GO-OPERATION IS KEY NOTE OF EMPIRE

Opposition Forced Laurier to Authorize Money Contribution to Britain in Emergency, Asserts R. L.
Borden.

To the Centre and South Toronto
Conservative Club, Mr. L. Borden, leader of the opposition in the Dominion Parliament, gave a lucid exposition of the attitude of the Conservative party towards the general question of Canada's co-operation in an imperial defence scheme from a naval standpoint.

Mr. Borden alluded to the situation in Canada as unique. Here was a self-governing colony with power to levy customs charges against the goods of the mother country, and foreign nations could not understand how the empire could hold together under such conditions.

The empire, declared Mr. Borden, was bound together by principles of self-government and liberty. The integrity of the empire in the future must be maintained, and that was only possible by co-operation. When this co-operation was realized the greatest nation or the greatest co-operation of nations in the world would hesitate to attack.

In introducing Mr. Borden, the president of the club, Arthur Vankoughen, referred to the loyalty of the leader of the opposition, who, he said, rose above party.

Mr. Borden, on rising, was greeted with cheers. He apologized for his visit to Toronto being scarce, but excused himself by saying that there were other parts of the Dominion which were more in need of missionary work than Toronto. During his term of office he had endeavored to uphold the best traditions of the party, and honor the great men who had gone before.

Contributors to the Navy.
In speaking on the question of Canada's contribution to imperial naval defence, Mr. Borden referred to the Va-rington resolutions which had been discussed in the house of commons last session. To Hon. George E. Foster he gave the honor of introducing the resolution. Mr. Borden's resolution, as being an initiative that he deemed it his duty to introduce a resolution which was more specific. After several amendments to the resolution had been unanimously adopted, Mr. Borden, empowering the government in times of peril or emergency, to make a grant to Great Britain for the purpose of imperial defence, the speaker discussed the resolution in anxious terms, that the resolution which was moved by the prime minister of Canada should have been opposed by the Conservative party, and any amendment which suggested voted down by a solid phalanx of government followers.

Hon. G. E. Foster, M.P., and Edmund Bristol, M.P., made a few brief references.

Naval Supremacy Essential.
"The empire of ours," asserted Mr.
Borden, "is endowed with activities which extend to every continent and spread over every ocean. Its naval supremacy is essential to its existence. The loss of this supremacy is lost disintegration and destruction are already at the gate and their entrance cannot be delayed." or denied.

Mr. Borden asked if it was a small thing to belong to the greatest empire.

MERCHANT DISAPPEARS

Delhi Neighbors Don't Know Where John Wilson Has Gone.

DELHI, Nov. 1.—The strange disappearance of John Wilson, an enterprising young business man of this town, is an unsolved mystery. His parents have arrived from Toronto and are anxiously awaiting news from those who have been searching for their son on Thanksgiving Day.

Wilson, a young married man, conducted a bakery and confectionery business here and his business at home has been a loss to the town.
His habits have been somewhat exemplary; he is a member in good standing in the local lodge of Oddfellows; he is highly respected in the community, and there is no reasonable explanation of his disappearance save that he has met with foul play or is suffering from mental disturbance. He dropped from sight while on a business trip to Simcoe, a nearby town, on Thanksgiving Day, Vanishing completely.

Wilson is about 25 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches in height, of medium build, with smooth-shaven face, light blue eyes and light brown hair.

STARVED FOR HER RELIGION

Young Hebrew Immigrant Got
No Kosher Food on Ocean Voyage.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Orthodoxy so uncompromising that it proved a bar to the instincts of self-preservation even the death of a child in Ellis Island Hospital of Gisella Breiner, a young Hebrew immigrant.

On the nine days of her voyage across the Atlantic the girl could get no Kosher food, and so fasted, with the result that, today she died of inanition.

Move House of Industry.
Prof. J. Smith wrote a letter to the General Ministerial Association last night, urging the revival of the House of Industry, outside the city limits, as it was a poorhouse, not for relief work.

Cotton Reaches High Spot

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—In spite of the enormous realization sales to-day, to-day's cotton market showed a strength that surprised the bull leaders, and sent all deliveries to high records for the season. March sold at $15.10, and May at $15.15, per cwt., the highest figure ever reached at this season of the year since the civil war.
This big advance followed a weaker opening. Chicago cotton was buyers, and there was a big public demand on the advance from $14.85, the lowest point of the morning.
In March last cotton was selling at 9 cents a pound.

CANADIAN COTTON TRADE FEELS EFFECT OF ADVANCE

Dominion Textile Co. Will Reduce Working Hours and Won't Accumulate Any Surplus Stock.

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—(Special).—C.
B. Gordon, president of the Dominion Textile Company, Limited, stated this evening that the rise in the price of raw cotton was a world-wide movement, and although it had not been felt so keenly here as in the United States, where a good many of the mills are already closed down, precautionary measures are being taken by the Canadian trade to protect their interests.
The rise so far, he said, amounts to about 30 per cent., and this cannot but exercise a considerable influence upon the price of manufactured goods; in fact, their prices having been very considerably advanced, it was to be supposed that their orders would fall off; consequently it was not a wise policy to accumulate any surplus manufactured stock during the present abnormal condition of the raw cotton market.

Under the American cotton manufacturers, the Dominion Textile mills have not closed down any of their establishments as yet. It might happen that the raw cotton holders, who are putting up the price, might be caught with large stocks on their hands.

The company had reduced the time somewhat—11 hours a day—and, as the 7000 employees in the mills around Montreal would naturally earn less, and with the manufacturers, feel the effect of the present condition of the market.

TAY PAY NOT COMING

But Sends Cheering Message to Irishmen of Toronto.

"Tay Pay" O'Connor, M.P., the distinguished Nationalist and journalist will not come to Toronto, was the announcement made by L. V. McBrady at the annual meeting of the United Irish League at the King Edward last night.

Mr. McBrady, who had just returned from New York, where he saw Mr.
O'Connor, brought a cheering message from the latter, however. It read as follows:

"The cause of Ireland was never brighter. Six hundred members of the British House of Parliament are in favor of home rule, as are also two-thirds of the best people in England.
The great obstacle to the home rule of Ireland is the House of Lords.
The government doesn't want to abolish the house of lords, but simply reform it.
Frank J. Roche was elected president of the United Irish League of America.
Other officers elected were: Patron,
Hon. Edward Blake; Hon. President,
Eugene O'Keefe; M. J. Haney, G. P.
McGinn; Hon. Vice-Presidents, E. J.
Walsh, Dr. Burke, J. C. Dalton,
Walter Beardsmore, H. H. Dewar, K.
C. and Lawrence J. Cosgrave; Vice-President, P. C. O'Brien; Secretary,
John T. Loftus; Treasurer, D'Arcy Hinds; Executive, Frank P. Lee, R. F.
Slattery, John McSheehy, Jas. McLaughlin, Dr. C. M. Heydon, W. B. Rogers and Dr. J. D. Hogan."

THIRTEEN IN ONE GRAVE

Interment at Yarmouth of Victims of Hestia Wreck.

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 1.—The bodies of the seventeen victims of the steamer Hestia wreck were buried at Yarmouth. Thirteen were buried in one grave, the other four grave receiving the remains of Captain Newman, First Officer McNair, Chief Engineer Munn, and Third Engineer Best. The funeral was attended by the mayor, town council and the United States Consul, Rev.
Dr. Hill, Presbyterian, conducted the service.

AGAINST SUNDAY FUNERALS

STRATFORD, Nov. 1.—(Special).—The Stratford Ministerial Association put itself on record to-day by drafting a resolution protesting against Sunday funerals.

Building permits aggregating $18,747 have been issued for the ten months of the year.

FAST HANDLING OF GRAIN CARGO

PORT COLBORNE, Nov. 1.—The steamer Coyapat was unloaded at the government elevator to-day with 35, 000 bushels of wheat, consisting of two different grades, in one hour and thirty-two minutes. This feat includes the trimmings of the vessel.

THREE NEW MINISTERS

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 1.—(Special).
Hon. Duncan Marshall was this afternoon sworn in as minister of agriculture and Hon. P. E. Lessard and Hon.
W. L. Buchanan as ministers.
On the nine days of her voyage across
the Atlantic the girl could get no Kosher food, and so fasted, with the result that, today she died of inanition.

WENT OVER 150 FOOT BANK

NELSON, B.C., Nov. 1.—(Special).—
A light engine on the C. P. R. Phoenix Branch was derailed and went over a 150-foot embankment, and Engineer
Leo MacIntosh and Fireman George Beatty were fatally injured.

BUDGET APPROVED BY SPIRIT OF GLADSTONE

W. T. Stead Present at a Remarkable Seance, in Which Disembodied Statesman
Talks on British Politics.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 1.—A stenog-raphic report of the amazing interview with the spirit of the late William E. Gladstone, which was gained at a seance arranged by William T. Stead, is printed in full in to-day's Telegraph.
According to this stenographic report, the seance was most successful, and a definite statement from the "Grand Old Man of England" was secured. The seance occurred Saturday at Mowbray House, with a medium, a stenographer and Mr. Stead among the mortals present, while the disembodied personalities taking part included Julia, Cardinal Manning, W. Stead, Jr., and W. E.
Gladstone.

The seance opened with prayer and a hymn, and then the clairvoyant reported that on the previous evening she had received a message from Glad-

YORK LOAN DIVIDEND SENT TO SHAREHOLDERS

Cheques to Amount of $650,000
Sent Out on Monday by Liquidators.

Ninety-eight thousand citizens of Canada will rejoice to-day over the receipt of cheques from the liquidat-ors of the defunct York Loan and Savings Co. The paper was sent out yesterday by A. E. Horington, who is attending to the financial end of the business for the National Trust Co., the assignees.

The cheques sent out amount to over half a million, or approximately $650,- 000. The dividend declared is 25 per cent.

There are 114,000 shareholders, 10,000 of whom have not submitted their pass-books and certificates. The other 600 were either in arrears or had borrowed from the company. Their arrears and share loans exceed this dividend.

It is expected that the next dividend will amount to 25 per cent. It will be declared when the rest of the property of the company is disposed of. The company owned $2,000 feet of frontage in Toronto, half of which has been sold.
If land values increase before the rest is sold the other dividend will be proportionately larger.

CARNEGIE NOT ALARMED

Doesn't Think There'll Be a British-German War.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Andrew Carnegie, multi-millionaire and peace advocate, arriving from a trip to Europe, said to an interviewer:
"What are the chances of war between England and Germany? England is in a state of frenzy wholly uncalled for. Germany has no idea of any contest, except the competition of commerce."

"Doesn't that often lead to war?"
"It seldom does," declared Mr. Carnegie.

He was sure the budget which is agitating rich Britishers would pass.

PARDEE IS CHIEF WHIP

Premier Gives the Office to West Lambton Member.

F. F. Pardee, M.P. for West Lamb-whip, in succession to W. S. Calvert.

This appointment has been anticipated for some time.

While the other whips are elected by the party in caucus, the office of chief whip is in the gift of the premier.

ROMPING BOY IS SHOT BY ANNOYED NEIGHBOR

Halloween Celebrant at Colling-wood is Severely Wounded—Gun Discharged at Random.

COLLINGWOOD, Nov. 1.—(Special).
—Thomas, the 14-year-old son of Reeve Clark, was accidentally shot to-night by James Viner, an elderly neighbor, as the result of Halloween celebrating.
The boy with a number of chums had been romping about in a way that incurred Viner's displeasure, and he let himself go with a shotgun, loaded with small shot. He says he fired at random and in the dark, to scare away the youngsters, but young Clark fell screaming with his back literally spotted with shot wounds. His chums carried him home and he is now resting easily under a doctor's care.

Viner is an elderly man and a gunsmith by trade.

2000 STUDENTS GUARD POLLS

Courts Prepare for a Lot of Election Business To-day.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—About $125,000 was wagered on the result of the may-orality result in New York to-day: In the financial district the prevailing odds favored Gaynor by about 2 to 1.

There were big round-ups of alleged repeaters to-day, as a result of investigations of the registration rolls by the state superintendent of elections.
One man, convicted of illegal registration, was sent for three years to Sing Sing, while two others got indeterminate sentences of from six months to four years.

A special grand jury in the Boro of Queens (Long Island) returned fifty indictments to-night against men alleged to have registered illegally. The courts are prepared to handle a great volume of election day business tomorrow. Four justices of the supreme court were assigned to sit in special term at the New York County Courthouse for by the number present.

Among the watchers at the polls will be nearly 2000 student volunteers, 100 of them recruited from Columbia, 300 from Yale and 150 from Princeton. It was feared that the presence of these watchers would be prohibited by a ruling of the corporation counsel to the effect that only legally qualified voters could act as watchers under the state law, the state attorney-general declaring otherwise.

W.C.T.U. "BALLOT SCANDAL"

More Votes Than Ought to Have Been for Presidency.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Wright of London was re-elected president of the W.C.T.U. by four votes over Mrs.
Gordon to-day.

A warm discussion took place this afternoon over the vote. Some delegates thought that one or two more ballots had been cast than were actually for the number present, and Miss Archibald thought the convention should know how this had happened. Mrs. Gordon moved that discussion be dropped, and the president, at a late hour, the whole election went over again. This was lost.

Mrs. Stevens (Ontario) was elected corresponding secretary; Mrs. Annie O.
Rutherford, Toronto, honorary president; Mrs. Bullock, St. John, treasurer; Mrs. McKinney, vice-president.

During a discussion on affairs at Government House, Halifax, Miss Archibald said she did not think that the W.C.T.U. should be dependent on the government, but that he kept it in the cellar.

MAYOR'S CASTING VOTE FAVORS THE CATARACT

Council Declines to Take Hydro-Electric Power on Terms That Cannot Be Secured.

HAMILTON, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—By the casting vote of Mayor McLaren to-night, those who are obstructing the signing of a contract with the hydro-electric power commission had a victory. Those who voted against the contract were Mayor McLaren and Ald. Crerar, Applegate, Clark, Gardner, Milne, Ryan, Allan, Guy, Keregin, and Fort—11. Those who voted to sign a contract with the hydro-electric power commission were: Ald. Ellis, Wright, Jutten, Hopkins, Lees, Morris, Sweeney, Robson, Cooper and Anderson—11. Ald. Fort, Ryan and Applegate got into the council on the pretence that they were hydro-electric men. The debate lasted over three hours. The hydro-electric power commission report of the special committee recommending the signing of the contract with the commission, and Ald. Crerar and Guy moved in amendment that the council apply to the commission for 1000 horsepower, subject to amendments that the commission has flatly refused to grant, providing that while Hamilton is not to be bound to take power exclusively from the commission, it shall have all the rights enjoyed by the other municipalities. The amendment was carried by the casting vote of the mayor. Ald. Farmer was the only absentee.

The day before was amended so that the council would be allowed their liberty from Nov. 1 to April 1. The council was in session until midnight.

DON'T BE BALD.

One of Our Readers Tells How She Obtained a Marvellous Growth of New Hair by the Use of Simple Home Remedy After Hair Specialists and Tonics Had All Failed.

I had what most people would call a beautiful head of golden hair. I prized it most highly, as I considered it my chief attraction. Suddenly it began to thin out very rapidly, and I was told it had intense itching of the scalp. Physicians and hair specialists said my hair was one of dandruff germs, hair microbes, etc., and that I must use Ezy Run and Menthol Crystals and immediately began its use. In three applications it entirely stopped the intense itching of my scalp, and in a very short time it not only stopped my falling hair, but I noticed an abundance of new hair coming in. In less than one month my hair was longer, thicker and more beautiful than ever. All due to this marvellous hair-growing herb. A lady to whom I gave the formula used it on her daughter, and she says it made her hair grow five inches in less than a month. Doctors to whom I have shown it say it is the only thing which will actually grow new hair, therefore I think the public ought to have it. At first I thought I would keep it a secret and sell the secret, but when I think how I suffered and how badly I needed it, I must need the same as I did. I feel I ought to give it to the world.

Therefore, I authorize this paper to publish the formula, which is as follows: Ezy Run, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1 dr.; To-Kalon Perfume 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls.

Ask your druggist for an 8 oz. bottle containing 6 oz. of Ezy Run, then put in the Menthol Crystals and the Perfume. Next add one-half of the bottle of Lavone de Compose, let it stand six to eight hours and add the remainder of the Lavone de Compose. Always buy the Lavone de Compose in a two oz. sealed jar, that it will not be adulterated and that it contains the juice of the Eucalyptus herb mentioned above, and it loses its strength if unsealed.

Apply the preparation night and morning and rub well into the scalp. It properly used it will soon produce most astonishing results. Be careful not to get it on the face or any part of the body where you do not want to produce hair.

CO-OPERATION IS KEYNOTE OF EMPIRE

of the world—greatest not only in its power and its material resources, but, above all, greatest in its national and political ideals and in its high endeavor for liberty, justice and equality of rights. On its material side was British citizenship nothing? Ask the seaman, the traveler and explorer, the miner, the trader and the missionary; all will tell you that in times of danger and stress they have daily thanked God for the Union Jack.

Co-operation in Defence.

"The integrity of the empire," Mr. Borden continued, "so long as we are preserved by co-operation in defence and in trade. Speaking only of the former, Canada cannot escape this first responsibility of nations, nor does she seek to escape it. It is said that she is in no danger of attack, and therefore no preparation or co-operation is necessary. So long as we remain in and of the empire, so long as we fly the empire's flag, Canada cannot hold aloof in time of danger. Without adequate naval defence our shores would be liable to capture, our shores to raid, our cities to tribute. The vast bulk of our foreign commerce is ocean borne, and our products are increased by this commerce and increase and develop. Is it not worth some reasonable measure of protection?"

"Is the empire liable to attack? Regarding the ominous signs of the latest statement of Britain and tell me whether you honestly believe that the mother country could safely dismiss her fleets and disband her armies?"

Could the Dominion be of the empire, share the benefits of British citizenship and yet evade its responsibilities? asked the opposition leader. It was inconceivable to believe such a thing, and he believed that the will of the people would affirm a declaration of parliament that "the responsibility of co-operation in naval defence must be met and discharged. That responsibility involved two considerations: (1) Canada's duty in the hour of emergency; (2) Canada's duty in future permanent co-operation.

Future Co-operatives.

Referring to the discussion before the house of commons last session, Mr. Borden explained his position in the matter as follows: "The responsibility as proposed by the prime minister, was modified at our instance in several important respects of which I need only name one in its original form. It was that against any money contribution to the imperial treasury for naval defence. Its modified form permits, and indeed, authorizes, in time of need, the raising of a Canadian unit of the navy, which would be considered and employed so far as may be reasonably possible." In that connection, however, he declared that the advice of the prime minister should be secured, and that the motive to do all such work should be an abiding sense of national responsibility.

Future Administration.

"There are those who with good reason point to conditions which have prevailed in certain public departments, and argue that it would be for the benefit of the nation to entrust the expenditure of public moneys for such a purpose to so dangerous a control. I admit that there have been wanton and wilful diversion and waste of public moneys, that extravagance and corruption have run riot in more than one department, and that the situation is most deplorable. And for all this it must be admitted that the people are ultimately responsible, because they will control. But the remedy is not to be found in any abnegation of Canadian responsibility, nor in any government. Otherwise we should hand over to Great Britain all our great spending departments for better administration. That would be a confession of our incapacity for decent self-government. The true remedy is to be found in the thorough cleansing of our public departments in the scourging of those who have profaned the temples of administration; in an awakened public opinion; in a less selfish and unthinking partisanship, and more of honest and intelligent patriotism."

About which least is known in the world about the republics of South America, most especially as regards their aboriginal inhabitants. No man is better able to describe these Indian races than the Rev. C. H. May, F.R.C.S., whose lectures have everywhere been intensely interesting on account of the remarkable adventures which he has experienced among tribes to whom the white man was entirely unknown. He will describe some of his experiences in St. Giles' Presbyterian Church, Oakville, on Wednesday night, and also exhibit a wonderful series of curios and beautiful stereoscopic views, collected during his travels. Mr. May's lectures have everywhere been received with approval, and the attendance has also been one of the highest class.

AT THE THEATRES

Royal Alexandra

Mary Manning.

Among the real stars of the theatrical world none excels Miss Mary Manning in the natural quality of her art. If the highest art is to conceal art, then here must take high place as the stage stands to-day, when artificiality reigns supreme. Not the least reason for commending Miss Manning's appearance at the Royal Alexandra last night in "A Man's World" is that while the play itself is constructively artificial, her acting and that of the excellent company supporting her, reveals that defect to a degree which renders it really unobtrusive.

Rachel Crothers, the author, has won her spurs in the dramatic field. In this play she points a moral which is likely to be more and more beneficially regarded—that a woman has a right to expect from a man the same purity and conduct of life which he requires from her that he resolves to make his wife. Perhaps under inherited conditions that is too high a standard to expect, but this play embodies the sufficient compromise that the man who has sinned and whose wrongdoing is found out, sincerely repents, and in his repentance finds the gate of happiness again opened.

In the first act a Bohemian circle is introduced, both of men and women. They recognize each other as comrades, but the leaven of jealousy is at work. Frank Ware, a successful author, has adopted a boy and refuses to reveal the story. Scandal gossips, one man believes in her, others doubt, and the man she loves, believing him to be the realization of her ideal, proves to be the father of the adopted child. The awakening to the realities of life, the revelation that comes, form the tragedy of the play, but in the end love triumphs through the man's manly acknowledgment, and this is left—that it were better had there been equal standards for both men and women. This is the moral lesson of the play.

Miss Manning, as Frank Ware, had a role that gave scope to the high range of her art. The character of the stern and "easy" life of Bohemia, that quality never failed in the stress of the later scenes. Her interpretation was unflinching in its range and fully warranted the repeated and appreciative tributes she received. Miss Theresa Dale, as Leone Brune, and Miss Helen Ormsby, as Clara Oakes, gave excellent support. Charles Richmond, as Malcolm Gaskell, revealed himself as a sterling actor that never overstepped the bounds of legitimate art, while looking nothing of the adaptation of current life. It is indeed of Wall-street and Fifth-avenue. It puts modern apparel upon old and everlasting truths and portrays with fidelity the commercialized spirit of the age.

The key to the character of "John Burckett" is called "Ready Money" Ryder. "Ready Money" is sounded in the speech of "Shirley Rosemore," the "Mouse" of the play. Ryder has likened himself to Alexander and Napoleon, but "Shirley" tells him that he is nothing more than a "Nero" Ryder. It is supposed to be the richest man in the world, but he uses his vast wealth merely as a means of acquiring money and the unlimited power which goes with its possession. He uses his influence to corrupt legislation, to bribe the judiciary and to further these holy ends of the coteries of capitalists associated with him. He brooks no opposition, tolerates no suggestions or interference and dominates over every one with whom he comes in contact. He is a tyrant and a brute. He cannot, however, control his own family and this accounts for his brutality towards others, who must meet him. His heart is reached, however, through the soothing influences of a gentle, determined girl, who finally conquers his spirit and reveals the human chord which reposes in everybody, no matter how ordinary. The development of the play in which there is a touch of filial love interest and a touch of filial devotion, is natural and cumulative satisfying as to make a visit to the play a positive joy.

Scientifically, the production is complete in every detail and the cast which presented the various characters was fully as capable as any seen in the play.

last week with "A Night in a London Music Hall," put up a second offering, which, while not so finished as the first, is a perfect whirl of mirth and action. It is "A Night in the Shum of London," and tho it is miles long, there is not enough of it. It may also be listed as one more proof that England is the home of perfect pantomime.

Mazuz and Masette have a bit of comedy acrobatics, which, to the word of the male member, is "good."

There is always something and on a vaudeville bill and on this one Nelson Jackson is it. He says he is only there to fill in and the audience let it go at that. Sarah Brandon & Co. have a sketch which is funny in parts, but is not original much. The finish is good.

Forrester and Lloyd, conversationalists, received thunderous applause, chiefly from the upper galleries, and Frances Wood rolls hoops.

But remember this: there isn't anything funnier than Eluido. His stuff and the way he does it is in a class by itself.

Shea's.

Acme of Ventriloquism Excellence.

Admitted that the average ventriloquist is a bore and perhaps the most tiresome known to mankind, it appears that all the more marvelous that Tom Edwards, who is a feature of the bill at Shea's this week, puts up a sketch in which there is not one dry minute. His dialog with his tough vaudeville friend, is a loud, loud scream, while his presentation of a sporting but subdued hubby, minding a family of five in the very earliest stages of matrimony, while his suffering wife is attending a meeting of her kind, is one of the most delightfully humorous and likewise accurate bits of human comedy that can well be imagined.

Ida Fuller is here again with her weird dances, with her usual unusual light effects, yards and yards of silken gauze. Her Vestivus dance, in which she portrays the suicide of a deserted damsel, who leaps into the flaming crater after a desperate struggle with a hideous but kindly-intentioned hag, is fascinating, and her butterfly dance is a triumph of beautiful light effects.

The Olivetti Troubadours are musicians of more than ordinary ability and further (and also rare) they display much wisdom in the selection of their numbers. The violin and a species of reinforced guitar are their instruments and thunder is their applause, accorded by the fit with great effect. The play has more dialogue than action, but is not without clever situations of a psychological order. The scenes are relieved by the clever ingenue comedy of Ella Buller, a Californian poppy just blown, acted with great sprightliness by Miss Agnes Patton.

Miss Oaker makes the most of a difficult part, and manages to convey to the audience the charm that captures Mr. Kerr. This part is handsomely played by Hamilton Revelle, and the other characters are very carefully done. The play is in eight, and Shina, the Japanese servant, by T. T. Mammoth, Judge Buller, by Frank Hatch, Harry Cressey by J. U. Sullivan, and Miss Britton, by Lydia Knott, are all excellent. Miss Oaker wears an exquisite orchid dress in the last act, a dream in mauve and green, and the scenery is of the well-known species. The house was well filled.

Star.

Clever Burlesque Production.

The attraction at the Star this week is a real winner among the burlesque shows. It is presented under the title of "The Greater Tiger Lilies" and is without doubt one of the big hits of the season. The management carries one of the largest choruses known in this kind of entertainment. The girls are all pretty, good singers and dancers, while the boys are of the same high standard of attractiveness. The scenic painting and electrical effects are also of the best.

The first burlesque is an amusing farce woven around the misadventures of two prospectors and a real live goat. The leading roles are those of an Irishman and a Jew. This odd mixture of nationalities, combined with animal makes the act a real success from start to finish.

The olio is an excellent feature and includes "The Three Musketeers," a song burlesque, and Sam Mann and Co. in "The Producer." This sketch intrigues the audience into the mysteries of life beyond the scenes and the true roles of the stage manager. It is remarkably clever and entertaining and well deserved the applause the audience gave it. The olio is a real success. The attraction is "Zallah, the Dancing Venus," in her original Trans-Atlantic novelty, "The Egyptian Sun Dance," something unique in Toronto and well worth seeing.

Gaiety.

Fred Irwin's Gibson Girls.

Fred Irwin undoubtedly has his bump of originality well developed. The Gibson Girls in Burlesque, in a French style, is a masterpiece of burlesque. "Frederick" attracted big crowds to the Gaiety at both performances yesterday. High, nifty, night life is depicted from the risqué and the risqué and many hilarious scenes kept the audience cheerful to the point of boisterousness.

When it comes to novelty—something away from the ordinary run of burlesque, "The Dance of Death," fills the bill. It is indeed a wonderful conception.

"How Patsy Went to the War" is a laughable musical sketch, cleverly acted by John and May Burke, while John, in addition to his musical accomplishments, can play the piano in a way that would make even Paderewski sit up and take notice. The plot is amusing and deals with a search for a young and beautiful princess deprived of a fortune and reduced to the level of a street singer. Many catchy airs are interspersed and the display of costuming is certainly lavish.

The scenic effects and stage settings in general have not been excelled here for a long time.

Sembrich To-Morrow.

For her farewell concert in Massey Hall on Wednesday evening, Mme. Sembrich has selected a very charming program. She has the assistance of Francis Rogers, one of the most delightful of baritone, and Frank La Forge, a very talented pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold have moved to the Traders' Bank apartments for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Macdonald have gone abroad for six months.

Tom Edwards, who is a feature of the bill at Shea's this week, puts up a sketch in which there is not one dry minute.

His dialog with his tough vaudeville friend, is a loud, loud scream, while his presentation of a sporting but subdued hubby, minding a family of five in the very earliest stages of matrimony, while his suffering wife is attending a meeting of her kind, is one of the most delightfully humorous and likewise accurate bits of human comedy that can well be imagined.

Ida Fuller is here again with her weird dances, with her usual unusual light effects, yards and yards of silken gauze. Her Vestivus dance, in which she portrays the suicide of a deserted damsel, who leaps into the flaming crater after a desperate struggle with a hideous but kindly-intentioned hag, is fascinating, and her butterfly dance is a triumph of beautiful light effects.

The Olivetti Troubadours are musicians of more than ordinary ability and further (and also rare) they display much wisdom in the selection of their numbers. The violin and a species of reinforced guitar are their instruments and thunder is their applause, accorded by the fit with great effect. The play has more dialogue than action, but is not without clever situations of a psychological order. The scenes are relieved by the clever ingenue comedy of Ella Buller, a Californian poppy just blown, acted with great sprightliness by Miss Agnes Patton.

Miss Oaker makes the most of a difficult part, and manages to convey to the audience the charm that captures Mr. Kerr. This part is handsomely played by Hamilton Revelle, and the other characters are very carefully done. The play is in eight, and Shina, the Japanese servant, by T. T. Mammoth, Judge Buller, by Frank Hatch, Harry Cressey by J. U. Sullivan, and Miss Britton, by Lydia Knott, are all excellent. Miss Oaker wears an exquisite orchid dress in the last act, a dream in mauve and green, and the scenery is of the well-known species. The house was well filled.

The olio is an excellent feature and includes "The Three Musketeers," a song burlesque, and Sam Mann and Co. in "The Producer." This sketch intrigues the audience into the mysteries of life beyond the scenes and the true roles of the stage manager. It is remarkably clever and entertaining and well deserved the applause the audience gave it. The olio is a real success. The attraction is "Zallah, the Dancing Venus," in her original Trans-Atlantic novelty, "The Egyptian Sun Dance," something unique in Toronto and well worth seeing.

Salesmen Trim the Managers.

The salesmen and the department managers of the Adams Express Co. had a meeting at the Empina at the T.B.C. last night for an oyster supper, the latter winning two games out of three. Captain Williams was high man with three.

Capt. William Crawford of Berkeley street fire hall, whose probable nomination was announced in The Standard a few days ago, has now changed his mind, and is on a two months' leave of absence.

Capt. Crawford, as stated at the time, expects to be made inspector of official buildings, under the minister of public works, but it appears that a hitch has arisen over a question of salary. The government is willing to pay him $2000 a year for the position of inspector, but as Capt. Crawford, after two years' service, will be entitled to a pension of $2500 annually, he has declined to make the change unless the government comes up to $2600 at least. Thereby hangs a tale, which is being centred around the minister of public works, in whose constituency Crawford is a leader.

STANTFORD, Nov. 1.—(Special Correspondent.)—The shooting of C. Martin, on the street, with intent to injure, is under trial at the county jail. Two of the Indiana Garlow hit arrest were convicted. Sam Ross was convicted of being drunk. Garlow's presence at log-house meeting was to help out the liquor traffic on the river.

Duncan Ross Resigns.

Hon. Thomas Crawford, speaker of the legislative assembly, received today the resignation of Duncan C. Ross as member for Middlesex. Mr. Ross is contesting the Liberal interest the riding of Middlesex for the forthcoming election.

Mr. Ross' resignation makes his vacancy in the local house since election a year and a half ago.

Last week saw the finals of the men's championship for the cup presented by the president and also the ladies' championship for the cup presented by the club. A Roman Williams won the men's challenge cup after a keen game with W. Cooper and Mrs. J. C. Moore won the ladies' challenge cup after a keen game with Mrs. J. T. Matthews. Both results were very popular, as the winners were the first champions of the club and ladies' clubs, respectively, and have both worked hard for the success of the club. Next Saturday there will be a handicap for the men against bogey.

Prefers Boxing to Rugby.
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—On account of the recent football fatalities, Samuel L. Davis, superintendent of the public schools of Pittsburgh, took a decided stand against the game to-day and it is probable every influence will be brought to bear for the suppression of football here.

Supt. Andrews, "Too many young men are killed and severely injured in football," he said, "and being the first period in which the game was introduced, it is probable that the game will be suppressed here."

SHORTLY, N.J., Nov. 1.—Miss Joyce, who was the one-day golf contest arranged for visiting British women golfers at the Baitu Club this afternoon. Aggregate scores were counted and their card was ball in the clubhouse near the clubhouse.

Miss E. S. Temple of England and H. W. Hack of Belfast were the winners of the match. Miss Temple, who was accompanied by Mrs. C. M. Gray, both of England, also played, but the former lost his ball in the clubhouse near the clubhouse and returned no card.

The Golf Winners.
BALTIMORE, Nov. 1.—John L. Taylor, president of the Boston American League team, is after a financial interest in the local men is admitted by Edward Hanlon, president of the Baltimore Club, who added that Mr. Taylor wanted the interest in an investment and he, Hanlon, scouted the idea that Baltimore would be made a "farm" for the Boston Americans.

Rugby Off at West Point.
WEST POINT, N.Y., Nov. 1.—The announcement that the balance of the games on this season's football schedule would be called off did not surprise the cadet corps when they learned this morning the decision which Col. Scott had reached last night. With their grief still bearing heavily upon them, the cadet corps have little inclination for the game, and the members of the team have no desire left to continue the game.

Age of Derby Horses.
Diomed, First Winner
Died at 30 Years

The claim that St. Blaise was the oldest Derby winner on the long list has opened up a controversy in England and the champions have unearthed the fact that Diomed, winner of the first Derby in 1780, was a year older. It is said that this horse, which was brought to America, completed his thirtieth year, while St. Blaise completed twenty-nine. St. Blaise won the big classic of 1884 and "Vigilant," who saw the race, says of it: "Well do I remember the finish for the Derby with Wood on St. Blaise, Fred Webb on Highland Chief and Fred Archer on Galliard. It was such a close thing that no one but the judges could know what had won. I believe I am right in saying that Webb thought his mount was first past the post. St. Blaise's horse was a rather poor horse for a Derby horse, and he was certainly not a high-class Derby winner. But he was the best horse I ever saw in the race, but he had a leg, and of the others Galliard was by himself, but he was a hot, extensible beast—more so than was his sire, Galopin—and the on his true form he should have won I have no doubt. It was wrong to blame the jockey for not winning on him."

remember Galliard in the paddock before the race, all father and great and creating any amount of disturbance. This kind of a horse is all nerves and may fall to do himself justice on a particular occasion, the public will never allow for such possibilities, and I suppose should be told to the end of time that the late Lord Palmouth gave up racing on account of the Galliard's defeat for the Derby. That was not so. I have been assured by Matt Dawson, and more than that, he has never not with to know. Highland Chief stood at Lord Eblenmere's stud, but never did much good. Galliard, however, made some mark as a Laybourne Grange and would have done better had he not been used for two seasons in the year, that being the first period in which the Argentines were buying mares in this country. He was not a few good brood mares, including the dam of Bessy Ronald, and for that alone he deserves to be remembered."

Along with Diomed and St. Blaise following will be found 15 Derby winners that have been the sires of 20 years or more of Derby.

Age of Derby Horses.

The claim that St. Blaise was the oldest Derby winner on the long list has opened up a controversy in England and the champions have unearthed the fact that Diomed, winner of the first Derby in 1780, was a year older. It is said that this horse, which was brought to America, completed his thirtieth year, while St. Blaise completed twenty-nine. St. Blaise won the big classic of 1884 and "Vigilant," who saw the race, says of it: "Well do I remember the finish for the Derby with Wood on St. Blaise, Fred Webb on Highland Chief and Fred Archer on Galliard. It was such a close thing that no one but the judges could know what had won. I believe I am right in saying that Webb thought his mount was first past the post. St. Blaise's horse was a rather poor horse for a Derby horse, and he was certainly not a high-class Derby winner. But he was the best horse I ever saw in the race, but he had a leg, and of the others Galliard was by himself, but he was a hot, extensible beast—more so than was his sire, Galopin—and the on his true form he should have won I have no doubt. It was wrong to blame the jockey for not winning on him."

remember Galliard in the paddock before the race, all father and great and creating any amount of disturbance. This kind of a horse is all nerves and may fall to do himself justice on a particular occasion, the public will never allow for such possibilities, and I suppose should be told to the end of time that the late Lord Palmouth gave up racing on account of the Galliard's defeat for the Derby. That was not so. I have been assured by Matt Dawson, and more than that, he has never not with to know. Highland Chief stood at Lord Eblenmere's stud, but never did much good. Galliard, however, made some mark as a Laybourne Grange and would have done better had he not been used for two seasons in the year, that being the first period in which the Argentines were buying mares in this country. He was not a few good brood mares, including the dam of Bessy Ronald, and for that alone he deserves to be remembered."

Along with Diomed and St. Blaise following will be found 15 Derby winners that have been the sires of 20 years or more of Derby.

CANADA AND U. S. TARIFF.

According to the latest report the United States is not desirous of inaugurating a tariff war with Canada. This anticipation has probable grounds, for as the balance of trade is strongly on the side of the republic, it would certainly be the greater sufferer by any restriction of commercial exchange. The situation creating the possibility of discriminatory measures being used against the Dominion arises out of the action of the senate in striking out of the Payne bill the clause excepting preferential rates between a mother country and her self-governing states or dependencies and leaving it to the president, with the advice of the tariff commission, to decide whether in any particular case there was undue discrimination or not.

The United States Senate has steadily gone from bad to worse in its handling of the republic's foreign relations. It is practically irresponsible, since it has no control over the national executive, though it can thwart treaties and agreements which the president and his cabinet consider advisable on public grounds. This and the senate's record in general legislation has evidently aroused resentment, and now that a majority of the states have declared in favor of popular election to the senate chamber, an important constitutional change appears to be close at hand. The senate's stand on inter-preferential arrangements within the bounds of an empire is in sharp contrast with the United States relation with its own dependencies, and the position is not likely to make Canadian opinion any more amenable to coercion should that be attempted. Whatever the issue, the Dominion will pursue the policy which is best adapted to promote its own development as an individual power.

STRENGTH OF BRITISH PARTIES.

According to the votes polled at the last British general election, the Unionist members in the house of commons for Great Britain should have numbered something over 200, as it was the party had only 189 members returned. Out of 1,400,000 votes cast in England, Wales and Scotland, Unionist candidates received 2,385,518; Liberal candidates 2,580,166, and Labor and Socialist candidates 524,181. Yet the membership stood respectively at 129, 374 and 54, the result giving the Liberal and Labor-Socialist parties the greatest majority ever accorded, and the Liberal party alone a large absolute majority in the whole house. This result was, of course, due to the anomalies of the British electoral system, and is not likely to be repeated, more especially since the by-elections show the Unionist poll to have increased by 33,373, while that of the Liberals has decreased by 21,118.

When the present house of commons met, each Conservative member represented upwards of 17,000, each Liberal member about 7000, and each Labor-Socialist about 9700 of the electors of Great Britain. These proportions are anomalous and are the consequence of the numerous constituencies, which gave only small majorities in favor of the supporters of the Liberal government. In 52 constituencies the majorities were under 500, and in 145 under 1000. Comparatively small turnovers in electoral opinion would suffice to alter the existing representation very materially, and, looking to the figure of the by-elections, a reversal in these and other cases cannot be considered improbable. But the Conservative party, should Scotland and Wales remain loyal to the government, has a very formidable task before it, and in a general election efforts could not be concentrated on any one constituency, as they were at Bournemouth. On the other hand, it is very unlikely that the present government majority will be maintained.

COLLEGE ROWDIES.

Toronto University is suffering from impure blood. Epsom salts is an old fashioned remedy, but the disease is too deep for such mild treatment. Leeches or phlebotomy may be necessary.

Just what constitutes a hoodlum has not been authoritatively decided. The hoodlum is himself incompetent to give an opinion. He does not know his right hand from his left, and is incapable of judging in matters of decency and refinement. He has propagated himself to a dangerous extent in Toronto University, and his presence constitutes a disease in that body politic.

It was hoped by those in authority that the healthy members of the body might act as phagocytes, and abolish the rowdy element by assimilation, but there is evidently too much of it for benevolent methods. These young men from the back districts are not sufficiently civilized to appreciate their situation. Citizens who come across some of them in down-town restaurants, and have to submit to their disgusting behavior, are not surprised to hear about their conduct when they turn loose on a gala occasion. If there were any fun or humor about their proceedings it might be pardoned, but only coarse youths descend to the insulting of young ladies, tearing their garments, and maltreating their escorts. The president has appealed on more than one occasion, and Principal Hut-

WEST TONTO SCHOOLS

Management Committee Passes on Salary Increases.

Increasing the salaries of the teaching staff of the West Toronto Collegiate Institute to the same standard as is paid there, was about the only matter that engaged the attention of the finance committee of the board of education yesterday. Principal Colbeck's salary was increased from $2000 to $3000, R. Gourlay, $1800 to $2200; H. Charles, $1500 to $1900; F. G. Johnston, $1300 to $1700; G. M. Jones, $1400 to $1500; W. A. Evans, $1100 to $1200.

Regarding Principal Gray of the East Toronto High School, formerly of Jarvis-street Collegiate, a resolution was passed to raise his salary from $2000 to $2200, thus ranking him as a specialist.

BUILDING IS BOOMING.

Apparently there is no cessation in Toronto's building boom. In October there were 546 permits, as against 52 for October, 1908, representing respective values of $1,540,355 and $1,019,482. For the month of November, 1908, there have been 432 permits, representing $1,595,032, as against 3,352 permits, representing $9,375,502 for the first nine months of 1909. There have been 6,048 buildings erected, as against 4,578 for the same period of 1908.

GUELPH POCKETS $5000.

GUELPH, Nov. 1.—(Special).—The City of Guelph gets a profit of about $5,000 from the municipally-owned street railway, after paying all expenses, and deducting $5,000 to build a new bridge over the river on the line to the Ontario Agricultural College.

The sleeping car comfort of the Canadian Pacific Railway, leaving Toronto daily for Ottawa, Montreal, Detroit, Chicago, Winnipeg and the Pacific Coast, are built in the company's own shops at Angus and are built higher, with berths a little wider (giving increased comfort and better ventilation) than the deal sleeper. Passengers' comfort is studied in every way; soft beds and dainty bedding for the weary body, harmonious decorations for the eye, perfect cleanliness and plenty of air for health's sake. The service maintained by the C.P.R. porters needs no mention and is conducive to that "fresh" morning-after feeling.

Excelsior Life Insurance Co. v. Evans.—G. H. Sedgwick moved on consent of all parties for a final order of foreclosure. Order made.

National Trust Co. v. Miller.—W. C. Hall, for defendants, Miller and Dickson, moved to change venue from Toronto to Port Arthur. F. Aylesworth, for other defendants, J. A. McIntosh, for plaintiff. Order made. Costs in the cause.

Hay v. Bismontette.—R. S. Detrich, for defendants, moved for an order for security for costs. E. P. Brown, for plaintiff, contra. At defendant's request motion enlarged until 12th inst. action to proceed meantime if plaintiff so desires.

Reid v. Miller.—W. C. Hall, for defendants, Miller and Dickson, moved to change venue from Toronto to Port Arthur. F. Aylesworth, for defendant. Order made. Costs in the cause.

Donovan v. National Trust Co.—S. V. McKinnon, for defendant, The National Trust Co., moved to dismiss for want of prosecution. No one for plaintiff, or other defendant. Order made.

By not to issue until Tuesday 2nd. Glick v. G. T. R.—Stewart (Curry & Co.) for plaintiff, moved on consent for an order allowing both parties to amend as advised by counsel in any event to defendants. Order made.

Allan v. Turk.—T. N. Pheasant, for defendant, moved to set aside notice of trial as irregular. H. S. White, for plaintiff, contra. Order made, both setting aside notice of trial and allowing plaintiff to amend statement of claim by naming new sound.

Steen v. Moss.—H. S. White, for defendants, moved for an order for the issue of a subpoena duces tecum to the Board of Directors for County of York. Order made.

Williams v. Kehr.—J. E. Roaf, for plaintiff, moved for judgment. L. E. Heyd, K.C., for defendant, contra. Enlarged until Friday (defendant to facilitate speedy trial if motion refused).

Re Solicitors.—Langs (A. & G.) for the solicitors, moved for an order for service of order and appointment for taxation by registered post.

Scott v. Union Bank.—H. Casagis, K.C., for plaintiff, on motion for further and better affidavit on production. C. Adams, for defendant, contra.

Judgment: Neither the first nor the second affidavit made by defendant's officer is sufficient under the form given under R. 48. In the first affidavit a claim of privilege is made which is not sufficient under the rules which must therefore be filed in a week. The defendant should produce the correspondence between the officer and the defendant at Smith's Falls, prior to the issue of the writ or the time when informed of the claim of privilege.

Privilege could not arise until the defendant took legal advice, and must be referable thereto. The costs of this motion must be to plaintiff in any event.

Judge's Chambers.
Before Falconbridge, J.

Sproal v. Sproal.—W. Proudfoot, K.C., for plaintiff, on motion for leave to appeal. G. H. Kilmer, K.C., for defendant, contra. Judgment: This case the order that was made by the local judge was so manifestly advantageous for all parties (in the matter of saving expense particularly) that I would have liked to uphold it if the plaintiff had been willing to let me deal with the matter as a referee. I would have made a substituted order in similar terms. But I cannot find sufficient evidence that the parties agreed that the motion should be disposed of by the local judge. One of the solicitors, not residing in the county, in fact, owing to a mistaken entry in the solicitor's diary, the plaintiff was not represented at all when the order was made, and while there had been at least one adjournment for defendant, and therefore, while I grant leave to appeal and allow the appeal, I shall make the costs costs in the cause here and below.

Before Riddell, J.
Lectie v. Marshall.—S. G. Crowell, for plaintiff, moved for order or subpoena duces tecum, to manager of Royal Insurance Co., Montreal. Order made.

Single Court.
Before Teetzel, J.

Saskatchewan Land and Homestead Co. v. Leaday.—G. Kappeler, K.C., and J. E. Roaf, for defendants, Leadays, appealed from certificates of the master in ordinary on the taking of accounts.

McKinnon v. Cunningham.—E. McIntosh, for plaintiff, moved for judgment. Argument will be resumed on Tuesday, 2nd, at 10 a.m.

Cumming v. Barnett.—R. W. Eyre, for plaintiff, on motion for injunction to restrain defendant, W. N. Ferguson, K.C., from publishing a libelous statement until 2nd inst. Matters to remain in statu quo meantime.

Colonial Investment and Loan Co. v. Sponson.—A. R. Cunningham (Kingston) for defendant, appealed from an official referee on the matter of taking account, on the ground that too much

A SCANDALOUS APPEAL

Supreme Court Justice Orders it to Be Stricken From Records.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Chief Justice Fuller to-day created a mild sensation in the supreme court of the United States by announcing that the papers in the case of the Telson Paper Lumber Company v. S. F. Chapman should be stricken from the records of the court because of their scandalous nature.

The controversy involves a contract by Chapman to deliver to the company 50,000,000 feet of lumber in Virginia. The court of appeals decided in favor of Chapman, and in its petition the company asks a review on various grounds, one stated as follows:

"The opinion of the court of appeals is so grotesque in its character, of law, and prepared with so little care and study as to be almost unintelligible, even grammatically, not to say legally."

The chief justice said the papers were "so impertinent and improper that they would be stricken from the docket in order to protect the records of the court from scandal."

LECTURE ON NAPOLEON

Project of Advance on Canada from Louisiana His Dream.

Some recently discovered facts in connection with the history of Napoleon, of especial interest to Canadians, were touched on by Herbert Fisher, lecturer delivered by Herbert Fisher, fellow of New College, Oxford, and of the British Academy, in the university physics theatre yesterday afternoon.
From documents in the record office in London he had found that the project of an advance on Canada from the southern base of Louisiana was the common talk of French messengers in the period of Napoleonic ascendancy.
Australia also had been surveyed by French experts with a view to occupation.

He viewed religion as a part of politics. He was prepared to see Mohammed in Egypt, a Roman Catholic in France, and if he had succeeded in conquering Scotland, he doubtless would have been prepared to declare himself a Presbyterian. He looked upon the church as a department of state to issue army bulletins from the pulpit.
But no man was strong enough to control the religious instincts of a great people.

Mr. Fisher, who lectures again this afternoon on "England's Pilgrimage in History," is on his way to Harvard University to deliver the Lowell lectures.

CANADIAN CLUB SEASON

E. W. M. Grigg and Senator George W.
Ross Contribute Oratory.

One of Lord Northcliffe's young men, E. W. M. Grigg, colonial editor of The London (Eng.) Times, and Senator G.
W. Ross were the speakers at the Canadian Club yesterday evening. Mr.
Grigg was introduced by J. S. Willson, and paid his respects to Senator Ross, complimenting him on the lucidity and fairness of his account of the Australian constitution. Mr. Grigg had spent three months in the new commonwealth, and felt anxious to speak about it. It was the British genius which expressed itself in self-government. This had been phrased by a New Zealand gentleman, as a preference to be governed by a Nero on the spot rather than by a committee of archangels in Downing-street. He looked for concentration of the entire in the direction of imperial reciprocity.

Senator Ross, who supported himself with a crutch, was very heartily received. When he arose in the first place to speak, his address of over an hour was worthy of all Mr. Grigg's praise, and frequently drew applause. He insisted on the superiority of the Australian constitution in respect of provincial rights, and declared that no court should be allowed to veto the legislation of the province. Australia, in many respects was more democratic than Canada, and the fact that both men and women in Australia and New Zealand vote on a parity showed a disposition to trust to common people.

NO TIN POT NAVY

Hon. H. R. Emerson Will Oppose Government's Plan.

Flat opposition to the Dominion Government's plan of a Canadian navy was expressed by Hon. H. R. Emerson, senior minister of railways, who arrived yesterday.
Mr. Emerson emphatically declared that he "didn't want Canada to have a tin navy," and that he quite agreed with Premier Roblin of Manitoba on the subject. He said he could see why Canada should spend millions on a navy and leave the branch lines of the Intercolonial Railway uncompleted. He believed Canada should solve her transportation problem before building ships to protect something which didn't need protection.
Hon. Mr. Emerson added that he would air his views in parliament.

ORANGEVILLE'S BAD MAN.

ORANGEVILLE, Nov. 1.—Provincial
Constable Hughes, Police Chief Sam Speers and four constables, all armed, yesterday scoured the town and vicinity in search of "Bolt" Cook, locally notorious "desperado," who twice within the past year successfully avoided arrest here. Saturday night he returned to town and smashed some furniture belonging to his mother-in-law, who sawed out a warrant. Constables Speers and James Halbert tackled him on the main street. Cook drew a knife, slashed Halbert's right wrist to the bone and got away.

THE WEATHER

OBSERVATORY, TORONTO, Nov. 1 (8 p.m.).—Showery weather has obtained to-day in the Lake Superior districts, and local rains have occurred in Southwestern Ontario, but elsewhere in Canada it has been fine and mild.
Showery, unsettled weather is indicated for the lower lake region, as the disturbance which was in the Missouri Valley last night is now centred over Lake Michigan.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS CONFER

President Falconer and J. A. Macdonald Chief Speakers.

The Toronto Conference Epworth League and the Epworth League Union opened their biennial convention in Central Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. At the evening meeting President Falconer delivered an address on the Future of Canada and the Church.

The future of the nation, he said, depended on the church members. They should try and reform the conditions of
to-day and so have the coming generation mentally prepared for the new era.

"Canada of the future will be greatly different from Canada of the present," said the speaker. "There will be a new thought, and I hope and believe it will make a better world."

J. A. Macdonald spoke on Canada's Call to Young Men. Methodists. He said that the church should stand firmly for Canada. This country is the spotlight of the empire, and is now one of the important factors in the moulding of its history. It was therefore imperative that the church should teach patriotism to all its members.

M. AND M. PROJECTS
HASTENED BY YEARS

Premier McBride's Policy of Guaranteeing Bonds Won't Cost
B. C. a Cent.

Some of the things that will follow in the wake of the adoption by British Columbia of Premier McBride's railway policy:

Another all-Canadian transcontinental railway from ocean port to ocean port within four years, affording thru and local railway competition in the six largest provinces.

The establishment of a Canadian Northern line of steamers on each ocean, to operate in connection with the transcontinental line.

The building of car shops at some eastern point, probably Toronto or Port Arthur, and a huge repair shop on the Pacific coast.

The erection of grain elevators on the Pacific coast, either at Vancouver or New Westminster, for the handling of export grain shipments via the Panama Canal.

A more pretentious line of Canadian Northern steamers on the great lakes.
Ever since Macdonald's Mann commenced spreading sail in Manitoba, a number of years ago, they have not concealed their hope of some day seeing their dream of railway expansion outlined above, realized, and the World can state, on authority of Vice-President D. D. Mann, that by guaranteeing the product of the prairie provinces shipping from the prairies via the Pacific route will hasten the consummation of the great project by many years.

Life Too Short.

To The World yesterday, Mr. Mann, who had just returned from British Columbia, said that the Canadian Northern was merely asking the Pacific province to extend to his company the aid which the prairie provinces had afforded, viz., to guarantee their bonds to a reasonable extent to enable them to construct the line. This method would not cost British Columbia a cent an acre company would be afforded the aid without which they would not be able to continue the line to the Pacific coast for a great many years. "Life is too short to wait," said Mr. Mann.

Continuing, the railway leader said he was not a politician, but he was nevertheless convinced of the soundness of Premier McBride's position and attitude. At the evening meeting President Falconer delivered an address
on the Future of Canada and the Church.

The future of the nation, he said, depended on the church members. They should try and reform the conditions of
to-day and so have the coming generation mentally prepared for the new

CANADIAN NORTHERN
THRU WEST DURHAM

Route of Toronto-Ottawa Line and Farms That Will Be Crossed by the Railway.

The accompanying map shows the location of the new Toronto-Ottawa line of the Canadian Northern Railway across West Durham, as filed in the registry office at Bowmanville. The distance covered is approximately 15 miles. The line leaves Whitby east in the third concession of that township, and enters Durham in the fourth concession of Durham Township, a little south of Taunton P. O. It will be seen that the Bowmanville station of the C. N. R. is 2 1/2 miles north of the centre of the Town of Bowmanville, and four miles north of the Bowmanville station of the Grand Trunk.
The Canadian Northern is at least three miles from the next town of Newcastle, and almost the same distance from Newtonville.

The World was informed that options had been taken for the right of way on most of the farms crossed as above set out. Later on The World hopes to publish the location of the line thru Bowmanville, which is the most easterly of Durham County, and still later may publish the route thru the other townships, as the line is definitely staked.

The curvature of the line shown in the accompanying map was found necessary to avoid high hills. The line is kept straight near Bowmanville by recourse to a trestling proposition 90 feet high and 600 feet in length.

These maps are worth preserving.

alone, "but it is difficult to arouse in him the feelings of intense fire which this campaign will arouse."
"Do you keep in touch with the people of Westminster?"

Predicts Victory.
Gladstone answered: "I occasionally come in contact with them. The energies liberated thru this bureau have come strongly linked me with the political sphere, and I shall endeavor as far as possible to throw myself into the conflict, inspiring and encouraging those whom I can affect to carry on the grand old banner of Liberalism. Yes, I will do this.
We are going on to victory. Notwithstanding the forces of self-interest and obscuration, we shall win. The struggle will be severe, as many subtle as well as open foes have to be overcome.
This is one of the most critical periods in the history of the British race, and upon the result will depend the advancement or retardation of the nation. Let the nation not be narcotized by the nostrums of laissez faire reform.
Purging itself of selfish heresies, let it turn its attention not only to the understanding of its real prosperity, but to the comprehension of the vital factors in the health of its national life."
