PRESIDENT DOES WELL

Latest Operation Caused Renewed Alarm Regarding Executive's Condition.

Physicians, However, Gave Assurance That he is Improving and That Danger is no Greater.

Milburn House, Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The following bulletin was issued by the President's physicians at 10.30 p. m.:

"The condition of the President is unchanged in all important particulars. His temperature is 100.6, pulse 114, respiration 28.

"When the operation was done on Friday last it was noted that the bullet had carried with it a short distance beneath the skin a fragment of the President's coat. This foreign material was, of course, removed, but a slight irritation of the tissues was produced, the evidence of which has appeared to-night. It has been necessary on account of this slight disturbance to remove a few stitches and partially open the skin wound. This incident cannot give rise to other complications, but it is communicated to the public, as the surgeons in attendance wish to make their bulletins entirely frank. In consequence of this separation of the edges of the surface wound the healing of the same will be somewhat delayed.

"The President is now well enough to take nourishment by the mouth in the form of pure beef juice."

It was 11.20 when the physicians emerged from the house. They had been in consultation an hour and 50 minutes and announced to the waiting newspaper men that the President's condition was unchanged in every important particular.

The length of the consultation had created some uneasiness and this was somewhat increased when it was learned that Dr. McBurney, who had intended to leave for Stockbridge, Conn., at 11.20, had missed his train and had decided to remain over until to-morrow night. But the doctor himself did all he could to dispel the idea that the change in his plans portended anything serious.

FINED HIMSELF

For Assaulting a Doctor who Jeopardized a Very Foolish Headline.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 10.—In the police court yesterday, William A. Kelley, the police justice, imposed upon himself a fine of $5 for an assault and battery upon Dr. C. A. Stuart on Saturday. Stuart, who is a Canadian (formerly of St. Thomas), repeated some remarks which he saw in the headline of a newspaper while going up an elevator, approving of the attempted assassination of President McKinley, and was knocked down by Kelley. Police Justice Kelley said that there were so many people ready to say that he committed the assault because of the position he holds that he decided to pay for the act, the same as if someone else had done the job.

GOOD WEEK'S WORK BY BRITISH IN SOUTH AFRICA

Bagged 681 Boers Together With Arms, Ammunition, Horses and Cattle—The Krause Treason Case has Been Adjudged.

London, Sept. 10.—The following despatch has been received from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, to-day:—
A GOOD WEEK'S WORK.

"Since September 2 the columns have again got good results, the total bag being 681, composed of 67 killed, 67 wounded, 384 made prisoners and 163 surrenders; also 179 rifles, 65,211 rounds of ammunition, 3,400 horses and 19,000 head of cattle."

SITUATION UNCHANGED.
Lord Kitchener further says that the situation in Cape Colony is unchanged, excepting the capture of Lotter's command, reported last week. IN THE WESTERN MAGALIESBERG DISTRICT.

Pretoria, Sept. 10.—Kekewich, Allenby and Featherstonhaugh have made further captures of Boers in the Western Magaliesberg district, mostly of men belonging to Kemp's command, who were hiding in kloofs. Kemp escaped northward. Within five days about 150 Boers have been captured in this district, and smaller captures have been made elsewhere. General Kitchener has ordered that tools and materials be supplied to the men in the burgher camps, to enable them to work at such trades as tanning, cabinet making, etc. The articles made by them will be sold for their benefit.

KRAUSE TREASON CASE.

London, Sept. 10.—Dr. Krause, former governor of Johannesburg, who was arrested last week and was arraigned in the Bow street police court and remanded on a charge of treason, was brought up again in the Bow street court to-day. Dr. Krause was informed that a warrant, charging him with incitement to murder, was issued in the Transvaal. Sir George Lewis, on behalf of the prisoner, said it seemed strange, since Dr. Krause had been in England fourteen months as a paroled prisoner of war, warrants should be issued in Transvaal because of acts committed in England, and he asked how could a gentleman not an English subject be charged with high treason. The case was adjourned to await the arrival of papers from the Transvaal.

"ANARCHIST QUEEN" APPREHENDED DENIES KNOWLEDGE OF PLOT

Emma Goldman Sneers at the President, Ridicules the Police, but Says She had Nothing to do With the Shooting.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Emma Goldman, the "anarchist queen," under whose banner Leon Czolgosz claims he stands, whose words he claims fired his heart and his brain to attempt the assassination of the President, was arrested here shortly before noon to-day.

Capt. Collier, chief of detectives, served a warrant on Miss Goldman, charging her with conspiracy to murder the President. The warrant was sworn to by Capt. Collier.

It gives as her co-conspirators Abraham Isaacs, Maurice Isaacs, Clemence Pfeutzer, Hippolyte Havel, Henry Travaglio, Alfred Schneider, Julia McShane, Marie Isaacs and Marie Isaacs Jr. All but Miss Goldman were arrested some days ago. The women were allowed to go, but the men were held without bail and are now in jail.

It is the opinion of several lawyers that Miss Goldman cannot be extradited for trial in New York unless she and Czolgosz are charged with an offense under the federal statutes. The suggestion that the would-be assassin must be tried under the state laws of New York for assault with intent to kill, would, it is said, preclude the possibility of Miss Goldman's being extradited as an accessory before the fact, as the alleged incendiary statements were not made in New York and she is not a fugitive from justice from that state.

Miss Goldman disclaimed all but the slightest acquaintance with the president's assassin; she denied absolutely that she was a conspirator, and was implicated in any plot to kill the President. She said she believed Czolgosz acted entirely on his own responsibility, and that he never claimed to have been inspired by her, as he is quoted as affirming.

The President, she averred with a yawn, was an insignificant being to her—a mere human atom, whose death would be matters of supreme indifference to her, or to any anarchist. Czolgosz's act was foolish, she declared, yet it probably had its inspiration about him. Violence, she said, was not a tenet in the faith of the anarchist, and she had not advocated it in Cleveland, where Czolgosz had said he heard her, nor elsewhere.

Miss Goldman arrived here Sunday morning from St. Louis. Her immunity from arrest while in the Missouri metropolis and up to to-day in Chicago afforded her much amusement. She told, in sentences punctuated with laughter, of her capture to-day.

SHOWED GREAT NERVE.
In her conversation with detectives, and she talked with them twice during the day, the excitement she was laboring under was suppressed and only once did she break down completely. That was when, Capt. Schuttler led her from the office of Chief of Police O'Neill to the cell which was waiting to convey her to the woman's annex to the Harrison street police station.

For a moment she became a woman, pure and simple, and cried, in a moment, however, an exhibition of distress was over, and when she put her foot on the step to mount into the carriage, she was Emma Goldman, the "high priestess of anarchy," as she has been styled by her followers.

She said her purpose in coming here had been to assist the anarchists who were arrested here several days ago. She had intended to give herself up to the police, but delayed it, for one reason or another, until the police had decided so much had taken the matter into their own hands. She was held on a warrant sworn out by Capt. Collier, charging her with conspiracy to murder the President. As her co-conspirators were named the anarchists already in jail here.

"I shall insist upon an immediate hearing," she said, in speaking of the probability of a postponement being asked for by the city prosecutor. "They want me to go to New York without requisition papers, but I will not go. I know the legal ropes, and I'll make them fight every step. And I'm not afraid to go at that."

Later in the day, Miss Goldman was interviewed in the woman's annex at the police station and a stenographic report taken. Miss Goldman said: "I feel sure that the police are helping us more than I could do in ten years. They are making more anarchists than the most prominent people connected with the anarchist cause could make in ten years. If they will only continue I shall be very grateful; they will save me lots of work."

"What do you think of your own arrest?" she was asked after referring to the arrests from Carroll street.

SNEERED AT PRESIDENT

"I was somewhat disconcerted and I certainly would not be guilty of that. Not only my arrest, but the others, smack of the Haymarket. The police are very much in disrepute all over the country, and they wish to do something to clear themselves. They are trying to make it an anarchist plot; if they wish to make up a case, they may succeed."

Referring to the attempt on the life of the President, Miss Goldman said: "It is a dirty trick to charge in the government reports that it was the result of anarchist plot. Mark Hanna has been the ruler of this country not McKinley. McKinley has been the most insignificant ruler that this country has ever had. He has no wit, no intelligence, but has been a tool in the hands of Mark Hanna. Other Presidents have had a heart, or something, but this poor fellow—God forgive him, since he knows nothing—is a tool in the hands of the wealthy, and it seems very remarkable for Mark Hanna to say that he was notified of plot for his assassination. I think McKinley too insignificant for such a thing."

"What man in the United States in your opinion, is of sufficient prominence to warrant such a plot?" she was asked.

"I am not in a position to say," replied Miss Goldman, "who ought to be killed. The monopolists and the wealthy of this country are responsible for the existence of a Czolgosz. If imperialism would not grow in this country, if the liberties of the people were not trampled under foot, there would have been no violence."

CZOLGOSZ AN UNFORTUNATE.

Referring to the would-be assassin, Miss Goldman said: "I feel that the man is one of those unfortunate who has been driven to despair and misery to commit the deed. I feel very deeply with him as an individual, as I would feel with anybody who suffers. If I had the means I would help him as much as I could; I would see that he had counsel and that justice was done him."

Although the whole world, waited eagerly on Friday for the bulletins from the President's bedside, Miss Goldman did not care enough about the report that he had been shot when she heard the newsgirls crying the extras to buy a paper. It was Saturday noon before her interest was sufficiently aroused to cause her to buy a newspaper containing the story. She was more interested in the arrest of the Chicago anarchists.

UGLY RUNAWAY

Two Ladies Thrown From a Rig on King St. This Morning—Injuries Were Not Serious.

What might have proven to be a very serious runaway occurred on King street this morning about 10 o'clock.

A horse and buggy belonging to Mr. Foster, of Thamesville, were standing in front of Murray's second hand store when the horse became unruly. Mrs. Burhorst and Miss Hogan, a nurse of St. Joseph's hospital, were sitting in the rig at the time.

Mrs. Burhorst, who was holding the reins, did all in her power to quiet the animal, but it backed into another buggy, which was also standing at the side of the road. At this Mrs. Burhorst's horse became frightened, and dashed down the street. The buggy was tipped over to one side, and both the ladies were thrown violently to the pavement. The horse pursued its mad flight down the street, and was finally stopped at the C. P. R. crossing at Adelaide street.

It was found afterwards that both ladies escaped serious injury. Both, however, were badly shaken up and unnerved. The buggy was smashed and the horse was severely cut around the hind legs. The buggy was considerably damaged, the rear axle being badly bent.

Mrs. Burhorst and Miss Hogan were fortunate in getting off as easily as they did. Both ladies, however, displayed great presence of mind in trying to jump from the rig when they saw that the horse was unmanageable.

WILL CLOSE UP THE CASE.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—At the forthcoming London assizes the Crown will insist on closing up the Sifton murder case, which has been adjourned from time to time for almost a year and a half. Inspector John Murray, of the Provincial detective service, will leave for London to-morrow to make preparations for the trial.

THE POPE AND THE ANARCHISTS.

London, Sept. 10.—"The Pope has been so impressed by the attack upon President McKinley," says the Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail, "that he intends to take the initiative in joint action by the Christian powers against anarchism. He is writing an important encyclical on the subject, which will be published next month."

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 11.

REV. MR. KNOWLES' SOLUTION.

New York, Sept. 8.—In the course of his sermon in Ocean Grove, N. J., yesterday, Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage, of Washington, said:

"I wish that policeman in Buffalo, who seized the pistol of the second assassin, had taken the butt of the weapon and dashed the man's brains out on the spot."

Ten thousand people in the auditorium applauded the sentiment.—Associated Press despatch to yesterday's Planet.

While the assassination of a president of the United States, or an attempt to assassinate him, is a monstrous crime, its effect, The Planet submits, must be far more serious if it cause the American people to lose their sense of proportion. The suggestions—some of them from very high sources—that summary vengeance should be taken upon the unfortunate wretch who shot the President last Friday, are the products of hearts heated by anger, and not minds guided by good judgment and sound common sense. Men who, after time to think, offer such advice, should be ashamed of themselves. Mob law is no better when the victim is a murderer of the President of the United States than when a southern negro is the offender and the victim a planter's wife or daughter. Lynching is assassination, no more, no less. It is not the best way to suppress crime of any sort, when there are police to arrest, jails to confine, courts to try and condemn the criminal. Better that many presidents should be assassinated by isolated and individual lunatics than that the whole people should become assassins by practicing lynch law.

When the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage expresses the wish that a policeman had taken the butt of the revolver "and dashed the man's brains out on the spot," he is—well, he is publishing himself as an irrational feather-

Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected.

The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease, that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by weight, which is, perhaps, after all, nothing new in the case of Dr. Talmage. The serious aspect of his statement lies in the fact that ten thousand persons are said to have applauded the sentiment. All these persons, in their indignation, are encouraging the very contempt for law, and orderly institutions which was the inspiration of Czolgosz's crime.

Of a vastly different and more rational character were the utterances of Rev. W. E. Knowles from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church in Chatham on Sunday evening, and briefly reported in The Planet of the following day. Mr. Knowles' reasoning may be Utopian, but it is elevating. It is calculated to influence his audience for good. It exerts the powers and emotions that redound to public betterment. Dr. Talmage advocates the suppression of anarchy by calling into play the summary vengeance of mob or lynch law. It is nonsensical, hysterical, appeals to the baser instincts of mankind and is totally ineffectual. Men of the Czolgosz calibre expect to lose their lives anyway and are willing to do so in exchange for the notoriety or anticipated glory of having assassinated a ruler. Mr. Knowles appeals to the people. He sees the annihilation of anarchy and crime in the development of practical and practicing Christianity, in the amelioration of existing social conditions, and in the universal adoption of the great doctrine of the brotherhood of man.

In the light of the twentieth century, with our vaunted civilization and advancement shadowed by the seething turmoil of labor strife, the confronting classification of social conditions, the international hatred and glutty, the open schisms of "churchism" and the total uselessness of our theoretical religion—Mr. Knowles' utterances seem somewhat distant and idealistic. But the young pastor parts company with the nonsensical hysteria of the Washington divine. He sees things as they are and as they should be and raises his voice, not in vengeance-seeking, childish outcry against the unfortunate wretch who committed the foul deed, but against the conditions which permit the creation of such diseased minds in a supposedly Christian community and country. The occasion calls, not for hysterical twaddle, but for manly words—and it is the Chatham minister who has met the requirements. His strong appeal is to the best in man and no one will question the fact that an eventual universal adaptation of his doctrine would adequately and completely meet the end in view.

And when, throughout the length and breadth of Christendom, such events as that of Friday call forth, from the pulpit, from the platform, from the press and from the halls of parliament, earnest, ringing advocacy of this character—when man sees in man his brother—then shall we have progressed, for we shall have reached the threshold of the era of development, of the "federation of the world."

Meanwhile, difficult as it may be, it is the peculiar duty of leaders of the people to uphold law and order, and say nothing publicly that would excite passions or provoke popular vengeance.

The drafts upon the British taxpayer are extremely heavy, no doubt; but there are few ways in which a portion of his money could be spent to better advantage than in assisting to populate Canada and Australia, and thereby strengthen the empire.

Ballot switching does not figure in the Whitney platform.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage never overlooks an opportunity to advertise.

Abdul Hamid may have his faults but he isn't afraid to discharge the cook.

Steadily improving! May the good news continue and the danger point be safely passed.

Mr. Whitney's policy is not to obtain power by a minority of the votes of the people of this province.

The Whitney policy is to encourage cattle raising in Ontario, leaving Dakota to the Americans to develop.

Petroleum is being very effectively used in the United States as a means of exterminating the mosquito and the negro.

Japan is keen for war with Russia, but if the Mikado will read some history he will learn that Adam-Zad is a huaky heavy-weight.

The funny men of the American papers who delight to picture the Czar of Russia crouching in a dark corner of a bullet-proof room will now take a rest.—It's their day off.

The sermons and prayers of the Christian people have spoken more solemnly and truly the sentiment of the people than the resolutions of anarchist societies would in a hundred years.

The Seventh Day Adventists have reached the conclusion that the end of the world is near at hand. All the same it would be just as well for average mortals to hang on to their jobs.

Canadian riflemen have secured another piece of championship plate from Uncle Sam. If the Dominion keeps up this sort of thing much more the gentleman with the star-spangled vest will not have any thing left on his championship side-board.

And now the owners of a yacht that wanted to race with Shamrock II. for the America cup say that if Sir Thomas Lipton wins it they will enter an action at law to prevent him getting it. What dead game sports the Americans are! If this happens many will think that Lord Dunsraven was right in concluding that the United States would go to war rather than part with the cup.

We fail to see reason for shrieking headlines because Luke Nolan, a hobo, having received notice he is heir to $80,000, and $500 as evidence that real money is intended, spends the $500 buying whisky and beer for his tramp companions. Had Nolan invested the money in Bibles and baths and insisted on standing treat we could have discovered food for a sensation.

Recent statistics show that one-fourth of the sea-carrying power of the world is in the hands of thirty large companies. Only one of these belongs to the United States, and it controls only 81,000 tons out of the total of 5,616,000 tons controlled by the thirty companies. In the last decade Great Britain has built 4,638 steel steamers, with a capacity of 9,798,000 tons. In the same time the United States has built only 465 steel steamers, with a capacity of 743,000 tons, and 498 of these steamers, representing 450,000 tons, were for the inland commerce of the great lakes.

A glance through our extensive stock may give you some suggestions for your Fall and Winter needs.

YOU know how well our Men's Tweed Suits wear, how well they hold their shape, yet with all their reliability, with all their real elegance of style and making of perfection of fit, they are just as moderate in cost as the ordinary jump-in kind. We're willing to show them anytime, price $5.00 to $16.00.

Men's Worsteds Suits are first in style, first in worth, first in general excellence. We give higher value at lower cost than any clothing store in Chatham, we have the goods to back this statement—see them, $8.50 to $17.

Boys' and Children's Clothing

Just as easy to dress your boy in stylish dependable clothes as it is to dress him in the cheap kinds, especially when the prices are the same. We are retailers of Boys' "GOOD CLOTHES" only, the kind that does not fall apart, but holds its shape and wears, prices range from $1.50 to $6.75.

YOUR MONEY BACK is the bond that holds when you deal with a reliable house—Ours is!

WHERE WOMEN SHIRK.

Wm. David Mills, Canadian Minister of Justice, on Modern Characteristics of New England Women.

Some statements regarding the livelihood of the New England people, with particular reference to an apparent wrong on the part of the women, are made in a letter to a friend by Hon. David Mills, Minister of Justice, as a result of his observations while going to Boston to take passage for England. In part he says:

"I saw some sections covered with forest that I am sure must have been cleared land a century ago, so that I feel sure that there is far less land in New England cultivated now than there was fifty years ago. I noticed the towns we ran through had very neat-looking dwelling houses. They were all kept well painted and all looked new. The people are living mostly by some kind of handicraft of a mechanical kind. But the people don't like farming; they take no interest in it, and derive no enjoyment from it. The New England people are upon the soil, but are not of it. They obviously dislike farming as much as their women do having children, and were it not for the foreigner who has taken up residence among them, there would be neither children born nor fields cultivated. If left to themselves the existence of a descendant of the Pilgrim Fathers will be as rare as a great auk, and the race is sure to share the fate of the dodo. This must be a very serious problem for the United States statesman. Stop the foreign immigration, and the United States would not increase the population, and after a time their numbers would begin to diminish. There is obviously something very wrong with a people who, under conditions so favorable, have such small families. The United States woman does not realize her duties to God and her country, and so thinks much more of her own pleasures than she does of the responsibilities which the Creator has imposed upon her."

FIT FOR FRUIT GROWING.

Prof. Macoun's Prophecy Regarding the Forestry of Ontario.

"When I stated many years ago that the Northwest was suitable for the producing of grain, many people, and some prominent ones, too, scoffed at the statement. It is the same thing to-day when I say that all the area from Niagara to Cape Herd is suitable for fruit growing," said Prof. Macoun, chief of the botanical branch of the Geological Survey. Macoun was in Toronto, en route for the district, in order to make a philosophical statement of the climatic conditions of the country along Lakes Erie and Ontario, chiefly with reference to fruit growing, when he made that statement.

"The forest growth of a country," he said, "is the chief basis of calculation as to what the country is best adapted to produce. It is a far surer and more reliable way than by topographic or climatic data. I am convinced from what I already know of the products of the lake shores, and from what I will learn on my journey, that I will be able to issue a report stating confidently that the country in question is favorable for fruit growing. It is just on the same basis that I calculated the usefulness of the Northwest for wheat growing."

Prof. Macoun is glad to see an increased interest in forestry everywhere. In Ottawa a party of men have applied to the Government of Quebec for a large tract of land upon which it is intended to reforest with a variety of woods. Hard wood would be a valuable product in a short time, and it would not be very long before good spruce would be in demand. Manufacturers of paper to-day say that they put genuine spruce into their pulp, but he would state positively that the pulp was nothing more nor less than a soup de bouillon from the different woods of the forest.

Our New Postage Stamps.

The issue of a new set of postage stamps to replace those which bear the head of our late sovereign, Queen Victoria, will shortly engage the attention of the postal department. The government of the United Kingdom will probably get out its new issue before any steps are taken by the colonies, but there, as here, there is probably a very large stock of stamps on hand, which it is well to use up before the new dies are prepared. There is no precedent in the matter, as at the accession of Queen Victoria there was no such thing as a postage stamp, as we understand the term, in use. There are about fifteen stamps in use in Canada, on which the head of Queen Victoria appears. When the new issue is being prepared it is practically certain that the present eight-cent stamp, which was designed principally for use in registering letters, will be replaced by one of seven cents to correspond with the rate for registered letters since the reduction to two cents of the letter rate.

Colonel Otter's Career.

Colonel William Dillon Otter, C.B., was born near Clinton, Ont., December 3, 1843, and joined the militia in 1861. He served through the Fenian Raid of 1866, including the battle of Ridgeway; went to England as second in command of the Wimbledon team in 1879; succeeded to the command of the Queen's Own Rifles in 1874; was commandant of the Wimbledon team in 1883; was made commandant of the School of Infantry, Toronto, December, 1883; commanded the Battleford column during the Northwest Rebellion of 1885, and was chosen to command the first Canadian contingent to South Africa in October, 1899.

Women Dread

The disfigurement caused by skin disease, even more than the tormenting irritation which is so commonly associated with it. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Medical Discovery generally results in a complete cure of eczema, pimples, eruptions and other forms of disease which have their cause in an impure condition of the blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" absolutely purges the blood of humors and poisons, and so cures the cutaneous diseases which had blood broods and feeds. There is no alcohol in the "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I was troubled with eczema from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet," writes Mrs. Ella Quick, of Cass City, Tuscola Co., Mich. "Could not walk at times, nor wear shoes. Thought there was no help for me, at least the doctor said there was none. I went to see friends at Christmas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it at once. For fear that I might neglect it my friends sent to the village and got a bottle and made me promise that I would take it. I had been getting worse all the time. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten vials of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Pellets, and used the 'All Healing Salve,' which made a complete cure. It was eight months. I was taking the medicine about eight months. I would say to all who read this: Try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before wasting time and money."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery."

Careless Man.

"Single is about the most careless fellow I have ever known." "What's he done now?" "Why, he passed the butcher's down the street whistling, 'Oh, Where Has My Little Dog Gone?' and a sausage jumped from the hook and followed him home." "Was careless, wasn't it?" "Yes, but that's not the worst of it. Half an hour later he was arrested on a warrant charging him with kidnapping the sausage."—Denver Times.

Trying to Place Him.

"Sir," cried the aggrieved stranger, "you have grossly insulted my character as a professional man. I am an ornament of the stage, sir." "Oh? Might I ask what your special line of entertainment is?" "I hold the glass to nature, sir." "Oh, I see, you are a blower." "A blower, sir!" "Yes, a glass blower."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What He Would Do.

"My poor, hungry man, if I were to give you a nickel what would you do with it?" inquired the lady with the angular smaller and the uncertain spectacles. "I'll tell you, mum," replied the gentleman with the straggling whiskers and yearning bread pouch. "I'll get a Turkey Bath and buy a tynable wid the change. Where's the ten, mum?"—Denver Times.

His View of It.

"Here's a queer story," she said as she looked up from the paper. "A prospective bridegroom was delayed by a train wreck, and the girl, not understanding the circumstances, became so angry that she called everything off, and the marriage didn't take place."

"What wonderful luck some men have!" was his only comment.—Chicago Post.

Not His Strong Point.

"I met Hargus in the street yesterday morning, and he flicked his cigar ashes in my face. I'm writing to him now to tell him what I think about it."

"Why didn't you tell him what you thought about it then?"

"Because I never can express myself with any satisfaction extemporaneously."—Chicago Tribune.

A Stupid Bellboy.

Colonel Cockright—The blamed bellboy in this hotel is enough to give a man a spasm. Guess what he did when I told him to bring me a "horn" before I dressed.

Major Nash—What, sir?

Colonel Cockright—He brought me a shashere.—Philadelphia Record.

Idleness is both a great sin and the cause of many more.

A Volatile Community.

"What kind of a town have you here?" enquired a recently-arrived tourist from New England.

"Lively," enthusiastically replied the landlord of the Atlantic and Pacific Hotel, at Boomopolis, Oklahoma.

"Lively, stranger! That's a lynchin' most every night, and balls, shootin', tar-and-featherin', and other calikaboos, about as often as you can turn out to 'em; a couple was married in a balloon last week, two prominent preachers shot each other considerably at the Sabbath school picnic day before yesterday, and that was a cyclone less than a month ago; new buildin's are bein' erected right along, we've got an enthusiastic county-seat fight on hand all the time, that's a show in the O'ry House once in a while, the O. K. barber shop put in a bathtub lately, the post-office was once seized by a spell ago—the front of the buildin' was sung half-way across the street, the safe blown wrong side out, and the children have been busy ever since pickin' postage stamps off the gum weeds whar the wind distributed 'em. You can get any kind of a game you like at any time or stir up any sort of trouble in a minute, by just lettin' your wits be known. They call this yer town the Paris of Oklahoma, and don't you forget it!"—"Life."

Literary Pretense.

F all of us who in these latter days have acquired some repute of knowledge of literature were to be tried before a jury of real experts, it is to be feared, writes Guy Carleton Lee, that the vast majority of us would win this sentence: "Guilty of having gained a reputation under false pretenses." Let us be candid with ourselves, since the confidence need go no further. Have we really made ourselves familiar with English masterpieces? It were damning to confess ignorance of Chaucer, for example; let all who have read the "Canterbury Tales," to take but a portion of his works, mentally hold up their hands. The resulting show might not carry an election in the smallest election precinct.

Perhaps we have taken an unfair test. Chaucer is difficult reading to any but the scholar, and the quaint old words are apt to interfere with any pleasure in the reading. Let us return, then, to writers of a later date, whose language holds no obscurity of form. How many of us have read "The Faery Queen" from beginning to end? Perhaps some few, to whom literature is a profession, not a recreation; but the rest of us who so glibly discuss Edmund Spenser and his influence upon poetry, and who talk learnedly of the Spenserian stanza, the vast majority are utter strangers to the works of the poet they praise.

The early dramatists, again. Most of us are vaguely aware that Marlowe wrote plays called "The Jew of Malta" and "Tamburlaine," and a dramatic poem entitled "Doctor Faustus;" but our knowledge of him stops there. Massinger, because of the occasional presentation on the stage of "A New Way to Pay Old Debts," is more familiar to us; but our acquaintance with him is strictly limited to that one work. Beaumont and Fletcher are by name "familiar" in the mouth of the household words, but some of us would be sorely puzzled to quote a line written by these old collaborators. Ben Jonson we know by his epitaph; but by his works we know him not. Shakespeare—ah! there we are safe; all of us have read him. Have we so? Along comes some villainous prior-to-secret-publication and questions us of our knowledge of the "Sonnets;" and straightway we wish that we were dead or that Shakespeare had never been born to write twaddle that is called literature.

Dryden, again. He is sometimes talked of nowadays; is he ever read? And the dramatists of the Restoration—Wycherly, Congreve, Farquhar, Aphra Behn? And to return our steps to the moment—Sidney and Harvey and Rochester and Herrick—oh, yes, we all know the quotation from the latter concerning the little fish which stole the "Essay on Man," and then continue: "Er—and—The Rape of the Lock," you know—and—h'm—oh, well, and all the rest.

Cowper—didn't he write something about a sofa? Southey? Oh, yes, he wrote "How the Water Comes Down at Lodore," and—other things. Richman and Addison? Steele? We seem to know these names—we are before our jury of experts now—but we can not recall their writings for the moment. Swift? Oh, he wrote "Gulliver's Travels;" we read it when we were young; yes, we have entirely forgotten it, and recall no political satire in it. We know that Fielding and Smollett were very coarse writers; we do not remember any other characteristics. Ever read them? No, but we have read of them.

But, the attorney for the defence may urge, there are names of giants; knowledge of their works is not indispensable. Waiving this point, the prosecuting attorney sternly demands if we have never claimed acquaintance with these men, if we have never referred to them with an air of easy nonchalance calculated—and intended—to impress our auditory with the fact that we were profoundly versed in their works. How many of us pretenders can honestly answer "No?"

"Now," says the prosecuting attorney, "I have but one more question to ask you. You have often sneered at Byron as out of date and monotonous; have you ever read 'Child Harold's Pilgrimage,' or that magnificent dramatic poem 'Cain'?" And we answer desperately: "No; Byron is no poet; he is not literature; it would be waste of valuable time to read his stuff."

And then the attorney for the defence, in despair at our admissions, yet still fighting his case, asks us to name the works with which we are familiar, that we may show that our reputation is deserved. Sure of our ground, we go trippingly on with a list of the "Trilbies," the "Ladies of Quality," the "Richard Carvels," the—but here our attorney hastily bids us stop, and stand, and submit the case without argument.

Is the picture overdrawn? We fear not.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

T. Brown, of Tibbury, is in the city to-day.

J. A. Latimer, of London, is a Chatham guest to-day.

P. W. Richardson, of Tibbury, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Trudell, of the 2nd P's, leaves this afternoon for London.

The costs in the case of King vs. Pelletier, for witness fees, amounted to $22.

The schooner Kollage cleared for Alpena to-day for a cargo of lumber for Glendon Bros. & Co.

W. E. Elliott and G. A. Carrie, of Goodrich, who are on a wheeling trip, arrived in the city to-day.

Dr. Duncan is in Thessville this afternoon attending the funeral of the late Robert Ferguson, M. P. P.

The two farmers' races at the Fair this year will be more exciting than usual. Exceptionally large purses and valuable prizes are held out.

The marriage has been announced of Miss Annie Bechard, of Utica, N. Y., and Samuel A. Mervet, of this city. The newly married young couple are residing on Third street.

A surprise party of young people from this city enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the residence of J. Boyle, Harwich, last evening. Orr's orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

Mrs. M. Patterson and daughter Lillian, of Lorne avenue, who have been visiting friends in Toronto, Montreal and Kingston, have returned home. They also took in the Pan-American.

A. Pelletier, the man who was charged by Mr. King, of Dover, with poisoning a well, was tried before Judge Houston in the County Police Court this morning at eleven o'clock. After the hearing of the evidence the magistrate dismissed the case. William Douglas, K. C., prosecuted, and Lewis & Richards defended.

Grain shippers in the city report an active market in the shipping line. The only difficulty is to procure cars. Both the G. T. R. and the C. P. R. are having a car famine at present. The bulk of the C. P. R. freights are being employed in transporting the immense wheat crop from Manitoba.

Capt. John McDonald, of the schooner Kollage, which arrived in the city Monday night from the Georgian Bay District, says the vessel encountered the most severe storm that she ever experienced on Lake Huron, but did not lose a plank of her lumber cargo. Mr. Jacob Blomde was with the boat on her voyage and Capt. McDonald pays him the compliment of saying he is one of the best sailors he ever met.

"MUST BE CRAZY"

Way the President Looks at the Act of the Assassin.

Buffalo, Sept. 10.—President McKinley for the first time has mentioned the would-be assassin, and said:—

"He must have been crazy. I never saw the man until he approached me at the reception."

"He is an Anarchist," the President was told, and he replied:—

"Too bad, too bad. I trust, though, that he will be treated with all fairness."

CAPE BRETON COAL

Ships of the British Navy Beginning to Use It.

Halifax, Sept. 10.—This week British men-of-war will use Cape Breton coal for the first time. The torpedo-boat destroyer Quail and the cruiser Indefatigable will bunker at the Dominion Coal Company's pier at Sydney to-morrow. They will then proceed to sea to meet the Royal yacht Ophir, bearing the Duke and Duchess of York, which is now nearing the Canadian coast. Vessels of the North Atlantic Squadron will in the future bunker quite frequently at Sydney. This arrangement is due to the enterprise of the management of the Dominion Coal Company, impressing upon the Admiralty the good qualities of Cape Breton coal for steam purposes.

CAPITAL CRIME

Proposal to Make Anarchy Unpopular in Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 10.—At the Constitutional Convention to-day Mr. R. Walton Moore, of Halifax, presented the following paper, adopted by the citizens of his county: "At a public meeting of the citizens of Falls church, assembled to express their horror of the dastardly crime of the assassination and to pray for the recovery of our beloved Chief Magistrate, and to tender heartfelt love and sympathy to him and his devoted wife in this time of their affliction, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

"Resolved, that we petition your honorable body, the Constitutional Convention, now assembled in the city of Richmond, to have the constitution of the State of Virginia so amended that the propagation of Anarchy or the propagation of Anarchist principles shall be constituted a capital crime and punishable as such."

The Yacht Club Challenge From The City Has Been Accepted for Canada's Cup.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The special committee selected by the R. C. Y. C. to deal with the five Canada's Cup challenges—Chicago Yacht Club, Columbia Yacht Club (Chicago), Detroit Boat Club, Detroit Yacht Club and the Rochester Yacht Club—accepted the challenge of the Rochester Yacht Club to the Chicago Yacht Club, which lost the cup to Invader. It was urged that more interest would attach to the race here next year if the Chicago challenge was accepted, but in spite of this plea, when the matter was voted upon, the committee decided in favor of the Rochester Yacht Club.

The committee declined to announce the result of the deliberations, saying that, in courtesy to the club whose challenge they had accepted, they would let them make the matter public, or at least the R. C. Y. C. would not divulge the lucky club until the secretary of the club could be notified by wire of the result.

A fast freight on the Grand Trunk ran into the rear end of a passenger train and another freight near Prince-ton, causing a fearful wreck. Engineer Denne, of York, and Conductor Harmon, of Toronto, were killed and their bodies almost consumed in the flames that destroyed the wrecked cars.

Canadian Cricketers Have Big Task Confronting Them in International.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Play in the international cricket match was resumed this morning at 11.15, the scores being Americans 168, and Canadians 77 for 8 wickets. The day was beautiful and the wicket in fine condition. Chambers (not out) faced the bowling of Clark and Lester. In the third over Chambers was caught and bowled by Clark 77-9-0. Hal. McGivern, Ottawa's captain, then went in, and was given a generous round of applause by the Americans. McGivern played the nice steady innings until he got the slow bowler, Lester, which he hit freely when a loose ball came along. Forrester batted a nice steady innings, but Jordan missed stumping him and he was afterwards out. Clark for 26, and McGivern went out at Lester and pulled him to the boundary for four and the 100 up. Altamus, medium round arm, then replaced Lester, and bowled a maiden, but Forrester played him for three in the next, and McGivern cut him to the boundary for four. Forrester landed Altamus to leg boundary for four. McGivern batted, Clark away to leg for two and 120 up. Then Adams, medium over-arm, went on in place of Altamus. McGivern and Forrester both hit the new man for two, but in the next over Clark bowled McGivern for 26, and Forrester was not out 25. Both had given a fine exhibition of cricket, the defence of Forrester being very fine. The total score was 126, or 40 runs behind the Americans. The last wicket fell on 51 runs.

A SON OF THE "OULD SOD."

It was a son of "the ould sod" who had this little passage with a sales man at "Vongunten Bros." Jewelry Store the other day. He had come in to secure a marriage license as well as purchase a wedding ring for his bride to be. Learning far over the counter so that the clerk should be able to hear his wants without the necessity of informing all other purchasers in the store, Pat whispered to him:

"Give me the best wedding ring you have in the shop."

"Eighteen karats?" queried the clerk.

"No!" snapped Pat, drawing back in an affronted manner. "Aittin' onions, if it's any of your dom business."

Mr. Vongunten always treats any business in his store as strictly confidential, but this was really too good to keep.

Complete EXTERNAL & INTERNAL Treatment FOR EVERY SKIN DISEASE.

CUTICURA SOAP to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, CUTICURA OINTMENT to instantly allay itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT to cool and cleanse the blood. A SINGLE SET of these great skin curatives is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, crusted, scaly, pimply skin, scalp, and blood humours, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE USE CUTICURA SOAP. Assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itching, and chafing, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Millions of Women use CUTICURA SOAP in the form of bath for soothing irritations, inflammations, and excoriations, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for sensitive weaknesses, and for many sensitive antiseptic purposes which readily soothe themselves to women, and especially mothers. No other medicated soap is so compared with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands. No other foreign or domestic soap is so compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Thus it combines the best of both worlds, the best skin and complexion soap, and the best toilet and baby soap in the world.

WEAKNESS OF MEN AND WOMEN

"Could we read the hearts of every man and woman, what a load of sorrow and despair would be disclosed. Indiscretions and Blood Diseases have caused more physical and mental weakness than all other causes combined. They strike at the foundation of manhood; they sap the vital forces; they undermine the system, and not only do they often disrupt the family circle, but they may even extend their poisonous fangs into the next generation. If you have been a victim of early sinful habits, remember the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause do not risk a return of the disease. If you have been a victim of early sinful habits, remember the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause do not risk a return of the disease. If you have been a victim of early sinful habits, remember the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause do not risk a return of the disease."

WE CURE OR NO PAY. Don't let your life be drained away, which weakens the intellect as well as the body. There is no room in the world for mental, physical or sexual dwarfs. The Ghosts of The Brig.

THE Boston brig, "Mayflower," was a ramshackle old craft. Her high poop, sheering prow, and stumpy spars, reminded one of Vanderdecken's phantom ship. When she left Rosario in Argentina, bound down the river for home, I was second mate of her. Of course, the first night out I was considerably under the weather, and hardly knew how I managed to stand my watch.

At seven bells in the morning I was roused by a fracas on deck. The captain was vehemently expostulating the sulphurous combinations in the gale. France, the high seas. Incidentally, he was accusing the sailors of looting the cook's galley during the night.

"No, sir; 'twere't us," chorused the six shellbacks.

When the captain paused for breath one rascal remarked:

"It must ha' been the ghosts, sir."

At that the old man turned on his heel and went below.

The sailors, holding on to their sides, ran forward to the fore-castle.

The cook declared himself vigorously, incoherently, to the main course.

"What's upset the old man?" I asked, approaching the mate.

"It's those dern ghosts," he answered.

"What ghosts, sir?"

"Humph! Don't you know the yarn? The brig's haunted—has been ever since those two fellows were washed off the jib-boom."

It was in the Gulf Stream. The brig was running off before a nor'east squall, and they were stowing the flying-jib. The old man was at the wheel, and he let her come up suddenly—he must have been drunk.

She plunged her nose into a sea, clean to the foremast, and, of course, the men on the boom were washed away. It was murder, all right, and ever since, off and on, those fellows' ghosts have haunted the ship. Shortly after four o'clock this morning the lookout came running aft, frightened out of his wits. Going forward, I saw two white figures on the top-gallant forecastle, dancing a devil's hornpipe round the captain.

"Tions, but I can tell you I got a scare," the mate looked at me lugubriously.

"'Pose the ghosts rifled the doctor's domain," laughed I.

"Maybe not," said the mate. "But when anybody mentions ghosts the old man buttons up his lip and spouts-ec for his whisky flask."

The brig sped along merrily, keeping close to the starboard shore. The captain was on the lookout for a pampers, and a while before midnight we shortened sail. The ship was then four or five miles below Buenos Ayres. It was a dark night—very dark for that part of the world.

As I was about to sing out "Eight bells!" two hands in my watch came running aft, crying incoherently. The captain muttered aghast, "The ghosts again," and hastened below. With rolicking recklessness, I went forward to investigate.

"Sure enough! There on the fore-castle head stood two figures looming ghostly through the gloom. Spellbound, I watched them for what seemed an age. Suddenly they emitted a shriek and jumped over the windlass towards me. I did not wait to ask their business with me, but skeddaddled aft. When I reached the poop, the shrieking phantoms were at my heels. Seizing a pump-handle, I made a sweep at one of them as he was clambering up the poop-ladder. But I struck only a guano-bird. The swing of the heavy bar nearly carried me overboard. Had the handle passed through an unsubstantial shade? No! The ghost had dodged, and now was frittering in fright.

"Don't kill me, Mr. A—, I'm not a ghost—I'm only Sam."

The ghosts tore white sheets from their shoulders and stood disclosed as two downy shellbacks. Perhaps I didn't feel like slaughtering the pair of them for making such a fool of me. "Get forward, you scoundrels," I stormed.

"Away with you, or I'll make ghosts of you for sure."

"Good heavens, sir, let us be," they exclaimed. "The real ghosts were after us. Didn't you see 'em?"

"What are you fools frightened of? The ghosts are forward, sir, the real ghosts. They came up out of the water, dripping, ghastly. We'll never play ghosts again—never, sir!"

At that instant the pampers struck the brig, shrieking through the rigging like a litany of Lucifer. The captain sprang on deck, but there was nothing to do. The brig, under a single topsail, leaped like a race-horse before the squall. In an hour or so the pampers passed without doing any damage, and we started to set sail again. The mate called his watch to loose the jibs, but not a man would go on the boom.

"You can kill me, sir," said Sam, "but I won't go forward of the windlass. Them ghosts are waiting for us, sure. Last night the starboard watch played ghosts to frighten you, sir. To-night Bill and I were playing for the benefit of the second, but the real ghosts came over the bows and nearly napped us. Ask old Riley? He was watching the fun from the fore-castle, and he seen 'em rise behind us."

Those scared shellbacks got on the mate's nerves, and, in consequence, the jibs were not set till daylight. When the cook turned out that morning, he found that his galley had been looted another time. Of course, he went for the crew, but those shellbacks had nothing to say. Somehow, I did not like it. If they had been in the galley their protestations would have been profuse enough. But they were plainly perplexed, and even appalled. "It must have been the real ghosts, this time," they muttered among themselves.

The following night I had charge of the deck from twelve to four. A while after two bells the ghosts began to declare themselves. Startling shrieks, blood-curdling groans issued from the bows. My watch clambered on the poop; my hair crept all around my head. In a few minutes the mate's watch came piling out of the fore-castle like greased lightning. They ran to the poop, too, and huddling together, we listened with chattering teeth to the racket raised by the ghosts. After a time the ghostly sounds ceased, and we drew breath more freely. The sailors cowered in the waist, but they did not sleep much.

In the morning there was a row in the fore-castle. Two men had lost their tobacco and pipes, and were blaming their shipmates. To accuse one's shipmate of robbery is a dangerous business. The mate, hearing the angry voices and fearing trouble, made enquiries. On his suggestion, the fore-castle was turned wrong side out, but neither pipes nor tobacco were found.

"The ghosts must have been here last night," said the mate. "They probably don't like the sort of smoke going among spirits and wanted a pull at a sailor's pipe."

The sailors cooled down at once. That day it blew a little, and we battened down hatches fore and aft. At night the sailors slept in the waist and stood their watches there, too. Even a handspike wouldn't persuade them to go forward to the fore-castle. At intervals the ghosts made their presence known.

Next morning when I opened the forepeak hatch, two haggard, hairy beings jumped on deck, clamoring for food and drink.

"The ghosts!" growled the men, running aft. I ran, too. The ghosts followed lecherously, laughing at us as we fled. The captain was on the poop, and he blocked the retreat.

"Who the devil—what are these scoundrels?" he asked.

"The ghosts," says I, as solemn as seven Solomon.

"Yes," said the tall, lanky one, "we're the ghosts, and we're hungry and thirsty, too."

"How did you get aboard?" asked the old man.

"Over the bows. How do you suppose ghosts would come?" roared the old man. "I'll teach you to be funny with me. Get forward! I'm going to look you in the carpenter-shop."

"But, now, my fine lady," we're hungry and thirsty. For Heaven's sake give us something to eat and drink."

"Get out!" grinned the old man. "ghosts should live on air. Another word and I'll throw the both of you overboard."

Thereupon, he seized a handspike, drove them forward, and locked them in the deck and dingy carpenter-shop.

"Now, my fine lady," he said, "you'll have time to think over the foolishness of frightening honest folk."

Every half-hour the captain marched up and down by their prison, taunting them. They begged for something to eat, something to drink, but the old man had no pity for them.

"Ghosts, but I can tell you I got a scare," the mate looked at me lugubriously.

"'Pose the ghosts rifled the doctor's domain," laughed I.

"Maybe not," said the mate. "But when anybody mentions ghosts the old man buttons up his lip and spouts-ec for his whisky flask."

The brig sped along merrily, keeping close to the starboard shore. The captain was on the lookout for a pampers, and a while before midnight we shortened sail. The ship was then four or five miles below Buenos Ayres. It was a dark night—very dark for that part of the world.

A Montreal Case

C. C. Miller cured of a Chronic Case of Rheumatism by Powley's Liquefied Ozone.

We want you to know about Mr. Miller's case. He suffered from chronic rheumatism and was cured by our preparation. He is a citizen of Montreal. He will tell you about his cure if you ask or write him.

Some years ago Mr. Miller had his health and was able to devote his time to his affairs, which grew and prospered. After a while his blood became impure, he began to suffer pain, and he knew that he was affected with incipient rheumatism. His condition gradually became worse, his joints stiffened, it became difficult for him to walk and each time he moved it caused him excruciating pain.

He was forced to give up his establishment. He consulted eminent physicians and spent a great deal of money in medicine. He was so bad that he regarded anything that gave him relief from pain for five minutes as a splendid preparation. He became down-hearted and looked on his case as absolutely incurable.

One day he heard about the wonderful cures Powley's Liquefied Ozone had been making with blood disease, and he purchased a bottle. Although he was discouraged, he received benefit from the first and he kept on. In a short time he was completely cured. This is what he says about Powley's Liquefied Ozone:

"Its cure of my case was particularly gratifying. I was so grateful for the benefit it did me that I brought a supply of it with me when I came to Montreal, fearing I would not be able to get it here. My house is never without Powley's Liquefied Ozone now, and I would not be without it, no matter what it cost. I feel as young and active as I did before I was sick. I am able to work every day, in fact, I can do a better day's work than ever before in my life."

(Signed) C. C. MILLER, 2141 St. Catherine St., Montreal.

This is simply a statement of facts. We believe you will profit by considering this case. The cure is remarkable. It shows the power of our preparation to cure disease.

Consult our physician about your case. Write full details and you will get a specialist's advice free. Your letters are absolutely confidential. Address The Consulting Department, The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie St., Chicago, U.S.A.

Curious Bits of News.

There is some talk of establishing a women's college of matrimony, to be located in Chelsea, England, where the duties of a wife will become the subject of a two years' course of study. The curriculum will embrace not only the usual branches of housewifery, such as cooking, sewing and laundry work, but is intended to deal with physiology and medicine as well.
English is the language of the Japanese Foreign Office, both in its intercourse with foreign diplomats and its telegraphic correspondence with its own representatives abroad. All telegrams from Tokyo to the foreign agents of Japan are written and ciphered in English, and the replies are in the same language. The "Yankers of the East" evidently want their Western civilization in the original packages.
The so-called respiration of plants is a well-known botanical phenomenon. Now, if we may credit "La Science pour Tous," a Chinese botanist has discovered a plant that not only breathes, but also coughs and sneezes. "The least grain of dust that alights on the surface of one of its leaves will provoke a cough. The leaf becomes red and a spasmodic movement passes over it several times in succession, while it gives out a sound exactly like that of sneezing."
We now know that all the theses which the first class in Harvard College defended in 1842 are false, says Edward Everett Hale, "their astronomer was all wrong, their logic was all wrong, their metaphysics were all wrong, and their theology was all wrong." While we are criticizing ourselves upon the intellectual successes with which this century opens, it will be wholesome to reflect that the men of light and leading in 1842 were sure that they had the right of things as we are to-day of our own science.

As a result of the Japanese Buddhist mission to America, instituted a year or so ago, a church called the "Dharma-Sangha of Buddha" has been established in San Francisco, with three branches in other Californian towns. In the San Francisco temple there is a membership of three hundred in the Young Men's Buddhist Association, mostly of Japanese. At an English service on Sundays twenty or more "Americans" are present, of whom eleven have already been converted to Buddhism, and have openly professed that they "take their refuge in Buddha, in his gospel and in his order."

Rebecca Wampler, said to be a hundred years old, who died the other day in Dublin, Ind., had met with many accidents during her life. At the age of six years she fell from a picket fence and broke her finger. In 1853 she broke her ankle, in 1856 she fell down and broke her collar-bone and three ribs, in 1885 in a runaway while returning from church she was thrown from a vehicle and her right hip broke. In 1888 she slipped and fell on the pavement, breaking her left hip; in 1892 she broke her left leg at the knee. In 1896 she fell from a tree, breaking her left arm; in 1898 she fell out of bed, breaking her right arm, and in 1900 she broke her right hip for the second time.

The Baptist Church of Janesville, Wis., has established what is called a "Children's Church," the object of which is to give the parents of young children an opportunity to attend church. During the morning service hour the children who are too young to attend church service have a service of their own, conducted by the young women in the Sunday school rooms. They volunteer for the work, and a different committee takes charge of the little ones each Sunday. The babies are amused with dolls and playthings, while the work of interesting the older children is conducted along kindergarten lines. A large number of children attend, and the children's church is proving popular, many of the little ones being unwilling to leave when their mothers call for them at the close of church.

Portable churches have followed the portable schoolhouse. The Dutch Reformed Church of Pennsylvania is considering the advisability of adopting them in communities too poor and thinly settled to afford a permanent house of worship. The buildings are made of corrugated, galvanized iron, fastened to a wooden framework. The inside is sheathed with matched boards, between which and the iron walls is a lining of heavy felt, which keeps the building warm in winter and cool in the summer. Each piece is so marked and the whole so planned that any ordinary mechanic can put the building together. Such a church, with a seating capacity of three hundred, can be built for fifteen hundred dollars. The portable church, however, is not an automobile. It is like other churches in that it will not "go" unless people pull together.

Extract from an Historical Novel.

The day was exceeding fair and I was strolling in the park, taking the air and wondering whether the day might peradventure bring me an encounter—three days having gone by without a single adventure.
Presently a stout person of goodly size and belittled appearance, who had been gazing at the house-tops. He proached, and the whole so planned that any ordinary mechanic can put the building together. Such a church, with a seating capacity of three hundred, can be built for fifteen hundred dollars. The portable church, however, is not an automobile. It is like other churches in that it will not "go" unless people pull together.

ON CRUTCHES.

Even if you are obliged to use crutches Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure can fix you up. This was the experience of John J. Peters, Sheriff of Lake, Ont. He suffered with rheumatism in his legs (sciatica) for a year and had to creep about on crutches all the time. Fortunately he tried Dr. Hall's remedy and it only took three bottles to cure him completely. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Barnes—What dreadful weather we have had this spring! It's perfectly awful.
Shedd—But there's one good thing about it. The women haven't had a chance to begin house-cleaning.

There are some women who seem to be perennially youthful. The grown daughters are companions as well as the children, and the brightness in her eyes, the roundness of her form, all speak of abounding health. What is her secret? She is at the middle age of life, when many women are worn, wasted and faded. The secret of this matrimonial health and beauty may be told in a brief description. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a general health of woman, is so intimately related to the local health of the delicate womanly organs, that where these are diseased, the whole body must suffer. "Favorite Prescription" dries the debilitated drains, heals ulceration and inflammation, cures female weakness and imparts to the delicate female organs natural vigor and vitality. Women who have lost their health and their beauty have been made "robust and rosy cheeked" by the use of this marvelous medicine.

"Can't you give me a nickel, sir? I am starving," said the beggar.
"Certainly, my man. Here's thirty cents, five for your meek and a quarter for the waiter," replied the kind-hearted pedestrian.

Summer Helps to Cure Catarrh and Bronchitis.

Sunshine, evenness of temperature, outdoor life, together with freedom from recurrence of colds which winter brings, is a great boon to victims of Catarrh, Bronchitis and Hay Fever. The treatment of prompt Catarrh, a certain remedy, it cures always, but the treatment of chronic Catarrh, the quickest in summer. Doctors approve of it, druggists recommend it, people who have used it, go on to say: "You try Catarrh quickly. It has gone to it. Where your Catarrh has gone to it. Do you know any other remedy that does? All dealers, 25c. and $1.00.

If you know how to spend less than you get, you have the philosopher's stone.

The Anemic Young Girl

Perhaps she is sixteen. Suddenly she seems to lose strength, her beauty fades because her strength fails, her eyes lose their lustre. How her spirit droops! It alarms you, but all this may be corrected quickly. Get her Ferro-China. It is a nerve tonic, it aids the stomach to do its work. Appetite she'll eat anything and digest it. The treatment of prompt Catarrh, a certain remedy, it cures always, but the treatment of chronic Catarrh, the quickest in summer. Sure Cure for Sea Sickness, Nausea

Maladies of this type yield instantly to Potosin's Nervine, and if you suffer periodically from these complaints, just keep Nervine at hand. A few drops in sweetened water gives instant relief, and in the course of half an hour the cure is complete. A large 25c. bottle of Nervine in the house will save doctor bills, and a vast amount of suffering every year.

An honest man will receive neither money nor praise that is not his due.

A SPRAINED ANKLE is not an uncommon accident. Pain-Killer relieves and cures almost as if by magic. The greatest household remedy. Substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. 25c. and 50c.

Every man is bound to aim at the possession of a good character as one of the highest objects of life.

For pimples, blotches, bad complexion, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take—it has established this fact.

It is right to be contented with what we have, but never with what we are.

"We were very much pleased with the design you sent. It was beautiful and appropriate." The Victoria Ave. Greenhouses receive such words of commendation every day. Telephone No. 181.

The Soda Fountain Clerk.

CONSIDER now the meek and humble soda fountain clerk. Who draweth off the moistened air with nimble turn and jerk.
His garb is always spotless white when first he puts it on. But, lo, before an hour hath passed its spotlessness hath gone. For then he hath vanilla on the bosom of his vest, and streaks of red raspberry make his trousers seem a jest.
While chocolate and ginger give a tiger-like effect to the balance of the garments in which he's proudly decked. His hair is limp and languid, and is parted square and true.
Above the very center of his nose, which turneth blue.
Because he hath to linger in the acid and the ice, to fix up funny mixtures for the ones that hath the price.
He maketh strange concoctions in the line of fancy drinks, and all the while he watcheth for persuasive sorts of winks.
From early morn he twelfth at the soda water spout, and turneth the ice-crusher till the ice hath given out. He diggeth in the ice cream and the marshmallows with the glass, while his deadly hated rival buys the soda for the lass.
Yea, verily, the soda clerk, he hath a sorry time, for he must know the way to get nine cents out of each dime.
And he must be a hustler, that there will not be a loss of ice or gas or water, or he'll tremble at the host.
How often, oh, how often, hath the soda jerk grinned at the one who payeth nickels for a penny's worth of wind?
How often, oh, how often, doth a calm and peaceful smile go flitting o'er his visage when a drink goes out of style.
But ah, alas, my son, sometimes he feeleth very bad, and then is when the ladies come with garments rich and glad.
The ladies all the rockers and the doorways, and the stools, and insist upon a liquid that both elevates and cools.
And one declareth that she'd like some chocolate with cream, and when he draweth it, straightaway "Oh no!" the maid doth scream.
And then she voweth that she hath already changed her mind, at a want of lemon rind.
And yet, again the other maids declare they do not know just what they wish-and on and on their mild objections flow.
The weary soda fountain clerk suggesteth this and that, from plain old lemon phosphate to a dose of anti-fet. And finally the ladies fair with one consent conclude that chocolate and cream shall be their soda fountain food.
Now, when he draweth all the drinks, his troubles are not done—Nay, verily, my trusting child, they are but half begun.
For each and every maiden there doth straightway rise and say: "Now, girls, I'll think it's awful if you do not let me pay!"
And all protestations of all object, and all their plans defend.
And not a one takes out her purse her lovely cash to spend.
Now, finally, the soda clerk suggesteth that each maid shall pay for what she drank—and then beginneth the tirade.
For all the ladies vow in wrath—yes, yes, they almost sob—that they will his job.
And then they take their parasols, and sternly go away, and not a cent of all that bill do they take steps to pay.
The gentle soda fountain clerk, he falleth in a daze, and leaneth on the vichy tube, and wicket things he says. Is this not true, just as we have composed it, with much work?
It surely is—and if you doubt, go ask the soda clerk—Baltimore "American."

"PUT OUT THE FIRE"

Dr. Agnew's Ointment will relieve and cure any skin disease just as surely as it cured this soldier's Erysipelas—the first application kills the "sting."

Least Buckman, National Soldier's Home, in Grant County, Indiana, had a very acute attack of Erysipelas. His face and head were in torment with burning and itching sensations. A druggist recommended Dr. Agnew's Ointment as the quickest relief and cure. He bought a box and found it as good as it promised, and a few applications, to use his own words, "put out the fire and less than a box entirely cured me." Price 35 cts.

PRESBYTERY

Important Meeting at Ridgeway Yesterday—Tilsonburg Secures Rev. J. J. Brown, of Bothwell.

The Presbytery of Chatham met in regular session in Ridgeway yesterday. There was a large attendance of members.

Rev. J. McInnis was elected moderator for ensuing months. Considerable business was transacted. The committees of Presbytery for the ensuing year were appointed.

The following students, Messrs. McLean, McKenzie, Martin and Young were testified to their colleges. Much trouble is experienced in securing students for the mission fields for the winter and some are likely to remain vacant.

Rev. J. B. Scott was appointed to the Buxton field for six months, and Rev. W. E. Knowles was appointed moderator for the field.

Reference was made to the demise of Robert Ferguson, M. P. P., who has for many years been a conspicuous member of the Presbyterian church, and the sympathy of the Presbytery was extended to the relatives and to the Thamesville congregation.

The interest of the meeting centered mostly on the call from Tilsonburg to Rev. J. J. Brown, of Bothwell. For more than an hour the different parties presented their reasons, the one to take Mr. Brown, the other begging him to remain. When Mr. Brown rose to give his decision his eyes were not absolutely dry, nor was his voice the steadiest, for he was much worried. He elected to accept the call and the Presbytery effected the translation to take effect at the end of this month.

Rev. J. McInnis, of Thamesville, was appointed interim-moderator of Bothwell.

Presbytery adjourned to meet in First Presbyterian church, Chatham, on the second Tuesday in November.

NEARING THE COAST.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 10.—The Ophir, with the royal party on board, is supposed to be off the coast, as the warships indefatigable and Tribune and the destroyer Quail left last evening to escort her to Quebec, where she is due on Sunday.

Father Point, Sept. 10.—A French warship on her way to Quebec passed inward at 1:10 a. m. Pilot Lamarre took charge of her here.

Westman Bros.....$32.09 Banner-News, printing.....27.75 Kenny, paper, etc.....11.04 Small accounts.....5.71

A number of uncertified accounts were referred to the Supply committee.

The report of the standing of the cadets was received and filed. It was agreed that in future the staff should order their supplies through the Supply and Property committee.

It was decided to renew the insurance on the Institute at once.

Bell-Battisby, that the report of the Principal be received and filed, and that the purchase of a new typewriter be referred to the Supply committee with power, and that the janitor be requested to remove the surplus earth from the grounds.

Bell-White, that the chairman inform the Minister of Education that his offer to send a demonstration in domestic science is accepted, and also that the Supply committee be authorized to procure stoves and other supplies necessary.

The meeting then adjourned.

Business is Business

If you can buy shoes of us cheaper than you can buy them elsewhere, is there any good reason why you shouldn't do it? Do you think the people that are asking you to pay exorbitant prices for shoes would pay you more for an article than they would your competitor? Try it and see, it is a poor rule that won't work both ways. This is our rule—"A fair profit and a cash business," this is our way of doing business and not because someone else did it.

WOMAN'S DEATH

U. S. Authorities Censured for Permitting Foolhardy Performances at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 10.—Coroner Dr. Emme to-day empanelled a jury and held an inquest in the death of the woman, Maude Willard, which took place in the whirlpool on Saturday evening after she navigated the rapids in a barrel. The evidence of the witnesses, the principal one being Carlisle D. Graham, went to show the woman had entered the barrel of her own free will, and that her object was to obtain the remuneration promised her by the New York Museum Company, which made moving pictures of the wild ride through the rapids, as well as Graham's swim through the Devil's Hole rapids at Lewiston, on the same afternoon. The jury returned a verdict of death by suffocation, holding no one responsible, but censured the United States authorities for permitting such foolhardy performances.

CIVIC COTERIES INVESTIGATING

Committees of City Council Met and Transacted Business This Morning.

The Cemetery Bridge to be Repaired—Alleviate Residents on Emma St.

The special committee appointed by the City Council on Monday evening to inspect the cemetery bridge and report on its condition and the necessary steps required to remedy any defects, met this morning and took a trip to the cemetery to make a personal inspection of the bridge in question. Those who composed the committee were Ald. Scane, Marshall, McCoig and the City Engineer.

It was decided that for the present the old bridge should be repaired, as they thought it unnecessary to build a new one. New plankings will be put in and, where necessary, new joists and posts.

"That bridge is all right," said the Engineer to The Planet this morning. "All it needs is some new planks and joists. Otherwise it is in fairly good condition."

The committee appointed to deal with the Emma St. sidewalk also met and viewed the walk. This committee was composed of Ald. Taylor, McCoig, Fleming and Edmondson. The committee felt disposed to give Mr. Blonde certain concessions and lower the sidewalk about six inches. By the present incomplete state in which the sidewalk is, however, it was impossible to say exactly what should be done, and it was finally decided to leave the matter in the hands of the chairman of the Board of Works, Ald. Marshall, and the City Engineer, to deal reasonably in the matter with the parties in question. So that the matter practically remains in the same condition as before.

DISTRICT DOINGS.

DRESDEN

Sept. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Wells spent Sunday in Chatham. C. F. Forehand visited the Maple City on Saturday. Mr. Forehand, while cutting corn for C. F. Watson on his farm, 12th concession, Chatham Township, had his leg caught in the knife of the machine and received a very bad cut. He was brought to the office of Dr. H. S. McDonald, who found it necessary to put in several stitches. The Forehans, owned by Laird Bros, was drifted on Sand Beach in the storm of Saturday last. No insurance.

Stiff Front Colored Shirts

It's swinging round to the time of year when starched shirts get comfortable again. Let us remind you that this store is headquarters for the comfortable kind.

There's a natty shirt here for the modest little price of 75c. A shirt that is liked and bought and worn with thorough satisfaction. It's a blue and white cluster stripe with open fronts and loose cuffs—looks cool and trim and clean.

If you like variety choose from these regatta shirts at a dollar. Three styles in percale with short or long bosoms. Check patterns and plain and fancy stripes. Separate cuffs, open fronts.

Then this fine shirt. Three styles, short or long bosom, open back and front or fronts only, just as you choose. Dollar and a quarter for this one.

Really, we have any sort of stiff front shirt you can want.

GOOD GATHERING

Successful Session of the Chatham District Workers of the Methodist Church.

The annual financial meeting of the Chatham district of the Methodist church was held in Blenheim yesterday. Dr. Hamman, pastor of the Park street Methodist church of this city, presided. Delegates were present from every station in the district and a very satisfactory meeting was held.

In the evening a concert was given in the church. A very large number from here attended and a number from Chatham took part in the excellent program which was provided for the occasion.

The first item on the program was a solo by Miss Allie Humphrey, who has already succeeded in winning her way to the hearts of the Blenheim people and established an enviable reputation as a vocalist. The second was an address by Rev. T. J. George, pastor of the Victoria avenue Methodist Church of this city. Mr. George, as is well known here, is an able and persuasive speaker, and his address last evening was greatly appreciated.

After Mr. George's address, Clarence Perry gave a vocal solo, and was immediately followed by Rev. W. H. Shaw, of Cedar Springs, who delivered a pleasing address. After another solo by Miss Humphrey, Dr. Thornton, of this city, took the platform and addressed the gathering. Dr. Thornton is a great favorite and the people of Blenheim did not hesitate to show their appreciation of him last evening.
