Unionist Mass Meeting In Simcoe Held Last Evening OTHER SIMCOE NEWS Robert Hoag and J. B. Jackson, St. Paul's Church Elders

Wrote Simcoe Agency, Box 311, or phone 356-3 all matters regarding delivery or subscriptions, news items or advertisements.

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, Nov. 6.—Faint heart never won fair lady, and the Norfolk Unionists, led by the entire Tory party, decided yesterday to go a'wooing again. The call for a mass meeting of Unionists, issued one week ago by President George Luscombe, of the L. C. A., and addressed to all supporters of the Unionist Government of Sir Robert L. Borden, was answered by an audience which filled the court house comfortably. One in about every four was a Reformer.

Essentially a Domestic Meeting There were no important speakers. Senator Blain had to wire inability to attend at the last moment. There was no banza, but a plain discussion of the situation such as the promoters had contemplated. Mr. Innes followed the president's opening pleasantries with an epitome of the work of the entire regime of the Borden cabinet, and defended every large issue of the period since the days of "no emergency." He had been chosen more than two years ago and re-endorsed while the union movement was under way. His executive had been informally approached with a proposition to fix Monday as the date for the election of a committee of 14 men, seven to be chosen from each party. He declined to be a party to any such deal, and requested a mass meeting of all Unionists of whatever political leanings, and was now in these days of sacrifice, ready to step down, but held that it was for the electors to say.

Soldier's Wife Speaks Mrs. Simpson, regent of the I. O. D. E. here, whose husband, Capt. Rupert Simpson, is now overseas in Saloniki, with the imperial army, called without notice, confessed her pride at being able to cast her ballot at the coming election, not as had been urged by some, because of splendid war work, but because her husband is in service overseas. This most gifted public speaker made an earnest appeal for an amicable settlement of the question of representation, and a devotion of all possible energies to the speedy and successful termination of the great struggle.

More Coxing Necessary John Cope (Con. of St. Williams) and Peter Quance of Delhi, brought forward a motion for the purpose of appealing any other Unionist Reformers whose absence might have been due to the fact that the present mass meeting was of Tory origin, and to the effect that the Conservative executive select twelve men to meet a committee of 12 Reformers similarly chosen, and that the twenty-four of them arrange for a joint meeting. This was finally carried. Dr. Tidale (Con.) of Delhi, attacked this proposition heatedly at the onset, and condemned it as a sure failure with the possibility of a third party getting in the lead while the matter was in progress, but he subsided later.

Dr. Teeter, (Con.) of Watford observed that the present was a Unionist meeting, the first of its kind properly called, open to all Unionists regardless of political status foretime, and that now was the proper time to select a candidate. T. R. Adles, (Con.) of Simcoe wanted to know why the two parties present could not choose their committees "here and now," and have done with the matter. Senator McCall made a plea for the spirit of union at the onset but warned that all negotiations should be made between parties with proper authority otherwise such arrangements might be repudiated.

MEETING OF HOSPITAL BOARD

Kitchen to be Modernized—Increase in Private Ward Rates Probable Other Matters Taken up by Board of Governors

The regular meeting of the Hospital Board took place yesterday afternoon. Present Messrs. C. H. Waterous, Warden Ross, Geo. Watt, R. Sanderson, H. J. Symons, F. D. Reville.

Improved Kitchen. The matter of the modern equipment of the kitchen was discussed, and the necessary steps have been taken. Increase of Ward Rates. The House Committee was empowered to take up the matter of a slight increase in the charge of private wards. The increased cost of supplies in making the additional cost of running the institution unavoidable, but it was the general feeling that it was undesirable to increase the rate to public patients, a course which has been followed in other centres.

Miss Haycock was confirmed in the post of dietitian, her work having proved most satisfactory. Superintendent's Report. The following are extracts from the October report of Miss Forde: Admissions, 162; discharges, 178; births, 12; deaths, 11; isolation, 1; diphtheria, 1; typhoid fever, 1; operation, 34; patients in residence, 71. We report an unusually quiet month; at date we have no cases of typhoid fever in the hospital.

Dr. Helen MacMurphy made an official inspection of the hospital on Wednesday, October 24th. On reaching the kitchen, she commented on our very evident lack of modern kitchen equipment, but we hastened to inform her that improvements along that line were under consideration. A communication submitted by Dr. MacMurphy is herewith published.

The "Annie V. Waterous Ward," furnished by the Women's Hospital Aid in commemoration of the magnificent work done by her, as president of the committee, is now completed, and adds one more to our attractively furnished private rooms. The brass tablets are in place on the door of the Annie V. Waterous' room, No. 18, furnished by the "Women of South Brant" after the alteration made on the tablet in memory of her son.

The usual bi-monthly meeting of the House Committee and Women's Hospital Aid and president of Junior Hospital Aid was held on Tuesday, October 30th, three members present. We again acknowledge receipt of ten gallons of whiskey confiscated by Mr. Esceett. The visitors from the Women's Hospital Aid were Mrs. Robt. Duncan and Mrs. D. J. Waterous, who brought fruit, magazines, etc., for the public ward patients.

The visiting physician for the month, Dr. E. R. Secord and the Mayor. The executive afterwards met and chose the following delegates: E. Watts (convenor), W. S. Brewster, H. Clement, R. Long, F. Calbeck, T. Ryerson, W. B. Soace, J. Fawcett, S. P. Fitcher, F. D. Reville. Conservatives—3 1234 25 Labor Representatives The Independent Labor Party had a closed meeting last night with regard to the above. As the outcome, it was announced that they would "send ten representatives."

The meeting takes place to-night in the Board of Trade rooms, Temple Building.

REVOLT IN PETROGRAD

(Continued from page 1) and ammunition to workmen. "That is why I consider part of the population of Petrograd in a state of revolt," he said, "and ordered an immediate inquiry and such arrests as are necessary. The Government will perish rather than cease to defend the honor, security and independence of the State."

The Petrograd military authorities yesterday broke off relations with the military committee of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates, which ordered troops in the city to disobey the Government. The bridges between the workingmen's quarters of the city and the centre of the capital were disconnected.

Petrograd, Nov. 7.—Negotiations between the general staff in the Petrograd district and the military committee of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates looking toward the strengthening of the staff by the inclusion of democratic members, have been broken off. The military committee, learning that the military governor during the night had summoned troops in the environs of the capital to Petrograd, ordered these troops to disobey the Government. The entire city is now guarded by loyal troops.

The situation is complicated further by the action of Premier Kerensky in suspending three Maximalist and two Conservative newspapers. The city authorities last night ordered a disconnection of the bridges between the quarters of the city inhabited by the working classes and the centre of the capital, thus stopping the tramways.

OPENING GUN IN RED CROSS CAMPAIGN FIRED LAST NIGHT

Major Burch of Toronto Spoke at War Banquet in Y. M. C. A. Telling of Life Overseas and Excoriating War Profiteers—Campaign in Readiness

"Can there be any greater curse on this country that told the men to go and then profiteered on their wives and children?"
In these ringing words, Major Burch of Toronto addressing two hundred British Red Cross workers in the Y. M. C. A. last evening, scoured the food profiteers, during an interesting and vivid lecture describing life on the firing line.

This apparently impossible obstacle was overcome by prolonged tunnelling until finally the positions were mined and blown up. Vivid and realistic was the description given of the gruesome spectacles of the captured trenches—of the ground churned and re-churned by the explosives of the opposing artilleries.

"The men who had gone into the depths of hell and drank the very dregs, after six hours rest, were forced to go back to strengthen the firing line. Why did they have to go back? That is a question for Canadians to ask themselves."
"The selfless life of the man who made a complete sacrifice for the cause that is supreme, who will give his life for one whom he does not know but who is lying near at hand, wounded and in need of succor—there is no greater story in history except the similar sacrifice on Calvary. The man who counts his own life so little that he can give it freely for another, has approximated nearest the ideal of the Master—care not what his creed, or if he is any creed at all—at the last day when the great division is made, I want to stand with him. I'll take my chance there. That soul, relieved of the thin veneer of civilization, is God as near as I can know Him, the best of the human heart."

"One thing being accomplished by this war is the taking of the veneer from life. When our boys return, they will not mistake the reality for the veneer, and unless the reality confronts them when they return, they will remain a unit by themselves. The church which they revere, must be a real thing if it will hold faith and attraction for the man who has gone into Hell and returned."

"I believe in the men, and I tremble, too, for some things in this country—for the man who encouraged them to go, for the country that would not wait after their dependents—when they return to find that the purchasing power of the $110 a day has been reduced to forty cents, and that their children and wives are lacking milk and meat.

"In conclusion, I will say that the raising of funds for the British Red Cross is the noblest cause that man could have. The local campaign is your problem, not mine, but the men for whom you work are worthy of it."
Mr. F. Cockshutt,
was of the opinion that the arrangements for the campaign had been excellently made, the organization was complete, the spirit of the workers was everything that could be desired, and the cause was all that a body of men could strive toward.

Secretary Harvey T. Watt
briefly and concisely described the operation of the campaign.
The objective will be $25,000 and over $16,000 must be raised by voluntary contribution to receive the contribution from the city council of $10,000 that had been generously voted.

On Saturday the W. P. L. were to hold a tag day in the business section of the city, and the residential sections would be covered on Sunday by members of the G. W. V. A. and the A. R. Club who would make a house to house canvass and collect the envelopes that had been previously delivered by the postmen.

THE SITUATION.
Still another chapter has been added to the splendid story of Canadian valor and achievement at the front.

It is still a case of more falling back as far as the Italian forces are concerned. The Teutons have crossed the Tagliamento River along the entire front and they are maintaining their advance at a rate which must soon bring the main contending armies into action.

There is not the slightest improvement with regard to the position of affairs in Russia; they have even become worse, though that seemed impossible.

MR. COCKSHUTT'S COURSE.
Mr. W. F. Cockshutt has sent in his resignation of the candidacy previously tendered him in this riding.

On top of that the fact must be taken into consideration that no proposals were made to Mr. Cockshutt locally prior to the convention gathering, which was open to all, and that in common decency he as the retiring member, should have been first approached.

For ten years he has been representative of this riding at Ottawa, and it will be the general and unreserved testimony that in him the people of this city and county have had a member of sterling worth and integrity and one who has never spared himself on behalf of the best interests of this constituency and of the Dominion and Empire at large.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.
A pathetic tale of destitution was told by William Johnson, aged 72 years, who was found by the police on Colborne street this morning, suffering from self-inflicted wounds in the throat.

CHARTER REVISION.
By Courier Lensed Wire.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—A charter revision, including provision for a small city council to be elected at large instead of under the present ward system, received an affirmative vote at a special election here last night.

TAMMANY WINS.
The tiger is on top once more in New-York as the result of one of the fiercest and most spectacular fights for the Mayoralty ever waged in that city.

John F. Hylan, an obscure Brooklyn judge, was the Tammany nominee. He resented imputation against his loyalty, but the fact that he was backed by the two Hearst papers, constituted pretty good evidence of his calibre in the respect named.

Bennett, the Republican nominee, centred his fight against Tammany, and Morris Hillquit, Socialist, took an out-and-out stand against the war, declaring that his selection would be a mandate to the Federal Government to at once open peace negotiations.

MEDICAL BOARD

Twenty-eight recruits were examined by the medical board at the armories last night. They were placed, five in category A, 2 in B, 6 in C, and 8 in E.

NOT A GREEK

Harty Ginn, who appeared in the police court yesterday, was not a Greek but a Bulgarian, according to information received by The Courier from Greeks of the city, who state that they have nothing in common with him, and that they take objection to the stigma wrongly cast upon their nationality.

CEREAL SUPPLY

Letters are being issued from the Food Controller's office addressed to secretaries of the Board of Trade throughout the country asking for estimates of the supply of package cereals held in stock, by the local process, and asking for an estimate of the monthly supply of same. This step has been taken to ascertain if the extension of time allowed to merchants to dispose of their stocks is sufficient.

AMBIGUOUS

Military authorities are of the opinion that the post-card notices being sent out to men claiming exemption ordering them to report to military tribunals which will decide on their cases, could have been more explicit, and could have been worded more clearly and suitably. They point out that while the man claiming exemption does not have to state his case to the military representative unless he desires to, by so doing he will save considerable bother, and the attitude of all local military representatives is to protect the interests of the claimants as well as to see that none not deserving of exemption get it.

RETURNED SOLDIERS

Thirteen returned soldiers are due to arrive in Brantford at the end of the week, according to information received by The Courier from the Toronto Military Hospitals Commission. They are the following: G. L. Atkins, 12 Duke street; A. V. Bellingham, G.P.O.; W. Borthwick, 151 Dundas St.; J. Johnson, Oshweken P.O., Brant county; J. A. Kerr, 80 Eagle avenue; J. Murray, 261 Greenwich street; A. McIntyre, 233 West street; J. Pointon, 18 Sarah street; J. H. Rourke, 97 Murray street; E. Sims, 39 Lewis street; W. Y. Vain, 39 Mohawk street; P. L. Vansickle, 78 Marlborough street; F. J. Wickson, 2 Park avenue east; F. R. Williams, 26 Brant avenue.

HIGHWAY COMPLETED

Construction work on the Toronto-Hamilton highway was completed yesterday when the last stretch was laid at Mimico. Local motorists will learn with pleasure of the completion of this vast undertaking.

COUNTY REPRESENTATIVE

Warden A. B. Rose was appointed county representative on the commission that is to be formed in connection with the administration of the suburban roads, at a special meeting of the county council held in the Court House this morning. The city council appoints a representative for the city and these two members select a chairman.

PRESENTATION

A number of friends of Mr. Dave Murray, leader of the Brant theatre orchestra, gathered in the Temple building Monday evening, and presented Mr. Murray, who is shortly to leave the city, with a leather club bag, and an address read by Dr. Russell. The party then adjourned to the Pekin cafe where a dainty supper was served. Mr. Murray has been for a number of years one of the foremost musicians of the city, which is unfortunate in losing a man of his calibre and ability.

TABERNACLE READY

Arrangements have been completed for the dedication of the evangelistic tabernacle Friday night of this week, with a chorus of 400 voices in attendance and a number of local clergymen assisting in the service. Drs. Hanley and Fisher, of the evangelistic party, will arrive in the city the latter part of the week.

NO SUGAR EXPORT

Mr. J. H. Spence, local collector of customs, is in receipt of a copy of a recent order-in-Council prohibiting the export of raw or refined sugar from Canada to any other country, without a license from the Minister of Customs. Many persons have been in the habit of sending sugar to friends in the U. S. or in England, but in order to continue doing so, must obtain permission.

GYMN CLASSES

Record breaking gymnasium classes are attending the Y. M. C. A. lately, and the winter's programme has commenced satisfactorily after the disorganization caused by the membership and financial campaigns. On Saturday, there was an attendance of 67 boys at the preparatory class, a record that has never been equalled in the city. The junior school consisted of 32 members. On Monday, thirty-one junior employed boys, an exceptionally good turnout, were on the floor, and twenty-eight seniors employed were also on hand. The progress that is being made will be realized when it is known that the previous high water mark for senior employed attendance was eighteen.

TEA A SUCCESS

An enjoyable and successful tea was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Martin, Sydenham St., by the members of the U. S. club. The proceeds, amounting to nearly forty dollars, will be donated to the home for returned soldiers. Mrs. Willetts and Miss Graham were the fortunate holders of the winning tickets in two of the drawings. The object of the tea was a most commendable one, and the ladies are to be congratulated on their successful entertainment.

CHANGE ON TRIBUNAL

No word has yet been received from Ottawa, confirming the appointment of W. A. Hollnake, Register of the Supreme Court, to one of the military exemption tribunals, although his name has been submitted by County Judge Hardy. Mr. Hollnake's appointment is to the vacancy created by the resignation of Sheriff J. W. LIBRARY BOARD

Purely routine business was transacted at last night's meeting of the Public Library Board. On the recommendation of the books and newspapers committee the contract for the supply of periodicals, papers and magazines for the Public Library during the year 1918 was given to Stedman Brothers. Accounts amounting to $629.10 were passed. Nothing was done regarding an appointment to the vacancy on the staff. Those present at the meeting were Messrs J. E. Quinlan, chairman; D. J. Waterous, Mayor; Bowly, E. J. Carlin, Rev. G. A. Woodside, F. W. Ryerson, and Tom Hendry.

PRESENTATION

The Rev. D. T. McClintock was honored this morning by the business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. who presented the departing clergyman with a silk umbrella, as a token of their esteem. The presentation was made by a committee of Messrs. B. A. Caspell, G. T. Wesleyman and Geo. Mosley, each of whom spoke appreciatively of Mr. McClintock. The latter replied fittingly, telling of the great benefits which he had derived from the Y. M. C. A., in which he has been an active worker during his pastorate in this city.

City.

Dear Sir,—We a group of women who stand strongly for winning the war first, and placing country before party, were much pleased to learn that an attempt is being made to bring together various political organizations in this constituency, in order that they may select a suitable candidate in support of Union Government. We sincerely trust that this attempt will meet the success it deserves, and that a contest may be averted. Many of the women voters in this constituency are watching with intense interest for the result of the proposed meeting on Wednesday evening.

Yours truly,
MARIAN MITCHELL,
Corresponding Secretary Equal Franchise Club.

CALLS COAL MEN LIARS

Strong Letter on Fuel Situation Written by Reg. Lister

Lack of coal has not prevented Mr. Reg. Lister from expressing his opinion of the coal dealers, and the fuel situation in general in a heated manner. He has written the city council as follows:
"The Municipal Council of Brantford:

"By a vote of 437 to 332 (only) the intelligent section of the City of Brantford turned down the Food and Fuel By-Law, thus we have a specimen of how we vote for the man who puts the whip around our legs. Of course, nobody but property owners must be considered. Nobody but property owners burn coal. The statement that Brantford is well fixed for coal is a lie. If it is not, how is it that the workers cannot get coal?"

"H. Walsh tells us that the U. S. is in the war! Marvellous! H. Walsh had better teach his grandmother to suck eggs. It is not a fact that Walsh asked a few weeks ago $12 per ton for chestnut coal. We had some experience last year of these parasites. Caspell told the Toronto Commissioners that the public were satisfied last year! Caspell must have known that that was a damnable lie. If there is to be no referendum in this matter, I hope the workers will lay their hands on everything they can burn, sooner than get cold, or their children suffer.

Walsh says there is no ring. Another lie. The ring has been in existence for several years (and it is not the only ring, either)

"The Mail and Empire of to-day's date, 5th, states: 'Brantford so far is well fixed for coal.' Where did they get their information from? Caspell or Walsh? This morning I rang up eight coal merchants, and every one stated they had no chestnut coal and did not know when they might have any, and when you do order a ton to be sent when you can get it, although they tell you it is $9.25, you are then told that you can only have 12 ton, and that is $4.75, and then we are to understand that there is no ring. Personally I call it wholesale robbery.

Yours truly,
REG. LISTER.

CANADIANS SMASHED THRU PASSCHENDAELE

One of Most Signal Triumphs of War Recorded Yesterday; Capture of Village Big Step Toward Command of Entire Ridge

British Front in Belgium, Nov. 6.—The Canadians in to-day's drive against the German lines have advanced about eight hundred yards beyond the centre of Passchendaele, having battled their way to their final mark. A considerable number of prisoners have already reached the cages.

Meanwhile the British to the south again moved against Poldethoek Chateau, where the conflict is still proceeding.

Rapid Progress Made. The Canadians started from a line only 400 yards from the heart of ruined Passchendaele. Their progress was rapid despite the immediate salvos of the heavy quick-firers. The German artillery concentrated east of Passchendaele shelled the Canadian field artillery heavily as the attack began, but its fire had diminished greatly by 7.30 o'clock through counter-battery work.

Many airplanes were over the German front. Notwithstanding the poor visibility the observers reported a large concentration of German infantry in shell holes between Passchendaele and Moorslede. The Germans also had pulled out their old troops and put in fresh divisions all along the line.

Pace From Canadians. Passchendaele Village was the scene of hard fighting this morning. The Canadian troops, who at dawn attacked this most vital of all the German remaining defences in the Passchendaele Ridge system, were this afternoon, according to the latest reports, resting on the northern tip of the crest, some 800 yards beyond the centre of the hamlet.

Enemy Losses Heavy. Shortly before noon reports were received from the airman that the enemy was concentrating apparently for the purpose of attempting to carry out von Hindenburg's order that if Passchendaele were lost it should be retaken at all costs. At the time of the filing of this dispatch no counter-attacks had actually been launched.

The Canadians moved forward at dawn from a line about 2,000 yards in length. At 7.15 the observers said that the Germans were shelling Passchendaele, indicating that the Canadians had got at least that far. Shortly afterwards fires were sent up from the advanced Canadian line, announcing that they had battled their way to their final mark. It held this represents a gain of about 1,100 yards at the centre. The new line forms the arc of a circle about Passchendaele and Moorslede.

Again the German losses were heavy, and a considerable number of prisoners have already reached the cages.

Recited Works of Quaker Poet
"Evening With Whittier"
Held at Congregational Church

A very pleasing literary recital "An evening with Whittier, the Quaker Poet," was given Tuesday night at the Congregational Church by Mrs. M. A. Ritchie, a pupil of Miss Squire.

The programme was as follows:
Opening Voluntary, Greta Lammie Hymn 191 (part 1) Immortal Love, Whittier, accompanist Miss Greta Lammie (pupil O.S.B.)

(a) John Greenleaf Whittier; (b) "My Psalm"; (c) "Cassandra Southwick."
Vocal—"Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" (Whittier) Miss Maud Taylor.
(a) "Barefoot Boy"; (b) "The Pipes at Lucknow."
Organ Solo—Selected—Miss Katherine Sells (pupil O.S.B.)

"The Angels of Buena Vista"
Vocal—"When on My Day of Life the Night is Falling" (Whittier) Mrs. H. Brittenden.
"Questions of Life," National Anthem.

Mrs. Ritchie quite charmed the audience with her naturalness of manner, clearness of enunciation and thorough knowledge of her subject. While all the numbers were exceedingly well given, special mention might be made of "The Barefoot Boy" and "My Psalm" in which Mrs. Ritchie brought out the thought beautifully.

Organ solos well rendered by Miss Greta Lammie and Miss Katherine Sells, pupils of the O.S.B., who were accompanied by Mr. Norman Andrews, added much to the enjoyment of the evening, as did also the singing of Miss Maud Taylor and Mrs. H. Brittenden of some of Whittier's poems which have been set to music.

Altogether the programme was unusually interesting and will long remain in the memory of those fortunate enough to be present.

Satisfied Mother
Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. The satisfaction she derives from their use is wonderful. They are easy to give the baby; their action is prompt and thorough and above all they are absolutely harmless. Concerning them Mrs. Jean Dechaine, Lacordaire, Sask., writes: "I am well satisfied with Baby's Own Tablets. I had no trouble in giving them to my baby and they have promptly cured her of constipation." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SOLDIER-POET TAKES HOME BUYING AS THEME

Makes Strikingly Pointed Verse Which Has a Great Deal of Truth in it Concerning Where Money Should be Spent.

In a letter to the Calgary Herald, Corp. Jas. M. Moir, of the 175th O. B., C.E.F., expressed his views on the "Buy-at-Home" question in the following excellent verse. To suit our purpose Brantford has been substituted for Calgary. Read these few stanzas and tell us if this does not strike you as being about right:

BUY AT HOME

If in Brantford you are dwelling,
Just Remember there's stores selling,
The things that you are needing ev'ry day,
It's on you they are depending,
So there is no use your sending
For them to stores in cities far away.

It's really useless spending,
When out of town you're sending,
For the goods that you buy at home as cheap.
It's a habit that's been tested,
And those who've thus invested,
Have found there is no benefit to reap.

You'll find it oft confusing,
When the catalogue perusing,
That the out-of-town department store will send,
And the "bargains" you've selected
Aren't just what you expected,
And your time and money's wasted in the end.

So at home do all your buying,
It's the plan most satisfying.
And it's one that I would recommend to you;
For there's never any grieving
At the values you're receiving,
And it's worth a lot to buy what you can view.

It really is a pity,
If you trade outside the city,
Where you're getting all the getting that is good;
So take this humble warning,
And start out in the morning
To help along our city as you should.

EVERY CITY SHOULD CULTIVATE ITS RESOURCES

New Methods Are Needed to Meet New Conditions. Buying-at-Home Will Prove Decidedly Advantageous.

The war has created, and will continue to create new conditions. No man can predict what the after-war conditions will be. Hope springs eternal in the human breast, and so the future, to many, gives promise of great things. To others the future looks anything but rosy and so doubt creeps in. Prophecy at best is only prophecy.

But we in Brantford, have it in our power to control to a great extent, the future of our city. By the intensive cultivation of the Boost Brantford spirit much of the doubt and worry over the future can be allayed.

Let us examine this matter of intensive cultivation. We are at once reminded of its application to the science of agriculture. Intensive farming is the kind of farming that makes it possible for a land owner to become wealthy from the products of a ten-acre plot, while his neighbor, who owns perhaps 100 acres or more, goes hungry.

There are lessons in plenty to be learned from this intensive farming. A homely old saying one hears often is, "I live at home and board at the same place." That is the farmer's way of expressing his independence. That quotation is no relation to this: "I live in Brantford but spend my money in Toronto."

Intensive cultivation of the resources of a city like Brantford would mean much to the city, and naturally, to every citizen. The good farmer puts everything back into the soil that he can. In this way only can he be assured of good returns from the soil. If, on the other hand, he took all he could and returned nothing to enrich his land, his would soon become a very poor farm.

In exactly the same way does our city suffer if we, who make our money here, send it out of the district for those things which we wear and eat, or need for our homes.

MY PLEDGE

As a Resident of Brantford I Hereby Pledge Myself:—

- 1st.—That I will Boost Brantford at all times.
- 2nd.—That as a Booster I will buy, as far as possible, everything I need for myself or for my family, in my home city.
- 3rd.—That I will, where possible, purchase Brantford-made goods in preference to goods manufactured in other cities or towns.
- 4th.—That I will, on every occasion, urge my friends and neighbors to buy in Brantford and Boost Home Industries.

Address

A CASE OF BUNCO

Here is a man who has paid out his good money, in advance, for a suit of clothes he never saw. If he had been wise in the first place he would have bought that suit of clothes at home. Then he would have been assured of a good fit, the right quality of goods, and the right price. Yes, the home merchant can beat the catalog man on prices. That has been proved time and again. But people are only very slowly beginning to know it. The catalog business is huge, its arguments are specious, and many a man is persuaded against his own judgment. He is carried off his feet and literally stamped into doing things he would not dream of doing if he took time to think it out clearly. Neighbors, don't be stampeded by a picture. Tear it out and take it to your home merchant. Figure it out with him. You and he get together. He wants a chance to give you a square deal. Keep your money in your pocket until you are sure your decision is just and square to yourself and your town.

The Business Men Endorse Campaign

With only a few exceptions Brantford's business men endorse the Buy-at-Home Campaign. This means that each of these merchants, needing what another merchant sells, will make his or her purchase locally. This is as it should be. The pledge to buy at home is easily kept, and will, without doubt, be of much value to the city.

MAKE YOUR STORE THE BEST IN THE CITY

(From the Furniture Journal) "Yes, it is true that it is simply furnished, but you have one thing to this lovely little home which money cannot provide, and that is good taste." This woman had had poor opportunity in early life, but being bright and intelligent, with innate refinement, she soon imbibed good taste in her furniture environment which not only showed itself in her home furnishings but impressed itself upon her friends and community.

I cannot say what we are going to do about it, but I can say what we should do about it. In the first place, we should cultivate that good taste, and have it so deeply rooted in our thoughts and in our actions and practised in our stores that it will impress itself upon every customer. We should subscribe to the most ably edited furniture journals and read them closely. We should study our business as a profession and be so well informed concerning same that we would occupy in our community the same relation to the customer furnishing a home as the architect does to the customer building a house.

Beginning in the Schools We must not be long in beginning this policy, for if we do we will lose the chance of leadership. Already some of our schools are adopting courses on these lines. Recently I had the privilege of going through one of our schools and was shown through a department where many children were being taught harmony of color in wall paper, interior painting, floor coverings, shades and curtains; also in arrangement and best design of furniture. In fact, they were being taught everything pertaining to correct furnishing and decorating a refined home.

The course began as an optional one, but has proven so successful that it has been made compulsory. Even before it was made a part of the regular course so many parents asked permission for their children to take it that in one year the number of pupils doubled. The principal teacher who had taken special training for this work talked most interestingly about it. She told me that next term they planned to get places in the afternoons in the furniture stores of the city for the pupils to put in practice the theory by fitting up show windows and show rooms. So you see, if we delay longer, average boy or girl in the community will know more about the artistic furnishing of a home than we do, thereby destroying our influence for leadership in our business.

Best Training Methods Essential Let me conclude with an illustration. I know a young man who finished his academic course in his university. Just before the close of the year he told his father he would like to adopt law as his profession. His father said, "Well, my son, if this is your desire, I want you to try and be a leader in this, your chosen profession." So he sent him to what is regarded as the best institution to take his three-year course. He does not want him to attain success for himself alone, but for service to his profession and toward the advance of his community.

Intelligent Business Methods Their success, however, should not discourage us; on the contrary, it should be an incentive for it shows what push, determination and intelligent policies will accomplish. With the same intelligent methods the furniture business should be many times larger than the auto, for every home has to have furniture while only a small percentage have autos. But some one will say, what are we to do about it? We can't sell everybody fine furniture. That is true, but we can sell everybody tasty furniture. There was a young woman working in a furniture store for many years who married, and fitting up a modest little home, invited her former employer to see her. She proudly showed him every room in her home. When the trip of inspection was over, she said, "You see it is furnished simply, for I did not have the money to buy better. To which he replied:

POSTING THE PUBLIC

Written Mainly For Merchants

Keep the public posted on what you have to offer. Don't expect the news that you have to just naturally "leak out" somehow. Store news travels slowly. You must speed it on its way with good newspaper advertising.

Yes, I know, "A satisfied customer is the best advertisement," but it's not the only advertisement and life is too short to waste time waiting for the "satisfied customer" to get around to everybody you want to reach. His circle of acquaintance is too limited. You can cover your field quicker and much more effectively in many other ways. Besides advertising, persisted in, encourages and stimulates your "satisfied customer" to talk all the more. It pays to advertise.

FITZ JOKED ON HIS DEATH BED: SOME ANECDOTES OF HIS CAREER

The ring's quaintest character has stalked off on the great adventure. Always Bob Fitzsimmons will be remembered as the most spectacular fighter that ever walked to the centre of the ring. Stories will be told and retold, little intimate tales of the man's peculiarities, the big smash yarns how he dropped the great one and that great one, "close-ups," all will be recounted in such profusion that Fitz will live on and on with us.

Volume could and will be written about the man. The best of us admired the man's power, his gameness, his fighting spirit that seemed to be unconquerable. Fitz loved life and the creature of life. He fought death with the same amazing tenacity that characterized his actions in all of his great ring encounters, a tenacity that was animal-like in its ferocity.

Any with death at the very foot of his sick bed, Fitz, unafraid, would have his little joke. His wife tipped into the room and asked Bob how he felt. He smiled faintly and said, "With my fingers." It was only a few hours afterward that he called to his wife, look his hand in his, and murmured, "Good-bye, good-bye, Temo," his pet name for her. He held her hand for a long time. He said something more in a little while that Mrs. Fitzsimmons could not understand, and twenty minutes later the soul of this remarkable warrior had gone its way.

Sharkey's "Paralyzed Jaw."

Just before Fitz fought Tom Sharkey for the second time he was doing road work on Long Island early one morning, when he met a farmer who recognized him.

"Be you Bob Fitzsimmons?" asked he.

"Yes."

"Well, you look out for Sharkey's paralyzed jaw, that's all," said the wise yokel.

Fitz did not give the matter another thought until he got in the ring with Sharkey and found that all his efforts to put Sharkey away were in vain, although Fitz had hit him an amazing number of times with prodigious power on the point of the jaw.

Then he recalled the farmer's warning.

"I decided to change my tactics," said Fitz later on, "and instead of hitting him on the jaw I hit him on the side of the head. I knocked Tom through the ropes and, besides putting him out of business completely, also gave him a tin ear."

Fitz Lost His Bear.

When Jim Jeffries was training at Harbin Springs for his championship bout with Jim Corbett, Fitz went long as chief trainer. In some manner Fitz had captured a cub bear. The tiny thing was the apple of his eye. Jeff, always a sulky individual while in training, in due contrast to Fitz, drummed up a great dislike for the bob-tailed little thing.

Jim was teasing the bear one day, when it turned and sunk its teeth deep into his hands. That night Jeff stole out and cut short little bruh's life with one crack of a bar.

They had to hold Fitz in his efforts to get at Jeffries when he learned the fate of his pet.

"I'll get even with you for that," and old Bob did. When the pair went on the road, Bob always had the little bear in mind every time they went on the stage in a sparring exhibition.

"That for my bear," and Bob's freckled arm would sink into Jeff's ribs.

"That for my bruh," and Jeff's teeth would rattle to the very roots. Bob landed many a stinging punch in the memory of his plaything. Every time that Jeff sees a bear now he thinks of Bob Fitzsimmons.

Kind-Hearted Fitz.

"There are few men in the boxing game like Bob Fitzsimmons was," said Charley Essig, of Chicago. "He was the kindest-hearted fighter I ever knew. In the ring he was not of that murderous nature. He never would bruise a man more than was necessary, unless it was an exceptionally tough battle."

"Fitzsimmons fought in Chicago only twice, soon after he won the world's championship from Jim Corbett. In later years Bob gave an exhibition at the Chicago Athletic Association. It was only four short rounds, but the men pulled one of the funniest stunts I ever saw in a ring. They swung simultaneously, landed on the jaw, and both were knocked out."

"Bob originated the shift in boxing, and was the only man who used it properly. It was with that shift that he landed the solar plexus punch on Corbett. Stanley Ketchell used the shift, but not like Bob."

"Rose Julian was Fitz's second wife, and a great little woman. She was the executive of the pair. Had she lived Bob would probably have been worth $500,000. He had a lot of valuable property in the East, but lost it all after his third marriage."

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

If Little Stomach is Sour, Liver Torpid or Bowels Clogged

Mother can rest easy after giving California Syrup of Figs, because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, irritable, get sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grownups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of California Syrup of Figs, then look carefully and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Western farmers are anxious about next year's help and an effort is being made in Winnipeg to secure farm labor now for next season.

Sporting Comment

magnates, players and followers of the game in general, are almost unanimous in expression of the opinion that the coming winter months will witness important changes in the methods and arrangements governing the professional end of the national sport. It appears certain that out of the mass of suggested and proposed changes, radical certain developments will occur relative to the conduct of the business end of the game during the duration of the war at least.

Both major and minor league magnates will discuss and consider numerous suggestions looking toward improvement of conditions existing at the present time during the coming annual meetings. While no hasty action will be taken it is considered likely that several innovations, both in combination and on these points among the various club owners, it is difficult to name the proposals which may eventually be enacted in baseball law, but there has been no dearth of these both from official and unofficial sources.

Among the plans advanced are the following: shorter season and schedule in the major leagues, coupled with a suggestion to start the world series several weeks earlier than has been the case in recent years; curtailment of the number of players now permitted to each club and a reduction of the present salaries; the shifting of one or more franchises to new and more profitable fields of patronage; the elimination of long and expensive southern training trips; rearrange-

Judge Hylan Ousts Mitchell From Mayoralty; Woman Suffrage Wins in State, but Beaten in Ohio; Anti-war Tickets Beaten.

New York, Nov. 6.—John F. Hylan, a County Judge of King's county, was elected Mayor of New York to-day by a plurality of more than 100,000. He carried with him the entire Democratic city ticket, including Charles L. Craig for Comptroller; Alfred E. Smith, now sheriff of New York county, for President of the Board of Aldermen, and Edward Swann for District Attorney. The indications are that the Democrats will have a majority in the Board of Estimate, which controls the expenditure of the city funds.

Mayor John P. Mitchell, who sought re-election as a fusion candidate, although not formally nominated by any party, was a poor second in the race. His vote in 1,440 districts out of 2,050 in the city was 104,729 compared with 205,268 for Hylan.

Morris Hillquit, the Socialist candidate, about whom rallied most of the radical elements in the city and all those who favor an immediate negotiated peace, stood third, with 89,870, while William M. Bennett, who unexpectedly won the Republican primary nomination for Mayor Mitchell was fourth with 84,627.

Chicago Beats Socialists. Chicago, Nov. 6.—(Special)—Chicago to-day registered its loyalty to Uncle Sam and snowed under the "anti-war, anti-Wilson, and anti-American" Judicial ticket of the Socialists. Estimates from the early returns indicate that the Fusionists swept Chicago with a plurality of at least 80,000.

The bulk of the allied Judicial ticket beat the Socialists almost three to one. German-American voters took advantage of the Socialists' anti-war issue to register their enmity to the Government by supporting the Socialists.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 6.—(Special)—Ohio's answer to the propaganda of disloyalty and treason, conducted by the Socialists in many city campaigns in the State has been given. This is the outstanding result of the election as viewed here, overshadowing the probable defeat of State-wide prohibition by a majority of 20,000 to 40,000, and of Presidential female suffrage by more than 100,000. In the cities in which an issue was made of the war there was a flat repudiation of the Socialists' propaganda. Mayor Davis of Cleveland was re-elected.

Apathy in Detroit. Detroit, Nov. 6.—(Special)—Detroit's election was marked by unusual apathy. Opponents of charter revision and the proposed Council of nine members to be elected at large are claiming victory. It is feared also that the proposition involving bonding the city for construction of a new bridge to Belle Isle Park has been voted down.

A canvass of a number of voting precincts late in the afternoon shows that only from 15 to 25 per cent of the registered voters had cast their ballots. Women were qualified to vote on the bonding proposition but the number doing so was very small.

Governor McCall Re-elected. Boston, Mass., Nov. 6.—Governor McCall and the rest of the Republican State ticket were re-elected by a large plurality to-day. The three proposed constitutional amendments, including one forbidding the application of State funds for private institutions, were adopted.

Rochester Re-elects Edgerton. Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 6.—Hiram H. Edgerton Republican, was elected Mayor of Rochester for the sixth consecutive time by a plurality of 13,104, the largest he ever received.

Buck Mayor of Buffalo. Buffalo, Nov. 6.—George F. Buck was elected Mayor of Buffalo by a majority of about 15,000 over Louis P. Fuhrmann the present incumbent. Mayor-elect Buck is a Republican, but under the charter of Buffalo political designations do not appear on the municipal ballot.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS; USE SALTS

If your Back hurts or Bladder Bothers, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean and healthy, keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

News that the heroes of the 22nd Battalion will be enabled to obtain rest and recreation through the coming of their comrades from home is received here with keen satisfaction.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

"JACK AND THE BEANSTALK"

William Fox's picturization of the world famous fairy tale "Jack and the Beanstalk" is coming to the Grand Opera House for an engagement most three days commencing Thursday, Nov. 8th.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" is not only the most pretentious and elaborately staged, but the most artistically produced Mr. Fox has made and this with due respect to a long list of exceedingly fine attractions contributed by the eminent producer. Its approval on this Fox fascinating fairy fantasy, and "Jack" and his beanstalk, the giant and pigmies all come to us with laurels won, and it is safe to predict that they will be welcomed by every papa and mamma and kiddie and all others who have ever come under the alluring charm and mystery which pervaded the reading of this delightful story of fairyland.

At the head of a cast of thirteen hundred are two remarkable children, Francis Carpenter and Virginia Lee Corbin. Francis, whose age is but five years is the "Jack" of beanstalk fame, and Virginia who is scarcely past four, is the Princess Regina. Their interpretation of the respective parts is reported as being really marvelous. In the role of the giant is a monster in the person of James G. Traver who is eight and a half feet tall and weighs four hundred and eighty pounds. "Jack and the Beanstalk" has been generously supplied with everything that might lead to its perfection in the matter of elaborate settings, the production is said to have cost upwards of five hundred thousand dollars.

The spectacle comes direct from the Globe Theatre New York, and will be given twice daily.

"BIRTH" IS COMING.

"Birth," the most remarkable picture ever filmed, is coming to Brantford, and it will be shown for three days—to women only—at the Grand Opera House, beginning November 12. It is remarkable because it is life itself. It has no plot, no professional players, no faked scenes. It shows the sanctity and duties of motherhood, the holiest of callings. Better babies is the aim of the film's producers. It shows scenes in the life of the babe from his advent into the world until he is six years old. Every woman should see "Birth." She will be a wiser woman and a better mother. An interesting lecture is given by Mrs. J. Stuart. The film will be shown twice daily, at 2.30 and 8.15. It should be borne in mind that the film will be shown to women only.

THE REX.

The hypnotic exhibitions of Dr. Zell Hunt at the Rex this week are drawing packed houses. Dr. Hunt put on his thrilling hospital scene last night and held the audience spell bound with intense excitement. There were ten funny scenes, too, causing shrieks of laughter. To-day Dr. Hunt assisted by Lady Burke will answer all legitimate questions by clairvoyance. These tests are amazing and damusing.

The Sealed Valley
By HULBERT FOOTNER
Author of "Jack Chanty"

Charley's wife, the blooming young Ahahweh, served him his dinner in an agony of bashfulness. The meal consisted of a stew of goat's flesh and rice. Ralph found it good.

"Rice?" he said questioningly.

"Wild rice," said Jean Bateese. "Him grow around the lake more than we can eat. We eat nothing from the white man's store only tea. The tea is near gone. I will miss it." He said with a sigh. "But our fathers not drink tea," he added stoutly.

Before Ralph was through eating the two boys came into camp bearing his patient on the litter. Examining her, he found that she did not appear to have taken any hurt from her journey.

Charley, St. Jean Bateese explained, had gone back through the cave to fetch the rest of their belongings from the camp in the woods.

An hour passed, and there was still no sign of Nahnya's return. Ralph became more and more uneasy. St. Jean assured him that it was frequently Nahnya's custom to paddle away by herself, and that they never sought to question her or to follow.

Meanwhile the old man relaxed none of his efforts to entertain Ralph. He put his pupils through their paces. There was a foot race in the grass, which Ching won to everybody's surprise, and the chagrined Caesar was forced to yield up a brass clock-wheel that he wore around his neck.

A race between the two canoes across the lake and back followed.

This time Caesar redeemed himself. The little young creatures were wholly beautiful in action. Afterward they were sent into the woods with their bows and arrows.

By and by Caesar returned with a brace of rabbits, and Ching brought in a fat porcupine. Ching was held to have won.

"Rabbit him no good meat," St. Jean said. "Man eat rabbit till him can't swallow no more and stay poor."

St. Jean was like a fountain of humble philosophy. Like all philosophers, he frankly rejoiced in a good listener. Ralph was strongly drawn to the gentle, garrulous old man. St. Jean was a real individual.

He had lived a real life and stored a real wisdom from it. This natural life as Ralph saw it lived before him, and as St. Jean interpreted it to him, satisfied a deep desire in him.

This was what he had always been looking for. Nevertheless as he listened his heaviness increased. He could not deny the sad conviction

SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR 20 LONG YEARS

Mrs. Morris Had Rheumatism so Bad she Couldn't Walk—Finds Relief at Last Words can only partially describe the suffering I endured before I began taking Tanlac," said Mrs. Mary Morris of 462 St. Johns Road, Toronto, a few days ago.

"For twenty years," continued Mrs. Morris, "I have tried in vain to get relief from stomach trouble, kidney disorders and rheumatism, and when I began taking Tanlac I was a confirmed invalid. During all these years I haven't been able to eat without suffering afterwards. My stomach was all upset, I had no appetite, I simply had to force myself to eat and then my food would sour and bloat me up terribly. I suffered all the time from indigestion and was constantly bleaching up my food, sour and unassimilated. My kidneys worried me nearly all the time and during the past three years I developed rheumatism, which started first in my shoulders and arms and then got down into my lower limbs, and for more than two and a half years I have almost been an invalid. I was so crippled up that I couldn't walk, I couldn't even dress myself and the misery was almost unbearable. Sometimes the pain was like a knife cutting in, then again it was a dull, throbbing pain that seemed close to the bone. My legs would puff up and my joints were so stiff and hurt so I could hardly move them. At times I had cramps in my legs until they felt like they would almost draw double and no one, unless they had suffered the same way, knows what I had to endure.

"Well, I have spent lots of money for medicines of different kinds but never able to find anything to do me one bit of good. I had almost given up in despair, but Tanlac has already done me a world of good and I believe now I am going to get soothed and well. I have just started on my third bottle of Tanlac and I can tell that I am improving every day. The rheumatism doesn't bother me anything like it did and I feel stronger and more vigorous than I have in a long time. While I haven't taken Tanlac long enough to say it has done wonders for me, I can say it is doing me good and that's more than I can say for any other medicine I ever took. I am certainly well pleased with the results I have gotten from Tanlac so far and I'm going to keep on taking it as I believe my relief will soon be complete.

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson & Co. Ltd., in Paris by Apps Ltd., and in Mt. Vernon by A. Yeomans; and in Middleport by William Peddie.

"The man that come behind him call to other man next before him; 'O Joining-of-Rivers, we must turn back. Truly into the sky he lead us.' He say to Joining-of-Rivers. Him say not'ing back again."

"Joining-of-Rivers him run between the front man and the back man, and him have his little dog call 'Hold-Tight' run along behind him.

"Bam-by in the time of leaves falling they catch the bear. They kill him. After they kill him they cut many boughs of poplar and much sumac. They throw the bear on the boughs, and skin him and cut up meat.

"Always when the summer goes the poplars and the sumac redden in the leaf. Why is that? Because they put the bear on top the boughs and all the leaves are stained with blood. That is why the poplar and the sumac turn red after summer.

"After those three men skin that bear and cut up meat they throw what is left all around. To place where light first comes in the morning they throw the head. In the winter when the light is near coming there are stars there.

"They say it is the bear's head His backbone they throw to the east also. In the winter ver' often you see stars there close together. It is that backbone!"

St. Jean paused and cast a look around the circle to gather all eyes for the climax of his tale. Though they could not understand these words, they knew what was coming and hung upon the event attentively. Suddenly the old man pointed dramatically to the east.

"See!" he cried. "They are coming now, the stars of that hunt! There are four stars in front. They say that is the bear! And the three that come behind is the three men that chase him. Now look hard with your young eyes. Behold the middle star and the behind star you see a tiny little star hanging there."

All the boys and girls looked hard at Ralph.

"I see it," he said, perceiving that it was expected of him.

"That is little 'Hold-Tight, the pet of Joining-of-Rivers," said Jean Bateese triumphantly. "That is the end of the story."

Exclamations of high satisfaction were heard around the fire clearly these tales never palled.

"To work and to hunt all day and to tell poetic tales around the fire—that a complete life! Ralph thought. He glanced at Nahnya, seeking to let her know that he was not alien to her life. Her expression dimmed him. Never had he seen such sadness in a woman's face.

Your Duty to the Fighting Men

ON the shell-torn fields of Flanders; amid the ruins of devastated France; upon the submarine-infested waters, and among the storm clouds of the sky, men from Canada are doing their duty.

They are doing it willingly, cheerfully. They are sacrificing the joys of home, the companionship of those they love most dearly, denying themselves all comfort, foregoing all thought of material prosperity, laying down their priceless lives—all this so that you may live your life in peace and security and that your hearth and home may remain inviolate.

Your duty—you who are not fighting—is simple. Dedicate your money to the cause of Victory, by buying Canada's Victory Bonds to the limit of your ability. They will be offered commencing next Monday.

Canada must borrow—
Your duty is to lend—to make your money fight.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and back-ache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISLING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

SIDE TALKS
By RUTH HANCOCK CAMERON
SELF INDULGENCE.

Some one said the other day of a certain woman that she had self-indulgent lines in her face.

Said some one else, "Oh, I think you must be mistaken. I don't think she is at all that sort of a woman."

By the way she said "that sort of a woman" it was plain that she took the phrase "self indulgent" in the only meaning which most of us give it. That is she took it to apply to the grosser forms of self indulgence. Isn't that a mistake we are all apt to make, not only in our use of that term but in our attitude toward the state it connotes?

If we are free from the grosser forms of self indulgence we think we are free from self indulgence.

But are we?

Self indulgence means simply indulging oneself in any direction.

Here's some of the things it can mean.

Letting oneself put off any duty just because one dislikes it.

Letting oneself be irritable just because one "feels like it."

Indulging oneself in twaddling.

Eating candy at times and in quantities that impair one's efficiency.

Indulging oneself in Self Deception

LADY'S WAIST.
By Anabel Worthington.

A clever combination of sailor collar and fichu is the striking feature of an unusually smart blouse, No. 8,403. The collar is hemstitched and the fichu is gathered to it at the shoulders, so that it falls in soft folds. The fichu is edged with fine plaiting. It may be lapped with the waist or separately. Two styles of sleeves are given with the pattern—the short plain one with a deep point at the back and the long one with deep cuffs and narrow turnback.

The ladies' waist pattern, No. 8,403, is cut in four sizes—36 to 42 inches bust measure. The 36 inch size requires 2½ yards of 36 inch material, with ¾ yards of plaiting.

To obtain this pattern send 15 cents to The Courier, Brantford. Any two patterns for 25 cents.
