed of 28 per cent of the Government grant to which they wre entitled, for which no reason has or can be given. It is certainly true Ontario's education department was placed in the hands of a man who has at least some little conception of the great responsibilities which attach thereto, and also possesses slight qualification for the job.

SheBought a Piano on a Train

N being asked her reason for selecting a certain "make" of piano, a woman explained that while she did not get her piano till December, she really "bought" it on a train in July.

"It was like this," said she-"I had not thought much about pianos until I was about to be married and furnish a home of my own. Last summer, soon after I became engaged, I had to make a train journey. The daily paper I bought contained a striking advertisement of the Blank Piano. It ended by saying "Investigate thoroughly before deciding." I did investigate and became convinced that the Blank Piano was the best piano I could get for $500.00."

This woman was right in stating that although she did not actually own her piano until wintertime. she really "bought" it in July. She bought it on a train-she selected it that day she read the advertisement which so forcibly impressed

THE HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1914.

This is not an altogether fortunate day, ccording to the reading of astrology. While Mars is mildly benefic in aspect, the sun is strongly adverse and Jupiter is unfriendly.

The aspect is a favorable one for the study and investigation of subjects conected with medicine, surgery and the scientific treatment of the human body. It is a lucky day for engineers, contractors, dealers in hardware, carpenters, ma-hinists and lumbermen. Soldiers, armorers, policemen and all who guard the public from dangers are subject to an auspicious rule.

There is a lucky sign for canvassing and soliciting patronage. travellers should benefit. While this configuration lasts, it is held as an exceedingly inauspicious time to seek the aid or favor of persons in high your column in The Advertiser, which I so places. It is well to avoid financiers, whose co-operation is desirable and Government officials whose aid is required for any purpose. It is said to be most unlucky to tell of any plans or to describe any enterprises have future possibilities, when the Danger of heat prostration is increased under this configuration, which is also had for persons who have weak hearts. Loss through speculation and difficulty with financial negotiations are believed to multiply while this rule continues. Illness in the royal family of Great Britain is foretold and many anxieties wil beset King George, who will have no urcease of care through the autumn. Foreign astrologers call attention 'the American hysteria" that causes conarge cities. The stars indicate a growing popularty of "vehicles that belong to the air and water," which is interpreted as re-

May 10-Leaving tomorrow morning for the convention of the United So-cieties of Home Life for Women. Mrs. Colbeck-Stoppit is going too. Am taking two boxes of headache powders as my head has bothered me so much lately.

The diningroom and hail are still rather upset after the plasterers and plumbers, but John says he don't mind eating in the kitchen until I come back. If it wasn't that I feel I am doing so much good for the cause of women in the home, by attending this convention, I believe I would stay behind and look after things. But one's influence counts for so much. Must go now and pack my suitcase. My two gowns fit me beautifully, but I don't know what John will say when the bill comes in. However, one has to look lecent at these affairs.

Lefthander Chase Proves Easy Proposition With Men on the Bases-Red Sox Make Costly Errors-Hammond Hit Hard, But Not Opportunely,

[BY BERT PERRY.]

The Brantford Red Sox went through the motions of another ball game at Tecumseh park Saturday afternoon, and were no more successful than in their two previous attempts against the London league leaders. They did manage to get as many runs Saturday as they secured in the two other efforts combined, but three runs is hardly enough to win with, when the other team is out there getting them every other inning or so. There was nothing the matter with the hitting of the visitors, except that the hits were not quite long enough. Ten safe blows constitutes a pretty fair day's work, but about the only way the Brants can make them count runs is to hit the ball out of the park. Twelve men left on bases during the nine innings shows just how far those Brantford hits went. The final score

Some Loose Fielding. The game was rather loosely played, eight errors occuring, five for Brantford, and three for London. One beauty about it was, though, that none of the London errors helped the visitors to any extent, while four of the boots, made by the Deneau team, figured in London's run getting. Good, healthy clouting in the pinches helped pile up the score, though, pinches helped pile up the score, though, for the locals and all but one of their eleven hits was made to count.

Chase, Deneau's big left-hander, the man that went seventeen innings against Ottawa a week or so ago, and held the Senators to a tie, was on the mound, and he had nothing that the Reisling crew did not get hep to after the first inning. "Cuz" Hammond opposed him, and while "Cuz" was no puzzle to the Brants, he was generally pretty hard to locate, when locating meant runs. He was a triffe wild at the start, but he knows how to pitch balk, and he did not permit himself to get any wilder than was absolutely safe.

In the second inning, the Deneau squad looked as if it had malicious designs looked as if it had malicious designs upon the game by going out and driving two runs across. At least, one of the runs was driven across, and the other was a sort of presentation on the part of "Cruz" Hammond, who obligingly threw the ball to second base to catch Forgue, while Lawond treated home from third. while Lamond trotted home from third. Both Lamond and Forgue got a stolen base on the play. Both had scored ahead of Lamond, when he singled and Lacroix sacrificed. Lamond's double to left over Joe Dunn's head did the rest.

The locals were two runs behind when The locals were two runs behind when they went to bat in their half of the inning, and it was the first time during the series that the Red Sox had managed to get a lead on the Reisling gents. The lead was brief, however. Lamy and Reidy, the first two men, could not hit past the infield, so they were easily expunged at first base. Not so with Ray Whiteraft. He slammed one through the box what Forgue just managed to knock down with one hand. Whitty stole second on the first ball pitched, and a wild pitch by Chase placed him on third. Chase lost control and walked Snyder. There-struck the runner and hounded far into started for Peterboro, was hit over the eye by a vicious bounding ball from Mc-Nellis' bat, in the fourth, and had to leave the game, sustaining a deep gash. The Saints scored a run on the play. Craven scored all the visitors' runs, getting the wilming counter in the eighth, when Miler's throw to stop him stealing, and the runner and hounded far into started for Peterboro, was hit over the eye by a vicious bounding ball from Mc-Nellis' bat, in the fourth, and had to leave the game, sustaining a deep gash. lost control and walked Snyder. There-upon Mike Mullin hove to at the plate and pushed the first ball pitched into the long grass in right centre. Whiteraft and Snyder scored and Mullin reposed on the structure of third, when the ball was relayed back to the diamond. Hammond was given a base on balls, and Joe Dunn scored Mullin with a drive that was too hot for Roth to Hadley, ss. 3 0 2 1 5 Welsh, If. 4 0 2

The Squeeze Play Counts One. In the third inning another run scored, when Bierbauer singled to lead off with and went to second on a passed ball. Lamy sacrificed him to third, and he came in on the squeeze play, Cy. Rei dy laying down the bunt and beating i out to first, when Chase stood and held the ball after fielding it. Reidy was our stealing, and Whitcraft also died at sec ond after singling to right.

Louis Bierbauer found out that you cannot score from second on the squeez play two days in succession in the fifth Louis tried to emulate Lamy's stunt of Friday, when Lamy laid down a nice bunt, and Linneborn scored. Bierbaue was on second, and he came right on t the plate. A quick return by Ivers gav Lamond a chance to nab Louis just as h slid in, completing a double play. Linne born was on second virtue of a base o balls, which gave him an opportunity to pilfer the keystone station successfully. Linny went to third, when Lamond's throw went to centre field. Bierbauer was hit on the wrist, and he immediately stole second. The squeeze play followed. Both Teams Score in Seventh. Both teams scored in the seventh. The Brants had been threatening for a couple of innings before that, but in the fourth to high flies with one man out and two on nipped a rally, and in the sixth Joe Dunn's nice catch saved a lot of trouble, as two singles and a bad throw by Mullin had filled the sacks with two men the morgue.

In the seventh, though, Taylor got on first, when Deneau was forced at sec-ond on his grounder. Roth singled and so did Lacroix, Taylor counting. Lamond's long fly to Dunn ended the inning. In the local's half, Dunn got a life and went to second on Nelson's wild heave. Linneborn got an infield hit and Bierbauer followed with a single that sent Dunn home and Linny to third. Lamy's single to centre scored Linny after Biersauer had been run down trying to steal second. Lamy was safe at second, when Roth dropped the ball in touching him, but Eddie got out trying to purioin third. throw by Lamond, and Whiteraft's sacri-

Midge Craven's team makes its second appearance in London, commencing a four-game series today, and in order to get the jump on them right at the start, "Doc" Reisling has picked Bobby Heck, the prize southpaw, to face them in this afternoon's game. Paris, June 29.-Undiscouraged by his defeat on points Saturday night in a twenty-round bout for the heavyweight championship of the world by Jack Johnson, Frank Moran, of Pittsburg, rested Sunday at his camp at Meriel on the Oise. Johnson also remained at his training quarters, nursing a badly swollen hand and receiving a number of visitors. Johnson attributed his injured fist to the fact he wore four-ounce gloves instead of gloves weighing five ounces. Johnson after one o'clock and Craven had not has agreed to fight Sam Langford the middle of October. For this battle he will receive $30,000, win, lose or draw, and in addition will be given 50 per cent of the moving picture receipts. The articles for the fight with Langford will be signed in London July 1.

Beyond a bruised nose, received by a punch from Johnson in the tenth round, and a cut over his eyebrow, Moran showed no effects of the punishment administered to him by Johnson. The London Club is casting about for another good pitcher, and the Cleveland Amercan League Club has been communicated with in this connection. OTTAWA, June 28.—Flag Day at Lansdowne Park was brought to an abrupt close Saturday afternoon, when with the score a tie, Manager Frank Shaughnessy hit the first ball pitched in the last half of the ninth, to deep right centre, for a home run, winning the game 3 to 2. The contest was considerable of a pitchers' duel between Louie Peterson and Frank Dolan, with honors pretty evenly divided. Hamilton earned a run in the first, when Corns tripled with two out, sending Dudley in from second.

Ottawa tied it in the second on three bits. In the fifth, Cunningham, by some hits. With the smooth manner in which Dolan was going, the crowd looked for an extra inning, but Shaughnessy set everything at rest when he poled the first ball pitched on a line to right centre for the round trip.

Before the start of the game, Mayor McVeity accompanied the members of the two teams to right field, where, after a pretty little speech, he hoisted the blue pennant of 1913 over the red one of 1912. PARIS, June 27.—"Jack" Johnson still through space, Johnson being several feet away.

Moran took his punishment well, and during parts of rounds the negro toyed the defeated Frank Moran of Pittsburg, easily on points in the 20-round contest. Moran was game and stubborn, and stood up to the negro. He did most of the leading and made many friends.

The black man's superior skill and his effective uppercutting wore down his opponent and won the match, which at times seemed rather amateurish.

Champion's Uppercuts Won Him Battle.

Terrific uppercuts, on which Johnson had relied in many of his previous battles, were again brought into play on his young adversary, who was unable effectively to block them. They were repeatedly sent to Moran's jaw when beleast expected them, and several times with such force that the Pittsburger was with such force that the Pittsburger was sent wobbling, but there was not a single knockdown, or anything that-looked like a finishing blow. At the close Moran's face was bleeding from cuts on the mose and under the left eye; Johnson showed for marks.

It was the first time that a French absorption had referred a hig match and Moran went after Johnson hard. He landed on the negro's ribs, and then rushed in Jeffries' style. The blows were ineffective, however, and Johnson drove him back into a corner. Moran played for Johnson's wind and landed several blows on Johnson's storage but the negro retaliated rang. Even round. Moran jabbed with the left. Johnson blocked, hooking his right. Moran again put right to stomach in the clinch. John-

Round Fleven Johnson drew first blood. He drove re-peatedly and successfully at Moran's nose. Moran grinned, although the blood was streaming down his face. Johnson was apparently putting all his weight was apparently putting all his weight behind these punches in the face. The negro seemed to be able to perforate Moran's guard with every blow he aimed at the head. The fourth round was easily Johnson's.

Round Five.

Moran seemed hypnotized. Jack's light hand time and again landed with force on his damaged face. Moran swung to the head, but was blocked, Johnson again put both hands to face and Moran hung on. They struggled across the ring. Moran ducking, but unable to escape the table and unpercuts which came like a

Johnson seemed slightly distressed when the fifth began. He breathed a little heavily, but his old cunning was there, and often he blocked the white man's blows or rocked his head as they came in. Moran, changing his tactios, started to play for the stomach. In the clinches he landed frequently and apparently with effect. Jack grunted twice as Moran made the first lead, ently with effect. Jack grunted twice as Moran's right sank into his midriff. In the clinches Johnson backed away and tried to save his stomach, but Moran was not to be denied and bore in hard. Johnson came back with a right hook.

Johnson hooked left to the head again, Moran replied with a light to the head again, moran replied with a light to be to the force and again the nagran A third hard right-hand smash to John-son's stomach closed the session. Moand Johnson was willing, too. None of the blows landed in the round were heard and they were fiddling in the middle of the ring when time was up. Johnson had a shade of this round.

Round Six. Johnson started joshing the audience as the sixth opened, turning his head twice to smile and joke with his seconds when Moran was backing away from a raily Johnson was quick, and twice put his right to Moran's head. He then scored with a left hook to the chin, but it was partly blocked. Moran at the same moment sank his right again into the negro's stomach. He was still pounding away at Johnson's stomach when both went into a neutral corner. A hard rally went into a neutral corner. A hard rally in the centre closed the round. Moran putting right and left to head, and Johnson uppercutting again at the bell. Moran's round.

Round Seven. Moran opened the round with a rush, swinging both hands. Jack blocked. He came back with a left jab, which caught Frank's nose, and the blood spurted again. They fell into a clinch, Moran coming out swinging again, but the negro rolled his heal and the punch went by Johnson led with his left, but Moran ducked neatly, putting right to stomach as they clinched. Johnson hooked light right to Frank's ear. Moran countered with another stomach punch. They were clinched and infighting at the bell. Even round.

Round Eight. Johnson, when the eighth opened, seemed weary, and was not showing his old-time lightning form. He could make little of Moran's straight left, and several times his head went back to straight punches. He gave nothing in return, until catching Frank coming out of a clinch, three heavy uppercuts went home. Moran reeled, but fell into a clinch again. Moran seemed tired and sparred until the round closed, Even round.

Johnson kept playing for the cut over Moran's left eye and sent three solid blows to that spot, starting the blood flowing. The champion then went after Moran's stomach and sent six straight rights to the stomach, and Moran came back twice on the chin. The blows had little effect. Round Seventeen.

FINAL APPEAL TO ELECTORS BY EX-ORANGE SENTINEL EDITOR

W. R. Plewman, late associate editor of the Orange Sentinel, who resigned his position because of the open support accorded the Government candidates in the provincial elections, has issued this final appeal to the electors of the province:

Fellow Electors: The appeal that comes to you in this campaign is to be true to your convictions: Trust and fear not. You could not be induced for any monetary consideration to vote into existence 1,300 barrooms. There is not a single reason that will bear investigation that should lead lead you to vote against the destruction of 1,300 bars.

Are you in favor of closing the open barroom? You must say "yes" or "no" on Monday just as sure as though a referendum were being taken. The only difference between this election and a referendum could be ignored by a Govendum could be ignored by a Government, but your vote on the 29th of June cannot be ignored. Be true to yourselves and it follows then you won't be false to any

"But," you ask, "how about the English language?" That is another very powerful reason why you must be true to yourself. Do you not know that a vote for the Government is a vote approving the mutilation of good regulations for the preservation of the English language and a vote indorsing the attempt to please the followers of Henri Bourassa? Do you want to tell the Government that it went so far to please the Frech last time without causing you offence and that it may safely go fartner next time? Then, go on record as you feel no matter what the cost.

The ballot box challenges you to show that to show that you are sincerely devoted to your moral and patriotic convictions. If you and the other fellow and the other fellow do not betray your most dear-ly cherished principles, Monday will change the course of every Government in Canada and lift the public life in this country out of the muck. I ask you: "WILL YOU DO IT?"

I who ask that question have the best of right to put the issue squarely before you. I have made a heavy sacrifice in order to be true to my own convictions and in order to appeal to you to be true to your convictions. Again, I ask: "WILL YOU DO IT?" May God help you as He helped

GODERICH, June 28 .- Characteriz-Conservative candidate in Centre Huron, as a "dastardly and cowardly underhand attack at the last moment," William Proudfoot, K.C., who has represented the riding in Legislature for several years in the Liberal interest, has issued a counter circular to the one which Dr. Macklin circulated and which purports to connect Mr. Proudfoot with J. W. Moyes in the West Shore Railway scandal. Mr. Proudfoot explains the circumstances of a letter written by himself to Moyes when everyone had faith in he latter's integrity. "From this letter he (Dr. Macklin) attempts to draw an insinuation which is deliber-ately untrue," says Mr. Proudfoot in his circular. "Some people insinuate that I as sisted Moyes to escape. Such a statement is absolutely untrue and is not the view taken by W. W. Moyes, a brother of J. W. Moyes, who supplied Dr. Macklin with the letter in question and looks upon me as an enemy of his brother" Mr. Proudfoot holds up his record of 35 years' practice as a lawyer in the riding, and says: "Dr. Macklin has only been in practice in Goderich for a few years, yet there is now pending byterian Church ca few years, yet there is now pending bayfield yesterday. court against him an act sides the recent charges, the hearing of which was adjourned, at his request, until after the election. Market Was Very Small This Morning, Only Three Loads of Hay Being Offered.

The polls evidently kept the farmers away from the market today. Three loads of hay composed the entire offering. They sold slowly for from $12 to $14 per ton.

Potatoes have advanced with a jump and sold on Saturday afternoon, for $1.25 wholesale. This is an increase of 35 cents per bag, in the wholesale price. Retail, they sold for as high as $1.30 and $1.35 per bag. Dealers are unable to give any definite reason for the sudden increase, except that on Saturday the supply was small andt he demand good.

Strawberries were again scarce on Saturday, although the supply should have been the biggest of the season. Cherries were plentiful, for the first offering in quantity, on the market. The price was as low as 10 cents a box, and will be lower this week, ac-

Small vegetables will probably remain at quoted prices for some time. Butter and eggs were firm on Saturday. Eggs were a little dearer than before, selling for 23 cents a dozen, retail. Butter continues rather scarce.

DELIBERATE ATTEMPT TO MISREPRESENT

[Special to The Advertiser.] LAMBETH, June 28 .- Another Conservative scheme of misrepresentation was brought to light today, when a letter written by Rev. Thomas Mason, of this village, to Hon. W. J. Hanna, five years ago, thanking the Government for revoking a license on a certain notorious notel in the Georgian Bay district was printed in a Saturday St. Thomas paper. The article was intended to give out the impression that Rev. Mr. Mason was an

As explained to The Advertiser's correspondent, the letter was written when Mr. Mason was in charge of a parish in the Georgian Bay district five years ago. At that time, there was a hotel that was considered a detriment to the community. Mr. Mason, on behalf of his parishioners wrote to Mr. Hanna, requesting that the license be cancelled. After considerable delay, the license was revoked. When this went into effect, Mr. Mason wrote to Mr. Hanna, again on behalf of the community which he represented, thanking him. In the present campaign, Mr. Mason has seen fit to come out strong for the abolition of the bar. Conservatives with a motive that is easily understood, have taken this means of securing his letter of five years ago, and using it in an endeavor to show Mr. Mason up in the light of a turncoat. The greatest indignation is felt over the ruse.

KILLED MAD DOG ON FARM IN TURNBERRY

[Special to The Advertiser.] Wingham, June 28. - John Willitt, of Turnberry Township, received word today from Toronto that the dog he shot on his farm on Friday had rables. The animal came to Mr. Willitt's place, and after biting his horse and a pig, chased his little son into the house. The dog was snapping viciously at everything in sight, and Mr. Willit a once took after it with his shotgun. Locating it, he killed the animal, and at once sent it to Toronto to have the head examined.

FAMILY LOSES THREE DURING TWO WEEKS

[Special to The Advertiser.] WROXETER, June 28 .- The funeral of Mrs. John Willitt, held from the family residence in Turnberry, to the local cemetery yesterday, was conducted by Rev. Lackland. She was 60 years, and died after an illness of six weeks with pneumonia.

Her death makes the third in the family in two weeks, two small grandchildren having been victims of whooping cough. A third in in a very critical condition at the present time.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three daughters - Mrs. John Fitch, of Turnberry; Mrs. John Henry, in the West; Miss Olive, at home; and Melvin and Webster, of Wingham.

GIRDER FALLS WITH HEIR TO AUSTHIAN AND HIS WIFE ARE SHOT DEAD BOUND TO HAVE BIG

Frenchman, Seriously Hurt, Is Archduke Francis Ferdinand and Princess of Hohenburg Assassinated in Bosnia, Recently Annexed, By Law Student.

FIRST EFFORT MADE WITH BOMB

SARAYEVO, Bosnia, June 28.—Arch Duke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austria-Hungarian throne, and the Princess of Hohenberg, his morganatic wife, were shot dead in the main street of the Bosnian capital by a student today, while they were making an apparently triumphant progress through the city on their annual visit to the annexed province of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The arch duke was hit full in the face and the princess was shot through the abdomen and throat. Their wounds proved mortal within a few minutes after reaching the palace, to which they were hurried with all speed.

First Effort With Bomb. Those responsible for the assassination took care that it should prove effective, as there were two assailants, the first armed with a bomb and the latter with a revolver. The bomb was thrown at the royal automobile as it was proceeding to the town hall, where a reception was to be held, but the arch duke saw the deadly missle coming and warded it off with his arm. It fell outside the car and exploded, slightly wounding two aide-de-camps in a second things the empire must in a comparatively short time be governed by an car, and half a dozen spectators.

Fusillade of Bullets. It was on the return of the procession that the tragedy was added to the long list of those that have darkened the pages of the recent history of the Hapsburgs. As the royal automobile reached with shattering the speed regulations of a prominent point in the route to the palace, an eighth grade student, Gavrio Prinzip, sprang out of the crowd and poured a ing the case the court stated that as fusillade of bullets from an automatic pistol at the arch duke and the princess. Both fell mortally wounded.

Prinzip and a fellow-conspirator, a compositor from Trebinje, named Gabrinovics, barely escaped lynching by the infuriated spectators, and were finally seized by the police, who afforded them protection. Both men are natives of the annexed province the Austrian colors. The bitterness of feeling, however, was carried to the extreme when a session of the Bosnian Diet, called to express sorrow at the death of the archduke, four Servian deputies appeared in light suits in cotnrast to the sombre black of their fellow deputies.

Prinzip's own plans were carefully laid. He secreted himself behind a building at a spot where it was necessary for the archduke's car to slacken speed, and some accounts of the crime say that Prinzip actually stood on the step of the ducal car as he fired the shots which removed one of the most active personalities in Europe and his wife. Against all these carefully-laid plans of the criminals, the extraordinary precautions taken by the authorities proved unavailing, for murderers guessed rightly that the archafternoon last. The sympathy, not only of the ruler but of the people of Europe, has been expressed today to the aged Emperor Francis Joseph, whose much-needed rest at his summer residence at Ischl has been broken by the terrible crime. He left Ischl, where he was recuperating from his recent illness, for Vienna this norning. The imperial train stopped at Amsletten, where the emperor was joined by Archduke Francis Salvator and

Vienna, June 29 .- From all parts of the ducal monarchy as well as from most of the foreign countries, messages poured in today, testifying to the profoundly painful impression produced throughout the world by the assassination of Archduke

Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg.
The newspapers today pay the warmest tributes to the late archduke and his wife, and reflect the sorrow and sympathy
