Elsonette, one of the accused is a discharged member of the firm of Peter Lyall & Sons.

(Special to the Star) BELLEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 3.—Five bogus ballot boxes to be used in this election have been seized in this village. The boxes, which have a secret compartment by which the ballot is switched by manipulating the handle are now in the hands of the police. Tremendous excitement prevails over the discovery.

(Special to the Star) MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—In Hon. Raymond Prefontaine's division, Malsoncuve, warrants have been issued for the arrest of eight men on the charge of alleged conspiracy to arrange the election. So far Taschereau, Beaudoin, and Alfred Baril have been arrested.

GAVE TO THE POOR

And Then Died a Pauper in an Alms House.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—J. Simpson, once a prosperous land owner in Ireland, died alone and uncared for in the county poor farm. He was 55 years of age, and for eighteen years has been a county charge. Relatives bore his secret, and after coming to his aid had business transactions during his prime refused to help him when he was down.

Up to 1888 he had enjoyed unusual prosperity and wealth on his farm in Ireland. Then came the famine and he in a generous way spent the major portion of his fortune in relieving the needy people of the country. He gave his products and his money. At that time he was lauded as a generous man.

His generosity proved his ruin. When the country recovered from the famine his fortune and his lands were gone. He had nothing. He decided to change the scene and went to the country of his birth, England. There he could do nothing and he finally came to this country in 1878. Starting in New York city he struggled to gain a foothold. He succeeded for a time and was well on the upward way when sickness attacked him. For months after month he could do little. He lost his position and spent most of his money. With his health back once more he started West and even at advanced years fought a game battle. Time began to tell, however, and after coming to the Twin Cities he failed rapidly.

In 1882 his health gave out entirely. He wrote home to relatives who he refused help. He appealed to his old time business associates in vain. Finally he was forced to the poorhouse and there he remained up to the time of his death. His body will be buried in the Potter's Field.

MURDER IN CHINATOWN.

Renewal in New York of the Chinese Highbinder Outrages of San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A shooting affray with many features resembling the highbinder outrages of the San Francisco Chinese quarter which occurred in Chinatown today may result in the death of Mock Duck, one of the most prominent members of the underworld in the local Chinese colony. Mock was waylaid as he was passing through Pell street and one of two bullets fired at him lodged in his abdomen, causing an extremely dangerous wound. When his alleged assailant, who was captured as he was running down Pell street, was being taken to the patrol box by a policeman, the couple were surrounded by three other Chinamen, who draw revolvers demanding the release of the prisoner. The situation was becoming serious when a dozen police reserves arrived and found the policeman and his prisoner backed up in a doorway, the officer holding back three armed Chinamen. The would-be rescuers fled when the reinforcements arrived. Near the scene of the shooting the police found a revolver with a twelve-inch barrel and a hunting knife with a blade eight inches long. The man who was shot is a landlord named Mock. Mock was tried for the murder of a Chinaman about two years ago, but was acquitted. Immediately after his release from prison he became active in the Chinese quarter in co-operating with the Barkhurst Society. By his work Mock has gained the enmity of many of his fellow countrymen against whom the work of the society was directed and he had frequently been threatened with death.

GIRL'S EDUCATION.

(Chicago Record Herald) The steady drift of women into the industries no longer evokes jeeriments from moralists and theorists. The energy expended in "deploring" the presence of women in industries is now being devoted to a betterment of the conditions under which they work. The disposition is to recognize the woman today as the product of social and economic conditions, presenting problems that must be solved for the highest interests of society and the state.

In the work of meeting these conditions intelligently and humanely we may get many valuable lessons from the industrial schools of Germany which are described in a recent report of Mr. Meyer, the United States deputy consul at Stuttgart, Munich, Leipzig, Berlin and elsewhere and these were soon followed by the founding of still broader industrial schools known as the Lette-Verein, in which opportunities are given for the study of different trades adapted to women and in which are special schools of photography. Among the trades taught are machine sewing, washing, ironing, cooking, nursing, serving, domestic economy, art embroidery, and ornamental drawing.

The success of the Lette-Verein led to the formation of many other organizations in behalf of the laboring women of Germany, among them being the Alice-Verein, Darmstadt, and women's industrial associations at Bremen, Hamburg, Bresslau, Reutlingen, Karlsruhe, Dresden, Braunschweig, Kassel, Hanover, Frankfurt and Konigsberg.

DOUBTFUL IDENTITY.

(New York Times) Marshall P. Wilder, the diminutive humorist, who is about three feet tall, was talking with James J. Corbett, former champion pugilist, on a Broadway corner the other day when a New Yorker passed with a lady friend from a town up stairs, to whom he was showing the sights.

"See those two men?" he said, indicating the wit and the fighter. "They are Marshall P. Wilder and 'Jim' Corbett." "Is that so?" said the lady. Then after a moment's pause, "which is Corbett?"

PORT ARTHUR AT ITS LAST GASP.

Japs Have Captured Commanding Positions and May Enter Fortress When They Are Ready—Russians Destroying Arms and Valuables.

CHE FOO, Nov. 3, 4:30 p. m.—Port Arthur is doomed.

The correspondent of the Associated Press here has received information, the reliability of which is beyond question, that the Japanese now occupy positions which place the east end of the town at their mercy.

The last assault has gained for them positions which insure their ability to enter the main east forts whenever they are ready.

It is calculated by the Japanese that the Russians do not surrender. The latter will be capable of prolonging the struggle. Long before the second Pacific squadron arrives the Japanese will be able to drive the Russians back on their heels.

When the Japanese occupy the East Port Ridge, they will occupy the main forts and highest points of the East hills, but they occupy in overwhelming numbers positions which will enable them to drive the Russians back whenever they desire.

Conservative Japanese, realizing the intense desire of the Japanese for good news on the emperor's birthday, reported the above reports with reserve.

Regarding the capture of Rihlung and Sungshu Mountains the report is not considered improbable, but Japanese say that it is not intended to occupy East Keekwan Mountain. In August the Japanese succeeded in entering

THE RUSSIAN SOLDIER.

The chief reason for the astounding success of the Japanese is strikingly pointed out in an article in the Century Magazine for November, written by Thomas P. Millard, who gives a most interesting and candid view of the Russian military organization in the Far East, dwelling particularly upon the man in the ranks. He shows that the officers, except those recruited for the general staff, for the most part are either dandies who do not take their duties seriously or else ignorant, stupid and ambitious. The Russian army is one of young generals and old captains. The drilling of the soldiers is left to non-commissioned officers. Excessive conviviality in the ranks, not the exception, and officers devote more time to wine than they do to work. The passion for gambling runs high. Personal cowardice is rare, but there is almost an entire neglect of that scrupulous regard for details which is so important in modern warfare.

Among the men conditions are even worse. Of the privates, 98 per cent. do not read or write. The system of Russian conscription, which requires that only half of the military population shall serve with the colors, permits the more intelligent to escape. The ranks are filled from the middle class. The man is simple, kindly, unswervingly loyal to the czar, unquestioningly obeys officers who take little interest in his welfare, is patient under reverses, courageous in the presence of the enemy, and gently endures poor food and excessive fatigue. But he lacks personal initiative. Knows little of modern tactics, is a poor shot because given little target practice, and is likely to become practically helpless if he loses his officers. His kind of discipline is suggested by one incident. An officer, to show a foreigner how perfect was the discipline, waltzingly struck a private. The poor fellow did not flinch and uncomplainingly wiped the blood from his head. The brutalizing Russian system secures implicit obedience, but at the expense of more valuable military qualities. Opposing an enemy whose army is on a high plane of efficiency from commanding general to private, it is not strange that victories where numbers are equal, is not with the Russians.

CANADA DRINKING MORE.

Recently published statistics compiled by the inland revenue department show a remarkable increase in consumption of intoxicating liquor in Canada.

The total consumption of spirits last fiscal year was 3,343,954 gallons, or 383 gallons per head of our population. The corresponding figure the year before was 3,707 gallons. It is the largest consumption on record since 1855, when the record shows 1,126 gallons per head. The consumption in some years has fallen as low as 533 gallons, which was in 1898. Taking an average of the 35 years since 1869, the consumption of spirits has been 374 gallons. The consumption of beer in Canada last year was 27,568,518 gallons, an average of 4,518 gallons per head of our population. The use of beer in the Dominion has been on the steady increase since 1869, that is to say, as far back as the departmental records go. Last year's consumption is the largest ever recorded in our history, with the single exception of 1902, when the figure was 5,102 gallons per head. In 1903 the figure was 4,712. The average since 1869 has been 3,182 gallons.

The use of wines has fluctuated considerably in different years. In the year 1874 it ran as high as 238 gallons per head. Of recent years, however, the consumption of this beverage has been around 1 gallon. In 1903 it was 1,096 gallons. Last year it was the same. The department reports that 327,944 gallons were taken for consumption. In strange contrast to this condition in a temperate country are figures published by the commissioners of customs in Great Britain, which show the traditionally hard drinking English are steadily growing more sober. With the exception of rum, which shows a slight increase, wine and foreign spirits have fallen off by a large amount—the decrease in wine being nearly 2,000,000, and in foreign spirits about 1,400,000 gallons. As for brandy—the consumption of 2,198,003 gallons is the smallest for any one year since 1863, and is less than half the quantity consumed in the years 1876 and 1876. For these years the annual consumption amounted to 3,14 gallons per head of the population, while last year it was only 996.

AN AUTUMN SUNSET.

One moment the slim cloud-fleets seem to lead an avocet's train. With their sad sunward faces aureoled, and longing lips set downward brightening. To take the last sweet hand-kiss of the king. Gone down beyond the closing west, and paying no reverence to the slender queen. That like a curved olive leaf of gold hangs low in heaven, rounded toward the sun. Or the small stars that one by one unfold Down the grey border of the night begun. —By A. Lampman.

GIRL ENDS LIFE AT PIANOS DOOR.

Knelling on Floor of Faithless Sweetheart's Home Annie Koes Drinks Poison.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Francie Koes, a young girl, who had promised to marry her sweetheart, Annie Koes, 22 years old, 201 Sanford street, Brooklyn, ended her life yesterday, kneeling on the porch of her fiancé's home, at No. 138 Covert street, Manhattan, Borough of Queens. The young woman drank the contents of a two ounce phial of carbolic acid, after offering prayers for forgiveness for the sin she was about to commit. Miss Koes lived with her widowed mother and sister Ida and, according to the family, she and Oscar Burkhardt had been sweethearts for more than a year. The girl left her place of employment in Williamsburg last June, her mother says, to prepare for her wedding, but Burkhardt postponed the event. The courtship was continued, and recently the girl told her friends that Burkhardt had set the date for their marriage. Saturday was the day selected and Mrs. Koes last night declared that Burkhardt failed to appear at the appointed hour. The young woman was depressed and left the house with a wedding, but Burkhardt postponed the event. Her mother says that she met Burkhardt.

CAT ARISTOCRAT VALUED AT $5,000.

Lady Decies' Puma Zaida Takes It Eleventh Championship at London Show.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Puma Zaida, a beautiful female chinchilla cat, which is owned by Lady Decies, valued at £1,000, won the championship at the National Cat Club's show in Crystal Palace. The aristocracy of catdom was fully represented by 650 cats entered at the show.

PRINCESS VICTORIA OF SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN SHOWED THREE CATS AND PRINCE CHRISTIAN TWO.

The Countess of Aberdeen exhibited five, Lady Decies and Lady Alexander no fewer than twenty-six cats. Cats of the aristocracy are prized at anything from £25 to £100 were common, but Puma Zaida was far above all her rivals. She is nine years old and has won altogether about ten championships. The show bore evidence that the long haired cat is as popular as ever and that the sleek, dun colored and blue eyed Siamese cat is becoming a great favorite.

A FRENCHMAN ON ROOSEVELT.

(Argonaut.) There has just appeared in Paris, from the pen of Albert Savine, a book upon "Roosevelt Intime," which is highly complimentary to the president. The following anecdote is literally translated: ROOSEVELT AIDS ONE DEACON.

During one of the sojourns in Farmington with his sister, Mme. Robinson, the people of the country were come to see the president. He was in the west, the distances are often long to traverse, even in that which one calls the village. The president wished to carry away certain children in his proper carriage. One was arrived at the sign of the hill. Roosevelt, who guided his horse by the bridle, went to remount upon his seat of conductor when he perceived the old Barber, deacon of the church, occupied to pursue his best certain cows recalcitrant, who unheeded the president's demand to get the horse out of the field. "What do you there?" him demanded the president. "I seek to chase my beasts of that field."

GO TO SIOUX CITY.

And the president legged the barber. Putting to profit the experience which he had acquired as a raiser with his cowboys, he put himself to the pursuit of the beasts, and made them to re-enter into their legal limits, not at all by the authority which the constitution gave him, but thanks to his inability to manage the beasts with horns.

DUEL THAT WASN'T FOUGHT.

(Washington Star.) Of Senator Blackburn, who makes long speeches sometimes, a colleague told this story at a dinner at which the senator was to give a toast: "In his younger days, Mr. Blackburn was very ethereal. Asked by a friend to second a duel, he readily consented. At sunrise the parties met at the appointed place. It was Mr. Blackburn's duty to say the last words about the terms of the duel. 'And gentlemen,' continued the speaker, 'do you know that that duel never took place?'"

NEWFOUNDLAND DOG SUPPLY IS SHORT.

American Consul at St. Johns Says There is Not a Single Thoroughbred There.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—The demand for Newfoundland dogs has been so great of late that a dealer in this city declares the supply has been exhausted; that he is unable to obtain a single thoroughbred specimen. He wrote a short time ago to the American Consul at St. Johns, Nfld., asking him at what price he could obtain thoroughbred dogs there. The consul replied that he had made an investigation and found that Newfoundland pups could be bought at $10 apiece. The dealer prepared to give an order for ten young dogs. Before sending, however, he received information from the consul that further investigation demonstrated the fact that there was not, so far as could be ascertained, a thoroughbred Newfoundland dog in the whole island, all having been crossed with hounds and beagles.

The consul stated that he learned that the only person known to possess a pure breed of Newfoundland dog was a man in Pennsylvania. The dealer wrote to the latter, only to be told that the demand for his dogs was so great that he could supply no more than orders had been placed which precluded any more for several years. "It is well known," said the dealer, "that the smooth breed of Newfoundland is extinct, but that the other varieties are nearly so, so that the obtaining of one practically an impossibility has come upon me in the nature of a surprise. The smooth Newfoundland is a rather small head and was white in color, with black spots. The breed desired now, which I have been endeavoring to obtain, is the very large sort, with broad muzzle, head raised, noble expression, wavy or curly hair and bushy curled tail; black and white in color. A smaller almost black breed is also desired, though to a less extent, and is about as difficult to obtain."

SAYS PRAYER HAS BROUGHT HIM RICHES.

The Rev. E. W. Kenyon Now Hopes to Make New England the Christian Centre.

SPENCER, Mass., Nov. 1.—Riches have come to the Rev. Ezekiel W. Kenyon, of Millville, he asserts, in direct answer to prayer, and he has founded a Bible students' community through which he hopes eventually to make New England "The Christian centre of the United States." "The divine gospel of St. Matthew says—'Ask and it shall be given to you,' says Mr. Kenyon, and I interpreted it literally, as the whole Bible should be interpreted, for it is all reality. 'I prayed for it, and in less than an hour a woman came to me and gave me a check for that amount. I was just starting my community of Bethel. I asked God to send the money. It was no more than an hour before another woman sent me an envelope containing exactly $100. I would not pray vaguely for help, but I would ask for a definite thing, a building or a sum of money I would say so in my prayer and all these things have been given me. We take no collection. We do not present our needs to the public or even to the church. We have a faith in God's word. One of the many rules and regulations of Bethel reads:—'No familiarities, love-making or going out together between men and women.' WATER AND SEWERAGE BOARD.

At a meeting of the water and sewerage board yesterday a long discussion took place on insurance for the Misco pulp mill. It was announced that several are anxious to buy the mill.

The mayor informed the board that the following properties, which are of little value, went with the mill: A property on the Quaco road, the Robert Caples property, the Ritchie property, a property on Grand Bay and a half above McKenzie's Corner; the Powers property at Cape Spencer; the Stevens property at Grand Bay; and the property adjoining the Stevens property at Grand Bay.

Mr. Christie asked where William Thomson & Co. got the $100,000 worth of water which they had recently sold to vessels in the harbor.

The new venturi meters, recommended by F. A. Harbour, would cost $2,512, and the cost of placing them on the main pipes would be $18. The meters can be placed in a vault in the Catholic cemetery where other furnishings are. This makes the cost low.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Faith is believing without thinking about it what you would do if you did. Anything that makes a woman look a fright is sure to be the latest fashion. If a woman's clothes are comfortable it is sure proof that they are not in the fashion.

What specially fascinates a girl is to treat a man she knows cannot be trusted. Women like to have Thanksgiving come around so they can wish they had something to be thankful for.

Adam blamed it all on Eve, but ever since she has been blaming her boy's sins on some other boy's boy. A woman likes to have a great deal of sentiment to she can be sorry for the disappointment it causes her. A girl thinks she is sick abed when her new gown doesn't come home for her to wear to church next morning.

When a woman can't discover any bad habits in her neighbor's husband she begins to suspect he must lead a double life. You can't feel comfortable unless Ungar's do your laundry work.

GAS 'O LINE, OR LEMME.

(From Rough Notes.) 1. A product of petroleum, and the devil. Used for heating, lighting, cooking, power, cleaning, bed bug and foot-killing, rate-raising and general extermination. These are a few of the standard uses of the fluid. It is an expansionist in every sense of the word, with a few other senses thrown in for good measure, and its field of usefulness and destructiveness is ever widening. Among its recent undertakings is the population of automobiles. This style of locomotion is said not to be unpleasant to the one propelled, but when it gets under a fellow, as it sometimes does, and gives him a swift kick into the unknown beyond it is not joy that he dies of.

2. Its chief fault is its volatility. If it were not for this it would be robbed of its hazard-and, most likely, its usefulness as well.

3. Any one wishing to risk a sudden departure over the gasoline route by harboring on his or her premises must obtain permission from the company; writing his or her name on a card, or she wishes to leave it as an available asset to his or her estate.

4. Gasoline is a good thing to start a fire with—a big, quick fire.

MR. BALFOUR'S INCOME.

(Toronto Mail.) Mr. Balfour is quite a rich man, having an income of about $500,000. The money was left him by his grandfather, who made a big fortune in India, and as a naval contractor, having been reported to make as much as $1,500,000 in a year. During the Boer war the premier had to hand over his whole official salary as premier to pay merely his private income.

PORT ARTHUR

A Summary of Months of Hard Fighting. The Besieged Have Had no Rest From the Incessant Storm of Shells Poured in by the Japs.

TOKIO, Nov. 2.—(A. M.)—The official reports of the Port Arthur operations since August 1 form a record of almost continuous fighting of a desperate nature.

The Japanese artillery first shelled the Port Arthur fortification and then Aug. 21 the Japanese infantry charged and were beaten back, owing to the deadly fire from the Russian machine guns and the insufficiency of the preliminary construction of the wire entanglements.

On the night of Aug. 23, the Japanese centre with the right wing attacked the heights northwest of Wang Tai and the north fort east of Keekwan Mountain.

On the morning of Aug. 27, the Russians concentrated their artillery fire, attacked the Japanese position and were repulsed. Until the end of the month and the first week in October the Russians continued to attack and shell the mountain.

On Oct. 12 and 13 Japanese shells set fire to the Perovskiy, apparently disabling her. They also set fire to another vessel.

On Oct. 25 the Japanese sank a Russian ship in the harbor. On Oct. 26 the Japanese captured some Russian prisoners who said that the fall of Port Arthur was near at hand.

The schooner Georgia arrived today from Gloucester, Mass. It is expected that she will load with lumber for New York. The demand for laths has been very steady of late and the prices are in consequence firm and the freights correspondingly low.

The postponed meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Carmarthen street church was held last night and was well attended. Mrs. Joseph Seymour presided and the various reports showed the society to be in a satisfactory condition. The treasurer reported that $73.34 had been raised for the work during the year. An interesting programme of songs, readings and addresses was carried out.

BAPTIST UNION. Proposal Favored by Main Street Church.

At a largely attended meeting in Main street Baptist church Tuesday evening a motion favoring Baptist union was passed unanimously. The question was freely discussed, the principal speakers being Rev. H. Roach and Rev. J. H. Hughes. On motion of W. H. White, seconded by E. N. Sprague, the resolution was adopted, as follows:

"Resolved, that this church accept the basis of union as adopted by our convention and the Free Baptist church of New Brunswick at their late annual meeting, and that we favor the organic union of the churches of the Baptist and Free Baptist denominations."

"Pursuing this resolution, the committee, acting with a corresponding committee of the Free Baptists of New Brunswick, will call a meeting of the two bodies consummating the union. Practically all the Baptist churches in the city are now in sympathy with the union.

MARRIAGE IN FAIRVILLE. At six o'clock Thursday morning, at St. Rose's church, Fairville, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, when Rev. C. C. Collins united in marriage Emma Marie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hanlon, and James S. Logan. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marnie Hanlon, and the groom was supported by his brother, James S. Logan.

The bride's dress was of cream Bedford cord, with chiffon and lace trimmings, a green picture hat with green plumes. The bridesmaid wore a green dress with cream picture hat.

After the nuptials the party returned to the home of the bride, where a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket and chain and to the bride a cheque. Mr. and Mrs. Logan left on the seven o'clock train on their bridal tour.

CLOSING MEETINGS. In City Hall, Carleton, last night, about seven hundred electors assembled to hear addresses by J. E. M. Baxter and Dr. A. A. Stockton. W. D. Baskin presided.

J. E. M. Baxter severely criticized the government's policy. Dr. Stockton made a strong speech. After outlining the Conservative policy, Dr. Stockton analysed the Grand Trunk Pacific deal, clearly showing it to be a graft and gift throughout.

Orange Hall, Fairville, was crowded last night with an enthusiastic audience to hear J. E. M. Baxter, M. P. F. P. and A. W. Macrae. Both speakers dealt ably with the issues of the day and to judge by the frequent applause their arguments told.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK. All interested Sunday school work will be pleased to know that the Rev. THE BETTING FAVORS BORDEN $500 to $200 on Laurier's Defeat.

Odds on the Montreal Stock Exchange Show Remarkable Change in Public Opinion.

D. C. Clinch received a telegram shortly after noon today from Montreal to the effect that the betting on the Montreal stock exchange at noon today was $500 to $200 that Borden would have a majority of twenty in the next house.

The news has given great stimulus to the Conservative workers who, while satisfied that the Conservatives would win, looked with a little anxiety toward Quebec. The telegram received by Mr. Clinch goes on to say that there is almost any amount of Conservative money in sight, but that there are no Liberal takers.

This is the final admission that Laurier is doomed—Port Arthur next.

POLICE COURT.

A Fine Minstrel Show Given This Morning by Strong Array of Talent.

In the police court this morning there was a splendid array of talent on the bench and the performance was a good one.

The first part looked like a minstrel line up, with "Tony" Burns on one end and "Willie" Burns on the other. It was a case of father and son, both colored. In the centre was Mary Bree and it was due to Mary that the performance was not the great success it promised.

Mary forgot where or when she was arrested and as the officers refused to give her any information on the subject (ill her case was called she was obliged to plead guilty and goes to jail for two months.

"Tony" Burns also pleaded guilty and was fined $4. He has only been out a short time. His son, Willie, was arrested on a warrant charging him with assault. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded. The warrant was worn out by Willie's wife, nee Ann King.

The others were common drunks. The two men arrested on suspicion of stealing tools from Michael Birmingham's shop on Duke street were remanded till Friday.

DRIVER MACAULAY, DEAD.

I. C. R. Engineer Who Was Injured in the Collision at Oxford Died Last Night.

Driver McAulay, of the I. C. R., who was injured in the accident near Oxford Junction on Tuesday, died last night at ten o'clock, as a result of injuries received at the time. Deceased had both legs taken off and for a time it was hoped that he would recover. This is the third death that this engine has to its credit.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The Conservatives have secured St. Andrew's rink and have engaged a special telegram wire and an operator. Election returns from all over the Dominion will be bulletined here earlier than anywhere else.

PARIS WILL QUOTE ST. LOUIS AS EXAMPLE. PARIS, Nov. 2.—Parisians are watching closely the outcome of the St. Louis fair.

There is a general agitation of the question here whether Paris will have an exposition in 1929 to celebrate the jubilee of the Third Republic. Upon the success or failure of the St. Louis fair much will depend.

Many Parisians hold the opinion that great fairs do harm instead of good. The newspaper La Patrie has opened a voting contest on the subject and the opinion of its readers is about equally divided, with a slight preponderance against.

RUSSIA IS TOO BLUE FOR CELEBRATION. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3, 12:59 p. m.—There was little attempt today to celebrate, except in a perfunctory way, the tenth anniversary of the accession of Emperor Nicholas. The Imperial family attended a Te Deum at the Kazan cathedral and there were services in all of the churches. Later the troops were paraded, the theatres gave free exhibitions to the school children and there was music and other holiday displays in the parks. But, on account of the war and the anxiety regarding the situation at Port Arthur, everything was on a small scale.

BRIDE'S GOWN WAS ABLAZE. LENOX, Mass., Nov. 1.—While Miss Mary Novan and Albert Lopata were being married at St. Charles' Catholic church here today the bride's gown caught fire from a candle and she had a narrow escape from death. One of the wedding party held the candle so close to the veil that it became ignited and in an instant the bride was enveloped in flames.

There was much excitement, while the best man and ushers threw off their coats and wrapped them about the bride, extinguishing the fire. While the bride lost a part of her gown, the ceremony continued.

MIKADO'S BIRTHDAY PARTY.

TOKIO, Nov. 3, 1 p. m.—Upon the occasion of his birthday at luncheon today, the emperor briefly addressed his guests extending welcome to the foreign diplomatic corps and ministers of state. During the course of his remarks he said: "We regret that the time had not come to see peace restored in the Far East in realization of our desires."

He then proposed the health of the sovereigns and rulers represented at his court, expressed the wish that the bonds of friendship existing between the respective countries might be drawn closer.

Baron d'Anethan, the Belgian minister, dean of the diplomatic corps, responded, congratulating the emperor on the day and expressing regret at the continuance of the war. Continuing, Baron d'Anethan said: "We again express our wishes for peace and do so with more fervor when we contemplate with profound emotion the ravages already caused in suffering families and the thousands of noble victims on each side in the armies in the field, struggling and shedding their blood with a bravery that rises to the height of a sublime and indomitable heroism."

The earliest and most reliable election returns will be found in the extra editions of Star this evening.

POLICE REPORTS.

Officer Crawford reports that last night he was called into Charles O'Dell's house off Brunsele street to make peace between O'Dell and his wife.

The doors leading to two business houses were found open by the police last evening. Charles Trueman, agent for the Jordan property at 175 Pitt street, has been notified by the police that there is a flow of water across the street from the house at that number and asked to explain to the magistrate why it is not stopped.
