

The Evening Times

VOL. V. No. 229

ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JULY 5, 1909

EIGHT PAGES—ONE CENT

BUILDING RESTRICTIONS FOLLOW COBALT FIRE

No More Construction of the Match Box Order Will Be Permitted and Town Will Become Up-to-Date—People Have Plenty of Food.

Cobalt, Ont., July 5.—(Special)—The town is seething with people from the camp...

Cobalt, Ont., July 5.—(Special)—Frank Malone, aged 23, of Almonte, Ont., was hospitalized early Sunday morning while working at the 200 foot level of the crown Reserve mine.

STABBED TO DEATH BY A FISHERMAN

Halifax Gets Word of a Bloody Murder at St. Pierre, Micouelin.

Halifax, N. S., July 5.—(Special)—The Press mail steamer, St. Pierre Micouelin, which arrived this morning bringing news of a murder committed at St. Pierre on Friday last.

The victim Lucia Lebon, one of the most prominent merchants of the place, was stabbed by a fisherman.

With a gron Lebon sunk to the floor and just as he was falling his assailant made another lunge at him with the murder knife, but missed his victim by a hair's breadth.

A BIG INDUSTRY MAY LOCATE HERE

Common Council Will Hear a Proposition from a Mr. Durant This Afternoon

The regular monthly meeting of the common council will be held this afternoon. Among the new matters to come before the meeting will be a proposition from a Mr. Durant, who represents a big industrial establishment in the United States.

GROGERS ELECT OFFICERS

The Canada Wholesale Grocers' Exchange which met in Victoria, B. C. elected the following officers: President, L. E. Griffin, of Montreal; vice-presidents, British Columbia, H. T. Lockyer; Alberta, E. Telfer; Manitoba, H. B. Gordon; Ontario, H. C. Beckett; Quebec, L. A. Carrier; Nova Scotia, M. D. Rayer; New Brunswick, S. A. Jones; Prince Edward Island, W. H. Atkins.

WANTED—A MAN TO DO LATHING

Apply to S. A. THOMAS, 22 Baitley street, or 262 Pitt street.

SMALLER TOLL OF LIVES IN "FOX H" HALL FOR MAIN PRECEDING YEARS

There Were Still Enough Lives Lost However to Furnish Material for Excellent Argument for Safe and Sane Celebration of Any National Holiday.

Chicago, July 5.—Statistics compiled by the Tribune, regarding the fourth of July casualties throughout the country, indicate a much smaller list of fatalities and injuries than in any preceding year.

Philadelphia, July 5.—The first death in this city from fireworks was recorded last night when Mary Gluck, two and a half years old, died from burns received on Saturday.

Camden, N. J., July 3.—Ruth T. Knowles, six years old, was burned about the back and neck when her dress caught fire from fireworks and died at the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 5.—An overcharged cannon exploded last night in North Wilkesbarre and four boys were injured.

Madison, Ill., July 5.—Frank Dixon, son of George W. Dixon, of St. Louis, was drowned yesterday in Horseshoe Lake near Madison. He was frightened by the explosion of a cannon cracker behind him and fell from the bank on which he had been doing.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—The unavoidable distinction of having made the most notable sacrifice to patriotism by reason of Independence Day celebration this year will probably fall at Louisville, through the death at Seymour, Ind., early today of Arthur Granville Lohmans, former president of the Providence Life Assurance Society.

Philadelphia, July 5.—The first death in this city from fireworks was recorded last night when Mary Gluck, two and a half years old, died from burns received on Saturday.

Camden, N. J., July 3.—Ruth T. Knowles, six years old, was burned about the back and neck when her dress caught fire from fireworks and died at the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 5.—An overcharged cannon exploded last night in North Wilkesbarre and four boys were injured.

Madison, Ill., July 5.—Frank Dixon, son of George W. Dixon, of St. Louis, was drowned yesterday in Horseshoe Lake near Madison. He was frightened by the explosion of a cannon cracker behind him and fell from the bank on which he had been doing.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—The unavoidable distinction of having made the most notable sacrifice to patriotism by reason of Independence Day celebration this year will probably fall at Louisville, through the death at Seymour, Ind., early today of Arthur Granville Lohmans, former president of the Providence Life Assurance Society.

Philadelphia, July 5.—The first death in this city from fireworks was recorded last night when Mary Gluck, two and a half years old, died from burns received on Saturday.

Camden, N. J., July 3.—Ruth T. Knowles, six years old, was burned about the back and neck when her dress caught fire from fireworks and died at the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 5.—An overcharged cannon exploded last night in North Wilkesbarre and four boys were injured.

Madison, Ill., July 5.—Frank Dixon, son of George W. Dixon, of St. Louis, was drowned yesterday in Horseshoe Lake near Madison. He was frightened by the explosion of a cannon cracker behind him and fell from the bank on which he had been doing.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—The unavoidable distinction of having made the most notable sacrifice to patriotism by reason of Independence Day celebration this year will probably fall at Louisville, through the death at Seymour, Ind., early today of Arthur Granville Lohmans, former president of the Providence Life Assurance Society.

Philadelphia, July 5.—The first death in this city from fireworks was recorded last night when Mary Gluck, two and a half years old, died from burns received on Saturday.

Camden, N. J., July 3.—Ruth T. Knowles, six years old, was burned about the back and neck when her dress caught fire from fireworks and died at the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 5.—An overcharged cannon exploded last night in North Wilkesbarre and four boys were injured.

Madison, Ill., July 5.—Frank Dixon, son of George W. Dixon, of St. Louis, was drowned yesterday in Horseshoe Lake near Madison. He was frightened by the explosion of a cannon cracker behind him and fell from the bank on which he had been doing.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—The unavoidable distinction of having made the most notable sacrifice to patriotism by reason of Independence Day celebration this year will probably fall at Louisville, through the death at Seymour, Ind., early today of Arthur Granville Lohmans, former president of the Providence Life Assurance Society.

Philadelphia, July 5.—The first death in this city from fireworks was recorded last night when Mary Gluck, two and a half years old, died from burns received on Saturday.

Camden, N. J., July 3.—Ruth T. Knowles, six years old, was burned about the back and neck when her dress caught fire from fireworks and died at the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 5.—An overcharged cannon exploded last night in North Wilkesbarre and four boys were injured.

Madison, Ill., July 5.—Frank Dixon, son of George W. Dixon, of St. Louis, was drowned yesterday in Horseshoe Lake near Madison. He was frightened by the explosion of a cannon cracker behind him and fell from the bank on which he had been doing.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—The unavoidable distinction of having made the most notable sacrifice to patriotism by reason of Independence Day celebration this year will probably fall at Louisville, through the death at Seymour, Ind., early today of Arthur Granville Lohmans, former president of the Providence Life Assurance Society.

Philadelphia, July 5.—The first death in this city from fireworks was recorded last night when Mary Gluck, two and a half years old, died from burns received on Saturday.

Camden, N. J., July 3.—Ruth T. Knowles, six years old, was burned about the back and neck when her dress caught fire from fireworks and died at the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 5.—An overcharged cannon exploded last night in North Wilkesbarre and four boys were injured.

Madison, Ill., July 5.—Frank Dixon, son of George W. Dixon, of St. Louis, was drowned yesterday in Horseshoe Lake near Madison. He was frightened by the explosion of a cannon cracker behind him and fell from the bank on which he had been doing.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—The unavoidable distinction of having made the most notable sacrifice to patriotism by reason of Independence Day celebration this year will probably fall at Louisville, through the death at Seymour, Ind., early today of Arthur Granville Lohmans, former president of the Providence Life Assurance Society.

ELABORATE CELEBRATIONS ON LAKE CHAMPLAIN SHORE

HENLEY REGATTA HAS MANY ENTRIES

Big Rowing Events Which Opened Today Will Be Vigorously Contested—77 Entries in.

Henley, July 5.—The annual Henley Regatta for which there is a record number of entries, opened here today with a small attendance and in cloudy weather.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—Judge McKewen will hold his first sitting of the N. B. divorce court tomorrow and it promises to be a most important one.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—There are five cases entered for trial: Curry vs. Lemuel Allan Curry; De W. A. Ferguson vs. Bertha Ferguson; Sarah A. Saunders vs. W. A. Saunders; Beulah L. Harris vs. Edward L. Harris; and Sarah Belle Harris vs. Walter W. Harris.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The plaintiff in the Ferguson case is a leading physician of Moncton. The Curry case was partially tried last term, but on account of the death of the court stenographer and the resignation of Judge Gregory, most of the evidence will have to be taken over again.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

Frederickton, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—The excursion to St. Anne de Beauce this year promises to meet every success.

THE SOLDIERS IN CAMP AT SUSSEX

Arrested for Neglect of Duty—Camp Order Generally Good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

Sussex, N. B., July 5.—(Special)—When the soldiers of the 10th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, were arrested for neglect of duty at Sussex, N. B., on Saturday last, the camp order was generally good.

THE WEATHER

Moderate to fresh southwesterly, with westerly winds, fine and a little warm.

Port Henry, July 5.—With the crumbling ruins of Fort Amherst and Fredericton forming a historic setting, the first of a series of events celebrating the three hundredth anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain by the famous French explorer, navigator and colonizer, Samuel de Champlain, occurred today at Crown Point, where Champlain with the Canadian Indian allies of the Huron and Algonquin tribes, first met the Iroquois in battle.

The celebration was arranged jointly between the states of New York and Vermont, and will continue throughout the week, representatives of France, England, Canada and of the Indian aborigines joining with those of the states and the federal government in the exercises commencing at the historic Champlain village.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

The Indian drama of Albatross, which formed a picturesque part of the day's programme, was produced by 150 Indians, original descendants of the Algonquians and Iroquois who participated in Champlain's battle, under direction of L. O. Armstrong of Montreal, one of the most distinguished of the modern Indian artists.

SPECIALLY PRICED AT $1.00

Leopold NO 273

A stylish and charming new model, for medium and petite figures, combining the advantages of the girde top, with those of the medium long hip corset.

Produces lines of exquisite shape-lines and grace, imparts absolute comfort and a superb figure. Made of Imported Coutil, rust-proof boning shroud, one of the best sellers ever made.

On sale at your dealer, if not, write for Descriptive Circular

DOMINION CORSET CO., Mfrs.
Quebec, Montreal, Toronto.

PRINCESS ZARA
BY ROSS-BECKMAN.

(Continued)

"Why, sir, did you take Princess Zara d'Bechevra to the house of Prince Michael?" continued the czar.

"Because I believed him to be a honorable man who would stand ready to protect her good name, and who would conceal from all the world, even from your majesty, the fact that she was there. Because he had told me that he loved her, and I was innocent enough to believe that his love was unselfish; and further, because I regarded him as my friend. There are three reasons, your majesty, any one of which I must answer to you alone."

"But why was it necessary to take her anywhere?"

"That, your majesty, is a question I must answer to you alone."

"Do you mean that you will not tell the prince?"

"I mean that it was my intention to tell the prince as soon as I arrived at the palace, but that now I deem it unnecessary. He has taught me a lesson in hospitality that is as new to me as the air. Perhaps she will explain the strange affair herself. I have no doubt that she will tell your majesty."

"I have sent for her. She will remain here in the palace as long as danger threatens her. She should be here by now."

"May I inquire of your majesty whom you sent?"

"The captain of the palace guard."

"Yes."

"I looked at my watch, replaced it in my pocket, and then said calmly: 'Captain Durnief will not return with the princess, your majesty.' Then I saw the heavy frown of rising anger. I knew my man, for kings and emperors are less than men of the world when it comes to studying them. Their own opportunities for observing others are so much easier than to influence than the car satirist."

"What do you mean?" he demanded, personal orders? There the princess refused to accompany him."

"She most certainly would not have the bad taste to refuse, and if she did so, the captain would doubtless bring her by force to the car seat."

"Why did Durnief fail to carry out your personal orders?"

"He had taste to refuse, and if she did so, the captain would doubtless bring her by force to the car seat."

"By heaven, Derrington, you know too much! I begin to think that your majesty's usefulness are past, in St. Petersburg. There seems to be no limit to the authority you assume, and now you have begun to dictate to me. I will not have it. I command that you tell me why you thought it necessary to take the princess from her own house tonight?"

"I knew that the crucial moment had come. I knew that if I weakened now, I was lost. The only possible escape for me was to see the czar alone, and that I determined to do. The manner of the prince, upon my arrival at the palace, his conduct in the cabinet, the greeting accorded to me by the czar and his bearing towards me since then, led me to a shrewd guess which I determined to hazard. I decided to play my last card by making one bold statement."

"Your majesty," I said, deliberately, "has never until now, had less than perfect confidence in me. The prince, being jealous, and too impatient to await an explanation at my hands, has prevailed upon you to order me under arrest, for a time, in order that I may not return to his house where I have left the princess. If I do not mistake, he now has such an order signed by you in person. In one of his

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

CANADIAN EDITORS TALK OF IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE

Canada, a London publication devoted to the interests of the Dominion published a series of interviews with the Canadian editors who have been in attendance at the Press conference. In these interviews are many interesting deductions as to what has been accomplished by the gathering and the results that will follow. They are given in full below.

"I have been deeply impressed by the seriousness and earnestness with which your public men discharge their duty, not only the leading statesmen on both sides who have met socially as well as in conference, but the officers, both as well as the rank and file. There is no evidence of that indifference, frivolity, or decay of which we have heard so much in the past. It is a relief to find men who realize the gravity of their responsibilities and the importance of seeking only a wise solution of the difficult problems involved in the United States, that they are quite as well equipped with all modern improvements as their rivals across the water. Another thing which has especially struck me," said Mr. Brierley, "is the world-wide interests of the Englishmen we meet. They have followed the happenings in Asia and Africa with a keenness which is not only a credit to their own country, but that the northern part of it. We shall all take back some more valuable recollections than those of the splendid hospitality with which we have been received as representatives of the entire journalistic profession in Canada. The Imperial Press Conference may have concrete results in the form of improved facilities for the interchange of news, but apart from this, its indirect influence is bound to be great. The mere fact of sixty journalists from all parts of the empire spending three weeks in one another's company, with the inevitable establishment of friendships and acquaintanceships, is in itself a great achievement. Moreover, we have all been taking a course of instruction in high imperial affairs with the leading public men of our country, and we have, I think, all profited thereby. The impressions made upon us by our visit to Great Britain are numerous and varied, but among them stand out prominently the warmth and cordiality of the greeting of our kinsmen; the splendid tone of your public life, as exemplified by your parliamentary and press discussions; and the evident alertness and virility of the people; and I do not think a single delegate who has kept his eyes open will take any stock in the future in stories about the decadence of England."

"The feeling of most of the delegates to the conference is probably that the conference has proved to be of a totally unexpected importance. Most of us were apprehensive that, outside of the cable news question, there could be nothing to be usefully discussed, and we were afraid that even on the cable question we were too limited and irresponsible a body to accomplish anything practical. That the conference should suddenly prove of vast significance was a bigger surprise to the delegates, I fancy, than to anybody else. That the conference has proved so significant is due, not at all to our own initiative, but to the fact that we have been seized as a text on which to base imperial discussions. Apparently the queer political questions which have been grasped this situation, as it always has been the case with the British, and has made the most of it."

"Among ourselves, from over the seas, the visits and discussions have, I feel sure,

If British industrial concerns would wake up to the fact Canada offers a market for at least 200,000,000 of their products a year that they are not taking advantage of, the unemployed in this country would be less numerous."

The conference is a tremendous educative imperial force. We are too near it to forecast its full effect, which will cover many years, and will make strongly for imperial unity in the best sense. The meetings have shown that the empire is best questions are concerned. The details will adjust themselves after the Anglo-Saxon fashion, without any special expert assistance upon formula. The blood is strong. The need of the hour is increased and cheapened cable news, so that we may know one another. That is the great imperial requisite."

NO TRACE OF THE ONNARIO BANK BANDITS

Men Who Looted the Bank of Nova Scotia Will Be Traded by Bloodhounds—Trail Lost in Ontario Wilderness.

Rainey River, Ont., July 4.—The hunt for bandits who robbed the Bank of Nova Scotia branch here was vigorously prosecuted all day yesterday in the rough and dangerous country north of here, where the robbers are believed to have their camp and where the difficulty of following them is so great that few can appreciate it who have not traversed it. The trail of the bandits was lost in the morning, and it is believed that the men who were seen in the vicinity of Rainey River have been telegraphed for and will be placed on the trail as soon as possible. Several expert detectives have about secured to direct the pursuit. The international boundary and railways are being closely guarded.

Galician, with whom the bandits made their headquarters while in town, is being closely watched also, as some of the authorities are not satisfied that he does not know more than he does about these erstwhile guests. Today in reports to the police that his horse had been burglarized last night and a quantity of provisions stolen and he gave it as his belief that the bandits were in the vicinity of Rainey River, where they were themselves with food, but the police are inclined to regard this as a false statement and to throw them off the trail of the men to the north.

The robbers are thought to have planned carefully and to have a camp somewhere in the vicinity of Rainey River, where they may remain in hiding for a considerable period. If they do not know the country well an escape in the woods would be impossible, as the men are not expert in safety without guides. This is the danger which constantly faces the bandits, and it is in their interest to be seen and sent back to the authorities.

It is believed that the bandits are in the vicinity of Rainey River, where they were themselves with food, but the police are inclined to regard this as a false statement and to throw them off the trail of the men to the north.

The Tudhope-McIntyre Model HH - $550.

The Motor Carriage That Gets You There and Back

First, because Tudhope-McIntyre HH has high wheels and solid rubber tires—just like a regular runabout. No punctures or blow-outs. Simple and safe to operate.

Second, because it has a double cylinder, 12-14 horse power motor, that can push this carriage through mud, sand, wash-outs and snow-drifts, and up hills, that a horse would balk at.

Buy a Tudhope-McIntyre Model HH and you will get a Motor Carriage that will be safe and comfortable in bad weather and on bad roads as well as when the sun shines on the asphalt.

This Motor Carriage runs from 3 to 25 miles an hour—and

Will Travel 30 Miles On One Gallon Of Gasoline.

Complete with solid rubber tires, Chapman double ball bearing axles, horn, and three lamps. (Top with roll front, $30 extra.)

Write for 1909 catalogue, showing the entire line of Tudhope-McIntyre Motor Vehicles.

THE TUDHOPE-McINTYRE CO., Dept. S.T. ORILLIA, Ont.

THE DEADLY HOLIDAY

(Ottawa Citizen.)

The fact that 1,300 persons have been killed and nearly 28,000 wounded in the United States during the past six years as the price of celebrating July 4 is announced by the Journal of the American Medical Association. And the Detroit Journal remarks that everywhere the authorities are getting ready for the coming Fourth by preparing for fire, casualties and deaths. In New York city the health board is announcing that ten deaths from the celebration of the day will be inevitable, and that the fire department is ready for any extraordinary emergencies. In other words, says the Journal, "it is clearly recognized as inevitable that the commemorating of the nation's birth is observed in destruction, agony and death."

Many cities are, however, studying methods to eliminate the bloodshed and noise on the national holiday, and the pages of the Journal are full of suggestions for a more rational manner.

The present manner of celebrating holidays in the United States originated in the big and crowded cities. The people sought some outlet for their feelings, and as the native American is hardly a musical animal shouting and noise took the place of singing and music. Where green fields abound, where flowers bloom and the sky is blue, there is no desire to offend nature with noise and smoke. When the people are provided with enough parks or taught to go out into the fields, the death roll of the mad holiday will decrease.

Hugh McCormick arrived home from Boston Saturday afternoon. He is reported to be not much improved in health. The doctors he consulted held out the hope that he would ultimately recover.

THE "WINNIPEG LIAR"

LIVES UP TO HIS NAME

Toronto, July 4.—A fake interview sent out from Winnipeg credits General Oter with a lot of foolish talk to the effect that the United States could never beat Canada in twenty-five years; that if war started it would be another Philippine affair and Canada would win; that the Americans and Gaielians are better pleased to wear the king's uniform than Canadian and make better soldiers.

This dispatch, sent to several United States papers, has made some stir in official circles and already General Oter has been asked for an explanation. He never said a word that could bear such construction and the telegram is the work of a man well known who has won the sobriquet of the "Winnipeg liar" by his narrative genius in this line.

NEWS FROM FREDERICTON

U. N. B. is Anxious to Secure the Rev. Frank Baird for New Chair in English.

Fredricton, July 4.—The Sunday train service on the Fredericton branch was inaugurated today for the summer months. The train, in charge of Conductor McGovern, which connected with the Montreal express, arrived from the Junction at 11:20 with two passengers, and the outgoing train, which left at 6:40 this evening, had four.

Large crews of men are employed at the Douglas and Mitchell booms and are making good progress with rafting work. At Douglas boom last week 3,388 joints were rafted by a crew of 150 men.

The horses which competed in the races here last week with the exception of those owned by A. E. Triles, will be shipped to Woodstock by special train tomorrow.

The name of Rev. Frank Baird, pastor of Sussex Presbyterian church, is being mentioned in connection with the chair of English to be established at the University of New Brunswick, and it is believed that he can have the appointment if he desires it. The reverend gentleman graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1888 and completed his studies at Glasgow University and Pine Hill College. He has given special attention to English literature and is in every way qualified to fill the position.

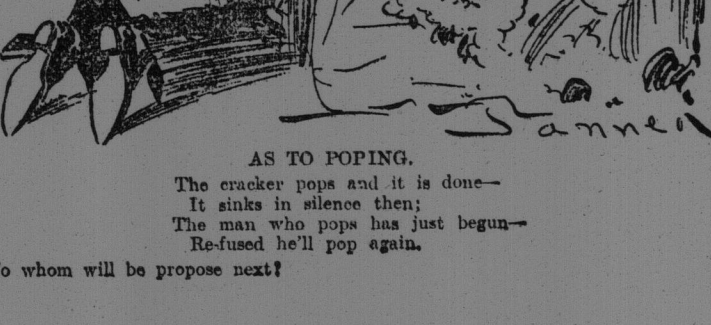

Matriculation and Normal school entrance examinations began on Tuesday at the different stations throughout the province.

The local government will hold a meeting here on Tuesday.

Leo McGovern, of Fredericton Junction, who was brought here on a hand car from his home three weeks ago today and operated upon for appendicitis, died at the Victoria Hospital this morning. It was a bad case and the doctors found it necessary to undergo a second operation which resulted fatally. Deceased was in the employ of the C. P. R. and was twenty-two years of age and unmarried. The body was taken to Fredericton Junction this afternoon.

Judge McKelown will hold his first sitting of the divorce court on Tuesday and the indications are that he will be kept pretty busy, as the divorce mill has been working over time of late. There are seven cases pending, five of which have been entered and are ready for trial. It

The Times Daily Puzzle Picture

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

BRITISH PATENT

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

PILES

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

See testimonials in the press and on every medicine box. You can see it get your money back if not satisfied. Go, at all addresses. BOWEN, BATES & CO., Toronto.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

THE SHIPPING WORLD

A CANADIAN NAVY

PORT OF ST. JOHN.

ARRIVED TODAY.
Schr Havock, 186, Geldart, Bridgetown, Barb. A. W. Adams, molasses, 500 pkts molasses, order.

ARRIVED SUNDAY.

Schr Frank E. Swain (Am), 348, Theall, Boston, N. C. Elkin, ballast.

ARRIVED SATURDAY.

Schr Elmira, 209, Miller, City Island, f. o. Steaton, Cutler & Co., 25,000 ft spruce deals.

SAILED TODAY.

S. S. Ramon B. Fuller, 1023, Mitchell, Boston via Maine ports, W. O. Lee.

DOMINION PORTS.

Quebec, July 4-Ard, stmr Lake Champlain, from Liverpool.

BRITISH PORTS.

Queensdown, July 4-SM, stmr Maritima, from Liverpool for New York.

FOREIGN PORTS.

Boston, July 4-Ard, stmr Calvin Austin, from St. John; Prince Arthur, from Yarmouth.

MARINE NOTES.

Yarmouth Telegram-The stranded steamer, the 'Mascot', with the tide ebbing and flowing in the harbor, with the tide ebbing and flowing in the harbor, with the tide ebbing and flowing in the harbor.

STILL CHASING THE MURDERER

British Columbia Police in Hot Pursuit of Man Wanted for Ashcroft Killing.

Vancouver, B. C., July 5-(Special)-The pursuit of the Ashcroft murderer and the Ducks train robbery continues. The much-wanted murderer, supposed to be Cornwall Ranch Wednesday, forcing a Chinaman to supply him with food. The Vancouver provincial police arrested a suspect at Chilliwack on Thursday night. They found the man on a baggage car of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The man was seen jumping on to a train at Mission. He gave the name of Albert Jones and said he had already been stopped at Becheroff. The police are investigating his story.

WANTS NO CRITICISM FROM CANADIAN PRESS

The following from the Calais correspondent of the Bangor Commercial would indicate that U. S. Customs Officer Welch was in a "huff" over the criticisms made in certain newspapers about the arrest of Chinaman at Calais.

"The New Brunswick papers have been criticizing Customs Officer Ed. Welch of this city, who arrested and detained two Chinamen who came from St. Stephen on Sunday evening, June 27, on an electric car. Officer Welch was on the car which passes through the towns of St. Stephen and Milltown on the Canada route. The newspapers across the line think that the Officer should have warned the Chinamen that they should not cross the border instead of allowing them to come over and then place them under arrest. Officer Welch informed the Commercial correspondent on Friday that he was acting in accordance with instructions received from his superiors and that he was justified in making the arrest as soon as the undesirable foreigners reached his territory. The Chinese were well aware that they were violating the American laws by crossing the border even for a car ride as they claimed, and it would not have been becoming had he acceded them while they were in a foreign territory. Officer Welch wishes to remind the newspapers which criticized his actions that he draws his salary from the Canadian government, and takes his instructions from his superiors in office over here."

The attention of the medical profession is directed to the fact that the Maritime Medical Association will meet in Charlottetown, P. E. Island, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 14th and 15th inst. This is a change in date from that first selected as it was found that the Nova Scotia Medical Society was to meet upon these latter dates. An interesting and profitable meeting is anticipated.

The winners of prizes in the contest conducted last week by W. H. Underhill, publisher of the Opera House programme, for misspelled words in advertisements are as follows: prize, 20 Nickel tickets, Miss Marion Frink, 114 Leinster street, 26th avenue, 12 doz. cabinet photos, Miss Mollie Dunlop, 180 King street east, 100th avenue, 12 doz. photos, Miss Violet Golding, 97 Mecklenburg street, last answer opened, 5 pound box chocolates, Miss Marguerite McDade, 63 Acadia street. The word unspelled was "description."

Mrs. Wm. T. Hennessey of St. John West who has been visiting relatives in Fredericton has returned home.

Moncton (N. B.) for New York; Kolon, from Cape for Port Chester (N. B.); Stratton, from Port Chester (N. B.) for St. John; St. John, from Port Chester (N. B.) for St. John.

Hyannis, Mass. July 4-Passed, schr Anna Lord, from Perth Amboy for Richmond; Schr. Lillian, from Perth Amboy for Fredericton (N. B.).

Chatham, Mass. July 4-Diminished north-wind, clear, smooth sea.

New York, July 3-Ard, stmr St. Paul, from Philadelphia; July 4-Ard, schr Conrad S. from Port Beville; Cape Sable, Fredericton; Celtic, for Liverpool.

Portland, July 4-Ard, stmr Fram, from Boston; July 4-Ard, schr Miss Gorman, from Metungah (N. B.); C. J. Colwell, from Metungah (N. B.); Silver Leaf, from Port Beville (N. B.); Eva Stewart, from Windsor (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Philadelphia, from Philadelphia; July 4-Ard, schr Conrad S. from Port Beville; Cape Sable, Fredericton; Celtic, for Liverpool.

Saunderstown, B. I. July 3-Ard, schr Ronald, from Port John; July 4-Ard, schr Vinny, from Mass. July 3-Ard, brig Harry, from Mass. July 3-Ard, brig Harry, from Mass. July 3-Ard, brig Harry, from Mass.

Lyons, Mass. July 3-Ard, barge Lawrence E. Melanson, from Gilbert Cove (N. B.); City Island, July 3-Passed, schr Fredericton, from St. John for New York; Veru B. Roberts, from Fredericton (N. B.) for St. John.

Delaware Breakwater, July 3-Passed, schr Monna, from Philadelphia; July 4-Ard, schr Monna, from Philadelphia; July 4-Ard, schr Monna, from Philadelphia.

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

St. John, July 3-SM, stmr Horan, from West Bay (N. B.); Rosefield, from New Mills (N. B.).

It is encouraging to note that even the newspapers which are generally of the Montreal Star's way of thinking do not join in depreciating the creating of a Canadian navy on the ground that we are incapable of doing so, because of our inherent addition to corruption. It stands alone in that "blatant insincerity". There are, of course, differences of opinion. There are those who favor tribute, notwithstanding the humiliating associations that history assigns to the word. They are able to emphasize the difficulties that would be encountered in tracing a wholly new path and the magnitude of the task of getting officers and sailors to man our vessels when they are built. No one supposes, however, that we could for ever avoid the necessity of forming a fleet and if it has to be undertaken now we might as well make a beginning at once. Now we can only learn to walk by walking. It is true that in the early stages we might not add very materially to Britain's sea strength, but every year would see an improvement in that respect.

It is urgent that the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

The St. Louis writer overlooks a fact that is too often lost sight of over there, namely, that Canadians are people of very much the same flesh and blood as they are—and if he will imagine the people of the United States calling upon some outside power to come and defend them he will have a better appreciation of the situation. The other alternative—namely, calling upon the British navy to come to their aid—just raises the whole issue. That would be quite right. We would be expected to be protected by the whole might of the British navy.

It is not in our nature to be satisfied with the formation of a Canadian navy would be an incentive to the building of fleets on this continent. The idea has also been set forth in some United States papers. St. Louis paper said recently that it would be a "supreme folly" for Canada to build a fleet and arrive at this conclusion because she has two fleets upon which she could call in time of trouble, the British navy and the United States fleet. "As part of the American continent," the writer says, "she could, in an emergency, call on the United States to aid her against any foreign government, and the United States, in defence of the Monroe principle, would be constrained to go to her defence."

British navy if it were needed, but we ought also to do something for ourselves, and be of some use to Britain in her day of trial. The whole tenor of the article shows that the writer is not seized of this self-respecting attitude in our part, nor of the profound fact that Britain's enemy is Canada's enemy, even though our shores were not threatened at all.

One portion of the article especially merits a reference: "One of the effects of the creation of a navy by Canada," the writer continues, "would be an incentive on our part to increase our naval defenses, for a few brief interruptions, ever since the close of the war of 1812. But this Canadian naval programme would arouse a good deal of interest on our side of the border, and would entail an additional expense on each country, without doing any good to either, or to anybody." If this should be a consequence of the formation of a Canadian navy it would be a very regrettable one. We do not think the fear is well founded, however. The United States is creating one of the strong and efficient navies of the world. It is a good thing to have a navy that will be second to none. It is doing this without any incentive that Canada has supplied. Any fleet that may be formed in our waters need not and will not cause any foreboding at Washington. If there is any feeling that we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to the extent of her power, whatever they happen to be, the United States will be glad to see it. It is in defence of the Monroe doctrine, or in defence of white supremacy on this continent. In defence of either of those causes we believe the United States could depend upon Canada's assistance to

THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JULY 5, 1909

The Evening Times

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 5, 1909.

The St. John Evening Times is published at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE EVENING TIMES THE DAILY TELEGRAPH New Brunswick's Independent Newspapers

These papers advocate: British Connection Honesty in Public Life Measures for the Material Progress and Moral Advancement of our Great Dominion.

ST. JOHN HIGHWAYS

The Hazen government has belatedly belated the highways of St. John county. The fact is indisputable. St. John county was not taken into account at all when the act was framed.

In other counties the municipal elections are held in October. In this county they are held in April. In other counties the assessors are appointed in January; but in St. John county in May.

Hence the Hazen government is clearly responsible for the fact that St. John county roads are this year in a very bad condition.

ENGLAND'S GREAT WEALTH

The enormous wealth that England draws from investments abroad is one of the sources of her present financial strength. The income from this source has greatly expanded in recent years. A London cable states:

"Figures compiled by the editor of the Statist, and placed before the Royal Statistical Society show that the incomes which British investors drew from foreign holdings in India, colonial and foreign government bonds amounted to a total of £31,039,083. The income British investors derived from Indian, colonial, and foreign securities from coupons and from railways of the United Kingdom was £48,821,800, which, with the income from government loans, made a total of £79,860,883, as compared with the income of £44,518,000 received from similar sources twenty years ago.

NATION BUILDERS

Proposers of the convention of wholesale grocers in that city, among whom are delegates from St. John, the Victoria, B. C., Colonist pays this tribute to the man of affairs:

ASK FOR THE FACTS

The Standard this morning has the following vicious attack upon Kings County Liberals:

"Because he failed to vote 'right' at election times, Mr. S. S. Carmichael, postmaster at Clifton, has been dismissed by the Federal Government. His office was taken from him on Thursday, July 1, and given to Cleveland Wetmore, a lad of some 21 years, son of Mr. A. P. Wetmore of Clifton. The news of Mr. Carmichael's dismissal came as a thunderbolt to most of the people there. A patristic, condescending official, Mr. Carmichael has conducted the affairs of his office in such a way as to win for him the respect and appreciation of the people of the village. It is said by Mr. Carmichael's friends to be a move on the part of Dr. McAllister, M. P., and Ogden Carter, to redeem some promise to reward the family of their friend the Kingston healer for the Liberal party."

If the Standard really desired to know why Mr. Carmichael was removed from of-

Exceptional Values in Boys' Wash Suits

If you want your boys to thoroughly enjoy the warm vacation days you must have them properly dressed in cool comfortable clothing. Nothing but a Tub Suit will fill the bill for the little gaffer. We have the kind that will stand both the boy and the tub and yet retain their color, look as good as new when washed.

Prices, 75c., $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 to $4.00

J. N. HARVEY, Clothing and Furnishings, 199 to 207 Union Street

Every Man

Who wants to be comfortable should wear LOW SHOES during the summer months, because low shoes allow a better circulation of air around the ankle and foot, thereby adding to the comfort of the wearer.

SEE THE STYLES now displayed in our window

Table with 2 columns: BLACK OXFORDS and TAN OXFORDS. Prices range from $3.00 to $5.50.

Let us fit you with the proper style and correct size and see how much pleasanter life will be.

Oxford Silk Laces, Tassel Ends, 25c. a pair

HAVE YOU BEEN STUNG?

By Having A Hot Water or Steam Heating Apparatus Badly Installed Lots of people have been and are losing money every year by burning double the quantity of coal they ought to.

Get it Fixed Now BY FRED H. BARR, Contractor and Heating Expert, 112 Waterloo St. Tel. 1789

SKINNER'S Carpet Warerooms

I have opened the largest stock, Carpets, Squares, Rugs, Inlaid Linoleums, Printed Linoleums and Curtains ever imported to the Maritime Provinces.

Inlaid Linoleum . . . 75c., $1.10, $1.25 My stock of Squares is very large, 150 designs to select from, in Wool, Brussels, Tapestry, Welton, Axminster and cheaper grades. Prices as low as any dealer in Canada.

A. O. SKINNER, 58 KING STREET.

Bamboo Fish Poles, Fishing Tackle and Hooks, Hammocks, Carts, Wagons, Wheelbarrows, Pails and Shovels, Lunch Boxes, American Alarm Clocks, Base Balls, Bats, Gloves and Mitts.

Everything in Granite Ware. Cheap Kitchen Crockery and lots of other goods at

WATSON & CO.'S, Cor. Charlotte and Union Sts. 1909

Let 'KOLA, CELERY and PEPSIN' get to work on that run down system of yours

Nature's own body builders that work in harmony for better health, for happier people, scientifically compounded without the aid of injurious drugs.

'Reliable' ROBB The Prescription Druggist 137 CHARLOTTE ST.

We Keep a Good Assortment of Smallwares and Useful Articles. Call Us up at anytime 'Phone 1782-31.

A. B. WETMORE, 59 Garden St. Fly Screen 6c. yd.

HOLD UP YOUR END

"I've noticed," said Abe Wilkins once, "That men are often proud. They like to make a flourish when they're mingling with the crowd. He can't afford to spend his money on a suit that he can't always hold his end."

"I've seen a fellow how the coin his wife an' babies need. I've seen him try to keep a pace beyond his speed. His homeward journey wend. He'd downed all because He had upheld his end."

"The name 'good fellow' is all right. But 'whore' or 'idiot' is not. If I were you, I'd try to win that name at home. My name would be 'idiot' at first. Home is the place, my friend, to try place that with the 'idiot' 'idiot' up your end."

"The name 'good fellow' is all right. But 'whore' or 'idiot' is not. If I were you, I'd try to win that name at home. My name would be 'idiot' at first. Home is the place, my friend, to try place that with the 'idiot' 'idiot' up your end."

IN LIGHTER VEIN MEAN ON HIM. Hankins—"Er—what is the latest conceit in ladies' summer hats?" Judkins—"My wife."

HAPPY THOUGHT. The poor slaveholder: "If I could only be a slave, I'd be what everybody likes. A happy medium—Kansas City Times."

SURE ENOUGH. "You must not interrupt me when I am speaking, Ebel."

WEARING A NEW STRAW HAT. A man is not really gallant unless he is perfectly willing to give up his umbrella to a woman who has been caught in a sudden shower, and go home in the rain himself.—Somerville Journal.

IT DO. Teacher—"James, what is grammar?" James (after a long pause)—"Grammar is the science which teaches us how to speak correct."

SO LONG AGO. Jessie—Miss Antique is such a bore. When she started talking, I noticed—

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS. Mr. Newstead—"My dear, I wish you'd tell me the best way to get my breakfast burned, and don't want our roast raw."

VERY PERSONAL. Very Fat Sailor—"Yes, mate, I belong to a ship of 11,750 tonsage."

CONSOLING THOUGHT. "I'm glad my children are all boys," said the father. "Because why?" queried the privileged child. "Because none of them is doomed to grow up and look upon, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

PROVINCIAL NEWS

New Brunswick

The hoodoo following the motor boat owned by James McAllister of Millville, N. B., got its work again on Friday afternoon when the dainty little craft was nearly destroyed by fire as she lay on the beach at the residence of St. Stephen's customs house. The fire started during a test of the boat's batteries and in a few minutes the boat was a mass of flames. The fire department responded to the alarm and the boat was turned on, but it was some time before the fire was extinguished, the burning gasoline spreading into the bay where the tank was located where it played brightly while a crowd gathered in anticipation of an explosion which came not.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving R. Todd left Montreal Friday en route for a visit to England and Scotland.

Nova Scotia

The gold brick recently sent to New York by the Sydney Gold Mining Co. has proved more valuable than was estimated, bringing nearly $5000. Another brick from the same mine has arrived in Sydney and will likely be forwarded shortly to New York.

Brewer and McAulay, young men who held up and robbed a Jew, were up for trial at Judge Lawrence's in the supreme court at Sydney. They were found guilty and sentenced to six months each in the county jail.

Timothy O'Leary, a Greek, 45 years old, was killed in Dominion No. 1 colliery Wednesday afternoon by a fall of stone. The stick was leading a box of coal when a large quantity of stone fell from the roof, killing him instantly. He had been working at Dominion about a year.

A few days ago a young French girl who lives near Glace Bay harbor, came near losing her life by drowning. She was out rowing in a boat and while attempting to land at one of the wharves, stepped on the gunwale of the boat and fell between it and the wharf.

Captain Dennis J. Melanson, a well-known lumber merchant of Digby county, died at his home at Gilbert's Cove, last week, after a brief illness. He had been in the lumber business for many years and owned a fleet of vessels.

A seven-year-old boy named Mair was drowned at Sydney Mines, on Friday. The little fellow went to a pond near the blast furnaces with four companions to swim, and going beyond his depth, drowned. His companions did not miss him for several minutes. Twenty minutes later his body was recovered.

The following appointments are gazetted at Ottawa: Bennett Crease, of Riverford, to be shipping master of Riverford; Herbert H. Samson, of West Archaic, to be wharfinger at West Archaic; Willard Anderson, of Parker's Cove, to be wharfinger at Parker's Cove; Richard Southey, of Bathurst, to be a member of the pilotage commission for the district of Bathurst.

The following instructors have been appointed to the Nova Scotia Technical College: Professor of Civil Engineering—T. S. Hervey, of Lebanon, N. B.; Professor of Electrical Engineering—R. R. Keely, of Edmundston, N. B.; Instructor in Mining and Metallurgy—G. E. Murphy, Halifax, N. S.

The long drought in the Annapolis Valley which prevented the growth of plants and which was likely to cause a dearth of

Full Set $4.00

We have a scientific formula which renders the extraction of teeth absolutely without pain. We fit teeth without plates, and if you desire, we can, by a new method, do this work without resorting to the use of gold crowns or unsightly gold bands about the necks of the teeth. No cutting of the natural teeth or painful grinding.

Gold Crowns ..... $3 and $5
Bridge Work ..... $3 and $5
Teeth Without Plate ..... $3 and $5
Gold Filling ..... $1 up to $10
Other Filling ..... $1 up to $5

The King Dental Parlors

Corner Charlotte and South Market sts. DR. EDSON H. WILSON. - Prop.

We have just opened our New Restaurant at 86 King Street, opposite Church Street. New Chef, New Waitresses and best of satisfaction. Open day and night. Give us a try.

SCAMMELL'S

Phone 1118

Diamonds, Rubies, Emeralds, Sapphires, Pearls and

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene," can be seen selected and purchased at my store, at a price lower than the unfortunated depths that the most imaginative customer can expect. Yet the goods are all right, and are set, or can be set at once in the very latest and best style of RINGS, PINS, BROOCHES, EARSTUDS, LOCKETS, or any other article of fashionable jewelry that is now and ever will be the most latest thing of beauty and a joy forever."

W. TREMAINE GARD, 77 CHARLOTTE STREET

WATCHES AND CLOCKS

The most reliable makes and in a great variety of styles and prices . . . .

Special Attention Given to the Repairing and Adjusting of High Grade Watches

FERGUSON & PAGE

Diamond Importers and Jewelers 41 KING STREET

THE INGLENOOK PHILOSOPHER of Kennebecasis Bay.

I heard Aaron whistling as he came up the road. He does not whistle like a canary or a mocking bird, as some of the girls of long ago were wont to whist. The proper pucker of the lips for such warbling appears to be one of the many lost arts.

After the customary salutations Aaron threw himself down on the bench beside me. Said he: "I often wonder as I look up from my work and see you sitting in the shade, what music you hear and what panoramas are unrolling before your eyes."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

"I hear music that you will never hear," I answered, "though you may hear that which will sound quite as sweet to you, and I see pictures that you will never see, though you may look upon others that to you will seem quite as exquisite as any I have ever beheld."

Mid-Summer Styles in Ladies' Fine Shoes

From Some of The Best Makers

Ladies' Patent Colt, flexible welt, strap pump, "Clarice," $4.00 per pair.

Ladies' Patent Colt, flexible welt, button Oxford, "Clarice," $4.00 per pair.

Ladies' Patent Colt, Goodwear welt, button Oxford, $3.00 per pair.

Ladies' Vici Kid, turn sewed, Christy tie, sizes 1 1/2 to 7, "Sardon," $3.00 per pair.

Ladies' Brown Vici Kid, turn sewed, Christy tie, sizes 1 1/2 to 7, "Sardon," $3.00 per pair.

Francis & Vaughan 19 King Street

Open Saturday afternoon and evening.

A REPORT THAT MR. GRIMMER MISREPRESENTED THE FACTS

He is said to have made inaccurate statements to the Legislature in His Report Regarding the South Bay Fire.

The local government in the speech from the throne congratulated the province on the exemption from forest fires experienced during their term of office. Supporters of the government, later, claimed that this exemption was due to the policy of the government in their management of the crown lands—a claim subsequently repudiated by Surveyor General Grimmer himself. Mr. McKeown in speaking on the debate on the address during the session, said that there had been a fire in St. John county which had burned over an area of seven miles long by a mile and a half in width and although the attention of Chief Warden Dean had been called to it no action whatever had been taken for a whole week and then Mr. Dean had visited the locality, spent a few minutes with the men who were fighting the fire and left, promising to send assistance, which never came. At this point in his speech Mr. McKeown was interrupted by Hon. Mr. Grimmer who asked if any part of the lands burned over were crown lands. To this Mr. McKeown replied that he had not ascertained whether the fire had passed through crown lands or not, "but he asked, 'is it the policy of the government to protect crown lands alone.' The fire wardens, he said, were paid out of public funds and should extend protection from fire to private land as well as to public lands. Although Mr. McKeown invited Mr. Grimmer a second time to define the policy of the government on this question that gentleman remained silent and the members of the house were left to infer that the boasted government fire protection policy applied only to crown lands. Mr. McKeown's speech was made on March 22 and on March 26 Mr. Grimmer made his reply in a lengthy speech in which there were many inaccurate statements. The official report of his reference to the forest fire at Lodge Lake is as follows: "The member for St. John county had also denied any credit to the fire wardens and like the rest of his party had made statements that he had not verified. He had told them that for one whole week a fire was raging at Lodge Lake, and but for the efforts of the residents of that locality might have resulted in an enormous loss. He had charged that Chief Warden Dean, had never come near the place when as a matter of fact Mr. Dean was there every day directing the work of the fire fighters. He did not know where he spoke." These were very brave words but they were not a true statement of the facts concerning this fire, although Mr. Grimmer had four days in which to obtain information before he made his reply to Mr. McKeown. That Mr. Grimmer's statement is incorrect is proved by his own reply to an inquiry made by Mr. Lowell, which was laid before the house on April 19. In this reply he said: "No official of the crown land department took charge of the fire spoken of in the same attention to the fire that Mr. Dean did, which was no protection at all, and large areas of valuable timber lands were destroyed because the men appointed as fire wardens by Mr. Grimmer had no knowledge of how to stop a fire once it had gained headway, or used proper precautions to prevent fires being started. New Brunswick has an excellent forest fire law which, if carried out, would protect the country from devastation by fire, but judging from Mr. Grimmer's administration of the crown land department and the class of appointees he has placed in charge of this important service, the law is not likely to be enforced.

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dovedale, Sask.—"I was a sufferer from female weakness—monthly periods irregular and painful and a bad discharge, backache and headache, and had felt weak ever since the birth of my twins. I tried doctors but got no relief. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after a few weeks I was feeling much better, and now I am well again."—Mrs. BESSIE BULL, Dovedale, Sask., Canada.

REV. F. S. BRAMFORD LEAVES MONCTON

Moncton, July 4.—Rev. Frederic S. Bramford tonight tendered his resignation as pastor of Lewisville Baptist Church to leave in three months—Many converts in recent revival.

SOLDIERS AT SERVICE AT SUSSE YESTERDAY

Impressive Service at the Camp Grounds—Gun Carriage Used for Pulpit and Troops Formed Four Square With the Public Outside.

Sussex, N. B., July 4.—Under dark and lowering clouds and a sky of threatening aspect, through which bright gleams of sunshine now and again pierced their welcome rays, the soldiers at Camp Sussex today fittingly observed the Sabbath in a religious and military manner. When the morning gun was fired at 5.30 and the band played at reveille everybody in camp entertained most cheerful hopes of a pleasant service on the day. The latter did not begin until 10 o'clock, however, and in the interim the appearance of the sun changed everybody's feelings. Shortly after 9 o'clock, however, when some of the men of the 19th field battery were seen placing in position, facing the altar, a gun carriage which was to be used as a pulpit. The general parade ground at 9.45 the Roman Catholic troops assembled under command of Major MacNaughton, of the 72d regiment, and marched off with their regimental band at their head to St. Francis' church, where they attended high mass and listened with attention to the sermon preached by Rev. J. McDermott. After the service the men marched back to camp and were dismissed by their commanding officers. While the Roman Catholic troops were absent in the village the other men in camp were paraded on the high ground in front of the staff lines to attend divine service. The troops made a very pretty spectacle drawn up in the form of a square. The band of the 74th furnished a choice programme of sacred music, and was stationed between the ropes which form the boundary of the staff lines. To the right was the soldiers' pulpit, a four-wheeled carriage on a large drum, covered with a Union Jack, had been placed in commission as a book rest. Directly in front of this pulpit the 12th Infantry brigade formed the second side of the square. The third flank was taken up on the west by the 8th Hussars and No. 7 Co. C. A. S. C. drawn up in column of sections, while the square was completed by the 19th Field Battery, No. 8 Field Ambulance and the Canadian Ordnance Corps also in column of sections. The service space was assembled Lieut. Col. White, D. O. C., and his staff of officers. The service began with the responsive reading of Psalm 91, after which prayers were said by Chaplain Lynde of the 8th Hussars, bringing forth hearty rejoinders from the men. After the Doxology a couple of hymns were sung to the accompaniment of the band, at the end of which a brief but powerful sermon was preached by Rev. Canon Neale, chaplain of the 74th regiment. He took his text from

BIG INDUCEMENTS For Shoppers

Saturday and Monday at WILCOX BROS., Dock Street and Market Square

OFFICE TO LET

Office 78 Prince Wm. Street, Ground Floor, Occupancy at once. Enquire of LOCKHART & RITCHIE, 114 Prince Wm. Street. Phone 269

Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work

Advertisement for Gold Dust Washing Powder featuring an illustration of a dog and its shadow. Text: "The Dog and The Shadow. You remember the fable of the dog who dropped a real bone for its shadow which he saw in the water. 'Bear in mind that all is not Gold Dust that glitters under the name of washing powder. Don't accept a shadowy substitute; get the real Gold Dust Washing Powder with the Gold Dust on the package.'"

SUNDAY TRAINS CONDEMNED IN CITY CHURCHES YESTERDAY

Resolution Against New Service Has Been Unanimously Adopted and Pretests Will Be Sent to Supt. Downie

The opening of the Sunday train service by the C. P. R. yesterday was not allowed to go by without a vigorous protest from some of the city churches. A circular letter had been sent to the city pastors by Rev. Mr. Moore, general secretary of the Dominion Lord's Day Alliance, asking that they take action in the matter. Some churches preferred to lay the matter before their officers first. Those churches who took action did so in strongly worded resolutions which will be sent to William Downie, general superintendent for the Atlantic division. Later in the week, or after next Sunday, a further batch of resolutions will probably be sent in. What effect, if any, they will have on the C. P. R. remains to be seen. Mr. Downie last night, when told of the action of the churches, would say nothing beyond that he would first like to see the resolutions. During the evening service in the Charlotte street United Baptist church, Carleton, the following resolution was carried unanimously: "Resolved, that this congregation greatly deplore the institution of a Sunday train service by the C. P. R. touching St. John and other centres of New Brunswick, and they strongly protest against this desecration of the Lord's day and ask action in this matter, and in deference to the wishes of the people of New Brunswick, will discontinue the Sunday service recently introduced." The resolution, which was moved by D. C. Clark and seconded by J. S. Clark, was ordered to be sent to Mr. Downie. In St. Jude's Episcopal church, West End, a resolution was also passed along the same lines. In the congregation protested against Sunday trains on the C. P. R. or any other road. In St. George's Episcopal church, west

VAGUE PAINS POINT TO RHEUMATISM

There is no disease more sneaking, treacherous and insidious than rheumatism—today you're well—tomorrow perhaps in bed. The pain may settle in your back, arms, legs, thigh bones, knees, fingers—not even the heart is exempt. Nervine is the cure—a few vigorous rubbings with this trusty liniment proves what wonderful healing powers a good medicine can possess. Deep into the aching tendons and muscles, right through the bones and sinews goes the penetrating, pain-destroying properties of Nervine. Failure is impossible—Nervine always cures rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia and lumbago—in fact there is not a cure that won't yield quickly to Nervine. Don't hesitate to try "Nervine"—it has restored thousands of despairing, broken-down men and women, has sounded physicians with its rapid cures, and in your case, as in others just as bad, Nervine will cure quickly. Refuse substitutes—use "Nervine" only. Large 50c. bottles. Sold by all dealers.

A PLEASANT REUNION

There was a pleasant gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Keirstead, Keirsteadville, Kings county, on Dominion Day, at which five married sons and daughters, fourteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren were present. Those who came from a distance were Mrs. A. J. Allingham, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ganson, of Bellefleur; and Mrs. Edgar Smith, of Smithtown; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Urquhart, of St. John; and Mrs. Allen Keirstead, the son of the family, who included the complete list. They were there to congratulate their parents upon many happy years of wedded life, and were entertained in the kindest manner by the old couple. There is no man better known on the route between his home and St. John than Mr. Keirstead, who for about forty years has been a welcome visitor at many homes on that route, which has depended upon him for their supply of fresh meat and farm products.

MANAGER DUGGAN FEELS THAT BIG STRIKE IS CERTAIN NOW

The Dominion Coal Company, He Says, Is Ready for the Fray—They Will Not Recognize the United Mine Workers.

Sydney, N. S., July 4.—G. H. Duggan, general manager of the Dominion Coal Company, says there is not the slightest probability of the coal company accepting the request of President McDougall of the U. M. W. for a conference on Monday, and therefore the much heralded strike will be looked for Tuesday morning. Duggan denies the suggestion made by Mr. McDougall that the fences about the electric wires for the express purpose of keeping striking workmen from committing possible damage to property. The wires have been fitted with live bulbs, and the service was installed with the single purpose of giving better lighting facilities. The following is in part of a proclamation that will be issued by Mr. Duggan tomorrow: "Notice to employees. 'Whereas Mr. Daniel McDougall, district president of the U. M. W. of America, has made a public statement through the press that if the coal company represents the U. M. W. of America on Monday and accedes to certain demands, a strike will be called on Tuesday morning, June 6th last. 'The Dominion Coal Company is determined that it will not recognize the U. M. W. of America, and who will not accept any agreement with its workmen through the Provincial Workmen's Association to continue the rates and conditions of employment now in existence until the 31st day of December, 1909.

INSANE PRISONER ATTACKED HIS FELLOW INMATE IN CELL

There was considerable excitement in the county jail last night over the actions of one of the prisoners. The man was a Dane, over six feet high and built in proportion, who had in some manner become possessed of a table fork with which, as a weapon, he defied the turnkey or any one else to come near him. A fellow prisoner, Dennis Sullivan, who was in the cell with him, was rescued in the nick of time, as he was being seriously threatened with bodily harm. The man is believed to be insane. The Dane, whose name is Krist Johnson, was arrested by Policeman McCollom between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon on a charge of threatening to beat Phillip McGuire in the jail. The prisoner was taken before Judge Ritchie, who remanded him to jail. At that time he appeared quiet enough, and the turnkey put him into the same cell with Dennis Sullivan, who was awaiting sentence for stabbing Policeman Perry. Turnkey Clifford said that Johnson was awake all night and his loud cries ringing through the building prevented everyone else from sleeping. Yesterday forenoon Dr. James Christie presented a sleeping pill for several hours after it. Immediately upon awaking, however, the man got hold of a fork, and was threatening to murder Sullivan when Turnkey Clifford with some difficulty succeeded in getting Dennis out. After that Johnson's cries redoubled and his actions became very violent. Between 7 and 8 o'clock Policeman Scott and Night Detective Luce went into the

New Colored Wash Gingham

In Stripes and Checks, 10c., 12c., 14c. to 20c. yd. VALENCIENNES LACES Big Assortment 2c., 3c., 4c., 5c., 7c., 10c., 12c. yd. NEW SHIRT WAISTS, Tailor Made $1.10, $1.25, $1.35. WHITE LAWN SHIRT WAISTS 75c., 85c., $1.00, $1.10 to $3.00 each. CHILDREN'S DRESSES COATS and BONNETS. Get Our Prices.

Arnold's Department Store Tel. 1763 85-87 Charlotte Street

CAUTION This Label Guarantees GENUINE BUTTER-NUT BREAD

Imitations without this label are deceptions

WASSON'S STOMACH TONIC For Indigestion, 45c. and 75c. per bottle. If you receive no benefit from it's use we will refund the price paid. The Drug Store, 100 King Street CHAS. R. WASSON

For a Sweet Stomach and a happy life try Abbey's Effervescent Salt SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Bargains for Saturday and Monday at The 2 Barkers Ltd.

100 Princess, 111 Brussels, 443 Main, and 248 King Street, West.

POTATOES... BOTTLES TOMATO CATSUP... PACKAGES MALTA VITA... BARS BARKER'S SOAP... PURE CREAM TARTAR... JARS MARMALADE... BEST CANNED TOMATOES...

16 Times Want Ad. Stations 16 HELP SECURED IMMEDIATELY

Times Want Ad. Stations.

The following enterprising Druggists are authorized to receive TIMES WANT ADS. and issue receipts for same.

- GEO. E. PRICE, 503 Union St.
E. J. DICK, 144 Charlotte St.
GEO. P. ALLEN, 39 Waterloo St.
C. C. HUGHES & CO., 130 Brussels St.
GEO. W. HOBBS, 383 Main St.
T. J. DUFFIN, 403 Main St.
ROBT. E. COUPE, 507 Main St.
S. J. MABONEY, 129 Main St.
W. C. WILSON, Cor. Rodney and Ladlow
W. A. OLVE, Cor. Ladlow and Tower
P. J. DONOHUE, 297 Charlotte St.
CHAS. E. SHORT, 44 Garden St.
D. V. WADE, 44 Wall St.
D. D. HANSON, Fairville
COAL AND WOOD
CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS
ENGRAVERS
HOTELS
IRON FOUNDERS
WATCHMAKER
PRODUCE COMMISSION MERCHANT

FOR SALE

FOR SALE-A BAY MARE, 6 YEARS OLD, not a trace of street, cave or automobile. Will stand alone and is an excellent horse for a boy to drive. Inquire at MCKENZIE'S DEPARTMENT AND FURNITURE STORES, 75 and 77 Brussels street.

BOARDING

GENTLEMEN CAN FIND COMFORTABLE BOARDING at 127-129 Broad Street, right hand side.

MISCELLANEOUS

TO THE PUBLIC: I was yesterday against buying my notes in favor of L. M. Trank Company, as I have received no value. HIRAM ALWARD, Chesley Street, 1287-7-8.

HELP WANTED- FEMALE

WANTED- GENERAL GIRL, SMALL family. Apply Mrs. HOLLAND FRITH, 121 St. Pleasant, 128-7-8.

TO LET

TO LET-10 BROAD STREET, Apply GLORE LAUNDRY, 128-7-8.

FOUND

FOUND-ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON on Sydney street, near St. David's Church, a small purse containing small sum of money. Owner can have same by applying to this office and paying for advertising.

WANTED

WANTED- WORKSHOP AND SMALL yard attached. Address, Box 50, care Times. Today's Sagland is sending her journalists and politicians to this country to learn what sort of people we are.

BEEF, WINE and IRON

Makes a Splendid Tonic, 50c. a Bottle AT BARDSELY'S PHARMACY, Brussels Street.

REV. MR. ANTHONY

ON PLAYGROUNDS Speaker at Every Day Club Last Night Championed the Children's Cause in a Vigorous Appeal.

FEWER CHURCHES FIRST STEP TO UNION

Rev. Gordon Dickie in St. Andrew's Church Last Evening Preached on Church Union and Some Objections to it

In St. Andrew's church last night Rev. Gordon Dickie preached to a large congregation on the subject of Church Union. He spoke of the strife and schism in the past and the danger of overlapping and unreasonably rivalry as the chief reasons for a desire for union.

THE COUNTY CAMPAIGN

Meetings in Interest of the Opposition Will Be Held at St. Martin's and Fairville on Friday and Saturday

AMUSEMENTS "NICKEL"--PAT HARRINGTON TODAY GREAT LAUGH--"I LOVE MY WIFE, BUT O YOU KID!"--SURE HIT HOLMES AND BUCHANAN Intermezzo "Cavalleria" Pignatelli's Song "Tannhauser." GRAND CONCERT "THE FOUNDLING BABE" "THE TRUE LOVE"--Drama "SKYLIGHT THEATRE SEAT" SAD MUSIC AND GLAD MUSIC BY ORCHESTRA

"STAR" THE SMUGGLER'S DAUGHTER (A Stirring Drama of the Sea) THE COSY NORTH END THEATRE 3-COMEDIES and DRAMAS-3 AL WESTON IN NEW SONG

EMPIRE THEATRE Waterloo St. BABY ROSA FEATURE PICTURES FRANK AUSTIN - In Songs

AMUSEMENTS AT THE NICKEL On the noon train from Montreal today tiny Pat Harrington, the youngster that completely captured St. John, will arrive to make more fun for Nickel patrons.

INTERNATIONAL RAILWAY CONNECTION FOR OCEAN LIMITED (Canada's Summer Train) leaves ST. JOHN 11.20 a. m. daily except Sunday. arrives MONTREAL 7.35 a. m. daily except Monday. Through Metapedia Valley in Daylight

FELL IN FIT AND DROWNED IN POOL Edward Carroll of Napan Suffocated Yesterday Morning--Orangemen Here for July 12th

INSURANCE Of every description No line too large or too small to receive our most prompt attention. Always pleased to quote rates. Also Real Estate, Railway and Steamship Ticket Agents.

McLEAN & MCGLOAN, 97 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B.

INSURE IN THE QUEEN Have the Security of the Wealthiest Fire Office IN THE WORLD

Jarvis & Whittaker General Agents 74 Prince Wm. St.

EXCURSION FARES TO Pacific Coast Tickets on Sale Daily, May 20 to Sept. 1, 1909. Good for Return until October 31st, 1909.

CANADIAN PACIFIC From St. John, N. B. To SEATTLE, VICTORIA, PORTLAND, SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES.

OFFICES TO LET A few bright, airy offices to let on Canterbury Street. Apply at once. TELEGRAPH OFFICE, 23 Canterbury Street

A Large Room Or a small one for that matter, is not profitable if idle. A small "Room To Let" Ad. in The Evening Times will place your room before someone who wants the very room you have to let.

Nearly Everybody Reads And All Read Want Ads. THE EVENING TIMES

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

Edward Payson Weston, the aged pedestrian, who started from New York on March 15 to walk to San Francisco in 100 days...

William Fickens, manager of the team, were initiated into the Elks, being made life members.

The pugilistic population of San Francisco is evidently riddled with the Michigan disease...

It is a long time since two fighters in training attacked each other. For that matter it is doubtful if there ever was a contest in the history of San Francisco pugilism...

Any chance which the Chicago's had of securing Claude Rosman, of the Detroit team, has been dispelled by Manager Hugh Jennings...

Earlier in the season Detroit was willing to let Rosman go to Cincinnati, but two American clubs refused to waive, one of them being Chicago...

Floury Macfarland, the bicycle rider at St. John, was injured during a workout at the motor racing machine caused the accident...

Frightened by a firecracker, a horse driven by Dr. A. C. Hexamer, ran away at Stanford, Conn., on Friday, broke through the ramboum, ran through an open door...

The members of the Buick racing team—Strang, Chevrolet and Burman—were presented by the Buick officials with $10,000, divided equally among them...

balance of the season he will play with the St. Peter's.

balance of the season he will play with the St. Peter's.

"EXPECTED TO DIE" Bilioussness, Dizziness, Vertigo and Pain in the Back

Owes His Life to the Curative Powers of DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS

Lack of exercise and overwork were the causes that combined to almost kill Daniel S. Stephens, jr., one of the best known and most influential citizens in Woodstock.

The regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills keeps the system clear, healthy, and thereby prevents the return of biliousness.

Word was received from California, tonight that Ketchel and Papke had required 150 pounds, and that he would be as strong as the evening when he set at the Jack O'Brien fight...

The Amateur Ramblers have decided to hold a race or sports early in August.

STERLING'S RECORD INDICATES HE SHOULD HAVE GREAT CHANCE

Speedy St. John Runner Will Meet the Best Men in Canada at the C. A. A. Championship Meet in Winnipeg

The announcement that Ernie Stirling, the crack Every Day Club distance runner, will go to Winnipeg for the Canadian race...

balance of the season he will play with the St. Peter's.

balance of the season he will play with the St. Peter's.

ATLANTIC COAST RESORTS AND SOME NOTABLES WHO ARE THERE

CANADIANS AT YALE

List of Those Who Received Degrees. The following Canadians received degrees from Yale at the commencement this year.

PROGRAMME OF THE HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS. The programme for the departmental examinations for the Normal school entrance, Superior license, matriculation and High school building will open in the High school building on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock...

FEW PASSENGERS ON THE SUNDAY TRAINS

About 25 Travellers Arrived on C. P. R.'s New Service Yesterday.

The C. P. R. Sunday train service between this city and Montreal, which will be in operation during July and August, was inaugurated yesterday when the first train from the Metropolitan city rolled into the Union Station at 11:30 a. m.

INTERESTING LINK SEVERED BY DEATH

Mrs. Wm. Wilson Who Died on Saturday Was Member of Distinguished Family.

In the death of Mrs. William Wilson, which occurred on Saturday morning last in this city at the residence of her son-in-law, Rev. Gustav A. Kohring, an interesting link with early colonial life in Canada has been severed.

SHOE POLISH. Shines like the sun. Is waterproof and permanent. Feeds and softens the finest leather. Will not soil the daintiest garments.

DOWLING BROS. The Largest Retail Distributors of Ladies' Coats, Jackets and Blouses Waists in the Maritime Provinces.

An Extraordinary Sale of Ladies' Black Silk Coats

Ladies' Black Silk Coats, handsomely trimmed, 28 and 30 inches long, former prices $12 to $16, now $7.90

Remarkable Value in Ladies' Covert Coats, Ladies' Black Cloth Coats and Ladies' Cream Serge Coats

A Few Navy Cloth Jackets, with handsomely embroidered collars, former price $10.90, your choice for $3.90

DOWLING BROTHERS 95 and 101 King Street

A Suit for Solid Comfort

A cool two-piece suit, with coat half-lined, trousers with cuffs and belt straps—just the kind of apparel you need for the warm weather that's just ahead, $8 to $18

Outing Trousers

A good line, with cuffs and belt straps, stylishly cut, $2.50 to $4.75.

Fancy Vests

White and colored; washable, $1.00 to $2.75

GILMOUR'S, 68 King St. Clothing and Tailoring.

Straws & Panamas

Our Hats Are Full of Style.

Boater Shapes 75c. to $3.00

Soft Brim Shapes 50c. to $3.00

Fancy Shapes $1.00 to $3.00

PANAMA HATS $6, $8, $10, $12

Up-to-date in every particular.

ANDERSON & CO., 55 Charlotte St.

ATTENTION LADIES!

We wish to call your attention to the fine line of Skirts now being shown by us. They are elegantly designed and beautifully made and finished. A close examination of these goods will convince you of their superior qualities.

- GREY SKIRTS $3.25 and $4.50
STRIPED SKIRTS $4.50
BROWN SKIRTS $2.65, $3.65, $4.50
NAVY SKIRTS $1.75, $2.50, $2.65
BLACK SKIRTS $1.75, $2.50, $3.25, $3.65, $4.25, $4.75

S. W. McMACKIN, 335 Main Street, N. E.

GOOD DENTISTRY!

Emerson puts the point pitifully. "If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon or make a better mouse trap than his neighbour, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten track to his door."

Our fillings, Crown and Bridge work are the best. It will pay you to have your teeth put in good order, painlessly and at reasonable charges.

Our good work makes good friends, who remain with us. EXAMINATION FREE.

DR. J. D. MAHER, BOSTON DENTAL PARLORS, 527 Main Street.

CIRCULATION

The following is the sworn average daily circulation of the Times for the last five months:—

Table with 2 columns: Month, Circulation. January: 6,712; February: 6,979; March: 7,187; April: 7,194; May: 7,007

The Times does not get its large sale through newsboys. It is delivered at the homes. That is the kind of circulation which is of value to the advertiser.

TO ADVERTISERS

We issue at 12, noon, Saturday, until further notice. Advertisers should have their copy at the Times office NOT LATER than five o'clock, Friday, p. m.

THIS EVENING

Moving pictures and illustrated songs at the Nickel. Moving pictures and songs at the Star. Attractions at Rockwood and Seaside Parks. Marathon and Clipper baseball teams play on Every Day Club grounds.

AN APPEAL

To the Citizens of St. John: Ladies and Gentlemen—We need $100 to provide teacher and equipment for a supervised playground during and after the school holidays. A teacher is available. The children are to be seen in the streets and alleys. They cannot go to the country. The green field of the Every Day Club grounds is at their service. Only the funds are needed. No contribution will be considered too small. All will be acknowledged, and a detailed statement of how the money is spent will be published. A prompt and general response means immediate pleasure for the children. "The child without a playground is father to the man without a job." Subscriptions will be received by the undersigned, or may be left at the office of the Evening Times. A. M. BELDING, Pres. Every Day Club. A. W. COVY, Secretary-Treasurer.

LATE LOCALS

Regular monthly meeting of N. B. Poultry Association tonight at 46 Princess street.

Detective Killen reports Louis Fritz and Barney Garson, two Jews, for engaging in the junk trade without licenses.

An important meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in their rooms on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Schooner Havlock, 188 tons, Captain Gildert, arrived today from Barbados with a cargo of 200 packages of molasses.

West Indian Liner Araro, Capt. Bale, from Demerara, West Indies, etc., via Halifax, reached port this morning with general cargo.

A purse containing money and tickets was found at Seaside Park yesterday and can be recovered from the police. It was found by Solomon Gallet, a boy.

Manchester Line S. S. Manchester Imperator, Capt. Haworth, arrived Sunday from Gaspe, Quebec. She will take in deals for Manchester.

Ladies' new wash suits in very pretty long coat style—the latest—just received at E. W. Daniel & Company's, Charlotte street.

The City Rifle Clubs are hereby notified that the 62nd Regiment have the use of the rifle range on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

James Taylor who has been in jail since last Tuesday for inebriation was examined this morning by Dr. James Christie who advised his removal to the hospital immediately as he is seriously ill. He will be conveyed to that institution today.

Owing to the illness of Bandmaster Williams, the City Cornet Band concert, which was to have taken place this evening, has been postponed until Saturday afternoon next, when a concert will be given in King Square between 5 o'clock and Wednesday evening St. Mary's Band will give a concert in King Square.

BAD WATER SUPPLY

Complaint is made that in one section of Carlton the water supply is full of fine sand and not fit to drink. It is stated that a piece of cotton used on the tap as a strainer becomes at once of a reddish color. The trouble appears to be local, as in another part of the west side the water is said to be quite clear.

Louis E. DeForest

Word was received in the city last evening of the death at McKean Junction of Louis E. de Forest, son of the late George S. de Forest, and a former resident of St. John.

The news was quite a shock to relatives here, as Mr. de Forest was not known to be seriously ill. Some three or four years ago he suffered from a paralytic stroke, but partially recovered and it is believed his death yesterday morning resulted from a recurrence of the trouble.

He was 51 years of age, and unmarried. Previous to going to McKean about twelve years ago, he conducted a retail grocery store on Coburg street, where A. E. Trenowky is now located. On going to McKean he opened a general store, which he conducted successfully, but of late years his physical infirmities prohibited him from doing much work.

He is survived by four brothers and two sisters. The brothers are: Stephen S. Clarence W. Harry W. and Arthur F. and the sisters are Mrs. Charles Patterson and Miss Edith L. de Forest, all of this city.

The body will be brought here and the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the residence of his brother, Clarence W. de Forest, 155 Sydney street.

T. A. Peters, deputy commissioner of agriculture, arrived in the city on Saturday.

AMELIA FRANCIS PROMISES TO BE GOOD

Says She Will Sell No More Liquor or Beer and Escapes With a Fine of $50 in Police Court.

More contradictory testimony was adduced at the resumption of the Amelia Francis liquor case in the police court this morning, and at the conclusion the allegation was changed from that of selling liquor on Sunday, June 20, to selling beer. After pleading guilty she was fined $50 or one month in jail, with the proviso that she was to discontinue the selling of soft beer.

It was announced at the re-opening of the hearing that John McColgan, upon whom a subpoena was served, has been absent from the city since the adjournment, and another prospective witness is also missing.

Joseph Livingston testified that he obtained a beverage in the woman's abode that resembled whiskey in taste. He said that he did not recollect that Francis received the money from McColgan, who treated. This, he stated, was on the Sunday specified.

James McAllister swore in direct contradiction to John Johnson, the prosecution's principal witness, that he was not in the Francis house on Sunday, but was in on Monday.

Amelia Francis recalled and stated that she did not see Livingston in her house on Sunday, but Livingston on being recalled, stated that he saw the negro going into an inner room as he entered by the street entrance.

His honor alluded to the woman's admission to selling beer for a livelihood. Under oath she claimed that Inspector Jones sanctioned the selling, providing there was no disorder on the premises. This morning the inspector stated that this statement was false, as he had not spoken to the woman on the subject.

G. A. Henderson stated that in view of the conflicting testimony the prosecution requested that a fine be imposed for selling beer only, although a conviction could have been obtained on Livingston's evidence. However the prosecution abandoned the liquor selling charge on condition that Francis would agree to stop both liquor and beer selling in the future. She promised to refrain from offending henceforth, and paid a fine of $50.

A coincidence is that she was fined only $50 on the last occasion that she was before the magistrate, and the reduction was made in the same manner, on the same morning and on the same day of the week.

At the termination of the proceedings Francis and her honor participated in an entertaining dialogue. In reply to a query from the judicial chair, she asserted that she was in her forty-sixth year. His honor seemed astonished at her comparative youth when she appeared in court, and was relieved when she added tentatively that she was "forty-five past."

"It's good you said you were past forty-five," he commented, "but I suppose it's best not to ask a woman her age."

Patrick Campbell, a Sunday inebriate, was remanded and enquiries prosecuted that may lead to another illegal Sunday selling liquor case. Campbell, who was taken into custody on Sunday afternoon, informed Patrolman Marsh that he was in Harrington's beer shop on Long Wharf, for an hour, but was refused when interrogated as to obtaining intoxicants in the store.

George Ash, who was removed from a bench on King Square, where he was intoxicated and indecent on Saturday night, was fined $8 or thirty days, and George Higgins, whom Dr. Berryman attended on Sunday in a cell, was remanded. Higgins was intoxicated on Nelson street on Saturday night. Wilbur was fined $8 or thirty days for early morning intoxication on Queen street. Wilbur expressed a grievance against Sergeant Campbell and Patrolman Perry, whom, he claimed, arrested him as he was entering his home. However, the magistrate was not responsive.

TAKEN BACK TO REFORMATORY

William Mulcahey Who Escaped Was Recaptured This Morning

Between four and five o'clock this morning Patrolman John Merrick of the north end police division visited a house on Strait Shore road and located William Mulcahey a fifteen year old boy who escaped from the reformatory at Crouville on June 19. He was escorted to police headquarters and at ten o'clock was halted before Judge Ritchie. He declares that he will escape at the first opportunity and prefers the penitentiary to the local institution. He desires to go to St. Patrick's Industrial School at Silver Falls but he was warned by the magistrate this morning that if he is recaptured after his next escape he will be transferred to the penitentiary. He has served only one year of a four year term and was conveyed to the reformatory this morning by Superintendent McDonald to recommence the term. His brother, Edward, is serving a five-year term in the penitentiary for burglary of a barber shop at St. George last December.

Leonard Moore who has escaped frequently from the home has been shackled since his recapture as it is possible that he will be transferred to Dorchester.

PROBATE COURT

Estate of William Christie, M. D. Return of citation to pass the accounts of the surviving executrix. In consequence of the absence of Dr. Curry, one of the counsel, the case stands over until Monday next at 11.30 a. m. Messrs. Curry & Vincent, proctors for the executrix, Mr. A. P. Barnhill, K. C., advocate for the residuary beneficiaries.

Estate of Mary Ann Gordon, married woman. Last will proved whereby deceased gives all her estate to her husband, Frederick Gordon, moulder, and nominates him executor, who is sworn in as such. No realty. Personal property consisting mostly of household, $1,000. Messrs. Earle, Belyea & Campbell, proctors.

Estate of Frederick L. Robinson, esq. Deceased died at Westfield, in estate. Petition of Thomas Robinson, father of deceased, for administration. The father is appointed administrator and is sworn in as such. No real estate. Personally $1,100, including a $1,000 life policy. Mr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., proctor.

At noon today a very heavy thunder shower, with large hailstones, fell in this city. The gutters were rivers for a short time, but the hot sun soon dried the streets again.

Pidgeon's Popular Prices

Cautious Buyers know the real advantage of coming to the Popular North End Store, because they are always sure of getting reliable goods for less money than is possible at any store in this city. As examples of unmatched inducements, read this list of Pidgeon's Specials for tomorrow.

- Bargains in Shoes for All the Family
Children's 28c. to 98c. Girls' 98c. to $1.38. Boys' 98c. to $2.88.
Men's 98c. to $4.38.
Boys' Suits $1.98 to $4.38. Men's Suits $4.98 to $16.48. Summer
Shirts 48c. to $1.38.
Buy Here and Save the Difference.

C. B. PIDGEON Cor. Main and Bridge Sts.

Preserving Kettles

Now is the time to get your Preserving Kettles. We have them in all sizes, ranging in price from 20c. to $1.75 and $2.00. They are the famous Austria Elite ware, in Blue and White Color with a White lining. They are the best enameled ware that is put on the market. We also have these preserving kettles in the genuine Swedish White with cover to match. We import both of these enamel wares for our own trade, thus enabling the people of our city to get the best enamel ware that can be got at the right prices. We want your trade. We purchase the best goods we can get for our people. We are building up a trade in St. John. We want to give you your money's worth. Call and examine our goods.

McLean, Holt & Co., Makers of Glenwood Ranges, 155 Union Street. PHONE 1846.

- Boys' 2-Piece Suits, - $1.75 to $5.50
Boys' 3-Piece Suits, - 3.50 to 7.50
Children's Wash Suits, - .75 to 2.50

Our clothes for boys will hold their shape until they are worn out—no matter how active the wearer may be—and cost less than the ordinary clothing.

AMERICAN CLOTHING HOUSE, 11-15 Charlotte Street, St. John.

Old English and Colonial Rich Cut Glass

W. H. HAYWARD CO., Ltd. PRINCESS ST.

YOUR HOLIDAY NECESSITIES

Whether it be a Yachting Cap, Straw Hat, a Panama, a Felt Knockabout or Linen Hat, Ties, Shirts, Collars, Underwear, Belts, Yachting Pants and Shirts, all are to be found in our stores in great varieties.

F. S. THOMAS, 539 to 547 Main St.

Stupendous Sale of LACE CURTAINS

Commencing Tomorrow Annual Offering of Manufacturers' Samples at Most Surprising Reductions

275----Pairs Slightly Soiled----275

This will positively be a saving opportunity of the most appreciative sort. These curtains consist of from 2 to 4 pairs of a pattern in BRUSSELS, RENAISSANCE and GUIPURE effects, IN WHITE ONLY, and have been placed at the most sharply reduced figures for rapid selling. The Curtains are but slightly soiled from handling, and at the sale prices represent the most wonderful values you have ever beheld.

For convenience they have been arranged in lots and offered per pair at 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.25, $1.50 to $3.75. Quite a number of different patterns at each price. In addition there are a great number of odd sample pairs of every description, a trifle soiled from handling. IRISH POINTS, GUIPURE d'ART, POINT VENICE, ARABIAN, CLUNY BATTENBURG, FRILLED MUSLIN, and FRILLED BOBBINET. All qualities. The very lowest prices prevail.

NO SALE CURTAINS ON APPROVAL OR EXCHANGED Don't Fail to Attend. : : : Sale Starts Promptly at 8 o'clock House Furnishings Department

Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd.