Popular Loggieville Boy Missing

No Word of Pte. John McKenzie After Heavy Engagement—Loggieville Happenings

Loggieville, Aug. 21.—On Thursday of last week, Edgar Craig had the misfortune of breaking a small bone in his right arm, the result of a fall.

John McKenzie, who some weeks ago received word that his son John was on the firing line, was missing after a heavy engagement, and had no further news regarding him. It is with mingled hopes and fears that John's many friends here think of him. He was a young man of a sterling character, and the citizens of the town still hope he may yet be found among the living. "Johnny" as he was commonly called was one of the young men whom everybody liked. Great sympathy is felt for the father in his anxiety.

Willard Adams of this town, while engaged in work at Black River, had one of his legs broken. He was immediately taken to the Newcastle hospital. His mother, Mrs. John McKenzie of this place, visited him last week, and found his condition favorable.

Pte. Douglas Burke of Sussex is spending a few days at his home here. Pte. Jerry Lantelme, who has been in Toronto, since coming from France, was in town last week.

Miss Smith of Shediac is a guest of Miss Gray Loggie.

Miss Jennie Shields who has been visiting at the Terminal, has gone to Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Cecil Blake and children are visiting Tabucintac relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. B. McKenzie has returned from a visit to Mulgrave and other Nova Scotia towns.

Miss Pearl Young is recovering from the effects of an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Curwin of Richibucto were in town last week.

Mrs. McNicol of New Mills is visiting relatives here.

Miss Haines is spending a while with friends here.

Mrs. Philip Hierlby of Tabucintac, is spending this week in town with relatives.

Mrs. Watson Touchie is spending a while with Prince Edward Island friends.

Rev. G. Mingle, a representative of the Lord's Day Alliance, was in town on Sunday, and occupied Knox church pulpit at the morning service. He made a strong appeal to the congregation for its co-operation in the preservation of Sabbath. The offering taken to assist in the work of the Alliance amounted to about $30. While in town Mr. Mingle was a guest at the home of J. W. S. Babbirk. Dr. Wylie of Chatham was the speaker at the evening service on the 19th inst.

Mrs. John R. Johnstone has returned from a visit to Newcastle relatives.

Misses Helen and Grace Savage of Marysville, returned home today after a few days visit to Miss Helen MacMichael.

BOTH PLANNED TO ATTACK AT SAME TIME

In Hand To Hand Conflict Canadians Prove Too Many For the Germans.—Progress of the War

Canadian troops around Lens launched another attack on the western environs of the French mining city at 4.30 o'clock Tuesday morning. The attack developed in to one of the most desperate hand-to-hand battles of the war. When the Canadians went over the top they saw masses of grey figures advancing towards them in the thick haze. Both sides had planned the attack at the same moment. Fifteen minutes after the clash came, the Germans were making their last stand on the parapet of their trench. Then they retreated rapidly.

The Canadians are gradually closing in on Lens, proving too many for the German defenders.

Along the western line the Allies are either holding their own or slowly winning.

The Russians, this week, have made gains on the Turko-Russian line, but have lost a little in Roumania.

Greece is actively in the war on the Entente side.

China has declared war against Germany and Austria and seized all enemy ships in her ports.

The whole world except Norway, Sweden, Holland, Switzerland and Spain, in Europe; Afghanistan in Asia; and Mexico and half of Central and South America, are now against the German-Austrian-Bulgarian-Turkish combination. All the neutrals together have barely more than 100,000,000 people, the enemy has not more than 150,000,000; while the entente and its new supporters have a total population of at least 1,350,000,000 people. Of this number of course the 460,000,000 Chinese, 215,000,000 Hindus, 100,000,000 negroes and 60,000,000 Japanese are not very actively engaged, but their economic assistance is of great value.

Another Heavy Electrical Storm

Several Buildings Struck By Lightning and Much Damage Done

A very heavy electrical storm, accompanied by a tremendous down-pour of rain, struck the Miramichi valley Monday evening.

During the evening, a barn belonging to Mrs. Ann Clouston of Lower Derby, was struck by lightning. A horse in the barn was killed, and the building was slightly damaged, one corner being partly taken away.

The same night the barn of Wm. Hordford of Seville, was burned by lightning, with all its contents, among which were 30 tons of hay, 2 sleighs, with robes, etc., a Jersey cow worth $20, a reaper, etc. No insurance. Loss estimated at $1400.

The house of Wm. P. McDonald keeper of the Douglstown Fox Ranch, was struck, the lightning going in one corner and out at the opposite corner. Pictures were knocked off the wall, and Mr. McDonald's sister, Miss McDonald received a severe shock.

A large tree on the property of Mrs. John McLagan, Morrison's Cove, Chatham Head, was struck by lightning, setting fire to a barn containing a quantity of hay and farm machinery. The latter was removed and the building was burned to the ground.

Payment of Patriotic grant to the mother of a soldier discharged because of illness, the latter's pension being only $8 a month, was continued temporarily.

The monthly allowance of a lady with three children, who was several months ago transferred here from Moncton, where she received only $17 a month, and was paid only $17 a month here, was increased to the regular West Northumberland allowance of $19 a month from August first instant.

A compassionate grant of $32 was made an invalid soldier who has been under heavy expense for nursing and doctor's attendance and medicine.

Payment to a Blackville man, father of a soldier killed in action, was ordered stopped, the father now receiving pension.

Boiestown, Aug. 21.—We have been enjoying some excellent weather and mostly all the farmers have finished haying.

Several of the boys from this vicinity were members of the 104th battalion who recently went to France.

Sir John Eaton passed through this place Sunday, en route to Doaktown, on his return from an extended fishing trip on the Miramichi waters.

Horse Went Through Bridge
A horse belonging to J. S. Fairley was severely injured by going through the Porter Brook Bridge. It seems that something could be done to this bridge, in the way of repairs, before further serious damage is done.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter and son of Fredericton, are visiting the former's father at Hayesville.

Merle McDonald is spending a few weeks with her grandmother at Fairley.

Ulcerated Tooth Cause of Death

Mr. Albert McDonald of Grey Rapids Died Monday Night

The death of Albert Macdonald of Grey Rapids, who was suffering from an ulcerated tooth, and who was brought to the Miramichi Hospital on Saturday, occurred Monday night. Mr. Macdonald had had a tooth extracted several days before coming to the hospital. He died of blood-poisoning. Deceased was but 36 years of age, and leaves a widow and four children.

INFLUENCE OF HEREDITY AND ENVIRONMENT

Love is Blind, But With Due Parental Care Can Be Guided Into Safe Channels

Dr. Frederick L. Hills, of the Bangor State hospital, recently spoke on Heredity and Environment before the Mothers' club in Bangor High School in part as follows:

In plants, color, hairiness or smoothness, resistance to disease, long or short stipes, are among the characteristics inherited, and in man may be mentioned color of eyes, early appearance of the hair, certain peculiarities of the skeleton, certain diseases, outbreak of temper, etc. These are known as dominant traits.

Recessive Traits
Others known as recessive traits are lack of pigmentation, deaf mutism, imbecility, some forms of insanity, some nervous diseases and some mental traits.

In the practical application of this theory we have to consider several traits at the same time, some of which may blend and some of which may neutralize each other, and the result of a union depend upon what good or bad traits are dominant and what are recessive.

The theory of Weismann bears upon the make-up of the parent germ cells. He maintains that the germ plasma which the parental ovum contains is not used up in the formation of the offspring, but is reserved for the formation of the germ cells of the following generation unchanged. Characters will appear in the offspring reminiscent of both parents, but some may be latent and not appear until later generations. The application of these theories to the human race has cleared many of the mysteries surrounding heredity and has seemed to place our knowledge of the subject upon a firm scientific foundation.

Prof. Adams has divided conditions truly inherited into four classes—specific, racial, familiar and individual. Specific inheritance is shown by the law that features longest possessed by a given stock are the ones most impressed upon that stock and the least easily lost. A large peculiarly shaped nose may be a characteristic to a certain family and re-appear for generations. Racial inheritance is seen in the similarity of physical mental and moral make-up of all the people of different races—English, Germans and Jewish; for example showing their typical racial characteristics.

Traits Ancestors Give Us
Family inheritance is manifested by the reappearance in successive generations of similarity in form and feature and of certain intellectual traits. Individual inheritance includes all these and in addition to these characteristics peculiar to the parent as distinct from the family, or of characteristics not present in either parent, but resulting from the interaction of the two parental germ plasma. Some of the characteristics known to be traceable to heredity along family lines features, color of the hair, eyes and skin, stature, weight, energy, endurance, quickness; defects of many kinds such as those of the nervous system, speech, eyes and ears, baldness and defects of various bodily organs. This does not mean that all shortcomings are inherited, but that the type of organism is inheritable which lacks resistance to germs and other factors which bring about disease.

Mental Traits
Mental Traits:—Among the mental characteristics known to arise from heredity sources may be mentioned musical, artistic and literary ability, mechanical skill, retentive memory, fluency in conversation, aptness in languages, attention, etc. Also, certain forms of insanity, epilepsy and feeble-mindedness.

Moral Traits
Moral Traits: On the moral side we find as inheritable qualities, generosity, piety independence industry faithfulness, will power, self-reliance, impulsiveness, temperance, sympathy, etc. The same may be said of unusual traits such as criminality, delinquency, vanity, cruelty, cunning quickness to anger.

Our Personalities Fore-Ordained
Thus, we see that our whole make-up, physical, mental and moral, is fore-ordained to a large extent by the characteristics of our ancestors. We are a complex combination, in our individuality of the characters of those who have gone before and because the combination is so complex we are not likely to fall heir to all their bad traits any more than to all their good traits. Even the feeble-minded inherit in many cases, along with their defective mental makeup good traits of kindness, gentleness, generosity, etc., or an ability for mathematics or along musical or artistic lines.

Blind Tom's Accomplishments
A few years ago, a negro imbecile, Blind Tom, travelled extensively in the eastern states demonstrating a remarkable musical ability, being able after a single hearing to reproduce even complicated music on the piano. Mentally, he was a child, difficult to control and so pleased with an accomplishment that often after playing he would spring up and applaud himself rapturously.

Law of Compensation
Persons possessing weak physical make-ups, may possess strong mental capacities and vice versa. Persons of superior mental capacity may lack loftiness of character. Each trait in the mosaic of one person is transmitted or not transmitted to a child according to the mating of that particular trait—mating with trait or lack of trait rather than according to the mating of the two persons as a whole; that is, when a man and woman marry and bear offspring, it is not the mating of two units, but the mating of myriads of pairs of units, the units being the constituent traits and lack of traits contained in the germ plasma, each trait mating producing its own trait offspring and the collection of these trait offspring making up the child.

In the marriage of relatives such as cousins the mating brings together like groups of traits, thus strengthening the existence of those traits whether good or bad. When the family possesses traits of mental ability cousin marriages may result in children who are geniuses, but cousin marriages when the family line possesses traits of mental inability, may result in children who are mentally defective.

Few Diseases Inherited
We know that only a very few diseases are really inherited. What is inherited is a certain lack or weakness in the chemical and structural make-up of the body as a result of which the offspring are made susceptible to disease when subject to infection or to those conditions in life which would foster its development. Tuberculosis is not hereditary, but the child of a tubercular parent inherits a type of bodily structure which, in combination with congenital and post-natal influences favors the development of the disease, the exciting germ of which is everywhere present. The same is true of syphilis and alcoholism.

How Alcoholism Runs
Alcoholism is seen in many members of the same family line, not because alcoholism is hereditary, but because the alcoholic possesses a poorly developed nervous organization, weak will and suggestibility which he does transmit to his offspring and which renders the latter an easy victim to habit formation, which manifests itself in some degenerate tendency, as alcoholism, drug addiction, criminality, immoral living etc. If an alcoholic marries a person whose family line possesses well marked traits of an opposite nature, strong will, good mental poise, longevity, etc., the tendency to the habit formation would be less evicent in the offspring and bad traits would tend to disappear.

The same can be said relative to those forms of insanity in which heredity seems to pay a part, as well as of feeble-mindedness and idioy.

Normal and Feeble Minded
Suppose that a normal minded person marries a feeble minded person. Assuming that the normal minded person comes of a stock in which this trait is dominant, all the children will be normal, none will be feeble minded. Yet, all these children who seem perfectly normal lack something in their bodies. This deficiency is simply covered up but can crop out in later generations. If two of these hybrids between the weak minded and the normal minded stocks marry each other, one-quarter to the children will be feeble-minded, one-quarter thoroughbred or normal and the remaining half, though apparently normal, will carry the taint in them, just as their parents did on the other hand, if two feeble-minded people marry, all the children will be feeble-minded, but feeble-mindedness is a recessive quality, so that if feeble-minded marry only with normal individuals, the feeble-mindedness does not blight the next generation and if the apparently normal (hybrid) children of such marriages are careful to marry only normal individuals, avoiding the feeble-minded or those with tainted ancestry like themselves, there will be no feeble-mindedness in the future generations.

We Inherit Good Things
In thinking of heredity, we are apt to let our minds dwell upon the bad things that can thus be brought into life and to overlook the good that quite as often comes from the survival dominant traits of the better sort, neutralizing and killing out the evil.

Genius is Hereditary
The heredity to gentleness, general bodily soundness, of physical endurance, of memory, of self reliance, of high moral ideals has not been studied so painstakingly as has the heredity of defectives, but we know that these things are just as surely hereditary and that more care in the selection of the parents of our children with these things in view, will tend vastly to the improvement of the race.

Thought and Matrimony
The wider knowledge of these things the better they are understood and their significance realized by the community at large, the more will there grow up a tendency to thoughtfulness in the assumption of the marriage relation, and though love is blind, he will come instinctively to crave the better things and subconsciously to be guided away from committing those follies that he cannot see.

Heredity vs Environment
It is often difficult to say how much of the physical, mental or moral fitness or unfitness of any individual is due to heredity and how much to environment. The influences of environment are at work from the moment of conception or influence the whole life history of the offspring. Pre-natal conditions may produce abnormal development and lead to infections, especially tubercular and syphilitic. The periods of infancy and childhood, during which rapid development in all three spheres is taking place are prolific of influences moulding their physique, building the character and directing the moral trends, all of which are to combine with hereditary influences to make up the individual life. In the physical sphere we see the influence of environment upon the future health. It is thought that most cases of tuberculosis are the result of infection with the germ in infancy or early life, the disease remaining latent until some conditions of ill health, unhygienic living, etc., so weakens the natural body resistance as to favor the development of the disease.

First Few Years Important
The nervous makeup of a child is greatly influenced by the environment of the first few years of life. A nervous child of nervous parents might, by a change of environment become less nervous. It is probable, says Dr. Beverly Tucker "that a new born babe of Norway if taken away from its parents to live in Italy would modify many of its inherited traits in this new environment. Just as the fair skin would become darker, the stolid bearing would tend to become inflexible, thriftless would probably be lost and it would become more emotional, more artistic more graceful, more easily excited and perchance, more neurotic."

Environment Influences Heredity
A child comes into the world with its plans for existence drawn, by heredity; in the dry dock of environment it assumes certain characteristics and these depend much upon the material used and the influence of the builders. A ship built in Japan by the same plan of one built in England would contain different wood, steel and even paint. In other words although the same plan was followed some Japanese characteristics would be worked into it. The fitness of the ship might be further altered by the builders of either country putting in here and there a bad piece of material or even willfully destroying or changing some of the specifications of the plan, all of which would affect its sea-worthiness. So, with the child disease might destroy a part of its fitness, gnarled and warped ideas imbued from those in charge of its rearing might change its plan and an individual destined by nature to battle with the storms and stand the stress of life may, because of environmental circumstances and influences, be rendered unfit.

Nervousness
The infant of a few weeks of age whose parents begin to feed it too often, handle it too much and keep it in an atmosphere of indulgence and excitement, is liable to become the (Continued on page 7)

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poisoning are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freestone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freestone will cure very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

Buy your car as you would buy your home

LOOK at the buying of your car as you would look at the buying of your home. You can find a house at almost any price you would care to pay. But there are certain necessities you must have if that house is to be a home. You wouldn't, for example, try to get along in tiny, cramped up, uncomfortable rooms. Neither would you live in a house with cheap plumbing, inferior woodwork, ill-fitting doors and rattling windows.

Without going into luxuries, there are certain necessities you must have to justify your calling your house a home—a place you will be proud to own.

It is the same with your car. It must have a certain amount of size, roominess and wheel-base to make it really comfortable and free you from the need of constant apologies. It must have materials of a certain quality to insure its lasting the proper time to justify your investment in it. It must have the proper weight to make it hold the road. It must seat all its passengers in comfort.

You wouldn't buy a house that lacked the real necessities because it cost a few dollars less. Even so it is false economy to buy a car that lacks the essentials of motoring satisfaction because it is cheap to buy.

In the Series 18 Studebaker Cars you get all the needed essentials of complete motoring satisfaction at the lowest possible price.

When you realize that Studebaker, one of the largest producers of cars in the world, enjoying all the economies of great production and great resources, makes a smaller percentage of profit per car than the small car manufacturers, it is obvious that Studebaker includes in its cars those features that small cars must curtail; and quality, both of material and workmanship, that you cannot reasonably expect to find in small cars at their prices.

What is a small initial saving compared to a great sacrifice? Be wise—before you decide what car to buy see the Studebaker.

Nearly every automobile manufacturer has made an increase in prices, but Studebaker prices still remain the same as they were last Spring. This further increases the value of Studebaker cars in comparison with all others.

The increased cost of materials and labor may force Studebaker to make an advance in prices at any time without notice.

Built in Studebaker factories at Walkerville, Ont.

Chatham Breaks With Liquor Traffic

"The World" Decries The Change of System. As Being Too Sudden

(Chatham World, Aug. 18th, 1917) During the last three or four years Chatham liquor dealers have been fined at regular intervals only, unless when extra fines were imposed for violating the police regulations respecting closing at certain hours and on Sundays and election days, and the dealers naturally expected a reasonable notice of any change in this system. But now they have been closed at a minute's notice, in consequence of a lightninglike change of mind and method on the part of the civic rulers, and the question with them is, "What can we do with our stock?" They probably have from $100 to $150 worth of strong waters on hand, each, and must realize on it or suffer serious financial loss. They have good cause for complaining of the sudden change of policy on the part of those to whom the police look for orders. What can they do with the stock on hand? It may cost them more in fines to try to sell it than it's worth. The saloon-keepers also think that the levying on them for $53 each this week, when they are selling nothing but soft drinks is very sharp practice. They paid the regular bi-monthly fine on July 22nd, and closed their bars when ordered to do so August 11th, and look upon the imposition of a fine for selling between those dates as extortion. The town was orderly under the old system, as the Mayor has often declared, and it may not be more orderly with the liquor business in new hands and unknown places—kitchens, cellars, blind pigs, and dark corners—as it used to be when attempts were made to enforce the Scott Act to the letter.

Military Cross Here

CAPT. William Stewart MacTier, who was reported yesterday to have been awarded the Military Cross for gallantry in the firing line, is the son of Mr. A. D. MacTier, general manager of eastern lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Capt. MacTier went to the front with the first Canadian Contingent and has been twice wounded, the first time at Ypres, and lately at Vimy Ridge. At the outbreak of the war, Capt. MacTier was on the ocean returning from Europe, and immediately on landing joined the Thirtieth Battalion, under Lieut-Col. (now Brigadier-General) Loomis, D.S.O. He went to the front with that unit and fought with it when it covered itself with glory at Ypres and Festubert. He was then wounded by shrapnel and returned to Montreal to convalesce. On returning to the front he was attached to Brigadier-General Loomis' staff, he having taken over the command of a brigade in the mean time. As the serving in this capacity for a short time one of his feet gave out and an operation was necessary. On his return to the front on this occasion he was transferred to a Montreal Highland Battalion and promoted to his present rank.

A Social Canker And Growing Evil

Great Meeting Held in Toronto To Find Means To Combat Social Disease Among Civilians

Alarming statistics of the prevalence of social disease among civilians and soldiers were presented to representatives of a dozen Ontario organizations who met at the City Hall yesterday to discuss ways and means of checking the evil. The outcome of the conference, which was held at the instigation of the military authorities, was that police, press and medical officials, all promised hearty support in a campaign of suppression. A committee of men and women was appointed to suggest means.

Among the organizations represented were the Board of Trade, Rotary Club, Daughters of the Empire, Women's Liberal-Conservative Clubs, W. C. T. U., Y. M. C. A.; and the Local Council of Women. The committee which was appointed to consider the situation is composed of Miss L. A. Hamilton, Mrs. Torrington, president of the National Council of Women; Dr. Margaret Paterson, Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, Major J. T. Fitzgerald, Major J. W. S. McCullough, G. A. Putnam of the Women's Institute; Capt. Dr. Gordon Bates, F. B. Paul, Dr. J. A. Macdonald, A. E. S. Smythe, Mrs. A. M. Heustis of the Local Council of Women, Alex. Sinclair, Crown Attorney Seymour Corley, and Deputy Chief David Archibald.

According to the suggestions put forth at yesterday's conference the campaign is to be one of legislation as well as education. Crown Attorney Corley declared that there were improvements which might be made in existing laws and he promised to make some suggestions at the next meeting. Capt. Dr. Gordon Bates of the Base Hospital Toronto, said that an educational campaign must be carried on throughout the province, whether by literature, lectures or moving pictures.

Capt. Bates reported that the admissions at the base hospital from the disease are approximately 1,500 a year, while in the Toronto General Hospital during the first three months of 1917, twelve per cent. of all the patients were diseased. The situation was such, he said that the authorities and the general public must abandon its ostrich-like attitude and take immediate action toward wiping out the evil.—St. John Evening Times, Aug. 15, 1917.

Pretty Wedding At St. Michael's

Miss Lily Allen and Mr. Frazer Sullivan United in Marriage by Rev. Mon. O'Keefe.

St. Michael's Cathedral was the scene of an interesting ceremony Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Lily Allen, daughter of Sergt. and Mrs. Robert Allen, and Frazer Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Newcastle, were united in marriage by Rev. Mon. O'Keefe. The sweet in a gown of cream silk net over rose silk with rose silk trimmings and hat of pale rose Georgette crepe, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. The bride and groom were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Layton, aunt and uncle of the bride, were the witnesses of the marriage. The bride's going away gown was Copenhagen blue silk with hat to match. After a short wedding trip they will reside in Newcastle. Many beautiful presents were received by the young pair. The bride's mother gave her a Knaabe piano. The employees of the Hicks Company Newcastle, gave a silver brass bed, complete with Ostermoor mattress and pillows, the groom being very popular with the men as well as an efficient member of the concern. A pleasant surprise in the form of a lovely fumed oak and leather arm chair with the "heartiest congratulations" was sent in from five of the groom's young Chatham friends. This event, which had been looked forward to with much interest by the many friends of the youthful pair, was terminated in a quiet wedding owing to the absence of the bride's father and three brothers, all being on active service.

Dinner was served in the evening at the home of the bride. The bride used as a centerpiece her bridal bouquet enfolded in the Union Jack and Canadian flag as a token of affectionate remembrance, and thus giving a part in the marriage to father and brothers at the front.

THE HORSE RACES

"You can take my word for it, this is going to be the biggest and best meet we have ever had at the Halifax Exhibition track," said a prominent horseman.

"On what do you base your remarks?" he was asked. "First, on the fact that what we all have been pulling for the last long while has been accomplished. We have a real big racing circuit, with Moncton, Fredericton, St. John and Chatham combined with Halifax into a racing circuit, you will see horsemen carrying greater strings than ever and you will see a lot of owners entering horses, who did not before. I tell you, it makes us all feel mighty good that we shall have a chance to go from track to track without any long jumps or long breaks.

"In the second place, I am sure this is going to be the biggest week we have ever had in Halifax, because the Commission has made arrangements for more than ever before. "And in the third place, I believe that you will see greater crowds at the September 12th to 20th Show this year than ever before. I was recently on a trip through a considerable portion of the province, and everywhere I heard people planning on taking in the Exhibition.

"Every horseman I know is tuning up his string in the expectation of the greatest Fall of racing ever seen in these parts."

Half of Saloniki Destroyed By Fire

More than half the walled city of Saloniki, in Greek Macedonia, which is under occupation by the Entente Allied troops was destroyed by fire Saturday.

Eighty thousand people, who were rendered homeless, were removed to neighboring villages.

Saloniki is enclosed by white walls, partly ancient and partly medieval, and is surrounded by cypresses and evergreens. As seen from the sea it presents a bright and beautiful appearance; but its internal aspect is miserable in the extreme. The principal buildings are mosques, most of which were previously Christian churches. The citadel, called by the Turks Yedi Kuleh, on the seven Towers, is the ancient acropolis; within it are to be seen the ruins of a triumphal arch belonging to the time of Marcus Aurelius. Other relics of antiquity are the propylaeum of the Hippodrome, a magnificent Corinthian colonnade of five pillars; the triumphal arch of Augustus, erected after the battle of Philippi (no wronging the gate of Vardar or Vardari); the arch of Constantine, etc.

A special train has been despatched from Kief to Jassy to convey the Roumanian royal family to Russian soil.

Plaintiff's Are Awarded Damages

Dr. Joseph Hayes, the family physician of the plaintiffs, had examined Mrs. Patterson the day of the accident, at her home. He had found one eye closed up and slight abrasions on nose and chin and slight cut on one ear. One arm below was swollen and one knee swollen, both of which patient said was painful, and he saw no evidence of pretence. Under his advice she went to bed. He made her 6 or 7 visits while she was in bed. Two days after the accident synovitis, or inflammation of the knee, set in. This is a very painful disease and liable to become chronic. Three weeks in bed is almost always necessary after such a disease sets in. Three more weeks of lameness would be very probable. Mrs. Patterson, when he first saw her after the accident, was also suffering from shock. Would be natural for her to say her nerves were upset for months afterward. He had made about eight visits to Mrs. Patterson on her account alone—six while she was in bed and two afterwards, just one in October. She also came to his office several times. According to customary charges on the Miramichi the 8 visits and medicine would cost her $18 to $18.

To Judge: Inflammation of the knee is serious and causes pain. Edgar Vye swore that he had used plaintiff's mare before and after the accident. She was left permanently stiff in the fore legs. Would have valued her at $150 before the accident and at not more than $50 afterwards. After the accident he had great difficulty making the mare pass an auto.

Chas. Sargeant Charles Sargeant, Livermyer, had attended to the mare just after the accident. He would value her at $150 before and $50 afterwards.

Vaughan Long Vaughan Long, Carriage Builder and wheelwright, general foreman at the Canadian Gear Works, Newcastle, had given estimates for repairing the wagon broken in the accident. Wagon appeared to have been new. He estimated that to repair it would cost $42.50. The owner had it partially fixed for $15.

Lawrence Coughlan, caretaker of the bridge, caught the mare after the accident, had reharnessed her, and had taken Mrs. Patterson round town until they found the auto whose number she had taken on the bridge. They found Mr. Loggie's car in front of Dr. Nicholson's. He took mare to Sargeant's stable. Noticed upholstery of back of wagon gone and some straps and bolts gone.

James MacFarlane Blacksmith, Chatham Head, near end of bridge, knew the mare had shod her before and after accident. Should be worth $150 before, and not much afterwards. Was much harder to shoe afterwards, as it was hard to get her to stand still.

H. W. Patterson Mr. Patterson, one of the plaintiffs, said he paid $125 for the mare 4 or 5 years before, and considered he had got a bargain. Had bought the wagon the year before for $110. Returned from work on C. G. R. section, night of the accident, found mare with legs barked and cut. Asked defendant to send over Dr. Jones, veterinarian, to see the mare. Dr. Jones came next day. Afterwards he had employed another veterinarian. Mare had been mild and trustworthy, and he knew of no defects in her. Weighed 1235. Was a general service animal. Did his driving work, and was often hired work. After accident was driven and was less fit. She had a shoe bolt, and once she fell because of that shoe bolt that time by Mr. Patterson got over both sides of the bridge and an offer of $35 for the wagon.

When horse came down on the car he slid off the upriver side. When the horse reared he was diagonally placed with head pointing the least bit up river. Didn't remember if mud guard were broken. If horse hadn't swerved to the right he could Loggie's car have hit him without coming in from the rear. I think he could have stopped when you saw the car out.

swung out and was struck or nearly struck by auto. Witness had asked defendant to settle. Defendant had not asked him to present all bills and he would consider them. Next, defendant offered $25 in settlement. Mare was laid up 21 days, losing $21 services. Board and wages of maid for about 2 months extra $70 damages to wagon, three or four visits from veterinarians, wife's clothing, her sickness etc., were items of loss. He had mentioned $500 to defendant as fair damages.

Mrs. Patterson Mrs. Patterson recalled, said she had lost a brand new coat, dress and hat in the accident worth $28, also the new wagon practically destroyed. The counsel for defence argued that the accident was due to the negligence of Mrs. Patterson that her mare did not keep to the left but swung to the right and reared up on defendant's car that one of the women screamed and excited the horse.

First witness called by defence was Rv Father Saindon. Father Saindon, of Burnt Church was returning from Chelmsford Sept. 4, and crossed bridge to Newcastle. Vaguely remembered seeing another auto approaching from Chatham way. Witness was not driving more than 15 miles an hour, and slowed a little when turning on to bridge. Overtook one team on bridge and met another, and passed both. Overtaking first team he blew his horn and passed on the side that was clear which side he did not remember. Saw people running to bridge and turned his auto as soon as he could and went back and was told of the accident between the other car and a team. Seemed to him he passed team he overtook on the side which has the nearest. Was not sure he followed the law of the road in passing it. He took the side that was clear. The other car was far enough away to not need watching. Road had been good coming on to the bridge.

Wm. Ross Wm. Ross, munitions worker of Chatham, was with defendant, on right of front seat. Car took upriver had preceded defendant's car on bridge by about 40 yds and kept that distance all the way across and had his head up, hitting plaintiff's team from view. All very close defendant's team was down. When head of defendant's team went to the right and passed. Saw other team and they were right up against defendant's car as a bit, passed driver's head and saw the second team, defendant's car swung off to its right and followed first car at same speed, which did not seem rapid. When they saw second team, Loggie put on brakes, horse swung to right and came down on the car. Then car was going slow with brakes on. When horse came down on car, witness jumped out on left side. Saw horse serve round all wagon upset. Wagon upset to right. Horse was going towards Nelson. Wagon upset towards upper side of bridge. Witness started to stop the horse. Mrs. Patterson was bleeding at the car. When witness jumped off he was up against the lower side of the railing, car was about a foot away. He was squeezed against lower side of the bridge. Saw horse after he came back from Sargeant's, was scratched on all legs. Saw one of the car lights broken, and car dinged by hoofs. Just before he jumped, car was on the bank on Newcastle end of draw. Car was on down river side, had turned to its right, the down river side, car was almost to lower side. As witness was jessed between the car and side of the bridge. Left hand side of car was injured by horse. Horse they were overtaking was on upper side—its left hand side. Front car pulled out to right to pass that team. Loggie's car also passed that team all right. Did not see Loggie's car strike its hind wheel. When Loggie's car reached rear wheel of that wagon, first car was not too close—about 43 yds away. Mrs. Patterson's team, when he first saw it was between Loggie's and Father Saindon's car. Could see daylight between the two teams. Could not swear there was room for an auto to pass between them. He thought horse was coming up on to them and he jumped. That time, Loggie's car was almost jammed against lower side of the bridge.

To Mr. Murray: When witness jumped out he was against iron work of lower side of the bridge, with room to get one's feet in. To Mr. Davidson: Horse kind of slid to the right a little bit and came down on the car. He swung his fore parts to the right, and came down on the upriver side of the car, while the car was on the down river side of the bridge. To Mr. Murray: When horse came down on the car he slid off the upriver side. When the horse reared he was diagonally placed with head pointing the least bit up river. Didn't remember if mud guard were broken. If horse hadn't swerved to the right he could Loggie's car have hit him without coming in from the rear. I think he could have stopped when you saw the car out.

A.—Almost; not quite. When witness started to run after the horse, he (witness) had to run round the back of the car. Q.—If horse had not reared up on the car, the car having stopped so soon would the car have run against him? A.—I think it would. Witness said he heard a scream, didn't know from whom or where. To Mr. Davidson: Q.—Had plaintiff's horse swerved to right when you jumped out of car. A.—Yes. Q.—How far did car carry the horse. A.—About three or four feet, I imagine. Q.—Had wagon upset by the time the horse broke clear of car? A.—It upset when car was moving. Horse had kind of swerved with feet in air, when I jumped. The swerve and the rearing were all one motion. Adjudged till 10 a. m. Tuesday. Court resumed Tuesday morning, going on with the Patterson-Loggie case.

Following witnesses were called: Patrick Holt Patrick Holt was in defendant's car. The collision was all over in a moment. When brakes were applied the car skidded straight ahead. The first thing he knew the Patterson horse was on the car. Did not notice how close the car was to lower side of bridge. When Loggie's car came alongside the Dick horse, the two horses were 20 to 30 ft apart. Carmen Niven Mr. Niven, automobile mechanic, had repaired defendant's car after the accident. Right hand fender was broken down, right lamp crushed hole through right hand running board shape of horse's hoof, with hair on its side. Body of car was dinged in on its right side. Car was 35 hp. Bumper was cracked in right coupling.

Dr. Wm. Jones Dr. Jones, veterinary, was engaged by defendant to tend plaintiff's horse; found no glass in wound horse had scratches but only in one place was skin punctured would not call it serious, saw horse Sept. 5, 7, 9, 14 and 19th. Did not see any permanent injury. Supplied enough medicine to do the horse till after Sept. 19th. Lee J. Loggie Defendant had bought his car in May, 1914. At McFarlane's corner he saw Rev. Father Saindon's car turn in on bridge ahead of him. He followed leading car at distance of 20 to 40 feet. Was driving, he should judge, 12 to 14 miles an hour. Only vehicles he saw were other car and the Dick team, both going to Newcastle. Coming down road to bridge he slackened speed. He followed other car, which turned to right and safely passed Dick team. When other car pulled up, defendant saw no other team than Dick's. Leading car's top was up. All at once once leading car gave sudden back to upriver side of bridge, and then defendant saw the Patterson team. He immediately threw out his clutch put foot on brake, hard as possible, and so slackened speed. Just before he got to Dick team he threw on emergency brake, which made his car skid over against and collide with back wheel of Dick wagon. Then it seemed there was about length of a car between the two horses. Tried to keep to upper side of bridge. Patterson horse appeared to slip up river when seeing car come. When car struck it, the horse lifted its fore feet and came down diagonally on the fender of the car. Horse struck car on down river side of the car. Its breast and forelegs were struck, and after that the wagon upset. Mrs. Whitely, a foot passenger, just passing, suggested I take the Dover girl to Newcastle. Car had stopped when wagon upset. Then Mrs. Patterson and Miss Dover were behind his car, which he should judge was at least 4 feet from down river side to bridge. He had swung car as far as possible to down river side to avoid striking Dick horse, could not pass in front of Dick horse—no room. Had thought afterwards that, if he had not stopped at all, he might have got through between the teams. Roadway is 17 ft. 3 in. wide. Dick wagon was 5 ft. 1 in. and his car was about 6 ft. Curb on side of bridge is about 6 to 8 in. high and 4 to 6 in. thick. The plaintiffs had asked if he would consider payment of $500 damages, then $300. To both offers he said No, and offered them $25. Just as he saw Father Saindon's car pass Dick wagon he put foot on brake, was afraid to put on emergency brake at once for fear of his car skidding onto side of bridge and hurting his passengers. Distance between horses when he applied brake was not more than 30 feet. Would not say plaintiff's horse was not standing still. Car may have gone from a half to a full length after he had tried to stop it. Had followed Father Saindon at about the same speed as he. Main cause of accident was Father Saindon's car ahead with top up shutting out view. Defendant was pretty close to the other car. He first thought it was a dangerous mix up when he saw the front car swerve to pass the Dick horse. He heard screams from the Patterson wagon. To Judge: Rear wheel of Dick wagon had been broken by his car. Dr. F. C. McGrath had made first examination of Mrs. Patterson's injuries, had found a wound on or near the knee and had advised her to report to him again. She may have had wounds on face, and she appeared much excited. H. H. Carvell of Chatham had bought plaintiff's mare, and did not consider her worth less because of the accident. Gordon Patterson who was in defendant's car in back seat, knew very little of the cause of the accident.

Mrs. Patterson recalled said that on and before Sept. 4th a sign was up on the bridge against fast driving. Mr. Patterson recalled gave evidence as to sign being on bridge. Mr. Davidson put in plaintiff's claims for damages which exclusive of Mr. Patterson's claim for damages for loss of his wife's society and help and Mrs. Patterson's claim for damages for loss of health, etc., totalled some $260.00. Mr. Davidson also read some particulars of the somewhat similar case of Duffy vs Read and Albert County case decided last year for the plaintiff, and also the motor vehicle law which puts a speed limit of six miles an hour for motors on bridges on which horses must walk.

Hon. Mr. Murray argued that the plaintiff, Mrs. Patterson had herself been negligent on the bridge. His Honor, in charging the Jury, said that in this particular case he saw no evidence of contributory negligence of the part of the plaintiff. This case contained practically two actions: one by Hazen W. Patterson for damages to horse and wagon, etc., and also for loss of society and services of his wife and another claim by Mrs. Patterson for injuries to her health, shock and injuries to her clothing. Too fast driving of car might be taken into consideration by the Jury. The speed limit on the bridge in question is six miles an hour. The speed limit appeared to have been violated by the defendant, according to his own evidence as well as that of others, and this should be taken into account. A defendant would not be liable for an accident that could not have been foreseen, but where accident might have been foreseen, a failure to take proper precaution renders a defendant liable. In criminal law it is an offense to omit to use reasonable precaution against accident. Much more care and precaution were required from the driver of an automobile than from that of an ordinary horse and wagon. If Jury thought defendant guilty of negligence they must bring in verdict for damages. Bridges were different from ordinary road ways and required greater care, and therefore, he presumed, the law set the six mile limit.

He would leave these questions to the Jury: 1.—What was the proximate cause of the collision between the defendant's car and Mrs. Patterson's horse on September 4th, 1916? 2.—Was collision between the car and horse caused by negligence on the part of the defendant? 3.—If you answer Yes to No. 2, in what did the negligence consist? 4.—What is the amount of damage sustained by the plaintiff, Hazen W. Patterson by reason of injuries complained of by her? 5.—What is the amount of damages sustained by the plaintiff Mary Patterson by reason of injuries complained of by her? Hon. Mr. Murray asked the Judge to charge the Jury that the fact of defendant having driven at a greater rate of speed than that mentioned in the Motor Act for crossing bridges has no bearing in this case. His Honor refused to comply with the request.

The Jury after being out about three-quarters of an hour, brought in a verdict for plaintiffs, answering His Honor's questions as follows: 1.—Following Rev. Father Saindon's car too closely. 2.—Yes. 3.—In not having proper control of his car. 4.—$155 and costs. 5.—$50 and costs. Morrison vs Ferguson The above case was tried on Wednesday, and was won by defendant. It was a case in which a third party had sold to Mr. Morrison railway ties belonging to Mr. Ferguson. Mr. Ferguson took possession of his own lumber, and plaintiff, who thought the property was his, replevined the ties.

The jury were Neil O'Brien, John G. Keith, H. J. Keith, Thos. Bayle, Jr., L. Comfort, E. Mullin and Stanislaus Hickey. Court adjourned Wednesday afternoon. Labor Conditions Following The War

ONE of the most serious problems which Canada must meet at the close of the war is the re-employment of our surplus army and navy. Our surplus army and navy are estimated at about 200,000 men. The National Congress of Labor met at Baltimore. The storm of the labor organization of the period was the necessity for organization so as to protect American labor against invading foreigners, who were immigrating in large numbers during the five years preceding the war.

The labor conditions in Canada during the war have been very different from those which prevailed in the United States during the war. The United States during the war had a surplus army and navy of about 2,000,000 men. It was estimated that another million men and women were employed in the Northern States in the manufacture of munitions. During the four year period of the Civil War, 150,000 more men will be recruited than during the war. The laboring classes in the cities. The call for munition workers was supplied from other branches of industry, with the result that ordinary enterprises were compelled to run short-handed or pay a high premium for labor.

Shared with this situation, we find Canada's army of about 400,000 men drawn from a population of about 3,000,000. It is estimated that some 200,000 men and women are now engaged in munition work. Only 12% of our army, however, has been enlisted from the farms and more than half of the total has been recruited from among the skilled and manual laborers. The comparison shows the same situation regarding the scarcity of labor for ordinary enterprises, but the danger of a flood of unemployed in the Northern States in the manufacture of munitions.

Next in importance to the problem of increased agricultural production is that of the development of our vast natural resources through the extension of existing and promotion of new industries. We must replace the munition plants by utilizing them in extending our present lines of manufacture and promoting the production of new lines. Canada, should prepare for increased participation in export trade after the war and should grasp the opportunity now to extend in every possible way her industrial development to enable the opportunity to be taken advantage of.

The problem of capital is always closely related to that of labor. Statistics show that Canada has always been able to absorb immigration in direct proportion to the amount of foreign capital it has been able to secure. It is estimated that during the six years preceding the war, Great Britain invested $1,500,000,000 in Canada. After the war, the Mother Country will have her own financial problems to solve and we will be compelled to look elsewhere for our capital. So far we have been able to obtain large sums from the United States and they will probably be willing to be our bankers after the war. They have the money and it should be only necessary to educate them as to our resources and opportunities; when we will be able to obtain the capital we require.

Available information shows that more than one-half of our overseas forces were recruited from among skilled workers. Some plan must be put into operation for returning these men to civil life gradually so that they will not glut the labor market; otherwise we can count upon serious labor congestion at many points. If, on the other hand, we begin to grapple with these future conditions; to employ every effort of our governmental, financial and commercial organizations to handle the problems of re-organizing our industrial life, Canada will be able to grow by great strides and occupy a prominent place among the nations of the world.

F. B. McCurdy, M. P. Baby's Great Danger During Hot Weather

More little ones die during the summer than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach disorders come without warning and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the home where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will cure the baby. Mrs. Chas. Anderson, Minda, Alta., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for little ones who are suffering from a weak stomach. They cured my baby who was suffering from stomach complaint and have made her a fine healthy child." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. of Canada.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISLINO, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

PLAINTIFFS ARE AWARDED DAMAGES AND COSTS

Another Auto Accident Aired In Supreme Court.—Ownership of Several Things Finally Settled

Court resumed on Friday morning, Williams et al vs Adams et al

The above case, adjourned several times because of the illness of defendants' lawyer, the late Hon. L. J. Tweedie, is between Frank E. Williams and C. M. Barker, plaintiffs, and J. H. Adams, Henry King, E. Chemard, Raymond Hawkes, Geo. Watt, J. R. D'Anjou and J. R. Lynch defendants.

In order to lessen costs, venue had been changed from Moncton to Newcastle. Dr. Wallace appeared for plaintiffs and Hon. R. Murray for defendants. On account of illness of defendants' chief counsel, R. A. Lawlor, defendants asked for adjournment until December circuit. Plaintiffs asked for immediate trial or postponement not later than November.

Justice Chandler granted postponement till December, defendants to pay costs of the day and costs of opposing plaintiffs' application.

Macarthur vs Stothart

The important case of S. J. Macarthur vs Gilmore G. Stothart, a friendly suit in which the real plaintiff was Hon. Donald Morrison, and the real defendant Sheriff O'Brien and the creditors of Carl Bersing, an insolvent debtor, resulted on Friday afternoon in a victory for plaintiff, jury giving him $53 damages and costs for loss sustained in having his horse seized by command of the Sheriff in the hayting season of 1914.

The jury were: Joseph H. O'Beirne, foreman; Philip Barry, Ed ward Barry, Nathan Neagles, Wm. McGrath, Harold E. Strang and Stamford Linton.

To shorten proceedings both sides agreed that Mr. Morrison, after speaking to defendant about pasturage for mare and foal had both taken to Stothart's field, where they remained several days, and while there Mr. Morrison had sold them to S. J. Macarthur, who when they were taken away between June 25th and July 2nd, 1914. Sheriff John O'Brien representing himself as the assignee of Carl Bersing, took mare and foal from Mr. Macarthur between July 10th and August 2nd, and sent them to defendant for pasturage, whence they were afterwards delivered to the plaintiff in bond. The question to be decided was whether at that time the animals belonged to Carl Bersing or to the man to whom Donald Morrison had sold them.

Hon. D. Morrison

Hon. Mr. Morrison, sworn, said that in 1913 and 1914 he had a contract with Carl Bersing for the getting out of lumber for him (Morrison). He was to pay Bersing by the thousand, the lumber being cut off plaintiff's ground. About middle of December, 1913, Bersing came to see plaintiff, wishing him to get him another horse. After some demur, he bought a mare from Mr. Keating, of Strathadam, for $225, and made a verbal agreement with Bersing that Bersing should have use of mare for the winter and have the option of buying her in the spring. Bersing took the mare on those terms.

Witness was supplying Bersing with money to enable him to get out the lumber. About April, 1914, Bersing told witness there was a mistake and the number of pieces got out were 3,909 less than he had supplied. Bersing also informed him that the mare was with foal, and that he would take care of her for witness until the latter could have her removed from his place. By and by he came to Newcastle and told witness that he had to go to Sussex to drill and had no feed for the mare. Plaintiff sent feed back to Bersing for the mare. Later, Mrs. Bersing sent and asked witness to take the mare and colt away from her place as she could not attend to it. Plaintiff asked Mr. Macarthur for pasturage but could not get any, then got it from defendant. Mrs. Bersing's brother brought the animals to defendant's pasture. A few days after that witness sold both mare and colt to Mr. Macarthur for $240. Witness had previously commissioned defendant to make a sale for him if he could. After Mr. Macarthur got the animals the next plaintiff heard was that they had been taken from Mr. Macarthur's farm. Mr. Macarthur had paid him for the animals about the last of June or first of July, 1914.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davidson, Mr. Morrison said he had made the bargain with Bersing about middle of December. Hire of mare was not changed against Bersing until it was certain that Bersing was not going to buy her. He then charged up $20 for four months' hire. Bersing, told the mare all winter. Later he spoke of feed being short and his having to go to Sussex for drill, and witness sent out feed, and intended to get the mare out as soon as possible. And Mrs. Bersing sent him to take the horses away. Bersing asking plaintiff for advances showed he was going behind in his business. Bersing offered witness a mortgage of his farm as security for his indebtedness.

Mr. Morrison's books produced at court, showed his claims against Bersing.

Date of mortgage, continued plaintiff, was June 11th, 1914. He wanted security enough to fully cover what Bersing owed him. The same date Bersing gave him a bill of sale as increased security for the same debt. Neither mortgage nor bill of sale were taken for any reason but to secure payments of the amount due.

To Mr. Murray—Not till Bersing couldn't buy the mare was horse hire charged up by witness. Bersing had volunteered both mortgage and bill of sale and spoke to E. P. Williston about drawing it up.

Witness had bought mare and foal from plaintiff the last of June or first of July, paid for them July 2nd, took them from defendant's pasture to his own farm. Then he had gone away on a vacation and when in P. E. I. had heard that he came right home, and found that mare and colt had been taken by the sheriff some time before. He had afterwards entered action of replevin. The trouble at the farm had shortened his vacation. He had bought the mare to make a team with another horse in order to save his hay crop. The farmer, in witness' absence, had taken a contract, which had to be dropped because of the mare's loss, and the cutting of a five or six acre lot had been so delayed that when cut the hay, in the ensuing bad weather, was made little better than straw. When the cows came to eat that particular hay they had gone down in their milk 15 quarts a day. Some 25 tons of other hay had been damaged, at least, $2 a ton. There had been three weeks of good hay weather that summer and six weeks of wet weather, and the mare had been seized at such a time as to largely tie up paying operations those three good weeks. The sheriff had not informed him personally that the mare was seized, and he had not learned about it till after a week or ten days.

The bill of sale was put in evidence. It secured certain articles and mare and colt, for $500. Mortgage was according to the terms of a bond given Mr. Morrison by Bersing, which bond was referred to in the mortgage. Bill of sale was to be discharged if four annual payments of $125 each were made by Bersing, the first payment to be on June 11, 1915.

On June 18th, 1914, one week after executing mortgage and bill of sale, Bersing assigned all his property to Sheriff O'Brien for the benefit of his creditors.

Black or Green Preserved and Sold only in Sealed Air-tight Packets.

G. G. Stothart

Defendant swore he had inspected Bersing's property and found the personality of small value. He went as an inspector appointed by Bersing's creditors, at a meeting of whom it had been resolved to request the Sheriff to get the mare and colt. He found very little stuff about the place. He saw a horse there—a roan gray—which he did not take away as he understood it to belong to Mrs. Bersing.

E. P. Williston gave evidence as to his drawing up the legal documents. Bersing told him Morrison owned the mare and colt. Witness had included mare and colt in bill of sale and had drawn up the mortgage so as to give Mr. Morrison ample security for what was owed him. The defence claimed that as Bersing gave a bill of sale for the mare and colt he must have owned them that Mr. Morrison in any case had no right to sell anything until after default had been made in the first annual payment, and that, therefore, Mr. Macarthur could acquire no title from Mr. Morrison.

The prosecution argued that even if Mr. Morrison had only a bill of sale, he had the right to immediately take possession of and sell any article, subject to the owner's equity of redemption; but, in this case, although the mare and colt were mentioned in the bill of sale, they did not and never had belonged to Bersing at all.

The jury found that the mare and colt had belonged to Mr. Morrison and that, therefore, he had the right to sell them to Mr. Macarthur, and awarded Mr. Macarthur $50 damages. Mr. Macarthur having got back his horses in 1914 on replevin, had not wished to carry the case any further, but, in order to definitely establish who owned the mare and colt it was necessary for him to enter the latter action.

The taking of steps to wind up the estate assigned three years ago, has thus been simplified and facilitated by the trial reported above. Court adjourned until 10 a. m. Monday.

Patterson vs Loggie

Monday morning, the suit of Hazen W. Patterson and Mary, his wife, of Newcastle, against Lee J. Loggie of Chatham, was tried, A. A. Davidson for prosecution Hon. R. Murray for defence. Damages were claimed, it being alleged that defendant ran his auto into horse and wagon of Mrs. Patterson on Newcastle Bridge September 4th last.

Jury sworn were John G. Kethro, Wm. Moran, Stanislaus Hickey, H. J. Kethro, L. Comfort, Andrew McCabe and Perley Russell.

Mrs. H. W. Patterson said that on Sept. 4th she, with her maid, Annie Dower, were driving home from Newcastle. Approaching the bridge she was passed by a car safely. When on the bridge she saw a team coming towards her and behind that at McFarlane's corner, Chatham Head, another auto coming towards her. When she saw the team she was particular to keep the left side of the bridge (the lower side) and drew as close to the lower side as she possibly could, and raising her hand signalled to the car to stop. Car was then about the middle of the bridge. (The main bridge is about one quarter of a mile long.) The team which was also coming was keeping on its left side (the upper side of the bridge.) When defendant's auto came up it tried to strike across the road and struck the other wagon's hind wheel. Then the car steered to witness's side of the road and took her mare under the fore legs and lifted the latter up on to the upper part of the car, twisting the mare and wagon around, upsetting the wagon and upsetting the witness and maid on to the bridge. The mare ran away. As a result of the accident she had been in bed three weeks, and had to limp three to five more weeks. Had not yet fully recovered use of knee, was still acting under doctor's advice, though not being attended by him.

Her household was then herself, her husband, and her husband's invalid uncle, who had since died, also a maid whom she had had for one week and was through with her that day. As a result of the accident she had to renege the girl at $6 a month and board, and keep her until October 31st, over 8 weeks longer than she had intended, and then much of the household work had to be left undone. She had not the same nerve now to drive a horse nor same confidence in herself.

To the Judge:

When Mr. Loggie had taken her home, later in the day, he had to fix up some part of the front of his car several times. The front of his car struck and lifted her mare and turned her right around.

To Mr. Davidson:

Two of the mare's shoes were knocked off. Witness picked up one and someone else the other—right there. When witness had held up her hand, defendant's car was going, in her judgment, as fast as a galloping horse—faster than the six mile an hour speed limit. A notice on bridge says $20 fine for driving faster than a walk. Car did not stop when she waved her hand.

To Mr. Murray:

Witness's horse was walking fast while she was just on steel work of bridge she saw Loggie on road at farther corner, no other car between her and him. No other car passed him in her sight. Another car had passed her on Newcastle approach of the bridge before she saw the Loggie car. Understood bridge is a quarter of a mile and her husband had since paced the road from the bridge end to McFarlane's corner, reporting it 680 yds. Front of Loggie's car had struck the other wagon and had then steered to her side of the bridge. When he struck the other wagon he steered across the bridge. When alongside the other wagon, he could not have been more than 8 or 10 feet from witness's mare. Was driving her mare as near to the lower side as possible. Mare had never before to her knowledge been in an auto accident. Her mare was standing still on the bridge when struck. She reared on to the car when the car came in front of her. She did not swing around until car struck her. Mare was standing on her own side of the bridge. Wagon upset and threw witness out towards lower side of bridge, where she struck on curb. She was taken to Dr. McGrath but not closely examined there, as she wanted to get home to her own doctor. Dr. McGrath said her injuries were bad. She had to be assisted in and out of his office. She had taken number of the car that struck her, but had not then thought of bringing any action. She had expected to be repaid for her loss. On the bridge Mr. Loggie had said for her not to worry, he would straighten up everything. She had held up her hand because she knew she was in danger and then dropped it. Meanwhile she held reins in left hand. Defendant's car was then somewhere between witness and middle of the bridge. Since the accident when driving the same mare, she got out and led her while passing a car. Her husband had since sold the mare to H. H. Carvell of Chatham. Witness had been confined to bed three weeks by her knee, injured in the accident. Could not bear weight on injured knee or on left arm.

Witness had never employed a maid till a week before the accident. After that had thought she could get along alone till her mother arrived later in the month. Her mother came. Her husband's uncle died Nov. 1st. Mr. Loggie had offered to pay all bills up to $25.

Miss Annie Dower

Miss Dower, aged 15, gave evidence about the accident that agreed with Mrs. Patterson's.

ECZEMA Has Stayed Cured For 15 YEARS

THE Ketchesons are well known as pioneer settlers of Hastings County, and none of them probably has a wider acquaintance than Mr. W. D. Ketcheson, who was formerly Division Court Bailiff of the Trenton Court, and is now living at 278 Front street, Belleville, Ont.

Over fifteen years ago Mr. Ketcheson was cured of an extremely severe case of eczema and piles by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and he writes now to say that the cure proved a permanent one.

In 1897 Mr. Ketcheson wrote as follows:—"I was troubled for thirty years with itching piles and eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees, perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box, and this Ointment effected a complete cure."

On Sept. 28th, 1912, Mr. Ketcheson wrote as follows:—"I had suffered for fifteen years from eczema and piles, and everything I could hear of in vain. Reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I purchased it at once, and was soon completely cured. That was fifteen years ago, so there can be no doubt of the cure being a permanent one. I have met a great many people who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment."

In this year of 1917 Mr. Ketcheson again confirms his cure, and expresses his wishes that others may benefit by his experience. Refuse to accept substitutes.

Great Reception Given Him in His Home Town And an Address And Purse Presented

There was a great reception at Douglastown School Grounds on the night of the 16th inst., in honor of returned soldier, Samuel Mather, D. C. An address and well filled purse of $100 was on behalf of the people of Douglastown, presented Pte. Mather by James Simpson.

Pte. Mather replied, giving a very interesting account of some of his experiences at the front. Returned soldiers Pte. Chesley K. Gray of Douglastown and Sgt. Mann of Chatham then addressed the large audience, and stirring addresses were also delivered by the chairman, Mayor Morrissey of Newcastle and Rev. Alex. Firth.

The meeting was one of the largest, best conducted and most enthusiastic gatherings ever held in this county. Douglastown soldiers have won an enviable distinction in this war and their townsmen are justly proud of them.

the combined duty of the individual and the community, the parent and the state. The parent must do his part and when his ability and means fail, the state should bear the burden.

Parent's Duty—State's Duty

The parent's duty is to rear the child with as good a physical, mental and moral heredity as it is within his power to control by clean living. The duty of the state is to improve, where necessary, the environment of the child by sanitary laws, carefully and effectively enforced, early and adequate institutional care for those who fall by the way, whether from physical, mental or moral fault or accident, segregation of the unfit; more uniform and stricte marriage laws, more scientific grading of schools, educational methods based upon more thorough physical and mental examinations, vocational training and training in home economics.

nervous child and the neurotic, hysterical or perverted adult. Over-attention, or lack of attention, too much noise or too much silence, too much or too little light, have to do with the development of the infant's nervous system. The stress of modern life is frequently accompanied by irritability in the parents, haste in their family duties and meals, nervous explosions, and impatience with the child all of which make a profound imprint upon the childish mind, and instead of learning the homely virtues of control, patience, endurance and obedience, it is directly taught to be neurotic, unintentionally let us hope, by its own parents. With about as much regularity as a child absorbs the religious faith and political beliefs of the family in which it is born does he or she absorb their family nervous equilibrium.

Child's Environment

The environment, then, of a child consists of the surroundings in which it is reared. The good or baneful effect of this environment does not depend upon the poverty or wealth of these parents except that the child of moderately well-to-do parents has the best chance in that it neither suffers from deprivation or over-indulgence. The child with brothers and sisters is far better off than the only child because it has less time for self-contemplation, has to stand up for its rights, absorbs a better idea of human nature, learns to give and take, becomes less self-conscious and is less usually idolized. Sensible parents, general hygiene, the proper religious influence, light, air, exercise regular hours, companionship, healthy morality and good schools with plenty of playtime go to make a good environment.

How to Improve Race

From this brief review of the effects of heredity and environment upon the human development and life, we see the importance of the study of these things and we get some guide as to the proper method to be employed for the elimination of the bad effects of tainted heredity and the strengthening of those characteristics which will improve the physical mental and moral fibre of our offspring. To this end, attention to these things is necessary:

1. Widespread dissemination among the people of the known facts of heredity.
  2. Open and free acknowledgment of hereditary taints so that positive steps may be taken to counteract it by proper education and environment.

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE AT THE HAPPY HOUR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

George Beban, the famous character actor, will be seen at the Happy Hour on Friday and Saturday in another one of his celebrated Italian characterizations, "The Marcellini Millions," produced by Moroso Paromount from the story by Edith Kennedy, prepared for the screen by Mr. Beban and Miss Kennedy and produced under the direction of Donald Crisp.

The story is that of an Italian truck gardener who suddenly finds himself possessor of millions and, much to his disgust, his wife insists that he live up to them. Many strange and wonderful things happen to them as the owners of Macellini Hall. Finally he can stand it no longer, and, when his wife sues for divorce, Guido returns to his little farm.

When the wife hears that she is not the rightful possessor of the Marcellini estates, she is only too glad to go back to her old life where they were so perfectly happy and contented.

One of the most beautiful and elaborate sets ever made for a photodramatic production is the living room, dining room, hall and upstairs rooms of the Marcellini home. The entire stage was occupied for two weeks by this set and it was constructed like a complete home with the rooms upstairs as elaborately furnished as those below.

George Beban, by his wonderful Italian characterizations, is endearing himself to the hearts of the Italian colony in the vicinity of the Moroso studio, and every day is beset by an excited mob of Italians who offer him everything from their babies to their homes, dogs, horses, wagons, and even themselves for use in his pictures.

M. Beban is supported by a splendid cast including Helen Eddy, Pietro Sasso, Henry Woodward, Eugene Pallette, Adele Farrington, and others.

An Age Of Weak Nerves

"No heart for anything" is the cry of thousands of men and women who might be made well by the new, red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make.

Misery day and night is the lot of hosts of men and women who are today the victims of weak nerves. Their pale, drawn faces and dejected attitude tell a sad tale, for nervous weakness means being tortured by morbid thoughts and unaccountable fits of depression. These sufferers are painfully sensitive and easily agitated by some chance remark, sleeplessness robs them of energy and strength; their eyes are sunken, their limbs tremble, appetite is poor and memory often fails. This nervous exhaustion is one of the most serious evils afflicting men and women of today. The only way to bring back sound, vigorous health is to feed the starved nerves which are clamoring for new, rich, red blood. This new, good blood can be had through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which fact accounts for the thousands of cures of nervous diseases brought about by this powerful blood builder and nerve restorer. Through the fair use of this medicine thousands of despondent people have been made bright, active and strong.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may be had by mail for 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Rockville, Ont.
