Toronto. July 13 .- The attorney general's department has taken up the case of the fisheries department against the Hudson Bay Company, and an important test case will result when the trial comes on at North Bay. The company is charged with having otter and beaver skins in its possession at the store in North Bay, contrary to law, and these have been seized.

Some years ago the company was when it pleaded that similar skins had been brought in from Keewatin for shipment to headquarters in England, but the Government will fight this contention, if it is made

HOW CROPS ARE FARING IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES

The Present Conditions Favorable in Kent, Middlesex, Elgin and Oxford.

Woodstock, Ont., July 12. - The extremely dry, warm weather of the past week has been exceedingly favorable to those farmers who have crop in some quarters is very satisfactory, while in others it is somewhat light, but while the weather of the week has favored the in-gathering of the hay, the cry from all quarters comes for rain. The dry weather upon the oat crop, the corn and the roots. Rain would do a vast amount present time. Despite the dry weather, however, the majority of the farmers are looking for satisfactory crops of grain.

Chatham, Ont., July 12. - The drought in this section has done little harm, though crops on heavy clay lands have suffered somewhat. Oats in some sections are reported ternoon is welcome and will do much good, particularly to the crops mentioned Elgin Wants Rain. St. Thomas, Ont., July 12. - All crops in the county of Elgin are badly in need of rain. The spring crops, such as oats and barley, are burning up and will be very short. Wheat is all right, and is filling out nicely; corn on sandy land is in good shape: but on clay is very uneven; roots of all kinds are being hard hit and prospects for a good crap are poor. Berries are drying up. A good shower of rain would do a world of good. About the only thing the draught is good for is the hay, which is a splendid crop, and nearly all in. Windsor. Ont., July 12. - The draught has not seriously affected the crops in the surrounding counties. There has been enough rain to make reasonably good crops of all kinds. Whatever shortness there may be will be found in the low lands where the

The presence of Hon. Mr. Fielding an London revived discussion of Canadian affairs and progress in English references, which may be taken to reflect the opinion of the London financial public, is highly confident. One of these journals, the Investors' Guardian and Joint' Stock Companies' Review, discussing the progress of the Dominion, says the merits of the finansuch railways must be on a scale fitthe regions which they serve-products of great weight and bulk, such as grain, fruits, timber, with a variety of on a scale commensurate to such a also be large, and continues:

"Even ten years ago it might have well have been depended upon, but wheat harvest reaching to 100,000. 000 bushels."

The Review is particularly struck by the fact that the hardy pioneers who have built up the Western States Canadian Northwest. This, it considers, is something tangible to warrant the development of a new country on the most lavish scale. The immigration of the United States farmers is no temporary factor in the building up of the new Canada. It has been in progress for a considerable period, is still strong in action and bids fair to continue with unabated vigor for some years to come. "Under these circumstances," says the Review, "the British money market will respond promptly to Canada's requirements." The success of the large loan recently floated by Mr. Fielding shows the correctness

The Review regards Mr. Fielding as a "proved minister of finance, friendly to the imperial idea, bold in the origination of measures calculated to aid quick and sound development of Canada, but prudent in the means by which they are to be carried out."

Our posilor of the exchequer, is now at work, but not touching directly upon that other and distinct form of collective thrift-insurance against unemployment-which is now largely confined to trades unions. The article, however, has suggested to Mr. Churchill, president of the Board of Trade, considerations of importance affecting both

The present position, as viewed by Mr. Churchill, is this, that against certain admitted and inevitable evils of industrial life-sickness, premature infirmity, death of the breadwinner, and irregularity of employment-one part of the people make their own provision thriftily, and in advance, by subscription to a friendly society or trade union, while another part, makcared for wholly by the state or by of the present year the output of the charity. On the other hand, Turkey is said to hold more to the maintenance of sovereignty over Crete than she did to the provinces of which she has been despoiled by Austria.

The attitude of Great Britain, as one ly explained by Sir Edward Jolly, foreign secretary, who, speaking in the House of Commons on the question of the recall of the international troops, said Britain was neither first nor last among the four powers in that matter. They had all decided, prior to the Turkish revolution, to recall the occupation forces, and that decision had not been changed. The Cretan question of discussion in the press of Great was a difficult one, and had not been Britain. Recently the Dundee Jour- solved, but Great Britain, Sir Edward nal published an article dealing with said, would do her best to solve it pacifically. He saw no need of dising for sickness and invalidity, and cussing the character of the counsel for widows and orphans, which are which the Government might offer in

A solution of the vexed problem suggested by a French writer is that the matter be turned over to the Turks and Greeks as a mercantile affair. The Greeks, he says, are nothing if not imbued with the spirit of barter. The arrangements concluded between Austria and Turkey and Turkey and Bulgaria, involving the same conditions, were commercial. Turkey, as a matter of exchange, accepted pecuniary compensation in both cases, and the precedent being established, she will doubtless be pleased to renew the operation as to Crete.

USE PARK AS HIPPODROME

Forbes Field at Pittsburg Is Secured by Theatrical Men.

Pittsburg, July 12. - President Barney Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburg baseball club, announced tonight that he had completed contracts with New York and Pittsburg theatrical men whereby Forbes Field, the million-dollar home of the Pirates, would be utilized during the coming winter by a hippodrome following closely along the lines of the spectacles shown in New York city. According to the announcement by Dreyfuss it is the intention of the owners of Forbes Field to roof a portion of the immense diamond. The lease for Forbes Field is said to have been signed in New York today.

of Tun-huang. In the winter of 1907-08, Dr. Stein was engaged in archaeological work along the northern edge of the great Taklamakan desert. Among the plentiful art remains which rewarded his excavations at a site of ruined Buddhist temples west of Karashahr, were fine relieves of strikingly western style. They had belonged to great temples and probably dating from the a great quantity of fine frescoes. It was at one of the larger shrines that Stein found a great hoard of ancient manuscript in Chinese, Tibetan, Indian, and other languages, with many fine paintings on silk and cotton, art embroideries, etc., which had been walled up in a rock-cut side chapel about 1,000 A. WONDERS OF THE HUMAN BODY

WHY MANY PEOPLE NEVER NEED A DOCTOR.

You have a natural laxative in your body. Why, then, should you use a false purgative to move the bowels? Bile is nature's lavative, It is bileand bile alone which moves the bowels as they should be moved. The liver is the store-house for the bile. The liver pours forth the bile into the bowels, which stimulates them to move, and thus causes the waste matter to pass from the body.

Constipation is a disease, OF the bowels, but CAUSED by the liver. When the bowels do not move regularly and naturally, it is because the liver is not giving up enough bile. And the only possible way to cure constipation, is to cure the liver.

Calomel, cascara, salts, senna, cominflame the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure constipation because they act on the liver. The fruit dergo." Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

FRENCH NOVEL IS GROWING PURER

That Is, Comparatively So; But There Is Lots of Room for Growth.

London, July 12.-Those who have followed closely the trend of French fiction have welcomed the improvement in the matter of purity that characterizes the ordinary French novel. Charles Dejob, of the Revue Critique, has lately stated that the fate of a nation depends less on the pedagogic and political doctrines than on its manners. And he goes on to say:

WAS LIBERAL NESTOR

He Had Been Viceroy of India' Colonial Secretary, First Lord of Admiralty, Etc.

London, July 12.—George Frederick Samuel Robinson, the first Marquis of Ripon, formerly lord privy seal, who died last night, was the Neston of the British Liberal party.

Born in London on Oct. 24, 1827, he succeeded his father, the first Earl of Ripon, in 1859, having represented various constituencies in the House of Commons from the date of his first election in 1852. From 1859 to 1861 he was under-secretary of state for war. was transferred later to the India office in the same capacity, becoming secretary for war in 1863, and for India in 1866. In Mr. Gladstone's first Government he held the office of lord president of the council and was chairman of the joint commission for

His admission into the Church of Rome in 1874 attracted general attention, all the more so because he held the post of grand master of the Free Masons, to which he had been appointed in 1874. On the return of Mr. Gladstone to office in 1880 Lord Ripon became viceroy of India, a position he filled with distinction and his administration was conspicuous for its sympathetic attitude towards native opin-

> Paris, July 13 .- A terrible fate has overtaken a young acrobat named Ontrets, who earned a living by posing for cinematrograph pictures. He was engaged by an operator to fall into the Seine and pretend to drown after a fierce struggle for life. In accordance with his instructions he tumbled in, and on coming to the surface he splashed and threw his arms about in such realistic fashion that the cinematograph operator on the bank was moved to shout "Bravo! The spectators on the bank, who took in the situation, also joined in with applause as they watched the man struggling in the water. A steamer loaded with passengers came along in the midst of these proceedings, and so interested were all on board that the vessel was brought to while the people applauded.

When the scene had been enacted for a few minutes the man in the water threw up his arms in a last frantic outburst and disappeared. Murmurs of admiration at his remarkable acting were heard on all sides, and the people on the steamer stood with hands raised and apart ready to applaud. The seconds became minutes, and then a horrible suspicion spread among the people. The unhappy man never came to the

BRISK TRADE ON LOCAL MARKET

Attendance Was Not Large, But Demand in All Lines Was Good.

A BIG SLUMP IN MEATS

Fair Supply of Fruits - Raspberries Made Their First Appearance on the Square.

The market, though moderately small his morning, showed a brisk trade and ery good prices. Hay found a ready rst quality going for the latter price. here were about 20 loads offered, which lid not meet the demand, and there will likely be another good market for it tomorrow. Oats were very slack, though the prices showed a tendency to advance.

One load sold as high as $1 67. Slump in Meats.

There was a very decided slump in meats, however. Beef sold as low as $6 50, and from that to $7. Even these prices there was really a very Veal, too, was very slow; $7 was the highest price paid, while some around $5.25 to $5.50 for picked extra went as low as $6. GRAIN.

TORONTO. TORONTO.

Toronto, July 12.—It was on off day at the Union stock yards today, business being decidedly slow and draggy. Many of the usual buyers and dealers were absent, the "Twelfth" probably being to some extent accountable for that fact. Among those at the market the general feeling seemed to be a disposition to awalt tomorrow's market. Following the very heavy supplies of last week it looks as if there is danger of a surplus this week. With hot weather in sight, butchers will not want to carry more stuff than they are obliged to.

The export demand will probably slacken off a little this week, owing to postponement of dates of sailings.

Today's receipts were again heavy, and included a large proportion of export cattle, with good to choice butcher cattle, not very plentiful.

Today's ranactions were chiefly in butcher cattle, and were comparatively small in volume, but sufficient to indicate an easing off in prices for butcher cattle generally, though anything choice held about steady and unchanged at last veek's levels.

THE KAISER INSULTS

The Emperor's Revenge on the Poet's Statue Arouses German Wrath.

London, July 12. - Literary and artistic Germany has just been deeply stirred by an action on the part of Emperor William which appears to be a wanton insult to the memory of one of Germany's great men; one, indeed, who (if the judgment of intellectual people all over the world be consulted), reflects the brightest glory on his country as a home of letters. The Kaiser has sold for £500 a statue of the poet, Heine, which once stood in a temple attached to the villa erected in Corfu by the late Empress Elizabeth of Austria, the beautiful woman who died at the hands of an assassin at Geneva eleven years ago.

It is considered by German literary men no mitigation that the statue has been sold to Herr Julius Kampe, of Hamburg, although he is a member of the publishing house which originally produced the works of Heine. Artistic feeling, it appears, has been outraged by the very fact of the statue's removal from its temple and its disposal as though it were a piece of unnecessary furniture. Some of the Kaiser's offended subjects have not hesitated to describe the act as a paltry piece of revenge on the dead genius for his strictures on the Hohenzol-

Has an Excuse,

It is, however, no new resolve on the part of the Emperor William to remove the statue from Corfu. When he bought the Achilleion, as the famous villa is called, as a summer residence for himself whenever he should be cruising in the Med-Iterranean, he was already credited with the intention of converting Heine's temple into a memorial chapel for the murdered Elizabeth herself. He can, therefore, at least, plead that he is performing a plous work when he takes steps to commemorate the imperial designer in the grounds of the building which she planned and had erected for herself by the Italian architect, Cerito. Wildly extravagant as was the Empress Elizabeth in her craze for building and decorating the Achilleion was perhaps her greatest folly in luxurious and artistic prodigality. Built on the site of a sumptuous house which Elizabeth bought only to pull down, the villa cost no less than $15,000,000. Perched upon a rock commanding the sea, it has two stories on the side lapped by BY AIRSHIP BANDITS the waves, and, in addition, a ground floor on the land side only ground floor on the land side only. The base of the building follows exactly the natural formation of the rock and the ascent to it.
