FIRST STEP TO PORT NATIONALIZATION

COUNCIL WILL NAME BODY TO ACT WITH RAILWAYS AND GOV'T

Commissioner Frink Dissents From Action Following Extended Discussion of Matter This Morning

"TIME FOR ACTION," SAYS MAYOR

Principles of Bill for Parliament to be Considered by Committee Representing Saint John, Federal Government, C. P. R. and C. N. R.

"THE educative period has ended and the time for translating conversation into action has arrived," said Mayor White this morning to the Common Council, sitting in committee of the whole, "and I would like to have a committee representing the four parties interested in the nationalization of the port of Saint John, the City, the Dominion Government and the two great railways, C. P. R. and C. N. R., appointed to discuss the principles of a bill to be introduced at the next session of the Federal Parliament to bring about this very desirable end."

The Council, with Commissioner Frink dissenting, adopted a motion to have such a committee appointed, and His Worship will at once communicate with the interested parties and ask them to name representatives on the committee.

His Worship, in answer to a question of Commissioner Bullock as to what progress was being made in the project of harbor nationalization, said:

"I desire to say that I believe the time has arrived when the educative period is ended and time for some action has been taken. I believe the nationalization of the harbor, a considerable amount of time has elapsed in the past, but I believe that the time has arrived when the educative period is ended and time for some action has been taken. I believe the nationalization of the harbor, a considerable amount of time has elapsed in the past, but I believe that the time has arrived when the educative period is ended and time for some action has been taken."

WIGMORE SECONDS

Commissioner Wigmore said it gave him great pleasure to second the motion. It was of peculiar interest to him to have this matter brought up now, as he was one of those who worked for the harbor commission bill which the city turned down for political reasons a few years ago. At that time there was not the interest in the matter there was today, and he thought the citizens realized now that the salvation of the harbor today was in nationalization. The citizens had spent all they could afford of their own money, and now the burden must be carried by the country as a whole.

BULLOCK IN ACCORD

Commissioner Bullock said he was in accord with the appointment of a committee to draft the principles of a bill. Only this morning he had his attention called to what a little thing sometimes would drive a line away from the city when a charge of $7 for a part of day at one of the wharves was objected to and might mean the loss of this line to the port. The members of the council would need to have their own minds made up on the value they would put on the city wharves before going ahead, he thought.

WAIT FOR DUNCAN REPORT

Commissioner Frink said he felt it was not possible to appoint such a committee until the Duncan report was received. It was reported that it was very favorable to the Maritime Provinces and to the Port of Saint John, this could not be actually known until the report was public. He said that in 1910 there was signed the Tri-Partite agreement under which the Government was to provide terminal facilities here, under the leadership of the late Hon. William Pugsley and Hon. J. D. Hazen, there had been spent about the 18,000,000 took the trouble to sign 1916 nothing had been done to carry out its provisions. If the Government were to announce that $4,000,000 was to be spent here under that agreement the agitation for harbor nationalization would die at once. The Government would have to agree to the harbor, have to take over the private wharves as well as those owned by the city.

Commissioner Wigmore took exception to the remark of Commissioner Frink that nothing had been done since 1916 and said that the introduction of the last bill for harbor nationalization was at the express wish of the Common Council, which was voted down when only 42,100 of $8,000,000 under this agreement but cast a ballot.

Commissioner Frink said he would modify his remark that nothing had been done as there had been a grain conveyor built and a few other little odd jobs.

On motion of Commissioner Frink the request of Black's Bowling Alley for permission to erect an electric sign over their premises, Main street, was referred to the commissioner of public works, city engineer and city electrician, with power to act.

On motion of Commissioner Frink the maintenance boys of H. O. Clark on the Britain street pavement was ordered cancelled, the time limit having expired.

PURCHASE PRICE FACTOR

"In connection with any scheme I would state that the purchase by the government of the city's property must be a factor. The question now arises as to what means shall be taken to bring about this desirable object. I believe that all interested parties should get together and the interests of all be safeguarded and they should agree on the principle of a bill to be presented to the next session of Parliament. Four parties are interested, the Dominion Government, Canadian Pacific Railway, Canadian National Railway and the City of Saint John. I would suggest that each of the first three be asked to name a representative and the city have three on the committee, one representing the city council, one the Board of Trade and one the labor organizations. These to be a committee for a preliminary survey of the situation of the harbor, the able engineers and solicitors of the various departments, with past experience. Should this idea meet with the approval of the council I will at once enter into correspondence with the parties named and ask them to appoint their representatives."

MUCH GRAIN HELD IN LAKES ALL WINTER

Large Volume to be Stored in Ships at Buffalo

TONNAGE LACK

U. S. Ports Benefit at Expense of Montreal, Says Grain Statistician

PORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 15.—A considerable quantity of Canadian grain is certain to be stored in steamers at Buffalo and at Georgian Bay ports this winter, according to E. A. Urquhart, statistician to the Board of Grain Commissioners in his report on the movement of the western Canadian grain crop. Lack of tonnage caused by the British strike is largely responsible, he points out.

He says: "Receipts of grain at all terminal points are well below those of a year ago, but deliveries at country points are almost the same as last year now. The movement out of terminal points is also considerably lower than a year ago. The government elevator at Prince Rupert, leased to the Alberta pool, commenced receiving grain during the month and two vessels were loaded with full cargoes of wheat. Shipments from Vancouver commenced much later in the season than in 1925, but the future will largely depend on the amount of tonnage chartered abroad or available for charter at reasonable rates."

LACK OF VESSELS. "The large number of vessels under charter for carrying coal to the producing countries of the world, and at the same time, rates have risen to extraordinary heights, particularly for cargoes on tramp steamers. This has been largely responsible for the falling off in volume of shipments from Montreal, the bulk of the export shipments being carried in liner tonnage and this, in turn, being far more plentiful at U. S. Atlantic ports."

BUFFALO BENEFITS. "A large movement via Buffalo will undoubtedly result from this condition but, as the capacity of the elevators handling Canadian grain is not large, the rate at which it can be moved from the seaboard will determine the quantity which can be shipped over that route before the season of navigation closes. This is a large volume of grain would be held aboard during the winter is certain, as many vessels are already chartered. Indications also point to considerable quantities being stored aboard in vessels at Georgian Bay ports."

MASSACHUSETTS HEAD GUARDED BY POLICE WHILE IN PARIS. PARIS, Nov. 15.—Governor Alvan T. Fuller, of Massachusetts, unaware of the extraordinary police precautions to protect him from overzealous Sacco and Vanzetti sympathizers, spent a peaceful Sunday with his family visiting in a Paris suburb. "If anyone has been following me about today with a bomb in his hand," the governor told the Associated Press tonight "he must have been pretty busy, because my family and I have been all over the city and suburbs." The French secret service men assigned to keep watch over Governor Fuller, when he arrived in Paris Saturday, have been so discreetly invisible that he has not known of their presence.

Carves Figures on Cliffs

A WEIRD gallery of people, carved on the granite cliffs of the Brittany coast near St. Malo, astounds American tourists. The sculpture is the work of the Abbe Faure, Hermit of Rotheneuf, who carved the rocks for fifty years. Top pictures show part of the carvings; below, the hermitage of the Abbe.

AVERAGE CROP IS NOT MAINTAINED

Potato Output of The World is Reported Poor by Officials

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—A generally poor potato crop in the producing countries of the world, was reported today by the agriculture department. Although the United States crop was said to be 35,000,000 bushels more than last year, it still is 34,000,000 below the five-year average.

The Canadian crop, while 2,000,000 bushels more than in 1925, was placed about 15 per cent. less, with quality "not favorable."

In England, Wales, and Northern Ireland, rotting was reported as well as diseased and small tubers. Rain in Germany has retarded crops there. Switzerland and Czech-Slovakia, the report said, have taken steps to obtain foreign potatoes to meet the shortage.

SIX DROWN AS POLICE RAID HOUSEBOAT. ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 15.—Six persons were believed by police to have drowned in the Mississippi River here shortly before midnight when a small boat capsized and sank. STATUE IS UNVEILED. Memory of Chopin Honored by Polish People. WARSAW, Nov. 15.—As part of the three days' ceremonies in honor of Frederic Francois Chopin, a statue of the famous composer was unveiled here yesterday. The representatives of musical organizations in various countries were invited in order to impress upon them the fact that Chopin was a Polish composer, despite his French name. Delegations came from all Europe, except Germany, and also from Japan.

The delegations deposited wreaths, among them the Soviet delegation, whose wreath was the first Soviet floral offering at any Polish ceremony. The Italian minister read a special message from Premier Mussolini, which was greeted with great applause.

ITALIAN ROTARY PRESIDENT MAKES REPLY TO ATTACKS. ROTARY, while attacked by the newspaper Il Tevere, along with the Italian Y. M. C. A. is not generally criticized here as strongly as is the latter organization. The Y. M. C. A. is unquestionably regarded by some extreme Fascists as a means of Protestant propaganda. They look upon Catholicism as the national religion and point to the attitude of the Vatican against the Y. M. C. A. as sufficient reason for all Italians to oppose it. While the Government has made no official move against the Y.M.C.A., demands for such action are made at varying intervals almost every year. It is recognized that the Knights of Columbus have followed the example of the Y. M. C. A. by building playgrounds, athletic fields and other recreational centers, which are now in operation to the great satisfaction of the Holy See.

MANNING TALKS ABOUT MATTER AT DEDICATION

Annulment Plea of Former Duchess Adds to Controversy

MANY RUMORS

New York Diocese Head Says "Consequences Are Far-Reaching"

Canadian Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The authorities of the Protestant Episcopal Church and Society were stirred today by further revelations regarding the annulment by the Roman Catholic Church of the marriage of the Duke of Marlborough and the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, of New York.

Bishop William Manning, head of the Episcopal diocese of New York, thinks the annulment "amazing and incredible." The marriage was annulled by a decree of the Catholic diocesan court at Southwark, England, which was upheld by a tribunal of the Rota in Rome.

Announcement that annulment was granted on a plea of the former Duchess had added to the stir. She divorced the Duke several years ago and now is the wife of Col. Hakar of France. A report that Mrs. O. P. Belmont, who divorced William K. Vanderbilt, father of the former Duchess, and other relatives appeared before the diocesan court at Southwark, which was used in obtaining the consent of Miss Vanderbilt to her marriage with Marlborough, has not been confirmed.

RELATIVES SILENT

No comment has been obtainable from Mrs. Belmont. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, sister of Consuelo, and other members of the consueces family, have refused to be interviewed.

Bishop Manning at a dedication of the new tower of St. James church, said the sacredness and permanence of marriage had been adhered to. The people should be startled by the nullification of the Marlborough marriage.

BISHOP TALKS

"This report," the Bishop added, "is so amazing and incredible, the action so far reaching, that while I know that a statement will be expected from me as bishop of the diocese, which the marriage took place, I am waiting for some fuller information in regard to the matter."

MARRIAGE CANONS

Regarding the law of consent for marriage the Roman Catholic encyclopedia says: "Those who marry do so by signifying their consent to be man and wife; consent, the very essence of marriage."

TANK DISPLAY FOR PREMIERS

tieship of Land Climbs
allen Trees and Pierces
Walls

BY GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—On the heath-clad hills of West Surrey, the Dominion premiers who are attending the Imperial Conference, Saturday saw a tank demonstration which bewildered them in its efficiency.

There were one-man tanks, which darted hither and thither like waltzers on skates; there were "honeycomb" tanks for two which seemed to be everywhere at once and there was the latest tank of all, the battleship of the land, which cheerfully climbed huge obstacles of fallen trees, crashed through wire entanglements, and then, turning in its own length, jumped a trench and swept through a 9-inch brick wall as though it were nothing but paper.

It was a fascinating demonstration of new methods compared with old, albeit terrifying in its illustration of what may be expected should the dogs of war ever break loose again.

CARRIED OUT IN RAIN

The demonstration was carried out in a driving rain. It opened with a couple of the tanks which had appeared on the Western front in September 1918. The leading tank, now waddling like a grandfather among so much that is new, had its dramatic story which centred about a sugar factory at Etresne.

30-MILE TANKS

Tanks of all types and kinds followed in a bewildering succession. There was one type which can do 30 miles an hour on the road and can be converted from wheels to tracks in 60 seconds. Horse-drawn artillery units passed by in all their panoply, succeeded by the mechanized type, the same guns hauled by tanks over road and field with a mobility which no horse could possibly equal.

CLUE TO DEATH CAR IN MAINE LACKING

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 14.—No clue was found up to tonight to the automobile which struck and killed the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Briggs, who live four miles out on the Bangor road, late Friday afternoon. The boy was found in the road near the home with skull badly fractured and death was instantaneous.

The car was alone at the time and no one saw the accident or has any idea as to the identity of the car. There are several children in the family.

and it is in consequence of their free, deliberate consent that a man and woman become husband and wife.

"The consent must be free and deliberate. Violence or coercion by fear in a degree so great as to deprive either party of his freedom to dissent, would invalidate the consent given. The fear need not be absolute, but it is relatively so strong as to prompt external consent while the party dissenters internally, canon law considers the requisite freedom wanting and the contract null and void."

"The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough when they were married were both Episcopalians. When the duchess secured her divorce she married Cal. Balcan, a Catholic. The Duke married Miss Gladys Deacon of Boston, who was a bridemaid at the Marlborough wedding, and who is a Catholic."

KING DENIES STORY BY MARSHAL FOCH

Albert Says Never Considered Retreat After Battle of the Yser

BRUSSELS, Nov. 15.—Eight years after, the many-sided argument, regarding who won the war and how, gained impetus today when King Albert addressed to Marshal Foch, the Allied generalissimo, an opinion letter denying Foch's assertion that Albert had been dissuaded from ordering the Belgian armies to retreat after the Battle of the Yser.

In an interview published in Le Matin Paris on Sunday Day, King Albert, the British commander, had determined to withdraw their battered troops. Foch said he talked them out of it. King Albert's letter said his army would not have retreated. He said that Foch had said had been decided upon.

Mountain In Wales Moves Over Six Feet

British United Press.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A Welsh mountain has shifted a distance of six feet, flooding the little town of Cwm. The movement of the mountain on edge of the vale of Ebbw caused water from a valley stream to flow through the main streets of the town to a depth of four feet, and the good people of Cwm spent a busy Sunday rescuing their household effects.

ITALIAN IS WINNER OF SCHNIEDER CUP

Major Bernardi Averages 246 Miles an Hour, Setting New Record

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 15.—Major Mario De Bernardi, Italian Royal Air Force, and his little Mecchi-Plat monoplane Saturday broke all existing records for seaplanes, won the Schneider Cup race for Mussolini and Italy, and deprived the United States of its chance to retain the coveted international trophy permanent. Averaging more than four and one-tenth miles each minute, the little red streamliner, sailed away from everything on the course. When De Bernardi crossed the finish line his average speed was clocked at 246.496 miles an hour.

OTHER MARKS GO

In addition to this record, he broke the records for the 100 kilometre closed circuit at 248.189 miles an hour; for the 200 kilometre closed circuit at 248.0025 miles an hour, and bettered the three kilometre record in six of his seven laps. The United States' only hope in the race, the all-Curtiss plane, piloted by Lieut. George T. Cuddihy, went down as he started for the home pylon on his last lap. His average speed for the race at that time however, was below that of the Italian, being only 238.191 miles an hour for the first six laps.

DUBLIN, Nov. 15.—Southern Ireland is deeply agitated over last night's raid on the barracks of the civic guards, which was expressed in many quarters that they mark the inception of a new policy by the republicans. Instructions were sent to the headquarters of the guards in the county to warn the outlying platoons of the situation.

Muddy Field Likely For MacTear Contest

FREDERICTON, Nov. 15.—Today's MacTear Cup final is being played by University of New Brunswick and McGill English rugby team at College Field with a wintry setting. GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN

Tonight's Superfilm At Imperial Theatre

The Imperial's feature tonight and tomorrow has been creating much comment among the critical writers of the motion picture trade press since its advance reviews in private. The Prince of Temples is a First National release dated for December '26 and newspaper critiques will of course not be available until after that date. However, it is again the privilege of Imperial Theatre patrons to see a big feature much in advance of the metropolitan centres simply because it is sometimes expedient for distributing concerns to play the important engagements of this faraway territory and then concentrate on the larger places without any breaks. That is why the "Prince of Temples" is playing Saint John now. It is a lovely story of a young Englishman who while studying in an Italian monastery falls heir to a dukedom and is forced to return to world life where he is beset with all the gay deceptions of high society. The story is by E. Phillips Oppenheim known in printed form as "The Ex-Duke." Usual scale of prices.

Saturday last about 170 of the block of 200 tickets on the ground floor for the Gyro Club anniversary party had been sold and there is sure to be an overrun of this special reservation as Gyros from Fredericton and Moncton are contemplating joining the party. This large special sale makes it all the more necessary to get seats as early as possible. The Dumbells show this year is absolutely new from beginning to end and has been creating the usual favorable comment all along the line.

DR. E. L. PIDGEON IS PREACHER AT ST. DAVID'S HERE

First Moderator of United Church Speaks at 78th Anniversary

Rev. Dr. E. Leslie Pidgeon, of Erie church, Montreal, first moderator of the United Church of Canada, was the special preacher for the 78th anniversary services in St. David's church yesterday and morning. Dr. Pidgeon delivered a message of great inspiration and eloquence. The full choir of the church rendered a special selection very beautifully. A special thank offering of $2,000 was asked of the congregation on the occasion of the anniversary in order to close the year without a deficit and so splendidly did the congregation respond that the amount received was $2,228. Rev. Hugh Miller, the minister, in making the announcements of the day, stated that the fine new concrete walk that had been laid down from the sidewalk to the entrance of the new memorial hall was the gift of J. W. Brittain, chairman of the board of trustees, who on other occasions also had been a most generous donor to the church.

DR. PIDGEON
Dr. Pidgeon in his morning sermon spoke of the soul's search after truth. He prefaced his evening address with an expression of appreciation of the work being done in St. David's church, declaring that he had never been more delighted than he had ever been in seeing the work of the young people in the Sunday school of the church that afternoon. He was specially pleased to see so many of the young men and young women were consecrating themselves to the work of the Sunday school, and he pointed out that this service was useful to their own lives. He congratulated the congregation.

His evening theme was "The Soul's Thirst for God." He showed that nothing in life was really satisfying to man except God and always man was spurred on to every effort by his soul's exultation to find itself and all the weariness and doubt were the soul's protest against the pursuit of finite things.

Dr. Pidgeon asked how it was possible to satisfy the soul's thirst for God in a finite world and he answered his own question by saying that this could only be done by carrying high and noble purposes into the things of life and treating the things of this world as a means to attain to God.

Dr. Pidgeon is to give his notable lecture on "Social Responsibility" this evening in St. David's Memorial Hall under the auspices of the A. S. C. Smith and the Institute, "The Shall Give His Angels Charge" sung by Mrs. Gifford, Mrs. McKel and Miss Hugh Miller.

Car Damaged On Road Near Acamac

An automobile, owned and driven by a man named Miller, was badly damaged when dived at a sharp turn near Acamac, yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, when he was crowded off the highway by another car.

Mr. Miller states that he was driving towards Saint John from Fredericton at moderate speed, when suddenly he saw a car coming round the curve towards him at a rapid rate of speed. To avert a head-on collision he steered his car into a ditch. The rear section of his automobile sideswiped a large rock with the result that the running board on the right side and the right rear wheel were broken. A wrecking crew brought the Miller car to a shop here for repairs.

CHARGES PEOPLE VICTIMIZED BY RELIGIOUS FADS

Rev. J. S. Bonnell Deals With Growth of New Sects in Sermon

"Religious Fads of Today" is the subject of a series of sermons which Rev. J. S. Bonnell is delivering each Sunday night in St. Andrew's kirk. Last night his text was "That we have heard him so more children tossed to and fro and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by the slight of man cunning craftiness whereby they lie in wait to deceive."

Mr. Bonnell pointed out the tremendous growth in new sects and cults that are gathering about the fringes of Christianity. The United States has 202 different religions. Great Britain has an even larger number and in Canada the number is about 100.

In Saint John, Mr. Bonnell said, there had become established a half dozen new sects or cults recently. He charged that there were some of these that were preying upon the credulity of the residents of the city and further that there was one in particular that was definitely exploiting sickness. He cited a case from among several that had recently come to his notice. In this case increasingly large sums of money had been extorted from a family in the city of which one member was ill of an incurable disease. The case had been pronounced hopeless by the family physician and was steadily becoming worse but the followers of one of these cults had taken the case in hand to "cure" the illness.

CRIME AGAINST HUMANITY
Mr. Bonnell pointed out that in this case the family had difficulty in meeting its financial obligations on account of the burden of the member of the family who was seriously ill and he characterized such exploitation of sickness as a crime against humanity.

Last night he took up also Mormonism, theosophy and introduced an organ which is being made present to the burden of the member of the family who was seriously ill and he characterized such exploitation of sickness as a crime against humanity.

Mr. Bonnell pointed out that some of these new cults were called Protestant and there was no justification for giving them that title because they were not in the Bible and they were not Protestant in principle and doctrine and he said that he was definitely a Christian and a pagan.

He stated that in order to meet the existing situation a greater knowledge of the Bible must be given to the church members with sane interpretation and that the teaching function of the church must be revived. On next Sunday night he will speak on "Faith Healing a Fad or a Fact."

THE MUSIC
An orchestra and piano music had taken the place of the organ music in St. Andrew's kirk yesterday as the organ had been entirely removed and dispatched to Cassavant Freres in Quebec to be incorporated in the new organ which is being made. Orchestral music will replace the organ music at the services in the church until the new organ is installed.

There was a record number at the services in the kirk on Sunday night when prohibition was the subject under discussion.

ITALY FREES ALIENS IN MUSSOLINI LAW

Exempts Resident and Visiting Foreigners From Act to Protect Premier

ROME, Nov. 14.—The law for the defense of the state meting out death for attempts on the life of Mussolini and heavy penalties any opposition to the regime, does not apply to foreigners visiting or resident in Italy. This was officially announced by the government today. (This removes the fears recently expressed that Violet Ashburn, sister of Lord Ashbourne of Great Britain, who tried to kill Mussolini by shooting at him on April 7 last, might be tried and executed under the new law.)

The announcement today also states that tourists are free to cross the border at the liberty frontier, the closing applying only to Italians.

—THIS, ADVISE DENTISTS, TO CLEAR THE TEETH OF FILM

What the Film on Teeth, to Which Many Tooth and Gum Disorders are Ascribed, Actually Is

By running your tongue across your teeth, you will feel a film; a slippery sort of coating. Ordinary brushing does not remove it.

Film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. That is why, according to leading dental opinion, teeth look dingy and "off color."

Film clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It invites and breeds the germs of decay. And that is why it is judged so grave a danger to the teeth by authorities.

Film is the basis of tartar. And tartar, with germs, is the chief cause of pyorrhea. That is why regular film removal is urged as good protection.

Modern dental authorities urgently advise thorough film removal at least twice each day. That is, every morning and every night.

For that purpose, obtain Pepsodent, the special film-removing dentifrice which leading dental authorities favor. Different from any other tooth paste.

Pepsodent curdles the film, then removes it; then polishes the teeth in gentle safety to enamel. It combats the acids of decay and scientifically firms the gums. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. And meets, thus, in all ways, the exactments of modern dental science.

On dental advice, people are adopting this new way of tooth cleansing. Obtain Pepsodent, the quality dentifrice, at drug stores. Two months' supply at a moderate price—or send coupon for 10-day tube. Use twice every day. See your dentist twice each day. Make both a habit.

Car Damaged On Road Near Acamac

An automobile, owned and driven by a man named Miller, was badly damaged when dived at a sharp turn near Acamac, yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, when he was crowded off the highway by another car.

Mr. Miller states that he was driving towards Saint John from Fredericton at moderate speed, when suddenly he saw a car coming round the curve towards him at a rapid rate of speed. To avert a head-on collision he steered his car into a ditch. The rear section of his automobile sideswiped a large rock with the result that the running board on the right side and the right rear wheel were broken. A wrecking crew brought the Miller car to a shop here for repairs.

CHARGES PEOPLE VICTIMIZED BY RELIGIOUS FADS

Rev. J. S. Bonnell Deals With Growth of New Sects in Sermon

"Religious Fads of Today" is the subject of a series of sermons which Rev. J. S. Bonnell is delivering each Sunday night in St. Andrew's kirk. Last night his text was "That we have heard him so more children tossed to and fro and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by the slight of man cunning craftiness whereby they lie in wait to deceive."

Mr. Bonnell pointed out the tremendous growth in new sects and cults that are gathering about the fringes of Christianity. The United States has 202 different religions. Great Britain has an even larger number and in Canada the number is about 100.

In Saint John, Mr. Bonnell said, there had become established a half dozen new sects or cults recently. He charged that there were some of these that were preying upon the credulity of the residents of the city and further that there was one in particular that was definitely exploiting sickness. He cited a case from among several that had recently come to his notice. In this case increasingly large sums of money had been extorted from a family in the city of which one member was ill of an incurable disease. The case had been pronounced hopeless by the family physician and was steadily becoming worse but the followers of one of these cults had taken the case in hand to "cure" the illness.

CRIME AGAINST HUMANITY
Mr. Bonnell pointed out that in this case the family had difficulty in meeting its financial obligations on account of the burden of the member of the family who was seriously ill and he characterized such exploitation of sickness as a crime against humanity.

Last night he took up also Mormonism, theosophy and introduced an organ which is being made present to the burden of the member of the family who was seriously ill and he characterized such exploitation of sickness as a crime against humanity.

Mr. Bonnell pointed out that some of these new cults were called Protestant and there was no justification for giving them that title because they were not in the Bible and they were not Protestant in principle and doctrine and he said that he was definitely a Christian and a pagan.

He stated that in order to meet the existing situation a greater knowledge of the Bible must be given to the church members with sane interpretation and that the teaching function of the church must be revived. On next Sunday night he will speak on "Faith Healing a Fad or a Fact."

THE MUSIC
An orchestra and piano music had taken the place of the organ music in St. Andrew's kirk yesterday as the organ had been entirely removed and dispatched to Cassavant Freres in Quebec to be incorporated in the new organ which is being made. Orchestral music will replace the organ music at the services in the church until the new organ is installed.

There was a record number at the services in the kirk on Sunday night when prohibition was the subject under discussion.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 15, 1926.

A VISITOR'S IMPRESSIONS

THOSE who attended the closing banquet of the Canadian Board of Trade remember the brilliant and witty address of Mr. C. O. Smith of the Calgary Herald. On his return home Mr. Smith, at a Board of Trade luncheon, gave his impressions of the convention in Saint John. In outlining the subjects and possibilities of the new organization he said:

"These are to promote harmony and unity in Canada; the collection, examination and making vocal the sentiments of business men all over Canada; and to provide a non-sectarian, unselfish national organization that can make its influence felt, by fair presentation of sound arguments, on the course and actions of governing bodies."

Mr. Smith paid Saint John and Halifax the compliment of saying that he "had been amazed by the energy which the Saint John and Halifax Boards of Trade were throwing into their effort to improve conditions in their cities and provinces." Some of our critics who fear that their indifference will prove the undoing of the Maritime Provinces should take note of Mr. Smith's remarks. To one other observation which he made we may all most heartily subscribe. He said:

"If every man will do his own job well; if Canadians will believe in their country; if we will cease always comparing it with the United States, and help to create a national spirit of confidence and pride in Canada, there will be no reasonable limit to the progress we can make in the immediate future and in the coming years."

Mr. Smith, whose newspaper has Conservative leanings, paid a high compliment to Hon. James Macdonald who, he says, "made a pronounced impression upon the delegates," and whose speech "was the direct speech of a trained business man who, it was felt, would prove to be a most valuable member of the new Liberal administration." Mr. Smith did not get back from the Maritimes with a feeling that there is a great lack of enterprise in this part of Canada. On the contrary, he received an inspiration, and told the Calgary Board of Trade it must wake up and go after more business for Calgary. Moreover, he paid a very warm tribute to the part the Maritime Provinces have played in making possible the Canadian Board of Trade.

THE DOCTORS AND THE G. P. H.

MEDICAL practitioners are in the habit of giving a good deal of gratuitous service to the poor. A doctor's skill is his invested capital of money and labor which went into his training, and when that skill is given free for the constitution of a loss of interest. The doctors of the Saint John G. P. H. request a fee for attending sailors and immigrants. Heretofore they have received nothing, although Halifax and Vancouver have paid fifty cents per day—little enough—for like services. Fifty cents is the remuneration suggested by the Saint John doctors, but the Hospital says that it already pays forty-seven cents per day on each sailor and immigrant patient, and that additional fifty cents, if met from Hospital funds, would mean the loss approximately of one dollar per day on each case.

A four-dollar grant instead of the existing three dollars from the Federal Government—a mere pittance on Dominion expenditures—would settle the matter, and it ought to be possible to obtain this. But if not, it is manifestly unfair that the doctors should be called upon to bear a total loss while the Hospital's loss is only partial. An extra thousand dollars on case assessment would be comparatively heavy, moreover the treatment of seamen and immigrants is a national matter. One thing, however, is certain: the doctor, like any other laborer, is worthy of his hire.

SALARIES IN BANKS

IN A LARGE American city some time ago a Canadian fell into conversation with two men who had formerly been employed in Canadian banks. Both were natives of the Maritime Provinces; both had been branch bank managers in Canada; both, since they had come to the United States, the salary paid them was not deemed to be adequate for the service rendered. One is now a very successful operator in real estate and the other a member of a large corporation. Both declared that bank salaries in Canada were much too low, and were responsible for the loss to Canada of many young men whom this country can ill afford to lose. Incidentally, one of them noted the fact that in one large American bank are quite a number of former Canadian bank clerks.

The last issue of the Financial Post, Toronto, contains an article written from the inside of a bank, agreeing entirely with the views expressed by the two men already quoted. In addition, he expresses the view, which he says is also the view of many managers, that the work in a bank could be carried on with fewer employees if they were more capable. The more efficient men, he says, go away. He further says that banking is used as a stepping stone to other walks of life, and the deceiver men do not remain if better opportunities open up before them.

Of course bank directors insist that overhead expenses be kept as low as possible, but it is true that the scale of salaries offered is not sufficient to attract into the profession the cleverest young men. It is not alone in banks, however, that complaint is made regarding a lower scale of pay than is paid across the border. One of the problems of Canada is to meet the competition of a country immensely rich, and with a population so enormously larger than that of the Dominion.

Mr. Elden Robinson of Harvey Station, York county, has an exhibit of Holstein cattle at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. He is among the prize winners against competitors from all parts of Canada. Mr. Robinson has never before taken part in such an exhibition. Dr. F. R. Taylor, of Rothesay, is also an exhibitor. New Brunswick is gradually building up some very fine herds of thoroughbred cattle. This is a movement to be encouraged. When the farmers have all got rid of scrub cattle their prosperity will be greater in proportion.

Editorial

NOV. 11 IS THE DAY

AN INSISTENT note struck by the speakers at the Armistice Remembrance Dinner at the Beatty Hotel, Saint John, was the observance of the true date and no other. Several times disapproval of the attempted combination of Thanksgiving and Armistice Days was voiced. In proposing the silent toast to "Our Fallen Comrades," Captain Rev. P. M. Lockary said: "It is well then that we have set aside one day in the year to call to mind our fallen comrades. This day should not be observed throughout Canada on Thanksgiving, but on Armistice Day, Nov. 11. Thanksgiving is a day set apart to give thanks to God for a bountiful harvest. Armistice Day is a day to remember our dead and it is not the sentiment of this country to compromise either with God or the dead."

And Sir Arthur Currie expressed it: "There are others, we know, who are willing to hold services called Armistice Day services, provided it can be done on Thanksgiving Day, which is the Monday nearest to the 11th of November. But to you and me, old comrades, that anniversary falls always on November 11th, and the services we attend in honor or celebration thereof must be held on that date and on no other."

The prohibition law in Saint John will not be properly enforced until it is enforced by the police. It appears that some years ago an agreement was arrived at by which the police would lend assistance when requested to do so, but that otherwise they would only be concerned about violations of the law when these were thrust under their noses by drunken persons or disorderly doings. It is, of course, unreasonable that the city should assume the cost of enforcing the law, and the province seize all the revenue. Until, however, the police are instructed to put an end to the illegal sale of liquor, or the province puts enough inspectors of the right calibre on the job, the present disgraceful condition of affairs will continue. It is too easy to get liquor in this city. Even youths of tender years may be seen under its influence. The police court record does not show anything like a clean sheet. A united citizens' protest in the interest of the young and of law enforcement might have some effect.

A cable from Rome says that Rotary Clubs and the V. M. C. A. are being campaigned against by a Fascist newspaper. The Fascist leaders, it is said, are also suspicious of Freemasonry. The latest order of the Government makes compulsory the lifting of hats when processions carrying the Fascist banners pass through the streets, and ignorance of the law will not be accepted as an excuse for failure to obey. A policy of increasing severity has made Mussolini dictator of Italy. Restriction begets opposition. One wonders when the breaking point will come.

None of us like having our feelings hurt, but quite a number would endure willingly a few punches at our pride at the rate of $18,200 a blow. The Dolly sisters get the palm, and Mistinguette an extra puff.

The new ruling that prevents the shipment of cattle on a vessel's decks during the winter months will probably result in higher rates of freight. The consumer, however, will pay the price.

"A rejuvenated Hell" sounds as though the monkey-gland grafters had been on the job.

BIG BUSINESS AND THE STRIKE

(Vancouver Province)

SPEAKING to the Conservatives gathered in convention at Scarborough, Yorkshire, a fortnight ago, Premier Baldwin declared that the events of the year had not destroyed his hopes of a reconciliation between capital and labor. He was confident that when the present troubles were over, the best of the trade union leaders would unite with the employers in some scheme for increasing production and efficiency in industry. If big business, as represented by such men as Montagu Norman of the Bank of England, can bring order out of the chaos of the coal mine stoppage, and can bring it without permitting the destruction of the mines and the embittering of the miners, it will have gone some distance toward the goal which Mr. Baldwin would like to see reached.

The most popular step our Government could take would be to turn all the Red powers out of the country.

News and Views From The British Capital

LONDON, October 28, 1926.—An acquaintance of mine, whose extremely smart appearance always impresses those who meet him, and whose tailoring seems a good deal more expensive than his means entirely warrant, confided to me the other day how he managed it. He buys all his clothes second hand. He would never look at a ready-made suit, but he always wears second-hand ones. He has discovered a place in the West end where the proprietor buys the cast-off suits of a well-known Duke. This peer must be a generous patron of his smart West End tailor, because he tells very month at least ten or a dozen suits of clothes for which he has no further use. They are always in first-rate condition, and have been worn only half-a-dozen times at most. His figure is very like my friend's, and the latter buys, at quite a modest price, dual suits, easily fitted to his own figure, that most originally have cost twelve or fourteen guineas each.

Hunting Pink

Some people, of course, would have an objection to wearing the cast-off clothes even of a peer of the realm. But my friend assures me it is "done" by quite good people. Last time he was buying a suit—it was a dual cast-off plus-four on that occasion, of very fine cloth and magnificent cut—he saw a swagman, with a monocle and a Mayfair accent, trying on a perfectly gorgeous hunting kit. He happened to know the gentleman by sight, and recognized him as a smart subaltern in one of the most exclusive "crack" corps on the roster of the British Army. What a sensation there would be in one of the Service clubs with a scandal of the cast-off hunting kit got out! But the second-hand dealer told my friend that just the same thing is done by really fashionable dames. Not all their fine plumes nowadays are what might be called original features.

Sullivan's Birthplace

The extraordinary run on the D'Oyly Carte season of Gilbert and Sullivan operas at the Prince's Theatre has caused sentimental journeys to be undertaken both to Sullivan's birthplace and to his bust in the Embankment Gardens, as I happen to know. How many, however, are aware—however many may care—where Sullivan first saw the light? It was south-of-the-water anywhere, on the other side of Westminster Bridge, and the house still stands, in an off-shoot from Lambeth Walk, as one of a row that was once called Bolwer's Terrace, but is now numbered 8, Bolwer street. The London section of the Incorporated Society of Musicians have placed a tablet on the site of the birthplace, so eminent, so that there is no mistaking the modest "three windows and a door" in a facade which suggests an earlier-going century than this. Here, indeed, Sullivan was born in 1842, and as he rose to fame he soon exchanged E. for S. W., his later homes being flats in Albert Mansions and Queen's Mansions. Thus in life and in death Sullivan was a Londoner, for he lies buried in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The King's Road

Someone has recalled that Lot Rd. Electric Power Station, whose four towering chimneys every Chelsea artist has more than once immortalized, stands on what were Cremorne Gardens. The latter about the middle of last century supplied old Vauxhall Gardens with a series of hundred years' standing, and on nearly there were thrilling balloon ascents, and parachute tragedies, enacted there. But more interesting is the fact that the millinery and dressmaking shops, which were the fashion of the day, used to use it, that King's Road, Chelsea, one of the longest, most populous, and dismal thoroughfares in London, was then a very different place. After some dispute between the Government and Chelsea parish, it was decided to build a new road, and the old King's Road, being an obvious short cut between East and West, but a private royal road it remained down to George III's reign, when it was permitted to be used on a public basis, and the street, stamped "G. R." on one side, and on the other "The King's Private Road."

Drying Fetish?

One remarkable change in the post-war life of London seems to have passed unnoticed. Yet it is perhaps the most significant of that epoch-making institution of the middle-class suburbs, the Sunday dinner, begins to wobble on its broad bourgeois basis. Sunday is no longer a day when the population of London, as a whole, permits passengers to stand on a public platform, and the street, stamped "G. R." on one side, and on the other "The King's Private Road."

The Celebrating of Dominion Day

(London Free Press)

THE Canadian Clubs of the Dominion, as a purely national organization, having as their objects the development of national ideals and sentiments, are quite properly taking the lead in laying plans for the celebration of Dominion Day. The Association of Canadian Clubs, through its executive committee, has put forward a series of proposals. They include: That the Dominion Day be celebrated on the 1st of July; That the Governments of Great Britain, the United States, the Republic of France, the Empire of Japan, the Irish Free State and the British dominions be invited to send representatives.

The Dominion Day should be an issue of commemorative postage stamps.

That motion pictures of the events leading up to Confederation be made by the Government Motion Picture Bureau.

That there be a national organization to arrange the celebration, the chairman to be appointed by or from the Federal Cabinet. Incidental to the general proposals it is suggested that a simultaneous salute be used throughout Canada by electricity from Ottawa at noon on July 1, 1927, and that 10,000 beacons be lit from coast to coast in the evening. A national celebration is suggested in Ottawa, with similar celebration in provincial capitals and centres. It is also proposed that there be a distribution to the 30,000 schoolhouses in Canada the "Fathers of Confederation."

The London Canadian Club at its annual meeting took the first step towards a proper celebration in London by appointing a strong committee, under the chairmanship of Prof. Fred London, with Col. Ibbotson Leonard as vice-chairman. The Canadian Club initiated the annual celebration of Dominion Day in London, and this club should take the lead in commemorating the Diamond Jubilee of the Dominion.

By ARTHUR N. PACK

SINCE the earliest history men have marveled at the ability of birds to change their habitats with the seasons. Even in the Bible we find references to birds flying south at the approach of cold weather.

As the study of Nature became more of a science, the motives which led birds to polar lands in spring, and the equatorial regions in the autumn, and the seemingly super-natural power which enabled them to accomplish these tremendous journeys, became subjects of serious study.

Some birds migrate their periodical journeys by long flights between favorite feeding grounds, accomplishing these flights high in the air and at high speed. This is true even of many species usually considered weak in flight. Some fly by day only, others solely at night, yet others both by daylight and darkness.

It is remarkable that many of our small birds, such as warblers and finches, have the power to fly great distances by night, even crossing great expanses of water. Such species usually stop at dawn, hungry and exhausted, and spend a few hours in seeking food, flitting from grove to grove as they feed, and usually moving in the general direction of their ultimate destination.

Night migrants usually call to each other at intervals, probably for guidance, and students of birds thus detect many species by characteristic notes. Those a few species, however, it is sometimes possible, when large numbers are flying, to glimpse some flitting across the face of the moon.

By training a powerful telescope on the moon's bright surface, observers sometimes are able to see night migrants in transit and even to identify them by their flight.

Timely Views On World Topics

THE COTTON PROBLEM

By EUGENE MEYER, JR., Managing Director, War Finance Committee and Chairman, President's Committee on Cotton

THE South has solved its cotton problem and is now in a position to carry over its surplus without serious losses to the growers. Returning from a trip through the South, I find that local associations, with a combined capital of $10,000,000, had been organized in all the cotton-growing States and that within a short time this capital will have been secured.

Under the law the Intermediate Credit Bank can loan $10 for each $1 of the capital subscribed by these associations or in the present case of Southern business men, will suffice to finance the hold-over movement so that growers may realize a better price for their present sales and also a better price on the present surplus when it is sold in bulk.

The cotton growers, bankers and other business men appealed to the Federal Government for assistance in the emergency, hoping that the Government would finance the growers and bear the responsibility. Under the system worked out by the President's commission, however, the local associations will hold the farmer's paper and will stand responsible should the plan fail to work out as it is intended. Thus, if the plan works, all is well, but if for any unforeseen reason it fails, the South will again face a serious situation.

I am confident regarding the outcome. The plan was well received in all the States, and if it should become necessary, more capital could be readily subscribed.

Poems I Love

By CHAS. HANSON TOWNE

"The Travel Bureau," by Ruth Comfort Mitchell

THIS is one of those "human interest" poems which get hold of one's heart-strings. One feels the enormous pity behind it, and the tragedy of the club which never escapes—the drug, rather—is sharply revealed. Miss Mitchell lives in California, and has written much fine poetry and delicate prose. This sonnet has reason to be proud of.

All day she sits behind a bright brass rail. Planning proud journeys in terms that bring far places near; high-colored words that sing.

"The Taj Mahal at Agra," "Kashmir's Vale," Spanning wide spaces with her clear detail, "Sevilla or Fiesole in spring, Through the flocks in June."

She is the minstrel of the great out-trail. At half-past five she puts her maps away. Pins on a gray, meek hat, and braves the diet.

A timid eye on traffic. Duty gray. The house that harbors her in a gray street. The close, sequestered, colorless retreat.

Where she was born, where she will always stay.

JAKE was a worthless and unimproved fellow. One day he said to the grocer: "I gotta have a sack of flour, 'im all out, an' my family is starvin'."

"All right, Jake," said the grocer. "If you need a sack of flour and have no money to buy it with, we'll give you a sack. But see here, Jake, there's a circus coming to town in a few days, and if I give you a sack of flour, are you sure you won't sell it and take your family to the circus?"

"Oh, no," said Jake. "I got the circus money saved up already."

SOCIETY HOLDS 6TH ARMISTICE CHURCH SERVICE

Sons of England Carry Out Annual Exercise at St. Mary's

The Sons of England Benevolent Society held their sixth Armistice Memorial service yesterday afternoon in St. Mary's church, when Rev. A. L. Fleming, rector of Saint John (Stone) church, preached a very forceful sermon. Taking his text from the 8th chapter of the Romans and the twelfth verse, "Therefore brethren we are debtors. In opening he said: I count it a high privilege to be permitted to address you this afternoon when you pay tribute to the glorious dead. It is eight years since the Armistice and people are perhaps putting in the background the past war and all that it has meant, but here in this church you gather one day in each year to remember those comrades of your association whose names are written here on this memorial pulpit which you placed here six years ago. Let us not forget them and the ideals for which they fought."

NAMES ON PULPIT
The names on the pulpit, members of the Sons of England, who died in the great war are: James Amos, Thomas Dean, J. A. Haworth, Wm. Hudson, Frank H. Ledford, W. H. Milson, E. Mellor, C. D. Murkin, Geo. South, C. L. Whiteley, J. Whitehouse, Sid. Wilson, Wm. Thomas and F. Clark.
During the service, a trio composed of Mrs. Howitt, Miss End Nutter and Miss Eva Mitchell rendered, "One sweetly solemn thought." The service was in charge of the Rector of the church, Rev. R. Taylor McKim, and during the offertory, which was for the N. B. Protestant Orphanage, Rev. A. Le Drew Gardner, curate, sang a solo, entitled "Beyond the Door."

THE LAST POST
Bugler Sergeant Horsman sounded the Last Post and Mrs. R. Taylor McKim, the organist, played the "Dead March." The service closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The pulpit was draped with the Union Jack and a huge wreath of poppies. The members of the Sons of England Society attended in a body.

SPECIAL SERVICES ARE HELD AT Y.M.C.A.

Week of Prayer Observance on Sunday Evening—Sing Songs Are Begun

Observing the second Sunday in November as the Week of Prayer in conformance with the world wide custom of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., three special services were held in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday.
The first was at 8:45 when the largest boys service ever held convened with 105 present. S. E. Fisher was the speaker and spoke to the boys on the subject and significance of the week of prayer in a boy's life. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock a joint meeting of the Boards of Directors and Boards of Trustees of the two associations was held in the Y. M. C. A. building. This service was specially arranged and appropriate part of the program to the Week of Prayer had been prepared by Dr. Cadman, of New York. The slogan of the service was "Consider Jesus." There are special thoughts for each day of the week.
A. W. Long was the soloist in the afternoon and the special speaker was Rev. Hugh Miller, of St. David's church, whose topic was "Prayer in the Life of Jesus." There was practically a full attendance of the members of the board.
In the evening at 8:30 the first of the Sunday evening sing songs was held with 80 young men present. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra was present and gave four very fine selections, as well as accompanying the hymns. The soloist was Mrs. H. A. Lyman. The thought of the week of prayer was again stressed in the address of the evening which was given by A. M. Gregg, general secretary.

SMOKING GAINS
SHANGHAI, Nov. 15.—China is rapidly emerging out of its shell of ancient civilization and is fast adopting modern ideas and fads. The smoking of cigarettes and cigars is one of the fads they have adopted, and the quantity consumed is so large that three new match factories, complete with the latest machinery, have been required to take care of the Canton industrial centre.

Maritimes More Prosperous In Expectation of Benefits From Report of Duncan Body

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 14.—It needs but a cursory survey of conditions in the Maritimes to find assurance there is a vast improvement over a year ago.

In New Brunswick the port of Saint John last winter had the best shipping season in a number of years. Moncton as a whole sale and distributing centre is making steady headway. Crops are good, particularly potatoes. Across Northumberland Strait, Prince Edward Island has a bumper potato yield, for which the potato pool, embracing the bulk of the growers, is getting good prices, namely at the wharfside $1.25 a bushel for pedigreed seed and 75 cents a bushel for table potatoes.

In Nova Scotia farmers of the western isthmus have gone more and more into apple growing until, it is said, they are not producing enough beef, pork and eggs for the needs of the province, let alone the export market. Beef cattle are being imported from Ontario. Last year the apple crop was a partial failure, and it is none too good this fall. On the other hand the fisheries are distinctly in better condition, especially at such a centre as Lunenburg under a cooperative system whereby the fisherman share in the profits.

BUT the greatest improvement is in the Cape Breton Mining industry, where following the settlement achieved through the Royal Commission of Sir Andrew Rae Duncan, Dr. H. P. McPherson and Major Hume Cronyn, work in the coal areas is at the peak with steady employment in eight throughout the winter, a condition unknown for a number of years. It is stated that the close of navigation will see production and shipments 200,000 tons behind orders from the St. Lawrence, and this balance will go by water to Portland and thence over the short rail haul to Montreal.

AGAINST all this is the continued stagnation of manufacturing industries, shut out from the profitable markets of Upper Canada, and with the home market depleted by shrinking population. Nevertheless there is an optimistic note throughout the Maritimes such as has not been heard for a long time, and this, besides conditions referred to above, owes something to the hopes based on the report of the Royal Commission appointed to enquire into the debated question of Maritime rights—whether, in fact the Maritimes are getting a square deal under the terms promised them in Confederation. This commission consisted of Sir Andrew Rae Duncan, chairman, who was chairman of the British Fuel Commission and brought peace to Cape Breton, Judge Wallace, of Halifax, and Professor Cyrus McMillan of McGill University and undoubtedly the people of the Maritimes as a whole look to its findings with confidence as at least a part solution of their difficulties.

The commission's report is in the hands of the Dominion Government and it is expected will not be made public until late in the year. It is a document consisting of 30,000 or 40,000 words, but according to current information here, the main recommendations may be summarized as follows:

- (1)—The existing annual Maritime provincial subsidies to be increased as follows: Nova Scotia, $275,000; New Brunswick, $650,000; Prince Edward Island, $175,000. These increased payments from the federal treasury go, of course, beyond the provisions established by the British North American Act, and the underlying reasons for this recommendation are not yet known.
- (2)—The ocean ports of Saint John and Halifax to be nationalized, together with the Island car ferry.
- (3)—Freight rates between the Maritimes and Upper Canada to be reduced 20 per cent in order to meet the undertaking given Nova Scotia on her entry into Confederation she should be enabled to market her goods there as contributory to this end 250 miles of railway mileage of the old Intercolonial, added to the trackage for military reasons, to be struck out. Cost of this freight reduction to fall on the Dominion treasury.
- (4)—Steel bounties to be restored.
- (5)—Assistance to fisheries through negotiation between Ottawa and Washington for more favorable entry into New England markets.
- (6)—Other tariff questions to be referred to the tariff board of Canada.
- (7)—Encouragement of coking plants by federal assistance.
- (8)—Taking of the Valley Railway of New Brunswick into the Canadian National Railway system to be referred to a separate commission. The object of this railway is greatly to shorten the shipping mileage between Montreal and Saint John.

CUTTER PURSUES BREAK MONOPOLY VESSEL TO HALIFAX IN POTASH OUTPUT

Schooner Sylvia II. Put Into Port Soviet Officials Say New Discovery to Hurt France and Germany

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 15.—"Mary's little lamb" of nursery rhyme fame had nothing on the United States patrol cutter Woolcott, according to Captain Thomas of the Nova Scotia schooner Sylvia II which arrived here yesterday with 800 cases of liquor below decks and the American cutter close at her stern.
"Everywhere we went that cutter went," declared Captain Thomas who told how the Woolcott had followed him about for days off the American coast in the vicinity of Cape Cod and Germany, the Russian authorities as he said, were finally decided to make for Halifax to land a trio of shipwrecked mariners he had picked up previously, the Cutter never for a moment gave up her escorting of the liquor laden vessel and followed the Sylvia through storm and darkness right into Halifax harbor.
The Sylvia anchored in the stream yesterday and the Cutter tied up at a dock a few hundred yards away, but NEVER judge a man's heart by the size of his feet.
After a few hours in port the Woolcott steamed off.

The Kitty-Katy Letters

Confidential Communications Between Two Charming Girl Friends—One Married

DEAR KITTY:
Your new dress must be just lovely. I must buy a few more before the wedding because we are going to Niagara Falls and New York and I want to have plenty of good clothes to wear. I have still to buy the china and a floor lamp and some bookcases. I just love to look around in Saint John furniture stores because they have on the floors such a wonderful variety of designs. Jack now admits that he doesn't believe the stores in any other city are so hit more satisfactory to deal with. He says: "Trade at home and keep the money at home."
Jack met your husband on the street—did he tell you? They had quite a long talk and your husband told Jack that business was falling off in his line. That surprised me because you had told me about the big checks he had given you. Jack says your Tom is a crack-shooter but I can't imagine your husband with a gun in his hand somehow. The idea of killing wild animals was always repulsive to me, somehow, although my father used to get a lot of pleasure out of it.

Yours,
KATY.
NOTE.—So Kitty's husband told Jack that business was falling off, and yet he has been giving Kitty big checks! There is some mystery here. Jack also says Tom is a crack-shooter. What is a crack-shooter, anyway? See Kitty's letter tomorrow.

MEDALS GIVEN WINNERS AT THE DAHLIA SHOW

Saint John Society Meets—Report on American Society Meeting

The quarterly meeting of the Saint John Dahlia Society was held on Saturday evening in the Natural History Society rooms when the presentation of the medals awarded given by the American Dahlia Association in connection with the Saint John Society's dahlia show at the Saint John Exhibition took place. C. H. B. Wright received at the hands of the president, Dr. J. H. Barton, the silver medal given for the sweepstakes at the dahlia show and the vice-president, Alfred Morley, presented to Dr. Barton the bronze medal for the best dahlia in the show.

Dr. Barton presided at the meeting, which was largely attended. Mr. Blois, of Kentville, who had been the judge at the dahlia show, wrote to compliment the Saint John Association on the excellent manner in which that affair was conducted and to offer some suggestions with regard to future dahlia shows.
Mrs. Richard Hooper reported with reference to the choice dahlias which had been received as a gift from the Lachine Dahlia Association and which she had grown during the last season. These bulbs are to be divided in the spring and will be given as extra prizes to various exhibitors at the dahlia show. These dahlias had been grown by Dr. Corcoran, president of the Montreal show. This gift was very gratefully received by the Saint John Society.

GIVES REPORT
Mrs. J. H. Barton gave a very interesting report of the meeting of the American Dahlia Association in New York and the wonderful dahlia show held in connection with it. While there had been a very much more extensive display and there were some dahlias with stems as high as five feet, Mrs. Barton said that in the matter of table centres, baskets and special features of that nature, the New York show had nothing that the Saint John show could not equal. She described the most beautiful of the new dahlias that were exhibited and gave a list of about 30 of the most superb varieties. The prices quoted in connection with these new varieties were somewhat startling. Harry Lyman, who had carried out the work of getting the local dahlia show up and the flowers arranged, expressed hearty appreciation of the co-operation extended by the Saint John Exhibition Association and of all others who had aided in making the dahlia show so successful. He had some suggestions regarding future dahlia shows that were discussed with interest.

Air Chief Would Abolish Aviation

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A surprising view of aviation is attributed to Sir Hugh Trenchard, air chief marshal, by Professor Philip Baker, of London University.

Prof. Baker, addressing a peace conference at York Saturday, said it was not generally known that Sir Hugh Trenchard had declared that if he had his own way he would abolish aviation, both military and civil, altogether, because he believed that the evil wrought by it was incomparably greater than any good it could bring.

Sir Hugh Trenchard has been chief of the air staff since 1918.

FORMER DUCHESS GETS ANNULMENT

Petition Granted in Case of Consuelo Vanderbilt Against Marlborough

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The petition for annulment of the marriage between the Duke of Marlborough and the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, was submitted by the former duchess and was granted by the Roman Catholic Diocesan Court at Southwark last March, it became known here Sunday.

It was confirmed by the Holy Rota Tribunal in Rome in July.
The Duchess of Marlborough was divorced from her husband several years ago and was then married to Jacques Balsan of France. The duke's second bride was Miss Gladys Deacon of Boston.
Although first reports had it that the annulment was decreed on the application of the Duke of Marlborough, the duke refused to discuss the case.
The former duchess presented her petition to the Diocesan Court of Southwark, where one of the duke's legal residences is situated. The court examined the petition and granted the annulment after the duke had entered a formal appeal which the defendant is required to make by Roman Catholic Church law. The documents were then forwarded to Rome.

Why Excessive Novel Reading is a Vice—The Young Girl Whose Selfish Mother Does Not Want Her to Marry—Must the Girl Terminate an Evening Call or Should the Young Man Be a Self-Starter?

DEAR MISS DIX—Will you please answer these two questions? First, What will be the effect of continuous novel reading where a person neglects home, family, business, church and social duties, to sit and read novels?

Second, How long should a courtship continue where a lady meets a man from another State and knows very little about him?

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: Novel reading can become a vice if indulged in to excess. In moderation, it is one of the greatest pleasures and consolations of life.

There are novels that present history in a vivid and dramatic form that makes the past live again for you. There are novels that take you to the far places of the earth and make you acquainted with strange countries. There are novels of adventure that stir your blood and are your imagination; novels of sentiment that touch your heart; novels that educate, that humanize, that preach more powerful sermons than any delivered in any pulpit.

There are times when we are tired and worn, when to read a good novel is the best of all rest cures. There are times when we are lonely and we need the lives of some hero and heroine in a book. So we may well thank God for novels and the men and women who write them for us.

But the novel-reading habit is as great an evil as the dope habit if it makes us subject our real work and live in an unreal instead of a real world.

Also, novels can become a potent source of debauchery if one steps outside of the realm of the fiction that reeks of sensuality and that teaches that men and women have a right to indulge their passions. There are plenty of novels that are nothing but mental garbage cans, and to spend more time reading them is to have one's soul poisoned. I have known more than one woman who wrecked her life by incessant novel reading. These ladies lived so much in the company of beautiful but misunderstood heroes that they came finally to believe themselves to be thrown away on their commonplace families, and so they finally went off, like their favorite Lady Gwendolyn, with the men they fancied were their soul mates and who eventually deserted them.

Second, Certainly a woman should be in no hurry to marry a man who is a stranger to her. She should prolong the courtship until she has done a thorough job of detective work about his past life.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young woman of 21 and am engaged to be married to a splendid young man. My mother likes and respects him very much, but every time we mention getting married she cries and begs me not to leave her. I have a sister of 19, so that mother would not be left alone. My fiancé has a fine position and can give me a good home, and there is absolutely nothing to prevent our marriage except my mother's not being willing to give me up. What shall I do?

ANSWER: Your mother is a silly, selfish, neurotic woman, and you will be extremely foolish to let her ruin your life. Do not pay the slightest attention to her, but go along and get married, and when it is all over she will be as pleased as Punch and forget that she ever made the slightest objection.

There are many mothers like yours, who have hysterics every time their children mention getting married. They mainly do it because they are egotists, who want to have the centre of the stage with the spotlight turned upon them. Somehow they imagine that they are romantic and interesting, and show deep sentiment and an abnormal love of their children when they protest that it will kill them if they give them up.

In reality they show nothing but how selfish they are, for what has a mother to offer a daughter in comparison with a good husband and a good home and the normal life of a woman?

No matter how much a girl loves her mother, that love isn't going to satisfy her. She is going to want her own home, her own man, her own children. You have a chance at this now. If you stay with your mother until she dies, it will be too late. Your opportunity will have passed you by.

So don't wait. Take your happiness while you can get it. There is reason in all things. When a girl's own judgment tells her that her mother objects to her marriage on valid grounds, then she should be guided by the mother's counsel, but when the mother's objection is only a manifestation of her selfishness, then the girl should refuse to listen to her and use her own good common sense in deciding the matter.

DEAR MISS DIX—When a young man calls on a young lady and the time comes when the call should end, should the young lady suggest to him that it is time for him to go, or should he of his own accord take his departure?

ANSWER: The young man should be a self-starter. No lady should be put to the embarrassment of having to order a man out of her house, or even suggesting to him in the most delicate and tactful way that she is weary of his presence and that he had better take the air.

Believe me, my dear M. F., that if a man wishes to make a hit with women he can acquire no more winning art than that of making a graceful and speedy exit. For there is no man in the world of whom girls have such a horror as the one who stays on and on, until the very clock yawns in his face, and who keeps threatening to go, but never goes until he is put out.

Just remember that a call is agreeable in proportion to the shortness of it. The first half hour is peppy and thrilling. The next half hour may be interesting if the man is a fairly good talker, but by the end of the hour things begin to drag, and before the two-hour limit is reached the girl is shedding secret tears of boredom.

So when you go to see your best girl say your little piece, and make it snappy and cut it short.

And when you start to go, don't linger. Go as if you were shot out of a gun.

Most girls wear shoes three sizes too small for them, and when you keep on standing up and saying "Good-by, good-by" she is enduring untold agonies and wishing that she had a patent bouncer to speed you on your way.

Out of Ooze Into Zoos

Well, if here isn't granddaddy Varanus Komodoensis himself, reared up against a wall at the Bronx Zoo, New York, and looking around at the juvenile world!

OUT of a Lost World such as Conan Doyle described into a new world of bars and cages and staring eyes, two great dragons of the South Seas have established themselves here, little caring what happens to them as long as they have their chickens or goats or twenty pounds of round steak daily.

Outside of their cage is a placard announcing that the two forked-tongued monsters are "Varanus Komodoensis." Which is merely the family name of what is probably the oldest pure-blooded race on earth today. For the armored, spike-spined reptiles, according to Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, curator at the Bronx Zoo, are of a species that is more than one million years old.

The tiny lizard of the woods is a cousin of the new-found dragon, but a cousin far removed. For the Giant Monitor—another name for the newly discovered reptile—grows to a length of eight or nine feet, and has a body thicker than a man's.

And the monitor doesn't crawl, as does his puny relative. He runs on his short, stubby legs and can outdistance a Nurni or a Paddock. And his tail is no useless appendage that is dragged along. He can do all sorts of damage by thrashing it—knock an enemy off its feet or break up a cage, as the case may be. The largest of three of the dragons captured on the island of Komodo, captured by completely wrecking the strong crate in which it was placed.

Douglas Burden, curator of the American Museum of Natural History, organized the expedition to seek the Varanus among the Dutch East Indies, where they had been reported by a Dutch explorer. They took cages from the New York Zoo, and the heaviest of bear traps, and a small arsenal of hunting rifles.

East of Java, they landed with difficulty upon the island. While merrily upon the island, the party found the lost world, and the dinosaurs' inhabitants.

The monitors have great claws instead of webbed feet. Their heads are large and fierce, with jaws of sharp, curved teeth. They do breathe smoke and flame as the story books would have them, but they do make a loud hissing noise as of steam escaping from some infernal region.

The sex of the two dragons has not been determined. Whatever it is, the sex is the same, for it is determined by the width of the skull, and there is no data obtainable on this species. Anyway, until more specimens are captured, at least, there will be no baby dragons in America.

Sea-Sawing Along Broadway

I HAVE been told that insomnia and restless sleepers can chart their whereabouts as surely as a shipper can chart his course. Instead of compass and sextant they depend upon night noises for their sense of place.

Even the frogs, they tell me, have tunes that vary with their geographic residence; the hay fields sigh differently from other fields and there is a dainty about the faint trembling of a giant California redwood immediately recognizable to the sensitive ear.

And so it goes.

INNUMERABLE writers and poets have tried to interpret the "voice of the city." But the night voice of Manhattan I have learned, after several experiments, has nothing to do with traffic, or taxis, or rattling subways and elevated, or whistles of millions of feet along the sidewalk.

Given a fairly central location, the sounds one hears in the faint hours of the morning are, strangely enough, not of the city at all, but of the sea.

It is the boat whistles from the several rivers that come piping in many boys to the restless sleepers, when all other sounds are stilled.

Fatigue Remedy Found To Be Mild Laxative

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN.

ALMOST every soda fountain, and certainly every drug counter, contains some preparation which is alleged to have particular virtues in overcoming that "tired feeling."

Man has constantly sought some panacea that would by a single dose remove the effects of wear and tear just as he has sought some potent remedy to rejuvenate the feebleness of the aged.

A few years ago a German pharmacologist, Embden, started the world with the statement that acid sodium phosphate, given in small doses, would overcome fatigue.

MUSCULAR THEORY.

Based on the view that muscles by their activities use up phosphorus, he decided that an additional supply of phosphorus would prevent the inevitable tiredness that comes with too much work. He gave the workers in a certain mine a drink containing about 75 grams of acid sodium phosphate on the morning of days when they were to undergo hard exertion.

Other workers were given a similar drink without the phosphate. Embden claimed that the workers who received the drink were able to do more work and for longer periods than those who did not receive the acid sodium phosphate.

Unfortunately experiments since made on this subject have failed to substantiate Embden's views. Dr. F. B. Flinn, of the United States Public Health Service, carried out a similar series of experiments on persons engaged in manual labor.

MILD LAXATIVE.

He found that the acid sodium phosphate does not increase muscular efficiency, although persons who took the drink seemed to feel better than those who did not.

Acid sodium phosphate has long been known as a laxative. Although doses recommended by Embden were smaller than the amount usually used for laxative purposes, they were still

PARISIAN WRAPS.

Gilt fur and colored feathers are some of the novelties introduced on French evening wraps.

BABY BLUE BACK.

A pink kasha sport dress is trimmed with bands of blue kasha in a shade that might be described almost as the old-fashioned baby blue.

Fashion Fancies.

This Black Velvet Evening Wrap Follows the New Silhouette.

The dolman silhouette, much heralded for the winter season, seems more suited to the wrap for evening than to the serviceable daytime model.

For instance, the wide bloused back and rather generous armhole of this velvet wrap make it essentially a cloak to be worn in less active hours.

Supple silver cloth makes the collar of many folds which extends in a wide band down the closing side of the front, much as the flat fox collars do. An unusual note is seen in the white fox cuffs, used with the contrasting collar.

ON YOUR SLEEVE.

A becoming way to finish the sleeve of an afternoon gown is to use a wide accordion-pleated ruffle.

USE PINK OR ROSE.

On the new shades of blue, particularly the royal and grayish blues, pink or rose is a good contrast color to use for piping and trimmings.

COLORED FURS.

Colored furs are very smart this season, and one finds pink, white and mauve ermine coats, where once all was snowy white.

FOR YOUNG GIRL.

A fanciful frock for a young girl is made of white georgette crepe and trimmed with a flock of blue birds embroidered in blue silk.

WOOLEN FLOWERS.

Woollen flowers in tight little bouquets are used in the buttonholes of the new tailormades.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Greta Nissen.

WHEN Greta Nissen first came to this country from her native Scandinavia several years ago, and played the role of the Princess on "The Beggar on Horseback," her dancing was the talk of Broadway. Critics prophesied the movies would be seeking her services and a short time later Greta gave up her dancing to sign a contract with Famous Players-Lasky.

Since she wasn't the usual ingenue type they converted her into a vamp. Greta made some pictures for them and in each one she was the wicked siren.

Poor Greta, she hated the parts she was playing and film critics in their reviews commented on her beauty, but all agreed she couldn't act. Yet in the Follies her sunny personality had captivated blasé audiences.

Discouraged by her work and impatient because long hours at the studio gave her no time to practice her dancing, Greta again went to work. He not only gave her a contract but allowed her to arrange her own scene in his revue.

Again Greta proved her ability, all her old sparkle returned, and directors of light comedy began to regard her in a new light. Now Famous Players-Lasky have given her a role in "The Poplar Sin."

Because Greta was a Scandinavian they thought she must be suited to fit a square peg into a round hole to play the role of a queen.

Now it has been recognized that in spite of her ancestry she is well suited to sophisticated comedy and Greta's ready to give the Kings just one more trial to prove that this type of acting is her forte.

The Rhyming Optimist

When I read of ancient sages, men of distant climes and ages, much I marvel at their majesty and might; when I hear their voices thunder down from clouds I wonder at those souls which soared so loftily in flight. I, by contrast, go unlettered, yet serenely, all unfettered by the doubts that dogged the footsteps of the great. I am free from aching yearning, from ambition, ever burning, safe from envy's shafts that splendid lives create. Knowing just life's simple phases, I am humble as the daisies; yet I love, as they, the shade and shower and sun. Though unlettered, all Earth's sweetness comes to me in its completeness, and I joy in all the beauty time has spun.

Your Girls Deserve Good Candy

I've taught my girls to make good candy at home. What fun they have when friends come candy-making night comes round! Carnation Milk takes all worry and uncertainty away from candy-making. One reason why our candy's always good. Good, too, because Carnation adds that rare creamy smoothness and truly delicious flavor.

Carnation is just pure, fresh milk, evaporated to double richness, kept safe by sterilization. Diluted, it takes the place of ordinary milk. As it comes from the can, it takes the place of cream. Order from your grocer several cans or a case of 48 cans.

CREAM TAFFY.—Two cups sugar, 1 cup Carnation Milk, 1 tsp. vanilla, ¼ cup corn syrup (light), ¼ cup water, 1 tbsp. butter. Put sugar, corn syrup and water into a sauce pan, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Cook until 248° F. is reached. Then add the Carnation Milk and butter and cook slowly, stirring constantly until 258° F. is reached. Remove from fire and pour on a greased platter. When cool enough to handle, pour vanilla in center of mass. Pull up the corners, lift from the platter, and pull until light in color and porous. This yields 1 1/5 pounds.

THE SLENDER MAN ALSO WINS.

Slender men, as well as women, win today. But they always have won, for fat men generally die comparatively young, just when success has arrived. Slender men are apt to live to enjoy the fruits of their success. And it is not by proper body care.

Dr. Robert G. Jackson, at 67, still has the vigor and figure of 25, although he has been married for 35 years. He and his family naturally "run to flesh." He still plans and is sure of many years of youthful, productive effort; is never sick, has not had even a cold since 1912; keeps physically fit by eating natural foods, fruits, vegetables, Roman Meal, milk, all non-acid foods.

Dr. Jackson is dietetic editor, "Archives of Therapeutics," New York, a physician's journal, advisor to "Defensive Diet League," a physicians' association. Send for his free leaflet, "How to Keep Well," to Robert G. Jackson, M. D., 302 Vine Ave., Toronto, (6), Ont.

Scholarly Lecture Given By Rev. Roy M. McDonald Opens C. W. L. Winter Lecture Course

Before an audience that filled the St. Vincent's Auditorium, Rev. Roy M. McDonald, S. T. D., opened the winter lecture course of the Saint John division of the Catholic Women's League last evening by delivering a scholarly and impressive address on Jerusalem and the holy shrines there connected with the passion and death of the Saviour.

Miss K. Lawlor, president of the league, presided, and also on the platform were Hon. R. J. Ritchie and Mrs. G. V. Henneberry, convener of the C. W. L. Solos were excellently sung by William Grannan, "The Holy City," and Miss Vera Ferris, who sang Gounod's Ave Maria. Her accompanist was her brother, Joseph, and a violin obligato was played by her sister, Miss Rosemond. William Davis was accompanist for Mr. Grannan.

Miss Lawlor, in introducing Father McDonald, spoke of the Rosary Hall, Travellers' Aid, immigration and other work of the C. W. L. She felt greatly pleased at the large audience assembled for the opening lecture and trusted this would continue through the series.

SPEAKS OF JERUSALEM

Father McDonald said he would speak of Jerusalem as seen through the eyes of a pilgrim, that pilgrim himself. He told of leaving Nazareth on Sept. 7, 1923, on the pilgrimage to Jerusalem, passing Dothan along the road that Joseph travelled after being sold into slavery by his brethren. Then came Nablus, noted in the olden days for its anphibian Christians, and even today its inhabitants spat upon pilgrims to the Holy Land. Outside this city they drank water from the Well of Jacob, where our Lord was given a cup of water by the Samaritan women. Next came Jerusalem, and words, he said, could not describe their feelings when they first entered this city, wonderful in its religious history, but without this unattractive. It was a small city, surrounded by walls, set on a hill and inhabited by 14,000 people of all races and tongues. The streets were winding and roughly paved.

Special Matters In Catholic Churches Of City On Sunday

A meeting of the Holy Name diocesan Society executive was held at the church of the Assumption Sunday afternoon when routine business was discussed. During the meeting Rev. Fr. Murphy, of St. Rose's church, Fairville, stated that a branch of the society would be formed shortly in that parish.

GIVES LECTURE.

In Holy Trinity church Sunday Rev. Francis Cronin sang high mass and preached the sermon. In the evening after supper a lecture was given in the parish hall by Joseph Harrington, which was well attended.

AT HOLY SEPULCHRE

The first visit was made to the Basilica of the Holy Sepulchre, still under guard of Turkish soldiers. The actual spot where Christ arose from the dead was now a very small room of marble. This spot is covered by a stone slab worn smooth by kisses and the angel rolled back from the door on the memorable Easter Sunday morning.

AT CALVARY

Mounting stairs to the upper part of the Basilica Calvary was reached. Next were visited the sites of the house of Saints Ann and Joachim, where the Blessed Virgin was born; the pool of Bethesda, where our Lord healed the paralytic. This pool was only completely excavated in 1914 by the White Fathers, who have collected some extraordinary relics of the Holy Land.

WAY OF THE CROSS.

Father McDonald told of making the way of the Cross over the road followed by the Saviour. Deeply impressed of that journey on the first Good Friday, and descriptions were given of the Ecce Homo arch, Veronica's house, the churches at the scene of the crucifixion and at the place of the ascension. Moving reference, as well, was made to visits to other parts of the Holy Land rich in association with the life of the Saviour, particularly to Bethlehem. At several of the shrines it had been the speaker's privilege to celebrate mass.

P. B. McCafferty moved a vote of thanks in appropriate terms to Father McDonald in his religious history, but without this unattractive. It was a small city, surrounded by walls, set on a hill and inhabited by 14,000 people of all races and tongues. The streets were winding and roughly paved.

IN BIRTHDAY HONOR

Mrs. James Dunner, 19 Clifton street, West Saint John, entertained a number of young people on Friday evening in honor of the 18th birthday of her daughter Dorothy. The dining room was prettily decorated with pink and the prevailing color, and the tea table was centered with an attractive birthday cake illuminated with 18 pink tapers. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Clarence Campbell, Mrs. H. E. Jennings, and Mrs. Thelma Stanley, Dorothy Smith and Helen Burns.

The evening was pleasantly spent in games and dancing and refreshments were served by Mrs. White, assisted by Mrs. W. H. White, Mrs. Thomas Hodgins and Miss Nettie Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. White were the recipients of many gifts on the occasion.

Edith Avenue Baptist Church Observes Event

Rev. Dr. Wellington Camp delivered an excellent sermon at the Edith avenue Baptist church last evening in connection with the second anniversary of the church of which Rev. Ingram B. Colwell is pastor. The service was attended by many and the special roll of members met with a fine response.

Special music was provided by the Barker quartette, who sang three selections, and by the choir of the church. The sermon by Dr. Camp was a forceful one on "The Priceless Christ." The offering for the evening met with a generous response from the congregation.

Miss Mary Doig Chosen President of Girls' Council

The Saint John Girls' Council held its first meeting of the season on Saturday night at a supper gathering in St. David's church rooms with a large attendance, and enjoyed a splendidly inspirational program. The sing song after the supper was led by Miss Grace Marshall and was followed by a talk on "Gratitude" by Miss Merna Sample, first vice-president, who was in the chair.

Election of officers followed and these chosen were: President, Miss Mary Doig; vice-president, Miss Marjorie Simms, and secretary treasurer, Miss Florence Rockwell. A reading, "Play Up and Play the Game," was given by Miss Marjorie Simms. The retiring officers pinned their badges of office on the newly elected officers, and Miss Stella Earle as sponsor welcomed them on assuming their new duties. Miss Gretchen Moorehouse recited "If for girls," Miss Anna Rippey, also a sponsor, announced that a C. G. I. T. rally would be held on Dec. 9 and asked the girls to keep that date. The council meeting closed with the singing of the new C. G. I. T. hymn, "God who touches us with beauty."

2ND ANNIVERSARY

Edith Avenue Baptist Church Observes Event

Rev. Dr. Wellington Camp delivered an excellent sermon at the Edith avenue Baptist church last evening in connection with the second anniversary of the church of which Rev. Ingram B. Colwell is pastor. The service was attended by many and the special roll of members met with a fine response.

Special music was provided by the Barker quartette, who sang three selections, and by the choir of the church. The sermon by Dr. Camp was a forceful one on "The Priceless Christ." The offering for the evening met with a generous response from the congregation.

RIGHT EVERY TIME!

He—Who is the handsome boy with the crumpled head?
She—That's my cousin, Betty.
He—And the blond man with the monocle?
She—That's my sister, Lu.
He (laughing, but embarrassed)—So I suppose the other young man in the dinner jacket is your older sister?
She—No, that's my grandmother!—Fliegende Blatter, Munich.

Weddings

Crandell-Keith.

An interesting event took place at the Church of the Holy Spirit in Missoula, Montana, recently when Miss Katherine Keith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keith, was united in marriage to Richard Crandell, of New York. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas W. Bennett, rector of the church, and was witnessed by a large congregation of relatives and friends.

The bride's father is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Noah Keith of Lower Ridge, Kings Co. Arthur Keith, of Lower Ridge, and Mrs. W. L. Corey of The Grove, Havlock, are uncle and aunt of the bride. The bride has many relatives in Kings County, Moncton, and Saint John.

Doiron-MacArthur.

SHELIAC, Nov. 13—A real Gracie Green romance was disclosed today when Fred Doiron, of Sheliac, customs and excise preventive officer for the Northumberland Strait Shore district of Westmorland and Eastern Kent counties, and his pretty young bride returned from a wedding journey to Halifax. Mrs. Doiron was formerly Miss Florence Elva MacArthur, daughter of Jeremiah A. MacArthur, of Sheliac, and Mrs. MacArthur. The young couple had not announced their matrimonial intentions to the large circle of friends, who were quite surprised when news of the wedding became generally known today. Mr. Doiron and Miss MacArthur left Sheliac by motor car last Wednesday, intending to be made man and wife at Amherst, but they found the highways so heavy after Tuesday's storm, that they decided to have the ceremony performed at Port Elgin if a clergyman could be found. The wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Theodore Ross, at Port Elgin. The following day they went to Amherst, where news of the wedding was telephoned to relatives. Then they continued their journey to other Nova Scotia towns, including Halifax.

Mrs. Doiron has been one of the efficient and obliging operators in the New Brunswick Telephone Company, Ltd., exchange here for some time and is a young woman of wide popularity and a general favorite. Mr. Doiron is a Sheliac boy. He enlisted in the 150th Battalion at Amherst serving faithfully throughout the war. He has been a federal government official here for several years. The blushing young bride, who was back at the switchboard tonight, received numerous congratulations, and so did the bridegroom. She is to sever her connection with the telephone company in two weeks, the period of notice necessary.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Miss S. A. Barrington, organizer of home nursing classes for the Red Cross Society, and Miss Jessie I. Lawson, supervisor of Junior Red Cross, returned to the city on Saturday from their latest provincial trip, during which they visited Moncton and the surrounding districts, addressed the Armistice Day meeting of the Middle Sackville branch of the society and spoke before a meeting in Sheliac. They report a most successful trip and are preparing to start upon a further trip early this week.

RUSSIA MOVING TO FORM LEAGUE WITH ASIATICS

Completing Treaties in West
To Allow Free Hand
In East

By KEITH JONES

United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON.—(United Press)—British students of international politics are viewing with some concern the trend of Russia's recent political alliances, aiming, it is believed here, at the eventual creation of some sort of Asiatic or semi-Asiatic League of Nations.

By a series of non-aggression pacts Russia has already made or is now attempting to effect between herself and Finland, Lithuania, Latvia, Poland, Yugoslavia and Rumania whereby Russia agrees not to attack them in return for their agreement neither to attack Russia nor permit the passage of foreign troops through their country in any action against Russia. British writers believe Russia is laying the groundwork for economic and political expansion to the South and East. With a solid line of countries along her western border pledged to neutrality, Russia, it is said, would be able to turn her attention to Asiatic politics with a free mind than would be possible with a horde of antagonistic neighbors along her 2,000 miles of European frontier. For this reason it is considered not improbable in some quarters that the Soviet may soon abandon its quarrel with Rumania over Bessarabia in return for the latter's guarantee of neutrality in the event of any Russian quarrel with France, Germany or England.

SECRET AGREEMENTS

But the Soviet diplomats have not waited for the consolidation of a complete line of neutral neighbors to the west before undertaking what is interpreted as their larger diplomatic aim the creation of a political and economic entente with the Asiatics and semi-Asiatics. Already secret agreements have been signed between Russia and Turkey, Russia and Persia and Russia and Afghanistan. According to the information given the press these treaties are purely in the nature of commercial agreements; but the exact text of the treaties is known only to the cabinets and diplomats of the governments involved, and it is suspected here that buried in the text are alliance clauses of high political importance.

It is an open secret in Chinese politics, and is blamed by British interests in China for four-fifths of the depression in British business in the Orient where for more than a year things have gradually been going from bad to worse. If the factors backed by Russia should come out victorious at the end of the Chinese conflict it is regarded as very probable that Russia would play upon Chinese dissatisfaction with certain phases of the League of Nations and urge her withdrawal. This effected, it is regarded as logical that Russia should invite China to join her 460,000,000 population with Russia's 180,000,000 and organize in the East a new league to offset the power of the League of Nations to the West. Turkey, a non-league nation would, it is surmised be invited to join as would also any dissatisfied Asiatic. It is noteworthy in this respect that the Chinese minister at Washington was recently reported to be in Angora con-

BRAZIL HEAD IS PUT IN OFFICE

Dr. W. L. Pereira de Sousa
Installed at Rio de Janeiro

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 15.—Dr. Washington Luis Pereira de Sousa, former President of the State of Sao Paulo and one of the most eminent political figures of Brazil, became President of the United States of Brazil at noon today, when the new government was inaugurated.

The Brazilian people marked this day as the beginning of a new era of peace and national harmony and the closing of the period of partisan fights which have held sway over Brazil for the past five years, starting a year before the President whose term ended today, Dr. Arthur da Silva Bernardes, took office.

President Bernardes will be known in the history of Brazil as the "father of revolutions" as during his four years of administration the government had to fight an enormous series of revolts and conspiracies instigated by elements of the army which did not support the candidacy of President Bernardes and which perturbed the administration with continued attempts at revolution.

With the exit of President Bernardes from office the motives which the dissatisfied elements thought justified the revolts are at an end, and the armed forces of revolutionaries in the interior of the country will lend their obedience to the chief of state.

Dr. Washington Luis is a son of the State of Rio de Janeiro, but has built his entire political career in the State of Sao Paulo, where, like Governor Calvin Coolidge here, he gained great fame for his energy in putting down a revolt among the state police.

In Sao Paulo, his administration was marked by the extraordinary impulse given the development of roads linking the centre of the state with the capital.

ELECTION UNANIMOUS.

The selection of Dr. Washington Luis for the presidency was accepted by all the political parties of the nation and his name was placed on the ballot with no one to contest his election.

It is seen from the speeches and the political platform of the new president that the principal preoccupation of his government will be the financial and currency and the balancing of public finance.

His first move in financial matters will probably be to change the standard of the milreis, which is quoted at 27 pence. It is not yet known what the extent of the change will be, but all indications are that a standard of five pence will be selected, since this is considered the real economic Brazilian milreis.

The new president will also make great political reforms in the election system, the known as the "electoral college" and will place great confidence in the actions of President Washington Luis, who is a self-made man, as has been done recently in the Argentine Republic.

The Brazilian people place great confidence in the actions of President Washington Luis, who is a self-made man, as has been done recently in the Argentine Republic.

12,000 BUS. TURNIPS
FROM DIGBY TODAY

Shipments to Boston Being Made
by H. T. Warne, Lumberman

DIGBY, Nov. 14.—Sailing Monday, weather permitting, the big three-masted schooner Mary B. Brooks, will carry from Digby to Boston the largest cargo of this kind of produce ever shipped out of Digby county by one man. The shipment is turnips, about 12,000 bushels. These turnips were mostly by H. T. Warne, of Digby. Several thousand bushels were grown on his farm at Hillier, and some thousands on a farm at North Range.

Mr. Warne, who is in the lumber business in Digby, has not specialized in farming to any great extent, but last fall he had a large piece of land ploughed in and in the spring took a chance on a turnip crop. He was very successful and raised a splendid crop in fact the produce was shipped out of Digby county by one man. The turnips are of very good quality and of a large uniform size. They are of the green top yellow Swede and a fine variety for winter keeping. The schooner has been in Digby for several days and the loading of the great shipment of turnips has provided employment for many men and horses. The turnips were hauled loose in big team loads and tallied at the schooner's side by the barrel.

This shipment will be taken to Boston and stored to await a favorable market.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys
as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the longer uric acid, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

REMIT RADIO FEE FOR BRITISH BLIND

Broadcasting Without Charge to

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The 20,000 blind of England will have an unusual Christmas gift from the nation this year. Broadcasting, which is controlled by the Government, costs every listener in $2.50 annually, and out of these license fees the company defrays the expenses of daily concerts which can be picked up by cheap crystal sets.

When a bill to remit the fees to the blind was introduced in Parliament by Captain Fraser, a sightless M. P., a sympathetic hush came over the House. Many eyes were moist as he made his plea. Since the postmaster general does not oppose the bill its passage is a foregone conclusion.

How to start the day wrong

Linger over bathing, shaving and dressing.
Look at your watch, utter an exclamation of dismay, sprint downstairs.
Gulp a bite or two and leave the house hurriedly.

Since body and brain are thus denied proper nourishment—at a time when they need it most—the above method of starting the day wrong cannot be surpassed.

For the right kind of breakfast ---- this crisp, delicious food!

PRESENT-DAY breakfasts have a great deal to do with present-day nerves and present-day malnutrition. Dietitians warn us to beware of the hasty breakfast!

Once you think about it, you realize how reasonable it is. Nothing to eat all night—the body ready and waiting for food to supply all its varied needs—and we give it a skimpy, hurried breakfast, frequently deficient in some of the vital elements of nutrition. Make the tempting, nutritious single serving of Grape-Nuts a daily breakfast habit. Grape-Nuts comes in wax-wrapped packages ready to eat. Very economical, for four teaspoonfuls, costing less than one cent, is sufficient for each serving. Your grocer has blood, phosphorus for teeth and bones; protein for muscle and body-building; and the essential vitamin-B, a builder of the appetite.

And Grape-Nuts is crisp! It encourages the thorough chewing which is necessary for perfect digestion and for the health of teeth and gums. Ask your dentist what he thinks of modern soft-food diet! He'll tell you that it is ruining the teeth of this generation—and he'll advise you to eat plenty of crisp food.

SAYS TROUBLE WITH PEOPLE GOING INTO U. S. CAN BE PREVENTED

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS HERE MAKE PROPOSAL

Say Intending Travelers Should Consult Nearest American Consul

CONDITIONS NOT SO BAD AS FORMERLY

Suggestion That Railway Agents Should Warnigrants of Regulations

THE difficulties in which many citizens of the Maritime Provinces have found themselves in the past and are sometimes still finding themselves on the way through to the United States, can and should be prevented, according to the U. S. Immigration officials here. Although there are fewer cases of people being sent back from the border now than formerly, the officials say, there are still too many, and these could be reduced almost to nothing if the proper precautions were taken by the intending travelers at their starting point.

The root of the difficulty lay, one of the inspectors said, in the fact that people, leaving for the United States, did not first consult the proper authorities as to the papers required before leaving for their destinations.

SUGGEST REMEDY. They say that all trouble would be removed if the intending travelers would call on the nearest U. S. consul or vice-consul, before starting from home. It has been suggested that station agents should be notified not to issue tickets to those passengers who are not satisfied that the United States immigration regulations have been looked after by those buying tickets.

Several cases of real distress have developed in the past through this circumstance, women and children being the particular sufferers. They have been stopped while on their way from Saint John to the New England States, taken off the train at the border and returned to Saint John. In all cases, the officials say, they are not able to adjust the matter here and as a result, the intending immigrants are forced to return to their homes and lose the money they had invested in their journey as well as what was paid out for living expenses while on their abortive trip.

HELD UP HERE. In some instances, it was pointed out, those who are sent back are without funds when they return to Saint John and are either forced to fall back upon charity to keep them or are taken care of at one of the institutions established here for that purpose.

Asked for a solution of the trouble, one of the inspectors declared that if those who intended going into the United States would apply first at the nearest consul, or vice-consul's office, he would furnish them with all the necessary information to enable their easy passage across the border.

THREE CARED FOR. Three men were taken into the Central Station for protection over the week-end.

LOVERS of horses here will regret to learn that a noted Clydesdale gelding owned by Thomas Barrett, of East Saint John, is dead, at the age of 24. This horse won a special cup, donated by the Bank of New Brunswick and valued at $200, at the Dominion Exhibition here in 1910. John, as the horse was known, won over a big field, taking first place for general purpose and agricultural horses. He was raised on Prince Edward Island and was eight years old at the time he won the cup. At the time of the award, another exhibitor took the judge to task for giving John first place over this entry. The judge, who was Mr. Standish, of Ottawa, replied, "Your horse will be under the sod many years, while this horse will continue to give good service." The judge's words were borne out.

KEEN REVIVAL OF INTEREST IN BIBLE IS URGED

Rev. A. D. McLeod Declares If Savior Accepted, Testament Must Be

Speaking from the text John 16:12 and 13, Rev. A. D. McLeod, preaching in Carmarthen street church yesterday morning, said that he would like to revive a revival in the doctrine of the Word of God. He said that the Word of God is the Word of God, and that it is the Word of God, and that it is the Word of God. He said that the Word of God is the Word of God, and that it is the Word of God. He said that the Word of God is the Word of God, and that it is the Word of God.

He pointed out that if the teaching of Jesus Christ, it was strange to hear some people say "I believe in the resurrection of the dead." The Old Testament, Mr. McLeod spoke of as divided into three parts, the Law, the Prophets and the Psalms. No fact of history he believed had been better proved than the fact of the resurrection of Christ. This wonderful Saviour, the Son of God, had set His stamp of authority upon the Old and New Testaments.

PROPHESIES FULFILLED. Another powerful reason given for believing the Bible to be the Word of God, Mr. McLeod gave was that it fulfilled prophecy. Another reason he gave was that the Bible was found in the Book of the Book. Mr. McLeod stated that strong-minded, soundly converted, loyal Christians, soundly converted, loved the Bible and the study of it, and rarely if ever became black-sliders or were carried away by every wind of doctrine. They had an inward conviction that the Bible was the Word of God.

THE VOICE OF THE HEAVENLY FATHER, one ever present ever growing thought pervaded the whole Bible, he asserted. The character of this unity was most significant. Mr. McLeod said that the spirit of teaching of every book perfectly agreed with that of every other book in the Bible. God was the author of the Bible and its purpose was to teach people how to live the Godly life. He urged his hearers to study the Bible carefully and live out its high and noble principles.

Constable McMahon has been in the north since the middle of the summer and some interesting experiences have been recounted in his letters to relatives and friends here. In his last letter, in which he asked to have his favorite home paper sent to him, he says that the members of the R. C. M. P. have busy days since their arrival, the activities including the building of a storehouse. The detachment sailed from Montreal on July 18 and arrived at their destination on August 2. Chesterfield, he says, consists of the Hudson's Bay Company's store, living quarters and store houses, Catholic mission, police headquarters and storehouse. Mail is brought into the area only twice a year, being carried in overland in December, and again by boat during the summer.

"CITY CORNET" IS OBSERVING 52ND BIRTHDAY

Saint John Band Away Today to Broadcast From Moncton

ALWAYS ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY LIFE

Local Celebration of Anniversary Likely Held in Few Days

The City Cornet Band of Saint John is 52 years old today and will hold its birthday party away from home, broadcasting a program from the Canadian National radio station, CNRA, at Moncton. The band left today for the railway city.

The City Cornet Band was organized on November 15, 1874, and has been an important factor in musical circles and community life here ever since. It sprang out of a musical organization which was established in 1871 by the Christian Brothers, and which was taken over two years later by the Father Mathew Society. At the end of 1873, however, the band master, John Finney, left the city and the organization disbanded. It was re-organized in the following year under its present name and has remained in existence ever since.

ITS BANDMASTERS

The first bandmaster under the new regime was O. P. Perry, and others who followed him were H. Dixon, G. H. Williams, W. C. Sowan, J. M. White, J. M. Williams, W. E. Rosen, J. C. Gallagher, M. F. Henderson, and the present director, Frank Waddington.

Probably the most important event in the history of the band was its trip to Chicago in September, 1893 on the occasion of the World's Columbian Exposition. The band was taken up at a meeting of the band which will take place some time later in the season.

HAROLD SIMPSON IN COURT IN AUTO CASE

Is Charged With Operating Car While Under Influence of Liquor

Harold Simpson, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor yesterday, was brought before Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning, and his case was postponed until this afternoon. Scott E. Morrell appeared for him. Simpson was arrested by Police Constable Saunders and Kilpatrick last evening in a house in Smythe street.

Policemen in court, who laid the charge, said the accused refused to stop when ordered, while driving at a rapid rate of speed down Germain street. The policeman jumped on the running board but the car still kept going rapidly, and he was compelled to jump off again. He followed the car and found it in front of the Salvation Army Men's Home on St. James street, with the left front wheel broken and the axle bent. The occupant worked quickly, having removed the license plates, and disappeared. However, they overlooked the driver's license badge, and it was on this clue that the detectives quickly made the arrest.

Rev. Wellington Camp, a former pastor of the Leinster street Baptist church in this city, latterly of Carleton county and still later of Western Canada, has taken up residence in the city for the winter months, living in comparative retirement. He recently arrived from the west. NEWS of a rescue from death by drowning a few days ago became public only today. The rescue was made in Carleton mill-pond by Walter Lord, who saved the life of a lad named Hansen. The boy, about 10 years of age, was playing on a small piece of a raft in the pond. It was high tide and the boy had got well out from the bank, but was making efforts to reach the shore when he was thrown into the water. His predicament attracted the notice of passersby. Hansen sank, but, as he was going under, Mr. Lord plunged in and saved him. The water was icy cold at the time, but both hurried to their homes, and it was said were none the worse for their experience.

SAINT JOHN MAN SELLS THEATRE IN YARMOUTH

F. G. Spencer Confirms Report of Transfer of Holdings

NEW OWNERS TAKE OVER NEXT MONDAY

Purchase Is By Yarmouth Amusement and Theatre Co., Ltd.

F. G. SPENCER, of the F. G. Spencer Co., Ltd., Saint John, this morning confirmed a report of the transfer of his holdings in Yarmouth, N. S., to the Yarmouth Amusement and Theatre Co., Ltd., consisting of The People's Theatre and The People's Block, in Main street.

While the amount of money involved in the transaction was not given out, it is said to have totaled several thousands of dollars. The new owners constitute a purely Yarmouth enterprise which a few years ago took over the original Empire Theatre, Yarmouth, remodeled it and opened it again as the Strand. They will take possession of their newly acquired premises on next Monday.

Another property deal reported from Yarmouth today was the sale to W. B. Bailey, formerly of Westport, but now residing in Yarmouth, who has taken over and will operate the store and hardware business of the estate of the late Alex. Ross.

SOME WHO WENT WEST STRANDED

Harvester Returning Today Speaks of Conditions During Crop Time

Several men who went from the east this fall to help in the harvesting of the prairie grain crop are stranded in the state of Texas, and McKean said, one of the harvesters who returned to the city today. He said that the weather was almost as fast as particularly bad and that there had been intermittent snowstorms of varying severity ever since the middle of September.

In many cases, he declared, the men were forced to stop on account of the bad weather, and on such occasions, they were paid off and had to return to their homes. Under such conditions were suitable for resuming in the wheat fields. Thus their money was almost as fast as when they left. Their employment had arrived they were without sufficient funds to return home.

Although the western country is feeling the pressure of a rich harvest, he added, there was very little work for the outsiders now, and many of them were, to use his words, "up against it hard."

INTERFERENCE MATTER

Percival McKenzie was in the Police Court this morning, charged with interfering with Detective Kilpatrick last night, when he was taking Foster Kirkpatrick to headquarters for not having correct home address. No charge was laid against the latter. G. G. Anglin appeared for McKenzie. Detective Kilpatrick said he warned him to go home twice. The second time he was asked if he wanted to go to the police station, and McKenzie said, "yes, so he was taken." Foster Kirkpatrick and William Tate both gave evidence, saying the only interference was McKenzie's effort to prove Kirkpatrick had given his correct address. Magistrate Henderson said this constituted an interference. A fine of $10 was struck on a doleful stand on recommendation of Detective Kilpatrick.

BRITISH LINERS OF AIR TO FLY OWN ENSIGNS

Flag to Be Similar to Red
One of Mercantile Marine

LONDON, Nov. 15.—British air liners are to fly an ensign, which will be specially designed as the flag of Britain's air fleet, just as the red ensign is the flag of the mercantile marine.

In order clearly to distinguish British air liners from those of other nationalities, Imperial Airways are now conducting a series of experiments with flags of various materials.

These flags are fastened to the struts between the wings of the Hendley Page-Napier and "Argosy" air liners flying on the Continental routes, and in the 100-mile-an-hour wind created by the air liners' passage through the air spread out behind the machines.

When the most suitable material to withstand this great wind force

EVIDENCE OF SICK WOMAN REQUIRED

Eye-witness of Tragedy is Wanted to Testify in Hall Case

Canadian Press
SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 15.—A show-down in the Hall-Mills case may be just around the corner.

As Somerville presented the appearance of a deserted village Sunday awaiting the opening of the tenth day of the trial today, there was a conviction among observers of the trial that the State has reached the point where, to continue, it must have the testimony of Mrs. Jane Gibson, sick in a Jersey City hospital.

Although 47 witnesses have been put forward by the prosecution, none has attempted to qualify as an eye-witness. Mrs. Gibson, also known as Mrs. Eaton, is expected to say that she was in the immediate vicinity of a crabapple tree under which the Rev. Edward W. Hall, Mrs. Gibson, also known as Mrs. Eaton, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were found.

The three defendants, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, have apparently maintained their mental and physical equilibrium, as they have sat for nine days and heard themselves charged with the murder of Mrs. Mills.

ALASKA BOOST IS PLANNED BY UNITED STATES

Resources of Territory Along
Railroad to Be Made Known

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 15.—Following the example of privately owned pioneer railway systems in exploiting the resources of the territory contiguous to their lines, Uncle Sam, owner of the Alaskan railroad, will tell the people of the United States the advantages of the railroad belt in order to attract capital.

A new department has been created by N. W. Smith, general manager of the railroad, to bring the resources of central Alaska right before the man with surplus to invest.

TO GATHER DATA

Hitherto the resources along the railroad have been spoken of in generalities, such as "great storehouses of wealth," "mountains of coal," and "many square miles of precious metals and commercial minerals."

Hereafter the Alaska Railroad's industrial department will offer economic data calculated to guide the investor into proper and remunerative channels.

Mineral deposits will be surveyed and reported by engineers of the federal bureau of mines, data will be obtainable on matters of transportation, power, both hydroelectric and coal, labor costs and all items having a bearing on the subject considered.

DON'T KNOW GOLD EXTENT

Armed with authentic reports, the industrial department will become a sort of reference bureau, open to whoever desires accurate information, and at the same time serve as a liaison between claim-owner, prospector and promoter and investing capital.

United States Geological Survey investigation has revealed that there is approximately $350,000,000 worth of gold in workable places in areas covered by that department. How much more there is can only be conjectured, as there are many areas, practically unexplored, which contain as much as 2,500 square miles. This area contains many properties which have not been developed by machine methods.

Now that the Alaska Road Commission, an important adjunct to the Alaska Railroad, has showed its avenues of travel farther and farther into the country, these low-grade places are becoming great commercial assets.

THE MERIDIAN HOSPITAL TRAINING course for three years course to become a nurse. 18 to 22 years. High school required. School is accredited and affiliated with Yale University. Allowance, uniforms supplied. Classes entering in February. 1927. Head tax will be paid if you can get the real Cod Liver Vitamins in condensed form, that they can easily carry with them wherever they travel. Men and women, weak, thin and nervous, are urged to put on weight and get back their health and strength with these wonderful tablets.

One woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks and that's going fast enough for anyone. Only 60 cents for 60 tablets, and if they don't put five pounds of flesh on any thin person in 30 days—why, money back and no quibbling about it, either.

But be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine. Watson's Two Stores, Ross Drug Co. Wm. Hawker & Son, and druggists everywhere are selling lots of them.

One of the greatest strength givers in the world is Cod Liver Extract. It's full of vitamins. Thank goodness that now, when a woman is weak and haggard and doesn't weigh what she ought to, she knows where to go for help as all druggists are now selling McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets, sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

And it's a mighty good thing for skin, run-down men and women to know that they can get the real Cod Liver vitamins in condensed form, that they can easily carry with them wherever they travel.

MOVIE BEAUTY OWES MUCH TO THE CAMERA MAN

Cinematographer at Hollywood States Some of the Conditions

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 15.—Faces in the movies sometimes are more beautiful than in reality, and credit for the change is due the cameraman, says Byron Haskins, cinematographer. The attractiveness of most persons is based upon their fine complexion and coloring, the Warner Brothers cameraman explains. When the camera reduces their faces to terms of black and white they often are unattractive. A bad complexion can be concealed beneath makeup, but little can be done for irregular and unsymmetrical features. The smallest bumps and hollows make shadows.

HAZEL EYES FILM BEST.
"Because of the great photographic activity of blue light and the negligible activity of red light, hazel eyes with light rings around the pupils photograph the best," Haskins declares. "Although in life they are not usually as attractive as brown or blue. Hazel eyes show the most character and expression. Brown eyes photograph too dark for expression, blue eyes too light, although the effect of the latter may be modified by the use of filters and magnifying light."

"When colors are absent, the shadows cast by the slightest bumps or irregularities of the face are very pronounced. Many of the players most attractive on the screen appeal to one as unusual rather than beautiful when seen off screen. Their faces often have a decided style about them. Feature by feature they may be far from perfect, but there is something about the whole ensemble on the screen that is very attractive."

BRUNETTE MEN PREFERRED.

"In the filming of character actors, the cameraman's problem is often just reversed. Here he must paint in with lights and makeup, trials, sufferings, triumphs and ecstasies which the dark has perhaps never really experienced." Brunette men and blonde women have the best chances in motion pictures, asserts John Nickolaus, head of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's camera department. A dark-haired man, he said, "photographs more strongly. His outlines stand out, and thus in a man, the dark types give an expression of strength and virility. Also, blue eyes photograph gray, and in a man this gives, in most cases, a lack of expression. "A woman is different. Her face does not have to show strength and character, and blonde fluffiness lends her a charm which in a man is hardly to be desired."

HOODOO CAR.

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—The motor car in which Archduke Ferdinand of Austria was slain at Sarajevo, Bosnia, June 28, 1914—the incident that precipitated the World War—seems to be pursued by tragedy. A dealer acquired the automobile recently, and while trying to pass another car, the machine skidded, four of the party being killed.

Colleen Moore Leads In Box Office Attraction Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Colleen Moore is the best box office name in pictures, according to 278 out of 2,471 exhibitors answering a questionnaire distributed by Exhibitors Herald, a leading trade journal in the film industry, to theatres throughout the country. Tom Mix takes second place with 255 exhibitors naming him. Fred Thomson is third, with 252 favoring him.

Next in order are Harold Lloyd, Hoot Gibson, Norma Talmadge, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Thomas Meighan, Reginald Denny, Milton Sills, Richard Dix and Lon Chaney. The Exhibitors Herald, in making known the results of its survey, gives the results of "sixty best box office names" as chosen by the theatre men. It points out that to grasp the import of the assembled figures with respect to relative values of names within the various fields listed, it is necessary to study separate groups.

TO INFORM PUBLIC OF CIVIL SERVICE

Plan of The Professional Institute of Civil Service is Explained

A few days ago reference was made in The Times-Star to a meeting of the Saint John branch of the Professional Institute of the Civil Service of Canada. Speaking today of the work of the institute, which has headquarters in Ottawa, Allan R. Crookshank, assistant engineer of the Public Works Department of Saint John, said that the institute is to enlighten the public as to the various civil service departments and the work that they do.

The technical men of the departments had formed this institute. It met yesterday at Ottawa, and at the last annual meeting, ways and means for familiarizing the public were discussed.

USE ENGLISH PLAN.

It was decided to use a plan, adopted in England, of having short essays on the departments and their work broadcast by radio. This was carried out last winter, and from the CNR radio station at Ottawa several essays were broadcast. These essays proved very popular, were readily accepted by the public, and they will be continued again this winter.

The Saint John branch is hoping to arrange for broadcast from Moncton this winter, so that people of the Maritime Provinces will have a chance of learning just what is going on in the Civil Service Department.

Headlined that books were printed and essays published, in various magazines along the same line.

Stranded Sea Lion Causes Early Rising

United Press
BRIGANTINE, N. J., Nov. 15.—Investigating a terrifying incident which roused them from their beds early Sunday residents here discovered a lonely five foot lion stranded on the sand 35 feet from the surf. While the animal would allow no one to approach he snapped hungrily at bits of fish tossed by the curious. The New York City aquarium may accept him if he can be captured.

As Hiram Sees It

"There's a French officer in uniform in one of them canoes," says I to the town feller, pinin' to the patch o' moonlight on Long Beach. "That looks like old times—don't it?"

"That," says the town feller, "is the ghost of Sleur Marin, an officer that come down from Quebec to lead the Saint John river. Injuns against Annapolis Royal. That was in 1745. They went there—an' by the time they got to the fort Marin had been killed. He was six hundred Injuns an' Frenchmen under him. They couldn't take the fort. He had grabbed the hull schooners from Boston. Some Huron Injuns was with Marin that time—an' they took the captain o' one of the schooners overland by way o' the Saint John river to Quebec. They went by way of Chignecto, Shepody Bay, Petitcodiac river, Canaan river, Washademoak lake, Saint John river—and through to the St. Lawrence. A long journey wasn't nothin' to them fellers. The Saint John Injuns come home, too. We just seen the ghosts o' some of 'em in the moonlight on the river."

TORONTO LADY IS WINNER OF HOPE CHESTHERE

Mrs. C. H. Eason Holds
Winning Ticket in Orphanage's Fair Drawing

Mrs. C. H. Eason, of Toronto, is the lucky winner of the Hope Chest, which was one of the drawings in connection with the recent New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage Fair and which was the means of bringing in about $4,000 of the total sum realized by that enterprise.

The drawing for the Hope Chest took place on Saturday evening after the last show at the Imperial Theatre and the lucky number. All of the daily articles of household linen and wearing apparel which filled the handsome Hope chest were made by members of the Pythian Sisters Temples and the Pythian Sisters conducted the sale of the tickets for the Saint John Exhibition and at the orphanage fair.

On Saturday night also they did a brisk business in selling tickets to members of the audience in the Imperial Theatre. Their sales on Saturday night realized $148. The Hope Chest itself is a very beautiful piece of furniture, the work of Emerys, cabinet makers of Saint John, and made of solid mahogany lined with cedar. It is made with claw and ball feet and on Chippendale lines.

THOROUGHLY "MIXED"

The tickets on the Hope Chest were placed in a large box on Saturday night and while the box was on a table the tickets were thoroughly mixed. Then they were all dumped out into a half barrel and it was rolled round on the stage. The Mayor then turned his back on the barrel and picked out one ticket. The lucky number was 5228.

Manager W. H. Golding, of the Imperial Theatre, and William M. Campbell, chairman of the Orphanage Fair Committee, were on the stage and conducted the drawing. Mr. Eason, whose wife was the much-coveted Hope Chest, is on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia and a few years ago was transferred from here to Toronto.

The second drawing in connection with the Orphanage Fair is that for the automobile and will be conducted next Saturday night at the Imperial Theatre.

SEPARATE BRANCH MEETING THIS WEEK

Will Draw up Petition For Presentation to A. A. U. Here Next Month

Plans for the formation of a New Brunswick branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada are progressing favorably. It was said this morning by one of the provisional officers of the new organization and it was expected that a meeting would be held this week to draw up a petition for presentation to the parent body at its annual meeting here next month. H. O. Schryer, of Bathurst, vice-president of the new organization, was in the city last week and was in consultation with Col. N. P. MacLeod, the president, when it was decided to hold the meeting and make formal application for a charter.

Replies have been received to circulars sent out some time ago to the various clubs of the province to the effect that more than 50 per cent. were in favor of a separate branch.
