THE SITE FOR THE MONUMENT WILL CAUSE MUCH DISCUSSION

Market Square and Queen Square are Both Warmly Upheld—Meeting of the Committee Today at Which Specifications Were Considered

The committee appointed by the interested in the Champlain monument fund met in Mayor Sears' office this morning, and although no business of much importance was transacted, a lengthy discussion took place and several valuable suggestions were made. Those present at this morning's meeting were Mayor Sears, presiding; Rev. Dr. Raymond, Rev. Father Gaynor, Col. Armstrong, D. R. Jack, Senator Ellis and Hamilton McCarthy.

At yesterday's meeting a committee composed of D. R. Jack and Col. Armstrong was appointed to draw up specifications with Mr. McCarthy. This work was done last evening, and this morning the contract was submitted to the meeting. It has not been made public. It was decided that the contract and specifications be held over until Hon. Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, arrives in the city, when he will be asked as to the time of payment of the government's grant to the monument fund. This finished the business of the meeting, but a discussion followed. The question of a site for the monument was considered. It was stated by the mayor that the site could be selected by the plan which was suggested at yesterday's meeting, whereby subscribers could have a vote for every dollar contributed to the fund.

Rev. W. C. Gaynor did not look upon this scheme as a good one. He thought that the site should not be chosen for the largest subscribers, but rather for the benefit of the citizens in general, and the artistic aspect should be adhered to. Although none of those present made a definite proposal where the monument should be situated, the matter was decided to favor Queen square. It was decided that Hon. Mr. Fielding would be interviewed by one of the committee members as soon as he arrives, and a meeting is to be called after this.

The general opinion is that if the vote is taken as was suggested yesterday, the monument will be located on Market square, as a number of the larger subscribers have expressed the wish that it be erected there. It is also thought that the site is better there, that from an artistic point of view he thought Queen square was the place. A feature which he thinks adds to this is that the old French cannon is there. Business men on King and Prince Wm. streets are equally anxious to see the monument erected on their spot where the Loyalists landed. There will no doubt be a warm discussion over the matter, as other places besides Queen square and Market square are thought of.

THINKS KING EDWARD IS A MASTER OF DIPLOMACY

His Recent Tour Looked Upon by French Press as of the Utmost Significance

PARIS, May 4.—The French Press regards King Edward's continental tour which ended today with his departure from this city for London, as being fraught with large political significance. The following is a sample opinion. "The King has demonstrated that he is a master of diplomacy. He has succeeded in bringing to Germany from the political point of view, the continental blockade which Napoleon I failed to apply to England commercially. Were King Edward twenty years younger the result might be dangerous for the peace of the world, but a man of sixty-six will hesitate to risk the grand coup."

A SCORE OF WORKMEN BURIED IN THE RUINS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 4.—A special to the express from Chihuahua, Mexico, says: One of the great walls of the Chihuahua Dam suddenly gave way yesterday, engulfing nearly forty men under the enormous weight of masonry and water. Between fifty and twenty of the workmen are dead, and several others were seriously injured. A man of sixty-six will hesitate to risk the grand coup."

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 4.—The British embassy has lodged a claim of the £20,000 ransom paid to the brigands who abducted Dr. Robert Abbott, the son of a prominent British subject, who resided at Salonika.

ANOTHER CASE FOR THE LUNATIC ASYLUM

Man Believing the End of the World is at Hand, Gives Away His Property and Waits for the Flood

GREAT FALLS, Montana, May 4.—Believing that the end of the world will come within ten days and that he with a handful of followers will be translated to heaven, A. W. Stanton, a prominent stockholder of this city, yesterday disposed of all his property valued at several thousand dollars, to the first bidder for $10, and taking up his residence in a rented house in the most elevated part of the city, is calmly awaiting the end. Stanton's followers, eight in number, disposed of their possessions in a similar manner and are with him.

MONARCHIST ELECTED TO THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

PARIS, May 4.—Jules Delahaye, the former supporter of the late General Boulanger, has just been elected on a Monarchist platform, to the Chamber of Deputies from the district of the Marais and Loire, center of a great textile manufacturing district. M. Delahaye, who was the author of the street this morning, for some time past residents along Main street have been complaining that the sewer has been blocked and the sewage has backed up into their dwellings, causing great inconveniences. The water and sewerage department were notified and this morning Frenchmen Michael Carr with some men found that the trouble was in the ground. When Mr. Holly discovered a gang of strange men digging in his property without even asking permission, he immediately ordered them to quit work, caused them to leave his premises and then filled in the excavation. The police were notified of the affair and the assistance of the city laborers were allowed to go on with the work and repair the sewer.

FIVE ARRESTS MADE OF HINDOO RINGLEADERS

ALLAHABAD, British India, May 4.—Five native lawyers who are alleged to have been ringleaders of the agitation which led to the rioting at Kawal, have been arrested and placed in jail, all being refused. A mob subsequently attacked the residence of the district magistrate and assaulted several Europeans before the rioters were dispersed. Troops are still patrolling the city.

BODY BITTEN IN TWO BY JAWS OF A STEAM SHOVEL

STERLING, Ill., May 4.—Slipping down a gravel bank in a railroad pit near here yesterday, George Nelson fell several feet and was caught by the jaws of a huge steam shovel, and his body was bitten in two by the closing of the sections.

BISHOP RICHARDSON WILL BE IN CHATHAM TODAY

CHATHAM, N. B., May 4.—Coadjutor Bishop Richardson will be in Chatham this afternoon and will be welcomed by the rector, church wardens and vestrymen. Extensive preparations have been made for the reception and addresses will be presented. His lordship administers communion service tomorrow at 8 o'clock.

INDIAN DIED AGED 119.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 4.—Felix Rodriguez, an Arctio Indian, died here at the age of 119. He was in the battle of the Alamo in 1836 as a teamster in charge of the paymaster's wagon of the Mexican army. After Texas victory he returned to Mexico, where he lived until four years ago when he came here. He died without family.

THE DEATH ROLL

NEW YORK, May 4.—Monro Salisbury, a well known horse owner and breeder of San Francisco, died in New York last night. Salisbury came here several weeks ago for treatment for cancer, but the doctors were unable to save his life.

MR. KENNY IS BETTER.

MONTREAL, May 4.—Although Mr. Thos. E. Kenny cannot be said to be out of danger he was considerably better yesterday and Dr. Lemieux is satisfied with his progress. Mrs. Kenny and Miss Kenny are at his bedside.

ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD WESTERN GRAIN CO.

But the Forger Did Not Know a Railway Dodge.

Bills of Lading Were All Filled In With Numbers Belonging to Flat Cars—The Culprit Not Known

WINNIPEG, Man., May 4.—A daring attempt to defraud the Western Grain Co. and the Imperial Elevator Company by means of forged bills of lading for wheat cars, was discovered today and only a fortunate blunder of the forger prevented the companies being robbed of between six and seven thousand dollars. The guilty party, whose identity is yet unknown, sent in a letter from various points in the province enclosing bogus bills of lading and asking urgent advance on a car of wheat. The companies frequently do this, but in this case the forger, strange to say sent all odd numbered cars. This saved the companies as all box cars on the C. P. R. are even numbered, odd numbers being confined to flats, a fact that is not generally known.

THEY SHOULD HAVE ASKED PERMISSION FIRST

City Laborers Started Work Digging up the Sayre & Holly Mill Yard.

There was some little excitement in the Sayre & Holly mill yard off Main street this morning. For some time past residents along Main street have been complaining that the sewer has been blocked and the sewage has backed up into their dwellings, causing great inconveniences. The water and sewerage department were notified and this morning Frenchmen Michael Carr with some men found that the trouble was in the ground. When Mr. Holly discovered a gang of strange men digging in his property without even asking permission, he immediately ordered them to quit work, caused them to leave his premises and then filled in the excavation. The police were notified of the affair and the assistance of the city laborers were allowed to go on with the work and repair the sewer.

LEOPOLD FAILED IN HIS MISSION TO FRANCE

PARIS, May 4.—Absolute confirmation has been secured by the Associated Press of the complete failure of the mission of King Leopold, of Belgium, to Paris, which was indirectly designed to secure the support of France against Great Britain in the matter of the Congo independent state by inducing a French financial institution to convert the Congo department, hypothecating for that purpose the railroads and other franchises of the Congo to the French government, which also enjoys preference in the matter of taking over the Congo should Belgium refuse to consider the proposals made on the subject to that country.

BRITISH STEAMSHIP ASHORE OFF FALSE CAPE

NORFOLK, Va., May 4.—The British steamship, Capt. Randall, from Port Spain, April 23, for Baltimore with asphalt, went ashore during a dense fog and heavy rain today, two and one half miles south of the False Cape life saving station. The steamer, which is a vessel of 1,457 tons, appears to be lying in an easy position and it is believed that she can be floated. The wrecking steamer, Rescue from Norfolk is now on the scene and efforts will be made to get the ship off the beach on the next high tide. Captain O'Neill and crew from the False Cape life saving station went out twice to the ship but Capt. Randall and his men refused to come ashore. The Dora lies on the beach about 2 1/2 miles south of Cape Henry.

SWETTENHAM RETIRED FROM OFFICE YESTERDAY

KINGSTON, Ja., May 4.—Sir Alexander Swettenham retired from the post of governor of Jamaica yesterday. He has repaired to his residence in the hills, where he will stay until he leaves the island. Colonial Secretary Bourne has been installed as acting governor pending the arrival here of Sydney Olivier, the new governor, who sails from England on the steamer Port Kingston today.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 4.—The bill prohibiting the sale, manufacture or giving away of cigarettes or cigarette papers in this state was passed by the house. The bill now goes to the governor for his signature.

NEW NAVY FOR SPAIN DISCUSSED BY KINGS

Plans Submitted to Edward VII. and Alfonso XIII. at Meeting in Cartagena.

PARIS, May 4.—According to the Madrid correspondent of the Echo, the Spanish minister of marine has stated that the plan for reorganizing the navy will include the creation of a defensive squadron of fast cruisers, submarines and torpedo boats. The minister admitted that these plans were discussed during the recent meeting between King Edward and King Alfonso at Cartagena, and added: "That meeting will have happy results for our naval future." "Plans and estimates for the new squadron and the improvements at Ferrol were submitted by Messrs. Boardman and Roper, the British naval engineers, during their interview with the minister yesterday, and will be considered by the government. It is estimated that the total cost of the naval reorganization scheme will be $50,000,000. The scheme is to be submitted to the Cortes at the next session.

BRITISH WARSHIPS WILL NOT COME TO ST. JOHN

NORFOLK, Va., May 4.—The Italian warships Varese and Etruria passed in the Virginia Capes today and proceeded at once into Hampton Roads. The Italian bearing the Duke D'Abruzzi, being announced by heavy salutes both from the American warships in Hampton Roads and fortress Monroe. The Duke was likewise welcomed by the dipping of colors and all other honors due his rank, from the British, Austrian and Argentine warships representing the allies in the Roads, the German cruisers Roon and Bremen having departed prior to the arrival of the Italian. The British squadron will sail from Hampton Roads tomorrow for Bermuda of a three weeks' stay, thence to Halifax, N. S., for ten days, thence to Quebec for a similar period and from there to England.

TWO MORE CASES OF BRANDY WERE STOLEN

R. Sullivan and Company on receiving a consignment of case brandy from the steamer Empress of Britain have found that in two of the cases there was nothing left but the straw covers that had been over the bottles. The whole twenty-four bottles of brandy had been stolen. Just where the goods were taken has not been found out yet, for when the cargo leaves the ship it is placed in the Sand Point warehouse, reshipped in cars and brought round to the east side by rail. Whether the liquor was stolen on the ship, in the warehouse or on the cars is not yet known, and the matter is now receiving the attention of the officials.

THREE LITTLE BOYS AND ONE FIRECRACKER

Five prisoners were gathered in by the police last night. Three were drunks and the other two were Froese Duke-shire (white), and Margaret Mandfield (colored), who were charged with soiling men, thus being common vagabonds, on Sheffield street last night. The white woman pleaded not guilty, while the colored dame blushingly admitted the soft impeachment. Both were admitted to jail. Three boys were before the court charged with discharging fire crackers in a vestibule of a German street house. One boy said he lighted the cracker, the second boy said he threw it in the vestibule, and the third said he just looked on. They were told that they had done wrong and were excused with a "Don't do it again."

THIS EVENING.

Continuous performance at the Nickel.

Wonderland.

Polis and Merrit race at Queen's Rollaway.

Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works in High School building at eight o'clock.

The moving picture show must be a paying business in St. John. This morning a gentleman applied at the mayor's office for a license. He is to open a show called "The Unique" on Charlotte street, next door to Wonderland. This makes the fourth moving picture show now in the city, and strange to say all are doing a good business.

The body of the late George W. Sharpe was taken to Hampton for interment on the early train this morning. A service was conducted at St. John's late home last evening by Revs. Hand and Swin.

Burglars Nearly Killed the Occupant of a House Which They Were Robbing —He Was Unable to Make Known His Affliction

NEW YORK, May 4.—Bound hands and feet and unconscious from tortures to which he had been subjected, Arthur Clarke was found in the home of his sister in East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street last night. Thieves who did not know he was a deaf mute had sought by inflicting pain to make him loose his tongue and tell the hiding place of money and jewelry. Clarke called last night on his sister, Mrs. Josephine Boylan, and she had gone to the theatre, but Boylan was there, and the two men awaited her return.

Boylan went down to the street entrance to greet his wife when she should appear, leaving Clarke in the kitchen near an open window, against the sill of which the back of his chair rested. Boylan waited for nearly half an hour without his wife returning and then started up stairs. He found the door to his apartment locked, and looking through the keyhole observed that the place was in darkness. His key failed to work, and knowing that it was useless to call Clarke, because of the latter's affliction, he summoned the landlady. They forced the door, and the noise brought several tenants to the scene. The party struck matches and the light revealed Clarke lying on his back in the kitchen, his clothing saturated with water. His legs were tied at the ankles and knees and his hands bound behind his back with ropes. A towel had been used as a gag, and Clarke's face was blue from suffocation. He had not heard the approach of the two thieves, who climbed the fire escape and seized him by the throat as he sat with his back to the window. They choked him until his strength was gone and then bound him with a wash line. After rifling his pockets of $5 they demanded to know where there was more money and jewelry in the apartment. Clarke's silence infuriated the captors. They filled a milk bottle with water, and while one forced open his mouth the other poured the water directed a stream between his jaws. This torture ceased when Clarke gasped and the demand for information was pressed. When his silence was not broken his torture was repeated. He described later his efforts to make known his affliction. The thieves in their rage could not understand. They continued their infliction of pain until their victim was senseless. The gag was applied and the thieves were doubtless searching the apartments when the arrival of Boylan frightened them away.

Clarke was hurried to the Harlem Hospital, where the physicians say he will recover.

KAISER'S NAVY LEAGUE MAY BE DISRUPTED

BERLIN, May 4.—The German Navy League, which, protected by the emperor, has done so much with its 1,000,000 members and annual income of $100,000 devoted to propaganda work, to develop the navy, is seeking ways in which differences that may result in its dissolution. The trouble was caused by General Keim, the moving spirit of the league, in the Reichstag campaign. He used the organization to encompass the defeat of Socialists, Roman Catholics and other candidates supposed to be hostile to Germany's naval ambitions. At the annual meeting in Cologne on May 11 and 12, the Bavarian branch will bring forward resolutions demanding that the league and its officers abstain from any sort of political activities in South Germany. Thousands of the South German Roman Catholic members of the league were enraged by General Keim's insinuation that the Center was "anti-national," and they are up in arms against the Frussians who control the league. If the Bavarian resolutions are rejected there will be an enormous defection, and if it is decided to abandon political activity the control of the organization will be wrested from the aggressive spirits now managing it.

LUCKY COUSINS.

NEW YORK, May 4.—David Wilcox, late president of the Delaware and Hudson, who committed suicide at a last week, left his estate to four cousins on his mother's side. The estate is valued by Wm. G. Wilcox, the dead man's cousin, at $1,000,000.

NEW YORK, May 4.—According to information received today Rev. Jere Knobe Cooke and Miss Floretta Whaley, who recently disappeared from Hempstead, L. I., have been found at Peekskill. A warrant for Cooke's arrest has been placed, and two deputy sheriffs have been sent to Peekskill to serve it.

Rev. George Milligan, of Harrowsmith, Ontario, is in the city visiting his mother, Mrs. Robert Milligan, Hazen street.

CUBAN GENERAL SEEKS

APOLOGY OR BLOOD

Lynaz del Castillo gives Gonzalez Llanza
Five Minutes to Retract or Fight.

HAVANA, May 4.—General Lynaz del Castillo sent two friends and a note couched in the best Castilian to General Gonzalez Llanza, peremptorily demanding that the eminent jurist retract his statement that the latest revolution was a colonial horse-stealing enterprise, or words to that effect, and giving him five minutes to do it. The eminent jurist returned a reply couched in even better Castilian, expressing the belief that the revolution has not started primarily for the purpose of horse stealing, but that opportunities growing out of it had been taken advantage of, and recommending the author of the peremptory challenge to read the article in question again, and read it more carefully. Friends of both parties trust that the matter is a closed incident, and some suggested that the thing having been smoothed over so nicely with the general and the jurist ought to be sent to represent Cuba at The Hague, the former on general principles and the latter as a matter of equity.

Eccentric Conduct at Altar on Tuesday
Draws Large Crowd on Wednesday.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 3.—Frank Baroux, of Pittston, who yesterday deserted Miss Veronica Luszetsky at the altar of St. Casimir's Church, and was later mobbed by her friends and rescued by the police, changed his mind today and married the girl. The pair went back to the church and were wedded in the presence of far more spectators than had assembled yesterday. Baroux said he just changed his mind again, and that is all there is to it. It cost him $35, however, for Mayor Gillespie fined him that amount for fighting.

WOMAN IS BURIED IN

A HUGE HOLLOW STONE

Doctor's Wife, Converted to Strange Faith,
Has Unique Funeral in Iowa.

CENTREVILLE, Iowa, May 3.—There took place yesterday the strangest funeral even seen in those parts, when Mrs. Amos Patterson's remains were laid at rest.

After the body had been washed in olive oil it was placed in one of two deep niches made in a huge hollow stone, the other being intended for Dr. Patterson, her husband, upon his demise. The stone coffin was covered with a stone lid and buried.

Several years ago Dr. and Mrs. Patterson travelled extensively in the Holy Land. When they returned they were enthusiastic advocates of a new cult, which demanded the burial method described. The Pattersons are wealthy, and were never regarded as fanatical, but they have been unable to draw any adherents to their strange faith. The immense stone for the double coffin was purchased six months ago.

MASTER DERELICT

Wireless to Halifax That Wreck Is South of Sable Island, With No Signs of Life on Board.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 3.—The Hamburg-American liner, the Bluebird, bound for New York, sent a Marconi telegram this evening via Sable Island to the Dominion Government, marine department at Halifax, that she had passed a three masted water-jogged schooner. The vessel's three masts were standing and she had reefed mainsail and jib still standing. The weather has been very thick and the Bluebird has not seen the sun for 72 hours when she came across the derelict, having been proceeding under dead reckoning. It was not possible therefore to get a first observation, but they made out the location of the schooner to be latitude 41.23 north, longitude 58.53 west. The schooner is about 130 miles south of Sable Island. No signs of life aboard were visible. The agent of the marine department communicated with the tow boat company in Halifax with a view to sending out for the schooner as a prize, but owing to the distance they declined to do anything. The derelict is in the track of navigation.

SALISBURY LAD

Fell off Railway Bridge into River But Was Rescued in Nick of Time—W. R.
Wright Thrown from Horse and Injured

SALISBURY, N. B., May 3.—W. R. Wright, of the Wright Lumber Company, was badly hurt this afternoon. Mr. Wright was in the saddle when his horse became unmanageable and threw him off. Charles Taylor happened along soon after the accident and brought the injured man in to Dr. C. A. King's office here, where he received the necessary medical aid. He was badly cut about the face and received a severe shaking up.

Earlier in the day a young son of Calvin Wheaton nearly lost his life. He, with a number of older boys, went down to the Pettedoc river and this little lad went on the Albert Railway bridge and fell off into the river, a distance of about twenty feet. His cousin, Clarence Wheaton, and George Wortman, succeeded in rescuing him, but it was a very close call.

CUBAN POLICE CORRUPT.

General Del Castillo Says Governor

Magon Has so Expressed Himself.
HAVANA, May 4.—General Lynaz del Castillo yesterday handed Governor Magon a protest against outrages committed upon citizens by police officers, charging that a most careful investigation be inaugurated to show the facts.

According to General del Castillo's statement to the reporters, Governor Magon informed him that he, too, knew of outrages committed by the police, and that he understood that the force is in large part rotten, and that he will forward the protest to the department of government with a recommendation that it be given prompt attention.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MAY 4, 1907.

THE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION.

The people of the United States spend a rule about three quarters of their time in discussing presidential elections. For two years or so before each contest they are busily engaged in figuring out the possible chances of the respective candidates, and for a year after the event they are endeavoring to adjust themselves to changed conditions. At the present time the principal topic of discussion is a successor to Roosevelt, and although the election will not take place until next year there are already interesting developments. It is noticeable that the Republican party there is a split but whether it will be sufficient to have a serious effect cannot yet be estimated. Roosevelt, who was the practically unanimous choice of the party in 1904, has, by his progressive policy, created many opponents, and whether he consents to resign or not, it is practically certain that his influence will not be as great as in the past. Roosevelt, if he so wishes, can secure the nomination, and while he has repeatedly declared that he will not again be a candidate, there has arisen among his former supporters a party which insists that in reality he is anxious for a third term. The policy of this party, as already outlined, is not only to oppose such a development but also to protest against the selection of any person who has the support of Roosevelt. No candidate is named by these politicians but they are waiting, like the Israelites, for a Moses to lead them out of the wilderness. They hope that something may turn up in the next year. Roosevelt has also made enemies among the labor interests, but after the first flurry of excitement over his recent letter concerning officers of the Western Federation even those who at first most heartily condemned him are beginning to see that he was right in his utterances and it may be that he will ultimately receive the united labor support. A few months ago a mild sensation was caused by the exposure of an alleged rich man's conspiracy to prevent Roosevelt from remaining in office for another term. This report was treated as a joke, and there is no doubt that it was such, but it is a strange fact that the very mention of such a thing sufficed to place the Roosevelt supporters on their guard, and they have taken a firm stand against corporation interests.

In spite of all these minor developments, it is generally conceded that Roosevelt seeks the Republican nomination. His own course is not quite clear. He is booming Taft, the secretary of war, for the nomination, and this has created in the state of Ohio what is perhaps the most exciting contest so far witnessed. Previous to the last presidential election, Senator Foraker was one of Roosevelt's most strenuous champions and indeed exerted a great influence in making his election secure. Foraker expected to be taken into the cabinet and to receive high honors from the president. He was disappointed in this, and this disappointment has now turned to enmity. A short time ago, just after Secretary Taft left for the south, Foraker issued a challenge in Ohio calling upon the Republican party to hold a convention at which would be decided the claims of respective candidates for the presidency; and for the state senatorship. Taft's brother promptly accepted, and since then the two parties have been putting up an active campaign. It is generally admitted that Foraker will be beaten, for though he looms large in federal politics he is not regarded in his own state as being particularly powerful. Taft's ability is recognized everywhere. As the latter has Roosevelt's hearty support and as he is looked upon as a good man for the office of chief executive, he will undoubtedly receive the nomination if he cares to accept it and if Roosevelt insists upon retiring. Taft's great ambition is to be made judge of the supreme court. A few years ago, while he held the office of governor of the Philippines, such a position was offered to him, but although this promotion would have meant the realization of his dream, and although he was urged by the president to accept, he declined the promotion on the ground that he could do better work at that time in the Philippines. It may be that in the hope of receiving a similar offer in the not distant future he will refuse to accept the presidential nomination, but this is scarcely probable.

The choice would thus seem to rest between the two men Roosevelt and Taft, and it can scarcely be doubted that even considering the dissensions in the party, the Republican nominee will receive sufficient support to win. Other possible candidates who have been mentioned are Vice-president Fairbanks and Uncle Joe Cameron, but they are not considered in the same class with the others. For the Democrats Bryan is the only name so far and he will undoubtedly be the selection. Since making his famous speech upon arriving in New York a year or so ago, he has materially changed his views and now stands more on the platform of the established party. Bryan is carrying on an active stump campaign all over the states but the pre-election agitation has not yet reached such a stage that his speeches are creating any great excitement.

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE.

Don't begin fooling with the plans for the new west side wharf. There is no particular reason why any changes should be made. Capt. Walsh, of the C. P. R., is a practical man but is inclined to be over-cautious, and he doubtless desires that plenty of room should be allowed for moving the steamers about. But there will be sufficient space, in spite of his diagram theory, and at this late hour it would be highly injudicious to make any alteration in the work now in progress.

As foretold by the Star some weeks ago, and mentioned incidentally on several occasions since that time, Mayor Sears will not endeavor to oppose Dr. Pugsley in St. John. There never was any particular reason for believing that he would do so. Nor will there be any Conservative opposition.

A SONG OF PROMISE.

To that soul ever wandering, seeking, longing
An earthly paradise—'tis to him I sing:
All troubled sorrow, with the morrow's dawning
Will surely pass, like swallows on the wing.
For God's sunshine serves to brighten
All our days, though seen through tears,
Our grievous burdens must ever lighten,
Night's gloom will pass, despite our fears.
Man's inhumanity to man has oft been spoken,
Yet his good deeds not always see the light;
An act in time may mend a life that's broken;
Infuse fresh courage to renew the fight.
The world needs men, both strong and loving,
To say the word that will uplift the weak;
To cheer extended feeble hands; so proving
Our universal brotherhood to those who seek.

THE STORY OF A CRIME.

A Russian Journal tells the story of how the murderer of Gen. Lunin, Prefect of St. Petersburg, obtained admission to the semi-official party at which the deed was committed. After the crime all the guests were detained and the tickets were examined. There was one ticket the rightful holder of which was not present. It was no other than that of Premier Stolypin himself. The murder had been committed under cover of the invitation ticket of no less a personage than the Prime Minister. The Premier had not been able to go, and his ticket fell into the hands of a member of the secret police named Nakolens. He resold it to the revolutionists for $15,000.

ONLY A SAMPLE.

"Waiter, bring me a steak," he requested, as he seated himself at a table in a small cafe.
The waiter disappeared, and returned in some minutes with a small steak. The diner took the bit of steak on his fork, turned it around, and gazed at it critically.
"Yes, that's the kind I want," he remarked. "Bring me some."—Bohemian.

NO HOME LIFE.

Magistrate (to an interesting young fellow who is just leaving prison)—Why don't you live quietly at home with your family instead of committing a crime that sends you right back to prison just as soon as you can get out?
Young Man.—That's just it, sir; it is my love for my family that makes me get sent to prison.
"How so?"
"Why, my father and mother are both in prison. But we can never meet. They go in, I come out. They leave, I go in. It is a regular thing, and it upsets our family life."

WOULD NOT TELL HER AGE.

Mrs. Smith, suddenly imbued with a spirit of neighborly interest in a lady who was just recovering from influenza, said to her little son:
"Willie, dear, just run across the street and ask how old Mrs. Brown is this morning."
Willie returned in five minutes wearing the look that spoke of defeat sustained.
"Well, have you seen Mrs. Brown?" the mother asked.
"Yes, and she said I was to tell you it's none of your business how old she is."

JUST AS GOOD.

"Going out of town this summer?"
"No; but I'll have my regular relaxation."
"What's that?"
"Planning to go next summer."

FORCE OF HABIT.

"This offer of your heart and hand is sudden," said Miss Nurtch, "but I will take it."
"Ah!" grasped the dry goods clerk, surprised and badly rattled, "will you—take it with you or shall I send it home?"

SUITED FOR SOMETHING.

"Your little boy may become president some day."
"I hardly think so, Archibald is too modest and retiring."
"Oh, well, he may get to be vice president."

The largest grasshoppers are found in South America, where some specimens reach a length of five inches, with a spread of wings of ten inches.

A QUESTION.

"My wife thinks she will never find a better cook than the one we now have."
"Humph! Uh—uh—say, what would you call your wife, a pessimist or an optimist?"—Cleveland Press.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

TAKING BREAD.

I drove some miles the other day to see a friend who knows that he is dying of consumption and a man who knows that he has tuberculosis and admits it is no ordinary man. He has been unable to work for two years. The farm is running down, the most of the stock has been sold to buy medicine and pay doctor bills; his dollars are getting scarce. He has an orphaned niece he took to his own home when her mother, his sister died, he loves her—she is a childless man—as if she were his own child. The young girl had to go to some factory over in the "States" to earn her own living, and hoped that she might send a dollar now and then to her uncle whom she loved as a father. The uncle wrote every week to his little girl until his hand trembled so with weakness that he blotted the paper and had to give it up. And then, feeling badly he thought—poor man he has so much time to think—he will send her our local paper and that will be like a letter from home. But how to get the dollar? And he thought, and thought, when he should have been sleeping, "I will go without medicine for a week, perhaps it will not make much difference to me, and then I can send the paper." And that big hearted brave man did that and then wrote with a pencil his last letter and it was something like this, I am sending you the "When you get it, and take off the wrapper, think (no matter what is in the paper)—this is my uncle's letter, and it tells me he loves me and is thinking about me." That is my story—a true one in substance—and it happened just about the time wise and good men, who knew not the harm they were doing, were putting a tax on the papers that cross the line.

If they had taxed letters two cents more—bad as that would have been—it would not have been so bad as taxing the papers that are the letters from home to a great many people.

All through the rural districts of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and P. E. Island, Ontario and Quebec the tax will be keenly felt and the injustice will fall upon those who are the least able to bear it, and many of them will make no complaint for they have been taught the "divine right of kings" and that the powers that be cannot make a mistake.

Only those who have been away from home for years and even months know how eagerly the home paper is looked for and opened and what a joy it has when, after having been away for so long, they find the paper waiting for them. The fathers and mothers and widows must pay the tax on the paper they want to send to their children. Take the tax off the bread of the boys and girls away from home and get the blessing of the poor, worth more than "revenue of choice silver."

"CHECKMATE."

"Checkmate!" represents "shah mat!"—"the shah is dead." "Shah," in fact, entered our language long ago via Arabic and old French, and in the form of "check," "Chess" is really "check," kings, and the cry of "check!" means your king is in danger, hence the verb and substantive "check" in all their English meanings—"check," which was originally the counter of a bill that served to "check" fraud; "checked," from the thought of the checkerboard; and "checkmate," from the checked pattern of the fablecloth on which the king's accounts were kept with counters. All these we owe to the Persian sovereign's title—London Chronicle.

The interest and attendance are both increasing at the Sunday night services, conducted by Elder J. G. Miller, of Dayton, Ohio. These lectures will continue on every Sunday evening beginning at 7 p. m., during the month of May. Place of meeting Foresters' hall, Charlotte street, near King square. Subject for Sunday evening, May 5th, will be, "The Destiny of the Wicked." The public are cordially invited to attend.

The special attraction this evening in the high school should fill the hall. In addition to the inimitable Mrs. Jarley, the Misses Lugin, of Victoria, B. C., will sing, and the toy symphony will render their unique music.

SCRAPPLE SUPERSEDES

DELICACIES OF DAIRY

World-Wide Favor of Former Lowly Dish
Revolutionizing Industry.

OXFORD, Pa., May 3.—Growing popularity of "scrapple" threatens to revolutionize the entire industry of the lower end of Chester and Lancaster Counties. Instead of being the banner dairy and steer-feeding section of the state, it promises to become almost completely given over to the raising of hogs for the purpose of making scrapple.

Early last fall some one discovered that scrapple, though so common as to be almost despised as a "poor man's dish" in the neighborhood, was unknown to the rest of the United States. He immediately began advertising scrapple and the demand increased so rapidly that often the supply of hogs was insufficient for its manufacture. Frequently the hams and choice cuts of pork were used in making scrapple, which usually the waste parts are utilized in this manner. Scrapple has been shipped to every state in the Union, to all the countries of Europe, to Greece, South America, Cuba and Jamaica, to all of which countries the name of scrapple spelled mystery and the people had no idea of what it was made of. The rapid growth of this industry has caused the farmers to go in for the raising of hogs on an extensive scale, and many of them have disposed of their dairies in consequence. Demand for scrapple has increased so rapidly that it is estimated that only a few days ago an order came from a man on a ranch in Minnesota seventy-four miles away from a railway station. He saw the advertisement became hungry for the dish of his boyhood in Chester County, and immediately ordered a consignment, and will travel on horseback 144 miles to get it. During the last season this one firm has been supplying the principal hotels in Philadelphia, New York and Atlantic City with this country delicacy.

AGAIN CHANGES HIS MIND.

Mayor Sears will not be a candidate for the vacant seat in the House of Commons. He has announced that the action of the Conservatives on Thursday night, made him change his mind. His worship was not at all pleased with the action of the council yesterday in removing him from the chairmanship of the water and sewerage board. He states that a number of the aldermen are opposed to him, and he recognized his not being chairman of the board as being the result of influence of those aldermen. The mayor mentioned many instances where he had been slighted by the council.

EXPERT COST-SAVERS.

J. Kent Whetton, representing The Day State Cost System and Audit, of Boston, accompanied by E. W. Pike of the same concern, are stopping at the Dufferin. Mr. Whetton is the expert business systematizer and Mr. Pike expert production engineer. These men after taking charge of the manufacturing plant, employees, etc., of large concerns, have tactfully and systematically secured such control of men and plant as to lower the cost of production in many cases from forty to sixty per cent. Their method is to stay with the different concerns until all friction is past and the office and mechanical staff are thoroughly drilled in the free and economic working of the different systems. These men are in possession of testimonials from several of the largest American manufacturing concerns as to their unique ability. Mr. Whetton is a New Brunswick boy and received his training at the Currie Business University, here, some years ago. The staff of the Currie Business University is now arranging to secure the different new systems under the guidance of Mr. Whetton with a view of placing the whole school under these different cost and labor-saving drills.

IRISH COUNCIL DISCUSSES THE BLACKSOD SCHEME

Immense Amount of Money Being Spent Under the Land Purchase Act—Cardinal Logue Speaks on the Value of Technical Education of very little benefit to industry and commerce. He said that the people ahead, going to the front in commerce and manufactures, do so because they are not interested in the "important subject," declared Cardinal Logue. "The report of the Irish Game Protection Committee, which is the business of the Treasury in the following language: 'Owing to a great measure of neglect, the game in the Inland Revenue are deriving nearly $15,000 yearly from game and gun in the State, and the same amount is lost by the protest in the strongest manner against this money going out of the country in the hands of some portion of it is applied to the prevention of the extermination of game birds.'

The Association for Housing the Poor which was established in Dublin in 1875, and which has since then been as great a success as some of its promoters hoped. At the annual meeting of the Association, which was held at the headquarters of the company, Sir Lambert Ormsby, called attention to the fact that the Association had been successful in securing the erection of very fine block of buildings in Ailingford.

Another matter of interest to students of sociology is the evidence that there is being given at the health inquiry as to the extent to which the milk supply is available, not merely from the point of view of the Ulster capital, but also from that of Ireland generally. Among other things as a result of the inquiry will be known the extent to which the Parliamentary powers should be obtained for the control of the milk trade.

LOST EIGHT

The Mystery Returned to Port With Flag at Half-Mast—Shut Out by Thick Fog.

BOSTON, May 3.—The fishing schooner or Mystery returned from the Banks this morning with a half-mast and bringing the report of the loss of eight men last Tuesday on the southern edge of Brown's Bank, sixty miles from Cape Sable.

Captain George Steele of the schooner reported that eight men set out in four parties to place trawls. A heavy fog set in, and in the thick weather the men were unable to find the schooner. The men missing are: David Steele, brother of the captain of the schooner; Herbert Fubler, Daniel McPhee, John Reid, Michael Shea, said to be the oldest active fisherman on the port of Boston; John Baker, formerly captain

Captain Steele expressed the hope that the men were picked up by some other vessel, but as his two day search failed to yield any trace of the men, he thought there was little prospect of the men being seen again.

GUATEMALA HAS APOLOGIZED TO MEXICO FOR INSINUATIONS

MEXICO CITY, Mex., May. 3.—Guatemala has apologized to the Mexican government for insinuating that the Mexican legation at Guatemala City was harboring the men who are suspected of attempting to assassinate President Cabrera of Guatemala last Monday.

Minister of Foreign Affairs, married in a cable despatch from Minister Gamboa, now at Guatemala City. The incident is now closed to the satisfaction of the Mexican government. The question of extradition of Joaquin was dropped. The cause of the assassination of former president of Guatemala, Manuel Barrillas, while the president was in the city, was the Mexican flag, is still pending.

NOT PLEASED HIMSELF.

Says Jerome K. Jerome: "I admire the pluck recently of a young fellow who, upon meeting his sweetheart's father, This crusty old gentleman when the youth asked for the young lady's hand, said, 'I don't care.'"

"You want to marry my daughter, do you? Let me tell you that you've got to marry the son I want to choose for a non-in-law."

The youth nodded.

"I'll be your friend," he said, "you'll not the sort of man I'd choose for my father-in-law, either. But we needn't chum up, you know, unless we want to."

THIS IS WHAT MATCHES DO

THE ST. JOHN STAR

THE DRESSING OF THE MINIATURE MAN

THE problem of dressing her small son is one that perplexes the average mother. As soon as the little slip of Gretchen dresses that are worn by both sexes indiscriminately up to the age of 18 months are outgrown, the style of dressing for boys and girls is sharply differentiated. Strange to say, though almost every woman knows by a sort of instinct what suits her small daughter in the way of dresses, she is not equally happy in choosing clothes for her young son.

The pity of this is greatest, since nothing is more common than a really well-dressed little boy from 3 to 6 years of age; the modern ways of making his clothes are so graceful, simple, yet so absolutely boyish. Fortunately the golden-aged, lace-collared Lord Pauncefote type is a thing of the past. Starry young America always did feel himself demeaned when "dyked out" in velvets, lace and other "girl togethery." Many an unpleasant pang, indeed, many a fight to prove one's self not a "sissy" even if mother does dress him like one—served the small boy by the present sensible decrease of fashion for his clothes.

When the baby dresses are taken off a boy is very apt to don trousers at once. True, they are pretty effectively disguised by the long Russian blouse reaching almost to the knees, but knickerbockers there are to give the young wearer his first blessed foretaste of manhood. This Russian suit in some of its manifold forms is undoubtedly the favorite style for the first distinctively "boy clothes," whether in woolen or cotton materials. Sometimes the blouses, all of which are belted, are made with long and straight lines from the throat with two box pleats in front and three in the back and a shallow turnover collar; or they are absolutely plain double-breasted affairs with two rows of buttons and a stiff round collar. More often the long-skirted blouse has a deep sailor collar and shield, or its front is cut diagonally from the shoulder to the hem, lapping over the under side to form a V-shaped shield. This last is a very stylish model, whether made with absolutely no trimming save several rows of stitching, or with a broad, rounded sailor collar with the outer side coming to the end of the blouse, and the edge trimmed with rows of colored braid.

An attractive variation of the Russian blouse has one broad box pleat in the back, from under which the belt comes. The front is quite full, with one broad box pleat in the center and two on each side; the first stitched several inches below the belt line, the outer ending at the chest. The collar is a high stitched band.

Waistcoats for Tailored Suits

THE strictly tailor-made waistcoat is quite in evidence again. Last summer, where fancy boleros and Etons were seen even on shopping tours and at market, the plain short-tailed coat, either tight or semi-fitting, and the popular outway effect have taken their place to a surprising extent, both for cloth and linen suits.

This vogue of the tailor suit has given rise to a number of interesting accessories to which the well-dressed woman should give heed. First, there is the waistcoat, which gives such a thoroughly up-to-date air to the perfectly plain suit. This waistcoat properly worn should show not too obtrusively. Often where the coat is closed there is displayed just a tiny edge of a lighter color, which gives but the slightest hint of its real gorgeousness.

One panna velvet waistcoat worn recently with a warm brown suit had large checks in cream color and brown in a checker-board effect, strongly suggesting the race course. It would have been in very bad taste if conspicuously worn, but the glimpse of it through the open jacket was charming.

This waistcoat fitted like a glove, which is, indeed, a prime requirement for any waistcoat. Therefore the back, which was of white satin, was substantially boned. Clumsiness was guarded against with equal care. Little unlined revers of the panne had velvet ribbon sewed flat on the edge and the whole tacked in place on the waistcoat. A double row of big thin buttons of dark metal added to the stunning effect.

For summer wear, many interesting waistcoats are seen in regular vesting materials such as are worn by men. These are usually in white, often of heavy pique, sometimes of figured effects. They are made both single and double breasted, and can be easily laundered. The tan and chambray-colored waistcoats are also seen, being particularly liked to give a touch of color to a blue or brown cloth or linen suit.

the short-bloused Russian suit are rarely worn before 4 years is reached, though occasionally a younger child is seen in a white sailor suit, with the long trousers that are so indescribably cunning on well-built little boys.

The youngest boys are dressed in cotton or linen materials, rarely wearing wool before they are 5 years of age, even in winter. The favorite studs for these first suits are linen in a coarse weave, trimmed with linen or braids of a contrasting color. Pique is also much worn, while striped palates form enduring, if somewhat warm, suits for knockabout wear.

Mothers who like to dress their small sons in wool for its greater warmth on cool summer days choose white serge or else white flannel with a tiny colored stripe through it. These serge and flannel suits are much worn by the small French boy for best; but for young Americans with their affinity for dirt, the style seems hardly practicable. Far better regulate the warmth by heavier underclothing. A charming little suit of this kind was made after the model worn by the small boy with the hoop. It was in white flannel with a pale blue hair line through it, and was trimmed with big pearl buttons and collars and cuffs of pale blue corded silk, hand embroidered in white silk.

Far more sensible, however, for the average stirring youngster would be this same model carried out in white linen with the collar and cuffs embroidered in white, and worn with a scarlet or blue tie. This style is equally good for a girl, with the bloomers omitted.

The other model is a suit for a boy from 4 to 6 years old, made in the sailor type with a stitched shaped yoke and three box pleats down the front and back. Devel-

NOTES OF THE FASHIONS FROM PARIS --- THE NEW SPRING MATERIALS

PARIS, '07.
SPRING suitings lean very much to extremely light color effects. These are especially desirable in the rough English cloths. The handiest tweeds, rough and loose in weave, invariably show a larger amount of white than color. A corker stripe in black, with a wide white stripe between, is, perhaps, the favorite of all. Old blue is also used in this way or in big checks, and a pale reseda green, but that is somewhat less fashionable.

The new rough suitings are always strictly tailor-made, but are given a very stunning touch with black satin collar and cuffs.

One hears much of the combination suits in which the skirt is plain and the jacket mixed. They are new and stylish, and very becoming when a contrast is avoided in the cloths; but they are a little extreme and hardly practical except for a make-over, for it is most decidedly a passing fancy.

Much "tussor," or pongee silk, is seen for dressy suits, as well as gowns. Only the handsomest variety is used, and it certainly makes up most satisfactorily. It both drapes and tailors equally well, and many of the shades are remarkable for their softness of tone. A favorite trimming for them is raw-edged strips of bias broadcloth, matching the silk exactly.

Certain soft finish taffetas are so indeterminate in their stripings that one might almost call them mixtures —not changeable. The coloring is as old-fashioned as the design—beige, café-au-lait, stone grays, old blues, and black and white in a steady effect.

Gowns of these silks are trimmed with bias bands of satin or plain taffeta arranged in straight, horizontal rows around the skirt, and outlining the bolero. Of course, the grille is also of this plain silk. Some few houses show an elaborate lattice-work border of folds, but even its quaintness will hardly popularize this extremely inartistic form of trimming.

Foulards are in again with a vengeance! Their patterns are tiny and quaint in their way, as are the taffetas in theirs. Like the taffetas, plain foulard, exactly matching the ground color, forms the main part of the trimming, folds, girle, fichu, and sometimes the long sash ends that finish it. As usual, the dark blue foulard is the reigning favorite.

Foulards, like most other gowns, are rarely made up without the aid of a becoming lace yoke, and often a touch of a heavier lace, besides the two materials; but all are so cunningly combined there is no sense of incongruity.

White is the favorite lining for voile this spring. It renders doubly ethereal the pale grays, modes, ecrus, lavenders and old pinks that are seen in the handsomest models. Of course, lace of every kind is used in profusion on gowns of this order, often accompanied by a oped in white linen with scarlet washable braid in two widths on collar, cuffs and tie, this is most useful and cool, especially as the neck is collarless. The belt may either be of red patent leather or of the linen edged with the scarlet braid. Made in the natural colored linen, with dark blue trimmings, it would be extremely stylish.

With these suits small boys wear big, coarse straw hats, trimmed with a band and ends of ribbon to match the color used on the blouse.

For a coat the little man should own a dark blue serge or tan chevrot made on strictly tailored lines. It is most stylish, if cut single-breasted, buttoning under a fly, and reaching a few inches above the knees. There is usually no trimming but stitching, but, if desired, a velvet collar, pockets and buttons can be used.

New Fashions for Children

NO FASHION that the season has produced is more fascinating than the basin hat when adapted to a baby face. All the little girls are walking in their mamma's footsteps in this one mode at least.

They wear the picturesque shape in almost as exaggerated a size, with the exception that the brim is the same all around. The trimming is usually two big choux of ribbon put on either side of the round crown. Often, however, the Lamballe crown is worn by them, with a quaint knot of bright-colored ribbon tucked in among its folds at the left side of the front.

New coats for girls are made with capes that fall quite closely over the shoulder, rippling in folds below. This is the nearest approach to the Japanese fashion that is becoming to them. One or two models have been shown that gave a short kimono sleeve with an undersleeve of silk or some thinner material. The fashion is not appropriate for children in its present form; they cannot wear elbow-sleeved coats, and the undersleeve is bunched.

A practical and extremely pretty idea is in vogue for children, who are always dressed in white stockings. Their little boots have uppers of white buckskin, fastened with pearl buttons and then tiny vamps of black patent leather, or sometimes russet. This is much less troublesome than the entire white boot, and yet it does not give the queer cut-off look of dark boots with white stockings. At a little distance the effect is that of the old-fashioned combination of dark slippers with the little white legs.

Crossed barred linen is again in vogue for children's clothes; underclothes as well as dresses.

French boys of 10 or 11 can seldom be quoted as putters-in the American mother's idea. Occasionally, however, you see one got up in English fashion who is much more than possible. One English outfit recently seen was in wood brown chevrot, a plaid, in two shades of brown; the jacket was made in Norfolk shape, and there was a cap of the suit material. A big white Eton collar and russet shoes and stockings completed the costume. Covert cloth is also good looking, used instead of the chevrot, but, of course, it is much less practical.

Such parasols are naturally only used for driving or automobile. Muslin and gauze inch ruffles will be also much used.

Transparent fabrics are having greater vogue than ever. Silk voile in white with the new shade of blue stripe throughout is particularly good.

Chamois gloves, though not new, are fashionable, especially for morning. They come in all sorts of old shades, such as canary, yellow, light green and pink.

For the woman who clings to crocheted bedroom slippers, the prettiest are of royal purple, edged with white and black, in imitation of ermine.

LOVERS TIED STONES ON THEIR FEET; WADED INTO THE RIVER

A Wealthy Italian Who Has Escaped Punishment for Murder—Russian Lady, Who Converted a Spy, Suicides at Florence.

ROME, May 4.—An interesting romance of crime in connection with the San Francisco earthquake was revealed when it was found that among the members of the Italian colony at the time of the earthquake was a certain Signor Riccomini of Lucca, who escaped from Italy in 1887 and when the court of Assize was going to sentence him to lifelong penal servitude as the murderer of two carabinieri. The rescues then made by the police to trace him were fruitless. The sentence was pronounced on March 27, 1887. Riccomini's whereabouts having been discovered in California in connection with the stories of the earthquake the Italian authorities hastened to ask for his extradition before the term of 20 years fixed for legal prescription had expired. The extradition was, however, refused, it was reported here through the influence exerted by Riccomini who is now a millionaire. Now that the 20 years has expired and the sentence cannot even be carried out Riccomini announces his approaching arrival in Italy to see his wife and children whom he left before giving them any news at the time the police should discover his place of refuge.

Two young Austrian visitors, Gustave Pfiffer and Flora Kulm have met with a tragic end. In the latter days of March the Austrian Consul received a heart-breaking letter from Frau Pfiffer who lives in a small town in Bohemia asking the Consul to trace her son who had written telling her that he had intended to throw himself into the Tiber together with his fiancée.

The police were informed by the Consul and supplied with photos of the young Austrians. The most exhaustive and anxious inquiries were made all over Rome, but were fruitless. Finally a telegram from Fiumicino a small village near Rome at the mouth of the Tiber, announced that the bodies of the missing couple had been found in the river bound together with strong ropes and with heavy stones tied to their feet. Their features were terribly distorted by the agony of death.

It has now been ascertained that the young couple after taking the communion in St. Peter's in Rome, walked to Fiumicino, where they spent two days. On the third day they were seen and went up these stairs. A suicide went up the river landing after a little time and disappeared a small way down the shore.

During the night after binding themselves neck and waist with strong ropes and tying heavy stones to their feet, the couple walked calmly into the river, and were soon carried towards the sea by a strong current. Before committing suicide they sent all their money and small souvenirs to their parents in Austria.

According to reports from the island of Malta just received here, the great college of the English Jesuit Fathers, the only college which has systematically aimed at giving boys an all-round English training on the island for many years it has striven for educational rather than financial success, and that while it has never paid its way it has been doing really good educational work. The closing of this famous college in part is said to be due to the fact that branches of the suppressed teaching orders have established themselves on the island and are offering cheaper education.

A strange story comes from Florence concerning the suicide of a Russian lady named Nadja Barsden, who was one of the most active members of the Revolutionary party. She was a friend of Gapon and was compromised in an attempt on the life of one of the Grand Dukes of Odessa. A policeman who was appointed to watch her succumbed to her charms and induced the lady to marry him. After serving a portion of her sentence Nadja was pardoned but forbidden to live in Russia. She accordingly went to Florence, where she frequented the Institute of Fine Arts and gave evidence of being a clever painter. But in addition to her artistic talents she had also great beauty of feature and elegance of form, so she soon attracted to herself a host of admirers, among them being a English artist who name is not altogether unknown to fame. Great surprise was therefore caused here by the receipt of the news of the death of the beautiful Russian. She was walking through the Central Square in Florence when suddenly she drew

GERMAN NEWS OF INTEREST.

BERLIN, May 4.—The general feeling in Germany towards the disarmament proposed for the Hague Conference is illustrated by the action of the Altona police who have forbidden the exhibition of a poster of the Peace Society because it contained the following words: "If the words of the Hague Conference should come to nothing our burdens would be increased, and in place of whips there would be scorpions. Those therefore who mean well by their people should associate themselves with the effort to exercise the pressure which will be necessary to impel the official representatives at the Hague to fruitful labors."

One of the weekly papers relates the following incident of Prince Felix Friedrich:

As Prince was walking in the garden of the villa with the Princess where they recently took up their quarters in Potsdam they became interested in the work of some masons who were constructing a rockwork fountain. Finally the Royal Highnesses seized hand and trod and applied themselves to the task. Half an hour elapsed before they had tied themselves of this un-pleasant occupation, when they returned to the house with their clothes fairly covered with mortar.

AMERICAN-GERMAN TRADE RELATIONS

Project of Commercial Agreement Somewhat Complicated—Composed of Four Sections

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—The "project of commercial agreement" between America and Germany, which is to govern the trade relations of the two countries for an indefinite period in the future, is composed of four distinct parts. In the first place, there is the "agreement" itself, which briefly states the duties authorized on all of the articles mentioned in the third section of the Dingley act.

This in fact amounts simply to the addition of champagnes and sparkling wines to the list of articles upon which minimum rates will apply on importations into Germany.

Other articles of the fundamental "agreement" provide for the speedy application of the new rates; to their extension to the whole custom territory of the parties, and to the concession of a list of American articles upon which minimum rates will apply on importations into Germany.

The second part of the agreement is a detailed statement of the list of articles above referred to. At present all American products are admitted into Germany at minimum tariff rates, hereafter, under this new agreement, only those articles specified may be so admitted. It is stated that in fact the list comprises 95 per cent. of the American imports into Germany.

The third section of the agreement contemplates the draft of a proposed embodying changes to be made in the existing American instructions to customs and consular officers. These changes are not limited in their operation to German imports, but are applicable to imports into America from many other countries. Most important is a definition of market values as of the place where the goods are sold wholly or in part to the public.

The last section of this document is an undertaking by the president to recommend to congress the amendment of section 22 of the Dingley act so as to allow a ten per cent margin in the case of under-valued imports before penalty shall be imposed upon the importer. It is provided that the agreement shall take effect on July 1, 1907, and remain in force until June 30, 1908.

Each of the contracting parties shall have given notice six months before the expiration of the above term of its intention to terminate the said agreement. It shall remain in force until six months from the date when either of the contracting parties shall notify the other of its intention to terminate the same.

BATTLES DECIDED BY A SINGLE SHOT.

There are certainly three instances on record of a siege or battle having been decided by a single shot. First in order of importance was the shot believed to have been fired by one of the French trenches of the fortress of Friedriehshall. This is perhaps the most important musket shot ever fired in the history of the world. Next comes the discharge of the mortar fired by Lord Cochrane during the defense of Port Trinidad in 1808. This shot felled a French ship and saved the fortress.

CHAMPION JUMPER OF THE OCEAN.

The most stupendous of all leapers of the sea is the whale, but the whale is not a fish. I have seen a monster weighing hundreds of tons, possibly eighty feet in length, rise slowly and deliberately out of the water until its head was clear of the surface, and then sink slowly back. Such a leap is not recorded in the annals of the British navy. A large whale cleared a boat, going completely over it, an estimated leap of twenty feet in air—how many in a lateral direction was not known—Charles F. Holder in Outing Magazine.

VERDI OPERA BARRED BY TURKISH CENSOR

Intervention of Italian Embassy Required to Have Performance Permitted.

No Kings or Queens Permitted in Plays and No Murder on the Stage.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 4.—Had it not been for the intervention of the Italian embassy, the performance of Verdi's "Aida" would have been forbidden in the Turkish capital a few days ago.

The vagaries of the Turkish dramatic censor, while they afford some diversion to the general public, are the distress and dread of impresarios and managers in Constantinople. His red pencil ruthlessly cuts and mutilates the choicest masterpieces of European opera and drama, no reason being given or argument admitted.

CENSOR'S RIGID RULES.

The general rules which guide the judgment are, of course, more or less arbitrary. Anything calculated to bring into disrepute the Turkish government is strictly taboo; but it is not always possible to assign such simple and satisfactory motives for his rulings. For instance, the reason for the prohibition of "Hamlet" is sufficiently obvious and the prohibition of "Othello" is equally so.

On one point the censor is inflexible: there shall be no murder committed on the stage. This is in order to prevent corruption by evil example. Consequently the dramatic effect of many plays is somewhat marred by the manner in which principals destined to be murdered are rushed off the stage and, after receiving the fatal thrust out of sight of the audience, stagger back quietly to be removed to the hospital.

JAPS HAVE A BRAND OF AMERICAN FEVER

"Get-Rich-Quick" Schemes Now the Rage in Empire of the Mikado.

LONDON, May 4.—The "get-rich-quick" fever has seized Japan, and unless the nation sobers down, speculative crises will become as common in Tokio as they are in New York.

Such is the opinion of a city merchant who has just returned to London from a business tour in the East.

"I was amazed at the amount of speculation which is now indulged in by all classes in the principal cities," he said. "The Stock Exchange in Tokio, which was formerly a quiet place, is now a scene of great excitement, and bucket-shops of the worst description abound, both in the capital and in other cities. The Produce and Rice Exchanges are other centers of feverish gambling. Some day a Japanese Letter will make a corner in rice."

"I learned that the companies and syndicates floated during the twelve months ending in January last represented the astonishing total capital of $400,000,000.

"Many of these companies were of the soundest description, but Japanese company promoters, whose numbers are growing rapidly, have been responsible for several rotten concerns.

"In land and house property, too, there is much speculation. In Northern Japan, more especially, property has in many cases trebled in value.

"Happily, Japanese women do not speculate, and take little interest in business affairs. The railways, owned by the state, afford no opportunities for speculation, and the tramways in Tokio are shortly to be municipalized.

"The sober-minded statement of Japan believe that the present fever is a passing phase, due to the great wave of prosperity which is passing over the nation and to the elation consequent on her victories."

WHY SHE WAS PLEASED.

Test—Did Mr. Brown ever call on you? Jess—Yes; he called last evening. I was quite delighted when the girl brought up his card. Test—Oh, come now. You weren't really delighted? Jess—Certainly. You see if she didn't brought up his card I might have gone down to him, thinking it was some one else.

ARAB MILLIONAIRE SHOT WHILE PRAYING

Unknown Assassin Puts Bullets in His Body in Presence of His Family.

SINGAPORE, May 4.—Abdul Kadir Alsagoff, an Arab millionaire and chief of the first public demonstration of the art of shaving without a razor will be given, W. H. Witherington, of 11 Sise street, will be the first victim.

Having secured a beard, which he has been cultivating for three days with a paste made of the "Black" and Shaving powder, Mr. Witherington will allow himself to be shaved with anything the audience may suggest. Mr. Witherington prefers a bone letter-opener, but he is willing to allow any one to operate upon him with a collar, the back of a book, or the sole of a boot. In any case, the cost will then be about 2½ cents a shave. The invention is the result of many experiments.

The time necessary for a shave under the new conditions will be five to eight minutes, according to Mr. Witherington. During that time a man can smoke or read the paper or find his collar stiff. As soon as the paste has made the beard brittle, it can be scraped off in the manner suggested. Besides Mr. Witherington, the inventor, a well-known solicitor has offered to submit his beard to the operation. In all there will be a dozen men placed in the new barber's chair at the Cannon Street Hotel this afternoon.

bitterly cold night the treatment would be most cruel. Mr. Lee also thought that the bathing arrangements were open to improvement. It was not right, he said, that three men (as was the case with himself and two others) should have to bathe in one lot of water. He had intended to stay at the house during Sunday, and to have performed the usual task on Monday morning, but owing to the crowded state of the tramp wards he was discharged early on Sunday morning.

GUARDIAN OF POOR POSES AS A TRAMP

Passes Night in Casual Ward of Workhouse to Test Treatment of Inmates.

LONDON, May 4.—A. H. Lee, the member of the Swindon board of guardians, who, posing as a tramp, passed the night in the local casual ward, related his experiences yesterday. Mr. Lee is secretary of the local branch of the Social Democratic Federation, and said that his action was the outcome of a consultation with his comrades, who had heard that the food, bedding and bathing in the casual ward were not at all what they should be.

In order to test the conditions for himself he posed as a bona-fide working shoe-maker, walking from town to town in search of employment. He had no complaint to make as to the manner of his reception and said the food which was given to him was wholesome and served in a cleanly manner, but he did not think it sufficient for a healthy man.

Mr. Lee was not so eulogistic concerning the bed arrangements. The bedding and heating, he remarked, left a good deal to be desired. He received only two blankets—none to lie on and one as a covering. The ceiling was by no means adequately warmed, and if heating arrangements were no better on a

TARIFF FOR EMPIRE DEFENSE

Laurier and Bond Oppose the Plan

Proposal Made that Each State of Empire Should Impose Special Duties for Defense Fund.

LONDON, May 3.—At the conclusion of today's proceedings of the imperial conference a précis was issued showing that Sir Wm. Lyne, minister of customs for Australia, regretted the quality's statement because he did not regard it as quite fair to treat the short tariff passed by Australia, which was the beginning only of the final policy, as a result of the preference movement there. They resented the idea as the kith of the mother country, they should be treated on the same footing as a foreigner. There would be a margin on which the colonies could be assisted, with the result of the additional revenue to be obtained at the expense of the foreigner, not the consumer. He contended that free trade must not be accepted as an inherited dogma, and asked why there should not be special consideration for Australian wants.

Hon. T. W. Smart, commissioner of public works for Cape Colony, warmly supported Dr. Jameson and Deakin, and referring in favorable terms to Hoffmeyer's proposals for defense fund to be raised on duties on foreign goods entering any part of the empire. Sir Wilfrid Laurier opposed this proposal, pointing out that its adoption would dislocate the Canadian tariff, which had cost months of labor. Sir Joseph Ward also hesitated to accept it. The conference meets again on Monday.

GRAIN SHOVELLERS AT FORT WILLIAM STRIKE; SHIPMENTS HAMPERED

FORT WILLIAM, May 3.—The grain shovellers in all the elevators struck today for twenty-five cents an hour. The strike will seriously hamper the shipments of grain in this season. The C. P. R. announces that the lake line boats will start regular trips tomorrow. The steamer "Manitoba" leaves Owen Sound for Fort William.

INDIANS QUARRELLED OVER WOMAN; ONE STABBED TO DEATH.

TORONTO, May 3.—Abe Sox, an Indian, was stabbed to death by Tom Noah, another Indian, aged eighteen years, in a quarrel over a woman at a dance in an empty house in the Muncie Reserve, Middlesex County, last night. Noah struck Sox with a knife on the temple and the blade broke off. Sox dying in a few minutes. Noah fled, but was arrested at Mount Bridge late this afternoon.

AN ARRANGEMENT TO SECURE CHEAP POWER.

TORONTO, May 3.—Another important step in the securing of cheap power for the people of the districts tributary to the Niagara Falls has been taken in the decision of the Hydro-electric power commission, with the authority of the government, to enter into a provisional contract with the Ontario Power Company. The outstanding feature of the contract is the price of $10.40 per horse power per annum for a 24 hour power, delivered every day in the year for amount up to 25,000 horse power. When the commission takes over that amount the price will be $10 per horse power. The contract has not yet been signed, as there are several matters which require arrangement.

IMPORTANT BANK CHANGES ANNOUNCED

WILL TAKE VOTE TO DECIDE SITE

$300 Yet Needed For Champlain Monument Fund.

Mr. McCarthy Favors the Market Square
Site—Committee Appointed Yesterday to Work Out Details.

A small number of citizens attended the meeting in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon to discuss matters in relation to the proposed Champlain monument. Mayor Sears occupied the chair, George Scott acting as secretary of the meeting. Those present were: His Worship Mayor Sears, Hon. R. J. Ritchie, Rev. W. O. Raymond, Col. J. R. Armstrong, Hamilton McCarthy, D. R. Jack, Dr. W. P. Dole, Edmund B. Le Roy, and Kendall Hall.

Mayor Sears informed the meeting that, between $200 and $300 was still lacking for the fund. Mr. McCarthy when asked as to the length of time required to construct the monument, replied that it would be very difficult to promise a monument of this sort under twelve months. After the main part of the work is done, that is, the creation and casting of the plaster, the whole must be sent to a foundry in New York—as there are none in Canada. He assured the gentlemen present that the monument when completed would be a lasting pleasure and gratification to all who see it and would be fit to be erected in London, Paris or any other European capital. Regarding the mode of payment, Mr. McCarthy said it was customary to pay the sculptor in installments, payments being made as the work progresses.

To a question from Col. Armstrong, Mr. McCarthy replied that the cost of the statue itself would be $3,000. D. R. Jack moved that a committee of eight be appointed, with power to add to the committee. This committee to take control of all arrangements.

The following committee was then appointed: Mayor Sears, Hon. Dr. Pugsley, Senator Ellis, Col. Armstrong, Rev. Father Gagnon, Rev. W. O. Raymond, D. R. Jack and John Russell. Col. Armstrong moved that the funds when taken over by the committee be deposited in a chartered bank to the credit of three individuals named by the committee, the signatures of two of them being necessary before any funds could be drawn from the bank.

The probable position of the monument was then discussed. Mr. LeRoy suggested that it be decided by popular vote through the newspapers. D. R. Jack moved that every subscriber be entitled to one vote for every dollar he had subscribed to the fund, this not to include either the Dominion, the Montreal Star or the Evening Telegram. This was carried. Rev. W. O. Raymond moved that Mayor Sears be appointed treasurer and receive any subscriptions. This was also carried. He also suggested that the newspapers might receive subscriptions and have them to be chosen from one of the three proposed, Queen square, Market square and King square.

Mr. McCarthy thought Market square—the Charing Cross of St. John—would be a suitable site, but also considered Queen square to be very suitable. Although King square would be a suitable site he was not so very impressed with it.

D. R. Jack and Col. Armstrong were appointed a committee to consult with the architect in regard to specifications for the monument. They met last evening.

HAS HUSBAND STILL LIVING

Mrs. James Lavigne, who arrived here yesterday from Sydney, was sent to her husband at Bathurst late evening. The man who accompanied her, Tony Bennett, a scissor grinder, left for Boston. The couple were married before the war and had a son, but the wife had never seen him since. She had been married before, so when they appeared before a clergyman they were asked to produce a certificate of the death of her first husband. The man was able to produce one, but the woman could not, so the clergyman refused to marry them. The man then wrote to Bathurst for information regarding the woman he intended to marry and received word that her husband was still alive and was working in Chatham. The couple then came to this city and the woman was sent to a house on Paradise row.

They afterwards returned to Sydney and yesterday the woman, accompanied by her child, arrived in the city. The man was also here. The woman is in a very delicate state of health. She left for Bathurst, saying her mother was living there. The man left for Boston.

COAL MINERS VOTE TO ACCEPT AGREEMENT.

TORONTO, Ont., May 3.—G. G. S. Lindsey, general manager of the Crow's Nest Coal Company, telegraphed tonight to the directors in Toronto that the coal miners voted in favor of accepting the agreement by a large majority, and the men would be at work tomorrow.

DEALING, May 3.—The mysterious steamer which anchored yesterday near the Goodwin Sands turns out to be the Russian volunteer cruiser Terok, which was being towed to Barry for repairs, but the tugs left her in order to obtain coal.

DEDICATION OF NEW CHURCH OF ASSUMPTION TOMORROW

It is hardly rash to state there is perhaps no happier man in the city today than the Rev. J. J. O'Donovan. He is just completing the eighteenth year of his pastorate in the beautiful Catholic parish in the West Side, and he on the eve of entering for the first time officially the new and splendid Church of the Assumption. His feelings must be very largely akin to those of the prophet of long ago: "rejoiced at the things that were said to me: We shall go into the house of the Lord."—Ps. 122.

In 1889 Father O'Donovan left the cathedral parish where he had spent all his time in pastoral work since his ordination five years before. He was ordained on the Feast of St. John and Paul, June 26th, 1884. While serving in the cathedral he was the principal actor, under the direction of the late Bishop Sweeney, in the erection of Saint John the Baptist, Lower Cove, of which the late Mgr. Connolly was the first pastor. This appointment left the Church of the Assumption vacant, and Father O'Donovan was then made incumbent. Scarcely less happy than things that were the parishioners of the West Side parish. For nearly three years they were obliged to use St. Patrick's Hall for all the purposes of a parish church, and to their credit it can be said there is not the slightest falter in their devotion to the church or in their spiritual duties. They have followed in the footsteps of the principal actor, under the direction of the late Bishop Sweeney, in the erection of Saint John the Baptist, Lower Cove, of which the late Mgr. Connolly was the first pastor.

TORONTO, ONT.

TORONTO, May 3.—The sale of a timber lot over ninety-three square miles was completed in Toronto today, the price being probably over $1,000,000. The property is located near Killarney and is practically the last of the virgin pine limits available to the Georgian Bay waters and was sold by E. W. Sparrow, of Lansing, Mich., to W. J. Bell, Sunbury, who is understood to have some associates in the purchase. The limit has been held several years at $250,000 which every lumberman in Ontario thought was too high a price.

HIS WORSHIP TURNED DOWN

Frink Chairman of Water and Sewerage Board.

Defeats Christie for Safety—Ald.
Pickett Will be Deputy Mayor.

There were some surprises at the annual caucus of the aldermen held yesterday to arrange for the chairmanship and composition of the civic boards and committees for the coming year. His Worship, Mayor Sears, who was last year chairman of the water and sewerage board is not even a member of the board this year. Ald. Frink succeeds him as chairman. The other new members of this board will be Ald. Kelley and Ald. McGowan. There are eleven members altogether. Ald. Bullock will be chairman of the treasury board for another year. Ald. Kelley and Ald. McGowan are the new members. This board consists of nine members.

Ald. McGoldrick is again chairman of the board of works. Ald. Vanwart will succeed himself as chairman of the early board, but it is understood that Ald. Christie, the other candidate for the position gave him a hard fight. There are eleven members on this board and the new men will be Ald. Baskin, Ald. Frink, Ald. Kelley, Ald. McGowan and Ald. Sprague.

Ald. Baxter will be chairman of the ferry committee, the position held by Ald. Lockhart last year. From his criticisms of the management of the ferry in times past, one would naturally suppose that there would be something doing in that department when he gets to work. The committee is composed of seven members, the new ones being Ald. Frink, Ald. Baskin and Ald. McGowan.

The bills and by-laws committee elect their own chairman and no one was selected yesterday. Ald. Baxter was chairman last year.

Ald. Pickett was elected deputy mayor. This honor was held last year by Ald. Tilley.

As only the Mayor and fifteen aldermen can be members of the municipal council, Ald. Christie and Ald. Baskin resolved to drop out.

It is understood that Ald. Hamm would like to be warden of the municipality but he is in favor of Councilor Dean, of Marquess whose chances of election are considered good.

BALLOT IS THE ONLY EFFECTIVE REMEDY

Prof. J. A. Nichols continued his temperance campaign in this city and vicinity by giving a lecture in the Carlton Methodist Church last night. Prof. Nichols dealt with his subject under two heads: "The Struggle against the Drink Habit," and "The Struggle against the Liquor Traffic."

Under the first head he mentioned the natural antipathy of the human system for alcoholic drinks, the same antipathy that it has for all the poisons. Besides injuring the people, the use of drink injures those dependent upon them. When the tendency to drink and the opportunity to do so come together, drunkenness results. To do this the saloons should be closed. Persons addicted to the low den as the proper object of legal interference. But the respectable bar in every city is a social evil. Prof. Nichols, was to go to the polls and by the use of the ballot to vote for the law under which the trade is protected.

LONGSHOREMEN REJECT THOMSON & CO. OFFER

Last night the members of the Longshoremen's Association met in their hall on Water street to discuss the answer of Wm. Thomson & Co. to the demands made by the association. Practically the only thing decided by the meeting was to omit the Saturday half holiday from the demand.

The meeting was long and lively. One subject which provoked heated remarks from many of those present was the manner in which the press have treated the dispute between the longshoremen and their employers. Many of the longshoremen complained that the newspapers had distorted the facts of the situation so as to favor the ship-owners. The reason assigned for this was that the steamship people have too much influence over the press.

The withdrawal of the demand for a Saturday half holiday was decided upon after much discussion.

In his office in New York city, surrounded by charts and dials of strange design, Prof. Albert H. Postel studies over the lives of men and women who have written him for advice on affairs of business, love, speculation, travel, marriage, health and the important events of life. The following letter gives an idea of Mr. Postel's ability:

MISS EFFA M. TRYON,
Dear Sir—You are certainly the most wonderful astrologer living. Every one of your predictions came true. I consider that you not only saved me from an awful death, but prevented the loss of hundreds of dollars. I trust that many people will profit by your advice. Sincerely,
MISS EFFA M. TRYON.

The accuracy of the recent predictions made by this eminent Astrologer has caused many of his friends to believe that he possesses a supernatural power, but he modestly asserts that his predictions are due alone to scientific understanding of natural laws. That many thousands of letters Prof. Postel has received from people who have benefited by his advice furnish ample proof that he is sincere in his work and has a kindly feeling towards humanity.

Readers of this paper can obtain a reading free of charge and addressing a letter to Prof. Postel, Dept. 58, No. 126 West 4th St., New York. Simply say that you are a friend of your life. You may be married or single. If you wish to do so you may inclose 10 cents (either in stamps or by post note and clerical work; however, the reading will be promptly sent whether you inclose 10 cents or not.

NEARLY A SCORE KILLED WHEN MASSIVE WALLS GAVE WAY

SAN ANTONIO, May 3.—A special to the Express from Chihuahua, Mexico says: "One of the great walls of the Chihuahuan dam suddenly gave way yesterday, engulfing nearly forty men under the enormous weight of masonry and water. Between fifteen and twenty grave workmen are dead; thirteen injured and several others unaccounted for. Some of the injured will die. All the evening in aid of the Victoria Hospital was a success. About forty couples were present and Hamilton's orchestra furnished an excellent programme of dances. Mesdames D. L. Babbitt, C. H. Randolph, Chas. A. Hill and A. R. Wetmore were the chaperones.

ENGLISH SAILORS REPEATED VICTORIES

NORFOLK, Va., May 3.—English sailors repeated their victories over the Germans, Austrians and Argentines in today's race in Hampton Roads.

The event of the day was the elimination trials between American ships crew for the defense of the Battenberg cup against the British cruiser Argyle's crew tomorrow. There were fifteen entries and the Illinois won, with the Indiana second and the Maine third. Racing cutters were used, and the three-mile course was covered by the winners in twenty-five minutes and thirty-five seconds.

BIGGEST CONTRACT EVER LET FOR SINGLE JOB.

BETHEL, Vt., May 3.—A contract for granite which is said to be the largest ever let for a single job has just been awarded to the granite company here for furnishing stone for the new state house at Madison, Wisconsin. The contract price is in excess of $2,000,000, and it is estimated that five years at least will be required to quarry the amount of stone necessary for the great building. In order to fill the contract within the specified time the capacity of the plant here will be doubled, and employment will be given to about three hundred men.

EMPRESS OF BRITAIN LEFT THIS MORNING

She Had About 700 Passengers, Including a Number of New Brunswick People.

The royal mail steamer Empress of Britain steamed out of the harbor this morning shortly after three o'clock. The steamer was delayed because of an accident to a freight train at Lowelltown, about twenty miles east of Moncton. The delayed freight hung up the C. P. R. train with passengers for the Empress and as a result, the steamer was held. The train arrived after midnight and the passengers were taken direct to Sand Point.

Among those leaving on the Empress were Hon. L. P. Harris, commissioner of agriculture; Ora P. King, M. P. P., accompanied by his wife; Mrs. G. L. Barbour, Miss M. G. Barbour, F. E. Barbour, Mrs. Michael Driscoll, Miss Mabel Driscoll, Mrs. S. W. Hunton and Mrs. Dorothy Hunton of Sackville and Dr. J. R. Inch, chief superintendent of education.

Among the passengers was George R. Baker, and he went rather reluctantly. He is an Englishman, of good education, and was formerly an accountant with a large firm. This position he was obliged to relinquish through failing intelligence, which is the reason of his departure.

Notwithstanding the early hour she left, a number of people were on the dock to see the vessel leave port, and all hands joined in three hearty cheers for the departing steamer, this being the last trip of the Empresses to this port. The captain and officers made many friends in port and held an impromptu reception yesterday when they were visited by many.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 3.—Harry Brathwaite, the well known guide, returned home today from the North Shore. He reports that there are fully two feet of snow in that section at the present time.

The river today has fallen slightly owing to the continued cold weather. Great numbers of logs have floated past the city during the day.

The dance given at the Queen Hotel last evening in aid of the Victoria Hospital was a success. About forty couples were present and Hamilton's orchestra furnished an excellent programme of dances. Mesdames D. L. Babbitt, C. H. Randolph, Chas. A. Hill and A. R. Wetmore were the chaperones.

WEATHER CONDITIONS IN NEW ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Pressure is low tonight from the gulf states northeastward through the Ohio valley and lower lake region with the centre of disturbance over southern Ohio. In New England the weather was fair. The temperature continues unseasonably low in New England. LIQUOR STEALING CASES

STAND OVER TILL MONDAY

The charge of stealing preferred against Samuel Barton was resumed in the police court this morning. Richard Sullivan of R. Sullivan & Co. gave evidence that the kind of brandy that the prisoner claims to have purchased in the Sullivan store for $1.25 was sold at $1.25 and that on Monday last he was not at his place of business. Sometimes the brand in question is sold to personal friends at $1.25, but he never remembered having seen defendant before.

Henry Sullivan gave about the same evidence as Richard regarding the prisoner.

The prisoner was remanded to jail until Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when judgment will be given. Judgment will also be given in the case of stealing against Kenneth Manson, and against Thos. Goodwin for disorderly conduct on the Boston train last Saturday.

BOTH CROSS THE OCEAN TO BE WED IN LIVERPOOL

Young Lady from the Pacific Coast Sailed Today from St. John — The Groom Leaves New York for England

Among the passengers sailing this morning from St. John by the Empress of Britain was a young lady who has crossed the continent and will go to Liverpool to become the bride of a man sailing today from New York to meet her. The bride-to-be is Miss Bertha Cassidy, daughter of Mr. George Cassidy, of New Westminster, B. C., and the groom is Mr. Russell A. Barbour, chief officer of the Cunard liner Lucania. Miss Cassidy is a nurse by profession, and while in practice in Victoria, B. C., last year, was engaged by a daughter of the late Hon. Jas. Dunsinville to accompany her to the old country. They sailed from New York, and on board the steamer was Mr. Barbour, returning on sick leave to his home in England. A pretty nurse, a man in rather poor health, and an ocean voyage formed the elements necessary, and the acquaintance soon developed into something stronger, the result being that Miss Cassidy before returning to Canada had given her promise to go back to England to live. Mr. Barbour fully recovered his health and soon returned to his duties on the Lucania. The time for their marriage was arranged and after spending a few weeks with her parents in Vancouver, and her father-in-law are now in England, as are also other relatives at whose home the ceremony will be performed. Miss Cassidy will not return to America but will make her home near Liverpool.

ALDERMAN BAXTER LIKELY TO BE THE CANDIDATE

If Any Is Selected by the Conservatives— W. H. Thorne Refuses to Run—The Question Still in Doubt

It has practically been decided that unless something unforeseen happens, which something means the appearance of a new man, Ald. Baxter will be the candidate of the Conservative party in the St. John election. This is of course subject to the condition that any opposition is made for in spite of the resolution passed a few evenings ago there is a great difference of opinion among members of the party. The younger men are in no way enthusiastic about opposing Dr. Pugsley, but allowed themselves to be persuaded by their elders, though they are not putting any life into the contest. The first choice of the caucus was W. H. Thorne, and all efforts were directed to an attempt to persuade Mr. Thorne that his future should be devoted to politics. An argument put forward in his favor was that as he forms one of the newly organized harbor committee he would receive support on that account. But Mr. Thorne has so far defied the wiles of the campaign promoter. He refuses absolutely to become a candidate and his decision is final.

Following this failure, the list of possible candidates was for various reasons narrowed down to two names, Ald. Baxter and Robert Maxwell, M. P. P. Mr. Maxwell, it is understood, is more than willing to run, but he is not regarded as strong enough and the choice of the leaders, the only name to go before the convention, if such a meeting is ever held, will be that of Ald. Baxter. The latter is credited with the remark some weeks ago that he would feel very much like supporting Dr. Pugsley in the interests of the city, and of course aside from any political considerations.

Meanwhile the committee appointed are busily engaged in sifting the constituency in the hope of finding a stronger man who will consent to run.

BETTER BOATS FOR THE FURNESS LINE SERVICE

The Furness Steamship Company having decided some time ago that their St. John, Halifax and London service should be improved have started on this improvement with the arrival of the steamer Kanawha which is expected to arrive here tomorrow night from London via Halifax. She will be followed by the Rapchannock and the Shenandoah, which will take the place of the Evangeline and other Furness liners now on the London route. The three steamers mentioned, which are exactly alike, are each 288 tons, draw 24 feet 1 1/2 in., and have limited passenger accommodation. This is the Kanawha's first passage here from London. She made the voyage to Halifax in eleven days, and the captain says that had he not been delayed by thick weather she would have made it in nine and a half days. She came loaded to the hatches with cargo which included 16,000 packages cement.

D. Arnold Fox, Mrs. E. J. Porter, S. J. McEwan, H. H. Brown, Mrs. W. S. Carter, R. Holder, J. A. Bamford and others will take part in sacred concert in the Every Day Club tomorrow evening at 8.30 o'clock. A special collection will be asked for the club funds, as large expenses are involved in the opening of the Victoria playgrounds for the summer. All men interested in the club are urged to attend this evening.
