TIME MUDDLE JUST AS BAD AS BEFORE

City Offices Will Continue On Saving Plan.

SCHOOLS NOT CERTAIN

But Board Members See No Necessity For Changing Again.

London is still in a muddle as regards the time. The nearest the city council came to clearing up the situation last night was to resolve that standard time from the date of the quashing of the daylight saving bill was and is the daylight saving time, "and evermore shall be" was not added to the resolution. At any rate, the situation remains as it was, even more so if one might judge from outward signs.

Bylaw Ready. A bylaw has been prepared ready to present to the council to set the hour of the day for all public bodies one hour in advance of standard time. This was not brought up, and the council and committee members will meet on Monday standard time, unless some change is made in the procedure bylaw. City hall employees will continue under the daylight saving bylaw.

Board Not Decided. Chairman J. S. Barnard of the board of education would not say what he thought the board would do in view of the situation. As far as can be learned there is but little opposition among the members of the board to the standard time, but the board will not get up in time to reach school at 9 o'clock, unless they wish a heart-to-heart talk with the teacher on the sin of being late. The general opinion among the members of the board is that no notice need be paid to the ultimatum which was served on the board in connection with the quashing of the bylaw. The regular meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon, when this question will be discussed.

Thesophy Tells of the Paths Which Lead to God. Second in Series of Lectures by F. G. Hanchett of Los Angeles.

"Thesophy explains the narrow path," so said Francis G. Hanchett of Los Angeles, divisional lecturer for the Theosophical Society, in his second lecture of a series to a large audience on Monday evening in the society's hall, speaking on "The Middle Path."

"The path is a poetical figure of speech, describing the evolution of the soul or the expansion of consciousness. Tolerance sees many paths upward. All paths lead to God."

Thesophy is a path of different paths. The path of forthgoing of the spirit, in matter, and then the path of return to God. It speaks also of three different paths taken by people according to their temperaments. The path of knowledge, the path of devotion and the path of action.

"It teaches the ancient path by which man ascends, along a steep and rugged trail, from the lowly vale of ignorance and sorrow to the lofty peaks of wisdom and love."

"These perfect men who have trod this narrow and rocky path to its goal are called the masters of wisdom and love. They have mastered life and all the lessons it teaches."

The cultivation of moderation and equilibrium is one of the surest ways to the promotion of the growth of the soul. One wishing to take the path to peace should hold aloof from extremes.

The path of progress taught by theosophy are given most definitely the qualifications which must be unfolded the character if one wishes to unfold the gem of divinity within him.

"The qualifications which must be developed on the probationary path, which leads to illumination are: Discrimination between the real and the unreal; desirelessness with indifference to external things; good conduct, or the six jewels of the moral life; self-control of thought, emotion and action; tolerance, cheerful endurance of the hardships of life, equilibrium of faith and self-confidence. When all of these virtues are attained, the fourth qualification, universal love, naturally follows, and then as naturally comes illumination, attainment or initiation."

These perfect men who have trod this narrow and rocky path to its goal are called the masters of wisdom and love. They have mastered life and all the lessons it teaches.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Address Your Problems to the Military Editor of The Advertiser and They Will Be Answered From Official Information.

CURIOUS. Q.—I enlisted in March, 1918, and returned to Canada in December, 1918. I was discharged from the service on January 18, 1919. Am I entitled to men's rate of war service gratuity?

A.—If so, to whom should I apply for same?

A.—The military authorities gave me a discharge as an unmarried man, and to date I have received single men's rate of war service gratuity. On date of discharge I was receiving $100 per month. Should this not increase my rate of war service gratuity five cents per day?

A.—If your wife was in receipt of separation allowance at time of your discharge it should be included in war service gratuity. However, from above facts it is presumed that you did not obtain permission to get married from your commanding officer, and as you were discharged as a single man you will receive gratuity at the rate of $70 per month only.

A.—No. War service gratuity is payable, according to rank, held at discharge with a minimum rate of $70 for single men. As your wife has no legal barrier does not equal $70 per month, you will receive the minimum rate which is payable also to those holding rank of sergeant, the monthly pay of this rank being less than the minimum rate fixed.

LIEUTENANT. Q.—What is the amount of war service gratuity due a lieutenant who is married, and who has served overseas for more than three years?

A.—If he has served in an "actual theatre of the war," such as the Western Front, or in the service on November 11, 1918, he is entitled to $40 which is payable in five monthly payments of $8, and a sixth monthly payment of $39. In addition to the above gratuity if his wife was in receipt of separation allowance during his service she will receive $240, being payable as separation allowance at rate of $40 per month for six months. Total gratuity payable is $720, which $240 is made payable to his wife.

W. R. T. Q.—My husband enlisted for the Mechanical Transport in London in January, 1916. He proceeded overseas immediately and was placed in the imperial transport. Is the Canadian Government making up the difference in the gratuity given by the imperial Government?

A.—If he enlisted in the imperial army recruiting in Canada, he is not entitled to any Canadian war service gratuity. However, if he enlisted in the mechanical transport of the Canadian army, and upon his arrival overseas was transferred to the imperial army, the difference in the war service gratuity will be made up from Canadian funds.

2. Application forms may be obtained by writing to the Paymaster, War Service Gratuity, Wesley Barracks, London, Ont., which must be filled in and returned to that department for certification, after which funds payable will be forwarded to applicant.

L. C. A. Q.—I was discharged from the Canadian army at Ottawa, on February 19, 1919, after serving in France for two years. I did not receive a war service badge at time of discharge, as I was not in receipt of a war service badge at time of application for same had to be made to the officer in charge of the War Service Badges, at Kingston. I put in my application, but did not receive any button or reply to my application. Can you tell me how to obtain a button?

A.—It would be advisable for you to write to the D. A. & Q. M. G. Military District No. 3, Kingston, Ont., advising full particulars of your case, such as full name, rank, regimental number, period of service, date of discharge, date of forwarding application, and you will likely be forwarded a war service badge in the near future. If this does not come, you should write to the D. A. & Q. M. G. Military District No. 3, Kingston, Ont., stating the same particulars, and a new application for a war service badge will likely be made in your favor.

ARDENT READER. Q.—Why are the military authorities discharging all category A2 men, and retaining the services of those in lower categories, such as C, now that the war is over, and we need our liberty to recover our good health?

A.—The military authorities have announced that those men whose services can be dispensed with are being discharged regardless of category. Soldiers in lower categories who cannot obtain their release are usually men specially qualified to act as clerks, stenographers, orderlies, etc., and are also trained men used for guard and picket duty. The A category men who are discharged are not men of honor, but are men who have served overseas and are discharged on return if it is only that they be released as soon as possible owing to the arduous campaigning which they have experienced.

RETURNED. Q.—I enlisted January 31, 1916; left Canada on August 18, and returned on February 21, 1919. I was discharged on May 23, 1918. I was returned to Canada owing to sickness caused by service in England. Am I entitled to any gratuity?

A.—If so, where should I apply for same?

A.—No. Since you were not in the service on November 11, 1918, and did not serve in the actual theatre of the war, such as France or Belgium, according to the regulations governing same, you are entitled to three months' post-discharge pay under the regulations which are required to answer satisfactorily certain questions, and satisfy the authorities as to their financial condition before being permitted to cross the border. There are no papers necessary for your discharge paper may facilitate matters. To obtain information as to what wire connections are required, the immigration authorities, write or interview John Riggs, Dominion Immigration Inspector, Carling Block, Richmond street, London, Ontario.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

COMMENTS ADVERTISER'S STAND. To the Editor of The Advertiser: We have been reading your editorial on shaking your editorial staff. It is not absolutely necessary that you extend the way in which you carry out your editorial staff. What we started out to say was that we fully appreciate your efforts, which we have not flat-footed and announce that no one can write letters to the editor of The Advertiser unless they sign their names. "Hancock" at the bottom of the letter for publication.

That is a sure step in the right direction, for we have often noticed where an individual has been criticised through your columns and some of them have been very abusive. We feel that with personal abuse over a fictitious name, such conduct is equivalent to asking the referee of a fight to blindfold their opponent before they stepped into the ring to administer a good thrashing. We have also noticed instances wherein both parties used fictitious names. Their efforts may have been taken seriously by themselves, but the general public have received more amusement than education from them.

As we have read them it reminded us of an incident "over there," in which one of the boys in our unit, told a comrade that he could lick him blindfolded. The other fellow, not to be outdone, offered to put up a scrap on the same terms. Such an opportunity was not to be missed by the other members of the battalion, and an impromptu ring was soon formed. After the first rush, in which the boys were about even, they drifted apart, and their antics in punching an imaginary blow caused such an uproar that the colonel had to call for silence in order to prevent the battalion from succumbing to their hilarity.

Your own city has removed the boys found themselves a couple of dozen paces apart, each facing a different direction. The sense of humor overcame their transient anger, and they joined in a general laugh. You are absolutely correct in asserting that a majority of the citizens demand to prevent the same kind of thing from happening again. We feel that your decision in demanding the signature of all writers will result in the more free use of the columns of The Advertiser in discussing public problems and in the interest of the citizens of the home town vicinity.

Your for a square deal. FRID YOUNG.

DAYLIGHT SAVING AFFECTS THE FARMER. To the Editor of The Advertiser: The tiller of the soil, who rises at 5 o'clock new time, spends 1 1/2 hours with a lantern doing chores, is called to breakfast at 6:30, has a premature dinner, then in the afternoon quits at 6, the sun being then not far from the zenith, when he is called for supper. His meals are eaten as follows: Breakfast, 5; dinner 10:30; supper, 4:30, sun time. A good stomach should rebel. Man down here is dissatisfied with God's own sun time, and is muddling things by changing it.

The "daylight" time for July and August is out of the question. Often in harvest time the morning dew hangs on till 10 or 11 o'clock before he can get his grain or hay, so either he must not move headway in the morning, or he must wait till the dew is in the forenoon. With 6 o'clock being the time for sunrise, the farmer is helped in quick response; they do not wait for the sun to rise in the past. A moving backward of 1 1/2 hours from the "daylight" time would better serve the farmer and production in harvest.

The farmers and other laborers should not suffer losses and inconvenience because the railroads want to govern our time. The Michigan Central railway up till a few years ago operated on central standard time, which is 10 hours slower than they are using today.

Meat Packers' Strike Is of Vital Interest to Public

It is fortunate for the United States and Canada, even in the midst of various disturbances that indicate seething discontent in some industries, that no movement has taken serious hold that will cause general disruption. The meat packers' strike in Toronto is perhaps the most serious phase of the labor situation in Canada. Meat trades may strike, but the vital injury, if any, would be done to employers and employees, whereas the closing down of great food plants will cause prices to rise at once, and bring about serious shortage. Community sanity would dictate the necessity of Government control in such an instance, and Ottawa should be prepared to assert a little properly-regulated authority if the need for forcible feeding of another kind than that made famous by the suffragettes should be found necessary.

The serious labor disturbances in Canada will not be of a kind that concern certain manufacturing trades and their workers. These two elements have to fight out their grievances. When a man demands a certain wage, and his employer refuses that wage, the only alternative is for the employee to leave work. Then adjustment of the grievance is carried on in the best way upon which the two elements can agree. The owner may close his plant, but that earns no dividends, and may mean ruin. The worker can gain nothing by tearing down a plant. The sensible men of both sides of the labor question realize this, and they realize, after the fireworks have exploded, that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. Extremists have always given way, and will continue to give way. A man smashing a boy with a club is an extremist quite as much as a man doing some other thing that moral law based in human conscience will not meet as inhuman or unfair. If an act is cruel or contemptible it will not stand the test of many days.

But when strikes occur having to do with foodstuffs, the community has the right to be heard. The community has no responsibility for such a strike. It may be that the public must pay any price charged for a commodity so affected by a strike, and in that event there is not even indirect responsibility. And further than this, it is possible for a strike to be manipulated in such a manner as to present to certain interests a chance to shut off supplies so that the public demands for regulation or lower price would be lost in the greater clamor because of shortage or famine.

The Government should then take over such a food supply until adjustment has been made, keeping employees at work at wages demanded pending settlement, or providing the labor required to produce foodstuffs, not strike-breaking, but temporary labor.

Meanwhile it is gratifying that no further spread of the "One Big Union" movement is noticeable. The best branches of labor are opposed to this revolutionary group, as was evidenced when London among other typographical unions went on record as being absolutely in disagreement with the principles, so-called, of the movement.

Death of Mr. Strong Removes a Kindly, Vital Character

Perhaps no other man in London spent as much time in meeting people as the late W. T. Strong. If one's way fell with his, it was a pleasant thing to meet him for a walk to work or a stroll home, or to find him in his garden or his store that was almost always reflecting his garden by the blossoms he carried down for his customers. He chatted with the thousands of people he knew, casually and intelligently, and never seeking business or personal advancement thereby, but simply the point of contact with the human folk he had come to understand in more than three score years in his native city. It did not matter what phase of the city's life came up for discussion, Mr. Strong would speak from his experience, but the fine nature of the man tended toward an expression concerning something beautiful. He loved to see homes in London; he loved to be in his garden and studying the faces of his pansies or his violets, but more than that, we believe, he loved to wander in those human gardens where little children were, in the carefully-tended rows of girl and boy blossoms, which to him were the treasures of earth, and in the culture of which he gave himself with tender interest for their full blooming.

He had spent many years in the work of the board of education, but those who knew him will agree he would rather spend his time in the class rooms where the children were than at the council board where the business affairs of the schools were to be dealt with. He held decided opinions regarding school policy, and there were few questions about which he did not inform himself by careful investigation. He was not afraid to express opinions, but he never advanced his opinions as holding greater weight than the opinions of other men, and it was seldom that he did not have an opinion that was worth hearing.

He worked constantly during his lifetime in London, constructed an important business, and devoted his years diligently to some worthy work. He was a lover of everything that grew and lived outdoors. He loved to wander among ponds where fish played, and his aquarium down the Thames was a place of great charm to hundreds of Londoners who have passed along. He knew and loved horses, and rode like a man to many a chase after the fox brush. His dogs were not only his sporting aides, but his good friends. They had a home and a kind caress of the hand as long as they could hobble about. He was an active adherent of "the roarin' game," and won many a famous match on the ice.

Such men as W. T. Strong do not wish to be regarded as great. His political ambition, if such it might be called, never went beyond a desire to see children given the best chance in life. He found his happiness in simple ways, and his life was vital both to himself and to those who were touched by it. And while he would not wish to be called a famous man, he was one of the men in any community that make it a better place in which to live. It may be said, and with an abundance of words left unsaid, that it was better for London that Mr. Strong passed through the history of the city during those years he served as druggist, school trustee, sportsman in the best sense of the term, and as a citizen of many activities.

One hopes there is immortality so that such men may pass on and be freed of cares and perchance speak a kindly word for the less worthy among us whom they leave. We feel their words might help more than many a formal prayer.

Many of those connected with The Advertiser have had an intimate acquaintance with Mr. Strong. For twenty years at least he made a daily trip to the office, and his visits will be missed; he was a good man for newspapermen to know, because he believed in the opportunities for good a newspaper may encounter. He commended those things in a newspaper which he believed to be in the public interest, and he kept adverse criticism silenced, probably in the belief that it is human to make mistakes. And as those in The Advertiser knew him, so did most other people in the community.

Expel the Lenine Agents

The Bolsheviks of Montreal, the large majority of whom are foreigners, distressed and enraged by police suppression of their lawless behavior, are emitting dismal yawns and yelps. These strident protests for the moment centre about the capture and internment of half a dozen alien Austrians who on May Day attempted to "raise hell" in the metropolis. The trouble with the Red is that he is a monopolist, or would be. He would keep for his own use the right to arrest and imprison. While he preaches freedom of thought and act he would retain exclusive privileges of interference with others. Capturing and punishing anarchists in Montreal who flout Canada's laws is all wrong; capturing and punishing those in Russia who display hostility to Bolshevik outrages is all right. Bolshevism is a combine of social destroyers who refuse recognition of any body or any thing not subscribing to the creed.

Montreal is to be congratulated for its prompt cutting of these rogues of disorder, who would ignore any law, moral or man-made, that is not of their making. The Dominion Government will show wisdom if it takes a tip from Montreal and cleans out these dangerous strangers. Deportation is the one certain way to be rid of the pests. Internment and imprisonment only serves to wreathe them with martyrdom, which their comrades can play up to great advantage amongst the ignorant and emotional of our foreign-born citizens. But if we get these noxious fellows out of the country and enlarge the barricade against the entrance of their kind we will break up a Red propaganda that appears to be rapidly spreading throughout Canada and head off many irritating clashes with authority.

This nation has a great and grave task on its hands to straighten out the industrial situation, and it must not be hampered by the nagging of this pestiferous social margot. The Bolsheviks are boosting that next May Day will be Canada's Red Flag Day. If we assume at once an aggressive, "treat 'em rough" attitude towards this mischievous band, bundling them back to their home lands, bag and baggage, a year hence there won't be enough of them around to raise a whisker, much less the red flag.

A RACE IN THE NIGHT.

By A. W. Peach.

The older man looked worried and weary as he hesitatingly outlined his request to Steadman. "You have always been more or less like a big brother to Dorothy, and I want you to keep an eye upon her while I am away. That white-faced Martel has been hanging round more than I like. He's one of the romantic chaps who rattle a girl's judgment. I shall be in Brazil for a month, probably. Just drift over and keep an eye on her. She's a mere girl in many ways—and she may do something rash and she may not."

Steadman readily agreed, though a bit amused by the turn of affairs. He had known the dark-haired, dark-eyed sprite of a Dorothy Haine since childhood, and with manhood had come a liking for her closely akin to love; but for him she had never been more than a friendly acquaintance and a brotherly manner. Now he was to be her guardian.

He expected little trouble, however. Martel was in the habit of running out on the Haine estate from the city, and making a daily call. Steadman planned to drift around also in order to keep a check on events.

As he left the big house, after his interview with Mr. Haine, he found her busily tinkering with her car. It suddenly dawned upon him that she was no longer a playmate, a mere girl, but a woman with much of a girl's heart.

"Hello, Buddy," she said in the old way, "I'm getting ready for a spin this afternoon."

She looked at him curiously as she said it. He was puzzled by the idea, but did not stop to fathom it. The glance that she might want him for a passenger never entered his head.

After a word of friendly fun he went on down the walk, without turning. It had turned he would have seen the quaint girlish figure in its working garb turn in his direction and then, with a shake of the head, bend over the engine.

That afternoon, returning from a stroll with his dogs, the sudden guardianship that was his was brought home forcibly to him.

He saw her car, and looking down one of the paths running from the road, caught a glimpse of her, and near her the short, easy figure of Martel. They were walking arm in arm, and Martel, with head inclined, was talking to her earnestly. A strange uneasiness went over Steadman.

He whistled a bit in order to attract their attention, for he wanted to take the path himself.

They looked up in a startled manner, and Steadman saw Martel's annoyance, and, too, the flush on her cheeks. What had Martel been saying, Steadman wondered; and a slow question formed in his mind. Was Martel intending to take advantage of Haine's absence?

Steadman greeted them, and then said to her: "Dot, I am coming over to have a game of rummy with you tonight. Are you game?"

She laughed at the old challenge. It was the game they had played for years, and at which she had beaten him by a narrow margin.

"Sure, come along, Buddy. Perhaps you can win this time," she answered in her quick way, only to hesitate and look worried as if some afterthought had come to her mind.

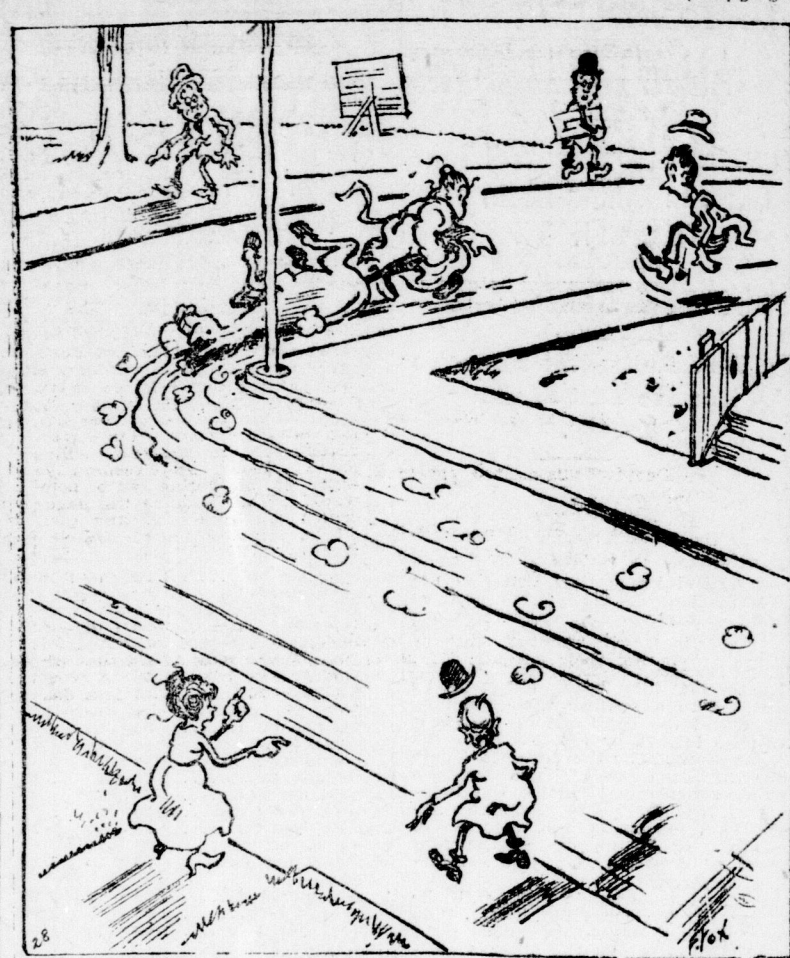

Steadman caught, too, Martel's swift glance at her, but there did not seem to be any particular meaning in the glance.

REGULARS TRIM YANNIGANS BY THE SCORE OF 12 TO 6

Tecumseh Cuban Stars Will Meet London Tecumsehs in Exhibition Game This Afternoon at 4 o'clock—Catcher Tree Expected to Report Today.

In an eight-inning practice game played at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon the Regulars defeated the Yannigans by the score of 12 to 6. The game was a slugfest, and the Regulars took revenge on the Yannigans, who won the last practice contest.

Manager Keenan did not play, but acted as umpire. The decisions were not disputed, and the London leader knows how to call the balls and strikes.

Several ball fans were in the bleachers to get a glimpse of the Tecumsehs action.

The Regulars batted first and went to one, two, three. The Yannigans started off strong in the first frame and made a three-base hit. Ben Gilbert, who belongs to the local coaching staff, played first base for the Yannigans, and Big Ben did some first-class work on the sack. Cleary pitched for the losers, and Leishman for the Regulars.

In the fifth inning the Regulars ran up three more runs. Hill and Hess got two-base hits.

With a score tie the Regulars scored five runs in the seventh. Reid and Hess hit out two batters, and Bob Clark made a three-base hit to centre field.

Leishman pitched a fairly good game, but did not have support in the outfield. Pitcher Hansen had a permanent position in field, playing for the two teams and not coming to plate.

Gadsby of St. Thomas, who signed up with the Toronto Leafs, but through sickness was unable to report, has been training with the Tecumsehs. He got a triple and a double yesterday. He is waiting for his release from George Gibson to play with the London Tecumsehs.

COLBORNE CHAMPS WIN FROM REGINA STARS

The Colborne Champs defeated the Regina Stars in a good game of ball yesterday by the score of 23-19. Williamson pitched well for the winners. A feature of the game was a catch by Switzer, who ran from left field to second base and caught a hard fly.

Built for Shrewd Canadian Truck Buyers

FOUR out of every five loads conveyed by horse or motor can be carried by the Maxwell truck. To men who know truck costs that means a lot. It means that owning a heavier truck is an extravagance. It means that buying a lighter job is foolish economy.

The Maxwell is every man's truck. It will do any hauling work at the lowest cost per ton-mile. On ten miles or a thousand.

Easy on gas, easy on tires—on any roads. Ten-foot loading space—big enough for 3000 pounds of feathers or a ton-and-a-half of scrap iron.

No false overhead costs in this truck. No manufacturing mistakes to pay for. No experimental work. Not a mere assembled job—it embodies the full fruits of the Maxwell manufacturing facilities and record.

It's a freight carrier that offers dollar-for-dollar value through and through. A business-speeder that will yield long and loyal service in any business.

It's a truck ideally suited to Canadian roads and Canadian conditions.

It's a truck on which you can get real service—anywhere in Canada.

The price is several hundred dollars less than any other truck of similar capacity. The reason—quantity production on a sound manufacturing basis.

Eventually You Will Buy a Bicycle! Why Not Right Now?

Ladies' and Gents' Models, $52.50 and $57.50. Boys' and Girls' Models, $45.00. Present prices.

Increasing cost of living, including higher car fares, is going to force you to buy a Bicycle. This is an assured fact. You will have to have one to get to and from work on time, to meet the severe competition that is arising from unusual after-the-war conditions. It saves money for you from the minute you start to ride it. Of course you want the very best Bicycle your money can buy. It's hardly necessary to tell you that the Brantford Red Bird Bicycle is the one best made in Canada and that it costs no more than other Bicycles. All you have to do is to ask your neighbor who rides one or count them on the streets and note that seven out of every ten Bicycles you see are the neat, sturdy, never-failing Brantford Red Birds. For thirty-five years this Bicycle has been made and sold in Canada—ever gaining in popularity. Now, Mr. Man or Woman, who should have a Bicycle, does it not stand to reason that a manufacturer who has had thirty-five years of increasing and satisfactory sales, will insist that the very best materials and the finest of expert workmanship go into every Bicycle sent out under his name? And does it not stand to reason, also, that a merchant with the wonderful success and enormous increase in sales each year of The Bicycle & Motor Sales, selling only one make of Bicycle, must insist upon the article sold being the very best possible to obtain. We tell you—and we stake our successful reputation upon this statement—that there is not another Bicycle manufactured anywhere on earth that is better than the Brantford Red Bird. It's a pretty big and a pretty broad statement, but we are willing to back it up and gamble our last nickle on its being an absolute fact.

OUR REPUTATION FOR HONEST BUSINESS METHODS AND TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING, coupled with the reliable Bicycles we sell, has built this business in London in six years to one of the largest exclusive retail Bicycle businesses in North America. If we had been selling any but the best Bicycle possible to obtain could we have built such a business in so short a time?

The Brantford Red Bird Bicycle

Is scientifically constructed. Thirty-five years of continuous improvement assures you of its qualities. Is there any reason why you should experiment with a Bicycle of unknown merit and performances? IT IS BETTER TO BUY A RED BIRD THAN TO WISH YOU HAD. Come in and give us a chance to demonstrate to you the superiority of this Bicycle. We are Bicycle experts and know what we are talking about. Cash or easy terms. Ride while you pay.

Massey Silver Ribbon

Mount a Massey Silver Ribbon Bicycle, and note how smoothly it moves, how readily it steers and how readily it responds to the will of the rider. This easy pedaling and perfect control characterize a C. C. M. Bicycle, and not only when it is new, but even after many years of paid service. In fact, one of the advantages of choosing a high-grade machine is that it will not begin to give trouble and become hard to ride, and will cost very little for repairs and upkeep. The first cost, and only cost for a long time, if ordinary care is used. So it is really very much the cheapest in the end.

RUTHENIANS DEMAND ROYAL COMMISSION TO PROBE THEIR MOTIVES

WINNIPEG, May 5.—At a meeting of 200 Ruthenians of the Springfield district, it was unanimously decided to request that a royal commission be appointed to investigate charges that the Ruthenians were fomenting revolution.

T. D. Perley, a Canadian-Ukrainian, says the settlers in that district are loyal citizens; that the cultivation of their homesteads is keeping them entirely too busy to think about creating disturbances. The Ruthenians shall always stand for peace and order, he stated.

TWO WOMEN KILLED, THIRD MAY DIE AS EXPLOSION'S RESULT

VANCOUVER, May 5.—Two women are dead and a third is lying seriously wounded as the result of an explosion of a steam engine at a local laundry here Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Joseph Phillips was the first to succumb late Sunday morning, and was followed Sunday night by Margaret Cautley. Miss Lillian Muncey, in the hospital, is suffering from scalds, but is expected to recover.

DOMINION RAILWAY BOARD MAY AID IN FIXING OCEAN RATES

J. E. Armstrong To Propose Amendment to Railway Legislation.

OTTAWA, May 5.—It is understood that before the special committee that is dealing with railway legislation concludes, J. E. Armstrong, chairman, will submit amendments which will give the railway board a larger share of the control over ocean rates. This will not be done until the amendments relating to control of steamships operating on inland waters have been disposed of.

It will be recalled that some years ago Sir Henry Draxton visited Great Britain, and after an exhaustive inquiry, made a report on the question of control of ocean rates. It is stated that a report has recently been prepared at the instance of the British board of trade which practically adopts Sir Henry's findings. With the war over, it is thought that the problem of control of ocean rates again comes within the realm of practical consideration.

THIN, FRAIL FOLKS NEED PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bito-Phosphate To Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.
Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves, our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bito-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bito-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.
This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.
CAUTION: Although bito-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advt.

RUPTURE KILLS 7,000 ANNUALLY

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificates being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is at a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The truss merely retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need more than anything else. But science has found a way, and every truss right in the privacy of your home. The PLAPAD is a truly scientific, simple, most scientific, logical and successful treatment for rupture. The world has never known it.
The PLAPAD PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place. Therefore, it is not necessary to use velvet—easy to apply—impervious. To be used while you work and when you sleep. No straps, buckles or ligatures attached. Learn how to use the PLAPAD. Send your name today to PLAPAD Co., 413 St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Pad and the information necessary.

No edge without stropping

Provide a barber with a number of the highest-priced razors obtainable and stipulate that he must use a new razor on every individual customer and he would refuse if he valued his trade.

Stropping, you see, is needful because it removes the roughness of the new blade and re-aligns the saw-like edge that shaving produces; because it keeps the blade free from rust; and because it is the only means that will provide you each morning with a keen edge for shaving.

You don't take the blade out to sharpen it; nor do you take the AutoStrop Razor apart to clean it. From first to last—stropping, shaving and cleaning—you never need to remove the blade from the razor.

You can get an AutoStrop Razor anywhere—razor, strop and 12 blades, complete, in attractive case, for $5.00.

W. B. CLELAND CHOSEN TO ORGANIZE LIQUOR BUSINESS FOR GOVT.

Hamilton Vendor Appointed by Mr. McPherson.

MAY HAVE PERMANENT SIT

Rumor Says Salary of $10,000 a Year Will Go With Office.

TORONTO, May 5.—W. B. Cleland of Hamilton has been appointed by the Ontario Government to take charge of the organization of the Government system of dispensing liquor, which, under the legislation passed last session, is to take the place of the existing system of sale through private vendors. Mr. Cleland's appointment is in a sense an interim one, which leaves open to the Government the choice of a permanent general manager for the system. It is practically certain, however, that Mr. Cleland will be continued in charge under the board of license commissioners. Hon. W. D. McPherson stated tonight that Mr. Cleland would receive a very substantial salary for his services, but that the amount had not been definitely fixed. It is reported that a sum in the neighborhood of $10,000 a year has been suggested.

Cleland mastered the distilling business in Scotland. He organized the Hamilton Importing Company, and carried on business in that city until the Ontario temperance act came into force. He was appointed as Government vendor when Hamilton secured a vendor's license, and has held that post ever since.

ALL ORGANIZED MEN MAY COME OUT AT WINDSOR, IS RUMOR

Street Car Men and Company Both Sit Tight—Mayor Bombarbs Ottawa.

WINDSOR, May 5.—There were no new developments in Windsor street car strike today. Both sides were sitting tight. Picketing apprehensive lest some attempt be made to start, and cars maintained a close watch over the cars.
Mayor Winter this afternoon dispatched another long telegram to Senator Gordon Robertson at Ottawa, urging Government intervention to settle the trouble, which threatens to seriously affect the operation of several of the larger manufacturing plants on this frontier.

Rumors are rife that all organized labor is contemplating coming out in sympathy with the street car men, and the mayors of Ford, Walkerville, Windsor and Sandwich are working overtime to avert a general tie-up of the border industries. Ald. Hooper's statement on Saturday that there was a possibility of all local union workers coming out was made in answer to Manager Sidney Anderson's statement that it was the intention of the company to find men willing to operate the passenger service on the lines.

FARMERS MAY BUY IN LIVESTOCK YARDS UNDER AMENDMENTS TO THE ACT

OTTAWA, May 5.—Second reading was today given Hon. T. A. Cregar's bill to amend the livestock and livestock products act, and the House went into committee on it. Among other things, the bill provides that farmers may buy as well as sell stock in stockyards. It also makes provision for the standardization of certain livestock products, such as wool, etc.

Names of Squaws on Voters' Lists in the Last Election

OTTAWA, May 5.—Hon. Charles Murphy asked the Government whether instructions had been sent to the enumerator at a poll near Southampton, Ont., in the last election, to place the names of squaws from an Indian reserve near that place on the voters' lists.
Hon. Martin Burrell replied that such instructions had been issued in error by an official in the office of the general returning officer. Mr. Burrell said that this was the only known error which occurred in that office throughout the election.

WHITE MAY NOT DELIVER BUDGET FOR TWO WEEKS

Has Promised 10-Days' Notice and Has Given No Intimation So Far.

[Canadian Press.]
OTTAWA, May 5.—There is still no definite intimation as to when Mr. Thomas White will deliver his budget. As he has promised ten days' notice, the event is not now expected before the middle of May at the earliest. In the meantime the most of the opposition to engage the attention of the House will be the soldiers' settlement bill, which will be introduced tomorrow by Hon. Arthur Meighen. Many of the more important provisions of the land settlement scheme have been made effective by order-in-council. The bill provides for the order-in-council, and cover other matters affecting the welfare of the soldiers.

PENSIONS BILL WILL AUTHORIZE NUMEROUS SPECIAL INCREASES

Committee Has About Completed Draft—An Educational Feature.

OTTAWA, May 5.—The special committee of the House of Commons has today completed its work. The hearing of evidence was concluded a fortnight ago, and subsequent sittings in camera have been devoted to the framing of a bill embodying a number of amendments to the present pensions law.
It is believed that the bill will include nearly fifty clauses and will authorize a number of increases in certain classes of pensions as well as extension of educational privileges to dependents of men who lost their lives in the service of their country.

TORONTO PASTOR HAS ACCEPTED CALL TO INGERSOLL CHURCH

INGERSOLL, May 5.—The Rev. Donald McIntyre of Toronto has accepted a call tendered to him by the congregation of the Baptist Church, to succeed the Rev. Joseph Jones, who some time ago went to the First Baptist Church, Woodstock. Rev. Mr. McIntyre conducts services here weekly, and so favorably impressed the congregation that a call was soon afterwards extended to him. He will begin his pastorate the first of June.

FRIDAY MARKET DAY

At the regular meeting of the council tonight a petition signed by both businessmen and workmen was presented asking that Friday be proclaimed market day, owing to Saturday being a holiday. A big celebration will be held here on the 24th, and it was deemed advisable to move the market day to Friday. A bylaw was given two readings to provide for a shelter in which to keep the corporation implements. The mayor was authorized to proclaim Friday, May 23, a market day.

GOVERNMENT TO DEVELOP AERONAUTICS

Bill Presented To Establish Air Board.

NO POLICY YET FORMED

Courts Must Determine Where Provincial Rights May Be in Conflict.

OTTAWA, May 5.—A bill to establish an air board to conduct aeronautics in Canada was introduced in the House of Commons today by Hon. A. K. MacLean, who said there must be some development of commercial aeronautics in the immediate future.
Mr. MacLean, who has charge of the bill, added that the air board would have no jurisdiction over any commercial or Government service.

Mr. Murphy asked if the Government intended to utilize the service on the board of returned Canadian aviators.
Mr. MacLean replied that they would be represented by the board.
In reply to Mr. Stevens of Vancouver, Mr. MacLean said the Government had not yet considered the advisability of entering the field of commercial aeronautics, but that there was some doubt in regard to the granting of a license to the leader of the Opposition, had the Government decided to establish a training school.

It was necessary, he said, that the present legislation be enacted before the Government could determine its policy in regard to the development of aeronautics. The immediate policy was to control aeronautics, to attend to the licensing of pilots, the licensing and inspection of machines and the supervision of routes.

Mr. Ernest Lapointe raised the point that it was doubtful if the board would have jurisdiction over an air route lying entirely within one province. Mr. MacLean admitted there might be some doubt in regard to the granting of a license to the leader of the Opposition, but that there was a possibility of reference to the courts later.

Mr. Lemieux remarked if the Government was anxious for public ownership in all kinds of public enterprises, it should not lose such a brilliant opportunity as the present.

In England air services had already been organized.
No Exclusive Franchises.
Mr. Cahill asked if the Government will give exclusive franchises, and if it would be within the power of the board to say that no company could have the exclusive right to landing waves.

Hon. A. K. MacLean replied that the Government had not in mind the granting of exclusive privileges to any company for any routes. Still, it might be well to develop this view should there arise a limit to the granting of licenses.
Gen. Meuburn said the Imperial authorities had spent millions of dollars at Camp Borden and the property had been turned over to the militia department for a mere song. It seemed to him that they could not continue at present the Royal Air Force in Canada, but he thought it best to thoroughly protect the machinery and buildings and there was a very small force there for that purpose. It was one of the finest things that had happened in America for airmen, and the facilities available for continuing in the future.

He said he had in mind the reorganization of the militia, and no doubt the air forces would be one of the large features. He sincerely hoped that the Government would be able to have the first consideration and he trusted that they would be able to be as successful commercially as they were in the war. The air board, he said, was only a temporary thing to keep them from being out of the country. Mr. Lemieux suggested that Col. Bishop should be on the air board.

W. S. Middleton remarked that Col. Bishop was a native of his town of Borden and a son of his former legal partner. He was a boy of whom any country might be proud, and to put him in charge of the air board was the best act the minister could do.

Lucky "Billy" Bishop.
Gen. Meuburn replied laughingly, that at present Col. Bishop was making something like $30,000 a month in the United States, and he thought there was not money enough in the militia department to induce him to act on the board now, but probably he would be available later.

Dr. Thompson of Yukon, urged that consideration should be given to the development of coastal patrol by scouts for the protection of shipping. There was need for it, especially on the Pacific coast.

Mr. MacLean replied that it would come within the purview of the board. The value of a coastal patrol service could only be determined by experience. It would, however, have the consideration of the board.
Mr. Mowatt thought that the establishment of air services would interfere with the property rights of the public, and the minister should give attention to this point, as apparently no provision had been made for it in the bill.

Flight Scares the Cat.
If a new machine were suddenly launched across a man's property making a great deal of noise, it would be made by property owners. There was no provision in the bill to say that the right to cross should be given in the general interest of the public.

Mr. MacLean doubted very much if any common law doctrine in regard to property rights would be upheld respecting recent developments. He doubted the regulations would provide that no air craft should be brought within a certain number of feet of an inhabited dwelling. Mr. MacLean mentioned that, according to report, an aeroplane at Vancouver had entered a room where a patient was being treated by a doctor. The air board, Mr. MacLean added, would be charged with the duty of preventing a repetition of that.

Public Ownership's Chance.
Mr. Cronyn agreed with Mr. Lemieux that the present was a good opportunity to consider Government ownership in respect to aeronautics. He urged that regulations adopted should be so drastic that the Government would be able to keep the whole question of aeronautics within its own hands.

S. F. Tolmie thought that the aeroplane might do great value in rescuing persons from vessels wrecked near the coast. He said that an aeroplane which could carry a cable from the shore to a sinking vessel might be the means of saving a large number of lives. He urged an arrangement that this branch of the work should be investigated by the board. The bill stands for third reading.

Influx From United States.
At question time W. K. Baldwin was told that 175,435 persons had come from the United States to settle in Canada within the last three years. No information was given as to the number of persons who had left Canada to settle in the United States.

In answer to a question by Sir Herbert Ames, the Government stated that 5,885 persons giving their vocations as farmers or stock raisers had been assessed under the income war tax, 1917. They were assessed for $117,549. The number who paid was 2,429, and the amount paid $319,526.
Sir Herbert Ames was also told that $29,451,860 bonds were allotted to subscribers in connection with the first Victory Loan, and $12,744 in the second Victory Loan. The Government further informed him that the number of firms which had paid under the income war tax act up to April 30 last was 22,715, and the amount paid was $6,865,047.

"Billy" Bishop Gets Thousand Dollars a Day!

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 5.—Lieut. Col. William A. Bishop of Owen Sound, premier living aviator in the British war service, is making $30,000 a month, or thereabouts, in the United States at the present time, was stated in the House of Commons today by Gen. Meuburn, minister of militia.

The reference came up during the discussion of the bill to create an air board in Canada, when Hon. Mr. Lemieux suggested that Col. Bishop be accorded a place on the board. Gen. Meuburn said, in consideration of the fact mentioned above, that he did not think there was enough money in the militia department to induce "Billy" to be available later.

Below Your Equator

there is, in the form of the intestinal canal, a wonderful laboratory, within which are manufactured the very materials which are vitally necessary to sustain life, and also violent poisons which directly and indirectly cause disease and death.

Food waste, if allowed to accumulate, stagnates and gives rise to poisonous matter. This, if allowed to be absorbed into the blood, produces 90% of the disease that attacks mankind, from a transient neuralgia to a permanent hardening of the arteries.

Bright's disease, liver trouble, heart enlargement, high blood pressure, skin affections, rheumatism, insomnia, nervous exhaustion, mental affections, all may be caused by such self-poisoning, the warning of which is obstinate or habitual constipation.

Nor is it safe or sufficient to take castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., in the effort to force the bowels to move. Not only will the constipation grow worse with the continuance of such remedies, but the dose must be constantly increased with an ever-weakening effect.

But Nujol acts differently—and successfully. Nujol is not a drug—does not act like any drug.

Nujol brings about thorough and natural bowel evacuation, at regular intervals, because it helps Nature to restore and to maintain the proper mechanism by which body waste is removed and its stagnation prevented.
