Case Against Men Charged With Robbing James Garnett's Till Stood Over for Further Hearing.

William Hennessy and John Pickett, charged with entering James Garnett's restaurant on Main street, north end, yesterday afternoon and robbing the till of $2 to $5, were in court this morning and both pleaded not guilty.

The session was made lively by the presence of Hennessy's brother, who declared that the till was not the till when he made his statement under oath.

James Garnett said that he had not counted the money in his till before leaving the shop, but all he left was taken. There was about $145 in silver and a quantity of copper--he could not say just how much.

He was absent at dinner about an hour and on returning found the door had been forced open and the money stolen.

Robert Earle swore that yesterday afternoon about 1:45 o'clock he saw Robert Garnett trying to open the door, which was locked, and later on he saw two other men try the same door, but didn't know who they were.

George Wharton stated that yesterday afternoon he saw two young men in the vestibule of Garnett's saloon, and saw the shorter of the two pull the door after him and later both went towards Paradise row.

James Garnett on being recalled to the stand said that the lock was broken.

At this point Hennessy's brother declared that prisoner admitted being in Garnett's shop.

Continuing, Greer said that when the prisoner was taken to the station he (Hennessy) said, "I was in the shop, I only got $162." Witness did not find that amount on the prisoner.

In consequence of what had been told, witness went to Garnett's street and arrested Pickett, who told him he had never been arrested before and that it was the fruits of being in bad company.

The prisoners wore blue suits in court and the other clothing placed in evidence he got at Hennessy's house where Pickett stopped.

Hennessy's brother again interposed and asked Greer if he saw him there. Greer said, "Yes, I saw you standing by the gate."

"That's where I caught you lying; I was not at the gate, but was in bed."

Serg. Kilpatrick swore that after Hennessy was locked up he admitted to him (Kilpatrick) that he had been in Garnett's shop and took therefrom $20.

Pickett was called forward and admitted having tried the door of Garnett's store, but did not go inside. He wore a peaked cap at the time.

SURVEY WORK ON THE TRANS-CONTINENTAL

District Engineer Dunn Says it is Going Along Well.

Work on the Transcontinental Railway is steadily progressing in the report of District Engineer Guy C. Dunn, when seen this morning by a Times reporter. Everything is going along in good shape on the upper section, or division five, from Grand Falls to the Quebec boundary. Work has not commenced, Mr. Dunn says on the lower section, though it will commence shortly, as the engineer is ready to start. Good progress generally has been made on the surveys; the summer, however, has been a hard one, as the quantity of rain has brought up the underground water.

Mr. Dunn said further, that by the end of the month the revised location between Chipman and Grand Falls will be completed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDowell, of Truro, are in the city. Mr. McDowell is superintendent of the water system at Truro.

That the tourist business has been a record breaker this year is agreed upon all around. The steamship people and railway officials say that it has far and away exceeded last season.

DIED AS STEAMER NEARED THE WHARF

Tragic Death of Stewardess Stevenson of the Sobo

PROBABLY EPILEPSY

Miss Stevenson Fell in Fit as the West Indian Liner Was Tying Up at Wharf and Died Almost Instantly

Miss Clara M. Stevenson, stewardess of the West India steamer Sobo, died suddenly this morning just as the steamer was hauling into the berth at the Corporation pier. A sudden attack of epilepsy, brought on by excitement, is believed to have been the cause of death.

The Sobo, Captain Bridges, arrived at 8:45 o'clock this morning from Bermuda, Windward Islands and Demerara.

While the steamer was hauling into the berth at the Corporation pier Miss Stevenson saw some of her friends on the pier and went to communicate the news to the purser, J. W. Dagnall.

She seemed to be highly excited and was very nervous on leaving the purser's office. On the main deck, as she was about to ascend the forward steps to the upper deck, she fell in a fit and before she could be taken to her room she was dead.

It is supposed that the excitement of getting near home and seeing her friends brought on epilepsy, as she was a very fleshy young lady.

Miss Stevenson belonged to Herring Cove, N. S., and was about thirty years of age. She leaves a mother, brother and sister to mourn their loss.

She has been in the employ of the West India line for some time, and was stewardess of the steamer Olenia and before that was in the Plant line service.

Her sudden demise caused great sorrow on board the Sobo among the crew and the passengers, for she was very courteous and obliging to all. Purser Dagnall says Miss Stevenson was in the best of health during the passage up from the south. Much sympathy is felt for her family.

Coroner Berryman was at once notified but decided not to hold an inquest.

The Sobo had a fine passenger list from Bermuda and brings a large cargo for the city and Halifax, including a large quantity of molasses.

The following is a list of her cabin passengers--R. G. McHugh, from St. Lucia; E. D. B. DeBridges, Dr. and Mrs. Heath, from St. Kitts; H. Baker, wife and child, Mrs. L. A. Johnson and child, Miss Edith Johnson, Miss E. Harriet, Master H. Leasor, Major E. Leigh, Misses Ida and Sadie McCallum, Mrs. C. V. Ingham, Miss E. Ingham, Mrs. R. O. Peace, Miss M. L. Wainwright, H. Simmons, Misses Phyllis and Almira Pitt, A. H. Bannerman, H. E. England, from Bermuda, 20 second class. Four government passengers and one Chinaman.

NOT SERIOUSLY INCONVENIENCED

G. N. W. Telegraph Company Evidently Not Suffering from Strike--Lemieux Act Not Invoked.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 16--(Special)--The fact that the Great Northwest Tel. Co. has not yet applied to the labor department for the application of the Industrial Disputes Act to the present strike of telegraph operators in Toronto and Montreal, is considered here to be an indication that the company is not so far seriously inconvenienced by the strike.

The remedy for the existing conditions is plainly provided in the act. It is stated on good authority that if the operators of the company here go on strike or if any outside agitator attempts to incite a strike, the department will be at once asked to apply the penalties provided in the clause of the act as follows: "Any person who incites and encourages or aids in any manner an employee to declare or continue a lockout, or an employe to go on strike, or to refuse to work, or to do any act in violation of the provisions of the act shall be liable to a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars."

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE I. R. C.

Deputy Minister of Railways Butler, General Manager Pottinger, Superintendent Jarvis, Engineer McKenzie and Assistant Engineer Burpee of the I. C. R. arrived in the city this morning on the proposed improvements to be made in the I. C. R. yard here.

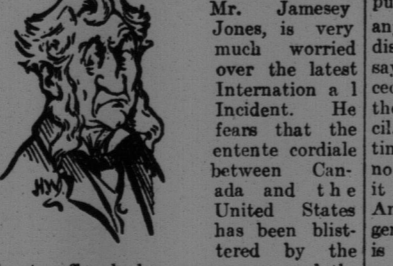

According to members of the committee the conference was not altogether satisfactory. Mr. Butler said the I. C. R. had only a limited amount of money to spend on work here and improvements would be made as far as this would allow. The chief work to be done will be in increasing the sidings in the yard beyond Gilbert's Lane. It would be impossible, Mr. Butler said, to place a loading platform and siding where the old round house formerly stood, this year, but if possible it would be done next year.

MRS. HARRY K. THAW HAS NOT LEFT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 16--An emphatic denial has been made from the home of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw that she is intended to leave this city. Persistent rumors have been sent from many parts of the country saying Mrs. Thaw was spending the summer there, or that she had taken quarters there and would leave New York this summer. She had no intention of leaving her husband even for a short time, and she never has even considered the idea of going to Europe.

(Continued) CHAPTER XV. AN UNCONSCIOUS RIVAL. The level sunset light was pouring through the tall panes of the tapestry room as Basil entered it, making three long lanes of brightness and throwing the rest of the room into shadow. For a moment, with the sun dazzling in his eyes, he thought the room was empty; then he saw a white figure in a deep, high-backed chair, and he came forward with a quick step. During the past few days, if he had not actually avoided Isabel, he had at least not sought her society. Short of leaving Stormont, it was the only course left to him if he were to keep his word to Sir David, which with every day was proving a more galling yoke. But to find Isabel alone for one! It was too much to ask that he should deny himself these few minutes, this brief chance which he had not sought. Yet he seemed to have nothing better to say than: "So you've got back again?" after all, his tongue was tied on the one subject on which he would fain have spoken.

carelessness. "I don't seem to see him somehow as an amateur school inspector. How did the poor little beggars comfort themselves? Speeches are bad enough on breaking-up day, but to jaw at them at the beginning of term!" "Oh, they stared and stared till I think they must have—I can't get the word—with her little perplexed frown. "Hypnotized you," suggested Conyers. "Yes, I suppose that's the word, though I am not sure if I know what it means exactly. Anyhow they stared until I felt as if I was losing hold somehow, as if I wasn't quite sure who I was, though." "With rather a flavorless laugh, "I don't know if I'm ever sure of that now." As she spoke she drew herself up from the depths of her chair and stood erect, stretching out her arms with an abandon which was a little more frank than convention prescribes.

"What do you mean?" asked Conyers, stirred by something in her tone. "I think you know what I mean," said Isabel, mutinously; then flushing as she recollected herself, and hastily let her arms fall. Her eyes followed the last long fading sun ray which touched her portrait, showing the face amid the shadows. "None of you can ever think of me without thinking of her. I'll lay your thinking just now; she wouldn't have done that, just as she wouldn't say or do half the things which I do."

"No, I don't think she would," said Conyers, smiling, his eyes following hers, and then passing from the pale, pictured face to the brilliant living one before him. Like the waning moon fading to a white cloud before the morning sun, his memories of the little cousin of these old days seemed dwindling and paling fast in the presence of the radiant young creature, whose every changing mood, even her present somewhat thorny one, had its own freshness and delight.

"You're honest at least," cried Isabel, drawing in a quick breath. "I don't mind. It doesn't matter," said Conyers hastily. He didn't want the serene fusing about. "Of course, you were in Dunstead this afternoon. By the bye, who were the 'we'?" "Only mother and I and Mr. Ashe. Apparently he likes an occasional change from killing grouse. It wasn't my fault, however, that he was 'around' today, plainly. "I believe he arranged it with mother."

When one is feeling tired and vaguely miserable for no apparent reason, the temptation is strong to administer such a pin-prick. If Conyers wished, he valiantly hid it. "I might have given the birds a holiday too—they've got uncommon wild since Tuesday's storm—but I didn't know if you'd want my long legs crowding up the carriage. Ashe is coming out in a new light, though," he said, with would-be the words were spoken. The long excitement of the day culminated. "My father doesn't speak, but he keeps looking at her and then at me, till I feel wild. I can't help it if I am not like that while she's there any more. I can't believe I was ever such a boneless, spiritless creature; I feel too alive, and she looks half dead or half asleep; but I wish," vehemently, "they'd put it away. I can't bear it; I'm growing to hate it; yes, it's true," facing round upon Basil, who stood surprised by this outburst into momentary silence. "At times I feel as if I could kill her," and she snatched up

MODEL OF CLIPPED BEAVER WITH PLUMES.

Clipped beavers in black, navy blue and the fashionable browns, will be worn this season for semi-dressy wear, trimmed with ribbons, flowers, ostrich plumes and the various other feathered effects classed as novelties. The high crowned broad brimmed shape is perhaps the most attractive, the brim drooping slightly all around, a little wider in the back than the front, and the crown from three to four inches high. These hats are not worn on the back of the head as the summer model of this type was, but are tilted a little to the front and the right side by an inch bandeau, trimmed simply with maline of a color to match the hair. No matter what the color of the hat may be this bandeau trimming is always selected to match the coiffure. The crown of this hat is trimmed with brown satin ribbon, the hat being of this same brown tone, and two very full medium length brown plumes are posed at the side beneath a bunch of white roses, the tips drooping backward and over the back brim. The under brim of this hat is faced with brown satin.

big, heavy paper-cutter, in shape like a Moorish scimitar, and made a passionate lunge toward the portrait. Shaken though she was by excitement, by emotions which she could not understand nor control, she would not have stood nor control, she would not have suddenly stepped between her and Sir David, who had just returned, had entered the room unnoticed. He caught her wrist, and flung her back with such violence that Basil started forward with an angry exclamation. "How dare you?" cried Sir David, his eyes blazing fierce from a white, haggard face. "You shall not touch my child—my Isabel—all that I have left of her—now!"

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stimulation, in order that it may govern, strengthen, these nerves—re-establish them as needed, when.

THE HARTLAND FIRE

Court of Inquiry Comes to Conclusion That It Was of Incendiary Origin.

Hartland, N. B., Aug. 15.—The fire enquiry is closed, to be resumed next Wednesday. Among the witnesses examined today were Sheriff Foster, Reid Chase, W. D. Keith and Robert Godwin.

It has been established beyond any doubt that the fire was of incendiary origin. This much the court officials give out for publication.

Mr. McKewen left on route for St. John today and he told your correspondent that the evidence conclusively proves that the fire was set.

Some comment was occasioned yesterday on it becoming known that U. S. Consul Judge Wilrich, owing to his being dissatisfied with the place assigned to him at the supper given by the mayor and corporation to his excellency the governor general, left the Union Club on Wednesday evening before the repeat commenced. Judge Wilrich declined to discuss the matter.

HEARTY FAREWELL FOR PRINCIPAL FALCONER

Halifax Citizens Present Him With Handsome Gifts on Eve of His Departure for Toronto.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 15.—A large meeting of Halifax citizens was held tonight to honor Dr. R. A. Falconer, on the eve of his departure from Halifax, and to present him with testimonials of their regard. The chair was occupied by Governor Fraser. Dr. Falconer and Mrs. Falconer were presented with a magnificent solid silver service and to Dr. Falconer himself, was given a gold watch and chain. Speeches were made by Archbishop McCarthy, Bishop Worrell, Deputy Mayor Johnson, Premier Murray and by representatives of all the colleges in Nova Scotia. One of the addresses was by Judge Snider, of Amalioy.

President Falconer made a touching and effective reply. Speaking specially to his colleagues from the college represented he said: "Ours should be a fellowship of those whose primary interest is the elevation of our country through incultivating in our students worthy ideals of life, both as men and as citizens. Let us aim at the noblest in our work. I hope that in Canada there may soon arise a type of educational manhood and womanhood that will have its own distinction among national types. In time this dominion will have in addition to the present colleges great universities

GENERAL BOOTH IS COMING HERE Head of Salvation Army Will be in St. John September 21-22-23.

General William Booth, of the Salvation Army, will be in St. John Sept. 21, 22 and 23, and has chosen this city as the place to make the first address of his forthcoming tour of the maritime provinces and the United States. He will be sure of a warm welcome here.

Col. Pugmire is now in the city making arrangements for the coming visit of the head of the army to Canada. The general will arrive by steamer at Rimouski, and according to the present programme will reach St. John Saturday Sept. 21 or possibly on the night of Friday, the 20th.

Saturday night will be given over to a meeting with the soldiers and officers of this command and neighboring districts, which it is expected will take place in the new Citadel, Charlotte street, as that building will probably be near enough to completion by that time. The Sunday meetings will be held in the Opera House. The general will preach at 11 o'clock and at 7 p. m. and will lecture at 3 o'clock on The Secret of the Success of the Salvation Army. Lieut. Governor Twissell will preside at the lecture.

The programme for Monday has not yet been definitely decided on as Col. Pugmire is awaiting a message from the general through Commissioner Coombes. Among those who will accompany the general will be Commissioner Coombes, Col. Lawley, A. D. C., Commissioner Nicol, editor in chief of the army publications; Brigadier Howell and Colonel Pugmire. General Booth will leave this city on Monday and will spend the 24th in Halifax. On the 25th he will address a meeting in Moncton, and on the 26th will be in St. John on the morning of the 26th on his way to Boston, and after a six weeks tour of the states he will return to England.

HEARING OF CROSS PETITIONS SET DOWN FOR SEPTEMBER 3.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 15.—The court to hear election cases (Judges Townsend and Russell), heard a motion today by H. Mellish, K. C., to set the cross petitions of Roche vs. Borden, and Carney vs. O'Mullin down for trial on Sept. 3. R. E. Harris, K. C., moved for a later date, stating that Mr. Borden had made arrangements previously for a tour from Halifax to Vancouver. He asked that a date in November be fixed. The court fled judgment setting the cross petitions down for trial on Sept. 3, the same date as the cases of Hetherington vs. Roche and Carney.

W. H. TRUEMAN RESIGNS His Resignation as Exequy Court Reporter is Rumored.

It is reported that Walter H. Trueman has resigned the position of exequy court reporter, which he has held for the last twelve years.

When asked by telephone Thursday Hon. C. W. Robinson, who is in Fredericton, said he was unable to give any information as the matter had not been brought to the notice of the provincial government, nor is it known why Mr. Trueman has resigned. The position is worth $500 or $700 a year.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Adèle, the defeated Canadian challenger for Canada's cup, will be sailed across the lake to Toronto as soon as the weather permits. Speaking of the race, Skipper Jarvis said this morning: "There was nothing to it from the beginning. Adèle is a beautiful boat and a fast boat, but she is not the equal of Seneca in any point of sailing. Seneca is a wonderful boat and was sailed equipped amply for research and professional study to which students will come, even from abroad. In the meantime let us in all our efforts be thorough and honest, avoiding show and aiming at reality." Dr. Falconer leaves on Saturday morning for Boston, where he will spend Sunday with his father, Rev. Dr. A. Falconer.

A MATTER OF ECONOMY. If the thousands and one things about the house that make money go fast—the little things that don't seem to count—were bunched together in one, it would not be so difficult to stop the leak. But they are usually such trivial things that it takes more than a sharp and ever-watchful eye to keep expenses down.

In four, for instance. We buy a flour that our grocer recommends. He doesn't know for what particular purpose we want it—and it sells pretty well—so he sends it to our homes. The flour may be good, but perhaps it takes a long time to knead. Or it may take more flour to make a batch of bread than it ought to. Or we may want it for cakes and pastry and it won't give the light, appetizing cake, or short crust in the pie that we expect. Most of us have found trouble of this kind.

If we had time to compare one brand with another, some household temptations would disappear. There is a big difference in flour. Some four turns out a per cent. better bread, some four turns out a per cent. better pastry.

Blended Flour—made from Ontario soft wheat and Manitoba spring wheat, blended in just the right proportions—makes baking a pleasure, and is winning unexampled favor in the kitchens of careful housekeepers. It makes better bread, lighter cakes, more wholesome pastry and biscuits.

Note it, good housekeepers, and use Blended Flour next time.

A CANADIAN OUTLOOK

Do we talk too much about the greatness of Canada and the splendid promise of its future?

Rather, do we talk and think enough on this theme? For we are laying foundations, and should have some conception of the sort of structure to be reared hereafter.

There is inspiration for the young Canadian, if he be of the right quality, in contemplation of the great developments in which he may share, and which mean so much for humanity. The country is so vast that it opens up great fields of promise in many directions. Here on the eastern seaboard we talk of an expanding trade through our ocean ports, and of increasing factories to supply the markets of the west. In the west attention is absorbed in opening up and settling vast areas, and in the transportation of their products to the seaboard. On the Pacific coast, because momentous events have followed so hard upon each other's heels in the Orient, new problems have arisen and new and tempting possibilities confront the people. We in the east have not, perhaps, fully realized the march of events and its significance to the Pacific seaboard of Canada. A recent English observer has taken note of the situation, and presents it with admirable clearness in a communication to the Victoria Colonist. We quote:—

"I know no part of the British empire which will have in the immediate future as great a fascination for students of imperial problems and imperial developments as this island country of Vancouver. We seem to be in the presence of a new England, standing at the gateway of the Pacific and the awakening Orient beyond, just as the old land, centuries ago, stood on the farther side of the Atlantic ready to participate in the wonders of the new world. In the near future there will be a great struggle for the commerce of the Pacific. The country that would win the laurels of supremacy must not only be rich in natural resources. She must be guided and governed, and her resources must be developed by a race of high morality, untiring energy and vigorous initiative. British Columbia stands in a position of peculiar advantage to engage in this struggle, not in her own behalf, but as the littoral representative of the Dominion of Canada and the British Empire. The beautiful cities of Victoria and Vancouver are eloquent of the character of the people. Behind her British Columbia has the priceless treasures of the Dominion to draw upon, besides her own inexhaustible wealth. She is already equipped with a railway which is not only one of the greatest strategic assets of the British Empire, but is also one of the most successful, because it is one of the best managed commercial undertakings in the world. I mean the C. P. R. More than all these material assets, British Columbia is situated with the spiritual and historical traditions of Great Britain. She has absorbed the spirit of those traditions without their material encumbrances. Thus equipped, we shall look with confidence to British Columbia to help maintain the Union Jack upon the Pacific as successfully as the eastern provinces of Canada have helped to maintain it upon the Atlantic."

Surely such a prospect must be full of inspiration for the people of the Pacific province, although it brings with it a keen sense of grave responsibility. For already they are facing the peril involved in the growing influx of brown men and yellow men, who, as one writer phrased it, can "undermine and underwell the whites," and who if they were admitted in sufficiently large numbers would lower the standard of living and make a formidable struggle for supremacy. Of course this must not happen. Canada must be a strong competitor for the commerce of the Pacific, and must at the same time maintain her high standard of morality, and protect British Columbia from the Asiatic peril.

To return to our question: Is there any danger of talking or thinking too much about the greatness of Canada, its varied problems, its opportunities, and, despite the dangers, the splendid promise of its future? Surely not. For with knowledge and deep responsibility, and a more serious mental attitude in relation to all questions of national concern. We in the east will not be so absorbed in our own affairs but that we shall watch with ever-growing interest the great and fascinating yet painful struggle at the gateway of the Pacific. The bitterness of party strife too often warps the judgment of men, and prevents them from doing anything like justice to an opponent. The less dignified and more venal section of the press takes a malicious delight in belittling men whose offense is that they are on the other side. In pleasing contrast to this attitude is that of a journal like the Montreal Witness, which, while it criticises the leader of the opposition is yet able to say of him—"Since his elevation to the leadership of the opposition six years ago, Mr. Borden has impressed himself upon the country as a statesman without reproach." When the spirit here manifested becomes more general among Canadian newspapers the tone of political discussion will be elevated to a plane more creditable alike to the writers and the parties.

The United States consul at this port has discovered an offence where no offence was intended, and has somewhat tentatively given notice of his high displeasure. Probably no American consul has ever been more cordially received in St. John, or treated with greater consideration, than Judge Willrich. Even the Canadian Club, whose membership is limited to British subjects, has the latch-string out at its luncheon for the representative of the neighboring republic. Under all the circumstances, the peppery official will not be the subject of any large degree of sympathy. If there is one place more than another in Canada where the American people and their flag are treated with a friendship running even to indulgence, that place is probably St. John.

The remarks of Earl Grey at Fredericton yesterday, in reply to the civic address, will be read with pleasure by the people of the province, and one sentence in particular should be of especial value in connection with efforts made to secure a desirable class of immigrants from the United Kingdom. This sentence should be spread broadcast, as coming from Earl Grey, throughout the mother land—"The parts of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick which I have visited, lead me to believe the life which awaits a settler in the Maritime Provinces is admirably suited to the people of England, Scotland and Ireland and Wales, and is more attractive from the point of view of comfortable living and pleasant surroundings than that which is to be found in many portions of the motherland."

Apparently, M. Marconi was not deceived when he stated recently in Montreal that his company would soon be sending commercial messages by the wireless method across the Atlantic. It is stated that the thing has been done at an average rate of twenty-four words per minute. The world has become so accustomed to the marvels of wireless telegraphy that the announcement excites only a passing interest. And yet how wonderful it is, and with what derision would such a statement have been received a quarter of a century ago. The wireless message and the dirigible war-balloon have altered the outlook of mankind and introduced for midable new factors into the life of men and nations.

"Gentlemen, it is impossible to spend a day on this splendid river (the St. John) without regretting that its charms and attractions are not more widely known. I believe it would be hard to find any other place with so great combinations of scenery and climate, attracted with equal opportunities for safe boating, as those which surround the river St. John, so easily accessible to England and the United States, offers to those who are in search of change, health, rest and recreation." (Earl Grey at Fredericton.)

Ontario municipalities find it hard to borrow money. They are not alone in that respect. Mr. John D. Rockefeller says he has been offered seven per cent with gilt edge security for anything from a million to three millions of dollars, and is blaming President Roosevelt for the lightness of the market. The truth is, that over-expansion and extravagance for a period of years have brought the usual result, and the "trust-busting" campaign is seized upon by troubled financiers as a scapegoat.

The Scott Act has been repealed in Cape Breton county, Nova Scotia, after having been in force for many years. The fact will encourage the opponents of the act in other counties, but it is doubtful if many would follow the example of Cape Breton. The tendency of the times in most communities is toward restriction of the liquor traffic.

In Ontario it is grasshoppers. In New Brunswick it is too much rain. But the crop-killer is always with us, and it is useless to lose sleep because of his activities.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has decided to slip away for a few days from the anglers for portfolios, and has gone fishing himself. He is reasonably sure of good luck.

It would be unfortunate if the long-delayed Halifax election cases should now interfere with Mr. Borden's political career.

DR. DRUMMOND (By Dr. S. Weir Mitchell)

Peace to this poet soul. Full well he knew. To sing for those who knew not how to praise. The woodman's life, the farmer's patient toil, The peaceful drama of laborious days. He made his own the thoughts of simple men, And with the touch that makes the world alive, A welcome guest of lonely cabin homes, Found no heart he could not enter in.

The toil worn doctor, women, children, men, The humble hero of the lumber drives, Love, laugh or weep along his peopled paths, Blithe mid the paths of their meagre lives.

While thus the poet love interpreted, He left us pictures no one may forget. Cortez, Patise, Camille Mon Frere, and best, The good brave cure, he of Calumet.

With nature as with man at home he loved The silent forests and the birch's flight, Down the white peril of the rapids rush, And the cold glamor of your northern night.

Some mystery of genius haunts his page, Some wonder secret of the poet's spell, spell, Died with this master of the peasant thought, Peace to your north land singer—and farewell.

IN LIGHTER VEIN IDEAL "She is a nice girl, isn't she?" "Very. The kind of a girl you'd like to marry, after you've gotten through falling in love."

FINANCIAL ITEM. "My face is my fortune, sir," she said. "How long have you been broke?" queried the rude man.

THE USUAL THING "How long do you intend to be gone on your vacation?" "Two weeks' salary and a loan of $30."

PERHAPS "Do you believe in the Darwin theory of evolution in the civil address. She—Yes—and after the monkey became a man it was given the power of speech in order that he might again make a monkey of himself."

FORCE OF HABIT. "You're rather a young man to be left in charge of a drug store," said the fussy old gentleman. "Have you any diploma?" "Why—er—no, sir," replied the drug clerk "but we have a preparation of our own that's just as good."

ATTACHED TO THEM. Hojax—"So you are making a play for the hand of Miss Gotox, eh? What does her father think of your suit?" Tomix—"I don't know. But judging from my experience last night his dog seems to like my trousers."

HIS JOKE. With difficulty they dragged him from the folding bed that had shut up on him as he slept. "That's the first time I ever was caught napping," he said, and in enjoyment of the joke forgot his bruises.

WHAT'S UP. "Hallo, Brown," said young Simpson, "you're looking glum. What's up?" "Well, you see," explained Brown, "I wrote to Hetty Buxton asking her to be my wife, and she has replied accepting me."

"Well, what's the matter with that?" "The matter is," replied Brown, "she begins the letter, 'Dear George,' and my name is Henry."

LABOR MASS MEETING

Alphonse, Verville M. P., Spoke in Berryman's Hall Last Night. The mass meeting at Berryman's hall last night to hear Alphonse Verville, labor M. P. of Montreal, was poorly attended, about thirty or forty being present. George Robertson M. P. of and Rev. J. E. Revington Jones also spoke briefly. Mr. Verville, who is president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, made a fine impression. J. E. Neve, president of the local Trades and Labor council, occupied the chair and called upon Peter Sharkey to introduce Mr. Verville. He was heartily received on rising.

He said that his mission was on behalf of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which had done much for labor. The congress was in a better condition than ever, having doubled their revenue and appointed a solicitor.

In the course of his address Mr. Verville advocated lobbyists at Ottawa in view of the fact that corporations have them. Working men were not opposed to other classes of society, but they must stand up for their rights. As capital is organized, so must labor be in self protection.

Capital had tried to crush unionism even by legislation. The Lemieux bill, while not perfect, he thought, was one of the best pieces of labor legislation ever passed in any country, and instanced its success in the settlement of the longshoremen's strike in Montreal, by which the men got their increase and the union being recognized also.

The only solution of the labor question, he thought, was for labor and capital to get together. Mr. Verville favored old age pensions and thought it should be discussed outside of party spirit. He urged that St. John should send a representative to the congress in Winnipeg in September.

ROCKEFELLER'S DAUGHTER DEFENDS HER FATHER

Denounces Attack Made by His Brother Frank—Mrs. Harold F. McCormick Declares Her Grandfather Is a Most Interesting Man, But Admits She Doesn't Know Where He is Secluded.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, has defended her father against the bitter attack alleged to have been made in an interview by Mr. Rockefeller's youngest brother, Frank Rockefeller. At his home near Cleveland, Frank Rockefeller denied the charge that he ever had ever given the interview in question. Other than the flat denial he would say nothing. At her summer home in Lake Forest, Mrs. McCormick revealed affairs of the Rockefeller family that have never been brought to light. She illustrated the narrative with little incidents in the life of her grandfather, William A. Rockefeller, and his family, and portrayed a human side to her father's nature of which she said the public knew nothing. "Jealousy, brought about by my uncle's signal lack of business ability, is the cause of the vituperation he has heaped upon my father. My father holds no malice against him. It may not be consistent with the usual picture drawn of my father, but he holds malice against no man. "My uncle's failure to profit by the fortune of my father, but his own business failures, in business have been wormwood and gall to him. It is for his objective point the brother who has prospered. "If it is true that your grandfather is alive" was asked. "I have seen my grandfather on many occasions," she replied. "He is one of the most interesting men I have ever known. I can remember the fascinating tales he would tell his children and grandchildren when I was very young. It is some years since I have seen him. Because of asthma, from which he suffered, he was frequently away from his wife and children. These periods he would spend in travel. He sought dry climates and for amusement hunted and fished. "Between my father and my grandfather there always existed the respect and love that should prevail between father and son. My grandfather watched with

THE PLAYGROUNDS OF WASHINGTON

Thousands of Dollars Spent to Maintain Them for the Children, Under Careful Supervision. THE PLAYGROUNDS OF WASHINGTON The city of Washington, which has a population of about 325,000, maintains ten municipal playgrounds, thirteen school playgrounds, and one recreation center, in the Western High School. It received this year from the National Congress an appropriation of $92,000. Of this, $75,000 was for the purchase of playground sites, $5,000 was for the maintenance of the municipal playgrounds, and $12,000 was for the maintenance of the school playgrounds. Besides these amounts about $5,000 is raised by the Washington Playground Association to supplement the appropriation for maintenance. The municipal playgrounds are kept open during vacations and afternoons and Saturdays during the school year, except January, February and March. The school playgrounds heretofore have been kept open in the vacation time only, but hereafter at least a part of them will be kept open from 3 to 5 on school days during the school year. The hours at all of the playgrounds during the summer vacation are from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 5 to 8 p. m. The women directors are paid $35 per month the first year and $40 or $45 per month the second year, according to their record, with an annual increase of $5 or $10 per month. The men directors, who have all had some training as physical directors, usually begin at $30 per month and receive an increase of $5 or $10 per month per year. The supervisor is paid at the rate of $2,400 per year.

A FEW THOUGHTS ABOUT FINANCE

People talk about a "stringency in the money market," they talk about a "hard winter" in front of us. Why? The earth is no less bountiful than it was; the sun is shining still; rain has not ceased to fall upon the just and the unjust alike; men still labor, night and day, and children are impressed into hard and unremitting toil. What is the matter? The one province of Alberta in Canada, the one state of Ohio, in the United States, could feed and clothe the entire world in luxury. These sections are on the job, and they are assisted by millions upon millions of fertile land and by the labor of hundreds upon millions of people elsewhere upon the earth. Yet the world is supposed to be in need of money. What is money? It is, in the main, coined labor. It is not only manual labor, because there should be counted in and added to labor the factors of brain, machinery, animal and fish life, sun, rain, and soil. Have the fish quit spawning; the animals breeding; the sun shining; the people working? Not perceptibly. But here the financier steps in. "You have been spending too much," he tells us. "Expansion must be followed by contraction. You have danced and now you must pay the piper."

DECORATION DAY

Annual Pythian Ceremonial Was Well Carried Off Yesterday. Everything connected with the Knights of Pythias' annual memorial day ceremonies was carried out successfully yesterday afternoon. The knights were favored with beautiful weather there was a good representation of the membership and an abundance of flowers with which to decorate the graves of the departed ones. The address delivered at Fernhill by Past Supreme Prelate James Moulton was one which should have a helpful influence for members of the order. In closing he said: "On behalf of the Knights of Pythias I thank all to whom we are indebted for flowers, also those who assisted in arranging them. I thank the president of Fernhill and those in charge of other burial places for privileges granted, the special attention and assistance given by Supt. Clayton and those under him are fully appreciated. The Knights reached their hall after the ceremonies a few minutes after 6 o'clock. A large number viewed the procession and there were many favorable comments on the appearance of the men.

Riflemen at Sussex Show Greatly Improved Form—Pte. Bartlett of St. Andrew's Wins Ladies' Cup—First 62nd Team Wins Sinclair Cup—Other Contests.

Sussex, N. B., Aug. 15.—Pte. H. H. Bartlett, of the St. Andrews R. A., won the Ladies' Cup this afternoon with a score of 64, making 32 at each the 800 and 800 yard range. Major R. H. Arnold, of Sussex, was second with 62, and E. B. Haggerty, of Moncton, third with 62. Pte. Bartlett captured the Prince of Wales cup last year, but his on Tuesday the Ladies' Cup was given by the ladies of New Brunswick and was first competed for in 1906, when Staff Sergeant S. W. Smith won with a score of 62. The general shooting this year has been decidedly better than last year. The scores made by the first ten winners of the five individual matches total 367. While last year the aggregate was 391. These figures, however, do not give a correct idea of the improvement, as a large number of shooters made higher averages. The likely man as winner in the grand aggregate is Capt. W. E. Forbes, who is leading with only the result of the Fowler cup to be counted in. E. F. Gladwin, Captain E. A. Smith and Sergeant I. F. Archibald, of St. John, also stand a good chance.

LATE LOCALS
The steamer Yale, Captain Pike, landed 450 passengers this morning from Boston.
I. C. R. Police Inspector Williams has received word from Montreal that Williams, the I. C. R. colored porter, who was committed for trial for theft, has elected to be tried summarily and will come before Judge Choquette in Montreal.
A conservative picnic for western Nova Scotia is to be held at Middleton on Saturday, August 24th. The speakers are to be R. L. Borden, P. J. G. H. Bergeron, M. P., and others. Trains will be run to Lunenburg, Digby and Wolfville. The Bridgewater band is expected. A baseball match is being arranged, and the ladies of the town are preparing a tea meeting for that day.
An I. C. R. freeman, who is on the northern division between Moncton and Campbellton, reports a remarkably large number of moose in evidence. He says that a few days ago, between Gloucester Junction and Beaver Brook, he counted no less than twenty-five moose, a number of them bulls, several cows and one calf.

MR. LANTALUM BUYS THE ORINOCO'S HULL
He Secured it at Auction at Yarmouth Yesterday for $500.
YARMOUTH, Aug. 16.—The sale of wrecked materials and cargo of steamer Orinoco took place yesterday. Large crowds attending, bringing good prices. There was sharp competition between Halifax, St. John and local buyers.
The hull was bought by Mr. Lantalum, of St. John, for $500, and the cargo by the Provincial Wrecking Co., for $105.

AMERICAN SPORTSMEN (?)
(Ottawa Journal).
Two Americans who are reputed to be millionaires have been convicted in New Brunswick of having slaughtered moose out of season. One of the animals was a cow, and every sportsman knows that no sportsman would ever kill a cow moose, even if it were not against the law to do so.
Over in Rochester the challengers for the Canada's Cup find that the defender does not comply with the specifications as laid down in the deed of gift originally agreed upon by earlier contestants. They are immediately accused of attempting to fall back on technicalities. Rather than labor under such a charge, they waive their rights and consent to a contest. In the first trial match the Yankee freak boat wins. During one of the America's cup contests, Lord Dunsany discovered that the defender's water line and measurements had been altered during the night. He could not prove it because the court to which he took his case was composed of men interested in the defender's success. We don't say that these things are typical of "American" sport. But they show a difference with the British spirit.

TO BUY HORSES IN SCOTLAND
Principal Cumming, of the Agricultural farm, leaves this week on a trip to Scotland. His object in going is to purchase horses for the Nova Scotia government, some of which will be sold at public auction at the Halifax exhibition, the remainder will be placed on the college farm at Truro. These horses are being purchased with a view to effecting improvement in our Nova Scotia stock. P. L. Fuller, superintendent of agricultural societies, accompanies Professor Cumming on his trip to Scotland but left a few days ahead in order to visit various parts of England. Messrs Cumming and Fuller will return to Nova Scotia together.—Halifax Herald.

SMALLPOX ON NORTH SHORE
Smallpox has broken out at Portage River, being conveyed there probably from Tracadie, and Col. Malby and the board of health officials are taking energetic means to stamp it out. Dr. Meahan has been engaged by the county and he has caused seven houses to be quarantined, one house containing four cases of smallpox. It is probable that the whole village will be isolated.—Chatham Commercial.

ENVIUOUS MONCTON
The Moncton Transcript says—"Earl Grey having put up with St. John, the authorities have moved him on to Fredericton, probably with the idea of seeing just how much a long-suffering governor-general will stand. He should make a call at Moncton and see what a real city looks like."

A NEW PAPER MILL
The new paper mill in connection with the Milton Pulp Mills commenced business on Monday. A sheet of builders' sheeting paper taken from the first roll was sent to the office for inspection. The sample is all that can be desired. The capacity of the mill is 2,000 tons per annum. Outside of supplying the paper mill with pulp, the pulp mills make about 6,000 tons per annum, sold chiefly in Great Britain. The price of pulp has advanced recently 85 per cent and the price of paper (news) over 30 per cent. These prices are looked upon as permanent. The company owning these mills have evidently a pretty good thing.—Halifax Herald.

MILLIONAIRE FINED WHO KILLED MOOSE FOR FOOD
New York Sportsman Fined $100 in Chatham for Killing Cow Moose and $50 for Killing Deer Out of Season.
(Chatham Commercial).
Two Americans were fined on Tuesday in the police court by the magistrate for killing moose and deer out of season. Arthur Robinson, of New York, was fined $100 for killing a cow moose and $50 for killing a deer out of season and John Farrington, who helped to carry and cut up the animals, was fined $50. Costs brought the amount up to $205. The killing took place at Holme's Lake, South Esk, where Mr. Robinson has a camp. Mr. Robinson has fitted up a splendid motor launch on the lake and has spent between $30,000 and $40,000 on the premises. A motor launch is on the lake and connecting with the outside world is secured by means of a private telephone wire from Redbank running through miles of woods to this sportsman's paradise. Mr. Robinson explained the killing of the two animals by the fact that they needed food. He had arrived at the camp with a party of friends and he and his man, Farrington, went out and shot a moose and a deer, as there was no food in the camp. Mr. Robinson said that that was all they had ever killed out of season and that they did not do it for sport. "There was no sport in that," he stated. "The moose simply swam through the woods and you might as well go out and shoot cows, for all the sport there would be." The way the story leaked out was by the tales told by a couple of employees at the camp whom Mr. Robinson discharged for good reasons, and who later told the story of the killing to the game warden.

AT FERNHILL
Improvements at Westmorland Road Entrance—Lots Are Looking Well.
The jail squad is doing good work near the back entrance to Fernhill Cemetery. A hill composed of solid rock is being cut down and the road is now much more accessible for teams. The driveway into the cemetery has been greatly improved also, and the entrance to the old Westmorland road is likely to be much more popular as the improvements now under way are completed. The "city of the dead" presented a very fine appearance yesterday when the Knights of Pythias held their annual memorial service there. Superintendent Clayton is deserving of much praise for the work he has done to beautify the place. The seamen's lot is now one of the most attractive and well cared for portions of the cemetery. Many complimentary remarks were heard about the handsome and well-kept appearance of the lots.
