MYSTERY DEEPENING; HOMER LIQUOR CASE STILL UNEXPLAINED

Licence Inspector Aycarst Gives No Further Light on Scandal.

SUPPLY FROM BUFFALO

American Ports Are Well Stocked With Canadian Whiskey.

Chief Licence Inspector Aycarst's tongue made another effort to function on Saturday for the benefit of The Telegram. The World has republished Saturday's output for what it may be worth in helping to clear up the Homer liquor scandal.

The principal part of the statement is in the way of an assertion that the members of the government had no knowledge of the deal made for two tons of "Goodman's special" with the whiskey agents, Smith and Lavell, and that the government never paid cash for the liquor. The statement of Smith and Lavell is that the government, or one of its officials, paid a cheque. But perhaps Aycarst is not splitting hairs as between cash and a certified cheque. Aycarst also says no member of the government knew of the liquor going to Homer. There is yet no proof that they did. There is a great cloud of suspicion.

Bearing upon one point in the admitted evidence, The Telegram asked Aycarst:

"How did it happen that the liquor was sent to Homer?"

"My instructions were that if there was any selling of liquor, the detectives were to be kept busy. There was nothing said about buying any. The district down there has been full of illicit whiskey coming in there and we determined to stop it."

Still No Light. This latest explanation by Aycarst is quite as incoherent as those that have gone before it. He admits "my instructions." Now what happened under his instructions? They were carried out by a Pole named Clyde—if that is his name. He is a half-dead

FRENCH DESTROYER TAKES GERMAN SHIPS

Paris, Feb. 23.—The French destroyer Oriflamme captured on Feb. 18 in the Baltic the German steamers Ebe and Berg which were navigating without permission. The destroyer took her prizes into the Kiel canal on the way to the nearest French port but the German authorities closed the locks at Brunsbüttel and endeavored to prevent the passage of the destroyer and the steamers on the ground that the captures were illegal.

After the commander of the destroyer had made an energetic protest, the Oriflamme and its prizes were allowed to proceed to Dunkirk.

A SALE OF UNUSUAL INTEREST.

This is the beginning of the second week of Dineen's most successful and interesting sale of furs from regular stock at reduced prices. While the greatest sacrifice is being made in such prices, the reductions are unusually large in every department of fur garments, stoles and fur-lined coats for ladies. Very attractive bargains are being shown in imported Parisian novelties in minkskin, imitation chinchilla and Hudson sables. You are invited to pay a seasonal visit to Dineen's, manufacturing furriers, corner Yonge and Temperance streets.

GEN. BADEN-POWELL TO VISIT DOMINION

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—Word has been received that Lieut.-Gen. Baden-Powell, chief scout and founder of the Boy Scouts Association, will visit Canada during the month of May next, accompanied by Lady Baden-Powell. He is the chief guide of the Girl Guides' Association.

VETERAN STABBED, PROBABLY FATALLY

Vasil Nazberetsky, discharged soldier, was probably fatally stabbed during a fight in a Russian restaurant at 148 York street, at 4:30 Sunday afternoon. George Serenko, a returned Russian soldier, is held on a charge of attempted murder, while his companion, Narenko and Kolomi, entered the restaurant under the influence of liquor, and ordered a meal. When it was served they were not satisfied with it and rising from the table asked where the cook was. No answer was forthcoming, and they both made for the kitchen in search of the cook. Nazberetsky boarded in the place, and was stung in his shirt sleeves in the kitchen.

Without sounding a word of warning to Nazberetsky, Serenko is said to have drawn his military knife and stabbed Nazberetsky in the stomach. With the blade of the knife buried still in his stomach and abdomen, the wounded man staggered toward the room fighting hard in an effort to put down his assailant. Struggling for several minutes, Nazberetsky weakened from loss of blood, fell to the floor and became unconscious.

Constable Lewis was coming south on York street. He heard the crash of the window and immediately ran to the wrecked premises. At the door way he was met by Serenko and Kolomi. One of the Russians made a dive for Lewis' feet, while the other tackled him about the shoulders. The plucky action of Lewis in tussling with the men enabled him to overpower them, thus giving him time to draw his baton from his great coat pocket. By this time both foreigners were on their feet attacking Lewis. The constable clubbed them over the head. Before he had time to deal them each more than one blow they got the better of the policeman, who fell to the sidewalk. His shoulder was badly twisted and he received several nasty kicks in the back of the head.

Cecil Greenberg, keeper of a store at 144 York street, came out on the street and seeing Lewis fighting both men in a dazed condition with insuffi-

LAURIER LAID TO REST IN OTTAWA CEMETERY

Last Tribute Paid Late Leader of Liberal Party by Thousands of People Along Route of Cortège.

By Special Correspondent.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—What we used to call the Laurier lull about weather favored Sir Wilfrid to the last. For the day of his funeral the weather was singularly appropriate. It was a dull morning, but not unpleasant. The air was temperate and enough snow remained to firmly cushion the streets. A few hours after the funeral procession passed the streets were running streams of water. As the day wore on the weather grew warmer. The sun shone brightly and those who looked back to the new light and color. The funeral procession from the parliament building to the Basilica lacked the pomp and pageantry we have come to associate with a state funeral. There were no strains of martial music, no soldiery and few equipages beyond the one bearing the representative of the King. Ministers of the crown, senators and members of parliament walked in the procession. This was democratic simplicity and perhaps it should have been. On the other hand, there were seven huge sleighs bearing the floral tributes that had bedecked the chamber of the house.

The police ambulance was at the same time summoned and removed Nazberetsky to the General Hospital, Policeman Lewis, Serenko and Kolomi were taken in the patrol to St. Michael's Hospital.

Shoulder Dislocated. Lewis had several nasty gashes on the back of his head, and it is thought that his shoulder was dislocated. He was suffering from severe pain, and on his own request was attended by the doctors and later removed to his home at 788 Devereux court road.

Serenko and Kolomi were suffering from scalp wounds. They had their heads dressed and were then taken charge of by the military and taken in military ambulances to the Spadina convalescent home. They were guarded at their residences by police officers. It is the belief of the physicians that they will be in it condition to appear for preliminary trial this morning in the police court.

It was stated at the hospital last night that Nazberetsky was conscious but in a critical condition. The steel pellets that entered his abdomen, one round one and one-half inches in length and two inches in depth. An operation was performed at midnight and it was found that the injured man was in too weak a condition to make any statement whatever of the affair to the police. It was further stated that owing to the great loss of blood he was in considerable danger.

Nazberetsky is a Russian, 28 years of age. Serenko is 32 years of age and along with Kolomi, aged 28 years, was attached to the Spadina hospital. Serenko, in addition to facing a charge of attempted murder will also be charged with assaulting P. C. Lewis.

TO ACCEPT TERMS BEFORE SHE GETS BIG FOOD IMPORTS

Germany Unable to Withstand Either Military or Economic Pressure.

CANADIANS TO RESCUE

Army Organization Called in to Aid in Getting Exhibits to Lyons Fair.

Special Cable From John W. Dufco.

Paris, Feb. 23.—Apart from the new armistice terms, with their inclusion of preliminary naval and military terms of peace, there is not likely to be any announcements of great public interest from the peace conference for the next two or three weeks.

The armistice terms may be looked for during the first week of March. There is need for urgency for both the allies and the central powers. The reports of special commissions of investigation indicate the possibility of very serious food conditions in Germany and the adjoining territories in the course of a few weeks. If these conditions are not fed by the allies there will be famine.

For presidential military reasons the great powers will not permit any large importations of food into Germany until she has accepted the conditions as to naval and military strength, which are to be set out in the forthcoming document. Notwithstanding the reports to the contrary, Germany is apparently unable to withstand either military or economic pressure, and will have no option but accepting the demands that will be made.

Meanwhile, committees are hard at work, and the council of ten is hearing claims for the adjustment of boundaries. Within the next fortnight preliminary consideration will have been given to all these issues except those which are of the deepest and most serious character.

Called in Canadians.

Mr. Lloyd Harris, the head of the Canadian trade mission, has been in Paris for the past week, partly on business in connection with the Lyons Fair. Canada has been in some danger of losing the chance of exhibiting her wares at the fair through transportation delays. Congestion on French railways is so serious that it was feared that there was little chance of getting the exhibits from Havre to Lyons in time. In the emergency the Canadian army organization was called upon, and the staff proceeded to Havre, where they expedited the transporting and are now accompanying the cars containing the exhibits to Lyons, where they will be in the direction of Mr. Bruce of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

MEDELSSOHN CHOR SINGING AT BANQUET

The members of the Mendelssohn Choir have expressed their desire to be allowed to furnish the entire musical program at the banquet to be given soldiers at the armistice next Wednesday evening. General J. A. Gunn has assented to the offer which has been so graciously made and has ordered the platform reserved for the occasion. This is arranged for the occasion. The choir has presented its program outside Massey Hall. Every bit of space is being utilized to provide room for the men and their dependents.

SOLDIER COMFORTS RETURN TO CANADA

Thousands of Undelivered Packages Held by Army Bureau.

Thousands of packages of comforts, some of them hiding five dollar and ten dollar bills, which were sent over to the boys on the Somme and the Aronne, have found their way back into the Toronto postoffice, but unhappily not into the homes of the soldiers. The reason is simple. Once Desvauxville, secretary of the Art Museum, learned that the packages were left to the mercy of the army field postoffice bureau. Army transport service has been transported from war to demobilization purposes, and as a result the packages were unable to reach their destination. They were therefore returned to Canada, and thousands of them now await dispatch. Toronto office officials stated that the military authorities are slow in dealing with this class of mail. Military postoffice officials could not be reached last night.

Rumania's Queen and Daughter Have Fled From Bucharest

Geneva, Feb. 23.—The Queen of Rumania and her daughter, the Princess Elizabeth, have fled from Bucharest to England, fleeing a revolution in Rumania, according to a despatch received here from Vienna.

PEACE TREATY TO EMBODY NON-MILITARY SUBJECTS

Drafting Will Be Speeded Up and General Document Presented to Germany Instead of Only Military Demands—Committee to Report Within Two Weeks.

ADMIRAL TIRPITZ NOW A POOR MAN

His Son Is a Bank Clerk and His Daughter a Governess at Zurich.

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 23.—Admiral von Tirpitz, who is credited with having been the instigator of the ruthless submarine warfare, has been the guest of General Will of the Swiss army since the revolution in Germany, according to Swiss newspapers. The former German naval chief has lost his entire fortune. His son is a bank clerk and his daughter is a governess at Zurich. The admiral is living in a small house at Wildegg, in the canton of Aargau, near Zurich.

Back of this formal announcement is the speeding up of the plan, which now goes into effect, for an early drafting of the peace treaty. The main feature of this plan is to embody all subjects non-military as well as military in the preliminary peace treaty to be framed and to have this broad general document take the place of a separate military treaty for disarmament, which had been prepared for the supreme war council under the direction of Marshal Poch, who was to present it within the next few days.

But instead of this limited action on military questions, today's decision broadens the action so as to include all important subjects within the scope of the preliminary peace treaty, thus making it embrace economic, financial and all other essentials including reparations, disarmament and other naval and military features. It will be this broad general plan which will be drafted by the time the president returns, and which will soon thereafter go before the peace conference.

Relates Only to Germany. The foregoing action relates only to Germany, as the conclusion of this preliminary peace treaty is regarded as of chief importance. But similar action may proceed at the same time concerning Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, although it is not sure that action on these countries can be effected within the same period.

Altho the proposed document designated as a preliminary peace treaty, it is expected to embody practically all main questions and to respond to the Treaty of Versailles, which closed the Franco-Prussian war, the supplementary treaty was signed later at Frankfurt.

CHAOS REIGNS IN MUNICH CIVIL WAR IS THREATENED

Radical Element Have Threatened Death to Entire Classes as Reprisal For Assassination—Population Is Excited Over the Murder --- Counter Revolution in Bavaria Possible.

Munich, Feb. 23.—Ministerial Council Jähres has been killed and several officers of the war office gravely wounded in the rioting here. The radical elements have threatened with death entire classes of the population as a reprisal for the assassination of Kurt Eisner.

Further disorders and even civil war are feared, as the Munich population is greatly excited and indignant over the assassination of the premier, who was generally loved and respected and considered the founder of the German revolution. Red flags on all public buildings have been lowered in respect for his memory.

Revolutionary groups have occupied all the newspaper offices and the post and telegraph offices, and a counter-revolution may be set afoot, not only in Bavaria, but throughout Germany, which is encouraged by Spartacists and Bolsheviks.

The Vienna Proclamation, displaying much anxiety, says that owing to the menacing situation in Germany, the allies "must hasten to arrange peace on moderate terms, to preserve calm and order in central Europe."

Other Austro-German papers ask whether the allies' armies will be forced to intervene.

TROOPS TO AID OF CITY.

Bavarian Regiments Outside Munich Offer to Block Spartacans' Game.

Berlin, Feb. 23.—A special despatch to The Lokal Anzeiger says the Bavarian regiments outside Munich have offered to come to the aid of the city if the Spartacans attempt to terrorize the capital, and also have placed themselves at the disposal of the newly-elected diet, which was to have met Friday, but which was dispersed by the soviet government.

Count von Luxburg, brother of the former minister to Argentina, the newspaper says, has been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the assassination of Kurt Eisner, the late premier.

According to the despatch, squads of looters invaded the residential districts. The palace of Field Marshal Prince Leopold was entered by looters who, however, were forestalled by the hurried arrival of soldier guards. The government of Bavaria, the despatch continues, has fixed a penalty of death for plunderers.

Chaos is prevailing generally in Munich and the free transmission of news to Berlin has been interfered with. The latest despatches from the Bavarian capital indicate that the central soviet council is in absolute control and has proclaimed a proletarian dictatorship. One of the leaders of the German Bolshevik movement, named Le-wine, is said to be a member of this council, which consists of 11 representatives and has among its number delegates from the soldiers' workmen's and peasants' councils. The general strike will continue until Monday. The government has ordered that three

VOTING HUGE SUM FOR TECHNICAL AID

Dominion House at This Session Allotting Twenty-Five Millions.

Hamilton, Feb. 23.—That he understood the federal government would set aside the sum of twenty-five million dollars for technical and industrial education was the statement of Professor Peter Sandiford, University of Toronto, while speaking on "Educational Problems and Their Relation to Reconstruction" at the Open Forum this afternoon. Henry C. Foster presided. "I don't know whether it is an official secret, but I understand that the $25,000,000 will be spread over a number of years, and will likely mean important educational reforms for this country," he declared.

One great drawback in Canada, he stated, was that there was no control over federal education, and that after the provinces received their grants, they always refused to tell how the money was spent. Furthermore, provincial education was highly centralized and power given to the local communities too small.

"What we want to solve the trouble is a Dominion bureau of education to look after the finances and control the educational programs of the various provinces," declared Prof. Sandiford. He urged the doing away with school sections and a country board in their place; more variety in education and the abolition of the uniform textbook.

Prof. Sandiford stated that his indictment against the uniform book were that they never contained any new idea and that their makeup was only a matter of compromise. "The people are given free schools. Why not give them free textbooks?" he said.

ONLY TWO KILLED.

But Others Were Seriously Wounded Says-Semi-Official From Munich.

Basle, Feb. 23.—A semi-official despatch from Munich, quoting a foreign ministry note, says the only persons killed in Munich were Kurt Eisner, the premier, and Deputy Oeser.

The despatch says that Minister of the Interior Auer was seriously wounded, as also were officers. The central committee of the workmen's and soldiers' councils thru the organization's newspaper Nachrichtenblätter, gives the names of the members of the new council as Herren Ganderfer, Hoffman, Eutzenhofer, Sauber, Simon, Goldschmidt, Nicles, Krossen, Liesenhaul, Lewin and Hagemuster.

The Frankfurt Gazette says that two hundred soldiers and civilians Friday evening stormed the Hotel Regina, unaware that it had been occupied during the afternoon by Communists, whose appeal not to shoot had been misunderstood.

Street Fighting Continues. Generals, Feb. 23.—As the soldiers and sailors have seized the telegraph lines radiating from Munich, it is considered here that news from Bavarian capital must be accepted with caution. Street fighting is reported to be continuing, especially around the Hotel Regina, where three persons were killed, and eighteen wounded Saturday. Several officers who fired upon the crowds are reported to have been killed.

MARTIAL LAW IN BADEN. Copenhagen, Feb. 23.—The provisional people's government has proclaimed a state of siege in the republic of Baden, owing to Spartacan disorders in Mannheim, according to a despatch from Karlsruhe, received by way of Berlin. The proclamation declares the government will not permit a repetition of the occurrences at Ruhr and Munich.

NEW CONSTITUTION FOR GERMAN EMPIRE

Will Consist of Former States and Others That Later May Wish to Enter.

Weimar, Feb. 23.—While the German national assembly has been holding open meetings, several committees have found time to discuss the draft of a new German constitution as prepared by Hugo Preuss, a member of the cabinet. The draft has now passed its second reading. The original few paragraphs have been cut up and expanded into 109 paragraphs which cover every point carefully.

The new draft consists of seven divisions. The first division, entitled "The Nation and its Component States," provides that the national territory shall consist of the former German states, as well as other states that may, after a plebiscite, desire to be incorporated with Germany. The flag of the new republic will be black, red and gold.

The second article of the first division provides that the executive power lies with the people, and the third article says that the generally accepted rules of international law shall be a basic part of the German law. Succeeding articles provide for the defence of the nation, and cover colonial questions, customs duties and public transportation.

The national law, it is provided, shall supersede the state laws of the various German states who are empowered to combine wholly or in part for the purpose of creating a more powerful membership in the nation. These states will be represented in the government by a "national council." Each member of the council will introduce bills, but a bill to be introduced to the assembly must have the assent of the council which, however, possesses with the people, the power of the British house of lords.

Regulations for Voting. The third division contains 19 articles, and provides that details shall be determined by the national government regarding the regulation of elections. The government will meet each year on the first Monday of December at the capital of the government. The president, it is provided, can call the assembly earlier, and must do so if at least one-third of the members demand that it be called. A court to control the voting would consist of three members of the assembly and two members of the national council. The constitution may be changed by a two-thirds vote of the full membership of the assembly.

The election of a president is provided for in a fourth division. He must be 35 years old and a German citizen for 10 years and will serve a seven-year term. He may be recalled thru a popular vote. The president cannot be a member of the assembly. It is provided that the assembly can demand the presence before it of the chancellor and the cabinet.

PREMIER BETTER; PARIS IS JOYFUL

Enquiries Being Made Into Ramifications of Possible Assassination Plot.

Paris, Feb. 23.—News of the improvement in the condition of M. Clemenceau was received with joy in Paris, which has been worried over the tone of the official bulletin issued Saturday morning. The premier partook of a hearty breakfast and then was examined by the doctors, but did not joke with the doctors as much as usual. The official bulletin issued this morning said that the premier showed continued improvement.

M. Clemenceau asked his doctors for permission to take a drive in the Bois de Boulogne this afternoon. His request was granted. Premier Clemenceau this morning received Foreign Minister Pichon, Gen. Magdaou, the chief of his military cabinet, and M. Mandel, his chief clerk. At 6 o'clock this evening the following official bulletin was issued concerning the condition of M. Clemenceau: "M. Clemenceau had a good day. His temperature was 37.2 (centigrade)—(99.9 Fahrenheit). Pulse 68. His weight only one bulletin will be issued daily."

C. N. E. DIRECTORS' ANNUAL ELECTION

One Section to Be Contested—George Irving Replaces Col. McNaught.

There will be a contest in only one section for a place on the board of directors of the Canadian National Exhibition at its annual meeting in the city hall on Wednesday at 11 a.m. The death of Col. W. K. McNaught, C. M. G., left a vacancy in the manufacturers' section and this has been filled by acclamation, the position going to George T. Irving, who has been an associate director and an active worker in the manufacturers' department for many years.

There are nine nominations for positions in the agricultural section, the eight old directors and Harry Robinson of the Toronto horseman. Four of the positions in this section are occupied by outside directors—John Gardhouse of Weston, W. W. Ballantyne of Stratford, W. A. Dryden of Brooklin and Robert Miller of Stratford. The board of directors for the year.

RIVERDALE MEMORIAL TABLET ORDERED.

The board of management of First Avenue Baptist Church have awarded a contract to the Rogers' Silver Plating Company for a handsome bronze tablet, to be erected in the church, at a cost of $250, in memory of the 21 soldier members of the church killed in action.

The 42nd Sunday school anniversary in connection with First Avenue Baptist Church was held yesterday. Rev. Dr. Graham preached at 10 services to capacity congregations. Preaching at the morning service, Dr. Graham took for his subject, "What to Do With the Boy."

A Sunday school entertainment will be held in First Avenue Baptist Church on Thursday evening, when a program will be rendered and supper served in the school room. There will be a large attendance of nearly 70 per cent. Rev. Dr. Graham is pastor.

Yesterday was Social Service Sunday at St. Matthew's Church. Rev. Dr. Seager, rector, preached at both services to large congregations. The school work will be held in the school room this evening, when officers and committees will be elected. It is expected that over 100 boys of the parish will be present.

On behalf of the congregation, Rev. Dr. W. T. Graham, pastor, First Avenue Baptist Church, extended a welcome to St. George Fleming, C.E.F., 431 Logan avenue, recently returned from overseas.

St. George Fleming, who enlisted as a private August at the commencement of hostilities, received his promotion in France and has been three months of the principal engagements. He is suffering from nervous trouble, but is not otherwise injured.

NEWMARKET DANIEL ANDERSON DEAD.

Daniel Anderson, the brother of P. J. Anderson, town clerk, died in Moose Jaw on the 19th of February, at the age of 44 years. He had suffered from stomach trouble for some time, and about a month ago visited specialists in Buffalo, Minn., where he underwent an operation. He returned to Moose Jaw two weeks ago. The deceased had lived a considerable time in Moose Jaw where his two sons are now in business. He is survived by his two sons and two married daughters.

DANFORTH

Rev. (Col.) C. G. Williams, returned chaplain from overseas, preached at the evening service in Danforth Avenue Methodist Church last evening. The speakers dealt on the return of the soldiers from France and their reverting to civil life. Rev. J. D. Simpson, pastor, assisted. Miss Scoble and Mrs. Steele sang a duet, and an augmented choir rendered the musical portion of the service. There was a capacity attendance.

Miss Helen Simpson, daughter of Rev. R. D. Simpson and Mrs. Simpson, Jackman avenue, spent the week-end with friends in Newmarket.

Rev. F. E. Rowell, rector of St. Barnabas Anglican Church, Danforth avenue, was unable to officiate yesterday owing to illness. Rev. F. E. Farncomb, assistant rector, officiated at the morning and Rev. J. Acton in the evening.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS EARLSCOURT NORTH TORONTO HOUSING SHORTAGE DUE TO COMBINE

R.C. WOOD OUTLINES AIMS OF G. A. C. Says J. M. Skelton, Addressing North Toronto Rate-payers.

The Grand Army of Canada held a meeting in the Earlscourt public school on Saturday night. The speaker of the evening was Commodore R. C. Wood, who outlined the aims of the G.A.C. in pointing out the need for political representation for the returned man and said he had no sympathy with the method of going to the authorities with the cap in the hand, but believed in direct action. The G.A.C. should profit by the shortcomings and mistakes of older organizations and would find room in which to help the returned man between the lines of the Liberal and Conservative parties.

It is imperative for every man who has seen 24 months to join this organization. We intend to pay particular attention to the needs of the widows and the fatherless. It is the duty of him who sees in the fields. We stand ready to take the place of the man who has been in the fields. We stand ready to take the place of the man who has been in the fields.

Yesterday was Social Service Sunday at St. Matthew's Church. Rev. Dr. Seager, rector, preached at both services to large congregations. LENGTHY DEBATE UPON THE ADDRESS

Fifty Members of Federal House Have Announced Intention to Speak.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—The government seems inclined to mark time at the opening of the session. The adjournment of the houses over Monday was not altogether necessary as the Liberal caucus tomorrow will be before the usual time for the house to sit. Tuesday will be largely occupied with tributes from members to the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and it is therefore possible that the debate upon the address will not open until Wednesday. The debate, by the way, it is said, will be one of unusual length, no less than fifty members having signified their intention to speak.

SALE OF LANDS FOR AREARS OF TAXES

Township of York, County of York, to wit: Notice is hereby given that the list of lands now liable to be sold for arrears of taxes in the township of York has been prepared and is being published in an advertisement in The Ontario Gazette upon the 8th, 10th and 22nd days of February, and the 1st day of March, 1919. Copies of such list or advertisement may be had upon application to me on and after February 12th, 1919. In default of payment of taxes, as shown on said list on or before Thursday, the 15th day of July, 1919, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, I shall, at the said time, and at the Township of York Offices, 40 Jarvis street, Toronto, proceed to sell by public auction, the said lands or such portions thereof as shall be necessary to pay such arrears, together with the charges thereon.

HAMILTON NEWS

Hamilton, Feb. 23.—Twenty-six war veterans who crossed on the steamer Royal George, reached Hamilton today. The newly established Hamilton de-mobilization depot also started operations. Dr. Jas. Roberts, city health officer, announces that the community is fairly free from disease. A memorial tablet to the late Sgt. T. Homing was unveiled tonight in St. Mark's Church. Miss Amelia Defries of the British embassy, Washington, in addressing a meeting here on Saturday afternoon, claimed more recognition for the value of art in the country's life. She advocated the adoption of a national theatre as the best possible form a war memorial could take. John Livingston, 122 Inchbury street, was knocked down by a motor car on Saturday night. His condition today is reported improved. A movement for assessment reform regarding the exemption of manufacturing establishments' property is now under way here. It is claimed that $100,000 of such property escapes taxation. Two of the city engineers, J. Stoddart and J. H. Clark, are leaving the city's employ because they were offered more remunerative positions. Mrs. Allan Fraser passes. Charlotte, P.E.I., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Allan Fraser, aged 94, mother of Rev. D. J. Fraser, principal of the Montreal Presbyterian College, and of Rev. Dr. K. Fraser of Knox Church, Galt, Ont., died at her home in Alberton, on Friday.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC.

"Maytime" at Royal Alexandra. "Maytime" will be ushered into the good graces of local theatregoers tonight at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, when this season's greatest of New York musical successes will be presented by the Shuberts with the original New York cast intact, together with the production that was pretty and quaint enough to be commented upon editorially by the New York press.

"Maytime" is a totally different play in four acts, or as they are called in the program, "episodes," by Rida Johnson Young, with music by Sigmund Romberg. The New York record of "Maytime" was one year and a quarter with a run of twenty-two weeks in Chicago and will enjoy the unqualified recognition of returning to New York for another run within three weeks after the local engagement. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Three Faces East." Anthony Paul Kelly has written, and Colman & Harris have produced a real success in "Three Faces East," which is the attraction at the Princess this week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, a story portraying the almost incredible perfection of the British secret service.

"Three Faces East" is a play of the British secret service and we may as well tell you in advance that it is a thriller. The play takes its title from the password of a German band of master spies, the play being based on the enemy spy system. It is an unusual spy play, and is presented by a notable cast that includes Lillian Tucker, Paul Everton, David Torrence, Florence Le Clercq, N. St. Clair Hales, Rubi Trelease, Sidney Mather, Guy Cunningham, Ralph Belmont, Joseph M. Holicky, Marion Rogers, Arthur V. Gibson, A. F. Davies and others.

"Some Baby" at Grand. If you want to laugh heartily, spontaneously and continuously attend a performance of "Some Baby," at the Grand Opera House this week. It is the most amusing farce comedy that has been produced in the past twenty years, and the cast is composed of members of the original London, Eng., and New York companies. "Some Baby" is one of those farces that simply must be shouted, and the members of the company shout with marked intelligence. While some of the situations are as old as bagges themselves, the farce has a singularly "unstaged" effect. There is a spontaneity in the lines and in the acting, and there is no mistaking the play for anything but a farce. With the company is Zella Cuyington, the author, and will be seen as the eccentric doctor. During the week at the Grand, matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

This Week at Shea's. Commencing with a matinee this afternoon the management of Shea's Theatre announces as the headline attraction of an all-star bill this week, Mile. Dazie and company, presenting a series of modern and classic dances, Charley Grapewin and company, with Ann Chance, will be featured in the comedy playlet, "Jed's Vacation." Al Lydell and Carleton Macy will be presented in John McGowan's comedy sketch, "Old Cronies." The Le Grohs are aerobic stars with new material, while Capt. Gruber and Mile. Adeline use a horse, a dog and an elephant in their sketch; Lee and Cranston have a clever comedy sketch; Lillian Hezlein presents a cycle of songs; Raymond and Wilbert in "At the Golf Links"; the British-Canadian Pathé Revue is also included in the bill.

At Loew's Theatre. Wm. S. Hart, featured in "Breed of Men," his latest western thriller, and Charlie Chaplin in a revised edition of "Shanghaied" will share the film honors this week at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden. "Shanghaied" is a genuine high-powered laugh tonic, Kenny and Hollis in their latest version of "Freshie's Initiation," a college playlet, bubbling over with laughter, will headline the vaudeville. Nat Carr, presenting a series of amusing characterizations, and fifteen colored performers in "Holiday in Dixieland" are the added attractions. Henry and Moore, offering "At the News Stand"; the Three Linder Girls, in popular melodies and artistic dances; the Franks Duo, sensational aerialists; Loew's British-Canadian pictures, and the "Mutt and Jeff" animated cartoons, complete the bill.

Funeral Pictures at Loew's. The official government pictures of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's funeral at Ottawa on Saturday will be shown all this week at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden. The pictures are exceptionally clear, and many prominent Torontonians who attended can be clearly recognized in the funeral cortege. Farnum at Hipp. The great William Farnum, peer of them and include such well-known people as Joe Marks, Edward Sells, Ed. Cole, Ray Rottach, Pearl Lawler, Fern Miller, Vic Dayton and a bevy of pretty and shapely girls, who make up one of the best attractions on the road this season.

"Little Women" at Allen. A finely produced screen version of "Little Women," the famous story written by Louisa M. Alcott fifty years ago, and which has scored an unequalled literary success, the world over will be shown at the Allen Theatre this week.

A strong supporting bill makes the Allen program an excellent one. Official government pictures of the funeral of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be of great interest. Luigi Romanelli, violinist, will play his famous selection, "The Mocking Bird," in accordance with numerous requests from patrons. One of the best Mack Sennett comedies ever filmed, "Rip and Stitch," tailors, with the famous Mack Sennett animals, completes the bill.

"Virtuous Wives" at Regent. It's a long time since there was as much talk about a motion picture feature as has been created by the announcement that "Virtuous Wives," starring Anita Stewart, would be presented at the Regent Theatre. Today it opens, and if all accounts are true, there's going to be much more talk from today on than there has been to date. In Montreal, this feature created a sensation. Nobody knows what it will do here in Toronto, but it is safe to assume that it will far out-ride any picture of its kind ever presented. The story, as is well known, is by Owen Johnson. The picture was directed by George Loew Tucker. In addition to this feature, there is shown today pictures of the funeral of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier which took place in Ottawa on Saturday. Other portions of the program include soprano solos by Miss Estelle Carey, the Regent Graphic and Review, a Sunshine comedy, and the orchestra will play as an overture "Zampa."

Tom Moore at the Strand. Handsome Tom Moore is not only the matinee idol of the screen, but an actor every man, as well as every girl and woman, admires. Today and Tuesday and Wednesday he will be seen at the Strand Theatre in "Go West, Young Man," in which he appears as a fighting western cowboy. With his winning smile, but with hard cold nerve and a quick hand with a six-shooter, he conquers a town of rough characters and wins the girl of his dreams.

Another exciting episode of "The Master Mystery" will be shown at the Strand this week.

Motion pictures of the funeral of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be shown at the Strand this week daily at 1:47, 3:47, 5:45, 7:47 and 9:47.

Greatest Boxers in World. Widespread interest was aroused among the sporting fraternity recently over the British and American services boxing tournament, which was held under the patronage of King George, who donated a handsome trophy to the winning team.

Upon royal command from his majesty, motion pictures of this most famous tournament were taken, and they were later shown to the royal family at Sandringham. Jule and J. J. Allen, directors of British Films, Ltd., have obtained these films for the Dominion, and the first performance will be held at Massey Hall the week of March 10.

Toronto boxing fans will be able to see the much talked-of encounter between Jimmy Wilde of England and "Pat" Moore of America, where the decision was rendered against Moore after a most interesting exhibition. There were many in the audience who firmly believed that the shifty Englishman was entitled to the decision, and arrangements are now being concluded to bring these men together for another exhibition.

Ethel Barrymore is Coming. Seldom has Miss Barrymore been better fitted with a role than in "The Out of Chance," in which she will appear at the Princess next week. It is one in which the delightful methods beloved by her admirers are displayed at their best. Abundant opportunity is furnished her, for the play is full of the exquisite Barrymore sense of humor and flashing comedy.

"Vanity Fair" Coming. Local theatregoers will have an opportunity of seeing the much-discussed new dance, "The Shimmy," when "Vanity Fair" comes to the Grand Opera House next week. This new step, which has taken the young people of New York and Chicago by storm, is exemplified by Nellie De Onsonne in the big musical revue. A cold-type description of the new step would fail to do it justice. Like the hesitation and the one-step, when first introduced the "shimmy" must be seen to be appreciated.

MEYERSONS CHOR... WIN FRESH LAURELS

No Shade for Thought That Music Suffered by War.

ORCHESTRA SPLENDID, Philadelphians, Conducted by Thaddeus Rich, Prove Themselves Wizards.

Saturday night at Massey Hall saw the crowning with laurels of the threefold presentation of the Mendelssohn Choir and Philadelphia Orchestra in their splendid performance of the peace year of 1919.

Looking back to the work of the orchestra and choir that was, not noticeable in the first performance of Dr. Fricker and which was not a part of the secret of the success of the organization under Dr. Vogt.

Opening with the "American national anthem" the orchestra, comprising the Philadelphia Orchestra, gave to the audience a forecast of the verve and intellectual in protection of the program through the richness of quality and a great conception of the meaning of democracy.

Irish folk-songs, known as "Leather-bags Donnell," and "Emer's Farewell to Cucullin," the first in allegro, and the second in a slow melody, in which the bows worked in wonderful unison, and when the symbols crashed and the drums beat, the battle of the ancients and their lament of a fallen chief were easily visualized.

Enthusiasm throughout the evening was at a high pitch and both Dr. Fricker and the orchestra, needless to say most capably in the absence of Leopold Stokowski, who during the afternoon performance was indisposed, had to bow their acknowledgments repeatedly in response to recalls. Miss Eva M. Goodman was accompanist.

Saturday afternoon's orchestral concert in Massey Hall by the Philadelphia Orchestra, under Leopold Stokowski, proved to be all that the performers at the Mendelssohn concert on Friday night suggested.

His excellency the governor-general spent a rather quiet day on Sunday. Accompanied by the lieutenant-governor, Sir John Hendrie, Colonel Fraser and Richard Nevill, his grace attended St. Paul's Church, Bloor street, the seat of Hon. Dr. Cody, and was welcomed by the church warden and Dr. Cody himself.

On Friday his excellency will return to Ottawa.

LABOR NEWS

LABOR MUST ELECT LABOR, SAYS BUCKLEY

J. H. Buckley, a prominent member of the Independent Labor Party, warned a large audience at the Labor Temple yesterday afternoon against direct action such as would involve violence of any sort.

Constitutional reform was the theme of Mr. Buckley's address, and he pointed out that the British workers had formed the British Labor Party because it had been proven that the aims of the worker could be achieved only through the medium of economic action.

Beauty of a different sort and with a good deal of the Celtic atmosphere was heard in the "Erishany Love Lilt," sung without accompaniment and arranged by Hugh S. Robertson, the words taken from the "Songs of the Hebrides" by Mrs. Marjory Kennedy-Fraser.

MORE RETURNED MEN ARRIVE IN TORONTO

Three hundred and forty four heroes of the great war arrived at North Toronto station Saturday at 7:15 and were given such a reception as Toronto maywell be proud to record in the days to come.

Arthur Hawkes asked the speaker not to forget that the great farming community was fast becoming a strong political factor in the Dominion.

JEWISH COMMUNITY DISCUSS CONGRESS

Speakers Emphasize Necessity for World-Wide United Jewry.

That the Jew, who has received his freedom and political emancipation, should turn to his more unfortunate brother in the unredeemed sections of the world, and by discussion and representation make an effort to lighten his load of ignominy and misery, was the desire of a large mass meeting of the Jewish community in Massey Hall last night, which was called for the purpose of discussing plans of the coming Jewish Congress which will be held in Montreal on March 16.

Toronto is entitled to some 40 delegates, and these will be selected by the adult population of the local community, who will poll their selections a week from today. This congress will consider all problems pertaining to Jewish national life, and about 3500 was collected last night as the initial expense for Toronto's representatives.

Corporal Ernie Minter of 65 Bolton avenue was another comradely by a number of relatives and friends. Young Minter has a wife and four children, and the whole family was present to bid him to his happy home. He was in France two years and nine months, and was about to receive his commission when the armistice was declared. He was then recalled to his regiment, the 3rd Battalion. Over the top six times is his excellent record, and many a scratch. Flight-Lieutenant Donn Smythe, M.C., son of A. E. S. Smythe, the well-known journalist, was among the arrivals. He had already achieved quite a reputation in athletic circles before he joined the forces nearly three years ago, and was among the most popular Varsity men in Toronto. He was not long on the Flanders front when he gained the Victoria Cross, but unfortunately was taken prisoner later. He gained his M.C. on the recommendation of the O.C. of an infantry unit in which he was on the observation duties during a raid. Another well-known soldier was Lieutenant W. G. Oxtoby, one of the best known military men in western Ontario. He was for many years the regimental sergeant-major of the famous 38th Dufferin Rifles of Brantford, and joined the C.E.F. nearly three years ago, gaining his commission during the past eighteen months. He is over 50 years of age, and is one of the old school of army men. Major B. C. Cowan, who was among the arrivals, and almost immediately entrained for his home city.

Mr. Thomas H. Gray of 122 Bellwoods avenue was another of the lucky ones who were greeted by entire families. He joined the 9th Battalion in May, 1918, and later transferred to both the 4th C. M. R.'s and the 12th Canadian Railway Battalion, and with them helped the imperialists around the Amiens-Cambrai line, finally reaching Mons on November 11. He was wounded in the arm at Hermies on October 29, 1917, and was in hospital exactly six months. Among the family who greeted him were two children, one of whom he had never seen, she having been born a month after he left for France.

Thirty bandmen have joined the G. A. C. since Saturday afternoon, and a G. A. C. band is to be formed immediately. Seventy new members were added to the muster roll of the association on Saturday and Sunday. A concert will be held tonight at Euclid Hall, under the auspices of the Grand Army.

Galt, Feb. 23.—At the municipal election in January the anticipated voted $15,000 to the Great War Veterans for a soldiers' memorial home. A committee of the G. W. V. A. has just purchased the fine large residence on S. Moffatt corner of South Alameda and Walnut streets, at a price in the neighborhood of $8000, which they will convert into a home. The Moffatt home is well located, and has beautiful lawn. The veterans will have $7000 with which to make necessary alterations and furnish the home.

BANK ACT DISCUSSED AT PEOPLE'S FORUM

"Education for Parenthood," was the foundation for a talk given by Mrs. R. E. Byres at the People's Forum, held in St. George's Hall, Elm street, last evening. E. G. G. who was to have spoken, was unavoidably detained and could not reach the city in time for the meeting. The hall was well filled and several present spoke on the economic issues of the day. E. Fanner advocated the repeal of the present Dominion bank act, the calling in of all currency now in circulation and the confiscation of all banks and bank properties in the country by the bank employees in no way of the treasury department.

Mrs. Byres said the fundamental thing behind many of the deficiencies of children was fear. Many parents do not know how to bring up children, and many others do not care. "It is interesting," she said, "to find out how children are brought up in institutions. Many of these children are not born defective, but have become so because of the want of proper care."

The speaker was very strongly disapproved of setting children to work at the tender age of fourteen, and believed that the only effective thing that would come when the people woke up to what their needs were and elected W. A. Douglas spoke on taxation exorbitant land values.

Windsor.—The Bramford water-works has saved $1000 this winter because of the moderate weather. The amount included wages for thawing pipes.

ROYAL GEORGE MEN RECEIVE WELCOME

Over One Hundred Toronto Veterans Greeted by Their Families.

Toronto on Saturday night greeted 24 returned soldiers, more than a hundred of whom were for Toronto, with a welcome worthy of the name. Among those who came in by the train (11 p.m.) were many men from such widely distributed points as Los Angeles, Denver, Chicago and Philadelphia. More than 50 men were for American points, and nearly 180 for Ontario Canadian points. There were very few stretcher cases, most of the men being able to walk. The citizens of the city were on hand to do honor to the returned soldiers, and many thousands of the rank and file of the citizens were present to give the heroes a rousing welcome as the train made its way to the Rosedale station.

A rather unique feature of the occasion was the presence of the Salvation Army band from one of the corps, in charge of Bandmaster Goff, which had gathered to do honor to the bandmaster's son, Fred Geff, who had seen away in France for almost three years. Corporal Ernie Minter of 65 Bolton avenue was another comradely by a number of relatives and friends. Young Minter has a wife and four children, and the whole family was present to bid him to his happy home. He was in France two years and nine months, and was about to receive his commission when the armistice was declared. He was then recalled to his regiment, the 3rd Battalion. Over the top six times is his excellent record, and many a scratch. Flight-Lieutenant Donn Smythe, M.C., son of A. E. S. Smythe, the well-known journalist, was among the arrivals. He had already achieved quite a reputation in athletic circles before he joined the forces nearly three years ago, and was among the most popular Varsity men in Toronto. He was not long on the Flanders front when he gained the Victoria Cross, but unfortunately was taken prisoner later. He gained his M.C. on the recommendation of the O.C. of an infantry unit in which he was on the observation duties during a raid. Another well-known soldier was Lieutenant W. G. Oxtoby, one of the best known military men in western Ontario. He was for many years the regimental sergeant-major of the famous 38th Dufferin Rifles of Brantford, and joined the C.E.F. nearly three years ago, gaining his commission during the past eighteen months. He is over 50 years of age, and is one of the old school of army men. Major B. C. Cowan, who was among the arrivals, and almost immediately entrained for his home city.

IT'S EASY TO HAVE SHANNON

You need not merely covet Shannon plumbing service—and wish you were only nearer. You can have Shannon service just the same—no matter what part of the city you live in. Shannon Rapid Motor Car Service has eliminated distance. Your telephone and Shannon telephone are the measure of distance between your home or place of business, and Shannon plumbing service. It's simply a matter of using your phone.

BETTER ATMOSPHERE BUT NOT MILLENNIUM

Lord Robert Cecil Says League of Nations Must Be Given a Fair Chance.

London, Feb. 23.—Lord Robert Cecil, in an interview with Reuters Limited before his return to Paris to attend the sessions of the peace conference, admitted that it was absurd to suggest that the mere signing of the league of nations covenant would then and there produce a millennium, but if given a fair chance, he said, it would certainly produce a better international atmosphere.

"If you can get into the heads of those who direct the affairs of nations that the world is the worst possible way of settling international disputes, you will have made a great advance," he continued. "Once you have impressed the world with the fact that war is stupid—stupid and barbarous—you will have gone far to create the feeling of security that will render disarmament possible."

"The unanimity of the conference makes it certain that the league will be established as soon as the peace preliminaries are signed. The league will comprise not only the allies, but all neutral nations with a stable government that care to join it. Almost everything except the seal of the league has been decided and no difficulty need be anticipated regarding the fact that the decisions of the league will, generally speaking, only be binding if unanimously arrived at. Will Exclude Interested Nations. The exclusion of parties directly concerned in any dispute will be enforced by the whole economic and military power of each of the nations of the league, and a permanent naval and military committee will be established to advise the league.

"The league is an eminently practicable scheme that will minimize the danger of repetition of what we endured during the past four and one-half years. It is easy to criticize the proposals made. They are avowedly and properly tentative. But let the critics answer these questions: 'What is their plan?' Are they content to run the risk of a renewal of the world war under still more terrible conditions, involving the destruction of the world's fabric of European civilization?"

RIGHTS IN MEXICO TO BE PROTECTED

Committee of Bankers Representing Britain, France and the U. S., Formed.

New York, Feb. 23.—The organization of an international committee of 20 bankers, 10 from the United States and five each from England and France, for the purpose of protecting the holders of the securities of the Mexican Republic and of the various railway lines of Mexico and generally, was announced here today by J. P. Morgan & Company.

The committee consists of the following bankers: Mr. Morgan, chairman; John J. Mitchell, Chicago; Walter T. Rosen, Charles H. Sablin, Mortimer L. Schiff, James A. Stillman, James N. Wallace and Albert H. Wiggin, New York; Robert Winsor, Boston; Laurence Currier, Charles Clarendon Clyde, E. R. Peacock, Vivian H. Smith and Vincent W. York, London; William D'Elchthal, George Heins, Andre Honnorat, Jacques Kuhl and Joseph Simon, Paris. Only nine American bankers are mentioned in the official list, and it is understood that the tenth member of the committee will be selected later from New Orleans.

The formation of the committee is the result of conferences here and abroad, not only of bankers, but of representatives of the three governments concerned.

ANOTHER INVITATION TO RUSSIAN CONFERENCE

Paris, Feb. 23.—While the idea has seemed to prevail in some quarters during the past few days that the proposed conference with the Russian faction leaders on Principe Island has been definitely abandoned, it is understood today that nothing has been abandoned except the first invitation issued by the council.

Another invitation for a conference is said to be under construction and will be issued after assurances are obtained that it will be accepted.

SOCIETY

Conducted by Mrs. Edmund Phillips.

His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire and General Paul Paull will be present at the second banquet for the veterans at the Armouries on Wednesday night.

General Paul Paull and the members of the French mission to the Orient will arrive in town from Victoria today. General Paull will be at the King Edward, and some members of the military mission will stay at the Queen's. A civic address will be presented by his worship the mayor. They will be guests of the Empire and Canadian Clubs at luncheon, and his honor, the lieutenant-governor, will entertain the distinguished Frenchmen at dinner on Tuesday evening, when the hosts will be honored by the presence of His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire. The hon. the premier and the Ontario ministers will also be present.

Mrs. David Jamieson will hold a reception in the Speaker's chambers after the opening of legislature on Tuesday afternoon, when Lady Hearst will receive with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Shaw were at home at Jenkins' galleries on Saturday afternoon, the occasion being a private view of Mr. Shaw's lately finished portraits of well-known people. So many of the originals were present that it was impossible to attend to the interest of their pictured faces. The Hon. Sir William Hearst faced the entrance and seemed to dominate the gathering. Next to him, Mr. Shaw depicted his expression of force and determination as he was just going to address a political meeting. The full length portrait of Mrs. Charlotte Proctor is a veritable triumph for the artist. She is depicted in a white evening dress, the detail of which is wonderfully portrayed. She is standing as the just having stepped from between a pair of dull yellow curtains. Mrs. Dinick's picture is not quite finished. It is a gift of the Salvation Army to Col. Dinick, an expression of thanks for his efforts on behalf of its late campaign. Another noticeable picture is entitled "The Lady With the Ruff," a fascinating face framed in grey feathers. Close to it are shown the shoulders of Mr. Ralph Connable and a nearly full length picture of the late Major Charles Moss. The life grace of a figure studied after Bouguereau is remarkable. Mr. Austin Shaw has on view portraits of many other Toronto people, and his pictures of children are delightful. A few of those are shown. Mrs. C. S. Gowski; High, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kortright; and the young son of the artist, Douglas Jemmett is a study in shades of brown that attracted a good deal of attention. Mrs. Shaw received in a gown of the latest design, elaborately braided with platinum. Her wide hat was of velvet in the same shade with a band of feather of a lighter shade round the crown. The hat was placed across the corner with a bowl of lovely shaded pink carnations in the center. A few of those present included Sir Edmund Odet, Wilnot Matthews, Lady Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Glenholme Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Le Touzel, Col. and Mrs. Dinick, Mrs. Gzowski, Mrs. Cassels, Mr. J. W. F. Forster, Mr. Wily Grier, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grier, Mr. and Mrs. Middleton, Major and Mrs. Kortright, Mrs. MacCann, Mr. Geo. MacCann, Mrs. Douglas Jemmett, Mr. and Mrs. MacCann, Mrs. Blair Burrows, Mrs. and Miss Cassidy, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Millman, Mrs. Alfred Wright, Mrs. Proctor, Miss Proctor, Mrs. Langman, Mrs. and Miss George Jarvis, Mrs. M. Kennen, Mrs. Carlyle McGill, Mrs. Arthur, Miss Fields, Mrs. C. Young, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. McCrimmon, Prof. Moyer. There was not a seat to be had in Massey Hall on Saturday, either at the orchestral concert or that of the choir in the evening, when the weather was truly appalling, the rain coming down in sheets and not a taxi to be had in town on account of the dances. A few of the well-known people who braved the weather were Miss Church, Col. and Mrs. Bruce, Sir Mrs. Elvella, Mrs. and Miss Levesque, Mrs. Wallace Barrett, Mr. and Miss Levesque, the Misses Grace and Edith Boulton, Miss Mary Smart, Mrs. W. Chadwick, Mrs. and Miss Kelly, Hon. Justice Riddell, Mrs. H. D. Warren, Mrs. Pepler, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rea, Mrs. William Dobie, Lady Eaton, Mrs. Thomas Davies, Miss MacMahon, Mrs. Thomas Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Green, Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Bay, Mrs. and Mrs. Walker, Sir Edmund Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Laidlaw, Mr. Russell Baldwin, General and Mrs. Ryerson, Mrs. and Mrs. MacMahon, Mrs. Mitchell, Miss Gouinlock, Mr. McMaster, Miss Dorothy Walker, Miss Cooper, Dr. and Mrs. Pepler, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Eaton, Mrs. and Mrs. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Palm, Mr. and George Burton, Mr. Tom George, Col. and Mrs. Harold Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Louis McMurtry, Mr. and Mrs. Vogt, Mrs. Helmutz, Jr., Miss Saunders, Col. H. C. Osborne, Miss Wishart, Mrs. Angus, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Victoria, Mrs. and Mrs. W. A. Kennedy, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. and Mrs. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Eason, the Rev. Frank Plummer, Miss Lina Adamson, Miss Deeks.

MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 24

How Canada Has Been Robbed of Her Precious Metals.

The World this morning quotes from The Canadian Mining Journal endorsing all we said about the condition of Canada's nickel industry and the shameful way untold quantities of platinum, palladium and others of the precious metals have been surreptitiously sent out of Canada. Not a return made, not a dollar in the way of war or revenue tax.

We have a greater store of mineral wealth in the Sudbury district than exists in a like area anywhere else in the world; and foreign companies—some German controlled—have handled it to our absolute disadvantage and to the great benefit of Germany. Nickel that was produced from Canadian ore actually got to Germany since the war began.

Our Platinum and Palladium Production. (Canadian Mining Journal (Toronto, February).)

In an article published in The Toronto World on Thursday, Feb. 6, Mr. J. F. Black of Sudbury calls attention to the production of precious metals. He quite properly emphasizes the fact that proper record is not kept of the precious metals contained in the ores mined in the Sudbury district. The statements published abroad concerning our output of platinum and palladium are very inaccurate, doubtless because of our own failure to publish accurate statistics.

In a graphic representation of the metals output of the British Empire, published recently by a supposedly good authority in England, Canada's output of platinum and palladium is given as a few ounces per year. Actually, the annual production is valued at several million dollars.

Very large quantities of these precious metals are mined with the nickel and copper of the Sudbury district. Our government records do not show what the amount is. Are Canadians so uninterested in their own resources that they will not undertake the task of keeping a proper record of production? It would cost something to obtain the exact figures by sampling every shipment, but with the co-operation of the producers a close approximation could be made with great difficulty. From what we can learn, a good deal of the precious metals is lost in the process of treating the matte. As most of the refining is done in the United States and Wales, we have no record of the recovery. Canadians should be advised, however, concerning the amount of precious metals contained in the mine, smelter and refinery products exported.

The Homeric Controversy.

The Homeric controversy is entirely incidental to the by-election interest. A month ago The World saw the change coming in popular opinion, and detailed an experienced newspaperman to ascertain if possible what effect it was likely to have upon the two by-elections in North Ontario and St. Catharines. Full enquiry having been made, The World, two weeks before the event, said the government would be badly beaten in North Ontario, and that only by the most desperate effort could St. Catharines be held for Premier Hearst. Then the special correspondent came across the seizure of two tons of liquor within the St. Catharines constituency. He reported that the liquor was a coincidence stranger than fact or fiction, the authorities emphatically denied the episode had anything to do with the elections; but it was up to the government to reveal all the facts. Nothing was revealed. The World's contemporaries were all parties to the suppression, and at the trial of the whiskey dealer nothing was allowed to come out.

Apparently there is going on a systematic and gigantic violation of the Canadian customs on the border. The World believes that the Homeric episode offers the highest inducement to the public to clear the integrity of Canada from the scandal of this illicit trade, which is admitted by Mr. Aycratt, when he says the Niagara district is full of liquor. The people of Ontario are not so lost to respect for law that they will suffer the continuance of any such conditions.

Full Franchise for Women.

Much the most significant thing in the speech from the throne is the promise of suffrage legislation for women. It marks the new era more decidedly than any other measure of reform which has been introduced. It is, in fact, the root of all new social reforms. Mrs. L. A. Hamilton very well said a few days ago: "Let the men look after property, and the women care for life. It is their natural function."

It is obvious that if women were to obtain their due influence in the political affairs, and enter upon the active duties of government, a new condition of society will be established. This will be reflected very soon in the greater care that will be given to the life of the people, and particularly to the life of the nation in the laws affecting the world birth and the well-being and education of children. There is no inheritance for a child like being well-born. The men children suffer as much as the women children under present conditions, but when mothers begin to legislate, they will have more consideration for the children they bear.

An attempt has been made by some opponents of the suffrage movement to convince the uninformed that the appearance of women in politics would lead to all kinds of folly and silliness, women being of such a kind that good sense could not be expected from them. No man who has had a good wife or mother can take such a view, and there are too many business men today depending on the advice of their women managers to allow this idea to spread far. Those who have had an opportunity of meeting women on public boards and committees will not agree with such views, and some of the best presiding officers in public life today are women. Of course, there are silly women, but the proportion is no greater than of silly men. No woman could excel the folly of some male legislators in their proposals and speeches.

Women now have and will continue to have various points of view as men. There is little likelihood of all men forming one political party and all women another. There will be division on party lines, division on policy, division on principle. But what will become evident will be the greater earnestness, the greater sincerity, the more eager devotion that women will bring, and above all the higher aims and conceptions of life which women will contribute to raise the whole tone of public life.

As to the quality of the women candidates, the future there need be no fear. Women are keener critics and more effective censors than men. The woman candidate that gets her comrades' endorsement must be met by a clever man if he is to be a successful opponent. This is what some of the politicians, especially of the machine order, object to. The tone and quality of the politicians as well as of politics will be raised. With better candidates a better way of electing them must be adopted, and proportional representation, which insures the election of the best candidate on the list, since because of the single transferable vote every voter can mark his ballot one, two, three, four, five and six or as many more as are necessary, thus securing no waste of his vote for a hopelessly defeated candidate or for some one so popular that he does not need it, but providing that it goes to elect a man he chooses of his own stripe or the best among his opponents? There is no difficulty about it. The names on the list of candidates which constitute the ballot are arranged alphabetically, and the voter merely marks them one, two, three and so on in the order of his choice.

Proportional representation alone would effect a great reform and a tremendous improvement in the character of legislative bodies. With the addition of full woman suffrage and the right to sit in the house of commons it is difficult to estimate the character of such a change, but we know it will be an improvement, and women will worthily fulfil the electoral traditions imposed by our democratic evolution.

Better Canadian Copyright Wanted.

Another attempt is to be made to do justice to Canadian authors and composers by bringing them under the same copyright conditions which authors and composers in other nations have enjoyed for some years.

The association which has the matter in hand wishes the federal parliament to adopt the terms of the British act and so protect our literary, musical and artistic workers in the same way as they are afforded protection in Great Britain and the United States, and the rest of the British Empire.

Just why the man who works with his brain should have no protection, the usually he is less well adapted to take part in the physical struggle for existence than others, is not clear. It is less able to hold his own in the fight. But this is all the more reason why a civilized nation should see that he gets a fair share of the wealth he creates, and that some means should exist to prevent his being robbed of all the fruit of his labor.

In modern methods of dramatization and picture-making the author's ideas are frequently of immense value, but under present arrangements if he lets anybody of a commercial turn connected with dramatic production get a glimpse of his thought he may be prepared to say good-bye to his property. Many cases are on record where Canadians who have submitted their work for acceptance and had it refused have found it afterwards under other names and titles, earning fortunes for the pirates. If there is a growing adhesion of the intellectuals to the advanced ranks it may quite frequently be traced to this cause. It must be admitted that it is calculated to come revolt to find other men growing wealthy on the ideas one has developed while their originator starved.

Western Farmers Ask Fixed Price of Wheat Notwithstanding Protest of Grain Growers' Guide

THE WORLD has been trying to give the public some idea of the views of the Western United Farmers in regard to a fixed price of wheat for 1919. The Manitoba convention of the grain growers, who met first, was against any such thing; after them the United Farmers of Alberta declared in the same way; but last Friday the United Farmers of Saskatchewan called on the Canadian government for a fixed price. They are three times as numerous as those of the other two provinces, and they have a good deal of reason in their claim. But it is only proper that the attitude of The Winnipeg Grain Growers' Guide, the main organ of the farmers, should be made public on this important question. We quote: FARMERS ASK NO PROTECTION.

Resolutions opposing the fixing of a price on the 1919 wheat crop were passed at both the Brandon and Edmonton conventions. These resolutions were published in full in The Guide in the convention reports. They are so important, however, as to warrant republishing, with some of the arguments advanced in opposition to the principle of a fixed price. The resolution passed by the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association was as follows:

Whereas the fixing of the price of wheat was a war measure for the steadying of the market and the keeping down of the high cost of living, and whereas, while we view with a large measure of concern the restoration of an open market that will make speculation possible in the wheat market, we do not believe that we should support a measure of protection to the producer;

Whereas we are, as producers, are willing that the prices of our products be governed by the law of supply and demand, but protest against scalpers and speculators taking toll which frequently amounts to more than the profits of the producer;

Whereas we are, as producers, are willing that the prices of our products be governed by the law of supply and demand, but protest against scalpers and speculators taking toll which frequently amounts to more than the profits of the producer;

Whereas we are, as producers, are willing that the prices of our products be governed by the law of supply and demand, but protest against scalpers and speculators taking toll which frequently amounts to more than the profits of the producer;

tions which make possible speculation in the handling of our chief food product, yet we feel that the continuation of a fixed price might unduly bear on the consumer and thus afford a measure of protection to the producer.

Therefore, be it resolved that we reaffirm our stand taken at previous conventions, and which is on record, as being opposed to any form of protection, and that we do not ask for a fixed price for 1919.

The resolution passed by the United Farmers of Alberta demanded legislation against speculation in grain and grain products:

Whereas the fixing of the price of wheat was a war measure for the steadying of the market and the keeping down of the high cost of living; and

Whereas we are, as producers, are willing that the prices of our products be governed by the law of supply and demand, but protest against scalpers and speculators taking toll which frequently amounts to more than the profits of the producer;

Whereas we are, as producers, are willing that the prices of our products be governed by the law of supply and demand, but protest against scalpers and speculators taking toll which frequently amounts to more than the profits of the producer;

Whereas we are, as producers, are willing that the prices of our products be governed by the law of supply and demand, but protest against scalpers and speculators taking toll which frequently amounts to more than the profits of the producer;

Whereas we are, as producers, are willing that the prices of our products be governed by the law of supply and demand, but protest against scalpers and speculators taking toll which frequently amounts to more than the profits of the producer; products; and that steps be taken to provide the necessary credit to finance all farmers who have grain for sale until such time as they desire to market same.

In passing the above resolutions the organized farmers reaffirmed their stand taken at previous conventions against special privilege. It was urged by delegates that the farmers have always stood for a free and open market. Just as the fixing of the price of wheat to keep it down during the war, while the price of everything else had to be allowed to soar without limit, was an unfair discrimination against the farmer, so the fixing of the price of wheat now to keep it up would be unfair to the consumer. With good crops in 1919, the Canadian exportable surplus might be more than 200,000,000 bushels. This would have to be sold on the open market in competition with wheat from Australia and the Argentine, which would mean a sharp drop in the price received and the price guaranteed would have to be made up by the government out of general taxes.

This would be a straight case of bonusing an industry out of the federal treasury. Should they fall to the temptation, declared several speakers, the organized farmers would be setting the seal of their approval upon a principle which they have always resolutely opposed. They would be cutting the ground from under their own feet in the fight against special privilege, besides laying themselves open to the charge of profiteering and of causing the high cost of living. They would be putting themselves in the same class with the protected interests.

POLAND WILL ISSUE NEW PAPER MONEY

At Present Foreign Coins in Poland Are All Varying in Value.

Warsaw, Feb. 23.—Poland within three months will introduce new paper money, the unit of which will have the same value as the French franc, under an act now before the diet. The reason for the step is the feeling that Poland should have its own national money, and also a monetary standard which could be quoted abroad, since at the present time there are three or four different kinds of foreign moneys in Poland, all varying in value. This makes it difficult for Poland to make necessary foreign purchases. The money which will be issued by a new national bank which may possibly be termed the "Fatherland Bank" when the division of lands has been decided.

The money situation in some respects is worse than in other countries in central Europe, because of the circulation of rubles, crowns and two kinds of marks, which are all of uncertain value. Poland does not intend to adopt temporary measures, but is stamping crowns which also circulate in Galicia, as do the Czech and Austrian coins. Polish bankers believe that such stamping tends to enhance the value of their crowns.

Arrangements have been made to have the new Polish money printed in Paris, London and Brussels.

Demonstration at Warsaw Against Interlarded Mission

Warsaw, Feb. 23.—A crowd, apparently made up of persons out of work, and led by Bolshevik agents, made a demonstration yesterday before the Hotel Bristol, where Premier Paderewski and the inter-allied mission to Poland have their headquarters. The army turned out to be rather tame, and the crowd was eventually dispersed.

Moscow, the seat of the Russian Bolshevik government, is quiet for the time being, pending the outcome of the proposed Princes' Islands conference.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

By JANE PHELPS.

Blanche Orton Monopolizes Neil.

CHAPTER XVII. Often when I saw older married people so indifferent I would think how perfectly awful, how tragic it was—tragic that they accepted each other simply as a matter of course, as they did their oatmeal or their coffee. Perhaps young married people were rather indifferently about many things, but wasn't it better than being cold and indifferent? Across the intimate commonplaces of married life ran the flashes of sympathy, the wonderful love that rose above all, that surmounted all else. When that was worn to indifference, where was the joy of living?

Yet, to tell the truth, I wasn't much given to analysis. One isn't often at 24, especially one who is mostly healthy and alive as I was. I kept busy, too! Neil and I, or some of my friends and I, altho the novelty of New York had worn off a little, and I often wondered how people who had been living this theatre-restaurant sort of life for years could keep up their interest in the same puerile amusements. At first I was wildly enthusiastic whenever Neil spoke of going to the play or to some smart restaurant for dinner or on occasion to some "Bohemian joint," as he called the sort of places frequented by glib-witted, well-dressed men with flowing neckties and frayed cuffs. But now I was a bit satiated with these evenings of noise, and I was beginning to feel that the wit of the gay places and was over polite—so I thought—to the coarse, red-faced men who often sought our table intrusively.

The furnishing of the new apartment kept me so busy for a few weeks that when I next saw Neil either to stay at home or to go out without me. Yet when he took me to my work and was smilingly out, after kissing me fondly and telling me to "turn in early," I felt strangely resentful and abominably lonely.

"I never saw anyone so generous with her property as you are," Lorraine Morley said to me one day when she had so much to say about Neil either to stay at home or to go out without me. Yet when he took me to my work and was smilingly out, after kissing me fondly and telling me to "turn in early," I felt strangely resentful and abominably lonely.

"Simply that Blanche Orton is delighted to monopolize Neil," I knew Perry's last night, and when she saw him come in alone she called him to her at once, then flitted outrageously with him all the evening. Why didn't you come, too?"

"I was dead tired. Wasn't Mr. Orton there?"

"Yes, but that means nothing." "I guess I shan't worry as long as he doesn't."

"I don't want you to worry. I might want to do the same thing some day! I am rather fond of your handsome husband myself, you know. I was only remarking your generosity. It is unusual—when a man is as attractive as Neil. Most women would be wildly jealous."

"Jealous because a man went out occasionally? I think that would be terribly silly as well as almost insulting to the man. I don't expect Neil so he tied to my apron strings simply because I am his wife." Yet, as I spoke, I felt a return of the resentment I had felt the night before when he had so much to say about Neil either to stay at home or to go out without me. Yet when he took me to my work and was smilingly out, after kissing me fondly and telling me to "turn in early," I felt strangely resentful and abominably lonely.

"He's mine now," I said with a little laugh that sounded forced. I knew Neil had known Blanche Orton for a long time and that he liked her. I wondered if Lorraine knew it also, and if she thought Neil still was in rapport with the lively Blanche. "See that you keep him. I don't envy you your job."

Ida at the American Women's Club

By IDA L. WEBSTER.

Two years ago three or four American women who were living here, owing to the fact that their husbands were employed in this city, gathered together one sunny afternoon, as women will do, and during the course of the visit, they decided to form a club to be known as the American Women's Club of Toronto.

On Saturday they met at the King Edward Hotel for the purpose of celebrating George Washington's birthday. Instead, however, of three or four women, there were perhaps 50 gathered together. In other words the result of that afternoon two years ago was that a large number of women, becoming one of the foremost of women's organizations in the city of Toronto.

As is natural in every city there are strangers within the gates, who, for some reason or other, do not get acquainted with the people as they should. Perhaps this is because they feel that they are not quite as the other folks, or perhaps it is just because they do not meet the right sort of people.

In Toronto there are a great number of women who are only in New York there are thousands of Canadian born people. The male of the species never fails to get acquainted with the people of their own kind, but only too often do the poor females content themselves with writing letters to each other and to their homes. As they become disoriented and gradually learn to say that they do not like the land of their adoption, as they learn the truth was known, they are simply lonesome for someone to talk everything over with. Women must have their own home town. We are striving to make our meetings, which occur twice monthly, as pleasant as possible. We want to be a help to those who are lonely. We want that but I feel certain that American women who join our club will form the strongest kind of fellowship with their own kind, and that would be good for all concerned.

"This wonderful city of Toronto is a city that we could ask the people of Canada not only our nearest neighbors but our nearest friends. The war has cemented a bond between us which will never be broken. In my experience the ladies of Toronto have been kind beyond words. In my own home town we have a place where every American woman could come just as she would in her own home town. We want this club to grow until every woman who is an American born will be on the membership list."

"I don't want you to worry. I might want to do the same thing some day! I am rather fond of your handsome husband myself, you know. I was only remarking your generosity. It is unusual—when a man is as attractive as Neil. Most women would be wildly jealous."

"Jealous because a man went out occasionally? I think that would be terribly silly as well as almost insulting to the man. I don't expect Neil so he tied to my apron strings simply because I am his wife." Yet, as I spoke, I felt a return of the resentment I had felt the night before when he had so much to say about Neil either to stay at home or to go out without me. Yet when he took me to my work and was smilingly out, after kissing me fondly and telling me to "turn in early," I felt strangely resentful and abominably lonely.

On my way home I kept thinking of that parting speech of Lorraine's. What did she mean? She had said she did not "envy me my job, and my voice had even more plainly than had her words, that she thought it might be a hard job. The "I don't want you to worry" part of it. She was judging Neil by what she of the married people she knew who had become indifferent to each other.

Tomorrow—Neil takes Blanche Orton's Advice to Exercise.

A Line of Cheer Each Day of the Year

By John Kendrick Bangs. (Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

MAN. 'E'en as the bird he leaves the upper air, 'E'en as the fish he dives beneath the sea, No number of the jungle anywhere Hath ruled his realm with greater power than he. The mysteries of life before his eyes Have been resolved to simple things of and clear. He's seized the lightning flashing in the skies And made it serve his purpose far and near. He's upped up the Winds, and tamed the Tide, And made them both subservient to his plan— How blithe are they who miracles can do! Yet cannot see the miracle of Man!

LAURIER LAD TO PRES OTTAWA

French and English Sermons.

The sermon delivered yesterday by Rev. Father John Burke, of Newman Hall, Toronto, was probably the first English sermon to be delivered in the Basilica in many a day. It was preceded by a sermon in French delivered by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's old friend, Archbishop Masillon, of Regina. The archbishop, at some length, upon the efforts of Sir Wilfrid to bring about better relations between the divergent races in this country. He compared the two races in this country to stone and brick which could never be converted into one another.

Old Colleagues Present.

Many who attended the requiem mass and followed the chief to his grave must have done so with strange emotions. In the few reserved for representatives of the crown were Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, lieutenant-governor of Quebec, and Hon. William Pugsley, lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick. Both sat for years at the council table as colleagues of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Few could have dreamed say five years ago that they would attend his funeral as official mourners under Sir Robert Borden. In the funeral procession walked Henri Bourassa and Arthur Meighen, two men who by challenging Sir Wilfrid's sovereignty in Quebec prepared the way for his downfall through the Dominion.

Honorary Pall-Bearers.

The following acted as honorary pall-bearers: The Hon. Sir Thomas White, Hon. Sir James Loughheed, Hon. Sir William Mulock, Hon. Sidney Fisher, Hon. Senator Belcourt, Hon. Senator Aylesworth, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. Charles Murphy, Hon. R. A. Dandridge, Hon. Senator Gwynne, Hon. T. O. David, Jacques Bureau, M.P.; J. A. Robb, N.P.; Hon. Sir Lomer Gouin, Monsignor Dimaria, Rev. Father Burke, Hon. W. P. Tupper, Hon. H. H. Dewar, M.L.A., Toronto; Hon. R. N. Parent, Ottawa; P. C. Larkin, Rev. T. Crawford Brown; T. G. McCreary, Hon. Senator Gwynne, Ottawa; Henri Bourassa, Montreal; Newton MacTavish, Toronto; T. A. Lowe, Newfoundland; G. S. Gibbons, London, Ont.; Rev. Canon J. P. Patterson, York; Geo. Goulay, of the Manitoba Labor Association; Sir James Grant; Robert Steller, ex-M.P.; Sir Donald MacBride, ex-M.P.; Hon. W. P. Tupper, M.P.; M. P. Davis; Sir George Burn; W. H. MacAuliffe.

Funeral Orator.

Rev. Father Burke preached from the text: "Moreover they bewailed him and all Israel made lamentations for him and mourned many days saying: 'How is the valiant man fallen that delivered Israel.'" "The task which rests upon me this morning is indeed a mournful one. I am unable to give you a clearer idea of the virtues of this figure who for so many years benignly and yet effectively graced the government of this free country. I find comfort in the thought that none but God can justly judge any man. There is a danger, however, standing in the shadow of this national catastrophe, that one might indulge in hyperbole. Am I not right in attributing to Sir Wilfrid Laurier a description he once used of that lover of Canadian unity, Louis Joseph Papineau? 'Did,' he said, 'any man ever live better fitted to be the idol of a nation? A man of commanding presence, of majestic countenance, of impassioned eloquence, of unblemished character, of pure disinterested patriotism, for years he held over the hearts of his countrymen almost unbounded sway. His commanding presence! It is out of place, most reverend sirs, that in this temple dedicated to the Most High I should speak of one who obtained gifts to this dead knight? Is it puerile, my brethren? Did not Mark Antony speak of Caesar's very mantle? Yes, a man of commanding figure was the dead chief. Who shall forget the noble brow, the chiselled mouth, the classic features, and the erect kingly form? He was ever the embodiment of grace. To the endowment of God he added the polish of a Chesterfield.

Impassioned Eloquence.

"His impassioned eloquence! When I speak of eloquence I hardly mean instinctively goes back three years to a speech delivered on the historical feud between the Hudson Bay Company and the North West Company, which culminated in a murder trial in the city of Toronto in the early part of the nineteenth century. Those who heard him that night, aged as he was with the frost of 70 winters upon his brow, may well recall the genius of Laurier as he made those vigorous old voyageurs of the 'forest primeval' walk before us. He clothes them with flesh and bone. Under the spell of Laurier's magic they were not spectres from a dead past—not 'they lived and moved and had their being'—they were our very eyes. The Varsity, the students' organ of Toronto University, asked the next morning, 'Why can't our professors make history as interesting as Laurier?'

Big Supply Available.

There can be little doubt that Buffalo was "getting over" the Smith, Buffalo or Niagara Falls, N.Y., would be the only place from which he could bring such a huge quantity of whiskey into Homer—land comply with the law's insistence upon quantity.

What is the Truth?

Ayeast asserts the foregoing facts have no impact, and their probable effect upon and relationship to the whiskey deal is to be determined in amount to nothing. A report gains round that the liquor was shipped in three for the elections, he says, "is the blackest lie out of hell." If that be the way to nail the lie is for Ayeast to tell the whole truth. What is he afraid of, if he only has the truth to tell? There must be something in the truth to be told. Of the World suspected the politicians from the beginning in this mysterious business; but held back imperative comment on the facts within its knowledge pending the trial. The World special correspondent was repeatedly assured before the trial by officials and political managers that there was absolutely nothing behind the appearances of election falsity in the delivery of two tons of whiskey in an unattended tavern in the particular part of the St. Catharines constituency which if the vote went decided one way or the other would decide the election. The correspondent spoke to men on both sides of politics about it, and to some of the leading men of the city, who do not prominently concern themselves with politics. The correspondent waited till the trial for all the mystery to lift. But Ayeast came to the trial and conducted it in such a way that the mystery deepened. Even then the World published the only natural and probable theory that could be deduced from the admitted facts.

FOURTEEN SPANISH I. W. W. ARRESTED IN NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 23.—Fourteen members of the Spanish branch of the I.W.W. were arrested by secret service men and members of the police bomb squad in two raids here today. While they are charged formally with having seditious literature in their possession, government agents claimed to have evidence that the men were engaged in a plot to assassinate President Wilson in Boston tomorrow. The arrests were made at the residence of Captain Peter Rubino of the secret service, who directed the raids. According to the police, the two Philadelphia men, who frankly admitted they were anarchists, stopped here on their way to Boston and intended to go to that city tonight.

MYSTERY DEEPENING; STILL UNEXPLAINED

looking foreigner in whom the eyes alone give any sharp indication of life. How he and Ayeast got together has not been disclosed. That the despatch of the liquor to Homer was of deliberate decision there can be no doubt. Clyde swore he had talked about the old hotel premises with another foreigner in St. Catharines whose name he did not know or recall he could not remember. He had talked with this foreigner about whether the old hotel could be rented. The unknown had told him the place could be rented. As a matter of fact it was not rented and nothing was done towards renting it. Clyde knew where to locate Smith without delay in the tailor shop of another foreigner, a Lithuanian named Urubos, whose address in Toronto is not disclosed. He told Smith he wanted 50 cases—two tons—of whiskey sent over to the unused hotel in Homer, and he wanted it quick. He wanted it before the 11th. Smith undertook to deliver it, but had to write an explanation why it could not be in Homer before the 11th. The negotiation had not been opened till the 7th. Four clear days were not allowed by Clyde for the delivery of two tons of whiskey in Homer. He wanted it sooner, and Smith had to excuse himself for the delay. It is absurd to suppose that two tons of whiskey could come by freight from Montreal, be taken over on a truck from Toronto, and deposited in the creek tavern at Homer within three days. The authorities in trying to put that idea over upon the public had themselves open to suspicion all along the line.

The Hurry Order.

The chief of police in St. Catharines thought the staff must have been the way from Montreal upon the motor truck. He had a little glimmer of intelligence—but not much. An illicit transaction of that kind could be done so expeditiously. Clyde had expected it done still more expeditiously. He wanted the stuff in Homer before the 11th. If Ayeast merely wanted to catch Smith or Lavelle, or both, why the haste? If on the other hand, it had to be where it could do the most good—or evil—before the 11th, there is a method in Clyde's mad hurry. The election was to be on the 15th. There would be only three clear days between the 11th and the 15th. Smith must have been afraid he would lose the business by delaying delivery till the 11th. This is his letter, taken down in shorthand, quickly read at the trial, without date or place of writing:

"C. K. Clyde: 'Dear Sir: Owing to an unforeseen mix-up I will not be able to get on with your order till Tuesday. I can not explain very well what caused the delay, but I will be able to make good on Tuesday, I promise you. This Tuesday was the 11th.'

What happened then? Smith, Lavelle, the three women, the truck and the auto had gone back to Buffalo. It was decided to seize the whiskey—or what remained of it, because five boxes had been taken away out of the quantity of seventy-five cases checked into the old James Hotel by Clyde. Whoever stole all that whiskey must also "have the goods" on Clyde and his employers. In brief, the chicken had flown the coop.

These Trade Marks Make it so Easy for You to Get Perfect Fitting Rubbers

SINCE the Dominion Rubber System focused their experience and skill on Rubber Footwear, they have made rubbers a comfortable and economical necessity.

There are no better rubbers in the world than these made and guaranteed by Canada's great pioneers in rubber goods; and no other country can boast of having six brands as consistently good as

"Jacques Cartier" "Merchants" "Maple Leaf" "Granby" "Dominion" "Daisy"

More than this, the enormous demand for these rubbers, due to their uniformly high quality, enables the Dominion Rubber System to make rubbers in every style and shape to fit every shoe.

These are two reasons why the leading stores like to carry, and are glad to recommend, any of these Dominion Rubber System brands of guaranteed rubbers.

Look for the Trademarks when you buy.
