

Asquith May Abandon His Home Rule Amending Bill

Serious Rioting at St. John, N.B.—Another Merger of Canadian Banks

ASQUITH TO DROP AMENDING BILL, SAYS RUMOR

Everybody expects conference at Palace to reach settlement, says cable to New York Paper—Home Rule Bill Will Be Allowed to Become Law.

Special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, Friday Morning, July 24.—A special cable to The Toronto World says: "Formerly the King could do no wrong, but nowadays it seems that the King can do no right." This is the remark attributed to King George, on reading the press and parliamentary criticism of his speech and actions connected with the royal home rule conference. The outburst has had a sobering effect on the court, where it was apparently beginning to be fancied that its views were of secondary importance. The conference reassembled yesterday morning to agree upon a report of its failure, but the King sent for Mr. Asquith and besought him to make a further effort for settlement. Mr. Asquith, the knowing from the attitude of the Unionists, that he could make no proposal to satisfy them, did suggest, on opening the session, that instead of drawing up their report, they should make one more attempt to find a basis of settlement in accordance with the personal desire of the King. They accordingly discussed the question of the readjustment of the boundaries of Orange Ulster as a means of reaching an agreement, but after nearly two hours' discussion, the deadlock was as hopeless as ever. There will be another session today, but nobody concerned expects that it will be of any use. It is now believed that the government will drop the amending bill because the Unionist leaders have again refused to accept its proposals at the conference. The session, in that event, would end about Aug. 12, when the home rule bill would become law and the Ulster provisional government would appear on the scene, although who it proposes to govern and how nobody can understand.

LARGE DROVES OF WORMS IN MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Farmers Burn Fields of Grain in Some Districts to Stop Progress.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Ont., July 23.—The army worm has invaded Middlesex and has been seen in large numbers in the Township of Delaware, on the first concession. In several other places in this district the pest has been observed and in certain districts fields of grain are being burned and trenches dug to stop the ravages of the invaders. In Delaware the insects are making great havoc. Appin, Avon and other places report the presence of worms. In North Dorchester experts from the Ontario Agricultural College are assisting the farmers in their battles with the pests.

GANG OF SIX BICYCLE BURGLARS ROB TWELVE WEST END HOUSES

Early Yesterday Morning Residences Between Royce Ave. and Osler Street Were Entered and Thieves Carried Off More Than a Thousand Dollars' Worth of Plunder.

One of the biggest series of burglaries in the history of the Toronto police force was pulled off in the western section of the city between midnight Wednesday night and the dawn of Thursday morning. Operating on bicycles, all of which the police believe were stolen for the purpose, half a dozen men entered no less than 12 houses in the district between Royce avenue and Osler street, getting away with over $1,000 worth of valuables and cash. The police refused to divulge the names and addresses of the parties whose homes were burglarized, but admitted to The World that they already had 13 reported burglaries, all the places being situated with a few blocks still more today. The burglars apparently visited one house after another, skipping one or two in a row, so that any noise made in a previous entry might not have aroused the next victims.

CAVALRY CHARGES MOB AT ST. JOHN STREET CARS BURNED, SHOTS FIRED

Firemen at Street Railway Power House Driven From Work by Volleys of Stones—One Rioter Shot by Detective—Riot Most Serious in Forty Years.

William Bennett, dredge worker, was shot in the thigh by Detective Lucas, who was defending himself from members of the mob. Lucas was badly out on the head, and he and Bennett are in the hospital. The cars were overturned in Market Square by the mob after two hours of interrupted disorder and finally set on fire. The fire brigade put out the blaze at midnight. This was the most serious disorder in this city in forty years. The trouble is mostly due to the hoodlums rather than to the strikers. The introduction of strike-breakers precipitated many riots.

WOMAN IN AEROPLANE FLEW OVER LAKE ERIE

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Friday Morning, July 24.—The only hopeful sign in connection with the Buckingham Palace conference is that contrary to the universal opinion it is still alive. That is, all that can be said with absolute confidence. A news agency says currency to a report "that the conference has attained what amounts to an agreement."

CONTINUOUS EXERTIONS MADE BY LIBERAL LEADERS TO REACH SETTLEMENT OF IRISH PROBLEM

CONFERENCE STILL IN BEING AND DISCUSSION OF AMENDING BILL IS FURTHER DEFERRED—LIBERAL PEACE ADVOCATE TRIES TO INDUCE NATIONALISTS TO MODIFY DEMANDS.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, July 23.—The outstanding fact in the Irish situation tonight is that the home rule conference is still in being, the predictions of the whole Liberal and Unionist press of yesterday that the conference was on the eve of collapse, having proved false. After a protracted meeting today conference adjourned until tomorrow. Meetings and discussions of the various party leaders proceeded in the lobbies of parliament tonight with unabated activity, and moderate men, like Lord Courney, are working indefatigably in the direction of a compromise. Hope and fears fluctuate from hour to hour.

FOUNDLING IN BASKET WELCOMED HIM HOME

West Toronto Man Found Little Baby Girl on Verandah at Midnight.

When Melville Christie of 247 Evelyn avenue returned from the merchants' picnic at Berlin on Wednesday night about 12 o'clock, he found, reposing in a basket on the verandah, a baby girl about a month old. The child was well and warmly dressed, but had no means of identification about it and the surprised discoverer carried it to the Keele street police station. From here it was taken to the Infants' Home early yesterday morning.

EARLS COURT'S PROGRESS

Thousand Dollars of Sidewalk Dumped into the Ravine.

Yesterday John M. Warren of the John M. Warren Co., 30 Vaughan road, purchased thru W. P. Ryan, five acres on Bathurst street, adjoining R. J. Fleming's property.

This land has an extensive sandpit, which will be worked and cement bricks will be manufactured on a large scale, thus providing employment for a number of hands.

The number of houses, stores, theatres, churches, etc. in course of erection equals that of any other district in the city, and during the business hours of the day that portion of St. Clair avenue embraced by the Earls court and Oakwood section is a busy place.

The Dominion Bank and Canadian Bank of Commerce report steady progress, and all storekeepers report good business and are optimistic for the future.

A thriving aerated water factory, with a modern and up-to-date plant, established within the last 12 months by Manchester Brothers, distributes supplies to all parts of the city.

The large nurseries of Miller Bros. are too well known to need any special mention. Sufficient to say that two new greenhouses are at present being erected by this firm.

J. Dinwiddie, 28 Braconvale avenue, stated last night that about 1000 feet of recently laid sidewalk on Braconvale avenue, between Helena avenue and Vaughan road, has been torn up and dumped into the St. Clair ravine.

"That's no bill," said Mr. Dinwiddie. "The engineering department, when laying out the road, graded it too low and then the grading was done on the boulevard, are surrounded by the cement sidewalk."

"When the occupants of the houses require to leave by the front door the road is now so low that it requires some considerable skill to negotiate the descent into the roadway."

"The end is not yet," he concluded. "The city will have to compensate me for this."

Allan Bell, real estate broker, Bathurst street, reports the sale of a solid brick dwelling, 185 Patricia avenue, to Leslie Allan, for $500.

The congregation of the Church of Christ, Wychwood, of which Rev. Hugh Kilgour is pastor, have purchased a new site for their church on Helena avenue, and have decided to purchase present church property on Bathurst street.

Owing to the rain yesterday St. Mark's Anglican church garden party did not take place.

Service Resumed. The Davenport cars of the Toronto Suburban Railway are to be resumed on service on Bathurst street to the C. P. R. subway, and the Christie street service has been discontinued.

TODMORDEN. Bricklayers Started Work. On the new public school at Todmorden this week the walls have already been raised to a height of six feet.

SPRINGS HAMPER WORK ON WOODBINE SEWER

Construction Entirely Held Up Last Week - Progress Now Slow.

Much sewer construction is under way in the Midway district of East Toronto. Considerable difficulty has been encountered in the construction of the main on Woodbine street.

The work was entirely held up last week, and this week is progressing with difficulty. The main is being laid from Kingston road to Danforth avenue, and at the present rate of progress will be completed at a date considerably later than was at first estimated.

BAND DID NOT APPEAR. CROWD DISAPPOINTED. Date of Concert Scheduled for North Toronto Changed Without Notice.

Residents of North Toronto, together with many of those who are in the habit of attending the band concerts in different parts of the city, met with great disappointment last night when it was found that the band of the 48th Highlanders, which was to give a musical entertainment on Broadway avenue, had failed to put in an appearance.

A large number of the residents gathered on Broadway at the hour named for the concert, and were greatly increased in numbers by music lovers from other districts.

The estimated cost of this quantity of sidewalk is $210 for 201 feet, or a total of considerably over $1000.

"That's no bill," said Mr. Dinwiddie. "The engineering department, when laying out the road, graded it too low and then the grading was done on the boulevard, are surrounded by the cement sidewalk."

When the occupants of the houses require to leave by the front door the road is now so low that it requires some considerable skill to negotiate the descent into the roadway.

Some days ago Controller Simpson was made aware of a case where six men had labored for a city contractor for two weeks and had only 40 cents to draw in their pay envelopes, when they had put on board, transportation, etc. Another instance was related where men had agreed to dig sewers on piecework, and when they complained that they were being paid for less work than they had done they were immediately discharged. Another gang more mute and willing, got the job. Employment agencies and lodges were included in the recital of woe.

The great advantage which will accrue to the Metropolitan Nova Scotia taking in its younger rival will be recognized by banking men as opening up a new field of activity for the bank. It also secures a staff of specialists in the bank's operations. In view of these facts and also the circumstance that new branches have been opened during the last few years of its existence, the arrangement will probably be regarded as an exceedingly advantageous one for the Nova Scotia shareholders in spite of the generous price paid for the Metropolitan Bank stock.

CHARGES OF GRAFT AGAINST FOREMEN

Bulgarian Interpreter Declares His Countrymen Were Cheated.

Further charges of grafting by foremen on civic work and contracts have been made by A. V. Raykoff, Bulgarian interpreter, before City Engineer Powell. Mr. Raykoff has submitted the names of three Bulgarians who swear that they have paid $5 to a foreman on the city sewer work on Danforth avenue to secure a job, and after working for a few days were discharged and others employed in their stead.

A Bulgarian who acts as interpreter between the men and the foremen is said to have shared in the proceeds. Local English-speaking laborers enumerated numerous instances of similar impositions being worked against laborers and they firmly believe that the many complaints have been ignored in the past will be justified.

THE NEW HOUSEKEEPING

BY MRS. CHRISTINE FREDERICK

THERE is a group of enthusiasts who walk thru the land urging women to give up every shred of housework, every last particle of housekeeping. "Send the clothes to a commercial laundry, buy your bread at the bakery, purchase your food in cans, buy store clothes and devote yourself to the noble uplifting of humanity."

I hope readers will believe me when I say that I am just as much in favor of fighting social evils as any other woman, but I am also of the opinion that in order to do this fighting successfully a woman must have some extensive practical experience in managing, organizing and working in a home of her own. Let me draw the parallel with man's work. Think how many men are, and have been, interested in and influential in reform of all kinds, yet did these men have to give up their business in order to devote themselves to this social work in a wider sphere? No, far from it. And it has been proved beyond doubt that the men who have meant most to social and reform movements have been just those men who have been signally successful in some business, profession or occupation.

"Babylon," the magnificent oriental spectacle now in preparation for this year's Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, will outline in the beauty of its coloring and costumes, its life and the number of its people any similar spectacle ever produced on the American Continent.

Should You Whip a Child the Way He Should Go?

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

MRS. HARRY HASTINGS, of the far and boundless West, says that children ought to be whipped—when they need it.

"Some children can't be ruled any other way," says Mrs. Hastings, "and children must be ruled—they must not rule."

"The greatest virtue the finest child in the world can have is obedience—obedience to the letter—blind, dumb, absolute obedience. I know a little boy who was playing on a railroad track. His father suddenly shouted to him, 'Lie down between the rails.' The little boy lay down between the rails and the train passed over him and did not hurt him.

"Now, if that boy had stopped to reason or argue, or even to wonder, he would have been killed. He had been taught to obey—and that teaching saved his life.

"Yes, I believe in whipping children—for their own good. The best children I know are children whose parents whip them—when they need to be whipped to make them mind. This country is full of careless parents and spoiled children. Let's go back to the old-fashioned spanking and see if we can't get some old-fashioned children."

How interesting—how enlightening—how sweetly reasonable—and, furthermore, how civilized. I always like to meet a woman who says she whips her children to make them mind. She's always such a dear, simple creature—so easy to understand. One look at her, one half-hour spent in her society, always tells me just exactly why her children won't "mind" without a whipping.

Ruling by Fear.

Now that highly intelligent father who told his little boy to lie down on the track and let the train pass over him. If he'd been any kind of a man with any kind of common sense, he would not have let his little boy play on the track at all.

Of course, if you're going to be the kind of man or woman who allows the children to take such risks as that, the rest follows, as a matter of course. You don't have to tell us any more about that particular father, Mrs. Hastings. We know all about him right this minute.

Now, it seems to me that the man in this story would have made a better job of being a father if he had taught his boy that a railroad track is hardly the place to use as a playground, and had relied upon the child's common sense to keep him out of such danger—or, if he got into it, to show him the quickest way out.

The most obedient child in history was Casablanca—the boy who stood on the burning deck. And we know what obedience brought him.

I never could get up very much sentiment about poor little Casablanca. He may have been blindly obedient—he certainly was a blindly stupid, too. Probably his father whipped him to "make him mind"—and that's why the poor, dazed little fellow, who had never been taught to think for himself, couldn't save his own life without an order from the father who had taught him such blind obedience.

I know a cousin of Casablanca—oh, yes, he's a real cousin, he'll tell you so a dozen times a day—if you'll let him. All about how his great-grandfather emigrated from Corsica, and all the rest of it that is such a romantic story—in a poem—and such a commonplace affair of third class tickets, a loaf of black bread and a bunch of garlic—in real life.

Casablanca's cousin carries out Casablanca's idea of obedience. He obeys, implicitly, any one who can shake a big enough stick at him. He's rather a good sort of chap, naturally, this Casablanca of today—but those who rule him are not good. Some day poor Casablanca is going to find himself on the burning deck—alone—and what in the world will he do then—poor thing?

So you believe in whipping children—for their own good—Mrs. Hastings? Well, then, I don't agree with you.

I never saw a child who was whipped for his own good in my life. And I never knew a child who was whipped at home who wasn't a demon to manage away from home. The minute the whip is put away the child is unmanageable—and you really can't keep whipping every minute.

Character by Training.

I asked my friend, the school teacher, about it the other day, and she said that the worst children she had in school were children who were whipped at home.

Sullen—defiant—defiant—sullen—cowardly—bullying—oh, she called those children terrible names—and I believe the names she called them were all true. Why not? Rule a child by fear, and what shall you make of him but a liar, a coward and a bully? How can he be anything else?

No, no, Mrs. Hastings—you're wrong, you're all wrong. Your idea of things may have been all right back in the days when people were nothing much but children themselves, and had to have kings and whipping posts and ducking stools, and things to make them "mind."

And two or three generations ago in this country people were too busy to stop and explain things—a cuff on the ear is a good deal easier than a good, sane, logical talk.

You can't blame a pioneer mother for cuffing one of her children under the bed—when she heard a queer noise at the door and was afraid to look out of the window for fear of seeing a befeathered head looking in.

But nowadays the Indians are not on the warpath, and mother has time enough, and strength enough, and she ought to have sense enough, to learn how to rule a little bit of a child—without being helped out by a whip.

If my brain and my strength of character are not equal to the strain of training a weak, helpless, little tike of a rascal to do what I tell him, not because he's afraid of me, but because I've made him realize that what I tell him is pretty apt to be the best thing there is for him to do—then I think I'd better stop trying to raise children—and go to raising dogs.

And I shouldn't expect to take the blue ribbon with any of them—either.

Advice to Girls

Dear Annie Laurie: I am a girl of 19. I went with a fine young man having no bad habits, an accomplished young man. We went together for over a year, but not happily.

EARS ARE NOW WORN AGAIN

BLACK and white once more insists upon recognition.

Here is a redingote of white satin trimmed with black lace and buttoned with black jet buttons. It is the very newest thing from Paris and illustrates again the recurrent trends of fashion to the garments of earlier days.

WELCOME!

IT'S long since verses have been penned To My Lady's shell-like ear; How would they be? Twixt you and me We've had a hateful fear My Lady had no ears at all, Because she did not show 'em; But Fashion's sway proves it today, And once more we shall know 'em.

THE ear has come into its own once more. Kept down, hidden in the tendrils of the hair for so long that we hardly gave them a thought, our ears have at last—shall we say—risen and demanded recognition.

Those of us who have not seen our own ears, except at bed time, for so long that we hardly know them, must now study the new hair-dressing style. We may no longer pretend that we do not possess them, for ears are now worn again.

Marriage and Chivalry.

UNABLE to endure the oppressive tenacity of the atmosphere I seized my hat again and went forth to walk. The night was very clear and cool. A winter moon hung high above the town, silvering the snowy roofs and the church steeple at the end of the street. At the corner I met my father-in-law.

"Well, Peter," he said, "out for a walk?" "Yes," I said uncomfortably, for I was not quite sure how he felt about my quarrel with his wife. "The night was so bright and keen I couldn't resist it."

"Chivalry," said Mr. Penfield, a little bitterly, "there's nothing in it. Peter, Chivalry is the sentimental science that keeps a man from telling a woman what a rotter she is, when he'd thrash her other man. Chivalry is that gives a woman in silk and satin, who's been playing bridge all afternoon, the right to the only seat in a car, while the workman with blisters on his feet stands gallantly up. Chivalry—" but here he paused and flung his cigar into the road.

"Ah, well," he shrugged, "what's the use? Chivalry ought to be for mother—not for women as a class—and only for mothers who've made good."

"And I know from the way he spoke that Mrs. Penfield's hysterics and her nervous faint had gotten upon his nerves—that he didn't entirely blame me—and that his own married life had been none too happy."

"Business is bothering me a lot," he said after a while. "And, to tell the truth, I've been dabbling a little in stocks. Don't do it, Peter. It's a fool's pasture. I'm always putting up margin lately. Somehow, when you find your income isn't elastic enough to stretch over a year's expenses, you immediately cast about in your mind for a way to make more money easily—and speculating sounds simple enough, but it isn't."

"You're beginning wrong, Peter," he said. "I've learned a bitter lesson. Mary's my daughter, and a sweet, pretty girl, but when she gets the money fever she'll drive, and drive hard. Half of the human runaways that end in jail are the result of a money-mad woman she weeps and doesn't understand why. Men are great, sentimental fools. The passion and pity that women awaken in them complicate their lives at times beyond endurance. Take a firm stand, Peter, and handle your own money. It's the only way."

"Passion and pity? They were the only emotions, indeed, my wife aroused. Was marriage worth it?"

"I have myself."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why Your Hair-Cut Should Be a Sterile Rite

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

BARBERS, unlike other individuals, need not be judged by the company they keep. Nor need they be held as abominations because they continue to perpetuate the Pilgrim's mistakes of 400 years ago.

The herbs and other tonsorial messes which the razor-handed myrmidon caresses as cure-alls of falling hair and baldness are the heirlooms of a once dignified but now badly trained "profession."

Heaven has sent many a man a fine suit of hair, and the barber has departed it from him. Not that the barber is wicked, or wishes ill to his patrons, but because barbers are notoriously unobservant and, unconsciously, avoid seeing the results that do not accord with their treatment.

Many barbers, nowadays, have fallen into a pit of ink. They cannot, it seems, be washed clean again. The arts and practices of barbers are even more antiquated than those of many doctors and merchants.

Take, for example, the filthy practice of shampooing the head with eggs. If there is a better nest for germs and microbes to make their home in it is unknown to bacteriologists.

If there is one germ or fungus of ringworm, itch, eczema or dandruff present before the egg shampoo is applied you may hazard a can of stale sardines with assurance that there are a centillion billion of them a few hours later. For if there is anything a microbe loves better than an egg shampoo it must be two egg shampoos.

Yet this tonsorial detusion is no worse than singeing the hairs to make them grow and stop them from falling. Singeing the hairs really splits them, dries them, and injures them almost beyond redemption.

Each time a barber singes a victim's hair he opens up the hair shaft and permits moulds, microbes and other disease germs to be gradually squeezed down into the hairs. Thus, before the barber's defacing fingers have swept the lines where beauty lingers, the singeing process brings on baldness.

The haircut, though necessary, also has its dangers. It kills off the shafts almost as often as singeing. The reason lies partly in the fact that a barber's scissors are rarely, if ever, sterilized, and germs of disease, like the proverbial flea, jump from head to head without respect to color, race or previous condition of servitude.

We have become civilized enough to pass pure food laws and clean milk statutes, now let us get after the barber. Sterilization of every instrument in a barber shop should be compulsory.

Skirts Are Short and Fuller and the Fitted Basque Is Here

By MADGE MARVEL

FLOUNCED from a lances to hips and buttoned straight up the front from hips to neck, with her hair straggling out under floppy big ones, the woman of the summer looks like a stranger to those of us whose minds can't travel fast enough to keep up with the styles.

It is not the styles that are so ugly and muddled and incongruous. It is the adaptation of them. To be sure, we hardly know what is in style now, for no two makers of clothes seem to agree on many points, and every wearer of clothes tries to give them that ruling element of the times, individually.

Four style facts are apparent: skirts are short; skirts are fuller; basques are here; hats are larger.

Also there is a splash of bright color on nearly every dress. Also, there is such a conglomeration of periods that one's head seems in a hopeless historic whirl. To see 1880 basques, topped by Napoleon collar, shadowed by Napoleonic hats, shaded by oriental parasols, with military capes thrown over the shoulders, is a trifle disconcerting to those of us who have always cherished a belief in the eternal fitness of things, even of fashions.

Out of it all should come some interesting developments by fall. The basque and the redingote are the two garments which, from this midsummer view, it seems we shall have to reckon with.

Personally I like the basque. Perhaps, they will not be so attractive when every one gets to wearing them, and they are made in all kinds of goods, and upon all sizes and varieties of figures and fashioned with various degrees of skill. But these first basques have the merit of being creations. They have good lines, are well fitted and have worlds of that desirable quality known as "chic."

Black satin is coming into favor with the advent of the basque. Some exclusive modistes are using it in preference to taffeta. It is quite the rage in Paris.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor, the beautiful young widow in whom the world is interested, has worn black chiffon a great deal this summer, and her gown is charming in its simplicity. One in particular seemed to be draped on her figure, with a long tunic, a blouse which fitted rather closely, with no suggestion of bagginess at the waistline, and a simple plain effect. The sleeves were set in, which is somewhat unusual in such a dress fabric. Also they were long and close fitting, and finished with small white organdie cuffs. The bodice was collarless and she wore her superb pearls. Her hat was a medium affair with a flare over the face, in the manner of the noko.

To go back to basques: Some are plain and fitted with darts, others are tucked round and round, leaving the shoulders plain in yoke effect, and others are wrinkled. All the sleeves are set in at a normal place and are long and fitted to the arm. The buttons on the basques are large round affairs and make a conspicuous line directly up the front of the garment. They are often of rubies or jet.

The redingote is like the basque in front, but has long back portions which reach to the hem of the skirt and fall free. Plain redingotes, worn over a plaid skirt made of a series of flounces, are novelties.

TWO EGG DELICACIES OF M. LATTARD

Maitre d'Hotel of the Plaza Hotel, New York.

THERE is no more delicious food than the egg, and it lends itself to so many delightful combinations that the kitchen would be crippled without it.

The two recipes that I offer you here together you will find particularly pleasing these hot summer days.

If you will follow the directions with painstaking faithfulness you need have no fear of "bad luck." You will have as good luck as I have myself.

EGG PUFFKE.

Prepare ahead of time the desired number of unwhipped cream puffs. Fifteen or twenty minutes before serving warm. In the meanwhile prepare a 'ving put' these in an oven to stuffing of lobster as follows: Two-fifths artichoke bottoms, two-fifths fresh mushrooms, one-fifth smoked salmon, all cut in small cubes. Fry these in butter and set aside in a warm place.

Now take out your cream puffs, cut the top off, scoop out, and, inside, place a spoonful of lobster stuffing, over this a soft-poached egg. Mask the egg with the top that you cut off over this and serve at once.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 24.

GO EAST, GO WEST, HOME SMITH'S

As soon as the hydro-electric wages question petered out as an issue on which to attack Mayor Hocken, the Telegram had to get something else ready.

The new film-film, to use our contemporary's term, was the misleading and incorrect statement that the mayor and Mr. Maclean were interested in a real estate firm operating in Todmorden, and that they were pushing thru the annexation proposal in order to advance their own interests.

Those who are familiar with The Telegram's perfect unscrupulousness, when it feels that scruples are obstructive to its policy, were not carried away by the assertions made, and no one expected the Telegram to admit that it was wrong or to apologize when its errors were pointed out. We have had similar experiences with The Telegram before.

We were accused by The Telegram of having advocated certain action, and as evidence The Telegram quote an article published in The Star. When this was pointed out, did The Telegram apologize? Certainly not. It apologized for attributing the article to the wrong authority, but declined to withdraw a word of the false charges based on the false evidence.

Here we have another similar case. A prospectus is published in England by a company which did not ask for Mr. Maclean's consent to use his name, and used his name admittedly without his consent. The Telegram admits that the consent was not obtained. Mayor Hocken explicitly denies that he has any interest in the company, or any interest in Todmorden. Will The Telegram take any notice of that?

Those who know The Telegram will be surprised if it does not bring a charge of false pretences against Mayor Hocken for having his name on the prospectus of a company in which he is not interested. Mayor Hocken, being Mayor Hocken, must be shown up wrong anyhow.

Mr. Maclean is attacked as also aiding and abetting in the annexation of Todmorden in order to advance the interests of this real estate company in which he has no concern. Seven years ago The World advocated, and has been advocating ever since, the annexation of Todmorden and all the other territory which has entered the city boundaries in the meantime.

Mayor Hocken points out in his letter the same feature of his own policy. The childish absurdity of The Telegram in trying to make out that the annexation of Todmorden is desired to help a company organized last spring is highly characteristic of The Telegram, and is only to be rivaled in ridiculousness by the fact that the company in question has no property in Todmorden at all, but is operating in territory already in the city. Did The Telegram know this? Well, The Telegram brags that it knows more than anyone else. Perhaps it was not aware of this fact. But it certainly counts more on the stupidity of its readers than on its own wisdom.

On this head The Telegram remarks: "It is indiscreet of The Toronto World to suggest that it is impossible to take a position on a public question without first making sure of getting something out of it." We disclaim any priority in this matter. Who accused Mayor Hocken of having an interest in this real estate company? Who accused Mr. Maclean of having ulterior motives in advocating the annexation of Todmorden? Who attacked Controller Mr. Carthy for having written a public letter which was used in the English prospectus? Did anyone ever hear of a man in public life who had fallen into The Telegram's bad graces who was not accused of having some private fish to fry? When any person accuses everybody else of a particular fault or weakness, there is never any difficulty for students of human nature to reach a conclusion.

The annexation of Todmorden is not affected in any way by the activities of a real estate company operating elsewhere, whatever The Telegram may lead some of its readers to believe. The company in question has no property in Todmorden, and is therefore outside the discussion. But the question which we put yesterday has not yet been answered by The Telegram as to its steady opposition to all east end development, and its complacent acceptance of all west end proposals.

The Telegram declares: "It is the holder of undeveloped land that is willing to gamble higher assessments and higher taxes upon a chance of higher land values." This statement, as applied to Todmorden, is altogether a misfit. There are quite as many people living in Todmorden who wish annexation as there are opposed to it.

If we are to believe The Telegram it is only those who object to having baths in their homes who object to annexation. We quite understand The Telegram's sympathy with these people. But they surely have no better right to consideration than those who do not object to baths. However, as the whole business is only seized upon by The Telegram as a possible means of making things hot for Mayor Hocken, this phase of the matter is scarcely worthy attention.

After misrepresentation, inconsistency is a trivial offence, but the argument of The Telegram that both the city and Todmorden are going to be benefited as the result of the annexation is so novel and so telegraphic that it may be noted. First of all the Todmordenites are going to be ruined paying the taxes on their city's old debt. Then the city is going to be ruined paying for the improvements which the Todmordenites are going to get. Then the Todmordenites are going to be ruined all over again by paying for their own improvements. And after that the property is going to be so enhanced in value by coming into the city that Toronto people will be ruined by the boom which the Todmordenites are going to start. And then the Todmordenites are going to be ruined once more by the taxes they will have to pay on the increased value of their lots.

No wonder that strong minds like Col. Hazelton's are strained in the attempt to decide whether annexation will turn up heads or tails for the old-time residents. But it is The Telegram which is accountable for the strain, and not Mayor Hocken. There, does not appear to be any such difficulty in the Humber valley. Annexation there pursues a peaceful course under the benign smile of the Bay street oracle. No one is attempting to gamble out there with "higher assessments and higher taxes upon a chance of higher land values." No one seeks to get county property into the city there for the purpose of more easily raising money on it. No one in the Humber valley will object to putting in baths on every floor, if necessary, to comply with city sanitation regulations. The Humber valley is six miles away from Yonge street, and it ought by all geographical and scenic and municipal standards to become a part of the city. So argues The Telegram. But Todmorden! It is only a mile away from Yonge street! Why should anybody want to annex it? There is no accounting for tastes, and why anyone should want to annex Todmorden, a mile away, when the Humber valley, six miles away, will do just as well, is one of those things The Telegram cannot make out.

And so The Telegram accuses us of righteous indignation. We might ask where and when? We are only highly amused. Mayor Hocken is the issue, in this as in every other attack The Telegram has made since he came into the mayor's chair. The people of Toronto think it about time for The Telegram to get a little sense and let up. We quite agree.

EXPRESS COMPANIES AS DISTRIBUTORS. While it is impossible to feel much sympathy with the express companies of the United States, exposed now to the keen and biting competition of the national parcel post, it must be said that, having been taught the evil of their previous ways, they are now turning the lesson to account. In this they company with the banished duke in the Forest of Arden, who found in the icy fang and curlious chiding of the winter wind counsellors that feelingly persuaded him of what he was. "Sweet are the uses of adversity," he moralized, "which like the toad, ugly and venomous, wears yet a precious jewel on his head." This at least one of the great express companies of the United States has found and its directors are no doubt happier in devising methods to serve the people at a reasonable return than they were when piling up profits, regardless of their public obligations.

Confronted with the competition of the national system and with the considerable reduction of rates ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, this particular company discerned an opening in that increase in the cost of living towards which it had, with its kindred organizations, in a measure contributed during their evil but prosperous days. So last April it installed a system for the purpose of bringing producer and consumer into immediate relationship, and not only this but it has gone into the business of general agent by offering facilities to purchasers to obtain anything they want and to have it promptly delivered. Now it has broadened into a general and beneficent organization for the profitable distribution of surplus products, and their marketing where they are in demand. Express companies in the United States may still do valuable service in this and kindred ways.

OCEAN TRANSPORTATION MONOPOLIES. That transportation, and especially ocean transportation, is intimately connected with the cost of living is the thesis maintained by Mr. David Lubin, delegate of the United States to the International Institute of Agriculture, in an official pamphlet recently issued. To Mr. Lubin was due the establishment of the institute, which has done and is doing valuable service to agriculturists everywhere. The immediate object of this publication is to support his proposal that the permanent committee of the institute shall introduce a resolution to the general assembly, to be held in May of next year, inviting the adherent governments to participate in an international conference on the subject of the regulation and control of ocean freight rates on the staples of agriculture, to be held in Rome during the fortnight preceding the session of the general assembly in 1917.

This course accords with the articles of the institute, but it debauches the remedy, if one can be provided, for three years. But Mr. Lubin's pamphlet offers ample reason for earlier action by the governments whose countries are affected by the presence of transportation monopolies. That such monopolies are now in control of the situation is made clear by the report, recently published, of the merchant marine committee of the United States House of Representatives directed to investigate the methods and practices of the various shipping lines, both domestic and foreign, engaged in domestic or foreign commerce. The report shows that the leading representatives of the commercial interests and practically all the important navigation companies engaged in that commerce gave testimony under oath at the sittings of the committee.

The course of the enquiry made it clear that the understandings, conferences and combinations among the steamship companies have led to the formation of great shipping trusts. They control not only the lines directly owned, but also to a great extent the traffic of the "tramp ships," commonly supposed to be in a measure independent. The monopolies so created are thus enabled to levy and maintain excessive and unjust rates, and by the use of "fighting ships" and by rebates to large shippers have tended to produce other and dangerous monopolies both of buying and selling. Both American and British enquiries show that these rings are attaining greater and greater magnitude throughout the world as time goes on. Practically every sphere of American-European trade is covered by freight agreements.

Through these agreements "the chief directors of a few of the larger shipping rings, by federating their efforts, are in a position to raise and lower by previous arrangement the prices of the staples in any or all of the principal ports of the world." They can in this way influence prices by raising or lowering the cost of carriage, and were they so disposed could thus at will and by arrangement buy and sell with anticipatory knowledge in the world's markets and pocket the profits. Not only so, but they can make and unmake ports by diverting traffic, as there is reason to believe they have already done in the case of Baltimore. And, as Mr. Lubin remarks, this power is the more dangerous since the directors of these shipping rings are irresponsible and not expected to be guided by altruistic motives or high and statesmanlike political considerations. The whole situation calls for regulation and control, and the call is just as clamant in the case of internal transportation.

GREAT WORK OF RECLAMATION IN ST. JOHN, N.B., FOR HARBOR ACCOMMODATION. (Special Correspondence.) ST. JOHN, N.B., July 23.—A great scheme of development and reclamation is in progress on the western side of St. John harbor, the purpose of which is to provide berths for the winter coming for the trans-Atlantic liners of the various lines. Four hundred men, five tug boats, three dredges, two locomotives and teams with four reclamation plants are engaged in this stupendous undertaking. The contractors are the Maritime Dredging and Construction Company, who have sub-let to the Cape and Company, D. C. Clark. Three hundred workmen, one powerful suction dredge, three high power elevator dredges, an ocean tug, five locomotives and ballast trains, two steam shovels and accessories are constantly employed by the Norton-Griffiths Company in pushing forward the harbor and industrial development at East St. John. The firm have almost completed an immense breakwater of stone and have reclaimed over twelve acres of land for a ship repair plant, besides excavating a third of the site of a drydock. Considerable progress has also been made in dredging berths inside the breakwater for ocean commerce and in the widening of the entrance channel. It is expected that next spring the construction of concrete and steel cylinder quays for ocean berths will be commenced, and also a pier built at the entrance of the drydock. The company's contract, which expires in 1917, covers the supplying of twenty-three steamship docks and involves an expenditure of $30,000,000.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN PASSES THRU CITY. Premier Declares Himself Well Pleased With Outcome of Elections. PRAISE FOR SIR JAMES. People Have Confidence in Conservative Leader, He Asserts.

Satisfaction at the outcome of the recent provincial elections was expressed by Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada, who passed thru Toronto yesterday morning en route to Muskoka, where he will spend several weeks. "The vote in Ontario," said Sir Robert, "tends to show that the people of this province have the utmost confidence in Sir James Whitney and his colleagues. The government's major-ity proves that the people are more willing to trust Sir James now than they were when the Liberal administration was defeated in 1905. Sir James certainly has my congratulations, and I am sure that the confidence of the people of Ontario is not misplaced."

Regarding the Manitoba election results, Sir Robert refused to commit himself, saying it was a matter which concerned the Roblin government and Manitoba and not the Dominion Government. Sir Robert arrived in Toronto on the C.P.R. express from Ottawa. He did not leave his private car, which was attached to the G.T.R. Muskoka train at the North Toronto Station. He declared he would call upon Sir James Whitney on his return trip. The premier appeared tired and somewhat careworn.

PASSED RADIAL CAR. In spite of his endeavors to observe the rules of the road, by keeping within the speed limit while motoring on the Kingston road last Sunday, James Wright, 488 Sherbourne street, was fined $1 and costs in the County Police Court yesterday for passing a York radial car while it was discharging passengers.

BOY SHIELDED FATHER. To prove that he and not his father was guilty of theft, the 12-year-old son of Sam Currier lifted a crate of berries weighing 48 pounds and placed it on a table almost the height of his own head, with comparative ease, in the police court yesterday. Currier was charged with stealing the berries, but it appeared that the youngster had placed the crate in his father's wagon by mistake and without his parent's knowledge. Assistant Crown Attorney Hughes complimented the lad on his strength and he was allowed to go.

CABLES ON MANITOBA SPRING WHEAT FIRMER. Market for Oats is Stronger—Demand for Flour Shows No Improvement—Butter Firm.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Cables on Manitoba spring wheat were stronger again today, at a further advance of 3d. per quarter. Some of the offers made by exporters last night were accepted, but the counter bids were considerably out of line, based on the closing prices of the Winnipeg market. There was some enquiry for oats from Glasgow at an advance of 1 1/2d for July shipment, but no business was done. The local market for oats was stronger at an advance of 1-1/2 to 2c per bushel with a fair trade doing in car lots. The demand for flour shows no improvement, and the market is dull with an easier feeling in spring wheat grades. Milled steady under continued good demand. Butter is firm with a fair local trade doing. Cheese is fairly active. Eggs firm under a good steady demand.

CONFERENCE WILL MEET ONCE MORE

Critical Session of Yesterday Tided Over Without a Rupture.

PUBLIC MORE HOPEFUL Settlement May Take Place Outside of Conference is Belief.

CONFERENCE WILL MEET ONCE MORE

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, July 23.—The tiding over of today's critical session of the conference at Buckingham Palace on the Ulster situation without the occurrence of a rupture created a decidedly more hopeful view among the general public as to the outcome of the discussions between the statesmen representing the different parties. The Irish Nationalists still declined to commit themselves to any expressions of optimism.

Among Liberals and Unionists there exists an impression that a settlement will be reached, if not by the conference itself, then outside of it. The Nationalists show less confidence on this point, and after today's meeting Patrick O'Brien, an Irish Nationalist, said: "I am none too sanguine of an agreement being reached."

Solid Ulster Stumbling Block The finding of a solution still hinges entirely on the discovery of a compromise in regard to the tenor of the program as to whether the Counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh shall be included in the area, which the adherents of the Ulster Unionist leader, demand, shall be allowed to vote as a whole on the subject of exclusion from the control of the Dublin parliament.

Raymond Asquith, a son of Premier Asquith, in a speech at Derby late today, said he had "great hopes" that the King's conference would have a satisfactory issue, and this statement helped to confirm the attitude of those who are optimistic about the finding of a solution of the Ulster difficulty. Gleom Dispelled a Little.

The absence of the hitherto prominent presence of a definite program of the conference was noted by the Nationalists, and they said that the "negotiations will be resumed tomorrow" at the adjournment of today's conference at Buckingham Palace, which the Ulster Unionist leader, demand, shall be allowed to vote as a whole on the subject of exclusion from the control of the Dublin parliament.

The meeting was a little more protracted than the previous ones. It was attended by Premier Asquith and Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George, representing the Ulster Unionist leader, and the Marquis of Lansdowne of the regular Conservative opposition; John E. Redmond and John Dillon of the Irish Nationalist party, and Sir Edward Carson and Capt. James Craig of the Ulster Unionists.

WHEAT PRICES ARE DRIVEN UPWARD

Black Rust—Rain in Russia—Corn Trading Exciting—Takes Jump.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Immense export sales and the certainty that black rust had crossed into Canada had much to do today with driving wheat prices upward. The market closed nervous at 8-8c to 1-1-8c advance. Corn showed a jump of 1-2-8c to 2-1-2c and oats a gain of 1-8c to 1-1-4c. Provisions finished 10c off to rise of 7-1-2c.

It was estimated that sales of wheat for ocean shipments aggregated 15,000,000 bushels. No doubt was felt that the Northwest spread of black rust damage had been largely responsible for the urgent buying on European account as well as decided interest of the bullish sentiment on the domestic. It was outlooked, however, that heavy rains were interfering with the Russian harvest and crop advices from Argentina were also unfavorable.

Longs Take Profit. Some of the most pessimistic reports of black rust came from Minnesota and North Dakota. It was said that samples gathered in Northern Minnesota demonstrated that wheat fields which a week ago were clean and fine were now severely damaged by rust. Under such conditions the only important setback in prices failed to last and was due almost wholly to long taking profits.

Corn trading was the most excited of the season. Dry weather, threatening serious danger in some of the best sections of the surplus states, alarmed shorts, and led to speculative buying on a big scale. The December option in particular made a lively jump, showing an advance at one time of 2-3-4c.

Oats made only a moderate response to the strength in corn. Hedging sales, the not so pressing as of late, were of sufficient volume to hinder a more radical upturn. Provisions rallied in consequence of the higher values for feed. At first the market was disposed to ease off, in line with prices for hogs.

Receipts of live stock at the Union yard yesterday were 25 cars, 187 cattle, 1248 hogs, 481 sheep and lambs and 70 calves.

Notwithstanding the small number of fresh cattle on the market, trade was slow and the market seemingly very dull. The same condition prevails nearly every week at the close. One reason is that as a rule there are few good to choice cattle offered, as was the case yesterday.

Another reason is that generally all the buyers have got their week's supply of cattle before Thursday and, therefore, are not anxious to buy many cattle, and take more time in making their selections when buying.

The market for stockers, milkers and springers, sheep and calves was steady to firm, but lambs and hogs sold at higher prices than on Wednesday.

Butchers' Cattle. Good butchers' sold at $13.15 to $14.00; medium butchers' at $12.50 to $13.10; common butchers' at $11.75 to $12.50; choice cows at $6.75 to $7; good cows at $5.25 to $6; medium cows at $5.50 to $6; common at $4.75 to $5.25; canners at $3 to $3.75; bulls at $4 to $7.25.

Steers, 800 to 950 lbs., are worth $7 to $7.25; steers, 700 to 800 lbs., $6.50 to $7; stockers, $4.50 to $5.25.

Milkers and Springers. Receipts were not large, values firm at $10 to $11; the average price being from $85 to $75.

Calves were scarce and prices very firm. Choice calves sold at $10 to $11; good calves at $8.50 to $9; medium calves at $7 to $8; common at $7 to $8; inferior at $5.50 to $6.50.

Sheep, light ewes, $5 to $6; heavy ewes and rams, $3.50 to $4; spring lambs, $7 to $11 per cwt. Hogs. Receipts not being large enough to supply the demand prices were again firmer. Selects fed and watered sold at $9 to $9.10, and 400 weighed off cars.

Representative Sales. McDonald's commission sold the Union Stock Yards Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 23 cars of $3.65 per cwt.; fair to good butchers' at $8 to $8.25; medium butchers' at $7.50 to $7.75; fair to good butchers' cows at $6 to $6.25; medium to heavy cows at $5.50 to $5.75; fair to good butchers' at $6.50 to $7; fair to good butchers' at $6.50; best milkers and springers at $8 to $8.50; medium milkers and springers at $7 to $7.50; medium milkers and springers at $6 to $7; medium milkers and springers at $5 to $6; McDonald's sold 1014 hogs at $8.25 to $9.20 per cwt. fed and watered; 224 lambs at $8.75 to $10.75; 82 sheep, light ewes, at $4.50; 102 calves, best, at $9.50 to $10.50; fair to good at $8 to $9; medium at $7 to $8; best butchers' at $7.50 to $8.50; best Charles Zeigman & Sons sold 100 rough hogs at $10.25 to $10.50; 25 sheep at $5.50 to $6.25; 40 good veal calves at $9.50 to $10; and a few hogs at $7.50, $8, and $10.50.
