TOWN TOPICS.

A GOOD PRESENT.—The most useful gift you can make is to give a Writ Pen. Apply to D. McGillicuddy, agent Goderich.

The beautiful summer is coming, and Geo. Stewart is making big preparations for doing a large business at his studio, corner of Hamilton street and Square.

If you want to see something really fine in gentlemen's neck wear, and anything else required in a good make-up, go to F. & A. Fritham, the fashionable tailors.

There are a lot of hustlers on Acherson's block on the square, and in the front rank is Rhynes the druggist, who has lately moved in and fitted up a first class store well stocked for the benefit of the public.

Housekeepers about to renovate, will do well to watch and wait for Mrs. Curry's sale of all her elegant furniture on the 1st of April at 1 p.m. Bills will appear in due time.

THE WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION will meet regularly for the transaction of business every Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Knox church. Every woman interested in the work is cordially invited to attend.

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND.—Sanders & Son, have the salmy air of spring, wall paper, borders and ceiling decorations down so low, that the poorest can have their walls and ceilings tastefully decorated. They have the elegant new samples ready for inspection and ask a comparison of prices and patterns. The cheapest house under the sun.

Sanders and Son have commenced putting in services. They have hydrants particularly adapted to small houses of householders who cannot take it inside, and will put them on at 50 cents each, three for the cellar. They also carry a complete stock of sanitary plumbing goods, and will cheerfully furnish estimates for any size job, and the most approved method. First class workmen only employed.

The song of warbling birds, the music of the purling brook, the spring, the sound of the artisan putting in the water-pipes, the presence of the health inspector in the back yard, the ventilating of the cellar, the taking off of the storm doors and windows, and a hundred other things tell the winter is a dead past. See also the display of splendid frames, and the samples of fine photographic views of the coast, point to the fact that R. H. Sallows is away upon his particular line.

"People Will Have It."

The wonderful healing and soothing properties of Lumsden & Wilson's Royal Glycerated Balsam of Fir are the secret of success. Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough and Incipient Consumption quickly give way to its curative powers. Nothing but its superiority over other remedies has created the demand for it from all parts of the Province, which has even extended to the United States. Why? Because every person who has used it speaks well of it. Druggists sell it at 50 cts. per bottle.

Robert Elliott, of the Wingham Times, High Chief Ranger of the Canadian order of Foresters, was in town on Tuesday. He reports the order making good progress. This is one of the sound friendly societies in Canada.
Clinton Now Era: Dame Remor states that a popular young business man of Goderich will shortly close negotiations for life with a young lady of Clinton who is known and esteemed both for her personal attractions and grace. She will be greatly missed here.

THE UNKINDEST CUT OF ALL.—See-forth Expressor: The Goderich SIGNAL of last week says: "Two organ factories and a furniture and chair factory are now on the cards for Goderich, and several other industries are to be heard from. Next." It almost takes one's breath away to hear those Goderich people talk. They'll be ahead of Clinton soon.

A sacred concert will be held in the North street Methodist church on the evening of Good Friday, under the auspices of the choir. Some of the best talent obtainable in Ontario has been secured, among whom are Mr. Mundy, (tenor) of Toronto, Miss Campbell, (soprano), Mrs. Brayley, of Toronto, and Miss M. Graham.

LIGHTNING EXTRACTION.—THE RECORD BROKEN.—Prof. A. M. Shrieves extracted 21 teeth in 57 seconds for a lady in Clinton. Over six hundred teeth were extracted in Mitchell in six days. Over 500 in Listowel in four days. 400 in Stratford in three days. 517 in Clinton in five days. Miss Donovan, of Seaforth, had eleven teeth extracted in one minute and a half.
This is the time when the shoddy peddlers get good money for poor cloth. We understand the farmers are being visited in this county, and some of them are paying the usual price for shoddy and will want to kick themselves after a few weeks. Is it fair to buy from men for cash when the merchants have given you six months' or a year's credit and are still unpaid?

THE LIFE OF ANIMALS.—The average life of animals is as follows:—A whale lives 300 years; a sheep lives ten years; a cat lives fifteen years; a tortoise lives 100 years; a lion lives twenty years; a camel lives forty years; a bear lives twenty years; a dog lives fourteen years; a squirrel lives eight years; an elephant lives 400 years; an ox lives 25 years; a horse lives 25 years.

A man went to a neighbor, a Scotchman, and asked him to endorse a note in order to raise money at a bank. The neighbor refused, saying: "If I was to put my name till, ye wad get the siller frae the bank, and when the time cam' roun' ye wadna be ready, and I wad have to pay, see then you and I wad quarrel; see we maun just be wile' quarrel the noo as lang's the siller's in my pouch."

Considerable improvements are going on and have been made in connection with many of our places of business. Perhaps the most noticeable are the changes made in connection with Downey's boot and shoe store, corner of East street and the Square, which has been thoroughly overhauled, painted and plate-glass fronted. It can now compare favorably with any place of business of its size in Canada.

Mr. Crockett, of Goderich, has quite an art school in Ethel. His class of pupils meet in one of the Y. M. C. A. rooms.
Mr. James Bailey, having retired from the hotel business, will dispose of his trotting stock, buggies, &c., on April 6, at 1 o'clock.
Mr. John Dickson has purchased the farm in Roxboro on which he lives from the estate of the late Archibald Dickson, of Goderich, for $50,000.
A dejected person named Habbick, from S. S. North, was found wandering on the prairie near Wingham, and taken to the police station. He imagined that he was near his home.

The entertainment given by the North street Methodist church Band of Hope last Monday evening was very successful, the program being carried out in an exceptionally able manner by the young members. We are glad to learn that the financial result was also satisfactory.
An exchange says: If we were to put a line on the line in the most obscure corner of the paper, which stated that a certain business man charged more for his goods and kept an inferior quality than his competitors, that man would employ a bull-headed slugger to come around at 1 kill us the next morning. But if we were to ask that same man for an advertisement of his wares he would say: "No, I don't believe in advertising; no one reads the papers."

PINK SOCIAL.—The Young Ladies' Mission Circle will hold a pink social on Monday evening next, April 1st. Refreshments will be served from 7 o'clock until 8. The first part of the program will consist of responsive readings, choruses and talk of Japan by members of the circle. The second will comprise solos by Mrs. Dr. White, Miss Graham and Miss Minnie Acherson, and recitations by Mrs. DeLor and Miss Truman. Admission, 20 cents.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.—Prof. A. M. Shrieves, of Windsor, Ont., the lightning tooth extractor, and proprietor of the Pride of the Valley medicines, now stopping at the Albion Hotel, Goderich, will remain until Monday evening, April 1, as business will not permit of his leaving sooner. Those who wish to see the professor, get his medicines and get their teeth extracted free, should call early and take the rush. Sunday, 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. Price of the Valley medicines for sale at all druggists.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY.—The lecture on Westminster Abbey, by Mr. A. H. Manning, of Clinton, in Victoria-st. church on Tuesday evening last was well attended, and gave complete satisfaction to all present. Mr. Manning is a good speaker, and dealt with the subject in an entertaining and instructive manner. The chair was occupied by Rev. A. B. Potter pastor of the church, in his usual happy manner. A quartette club from Clinton, consisting of Messrs Kay, Harland and Foster and Miss Walker, with Miss Gibbons accompanist, contributed materially to the evening's entertainment. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the lecturer and quartette club, moved by Mr. J. M. Sheppard, seconded by Mr. D. McGillicuddy.

H. S. L. S.—There was a large attendance at the meeting of the High School Literary Society last Friday evening. Nominations were made for officers for the ensuing term, after which the following program was presented:—Chorus, by the Glee Club; recitation, Miss Nina Strachan; reading, Mr. Lyman; debate, "Childhood," Mr. Boyd; School Days, Miss M. Watson; "Manhood," Mr. Mahaffy; "Womanhood," Miss Mary Robertson; "Habit," Mr. Spencer; "Courtship and Marriage," Miss E. Watson; "Man's Duty to his Fellowmen," Mr. Gram; "Man's Infidelity," Mr. Hislop; "Old Age," Miss M. Parsons; "Cause of Man's Failure," Mr. McCuskey; "Elements of Success in Life," Mr. Harvey; edictress selections, Miss F. E. Ball; solo, Miss M. Parsons; recitation, Miss Clara Augustine; critic's remarks, by Mr. Strang; chorus, by the Glee Club.

THEY HAVE THE EARTH (MUD) AND THEY WANT THE COURT HOUSE.—Clinton Now Era.—Tuesday morning's train from the north let off a large number of passengers at Clinton station; the train from the south brought in a similar number, and that from the east just as many. The station platform was crowded, and a stranger would wonder what was the cause of so many people moving about. The explanation is that it had not been infinitely more convenient for all these people if they had been able to attend court in Clinton. It seems an absurdity for three-quarters of those having business at the county town to be compelled to go to Goderich to transact it, when a much more central and suitable place could be selected. The county buildings will eventually come to Clinton in spite of all that can be done to prevent it. [There are a number of vote crossings going into Chicago exactly in the same fix as Clinton. Fifty or one hundred people crowd the little places up so that the residents get their heads awfully and imagine big things of themselves and their future. But in the big towns such an influx creates no excitement. Nearly all the people who go to Toronto on the G.T.R. from the west pass through Weston, but we haven't heard that Weston wants to have its own court house at that point. Clinton isn't the first little chap that has cried for the moon and didn't get it.—ED. SIGNAL.]

The fishing tugs and boats are being fitted out for an early departure. The lake is now open and the boats are expected to leave within the next couple of weeks.
The Band of Hope will meet on Saturday, March 30th at 3 o'clock, in the basement of Knox Church. Members are particularly requested to be present. Others wishing to join will be made welcome.
Mr. Saunders, of the Exeter Advocate, was in town last Friday, looking as bright as a new shilling. He reports the art preservative to be in a flourishing condition in his town. He is making a live local paper out of the Advocate.

An entertainment with a good program will be held in the Temperance hall on Tuesday evening, April 2nd, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Rev. Joseph Edge, of Clinton, will be the speaker of the evening. Silver collection.
SOAP WORKS DESTROYED.—On Thursday last week, about eleven o'clock a fire broke out in the building on the Huron Road, occupied by the Huron Soap Co. Notwithstanding the efforts made, the building was destroyed. Willing workers gave considerable assistance in removing a portion of the goods. There was a small insurance on the building, but the Huron Soap Co. held no insurance on their stock. Messrs Treble & Farr, the proprietors, have the sympathy of the public. We understand it is their intention to resume business at an early date.

The Paris Review in speaking of the condition of the injured yet at St. George, says of little May Jennings: "The little child is doing remarkably well, considering that her skull was terribly fractured, and the wound, but for prompt medical treatment, would have resulted fatally. An unpublished incident in connection with little May is this: She was one of the first to be removed from the wreck. Almost the first words that broke from her lips as they lifted her helpless form away were: 'My mamma is in there, too. Oh, save my poor mamma.' The story is one, not of filial devotion, but of childish heroism."

THE EDITOR'S TABLE.
A Word or Two About New Publications That Have Come to Hand.
SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE FOR APRIL.
Scribner's Magazine for April is notable for the variety of its contents, which include popular articles on railroad affairs, shipbuilding, mountain climbing, and the anatomy of contortionists; literary reminiscences of Scott, De Quincey, Burns and Dr. John Brown; a paper on Ibsen, the great Norwegian dramatist; and one of the much-praised series of End Papers, the writer for this month being Walter Pater, author of "Marius the Epicurean." The illustrations show equal richness, variety, and interest. A paper on "The Prevention of Railway Strikes," is one that will create wide discussion. The leading illustrated article is "William Mount St. Elias," by Willis Williams, and describes an Alpine ascent. "The Building of an Ocean Greyhound," by William H. Riding is an interesting article on the Clyde ship-building industry. The other articles in this number are of an equally interesting character. Robert Louis Stevenson's serial, "The Master of Ballantrae," also reaches an unusually interesting stage.

Peel Liberals met in convention at Brampton yesterday and nominated Mr. Joseph Featherston as their candidate for the Commons and Mr. Chisholm, M. P., as their candidate for the Legislature.
On Saturday morning last while Mr. Geo. Murray and two other young men of Seaforth, were returning home in a buggy the horse became frightened near the railway track and ran away throwing the occupants out thereby breaking Mr. Murray's right leg below the knee. He was assisted to the office of Dr. Mackid where the broken bones were set and the patient is now doing well, but the enforced absence from his daily occupation is rather irksome.

A FORTY-NINER.

Overland to California in '49
BY THOS. DARK.
CHAPTER V.
To the Editor of THE SIGNAL.

Finding ourselves now surrounded with plenty, we settled down to camp, and, if possible, to recuperate and rest before proceeding farther on our journey, both man and beast sadly requiring the change. In a short while we became the happy possessors of a quarter of beef, which each of us tackled on his own account, cutting off pieces to suit his taste, and tasting them on pointed sticks before the fire.

TALK ABOUT BIRLON STEAKS, best hotel style, or even quail as toast; they could not for a moment compare with the luxury we enjoyed with our beef cooked in this, the most primitive manner, and eaten with such appetite as only half-starved men could possess. We never stopped feasting until we had completely devoured everything but the bones, and these, too, were heartily broken up and put on to boil to furnish soup for an early morning breakfast. The welcome change from short rations to an abundance of good wholesome food, soon produced its beneficial effects, in giving us improved health and spirits. All through our long and tiresome journey

TOM WOODLIFE was the chief wonder. On leaving home he was as thin as a rake, and in appearance scarcely reminded you of the poor fellow who had tumbled up for his dinner and lost it. Now the continual open air exercise, and the advantages of camping out, inhaling the fresh air both by day and night, had made him a new man, his bronzed and happy-looking face presenting a picture of health and contentment, the very counterpart of that of a well-known host of one of our principal hotels of the present day. Capt. Waldron, the gentleman in charge of the relief camp came over to see us in the morning, to ascertain our wants and necessities, and kindly informed us that we were welcome to all the flour, beef and other provisions we required for present and even for future use, and that no remuneration would be accepted. Such liberality was so unexpected and astonishing that after all, we could not help feeling that now indeed, "Our lines had fallen in pleasant places." That night the old diarist was once more brought to the front, and in gratitude to the country and the man who had thus rescued us, Woodlife struck out with all his might and main, the old popular air of "Yankee Doodle Dandy," in which we all most heartily joined.

Now commenced preparations for another move, accepting first from our liberal donor all the provisions we thought we should require to put us through to our journey's end. Before we left we saw him bury slightly in the ground,

TEN BAGS OF FLOUR, which was then marked by stakes as a guide to any other parties who might still be in our rear and who, possibly, were similarly situated as ourselves. The country which we now traversed was both pleasant and easy of access—ample feed for our horses, with here and there fine streams of water every few miles. This continued for several days with nothing of particular interest to note. At last we arrived in a locality possessing the singular feature of stumps of trees some seven and eight feet from the surface of the ground. We were of course much surprised at so unusual a sight, and wondered if a race of long legged giants had preceded us. Later on we were informed this was the very spot where the unfortunate party of the year before had been OVERTAKEN IN THE DREADFUL SNOW STORM, and so many lives had been lost, and which I referred to in the commencement of my narrative. The depth of snow was so great that when these trees were chopped they were done so at the regulation and usual height. For several days we could see away off in the distance the great range of formidable mountains which we knew we must cross over, and now we had approached their very base. What we had hitherto passed through was, as compared with this, but mere child's play. The task we now had before us presented such stupendous difficulties that even the strongest and most resolute of men might well pause before undertaking it.

TO CLIMB SEVERAL THOUSAND FEET HIGH, over places in some instances nearly perpendicular, with yawning chasms on every side, and at the same time guide our horses and wagons with our camp supplies included, required a head as clear as a Prime Minister's, a nerve like the celebrated Burnaby, and as much of Samsonian strength as you could possibly possess for the occasion. Added to all these necessary qualities, a large amount of patience and skill might well be thrown in. In the days of our youth we were accustomed to look with wonder and admiration at a familiar picture, which at that time hung from the walls of almost every household. It represented a fine looking soldier, pointing to the top of a very high hill, while thousands of armed men were following behind. In reply to my anxious questions, I was told it was the great "Napoleon crossing the Alps," and it was further impressed upon me that this historic feat was

UNEQUALLED IN THE ANNALS of modern warfare. In our present situation it occurred to me that after all of the celebrated and distinguished general, seated on his fine white horse, had a pretty easy time of it compared with what we now had to encounter. I have no desire to commit or even lay myself open to the charge of vanity, as I was always known as a modest boy, and now with increased years an still jealous of my reputation, but for all that, it strikes me that a comparison picture to the above, showing our party climbing the Rockies, would prove interesting and attractive to the present generation. It was only possible to take one wagon up at a time, so all the horses were required to draw it, while a man had to be placed at each wheel to lurch every yard we gained. The horses' shoes were now so smooth after their long drives over the plains, that the poor brutes were down half the time, their noses cut and every step a great caution was continually necessary, as a false move, causing a swerve to either right or left, would have hurled us to the bottom of some rocky canyon, dashing us to pieces hundreds of feet below.

AFTER TREMBLING'S LABORS, with many hair-breadth escapes, we succeeded in getting our first wagon to the top, which we safely secured, returning for the others and repeating over again, what we had accomplished. This done, we commenced preparations for the descent on the other side, and it is really hard to say, which of the two tasks was the most difficult, as in going down, the horses were of little or no service, we having to rely mainly on our own individual efforts. However, we were rewarded at least, by reaching the bottom in safety. The tremendous strain on our nerves, in accomplishing this perilous part of our journey, had completely prostrated us all, for the day had not only been a hard one, but it had also been an unusually long one, it being quite dark by the time the last wagon was down. Looking back at that portion of our travels, I am led to think, it is astonishing what man can do, when backed by resolution and determination combined—no danger seems too great to risk, or obstacles to overcome when once the mind is fairly made up to surmount them. And as

THE OCCASION FREQUENTLY MAKES THEM SO DIFFICULTIES like the above call forth the very best traits of our manhood, and produce in glowing colors, those sterling qualities, which have carried success and victory triumphantly over both sea and land. For a day or two the elements had warned us of approaching change, which made us particularly anxious to get through the mountains before it set in, and even before we did so, snow commenced falling, accompanied by severe frost, causing us much suffering before we got settled down in our camp. A heavy fire, with equally as hasty a supper was soon over, and we lay down tired and weary, so much so that we could not sleep. Guard duty was dispensed with, as we concluded that any Indians who would turn out in a snow storm, over such a path as we had trod, in search of scalps, certainly deserved to get them. In the morning on looking out, it was discovered that several inches of snow had fallen during the night. Before moving any further we determined to abandon our wagons, and pack all our provisions and effects on our horses' backs. This took considerable time, as we lacked the experience of the old pioneer packers, who it is said, would stow away enough stuff on a mule's back, sufficient to last a small family for a month. However, we left nothing behind us, and when all was commenced our journey. One night a short while after we had been in camp, we were disturbed by the incessant barking of

A PACK OF WOLVES, who had got in among the horses. The terrified brutes kept up a continual stamping with their fore feet, which kept the wolves at bay till we got out and fired off every gun and pistol we had in our possession, which proved successful in driving them off. The roads were now very bad and rough, large boulders lying round in all directions, compelling us to zig-zag all day, and when night had overtaken us, very little distance had been gained. Getting through this we came to rather a decent looking place for a halt. As the pasture for our horses was better than we had obtained for some days, we camped and rested for a couple of days. Looking across the plains one morning we observed a horse, without any rider coming rapidly towards us, we all turned out and, like the Irishman who took three prisoners by surrounding them, we caught the horse. The animal proved to be a fine mare and as all had given a hand in catching her, to avoid disputes, we decided to auction her off. This was done, and I remember my share of the prize money amounted to about $12. The next night, we were woken up by the growling of

A LOT OF GRISLY BEARS. Coming so soon after the wolf scare, we were soon on the alert. The great big brutes after poking about in rather an undecided manner, concluded to give us the go by, which you may be sure, greatly relieved us of anxiety. Ten days more travel, with scarcely anything worthy of note, now brought us to "The Land of Gold"

When a felon first begins to make its appearance take a lemon out of one end, put the finger in, and the longer it is kept there the better.

For a cold in the chest, a flannel rag wrung out in boiling water and sprinkled with turpentine laid on the chest, gives the greatest relief.

The best treatment in regard to offensive breath, is the use of powdered charcoal, two or three table-spoonfuls per week, taken in a glass of water before retiring for the night.

For a cough, boil one ounce of flax seed in a quart of water, strain and add a little honey, one ounce of rock candy and the juice of three lemons; mix and boil well. Drink as hot as possible.

Often after cooking a meal a person will feel tired and have no appetite. For this treat a raw egg until light, stir in a little milk sugar and season with nutmeg. Drink half-an-hour before eating.

Dark carpets do not need to be swept oftener than light ones, if you give them a good dusting say twice a week with a flannel cloth tied around an ordinary broom.

When one has been so unfortunate as to get machine-oil stains on white sewing saturate the piece of work in cold water immediately; wash for two hours. dry in the sun, then wash in the usual way.

If you are building, put the hooks in children's bed-room closets low enough to be easily reached by them. It is also a good idea to have a closet so arranged that sleds, rocking-horse and all large play-things can have a place.

Dust has such a sad way of insinuating itself wherever there is a place for it to lodge or work through, that house-wives are almost distracted to find brooms and dusters that will fit in every nook and crevice. A long-handled feather duster, a short-handled feather duster, a toy-broom, a whisk broom, a flat bristle brush, a paint brush, and the ordinary cheese cloth dusters seem to do all the dusting that is required if vigorously wielded.

More Remarkable Still.

Found at last, what the true public has been looking for these many years...

Salted Almonds.—Salted almonds furnish a delicious addition to a luncheon or dinner. Pour boiling water over shelled almonds and let them stand a short time, when the dry brown husk can be easily rubbed off and the almonds are "blanched".

Roots stored in the cellar will cause disease in the household if allowed to decay and rot. The cellar is an excellent place for root crop, but they must be kept in good condition if disease is to be avoided.

Easy fever is a type of catarrh having peculiar symptoms. It is attended by a swollen condition of the lining membranes of the nostrils, tear-ducts and throat, affecting the lungs. An acrid mucous is secreted, the discharge is accompanied with a burning sensation. There are severe spasms of sneezing, frequent attacks of headache, watery and inflamed eyes. Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy that can be depended upon.

"In the years 1885 I coughed for six months, and having unsuccessfully tried many remedies, I partly gave up, thinking I had consumption. At last I tried Haysard's Pectoral Balsam, less than one bottle of which cured me, leaving me as well as ever I was." Henry W. Carns, Wabash, Ont.

Kisses are essentially private affairs, says the New York Herald. Public kissing is not only sacrilegious, but often times disgusting. The parental kiss if discreetly exhibited is occasionally admirable, but occlusion before an audience, between lovers, married people or friends, is a habit to be discontinued wherever it is discovered.

Not a Book Agent.

Mr Goode, druggist, is not a book agent, but has the agency in Goderich for Johnson's Tonic Bitters, which he can heartily recommend for any complaint to which a tonic medicine is applicable. This valuable medicine has been with most astonishingly good results in cases of general debility, weakness, irregularities peculiar to females, extreme paleness, impoverishment of the blood, stomach and liver troubles, loss of appetite, and for that general worn out feeling that nearly every one is troubled with at some part of the year. Don't forget the name Johnson's Tonic Bitters 50c. and $1 per bottle at Goode's drug store, Albion block, Goderich, sole agent.

The best regulators for the stomach and bowels, the best cure for biliousness, sick headache, indigestion, and all affections arising from a disordered liver, are without exception Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills. Small in size, sugar coated, mild, yet effective. 25 cts. per bottle sole by Goode, druggist, Albion block, Goderich, sole agent.

The Secret of Broiling

We are told that breakfast for broiling should be cut three-quarters of an inch thick and put over a hot fire of coal or charcoal. Quite right; but when it has browned quickly, as it should, and been turned and browned on the other side it yet remains raw in the middle, and if left longer the surface burns. This is the experience of the novice, who has yet to learn two things: first, that immediately after the first broiling the fire must decrease, or the meat be brought farther away so that the steak may cook in ten or twelve minutes without burning—less time will not cook it nicely in the middle; and second, that, like baked meat, the surface must be kept moist with hot fat. Before your steak is put over cover both sides with melted suet, and afterward as it dries spread on a little butter or beef tallow. Have ready in a hot platter a few spoonfuls of water, in which the bones cut from the steak have been boiling, also salt and pepper. When the steak is done lay it in the platter and keep it hot for five minutes, turning it once in the time. This you will have both good steak and good gravy.

Give Them A Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what then do they, they cannot do.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Rosch's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

A correspondent of the "Scientific American" says: "The best remedy for bleeding at the nose, as given by Gleason in one of his lectures, is a vigorous motion of the jaw, as if in the act of mastication. In the case of a child, a wad of paper should be placed in its mouth, and the child instructed to chew it hard. It is the motion of the jaw that stops the flow of blood. The remedy is so very simple that many will feel inclined to laugh at it. But it has never been known to fail, even in very severe cases."

A Life of Ease.

Miss Lizzie Ratchiff, writing from Falkirk, Ont., says: "I had such a cough I could not sleep and was fast going into consumption; I tried everything I could hear of without relief, but when I got Haysard's Pectoral Balsam I soon got ease. It is the best medicine I ever tried." Lizzie Ratchiff, Falkirk, Ont.

When trimming grape vines let them be cut and trained so as to admit of the air and sunshine. Too much shade is sometimes the cause of rot, as it invites moisture. Trim the vines when the weather is cold.

Ely's Leaders of Fashion.

Isn't it a bit odd that the women who more than any others have controlled the fashions within the past twenty-five years have not been beautiful women? There are three of whom it may be said that they gave the cue to La Mode, and these are the Princess de Metternich, Sara Bernhardt and the Princess of Wales—I range them as they have controlled. Miss de Metternich had an ugliness that, so to say, it was unique—the ugliness that has more of a cachet than mere beauty, for merely beautiful women can be found every day, while absolutely ugly ones, blessed with wonderful wit and a peculiar charm of manner, are noted when found. Sara Bernhardt was never a beautiful woman; at the same time, even about her appearance, there was something fascinating and when she is acting, the fire of genius makes her dull skin look warm and pink, her almost colorless eyes burn brightly, and her rumpled hair seems an artistic arrangement. The Princess of Wales, with her sweet, lady-like, refined face, is charming, but that is all. The London papers can rave as they will about her beauty—an hour's walk in any large city of North America will discover a hundred girls better looking and with equal refinement of face. The first one of these three women made black velvet chic, in her time it had been considered to be the bourgeoisie; the second made frills of lace, loose-fitting gloves, picturesque hats, and all styles specially suited to slender women of the vogue, while the last gave to the high military collar, the dainty little bonnet, and simple arrangement of the hair the seal of her approval. Each one of these women was clever enough to make fashionable exactly the belongings that hid her defects, and to know how to hide a defect or bring out a perfection is the art of the modiste today.—Philadelphia Times.

A Feeble Failure.

Many persons become feeble and fail in health from disease of the blood, liver, kidneys and stomach when prompt use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the grand purifying and regulating tonic, would quickly regulate every bodily function and restore to perfect health.

A Hygienic Heavly.

A few years ago there were so many instances of extreme age reported from a certain district in England, that a medical commission was sent there to ascertain the conditions of life that contributed to such longevity. The investigators were astounded at the state of affairs they found, and their statement of facts seems incredible. The place was a little smoky manufacturing settlement, surrounded by marshes and stagnant water, without drainage or the common sanitary accessories of civilization. Both air and drinking water were as bad as they could be, and it appeared impossible that any resident could long retain health or life.

Now these are facts that no hygienist can ignore, and that medical science must ere long explain. Perhaps it may yet appear that all our physiological notions are falsely founded, and in practice induce more disease than they prevent. Absolutely pure air may be found to be as fatal as sewer gas, and perfectly pure water worse than whiskey.

The order of nature is one of perfect adaptation. And may be in her economy, man's organization still requires a certain proportion of impurities, and that to abruptly alter his mode of living, even to improve it, would be like putting a salt-water ash into a mountain brook. Were there scientific salmons we might suppose them saying, "See here, this salt is a mineral poison, and is killing us off. We must get into fresh water as fast as we can." And were a pollywog to turn physiologist he would say to his associates, "Why, this is a stagnant, stinking puddle. To save our health we must skip for Saratoga."

Nature has undoubtedly adapted the surroundings of man to his conditions, and it is to be presumed that he is not yet enough angelized for perfectly pure food, air and water. Were it possible for him to procure these in his present state of physical imperfection, they would probably cause him to become an angel prematurely.

"ERIN GO BRAGH."

Something About Goderich's Contribution to the Parnell Defence Fund. Early in the year Mr Joseph Williams set on foot a subscription list in Goderich for the Parnell defence fund, and in a comparatively short time raised a handsome sum which he forwarded to Mr. Justin McCarthy, M.P. for Derry, to be applied against the London Times in its forgerly conspiracy case.

Mr De Sisk.—This enclosed bank draft is contribution from some friends of Home Rule to the Parnell Defence Fund, a slight expression of their sympathy with Mr. Parnell and his colleagues in their expensive task of disproving the infamous charges of the London Times. Their defence will, in spite of the most powerful opposition, be crowned with success; the truth will come uppermost. But we Canadians, barring those of narrow calibre, never doubted their innocence of the foul accusations. We felt as did dear M'Gorrah when he exclaimed to Lady Betty: "Believe it! Oh my God! I am sure you will feel pleasure—though it is a little mitigate—passing proceeds of draft to its destination. They were all pleased at the suggestion that it should be sent to you. Several of us went down from Goderich to Seaford to hear your lecture. You told us then of the hard, frequently disheartening, uphill work you had at first to get any recognition in the House of Commons of our Country's claims. We hope you will come back another day, not far off, or send us word of your complete—your triumphant—success; that old Ireland's long winter has changed to spring; that we may hope, as we say, "the golden glory of her early dawn shall be eclipsed by the splendor of her perpetual noon." There will be great disappointment here if Mr Parnell and his friends do not push the case against the Times and win at the higher game suspected of conspiracy in the vile charge.

Very sincerely yours, JUSTIN MCCARTHY, M. P., London, England.

LONDON, March 9, 1889.

MY DEAR SIR,—I thank you and your friends most cordially for the contribution which you sent to the Parnell Defence Fund, and I thank you also for being good enough to send it through me. You will have learned before this how utterly the charges of the Times have broken down, and how miserably the wretched creature has perished, whom they bribed to be their accomplice and their instrument. All London has since been ringing with the news of this tremendous break-down and exposure. None the less, however, we shall want funds to maintain our defence, for we will not allow the case to stop now. We must have the whole conspiracy laid bare to the light of day. I will send to the right quarter the generous and patriotic contribution of your friends and you. I am proud to know, and my colleagues will be proud to know, that our sympathizers in Canada are wholly with us in our movement, and are ready to help us in our difficulties. I hope to be in Canada again before long, meantime I remain, my dear sir,

Very truly yours, JUSTIN MCCARTHY.

MR. JOSEPH WILLIAMS.

NILE.

From our own correspondent. Mr Manning, of Clinton, is to preach next Sunday, morning and evening. Wm Morrow has been on the sick list, but we expect soon to see him resuming his daily duties.

We are glad to learn that Wm Ballie, who has been sick for some time, is in a fair way to recovery. Rev W. F. Campbell, pastor of Methodist church, Duncannon, conducted the services in this church last Sunday evening.

The roads are drying up very quickly in this vicinity. If the beautiful weather continues the dust will be flying within a week.

John McNevin, jr., of this place, is about to let his parental roof for the summer. We understand he is going to Burlington. He will be much missed around those parts, as he is a jovial chap, especially among the fair sex. We wish you success, John.

Our village is becoming an enterprising one in the building line. If we are to judge by the appearance of our ere, there are fair prospects for another summer's work for some good mechanic. Surely all these preparations cannot be for nothing; (May B) our village smothered rapidly, having a membership of 42 or 43. The members are looking forward for a great ingathering of temperance workers after the very interesting program presented at their open lodge on Tuesday evening of last week. They were greatly aided in their excellent program by their kind brothers of Auburn and Leeburn, and by Messrs Boyd and Lineham, of Goderich High School, who favored the audience with two or three choice instrumental duets. The meeting passed off very pleasantly to all present. We understand there is another entertainment on foot to be delivered after the busy season is over.

LEEUBURN.

From our own correspondent.

Miss Besse Jefferson, a former resident here, but now of Goderich, is the guest of Miss Horton at this week.

Mr. Gilre, of Goderich, conducted a meeting of the Brethren in the Temperance hall, Thursday night of last week, which had not many out to hear him. We understand no more meetings will be held at present.

The church bell and organ have been overhauled and repaired. The bell rope has been moved forward to the entrance of the church door, inside the porch. A. C. McDonald and Jas. Linklater doing the bell and Professor Cooke, of Goderich, tuning up the organ. The notes of bell and organ sound sweeter than ever.

Wright, of the Point Farm, answered the roll last week as a grand juror at the recent assize court in Goderich, and officiated as foreman of the grand jury, being the first Leeburnite to act in that capacity in the history of the County of Huron.

A saving bell of the summer stove was sold off very pleasantly to all present. We understand there is another entertainment on foot to be delivered after the busy season is over.

FROM WASHINGTON

From our regular Correspondent.

Washington, March 28th 1889.

Missouri seems to have a large slice of official plumage to be divided...

Vienna is the scene of a very noisy and reckless, capital in Europe...

It appears that the nomination of Harrison will appear...

In this emergency the Oregon and Nebraska delegations...

The Kansas delegation had a taste of President Harrison's adherence to his rules on Saturday...

The man who said to himself three days after the inauguration that the office seekers were not more numerous now than after former inaugurations...

The expectant sleep upon their arms, ready at any time to be up and give battle to any men who seek to oppose them...

HEALTH

In closing, we would offer a word of caution to mothers...

As to the matter of cleanliness, it should be remembered that the pores of the soles of the feet are much the largest in the whole body...

Perhaps no class of men suffer more from cold feet than those who are obliged to remain out in severe winter weather...

It is one of the rules of what is known as the "Swedish movement system," and is as follows: Stand erect...

The dryness of the feet depends largely upon the kind and quality of the boot or shoe worn...

Beauty hath its charms, but the charms of gracious manners far outweigh them...

More Trouble May be Expected. If you do not heed the warnings of nature and at once pay attention to the maintenance of your health...

Flavors and Sauces.

Without doubt "hunger is the best sauce," but it is not true, as many think, that a craving for variety is the sign of a pampered and unnatural appetite.

An American travelling on the continent of Europe becomes acquainted with many new dishes and flavors...

Spices and other flavors, when not used to excess, stimulate our digestive organs to appropriate more easily the food to which they are added.

In the favoring of soups and stews it is well to use a number of flavors, letting one of them be prominent above the others.

Miss Becks Elliot, of Pontypool, Ont., writes: "My brother and I were both taken ill with a severe attack of diarrhea..."

Peach Stones for Fuel.

It has been demonstrated in Vacca Valley that peach stones will make as good a fire for household purposes as the best kind of coal in the market.

Don't exultate. Run no risk in buying medicine, but try the great Kidney and Liver regulator, made by Dr. Chase...

The distressing paleness so often observed in young girls and women is due to a great measure to a lack of the red corpuscles in the blood.

I advise those who have warm comfortable sleeping rooms to refrain from making visits unless sure of similar accommodations...

THE POET'S CORNER.

What's the Use?
If you meant to catch a robin,
And instead you got a crow,
Is there any use in whining,
In lamenting and repining?
Now I really want to know!
If you thought you had an orange,
And it proved a lemon sour,
Would it please the acid flavor
To a sweet and pleasant savor
If you scolded for an hour?
If a friend would prove unfaithful
That you thought was real and true,
Can you win him back by fretting
At your comrades, quite forgetting
They have not played false to you?
Will it ever lighten trouble,
Ever help you in disgrace,
Will it make you strong and able,
If you, like the man in fable,
Spill your nose to spite your face?
Sighing fills no purse with dollars;
Weeping neither makes nor mends;
If today we court Damsorrow,
She will clasp us fast to morrow,
While we search in vain for friends.
So we'll keep our faces cheery;
We will crush our sorrows dumb
And with strong hearts for life's burdens,
We will win sweet heaven's guardians,
Taking each howe'er they come.

Eighty Per Cent.

Of the human race, according to a high authority, suffer from one or other form of blood taint. Never allow this latent evil to develop into serious disease while the blood can be kept pure and the system clean by proper precautions, such as using Burdock Blood Bitter, whenever any scrofulous symptoms appear. No medicine equals B. B. B. as a blood cleanser.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

The Neapolitans still wear amulets of coral to avert the evil eye.
An agate is said to quench thirst and to turn away storm and lightning.
The berry was once supposed to increase conjugal love and to cure distemper and leprosy.
According to modern etiquette, the amethyst is the only stone which may be worn during mourning.

Turquois, according to Boethius, especially protects against falls, and heals differences between man and wife.
Sard, carnelian and the stone bezel, mentioned by Lord Lytton, especially staunch all flux blood and cure serpents bites.

Topaz—the gold stone of the ancients—was much valued by them for medicinal purposes, for dispelling enchantment and for calming frenzy.

The kingly diamond, which has become the appanage of aristocracy, is the symbol of justice, innocence, constancy and impassivity of fate.

The low humble garnet and the oblong carbuncle share the favors of their parent, the ruby, the latter of the two being famous for its light giving properties in the dark.

The sapphire, so useful once to the necromancer, or the holy stone, as it was called, was among the ancients the emblem of chastity and securing the granting of all prayers. The pagans dedicated it to Apollo.

The ruby, the life coal of the Greek, is not less emblematic and potent, and the Brahmin traditions speak wonders of the abodes of gods, lighted by enormous rubies and emeralds.

The veneration of the Peruvians for the green emerald, dedicated to Mercury by the ancients, is well known, and the worshippers of Mantu still believe that the mines whence are extracted all the daughters of the mother gem are guarded by terrible genii, dragons and other one eyed people.

The pearls, stony opal, that child of love, as it has been called, far from being an unlucky stone, as it is now supposed to be, was once believed by Albertus Magnus, Marbodius and others, to rejoice the heart of its owner by rendering him lovable and bestowing upon him the gift of invisibility.

The Koh-i-Noor was for centuries the talisman of India; and when, years ago, the governor of Borneo offered $500,000, two equipped war brigs and numbers of cannon for the famous stone of Matan, the rajah refused, on the plea that the fortunes of his family were connected with it, and that the water in which it was dipped cured all diseases.

To the Medical Profession, and all whom it may concern.
Phosphatide, or Nerve Food, a Phosphate Element based upon Scientific Facts, Formulated by Professor Austin, M. D. of Boston, Mass., cures Pulmonary Consumption, Sick Headache, Nervous Attacks, Vertigo and Neuralgia and all wasting diseases of the human system. Phosphatide is not a Medicine, but a Nutriment, because it contains no Vegetable or Mineral Poisons, Opium, Nicotines, and no Stimulants, but simply the Phosphatic and Gartic Elements found in our daily food. A single bottle is sufficient to convince. All Druggists sell it. $1.00 per bottle. LOWEN & CO., sole agents for the Dominion, 55 Front Street East Toronto.

Wanted to Borrow Horses
In the pioneer days of New Hampshire three of us were rars.
In 1868 there were in the town of Sanbornton but three horses, three great-coats, and two men each owned a pair of boots.
It is said that the first person who had shoes upon his horse gave great offence to a neighbor, who was about to go on a journey, by refusing to lend his horse-shoes to be used on the occasion.

A Wonderful Flesh Producer.
This is the title given to Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil by many thousands who have taken it. It not only gives flesh and strength, but creates an appetitive for food. Use it, and try your weight. Scott's Emulsion is perfectly palatable. Sold by all druggists, at 50c. and $1.

TEMPERANCE WORK.

Items from All Over Concerning the Cause.

"The struggle between the church, school and library on the one side, and the liquor traffic on the other, is one phase of the warfare between heaven and hell.—[Chas. Buxton, M.P.]
The Bishop of Salford says that of about every six funerals in Manchester, one is that of a pauper. More than half the poverty and misery of the city, in his opinion, due to drunkenness.

British seamen continue to grow more temperate, and the committee of the Liverpool Sailors' Home testify that the example set by the more sober Scandinavians, has contributed very largely to this result.

An unfortunate affray occurred in Windsor some days ago. Two men who had been drinking in the bar had a quarrel, and one of them plunged a knife into his companion's body. The injury is likely to have a fatal result.

An exchange states the brandy cigarette is the latest device of the devil for ruining the youth. It is made of tobacco that has been soaked in brandy, and the smoker is enabled to keep mildly intoxicated without touching a drop of liquor.

In Hamilton city recently, twenty one liquor sellers were charged with violation of the Crock's Act, most of them having sold liquor on Saturday nights and Sundays. Every man of them pleaded guilty, and was fined $20 and costs.

A great Scott Act Convention was held recently at North Sydney, Cape Breton. Officers were appointed and measures taken to secure a thorough enforcement of the law throughout the country. A fund of about $1,000 was raised to cover the expenses of prosecuting violators.

I claim, as a citizen, the right to legislate whenever my rights are invaded by the social acts of others. If anything invades my social rights, certainly the traffic in strong drink does. It destroys my primary right to security by constantly creating and stimulating social disorders.—Lord Stanhope.

"If the community has no reason to be surprised at the combination of the Licensed Victuallers, they assuredly have no reason to be surprised at the rise of the Alliance. The ultimate issue of the struggle is certain. If anyone doubts the preponderance of good over evil in the human nature, he has only to study the history of moral crusades. The enthusiastic energy and self-devotion with which a moral cause inspires its soldiers always have prevailed, and always will prevail, over any amount of self-interest or material power, arrayed on the other side. The Alliance is already powerful and growing in power. It will conquer." Prof. Goldwin Smith, in a letter on the United Kingdom Alliance.

LET ALL THE PEOPLE SAY AMEN.—Preaching at Bristol recently the Rev. S. J. Whitmore said, he hoped the time was rapidly coming when immorality would be stamped as a man with infamy that no prince of Royal blood, no peer of the realm, no member of Parliament, no judge upon the Bench, no public official of any kind, known to be of impure life would be tolerated in decent society. He hoped the time would soon come when the homes of respectable people would be closed to immoral men, whoever might be their social position, and when Christian ladies would refuse to receive introductions to such men.—British Weekly.

A Profitable Life.
Few men have accomplished the same amount of work and good in this world as the celebrated Dr. Chase. Over 500,000 of his works have been sold in Canada alone. We want every person troubled with Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Headache, Kidney or Urinary Troubles, to buy a bottle of Dr. Chase's Liver Cure, it will cure you. Medicine and Receipts Book $1. Sold by all druggists.

Served by Love.
Many a man is served to long endurance, to the patient bearing of heavy burdens and to daily suffering of vexatious circumstances, by the tonic effects of an earthly love. The same is true of many women, probably of more women than men. Love put some one whom we can actually see, fortified by the direct assurance that the love is reciprocal, will make us indifferent to trouble, or at least brave in meeting it. And yet such love at its best is cold indeed, compared with the ineffable passion wherewith God loves his creatures. It is a continual reiteration and assurance of that love. These who can rise to the realization of this wondrous truth, and whose hearts go out in a responsive love to God, have the one never-failing support in every hour of need. With or without an earthly affection, they who lean with loving trust on God are proof against all the trying circumstances and incidents of life.

Shoulder-shoulders.
A stooping figure and a halting gait, accompanied by the unavoidable weakness of lungs incidental to a narrow chest, may be entirely cured by a very simple and easily performed exercise of raising one's self upon the toes leisurely in a perpendicular several times daily. To take this exercise properly one must take a perfect position, with the heels together and the toes at an angle of 45 degrees. Then drop the arms leisurely by the sides animating and raising the chest to its full capacity muscularly, the chin well drawn in and the crown of the head feeling as our professor used to put it, as if attached above. Slowly raise upon the balls of both feet to the greatest possible height, thereby exercising all the muscles of the legs and body; come again into the standing position, without swaying the body backward out of the perfect line. Repeat the same exercise, first on one foot, then on the other. It is wonderful what a straightening out power this exercise has upon round shoulders and crooked backs, and one will be surprised to note how soon the lungs begin to show the effect of such expansive development.

Her Little Way?

If there ever was a woman who gave a man a commission in a simple, direct way, the writer of these lines has failed to discover such a woman during the many years that he has spent in the study of the foibles of womankind. When she betinks her of something she wants, after her husband has escaped from the house and is running to get his car, she races wildly to the door and shrieks out as he is turning the corner: "Oh, John! I forgot something, dear. I'm sorry to detain you, but if you'll just remember to get me a spoon of white thread on your way home. I wouldn't trouble you, dear, but I really must finish baby's aprons today, or I can't get them done this week, and she needs them so badly.
