TWO CENTS A MILE ON RAILWAYS WANTED BY FARMERS OF ONTARIO

Resolutions of Progressive Public Policy Adopted by Provincial Association — "Salary Grab" at Ottawa Not Forgotten — Farmers and the Tariff.

Resolutions denoting the progress of opinion on great public questions were unanimously adopted at the opening session of the Farmers' Association of Ontario in Victoria Hall yesterday. J. Locke Wilson presided. With such unanimity did the proceedings move that comparatively few of the resolutions drew discussion, not that there was any lack of interest, but that there was no question there was none, or very little.

In referring to railway taxation Mr. Armstrong, East Lambton, attributed the defeat of Mr. Pettipiece, ex-M.L.A., to his having hedged on his bill. The sentiment, as expressed by the president, was that the municipalities were robbed of their fair share of revenue, and that the principle should be carried further so that all corporations should pay a fair share of taxation.

The motion favoring a progressive royalty on the output of mineral lands, was spoken on by Capt. W. L. Smith, who complained that under present law a man by expending a mere trifle might secure mineral wealth with millions. A fair share should be for the public benefit. The sentiment was warmly endorsed.

For Two-Cent Rate.

Capt. Smith struck an even more popular key with his remarks in advocacy of a two-cent passenger rate on the railways. He asserted that the rates were the same as when traffic only netted one-fifth the sum it now did. So great was the business that it was difficult for a traveler in Southern Ontario to get a seat in a coach.

An opinion given was that the governments were afraid of the railways. The electric companies had been compelled to give two-cent rates, why not the other railroads?

"There's a nig., in the fence somewhere," was commented on by the speaker. The original resolution asked that the railway commission enforce the two-cent measure, using its discretion, but it was suggested that the government, not the commission, had the controlling power.

Against the Grab.

Mr. Beattie Welland, drew an emphatic chorus of dissent when he proposed that the anti-salary grab resolution be amended so that the government of the bill having been revised to strike out the senators' pensions.

"We have got to keep swinging away at it until it is completely polished," was declared in one quarter, and there were expressions of assent on all sides.

"These fellows are all right," was the president's hearty comment on a resolution submitted by the South West, that a police station be built at the corner of the main street and the street leading to the hospital.

SHE FELL OFF THE CAR.

"Accident" to Woman Which May Not Have Been Accidental.

Mrs. M. Steele has been employed by Richard Dawson of Weston, in whose household there has been a recent disappearance of $35, it is claimed, with the knowledge of the woman. To straighten out things Mr. Dawson accompanied by County Constable Pearson, brought the suspected into town in order to visit some domicile on Elizabeth-street where it was thought explanations, and perhaps restitution, would be made. In a mysterious manner Mrs. Steele fell off the car at Elizabeth and College-streets, and to all appearances she was completely knocked out, so she was carried to the Sick Children's Hospital, where her erstwhile custodians left her while they took her into the kitchen to "see a man." They punched him and touched him for $34.

FELL AMONG THIEVES.

Unkindness characterized the treatment of John Slot, a Belgian, who is in from the country for a while and it has led to the arrest of John Smith, 27 Brookfield-street, on charges of assault and robbery. Slot's story is that early on Saturday afternoon he was in the gate of the Western Cattle Market, where he met Smith and some companions, who told him how he could get good work up country and took him into the market to "see a man." They punched him and touched him for $34.

Says Police Are Mistaken.

There are some who still have cause to remember the little Donnybrook business at the Brockton Club early in the summer. James Crozier, alias Joyce, was arrested last night in connection with it, but he claims that he lives at the number and the police have made a mistake in taking him in.

THE SENTIMENT OF TO-DAY.

That we ask the railway commission to equalize and regulate express rates upon an equitable basis without waiting for any formal complaints.

That we endorse the federal ownership of long-distance telephone and telegraph lines, and regard the transmission of messages by these means as logically belonging to the federal postal system.

That we favor the enforcement by federal legislation of a two-cent-a-mile passenger rate whenever the passenger earnings shall exceed $2000 a mile.

That we commend the federal government for putting express rates under the control of the railway commission, and the provincial government for its power act, its municipal telephone act, and its reservation of the Gillies limit in the interests of the general public.

That we recognize the right of ownership that the people of Ontario have in the mineral wealth of this province, we ask the provincial government to levy a progressive royalty upon all mineral output for the benefit of the general public.

That no cabinet minister should be connected with any corporations seeking, or likely to seek, legislative favors.

That we are opposed absolutely to the policy of granting bonuses and bounties, either in money or in public lands, to private corporations, and that the public domain should be reserved for the actual settlers.

That we affirm our belief in the justice of the main principles of the Pettipiece bill, and regard the recent railway taxation act of the provincial government as both unjust to the average taxpayer and as discriminating unfairly between the railways themselves. We demand that the assessment and taxation of corporate property be similar to those of farm and other private property. We shall be satisfied with nothing less than equalization of taxation.

That we are emphatically opposed to the increase of expenditure for military purposes as being both unnecessary and demoralizing, and as diverting our national resources into unprofitable channels, and as tending to lower those ideals which should inspire the rising generation—Resolutions of delegates to the Farmers' Association of Ontario.

"WIRELESS" SOON TO IRELAND MARCONI ASSURES THE WORLD

Says His System Must Be Perfect Before He Enters Into Competition With Cable Companies—Wizard Leaves for England.

Marconi Wireless Station, Glace Bay, N.S., Sept. 4.—(Staff Special.)—Signor Marconi, the inventor of the wireless telegraph, was astonished to-day when he learned that a World reporter had come from Toronto to see him.

"I am anxious to visit Toronto," he said. "I am told that it is the most enterprising city in Canada. There are many things in the cable report which I was asked, 'that communication by wireless will soon be established between Ireland and Canada.'"

NEED LEADER FOR QUEBEC L. A. TASCHEREAU IS NAMED

Not One Candidate From District Qualified, But Wm. Powell May Get It.

Montreal, Sept. 4.—(Special.)—The Herald publishes the following Quebec special:

The air is full of political rumors these days. A gentleman in Quebec from Ottawa, high up in federal politics, said there was no ground whatever for the rumored changes in the personnel of the Dominion cabinet.

He said Hon. L. P. Brodie, who was one of the safest men in the cabinet, linked by all his colleagues, had no intention whatever of retiring, and the statements made in the press to the contrary were pure imagination.

BARGAIN IS GOVERNMENT'S CONSIDERABLE CARES FOR IT

Hon. Frank Cochrane Issues a Statement in Detail as to Healey's Falls Lease.

In addition to the statement published below, which is the official pronouncement of the department of lands and mines upon the Healey's Falls water power lease to the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., the minister, Mr. Cochrane, when seen yesterday by The World, had little to say. He denied emphatically that the government ever had overridden or ever proposed to override the powers vested in the Hydro-Electric Commission. Nothing was further from his own intention.

Further, he said, the government had never promised or undertaken to develop water power itself. The whole town was at the uptown station to meet him, and hundreds of friends of his own and the family had driven in from miles around.

The reception committee, composed of Mayor Lawler, Judge Smith, Colonel Farwell, John Ball Dow, E. A. Jackson, Rev. Dr. Hays, Rev. A. H. Wright and others, greeted him warmly with "Well done, Tom."

A procession was formed, and headed by the band of the 24th Regiment, led by Ed Evans, citizens on foot and in carriages proceeded thru gaily decorated streets, overhung with flags, banners and bunting, to the spacious opera-house. Every house on the line of the parade was decorated.

MIX-UP IN OTTAWA COUNCIL OVER FRANCHISE FOR BELL

Bylaw Fails to Get Required Majority and Company May Go Ahead Without It.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—(Special.)—The proposed extension of the franchise of the Bell Telephone Company was thrown out by the city council last night.

This, however, was more than a mistake than any desire to sever connection with the company. It is claimed that the company can go ahead without a franchise, and that means that the city will lose the present revenue of $2500 a year and 20 free phones.

It was proposed to give the bylaw granting a five years' extension of its final reading. If this had been done the city would get $5000 a year from the company and have desk phones reduced from $50 to $40. However, an amendment was added to the motion to pass the bylaw, and between the two the council managed to get mixed up with the result that the vote did not show the requisite two-thirds required to an exclusive franchise.

The bylaw was accordingly knocked out, but a notice of reconsideration was filed and the matter will again come up at next meeting.

BY-ELECTION IN C. B.

Conservatives Hope to Carry Seat for Local House.

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 4.—(Special.)—It is stated to-night on the best authority, that Neil J. Gillis, M.L.A., has been appointed registrar of the county, thus necessitating a by-election in the riding of C. B. Eaton.

R. H. Butts, who was one of the defeated candidates at the general elections will stand in the Conservative interest, but as yet there is no indication as to who will be the Liberal candidate. Conservatives are quite confident, and should they carry Cape Breton, it would show the party to the province to the highest pitch of enthusiasm.

Hence the Murray government will strain every effort, to save the seat, although it is still will have a large majority in the house.

HID MONEY IN HIS SOCK

And Accused Another Man of Having Stolen It.

It looks very much as if Bert W. Dell, a general merchant of Staffordville, who came here to see the fair, owes Charles Matthews, a Teraulay-street resident, an abject apology.

Dell and Matthews were parted by the police on Monday in the station in damaged baggage. It was found that Dell had up very freely at Adelaide and Simcoe-streets, because Dell claimed Matthews had stolen $25 from him. Matthews was having a drink. Dell had sympathizers who also dealt liberal hands to Matthews.

Matthews was searched. He had, it is said, $18 of ready money in one pocket and over $40 in the other. Dell was searched and $25 was found. He had lost, together with his ticket book, was discovered in between his under-drawers, and his sock. Inspector Gregory allowed Matthews to go and head Dell.

POPE WILL NOT LIVE LONG.

Will Never Hold a Consistory, Says U. S. Archbishop.

New York, Sept. 4.—Archbishop John J. Keane of Dubuque, Ia., who has just returned from France, today said:

"Pope Pius was practically forced on the papal throne. He did not wish to take the responsibility. He will not live long. He does not want to. In my opinion he will never hold a consistory, and the outlook for the creation of an American cardinal is not encouraging."

"The Pope, a few days after his elevation, declared that he would never hold a consistory, and that he did not wish to have a long pontificate. I believe his wishes will be fulfilled."

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

TWO ARBITRATORS NAMED CAN'T AGREE ON THE THIRD

William Warren, South African Veteran, Given Send-Off by Fellow Church Workers.

Hamilton, Sept. 4.—(Special.)—William Bell and Adam Studholme, the arbitrators chosen by the Street Railway Company and the men, have not yet been able to select a third arbitrator. They had a session today, but were unable to agree. They will make another effort Wednesday to make a choice. Many names have been submitted to them by the men and the company.

Thomas Roberts, 104 West Jackson-street, an aged man, who wandered away from his home yesterday to the great anxiety of his family, was found today on the Stone-road, near Dundas.

This afternoon the firemen were called to Hugh Hayes' tailor shop, 344 King-street, by a fire among some rags and paper. Little damage was done. One of the horses attached to the steam fire engine fell at the corner of King and James-streets while responding to the alarm and caused some excitement for a few minutes.

William Warren, a South African veteran, who will leave in a few days with his wife for the west, was given a send-off this evening by the Sherman-avenue Presbyterians, among whom he acted as Sunday school superintendent. He was presented with an address and a purse.

Street Names Changed. This morning Judge Snider approved of the following changes in street names: Little William to Birge-street, Mountain-avenue in East Hamilton to Poplar-avenue, Hannan to Charlton-avenue, Cline-street to Wright-avenue, Hamilton-avenue to Biggar-avenue, Ellen to Windsor-street, Ida-street to DeLaware-avenue, Arkland to Mountwood-avenue, Tiarah-street to Glenferne-avenue, and several other minor changes.

Owing to the trouble about the filtering basin, the aldermen say that either City Engineer Barrow or Jas. McFarlane, engineer of the beach pumping house, will be dismissed. A coal barge that tried to land at the city dock this morning was unable to do so, as it is probably necessary to spend a considerable sum on dredging before the property will be of much use.

R. H. Foster, the new secretary-treasurer of the board of education, commenced his duties this morning. The Hamilton Health Association is talking of building a hospital for the care of incurable cases of consumption.

Freight Train Wrecked. A. T. H. & B. freight train was wrecked at Grassie Station early this morning. No one was hurt, but seven cars were badly smashed. The engagement of W. E. Orton, Hamilton, and Miss Laura Howell, is announced.

The revenue collected from the liquor trade in Hamilton in fees, transfer fees, and fines during the first four months of the license year amounts to $31,650.

PRESIDENT SAYS CASHIER TEMPTED HIM TO HIS DOOM

Never Intended to Steal, But Yielded to Suggestion and Couldn't Recover.

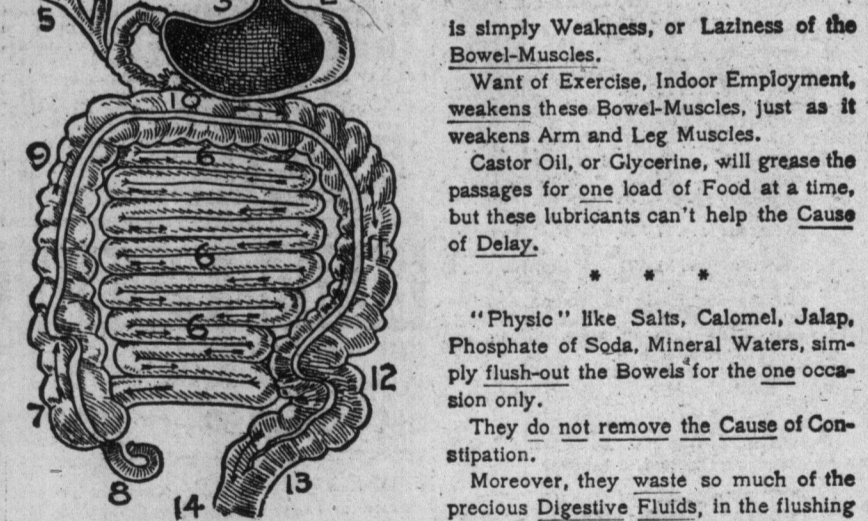

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A cable despatch from Tangier says: Paul Stensland's confession, made to Assistant States Attorney Olsen, cleared up much of the mystery surrounding the events leading up to the crash which involved the ruin of the Milwaukee-avenue Bank. He took much of the blame upon himself, but declared that Hering got most of the money. He denied that he had ever spent any money on women, and declared that he never spent more than $2000 a year on himself. All the money he stole he put into real estate or investments in the hope of "making good."

MODEL TOBACCO FARM.

A New Feature at This Year's National Exhibition.

A pleasing innovation at the National Exhibition in Toronto this year is the Model Tobacco Farm. It is on a large enough scale to give an accurate idea of the methods whereby the grower of tobacco can get the best value out of his crop. The tobacco is first shown in full growth, planted in rows at certain distances. Next the harvesting of the crop is shown. The process of drying is also demonstrated, the tobacco being hung from hooks in the roof of a dry-house. The next stage is the curing of the tobacco, and from this the spectator passes on to the packing of the seasoned crop. The study and improvement of tobacco growing and curing is of vital interest to the Ontario farmer, for it is in this province that the best results in tobacco culture have been achieved. The counties of Essex and Kent have become famous for the excellence of their tobacco leaf, and it is stated that farmers there are raising crops which bring in from five to ten thousand dollars annually. The general public is also interested in knowing something about the nature of the tobacco which they smoke or chew, and the different processes to which it is subjected. In quality and quantity, tobacco culture has during the last few years, made great strides in the Province of Ontario. Progress in this direction has been so remarkable in any other line of Canada's agricultural and industrial development.

Your Thirty Feet of Bowels

YOU have thirty feet of Intestinal What makes food travel through them? A set of Muscles that line the walls of these Intestines or Bowels. When a piece of Food rubs the walls of the Intestines these Muscles tighten behind it, and thus it starts a Muscle-wave which drives it through the whole length of the Bowels. It should take about 12 hours to do this properly, so that nutritious parts of the food may have time to be digested and absorbed. But—if it takes twice or three times that period the food spoils in passing, and becomes as poisonous as if it had decayed before being eaten. Now, the cause of delay (Constipation)

CONCERNING THE BEAUTIFUL CONTRACTOR Suing CITY ON A 20-YEAR OLD CLAIM

The Aim of the Toronto Exhibition is a Very High One.

The appreciation of beautiful things is one of the strongest of human passions. Too often, however, beauty is sought in wrong directions. It is the duty of the artist whose taste is high to set before the people examples of true art and thus to develop the public appreciation until it approximates to the truly artistic. That this has been the aim of the Toronto Exhibition no one can deny. The procuring of pictures by great painters, and the importation of high-class paintings from all countries, are examples of this. Moreover, this spirit seems to have extended in great measure to some of the exhibitors. For instance, the firm of the Marle Antoinette Goulay piano, which is showing in the manufacturers' building, a model home, which is a complete and beautiful bedroom, a drawing-room, a dining-room, a hall and a kitchen. Naturally, the drawing-room attracts the most attention. It is decorated in the Marle Antoinette design, with rose pink as the color scheme, and the furnishings are magnificent. The piano, which is built in Toronto, and it is a splendid example of the height to which Canadian industry has attained. Its curves are very graceful, the inlaying on the case delicate, and the rich painting on the music desk exceptionally beautiful. Best of all, the tone of the instrument is fully as rich and beautiful as is the case. It was the happiest of happy thoughts to place a Goulay piano in the corner of the model drawing-room. This Marle Antoinette piano was selected by Mr. J. J. McDonald of the McDonald Music Co., Halifax, for exhibit at the coming Halifax Fair.

VIGOROUS AT 81.

Squire Nott of Port Perry feels Only Half His Age. Squire Nott of Port Perry was in the city yesterday and called on the World. He is the most vigorous man of 81 the World ever saw. He looks, moves and talks like a man of 40, and a mighty brisk man at that. He glories in the fact that he is the oldest ex. an. e. ann. of a justice of the peace appointed by a Liberal government, and released by Premier Whitney. His release, The World is informed by the squire, was due rather to the fact that the re. g. n. zation of the Ont. is County magis. a y did not take place than to his fact that he had incurred the animosity of the stalwarts of the party. The World understands that there is a movement on foot to make Squire Nott the honorary magistrate of all justices of the peace in Ontario, and The World hopes the rumor is founded on fact, for Squire Nott is a merry gentleman.

Our Friend From Cannington Interviews a Merchant Prince

Mr. Philip Jamieson is always glad to meet a newspaper man. Meeting him, you think he is always glad to spend anyone. You would like to spend an evening with him and know you would enjoy yourself. You enjoy yourself even in a few minutes' conversation. But it surprises you rather when he tells you he is Scotch—no German. The accent of the voice seems to belong to that nationality. About the race, except that it is fair, there is a foreign cast. The hair is bullet-like, very dark and at the top—on a line with the cheekbones. The ears lie so close you scarcely notice them. The mouth purses rather toward the nose, which droops to meet it. And a red mustache, twisted up at the ends in a cavalier manner, hides an upper lip that looks like the good things of life. The bulging blue eyes also accentuate the same meaning. Philip Jamieson had lived in mediaeval times you could imagine a roaring, ripping soldier, who would just as soon sack a city as a sword thru you for the fun of it as kiss a woman. He would have drunk the best wine and bluffed life till it hadn't a leg to stand on. Then it was suggested to me that he would have none himself. He would have bewled a chanson to the merriest dare-devil that ever laughed in the face of Paris. He would have loved many and regretted none. Yet when some master of fence had at last run a sword thru him they would remember him long as the gallant, debonair comrade of much heart and principle beneath a reckless exterior. He would drift back to them sometimes in the reminiscence of camp fires, and like the sparks, his name would be remembered in the hearts of the gallant, debonair comrade of much heart and principle beneath a reckless exterior. And that would have been memory and tombstone for Philip Jamieson. He would have craved no more. He would have been a materialist, not sensitive, but with the strong appetite to catch the redder gleams of emotional things. He would have been a happy, having the joy of being would have appealed to him. Tuned to that key, his life would have run like the call on a single note, and he would have been strong, masculine and fundamentally essential. It is because of his joy of having, his material instinct, that Philip Jamieson has adapted himself so successfully to this age—that he is a merchant prince of the Toronto Exhibition street, and pays more taxes than any other single man in Toronto. This is the age when what men want most is wealth, commercial success; consequently, Philip Jamieson wanted it and has it. Indeed, it is almost impossible to conceive him not having anything he Old books to read. Old papers to drink. Old hopes that plead. Old thoughts to think. Billee Glynn.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

"I feel so thankful at the restored health of my daughter that if any use can be made of this I shall be pleased." This is what Mr. George Weels, of Flora, Ont., says in giving his testimony to the wonderful curative qualities of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. Mr. Weels' daughter was a great sufferer from heart disease and nervousness. She was unable to lie on her left side. She ran down in health and her recovery was a source of anxiety. Induced by friends, who had proved its worth, she obtained Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart and before one bottle had been taken was able to lie in any position she desired, and when two bottles had been taken, an absolute cure was pronounced. Yes, this great remedy is a cure for all ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, and the instantaneous relief given by it has matched thousands from death's jaws. Don't trifle a minute if you have the slightest evidence of heart disorders, such as palpitation, fluttering or uneasiness. This remedy will relieve such troubles immediately and will cure the stomach and nerves. "When I know a thing is worthy of a recommendation I consider it my duty to tell of it." The Rev. James Murdoch, of Harrisburg, Pa., says this after having been cured of a very malignant form of catarrh by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powders. What he can say of his healing powers thousands of others have said and can say of it. Don't neglect "only a little cold" in the head. It may lead to chronic catarrh. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder relieves in 10 minutes and is easily applied. Keep it near you if you are a "cold in the head" subject. Wm. Evans and W. G. McKendrick succeeded H. C. Hocken and R. A. A FRIEND'S ADVICE

"I feel so thankful at the restored health of my daughter that if any use can be made of this I shall be pleased." This is what Mr. George Weels, of Flora, Ont., says in giving his testimony to the wonderful curative qualities of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. Mr. Weels' daughter was a great sufferer from heart disease and nervousness. She was unable to lie on her left side. She ran down in health and her recovery was a source of anxiety. Induced by friends, who had proved its worth, she obtained Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart and before one bottle had been taken was able to lie in any position she desired, and when two bottles had been taken, an absolute cure was pronounced. Yes, this great remedy is a cure for all ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, and the instantaneous relief given by it has matched thousands from death's jaws. Don't trifle a minute if you have the slightest evidence of heart disorders, such as palpitation, fluttering or uneasiness. This remedy will relieve such troubles immediately and will cure the stomach and nerves. "When I know a thing is worthy of a recommendation I consider it my duty to tell of it." The Rev. James Murdoch, of Harrisburg, Pa., says this after having been cured of a very malignant form of catarrh by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powders. What he can say of his healing powers thousands of others have said and can say of it. Don't neglect "only a little cold" in the head. It may lead to chronic catarrh. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder relieves in 10 minutes and is easily applied. Keep it near you if you are a "cold in the head" subject. Wm. Evans and W. G. McKendrick succeeded H. C. Hocken and R. A. Lack of blood is indicated by paleness of the lips, gums and eyelids, and is usually accompanied by weakness, tired feelings, indigestion and low spirits. Anemia is generally very difficult to overcome, but you can be certain that every dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is doing you at least some good, because of its blood-forming qualities, and that persistent treatment will be rewarded by thorough cure.

WHITBY HONORS Continued From Page 1. Richardson, Rev. Dr. D. O. Crossley, pastor of the Whitby Tabernacle, Andrew M. Ross, ex-mayor. Whitby business match, Mayor Lawler called the family gathering to the hero of the hour. The Address. To Hamar Greenwood, Esquire, M.P. for York, in the British House of Commons. Sir—The mayor and council, board of education, board of trade, resident county officials and the citizens of the town of Whitby cordially unite in extending to you an enthusiastic welcome on this occasion of your return to the place of your birth. Not only your old friends and fellow citizens of Whitby, but Canadians generally, have followed with increasing interest your career since you returned to England with a view to become a member of that ancient and eminent body, the English bar, and of entering the ranks of the noble profession. To many the task you had set yourself, unaided as you were by wealth, aristocracy or connections, by relying to rely solely upon your own powers, seemed a herculean one. That you have so rapidly come to the front and have risen to the prominent position of senior member for the important constituency of York in the House of Commons, is a fact which seems more like romance than reality and affords convincing proof that you are possessed, not only of marked ability, but also in an eminent degree, of that eager spirit, resolute purpose and untiring energy, which are characteristic of those men who achieve success in public life. We warmly congratulate you, sir, on your well-earned honors, and believe that in thus gaining distinction for yourself, you have brought high honor to your native town, outshining every fellow citizen of Whitby and to the schools in which you were trained, and have given to the world a splendid demonstration of the high quality of Canadian manhood. We realize that in climbing up to the proud position you now occupy, you must have encountered many trials and difficulties, but we believe that the arduous efforts you have had to put forth in overcoming them have shown that you are cast in heroic mould and have served to develop those sterling qualities which are necessary to the successful career of a statesman. We are so proud to-day. Your career we have a splendid fulfillment of the noble aspiration motto of the Whitby Collegiate Institute per aspera ad alta, and a demonstration of the truth of the saying: "Tis in battling towards the summit life achieves its best endeavor." It is also a source of pride to you are one of that numerically small, but able and influential body of members in the imperial parliament drawn from the colonies, and who are so closely associated with the under secretary of state for the colonies, who realize the importance of the national opportunities of serving the interests of Canada, and that you will be able to show that the sympathies, hopes and aspirations of the people of Canada are one with those of the mother land, and that Canada is ever ready to stand by the side of the furthering whatever measures may be undertaken for the unity and consolidation of the British empire, and the promotion of its interests. We have noted with pleasure that the first occasion on which you raised your voice in the House of Commons was in an endeavor to serve the interest of Canadian agriculturists by securing the removal of the embargo upon their cattle. In conclusion, we wish you a happy home-coming, a pleasant renewal of old friendships and a successful future. We trust that, as you look back on former days, you still may feel: "A distant dearness in the hill, A secret sweetest in the stream, The limit of your narrower world, Our future career with confident expectation." We wish you to still higher eminence in the councils of the empire, and we even indulge the dream that with such an auspicious beginning, you are destined to "Clutch the golden keys, To mould a mighty state's decrees, And shape the whisper of the throne." We are confident, however, that no success will be yours, but never batons from the good old county town of Whitby, the place of your birth which, though you have left it, has sent forth to the world many brilliant sons and daughters who have taken foremost places in professional, scientific and literary careers. Dated and signed at Whitby, the 4th day of September, 1906. W. F. Maclean, Mayor; J. E. Farewell, chairman, board of education; Chas. King, president, board of trade; John Hall How, A. M. Ross, on behalf of committee.

ment under Col. O'Donovan, whom he saw beside him. He likened his career to jumping over picket fences and would not urge anyone to emulate his example. He had found in his home life and in his school life in Whitby his chiefest inspiration. His only regret was that his mother had made his maiden speech in the house of commons a picture of dear old Whitby, and read the following address to the hero of the hour. The Address. W. F. Maclean, M.P. spoke as a friend of Hamar Greenwood of many years' standing. He had watched his career with interest and admiration. He only regretted that his mother had made his maiden speech in the house of commons a picture of dear old Whitby, and read the following address to the hero of the hour. The Address. To Hamar Greenwood, Esquire, M.P. for York, in the British House of Commons. Sir—The mayor and council, board of education, board of trade, resident county officials and the citizens of the town of Whitby cordially unite in extending to you an enthusiastic welcome on this occasion of your return to the place of your birth. Not only your old friends and fellow citizens of Whitby, but Canadians generally, have followed with increasing interest your career since you returned to England with a view to become a member of that ancient and eminent body, the English bar, and of entering the ranks of the noble profession. To many the task you had set yourself, unaided as you were by wealth, aristocracy or connections, by relying to rely solely upon your own powers, seemed a herculean one. That you have so rapidly come to the front and have risen to the prominent position of senior member for the important constituency of York in the House of Commons, is a fact which seems more like romance than reality and affords convincing proof that you are possessed, not only of marked ability, but also in an eminent degree, of that eager spirit, resolute purpose and untiring energy, which are characteristic of those men who achieve success in public life. We warmly congratulate you, sir, on your well-earned honors, and believe that in thus gaining distinction for yourself, you have brought high honor to your native town, outshining every fellow citizen of Whitby and to the schools in which you were trained, and have given to the world a splendid demonstration of the high quality of Canadian manhood. We realize that in climbing up to the proud position you now occupy, you must have encountered many trials and difficulties, but we believe that the arduous efforts you have had to put forth in overcoming them have shown that you are cast in heroic mould and have served to develop those sterling qualities which are necessary to the successful career of a statesman. We are so proud to-day. Your career we have a splendid fulfillment of the noble aspiration motto of the Whitby Collegiate Institute per aspera ad alta, and a demonstration of the truth of the saying: "Tis in battling towards the summit life achieves its best endeavor." It is also a source of pride to you are one of that numerically small, but able and influential body of members in the imperial parliament drawn from the colonies, and who are so closely associated with the under secretary of state for the colonies, who realize the importance of the national opportunities of serving the interests of Canada, and that you will be able to show that the sympathies, hopes and aspirations of the people of Canada are one with those of the mother land, and that Canada is ever ready to stand by the side of the furthering whatever measures may be undertaken for the unity and consolidation of the British empire, and the promotion of its interests. We have noted with pleasure that the first occasion on which you raised your voice in the House of Commons was in an endeavor to serve the interest of Canadian agriculturists by securing the removal of the embargo upon their cattle. In conclusion, we wish you a happy home-coming, a pleasant renewal of old friendships and a successful future. We trust that, as you look back on former days, you still may feel: "A distant dearness in the hill, A secret sweetest in the stream, The limit of your narrower world, Our future career with confident expectation." We wish you to still higher eminence in the councils of the empire, and we even indulge the dream that with such an auspicious beginning, you are destined to "Clutch the golden keys, To mould a mighty state's decrees, And shape the whisper of the throne." We are confident, however, that no success will be yours, but never batons from the good old county town of Whitby, the place of your birth which, though you have left it, has sent forth to the world many brilliant sons and daughters who have taken foremost places in professional, scientific and literary careers. Dated and signed at Whitby, the 4th day of September, 1906. W. F. Maclean, Mayor; J. E. Farewell, chairman, board of education; Chas. King, president, board of trade; John Hall How, A. M. USE THE BIG STICK.

It is all very well for The Globe to juggle with the question, as it has in its statement yesterday, but The Globe must know that the street railway has been delinquent for fifteen years, and intends to be delinquent again, if it possibly can, for the next fifteen years, and if it has violated its agreement, as all men know, then the city is entitled to relief on that score, and the only relief is the right of expropriation.

But there are a hundred ways in which the city can acquire the Toronto railway, and the easiest of all the ways is the one that The World has repeatedly suggested, namely, that the City of Toronto ought to be authorized at the coming session—and The World will try and see that it is authorized—to purchase street railway stock at any time it sees fit. If anyone else can purchase street railway stock, why should not the City of Toronto? and we believe that if the City of Toronto were so empowered it could go on the market to buy up the stock of the Toronto railway at about 100 cents per share, and if it could do this we think it would be a splendid investment, and the road would come into our hands at once.

If on the principle of public ownership the province can expropriate the power companies here and make them customers of the province's power scheme.

The Globe's only answer to The World is to call The World the wandering Jew of public ownership and forthwith proceed to quote Scripture. The Globe is long on Scripture and tolerably short on advocating public ownership in the specific case. It is just possible that The Globe's antagonism towards expropriation of the street railway franchise has its source in the fact that its reading of Scripture affords it no precedent. The World takes second place to no one in its deference to Scripture authority, but we are happy to believe that The Globe is not that authority, nor is the editor of The Globe the only man filled with the odor of sanctity.

"Keep faith with the faithless," is The Globe's moral mandate, ignoring the fact that when the faith is broken there is no faith to be kept. Toronto has been smitten in the right cheek and on the left, and on the head and on the feet, many a time and oft by the faithful Toronto Street Railway. Yet The Globe implores citizens to keep faith and temper. How long must we endure all this? Must we sweat till the proud heart of Toronto breaks? The Globe says we must and takes a position that wouldn't last two minutes in a compact between two business men.

Keep faith with the faithless? Rot. Make the faithless keep faith with the faithful. Bring the Street Railway Company to time.

THE ONLY WAY. The Ontario government never had a better chance than at present to do something substantial for suffering humanity, and do Dr. Crichton a good turn at the same time. The doctor seems to have been thrown overboard by his brethren of the medical profession in Ontario. Why? Because he ventured to violate a dusty tradition, and gave to the public a medicine which scores of people have publicly testified is useful in the case of certain ailments. If the remedy is as good as these people and Dr. Crichton claim, would it not be a good thing for the government to investigate it? If the claims are borne out, would not the government become a great public benefactor by spreading this knowledge as widely as possible? Especially does this seem to be the duty of the government as the medical council (the greatest of all monopolies) is the creature of their power. If the government permits the most arbitrary powers, surely the government should step in when these powers exceed all reasonable bounds. As Dr. Crichton very truly states if he had gone to some medical society and read a paper on the subject of his discovery before making it public property, as the doctors seem to think he should have done, the discovery would probably have been laughed at for fifty or one hundred years. That, says the doctor, is what happened to the stethoscope, discovered by Dr. Forbes, who read a paper on the subject before the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society of London, England.

When one is conversant with the nature of medical traditions, and their rigid hostility to any departure from such standards, the only conclusion comes to is that Dr. Crichton took the only course he could in giving his remedy direct to the public.

STATE CONCILIATION IN LABOR DISPUTES. In an official report recently issued by the British board of trade, some interesting particulars are given regarding the settlement of labor troubles in France and Germany. The methods adopted run largely on the lines of conciliation and arbitration, and seem to have attained a considerable measure of success. By German law, industrial courts must be formed in all towns with a population exceeding 20,000, and in other places in the option of the government or on the requisition of a certain number, either of employers or workmen. Each of these courts contains an equal number of representatives of both classes, elected by separate vote.

The industrial courts of Germany act primarily as courts of summary jurisdiction for the settlement of individual claims arising out of labor contracts, where the amount in dispute does not exceed $25. In addition, they also act as committees of reference, and, as such, they prepare "opinions" upon any technical questions referred to them by the appropriate authorities, and finally they act as formal boards of conciliation and arbitration in collective disputes, where an actual or impending strike or lockout is involved.

In this latter capacity the court acts on the application of either party, but may also intervene on its own initiative. Where one side only moves in that direction, the board endeavors to induce the other to concur in the application. If the attempt fails the court considers the questions at issue on its own motion, and embodies its conclusions as to the terms it considers fair in a decision, which must be accepted or rejected within a certain time. In either case, the decision is duly published. At the end of 1905 there were 41 industrial courts in Germany, and, acting as conciliatory boards, they succeeded in settling 51 per cent. of the disputes referred to them during the preceding five years.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP IN BRITAIN.

As the members of the committee of the National Civic Federation, who have been investigating the position of municipal ownership and operation in Europe, return to the United States, they will no doubt come to hand differing in accordance with the predispositions and prejudices of the individuals who composed it. But it is a remarkable fact that so far as these reports have been disclosed or indicated the preponderance of independent opinion is distinctly on the side of municipal ownership. Indeed, it could not well be otherwise, since even its strongest opponents are compelled to admit the success attending many of its undertakings in the principal cities of Great Britain. This is especially true in connection with the provision of water, gas and electric lighting and street transportation, all fields specially adapted for municipal enterprise.

Among those who have given out a preliminary statement of the view they have formed is Prof. Frank Parsons, a well-known writer on economic questions in Boston and president of the Municipal Ownership League of that city. Speaking after his return, he declared municipal ownership in Europe to be a great success. "Especially," he said, "is this so in Great Britain—particularly with reference to the tramways, and the municipal lighting plants." Indeed, in regard to these no better criterion of success could be adduced than the determination shown by the residents in British cities to preserve their civic monopolies from private exploitation. All of them have had experience of private corporation methods, and the all but invariable history of the relations between municipalities and franchise-holding companies has been in all respects similar to those with which the people of this continent are everywhere familiar.

An unending contest has prevailed between the interests of the public and the interest of the corporations whose constant failure to act up to their agreements and to meet the public need has inevitably led to the adoption of public ownership as the only satisfactory alternative.

Discussing the reason for the remarkable success attending municipal street transportation and lighting, Prof. Parsons thought it was due to "the high civic spirit of business men and wealthy men which leads them to take an active part in the conduct of municipal affairs and to take seats in the councils and boards of management of the various municipal enterprises. 'The same men,' he is reported to have said, 'will be found in the council and on these boards year after year, giving freely of their time and experience and getting no compensation, save that which their pride receives in seeing the fruits of their work. The purity and efficiency of the boards conducting the municipal enterprises in Great Britain is remarkable—really monumental.'

"Men," he added, "after they have got moderate fortunes, retire from business, and their chief ambition is to win social eminence thru the faithful performance of social services." This is no doubt true, but it is no less true that the city and town councils of Britain contain many members—probably a large majority—who continue their private business while doing public service. As has been pointed out by other observers, the members of the British city councils are not commonly drawn from the ranks of the leisured, but are composed chiefly of men following ordinary professions and avocations. As a rule, they are successful in business, but they are not so engrossed in it as to refuse obedience to the call of civic duty. There is no reason why that class should be absent from the cities of this continent, and one, and not the least, of the advantages of municipal ownership of public utilities is that it tends to bring them into public life. Signs are not wanting that a growing inclination exists in Canada on the part of good business men to take up their share of the administrative burden. It is a tendency which should be encouraged, and the surest way to do this is to enlarge the bounds of civic duty and responsibility.

THE KEEPING OF FAITH.

The Globe, Sept. 4: A question of morality is raised by The World when it urges The Globe as an evidence of good faith to join a campaign for the expropriation of the Toronto Railway. In effect The World says that, if the officers of the Toronto street railway break the agreement, and then, take back the road before the period set by the agreement expires, then the gentlemen of The World have forgotten that one of the Psalmist's definitions of the righteous man is one "that sweareth to his own hurt and changeth not." There would be excuse everywhere for many a crime against the weak if, green-eyed and under a definite period could be broken at the whim of one of the parties.

The people of Toronto have sold the right to operate cars on the streets for thirty years. Half of the period is still to come. The company is one of the most aggressive in Canada, and it requires all the energy of the municipal authorities to force it to give the service called for. The fifteen years allowed it may be frankly conceded will be just as fruitful in disputes as those that are past. But they will not be without value to the people of Toronto if during that period there is found in the very being of the citizens the need for the public operation of the street railway as the only effective remedy for the evils of monopoly.

The trouble about The World in its public ownership crusade is that it is too swift for the crowd. It never gives the people a chance to catch up. From telephones to trolleys, it jumps day by day, a very wandering Jew of journalism. The things that grow slowly are the best things either of the mind or of the matter. Toronto is going to be here a long while after we are all dead. If, during those fifteen years hence secure operation of the street railway, it will be far better than going into the project now with the very doubtful force of half-baked public opinion behind it. During those fifteen years perhaps we may be able to acquire the habit of electing mayors and councilmen who will elect us into their work for the citizens that Mr. Fleming puts into his work for the Street Railway Company.

DOMINION AND COMMONWEALTH.

New York Tribune. Comparison of the two great colonial republics of the British Empire was suggested by the treasurer of the Australian Commonwealth in a recent budget speech. It is a subject which may be treated with much interest by the student of statistics and the growth of nations, and doubtless will much profit by the practical businessmen of the empire. In size and some other respects the two countries are not unevenly matched, while in situation and environment they are strikingly contrasted, one being remotely isolated from the United Kingdom and from all important countries, while the other is comparatively near Great Britain and Continental Europe, and directly abuts upon the United States.

In point of age there is not the real difference which history might suggest, for while Canada has belonged to the Crown since 1763, its modern development dates from only about the middle of the last century, about the same time as that of Australia. In size the Dominion has a nominal superiority of 3,745,514 square miles, against 2,972,827 in Australia. It is to be noted that arctic conditions make much more of the Dominion uninhabitable than torrid conditions do of the Commonwealth. In population, the land areas available for habitation and cultivation are more nearly equal than the figures would indicate. Canada is considerably ahead, with nearly 6,000,000, against Australia's 4,000,000. But the latter has been growing much the more rapidly. In 1841 Canada had 1,583,500, and Australia only 130,628. The outlook is, therefore, that the Commonwealth will, within the next generation, be at least as populous as the Dominion.

They are both agricultural and mining countries, and in both those industries the smaller outstrips the larger. Even in wheat, upon which the Dominion especially prides itself, and with reason, there is little difference, Canada producing 68,000,000 and Australia 56,000,000 bushels in total agricultural exports (excluding animals and their products) the two are just even, with $29,000,000 each. But as animals and minerals are included, Australia has an enormous preponderance over Canada, of $198,000,000 to only $62,000,000. In mineral products Australia is far ahead, with more than 100 times as much as Canada. The total revenue of the Dominion in 1905 was $71,182,773, and of Australia $57,000,000.

A part of the comparison which is of peculiar interest to Great Britain has to do with the extent of commerce with the United Kingdom. The Dominion, and the Commonwealth is of far more value to the home country than is the Dominion, despite the fact that the latter's preference tariff system. Thus, while Canada imported only $60,000,000 worth from Great Britain and $162,000,000 from the United States, Australia purchased $115,300,000 worth from Great Britain and only $23,000,000 from America. At the same time Canada sent $100,000,000 worth to Great Britain and only $77,000,000 to the United States, while Australia sent $138,000,000 to the United Kingdom and the piano itself. Thus, while Canada's total trade with Great Britain, at a distance of 2700 miles, is only $162,000,000, with a balance of $49,300,000 against Great Britain, that of Australia, at a distance of 11,000 miles, is no less than $350,000,000, with a balance against Great Britain of only $15,700,000.

The growth of both these great countries must be a source of profound gratification to British statesmen, especially since that growth has been so largely and distinctly of British origin. The history of the world has never presented a more impressive and instructive spectacle in colonial development than this, nor one more fruitful of suggestion and instruction to the student of those political social problems which pertain to the advancement of civilization.

SPECIAL FARMING & LIVESTOCK EXHIBITION

FAIR SEASON IS ON. The time for the country fairs has arrived, and indications are that the general attendance will be larger than ever.

THE FARMER AND THE TARIFF. It has been frequently claimed that the Canadian farmer does not get any benefit from the tariff; that all that is required of him is to sell his products in competition with outsiders...

MARKET REVIEW. Receipts of cattle at the city and Junction yards have been light for the past week.

Trade in feeders and stockers is dull with prices easy. A few sales were quoted at $3.40 to $3.60 per cwt.

Sheep and lambs have been coming forward more freely and prices are a little easier, both for exporters and lambs.

Drowned During Squall. Holyoke, Mass., Sept. 4.—The discovery in the Connecticut River to-day of a capsized canoe led to the rescue here of Paul Farnsworth, 17 years of age, and Robert H. Baldwin, 18 years of age, both of this city, were drowned yesterday during a squall.

Protect Against Tariff. Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Canadian exporters are protesting vigorously to the Canadian customs department against the proposed new Australian tariff under which discriminatory duties will be levied on Canadian goods.

TORONTO HORSE MARKET BUSINESS BRIGHTENING

Private transactions have not been numerous the past week despite the fact that the fair has been on. A few sales, however, are reported. Graham Bros., Claremont, for instance, have sold three of their imported Cleydale stallions, two to go to Michigan and one to the west.

The following is Bump & Sheppard's weekly report of prevailing prices: Single roadsters, 15 to 16 hands, $15 to $18; single colts and carriage horses, 15 to 16.1 hands, $15 to $17; matched pairs and carriage horses, 15 to 16.1 hands, $15 to $18; general purpose and express horses, 1200 to 1300 lbs., $10 to $12; draft horses, 1300 to 1700 lbs., $10 to $12; servicable second-hand drivers, $75 to $90; servicable second-hand drivers, $80 to $100.

During the past week and up to the present time the Canadian Horse Exchange has been visited by many of the expert judges of the classes required for this market at this season of the year.

Several offers have been received by H. C. Beck for the Shires sent over to the King and Lord Rothschild, but no deal has been put thru, and may not be until after the exhibition tour is over.

There is a revival, according to an English authority, in the demand for stud book horses of the Shire breed in North America, and the rapid development of Argentina is creating a similar demand for heavy town horses.

Charles Marvin is to retire permanently from the trotting turf. He is in poor health and has returned from Cleveland where he went to rail against the Ontario racing commission.

2.08 1-4, and Palo Alto his record of 2.08 3-4 in 1891, and drove Arion as a 2-year-old in 2:10 3-4 in the same year.

Chicago advices state: "The market for the week was featured by a brilliant summer closing and an auspicious opening of the fall trade. Liberal orders from the north cleared smoothly, light chunks at $60 to $125, the increased demand being broader than the supply, forcing several operators to raise their bids until next week to fill out their shipments.

Wearing is at all times a rather serious episode in the life of a foal, and every care should be taken both before and after the event to ensure so far as possible the youngsters coming well thru the ordeal.

Harry Murby, who is one of the largest, if not the largest commission dealer in stockers and feeders, doing business on the Toronto and Junction markets, Mr. Murby was on the market yesterday after a six weeks' trip to Muskoka and Cobalt looking good and brown, and is now ready for work.

In fact, from early morning until the evening the stables have been thronged with inspectors of the premises and becoming acquainted with this much-talked-of horse mart.

Grey branch condemning the swelling of the indemnity. Captain Smith took decidedly the wrong tack when he suggested, the milder course of passing a resolution approving the wiping out of the pensioners.

If a man stole two sheep and a lamb from me, and then returned the lamb, I don't think he is to be commended, I should be disappointed, and I don't think he is to be commended, I should be disappointed, and I don't think he is to be commended, I should be disappointed.

Discrimination by the Dominion Government in favor of the manufacturer against the farmer was charged by speakers, dealing with the tariff, which was declared to be unduly high for protective purposes.

That's to keep him quiet," was suggested. "Love your enemies" quoted another wagish delegate, amid laughter.

valent as to fail to excite attention.

Methods were now being boldly and successfully followed by individuals and corporations that would a few years ago have summarily ended in imprisonment, said Mr. Sloan.

The Ottawa salary grab was roundly denounced. It was high time that the farmers were sitting up and taking notice of the course followed by their representatives, the legislature, the cabinet and the administration of public affairs.

The government's Education Act was criticized for making rural school trustees, under given conditions, liable to suspension of teachers who accepted less. This was arbitrary, "suitable" for most conditions in Russia.

Mr. Wilson's opinion was that the Ontario Education Act, as suggested by the president, Officers will be elected, and at 4 p. m. the delegates will wait upon the Ontario Education Act, as suggested by the president.

B.H. BULL & SON'S BRAMPTON JERSEYS GREAT SUCCESS.

The reputation of the Canadian National Exhibition as the greatest annual Jersey show in America, was more than sustained this year. Mr. C. C. Mather, of Maitland, Mo., who had charge of the great Jersey exhibition at the St. Louis World's Fair, distributed the awards to the satisfaction of both exhibitors and onlookers.

The uniformity of type throughout Messrs. Bull & Son's animals, and showed the effect of a quarter of a century's careful and skilful breeding, selecting and importing, was the result of Mr. Graves' art, judging, to remark that he had never seen the Brampton exhibit equaled excepting in the United States, by Mr. Thomas W. Lawson at St. Louis.

After incorporation witness was given $100 per month salary and $5 per share commission on all subscriptions. This lasted until March 21, 1906, when he was given a five years' contract. Besides stock a year's stock in the Monarch Life Insurance Co. was issued at $1 per $1000 net insurance obtained.

Witness held 2000 shares of stock. He paid up $10,000; $6000 for stock and $4000 for premium. He owes nearly $11,000 for premiums on 600 shares. The first month's premiums were handed over for the copyrights.

Wanted for other people, Mr. Ostrom intimated that he did not want these ready-made ones; he wished the signs or to know what he was doing.

At the afternoon session Mr. Tilley went into the permanent copyrights. These were at Ottawa and stood in Mr. Ostrom's name. The agreement of March 9, 1906, was referred to. "What has been done to put the copyrights in the hands of the company?" asked Mr. Tilley. "Everything," answered witness. "The company are using those policies to-day."

Mr. Tilley wanted to know the value of these copyrights and witness explained that value could not be put on them. The first month's premiums of the Monarch Life Insurance Co. amounted to $180,000, at a cost of 50 per cent. The issue of the $100,000 of stock referred to in the morning was gone into in detail. This item was put back on the books about April 12.

Some of the stock certificates were produced by witness and examined. Witness said that he had left many certificates in the vault at the C.P.R. Hotel in Winnipeg. Mr. Tilley asked if they were signed by President Gordon. Witness answered in the negative. "Council spent over an hour reading the reports of directors' meetings, revealing the fact that the shareholders and directors were ignorant of the way witness had obtained the transfers. At a meeting of the directors in Winnipeg President Gordon stated that not a share of stock had been given witness, who admitted that he sat thru the meeting and did not contribute. He signed President Gordon 50 shares (presumably for a man named Denham) and several signed by Vice-President Graham, and four which the president had signed and cancelled, were in his pocket.

Witness had nothing to say about these transactions. He would not say that Mr. Gordon's statements were incorrect. More evidence will be taken to-morrow on the transfer stunt. Mr. Tilley took up the Journal and notebook. Pages were stripped for no reason whatever, which led Commissioner Kent to remark that the bookkeeper was a terrible shabby, and that he wished the auditors to be placed on the stand. Before adjournment the fact that directors and witness had given notes to the company and when the interest came due it was cancelled. Witness could not explain why this was done. The examination will be continued to-morrow.

60 LOADS AT CITY MARKET

Trade firm for the best. Easy for Lower Grades of Cattle—Sheep and Lambs Lower—Hogs Steady.

Receipts of live stock at the city cattle market since last Friday, as reported by the railway, were 90 car loads, composed of 758 cattle, 370 hogs, 1003 sheep and lambs, with 108 calves.

There were few choice, well finished cattle of any kind, not enough to supply the demand, but many of inferior quality. Trade was fairly good, owing entirely to the light deliveries.

Prices were 10c to 15c per cwt. firmer for the best cattle, but easy at last week's quotations for the inferior grades.

Trade dull, few offerings, 2 loads being sold at $4.75 per cwt.; export bulls sold at $8.50 to $4.25 per cwt.

Choice picked lots were reported at $4.40 to $4.60; loads of fair to good at $4 to $4.25; medium at $3.60 to $3.90; common at $3.25 to $3.50; cows, $2.50 to $3.50 per cwt.

YESTERDAY AT EXHIBITION

rows visited the grounds officially yesterday and made a tour of the booths and stands in search of liquor. They found none. The fair, this year, has been cleared of "blind tigers" than it ever was.

EXHIBITS WORTH SEEING.

The World Over.

When it comes to manufacturing biscuits, Christie, Brown and Co. can show pointers to the world. But they don't. That isn't their object and they are kept busy supplying the demand that is made on their own special brands. Together this firm manufactures over 600 varieties, and one variety is just as good as the other. There are waters and biscuits the world over, but a first glance will reveal the fact that a great big portion of them are Christies. The people have nothing better to ask for when they buy biscuits, so it naturally follows that the sales of Christie, Brown and Company are enormous.

An Eye-Opener.

Morrison's brass goods as exhibited in machinery hall are a truly wonderful display of what skilled workmen can do when the demand for useful as well as ornamental articles becomes imperative. A visit to the Morrison exhibit will be surprisingly agreeable. Your eyes will be opened and you will realize that you might just as well get profits from this firm before purchasing. You'll be pleased in the end.

Soothing Effect.

Those who visit the natural history building will be instructed to a great degree. The L.C.R. exhibit, in charge of Mr. Lindsay, is the big attraction. The main room is a refreshing retreat after tramping thru hot dusty choruses and elbowing your way thru crowds. In the L.C.R. room is a fountain, surrounded by ferns. This cools the room off, while the magnificent pictures of hunting scenes in the maritime provinces detract the noise and confusion from your brain. These scenes, clear and as much like nature as possible, have a peculiar soothing effect that is pleasing to all who experience it. There are also some fish globes with daintily marked denizens of the deep at play in the water. The Mooses heads form a part of the artistic decoration scheme.

Grand Trunk Popular.

The Grand Trunk Railway is among the foremost institutions in the country. And due to its system the unpopulated districts in Ontario are becoming tenanted by sturdy settlers who have the way for modern civilization. The effect before and after can be actually seen by making a call on the G.T.R. exhibit in the natural history building. One big broom, among the large number that line the walls of the log cabin, pictures a scene of desolation and howling wildness. Then comes the pioneer with his ax and trappings. It's all very much like moving pictures. A village has sprung up, with stores, houses, saw mills, mines and other municipal requisites. Thus is New Ontario growing into a state of modernization, and it's a sight to watch and study.

Blow! Blow! Blow!

Go in and see the glass blowers blow. Then come out and blow that you saw them and the artistic that was "blowed." You can blow all you want to, and people will not call you a blower. Everybody knows that your blowing is the real genuine article, and you will come off first best. Communion Caps. The Le Page Individual Communion Cup Company are among the foremost exhibitors in the manufacturers' building. Their wares are unique inasmuch as the cups stand for all that is salutary and clean. By a peculiar device the cups have been made with unbreakable points.

Run on Wheat.

There is a run on the Shredded Wheat exhibit every day. The exhibit is in the south wing of the process building, and you wonder why the crowds end up at that particular spot. If Nature designed you short of stature, then you will have to edge thru an interested "jam" of people to see how Shredded Wheat is made. The process is simple and satisfying. Nothing that is nutritious is extracted from the wheat. This seems contrary to all ethics of milling, but the Shredded Wheat people do not "mill." They clean the wheat and take any foreign substances out, and then machinery for shredding and baking complete the operation. Visitors can be seated and enjoy a light lunch at this exhibit.

Chapman Ball Bearing Company.

One of the most attractive exhibits in the machinery hall is that of the Chapman Double-Ball Bearing Company. This year they are exhibiting several new applications of their bearings, and the one that is attracting the most attention is an ore-car from the mines of the Dominion Coal Company at Glace Bay, C.B. This is mounted on a track and while the load of the coal and car is 5500 lbs., yet it can readily be moved along the track with one finger. Similar cars have been in operation for some time in the mines of the Canadian Copper Company, Copper Cliff, Ont., where over double the load is now being hauled with the same power that was formerly necessary with the old journal bearing equipment. This feature is attracting considerable attention among mining men, as it means practically cutting in two the cost of bringing their ore or coal to the surface.

Another new feature which the company is pushing is the adaptation of their bearings to vehicles for both light and heavy service, and this promises to be one of the largest fields open to this bearing. A visit to this exhibit will amply repay those interested in vehicles or in the generation and transmission of power.

Carpet Company's Exhibit.

The exhibit of the Toronto Carpet Manufacturing Company is in the manufacturers building. There you can see the finished article ready to be used. Over in the process building this firm have their looms. This is an interesting and educative sight.

The loom in the process building is one taken out of their plant, and they received from the makers a few years ago has many important improvements added by the Canadian firm. The loom is the pioneer in establishing a carpet factory in Canada, yet the energy and enterprise of this firm has placed them in the front rank of carpet manufacturers of the world.

This is not an exaggeration, as the many visiting carpet men to Canada are willing to admit.

The Toronto Carpet Manufacturing Company have a full staff of wool buyers and sorters. They carry and sort their wool and worsted yarns, and for this process the most modern machinery has been installed.

In dyeing, chemistry has advanced so steadily, that methods which a few years ago were known to a few, are now better known to any laboratory chemist of a textile manufacturer than they were twenty-five years ago to the "rule of thumb" expert.

This company employs its expert chemist, who examines all stock, and dyes which are used. A visit to this exhibit is well worth while. A collection of the best rugs and carpets will hold the interest of the observer.

The many beautiful designs would please the eye of an art connoisseur.

Industry of Novelists.

How many novelists are there today who produce but 50,000 to 100,000 words a piece in eighteen months? With a pretty wide acquaintance of my fellow-novelists, writes "A Novelist" in The Westminster Gazette. I must confess that I cannot name one who works on the principle of lordly luxurious leisure. One or two whose books appear at comparatively long intervals go far beyond the number of words named by your contributor in each story; the many who keep to that limit more or less closely produce on the average, two or three novels a year, and in several cases three or more. Have we not indeed, a periodical cry that the modern novelist, with his two, three or four novels a year, is far too prolific? Scott's performance of a novel in six weeks is a record which is now nothing very rare among the more energetic of Scott's successors.

The successful novelist of to-day has, of course, many advantages. For one thing, he enjoys uncommon freedom. He may choose his environment (within limits) and do his work in any way he pleases; but he would very speedily cease to be successful were he to adopt the system which, according to your contributor, is general. His calling is, in truth, peculiarly exacting. There is, perhaps, no other which demands so constant and vigilant an alertness of mind. Thackeray knew this when he said that a writer of fiction must always be at his best. If he disappoints expectation he is condemned out of hand. We tolerate dull sermons, dull speeches in parliament; nay, we often praise them in proportion to their dullness; but for the novelist who nods or lapses there is no forgiveness; no kindly critic by to point out that when he writes this or that passage which fails to please he had a racking headache, and, altogether, was miserably out of sorts.

Sang With a Fractured Skull.

Whilst in the canteen a private of the 4th Essex regiment fell and struck his head on the concrete floor. He was then removed to the detention room on a charge of drunkenness. He was singing during the night, and spoke when remonstrated with, but next morning he was found unconscious, and died shortly afterwards. At the inquest the regimental surgeon, Col. Daly, of the hospital staff, said that never before in his experience had a man with a fractured skull been able to walk and talk ten hours after receiving the injury.

MURDER; ALMOST LYNCHING

Two incidents which are a result of Gans' Battle. New York, Sept. 4.—A quarrel between a white man and a negro over the Gans-Nelson fight almost resulted in the lynching of James Marbine, a negro, at Tompkinsville, S.I., to-day. Marbine quarrelled with Charles Curran, who knocked him down and fired a shot into his thigh. A crowd of men from a neighboring saloon overtook Marbine after a chase, brought him back to where the wounded man was lying and sent for a rope to lynch him. Policemen saved the negro.

Lockport, N.Y., Sept. 4.—As the result of a quarrel, caused by a dispute over the Gans-Nelson fight, Joseph Lynch, 28 years old, was killed on the head and killed, it is alleged, by a companion with whom he had been drinking.

CANADIAN GEOLOGISTS BRAVED VOLCANO'S FURY

Clambered to Crater of Mount Colima, Mexico—Never Before Visited.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A despatch from Mexico City says: "With their bodies severely burned by the fires of Mount Colima volcano, fourteen venturesome delegates to the International Congress of Geologists, which meets in this city this week, returned here yesterday. The trip to the crater of the volcano was a perilous one, and had never been accomplished before by anyone. The party established camps at different points on the ascent, and made a certain amount of progress each day until the summit was finally reached. The volcano was pouring forth great volumes of smoke, but this did not deter the explorers from advancing to the very edge of the crater. A hot and sudden blast of fire from the depths below badly scorched their bodies, and they beat a hasty retreat. "Frank M. Adams and A. Bancroft of Montreal and A. P. Coleman of Toronto were among the daring party."
