SOUTH RIDING OF WELLINGTON.

To the Electors of the South Riding of Wellington.

GENTLEMEN,—

In compliance with the unanimous request of the delegates of the Reform Convention of the South Riding of Wellington, I am a candidate for the representation of this Riding in the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario.

My residence amongst you extends to nearly a quarter of a century; and having for the greater portion of that time taken an active part both in political and social matters, my antecedents are consequently well known to most of you. I need, therefore, only briefly state that, in the future as in the past, I will give a hearty support to the Liberal party—in whose long, consistent and faithful advocacy of their principles we are chiefly indebted for the great constitutional changes we are now about to enjoy—believing that their principles and policy are the best adapted to promote the general interests and prosperity of the country.

I have been an earnest and zealous advocate for the Confederation of the Provinces, and now heartily rejoice at its final consummation. I feel deeply grateful to our beloved Sovereign, the Queen, and the British Parliament, for so cheerfully concurring to us the new Constitution for the Government of the Dominion of Canada.

I rejoice in our new Constitution, because it gives us entire control of our local affairs, recognizes the just principle of Representation by Population, and consolidates those hitherto isolated Provinces into a nation—strengthens the ties between us and the mother country, and increases our power of defence against invasion.

Holding these views, I shall ever be ready—whether in or out of Parliament—to heartily co-operate with all true lovers of our country in advancing such measures as are calculated to perpetuate and extend our Union, until the whole of British North America, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, shall have been joined in one grand confederation.

Regarding the working of our new Constitution, I am decidedly in favor of a pure party government as being, in my estimation, best adapted for the proper carrying out of the British system of Responsible Government.

I am opposed to Coalition Governments for ordinary administrative purposes, as being more reckless and extravagant, and more prone to venal and corrupt practices, as their history both in Great Britain and Canada abundantly testifies. But while sincerely holding these views, I wish it distinctly to be understood that I shall discountenance anything like faction, and shall resolutely oppose everything having a tendency to produce a narrow, virulent state of party feeling in the politics of our new Dominion.

The new Constitution provides that the Legislature of the Province of Ontario shall consist of the Lieutenant Governor and one House, styled the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, composed of eighty-two members, five of whom shall form the Executive Council. Thus the Assembly shall have exclusive powers to legislate on the following subjects, namely: The raising of revenue by direct taxation, the establishment and tenure of Provincial Offices, the management and sale of the Public Lands; the establishment and maintenance of Prisons, Asylums, Hospitals, &c.; the Municipal Institutions of the Province, the management of all local Public Works, incorporation of Companies with Provincial objects, all matters relating to property and civil and criminal jurisdiction, and all other matters of a purely local or Provincial character. These subjects have a wide range, including as they do the whole of our internal government; and just in proportion as they are well or ill administered, so shall we have contentment and prosperity as a people.

I regard the immediate settlement of our Wild Lands as a subject of paramount importance, and one that has been too long neglected. I shall give a hearty support to any liberal, well digested measure that has this object in view, and the encouragement of immigration to the Province.

Our new Municipal and Assessment Acts, although in many respects improvements on previous legislation, are still defective in several particulars. I shall give these matters my careful consideration, so that I may be prepared to aid in their improvement.

To the many other subjects that will engage the attention of the first House of Assembly of Ontario, and the various questions that must of necessity from time to time arise, I shall be prepared to give a careful and unpassionate consideration, and decide in all cases to the best of my judgment, ever keeping in view the general interests and prosperity of the Province at large.

I will advocate the most rigid economy in all the departments of the Government, consistent with the efficient administration of the public service, and shall oppose all unnecessary expenditure of the public funds.

The question of Defence belongs exclusively to the General Government, but I will heartily co-operate with your representative in the Commons to promote every prudent measure for the proper defence of the Dominion.

Gentlemen, should you honor me with your confidence, I shall endeavor to discharge the responsible duties devolving upon me as your representative faithfully and honorably to the utmost of my ability.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, Your most obedient servant,

PETER GOW
Guelph, 6th Aug., 1867.

MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 19.

General News.

The trotting horse Dexter has been sold to Bonner, of the Ledger, for over $30,000.

A leading issue at the New Brunswick elections will be the location of the Inter-colonial Railway Line. In various sections of the Province, meetings are being held, and candidates pledged to particular lines.

The Paris Exposition has caused much discord as far as pianos are concerned. Steinway is recorded first on the list, Chickering got the Cross of the Legion of Honor, and Broadwood took a grand prize for the best piano in the world. There are thus three competitors, each claiming to be the best.

The Canadian propeller Magnet collided with the American steamer Bay State in the St. Lawrence river, near Kingston, on Tuesday night. The Magnet was sunk in 60 feet of water. The crew and passengers were taken to Kingston by the Bay State. The latter is slightly damaged.

A brewer in Detroit, on the 3rd inst., fell into a vat containing about thirty-five barrels of boiling beer. His cries attracted the attention of his fellow-workmen, who, although they could not see him on account of the steam, soon drew him out. He was terribly scalded, and his recovery is considered very doubtful.

It is said that Dr. Robert Hunter, who managed to write himself into notoriety when in Toronto, and became notorious by a libel suit and other means when in England, having just returned is spoken of as a candidate for the County of Russell for the Commons. There are already two aspirants for the same position.

When a counterfeit is presented at the Bank of England, the gold is instantly paid for it. If it comes from some known person he is only asked where he got it. If from a stranger, the cashier tells his detective, always in waiting, and the officer follows secretly. Before many hours the bank is in possession of the stranger's biography. The offender once arrested, is likely to be tried, convicted, and sentenced within two days; wherefore Great Britain is not an inviting field for that branch of industry.

Parson Beecher is writing a five act drama for Edwin Booth. It will be ready for production as soon as Mr. Booth's new theatre in Twenty-third is finished—towards Christmas. The plot turns upon some incidents of the recent civil war, and one of the heroes, I am told, old John Brown, whose soul is supposed to be "marching on" (Won't that Beecher will try his hand on next?) Meanwhile he has given his permission to Mr. Augustus Daly, of the Express, to dramatize his Ledger story, "Norwood," or Bore-wood, as the wags call it. The parson had better go on the stage, at once, himself and be done with it.

The last freak of fashion is to give the coup de grace to the pearl powder, white lead and rouge, that have so long reigned. Even belladonna is to be discarded, and "golden" hair will shortly be as rare as the real auburn tint of nature, if not still rarer. The decree has gone forth for black hair and bronze complexion, and these, no doubt, will shortly crowd the parks. How they are produced is the only question that need concern us. The destructive nature of the chemical agents usually employed for dyeing the hair black is well known to our readers. To give a lady of fashion the complexion of a gipsy, nothing is needed but a little walnut juice, and we have reason to know that this has already found its way to the toilet table. It has at least the negative merit of not being so dangerous as some of the poisonous cosmetics that have preceded it. Whether a dirty face will long be the rage it would be rash to predict.

Western newspapers are always great in promising future prosperity for their cities, but the most extensive statement of this kind we have lately seen is that the town of "Fort Scott" requires but two things to make it one of the largest cities in the world, and these are buildings and population.

A train of emigrants who went to Oregon two years ago have arrived at Julesburg, on their way back to Illinois and Pennsylvania. They say Oregon is a great wheat and vegetable growing country. The soil is rich, but there is no market for farming products, and consequently the Oregonians cannot accumulate fortunes.

A Texas paper says there are now several thousand beavers in Williamson county in that State, full, fat and fine, and that the same may be said of almost every county. It says that perhaps a million fat beavers could be removed from the State without endangering the supply for home use, and to the great benefit of the range, which is beginning to be overstocked in many counties. The increase exceeds the consumption everywhere.

Reform Meeting in Puchinch.

MESSRS STIRTON and GOW NOBLY SUPPORTED.

Messrs. Stone and Leslie are Wholly Ignored!

On Saturday evening last Messrs. Stirton and Gow addressed a meeting of Puchinch electors, in McMaster's school house, first concession. About 130 persons were present, all of whom were voters in the locality with the exception of perhaps a dozen. Sam. Taylor, Esq., occupied the chair. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Stirton, Gow, Melvin and Little. The last mentioned gentleman gave a humorous description of the meeting which had been held in Downey's school house on the Thursday night previous. A vote of confidence in Messrs. Stirton and Gow, which had been moved by Mr. Ghelchist, and seconded by Mr. McKellar, and which pledged them the support of the meeting was then put, and carried without one dissenting voice; indeed the enthusiasm with which it was greeted was almost unbounded. We will give a fuller account of the proceedings in a future issue.

Halton Election.—Meeting at Acton.

From our own Correspondent.

Mr. Kerr, the Conservative candidate for this county, and who aspires to represent us in the Local Parliament, addressed the electors of Acton last night. Mr. Barber was also present, and we had a very pleasant time. Mr. Kerr is a liberal Conservative. Mr. Barber is a liberal Reformer. The difference between their political sentiments, as expressed by them last night, is very microscopic, if we except the fact that as a Conservative, Mr. Kerr is bound to support anything in the shape of a government which professes to be Conservative or Coalition.

When I last wrote I expressed the opinion that Mr. Barber would be acceptable to both parties, and last night Mr. Kerr told us that he would not have been found in opposition to Mr. Barber, if that gentleman had been content to remain neutral during the contest between Mr. White and Mr. Chisholm, and give, or promise to give, John Sandfield's "combination" government a generous support.

Mr. Barber, the Conservative says, would make a very good representative, only for the company he keeps. On the other hand, the Reformers regret that a promising man like Mr. Kerr should make such a mistake as to ally himself with the Conservatives. So do what we will we cannot get those old party lines rubbed out.

The nomination takes place on Saturday the 24th, and the polling on Tuesday and Wednesday the 3rd and 4th of Sept.

Drink and Crime.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

In the Advertiser is an article headed "Our Criminal Calendar for 1867;" that article is worthy the serious consideration of all our ratepayers especially at this time. It says, "Of course the bulk of the crime is to be attributed to drink—Nine-tenths of the vagrancy comes directly from this source, and scarcely a solitary instance of assault or assault and battery has occurred but that was committed under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The disorders are all of them addicted to its use, and violated the law after drinking too much. So of cruelty to animals, malicious destruction of property, &c. But for drink, indeed the docket would, with the exception of a few unimportant civil offences, be empty, and undoubtedly seven-eighths of the crimes and misdemeanors of the Town for the current year sprang directly or indirectly from indulgence in alcoholic liquors."

In so speaking, the Advertiser speaks the truth; and yet has the coolness to tell us that we ought to vote for Leslie, who has promised the traffickers to do his best to alter the law that tries to limit their time for doing mischief. If the electors really want to have their pockets protected they must not pool, pool their protection; if they do, they will prove themselves to be "penny wise and pound foolish." Those who vote for Gow, who is for upholding the law, and restraining a traffic that is a curse to the community, will by so doing protect themselves and also scores of suffering families, whom the eye of the Tavernkeeper does not pity or spare, check crime, and promote the general good. Let all who desire local and material prosperity vote against Leslie and for Gow.

A UNIONIST.
Guelph, August 19, 1867.

MR. DOBBIN in SALEM.—On the evening of Friday last, says the Elora Observer, Mr. John Dobbin addressed the electors of Salem and neighbourhood in Markham's hotel. Mr. A. Watt occupied the chair. Mr. Dobbin addressed the meeting at considerable length and made a favorable impression upon the audience. Mr. Loghrin also made a few remarks, basing his claims upon the assertion that he had a majority in the Convention. This was refuted by Mr. Shaw. Upon a division being taken it was found that Mr. Dobbin had a large majority of those present in his favour.

CONTEST IN HALTON.—Regarding Mr. Chisholm's candidature in Halton, the Champion has the following:—

The contest is going on bravely, and daily Mr. Chisholm is losing strength, as the damaging effects of his own reckless conduct begins to react on him. He is felt to be a drag weight upon the party, and some now acknowledge that in many respects he is the weakest and most vulnerable man they could have brought out. Respectable Conservatives have become disgusted with his repeated pervasions of truth, and as his conduct in Parliament is unfolded before them, many of his earnest supporters declare they cannot support him.

ACCIDENT.—On Friday last a man named Thomas Nay, while engaged in walling a well for Mr. John Jackson, near Glenalla, was badly injured by a bucket of stones, falling a distance of 22 feet on his head. The cause of the accident was the breaking of the rope attached to the bucket. A portion of the skull was laid bare, and the shoulders and other parts of the body much injured. We have not heard the ultimate result.

The Centre Riding.

A meeting was held in the School House, Douglas, on Wednesday, the 14th inst. Over sixty persons were present. Mr. Dobbin regretted the absence of Mr. Loghrin, who had promised to be present. He stated that he came out at the call of the Reform Convention, and that if elected, he would try to do his duty honestly, as his conscience bore him witness he had hitherto done in public matters.

Mr. Dyce spoke of the convention, at which he had been present, and claimed that it had been open and fair; and as to saying conventions are a humbug, it was easy to say the same of a requisition. A few friends were entertained, and sent round to get signatures; he would like to know if any but voters had signed the requisition to Mr. Loghrin. Only one question was asked of Mr. Dobbin—what his conduct would be in supporting the Ministry of Sandfield McDonald? His answer was, he hoped a vote of non-confidence would not be brought up at first, as he would like to give them a hearing; but if such a motion were made, he would support it, as he had no confidence in the men. It was then moved by Mr. Dyce, seconded by Mr. Hamilton, that this meeting has every confidence in Mr. Dobbin, and will use all their influence to secure his election. Carried unanimously.

JOHN LIGHTBODY, Sec.

New Publications.

NEW DOMINION MONTHLY.—We have received from the publishers, Messrs. Jno. Dougall & Son, Montreal, the first number of the new magazine, bearing the above title. It is got up in handsome style, and the same editorial care is bestowed upon it as is given to the other publications of this firm.

GOOD STORIES.—Messrs. Ticknor and Fields have issued the initial number of Good Stories, under which title they propose to publish, in cheap and attractive form, a valuable collection of short stories, tales and sketches. The need of such a collection has long been felt; for while numerous collections of poetry have been made, no general repository of good stories exists. It is not intended to limit this collection to English literature. It will embrace, by competent translators, the best and most characteristic short stories of all languages. The first number contains a tale by De Vencey, one by Hawthorne, one by the late Theodore Winthrop, besides others by well known authors. The series will be handsome, cheap and interesting. Copies are for sale at Day's.

WESTMINSTER REVIEW.—The July number of this able Review has been received from the publishers. The contents are Mimicry, and Protective Resemblances among Animals; Lucius Annaeus Seneca; The Last Great Monopoly; Lyric Feuds; The Future of Reform; What Jamaica is; The Religious side of the Italian Question; Contemporary Literature. For sale at Shewan's and Day's.

CALL TO ACCOUNT.—W. E. Tunis & Co., have sent us a novel with the above title, published by the Harper Bros. Like all Miss Thomas's works, this novel displays great power of analysis. The characters are all well drawn, and the interest of the plot is sustained to the last. For sale at T. J. Day's, Market Square.

NO MAN'S FRIEND.—A novel by Frederick William Robinson. It is published by Harper Bros., New York, and forms No. 295 of the library of select novels. It seems to be a very interesting tale, well told. Tunis & Co., wholesale agents. For sale at Day's Bookstore.

For and Against.

Having had the curiosity to look over a portion of our Exchange list of Reform papers, we find but four who swallow Coalition, while all the others are anti- Coalition, some having wheeled into "opinion" since Mr. Sandfield McDonald's "patent" combination was exhibited—

Coalition.—Whiby Gazette, Picton Times, Cornwall Freeholder, Guelph Advertiser.

Anti-Coalition.—Huron Signal, Waterloo Chronicle, Peterboro Examiner, Hamilton Times, St. Catherine's Post, Merrickville Chronicle, Smith's Falls Review, Almonte Advance, Owen Sound Advertiser, Barrie Examiner, Ingersoll Chronicle, New Market Era, Elora Observer, Berlin Telegraph, Lindsay Post, Belleville Chronicle, Chatham Banner, Dundas Banner, Perth Courier, Sarnia Observer, Clinton Era, Stratford Beacon, London Advertiser, Ayr Herald, Paris Star, Simcoe Reformer, Milton Champion, Mount Forrest Examiner, St. Mary's Argus, Cobourg World, Thorold Patriot. On a further scrutiny others may be found.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A young man named Walter Anderson, a resident of the Township of Elma, died very suddenly on the 9th inst. He had gone to bed in his usual health, and in the morning his mother heard a groan come from his bed, when on going to him she found him dying. The cause of his death was afterwards pronounced to be disease of the heart.

SWAMPS ON FIRE.—Several swamps in the neighbourhood of the Town were on fire yesterday, the high winds fanned the flames, and the smoke in consequence caused considerable annoyance not only to parties more immediately in the neighbourhood of the burning timber, but to people on some of our principal streets. The burning swamps we believe were owned by the following gentlemen: Messrs. David Kennedy, Thos. Anderson, Benjamin Sallows, and John Shorewood; there were others on fire near Mr. Wm. Wm Whitlaw's, and in rear of Mr. Chas. Mickle's.

REV. W. M. PUNSHON coming to Canada.—The preliminary meetings of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference are being held at Bristol. We see it stated that the future field for the labors of the Rev. W. M. Punshon is to be Canada. He will be succeeded by Dr. Waddy.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE IN STRATFORD.—On Thursday last Mr. Wm. Hinman, who has been for a number of years a resident of Stratford, attempted to cut his throat with a razor. He had made a fearful gash in it before he was detected, yet his medical attendants express hopes of his recovery. Mr. Hinman has been severely ill lately, and it is believed must have been terror-stricken by the Messrs. Mackenzie and Pardee in Lambton. We have been told by some of the western journals that Mr. Mackenzie was doing what is elegantly termed "backing down," in Lambton, as his views did not meet the approbation of the people of that constituency.

"Messrs. Mackenzie and Pardee, the Reform candidates for the representation of the County in both Legislatures, are prosecuting their canvass assiduously, and with the most marked success, meeting with an enthusiastic reception wherever they go.

The coalition organs, especially the London Free Press and Prototype, with the Sarnia edition of the former organ, the British Canadian, do not scruple to manufacture, out of whole cloth, the most palpable falsehoods as to the success of the Bank agent and the model farmer; but we can assure the friends of the Reform candidates that they need not feel the slightest uneasiness on account of these unfounded fabrications.

In place of meeting with the success alleged, the coalitionists are frowned upon by the great bulk of the independent yeomen of Lambton whenever they show themselves; the fact being, that the honest and clear-headed farmers of Lambton have too much information and discernment, and are too well posted in reference to political matters to run any risk of being seduced into returning as their representative for the Commons, one who acknowledges himself to be an out-and-out Coalitionist; who expresses himself perfectly satisfied with the Governments, both local and general, and is determined to support them at all hazards whether they are sustained by the public opinion of the Province or not.

Neither will they stultify themselves by extending their confidence to any renegade Reformer, who also declares his intention of supporting the coalition, at the same time that he still claims to be a Reformer. To the title of "Reformer" now, he can have little claim, whatever he may have had in time past; and will yet find to his sad experience, that even a pure Conservative is a less objectionable character to the great mass of Reformers, than a political apostate, who either through vanity or weakness, has been bought over by the enemy, and is ready to betray his quondam friends to gratify that vanity, or for an itch for distinction which he is not likely to realize, and in which he would cut a sorry figure, even if he secured the object of his ambition, of which there is very little danger indeed."

No Quarry for Mr. Brown.

The Ministry seeing that their candidates are likely to be defeated, are getting afraid and some of their journals are lashing out furiously. The Ottawa Times says: "Mr. Brown has been called upon to face another antagonist on the platform. The Hon. Mr. Macdougall met him last night in South Ontario, and doubtless by his superior coolness and thorough familiarity with Mr. Brown's weak points has rendered effective service to Mr. Gibbs. The quarry so dear to the Brownite sportsman does not flourish in that constituency, "ignorant people with votes" cannot be "hunted up" in such numbers as will secure his election, even if he gets "all such" in the Riding. Mr. Macdougall will no doubt cheerfully lend his assistance in administering such "judicious talk" as will enable Mr. Brown's proteges the "ignorant people with votes," to see their duty in a very different light than if they were quietly permitted to look only through Mr. Brown's spectacles. There are others besides Mr. Macdougall who owe it to Mr. Brown that they should take a part in the contest now going on in South Ontario, and we hope that before the next week is over they will have entered an appearance and discharged their obligations to him such as they are."

The tone of the opening sentences of the above paragraph would almost lead one who did not know better to suppose that Mr. Brown's last hour had come, that the knell of his political doom had sounded as Mr. Macdougall stepped on the platform to encounter him. It puts him into something like the position of the champion who has for years defeated all opponents, but who is at length compelled to succumb to greater physical power and superior science. It need not be repeated to us that Mr. Macdougall will exercise all his power of sophistry; we are very well aware that he will, but we are not just so sanguine of the large amount he will achieve as the Times is, for we are not sure that his name has a magic influence. Let him and the others "who owe it to Mr. Brown that they should take a part in the contest now going on in South Ontario" do all they can, and even then they will perhaps find to their mortification, that they have been able to effect comparatively little.

VOTERS' LIST IN NASSAGAWEYA. - The Champion says there is some difficulty as to the Nassagaweya Roll, so that it is not known whether the Roll for 1865, '66, or '67 will be used! The 1865 list is quite correct, but 1866 and 1867 were sworn before only one magistrate instead of two, as the law requires. The Clerk labored under a misapprehension, by following the proceedings required in Lower Canada, where one magistrate's certificate is enough. The 1867 roll was entered with the Clerk of the Peace in time, but the certificate being insufficient was altered on the 15th of July last, which would make it completed less than one month before the issue of the writs, which are dated the 7th of August. John A. and John S. Macdougall have been consulted as to the propriety of the measure, and we sincerely trust that the measure will be carried out.

THE TEMPTATION OF E. B. WOOD. The Brantford Expositor thus accounts for the manner in which Mr. Wood overlooked the insult of having a seat in John Sandfield's Cabinet offered to him after it had been refused by four other Reformers: - "The old maxim of the schools, 'That Flattery is the food of fools, Yet now and then your men of wit, Will condescend to take a bit.' - SWIFT. After John Sandfield had failed to induce four other Reformers to sacrifice themselves, their principles, and their party, by accepting office in his Cabinet, he bethought him of Mr. E. B. Wood. He knew the effect of flattery and the glitter of office upon ambitious minds. He no doubt flattered Mr. Wood by praising his abilities as a statesman and a jurist, told him that he was the first man he had thought of, that he had merely coquetted a little, from motives of policy, with the other gentlemen he had called upon, and he, Mr. Wood, would be the star of his Cabinet. Mr. Sandfield had formed a correct judgment of the man and we all know the consequence. He was caught like a fly in a cobweb.

THE RUSSELL WATCH! A FEW REASONS THAT MAKE IT SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

1st - It proves itself a reliable time-keeper beyond all question. 2nd - The RUSSELL WATCH being made on correct and scientific principles, it must follow as a natural consequence that it will keep time. 3rd - Each part of which the RUSSELL WATCH is composed is a reflex of the perfect machine by which, under skillful direction, it is produced. 4th - Truth is the essential of each part. 5th - Uniformity and conformity must therefore characterize the several parts in fulfilling the purpose for which they are made and brought together. 6th - Reproduction, as regards watch work, is simply an application of the principle that "things which are equal to the same things are equal to one another," and if there is any merit, the RUSSELL WATCH possesses that merit to a demonstration. 7th - The greatest variety of price, quality and size, that confidence and perfection will admit, afforded by the RUSSELL WATCH. 8th - The RUSSELL WATCH stands pre-eminently above all competitors for public favor and patronage. 9th - Proofs of the foregoing - the universal testimony of all Watchmakers who have sold, and the positive statements of the thousands in Europe, the United States and Canada, who have worn the RUSSELL WATCH.

TESTIMONIAL. To Robert Cuthbert, Watchmaker, Wyndham Street, Guelph. "It is a fact, as perfect in its organization, and was as obedient to the dictates of truth as the RUSSELL WATCH I bought from you is in indicating time, evil would be swallowed up in good, and happiness would become monotonous." G. RENNIE, Guelph.

IMPORTANT! ROBERT CUTHBERT, WATCHMAKER, WYNDHAM-ST., GUELPH. less always on hand a large variety of the celebrated RUSSELL WATCHES. His stock of Clocks, Jewellery and Fancy Goods will be found equally large and attractive. Guelph, 20th July, 1867. dw 1/2.

NORAH CUSHALEEN

OR THE HAUNTED CASTLE.

Mary Kendal was a lively, spirited, and intelligent girl, of a fresh, rosy complexion, with features fine and regular, without being beautiful, according to an artificial standard. But if she had not that surface beauty of countenance which provokes every gazer to admiration, she had what was better—a sweet and captivating expression. Her soul shone out of her eyes, her warm feelings played vividly to and fro on her face. You read there the minutest traits of her character.

That character was true and womanly. It was pure, guileless, and deeply affectionate. She had a nature of sympathy with all that was lovely, beautiful and good, because these were reflections of herself, and these alone satisfied and pleased her. It was impossible, therefore, that Malvyn Blantire could find favour in her eyes, by her instincts and clear perception she saw a considerable distance into his cold, selfish nature, and was, of course, disgusted and repelled. All his art could not hide his true character from her, and when she learned that he sought her hand in marriage she divined the motive and loathed him the more, and as we have seen, did not hide her thoughts and feelings from her father, who—silly man as he was—attributed them to youth and romance.

When she quitted the room after the conversation which we have narrated, she went to her own apartment and arrayed herself for a walk. It was a bright, golden summer evening. The slanting sun shed a splendid light over the valley, casting the shadows with a deep distinctness and illuminating with a mellow radiance the rich foliage of the woods, the beautiful green of the meadows, and the grey slope of the uplands. The valley, with its mansions and castles, its woods and cornfields, lay in peaceful quiet, clad in its summer luxuriance, under a blue and smiling sky, and no lover of nature could behold it without a throbbing joy, and a desire to ramble away into the heart of so much beauty.

Mary Kendal was a great lover of nature, and a fine summer landscape was to her an exquisite delight, she therefore sauntered on beyond the bounds of the Kendal estate towards the mansion house of Dundarra, which stood in the middle of a fine park, and was half shrouded, half revealed by some ancient trees which grew around it.

Mary not infrequently wandered in this direction. It was a quiet secluded place, for the mansion was as good as shut up, an old woman being its only occupant. It was a sad thing to see such a fine place deserted, and left to desolation and neglect. The building was comparatively modern, and was at one time a handsome and substantial structure, but the windows were boarded up, the doors closed and everything silent around it. The avenue was overgrown with grass, the lawn, once smoothly shaven, was tufted and rank, and weeds grew close to the principal entrance.

Mary Kendal never tired of wandering in the vicinity of this solitary mansion. There was a romance in its solitude and desolation more so than there is even about a ruin, for it had been deserted not by time, but by circumstance. It had all the elements of life and usefulness, its rooms were entire and full of furniture, its walls were strong, its appointments complete, and yet it was left empty and silent—a solitary and forsaken thing amid the life and summer beauty of the valley.

Musing over some sad thoughts which the appearance of the place called up in her mind, Mary was entering across the park when a tremendous bellow made her start and look round. To her dismay she saw an immense bull rushing towards her. He was evidently infuriated, for he was lashing his tail, and even at that distance she could see his foaming mouth and flashing, fiery eyes. It was also evident that she was the object of his ire, for no other person was near, and he was running directly towards her.

For a moment she stood motionless with terror, but next the law of self-preservation prompted her to run, and she flew forward at her utmost speed. She had sufficient presence of mind to remember that there was a stile at the other end of the park, and it was to reach that that her efforts were made. But there was little probability that she could run so far before the bull overtook her. He was at no great distance behind, and his speed was three times as great as hers.

With a beating, panting heart she ran forward, not daring to look behind, but every moment the bellowing came nearer, warning her that the animal was gaining on her. This was too fearfully true. Tossing his head in a mad frenzy, and giving utterance to cries that must have sounded far through the still evening air, he plunged after her, and drew nearer every moment.

A roar more horribly distinct than the rest made Mary look round. The animal was not more than half the distance from her that she was from the stile.—Hope sank within her, and a pang of despair fell on her heart. A fearful death was evidently at hand—a death from which no escape seemed possible, for no one was in sight, and her cry could be of no avail.

Yet to cry in the moment of extremity is natural, and she uttered one piercing shriek of alarm, which was instantly followed by a roar from the bull, so terrific as to seem at her very shoulder; she also heard the animal's hoarse, angry breathing and expected that every moment she would be tossed upon his horns. Suddenly the stile, on which her long-lingering yet hopeless eyes were fixed, was momentarily darkened by a huge black object which bounded over it and flew past her. She had but time to see that it was a large Newfoundland dog, when with a deep growl he flew forward, evidently in the bull's path.

The next instant a human figure leapt over the stile and rushed towards her. "Courage, lady," he shouted, "a little more effort and you are safe. At him, D—"

A SUMMER EVENING.
We sat in our cottage doorway,
Husband and baby and I,
Looking out over the woodland,
And up at the evening sky.
The air was rich with fragrance
From countless wild wood flowers,
And cooled by gentle dews,
That fell in fairy showers.

I thought of the many creatures
In the forest all around—
Of the squirrels in the tree tops,
And the deer couched on the ground.

The quail and turkeys, timid,
The rabbits' heath the hill;
Ever the snakes and foxes
Were every one quite still.

Each with his wife and babies,
(The ones whom we loved best,)
Were quietly enjoying
That hour of peace and rest.

Against the luminous darkness
A star flashed out above;
And the insect world all round us
Began their songs of love.

The fire-flies flitting swiftly
In myriads flashed and shone,
Each, with passionate longing
Seeking her own loved one.

With their lambs on the hill-top lying
We saw the gentle sheep,
Thinking over their evening prayers
Before they went to sleep.

The horses grazed in the meadow,
Stepping soft and slow;
Wherever one went, the other
Felt that he must go.

Then came from the mighty forest,
Very sweet, and silver clear—
The voice of a wood-thrush singing,
To his wife and children dear.

I said: "Tis our Garden of Eden,
And we seem on the Earth alone;
Now so far away are we hidden,
From the strife that is going on.

Ah, why must we wake to-morrow
To trouble and care and pain?
Let us soar up to yonder planet
And never return again!"

INDIA & CHINA TEA COY.
Home Depot at London and Liverpool.
Canada Depot, 23 Hospital Street, Montreal.
THE India and China Tea Company beg to call the attention of the Canadian community to their direct imported Teas, which for purity and excellence will be found unequalled.
The Company have made arrangements whereby they have secured the entire produce of some of the best plantations in Assam and on the slopes of the Himalayas, and by a judicious blending of these magnificent Teas with the best varieties of China products, they are enabled to offer the public Teas of quality and flavour hitherto unknown to the general consumer. The Teas are of a high favour in England and in one and a single trial will prove their superiority.
The Company supply two qualities only, either Black, Green or Mixed. The Black Teas will be found to possess great richness and flavour, combined with colour and strength, and to be entirely different to the flat and void a taste usually sold as Black Tea; while their Green Teas are altogether free from the deleterious mineral powder so commonly used for coloring the leaf.
PRICES: Rich, full-flavored Tea for family use a real genuine and fine article, 70 cents per lb. Finest quality procurable, one dollar per lb.
The above can be had either Black, Green or Mixed.
To be had in packets of Quarter Pound Half Pound, One Pound, and upwards, or in tin canisters of 5 lbs. and upwards from the Company's Agents in all the chief towns of Canada.—N. B. All the packages are lined with tin paper, and the Tea will consequently retain its favour any length of time.
OBSERVE.—All packages have the Company's trade-mark, without which none are genuine.
