CHAPTER X.
Belle Mellen's Marriage.
When Ned Cameron heard of the calamity that had fallen upon the family of the Mellens, he at once obtained leave of absence, and went down to the farm with Christopher. They chanced to be upon the same train that bore May from her aunt's house to her own, where sorrow reigned.

She had learned of Goldie's supposed death, but was totally unprepared to find her idolized mother lying cold and lifeless.
In company with Christy and Ned Cameron, she entered the low farmhouse. Belle stood in the door, waiting to receive them, for Tim had been sent to the village with the double sleigh to meet them.
May threw her arms about Belle's neck and sobbed:
"Oh, Bell! Our dear little sister Goldie, dead—dead!"
"It isn't Goldie alone, May; it is mother!" quickly replied Belle.
"What do you say, Belle?" cried Christy, coming forward and laying his hand upon Belle's arm.
"Oh, Christy! Oh, May! how can I ever tell you? Father lies insensible. She is dead, and mother died yesterday! replied Belle.
"Come into the house, girl"; and

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. NATHAN B. GREATON, 61 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.
The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

In Every Home

there is sure to come physical suffering at times—suffering hard to bear—suffering that will be followed by serious sickness, if the first symptoms are neglected.
But this suffering will soon be forgotten, and there will be no after consequences if relief is obtained from a safe, reliable, natural, corrective medicine.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

ought to be on hand in every home ready for use at first sign of trouble.
This famous family remedy has proved in years and years of trial, its power to correct physical trouble and to ward off disease.

Try for yourself—or in your home, a few doses and see how the bodily system is strengthened, refreshed and how surely and effectively they

Relieve Suffering

Your druggist can supply you in boxes with helpful directions, 25c.

A kind neighbor came in to watch with the body, and another to sit beside Mr. Mellen, who was still insensible, Christy and May and Ned, had all been into his room and looked at him.

He seemed to be as truly dead at his wife, lying in the next room, excepting that one could detect a faint breathing by applying the ear close to his lips.

"I will take care of father to-night," said Christy.
"And I will sit up with you," responded Ned.

And so it was. The two young men watched beside the bed, and the kind-hearted neighbor who had come in to perform his deed of love, after rehearsing every particular connected with Goldie's disappearance to the anxious listeners, went home.

Belle retired, with May, quite early in the evening, and was obliged to answer her "many" questions about Goldie, and to hear her heartbroken sobs and lamentations, for Goldie had been very dear to May. This, to Belle was the hardest to bear, for her heart kept whispering:
"You are her murderer! You caused her mother's death!"

And, try as she would, she could not still the unwelcome voice.
The following day was the funeral, and all that was earthly of Mrs. Mellen was committed to the dust, and the disconsolate family returned to the desolate home.

The next day was Sunday, and the day following Ned Cameron returned to college. Christy remained at home until his father was pronounced to be out of danger.

Upon his return to college he found a new student there. This was Grant Whitney, a brother of Frank, who had been admitted, contrary to the rules of the institution, during the middle of the term.

Grant Whitney was a high-spirited dashing young fellow of twenty, full of fire and extremely willful, yet with all as free from the vices of his class as he could be. At heart he was both noble and impulsive.

Between this young man and Christy a warm attachment sprang up, and Christy went home at vacation. Grant Whitney insisted upon being taken along.

The result was that he fell hopelessly in love with Belle Mellen, and with all the rash impetuosity of his nature, determined to give up his studies and marry her, in spite of the remonstrances of his friends.

Belle, whose accusing conscience constantly reminded her of her sin, determined to accept Grant Whitney's offer, and one fine evening they rode over to the village and were married.

Ned Cameron, who was visiting May during the vacation, was the first to

Eczema Not a Blood Disease

For this reason internal treatment fails to cure—Success of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Experiences with the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment will soon convince anyone that Eczema is a disease of the skin and not of the blood.

Mr. A. D. Macneaney, Stornoway, Que., writes—"I had itching eczema on my leg for over five years and tried many remedies and several doctors without benefit. Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me completely." "I was a sufferer from Salt Rheum for ten years and was cured by eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment. I am heartily thankful for this cure and want to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to other sufferers."

Why not get the cure started to-day if you are a sufferer from eczema or any form of itching skin disease you will think the day you heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment 50 cts. a box, all dealers, or Edmundson, Oates & Co., Toronto.

meet them upon their return.
"Allow me to present you to Mrs. Whitney, Mr. Cameron!" cried Grant, with a great show of politeness.
Ned was at a loss whether to treat the whole affair as a joke or reply in earnest. But, seeing the grave expression of Belle's face, he simply extended his hand, and replied: "I wish you much joy, Mrs. Whitney," and passed on.
Meeting May a few minutes after, he asked:
"Have you heard the news?"
"Oh, Ned! Belle has been over to the village with Grant, and they were married, without one of her relatives to witness the ceremony. I feel as if I should die!"
"Then they are really married?"
"Certainly. I saw the certificate," answered May.
"Grant is a singular fellow. I should hesitate before I intrusted the happiness of my sister into his keeping."

"Christy is engaged to your sister Alice, isn't he?"
"Yes. They will be married as soon as he is settled in his profession," was the reply.
At this moment Christy came out upon the porch. He was flushed and excited, and exclaimed:
"What does this mean? Have we a newly married couple here?"
"Oh, I beg your pardon! I was looking for Belle and Grant. Tim has just informed me that they were married to-night, and I wish to learn the truth."

"Christy, you will not say anything unkind to them?" pleaded May, laying her soft hand upon his arm.
"I am not sure what I shall say," he replied; "it will depend somewhat upon what they say to me. I cannot believe that Belle would forget so soon. She might have waited at least a year after—after mother and Goldie died!"

While she was speaking, Grant and Belle came out into the porch.

Why should I buy a roofing that needs to be painted every little while to keep it tight, when for the same money or less, I can buy AMATITE which needs no painting?

The outer surface is composed of real mineral matter, which makes painting unnecessary.
With an Amatte Roof on your building you end your roofing troubles. When you buy a roofing that requires frequent painting you begin them.

Smooth roofings that require painting are a nuisance and an expense. When you buy them, you buy trouble—no protection.

Zam-Buk Cures Bad Burns.

Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M.S. "Cochrane," says: "I slipped and fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly fried the skin. At once the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but the burns took the wrong way, owing to a lot of dirt from the pipe setting up blood-poison. A large seah appeared, and from underneath the festering flesh, matter oozed out. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease.
"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good. Indeed, I got worse. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first

The Evening Chit-Chat

By ROYAL CAMERON

"She was married by momentum."
I wonder of how many married women that might be said.
A pathetic little letter lies on my desk. It is from a young girl who has discovered that she does not love the man she is engaged to marry in less than two months.

"But what can I do?" she cries, "I have almost all my trousseau and most of my household things. My girl friends have given me showers, and we've even picked out the house and hired it, and we're beginning to talk about setting the actual date for the wedding. I've been afraid for two or three months that I didn't care enough but that was what made me realize just how badly I did feel. Why, when we talked about actually being married on this day or that it just seemed as if everything went black.
I felt as if I were being sentenced to prison. Isn't that a perfectly awful way for a bride to feel?"

"But what can I do? How can I break it off? What will people say?
What will he say? Oh, Miss Cameron, sometimes when I wake up in the night and think it all over, I feel as if I were going crazy, or as if it must be all a terrible dream. But I can't possibly turn back. Can I?"

"I wonder what the other women who have been in that same position and have gone on would say to 'I can't possibly turn back. Can I?'" I am afraid they would laugh if they heard it—that terrible bitter melancholy laugh—like the laugh of the girl that Dick painted in "The Light that Failed"—which is the saddest sound in the world.

"You think it takes more strength than you've got to stop now," they would say. "Now how much strength do you think it's going to take to go on and live forty or fifty or sixty years with a man you don't love?" One mistake never corrects another.

The bramble bush philosophy of our nursery rhyme doesn't work in real life.
This girl made one terrible mistake in getting engaged to a man she doesn't love. She certainly can't correct it by making the "even more terrible blunder of marrying him."

Listen, my dear girl—and any others who may be in a similar position——first don't be swayed by any passing mood of resentment or overwrought nerves in this matter. Be sure you know your own mind this time. Give your feelings a "reasonable" test of time. But once you are sure, don't let any considerations of what people will say or what he will say have a feather's weight with you. Think how much worse things they would probably say at the divorce suit.

Go ahead and do what you know is right and best, and you will find strength for all the recriminations and embarrassments and misery of broken hearts that can possibly come.

Go straight ahead and if discouraged moments come hold tight to your heart the comfort that six months of misery is better than sixty years.

You feel as if you were in a terrible dream. You are. And you can awaken yourself now if you will make the effort. But marriage would convert your dream into a reality from which you could never awake.

May you have the strength to do what God means you to do and find the best happiness that He has in store for you.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid rising in throat, loss of eating, stomach gray or burn, food breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle wrapper and attached under each. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Fads and Fashions.

Black and blue are perhaps the best colors for the practical every-day tailored suit, though almost any color should prove satisfactory, since the art of dyeing is so good nowadays.

Hoods will be worn on evening coats and wraps, on short cloth jackets, on tailored suits and on long separate coats. They can be applied with little difficulty by the home dressmaker.

THE PATIENT BRAIN

A tireless worker so long as supplied with rich, red blood.
The brain is one of the most patient and industrious organs of the body. It can be induced, by good treatment, to perform prodigies of work. But it is sensitive and will not boob abuse. It responds to the lash at first, but if the lash is laid on too hard it balks.

Nervous trouble is generally brain trouble, and no suffering is to be compared to mental suffering, with the accompanying dread, suspicion and melancholy.

One-fifth of the blood in the human body is consumed by the brain, so make the blood rich and red by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you will overcome diseases of the nerves. Headaches will disappear, irritability will go, digestion will improve, and weakness and despondency will give place to new hope and courage, new vigor and energy.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will enable you to avoid such extreme nervous trouble as prostration and paralysis, 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Cascarets Cleans Livers and Bowels.

No Billousness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Coated Tongue or Constipation.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to unfold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret is right will give you a thorough cleaning inside and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascar-et now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

care to his fashion as well as to his serviceability.

The Parisian blouse frill has a rival—the new lingerie label. The effect of each is practically the same, except that the frill is softer and more feminine. These new labels are of fine handkerchief linen, daintily hand-embroidered and finished with a hand scallop.

It is undoubtedly the popularity of the fish which is responsible for the new shoulder line or rather ampolo, which no one likes, yet which everyone is evidently going to wear. It is the ugliest kind, and comes with bad trace after the graceful peasant shawl with its charming simplicity.

Many of the new petticoats are unlovable. Indeed, they are quite old-fashioned deep-cut affairs, with deep silk fringe around the foot.
Others have applied borders of silk trousers with narrow side-pleated ruf-les are charming, yet very sensible or general utility wear. Deep ac-cordeon flounces seem to be restricted to chiffon.

The return of the high collar brings also the revival of the soft folds of hiffon, mousseline and crepe de chine to be worn around the top of the collar. Although some women prefer these folds in white, fashion says that they should be in the same color as the dress—to give contrast, as the hemispheres of yokes and collars are generally white or ecru.

Mrs. Tucker and Delaney Have a Chat on the Decline in our Local Writers.
A Bright Future for the Men Who Will Enter In.

"Can you tell me," says Mrs. Tucker,
"where all our good writers are gone, why it seems as if they have all gone up in a balloon and forgotten to come down."

She addressed Delaney who is an authority on good writers, but he seemed puzzled as to the answer, at last he eluded his pipe in his jaw, and after a little reflection, he said:—

"Do you know, my man, my opinion is that if you start out to write for the papers of this town you will gradually grow so poor that you won't be able to raise the price of a sheet of paper or a two-cent bottle of blue black ink."

Mrs. Tucker gazed at Delaney in surprise.
"Surely," says she, "you don't mean to insinuate that because a man writes for the papers he must become poor.
Why the idea is ridiculous."

"Will you show me a man in this town," says Delaney, "or the next town to it who contributed articles to the papers who was worth any money when he kicked the bucket? Look over the long list of writers and you will find that writing and making a suit of clothes do five years go hand in hand. The man or woman who writes for the papers seems to be expected to be able to thrive on black ink for drink, and chewing a quill for food.
More than that, the man or woman who writes for the papers in this town is looked upon as wasting valuable time, which he or she could put in more profitably by grumbling about bad times or backbiting their neighbors. You will hear people say who read the articles and enjoy them.
"Why this must be all that these people do, scribble for the papers?—While the same people who talk, sit over a card table, or spend their time mung-ling oysters on the half shell. Then, again, you will meet the upstart who knows it all. He has gall enough to come up to you and tell you how you should write. And if perchance you write something that does not come up to his idea of how it should be done, he will have the gall to inform you that it is absolutely rotten.
Generally, this kind of chap never did anything himself to benefit anyone.
He went to school for years and figured in the papers as passing all the grades. He could talk French by the yard, and quote Shakespeare in a stream, but just as soon as he left school he got lost in the crowd, and so one bothered getting a torchlight procession to look for him. That's what is wrong with our writers," says Delaney, "they come on the surface for a short time but the atmosphere is too cold to make them thrive and they die early."

"You're very quiet over there, Tim," says Mrs. Tucker, "what's your opinion on this matter?"

"Well," says I, "I never gave that side of the question much consideration. 'Tis true, as you say, our writers are becoming 'beautifully less,' and there are no new writers coming forward out of all the brilliant scholars that our educational institutions are turning out. Perhaps it is that they have learned the lesson that, it doesn't pay, and you know we are living in the age when the hankering after money is becoming an infectious disease. For my own part, I never bother my head about what people think or say. If I feel like writing I'll write, just as if I feel like having a smoke, I'll smoke. I don't know what makes me write, for I haven't the least idea that I shall ever shine in the journalistic line. There's a certain pleasure in it for me, just as there is a certain amount of pleasure to the man who gets wet through and all fagged out looking for partridge. If I got paid for writing I wouldn't be able to pen a word. There must be a free and easy swing about it, a go-as-you-please kind of business, that makes it a recreation rather than a task. As for people coming out in the papers, more or less public property, You can't expect everyone is going to send bouquets to your home. If the editor accepts my article, well and good, that's sufficient for me, for I generally reckon editors are able to judge this kind of thing almost as well as the generality of people that you meet. As for the thanks you get, well, don't expect any and you won't be disappointed. But his should not deter our brilliant young men from entering the stormy sea, for when the voyage of life is over and the people are sure you are dead, then they will say: 'Well, poor So and So is gone, he'll be buried from the Poor House, what do you say but we'll go up and meet his funeral on the way down, for he wasn't a half-bad kind of a writer in his day. Surely this ought to be an they needn't be afraid of making mis-

The Burin Manifesto.

Sir Edward Morris has now taken off the mask and thrown away disguise and in his speech at the opening of the Burin Agricultural Exhibition, as we pointed out yesterday, deliberately and intentionally, availed of the opportunity to deliver a political speech. That speech has been revised and yesterday it was published in large type in the Daily News, it will be re-issued in pamphlet form and circulated widely, as a weapon of political warfare in the interest of the party which he leads. It is Sir Edward's latest manifesto, and for convenience of reference can be mentioned in future as the Burin Manifesto. In it he recites most of the heads of his previous manifesto, nine-tenths of which have nothing whatever to do with the opening or holding of an Agricultural Exhibition, under the auspices of which he made this partisan speech.

A comparison of the planks of his Manifesto of March 1908 with those of his Burin Manifesto will show that he has now formally abandoned the plank which occupied so prominent a place in the former, viz., "Reduction of Taxation." In his former Manifesto it occupied the second place on the list. He has now another plank called "No Increased Taxation," but that he consigns to the last place but one. Both are travesties of facts. There has been no reduction of taxation, and there has been increased taxation. Another travesty of facts, which is even more amazing, is the avowal that—

"Since the assumption of office, principles of economy have been rigidly practised in the public service."

Why did not Sir Edward illustrate this by telling the right economy practised in the payment of those enormous fees to himself and Mr. Morrison in the American Fishery dispute? Why did he not tell of the rigid economy practised in the payment of salaries, etc., to Messrs. Seymour, Downey and Devereaux? Why did he not tell of the money paid to Messrs. Goodson and Jordan Milley? Why did he not tell of the fees paid to Mr. O. Emerson, his colleague on the platform, for examining titles?

Why did he not tell of the principles of economy practised by the Minister of Agriculture in the distribution of timber grants among his well-to-do party followers? Why did he not tell that he found the Crown Lands Act too strict and that he had it altered to give the Executive Council greater liberty in dealing with grants?

The whole document breathes partisan politics. But it is avowedly but an interim manifesto, for Sir Edward states emphatically, "When we again seek your suffrages and support for a renewal of our term of office we shall be able to lay before you an attractive programme which will be your vindication for again entrusting the care of the country to our control and guidance."

Sir Edward, without doubt, is taking time by the forelock and preparing to shear political lambs; and after all he is not without experience in Agriculture. He has raised two blades of grass, and shepherded sheep on the South Side Hill, but before we saw the Burin Manifesto we did not know that he was an authority on poultry raising. According to Sir Edward, there are two methods of poultry raising. One is "to keep the poultry warm and feed them with warm mash, putting pepper in the food to make them lay well; the other method is much cheaper—a house one board thick, winter and summer, even when the thermometer shows 20 degrees below zero; two inches of coarse litter in which dry grain is scattered, and the poultry have to scratch to get a meal."

We do not desire to offer any opinion on Sir Edward's experience in the raising of ordinary poultry, but we willingly concede him much experience in the political poultry yard. The second method he declares much the better, and if anybody knows, he knows. I suppose. Since February 1909 he has gained experience in both methods. He has given abundance of timber, fat fees, fine pickings, warmth, comfort and an easy life to the select breed of Seymours, Downeys, Devereaux, Emersons, Gibbs and Morrises. When he gives them pepper we don't know, nor of his success in the treatment. He is also experienced in the Cold Storage method; inch board houses, with cold grates and the scratch for a living for the common or backyard fowl, whose eggs are votes. A fine feature of the latter method is that it is Canadian. Sir Edward commends it, but he practises both, as we have shown.

Police Court News.

In the police court to-day 2 drunks were fined $1 or 3 days each. Another was fined $2 or 7 days and 2 were discharged.

Const. Tobin summoned Otto Oppelt on a charge of driving his auto without a tall lamp. Mr. Sullivan prosecuted but when sworn Otto showed to the court that the light was a new one (electric) that worked splendidly all the summer but that since the rainy season set in it gave him much trouble and frequently went out unknown to him. Mr. Sullivan said the police did not wish to press the case and paid a tribute to the law abiding spirit of the Reid N.G. Co. and as Otto was the pioneer chauffeur he appealed to him to set a good example. He referred to the fact that the light was the neglect of the chauffeurs were giving the police much trouble. The case was dismissed with costs. Mr. Furlong, K.C., defended.

Man Went Overboard.

Shortly after 7 p.m. yesterday, but for the promptness of watchman Jerry Collins of Bowring's premises, an unfortunate drunk who was on board the Nellie Louise at the pier on the eastern side of the premises would have been drowned. He fell over the stern, Collins heard the splash and the man's cries, and jumping into a boat near went to the rescue. In the dark it was difficult to find the man, but he did so after a time and fished him out. The inebriate was sobered and exhausted from his emersion.

"There's a Reason."

There's a drug—caffeine—in tea and coffee which interferes with digestion and has a disturbing effect on the heart and nervous system—showing in some persons more than in others.

One can continue with the drug and pay the cost in physical suffering, or quit the return to comfortable health, provided the condition has not become chronic.

Postum offers an easy way to slip off the tea or coffee habit.

Then, with the cause of the trouble removed, Nature will properly take up the rich food elements in Postum for the rebuilding of the system.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

Great men have lived and done their stunts, and then they died, just like the ruts, and still the world waggled on; the sun went cally-hooting by, the same-old way, across the sky, the night gave place to THE GREAT MEN dawn. I sometimes think, when all swelled up until I'm like a poisoned pup, that when I come to croak, the stars will surely jump the track, the universe be out of whack, perhaps go up in smoke. I find it hard to realize that all the planets in the skies will travel just the same, that rain will fall and winds will blow, that there'll be dew and rime and snow, when I have jumped the frame. It's hard for me to understand that I am but a grain of sand upon an endless shore; and when I'm blown into the sea the other grains may sigh for me—one sigh and nothing more. Ah, many men were called "the great"—their deeds the histories relate, but when they cashed their string, when each had shot his little bolt, the old world never felt a jolt, but just kept up its fling. There doesn't live so great a soul that when he dies he'll leave a hole in this old mundane place; our old friend Death cannot be beat as taking big chunks of conceit from out the human race.

Canada Welcom Duke of Cornwall

QUEBEC, Oct. 13.—A salute of twenty-one guns was fired from the Citadel at twenty minutes to one o'clock to-day announced that His Royal Highness, the Duke of Cornwall had been sworn in as Governor General of Canada. The ceremony was a most impressive one. It was received in silence by the crowd of people in the Legislative Chamber of the Parliament building and there was no outbreak of enthusiasm until after the details of the reading of the commission, the administering of the oath, the presentation of the great seal, the signing of the proclamation, and the reading and reply to the addresses of welcome had been completed that a manifestation was made, and then it was only when the Duke was leaving the Dias that the applause commenced.

CROWDS GREETED DUKE.

There was an immense crowd at the King's wharf to greet the Duke long before eleven o'clock when the ceremonies were scheduled to commence. When the hour arrived the firing of guns announced that His Royal Highness and party had left the Empress of Ireland and were aboard the Government yacht Lady Grey ready to disembark at the King's wharf which had been especially prepared for the occasion. A carpeted passage led from the gangway of the yacht through an arch to the carriages waiting in the street outside with the 8th Quebec Dragoons in readiness to form the guard of honor to the Parliament buildings. As the yacht approached Premier Borden and the Cabinet Brigadier General Otter, Mr. Mulvey the Under Secretary of State, General Mackenzie, Sir Lomer Gouin and most of the Quebec Cabinet approached to a point near the edge of the wharf and waited until the vessel had docked.

LANDED ON CANADIAN SOIL.

The Duke had a few minutes conversation with General Otter from the deck of the yacht then stood with the Duchess, his aide de camps and Miss Polley, lady-in-waiting to the Duchess, who formed the rest of the party. Canada Welcomes the Duke of Connaught.

The ceremony was a most impressive one. They waited until everything had been made fast and then descended. The first to greet the Duke when he set foot on Canadian soil was Sir Charles Fitzpatrick then came Premier Borden and the Cabinet; Brigadier General Otter, Admiral Kingsmill, Sir Lomer Gouin and the members of the Quebec Cabinet. As he stepped from the boat the band again broke into the National Anthem and cheers were given by thousands who had assembled to do honor to the representative of Great Britain's ruler. A salute of twenty-one guns was given, and as the guns boomed and the band played His Royal Highness was escorted to the carriage which were to convey him and his party to the Parliament building.

WELCOMED TO CANADA.

He was welcomed on behalf of the country by Premier R. L. Borden and the members of the Province of Quebec on behalf of the Province of Quebec by Sir Lomer Gouin, and on behalf of the City of Quebec by Mayor Drouin. Premier Gouin and Mayor Drouin read addresses of welcome, which were responded to by the Duke. The Duke then proceeded to the Legislative Council Chamber, where the ceremony of swearing in took place.

REPLY TO ADDRESS.

Responding to the address from the Province of Quebec the Duke of Connaught spoke as follows:—"Mr. Prime Minister and Gentlemen: "I thank you for the hearty and loyal welcome, which in the name of the Province of Quebec you have extended to the Duchess and myself. "Four Provinces, rich in historical memories is usually the first to welcome a new Governor-General and to bid him god-speed at the end of his tenure of office. Thus his first and most impressive of Canada are fraught with that atmosphere of prosperity and progress which characterize your beautiful land. "In days gone by it was the fusion of the French and English races which made the greatness of England; here again history repeats itself and it is their union which makes your own greatness. From the Saxon and Norman stock, England drew the qualities of courage, perseverance and strength which raised her to her proud position among the nations. Here, under the wise rule of statesmen, sometimes of British and sometimes of French descent, Canada has achieved an era of development which is the envy of the world. "I am proud and happy to have been selected by the King to fill the high office of Governor-General, and to be thus in a position to follow and to promote the remarkable progress of your country. That this progress may, under the protection of Divine Providence, be continued and ever increasing, is my most heartfelt wish, and I am glad to have this opportunity of expressing it to you on my arrival among you."

REPLY TO CITIZENS' ADDRESS.

In answer to the loyal address from the citizens of Quebec His Royal Highness said:—"Citizens of Quebec: "I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the cordial welcome which you have given me. In the name of the Duchess of Connaught also I thank you for the graceful expressions with which you have greeted her arrival on Canadian soil. "I shall have great pleasure in transmitting to the King and Queen your assurances of loyalty and of attachment to the Crown. "Our stay in Quebec is now of necessity a very short one, but we hope to conform to the customs of my predecessors and spend each year a certain time at the Citadel which will give us an opportunity of knowing and appreciating your beautiful city which is so full of the great and noble traditions of the past. "Many years have passed since my first visit to Canada. Here long ago I came as a soldier, almost at the outset of the military career to which I devoted my life. It will be a very great pleasure to me to renew the associations of my youth. Although the country and towns have changed, I know that Canadian hearts have not changed, and I rejoice to think that in coming here I shall find amongst you some of the old comrades of my time as a subaltern with whom I have passed so many happy hours."

GREY MET CONNAUGHT.

There was a well-defined rumor last night to the effect that Earl Grey had gone aboard the Empress of Ireland and dined with the Duke of Connaught. It is known that when the steamer "Earl Grey" in which the retiring Governor-General was travelling met the Empress of Ireland it turned around and followed quietly back to the harbor of Quebec. It is said that after the crowd had gone from the liner, Earl Grey with one or two attendants came aboard and spent an hour or more chatting with his successor. During the time he was on board it is said the quarters in which the meeting was taking place, were under strong guard as well as the approaches to the ship. The reason of this is that according to etiquette two Governor-Generals cannot be on Colonial soil at the same time. The fact that the Duke of Connaught had not yet left the vessel, was regarded as sufficient to satisfy the demands of custom and rule in this regard. To avoid criticism, however, it was thought best to keep the matter quiet.

A Splendid Train Made For the Duke.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—What is undoubtedly one of the finest trains that has ever been constructed has just been turned out by the Angus shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway in this city to-day. It is to be used by their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught on their arrival on Canadian soil. In the construction of this train are incorporated all the latest devices for luxurious travelling comfort. The Canadian Pacific Railway has spared no expense to place at the disposal of their Highnesses a train which is as near to perfection as expert designers, clever mechanics and artistic furnishers with a free hand regarding the expense can produce. On this train are a handsome music room with a Canadian piano, a dining room, bedrooms, reception rooms, bathrooms and smoking rooms, with a well equipped kitchen, and the train is manned by a picked crew selected from all of the Canadian Pacific service. The entire train is lighted by electricity and is fully equipped with electric bells, and as all the cars are vestibuled, free communication can be had from end to end of the train. The outside of the coaches bear the Connaught coat-of-arms.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Harbor Grace Notes.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. John Heister, who is now at the Hospital, St. John's, for treatment, is doing well and hopes to return in a week fully recovered from a recent illness. The three-masted schooner Ocean Ranger arrived in the offing early yesterday morning from Labrador, bound to St. John's. She came in to land Mr. Thomas Walsh who had been to Labrador in connection with her fish cargo.

The many friends of Mr. John A. Templeton, formerly manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, were pleased to see him in town for a few days last week. Mr. Templeton is now in charge of the Branch Bank at Twillingate. Mr. T. has some attraction in Harbor Grace besides his host of male friends and acquaintances.

The Rev. Dr. Cowperthwaite, of St. John's, occupied the pulpit at both services in St. Andrew's Kirk yesterday. The services were very hearty and much enjoyed. In the evening he 45 minutes seemed to many of the congregation less than half that time so interested were they in the eloquent discourse of the learned doctor, who is always welcome to Harbor Grace, where his friends are legion.

Friday evening's heavy rain sent torrents of water down the hill to the north of the town, cutting deep ruts in the different roads. Harvey St. and even Water St. came in for a share of damage as the great force of water rushed along. St. Paul's Hall and the dwelling houses near were considerably damaged by the bursting of the wall on Long Hill, the water then going right through some houses. Many suggestions are offered for remedying this trouble in future. To our mind, the easy and best way would be to have the roads and streets higher in the centre than on the sides, and to have the drains properly attended to right up to the top of the hill. But for goodness sake, Mr. Inspector, don't allow garden rakes to be used in future in scraping off the middle of the road. The high wind will take away sufficient material, and the best policy is to keep putting gravel on the centre of the roads, raking stones off the roads and leaving them in the drains is bound to have a bad effect. We don't profess to know anything about road-making, but a walk up Long Hill, Park and Nell's Road will convince any person where the trouble lies, and the remedy will suggest itself. CORRESPONDENT. Clark-Urban Company.

The idea of continuous performances has become so firmly rooted with the amusement loving public that it is almost compulsory on the part of the management to cater to their taste. The Clark-Urban Company will open a limited engagement at the T. A. Hall next Monday evening and the following high class vaudeville acts will be introduced between the acts: Fred Bollinger, Aerial Artist; "Robetta and Edith," Boondoggie Rops and Slack Wire; Marie Hodgkins, Vocalist; Billy Web, Comedian and Dancer; Grace Leith, the Funny Old Maid, and Schreiber and Urban, Musical Artists. The opening play Monday evening will be David Higgins' greatest success, "Capt. Clay of Missouri," together with all special scenery and electrical effects, making virtually a double performance, a dramatic production and a vaudeville bill for one price of admission. Seats on sale at the Atlantic Bookstore Thursday morning.

St. Bon's Defeat the Feildians.

St. Bon's and Feildian College teams met yesterday afternoon in the inter-collegiate series of matches when the former beat the latter by 2 goals to nil. St. Bon's, winning the toss, played the eastern goal with the wind in their favor, and played well, but the defence of the Feildian boys was so good that for fifteen minutes there was "nothing doing," then Crawford got a nice run and scored No. 1 for the boys in blue and gold. This was the only goal scored in this half. On changing ends St. Bon's worked well against the wind, though the Feildians repeatedly sent in difficult shots. Rawlins and Kelly secured a goal each, and the game closed—St. Bon's, 3; Feildians, 0. The line-up was—
 St. Bon's—Lundrigan, Murphy, Knight, Leseman, Halley, Hogan, Kelly, Crawford, Rawlins, O'Hagan and Duchemin.
 Feildians—Temple, Rendell, Gillingham, Ludlow, Trebble, Ryall, Croncher, Snow, Hall, Wellman, and Snow.

Friday Night's Attraction.

The attraction for Friday night is the wrestling matches at the C. L. B. Armory, starting at 9.30. The programme consists of two items which promise to be the liveliest ever pulled off here. The first is between Gymnasium Instructor Horwill, of H. M. S. Calypso, who refereed the Olson-Anderson bout, and Fred Marshall, the popular young wrestler and runner of this city. Marshall has few superiors his weight, and his supporters believe that he will be successful. The second item is the Ju Jitsu between Signalmen Davies, of H. M. S. Brilliant, and Young Olson. They will wrestle half an hour at the Japanese style and a similar period at catch-as-catch-can. Tickets are now on sale at Atlantic Bookstore.

 Witch Hazel is known as one of the best efficient applications to irritated or inflamed surfaces, and certainly the idea of combining Witch Hazel with a soap, as done in the case of "Certified Complexion Soap," is an excellent one. This soap is a splendid "cleanser" and counteracts the effects of cold and cutting winds on the skin, tenderizing face and hands smooth and soft. This soap will repay the user. Price 25c. a cake.
 "It's all in the shape." The Sandicut Tooth Brush is so constructed that it cleans all parts of the teeth with ease. The bristles in the Sandicut brush are of the best and strongest quality, and do not break off. And they are fastened so securely into the handle that they are not shed. The Sandicut Brush will stand all reasonable tests and come out triumphant. Price 25c. each—adv.

MARINE NOTES.

The schr. Banshee sailed yesterday morning for Twillingate where she will be loaded with fish by J. W. Hodge of Fogo. She will sail for the European market. The repairs to her hull were made here by shipwright J. W. Taylor. She was damaged by striking a rock while entering Fogo harbor several weeks ago.

VIOLATION OF LAW.

Two young men who took a walk around Three Pond Barris Sunday afternoon were surprised to hear the reports of guns in the woods. The carrying of firearms on Sunday is attended with a heavy penalty, but shooting on that day makes the matter worse. It is a pity that a few such sports as these are could not be captured.

THE RURAL TELEPHONE.

One of the greatest blessings which 30 per cent dividends ever conferred upon the farm home is the rural telephone. As a wall decoration a white oak telephone makes the framed marriage certificate look as cheap as the married man whose wife flags him in suspicious proximity to a blind pig. Without the telephone, life on the farm would be as lonely as the third party in a hammock. It is a pleasant diversion, after the dinner dishes have been washed and the steel range given a massage, to clamp the receiver to an alert ear and inhale the conversation from neighbors who are discussing the price of store eggs or swapping time-tried croup remedies. It is said that more new-mown gossip floats over a rural telephone line than can be found anywhere else on earth outside of the weekly meeting of the W. C. T. U. In some respects the telephone is a dangerous thing. A woman of our acquaintance lost a large section of fire-proof religion upon hearing a wasp-waisted spinster who led the Junior League make a date over the phone with a preacher who wore tan shoes in the pulpit and whistled through his front teeth when he read the psalter. If lightning ever runs down all the eavesdroppers on a party telephone line, the school district will look as if the bubonic plague had dropped off for a short visit with friends.

Wants Sheebeenng Put a Stop To.

Dear Sir—Kindly allow me space in the columns of your paper for the following facts. We have here in La Scie a flourishing and prosperous settlement, the population of which is steadily increasing. Besides the resident population there are quite a number who come here for the fishing season and return to their homes in the fall. La Scie seems destined to become one of the most important fishing settlements on this coast, and liquor brought from St. John's is sold and men, young and old, can procure the blasting drink after the arrival of the s.s. Prospero. There is occasion to feel the influence of the moral welfare of many, especially the young, is endangered by the fact that sheebeenng is carried on here, and liquor brought from St. John's is sold and men, young and old, can procure the blasting drink after the arrival of the s.s.  The outlook for a successful intervention of the Powers to bring the Turkish-Italian trouble to an end by diplomacy is becoming less favourable, according to a semi-official statement. Italy has yielded to public opinion at home, and is no longer willing to concede the suzerainty of Tripoli to Turkey, while on the other hand Turkey is not willing to surrender Tripoli unconditionally, because of the internal dangers that would be involved by such a yielding on the part of the Government. Accordingly, the diplomats here see no chance of mediation at present or in the future until the attitude of the de-

The "New Model" Empire Typewriter

The "Empire" Keyboard comprises but 30 keys. Each key is used for 3 distinct characters. Thus, with but 30 keys to memorize, you are given a range of 90 characters. Other standard typewriters give you a maximum of but 84 characters, with 42 keys to memorize.

All the numerals from 0 to 9 may be written on the "Empire" without the use of a shift key. On all the other standard typewriters the numerals 2 to 9 only may be so written, while to write the 1 and the 0 necessitates a shift to the letter keys.

When punctuating with the "Empire" commas and periods are written without the use of a shift key, whether using capitals, small letters, numerals or special characters.
