BALD MOUNTAIN'S STRANGE BEHAVIOR CAUSING ALARM

Party of American Sportsmen Terrified at Its Rumbblings, and the Simultaneous Quaking of the Earth—Other Manifestations Reported Showing Its Volcanic Nature.

From out of the thickest of the northern New Brunswick forests, the high mountainous table land where rivers flowing north, east and south take their source, there comes an astonishing story of a volcanic disturbance in this province, always thought to be immune from such dangers.

According to word which has reached the city the action of Bald Mountain, on the border of Restigouche and Northumberland counties, not far from the border of Victoria county, has caused great interest in the district around and has been even the cause of anxiety among those living near and far in sportsmen who have seen its strange behavior.

Henry McKenzie, who has been in the city during the exhibition and who has spent a considerable time in the Tobique district but who is now residing in Maine says in sympathy with the seismic disturbances in other parts of the world, Bald Mountain has suddenly arisen into life and shakes intermittently with its internal fires.

According to this gentleman, about two weeks ago, a number of Americans were on a hunting trip from the Forks on the Tobique, where there is a private club house belonging to the Americans who have the fishing rights on the Tobique.

These gentlemen were trying their luck with the rod in Niator Lake, and contrary to the usual luck at this season of this lake were meeting with great success. As some of the gentlemen in the party had never ascended Bald Mt., which is near the lake, the party decided to do so with the idea of carrying their names in the pine tree which crowns the summit of the mountain.

When the ascent had been half completed the party were suddenly terrified by a roar beneath them as of cart wheels, and according to their story the earth quaked about them. This party took no time in returning to the base, and the pine tree is still minus their names. They say further that just as dusk was coming on a vapor seemed to be rising from one side of the mountain.

This is the remarkable story which is told, and as the place is far from civilization confirmation of it is difficult. Although the story of any such disturbance as is mentioned here is entirely new, the general opinion among the guides and lumbermen who have occasion to visit the spot is that the mountain is a volcano which will one day burst into flames.

Others who have visited the spot at different times talk the same story about the rumbblings. None, however, ever speak of the earth shaking. Several people say that they have seen a vapor arising from the mountain on spots of the mountain the snow will not lay, but the vegetation is more or less green all winter.

John McAdams, who is in the city as a representative of Quebec contractors, is very familiar with the locality, being one of the best guides on the Tobique. Speaking to a representative of the Sun, he said that he had been on the mountain about forty times and that on many of his visits he has heard this sound, both in the day time and at night.

Geo. F. Mathew, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated.

Bald Mt., he said, is 3,775 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, in Mt. Carleton, which has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level.

Dr. Mathew thought that the sounds heard might have been from landslides, although they would be rather unusual at this time of year. He also thought that a sound might be caused by vibration if there was a hollow in the rock.

If he said there had been an earthquake, it would probably have been felt in the district around, as has been the experience of Vesuvius and other places while the vibrations would have been recorded in the observatories of Harvard and McGill.

Dr. Mathew has never visited Bald Mountain, but says that Dr. Bailey and Prof. Ganong are familiar with the mountain and its formations. The doctor said that the rock in the mountain was felsitic, of volcanic origin, but that ages and ages have passed since lava flowed down its sides, centuries in which the surface had cooled and great forests had grown on its summit.

Although the story of any such disturbance as is mentioned here is entirely new, the general opinion among the guides and lumbermen who have occasion to visit the spot is that the mountain is a volcano which will one day burst into flames.

Others who have visited the spot at different times talk the same story about the rumbblings. None, however, ever speak of the earth shaking. Several people say that they have seen a vapor arising from the mountain on spots of the mountain the snow will not lay, but the vegetation is more or less green all winter.

REGIONS AT SUSSEX EXHIBITION

SUSSEX, N. B., Sept. 11.—The Sussex exhibition which is held here, was the most successful ever held here, was opened Monday evening, but not until noon today were all the booths in readiness. There are a number of new features this year which add much to the attractiveness of the fair. The exhibits, with its allurement, is a new thing in Sussex, an art gallery was well patronized by those willing to stake their money on a straight eye and steady aim. In point of view of exhibitors, this year's fair in many respects surpasses that of previous years. In a few cases the quantity is below the average, but the quality is good. Potatoes and turnips and other roots are considerably smaller than those shown last year, owing to the dry season, but the quality is far superior. Much attention has been devoted to the finer class of needle work, and the exhibition, however they are, some excellent hand work is displayed. An entirely new feature this year is the exhibit of writing and drawing shown by the primary department of the King's county school. All the specimens are very creditable. It might be stated that the ladies are taking a great interest in this exhibit of the school children. The attendance has been rather disappointing to the management, as with the extra inducements held out over previous years they had good reason to expect much larger crowds. Tomorrow, however they are looking for a record breaking attendance, as they hold the best drawing card ever offered to the public in Sussex. It is predicted that the track record will be broken when the first lot of horses that are entered in the free-for-all assembly on the track tomorrow afternoon. If the weather proves fair, the management still expect to make a good financial showing, at least as good as previous years. The exhibition building is very prettily decorated with flags and bunting and the booths are tastefully and artistically arranged. The exhibits are beautiful. Music is provided in the afternoon and evening by the Harrison orchestra of St. John assisted by Miss Mary Warren of Boston and Geo. H. Warren of this place. Yesterday afternoon the performances of the orchestra were listened to with pleasure by a fairly good audience. In the middle of the building facing the main entrance, a very fine display of steel ranges and stoves of different makes. This booth is occupied by H. H. Dryden of Sussex. Directly behind and to the right of the Sons of St. John have an exhibition of excellent line of furs, including ladies' jackets in astrachan, grey squirrel, muskrat and Persian lamb, a range of boys and children's coats as gentlemen's fur and lined coats. The Sussex Mercantile Company have a good display of pianos and organs arranged by step with the assortment of stoves. Directly behind the Mercantile's exhibit the Sun Printing Co. of St. John have a pretty booth with the copies of the morning Sun neatly arranged in an attractive manner in the adjacent days of W. C. McIntrye. This is one of the most popular booths in the building and is well patronized. For few leaves without taking a glance at the pages of the Sun, and all who visit carry away copies. Facing the stage is a large booth occupied by the W. H. Johnson Co. of St. John, who have on exhibition a number of beautiful pianos and organs. Around the side are some very pretty booths. Directly behind the Mercantile's display of wire jewelry, which looks very unique, two souvenir post card booths, the one on the right being occupied by George H. Sutfren of Sussex and the other on the left by a Moncton firm. One of the prettiest booths in the floral display made by H. E. Gould of Sussex. The fancy booth is one of the most attractive. Yesterday afternoon very beautiful eyelet embroidery, shadow embroidery, Mexican work and art work. The grain and root products are well up to the mark in quality. Dairy cows are far in advance of the exhibition in previous years. The Kings county farmer is turning his attention to raising dairy stock with the fixed purpose of improving the stock, and the success of the exhibition is a good proof of the fact. Some years ago Kings county produced some of the finest horse flesh in the province. This year the showing in horses is much better than at the recent fairs, thus demonstrating the fact that the farmer in Kings county is keenly alive to the importance of raising a good serviceable breed of horses. So far there has been no judging but it will be commenced the first thing in the morning. The judges hope to conclude the major part of their work by Thursday night. There was a good crowd at the exhibition here tonight the largest that has yet assembled. The exhibition building was crowded and excellent music was provided by the orchestra. Outside the merry-go-round was kept busy until late at night. The night which was quiet all day presented a lively scene. All the amusements were well patronized. Judging commenced in the agricultural department this evening. No list of the prize winners has yet been prepared. Below is a list of the judges: Judges—Dr. Stish, Walkerton, Ont., and Dr. Stish, Walkerton, Ont. Sheep and Swine—C. M. MacRae, of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Cattle—John Lloyd, Hampton. Grain, Cattle and Fruit—O. W. Wetmore, Clifton. Fancy Work—Miss Margaret L. Everett, St. John. Art—John C. Myres. SUSSEX, N. B., Sept. 12.—The attendance at the exhibition today is far in excess of that for any one day in any previous year. A large crowd was present tonight, which made it the most successful day yet recorded. The excursion train from St. John brought a large number of the sporting fraternity to the exhibition.

POWERFUL ARGUMENTS FOR ADVOCATES OF GEORGIAN BAY CANAL

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 11.—It is understood the work of the engineers who are now engaged on the survey of the French and Ottawa rivers for the Georgian Bay canal indicates that in making a twenty foot channel for shipping from the Great Lakes to Montreal there will be developed a million quarter horse power in water power. This will be a powerful argument for the advocates of the canal. It is anticipated that when the report on the Georgian Bay canal survey is laid before parliament next session the economic advantages which will accrue to the country through the construction of a shorter and deeper waterway to the wheat depots on the Ottawa and the great water power which will be developed at the same time will produce host of advocates for the canal. The immediate construction of the canal which it may cost in the vicinity of a hundred million dollars. It is not unlikely that some powerful opposition to the plan will come from the railway interests which are able at any time to muster powerful lobbies at Ottawa and advocate their interests. It is likely there will be as much hostility to the Georgian Bay canal contract as was shown to undertaking the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway.

GENTLEMAN BURGLAR SENT TO PENITENTIARY

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—Judge Piche had a busy morning in the court of special sessions today. John Woods, gentleman burglar, who pleaded guilty to breaking into the house of Mrs. L. Desbarats, 85 Durocher street, and stealing about $200 worth of goods, was sent to the penitentiary for five years. With Woods the disappearance within the walls at St. Vincent de Paul, the last of the famous Feldman gang of expert burglars, passes from active life in the outside world.

EXPLOSION IN BALL ROOM.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A cable to the Times from Brussels says:—The village of Chene de Long in the Luxembourg is in mourning. The young people of the commune organized a grand ball. It was held in the ball room of the court house. The room was lit up by coal oil lamps, which shook in their unsteady brackets when the dancing became vigorous. Suddenly one of the lamps fell and exploded with terrific force. The explosion sent others of the lamps crashing to the floor. Dancers and ball room were in a few seconds a mass of flames. There was a mad rush for the door. Women and girls were badly hurt and their condition is serious. Much gallantry was shown by a farm laborer, the lover of a cafe waitress. She was in flames when he rushed to her and put them out and managed to swing her out of the window. He himself was horribly burned and has lost his sight. Five women and three men died from injuries and three other men lost their sight. Forty people were more or less seriously injured.

Joseph McMahon, of Barnsville, met with a distressing accident yesterday. A boy employed by him was handing him a trap net, which McMahon struck his arm against while reaching for it, and inflicting a cut clear to the bone. Dr. Baxter, of St. Martins, rendered the necessary medical assistance. Mr. McMahon, who is well to do, farrow, will be laid up for some time.

THE TURF

SUSSEX RACES.

SUSSEX, N. B., Sept. 11.—The races here today were good. The classes were the 2.20 and 2.30, and although they were won in straight heats the slowest of the six was in 2.19. The weather was ideal for racing, with the exception of the wind, which got the horses on the back stretch. The attendance was only fair. A special brought a crowd from St. John, but the C. P. R. was away late, and those who trusted to it were left. In the 2.20 class there were seven entries, but three of the horses were scratched. The absence of Little Egypt was regretted, but she was lame and could not start. Eight horses came to the wire, Estill Boy having the pole. Kingsboro on the outside, first line got away very fast and swung right into the lead. He made a beautiful mile with Holmes up, and finished an easy winner, with Estill Boy second and Ruth Wilkes, who acted badly, third. Time, 2.17. The second heat resulted in much the same kind of a win, for the back stallion, but there was a great race for the place between Rita M., Estill Boy, The troffer closed up an impossible gap coming down the stretch, but could not stand the pace, and went up in air, the mare setting Kingsboro on the outside. The troffer slipped into the lead. Ruth Wilkes, who was second, made a game try for first honors, but could not make good, although she kept Kingsboro to lower half of 2.16 in a driving finish.

The summary is: 2.20 class, trot and pace—prize $300. Kingsboro, 2.16, L. D. Morton. Digby, 2.19, 1-4, Peter Carroll. Rita M., 2.19 1-4, Peter Carroll. Estill Boy, 2.19, Springside. In Stables, 2.19, 1-4, Peter Carroll. Ruth Wilkes, 2.20 1-4, A. H. Learmont. Truro, 2.20 1-4, Frank Boutillier. Halifax, 2.20 1-4, A. B. Kitchener. Burling, 2.22 1-4, A. B. Kitchener. Frederick, 2.23, W. J. Furbush. West Newton, 2.23 1-4, D. H. Happy Union, 2.23 1-4, D. H. McAllister, Sussex, 2.23 1-4, 8 ds. Time, 2.17 1-2, 2.18 1-2, 2.16. In the 2.15, Lady Bingen won three straight heats. In the first she was never headed, but was forced to go the distance in 2.16. In the second heat she was headed by the first quarter, and although Warren drove hard, he could not get Lady Bingen in the lead. Dr. Band was also a contender, but was unable to get on the horse stretch. Ada Mac looked like a winner, but the pace which resulted in a time of 2.09 1-2 was too much for her and she quit about halfway from the line and was passed by Lady Bingen and Dr. Band.

The third heat was a walk-over for Lady Bingen in the slowest heat of the day—2.19. The summary is: Lady Bingen, 2.14, Springhill. Rita M., 2.15, Frank Fox, Bos. Ada Mac, 2.18, M. D. Bonner. Summerville, 2.20, 1-4, 2.3. Will-Be-Sure, 2.16, Chas. Henry. Time, 2.15, 2.17, 2.19. The officials were: Starter, C. S. Dority, Lawton, Maine; Judges, Henry Fowler and E. B. McLeod, St. John; Timers, W. S. Campbell, St. John; J. T. Prescott and F. W. Fenwick, Sussex.

CLAIMS $1,000 FROM D. A. R.

John Cullinan, whose scow was damaged by S. S. Yarmouth, has appealed to courts.

An action for one thousand dollars damages has been brought by John Cullinan, the stevedore, against the Dominion Atlantic Railway Company. This amount is claimed by Mr. Cullinan for injury done to one of his scows last spring. The scow was made fast beside the Eastern S. S. Co.'s steamer, which was being discharged at the time. The D. A. R. steamer, Yarmouth in docking collided with the scow and damaged it to such an extent that it filled and sank. It was raised again and repaired and Mr. Cullinan estimates the damage done to the scow and the cost of repairs at the sum for which he has brought action.

CARLETON CO. EXHIBITION

Applicants for Space Can Scarcely be Accommodated

Politicians Already Preparing For The Local Election—Calaix Man Before Judge Carleton for Theft

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Sept. 11.—The Carleton county exhibition to be held here during the four days commencing the 25th instant, promises to exceed anything of the kind ever seen in the county. Despite the fact that largely increased floor space has been provided, the spaces committee are already in the endeavor to accommodate the applicants. The show will be formally opened by the Governor. Invitations have also been sent to the executive. Owing to the fact that a large number of school exhibits from all over the county have been secured, the Board of Education has been pleased to officially set apart Friday, 28th instant, as a public school holiday in Carleton county.

William Tracy, hailing from Calais, was before Judge Carleton in chambers today on the charge of stealing money from Frank Lovely of Florenceville. The proceedings were under the speedy trial act and the prisoner elected to plead guilty. Taking into consideration the fact that Tracy was drunk when the crime was committed, and has to support a family, the Judge imposed a light sentence, ordering him to be confined in the county jail for the period of three months. Although there is no likelihood of a local election until next year, the lights of the parties here are on the move. It is already pretty clear that a convention of the government party will be called soon, probably next month. In connection with nominations of colleagues for the solicitor general, the names most frequently mentioned are George W. Upham and Deacon John D. A. R. A former local member is also said to have considerable backing among the workers in town and may consent to have his name put in for nomination.

A CANADIAN WOMAN POET

THE HOUSE OF BOUGHS. In Green Arcadian woods one day We built of boughs a fragrant home: As glad as children are at play.

We draped the walls with mosses gray, We left the mighty sky for dome, In green Arcadian woods that day.

Shall we return that shadowy way To tread the mossy forest loam In green Arcadian woods some day?

I knew what dreams too dear to say In your deep heart had found a home: Glad, not as children are at play.

The world might go if love would stay: Our play-house had the sky for dome In green Arcadian woods that day. When Heaven and Earth were ours, in Dream Verses.

DREAM VERSES.

Born of a family of Canadian poets, Mrs. Macdonald is sure of a welcome from Canadian readers. The present volume (Dream Verses, by Elizabeth Roberts Macdonald) does not contain her first published work. But it is the first book of poetry of which she appears as the sole author. The work is characterized by a fullness of spirit, and of feeling as strong as it is elevated and unchanging. As in the case of a greater poet, Mrs. Browning, there is never any doubt that the poems have been written by a woman. This quality of the work a more permanent value than the work of a man, because the work of the poet is more permanent value than the work of a man, because the work of the poet is more permanent value than the work of a man.

FIFTY YEARS OF WEDDED BLISS

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Robertson, of Gibson, Celebrate Their Golden Wedding—Those Present at Festivity.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 12.—One of the happiest and thoroughly enjoyable social events which have taken place in this county for a long time was the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson, of Gibson. The old people with their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren took part in the golden wedding celebration with all the enthusiasm and joy to be expected at such an unusual affair and the festivities, which commenced yesterday afternoon, were continued last evening.

It is fifty years ago yesterday since Mr. and Mrs. Robertson were married at the farm in the Nashwaak Valley where Mrs. Robertson first saw the light of day. Mr. Robertson is a native of East Sullivan, Maine, where he was born seventy-seven years ago on a 19th of August. Mrs. Robertson celebrated her 70th birthday on the 14th of March last.

Their four children, Mrs. George Logan, of Gibson; Mrs. Charles Clayton, of this city; George Robertson, of Gibson; and Mrs. Albert Neil, of Gibson, assisted their parents in entertaining yesterday, while the celebration is marked by the presence of several great grandchildren, including the children of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McN. Staples of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. William Cain, of Marysville.

After their marriage a half a century ago, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson resided for twenty-seven years on the Nashwaak before they went to Woodstock, where they lived for three years, when they removed to Gibson, where they have since resided.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson have hosts of friends throughout the county and other parts of the province who will join in congratulations and wish them many more years of married happiness.

TALKING POST CARD

THE LATEST FAD. LONDON, Sept. 11.—An ingenious device is at present all the rage in France, and bids fair to become as popular in England as it is there. It is a talking post card.

The cards are about three times the thickness of an ordinary card, and are fitted with phonographic discs. Instead of writing your communication in the ordinary manner, you make it verbally at the office where you purchase the card. It is recorded, and is written on the other side, and is then posted. The recipient places it in an ordinary phonographic machine and hears the voice of his or her friend.

The inventor, or the adapter, of the phonographic discs to the uses of every day life through the post claims that the use of the phonograph is only in its infancy. It seems no reason why, in addition to a signature or a cheque, there should not be, for the banker's protection, a phonographic record of the amount, and the name in the voice of the sender.

Then, again, a young fellow in love would far rather hear the voice of his charmer than receive a letter from her. She sends cards numbered on Little poems like these—graceful, melodious and full of feeling—may be found on almost every page of Mrs. Macdonald's book. Her gift is not extraordinary, except in its sweetness and simplicity. But it is the same time a change except for itself—that quality of pure sentiment which is to be found in such a poem as The House Among the Pines.

And it doesn't hurt the hands or make them sore and rough. There is nothing harsh about "SURPRISE" Soap, and it takes so little of it to do a big lot of work that it is the most economical soap you can buy.

"SURPRISE" costs no more than common soaps. See the red and yellow wrappers.

SCHOOL TEACHER MISSING, STUDENTS ARE SEARCHING

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 11.—A special to the Telegraph from South Ashburnham says:—

Prof. West is 28 years old. He came to South Ashburnham to teach French. His home is in Auburn, Me. He was last seen at 7 a. m. about the academy building.

THOUGHTFUL GEORGE

A young man had been visiting his sweetheart on a certain evening and, wishing to make a good impression, had bought her a pair of shoes. While at his lady's house, the weather became suddenly changed, and in a little while a terrible rain and thunder storm was going on. This kept up all the time for the young man to leave.

His young lady looking out of the window and then at his new gray suit said, "George it is not worth your while going home in this rain and rubbing all you have on, my brother is away on a vacation, and you can have his room. I will go up stairs and get it ready for you."

George, thinking her from the bottom of his heart, telling her how considerate she was, etc., etc.

She had not been up stairs more than a quarter of an hour, when she returned to the room and found George was not there, she could not think where he was, and was about to start a search of the house, when, suddenly, the front door burst open, and George soaking and dripping from head to foot, with his clothes hanging on him like rags, fell into the house.

She was very much frightened, but managed to gasp out, "Why, George, where in the world have you been?" "Oh, darling, answered George, almost smothering, I have just been home for my night shirt."

The woman reclines on the edge of a new moon. The outlines of the beautiful form are clearly seen beneath the scant draperies. The white sheets leave nothing visible of the lady on the edge of the moon except her feet and her head.

HOPEWELL CAPE, N. B., Sept. 11.

The Collins examination was resumed at 9 o'clock this morning before Stipendiary Magistrate, Premier Tweedie and M. B. Dixon being present for the crown, and J. C. Sherren for the prisoner. The court room was again filled, a large number of ladies occupying seats in the galleries. The prisoner took considerable interest in the proceedings and watched his counsel's notes intently. He did not say what his occupation was, and I did not ask him why he was interested in Mr. McAuley's house. He was very much excited, and appeared a little nervous. I did not ask him about the values.

GOVERNOR COBB'S PLURALITY CLOSE TO 9,000 VOTES

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 11.—Governor Win. T. Cobb's plurality over the vote yesterday for the second time, was close to nine thousand votes, according to the compilation of the vote made in this city tonight. These figures are based on returns from 41 cities, towns and plantations. The twenty-nine missing towns and plantations, the combined vote of which only totalled 804 four years ago, are so far removed from the center of the population that the accurate results will not be known for several days. These towns gave a Republican plurality of 408 in 1902.

They enjoyed their river trip very much and were delighted with the beauties of the Celestial, expressing the opinion that Fredericton was one of the prettiest cities they had ever visited.

THE PLACES OF EMPHASIS.

By Dr. Edward B. Coe.

At the union services of the Church of the Pilgrims, the Second Presbyterian Church, the Reformed Church on the Heights and the First Presbyterian Church, Heavy street, Philadelphia, Sunday morning, the Rev. Edward B. Coe, D. D., pastor of the Collegiate Church, Manhattan, was the preacher. Dr. Coe's subject was "The Places of Emphasis in Christian Experience."

There are some things which are emphasized as of cardinal importance, while other things are comparatively unimportant. What are these things? Who is to be the judge, the arbiter as to these things? The council of the church? No. Current Christian opinion? Not by any means. But the Divine Spirit in our lives; in your life and in all the lives of those who "name the name of Christ." Let us consider this meaning: "What are the things in Christian experience which the Holy Spirit continually emphasizes as of cardinal importance, our subject, briefly, being: "The Places of Emphasis in Christian Experience." The places of emphasis have two sides—a mental side and a spiritual side. Just as an electrical system has on the one hand the mechanical adaptation and on the other the electrical fluid itself. Look for a moment at the mental side. What are the things which the Holy Spirit continually emphasizes as of cardinal importance in our past experience? The first thing which the Holy Spirit emphasizes is the fact of mental concentration. The lack of concentration of mind is the basis of character. It characterizes very little that a man knows so long as his mind is not capable of concentration; he is no stronger than his ability to keep his mind harnessed to the main ideas which the spirit of God creates. The root of all mental strength is in a concentrated mind, and it is quite possible even in our earliest desires after a strong life that our efforts—for example, our rational reading—may be inefficient and weak. The concentration of the mind means the exercise of the will, and there are multitudes of men who know that their wills have never been taxed to the utmost in the development of character. There are great areas in their lives into which the soul has never been penetrated by the light of strong will; that only up to a certain point has there been any activity, and that the whole motion of life has been by mere impulse. The Holy Spirit emphasizes concentration of mind. You know that and I know you. You remember it was in the fact of forgiveness you began the Christian life, and it was a source of spiritual power and enlightenment, but you have lost that sense of forgiveness. Heaven is not so sure as it was, nor so real. You have lost the sense of assurance, and it is only as we came at first, by simple trust, that we can find the reality of heaven. Heaven is real only to those who are sure. But we all may be sure, for over us there is the loving Father, and there is the power of the forgiving Christ; and whenever we become certain of the forgiveness we become graciously certain of the reality of heaven and the blessedness of Christian fellowship. But what is more, the Holy Spirit has emphasized the fact of the companionship of Jesus Christ. My friends, Christianity is not merely a memory of Christ. Greece has the memory of her great days, but that memory, instead of being inspiration, is paralysis, for all her greatness is in the past. The Christianity which speaks of Jesus Christ in Galilee is no sufficient ally with men struggling with the problems of the twentieth century. Nor is Christ as an ideal sufficient for men living among the temptations of everyday life. Let us make this clear: We all believe that all good men survive this life. If so the greater, risen Christ survives, being the leader of all the good. There is no such thing as space in the given life or in the mental life. Our blessed dead are not beyond us; they are here. Christ is here. We think of him in terms of corporeal life; let us think of him in terms of the spirit life. It is not distance, it is condition that appreciates spiritual nearness. Christ and our dead are with us now nearer than hands or feet. It is this companionship of Christ which the Holy Spirit emphasizes, and this is the secret of a satisfied life. It is the secret of freedom from discouragement, and we are emancipated from the dominion of the world. Lastly, the Holy Spirit emphasizes the leadership of Christ. One of the greatest literary critics of our time said that the great writers of fiction may be divided into two classes: First, those who use their imaginations; and second, those who were used by their imaginations, and among the latter he speaks of Homer and Shakespeare. It is not that so in all walks of life. That was what Lincoln meant when he said: "I am not so anxious to have God on my side as that I shall always be found on God's side." Not using ideas but being used by them. It is so in literature, in art, in religion. To use Jesus Christ for one's own ambition; to use His glorious power for the things we have in our hearts, whether it be the temptation of individual Christians and of churches and of communities? Whereas, the genius of the Christian life is to let Christ lead; to give life over to him. Let him direct it where He may. Commit all destinies to Him. These, I believe, brethren, to be some of the places of emphasis in our past experience, and of which we have grown rich in character, and which we have lost our grip upon the great verities of divine truth, amid the babble of the seductive voices of our time. We have already attained it. Let us walk by the same rule; let us mind the same things."

Does Your Heart Flutter? You know heart fluttering means you're not as well as you should be. It's an evidence of impaired nerve and muscular power. To obtain a cure, try Ferrerozine; it has a special action on the heart as seen in the case of Thos. Grover of Cole Harbor, N. S., who says: "If I exerted myself it would bring palpitation, and I could hardly get on my feet. After taking Ferrerozine, my heart was all right, and I was able to do my work as usual. I am quite well now." Ferrerozine is a constant who has been very active in prosecuting the Scott Act here.

DROWNING OF MILFORD BOY AT PORT ARTHUR. News of Sad Occurrence Telegraphed to Chief Clerk—Fell Overboard From Tug. Chief Clerk received the following telegram last evening: PORT ARTHUR, Ont. "Chief Police, St. John, N. B.: "Horace Stout was drowned off one of our tugs this morning. Kindly advise his people and wire us instructions."

"GREAT LAKES DREDGING CO." The chief with little trouble located his relatives in Fairville and Milford, and notified them of the sad occurrence which had taken place in the morning. Horace Stout, whose death comes as such a sudden blow to his relatives and friends here, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stout of Milford. He left here within a year. He was only twenty-two years of age and was unmarried. He was very popular among those who knew him. Temperate and a hard worker he was making good progress in the west. Before leaving here he assisted his father as a millwright in Cushing's mill. Besides his father and mother he leaves one brother, Wm. Stout of Milford, and two sisters, Miss Florence and Miss Edith.

Provincial News

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 12.—There were many weddings in Halifax this morning, and today a dozen young couples left on honeymoon trips. Crowds were at the depot at the departure of morning trains to see off the newly married friends. In the early morning hours carriages with white ribbons attached to whips were moving in all directions throughout the city and countryside in great demand. At 7.30 the North Baptist church was the scene of a wedding in which many of the people were interested and numbers were at the church to witness the ceremony. The bride was Miss Margaret Kierstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kierstead, and the groom was Mr. J. H. Kierstead, a student of the University of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Jenner, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lawson of the West End Baptist church. M. Elliott of Acadia College acted as best man, and the bride's sister, Miss Flossie K. Kierstead, as bridesmaid. Brunswick street Methodist church was the scene of another wedding at 7.30. The groom was a well known commercial traveller, now of W. & C. Silver's, and formerly of A. C. Bank & Co. The bride was Miss Amy H. Fraser, daughter of Robert Fraser of the firm of Fraser Bros. Freeman Smith of Lunenburg acted as best man, and Miss Edna Fraser as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Richard Smith.

At St. Matthew's church at 7 o'clock the marriage took place of Lieut. George W. Murray, bookkeeper of the Acadia sugar refinery, and Miss Jennie Anderson Bows, daughter of John Bows. Rev. T. Fowler officiated. There was a Hebrew wedding at the A. O. H. hall at 7 o'clock last evening. The provincial engineer's office, and Bridgewater and Miss Jeanie Komarsky of Digby. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Schorr. Lieut. J. Lorne Allan, ist C. A. of the provincial engineer's office, and Miss Grace Hamilton, daughter of Prince D. The marriage took place at St. Stephen's chapel at 7.10 a. m. of Howard P. Reese, manager of the Union Bank and Trust Co., and Miss Jennie Sutherland of Amherst and Yarmouth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Hine, and the bride and groom were accompanied by the bride's father, the bride's mother and blue hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses and flowers. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. B. and his two daughters, where they will spend the honeymoon at Yarmouth as bridesmaid.

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 12.—At Shediac this morning the wedding took place of Albert Doucet of the I. C. R. shops here to Miss Marguerite, daughter of Joseph Casey, the wedding took place in the Catholic church. An interesting event took place here this evening when Miss Maude, daughter of I. C. R. conductor John Nickerson, will be married to Alexander Stronach, a well-known brakeman. It will be a home wedding and Rev. E. B. Hooper, rector of St. George's church, will perform the ceremony. Papers have been served on Duncan Stewart and A. W. Belyea, two local lawyers, charging them with being concerned in a compromise of settlement of a Scott Act case with D. Bourgeois, hotel proprietor. The papers in this case were issued by Geo. P. Thomas, but all parties deny any attempt at compromise. Belyea is a constable who has been very active in prosecuting the Scott Act here.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 12.—This week's Gazette contains the following: Revs. J. L. Dawson, Sackville; James H. Copeland, Burton; Stephen Norman and Leonard Turner, Salvation Army, St. John, registered to solemnize marriage. Four Scott Act cases were before Col. Marsh today. The charges against George Vasey, North Lake, and Horatio Grant, Canterbury, were adjourned over for a week. Two cases against W. H. Foster, North Lake. In one Foster was fined $50. The hearing of the other was adjourned. Inspector Colter prosecuted in all the cases. MRS. WELDON COLPITTS WAS BADLY INJURED. SUSSEX, N. B., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Weldon Colpitts, a passenger from here for Penobscot, by No. 184 train, Quebec Express, last evening, was seriously hurt while getting off the train at Penobscot. She fell head, striking the back of her head. Her husband, who accompanied her, fell in getting off, but was not hurt. Mrs. Colpitts was picked up in an unconscious state and has remained in that condition ever since. Dr. Burnett, of the Penobscot, visited the train to Penobscot to visit Mrs. Wm. Windlow McLeod, when the accident happened. Mrs. Colpitts is about 70 years of age.

WHAT WAS THAT? Mr. Umpire—You know Blaford? He tries to put up a bold and plausible front, but I understand his case thoroughly. He's meretricious, through and through. Mr. Gaswell—Why—er—I thought he was operated on for that a few months ago.

SAVES MONEY. "Yes, sir, I'm the publisher of this paper. Is there anything I can do for you?" "I am looking for a job as a proof-reader." "We don't need proof-readers any more. We have adopted the reform spelling."

SAD DEATH IN INDIA OF HALIFAX MAN

Capt. Louis P. Farrell M. D. Died at Satara After a Brief but Singularly Successful Career

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 12.—Captain Louis P. Farrell, M. D., second son of the late Dr. Edward Farrell of this city, died at Satara, Bombay, India, today. Capt. Farrell graduated from Dalhousie in 1889. He received the degree of M. R. C. S. L. R. C. P. from London in 1902. Taking a commission in the Indian medical service, he proceeded to India, where he served two years. He was attached to the expeditionary force and served all through the Somaliland campaign in 1904. While in Africa he contracted enteric fever and was invalided home. When he left Halifax after four months' absence here, it was thought that his health was restored, but the disease was evidently deep seated and he has succumbed, another Halifax victim in the cause of the empire. Dr. Farrell immediately previous to his death was in charge of the military hospital at Satara, and reports from India indicate that he had met with marked success in the practice of his profession. News of his early death will be heard with universal regret, for it was generally expected that at no distant date he would return to Halifax to engage in the practice of his profession, which his father, Dr. Edward Farrell, was such a distinguished ornament. His sister, Mrs. May, now Mrs. Geoffrey Hooper, was with him at Satara. His mother and two brothers, Dr. Edward D. and Gerald, are in this city and Robert in Ottawa.

WAS FOUR MASTER LOST WITH ALL ON BOARD? Big American Schooner Albert C. Hunt From Boston for Sydney Is Long Overdue

SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 12.—It is feared that the large four-masted schooner Albert C. Hunt, which left Boston, Mass., on August 18th for St. Ann's, C. B., and has not yet arrived, has gone to the bottom with all hands, as under ordinary circumstances the schooner should have completed the passage within a week. The schooner was coming here to load a cargo of gypsum for the Victoria Gypsum Co. She is described as being practically a new vessel, having only been launched less than a year ago in the United States. She was about seven hundred tons register and was owned in Boston. Mr. Hugh Blackader is still postmaster of Halifax. His salary is several hundred dollars larger than it was at the beginning, but is still short of $200. He has a good office, and probably has no more to desire. The treatment he has received from the Government or the public. But it is obvious that he cannot live well and well on a competence out of his surplus earnings at the post office. The other brothers took over the newspaper and printing business and gave it their exclusive attention. One of them had a few years ago, leaving a large estate, and he has since yielded two or three times the salary of the Halifax post office. The other retains the newspaper and printing business. He is besides a large real estate owner, and has a number of other investments. It is known that he has refused a senatorship, and it is believed that he might, had he chosen, have been Lieutenant-Governor of his province. He may be worth a quarter of a million or more. He is especially during the last ten years, has been quite independent. He is able to travel when and where he pleases, to live according to his inclinations and to give generous assistance to public and private charities. Yet a quarter of a century ago this man would have been congratulated if he had received an income barely adequate to support himself and his family. He has done all his other activities and prospects.

ANOTHER CONTINGENT OFF FOR THE WEST Nearly 500 People Took Advantage of the Harvesters' Excursion Thursday—Several Have Good Positions

Between 450 and 500 persons left on the harvesters' excursion special train Thursday for Winnipeg. There were some St. John people in the number, but the majority were from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, a few coming from the river points. The passengers kept arriving in town all day, a large number coming over on the Prince Rupert. At nine o'clock last evening the train was made up and the harvesters left the city. The party is reported to personal appearance was far ahead of those leaving on the excursions several weeks ago. There was an increased number of women in the party and the men appeared in better circumstances than those preceding them. There was a noticeable absence of the rougher element, and it is expected that C. P. R. Detective Harry Johnston and his four assistants, who are accompanying the harvesters, will have more or less of a sinecure. Among the passengers there were many who are going out to join the rest of their families, while others do not intend working in the harvest fields but are taking advantage of the cheap fares to reach the western provinces, good positions having been offered them. Two of these fortunate ones were Albert P. Bulyea of Gagetown, recent graduate in engineering of the University of New Brunswick, and a Cambridge, Queens Co., and has received an appointment as teacher in one of the schools in the vicinity of Winnipeg. Mr. Bulyea is well known throughout the province, having made quite a name for himself as an athlete during his college course.

THE COST OF OFFICE. In a New Brunswick coast village a small industry was established some years ago. The proprietors, who were their own managers, produced an article which secured a provincial reputation and ultimately a market in Ontario, where it came into competition with the output of much larger industries. So large was the demand at length that after a fire had destroyed some of the shops it was thought best to rebuild on a larger scale in a more convenient distributing centre. Accordingly, additional capital was called in, a joint stock company was organized, and the new plant was soon producing on a much larger scale than the old concern. A meeting of the shareholders, held last week, resolved to sell the plant and wind up the business of this company, though it had been organized only three years ago. The press announcement gives two reasons for this action. It is stated that the company has not been successful in its operations, and has never quite recovered from this misfortune. But it is the other cause of trouble to which attention is here directed. Explanation is made of the withdrawal of one of the original partners, who retired from management, two or three years ago to become collector of customs for the port of St. John. This gentleman was one of many aspirants for the collectorship. His personal and political claims were strong. He had been a successful and honorable business man. As the business of the collectorship was in his neighborhood he had done his duty with good service from the time he was old enough to vote until he took office. For several terms he sat in the Legislature, and he was one of the senior members of the provincial administration, holding an important portfolio. All these political and official duties did not interfere with his private business, which continued to grow and prosper so long as the original firm remained. No fault has been found with the administration of the St. John Custom House by the present collector. The collector himself, who has seen his old business come to this crisis; then other shareholders, who find their investment less profitable than they expected, and the proprietors who may be deprived of their employment. There were many who could have given satisfaction as collector of customs, and some of these could, perhaps, have been spared to the collectorship. But the statement published by the local press conveys the impression that it was not so easy to fill the place of the fortunate applicant in the business position as the proprietors occupied. It is, therefore, a grave question whether the appointment was fortunate or not. Thirty years ago the position of postmaster of Halifax was vacant. The Mackenzie Government had a large choice among citizens desiring the office. Finally the appointment was given to a man well qualified for the position, and he held it by party service as far as the other affairs. He was one of three brothers, who were proprietors of a newspaper and a printing office. They were all young men, and were then probably in the prime of their professional life. The appointment was made the brother who received it would doubtless be considered the most fortunate of the three.

SERIOUS FIRE IN ONTARIO TOWN Damage to the Extent of $100,000— Census Returns From the Western Provinces

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The census returns from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are all in, except from some remote districts in the north, containing a small and scattered population. The returns indicate the population of Alberta to be 185,000, Saskatchewan about 260,000 and Manitoba a little more than 350,000. A bad fire occurred at Shawville today, on the Pontiac and Pacific, forty-six miles from Ottawa, and thirteen buildings were destroyed. It was a lively holiday and a good proportion of the people were at Ottawa attending the Central Canada Fair. There was no fire apparatus and as water was scarce the fire had to burn itself out. The fire started in a bakery about five o'clock in the afternoon and when it had burned itself out the bakery, the Methodist church, a plumbing mill and a number of residences had been destroyed. The fire was over at 8.30 o'clock. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

ST. JOHN CO. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION Programme of the Meeting at St. Martins September 19th.

ST. JOHN CO. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION Programme of the Meeting at St. Martins September 19th.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, tonight gave the Associated Press the following statement concerning the result of the Maine election, particularly the result in the second district in which representative Littlefield was re-elected by a reduced majority. "I look upon the result of the election in the second district of Maine as a great moral victory, not only for labor, but for the people generally. Of course it would have pleased me more had Mr. Littlefield been defeated, but except in some parts of the South, the workingmen of the second district of Maine are less organized than in any other part of the country. I appealed not only to the workmen, but also to the businessmen and to men in public life. Considering the fact that Maine is regarded as a rockbound Republican stronghold, the cutting of Mr. Littlefield's majority of 6,822 over his opponents in 1904 to between 700 and 800 now, is cause for great gratification. It is, as I said, a great moral victory which will have notable influence throughout the country. It shows that the people have it in their power to compel decent and fair treatment at the hands of those who seek their vote. "Mr. Littlefield claims that I have helped him in the campaign. Paraphrasing the language of another, centuries ago, Mr. Littlefield could well say 'another such victory and I am lost.'"

NAUGHTY DRESSMAKER. "Evil communications corrupt good manners," quoted the teacher. "Now, Johnny, can you understand what that means?" "Sure," replied Johnny. "This morning's paper got a communication from Mrs. Dressmaker that made him swear."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, tonight gave the Associated Press the following statement concerning the result of the Maine election, particularly the result in the second district in which representative Littlefield was re-elected by a reduced majority. "I look upon the result of the election in the second district of Maine as a great moral victory, not only for labor, but for the people generally. Of course it would have pleased me more had Mr. Littlefield been defeated, but except in some parts of the South, the workingmen of the second district of Maine are less organized than in any other part of the country. I appealed not only to the workmen, but also to the businessmen and to men in public life. Considering the fact that Maine is regarded as a rockbound Republican stronghold, the cutting of Mr. Littlefield's majority of 6,822 over his opponents in 1904 to between 700 and 800 now, is cause for great gratification. It is, as I said, a great moral victory which will have notable influence throughout the country. It shows that the people have it in their power to compel decent and fair treatment at the hands of those who seek their vote. "Mr. Littlefield claims that I have helped him in the campaign. Paraphrasing the language of another, centuries ago, Mr. Littlefield could well say 'another such victory and I am lost.'"
