THE READER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The publishers of "The Reader" have made another announcement concerning their new literary magazine which is to appear October 16th. The contents of the first number will include, in addition to the monthly departments of news and reviews, a story about Dante and Beatrice by R. V. Halsey; a selection from a new rendering by Elias Carman of the lyrics of the Greek poetess Sappho, who has been made familiar by Swinburne and Tennyson; the first of a series of reports of the sittings of the Literary Emergency Court, (Mark Twain and Oliver Herford, justices of the court) which deals with "The People Against Richard Harding Davis," and should be full of amusing situations; "Rudyard Kipling as an Illustrator," with illustrations; a frank article, "The Attitude of the Jews towards Jewish Fiction," by Bernard G. Richards; a well known literary Jew; London and Paris letters, and twenty or more other original contributions all guaranteed by the publishers to be "entertaining, unprejudiced and authoritative." The cover of "The Reader" is about the most attractive of any of the magazines.

MRS. R. L. BORDEN RECEIVES.

(Winnipeg Telegram, Oct. 15.) Mrs. R. L. Borden, wife of the leader of the conservative party, will hold a reception to the people of Winnipeg in the parlors of the Leland hotel tomorrow afternoon to all those desirous of making her acquaintance. Both ladies and gentlemen are invited. The reception will be held from four to six o'clock, when tea will be served. There are many in Winnipeg who are desirous of meeting Mrs. Borden and aside from this the reception promises to be one of the biggest social events of the season. Mrs. Borden has accompanied her husband on his western tour and at several places received large numbers, which testifies to the popularity of the leader's wife. The announcement that she would receive here was received with joy by many who would not otherwise have been given a chance of meeting her.

FEDERATION CONDEMNED.

Melbourne Peaper Says the Sentiment is Under an Eclipse. The Melbourne, Australia, Age, in a strong article, says: "Federal sentiment is under an eclipse. The results of federation are keenly disappointing to the warmest supporters of the union. Nothing has been achieved except flattered vanity, and Mr. Chamberlain's description of our faulty constitution as a monument of legislative capacity. Australians are in the position of recovering revellers. They have more pains in the head than coins in the pocket. If a referendum were taken again the establishment of a commonwealth would not receive a vote of assent from a single state of the union." The article is creating a sensation, as The Age was the greatest factor two years ago in securing the referendum, which resulted in the acceptance of the constitution. The change in its attitude is regarded as a startling indication of the trend of public opinion outside the admittedly dissatisfied states of Queensland and New South Wales.

A FATAL QUARREL.

During a bar-room row at Bathurst, Saturday night, Oct. 11, Frank Lyman, one of the crew of the schooner Georgia, struck Burns Mason, the first mate, over the head with a bottle. Mason died last Saturday morning, and a warrant has been issued for Lyman's arrest. Acting on a telegram from Bathurst, Adolf Peterson and Oil Hammell, two Norwegian sailors, were arrested by Detective Killen in this city on Saturday, and will be taken back as witnesses. Both Mason and Lyman were well known to sea-faring men in St. John. Lyman has not yet been found. He belongs to San Francisco, and is about 24 years old. The inquest was begun at Bathurst this morning.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—General Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, addressed three great gatherings here today in Windsor hall. At all them hundreds were turned away.

MEN'S HEAVY SUITS.

To say that we give good values in Men's Suits would be placing it very mildly indeed. We would like to have you compare the suits we sell as $3.00, 5.00, 6.75, 8.00 and 10.00 with those sold at other stores from two to three dollars higher in price. It is then you would realize the exceptional values we are giving. Cash counts when spent at this store.

A RACE RIOT

That Ended in a Battle With Firearms.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 20.—One white man is missing and supposed to be dead, another is fatally wounded and two negroes are seriously shot as a result of a race riot at Littleton, a small mining town thirty-three miles from Birmingham.

The supposed dead are: Era Creol, a white man. The injured are: Joe Thompson, white, shot through the body, serious; J. Baer, negro, serious; Will Tolbert, negro, who shot Thompson, shot in chest, serious. The trouble was precipitated by a negro woman who pushed Joe Thompson (white) from the railroad trestle. The woman was accompanied by Wm. Tolbert, a negro, who fired on the white man after he had fallen. Thompson, who was not seriously hurt, went for assistance and accompanied by Ira Creol and John Rouse, began a search for the negroes. Other negroes had followed Tolbert by this time and from improvised bows they fired upon the white man. The little town at the first shot and his companions sought cover. A fusillade followed and only ceased when both sides had exhausted their ammunition. The citizens of Littleton became alarmed for fear of further trouble as the negroes were largely in the majority and called on Sheriff Burgin for assistance. The negroes are said to have stolen several hundred pounds of powder from one of the magazines at the mines, and there is fear that they will attempt to blow up some of the buildings. The little town at a late hour last night is closely guarded.

THE WHITE PLAGUE.

Bishop of Ottawa Issues a Pastoral Relative to Consumption.

The following pastoral has been addressed to the clergy and laity of the diocese by the Bishop of Ottawa, who wrote from Barry's Bay:

To the reverend clergy and the faithful laity of the Church of England in the Diocese of Ottawa:

My Dear Brethren,—Having in my address to our Diocesan Synod in June last drawn your attention to the efforts which are being directed and promoted by the Canadian Association for the prevention of consumption and other forms of tuberculosis, it is not necessary for me at this time to do more than ask your careful perusal and consideration of the report of the second annual conference of the association. The painful fact that 8,000 cases of consumption result in death in the Dominion of Canada each year, after many months, probably several years, of sore distress to the sufferers and the families, ought to move every one in every part of the diocese in his or her power to strengthen the anti-tuberculosis crusade in Canada.

1. It is open to you to become a member of this association by paying the annual subscription of one dollar. 2. To direct the attention of those in your locality, and especially of those who may seem to you to be suffering from consumption, to this society, and its efforts to circulate information concerning tuberculosis and the proper treatment of it in its early stages, so as to ensure, as far as may be, protection to members of the same family, and the restoration of the same family. 3. To urge on all the vital importance of prompt and intelligent and thorough attention to the very first indications of consumption, so that it may be checked at once before the condition of the patient can invite and prove favorable to the tuberculous bacilli, which are floating about in every impure atmosphere, both in the home and in the streets. Believe me your faithful friend and Bishop, Charles Ottawa.

(Toronto World.)

It argues well for the campaign against tuberculosis that the church is taking an active part in the fight. The pastoral letter addressed to his diocese by the Anglican Bishop of Ottawa constitutes a hopeful sign of the times. In urging his people to personally and individually engage in active warfare against the dread white plague, his lordship shows that in being a good churchman he is a useful citizen, alive to what makes for the welfare of the community. The fact that consumption carries off 8,000 Canadians every year emphasizes the need of more work along the lines of what the Bishop of Ottawa is doing. We would urge our readers to become workers for the public good by joining and working with the "Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption and Other Forms of Tuberculosis." Every person can help in the good cause by assisting to spread the knowledge of how to avoid tuberculosis, of how to protect those constitutionally predisposed to the onslaughts of the scourge, and of how to treat incipient cases of the dread disease.

JIM YOUNGER.

The Sensational Death of a Notorious Desperado.

He Believed in Bryan but Not in a Personal God.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 19.—James Younger, formerly a member of the notorious James band of outlaws, which infested the western country a quarter of a century ago, committed suicide today by shooting. He left a letter to the press in which he gives as a reason for his act, despondency over continued ill health and separation from his friends. When he did not make his appearance as usual today search was made for him. The door of his room was broken in late this afternoon and his dead body was found stretched on the floor beside the bed, a revolver clutched in his right hand. Younger, since his parole from the state penitentiary in July of last year, has led an exemplary life. He was 54 years of age. The coroner decided that an inquest was not necessary. On a bureau in the room was found a long manila envelope. The envelope contained a package of letters that had passed between Younger and a lady with whom he is said to have been much in love. The lady who is prominently connected, is said to have reproached his affection and it was reported at one time that they were to be married. The lady's relatives raised strenuous objections to the marriage and a further obstacle was the fact that it was pointed out that a paroled prisoner could not legally contract a marriage. The couple determined to disregard the objections of relatives and an effort was made to overcome the other obstacles to their marriage by securing from the state board of pardon and restoration a full pardon and restoration to citizenship. This effort failed and it is thought, had much to do with Younger's determination to end his life. The lady is said to be now in Boise, Idaho, for her health. It is also said that the rift between Younger and Coleman Younger were very much estranged in fact, that the brothers had not been on speaking terms for the past six months. On another sheet of paper Younger's last words before committing suicide:

October 18.—Last night on earth. So good-bye, Ladies for I think my work is done. A. U. G. forgive me for this my only chance. I have done nothing wrong. But politics is all that Van-Sant, Wolfers and others of their stripe care for. Let the people judge. Treat me right and fair, reporters, for I am a sane man. A socialist and decidedly in favor of women's rights. Bryan is the brightest man these United States has ever produced. His one mistake was in not coming out for all the people and absolute socialism. Come out Bryan. There is no such thing as a personal God. God is uniting in favor of woman's rights and am not afraid. I have pity for the pardoning board, they do not stop to consider their wives or to think of the man who knows how to love and appreciate a friend in truth. Good-bye sweet Lasse.

HOW TO CLIMB THE STAIRS.

Go Slowly. Tread on the Ball of the Foot, Don't Lean Forward.

"Those stairs will be the death of me yet." You have heard the expression of such sentiment, if indeed you have not felt the probability of the same unvoiced prophecy. Girls complain to me of backache, and quickly say: "You know I have to go up and down stairs so much this morning." I have the challenge of high and the flights are long—yet some can climb them several times a day and not have a grumbling back or any other uncomfortable result. The secret lies in the way they do it. 1. To direct the attention of those in your locality, and especially of those who may seem to you to be suffering from consumption, to this society, and its efforts to circulate information concerning tuberculosis and the proper treatment of it in its early stages, so as to ensure, as far as may be, protection to members of the same family, and the restoration of the same family. 2. To urge on all the vital importance of prompt and intelligent and thorough attention to the very first indications of consumption, so that it may be checked at once before the condition of the patient can invite and prove favorable to the tuberculous bacilli, which are floating about in every impure atmosphere, both in the home and in the streets. Believe me your faithful friend and Bishop, Charles Ottawa.

FRENCH ARTILLERY.

General "Joe" Wheeler, who has just returned home after viewing military manoeuvres in Europe, says that the French artillery is the finest in the world. "Their cavalry is good, too," he says, "but their artillery is simply superb. They have an invention for overcoming the recoil in big 12-inch guns for coast defense which is ahead of everything of the kind. It is true that we in the American army have just acquired a similar invention which is really supposed to be better than the French invention, but it has not yet been put into use."

MR. TARTE'S ACTIVITY.

(Victoria Colonist.) "Do not believe all the party papers say. Their duty is to make trouble. I know it for I have been in the business twenty-five years." So remarks the versatile Mr. J. Israel Tarte. If Mr. Tarte has been in the business of making trouble for twenty-five years he shows no symptoms of making an assignment, because times are bad with him in that business.

FATAL BARROOM FIGHT.

One Man Killed and Two Others Stabbed.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 20.—A political quarrel, beginning with an argument on the coal strike and ending in a discussion on socialism ended last night in the death of Charles Wolff, 27 years old, and the injury of two others. The fight, which took place in the saloon of Jas. Wallace, 313 Fulton street, was participated in by five men. The injured are: George Boves, bartender, cut on head neck and body; David Schultz, stabbed twice in right leg and once in left side. The other two men who participated in the fight were F. Brown, who escaped, and John Fitzgibbons, who is held as a witness. During the discussion some one made an uncomplimentary remark about socialists. Boves, who is a socialist, was provoked and hurled an empty bottle and that was the signal for a general fight in which Wolff and Schultz were stabbed by Boves, who shortly afterwards was cut himself, and claims self defence. Wolff died from his wounds.

THREE MILLIONS.

Of British and American Capital in Pulp and Paper Mills.

(Special to the Star.) TORONTO, Oct. 20.—A party of English financiers, directors of the Sturgeon Falls Pulp and Paper Company and a party of American capitalists are here on their way to inspect the plant and spruce lands of the company. A. E. Bremner, managing director, states that the company has already spent a million on the plant and will spend two millions more. He adds that the company will discontinue this export of pulp and erect paper mills. According to Bremner there is a market in Britain for more paper than the company will be able to produce.

THE DEATH ROLL.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 20.—Colonel John C. Moore, a newspaper writer of this city died suddenly last night of paralysis, aged 80 years. He was an Englishman. During the civil war he served in the confederate army.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 20.—Dr. Alfred R. C. Selwyn, director of Dominion Geological survey from 1889 to 1895, when he was retired on pension, died here Saturday night after a long illness. He was 78 years old and a native of England.

OCTOBER HUNTING.

How American Hunters Are Seeking the Game Fields.

(Country Life in America.) Nearly every lover of the gun and rifle has a choice of the game he will pursue. This one is never so happy when marking down a cover of quail. To another the prairie chicken, or, if he be eastern bred, the ruffed grouse furnishes the keenest sport. In a third the flight of wild fowl alone has power to snap the chains of business and send him forth into the marshes. With others it is squirrel shooting, the pursuit of rabbit with baggies, riding to hounds in the chase of Sir Reynard, while the lover of the rifle and the eternal mystery of the deep woods finds no such pleasure as in the pursuit of big game—moose, bear and deer. Many there are to cry down the hunt as catering to barbaric and the least of the instincts, which are the endowment from our forefathers. Therein do they do grave injustice to a class wherein are found some of the truest gentlemen and noblest natures whom we delight to honor.

They do gravely mistake the motive which prompts the true sportsman afield when he hears the ruffed grouse of the quail. It is not the mere desire to kill. In truth that were butchery. But rather it is the longing to match skill and slowly acquired knowledge of the ways and habits of the little brown birds against their swift wings and inherent cunning which for lack of a better term we call instinct. And beyond even this, it is for the pleasure of being afield, for the surroundings, the setting of the favorite sport, for the bracing air and for the knowledge of the great outdoor world which every tramp with dog and gun increases. So the true sportsman takes an honest pride in his skill, so be it his eye has been true and his hand steady while he gave his bird every chance of a fair flush. But so be it he misses, his chagrin is tempered with respect for, and a certain satisfaction in, the escape of all game from his match. And though his bag be light, he will return home in the gloaming contented in mind and once more a simple child of nature.

THE GORDON COLLEGE.

CAIRO, Oct. 18.—Lord Kitchener will arrive here about Oct. 23, and after a stay of three or four days, will proceed direct to Khartoum where he will preside at the opening of the Gordon College. The new barracks for British troops at Khartoum are now almost complete, and the headquarters and four companies of the 2nd Batt. Royal Fusiliers, who are to be their first occupants, left Cairo for the Sudan on Oct. 14. The barracks are on the latest model, have wide, airy verandahs, and are fitted throughout with electric light. The Royal Fusiliers will be succeeded at the Citadel Barracks, Cairo, by the 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, now on their way from the Cape. The Seaforth Highlanders are expected to leave for India about the end of January next.

WANTS TO ANNEX CANADA.

(Gloucester, Mass., Times.) The republican state campaign opened at Checopee last night, the principal speaker being Lieutenant Governor Bates. He replied to the address of Col. W. A. Gaston, and said in part: "I believe in reciprocity with Canada, but not free trade. The democrats can say they believe in the most free reciprocity, but that means competition in almost all our products. Gloucester, the nursery of our navies, would be destroyed by competition in the fish trade. The kind of reciprocity I believe in would admit those products which we do not produce, and permit us to exchange those of which we have a surplus. Nor will I, as the democratic candidate says, give up one foot of American territory. When Canada wants free trade with the American people it will be time for me to say, 'let us come under the stars and stripes and share in bearing the burden.'"

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 20, 1902.
BORDEN AND LAURIER.

One of the most notable political meetings that has ever been held in the great west will take place in the Alhambra Hall, Winnipeg, this evening. A banquet will be tendered Mr. R. L. Borden and other conservative members of parliament who are with him on his tour. Covers will be laid for five hundred persons. Besides Mr. Borden, Hon. Geo. E. Foster and F. D. Monk, M. P., will be among the speakers. Hon. Mr. Foster has been in British Columbia on a business trip, and was asked by the committee to so time his return that he could be present at the banquet. Mr. Monk has gone west by special invitation, as the people are anxious to hear the eloquent and able leader of the conservatives of Quebec.

Naturally one contrasts the western demonstration in honor of Mr. Borden with that in the east in honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The two events bring into sharp relief the representatives of the passing and coming regime in Canada. In the heart of that great new country which owes its magnificent development to the conservative policy, and which today thrills with the inspiration of triumphant progress, Mr. Borden is welcomed as the leader of a strong and united party, having one policy for the whole country, and having today the same unflinching faith in the future of Canada that characterized the founders of the National Policy and the builders of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on the other hand, though warmly welcomed as the man who by virtue of his office represented Canada at the coronation, returns to find his party divided and his leaders discredited, because they are utterly at variance with regard to vital measures of policy. The liberal party is reaping the inevitable harvest of vacillation and insincerity. Sir Wilfrid himself could go to the west and preach the doctrine of free trade, in the same city of Winnipeg, and then come east and write a letter to a manufacturer assuring him that the tariff would not be materially altered. The people of Canada have given the liberals a fair and full opportunity to demonstrate their ability to govern, and have been disappointed. Whether in tariff or transportation matters the best the leaders have been able to do has been to experiment and temporize and finally quarrel among themselves. That is not the kind of government which accords with the spirit of the Canadian people. They see that the liberals came into power at a time of great national growth and prosperity, with no need to worry about sources of revenue to carry on the public services of the country; and that they have not risen to the height of their great opportunities. They see today the spectacle of a cabinet minister hurling defiance at his colleagues, and a state of affairs which is nothing short of a public scandal. It is for these reasons they note with ever growing interest and satisfaction the course of Mr. Borden, who goes into the west and with absolute candor sets forth the same policy that he proclaimed in the east.

TRIBUTE TO LATE MONSIGNOR CONNOLLY.

At the Church of St. John the Baptist yesterday the death of the Very Rev. Monsignor Connolly, the late rector of the church, was referred to in feeling terms at both masses by his assistant, the Rev. W. C. Gaynor. Father Gaynor thought he might advance the assertion that while Monsignor Connolly had been over thirteen years amongst them, yet he was not well known to them. This was, in a measure, due to the fact that the monsignor was already an old man when he came to St. John the Baptist parish; that his age and position removed him from close intimacy with the people; that his life's work of active missionary labor was practically over; that, in consequence, some younger priest in attending to the active ministrations of the parish would naturally be brought into closer contact with the people of the parish than Monsignor Connolly was. In a measure, too, it was due to a natural reserve of manner which, nevertheless, covered a warm heart. Few were admitted to the deeper intimacies with him. The preacher said he had known "Father" Connolly, none had known him more intimately, for 25 years; he was a man and a gentleman in the full significance of these words. The rev. speaker here established a contrast between the late Bishop Sweeney and Monsignor Connolly. He said they were supplementary to each other, one might be said to be the antithesis of the other, thus contributing conjointly to an excellence of administration which is historical in ecclesiastical circles.

Father Connolly's outlook and personal relations with others, if the speaker's expression was one of any value, was thoughtful, kindly and considerate. To get a standpoint from which to view his character in a proper sense of proportion, one should have to visit the immense area of country in which he labored as a young man. Even there the older generation who knew him best were fast dying out. Yet his name is still a household word amongst these people.

The preacher adverted to Monsignor Connolly's work in the settlement of Johnville, for which too much credit could not be given him; nor could too much stress be laid upon the fact that everywhere throughout that district he had established the church not only with the greatest forthrightness in regard to its religious and moral side, but with a perfection of system in matters of administration that was still in vogue and helped to make the labors of the priests today in the same district much easier.

Father Gaynor referred to Monsignor Connolly's work of organization along various lines, his efforts in the temperance cause, etc.

The preacher close a touching eulogy with a description of the beautiful and peaceful ending of Monsignor Connolly. The dead priest passed into the great eternal sleep without effort, without pain. He lived and worked for such a death, God gave it to him, God gave him the fullest measure of peace when the end came.

SIXTEEN YEARS WITH SAINT ANDREW'S.

Rev. L. G. McNeill, minister in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, celebrated yesterday the seventeenth anniversary of the opening of his service there. His morning sermon was a brief and comprehensive history of the church since its beginning. From the story of its early struggle and gradual growth, he drew lessons of inspiration and encouragement for the future, and urged upon its present congregation to cling to the watchword of its founders: "Earnest prayer and honest work," and to devote their energies more faithfully toward the furthering of the work of God in their section of His field.

AT ZION CHURCH.

Two very interesting services were held at Zion Church yesterday, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Wilson, conducting both. In the morning a customary thanksgiving sermon was preached, Dr. Wilson taking for his text Leviticus 23rd chapter and 10th verse: "Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, when ye come into the land which I give unto you, and shall reap the harvest, bring a sheaf of the first fruits of your harvest unto the priest."

In the evening a special song service was held. Previous to the formal opening exercises a number of sacred songs were sung by the congregation, the choir leading. Mrs. H. A. Adams presiding at the organ. After the regular opening exercises, Dr. Wilson spoke for a few minutes on the value of the hymnology in promoting the devotional spirit of the church. He then referred to the hymnal as the product of many minds, referring to Wm. Cowper and Isaac Watts, giving a short sketch of the life of each. The choir then sang some of the hymns of which Cowper and Watts were the authors, which served to illustrate, as Dr. Wilson remarked, not only the type of the personal piety of the two men, but of the age in which they lived. The particular hymns sung were Cowper's "God Moves in a Mysterious Way," and Watts' "There is a Land of Pure Delight," considered by many to be his most beautiful hymn and to have been composed one beautiful May morning near Southampton, England, the Isle of Wight in the distance, with the "Little strip of Silver Sea" separating it from the mainland. The choir sang

ST. JOHN PULPITS.

THANKSGIVING AND ST. ANDREW'S BROTHERHOOD.

For many years past the second Sunday in October has been observed in most of the Episcopal churches as a service of Harvest Thanksgiving. The service was postponed at St. Mary's church until yesterday in consequence of the absence of the rector, Rev. Dr. Raymond.

The church was beautifully adorned with grain, fruit, autumn leaves, ferns and flowers, and the music and service were in keeping with the festival. At the morning service the Rev. Mr. Raymond spoke in his sermon of the lessons of the harvest. In the evening the church was filled by a very large congregation, and the singing and responding were as usual of the heartiest character. A beautiful harvest anthem was sung, in which the leading parts, by Miss Edna Godfrey and Ernest Job, were taken with much taste and feeling.

The course of the service the rector spoke of the loss sustained by the church in the death of three valued members, the late Mrs. Honeywill, Mrs. Donohoe and Mrs. Alexander. The funeral of the latter will be held from her residence to St. Mary's church today. During the offertory J. N. Rivers sang "Very effectively" the solo, "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep."

Rev. Dr. Raymond gave a graphic and stirring description of the great convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew held in the city of Boston a week since. In olden days in Scotland when the clansmen were called forth to their country's service, a fiery cry was carried by swift runners from clan to clan, and woe betide the man who declined to respond at the call of duty. It should be his endeavor, the preacher said, to hand on to them something of the help and inspiration he had himself received. There are probably 15,000 natives of St. John and Kings county in the city of Boston today. They are everywhere found to furnish many of the best workers in the church and Brotherhood of St. Andrew. A brotherhood man, who hails from the vicinity of this city, a rising young lawyer, on being asked by a Boston friend why he gave so much time to church-going and Christian work, replied, "Oh, I was brought up to it and never knew any better; I suppose I shall keep on that way to the end of the chapter."

Rev. Mr. Raymond proceeded to review in glowing terms the salient features of the convention and was attentively listened to by his hearers. He said in conclusion that to have heard such men on such an occasion was the opportunity of a lifetime. Eleven hundred men from Alaska to Texas and from Cape Breton to San Francisco were at the convention. At one of the meetings in Symphony hall in Boston $10,000 was raised for the work of the brotherhood. One of the most notable meetings was that at Sanders' Theatre in Cambridge, where 2,000 Harvard under-graduates and visitors assembled to hear John R. Mott and Dr. W. S. Rainford of New York. The farewell sermon at Emmanuel Church by Bishop Dudley of Kentucky was particularly eloquent and impressive, and the subsequent meeting under the presidency of James L. Houghtaling of Chicago the founder of the society, was of a character never to be forgotten.

REV. MR. GORDON IN ST. ANDREW'S.

Rev. Alexander Gordon, B. D., son of Rev. Dr. Gordon of Halifax, has recently returned from an extended course of theological study in Scotland and on the Continent, and will enter the ministry of the Presbyterian church in his own land with splendid equipment for good work. He preached last night in St. Andrew's church, where his earnest and powerful address made a most favorable impression upon all who heard him. Rev. Mr. Gordon is a young man with a fine record as a student. As a speaker he is strong and convincing.

MISSIONARY ADDRESS.

Miss L. E. Gaunce, returned missionary from India, gave an address descriptive of the difficulties and work in that great field, in Victoria street Free Baptist church last evening, before an audience that filled every seat in the building.

In the course of her address, Miss Gaunce described the religion of Hinduisms, discussing its different teachings, Brahminism and caste, and quoting some of its errors, such as the doctrine of transmigration of souls and the belief that the union of the soul with the body was a necessary evil, which naturally gave rise to fatalism. She described graphically the Bible work and the labors in Zenasas and orphanages in Balasore, where her field is located.

SALVATION ARMY ACCOUNTS.

Assets of $4,500,000 in International Headquarters: $1,249,345 Here.

(New York Sun.) The Salvation Army, in answer to a criticism in the Sun relating to the large sums of money believed to pass through the hands of Gen. Booth and his subordinate officers, sent to this office copies of its printed statements of account and balance sheets for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1901.

The pamphlet show excellent book-keeping, which is attested by Knox, Cooper & Co., chartered accountants of Finsbury Circus, for the London headquarters of the Army, and by J. E. Bliss, expert accountant, sworn by M. J. H. Ferris, notary public, for the New York headquarters.

Mr. Bliss's sworn statement is interesting in its phraseology. He deposes "that he has verified the footings in said books of the Army and finds a voucher for expenditure of money; and he finds all the entries, footings and postings to be true and correct."

The statement of the general income and expenditure account of the national headquarters, London, shows nearly $300,000 handled during the year there. The balance sheets carried credits on assets to the amount of more than $4,500,000.

The statement of income and expenditure of the general fund of the national headquarters, New York, shows $32,634 handled during the year in that fund. The final statement includes profits of various lesser and special funds, but not the total sums handled through those funds.

The New York balance sheet records assets of $1,249,345. It is pointed out at the heads of these statements that the statements of account cover the moneys received at and expended through the international and national headquarters at London and New York, respectively, only.

MORAL SUASION AND A STRAP.

(New York Mail and Express.) "She seems to have abandoned her moral suasion ideas relative to the training of children."

"How did it happen?" "Well, I was largely instrumental in bringing about the change. You see, she has no children of her own, and I grew weary of her constant preaching and theorizing, so I loaned her our Willie."

"Loaned her your boy?" "Precisely. She was to have him a week on her solemn promise to confine herself entirely to moral suasion."

"Did she keep her promise?" "She did, but at the expiration of the week she came to me with tears in her eyes and pleaded for permission to whate him just once."

Grand Chief of the Order of Railway Conductors as a member of the president's commission as a great victory, for they regard him as fully the equal of John Mitchell himself in organizing labor and furthering the ends of trade-unionism.

It appears very clear that even when the trouble is not ended, the operators declare as firmly as ever that they will not recognize the union to the extent of discharging non-union men. A Wilkes-Barre despatch says: "Non-union workers who have been faithful to the coal companies during the strike and are afraid now that they may be subject to annoyances, are receiving assurances that they will be protected.

THIS EVENING'S EVENT.

Let everybody come this evening to hear "The Black Knight," at York Theatre. See one of many notices of the press.

He is a fine, tall, handsome man, very good natured, and full of humor. His speech was brief, as the previous speakers had taken up the time, but the people laughed, cried, cheered, and were filled with feelings impossible to describe. We should only give a wrong impression of Mr. Hector if we attempted to report his address. He must be seen and heard. What he supplies must be "drunk on the premises" and be thoroughly enjoyed. . . . It was a splendid oration. Scene after scene was thrown upon the canvas of his pictorial oratory of surpassing interest. It was "Uncle Tom's Cabin greatly intensified. Such an amount of hearty and healthy wit-provoked laughter we have never heard before in one and a half hours. Yet with all the flashings of humor there were sword thrusts which must have searched the depths of many hearts."—London, (Eng.) Methodist Times.

Ex-Mayor Daniel will preside. Lecture will begin at eight.

BOARD OF HEALTH SHOULD ACT.

The condition of the waiting rooms on both sides of the ferry, is simply disgusting. Yesterday scores of ladies were compelled to stand out in the wet owing to the filthy condition of the rooms. The sanitary arrangements are in a bad state, absolutely no attempt is made to preserve cleanliness and the stench is abominable. This has been the case for some time, and it is continually growing worse, until now the condition is not only a disgrace but a menace to public health. The rooms are unfit for occupation and ferry passengers are compelled to remain outside in all sorts of weather.

DEATH OF JOHN FISHER.

A Well Known Citizen Found Dead This Morning.

John Fisher, a descendant of the Fishers of shipbuilding fame, and well-known in St. John for many years, was found dead in his bed this morning. Mr. Fisher had been in poor health for some years, suffering from asthma and a weakness of the heart, but was until yesterday quite able to attend to his duties. He roomed in his own house on the corner of Pitt and St. James streets, tenanted by James Welsh, and took his meals in the home of Mrs. Howes, and James Howes, Jr., with the Fisher went to bed, asking that he might be called early this morning. At five o'clock Mrs. Williamson, who was up, heard him moving about his room, but on going to call him between six and seven o'clock found him dead in bed. Death was due to heart failure. Mr. Fisher was sixty-two years of age, and leaves four children, Charles and Edward, at present residing in New York; Mrs. Annie Sullivan, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. John B. Jones, of this city.

THE TELEGRAPH WAS WRONG.

The Telegraph this morning has an entirely incorrect story about an incident in Courtney Bay yesterday. It is not true that Jack Goodspeed and Jos. Price went out in a boat. Young Goodspeed was in the boat and accidentally went adrift. He was alone. He lost one oar, but remained perfectly cool and with the other navigated the boat safely until he saw a good chance to land. He was in some danger and a number of persons followed his movements with anxiety, but the Telegraph's statement that there was no life buoy available is also untrue. There has been a life buoy at the furniture factory of J. & J. D. Howe for twenty-five years. D. Macee saw the youth's danger and went to Mr. Howes, and James Howes, Jr., with the buoy and life line went along the shore until the boat was safely beached. Young Goodspeed navigated the boat with remarkable skill. As a matter of fact the life buoy kept by Messrs. Howe has been instrumental in saving several lives along that shore.

THOSE DESTITUTE CHILDREN.

Their Mother Refuses to Permit Them to be Removed.

Secretary Wetmore, of the S. P. C. A. visited the home of John Duggan, Sheffield street, Saturday, to see what could be done for the two children who were reported by the police to be in a destitute condition. The father could not be found, and the mother is now in jail. The responsibility of looking after the house and obtaining food falls upon the daughter, who is a very young girl. Secretary Wetmore was informed that the children could not be removed without the consent of the parents. The mother, who was seen by the youngsters to be refused to allow the youngsters to be taken to some place where they could be properly looked after. So the matter now stands.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Interest in the political situation has been intensified by the knowledge that Laurier drove to Tart's residence on Metcalf street this afternoon and remained in conference with him for a couple of hours. What occurred between them is known only to the two gentlemen, but interesting developments are expected shortly.

METHODIST MINISTERS.

Send the Report on the Boy Question to the Quarterly Boards.

The boy question occupied most of the attention of the Methodist ministers at their meeting this morning. It was finally decided to send the report of the special committee on that matter to the quarterly boards, which meet in Centenary church Thursday evening.

There were present at this morning's session: Revs. Dr. Sprague, G. M. Campbell, S. Howard, T. J. Deinstadt, H. Penna, C. W. Hamilton, W. J. Kirby and H. D. Marr. The regular reports of the churches were received and the programme committee presented the following subjects for discussion this season: Methods best adapted for bringing members of the congregations to a decision for Christ and into membership with the church; Rev. T. J. Deinstadt; What means should be taken to make the week eight services more interesting and profitable to those attending?—Rev. C. W. Hamilton; What rule should be adopted regarding attendance at the Lord's Supper? Should the invitation be more or less general?—Rev. S. Howard. Rev. Dr. Sprague was added to the special committee on the boy question, and the rest of the time was taken up in discussing that matter. As the report of the special committee dealt with some of the existing institutions, it was decided not to give it out until the quarterly boards came to some decision regarding it.

TOURIST MATTERS.

A $20 Prize—Montreal Will Co-Operate With St. John.

The Tourist Association is already preparing for next season's work and is now offering a prize of twenty dollars for the best design for a cover of the next pamphlet to be issued. It is desired that the design shall be one in which the attractions of both St. John and the province will be suggested and that the coloring and wording may be such as will enable the cover to be used permanently as tourist literature. Mrs. Olive has received from Miss MacFarlane, of the Montreal Association, a letter thanking her and the New Brunswick Association for many kindnesses shown during the former's recent visit here. Miss MacFarlane expressed herself greatly pleased with the attractions of New Brunswick. It is hoped that her visit will tend to make the two associations work more together than has been the case in the past. Perhaps next year the Montreal Star may be even prevailed upon to publish the daily temperature at St. John.

POLICE COURT.

The Interesting Story Told by a Man With a Weak Back.

James McGuire, who was arrested on a warrant, charging him with assault on Lena Delong, was fined twenty dollars or two months in jail. John Lingsley, for being drunk on Union street yesterday morning, got eight dollars or thirty days. An Englishman, by the name of Charles Meron, was taken in charge by Officer Totten for wandering about the streets and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself. Meron told a rather peculiar yarn this morning. He said he came from England, his home, where no person knew him, and was trying to get to Montreal. He walked from Halifax to Truro, having no money, and arrived in St. John on Thursday. One night of his stay here was spent on the streets, one in a lodging house, and two in jail. He had endeavored to secure assistance in lower cove and had been given two bottles of liquor which was of benefit to him as he had some spinal trouble. Meron was remanded for further consideration.

Campbell will deliver an address in the school room of the church on Here and There in Canada, and on the evening of Tuesday, the 28th, there will be a congregational re-union.

MANY PERMITS.

Up to the present 1,075 permits have been issued from the office of the board of school trustees, to allow children to attend the various schools of the city. This year there has been fewer children dropping out than last and the number seeking admission is about the same, so that the different buildings are now pretty full. Nearly all the rooms in the new La Tour building occupied and the Elm street and Digby building are being pushed forward rapidly.

THE WINTER PORT.

The Ship Laborers' Society recently elected the following officers for the season: President, William Daley; vice-president, E. McLeod; secretary, William Stanley; financial secretary, Gus Lungbein. A COMING ENTERTAINMENT.

The young men of St. Patrick's Society, West End, who will give an entertainment in St. Patrick's Hall early next month, are working diligently to surpass all their previous efforts and make the coming concert a great success. Previous entertainments by this club have won for the members much just commendation, and they are determined to maintain at least that standard of excellence.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

Were Able to Secure 200 Tons of Coal At Low Rate.

The annual meeting of the board of Associated Charities will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Tuesday evening, Oct. 25th.

During the past season much good has been accomplished by this institution and Mrs. Hall, the secretary, has had very few idle moments.

A short time ago the board, through the instrumentality of Messrs. Starr, two hundred tons of soft coal with the Dominion Coal Company. This coal is for distribution among the poor by charitable organizations, and it is worthy of note that in spite of the high rates now charged the price per ton was less than that paid for the same coal last year.

PROBATE COURT.

The citation for passing accounts in the estate of John W. Fisher, was returnable today. S. A. M. Skinner appeared for Joshua Clarkson, one of the trustees, A. P. Barnhill for Florence A. Ballentine one of the heirs; W. W. Allan, K. C. for Celia S. Steeves and Eliza Kelly, heirs, and Frank Kerr for a creditor.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

St. George Division No. 353 S. of T. held its regular meeting in the Temperance hall, Market building on Saturday evening. After the routine business was through with a spelling competition was then called on. The leaders of the sides were Miss P. Smith, H. Cowan; A. J. Armstrong, the grand scribe, acted as the judge and gave the words to be spelled.

The contest was very interesting throughout and resulted in the decision being given to Miss Smith's side. On next Saturday evening there is to be another interesting competition which will no doubt be very interesting. The leaders for that evening are William McGorman and James Sullivan.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

Benjamin Dean, who for some years has conducted a grocery store on the corner of Paradise Row and Wall street, has retired from business. Mr. Dean has been thinking of this for some time and on Saturday the transfer of his stock to H. R. Coleman was completed. Mr. Coleman took charge of his new store this morning. The firm of Coleman & Furdy, doing business on Garden street, has been dissolved by mutual consent. F. S. Furdy has purchased Mr. Coleman's interest and will continue in business at the old stand.

YACHTSMEN FROM PROVINCES.

To Meet at Halifax to Discuss Inter-Club Races.

(Recorder, Saturday.)

The quarterly meeting of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron was held last evening, when it was decided to call a convention of yachtmen to be held in Halifax within two months with regard to inter-club races.

Secretary Wyld read a letter received some time ago from the Sydney club, suggesting that such a convention be held, decide on a uniform measurement rule, and arrange for a trophy for a race between the yachts, to take place on the waters of the club holding the cup. Letters had been addressed to various clubs, and the replies were favorable to such a meeting. The secretary said the idea was to have a class of boats adopted to both racing and cruising, so that wherever the yachts had to go to a race those on board could sail their boats there in comfort. He had spoken to G. H. Duggan in reference to the matter, and the latter promised his hearty support. Vice-Commander W. G. Jones and Rear-Commander R. R. Kennedy were appointed the Halifax delegates to the convention.

DEATH OF J. A. FRASER.

Brother of Dr. C. F. Fraser and Milne Fraser, of Halifax.

A despatch from Winnipeg is as follows: J. A. Fraser, notary and insurance agent of Battledore, was found dead at his residence last night. Deceased, who was a widower, was an ex-officer in the British navy and came to the Northwest from Halifax, early in the present year as a member of the Northwest mounted police.

This refers to a brother of Dr. C. F. Fraser and A. Milne Fraser, of Halifax. The first intimation they had of their brother's death was when they read it in The Mail. Dr. Fraser had had letters from his brother recently and although he had been ill the last word was that he was better and he was in good spirits. Mr. Fraser was a lieutenant in the royal navy and was in Halifax with the battleship Nile. In 1875 he entered the service of the Indian department, and later joined the Northwest mounted police, in which he was a very efficient officer. He was well known all over the Northwest, bearing the cognomen of "The Admiral." Mr. Fraser was 57 years of age.

WELCOMED TO HALIFAX.

(Joan in Halifax Recorder.)

A pleasing event of next week will be the welcoming to Halifax of another fair young bride—Mrs. Page, wife of W. W. Page, of this city, whose wedding at St. Stephen, N. B., in September, was described in The Recorder. Mrs. Page, as Miss Florence Sullivan, was one of St. Stephen's most popular young ladies, and there is little doubt that she will be a great favorite in her new home. Mrs. Page will be "at home" on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, at No. 2 Jubilee Road.
