WAR CLOUD HANGS OVER MOROCCO.

French Warships are in Readiness to Strike.

Morocco's Sultan Refuses to Release a French Subject From Prison—France May Recall Her Minister.

TANGIER, Morocco, Aug. 30.—The sultan has replied by letter to the minister that he continues to regard the recently arrested French-Algerian merchant Boudan, as a Moroccan subject and will refuse to comply with the demands of the French government for his liberation.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—The foreign office has issued an announcement to the effect that today or tomorrow the French minister at Fez, Strens Tallandier, will be able to address a final summons to the Moroccan foreign office relative to the release of the French-Algerian merchant Boudan. The minister at the same time will advise the Moroccan government of his intention to leave Fez if the demand for the release of Boudan and redress for his arrest be not complied with. M. Tallandier will be instructed to reach Tangier by the surest route and to take such steps as may be deemed necessary after his arrival there if in the meantime the demands remain unsatisfied. Despatches from Toulon to the French newspapers announce that in view of the trouble with Morocco the cruisers Charnier, Bruix, Pothuau, Chanzy, Latouche-Tréville and Requin are being held in readiness.

GALAIS SOCIETY FOOLED.

Young Englishman With a Bogus Title, Went From St. John and Fleeced Many People.

CALAIS, Aug. 29.—A young Englishman of education and refinement who in spite of the fact that he engaged in the humble capacity of farm hand succeeded in gaining passage to the local society, has disappeared under a cloud and, it is said, several persons who obliged him with sums of money are feeling just a trifle sore over the affair. The young man, who claims to be son of a lord, arrived on the border about two weeks ago, presumably from Manitoba, where he secured a grant of land after serving in the Boer war. Not liking the country out that way he came east to St. John and eventually landed in this city. He was a brilliant conversationalist and showed unlimited evidence of his excellent breeding and found little difficulty in establishing himself in the good graces of the summer colony at De Monts.

Letters and drafts from England continued his new friends of the validity of his claims and when funds were shy on account of the failure of his remittances to arrive promptly he experienced little difficulty in negotiating loans and having his checks cashed. Now he has departed and his erstwhile friends are saying mean things about him.

Jack Manners Temple, as the Englishman claims his name to be, is, according to his own story a brother to Sir Richard Manners Temple of London. A disagreement with his family is alleged as the cause for his roaming over the world, but he expects to return again to old England some day and claim his rights. Temple told certain parties that he was engaged in the manufacture of a path much in demand with piano and furniture manufacturers and stated that he had received big orders from various firms for the goods. He announced his intention of locating permanently in Calais and establishing a factory.

Of course everybody concerned in the introduction of Temple to society denies liability, and the subject is at present a rather delicate one to broach in some circles.

VOLCANOS IN ERUPTION.

NAPLES, Aug. 30.—Mount Vesuvius is in full eruption and is throwing out an enormous mass of lava. Deep rumblings are heard in the interior of the crater, and lava is flowing the right side of the cone.

MESSINA, Sicily, Aug. 30.—The ancient crater in the Island of Stromboli is in full eruption, and is ejecting a heavy mass of lava. Dense smoke hangs over the island. Panic prevails in the villages around the volcano, and the villagers are leaving.

HEAVY TRAVEL DELAYS TRAINS.

The express from Boston was forty minutes late in arriving here today the delay being ascribed to the heavy travel caused by the Bangor fair. The Montreal or Atlantic express was three hours late, the delay in this case being caused by an accident to a locomotive when the train was near Greenville.

BICYCLE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The American quarter-mile amateur bicycle championship was captured last night at the Valsburg track in Newark by Teddy Billington, of the National A. C. of Brooklyn. His clubmate, James Stearns, finished second. Iver Lawson, of Salt Lake City, was defeated in straight heats by Frank L. Kramer, American champion for the last four years.

WITTE AS RUSSIA'S PRIME MINISTER.

High Office Awaits the Victor of Peace Conference---Treaty Being Drafted Today---British Comment.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 30.—Mr. de Martens and Mr. Denison will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the navy yard to begin the work of drafting the treaty.

KING EDWARD CONGRATULATES MARIENBAD, Austria, Aug. 30.—King Edward, upon receipt of the peace announcement immediately despatched his congratulations to the emperors of Japan and Russia, and to President Roosevelt, and also telegraphed to Queen Alexandra his joy at receiving such news.

SERVES RUSSIA RIGHT, SAYS PRINCE OUKHTOMSKY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 30.—"A great diplomatic victory for M. Witte, but a moral victory for Japan," is the verdict of Prince Oukhtomsky in his editorial in the Vedomosti today. He editorialized in the Vedomosti today. He editorialized in the Vedomosti today. He editorialized in the Vedomosti today.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The evening papers follow the lead of the morning newspapers in the bestowing of praises on President Roosevelt, to whom they give the fullest credit for the outcome of the conference whose decision was entirely at variance with their daily predictions since the opening of the negotiations. Both papers and people were so astounded at the outcome of the conference that they felt that there is some thing in the agreement arrived at which has not yet been published, and that if this is not the case then the new Anglo-Japanese treaty has affected the result in some way.

In this connection the Pall Mall Gazette says: "The enlarged treaty with England may have a considerable weight in persuading the Mikado and his advisors that Japan's position in the Far East is now practically impregnable and that peace may be made without pressing for the payment of indemnity."

The paper adds: "Japan now stands in a position of impregnable supremacy in the Far East, and this supremacy could be disputed by a coalition against which her alliance with the greatest naval power in the world constitutes an absolute guarantee."

Arguing that Japan might after consideration feel more satisfied with having gained the points for which she took up arms, the Pall Mall continues: "Asia lies at her feet and particularly China. China has been a bone of contention all along. England and the United States will have every reason to be thankful for the triumph of Japan."

Referring to Japan's decision to give up her demand for an indemnity, the Westminster Gazette says: "It needed only a moment's reflection to see how greatly her moral and material position must have been worsened if after having abandoned the substantial points for which she undertook the war, and all the enormous assets that go with them she had taken the responsibility for renewing the war on the question of costs which could not in the long run have been recovered against an opponent who was determined not to pay. The policy of Japan is to concentrate herself upon the formidable task of developing what her victory has given her, and even a successful war which would have left her in possession of further territory must have dissipated her energies and weakened her position."

This evening's Standard says "Russia has won one of the greatest diplomatic victories in the history of the world. Nor are we inclined to begrudge M. Witte his share of glory. He fought magnificently for Russia and thanks in a large measure to his tactical ability he won out."

WITTE AS PRIME MINISTER. The same paper prints a despatch from St. Petersburg, which says M. Witte will return the hero of the day, and that it is not impossible that he may become a sort of prime minister. "It is believed, however," says the despatch, "that he will refuse unless freedom of the press and personality are guaranteed."

CANADIAN WRESTLER DEFEATED DES MOINES, Cal., Aug. 30.—Jack Carr, the Montana cowboy, defeated D. Pihores, Canadian champion, in a wrestling match here last night. Carr took the first two falls in 15 minutes and 20 seconds and 12 minutes, respectively.

JOHN MITCHELL HURLS DEFIANCE.

Possibility of Another Coal Strike Intimated.

No Peace in the Anthracite Region Until Miners Gain the Day and Union is Recognized.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A Tamaqua despatch to the American quotes President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, as saying: "So far as I am concerned there can be no lasting peace in the anthracite region until the miners gain the day and the union is recognized by the operators." President Mitchell reiterated this challenge to the local camps last night at an enthusiastic meeting of miners of the Panther Creek Valley.

He also read out of the ranks all men who do not belong to the union, and declared that so far as he was concerned he would not raise a finger to aid non-union men to gain their rights.

TROUBLE IN A. M. E. CHURCH African Bishop of New York, Has Resigned on Account of Church Quarrel Based on Politics.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—As the result of a serious illness, brought about on account of worry over the treatment accorded him by the officials of a colored church, this city, and two churches in Brooklyn, Bishop Benjamin W. Arnett, has resigned as bishop of the New York diocese of the African Methodist Episcopal church. The bishop's council of the church yesterday relieved him of all work in connection with the Philadelphia, New Jersey and New England conference, which with the New York conference, comprise the first Episcopal district.

Bishop Arnett's appointment of Dr. S. Timothy Rice, as presiding elder of the New York conference is stated to have stirred up trouble. Great pressure was brought to bear on the bishop to remove Dr. Rice, because of the latter's political affiliations but he would not consent and finally resigned his office, three of the churches having threatened to withdraw. Bishop Tanner has been placed in charge of New York and New England conference, and Bishop Levi J. Coppin, formerly bishop of South Africa, has been assigned to the Philadelphia and New Jersey conference.

ORIGIN OF THE WORD "FARM."

The origin of the word "farm" is as follows: In the saxon time the estates which the lords of manors granted to the freemen were at first but for a term of years, with a render of a rent, which in those days was of corn and other produce. The leases so made were called farms, or farms, but times ensuing turned the produce into money and terms of years to terms of life and inheritance.

CLOUDY WEATHER OBSCURED ECLIPSE.

Only Occasional Glimpses Seen in St. John.

New York and Boston Similarly Unlucky But Washington Had Good View—No Word From Labrador.

Those who had sufficient interest in the troubles of old soil to forsake their comfortable beds this morning at the early hour of six o'clock were poorly rewarded for their trouble. The eclipse may have been a success in Labrador or Arabia but as far as St. John was concerned it did not amount to much. It was not scheduled to be of much account here and to make matters worse the weather was cloudy, only an occasional indistinct glimpse of the shaded disk being visible.

(Special to the Star.)
MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—Owing to cloudy weather the partial eclipse of the sun was not visible here this morning, many people prepared to take observations being disappointed. WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The eclipse of the sun today was only partly visible at this point and for a part of the time of its duration the sun was obscured by clouds. Nevertheless the phenomenon was observed with interest at the United States naval observatory and by many amateur astronomers. The sun was never obscured to the extent of more than six tenths of its diameter and the obscuration attained its maximum at 4:30 a. m. The observatory astronomers used their five inch comet seeking telescope and were enabled to observe three spots on the sun. This was no discovery, however, as the presence of the spots had become known before.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 30.—Observation of the sun's eclipse at Harvard observatory today was impossible because of the clouds. NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The partial eclipse of the sun, which it was hoped could have been seen in New York early today was completely obscured by clouds and foggy atmosphere.

COULD NOT ESCAPE GHOST OF CRIME.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—Goaded to the verge of madness by the picture of a killing photographed on his brain, Carl Zarbie, a farm hand, today surrendered to Sheriff Wilson T. Jones, of Gloucester county, N. J. Zarbie said he had killed a man in Virginia last January. Telegraphic inquiry brought the information that Zarbie's confession was true and that there was a big reward on his head.

A month ago Zarbie, like many other farm hands, came from no one knows where to work for a farmer in Greenfield township. The farmer noticed that the farm hand was moody. At night groans could be heard coming from his room. Finally the strain became too great, and this morning Zarbie told him employer that he wanted to go to the nearest office of the law and deliver himself up as a murderer. The farmer at first thought the man's mind was affected, but Zarbie showed such evident sincerity and talked so rationally that, considering the other signs of trouble, the farmer was convinced that something was wrong.

The farmer accordingly accompanied the man to the office of Sheriff Jones. There Zarbie repeated his account of his crime. On January 13 last, said the man, he had killed James Jeffries, a comrade, in a town in Virginia in the heat of a quarrel, and he had been stricken with remorse immediately. Since then, declared Zarbie, he had not known a minute's peace of mind. Day after day, as he went about his work, the image of Jeffries and the remembrance of the crime would come before him. Night after night as he lay down on his bed the scene would return to him and he could not sleep. Only incessant work, said Zarbie, had prevented him from going mad long ago but the time had come when nothing could save him from such a pass unless he surrendered himself and underwent the punishment he deserved. He begged to be hanged. Mere imprisonment, he said, could not wipe out the enormity that pursued him.

Lord Cornwallis had surrendered. "I decided it was the best thing to do," he explained to the reporters. "It's a great deal cheaper all round than it would be for the two countries to hold a peace conference. Think of the cable tolls!" Besides, as he reflected afterward, it didn't bind King George to the payment of an indemnity—Chicago Tribune.

A new definition of "friend" was given by a Manchester schoolboy the other day in an essay. "A friend is a person who knows all about you, and likes you just the same."

THE END OF THE WAR.
The war is over and the whole civil-ized world sighs with relief and thankfulness not only that the awful orgy has come to an end but that it has ended without involving other nations. For no day since the beginning of the struggle has been without its danger of a general melee and at times the situation has been shiveringly acute. But for the vision of Britain behind Japan, armed and ready to strike at the first intimation of unfriendliness to her ally, it is almost certain that something would have happened to widen the conflict, perhaps to the dimensions of a world war.

Brief though the fight has been, as wars go, few conflicts of history have been so destructive to life and treasure, so distinguished by great stages and battles by land and sea and few have been more revolutionary in their results. One year and six months and twenty-one days, scarcely a day without its stirring incident, have sufficed for the raising of a little known and apparently insignificant nation to the rank of a world power, for the humbling to earth of one of the greatest nations on earth and for the most dangerous naval battle and the greatest land battle ever recorded since men first learned the art of murder.

Japan a year and a half ago was a nation of little note occupying a country of small size and small natural wealth, with no prospect of territorial expansion and apparently in imminent danger of extinction under the paw of the advancing Bear. Today she is the dominant power in that portion of the globe which for the next century will be the centre of world politics; and has unlimited possibilities of expansion and development—possibilities and has unlimited possibilities of many nations are aghast at the prospect.

Eighteen months ago Russia was the most aggressive nation in Europe. The equidistant East lay almost in her grasp; Japan seemed a mere fly in her path and world waited fearfully for her next move. Today she is humiliated and discredited. Her progress Eastward—the slow work of generations—has been arrested and she has been hurried back to wait growingly for more generations before another advance in that direction is possible, if it is ever possible.

That is the net result of the slaughter and maiming of hundreds of thousands of brave men and the expenditure of billions of dollars in the war which ended yesterday.

In compensation for this the Russian people have the knowledge that the war has advanced them many steps on the road toward political freedom, while the Russian government may extract some satisfaction from the fact that but for the ability and cunning of their peace envoys who have been so far from the Japanese plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth the result might have been even worse.

For Russia has undoubtedly got the better of the peace negotiations and has prevented Japan from enforcing some important demands which the result of the fighting justified her in making. The Japanese envoys came to the conference with an unbroken succession of victories at their back and the practical certainty that a continuation of the war meant more such victories. From this platform they nominated the conditions upon which they would make peace—reimbursement for the cost of the war; cession of Sakhalin Island; Russian evacuation of Manchuria and surrender of the Liao Tung peninsula with Port Arthur and Daini; recognition of Japan's protectorate over Korea; surrender of interned Russian war ships; cession to Japan of the branch of the trans-Siberian railway below Harbin; mutual recognition of the "open door" in China; grant of fishing rights to Japan off the Siberian coast and finally a limitation of the naval strength of Russia in Far Eastern waters.

From the other side of the scale the Russian envoys pointed to the terms which they considered fair and agreed to them. But upon any point where concession meant an open admission of defeat, confession to the world that if the war were renewed Russia expected the Japanese success to continue, Witte and Rosen stood firm. What Japan had already won by force of arms she could keep, as was her right, but nothing based on the future prospects would be granted, and above all no indemnity, under any guise, would be paid.

From this position they refused to recede, in spite of imminent danger of a rupture of the conference, and so manoeuvred the negotiations as to make it appear to the world that Japan was resting on the cash basis only, was offering peace for a money price with the alternative of war if the price were not forthcoming.

Then the Japanese, cornered as cleverly as was Kuroki at Mukden, threw up their hands and practically submitted to the Russians on every disputed point. They had no alternative except the continuance of the war as a fight for tribute.

So there is some foundation for Witte's little boast, "We have had our Liao Yang and Mukden and Tsushima; Japan has her Portsmouth."

But as it is Japan got all she was fighting for, and more. Port Arthur, twice captured, is one of her greatest defences instead of her chief menace. Korea is her province and Manchuria her colony, greatly needed to relieve the pressure of her teeming population. Daini, the port built by the Russian government, at enormous expenditure, is now her possession, and also the railway leading thence, or as much of it as Oyama's troops have passed over.

She has secured rich fishing rights in Siberian waters and has wrested from Russia the better half of Sakhalin Island, at the same time removing all menace in that direction by inducing Russia to agree to the neutralization of the whole island from a military standpoint. By forcing from Russia the long delayed recognition of the "open door" policy for Far Eastern trade she has opened a leading to boundless trade development for herself. And though Russia boasts of evading the indemnity demands Japan will have the comfort of receiving from the Czar full payment for the travelling expenses and board of all Russian prisoners taken during the war.

As for the results of the conference, while it may be soothing to Russian pride it can have no counter effect on the policy of the Russian government. If her surrender was not all magnanimity—and it came a little too late for that—at least it was not inspired by any fear or any lack of confidence in the result of the war, however prolonged. She had won what she chiefly desired and practically all that she could hope for. What the nation needs now is peace and a chance to grow into its new clothes and the sacrifice she has had to make to reach this end is so trivial beside her glorious war record and her splendid conquests that history will probably forget all about it.

The next decade will be even more important to Japan than the last. She has fought her way to world power, but can she hold that position in the conflicts of peace time? Ability to fight cannot maintain a nation in the front ranks among the powers. Unless Japan can show equal superiority in the arts of peace she will cut as sorry a figure in the world as a prize fighter among keen business men. But few will doubt her ability to make good. Indeed there is strong ground for fear that with the greatest market of the world at her door, her progress in trade and especially in manufacturing will menace the prosperity of the nations who now monopolize the trade of the Orient.

Undoubtedly history will give to President Roosevelt a large place in its record of the close of this great war. Not only was his the hand that arrested the combatants and made the peace conference possible, but, if contemporary historians can be believed, only his intervention prevented a rupture of negotiations before yesterday's glad consummation was reached. While he was the only ruler so situated that he could take such action disinterestedly he has certainly taken good advantage of his position and done the world a valuable service, at the same time enlarging the place of the United States in world politics.

But the man of the hour is M. Witte. One of the strongest voices against the war he was called in to remedy as far as possible the blunders of those who had forced the conflict with its humiliating outcome. And he has accomplished more than that to hope. What ever Kuroki and his lieutenants have done for the discredit of Russia's military prowess he has shown the world that Russia is still a force and has lost none of its skill in diplomacy.

Had the palm of victory in the peace conference gone to Baron Komura, he would still have been outdone at home by Oyama and Togo and Kuroki and Nogai and Kamimura and the others to whom national honor is due for triumphs on land and sea. But for the Russians Witte is the only man who has accomplished anything for his country since the war began. There should await him at home all acclamation and honor and reward. But, his home being Russia, he can consider himself lucky if he escapes Siberia.

THE DEAR OLD DAYS.
Gimme back the dear old days—all the boys in line—
"Boy stood on the burnin' deck," an' "Bingen on the Rhine!"
"Twas midnight; in his guarded tent—we spoke it high and low,
While Mary trotted out that lamb "whose fleece was white as snow!"
Gimme back the dear old days that Mem'ry loves to keep,
With "a danger on the deep!"
The old-time awkward gestures—the jerk meant for a bow—
"V" and "L" and "C" should not ring,
"Lord, it's ringing now!"
Gimme back the dear old days—the path-way through the dells
To the schoolhouse in the blossoms,
The sound of far-off bells
"Tinkling" across the meadows; the song of the bird an' brook;
The old-time dictionary, an' the blue-back spellin' book!

Gone, like a dream forever!—A city's hid the place
Where stood the old log schoolhouse; an' no familiar face
Is smilin' there in welcome beneath a mornin' sky—
There's a bridge across the river; an' we've crossed, an' said "Good-bye!"

Dispute in Intermediate Football Circles—D. A. R. Matches—Amherst Races—Makes a New Record

FOOTBALL.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE.

The meeting of the intermediate league football executive was held last evening, and marked the beginning of the struggle between the Neptunes and the new club known as the Beavers as to rights and privileges of each to enter teams in the league. The meeting adjourned until Thursday without coming to any decision on this knotty question.

Mr. Moore of Rotherham, the donor of the intermediate league trophy, occupied the chair. The representatives present were as follows:

Carleton—Rev. G. F. Scott and Roy Baskin.

Fairville—Dr. Curran and Rev. A. M. Hill.

Neptunes—H. G. Ellis and H. D. Forbes.

A communication was read from the Trinity Association, stating that the club would not be represented in the league this fall.

The Beavers club then made application to join in the league, and S. J. Taylor and H. H. Macmillan appeared before the executive to support the Beavers' claims. No decision, however, was reached.

The present trouble was precipitated by Mr. Taylor, who was last year's manager of the Neptune football team, starting the new club and team from the men who last year played on the Neptunes. This has resulted in the partial breaking up of the Neptune fifteen and the club declares that it will oppose the entrance of the Beavers in the league.

Three-fourths of the half-back line, consisting of Capt. Ellis, Townsend and Barnaby, are still with the club; the quarters and most of the forwards can be replaced by older men, and there seems no reason why the Neptunes should not have a good team in the field. There is practically no standard in this city to decide senior and intermediate football.

The members of the new club say they left the N. R. C. because of its lack of support towards athletics in general, and that they have been playing this year with the Neptunes in any case; so that the new team has every right to enter the league.

The N. R. C., if they fail to win out in the executive, have a card or two in reserve.

In the meantime the season comes quickly on, and it is hoped by all interested followers of the game that the present difficulty will be solved quickly and the league started.

ATHLETIC.

FLANAGAN'S NEW RECORD.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The world's record for the 56-pound weight, thrown from stand without follow, was broken here today by John Flanagan of the Irish-American Athletic Club, who hurled the missile 31 ft. 5 in. 1 foot 10 1/2 inches beyond the record throw of 29 ft. 6 in. made by himself last winter at Madison Square Garden.

YACHTING.

LIVERPOOL, N. S. S., Aug. 29.—Today was another test of seamanship of the crews of the yachts in the ocean race from St. John's to Shelburne, and again the Gloria proved her superiority over her larger American competitor, Hope Lisle. The boats started from Chester at 10:15 and the Gloria finished first at 5:30.15. The Hope Lisle did not reach here till 9 o'clock, the breeze having fallen.

The steam yacht Scionda, of St. John, is here, having accompanied the racers. They will start from here for Shelburne in the morning.

THE RING.

A NEW PUGILISTIC STAR.
A new star on the pugilistic horizon in this vicinity is "Dick" Bailey, formerly of London, Eng., but now a resident of this city. Bailey, who is employed in the Vulcan iron works, says that he is desirous of testing on a bout with Dan Littlejohn, both McLeod, or Ryan. Both McLeod, and Lisle is one of the offences most severely condemned.

According to the theory of the Mexican law, every person has a right to go about entirely free from annoyance by other persons. If the person violates the law, the newspaper has no right to say so. It can lay information before the courts if it wants to, but it must not say in its columns that it has done so. Then the law will step in and take charge of the offender, but the representatives of the paper will not be allowed to attend the trial, and only the bare result, after weeks of waiting, can be told to the public.

If the offence charged against the editor is regarded by the first magistrate to whom the complaint is made as being especially grave, the paper is generally suppressed. The complaint has been received and passed upon. Then a squad of police descend upon the printing office. Sometimes all the employees are arrested, sometimes only the editor. Then the doors of the building are closed, official seals are placed upon them and a guard is stationed to see that no one tries to enter. For three days the editor can do nothing. The laws under which he is arrested are modeled after those of the code Napoleon, and for three days he is held incommunicado, while the authorities hunt up evidence. Then he is given a hearing. In the meantime, his paper has been suppressed, and in many cases it never comes to life again, even though the editor may eventually clear himself of all blame.

DON'T WANT TURBINES.

North German Lloyd Line Sticks to the Old Type Improved—Less Vibration and More Speed.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 29.—One of the managers of the North German Lloyd, Mr. Botha de Pavlovski, of Paris, staying at the Westworth, at Portsmouth, continued the statement that his company ordered yesterday from the shipyard at Stettin, Germany, a duplicate of the Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The ship will be built on the plans of the Kaiser Wilhelm II., which is considered among naval architects the perfection of a modern fast express steamship.

The vessel will be fitted with reciprocating engines, as the reports of the experts of the North German Lloyd have all been against the employment of turbines on very large and fast steamships, the latter motive power being regarded as one that will take many years to perfect.

The engines of the proposed ship will have the same power as the Kaiser Wilhelm II., 40,000, but the builders expect, with the experience gained and the continued progress made by naval architects, to increase the speed by more than half a knot, so that the ship is expected to maintain an average speed of twenty-four knots an hour, while the coal consumption will be smaller.

Although vibration exists only to a small degree on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. and is less perceptible than on any fast steamship afloat, the Vulkan engineers believe they have found a way to make it disappear altogether.

The interior decorations will surpass in luxury and comfort anything ever attempted upon ocean liners. There will be nearly fifty chambers de luxe, with private baths and toilets, the great majority of cabins will have lower beds, and many of them will be of the popular single bedroom class.

This latest addition to the fleet of the North German Lloyd will make her trial trip in April, 1907.

THE MEXICAN EDITOR.

The newspaper laws of Mexico are very stringent. If any person is mentioned in a newspaper article, and feels offended about it, he can easily send the editor of the paper and the writer of the article to prison. The statements may have been far within the limits of truth and justice, but makes no difference. The editor incommunicado, has a chance to think about the law, and the aggrieved person smiles placidly. After a while the law gets in its work, the case is investigated and the editor is punished for even the truth is libelous, and libel is one of the offences most severely condemned.

CITY AND TELEPHONE CO., IN A SMALL SIZED WAR

Geo. Graham Appointed Harbor Master at Indiantown---Want Street Railway to Pay For Further Privileges.

Considerable business was transacted at yesterday's meeting of the board of works. The Ludlow will be registered and will probably be taken over on Thursday or Friday of this week. The street railway will have the right to lay a siding on City road, and the New Brunswick Telephone Company's open defiance of the city will not be passed unnoticed.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Christie.

Naval Architect McLean reported that all but one or two small matters were finished on the new ferry boat Ludlow. He would like to turn the boat over to the city on Thursday or Friday. It will then be ready to run, and will come up to his own as well as the city's expectations. If run in company with another boat she will have to be handicapped in time, she will come up to his own as well as the city's expectations. If run in company with another boat she will have to be handicapped in time, she will come up to his own as well as the city's expectations.

He desired very much to hand over the boat. The papers have not yet been finished and Mr. Olney, the inspector cannot do this until he knows the owners. The city must first take the boat. He asked that Mr. Cushing be instructed to take out such papers. He wished also that a final official visit be made by Supt. Glasgow, so that he may be perfectly satisfied that all is in the most serviceable shape.

To Aid. Baxter—The air pump will be all right when running on the short trips between the slips. The feed pump will also prove more than ample. The boat is not designed to run for hours at a stretch, but it will actually be only at high speed for periods of one or two minutes at a time.

The director said all the necessary papers were being put on the boat. Aid. Macrae moved the necessary steps be taken to secure Mr. Olney's inspection, and a small committee be appointed for this purpose.

Aid. McGoldrick thought the boat was to be taken over as soon as every thing was finished, and Mr. Burrey reported the specifications had been thoroughly carried out.

Aid. Macrae's motion was carried, and the director and recorder were instructed to take the necessary steps to have the boat registered.

After that the meeting gave its certificate that all the necessary requirements of the specifications.

Mr. McLean was granted an extension of his trip to this city occasioned by the delay in finishing the boat, the payment to be made when the architect's certificate is delivered.

Aid. Baxter wished to have patterns of the boat's machinery kept in the city's possession in case of future needs or repairs.

S. Schofield and Mr. McGivern were then called in regarding the rates on coal in the McLeod warehouse.

The chairman said the discussion be limited to 15 minutes. The delegation objected to this and preferred to come on a less busy day. The subject was a large one, and could hardly be confined to 15 minutes.

Aid. McGoldrick favored a special committee to be appointed. It was decided to postpone the discussion of the matter until Friday, when a special meeting will be held to take up the matter of the storing of coal in the McLeod warehouse.

Wm. Thomson & Co. asked for the rental of a wharf at Reed's Point for the str. Senac. They were willing to pay $700 rental and make the necessary changes. The matter was referred to the director.

N. B. TELEPHONE CO. DEPT. CITY. Fred R. Thompson, managing director of the New Brunswick Telephone Co., gave the council notice that the company would go ahead with the placing of its proposed conduit system on several streets. They will do this under the powers granted by the legislature to the company.

Aid. Baxter wanted the matter referred to the recorder with instructions to put an injunction on the company as soon as the start in the operation of the conduit system.

The chairman said the company were willing to give the city one stand for its rights and if necessary rates would not be increased.

Aid. Macrae moved the matter be referred to the company in case they start in.

Aid. Baxter wanted the city to make a stand for its rights and if necessary rates would not be increased.

The cost of a test case will not be more than $200 or $300.

No action was taken.

The director said the pavement record of every bit of street repair. The tenders for granite blocks will be opened by the director and chairman.

HARBOR MASTER AT INDIANTOWN.
The ballot on the appointment as harbor master at Indiantown resulted as follows: Geo. Graham, 7; Mr. Ackery, 1; Mr. Logan, 1.

Mr. Graham was thereupon appointed harbor master.

A report on improvements on Cranston avenue and Rockland road was presented by Aid. McGoldrick and Pickett. This was referred to the director.

A communication on the Connolly case and new trial was filed.

Aid. Holder said No. 5 engine house should have asphalt in front of the aisle instead of blocks. The matter was referred to the director.

Aid. McGoldrick wanted Manors Sutton street placed on record and some improvements made.

The engineer said the street was not a record.

The board then adjourned.

STREET RAILWAY'S SIDINGS.

The St. John Railway Co.'s application for a siding on City road was favorably reported upon by the director. Aid. Pickett said the railway was trying to better the service on that line, and he thought it would be in the interests of that part of the city if a small committee be appointed to discuss the matter with the railway and the residents of that vicinity.

Aid. Baxter—"What will they pay for the siding?"

Aid. Pickett—"The betterment of the service."

The company will give a double loop service as soon as switches are put in at King and Main streets, with two cars running each way.

Aid. McGoldrick said the company should be encouraged in giving a better service. The subject was brought up by the railway company; they did not show any quarter to the city when they had the chance.

Aid. Pickett's motion was carried. The committee will report on Friday.

The company also wished a siding of 100 feet at the Indiantown wharves. The committee reported in favor of this also.

Aid. Baxter—"What will they pay for it?"

The chairman—"I am glad some one is taking an interest in the money matters of the city, and if you make a motion I will be pleased to put it."

The matter was sent back for a report on the quid pro quo feature.

Aid. Baxter said the people of Carleton would not let the company to come into the west end. The company must come first to the council.

Aid. Tilley said Mr. McLean was waiting to meet a committee and discuss the matter.

Aid. Baxter—"If he sends a note to that effect I will call the committee."

A retaining wall will be built for Chas. Rippey if the funds permit. The Mt. Pleasant retaining wall also was discussed. The subject was brought up through a letter from Hanington, Teed & Hanington.

The chairman said all was safe.

Aid. Pickett thought it would be better if the fence were removed. He moved the letter be referred to the director with instructions to try to improve conditions under conditions of $25. Aid. Tilley moved it lay over until the next meeting.

The amendment of Aid. Tilley was carried.

NO EXTRA STORY ON NO. 3 WAREHOUSE.

A. T. Dunn wished to know what the council would do regarding the extra story on No. 3 warehouse.

The common clerk will inform him that the city does not intend to build any more stories to the building.

The residents around Victoria square asked that the square be placed in good condition.

Aid. Holder said he doubted if anything would be done even if he got an order for it. The city did nothing to the square at Indiantown, although he got an order for this. The street waste could be placed there.

The question of the payment for the repairs on the Newmarket Brook bridge was brought up by the director. He wished to bill the railway company for one-half the cost. The matter was referred to the director and the recorder.

Aid. Macrae moved the resolution in favor of the department of marine and fisheries taking over the buoys in the harbor and maintaining them.

The tenders for coal were awarded to R. P. & W. F. Starr at the following rates: 3 tons Honeybrook Lighthouse, 135 tons Reserve, run of mine, at $3.60.

Aid. McGoldrick said that a gentleman wished to lay a piece of his company's pavement on Gernall street at a low rate to introduce their style of work. The pavement is permanent, but it can be lifted to lay down sewers and for other repair work.

The director said the pavement record of every bit of street repair. The tenders for granite blocks will be opened by the director and chairman.

(Buffalo Enquirer.)

"The late General Lew Wallace," said a novelist, "often used to claim that in the art of bookmaking, to get a work published was quite as difficult as to write it well."

"He claimed that good writers were poor in this world's goods, because they neglected the publishing side of the vocation. Such neglect was foolish on their part. It indicated bad judgment. It reminded him, Gen. Wallace, told me one day, of the bathhouse-keeper of Ocean View."

"This bathhouse-keeper knew the working side of his business beautifully. No one with a glance could judge a man's or a woman's size and hand out a perfectly fitting bathing suit as well as he. No one kept his bathhouse cleaner, supplied better towels, or furnished such elaborate shower baths. So far so good. But, like the average novelist, this man fell short on certain other things, and thus the effect of all his honest work miscarried."

"He was continually making the most foolish and inexplicable breaks, continually losing patronage."

"For instance, a young woman wanted a bathhouse one morning, and he told her she would have to wait awhile, as all the houses were occupied. Then he came from his little office, peeped through a knothole in a nearby bathhouse, and said:

"It will only be a moment though, Miss. This lady in here is almost dressed."

The Nova Scotia plum crops must certainly be a bad failure this year as a large quantity of plums are being shipped to that province from this city. Yesterday Messrs. A. L. Goodwin made several large shipments. Now is the right time to buy plums as in a very few days the price will be doubled.

The driver of M. E. Grass' grocery delivery wagon has complained to the police that on Saturday while driving through North street he was stoned by a number of small boys and only escaped injury because they were bad shots and by the speed of his horse when he applied the gad.

The officers of the North End Church League were entertained last night at the home of F. O'Neill, the umpire, where an enjoyable evening passed too quickly. The party broke up in "the wee sma' hours" and the boys were all united in expressing appreciation of the umpire's willingness and ability to help through the season's sport.

The wheelbarrow steam yacht made by Messrs. Roberts and Sprague of Victoria street, Indianapolis, has proved a great success. Some who saw the peculiar mechanical gear of the freak boat predicted disaster for her, but she has fooled them all. The little steamer is run by a bicycle gear on the stern wheel principle and makes over six miles an hour.

FERRY REPAIRS BEING RUSHED.

It is expected that the work on the ferry floats on both the east and west sides will be completed by the end of the week when the regular service will be resumed. At present only foot passengers are being carried by the ferry steamer much to the disgust of merchants who complain bitterly of the extra expense of the long haul around the bridge. This, however, could not be avoided as it was absolutely necessary to do final arrangements for the new steamer could be made.

The Ladies will be put on the route just as soon as naval architect McLean will take over the steamer from the contractors which will not be until she has been registered.

THE HAMPTSTEAD'S MISHAP.

An entire new shaft is being made in the machine shop of Fred Williamson, Bridge street, Indianapolis, for the steamer Hampstead which met with quite a serious accident at Brown's Wharf on the river a few days ago. The Hampstead was swinging free from the mooring place, when the after part swung on a projecting timber—part of the ice protectors—and the great weight bent the large shaft which was out of the water. So great a strain was made in the iron that a new shaft complete is being made. The Hampstead has been put back considerably by the mishap, which would not have occurred had the river been its usual height but it continues very low, the lowest in many years.

PEACE REJOICING IN BOSTON.

R. B. Emerson returned today from Boston where he went to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Emerson says that the announcement that peace had been agreed upon was received about 11 o'clock and created a tremendous lot of excitement, particularly in the business districts where a regular demonstration was made. The rejoicing was the greater as all seemed to look upon the reconciliation as the achievement of President Roosevelt.

ASSAULTED WIFE BECAUSE BREAKFAST WAS LATE.

Trouble in Garrick Family Aired in Police Court—Evidence in Case Against Cabman.

Two drunks first received the notice of the court this morning. One arrested for being drunk and swearing on the public streets was fined $8 or two months for the former offence and remanded on the latter.

An Englishman who came here lately to work on the water extension for McArthur and McVey was fined $4 or thirty days for being drunk. The Englishman pleaded that the work on the extension was too hard for him and that he was so weak that he became drunk on a few glasses of beer. When he came to this city he had sixty cents and he had still thirty of them left.

The assault case against John Garrick, brought by his wife, Mabel Garrick, next received an airing. Mrs. Garrick on the stand said that her husband the other morning became ugly with her and threw a stick at her striking her on the back of the head. He also said swear words to her. The magistrate asked the nature of his language and after some hesitation she repeated them.

The couple have been married for two or three years and live on Broad street. Garrick is employed as a longshoreman. They have frequently quarrelled before Mrs. Garrick said. The trouble this time was about the preparation of breakfast. Neither heard the alarm clock and as a result Garrick was delayed in getting to his work. Mrs. Garrick had to go out to get some provisions for breakfast and on her return her husband was angry that she had not left a bottle for the baby—who is nine months old. After some discussion as to who should put on the beans it seems that the defendant fired a stick out of the sink at his wife striking her on the back of the neck. She then took her children and went to live with her mother. This was not the first time she had left her husband, she said, once before he had turned her out with her baby on a cold winter night.

Garrick was next called to the stand. His evidence conflicted considerably with that of his wife, but he admitted that he threw the stick.

Mr. Mullin, who was acting for the defendant, hereupon undertook the role of peacemaker and suggested that in the benign presence of the magistrate the quarrel should be patched up. Both parties, however, refused.

Garrick was remanded, the magistrate remarking that he had no use for wife-beaters. In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred the cases which come up before him the men are at fault and not the women.

The case against David Watson for having cabs down at the Calvin Austin without a license was next considered. Mr. Watson had only three licenses at hand on this occasion, seven conveyances at hand. This morning the prosecution was conducted by Mr. Henderson and Mr. Mullin appeared for the defendant, hereupon undertook the role of peacemaker and suggested that in the benign presence of the magistrate the quarrel should be patched up. Both parties, however, refused.

Mr. Mullin took the ground that the conveyances were not hackney carriages within the meaning of the by-law. From the evidence it appeared that the carriages were present under private contract and no passengers were solicited and therefore required no license. The court takes time to consider.

NEW SITE FOR ROYAL BANK.

John K. Schofield has purchased the four-story brick building at the corner of Canterbury and King streets, occupied by the American Clothing Co. It is understood that the purchase was made for the Royal Bank, who will remodel the building for banking purposes. It is said that the bank people have also secured an option on the adjoining Whitaker block. The building is under lease at present to the American Clothing Co.

It is understood also that the bank people were anxious to purchase the E. G. Nelson stand at the head of King street, but that satisfactory arrangements could not be made. If the Royal bank moves up to Canterbury, it will afford another example of the fact that the business centre is gradually moving further up street.

The remodeling of this block together with the changes which will be made by the new place of business of the Canadian and American Express Co., will greatly change the aspect of this corner.

WEST SIDE WEDDING.

The marriage takes place at five o'clock this afternoon, in the Episcopal church at Clifton, of James W. Carleton, son of Ex-Ald. Carleton, of the North Side, to Miss Margaret Wetmore, daughter of the late Marshall Wetmore, of Clifton. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Mr. Wainwright. The groom will be supported by Fred K. Morrison, of the C. P. R., while Miss A. I. Vie, of Digby, will attend the bride. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the bride's home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Carleton will come to their new home on Lowell street, West End.

Mr. Carleton, who is book-keeper with A. C. Smith & Co., was handsomely remembered by his fellow employees with a beautiful carving set. Mr. Carleton was also presented with a handsome silver service from the firm of A. C. Smith & Co.

LUMBER FREIGHTS HIGHER.

Lumber freights are very satisfactory at present between this port and the Sound and New York, and there is quite a demand for schooners. The freights in the southern trade are particularly good, being a dollar and in some cases two dollars higher than at this time last year.

Byron Winslow, will be celebrated at the Cathedral, Fredericton, at 3.30 p. m., Wednesday, Sept. 6. The wedding tour will include a trip to the upper river banks of the St. John and the Miramichi, and on her return her husband was angry that she had not left a bottle for the baby—who is nine months old. After some discussion as to who should put on the beans it seems that the defendant fired a stick out of the sink at his wife striking her on the back of the neck. She then took her children and went to live with her mother. This was not the first time she had left her husband, she said, once before he had turned her out with her baby on a cold winter night.

Defects in Children's Eyes

Should be suspected when there is an aversion to study. The normal child delights in school work, but when handicapped by poor vision soon loses interest in work which he does not fully understand. A little attention now may save your child the reputation of being dull and backward, and may make his school-work a pleasure.
