PETER OF SERVIA SWORN IN WITH GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Takes a Solemn Oath to Protect the Independence of Servia and the Unity of Its Government.

POWERS AWAIT INAUGURATION OF NEW REGIME

Belgrade, June 25. — Amidst great enthusiasm, King Peter this morning took the oath before the Skupshtina. Subsequently he held a review of the troops.

The oath taken by the King was in the following terms:

"I, Peter Karageorgevitch, on ascending the throne of the Kingdom of Servia, and assuming the royal prerogative, swear by the Almighty God and by all that is holiest and dearest to me upon this earth, that I will protect the independence of Servia and the unity of its Government; that I will maintain inviolate the constitution of the country; that I will govern in conformity with the constitution and the laws; and that, in all undertakings and dealings, I will keep the welfare of my people before my eyes. Taking this, my oath, solemnly, before God and the people, I call as witness the Lord God, to whom I shall give account at the judgment seat, so help me, God. Amen."

MINISTERS ACT TOGETHER.

Paris, June 25. — The French minister to Servia has reported the circumstances attending the departure of the ministers from Belgrade as follows: All the ministers received similar instructions, to act together. Accordingly, an understanding was reached that they should depart, this step being regarded as the most emphatic method of expressing the powers' protest against the assassinations of King Alexander and Queen Draga. The Russian and Austrian representatives apparently shared in the principles of the protest, but they did not withdraw, because Russia and Austria were apprehensive that a united withdrawal of the entire diplomatic representation at Belgrade would precipitate another revolution. The officials here say the entente of the ministers to Servia now becames an entente of the powers in expressing a protest. The duration of the absence of the ministers from Belgrade is indefinite, and depends mainly on King Peter's course in the selection of his ministers, and the terms of Servia's notification to the powers of the inauguration of the new regime.

MASSACRE CONDEMNED.

Washington, June 24.—It is learned at the state department that U. S. Minister Jackson has left Belgrade on his return to Athens, to which capital he is also accredited. His course will be in line with that adopted by the diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, Germany, France and the other countries, which have, up to date, refused to recognize the new Servian Government.

Bucharest, Roumania, June 24.—Leading citizens and university students here are making arrangements for a mass meeting, to be held June 28, for the purpose of condemning the Servian massacres.

A PICTURESQUE SCENE.

The scene was extremely picturesque. The homely garb of the peasants who had been allowed to enter the room and the simple attire of the deputies present contrasting with the white and gold decorations of the ballroom and the splendor of the uniforms of the members of the king's staff.

In reply to the address, King Peter gravely remarked that he would do his best to rule in accordance with the constitution.

When he had finished greeting the deputies the king left the room amid renewed cheers from its occupants and ascended to his apartments. Outside the palace a vast crowd had by that time collected and shouted for the king, who, however, did not appear, and the crowd gradually left. The women heartily participated in the king's reception, waving their handkerchiefs and vying with the men in their shouts of welcome. Many cries of "Long live the army" were heard.

There was an entire absence of disturbance. The whole town was given over to rejoicing.

After lunch the king held a conference with the ministers and discussed the situation.

There are no lack of people, conversant with the inner life of the Servian capital, who declare that the apparently universal enthusiasm was clevery "stage arranged" demonstration, and that but for the mounted officers who circulated among the crowds, commanding the people to cheer for King Peter, much of the outward signs of rejoicing would have been absent.

Although the king's entry into Belgrade was distinguished by a diplomatic boycott, his reception by the people was everywhere marked by heartiness, which approached genuine enthusiasm in which all classes participated. The officials were in uniform, and wore all their decorations. Workmen were engaged all night long in finishing the erection of Venetian masts and triumphal arches, and some of the latter were only completed as the firing of guns announced King Peter's entry into his kingdom, when the train traversed the bridge connecting Servia with Austria.

The reports from Belgrade vary concerning the attitude of those concerned in the assassinations. While it is stated positively that at a meeting held last Sunday the conspirators decided, in the event of an effort being made to prosecute them, they would all commit suicide, another report says the conspirators decided to make a vigorous stand against any attempt to exact a penalty for their crime.

General Genschich, the Minister of Commerce, who, according to popular belief, focused the general dissatisfaction felt against King Alexander, has given a remarkable interview, in the course of which he justifies the course taken by the assassins. Europe and Great Britain, he says, were ignorant of the true facts leading up to the fatal night which were worse than have ever been known. "While the world has scoffed at the Servians for tolerating a dynasty which by its crimes and follies scandalized civilization," he said, "the Servians have borne all until the removal of the late king and queen became a public necessity." The minister added that it was not intended, however, to kill their majesties, but King Alexander himself aggravated and incensed his pursuers in the palace, and he asserts that the late king had planned the killing of 150 prominent men on the day that the heir to the throne was announced, in order to spread terror among the ranks of the malcontents.

SCHOOL'S OUT.

MEYERS DID NOT CARRY PARCEL

Mr. Conmee Declares Gamey's Statements Were Untrue.

MR. SMYTH AND BOARD FENCES

Says Charges Would Never Have Been Investigated Had Not Government Pressed It.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Ont., June 25.—Mr. Conmee continued the Gamey debate this morning. In opening, he denied a statement to the effect that he was interested in the pulp wood business. He then charged Mr. Gamey with deliberate falsehood in stating that Myers had carried the parcel.

Mr. Whitney, interrupted with a remark that if members were allowed such freedom of utterance Mr. Gamey should have the same liberty when he spoke again. Mr. Conmee answered that he was quoting from the evidence in charging Mr. Gamey with falsehood. He was not going so in any offensive sense. Continuing he said that no other man in Ontario would utilize such methods to obtain evidence, such as getting his young son to commit forgery. The charges were in the main false. Gamey had been looking for a bribe and Mr. Aylesworth had sized him up correctly.

Mr. Conmee then reviewed portions of Mr. Gamey's evidence and pointed out certain inconsistencies and contradictions. He said he was quite willing to accept the finding of the commissioners for their position and ability was a strong warrant that justice had been done. The same results could not have been obtained by a committee of the House, and the people would have had no confidence in the proceedings. If the Government wished to lay a counter charge of conspiracy against the Opposition a good case would be against Mr. Smyth, who had played the part of a spy, dodging behind board fences on a rainy night. Mr. Whitney objected to this utterance. Mr. Conmee answered that he had not made it in any offensive sense, but how else could Mr. Smyth's action be described?

Mr. Conmee said that it was his firm belief that the Gamey charges were not intended to be pressed. The papers had not been laid on the table of the House and had been spirited away. The charges would never have been investigated had the Government not forced an investigation. If the Opposition, said Mr. Conmee, in concluding, wished to go to the country on this issue with Mr. Gamey, the apostle of purity at their head, and fight such a battle of bitterness and misrepresentation as they had in the House, Liberals were ready to meet them. There was little doubt but that the people of the province would, as in the past, stand by the Hon. G. W. Ross. The speaker left the chair at 1 o'clock. Mr. McDiarmid (West Elgin) will speak this afternoon.

Car Crews Armed.

Portland, Ore., June 25.—Owing to the large number of suburban trolley cars which have been held up by highwaymen recently, the Oregon Water Power and Railway Company has armed all its conductors and motormen with revolvers.

Burned By Chemicals.

New York, June 25.—Thomas B. Hobley and Samuel Marsh were fatally burned today while experimenting with chemicals in their leather factory in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. Two employes fought their way through smoke and flame and found their employers employers unconscious. The two employes were also badly burned.

A PRAYING DUEL

English Divine Is Challenged by a Buddhist Priest.

Chicago, June 25. — Elijah Dowie has been challenged to a praying duel. The challenger is Mirza Chulam Ahmad, a Buddhist, of Quadian, Punjab, India.

"Come thou, O self-styled prophet, to a duel," says Mirza, in his letter. "The weapons shall be prayer. Let us kneel on our knees in the dust of the earth, you and I together, and petition the Almighty that of us two whoever is the liar shall perish first."

Dowie has not accepted the challenge.

SUDDEN DEATH OF CHAS. W. TAYLOR

Business Manager of The Globe Passes Away at His Residence in Toronto.

Toronto, Ont., June 25.—Mr. Charles W. Taylor, business manager of the Globe, died suddenly at his residence, 42 Willcocks street, this morning. Mr. Taylor rose as usual at seven and began to dress. A few moments afterwards Mrs. Taylor heard a groan, and Mr. Taylor, apparently in great pain, came into the bedroom and lay down. While Mrs. Taylor was seeking to apply restoratives, he collapsed.

Dr. Milton Cotton was sent for, and on his arrival stated that death had resulted from the pressure of gases about the heart. Mr. Taylor had for some time complained of pain in the region of the heart, but was in other respects in good health.

Mr. Taylor was the son of Captain John Taylor, a retired army officer, and was born in Toronto in 1851.

He entered the service of the Globe almost thirty-six years ago as an office boy, and rose steadily, until in 1880 he was appointed business manager, a position he held until his death. Mr. Taylor leaves four children, besides a widow. Judge Taylor, of White Horse, Yukon, is a brother.

ANARCHY RULES IN WILMINGTON

Mob of Five Thousand Surrounds the City Jail.

DEMANDS CORWELL'S RELEASE

He Is Finally Liberated on Bail and Receives a Tremendous Ovation From Citizens.

Wilmington, Del., June 25.—Anarchy reigned here last night, when a mob of more than 5,000 persons surrounded the city hall, where Arthur Corwell, who was arrested on the charge of being concerned in the lynching of George White, was locked up, and demanded his immediate release. They came from all over the city, the word being passed around that an attack was to be made on the police station unless Corwell was let go at a certain time. After the crowd had howled and yelled for five hours, beating negroes and defying the police, Corwell was released on $5,000 for a further hearing today.

This action on the part of the authorities set the mob, which had before been so riotious, mad with joy. Corwell was carried on the shoulders of the mob to his hotel, where he received an ovation. It is openly declared that no one will be kept in jail or be allowed to suffer for the part he took in the lynching.

LATER.

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of George White, the negro who was burned at the stake, and the release of Arthur Corwell on bail, seems to have appeased the unruly element here. For the time, last night there appeared to be danger of race riots, but Corwell's release quieted the disturbances. Today, all is calm. Corwell protests that he was not at the lynching. No other arrests have been made.

THREATENS THE JEWS

Mr. Plehve Warns Them Against Revolutionary Methods.

Berlin, June 25. — The Tageblatt says it learns that Kruschewan, the editor of the Russian anti-Semite newspapers Bessarabetz and Znamya, has presented his book on Bessarabia to the Czar. It is written in a fanatical spirit against all Russians who do not belong to the Orthodox Greek Church. The Czar has thanked him for the book. The Tageblatt adds that M. Von Plehve, Russian Minister of the Interior, recently said to an influential Russian: "If the Jews do not keep away from the so-called revolutionary movement I will find means to compel them to emigrate. What Ignatieq was able to do I can do also. Let the Jews take note, and act accordingly."

INDORSES CHAMBERLAIN

Sydney Board of Trade Pass Resolution to that Effect.

Halifax, N. S., June 25.—The Sydney, C. B., Board of Trade last night adopted the following resolutions, a copy of which was ordered to be sent to Joseph Chamberlain:

"The Sydney Board of Trade hereby most heartily indorses the recent commercial proposals of the Right Hon. the Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, in so far as they have for their object the betterment of the existing conditions and the placing of the trade relations of the component parts of the empire upon an enduring basis of mutual preferential treatment."

LEBAUDY'S EMPIRE CAUSES TROUBLE

Anxiety in England as to the French Adventurer's Plans.

MAY BE CONSTRUED AS PIRACY

Sir Charles Dilke to Question Government — Spanish Parliament Also Wants to Know.

London, June 25.—M. Jacques Lebaudy's adventure, as his mysterious mission on the cost of Northwest Africa is being called here, threatens to create as much excitement as did the landing of his countryman, M. Menier, in Anticosti, that island in the St. Lawrence which some persons of vivid imagination saw bristling with French guns—menace to the security of Great Britain's possessions in North America.

M. Lebaudy's reported efforts to found an empire in Africa have already been the subject of questions in two Parliaments. At Madrid the Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs declared in the Senate that all he knew of the reported landing of a French expedition on the west coast of Morocco was what he had seen in the French press.

At Westminster, Sir Charles Dilke was scarcely more fortunate in extracting information from the front benches. Sir Charles, however, will return to the charge, when he will ask the Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to inform the house "what view is taken by the Spanish Government, having rights in the neighborhood, of a private French armed expedition, supported by private ships, now operating on the western coast of Morocco.

Sir Charles Dilke is not the only one professedly anxious to hear more about the Lebaudy expedition. Dispatches recording the movements of Lebaudy's schooner yacht, the Frasquita, have added to rather than assuaged the general curiosity. Several London papers have published disclaimers on behalf of the French Government of any knowledge of M. Lebaudy's plans, but it is argued that M. Lebaudy's landing constitutes a violation of Moorish territory, and that the two Europeon powers are clearly entitled to protest against the raising of the French flag on this part of the African coast.

The Spanish protectorate of Rio de Oro lies immediately south of the coast on which M. Lebaudy is reported to have landed. Cunningham Graham, who is one of the few people in London who have visited the country concerned, goes so far as to call M. Lebaudy's landing an act of piracy. Mr. Graham said yesterday afternoon that he did not know the location of Hia, the place which M. Lebaudy has selected as the capital of the empire which he is founding.

As for the political aspect of the affair, Mr. Graham said:

"Nearly all the European powers have recognized that the authority of the Sultan of Morocco extends as far south as Bojador. If France recognizes this, as I believe it did, M. Lebaudy's landing would be as much an act of piracy as that of Major Spilsbury in the yacht Tourmaline, some three or four years ago. The French Government made a deuce of a row about Major Spilsbury, who was stopped by the British Foreign Office. He was afterward held by a jury at Gibraltar for piracy, but the jury acquitted him. The French Government innocently denies all knowledge of Lebaudy."

IMPORTANT LAND TRANSFER

A Slice of the Indian Reserve To Be Added to Sarnia.

Sarnia, June 25.—Mr. McCrae, of the Indian Department at Ottawa, has been in town for some days past, in consultation with the Indians on the Sarnia reserve as to surrendering a portion of the reserve to the Sarnia, Petrolea and St. Thomas Railway Company for right of way and terminal grounds. The signatures of the individual Indians concerned, and of the members of the Indian Council were finally attached to the deed of surrender yesterday, and attested to by Mr. McCrae and Chief Jacobs, and on receipt of the documents at Ottawa patents for the land will be issued to the railway company.

This is for what is to be the extension of the Flint and Pere Marquette's line from here to Buffalo, via St. Thomas. The land acquired for yards will be annexed to the town, and will add considerably to the territorial extent of the fourth ward. Later on it will also materially contribute to an increase of population in that section. The new territory ceded to the railway commences at the north end of the reserve adjoining the town, on the river front, and takes in the three first lots, with a frontage of 78 rods on the river, running east to the continuation of Thistle street, known as the back road; crossing Thistle street it takes in 48 acres in a strip extending to a point between the ice houses and round house on the G. T. R. property.

MANAGER ROWLEY RETURNS; SURRENDERS TO AUTHORITIES

Returns to St. Thomas During the Night and Has a Brief Interview With His Family.

NECESSITY FOR REST GIVEN AS REASON FOR ABSENCE

St. Thomas, Ont., June 25. — George Rowley, the defaulting manager of the Elgin Loan and Savings Company, who so mysteriously disappeared on Monday morning, June 15, apparently because of a considerable shortage in his accounts, and for whose arrest a warrant has since been issued, returned to the city last night and gave himself up to the authorities.

This act on the part of the unfortunate bank manager was not wholly a surprise, but merely the coming to pass of predictions made by the closest friends at the time of his sudden departure.

The fact that he was in poor condition, both mentally and physically, when leaving the city, as a result of the local strain the man has been under since the collapse of the Ames and Atlas Companies, and the affection that existed between the erring manager and his family, and that a man of his years and domestic habits would find little comfort among strangers in a foreign country, seems to have been the foundation for the prediction which proved to be well taken.

Hardly ten days after leaving St. Thomas, Mr. Rowley arrived in the city on M. C. R. train No. 10 at 10:15. He quietly engaged a cab and drove to his beautiful residence on Wellington street to once more look upon the faces of and bid farewell, undisturbed, to those who have been the chief source of happiness to the distressed man for many years.

After speaking some little time with the unhappy relatives and again saying good-bye, the once prosperous banker left the home that had been his pride for a quarter of a century to surrender himself, perfectly resigned to his terrible position.

In conversation with a member of the family, it was learned that Mr. Rowley's reason for going away was mainly to get rest. He was so broken up that the excitement he knew would be occasioned by the failure and his disgrace would have proved detrimental to his rather delicate health. Upon leaving he went directly to one of the Southern States. Early yesterday morning he arrived in Detroit, where he spent the day, leaving there so as to arrive here as unceremoniously as possible, wishing to pass a few hours unmolested with those so dear to him before the officers became aware of his return.

What effect Mr. Rowley's return will have on the Elgin Loan affairs is hard to foreshadow, but it is surmised he will be valuable in disentangling some of the complications that have arisen so far. Bail has not been applied for as yet.

The following statement of the financial standing of the Atlas Loan Company was issued yesterday by the provisional liquidator. It is not possible at the present time to give an absolutely accurate statement of the assets and liabilities of the company, but the following statement has been prepared from the best information obtainable, and gives some idea of the position of affairs:

Assets.
Mortgages	$ 64,380 00
Mortgages assigned to Metropolitan Bank, $63,930, less bank's claim of $28,660	35,330 00
Loans on personal security	45,375 00
Loans upon the security of stocks and bonds	12,680 00
Notes given by shareholders on account of reserve fund	10,402 00
Real estate, less encumbrances	13,500 00
Stocks, bonds, etc., not hypothecated, par value	207,820 00
Cash on hand	26,477 31
Total	$415,864 31

Realizations on unpaid shares to be added.

Liabilities.
Deposits	$474,747 86
Currency debentures	280,600 00
Sterling debentures	81,905 00
Total	$837,252 86

Contingent liabilities reserve fund payments, $101,379 80.

Then follows a brief analysis of the items in the statement, in which the liquidator points out that while he puts in the various items at par, he is not sure that they will realize that when sold. He has not included the securities hypothecated with Ames & Co., and Mr. Wallace says there is a large surplus in these if properly handled.

Mr. Wallace, president of the Atlas, has also given out a statement, in which he takes an optimistic view of the company, and hopes the loss of the depositors will be nominal.

CHARGES CORRUPTION

Winnipeg Free Press Says Government Has Boodled.

Winnipeg, June 25. — The Free Press makes charges against members of the Roblin Government in connection with the Boyne Marsh drainage work, during the time that Mr. George H. Macdonell, former M. P. for Algoma, was contractor. The specific charge is that in 1900 Mr. Macdonell had to pay $5,000 hard cash before he could secure the payment of his progress estimates. The demand was made, it is alleged, by D. H. McFadden, the present Provincial Secretary, who at that time was Minister of Public Works.

A year later Mr. Macdonell was refused payment on his estimates, while he was not told in so many words as in the previous year that he must pay more before getting his estimates, language was used on more than one occasion that was interpreted by Mr. Macdonell as a broad hint that the payment by him of a large sum of money would expedite matters. Hon. Robert Rogers was Minister of Public Works at the time.

CONVICTS DISSATISFIED

Inmates of Kingston Prison Complain About the Food.

Kingston, Ont., June 25.—Discontent exists among the convicts at the penitentiary over the character of the food served. They aver that it is gradually getting worse and worse. All little extras have been cut off. One day last week, after the convicts had taken the "grub" to their cells, they set up a cheer. The guards were instructed to discover the offenders, but this was found impossible. The guards also complain that they are not receiving the proper food.

WILL BRAULT RESIGN?

The Mayor of Amherstburg May Be Driven to That Extremity.

Windsor, June 25. — As a result of the conviction of Mayor Brault, of Amherstburg, on the charge of frequenting hotel bars on Sunday, he may be asked to resign his office of chief magistrate of the town. The statutes provide that a mayor convicted of such an offense is disqualified and must vacate the office. The mayor is still on Pelee Island, as he has been unable to secure a boat with which to reach the mainland. His friends claim that Magistrate McGee should have postponed the hearing until the mayor reached home to allow him to put in a defense. An appeal from the conviction will likely be taken by Mayor Brault when he reaches Amherstburg. He can still retain the position until the appeal is disposed of.

Will Not Close Down.

Montreal, Quebec, June 25.—The management of the Dominion Cotton Company denies the reports which have gained currency to the effect that the mills controlled by the company in various parts of Canada will be closed down and several thousand operatives thrown out of employment, owing to the unsatisfactory condition of the trade arising out of the competition created by the British preferential tariff.

THE JEWISH PETITION

Roosevelt Decides to Submit It to Russian Government.

Washington, June 25.—The President has decided to transmit to the Russian Government the petition presented to him by the executive council of the B'Nai B'Rith regarding treatment of Jews in Russia.

This action has been taken after mature consideration. At first it was decided that the petition should not be presented because it might be resented by the Government of Russia and lead to a response that would cause a break in the relations of the two countries. However, the first conclusion has been reconsidered and by direction of the President the petition will now go forward. What the result will be is problematical.

PUBLIC CEREMONY AT THE VATICAN

WAS A MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE

The Pontiff Appeared to Be Very Weak, Being Unable to Arise From His Seat.

Rome, June 25.—The public consistory (postponed from June 18) was held today with much pomp and circumstance and additional interest and reverence, for in spite of the reassuring news concerning the Pope's health, many persons believed that this would be the last consistory under Leo XIII. The assemblage gazed at the venerable pontiff with intense curiosity, and there was redoubled enthusiasm in the cries of "Long live Leo." He looked a little more wax-like, a little more bowed, his voice was somewhat thinner, and it was evident that his attendants were anxious. There were many strangers among the crowds of people who gathered in the corridors of the Sala Regia, and Sala Ducale to witness the passage of the cortege. The pontiff was borne in the Sedia Gestatoria by eight chair-bearers, clad in bright red brocade. They were flanked by the bearers of the famous feathered fans.

The Pope smiled while he blessed the crowds as he passed. In fact at times he tried to rise so as to better impart his benediction and it was only when he descended from the Sedia Gestatoria that extreme weakness was apparent.

Following the pontiff came a gorgeous line of scarlet clad cardinals, friars, in various habits, priests and members of the papal court wearing velvet knee breeches, and white ruffs. The church dignitaries were escorted by the nobles, Swiss, and palatine guards, while the sistine choir chanted solemnly.

Spectacle tribunes were erected on both sides of the papal throne for the accommodation of the members of the diplomatic corps, the Knights of Malta, the Roman aristocracy, the family of the Pope and relatives of the newly-created cardinals.

LATEST IN SUICIDES

New York, June 25.—Archibald Morrison, a salesman, committes suicide Tuesday in a novel way from the Brooklyn bridge. He climbed the railway platform south of the Brooklyn tower, jumped on to a train bound for Brooklyn, fell off the last car, struck the third rail, was flung across the track, fell through the ties, and landed on Front street, more than 100 feet below, a mangled corpse. Morrison was not seen by anyone before he landed on top of the car. A passenger on the rear platform of the train saw him jump and yelled. This brought everybody in the car to their feet, and all was excitement. As Morrison jumped part of the car ran under a bar crossing the trestlework, and he was hit by it. It swept him off the car, landing him on the third rail. He was probably dead before he landed in the street.

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN

Were the Years Valentine Fisher Suffered From Sciatica—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Collingwood, Ont., June 22.—Collingwood is in line with its list of complete and permanent cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Valentine Fisher, well known in the town and surrounding country, is one of the cured. He says:

"I was troubled with Kidney Disease for thirteen years. It developed into Sciatica, which located in my side, so that I could not walk without a cane. I had to use hypodermic injections of morphine to ease the pain.

"I tried medical men and medicines but got no permanent relief. Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and three boxes effected a perfect cure. I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Will Schwab Retire?

New York, June 24. — The Evening Post says: It was reported in Wall street yesterday afternoon that the resignation of Chas. M. Schwab as president of the United States Steel Corporation would probably be announced today or before the end of the week. The story was credited in some quarters where information is sometimes obtained, but the rumor could not be confirmed.

SMUGGLED FROM CANADA

Carried Butter Across Border and Are Heavily Fined.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 25.—Edward Pond and Fred Badger, of Franklin County, were brought before Justice Ray, in the United States district court, to plead to an indictment charging them with smuggling about 900 pounds of butter from Canada into the United States. They will be sentenced next Monday. Judge Ray warned them to come into court prepared to pay a fine of $2,000 in the case of Badger, and $250 in the case of Pond.

AGAINST CARNEGIE'S GIFT

Brockville, Ont., June 25.—At a public meeting of the ratepayers of the town the question of the council's acceptance of the Carnegie grant for a public library was freely discussed, and the sentiment was strongly hostile to the scheme, the audience showed its resentment plainly and audibly. The meeting was further adjourned, when full correspondence on the subject will be presented. Though the council has formally accepted the grant, $15,000, no more has been done towards the erection of the building.

PELEE ISLAND OIL

American Capitalists Will Bore for Oil and Gas.

Windsor, Ont., June 25.—Officials of the New York and Lake Erie Gas and Oil Company met in this city Tuesday to formulate plans for putting down wells for oil and gas on Pelee Island. The representatives of the company present at yesterday's meeting were: Charles L. Meyers, president; J. W. Lovell, secretary; James Fox, director, all of New York city, and local manager, John Finley, of Pelee Island. The company has leased about one thousand five hundred acres of land on the island and is in quest of more.

The New York and Lake Erie Gas and Oil Company is an organization of wealthy New York capitalists with a capitalization of $1,000,000, who are determined to get oil or gas on the island or prove conclusively that neither exists there.

A CHINESE CRISIS

Japan, United States and Britain Demand Trade Treaty.

Washington, June 25.—The negotiations with China for a trade treaty have reached a critical phase, growing out of the demand of the United States and Japan for the opening of ports in Manchuria. The Russian Government has professed to entertain no opposition to this demand, but the Chinese commissioners now take the ground that the ports mentioned in the demands, Moukden, Taku-Shan and Harbin, will be opened to foreign trade, not now, but in the future, when trade necessities seem to require it. The United States refuses to accept the suggestion; Japan takes the same position; the British influence leans in that direction, and the negotiations are deadlocked.

CLAUSE NO. ONE WAS MODIFIED

To Suit the Demands of the Irish Nationalists.

A LOVE FEAST IN THE HOUSE

Redmond Declares the Bill Has Been Saved—He Gives In on Several Points Himself.

London, June 25.—The resumption of the debate in the House of Commons yesterday on the Irish Land Bill, was marked by the introduction by Mr. Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, of an amendment designed to remove the difficulty in regard to the retention in clause one of a provision for a minimum price at which tenants may purchase their holdings and permitting bargains to be made outside of the judicial zones.

The amendment is hailed on all sides as being a great concesison.

John Redmond, the Irish leader, declared Mr. Wyndham had saved the bill, and the amendment was agreed to amid cheers and general congratulations.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, joined in the congratulations on the spirit of conciliation prevailing, and the dangerous clause one of the bill was adopted without a division.

Later, Mr. Wyndham agreed to an extension of the limit of the advances to be made to purchasers of agricultural farms, from $25,000 to $35,000.

The debate on the Irish Land Bill in the House was a decided love-feast. The evening was spent in the submission of amendments by the Nationalist members, which were successively debated in an amicable spirit, and then withdrawn without division.

After the dinner recess Willam O'Brien presented an amendment, putting the evicted tenants upon an equality with the existing tenants. He declared that the clause as it stood looked like a deliberate policy of vengeance towards the evicted tenants, and the aceptance of the amendment would be a message to Ireland.

Mr. Wyndham promised to deal with the evicted tenants under clause 48, and said that he would double the amount of the advance that the evicted tenants could get.

Mr. Redmond said the advance to the evicted tenants was satisfactory, but the rejection of his amendment would leave a sore spot, and militate against the working of the bill.

Clause 2, which dealt with advances to tenants, was then passed.

In the discussion of clause 3, which provides for advances to owners selling their estates, T. P. O'Connor moved to exclude non-resident landlords from the benefits of the bill, but the amendment was subsequently withdrawn. Other amendments were offered, and afterwards withdrawn. Clause 3 was then adopted, and the House shortly before midnight reported progress and rose.

The House passed the third reading of the finance bill without discussion.

VETERAN OF SEBASTOPOL

How the Great Kidney Remedy Helped to Make His Old Age Happy.

Birdell, Grey County, Ont., June 24. —Henry Bird, postmaster here and a Sebastopol veteran, is one of the grand old men who thank Dodd's Kidney Pills for a comfortable old age.

"I am 71 years of age," says the veteran, in telling his experience, "and I have been troubled for years with Kidney Trouble, brought on by lying in front of Sebastopol in those terrible days when so many of my brothers in arms lost their lives.

"But every time the Kidney Trouble bothers me I turn to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I always find they do me a great deal of good, though as I never took more than a box or two at once, I never gave them a fair chance to cure me thoroughly.

"I know Dodd's Kidney Pills can do more than is claimed for them. I know some of my neighbors who have used them for the same trouble as myself, who are well people today. When I feel the trouble coming back, I shall surely use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

A CLOSE SHAVE

Narrow Escape From Destruction of the Steamship Minto.

Halifax, June 25.—By the merest accident the Government steamer Minto has escaped being blown to fragments along with her crew and passengers. While plying between Pictou and Charlottetown, one of her firemen noticed a foreign substance in the shovelful of coal he was about to throw into the furnace. He threw it aside, and a later examination revealed it to be a stick of dynamite. How it got into the steamer's bunker is a mystery.

MORGAN WOULDN'T TALK

He Declines to Make Statement as to Cunard Withdrawal.

New York, June 25.—J. Pierpont Morgan, who arrived here yesterday on the Oceanic, declined to discuss the affairs of the International Mercantile Marine Company, the complications concerning the shipbuilding trust, or the withdrawal of the Cunard line from the North Atlantic conference.

J. Bruce Ismay, of the White Star line, who was a passenger on the Oceanic, said: "I have heard absolutely nothing about any proposal to reorganize the international Mercantile Marine Company. So far as I know there is no intention on the part of the directors to change the personnel of the management."

A mountain of granite two miles long and a half mile wide is said to have been discovered in Oklahoma.

The population of Paterson, N. J., is approximately 110,000 inhabitants, and the city covers an area of eight and one-half square miles.

RAILWAY BILL; SPEED OF TRAINS

Must Not Exceed a Rate of Ten Miles an Hour.

WHEN PASSING THROUGH TOWNS

The Supply Bill Discussed in the Senate—The Immigration Statistics for May.

Ottawa, June 24. — In the House of Commons today Mr. Wilson was informed that during last May there arrived at the port of Quebec 13,057 immigrants bound for Canada, and 2,646 bound for the United States. Five bound for Canada and one bound for the United States were rejected by the medical inspecting officer and deported to the countries from which they came.

THE RAILWAY BILL.

Mr. Blair's bill to amend and consolidate the law respecting railways was then taken up.

The clause regarding obstructing crossings was amended so as to provide that trains may not stand on a crossing for more than five minutes at a time, and may not use the tracks by shunting at crossings so as to obstruct public traffic for longer than three minutes at a time.

It was decided that ten miles an hour, instead of six, as formerly, shall be the maximum rate of speed at which a train may pass in or through any thickly peopled section of any city, town or village. Within this limit the board will have power to decide what the speed may be in each case.

Mr. Clarke pointed out that if the rate of speed is increased the danger to the public at level crossings is also increased, and the cost of providing necessary safeguards should fall upon the railway company.

The minister replied that the board will have full jurisdiction to determine on whom the cost shall fall, whether on the municipality or the railway.

Mr. MacLean proposed to insert a clause making it illegal for any railway company to grant exclusive entrance to its stations to any telephone company.

Mr. Blair declined to accept the amendment, and Mr. MacLean was making a speech on the subject when he was cut short by the arrival of 6 o'clock.

In the hour for private bills, the bill to incorporate the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of Canada (Limited), the Home Bank of Canada, and the Algonquin Lumber and Power Company were put through their final stages. The bills affecting the Century Life Insurance Company and the Canadian Transportation and Storage Company were laid over. The Western Alberta Railway bill was read a second time, and sent to committee.

THE SENATE

In the Senate the speaker announced that Sir Henri Taschereau, deputy governor-general, would attend in the Senate on Thursday to assent to bills.

Senator Scott moved the third reading of the supply bill. In doing so he said the total estimate for the current year amounted to $5,090,000.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked if the bill were printed.

Senator Scott urged that it was not usual to print the supply bill. Everybody knew it was a bill for $1,440,000. The bill was not printed for the other House.

Senator Scott said the total vote for last year was $50,000,000 odd. It did not follow that all the money had been spent. This bill was for part of the five million above alluded to. This bill was for moneys that were urgent, such as the Yukon telegraph service, and the wages had not been paid since January last.

Senator Ferguson asked how much money had been brought down for the expenditure of the current year. He thought they ought to have these figures.

Senator Scott said fifty-five millions odd had been voted.

Senator Ferguson said he thught these figures were incorrect. He found the main estimates were $53,361,638. Then there were supplementary estimates for $5,090,968 and $5,628,301. He did not know if he had all the papers, but this made about sixty-four millions; this was evidently more than the country was growing. The country showed an increase of about 11 per cent, since Sir Richard Cartwright's denunciation of thirty-six millions as shameful, whilst the expenditure had increased over 80 per cent.

Senator Scott said he had quoted from a statement prepared by Mr. Fraser of the finance department. There might be statutory payments which had not been included in these figures.

The bill was read a third time and pased.

Children's Kidneys

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Are the Most Successful Treatment for the Kidney Weakness of Children.

Mothers know what distress and anxiety they have when the little ones cannot retain their water properly or have any trouble with their kidneys.

For the weakness of the kidneys, bladder or urinary organs of children Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, which are the prescription of the eminent specialist, Dr. Zina Pitcher, are the most effectual remedy known to science.

Mrs. W. M. Glover, Pearl street, Brockville, Ont., says: "One of my children that had been suffering from sluggish kidneys read about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and procured a bottle. They removed the whole difficulty promptly. That depressing pain over the kidneys stopped, dizziness and headaches ceased, and there was a general invigorating of the system. There is no question regarding the merits of those tablets for the back and kidneys. We have great confidence in them and recommend them highly."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a box at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Company, Toronto.

EMPLOYES CHARGED WITH PROFANATION OF LORD'S DAY

Circumstances Were Unusual and Charge Was Not Proved.

Twelve hard-working citizens can attribute to the present period of rain their appearance at the Carling street court this morning. They were employes of the London Street Railway Company. For several weeks this gang has been going ahead of the asphalt repairing men, raising the sunken joints that have, combined with the flat wheels, to make the approach of a car a long series of humpety-humps. They have been inserting beneath the joints a composition of cement and gravel that raises them to a proper height, and leaves the work of raising a racket to the over-worked wheels. This has all been done on Sunday, after midnight usually, and before dawn, but last Saturday, owing to the rain, the men could not work until early in the morning, and proceeded with it in daylight. Hence came the charge of profanation of the Lord's Day. Evidence was adduced to the effect that the work could be done at no other time for several reasons. The cement required many hours to dry; otherwise the joints would sink worse than before; also, if it was done during the week, it would be absolutely necessary to stop the service, which the defendants' solicitor, Mr. Ivey, argued, would be an unwarranted inconvenience to the public.

"Are these the joints that caused so much jolting, and nearly gave the city engineer nervous prostration?" Chief Williams asked.

Mr. Ivey had to confess that they may have had something to do with Mr. Graydon's condition, "but," he added, "I think that it was due to one flat wheel and the extraordinarily acute nerves of the engineer." (Approving laughter from the joint-raising gang.)

Chief Williams hinted at the possibility of these joints preventing people with false teeth from riding on the cars, but Mr. Ivey did not know if this had affected the income of the company or not. He did admit the charge, and after hearing under what circumstances the work was done, his worship said that as he interpreted the bylaw the object of it was to prevent people working at their ordinary calling on the Sabbath Day, and that citizens may not be shocked by seeing work thus carried on. The company in the past had done the work at more suitable hours. The time selected by the company, from midnight to dawn, was the best time they could select, although according to the strict letter of the law, it was as bad in the dark as in the light. He was not inclined to regard this as work that he would prevent during the hours of darkness. It was necessary work. Under the bylaws of the city the company was prevented from stopping their cars. In construing the law he felt that he should have regard for the public's rights and conveniences. He was very desirous of upholding the sanctity of the Sabbath, and preventing the profanation of it. But the street railway company had never shown any desire to work improperly on the Lord's Day, in which care he hoped they would continue. He therefore dismissed the case without costs.

One drunk was fined $10 and costs or 21 days, and three girls were remanded until Saturday. They were Lizzie Waters, Minnie Broadhden and May Barker, charged with vagrancy, to which they pleaded not guilty.

Put Yourself In His Place.

Years ago, Charles Reade, whose books always had an ethical purpose, wrote a novel by this title. The words in recent years have been taken as a motto, by those who have sought to study social questions from the inside. Mr. Wyckoff, Josiah Flynt and others have set the example in this country of going in disguise among the classes whose conditions they have sought to learn, and for the time identifying themselves with their life and labors.

The latest to try this experiment is the Duke of Connaught—the only surviving brother of King Edward, who was sent as representative of his Majesty to the Durbar, that viceregal Indian function in honor of the accession of the new King and Emperor.

The Duke, who is a manly man, and a naval officer of high degree, had heard much of the hardships of the stokers on the great war vessels and steamships. On his return from India in the splendid warship chartered for the royal party, he resolved to learn something of the stoker's life from actual experience. So, disguised as a stoker, and armed with a shovel, he descended into that sort of inferno where the ship's furnaces were located, and in the stifling heat and dust began to shovel coal into these vast receptacles which generate that mighty propelling power of steam.

After half an hour's vigorous shoveling his Royal Highness concluded that he had had enough of it, and retired from the scene of action fully convinced of the truth of some words on the stoker's vocation set down in a certain scientific dictionary, which declares that much skill is required to stoke the furnace of a steamship, and that one stoker will be able to keep up the steam successfully, while another of equal strength and diligence will fail altogether.

This half-hour's work taught Queen Victoria's son that, with all his strength and endurance, he could never be a successful stoker. It also gave him a feeling of sympathy for these hard-working men on whose skilled, yet humble labors, depend the speed and safety of an ocean voyage. This brief experience of a high and mighty personage may result hereafter in a sentiment of enhanced respect for the stoker as well as in shorter hours of work and better pay for an indispensable class of public employes.

Man's inhumanity to man is often the result of an ignorance which can be remedied only by putting one's self practically or theoretically in the place of those whose life-work is alien to one's own, and may be full of undreamed-of hardships and disappointments.—Minneapolis Tribune.

The Lone Navigator.

Halifax, N. S., June 24.—Captain Howard Blackburn, the lone navigator, who left Gloucester, Mass., on June 7, in an eleven-foot dory to cross the Atlantic, has put into Clark's Harbor, chilled and exhausted. He had a terrible experience, and his tiny craft was nearly engulfed in great seas. He says he will continue his journey as soon as the weather moderates.

Certain Fragments of Kamae.

If I have naught to fear, to guard, beware,
Why I speak truth and laugh and do not care,
But having much to lose, to keep, defy,
Am I to blame who chain Love with a lie?

This is the sadness of life's tragedies,
That, looking back on them with wiser eyes,
The dignity that draped them, falling, shows
At best a little comedy of woes.

Who lies to many, tells the truth to one,
May find how swift the sands of justice run;
The many trust him whom he would deceive;
Who hears the truth alone will not believe.

Yea, I would love today, could I be sure
That through the years the potion would endure;
But, lo! I dread that hour when I must quaff
Wisdom, and turn to wonder—and to laugh.

Nay, kill not Love with one blunt truth, for then
Bitter his death, and swift as lives of men;
Let him die slowly, as a great hate dies,
On the sweet poison of exquisite lies.

—McCrea Pickering.

Strawberries for Rheumatism.

The strawberry season is at hand, and this delicioust fruit is not without its advocates as to its advantages in rheumatism. Indeed, some have gone the length to state that strawberries may not only be taken with impunity by the rheumatic and gouty, but with distinct advanage, if not relief. It is a somewhat curious coincidence, therefore, that in the strawberry the presence of salicylic acid, which is a specific in acute rheumatism, has been definitely established. As a matter of fact, salicylic acid would appear to be a normal constituent of most fruits. At any rate, this acid has been found not only in the strawberry, but in grapes, apples, plums, oranges and cherries, although the amount is probably less than one milligramme (one sixty-fourth of a grain) per kilogramme (two pounds) of fruit. It is hardly possible, therefore, that the strawberry should have any specific medicinal effect attributable to the salicylic acid present.

A few weeks back there was recorded in our columns a formidable case of spruce in which strawberries in the diet appeared to act as a specific in the disease. As is well known, most fruits possess antiscorbutic properties, and contain salts which readily become converted into carbonates in the system, thus tending to maintain an alkaline condition and preventing the formation of acid deposits. The fact, however, that salicylic acid exists normally in fruits is of interest in connection with the use of salicylic acid as a preservative in jams. It is possible that some magistrates may regard this natural occurrence of the acid in fruits as a plausible defense in those cases in which proceedings are taken for the addition of small quantities of the preservative.—The Lancet.

Progress in British Tramways.

Engineering publishes a series of diagrams which show at a glance the development of tramways during the past 25 years. From 1886 to 1898 there had not been any great progress in the capital outlay on lines; but since then there has been a very considerable development, the total capital having mounted up since 1898 from 16½ to 21 millions sterling. The increase is most pronounced in the case of England and Wales, where the advance has been from 12½ to 24¼ milions. This period embraces the era of electric traction, and a great part of the capital is undoubtedly devoted to large re-equipment of lines rather than to the extension of tramways. The total mileage has only increased during the same period from 1,064 miles to 1,484 miles. The increase in passengers has been at a fairly steady ratio during the whole period, so that the tramway companies, if they had had the assurance of a long enough lease to warrant the change to the new power, would have found justification in the development of the traffic. Engineering further points out that the passenger traffic has increased at a much faster rate than the mileage and rolling stock. The decrease in the number of horses employed is as one would expect, while the number of locomotives in use has dropped to 388. The number of cars in use has not increased of recent years at the some rate of the number of passengers, the electric car being usually of very much greater capacity than the old horse-hauled vehicle.

The Curious Manx Cat.

On the Isle of Man there is a curious looking tailless cat, peculiar to that island. No one knows where it first came from, though there are various stories and theories concerning its origin. It is described as follows: The pure Manx cat would be a little different in appearance to the common house cat, even if it could boast of a tail. Its head is small, and its hind legs are long, in comparison with the fore ones. When about to fight, it springs from the ground and strikes with its fore and hind legs at the same time. The common cat, however, strikes with its fore paws, standing on its hind legs. It has greater ease in going up hill than down hill, because of its short legs. As a mouser it is considered the best of all cats.

The value of a cat, in days long ago, was fixed by law. "The price of a kitten before it could see was a penny; after it could see, two pence; after it had caught a mouse, four pence—which was a very large sum in the tenth century. The cat must also be perfect in hearing, sight and smell, and have good claws. If anyone stole or killed the cat that guarded the royal granary, he had to give in exchange a sheep, its fleece, and a lamb.

Got the Best of Jefferson.

Joseph Jefferson, the veteran actor, is very sensitive on the subject of his retirement from the stage, but a reporter in the south recently got the best of him. The actor came downstairs at the hotel one morning, and was must disturbed to find a long but mysteriously worded article in a newspaper, in which the word "retired" was closely connected with his name. He knew the managing editor, and made a half-hearted complain. The reporter was called in and asked where he got the story.

"The city editor told me to see Mr. Jefferson," said the young man, "and ask him if he was going to retire."

"Well, did you see him?" said the editor.

"No, sir," said the reporter. "I sent up my card to his room, and it was sent back with this written on it:

"'Mr. Jefferson has retired.'"

And then the actor who sleeps twenty years in every performance took the reporter out and bought him a $5 hat.—New York Times.

About Magnets.

Magnets are frequently made in the form of a horseshoe or letter U, but a horseshoe magnet is really nothing more than a bar magnet bent. As both poles will attract iron, it is apparently twice as strong as when in the bar form. A piece of iron laid across the poles is attracted by both of them. In this case the poles act on opposite ends of the iron and do not destroy each other's effects, for each pole magnetizes the portion of the iron opposite it. The iron, therefore, becomes a strong magnet with its north pole touching the south pole of the horseshoe magnet, and its south pole touching the north pole. This is popularly called a "keeper," because it "keeps," or preserves the strength of the magnet, which becomes much weaker when the keeper is left off.

Iron, steel (which is modified iron), the metals nickel and cobalt, and some substances which contain a large portion of iron, are the only bodies that can be strongly magnetized, though many others can be magnetized very feebly and temporarily.

What magnetism really is no one knows. It seems to be a natural property of the particles of iron, and what we call magnetizing is only, as I have said, the act of turning the magnetic particles so that they act together. This is frequently brought about by causes beyond our control, and almost all pieces of iron, if carefully tested, are found to be weak magnets.—St. Nicholas.

Milk Made Into Powder.

An important movement appears to be on foot in Sweden for the conversion of skimmed or separated milk into a dry powder, by means of a machine, celled an "execcator," invented by Dr. Martin Ekenberg. The price of one of these machines to evaporate 528 gallons of milk in ten hours is stated somewhat vaguely to be from £220 to £280. It was recently reported that ten sets of apparatus were being erected in Swedish dairy factories, and that inquiries about the machine from butter makers in Sweden and foreign countries were numerous. The powder, when dissolved in a proper quantity of water of the right temperature, resumes the appearance and other characteristics of milk. As the annual output of separated and skimmed milk in Sweden is estimated at over 158,000,000 gallons, the supply of the powder from that country alone, if it proves a commercial success, will be very large. Although separated milk is almost devoid of fat, its alimentary value is considerable, and, in the form of powder, a large quantity of it can be transported in a small compass. It is stated that the powder will keep good for an indefinitely long period.—London Standard.

The New Slavery.

Humane sentiment in the United States is being shocked by the revelations of neo-slavery in the black belt of the south, principally in Alabama. Under the peonage system the renter of a house or a contract laborer who abrogates his contract and ceases to pay rent or labor for the contractor, is guilty of a felony and may be arrested and farmed out to labor without compensation and under guard to whosoever bids for his time. Petty offenders of all sorts may be farmed out as well as offenders against the criminal laws. Petty offenses, it has been proved, have in many instances been trumped up against negroes whose labor and the profits therefrom were coveted by the state and contractors. The negroes, being ignorant and confiding, are easily imposed upon, and often contract away their freedom without knowing what they are about, and without receiving even a nominal consideration in exchange for their personal liberty. The condition of the peon is worse than that of the slaves used to be. Under slavery, owners did not too greatly overwork their human chattels lest their market value should diminish. Contractors, however, drive peons to the last extremity because they merely rent and do not own them. Murder of the "slaves" has been common. Negroes have been whipped to death, clubbed to death, and, more mercifully, shot to death. Scores and scores have been maimed for life. Women and children have been torn by savage dogs and have suffered like the men. Case after case has been found by the grand jury in which affidavits and testimony under oath have left not a trace of doubt of the tortures inflicted upon their helpless victims by the brutal "slave drivers."

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune who has been investigating the conditions in the south, reports a conversation with a Georgia planter, who defends the contract laws. The planter among other things says:

"If you were the only responsible white man on a plantation and were surrounded by more than 500 negroes of the most debased and ignorant character, who cannot be reached by any moral suasion, who are influenced by neither gratitude nor resentment, you would go to the field every day with a revolver in your pocket, as every one of us planters is forced to do, and you would either maintain discipline in the only way the negro understands, or else you would give up your plantation to your creditors—or your executors—as the case might be.

"Now, when a negro runs away and violates his contract, leaving us in the lurch, not only short of his labor, but short of the advances we have made to him in money and goods, what would happen if we depended simply and solely upon our right to sue? In the first place, with 450 hands, before the season is out we would have 450 suits, and if we won them all we would not be able to collect 45 cents, because it is literally true that the field laborer has nothing in this world except the clothes on his back, and he doesn't always have too many of them. The result is that in Georgia and Alabama, and I believe in other states, the law recognizes the right of the planter to reclaim the laborer who has left in violation of his contract, whether he be actually in debt or not.

"Under any other system you would find it impossible to get in your cotton, because the negroes at the critical time would simply sit down and refuse to work. When they are well we compel our laborers to go to the field by force. This is the truth, and there is no use lying about it."

The correspondent refuses to admit that economic necessities justify a breach of the moral law. "It is too much to suppose," he says, "that there are not some negroes who resist the application of force with such force of their own as God has put into their athletic black-skinned bodies. So the inference is painfully apparent that the white man on the horse, with his pistol in his pocket, now and then is compelled to use it. Often, perhaps, the compulsion to use the pistol is more apparent to him than to the negro."

Judge Thomas S. Jones, of the United States Circuit Court, at Montgomery, Ala., has decided that the Alabama contract laws are unconstitutional. An attempt will be made by the Federal authorities to break up the peonage system, and the Attorney-General has instructed the district attorney to undertake the work.

A Government Road.

The well-informed Ottawa correspondent of the Globe, who is in a position to know what is transpiring in the inside circles of Parliament, says that some members of the Cabinet are favorably disposed toward the construction by the Government of a railroad from Quebec to Winnipeg, over which the Grand Trunk Pacific and all other railroad companies would be given running rights. It is hinted that Mr. Blair and Sir Wm. Mulock are the leading advocates of this policy, though the Government will, of course, act unitedly in the course which the majority of its members determine upon. There is no suggestion that the Government should operate, as well as construct the road, as the difficulties are too obvious. It is claimed, however, that if the Government built the road, the country would know precisely what it had cost, and would have an effective control over rates and over the whole scheme of western transportation. Apart from the question as to whether the Grand Trunk Pacific or any other company would consent to such an arrangement, there would be a great risk in the undertaking. Many practical railway men say that a line from Winnipeg to Quebec, the proposed route of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is not defensible on purely commercial grounds. They point out that the grain for export will naturally seek the lake route during navigation, rates being lower than they can possibly be by the all-rail haul to tidewater. The promoters of the Grand Trunk Pacific announced at first that North Bay would be the eastern terminus. The strong feeling in Parliament that the road should be carried to a Canadian port, induced the promoters to agree to an extension to Quebec. Then the Maritime Provinces feared that traffic would go to Portland, and insisted on an extension to Moncton, N. B., in the interests of the Maritime Province ports. The promoters contend that, as they are being compelled to carry the line many hundreds of miles further than their necessities require, through a country for the most part unsettled and undeveloped, they are entitled to a liberal measure of aid from the public. There is some justice in their contention. They are willing to take all the risks of operating a railroad, one section of which, they are building at the dictation of Parliament, not because they believe it is dictated by sound business reasons. The Government may well hesitate before spending millions in a railroad, the route of which may not be economically the best one. It would be a much safer plan to extend the Intercolonial to Georgian Bay.

The Provincial Secretary of Manitoba has been charged with boodling, but we are not aware that the Opposition has found him guilty without a trial.

The Grand Trunk will lose no time in double-tracking its road from Hamilton to Sarnia. It is the busiest section of the whole system. The Grand Trunk is keeping pace with the country.

Mr. Smyth, M. P. P., Gamey's chum, asks the Government to give $10,000 to the man who will tell where the money came from. The Toronto Star blandly hints that Mr. Smyth may know that Gamey would tell the truth for $10,000.

It is significant that Mr. Carscallen, M. P. P. for Hamilton, has taken no part in the Gamey debate. He was the only one of the Opposition leaders to keep a cool head when the charges were sprung on the House. He declared then that he hoped the Provincial Secretary would clear himself of the charges. As a good lawyer, Mr. Carscallen knows that Gamey had no case, and cannot be defended. He is probably disgusted with the abuse of the judiciary by his leader and his other colleagues.

In Earnest Then.

[Judge.]

"I have noticed," said the off-hand philosopher, "that a woman will get a golf dress when she has no intention to play golf."

"That's so," agreed the man with the incandescent whiskers.

"And," continued the off-hand philosopher, "she will get a ball gown when she cares nothing for dancing, and a tennis dress when she wouldn't play tennis for fear she will freckle, and a bathing suit when she has no thought of going into the water, and a riding habit when the very thought of climbing on a horse gives her the chills, and——"

"Yes," interrupted the man with the incandescent whiskers, "but when she gets a wedding dress she means business. Ever notice that?"

[Montreal Star Conservative.]

To intimate as Mr. Whitney did that Sir John Boyd might have been influenced by the fact that he had three sons in the employ of the Government, and had been paid for work outside of his judicial duties, was not only a gross insult to the judiciery, far more "indecent" than even he could have thought Sir John's conduct to have been; but was a bungle as an attempt to discredit the report of the commissioners.

When He Was In Politics.

[Hamilton Times.]

They tell a story up in Oxford about Mr. Wallace Nesbitt (now a justice of the Supreme Court) going to a political meeting in Zorra some years ago, where the people were all Scotch Grits. Knowing that Tory politics would not commend him to the audience, Mr. Nesbitt enlarged on the fact that his mother had been a good Presbyterian. He was getting along well, until somebody offered to bet $10 that Mr. Nesbitt could not recite the Ten Commandments.

THE TEXTILE STRIKE

Several Big Philadelphia Mills Resume Operations.

Philadelphia, June 25.—Several of the hosiery mills in the Kensington district and one of the Southwark mills resumed operations today on the old scale of hours and wages. The mills are being operated short-handed, however, and the strike leaders claim that those who returned to work today were non-union workers. Officers of the Central Textile Union and of the executive committee of the strikers declared today that they do not attach any importance to the fact that the hosiery mills resumed operations. The strike leaders had no control over the hosiery workers and do not think that their return to work will in any way effect the general strike situation.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN

Professors Urge the Settling of the Manchurian Questions.

Tokio, June 25. — Seven professors of the Imperial University have memorialized the throne, pointing out the importance of speedily settling the Manchurian problem. They allege that the modern complications of foreign affairs are due chiefly to the non-utilization of occasions. They cite, first, the retrocession of Liautung, when Japan did not demand any guarantee against its future alienation; secondly, the German seizure of Kiaochau, which could have been avertedy by a timely protest from Japan; thirdly, the neglect to include the Russian Manchurian forces in the arrangement for the military evacuation of North China. They allege that the Japanese armaments are probably stronger than Russia's immediately available force, but that the superiority is only temporary, and they insist upon the necessity of separating the negotiations on the Manchurian and Corean questions. They declare that considering the perpetual nature of Russia's aggression, her tenure of Manchuria will certainly be followed by enterprises against Corea, which will surely preface further advances southwards.

"I suffered from female weakness for five months," writes Miss Belle Hedrick, of Nye, Putnam Co., W. Va. "I was treated by a good physician but he did me no good. I wrote to *Dr. R. V. It has continued to improve until now I can work at almost all kinds of house-work. I had scarcely any appetite, but it is all right now. Have gained several pounds in weight. I would advise all who suffer from chronic diseases to write to Dr. Pierce."

WERE QUIETLY WEDDED

Miss Sylvie Balkwell Becomes Wife of Mr. Frank Thompson.

A wedding of interest to many young Londoners was solemnized yesterday at St. James' Church, when Miss Sylvie Balkwill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Balkwill, of Bruce street, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Thompson, son of Mr. W. J. Thompson, of King street. The ceremony was of a very quiet nature, none but the immediate friends and relatives of the young couple being present. Rev. Canon Davis officiated. After the ceremony the party were driven to the bride's home, where the wedding breakfeast was served. Subsequently Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left for Detroit, where the former recently became associated with a large carriage manufactory. Both are very popular in this city and they will have the best wishes of their numerous friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thomas, of Argyle street, East Williams, near Fernhill, were pleasantly surprised on Monday last. They were invited to spend a social afternoon at Mr. John Crawford's, lot 5, con. 13, Lobo. Having no knowledge of the occasion being a celebration of their 25th wedding day until after a pleasant time had been enjoyed by the many friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. There were some from a distance, among whom was Mr. Gordon Campbell, barrister, of the mining district of Northern Michigan, in which business he is largely interested. After dinner was served, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were invited into another part of the house, where very handsome presents as tokens of esteem from their many friends were awaiting them, and then for the first they were informed that the occasion was the celebration above mentioned. Appropriate remarks were offered by the friends, to which Mr. Thomas very fittingly replied, and the proceedings were brought to a close.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL GIBSON DEFENDS THE JUDICIARY

In a Vigorous Speech He Scores Mr. Whitney

FOR ATTACK ON COMMISSION

Mr. Charlesworth Apologizes at Bar of the House for Note to Mr. Pettypicce.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, June 24. — Hon. J. M. Gibson's address in the Legislature today was one of the finest efforts yet heard in the debate. He ably answered the carping criticisms of the Opposition on the judges' report, and showed plainly that the conclusion reached by the commissioners was the only one warranted by the evidence.

The speakers on the Opposition side were Messrs. Hoyle and Hanna. The former drew largely on ancient history for his material, while the latter's speech was a vigorous and diffusive one.

When the House resumed in the afternoon, the Attorney-General, rising, said he understood that Mr. Charlesworth wished to make a statement at the bar of the House respecting the matter that had been complained of.

Sergeant-at-Arms Glackmeyer then escorted Mr. Charlesworth to the bar, where he read the following statement:

"Mr. Speaker, — With reference to the letter addressed by me to the member for East Lambton, on which I appear, in justification, I can say that the communication was an attack on his ideas as a journalist, and not upon his conduct as a member of the House; that it was a personal communication passing between old and intimate acquaintances, containing but one offensive word, which I should not have used under any circumstances, and that it was written under what I deemed extreme provocation. Since I am advised that it was an offense to the general honor of the House, I desire to apologize for it, and regret this occurrence."

The Speaker, on behalf of the Assembly, accepted the apology, and expressed the hope that no similar occurrence would ever take place in the House.

Mr. Whitney, after expressing his concurrence in the manner in which the incident had been disposed of, said that it might be as well to mention that outsiders, having no privileges in the House, were allowed to roam around the buildings and use blasphemous and indecent language.

CONDUCT OF OUTSIDERS.

The Speaker expressed his desire that any such cases should be brought to his notice.

The Premier added that it was most important that the House should be kept free from any such conduct, and punishment would be meted out to any persons guilty of such acts.

The incident was the first of its kind in the Ontario Parliament since Confederation.

The Attorney-General, in resuming his address, which was interrupted by the noon recess, said there was only one construction to be placed upon the speeches of the Opposition members, and that was that the commissioners had not properly discharged their duties, and had brought in a report to disguise the real truth and make out a case in favor of the Government. In short, the criticisms by the Opposition of the two eminent jurists amounted to vilification. The country at large and also some fair-minded members of the Opposition believed that the Government had taken the proper course in appointing a commission of judges to investigate Mr. Gamey's charges. Explaining why Chancellor Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge had been chosen from the four chief justices to act, the Attorney-General said Chief Justice Moss was administrator of the province at the time the appointments were made, and for that reason could not be selected. Chief Justice Meredith had not been asked to serve, because it was presumed that even if he were available he would not act.

Mr. Whitney—Hear, hear.

The Attorney-General — I ask the leader of the Opposition if he were in the same position as Chief Justice Meredith if he would not feel sensitive about his former political associations and refuse to act. Chief Justice Meredith had not even heard any election petitions, doubtless because he thinks his decisions might be misconstrued on account of his previous political affiliations.

When the members of the commission had been selected an attempt had been made to intimidate Chancellor Boyd by placing on the order paper of the House a question as to what members of the chancellor's family were in the public service. The question had disappeared, however, its instigators probably hoping that the report would be to their liking. When the report appeared, however, and it was found to be in favor of the accused, the question was again placed on the paper. That was what the Opposition called statesmanship!

The question was one easily answered, said Mr. Gibson. One son of the chancellor was in the employ of the Government, having been appointed by Mr. Gibson himself. He had been a graduate of the School of Practical Science, and his services were needed in the crown lands department. The chancellor had had nothing to do with the appointment. Two other sons were employed at Osgoode Hall, their appointment having been recommended by Sir William R. Meredith, as chairman of the committee of judges. It might be said that another of the chancellor's sons had been in the public service, he having died for the empire in South Africa.

Mr. Gibson said he had smiled with contempt at the suggestion that a charge of conspiracy could be proved against the Government. He now smiled at the efforts that were not made to substantiate the charges. The Opposition was asking why the ministers did not go into the box. Why should they not go into the box, when, as the judges declared, there was no evidence against them? The prosecution could have placed them in the box if it had so desired.

THE ADJECTIVAL OBJECTIONS.

Mr. Gibson then took up what he designated the microscopically small, miserable little objections made by the Opposition to the judges' report, and gave many instances which he said were puerile and trivial specimens of criticism which had absolutely failed to shake the finding.

Mr. Gibston stated his belief that the money had come from the Conservative caucus, being given to Mr. Gamey to cover his election expenses, which were falling due.

Mr. Gibson said that Mr. Gamey's attempt to discredit the Government had miserably failed. No evidence whatever had been adduced to show a corrupt bargain involving either money, protest or patronage. A fair-minded and impartial consideration of the report could lead to no other conclusion but that come to by the judges.

It was idle to say that the commissioners were not acting as judges. It was impossible to disassociate them from the high judicial position they had so long occupied. The inquiry had been conducted with all the judicial sanction and responsibility of a court of law, and the effect of the finding was the same as though it had been delivered in a court of law.

Mr. Whitney — Hear hear! That was what we alleged all along.

Mr. Gibson—I do not know whether the honorable gentleman had said that this finding is not possessed of judicial sanction.

Mr. Whitney—I say so now.

Mr. Gibson said this was a harsh thing to say. The Opposition was denying to the commissioners the respect due them and was casting aspersions upon their character, reputation and good faith.

Mr. Gibson said that after the consideration given the case by the judges, the finding was just as reliable as if given in court. Technically, perhaps, there was a distinction; virtually there was not.

Mr. Gibson repudiated the unfair treatment meted out to certain reputable witnesses, among them being Dr. Chamberlain. It was time enough to take their characters away when they had established the character of the chief actor in the affair.

He did not pretend to know where the money came from, he asserted, or whether those closely associated with the member for Manitoulin knew where it came from, but certainly no improper or criminal use had been made of money by any member of the Government or anyone connected with the Government.

Mr. Gibson concluded by denying that the Government's action had lowered the judiciary in any way.

ANONYMOUS SIGNATURES.

Mr. Hanna (West Lambton) followed the Attorney-General. If the charges of the member for Manitoulin had been referred to a committee of the House, he said they would have been more satisfactorily dealt with, and the judges would have escaped the criticism meted out to them and which would be meted out to them in the future. Mr. Hanna roundly condemned the Provincial Secretary, the trustee of the people of the province, for writing in the Globe under the name of "Taxpayer," and endeavoring to influence those whose interests he was sworn to protect, to approve of the Government's course in connection with the distribution of power franchises at Niagara Falls, and at the same time being afraid to disclose his identity.

Continuing his address at the evening session, Mr. Hanna said the signing of the agreement in Mr. Aylesworth's office by Mr. Gamey was the culmination of the negotiations that started with Cap. Sullivan's midnight visit to Mr. Gamey's home. The source of the $3,000 paid Mr. Gamey would sooner or later be discovered, Mr. Hanna said he was firmly convinced that it came from the Ontario Bank, and everyone knows the relations that existed for years between that institution and the Ontario Government. There were surely men in the bank who knew of the transaction, and when the truth was made known it would be seen that the Sullivans were mixed up in it. In the Gamey commission the minimum amount of evidence had been accepted, and the most favorable construction had been placed on that evidence on the ground that the accused must be an honorable man because of the position he occupied. If all criminal trials were conducted on that basis 90 per cent of the jails of the country could be dispensed with at once. In concluding Mr. Hanna said that the worst that could be said of Mr. Gamey was that he was not one-tenth as bad as the Government thought him when they attempted to buy him.

Mr. Conmee, who took the floor at 9:45 p.m., opened by regretting the debate had been made an excuse for the retailing of campaign grievances and for attacks on men who were not present to defend themselves. He proceeded to give the members a little heart to heart talk as to their duties as legislators. Their proper function was, he said, to transact public business in as expeditious a manner as possible, and not to participate in debates during which they maligned their political opponents. Mr. Conmee was speaking when the House adjourned.

Monster Sturgeon Captured at Port Burwell — Good Bass Fishing at Kettle Point.

BRANT.

The Ringling Bros.' circus did about $30 damage to Brantford streets, in return for which some of the aldermen got passes. The circus paid no license, as the grounds on which they showed were outside the city limits. Now the council is going to enact a bylaw governing the passing of circuses over the city streets.

Elder Stobo, of Port Burwell, is recovering nicely from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

The capstone of the Talbot Centennial Cairn in Pinafore Lake Park was duly sealed on Tuesday morning in the presence of a number of gentlemen who interested themselves in thus marking 100 years of progress in the Talbot Settlement.

St. Thomas Journal: Whenever a fish story is mentioned it usually requires a grain of sale, but the fact is, the George Brown Fish Company brought in to Port Burwell last Friday the largest sturgeon ever caught out of that port. The monster weighed 204 pounds and measured 7 feet 5 inches long and 42 inches around.

William and Charles Lyons, Dutton, have purchased the farm of John P. O'Brien, on the 10th concession of the Township of Dunwich, for $4,500. The property includes that pleasant summer resort, Elgin Erie, which Mr. Lyons is putting in excellent shape for this summer's business.

Mr. Anderson secured one of the little creatures and brought it home with him on Sunday in a big valise. The animal is well cared for and seems to be thriving.

The marriage of Andrew Lowrie, of Plympton, to Jessie, daughter of Dan Watson, blind line, took place on Wednesday, June 17, at the residence of the bride's parents, in the presence of about 100 invited guests. Rev. R. Bailey performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lowrie will reside on the 10th line.

The death of William Welsh, a most respected resident of Plympton, on Monday last, was a great shock to the community. He attended the picnic of school section No. 13, Plympton, of which he was a trustee. It was held at Bright's Grove, and Mr. Welsh, with a number of others, was engaged in a friendly tug-of-war. They had ceased pulling and had turned away, when Mr. Welsh fell to the ground and died almost instantly. The funeral at Camlachie was one of the largest ever seen in that section, there being over 100 carriages in the procession. Deceased was a member of the Camlachie K. O. T. M., and was in his 47th year. He leaves a widow (nee Elizabeth Scott) and one son. Mr. Welsh formerly lived near Brigden, where one brother and four sisters now reside. Mrs. George Jackson, Plympton, is his sister.

WELLINGTON.

Rev. Mr. Sparling, of Palmerston, has been appointed rector of St. James' Church, Guelph, succeeding Rev. E. A. Vassey.

Guelph Council will submit a bylaw to secure consent to take over the street railway.

Guelph Mercury: Wesley Barberree, of 88 Northumberland street, while walking over his garden on Sunday found a gold ring with thirteen stones in it, dated 1867. The ring was in a good state of preservation, and is a valuable one. The engraving on the ring can be easily read.

Mr. S. H. Garrard, of Guelph, entered his 94th year on Tuesday. He is hale and hearty and took his usual walk to the postoffice and station. He is congratulated by his friends on the occasion.

It is said that wolves have appeared in Erin Township. Early on Friday morning last Mr. M. McCutcheon, third concession, was informed that some dogs were worrying his sheep, and took his gun and started for the field where the flock was. He found, however, there there were two full-grown wolves in his flock. He shot at the wolves and hit one in the leg, but the animals escaped into the tamarack swamp near by, and could not be located. Several others have lost sheep lately, and it is supposed that the wolves have been in the neighborhood for some time.

RIOTING IN RICHMOND

Guards Fire Into Mob of Strike Sympathizers, Wounding Six.

Richmond, Va., June 25.—Six men were wounded, two of them seriously, by street railway guards, who fired into a crowd of strike sympathizers outside the city limits. Two of them are seriously hurt, being peppered in the back with buckshot. Exciting scenes were enacted in the east end, where efforts were made to operate cars under the protection of the military. All sorts of missiles were hurled at the cars, and obstructions placed on the track. Finally, the cars, under the pilot of a detachment of the howitzers, with a gatling gun, were taken to the barns. Many troops are en route here. It is proposed in the event that the military are unable at that time to cope with the mob to order out the fire department and have streams from the hose played upon disorderly gatherings. At 11 o'clock last night Sheriff Solomons, of Henrico county, decided to ask for troops. He made the request and the governor issued orders to the military authorities accordingly.

London Man Who Suffered

From Kidney Disease and Dropsy Completely Cured by Using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

James Treneman, 536 Adelaide street, London, Ont., states: "Two years ago I was laid up with kidney disease and urinary troubles. Besides the pain and inconvenience caused by these troubles, I became dropsical, and my legs would swell up so that I could scarcely go around at all. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, I procured a box and continued the use of this valuable medicine until now I can say for a certainty that I am entirely cured. I never took any medicine that did me so much good, and am firmly convinced that if it had not been for this medicine I would not be working today."

NIP DISEASE IN THE BUD.—It is difficult to eradicate a disease after it has become seated, therefore it is wise to take any ailment in its initial stages and by such remedies as are sufficient, stop it in its course. Burdock Blood Bitters

DID MORE THAN SIX DOCTORS COULD DO.

Mrs. Theo. Newell, Argyle Sound, N.S., expresses her opinion of this wonderful blood remedy in the following letter:

"It is with the greatest gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of Burdock Blood Bitters. For years my husband suffered terribly with Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. He was so bad at times that he could no sleep on account of the itching and burning. He had been under the care of six different doctors, but they failed to do him any good. I had read different times of the wonderful cures being made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so advised him to give it a trial. He did so, and after taking five bottles was cured without a doubt. I would strongly advise any person troubled with blood disorders to give B.B.B. a fair trial for I am sure it will cure them."

Heat Conservation

A hot oven and a cool kitchen is what every housewife is looking for this summer. It is absolutely impossible with a coal range, and almost as impossible with the ordinary gas range. The makes a hot oven and a cool kitchen a practical certainty. The oven is lined with asbestos—this keeps the heat in and leaves the kitchen cool. It also heats the oven more quickly to a higher degree and with less gas than any other range. The illustration shows that immediately outside an oven hot enough to cook a roast it is comfortably cool.

We would like to show you this and many other improvements peculiar to the Oxford Gas Range. Won't you call at one of our agencies? We can prove to you that this range does away with kitchen drudgery. If you can't call, write for our leaflet—it will interest every housewife.

NEW YORK.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Co. today:

New York, June 25—Noon.—Our prices did not respond to the better tone in London, and the opening was dull and rather heavy, with Pennsylvania weak. It so sold slowly down to 123⅛, most of the sales being against purchases of rights. At 123 there were at least 20,000 shares wanted. So much support at 123 led to a good deal of covering, and at the same time the rest of the market showed a tendency to rally. The traders are probably doing 75 per cent of the business on the floor, and fluctuations are almost entirely due to their operations. Probably a majority of them favor higher prices, but they are nervous and content to take small profits. There are some fears that between now and the end of the month we shall see a flurry in the market, but so far call money is in plentiful supply at low rates. Sales to noon, 130,000 shares.

THE LOCAL MARKET.

London, Thursday, June 25.

The market was late getting down to business here today. The weather was not at all inviting for a large turnout of the farmers; still, there was a fair supply of produce offered. The most pleasing feature of the market was the brisk demand for nearly all of the stuff offered. The maket was pretty well cleaned up by 11 o'clock.

Grain—Oats were the only kind of grain offered; the demand was brisk at 93c to 95c per cental for the best loads; a couple of loads of inferior oats went at 92c per cental.

Hay and Straw—For the 15 loads of hay that were on the stand there was a good demand for the choice loads, which went at $9 50 to $10 50 per ton; the inferior loads sold at $8 per ton. Several loads of straw sold at $2 50 per load.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was a slow sale, at 15c to 16c per lb; for butter in crocks and 17c for pound rolls. Eggs sold mostly at 13c per dozen by the basket; smaller lots went at 14c per dozen.

Fruits—Strawberries were the only fruit offered; the supply today consisted of about 8 loads, which sold at 5c per box wholesale and 6c per box retail.

Vegetables and Roots—Potatoes went higher, selling at $1 65 per bag by the load and $1 75 retail; one lot of new potatoes, the first of the season, sold at 60c per peck; green peas went at 20c per quart; cucumbers, 45c to 50c per dozen; beets and carrots, 35c to 40c per dozen bunches.

Poultry—There was very little offered, and prices were about as quoted.

Dressed Hogs—About a score offered, and sales were made mostly at $7 50 per 100 pounds.

A considerable number of bundles of wool were offered, and sales were made at 16c to 17c per pound for washed and 8c to 9c for unwashed.

Butchers' Meats—The supply was light and prices were firm, as per quotations.

CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & oC. today:

Chicago, June 24.—Wheat—There was only one side to wheat from the start, and prices soared. Reports from the northwest, complaining of deterioration from drought, are becoming more general, and they were in some degree confirmed from free covering for northwest account. Should dry weather continue the situation might become serious. Our reports from Southern Indiana and Illinois from our own houses, show very disappointing harvest returns. Local professionals and St. Louis houses were on the buying side, and the former let go some of their long wheat on the advance. Speculation seems to increase, and is coming to Chicago, the cheapest wheat market in the west. The Liverpool market was fractionally higher, and Paris ½c to ¾c higher. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 5 cars.

Corn was strong and higher early, assisted by the strength in wheat. The pit became dull towards the close, but prices held the advance. Long corn came out on the bulge, but was taken care of as for the past three days. This action of the market is somewhat of a mystery, and savors strongly of manipulation. Weather conditions were generally favorable. Our reports from Southern Illinois and Indiana expect a light movement of corn. We would not care to sell short under these circumstances. The Liverpool market was ⅛c to ¼c higher. Local receipts were 442 cars, with 450 estimated for tomorrow.

Oats were stronger, in sympathy with the other pits, and a good demand for local receipts and for shipments. September was relatively stronger than December, while July was erratic as usual. Southern Illinois and Indiana reports indicate about 75 per cent of a crop. Local receipts were 127 cars, with 215 estimated for tomorrow.

Provisions opened lower, with heavy selling by commission houses for outside account. The local crowd inclined to take the buying side, along with the packing interests. Further commission selling forced scalpers to throw over early purchases, accentuating weakness. Market closed barely steady at near the bottom. Hogs tomorrow, 35,000.

TOLEDO.

Toledo, O., June 24.—Wheat—Cash, 80c; July, 79⅞c; Sept., 78⅞c. Corn—July, 51c; Sept., 50½c. Oats—July, 41½c; Sept., 34½c.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING WAS SOLEMNIZED AT ST. JOHN'S

A wedding in which many residents of London and Winnipeg particularly were interested took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon in St. John's Church, London township. It was the marriage of Mr. Edmund Lally Howell, junior member of the firm of Howell, Mathers & Howell, barristers, of Winnipeg, and Miss Ethel Cronyn Richardson, second daughter of Rev. Canon Richardson, rector of St. John's and for many years rector of the Memorial Church.

The ceremony was performed by his Lordship the Bishop of Huron, assisted by the bride's father, and it was witnessed by over one hundred invited guests. Owing to a recent bereavement in the groom's family, the invitations were restricted to the relatives and most intimate friends of the bride and groom, the majority being from London and Winnipeg. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion.

The wedding party reached the church sharp at 4 o'clock, and it was met at the chancel steps by the officiating clergymen. As it wended its way up the aisle the Wedding March was played by Miss Katharine Moore, of this city. The choir of the church was also in attendance. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Harold Richardson, of New York, was beautifully gowned in white silk crepe de chene, over taffeta (with train), and trimmings of chiffon and real lace. She wore a veil of tulle, with orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were the two sisters of the bride, Miss Beatrice and Miss Helen Richardson, and they were attired in white silk, with white hats, trimmed with flowers. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, while the bridesmaids carried pink sweet peas. Little Miss Edith Farncombe, daughter of Mr. Henry Farncombe, of "Fairview," London township, made a pretty flower girl. She wore a dress of accordion-pleated silk, with poke-bonnet.

The groomsman was Mr. Arthur McDougall, of Winnipeg, and the ushers were Messrs. Gordon Mackenzie, of Winnipeg, L. P. D. Tilley, of St. John, N. B., and Marshall Graydon and Geo. M. Gunn, of this city.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the company repaired to the rectory, where Mr. and Mrs. Howell received the congratulations of the company. Luncheon was also served in a large marquee on the beautiful lawn, and at 6:40 Mr. and Mrs. Howell will leave on the G. T. R. eastern flyer. They will spend some time in the east before taking up their residence in Winnipeg.

The collection of wedding gifts received by the young couple was an evidence of their popularity. They were mostly of solid silver and cut glass, and came from friends in London, Winnipeg, Toronto and other distant points.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howell will join in extending their best wishes on this pleasant occasion. The bride is widely known in London, while the groom, who is a son of Mr. H. M. Howell, K. C., of Winnipeg, is very popular in that city and is a young man of much promise.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell, sen., did not attend the wedding owing to the death of their daughter, which occurred very suddenly about three months ago. The bride's brothers—Mr. Banning Richardson, of New York, and Mr. Gordon Richardson, of the Bank of Montreal, Montreal—were also unable to be present, owing to business engagements.

CONDUCTOR INJURED

Had Words With a Passenger and Was Seriously Hurt.

Since the trouble in yesterday's police court in which a street railway conductor was the complainant against a man who assaulted him, another case is mentioned, which will possibly be brough into court. The conductor in this other case is more seriously injured than the one who appeared yesterday.

The conductor, who is now suffering from the rought treatment of a passenger, is Mr. George A. Handley. The mix-up occurred a few days ago, when the passenger was on Handley's car. The conductor demanded a fare, and words followed. The passenger, who is a reputable young man, evidently was hot-tempered, for it is alleged he kicked the conductor. Serious results ensued and Handley will have to undergo an operation.

It is said that an effort is being made to settle with the injured conductor, who at present does not feel inclined to settle. The affair is a most unfortunate one for both sides of this quarrel, which might well have been avoided.

Of "Madame Ayer," who appeared in the London police court, Tuesday, on a charge of telling fortunes, an Ingersoll exchange says:

"There are some Ingersoll people who will recall "Madam Ayer." She visited Ingersoll about three weeks ago, but from all appearances she was not called upon to read the mysterious lines of many palms. In her haste to leave town she overlooked, in one instance, the necessity of settling a bill, and the word left behind was that she had gone to Detroit."

LILLIAN AND THE LIVERY.

A young girl of rather wild disposition was gathered in by the local police on Saturday, she having offered to sell a horse and rig to a liveryman of this city whose suspicions were aroused. The girl, it will be remembered, gave her name as Pearl Atkinson, though it was understood she had previously announced herself as Lydia Gustin. Chief Leats, of Woodstock, came after her and yesterday she was charged with the theft of the outfit from Liveryman Hood before Police Magistrate Field, of Woodstock. There, however, she has another name, Lillian Kervin. Lillian, Lydia, Pearl or whatever may be her right name, was committed for trial.

Hero of the Shipyard.

The heroes are not all dead yet, although we may not hear so much of them in this strenuous age. The Philadelphia Telegraph prints the story of a man who risked his life deliberately to save a fellow-workman, whom he did not know even by sight. The hero's name is James Stein. He is foreman of the riggers in a big shipyard in Philadelphia. When he was praised for his courage he exclaimed: "Pshaw! what the use of making so much talk about it? I did it to save the company a lawsuit." The story is as follows:

A boiler, weighing 64 tons, was about to be lowered into the hold of a steamship in the big shipyard. The crane in use, which easily lifts a weight of 100 tons as easily as a college girl lifts a wooden dumb-bell, was swinging its great arms towards the monster boiler, 18 feet in circumference. Perched on the top of the boiler was a workman, a poor Norwegian, who speaks little English and understands less. His back was towards the crane. He did not see it, nor did anyone else until it was within two feet of him. If the arm of the giant crane struck him it would crush him as a hammer would an eggshell, or brush him off. Twenty feet below was the ground, strewn with jagged pieces of iron, to fall on which meant serious injury, if not death.

The workmen below saw the danger and shouted. The Norwegian turned halfway round, and saw the crane coming. It was death either way, and, paralyzed with fear, he collapsed.

At this critical moment, when everyone else had lost his head, one man was there who knew what to do, and did it. Although he was twenty feet away when the impending doom over the man was first seen, he cleared the space in less than two seconds, and stood amid the jagged iron.

"Jump for your life! It's your only chance!" he cried, and braced himself to catch the falling man, while the crowd held its breath. The two men came together with an impact so great that both were picked up unconscious, but both recovered.

HER EARNEST TROTH

Dan, with a great dread in his looks, took her to him, fondly, saying:

"It shall be soon, my love, my treasure; but there is much to bear, to dare, to suffer; do you feel that you can face it all for my sake?"

"Darling, I would die for you."

"Do better, my wife—live. The ship sails from Liverpool in a month. How can we get away with Lucy and our child without raising suspicion?"

"God knows; but it must and shall be done."

"We could not go without our darling."

"Of course, not, bless her, or Lucy, faithful girl; we are all she has to love."

"You have settled everything at Lufton?"

"Yes, the old place will be restored to its rightful owner by my confession, which I do hope will not be made public, for the sake of the old man. My money, I hope and believe, will, according to the directions of the last will, be given to me yearly, so that far away in that land of freedom we shall be quite rich. We have enough for a fair start, even if we do not get that allowance. Oh, how I long to be on the open sea, leaving my trials behind, yet having all I love about me. Dan, dear, do you know that I believe I could learn to be good, away from the world, and live to be at least worthy of your great love and all my blessings."

Dan caressed the quivering lips, laid the lovely face against his own, and cheered her with glowing accounts of the future in that far-off country, where there are no chilling frosts or burning, blasting heat.

"David has promised to come out to us in a year and bring the old lady if she be alive. I fancy, wife, he has an eye to Lucy."

"I hope you are right, Dan, for he is both kind and honest, and Lucy deserves a good man's love. Dan, Dear, you must get away in this wise: Lucy must be supposed to be going to her friends in Liverpool to be married, and you must go with her, taking the child. I will travel to town with Brinley; he deserves better at my hands than such deceit, but all is fair in love and war, and it is both with us, for we are at war with the world. Well, from London, I will steal away, leaving letters of explanation behind. What do you think of the programme?"

"Splendid, my cherished; fortune send it success."

"It shall," said Bethel, with a gleam of victory in her eyes.

"I am glad you feel successful, Beth; I believe you half a witch."

"At any rate," she said, "I am bewitching."

"Indeed, you are, and cruel, too, pet, since you make your poor old man jealous."

"My old man should respect himself and his wife, too much to play at Paul Pry."

"Ah, it is easy to talk, but fancy what I feel when I find that fellow making love to you. Say, has he kissed you today?"

"Of course, not."

"Well, then, he is a very cold sweetheart."

"No, he is not; it is I."

"Oh, I see; you permit him to worship from afar."

"I would not permit him to worship at all if I could help it, when there's a dear girl of his own birth and breeding dying for want of that which I disdain. Oh, Dan, if you knew Margery, you would wonder that he could love me."

"But, darling, I do; did not I hold her in these arms? Was she not the innocent cause of my undoing?"

"Yes, yes, of course, you mistook her for me. I wonder your instinct did not warn you you were wrong."

Dan laughed.

"How about you and Mr. Brinley—eh?"

"Ah, well, I suppose it was a chapter of accidents from beginning to end, and we were all foolish. Darling, I must be going; Lucy is waiting for me and I am very tired. But I could not sleep without my good-night kiss. Good-night, my king!"

"It will not be good-night without you, Beth, but run away while I have patience to let you go."

A dark form crouching in the shadow saw the tall graceful form fly away with the swiftness born of fear. Then he lay and waited for the light to shine out from the upper room, and stirred not till it shone there for awhile, and then was extinguished. Then the figure stood erect, quite still for a moment in the moonlight. Something bright shone in his hand—a clasp-knife.

He stole up to the window, with its dark green wooden shutters, looking cautiously about him, then with great dispatch he felt all over the smooth, shining paint and found a knot in the wood. With care and skill and marvelous silence, he gouged it out with his knife. It was a large knot, and the window was uncurtained. The moonlight crept in and lay like a silver coin upon the floor. He rubbed his fingers round the hole and smoothed and darkened it with grease, then again inserted the knot and went away suppressing a whistle of content.

He had tumbled his bed before he came out, and he slept in a barn in peace, though the mice did tickle his bald head and tease him. Strange to say, before he fell asleep, from habit he said his prayers. What a wonder that heavenly words are permitted to be thus prostituted!

Early next morning as Brinley paced the grounds thoughtfully, the figure of the black boy startled him. Puck was now looking quite gay, for little Beth had begged to be allowed to give him her best crimson sash to make him a turban, which he now wore with the pride of a sultan.

"Well," said Brinley, tapping his bald crown, "what is it, young scarecrow?"

"If you please, sir, I want to speak to you, important."

The conversation which followed was in a whisper, which caused Brinley to start as if he had been struck. He shook his informant fiercely by the collar, calling him a lying young rogue, then cooled down with a sad, white face and haggard eyes, which spoke of suffering. At last he bade the boy go, saying like a judge:

"If this is false, may the Lord have mercy on your soul!"

At which the boy grinned and ran away quite gayly.

Blinley clinched his teeth, but said never a word. He took Bethel on the river that day and seemed all the time on the point of saying something of importance, but checked himself and waited.

Waited for what? How often he asked himself the question, and shuddered.

The day was lovely. All the country round glowed like a picture in a frame of gold. Bethel, too, was in her pleasantest mood, all mirth and lightness, gentleness and smiles, like a child out for a holiday. She found pleasure in every trifle.

Long after, when seas rolled between them. Brinley saw her as she looked that day in a simple, soft-tinted dress of some thin material, through which her white arms and neck shone like a veiled moonlight. Her beauty seemed becalmed upon the sea of life, and drifted, drifted softly to and fro by the light summer breeze.

Far down the river, where the willows made shade of cool green light, the boat lay upon the water, and Brinley watched the lovely eyelids fall upon the liquid light of those soft dark eyes; from her light hold into her lap fell the lovely flowers she had brought with her, and the dark head sunk back upon the crimson cushion in a childlike dream of sweet repose.

With a great aching, making sad havoc with his peace, he watched her, soothing her sleep by the gentle motion of the boat. All about was still in the golden silence of a summer noon. Brinley, as he looked upon her, thought if she were false, what mattered it if heaven were true, and his thoughts and love bred in him a great resentful passion, for she stirred in her sleep and the vivid lips unclosed with the one word, "Dan." But that one word held a whole life of love; it struck her betrothed husband, Brinley, as would the keen edge of a naked sword have struck on his life-strings. A flush, like a danger-signal, lay on his broad forehead, his eyes gleamed with a murderous light; the reward for all her treachery lay within his reach. The waters were deep just here; if she were false why should she live to gratify another's passion? Surely it were better for her to die than live on in sin. It was like playing with life and death to tamper with a strong man's happiness or misery.

Great beads of perspiration started to his face, he rose, leaned over her, and sank back again into his seat, all the evil gone out of his heart, disarmed by her strong helplessness, by the dignity of sleep.

LACROSSE.

HOME TEAM WON.

Mitchell, Ont., June 24.—In a junior C. L. A. game here today the home team defeated Seaforth by a score of 13 to 3. Attendance poor; wet grounds.

SEAFORTH LOST.

St. Mary's, Ont., June 24.—The first intermediate C. L. A. championship in this district was played here this evening between the Beavers, of Seaforth, and Alerts, of St. Marys, resulting in a victory for the home team by score of 7 to 4.

WANT REINSTATEMENT.

Detroit, Mich., June 24.—"We are waiting now to hear what the Canadian Lacrosse Association will do about reinstating us," said Manager John Mude, of the Detroit Lacrosse Team, when he heard that two players of the Chatham team who played here had been suspended. "The action of the association puts the Chatham team out of business. There are four or five other teams that we'll have put out of business for professionalism if they bar us out. Detroit has never played any paid men."

THE RING.

GUS GARDNER A DEAD ONE.

George Siler's opinion of Gus Gardner, who was whipped by Mike Ward recently, is not very complimentary to that scrapper. He has written it as follows: Gus Gardner is a fourth-rate fighter, who is traveling around the country on the strength of having fought Joe Gans and Frank Erne, and, of course, receiving the short end of the money as easily as possible, scored one of his tricks at Port Huron, Mich., last Tuesday night, in his fight with Mike Ward, the Sarnia, Ont., lightweight. Gardner saw early in the game that he was up against it, and began using foul tactics, apparently to be disqualified before he received much punishment. The conditions of the match called for clean breaks and no hitting in clinches—conditions which Gardner transgressed with such persistency, he was disqualified in the third round after repeated cautions by the referee. It struck that official that Gardner fouled intentionally to escape a beating and to collect the short end of the purse in as short a time as possible. The referee so informed the management, and advised them to withhold his part of the purse. Gardner, by his actions, not only galled the management and the spectators, but came near killing the game in Port Huron. Ward is the youngster that made Henry Fagin look like a selling plater at Detroit recently, and would make it interesting for any boy in his division. The Port Huron promoters are making efforts to match him against either Frank Erne or Jack O'Keefe for July 6.

BOWLING.

STRATFORD TOURNAMENT OVER.

Stratford, June 24.—The wet weather interfered considerably with the bowling tournament, which was continued today. Following was the score in the semi-finals:

Stratford.	Mitchell.
J. Steele, skip.....18	E. A. Dunbar, sk.. 9
Stratford.	Stratford.
C. Nasmyth, skip..23	T. Trow, skip.....17

As the two rinks in the finals were thus both local rinks the match will be played off on the first fine day, probably on Friday.

The consolation matches resulted as follows:

Michell.	Clinton.
Col. Dougherty, skip.....17	J. B. Hoover, skip..... 6
Seaforth.	Clinton.
J. S. Roberts, skip. Jackson defaulted to Roberts.	W. Jackson, skip.
Goderich.	London.
J. D. O'Connell, skip.....18	H. Finchamp, skip.....15
Mitchell.	Galt.
Dr Burritt, skip...17	W. A. Curd, skip..16

In the semi-finals of the consolation match, O'Connell (Goderich) won from "Col." Dougherty (Mitchell) by 17 to 13, and the finals were won by Dunbar, of Mitchell, from O'Connell, of Goderich, by 18 to 17 shots.

At the close of the final end the score stood a tie. An extra end was played, giving the victory to Mitchell. There is no doubt that the best play of the whole tournament was in the game between Dougherty's rink and Burritt, which was won by Dougherty, by 15 to 11. Out of 18 ends played, in 14 ends each rink was tie. Mr. McMichael, of Clinton, the veteran bowler, was a player, and maintained his old-style play throughout.

New York, June 24.—The regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club announced today that the dates for the special races of the yachts Constitution, Columbia and Reliance at Newport have been changed to June 29 to July 4, inclusive. These races will not be the official trials.

ATTENDANCE DOUBLED.

The second day of the Epworth League summer school at Port Stanley was marked by interesting meetings, and an attendance that must have been encouraging to the Leaguers, for it was double that of Tuesday. The speakers were Rev. George Bishop, the pastor of the First Methodist Church, London, and Rev. W. K. Young, M.A., D.D., of St. Thomas. Mr. Bishop dealt with portions of the Gospel of St. John, to show that Christ was not merely a good man, but was divine. Dr. Young confined himself to home and Indian mission work, stating that there were at present 61 Indian mission stations under the direction of the church. Dr. Young spoke in the highest terms of the Muncey Institute and the work accomplished by it.

PRESENTATION TO C. C. YOUNG.

Mr. C. C. Young, late local agent of the L. E. and D. R. R., was given a very pleasant surprise yesterday afternoon. He was called to the uptown ticket office of the M. C. R., where a number of his railroad friends were assembled, and presented with a valuable traveling bag and an address. Mr. J. H. Gordon, local freight agent of the Grand Trunk, made the presentation, and Mr. John Paul, city ticket agent of the M. C. R., read the address, which was on behalf of the Canadia Ticket Agents Association, the Freight Agents Association and the cartage agents. The address contained expressions of regret at the departure of Mr. Young from the city, and bore testimony to his integrity and honesty, and also to the pleasant relations that always existed between himself and the representatives of the other roads. Mr. Young left at 8:40 this morning for the Northwest, where he is to take a responsible position on the second division of the C. P. R., west of Winnipeg. Mrs. Young and family will remain here for a time.

MAY STOP AT POTTERSBURG.

The putting on of a new train by the Grand Trunk from Toronto has led to an agitation by the residents of Pottersburg to have the company stop the train at Pottersburg station when passengers desire to get off there. This No. 1 train arrives at the city depot at 10:55 a.m. and is a fast train, coming over the main line via Stratford. The service was started a few days ago and already the Pottersburg people have sent in a request to the company to have it stop there. They say that very often residents of the suburb will be taking this train, and not only to them but to many people who live in the east end of the city it would be a great convience to stop at Pottersburg in preference to coming down to the city. The asylum authorities have joined with the residents of Pottersburg in their request and it is likely that it will be acceded to by the company who have the interests of their customers at heart.

MISS STEELE'S PUPILS.

A large audience was greatly pleased last evening with a piano recital, given in the Conservatory of Music by pupils of Miss Steele, A. L. C. M. Messrs. A. Harley and T. Nichol, vocal pupils of Miss Belle Brown, rendered meritorious assistance. The recital was creditable alike to the pupils and to the teacher, Miss Steele, whose excellent training was evident in the rendering of this part of the programme, which was as follows: "Cradle Song" (Lohr), Miss Ella Hamilton; "Hunting Song" (Brown), Master Hillyard Stevely; "Moorish Dance" (Kaiser), Miss Catherine Smart; "Pilgrims' Chorus" (Wagner), Miss Isabel Jackson; "Marche Grotesque" (Sinding), Miss Hazel Gillean; "Frolics" (Von Wilmi), Miss Helen Bell; "The World's Desire" (Levi), Mr. Alvin Harley; "Song of the Night Watchman" (Grieg), Miss Helen Clark; (a) "Toccato" (Paradise), (b) "Gavotte" (Bach), Miss Aileen Regan; "Traumerei and Romance" (Schumann), Miss Cecelia Bell; "Gipsy Dance" (Lichner), Master Stewart Hudson; "Honor and Arms" (Sampson), (Handel), Mr. Thomas Nichol, Westminster; "Hunting Butterflies" (Schytte), Miss Mary Robb; "Berceuse" (Iljinky), Miss Mary Puddicombe; "Consolation No. 6" (Liszt), Miss Edith Bunt; "Warum" (Schumann), Miss Jessie Roake; "Simple Aveu" (Thome), Miss Madalene Ward; "Reve Charmante" (De Lille), Miss Olive Combs; "En Route" (Godard), Miss Carrie Wilson, Greenway; "Rhapsodie No. 11" (Liszt), Miss Mabel Allbright, Faulkton, S. MANY IMPROVEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE AT THE ASYLUM

Infirmary Nearing Completion; Industrial Depts. Moved.

Patients Have Been Free From Sickness This Year.

In another week the work on the new infirmary at the London Asylum will be completed. The work is moving along briskly, and by the time the summer is over a number of improvements will be added to the place, that will mean not only a greater facility for the working of the institution and a consequently improved service, but an addition to the attractiveness of it. The infirmary is not the only department in which those in charge and the Government are moving. A number of improvements are under way all of which are more or less important.

In the infirmary, there is only a little of the ceiling work to be completed, and some painting. The few requirements will only take a few days, after which the place will have to be furnished. When this is done, it will be an up-to-date hospital of ample accommodation and modern in every way. It is a large white brick building of imposing appearance, and will be a valuable asset of the Government.

Other building changes are under way in addition to what has already been accomplished this spring. The new woodshed, a large building, has been completed, the work being all done by the asylum workmen. It is 120 feet long and fills a want that has been felt for a long time. Of the proposed additions the most important one is that in connection with the industrial departments. At the present time the tailor and shoemaking shops are connected with the wards and the management have had under consideration for some time the removal of them from the main building, as well as the seamstress' room, the tinsmith shop and other industrial departments. It was therefore decided that the carpenter shop in the rear of the main building should be enlarged to provide for the accommodation for those engaged in these pursuits. The roof of the carpenter shop is being raised one story. When this is completed the extra room, which is 160 feet by 33 feet, will be divided into workshops. By this means better facilities will be given the people engaged in their respective trades, the new building being fitted with the latest sanitary and other improvements. At the same time more room will be given to the wards. Among the welcome results of this change will be the provision of a room for the attendants. A need has been felt for a reading or lounging room for the attendants and one of the mechanical rooms at present in the main buliding will be transformed into such a place for the attendants as soon as the removals are made. The Government has made a grant for this purpose, and the work on the carpenter shop is rapidly approaching completion.

In the matter of illness the asylum has been fortunate this spring. The only cases of sickness are those incidental to old age of some of the patients and a few surgical cases. So far there has been no epidemic whatever.

One matter that will increase the advantages for public health is the improvement of the water reservoir. A grant has been made by the Government towards making the water system at present in use more perfect. The supply of water is immense even now. Besides the large artesian well on the property the system of springs gives 50,000 gallons every day, and diminution is never noticed. The reservoir which holds this pure water is to be put into such a condition that the supply will be unlimited. Improved tiling will be put in and a new bottom made which will insure permanency. As the reservoir is about 150 by 300 feet with a depth of from four or five feet to about ten feet, the undertaking is not a small one. After the cement bottom is put in the ground surrounding the reservoir will be sodded into a boulevard with a fence about it and trees planted. Already an outlet for surplus water has been found near it, a large pond having been constructed which will be used as a swimming pond as soon as the weather permits. Near the reservoir, too, is what is known as the ice pond. The asylum was able during the past winter not only to get a supply sufficient for the institution, but to dispose of a hundred dollars worth. The work on the reervoir will be commenced at once, and will be done by asylum labor almost entirely. The cost will perhaps be in the neighborhood of $2,000.

At the present time gardening is going on at the asylum as well as it is possible with the weather. The flowers are showing up well and the many acres of vegetable garden promise much for the summer. The surroundings of the asylum are most beautiful just now. One of this year's advances is the construction of a bowling green. This has been made with the greatest care. Over proper draining and a cinder bed the soil has been sodded so that a more perfect green does not exist in the city. There is accommodation for five rinks and the staff find it a tempting recreation ground. The lady attendants have had no particular ground for any of their sports and this year it was decided to provide suitable tennis courts. These have been completed and are fast getting into shape for the lovers of this game to spend their spare moments in the fine weather—when it comes.

A PRETTY BROOKLYN GIRL

Miss Margaret Little, 49 Hoyt St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I have been troubled with constipation and indigestion for over a year, my complexion was ruined and I was losing flesh every day. The doctors advised that I go to a Sanitarium, but a number of people advised me to try Peruna before going to that expense, and I did so.

"I found that the first bottle regulated my bowels, cleared my complexion, and by the time I had taken six bottles my stomach and digestion was in perfect working order and has remained so ever since."—Margaret Little.

THOUSANDS of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments with medicine. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause.

Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do.

A Wonderful Cure by Pe-ru-na

Was Given Up to Die—Eight Doctors Failed—Peruna Saved Her Life.

Miss Alma Cox, Assistant Postmistress of Orum, S. C., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from chronic disease and dyspepsia for five years. How I suffered no tongue can tell. I tried eight or ten of the best physicians without receiving much benefit, also tried lots of patent medicines. But still I suffered with sick headache, cold feet and hands, palpitation of the heart, and such a heavy feeling in my stomach and chest. At times I would be so nervous I could not bear anyone around me. I had been given up to die.

"One day a friend sent me one of Dr. Hartman's pamphlets, and I decided to write to him. He advised Peruna and Manalin, and after taking the medicine two weeks I felt greatly relived. My head did not pain me any scarcely, and my stomach was relieved of its heavy feeling. I am so thankful that I can say after using several bottles of the Peruna and Manalin I am restored to perfect health.

"Before using your remedies I could not eat anything. I lived on barley water and Panopetin for two years. Now I can eat with pleasure. Everybody is so surprised at my improvement. Everyone says I am looking like a rose. I would advise all suffering women to take your remedies. I know if it were not for Peruna and Manalin I would have been in my grave today. I cannot thank you enough for the kind advice you have given me."—Miss Alma L. Cox.

WERE NOT LONG DIVIDED

Death of Mrs. Edw'd Livingston of Oxford County.

Followed Six Days Later by the Demise of Her Sister.

Another of the pioneers of Oxford county has been taken away by the death, on June 6, of Mrs. Edward Livingston, whose home was four miles west of Tilsonburg. Mrs. Livingston, who was born in the county of Peel, was in her 75th year. She remembered with gratitude the home of her childhood, where a large family grew up beneath the sunshine of good parentage.

Deceased was married more than fifty-three years, having celebrated her golden wedding three years ago. There were nine children given to this home, seven surviving, all of whom are married and settled. There are two sons, Rev. S. G. Livingston, of Alvinston, and Mr. George W. Livingston, of Ingersonn, and five daughters, Mrs. Baker, Tilsonsubrg; Mrs. (Rev.) Couzens, Talbotville; Mrs. Taylor, Chatham; Mrs. (Rev.) Brown, Belgrave, and Mrs. Hatch, at home. There are fifteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Both Mr. and Mrs. Livingston belonged to families noted for their longevity. On his side there are six living whose average age is about 80, and on her side there are nine yet alive.

In the early days of pioneer life in Canada, there were many women, of whom the world was not worthy, who endured days of toil and nights of terror for the sake of their duty to their husbands and love to their children. Few women have been more beautiful examples of this supreme devotion than Mrs. Livingston. She was a Christian of the humble though courageous type. She bore the burdens of life faithfully with her husband, and always tried to help her children by precept and example to become virtuous and kind, at home and in every walk of life.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. D. E. Martin, assisted by Rev. J. B. Freeman, M.A., B.D. A large cortege proceeded to the Bayham cemetery, where the remains were laid at rest.

MRS. JOSIAH LIVINGSTON.

Another of the pioneers of Dereham was called to her last long rest in the person of Mrs. Josiah Livingston, to whom the final summons came just six days after that of her sister, Mrs. Edward Livingston. Deceased was the daughter of Gilbert Johnson and Hannah Daniels, and was born in Peel county on Sept. 7, 1831, and died at the family residence, Dereham, June 12, 1903. In 1837 her parents moved to Saltfleet, Wentworth county. Here were spent her girlhood days. Fifty-two years ago she was married to Josiah Livingston, and came at once with her young husband to settle in the woods of Dereham. They went among the pioneers of that rich and fertile township. Six children were born to them as follows: Mrs. H. A. Coon, who died in 1882; A. W., at home; B. D. Livingston, Tilsonburg; Rev. H. G., of Hamilton; J. S., of British Columbia, and John Chester, who died in infancy. In religion Mrs. Livingston was a lifelong Methodist, having joined the Wesleyan Church at Delmer, under the ministry of Rev. Matthew Swann, in 1851. She and her husband were the oldest members at Tilsonburg church. She died in great peace in the glorious hope of resurrection. The funeral took place to Delmer Church, thence to Delmer cemetery.

CONSTIPATION
is probably the most common of all ailments. When neglected it becomes chronic, and frequently leads to hemorrhoids and other serious consequences.
CONSTIPATION IS CURED BY IRON-OX TABLETS
This Remedy is not a purgative, but by mild action upon the organs restores their natural functions, thus entirely avoiding the debility following the use of cathartics, which, if taken frequently, are almost always harmful.

A TOUGH CHARACTER

He Lives on Raw Chickens and Insults Children.

Hamilton, Ont., June 25.—A tramp, who gives his name as Chas. Kennedy, and his address as London, Berlin and other places, was arrested yesterday afternoon near the Jockey Club track. Residents in the vicinity of the race track complain that the prisoner has been holding up little girls and committing indecent acts. He is about 55 years of age, dirty and tough looking, and has been living on raw chickens. The police authorities believe he may be one of Glory Whalen's murderers, and are looking for his companion in crime.

MARRIED IN THIS CITY

Young People of Detroit Come to London for Their Wedding.

Two popular young people of Detroit were married in this city yesterday afternoon in the persons of Miss Margaret G. McLaws and Mr. James Ray Galloway. The event, which was of a fashionable nature, took place at the residence of the uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay, Talbot street. Rev. W. J. Clark, of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony in the drawing-room, where there were assembled the nearest friends and relatives, the guests being from Detroit, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, as well as from this city. The house decorations consisted of Marguerites, ferns and palms, most beautifully arranged.

The bridal gown was one worn by the groom's mother in 1868. It was of cream silk crepe, trimmed with Irish point lace and bands of satin. The gown was en traine and decollette. The veil of tulle was caught up with orange blossoms and the bride carried white roses and ferns. A pearl sunset, the gift of the groom, was the only jewel worn. The bride's sister, Miss Gertrude McLaws, of Kincardine, assisted her. Her gown was of white silk organdie. The flower-girl and ring-bearer were little Marion and Barclay Bell. Mr. James Smith, of Kincardine, was groomsman. The going-away gown of the bride was of black voile over black taffeta, Paris-made, in Louis XV. style.

Mr. Galloway is a popular young society man of Detroit, and is connected with the Detroit National Bank. On their return from a trip east, Mr. and Mrs. Galloway will take up their residence at 58 Brady stret, Detroit. In the meantime they will visit Boston, New York and other cities, on which trip they started yesterday after the wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Galloway are starting life together with the best wishes of an extended circle as friends, as testified to on the occasion of their wedding.

Letters to the Editor.

MR. HOWSON'S EXPLANATION.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Will you kindly allow me space enough in your columns to correct a mistake which appears in your report of the summer school at Port Stanley? It is stated that I did not speak at the Tuesday evening convention because of illness. I am thankful to say that I am not ill, but owing to the fact that I have done about two years' work in one, during the last twelve months, and so have drawn somewhat on my reserve forces, my physician insisted that I should not take any extra work at present. Thanking you, I am, yours, etc.,

W. G. HOWSON.

THERE IS ONLY ONE ECLECTRIC OIL.—When an article, be it medicine or anything else, becomes popular, imitations invariably spring up to derive advantages from the original, which they themselves could never win on their own merits. Imitations of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil have been numerous, but never successful. Those who know the genuine are not put off with a substitute, but demand the real thing.
