Dear Sir:

I am directed by the Executive Committee of the National Committee for the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation to inform you that the Committee invites the cooperation of the University in order to make the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee a success throughout Canada.

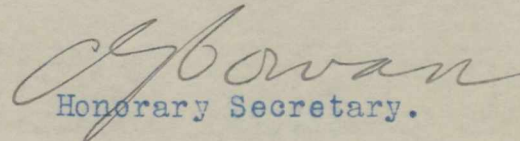

It would be greatly appreciated if you would bring the matter to the attention of the Faculty and students of your University and ask for their assistance in connection with the celebrations in their own localities.

I am further directed to say that the Committee places at the disposal of your University, for competition during the present academic year, a set of Confederation medals, viz: one gold, one silver, and one bronze. If possible, the Committee would like to have Canadian history, in special reference to the Confederation era and to the subsequent development of Canada, as the subject of such competition, but in view of the fact that the academic year is so far advanced, it is not inclined to impose any restrictions and leaves the matter to the judgment of your governing body.

Will you kindly inform the Committee as soon as convenient if your University will accept these medals, on the understanding that the names of the recipients will be forwarded to the Committee, so that they may be included in the permanent records which will be eventually placed in the Dominion Archives.

Yours very truly,

Honorary Secretary.

General Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D.,
Principal,
McGill University,

April 21st, 1927.

C. G. Cowan, Esq.,
Honorary Secretary,
National Committee for the Celebration
Diamond Jubilee of Confederation,
106 Wellington Street,
Ottawa, Ont.

Dear Sir:-

Let me acknowledge receipt of your letter of April 16th having reference to the co-operation of the universities in Canada to make the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation a success. I give you the assurance that we shall ask our students to co-operate in any way they can.

With reference to the competition for medals to be granted by the Jubilee Committee, I must ask a decision on two points:

- (a) Who is eligible to compete?
- (b) When does the competition close?

With reference to (a) I take it that the competition is open to all undergraduate students. Is it open to postgraduate students studying here, and is it open to members of the University staff? I think it should include students doing postgraduate work here and, in fact, I see no reason why members of the staff should not be allowed to compete.

C.G. Cowan, Esq.,

With reference to (b) our academic session may be said to close at the end of May, whereas our academic year does not end until the beginning of September. If the contest is to close by the end of May it does not give students much time to prepare an essay worthy of the event. Some have begun to write their examinations already, and the examinations will continue until the middle of June, when many students will be tired mentally. In such circumstances we cannot hope that anyone will do any work on an essay during the examination period. The time that will elapse between the closing date of examinations and the end of May is scarcely sufficient to enable students to do the research work necessary to a worth while contribution. If possible, I think, the time allowed for the submission of essays should extend to September 1st next. Your statement with reference to the academic year being so far advanced leads me to think that you may have it in your mind that the time limit will expire late in May or early in June, when most universities hold their closing exercises.

Your early decision on these points will be much appreciated.

Yours faithfully,

Principal.

Dear Sir:-

Referring to your letter of April 21st, I wish to thank you on behalf of the National Committee for your assurance of cooperation.

With reference to the Diamond Jubilee medals for competition in McGill University, this Committee is not disposed to impose any restrictions and is quite willing to leave the matter of eligibility to yourself and your governing body. Naturally, the Committee desires to get as wide publicity as possible and to have it generally known throughout the University that the National Committee recognizes the valuable work that is being done in Canadian history.

With regard to the time of competition, the Committee is also willing to leave this entirely to your judgment, provided the competition is held during the Jubilee year. If these medals could be awarded at your September convocation it would be very satisfactory.

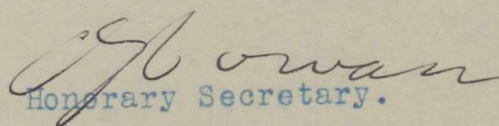

I am enclosing herewith a booklet just off the press which has been prepared for the guidance of local committees, and also outlining some of the activities of this Committee. We have been assured of the generous cooperation of the Provincial governments, of many of the large corporations, and of a great many municipalities throughout the country. The Department of National Defence has also agreed to assist us, both in Ottawa and in other centers throughout Canada, with a view to having the processions and other proceedings on Dominion Day as colorful as possible.

While we have had very little time in which to effect any general organization, the Committee feels that things are going well and that the anniversary will be suitably commemorated throughout the country, on July first.

Every effort is being made to ensure the presence in Canada at the time of the celebration of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and of the Prime Minister of Great Britain. Assurances have also reached the Committee of generous cooperation on the part of Canadian residents in the United States. I mention these facts because, in an address published in the press a day or two ago, I gathered that you had formed an impression that the Committee was proceeding in an indolent and somewhat narrow fashion. As far as we can see this is anything but the case, and I would like to assure you that the Committee will welcome any suggestions which you may be disposed to make. Unfortunately, for reasons of which we are both aware, the Province of Quebec has not as yet effected any Provincial organization. We are sorry that apparently nothing has been done in the City of Montreal.

Yours faithfully,

Honorary Secretary.

CONFEDERATION ESSAYS.

The National Committee for the Celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation has presented to McGill University three medals, in gold, silver and bronze, to be awarded as prizes for essays on Confederation. Those eligible to compete are undergraduates, graduates or 1927 and graduates who have been in attendance at the University proceeding to post-graduate degrees during the present session.

Essays must be addressed to the Registrar and must be received on or before September 15th. The award will be announced at the Fall Convocation.

Essays may deal with the facts of Confederation or with any phase of Canadian history or political development, past or future, as affected by Confederation or bearing upon the relations between the Provinces and the Central Government. The Committee has set no restriction upon the length of the essays but considers five or six thousand words should be adequate. Essays may be in English or French.

Cher Monsieur Bovey,

J'ai rencontré des difficultés à propos de l'essai historique sur la Confédération.

M. l'abbé Maurault n'ayant pu rédiger son travail, je me suis tourné vers M. Chartier. Celui-ci m'écrit aujourd'hui qu'il est débordé par la tâche que lui impose la fin de l'année académique, mais qu'il pourrait peut-être nous donner un texte à l'automne.

Voudriez-vous me dire si nous pouvons attendre jusque là. Ce serait à désirer car je doute que je puisse trouver un autre professeur.

Très cordialement à vous,

Edouard Montpetit

Mon Cher Monsieur Montpetit:-

Si Monsieur Chartier pourrait ecrire notre histoire je serais plus que satisfait . Vu qu'il j'accepterais certainement son offre.

Dear Dean Mackay:-

I am enclosing herewith Mr. Lemay's essay on Confederation. Personally I do not think it worth a medal.
As there are no others it would be my suggestion that we again extend the time and put a notice in the Daily. What do you think?

Col. Wilfrid Bovey,

My dear Bovey,

I have just finished reading with some care Mr. Jack R. Bogante's essay offered in competition for one of the Confederation medals and I now wish to report as follows. Mr. Bogante has apparently done some conscientious work upon the subject of his essay. It is really, however, in my opinion, only a lengthy brief or factum setting out the principal events and dates in the growth of Canadian autonomy and not an essay. There is not, I think, a single line of new knowledge in the manuscript and the construction is very awkward and often ungrammatical. I am sure that there are a large number of ordinary term essays written by students every year in McGill much more worthy of a medal than Mr. Bogante's effort. His manuscript might possibly be of some use to any one writing a real essay or treatise on the subject, but that is, I think, the only value which it really possesses. I should not like to see it filed in any public office as an example of the type of work for which McGill would grant a medal. I must, therefore, leave it to you to decide finally whether you think Mr. Bogante should be allowed a silver medal or not. Personally I cannot see my way clear to make that recommendation. Possibly the essay might be submitted to some other independent authority.

W. Bovey, 2.

Jack Bogante, Esq.,

Dear Mr. Bogante:-

Your paper on Canada's Contribution to Political Progress has been carefully considered.

It discloses a considerable amount of conscientious work and you have without doubt made a fair study of historical documents. It is felt, however, that your article cannot properly be defined as an essay, but rather as an historical summary, and that in this respect it does not come within the definition of the offer.

In the second place your essay lacks originality. The subject is perhaps one on which it is hard to be original, but the University wishes to maintain a high standard in these essays.

Finally it is necessary for me to direct your attention to the fact that you have committed a number of errors in construction and that there are a certain number of mistakes which can only be attributed to lack of care. I am sure that on rereading the article you will observe this yourself.

In view of the foregoing, it is regretted that the grant of the medal to you cannot be made.

Dear Sir, —

Some three weeks ago I wrote you for information regarding an essay competition on Confederation.

As I understood it the essays were to be in during September last. The award to be made at Fall Convocation in October.

I entered an essay in this competition.

This is the third time I have asked for information: by phone, by letter, and again now.

When will the award be announced? What is holding it up? Also you think a person is going to spend considerable time on an essay for nothing? I hope not.

If I have made any mistake in the competition I would be glad to be corrected, and beg your pardon for my seeming brusqueness.

In any case information on the subject would be greatly appreciated at once.

It is now, as I understand it, over a month

have been announced.

notify.

Monsieur le Principal,

Afin de célébrer dignement les fêtes du Soixantième anniversaire de la Confédération, le Comité national désire que sous ses auspices, dans la plupart de nos institutions enseignantes, durant cette année, soit organisé un concours sur l'histoire du Canada dont le sujet est laissé à votre entière discrétion.

Lors de la distribution des médailles mises à ma disposition pour la circonstance, je ne pouvais vous oublier et je viens vous en offrir trois dont une en or, une en argent et une en bronze. Permettez une suggestion: elles pourraient être accordées aux élèves du baccalauréat pour les trois premiers concurrents sur cette matière qui recevront en outre une attestation soit en anglais, soit en français, selon le cas.

Vous m'obligeriez donc en me faisant parvenir, aussitôt que possible, les noms et adresses de ces derniers pour que ce document additionnel leur soit transmis.

Avec l'expression de mes sentiments les meilleurs,

Veillez me croire,
Monsieur,

Dear Sir:

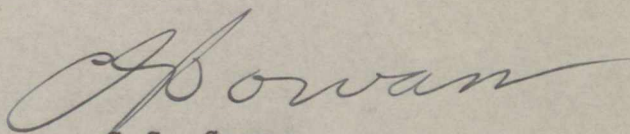

Some time ago we wrote you in reference to the history contests which the National Executive for the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation were desirous of having conducted in connection with the various Universities of Canada. We received a response of the most gratifying character giving us assurance of co-operation on the part of yourself and faculty and on the strength of this assurance placed an order with the Royal Mint for the required number of medals. We have not since heard from you as to whether or not the contest was held but assuming that it was we are sending under separate cover the gold, silver and bronze medals struck for your University.

The National Executive placed no restrictions on the contest other than that the subjects covered should relate as nearly as possible to Confederation or some allied subject bearing on the development of the Country.

If you have not yet held the contest and if it is the view of your faculty that it would not be convenient to hold it, the National Executive would be pleased if you would accept the medals as worthy of a place in the University Archives as commemorative of the great historic event celebrated last year.

Dear Mr. Cowan:-

Let me acknowledge receipt of your letter of January 13th with reference to the history contests in connection with the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation.

We gave every notice to the students of this University and received some essays, but, frankly, we did not consider they were good enough to merit an award and so no medals were given out. The medals arrived a short time ago and we very much regret that they were not won. I would like with your permission to put them up for further competition in any one of the following three subjects:

- (a) Canada's contribution to political progress.
- (b) Canada's contribution to scientific progress.
- (c) Canada's contribution to economic progress.

If you consider this an improper use, I shall, of course, take no further action, but deposit the medals in our Museum with our grateful thanks to the Diamond Jubilee Committee.

Yours faithfully,

Principal.

Dear Sir Arthur:

I read the different articles in your address before the Electrical Club of Montreal at the Queens Hotel, in both the Star and the Gazette, with a great deal of interest, regarding the criticism of the Diamond Jubilee Committee and your remarks may cause them to take some immediate action in some manner.

I notice that you suggest pageants and urge this mode of celebration and as people will no doubt be willing to spend their thousands in fancy dress for amusement, but why not go much further and endeavor to educate the youth of the Dominion to respect the flag and know its meaning as is done in the United States.

From infancy the children of the United States are taught to respect and salute the flag (Stars and Stripes) and every school in the country is provided with a flag, or flags. The children are lined up each morning and afternoon before entering class and marched to their different class rooms and twice each day each child is taught to salute the flag, and, no doubt, Sir, you have noticed on many, many occasions the fruit of this teaching.

I venture to state that ten percent of our schools in Canada do not possess a Union Jack, especially in the rural districts, and as a suggestion would it not be a move in the right direction of education to have the Jubilee Committee take some action in this behalf, either by furnishing flags to each school or recommending all school boards to purchase flags and have the Union Jack float on July 1st from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

I take the liberty, as a Canadian citizen, of drawing this matter to your attention, being considered one of our fathers of education, and as a suggestion coming from you would have a remarkable effect on the Diamond Jubilee Committee, should my suggestion meet with your views and approval, as a staunch Canadian.

Premier Mackenzie King stated in the House of Commons "that we trust that the commemoration will lend added inspiration to the patriotic fervor of our people and afford a clearer vision of our aspirations and ideals, to the end that from sea to sea there may be developed a robust Canadian spirit, and in all things Canadian a profound national unity."

Believe me to be,

Dear Sir Arthur:

I read in this morning's Gazette your remarks about the want of Pageants of Canadian History for the Diamond Jubilee Celebration.

I quite agree with you in reference to the delay of the Committee appointed to do something.

However, locally, the I. O. O. F. have undertaken a presentation of Pageants to take place in the Princess Theatre the week of May 23 - 28 - next, following somewhat on the lines of the enclosed, which proved such a success as the Hiwanis Convention last June.

I now have about five hundred people rehearsing for this, so Montreal will be "on the map", no matter what other cities may or may not do.

If you would like to visit our next rehearsal you will be welcome at Stanley Hall next Monday from 8:30 P.M. to 10.

It would inspire the participants
if you would come
Respectfully Yours

Dear Sir:-

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 21st of April.

I have known for some time that the I. O. D. E. had undertaken the presentation of pageants. No doubt theirs will be a very commendable effort and what one always expects from such a loyal and patriotic body. I am sure I wish them all success, but what I would like to see would be something done on July 1st.

Yours faithfully,

By the enclosed which I have pleasure in sending, you will see that I have put some study & time into modelling a without any definite results as far as the Government is concerned.

Surely some lasting Memorial should be carried out for future Canadians to see.

Honourable H.M. Marler,

Dear Mr. Marler:-

I am enclosing herewith copy of a letter received by me which contains a proposal bound to be interesting to your Committee.

Neglect of our national flag and disrespect for our national anthem are only too common. If suggestions made by your Committee only resulted in an increased number of schools coming into possession of a flag, you would have done something for which you would earn the gratitude of every loyal Canadian.

Yours faithfully,

April 30, 1927.

Robert A. Sibbitt, Esq.,

Dear Mr. Sibbitt:-

Your letter of April 21st contains a most interesting suggestion and one which if it were carried out could not but result in a great deal of good.

There is no doubt that the flag drill and saluting in the United States has had a very great effect, and it is a pity that our own people have given but little thought to a subject of so much importance. In this province in particular we see the effect of years of neglect in the constant flying of flags which have no connection either with Britain or with Canada.

As regards your proposal that a suggestion should be made by me to the Diamond Jubilee Committee, I must say quite frankly that I am not sure whether that would accept it or to what extent suggestions from them would be welcomed by the school boards. I am passing your letter to them and expressing the hope that they will act in accordance with your proposal, and if an opportunity arises to do so, I shall be glad to give further support to the ~~suggestion~~ plan you have in mind.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Mr. MacCarthy:-

I was very much interested in looking

I do not know that there is anything which I can do myself to forward your efforts, but I hope that success may attend them.

Dear Sir Arthur,

RE DIAMOND JUBILEE CELEBRATION:

In this matter I am obliged to you for your letter of the 30th of April last enclosing copy of letter from Mr. Robert A. Sibbitt. This letter I have sent forward to the Staff of the General Committee asking that the matter be given every attention.

I am entirely in accord with your suggestion in this regard as also with that of Mr. Sibbitt but sometimes what appears to be an extremely simple matter to accomplish owing to our school system and divergent thoughts and interests in some regards particularly in the Province of Quebec it is very difficult to accomplish what seems to be at first a simple matter. I need have no hesitation however in telling you that at the base of all our work as regards the Diamond Jubilee we are emphasizing patriotism, love for country and the Empire.

I have been intending for some little while past to see you in this regard. I was extremely sorry when I read your statement in the "Montreal Gazette" on the 21st of April last because I did not think it was entirely realized by you all that the Committee had accomplished and I have been trying to prepare a statement ever since your statement as to what the Committee has effected but owing to great pressure in other directions I have been unable to do so. It is only fair however to state that the National Committee cannot for one moment be expected to take charge of the celebrations in the various Provinces. The function of the National Committee must tend to be in the direction of assistance in indicating what should be done but not to take charge of provincial demonstrations. To do that we have been in touch with all the Provincial Governments and all the governments outside of the Province of Quebec are now actively engaged in arranging demonstrations. In the Province of Quebec some difficulties for your private information I might say have developed largely on account of the Province being about to have a general election which is now in progress. The matter has been taken up with Mr. Taschereau and vigorously taken up by me and others.

Insofar as the National Committee is concerned it has accomplished a great deal of work. I have not seen any very great support from Montreal papers as yet towards aiding the Diamond Jubilee Celebration. Those papers have had full access to all our proceedings but their publicity where given has been meagre excepting where criticism has ensued.

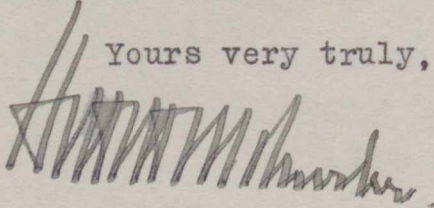

I am extremely sorry I have not had the opportunity of discussing this matter at length with you but you can rest as-

Dear Sir Arthur,

RE DIAMOND JUBILEE CELEBRATION:

The report in "The Gazette" this morning as regards the Diamond Jubilee Celebration might lead you to think that my statement of yesterday was in part in answer to your remarks as contained in "The Gazette" of Thursday, the 21st of April last. Such was not my intention. I only discussed the matter in general terms. I want to remove any idea which might enter your mind that your own opinions and mine are in conflict. They are not. I cannot think of two people whose opinions are more in accord than your own and mine and I hope you will completely realize that.

In my capacity as Manuscript Editor of the St. James Literary Society, it is my privilege to ask you for a copy of the inspiring address which you delivered before the Society on the 18th instant. This copy will be filed in the Archives of the Society.

Your address proved to be one of the most interesting ever presented to the Society, and, as you will remember, incited an unusual amount of discussion. On similar occasions in the past, I have published at my own expense such addresses: for instance, one by Sir Henry Thornton, and last year's Presidential address by the Hon. Justice Surveyer. Would you allow me to publish your address on Confederation? I can assure you that it would be given a suitable typographical dress.

Dear Sir Arthur:

In the opinion of the Department of English, it would be well to re-open the Confederation Essay Contest, as you suggest. The subjects mentioned in your letter as suitable for discussion are very appropriate, —

- A. Canada's Contribution to Political Progress.
- B. Canada's Contribution to Scientific Progress.
- C. Canada's Contribution to Economic Progress.

We suggest that you add to the above subjects:—

- D. Sir John Macdonald and Confederation.
- E. Joseph Howe and Confederation.
- F. George Brown and Confederation.
- G. Quebec's Part in Confederation.

We suggest further that essays should be limited to five thousand words in length.

My dear Principal,

I have received your letter of December 15th referring to the Confederation Medals offered by the National Committee and I must say that it is exceedingly difficult for me to offer you any helpful answer.

Frankly, I do not think that these medals and these subjects would attract any very serious competition amongst our best students. It has been apparent to me for several years past that our students are not interested in competing for medals or even for pecuniary scholarships for the sake of any scholastic distinction or honour which the award of scholarships or medals may bring with them. Sometimes, too, I do not even blame them for this attitude having in mind the way some of our premier scholarships have been awarded in the past. Our students will compete splendidly for the Moyse Scholarships, for example, or for any similar scholarships which will help them to pursue their chosen studies freely, but not for any other purpose.

I need not add, however, that if you decide to offer these medals for competition again I shall be very pleased to do everything in my power to make the competition a creditable one.

Dean Ira A. MacKay,

My dear Dean MacKay,

With further reference to the Confederation essays, I have decided that it is best to offer the medals for competition once more. The members of the History Department feel that there will be an interest on the part of their students if the subjects are something as follows:-

The Development of federal and provincial powers between 1867 and 1900.
The Influence of the United States on Confederation.
How far has contemporaneous criticism of the British North America Act been proved valid since?
The evolution of political parties since Confederation.
Reciprocity between 1867 and 1911.
The building of the West between the British North America Act and Sir Clifford Sifton.

The Department of English suggested:-

Sir John Macdonald and Confederation.
Joseph Howe and Confederation.
George Brown and Confederation.
Quebec's Part in Confederation.

The suggestions in 1928 were:-

Canada's Contribution to Political Progress.
Canada's Contribution to Scientific Progress.
Canada's Contribution to Economic Progress.

Will you kindly confer with these two Departments and boil the subjects down to, say, six in all, and let me have the list?

I am limiting the essays to five thousand words and suggesting that they should be submitted to the Registrar on or before April 15th, the results to be announced at the May Convocation. Those eligible are undergraduates and graduates proceeding to the Masters Degrees during the present session.

I think that we should get this matter settled at once so that the students may have enough time to write the essays.

MCGILL UNIVERSITY

To Dr. Macmillan
and Dr. Fryer.

Dear Dr.

I am enclosing a copy of a letter from the Principal dated the 10th instant, and I suggest that you give me five or six of the subjects referred to in the Principal's letter at your earliest convenience.

I may also add the following notes:-

1. This is a legal subject and would require a careful reading of all the principal decisions on Sections 91 and 92 of the B.N.A. Act since 1867. I am familiar with this field and I do not think that a student essay at the present time would make any contribution to legal opinion on this subject.
2. This subject is a little ambiguous. It may mean (a) a comparison of the B.N.A. Act and the American Constitution - quite an old-fashioned subject - or (b) the influence of life in the United States on Canadian life both before and after 1867 - a much larger subject.
3. I do not understand the significance of this subject. Most criticism of the B.N.A. Act has been of a legal character and the subject therefore only really lends itself to legal students. There has, no doubt, been some lay criticism, but most of it is distinctly superficial unless the writer is fully acquainted with the decisions of the courts.
4. This subject does not seem to me to lead very far. I do not think there really has been any very fundamental evolution of the two parties since 1867. It is very difficult to discover now where the two parties have really wholly differed on any political principle.
5. This a very important subject but the writer would have to be familiar with Hansard and the Canadian Press during the elections of '86, '90, '96 and 1911, and this means a lot of reading. The history of this subject, too, is pretty well known by every Canadian interested in affairs not under fifty years of age.
6. I think this subject should read "The Building of the West

between 1867 and 1897". I have never understood why the name of Sir Clifford Sifton should be brought so prominently into this discussion. All that Sifton really did was to promote the settlement of several groups of Middle Europeans on the Prairies, and I doubt very much if this was so important as we sometimes think. The period from 1900 to 1913 was a period of extraordinary emigration from Europe and Canada really only received its share of this migration. The West, therefore, would undoubtedly have been settled no matter whether Sifton had been Minister of the Interior or not. Indeed some of his ideas may have stood in the way of homesteading in the West by more desirable immigrants.

7. This is a perennial subject but perhaps a little old-fashioned. No one yet, I think, has ever written a true historical biographical portrait of Sir John.

8. and 9. These are both excellent subjects and lend themselves easily to interesting political biography.

10. This is, I should think, with deference, the best subject of all. All English-speaking students of Canadian affairs and Canadian history should be constantly aware of the position of Quebec in the Dominion. Probably the essay would turn upon the influence of Cartier and Laurier.

11, 12, 13. These subjects appear to me to be too general for careful study although I think that Canada's "international position" would make a very pertinent subject at present. Our international relations with Europe, including Great Britain on the one hand and the Sino-Japanese problem on the other and the United States of America on the south, is becoming exceedingly acute and possibly dangerous.

QUESTIONS SUGGESTED FOR A CONFEDERATION ESSAY

- I. The British North America Act was subjected to considerable contemporary criticism. To what extent has this criticism been justified by subsequent events?

 - II. The proximity and the example of the United States:- how did these two influences contribute to the bringing about of Confederation?

 - III. Discuss Canada's experience with the party system of government since Confederation.

 - IV. To what extent has Confederation influenced the development of the West?

 - V. Discuss Quebec as a special problem imposed upon the statesmen who shaped the British North America Act.

Dear Dean MacKay:

With reference to your letter of January 12th, the Department of English begs to suggest that you select from the thirteen topics mentioned in the Principal's letter to you six subjects which in your judgment would be suitable for the Confederation essays. The department is in agreement with your comments on the first six topics, all of which seem to us to be too technical and too difficult for adequate treatment in a brief essay. With reference to topic seven,, "Sir John Macdonald and Confederation", we had in mind not so much "a true historical, biographical portrait of Sir John", as your letter interprets it, but rather a discussion of Sir John's careful preparation of the various sections of the country previous to the actual conferences, the difficulties he had to overcome, his discussions with the British authorities and his disappointment with their reaction, his original plan, and the subsequent changes etc., etc.

I am,

Faithfully yours,
