

TWO STEAMERS ASHORE; ONE OFF CANOE,
THE OTHER IN THE ST. LAWRENCE.

Norwegian Freighter Blaamanden, Hits on White Point Ledges on Nova Scotia Coast, Near Where the Tiber Was Lost—Will Be Total Wreck.

Halifax, Aug. 3.—(Special)—The big Norwegian freight steamer Blaamanden, Captain Amundsen, from Hamburg, July 20, bound to New York and Philadelphia with a full cargo is on the White Point Ledges, off Canoe, a short distance from the spot where the steamer Tiber struck and foundered with all hands last March. The steamer struck at midnight Friday during a dense fog. She hit ledge bow on, forced over, and then caught amidships. Those on board did not know at the time where they were exactly, the ship being about 25 miles out of her course. At daylight they saw a boat ashore to White Head to telegraph for assistance. The steamer's cargo is valued at about $35,000, and consists of about 700 tons mineral salt, 100 tons steel, 100 tons scrap iron, 300 tons small iron girders and 600 tons general dry goods and clothing. The steamer will, beyond doubt, prove a total wreck. Her position is most exposed and it is almost impossible for wrecking steamers to go alongside. The steamer City of Ghent, which arrived today, from eastern ports ran close to the wreck Saturday morning, and the second officer and purser of the Ghent managed to board the Blaamanden. The vessel's fore compartment was then full of water and she was rolling and grinding badly. They offered assistance, but Captain Amundsen was waiting instructions from the owners. All on board were safe and in no danger. The wrecked steamer is 2,037 tons net and 3,144 gross and seven years old. A wrecking steamer with pumps and other gear left here Saturday night with Messrs. Brookfield and Barry, of the dry dock, on board, to render assistance, and the City of Ghent will likely proceed to the scene tomorrow morning. The Dominion Coal Company's steamer Lousbourg, and Aug. D. H. Thomas visited the wreck, but returned to Sydney without doing anything. The captains of those two steamers say the Blaamanden is doomed. She lies with her head pointing west and with stern list.

AMERICAN EXPORTS SLUMP.

DECREASE OF $106,000,000 IN SALES TO EUROPE IN YEAR.

Imports from There Increased by $80,000,000.—Greatest Loss in Exports Was in Products of United States Farms—Also in Iron and Steel.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Figures given out by the statistical bureau of the treasury department, showing in detail the imports and exports of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902, indicate unmistakably that America's commercial invasion of Europe has greatly slackened. The first startling revelation made by these figures is that the exports of the United States have decreased during last year more than $106,000,000 as compared with the year previous, while the goods imported from foreign countries show an increase in value of more than $80,000,000. Although the United States has made eight gains in extending her commerce with North America, Asia and Africa, she has lost so much of her trade in Europe, South America and Oceania that the balance is decidedly against her in the final summing up. Exports from the United States to European countries during the last fiscal year aggregated $1,068,308,221, which is $128,390,384 less than the year previous. The loss in trade to South American countries was nearly $2,000,000, which marks the only increase, and to Oceania it was more than $1,000,000. Gains in exports to North American countries amounted to a little more than $7,000,000, and to Africa and Asia $14,000,000.

London, Aug. 2.—Before a meeting of the British Medical Association at Manchester yesterday, Surgeon-General Hamilton definitely charged that during the Boer war of 1881, General Sir Redvers H. Buller, "used army medical regiments with the red cross thereon for taking ammunition to the front and armed the bearer companies, using them as escorts."

FATHER GAVE UP HIS LIFE TO SAVE SON.

Both Could Not Escape from Train When Caught on Bridge.

Washington, N. J., Aug. 1.—With all hope of saving both their lives gone James Bennett, an Oxford miner, last night gave up his own that his 10-year-old son might live. Father and son were run down on the Lehigh and Hudson River railroad bridge crossing the Pequannock River, and there was no chance for both to escape. In the moment given them by the swiftly approaching engine the father evidently thought only of his son's life, and at the last instant hurled him into the shallow water below. At almost the same moment he was struck down and his body, cut by the wheels, dropped into the stream almost upon the boy.

WHITE MEN WANTED.

SCARCITY OF NATIVE LABOR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Economic Progress Not Up to Expectations Yet—If 1,000 Men Could Be Had Serious Trial Would Be Given White Labor—The Work of Rehabilitation.

London, Aug. 1.—At Johannesburg, says the correspondent of the Times, the debate in the commons on Tuesday on the settlement in South Africa seems somewhat premature. Economic progress in the Transvaal does not yet correspond with expectations, because of the labor difficulty. The scarcity of native labor, in the correspondent's view, affords a favorable opportunity of converting the Transvaal into a white man's country. But there has as yet been an insufficient number of white applicants for work, while a practically unlimited immigration of dock laborers and navvies is needed. If an immigration of 1,000 men were forwarded, the numbers of two mines would give the experiment of white labor a serious trial.

Hudson, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Marjorie Hoysradt, aged 20, niece of the late General Jacob W. Hoysradt, of this city, and Edward Doyle, aged five, also of Hudson, were killed, and about 20 others injured this evening in a rare and terrible collision at Hudson, on the Albany & Hudson electric railway. This is a one-track, third rail line. Thousands of people took advantage of fine weather for a day's outing at Electric Park, 20 miles north of Hudson. A church excursion from Philmont was also at the park, the members going by way of this city.

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 6, 1902.

AN APPEAL FROM CANADA.

Under this heading Mr. W. F. Hatheway, of this city, has written a very interesting paper in the July number of the Contemporary Review.

One of our contemporaries remarks that the inspector "has not been long enough in office to become acquiescent in this state of affairs."

In his article, Mr. Hatheway has presented three reasons for the decrease in Canadian exports to the United States since 1900 which he contends will probably result in stimulating an annexation sentiment.

(1) The American tariff has kept the American market for the American producers. (2) The low Canadian tariff and the too large free list leave this market at the mercy of the American producers...

(3) The invasion of the American trusts with enormous capital is threatening to make our latter state even more pitiable than it has been.

We can all agree with Mr. Hatheway's first proposition, but in the mixture of fact and theory contained in the two latter statements we may beg humbly to dissent.

Canada would raise her customs preference, making it 50 per cent in place of 33 1/3 per cent which, in his judgment, would raise the British exports to Canada from $43,000,000 to $65,000,000 and similarly reduce the sale of American products in Canada.

(2) It would promote British emigration to Canada and retard such emigration to the United States. (3) It would in a few years place the colonies in a position to supply Britain with all her cereals.

The position taken by Mr. Hatheway may possibly be challenged for its cheerful optimism in so easily scattering the difficulties of a British preference. We indeed have not space in this issue to discuss so weighty a subject as this, however, take issue with the pessimistic belief with which in contrast Mr. Hatheway predicts the dissolution of the imperial household of nations.

THE CITIZENS TO BLAME.

The report of the inspector of slaughter houses for the city of St. John during the month of July does not make very pleasant reading, but if it is unpleasant the people have themselves to blame for it.

One of our contemporaries remarks that the inspector "has not been long enough in office to become acquiescent in this state of affairs." Another contemporary says that the publication of the report "may have the effect, as it ought to have, of preventing the erection of slaughter houses in or near the centre of the city."

We say the people have only themselves to blame for this condition of affairs because, as in other matters, when they elected the members of the city council they exacted no pledge from them to regulate such matters and took no interest in obtaining their views upon such questions.

There is another matter of moment at the present time in regard to civic affairs in which the citizens are also to blame. The removal of the rolling mills from this city to Sydney (C. B.) is being threatened. These mills are a valuable acquisition to any place for they employ a considerable number of men and disburse a large amount of money annually in wages.

THE QUESTION HOWEVER, is one that the citizens should have decided upon at the time of the election and have the policy of the council distinctly understood as to whether such industries were to be encouraged and exactly to what extent.

MARCONI'S LACK OF PROGRESS.

One of the most interesting criticisms of the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy is that given in Page's Magazine for August by Sir Wm. H. Preece, who was until recently engineer-in-chief and electrician to the British post office.

THE LATEST NEWS SERIAL.

The interesting story of May Yoke and Capt. Putnam Bradley Strong is the serial romance now weaving itself through the press departments. It will be noticed by today's chapter of events that May says she perhaps may pardon the captain if he returns to her, but the captain doesn't seem to be quite sure whether he is strong enough to resist the temptation.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Some notable harmonies are now about due in the West Indies. The bookings of American steel rail manufacturers for 1903 exceed, it is stated, by a million tons the orders of the current year.

POLITICS IN GREAT BRITAIN. The recent bye elections in England seem to show a spirit of unrest and impatience with the existing policy of the administration which it is possible may result disastrously for the Balfour championship.

The fact has been commented upon in recent history that the tacit presumption of party politics in Great Britain selects a Liberal government for domestic legislation as naturally as it prefers a Conservative government for foreign policy.

NOT A NEWS FEATURE.

An Illinois newspaper has started to print the Bible as a serial, which seems to be rather an exchange of methods with that Montreal preacher who is reading a serial story from the pulpit instead of delivering sermons.

It has been stated by a contemporary that it has long been the policy of the United States to coerce Canada into annexation. The facts however seem not to accord with this dictum, for the trouble with the United States long has been that no settled policy has been possible for longer than three or four years at a time, the chance of securing the greatest popular vote always being the governing force.

An illustration of how to cultivate profitable export business is being furnished by Lynn (Mass.) in the shoe line. From the United States consuls all over the world specific information as to requirements have been received and particular attention is being paid to the manufacture of such articles as meet best with popular favor in each place, besides conforming to the styles of packing and shipping desired by the consignees.

A curious feature of trade is illustrated in the project of building a barbed wire fence between Montana and Canada to prevent cattle from straying across the border, in that Canada can furnish the wire half a cent a pound cheaper than the United States, the American steel trust being able to charge that much more on account of having a monopoly of the home market, while in Canada the wire has to meet foreign competition.

Sunday Trouble at Methodist Camp Grounds. Belfast, Me., Aug. 3.—The controversy over the right of river craft to make Sunday landings at the Northport Methodist camp grounds pier was brought to an acute stage today, when Captain Bennett, of the steamer Golden Rod, with an excursion party from Bangor, forced a landing. The camp ground trustees have maintained that the camp ground is private property, and as the main ingress is by way of the pier, Sunday excursionists have been unable to reach the grounds. Today the pier gates were broken down. The excursionists appeared to be royally welcomed by those who are occupying the houses on the grounds.

A WOMAN PRISONER.

Amherst Officer Passes Through the City With Girl Named Lena Adams in Charge.

Among the passengers on the Saturday noon Boston express were Police Officer Simpson, of Amherst (N. S.), and a prisoner named Lena Adams, who was arrested in Fredericton Thursday morning on suspicion of stealing $100 on July 20 from her employer, Mrs. Sarah Aboud, of Amherst, with whom she was employed as a servant.

The Adams woman, who belongs in Woodville, arrived in Amherst July 22 and took service with Mrs. Aboud. A few days later a trunk in the house was robbed of $100. Before the loss was discovered Miss Adams had left town.

The local police were acquainted with what had happened, and a description of the woman was sent to provincial points. On Thursday, July 31, came word that a woman named Adams and answering the description had been arrested in Fredericton. Officer Simpson left Amherst for Fredericton and, recognizing the prisoner, took her for escort back to Amherst.

The Beauties of Cape Breton.

E. L. Skillings, of St. John, has returned from Cape Breton, where he has been on business. The Sydney Record has this to say of his work there: "The Beauties of Cape Breton, is the title of the Daily Record midsummer souvenir number—a publication which is meeting with much favor. It comprises eight pages of illustrated matter printed on fine crested paper, and contains valuable information concerning the industrial and commercial houses of the Sydney and other parts of Cape Breton. The half-tone views include a number of the many beautiful spots throughout the island, which during this season of the year are being enjoyed by American and Canadian tourists. The publication reflects great credit upon the taste and enterprise of its compiler, E. L. Skillings, of St. John (N. B.)."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

P. E. Islanders Will Come to Exhibition To the Editor of The Telegraph:—Sir,—Thinking you might be interested to know what the people in P. E. Island are saying about the St. John exhibition after talking with more than 1,000 men and women in Summerside, Cape Francis and Charlottetown, I have come to this conclusion, that, they believe, St. John is going to do its best to have the greatest show they ever had, and they are going to succeed. They all say that scores are going from here, and by the time I have got from end to end of this island with these advertising houses, there will be more people anxious to go. Nothing suits these island folks like good horse flesh, and I expect your committee on races is making great preparations so that all will be pleased.

Yours truly, S. L. GORBELL, Charlottetown, P. E. I., Aug. 1.

HON. ARTHUR PETERS.

P. E. Island's Premier, in the City Saturday, Talked of Coronation Visit and Colonial Meetings.

"I feel doubtful if the coronation of King Edward VII will take place on the date set." This was one of a number of interesting statements made to a Telegram representative by Hon. Arthur Peters, premier of P. E. Island, Saturday morning. Hon. Mr. Peters has just returned from London, where he went as the representative of his province to the coronation ceremonies and the conference of colonial premiers. Owing to the postponement of the coronation, Mr. Peters was, however, obliged to return without witnessing that spectacle.

Referring to King Edward's health, Mr. Peters made the statement quoted above and supplemented it by saying that he saw the king carried in his carriage when starting on a trip to Potsdam, a very sick man. His opinion was that the king's condition is more serious than generally believed, as the bulletins issued by the physicians are calculated to create the most favorable impressions. King Edward has displayed a marvelous amount of nerve and will power all among the other colonies. Mr. Peters' opinion is that if the coronation does come off as scheduled it will be because the king insists upon it.

Action Against the City.

Hon. H. A. McKeown Retained by Dominion Government in Matter About the Ferry.

A case, in which the city of St. John will be the defendant and the Dominion government the plaintiff, will probably come before the courts in a few days. It is a complaint against the city for violation of the steamboat inspection act and the circumstances are as follows: The ferry steamer Oungundy is certified to carry a certain number of passengers, but is charged that on sundry occasions this limitation has been disregarded and the Oungundy has carried many more passengers than she should. The attention of St. John's inspectors to the fact that on June 15 last he visited the ferry and found the report was warranted by the facts. According to the report to the marine department, Ottawa, and Hon. H. A. McKeown, K. C., has been retained by the department to prosecute the city for violation. Mr. McKeown notified the council yesterday afternoon. In conversation with The Telegram last night he said the case would be brought on at once.

Cyclone Strikes St. Catharines.

Considerable Damage Done in Ontario City by Furious Wind Storm.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 3.—(Special)—The city was struck by a cyclone this afternoon. Several thousand dollars of damage was done property. No lives were lost. A large, funnel-shaped cloud formed in a northerly direction and moved over the city with wonderful rapidity. It blew out the end of the North St. Catharines Tram railway car barn, a new brick structure. It picked up a freight car and threw it several yards. Huge trees were torn up and the road blocked. Along Court street parts of roofs are gone and yards and roads blocked. Scarcely a chimney is left standing in this vicinity. The Division street fared worst. Houses on both sides were unroofed. The telephone and other wires are tangled in a mass. The storm struck across the Welland canal, throwing the water high in the air.

On Lord Derby's Westmoreland estate in England, the ancient custom—observed only once in a century—of walking the boundary has just been held. Halls were made along the 16 miles of route and sports held. At the close the party, numbering several hundreds, adjourned to the hall, where a bullock had been roasted whole and there were more sports.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

Inspector Hits Straight in Report to Board.

Very Bad Conditions at Places Where Meat Supply is Secured, Says Dr. Simon-Kane & McGrath Ask Board's Support for Abattoir Plan.

At a meeting Friday afternoon of the slaughter house commissioners the following schedule of killing for the month was presented: Cattle, Sheep, Calves, killed, 300; Hogs, 150; Poultry, 100; Rabbits, 50; Deer, 10; Wild Game, 20; Total, 630.

Inspector Simon's report of the state of the buildings was: "The condition of the buildings and surroundings are the same as they have been for years—dirty, foul smelling, full of flies and bacteria, with a water supply of the vilest sort, particularly that used for washing the carcasses, which is carried in buckets and, after the first dip of the towel, is nothing but dirty, greasy, bloody fluid. Unless a full supply of running water is accessible at these places, I find it impossible as inspector to give such direction and instruction to the licensees as in my judgment are urgently called for. The absence of drainage causes liquid refuse to lie in the superficial ditches about the premises, and as decomposition is very rapid in hot weather, the foul odors are very offensive."

A communication was received from Kane & McGrath in the form of a petition to the common council with the request from the senders that the commissioners be authorized to purchase a site for a slaughter house in and for the city and county of St. John, have long recognized the great need that exists for one good slaughter house for the city and county of St. John where all animals can be properly examined before slaughtering and the meats properly cooled before being sent to the markets. The plan submitted by Messrs. Kane & McGrath, of this city, for such a building and have inspected the site chosen for its erection, namely the old Cathlam mill, so called, and have approved of both plans and the site.

Dated this 1st day of August, 1902. Commissioner Berryman moved that the report of the inspectors be adopted and the report of their communication.—Carried. Questioned concerning the water supply at the barn, Inspector Simon stated that the water supply was not good, but that it was limited in quantity and indifferent in quality. There is a small well about 100 feet from the barn, but it goes dry in summer, resulting in water having to be hauled. There is a well in the rear of the city, which is very dirty and insufficient.

GOT THE CHILD AWAY.

Incident St. John People Encountered While at Sydney Junction.

Friday morning last travelers from North Sydney were witnesses to an unusual scene at the junction station where trains crossed, with the main line on the platform, walking in an excited manner, was a young woman who was protecting a child about a year and a half old from a rough looking man. As the travelers stepped on the platform the man was about to catch hold of the woman when he was prevented. A policeman then stepped up and arrested the man, who was taken to the station, tried to take the child by force but was overpowered by the woman and the fair haired little youngster with his arms spread through the regular train left Sydney Friday morning and the woman was left on the first mentioned train.

DIED OF ASIATIC CHOLERA IN BANGOR.

Bangor, Me., Aug. 4.—John P. Greeley, an aged retired merchant, died Sunday evening after an illness of three days, caused by eating green vegetables and drinking iced water. Doctor Briggs, who was called to attend Greeley, says the case was without doubt one of Asiatic cholera. No fear is felt of any other cases resulting from infection, as all precautions have been taken.

KING WILL GRANT AUDIENCE TO BOERS.

Lord Kitchener to Meet Botha, De Wet and Delarey in London.

London, Aug. 2.—The Daily Mail this morning says it understands that Lord Kitchener will come to London to meet the Boer leaders, Botha, De Wet and Delarey (who sailed from Cape Town for England July 30), and that immediately after their arrival here King Edward will grant them an audience. Lord Kitchener will be present at this audience, as will probably Lord Roberts, commander-in-chief of the forces. Every man on earth has his faults, but the girl who is engaged to be married is positive there is one exception.

FREE BAPTISTS.

Business of Seventh District Convention Just Concluded at Grand Manan.

The annual meeting of the Seventh District of Free Baptists convened on Friday, August 1, at the Free Baptist church, Grand Manan, Friday morning was devoted to a social conference conducted by Rev. A. H. McLeod, and the afternoon given over to a business session, at which the following resolutions were presented: Res. Joseph Noble, C. T. Phillips, David Long, O. N. Mott, T. S. Vanwart, A. A. Rideout, J. Barnes and A. J. Crocker, who presented: Wm. J. Webb and J. R. Webb treasurer.

The afternoon was principally taken up with the reading of reports from the district churches and Sunday schools, and the following committees were appointed to summarize the reports: Church—W. S. Shipp, Geo. Simpson, Rev. C. T. Phillips; Sunday school—Miss Thirte Ingersoll, J. R. Webb and J. L. Newton. At the evening meeting Mrs. A. H. McLeod presided and prayer was offered by Mrs. N. Barnes. In the absence of the secretary Mrs. G. A. Hartley, a report dealing with church societies was submitted by Mrs. Clara Taylor. Mrs. C. T. Phillips moved its adoption, which was seconded by Mrs. Owen Green.

A letter was read from Miss Grace, a returned missionary, who had announced that she had been appointed to the district for the year 1902-1903 and that $25 would be furnished yearly toward the education of an Indian native destined for the ministry. Rev. J. N. Barnes gave an encouraging report of his work in the district. At the business meeting in the afternoon a letter was read from Rev. Dr. Huxley regarding that illness made his attendance impossible. It was the first business meeting from which he had been absent since the organization's formation. A letter was also read from Rev. Dr. McLeod, explaining that his business elsewhere prevented his attendance. Business was resumed on Saturday morning and Rev. David Long appointed chairman. The report of the committee to select delegates for the general conference was as follows: J. L. Newton, Jacob Morel, F. S. Fowling, Geo. Simpson, and S. Savage. The report of the summarizing committee on churches told of 15 churches in the district of which 12 sent reports: three from St. John, four from Grand Manan, four from Deer Island, two from Campobello, one from Beaver Harbor, one from White Head. The number of reported members was 1,239. The amount of money collected was $7,794, that from the Young People's Society being $152.62. There had been a gain in church members for the year of 46.

Saturday evening 12 Sunday schools reported a membership of 1,279, with teachers to the number of 104; and 1,305 reported volumes in libraries. 1,305. The reports were discussed by Revs. A. J. Prosser, David Long, Messrs. Rideout and Shipp. On Sunday Rev. C. T. Phillips preached at 11 o'clock. Rev. A. A. Rideout spoke at 4:30 o'clock and Rev. A. J. Prosser at 8:30. The report of the Baptist churches on the island were occupied at the day service by the visiting clergymen.

MAINE EQUITY MILL CASE IS DECIDED.

Question of Dumping Refuse Into Maine River from Saw and Pulp Mills.

Augusta, Me., Aug. 1.—In the somewhat celebrated equity suit brought by the Lockwood Company and the Hollingsworth & Whitney Co., of Waterville, against various sawmill and pulp mill owners in Kennebec, Somerset and Franklin counties, which has been on trial in the Supreme court at different times for several months, Judge Whipple rendered a decision today in favor of the plaintiffs and will grant a perpetual injunction against the owners of 46 sawmills and three pulp mills prohibiting them from throwing any mill refuse, sawdust or screenings into the Kennebec river or its tributaries. This has been one of the longest and most important cases ever tried in this state, and his decision has been awaited with great interest. Seventy-nine defendants appeared, but 39 were proved they do not throw any refuse into the river.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO PREVENT OTHER CASES FROM INFECTION.

Bangor, Me., Aug. 4.—John P. Greeley, an aged retired merchant, died Sunday evening after an illness of three days, caused by eating green vegetables and drinking iced water. Doctor Briggs, who was called to attend Greeley, says the case was without doubt one of Asiatic cholera. No fear is felt of any other cases resulting from infection, as all precautions have been taken.

Messrs. Schofield Bros., selling agents for the E. B. Eddy Company, say that the sales of the "Headlight" parlor match have exceeded all expectations. Their Telegraph sulphur match is probably more useful for out-of-door purposes, but the time is spent in their homes, and this parlor match, the "Headlight," meets the popular demand for all indoor purposes. It is a large, bright, quick light that can be used at once when lighted, and can be lighted on any substance that will light a sulphur match.

OLD HOME WEEK OF THE INDIANS IN KENT.

Sons of the Forest Back to the Paternal Wigwam at St. Ann's—Gather from the Three Maritime Provinces.

One of the interesting places to which hundreds of people besides Indians pay an annual pilgrimage at this season of the year is the Millicet Indian reservation of St. Anne, at Big Cove, about nine miles from Rexton, Kent county. It is purely however an Indian festival so far as the performers are concerned and every year, at the anniversary festival of their saint, an elaborate programme of ceremonies and festivities is begun.

On last Saturday the occasion was no exception to the rule and visitors from St. John who have just returned from a week of observation of these relics of our aboriginal race, tell interesting stories of the curious features of the occurrences. There were present about 500 of the Indians, including braves, squaws and other adherents of the tribe, who came from the four points of the compass, crossing in canoes from P. E. Island, and coasting along shore in similar craft for many days to reach the place from various points in northern Nova Scotia, others coming by train and still others having walked at far as from the state of Maine directly through the woods for a short cut as did their ancestors in olden times. The greetings of long-lost friends are said to have been typically dignified but none the less affecting, and the family reunions, the relationship of the members of which is maintained upon records known only to the Indians themselves, are said to have been quite as touching as those of any New England "old home week" ever celebrated.

Of course the priests of the mission dominated the opening religious services which were very impressive and quaint, but the great programme of entertainment which followed included all varieties of secular enjoyment. There is always on such an occasion a three-days programme, and the way in which all the events are actively and enthusiastically participated in, without any printed order, is said to reflect great credit upon the methodical system of the Indians. Often the three days are extended and elaborated by sports developed from the regular programme. There were this year as usual all sorts of foot races, canoe, swimming and other water events; dances, with a single violin in a big tent, to which ever tried in this state, by an elaborate choir imported for the occasion from the United States. At these events the gentleness of the tribe, rejoicing in such nomenclature as Joe Lubbos, Paul St. Paul, Frank St. Francis, etc., aimed in true sportsmanlike style to outdo their brethren of the tribe.

The visitors were not only interested in the events, but in the local establishments of the Millicets which, beside a school house, church and various permanent wigwams, include a fantastic and monstrous wooden cross of peculiar design. This cross is more than 20 feet high, painted white and the main post surmounted by a cork, cut out of metal and painted red. Upon the cross arm are various symbols, such as a coil of wire and unique inscriptions, while upon the lower part of the post is engraved a face and a serpent, terribly painted in permanently livid colors. Also from the cross arm are a ladder, a spear, darts, etc. The whole arrangement is maintained within a fenced enclosure and treated with reverential awe by the tribesmen.

Major Gillis also stated that Great Britain and the United States were the only nations in the world that sent her soldiers to do fighting with rifles that had been superseded five or six times, and yet these soldiers came out successful. Major Sturdee, commander of the 62nd Fusiliers, was seen yesterday afternoon in reference to the foregoing article, particularly that part of it referring to the statement that not one dollar was being expended by the Canadian government in military drills. Major Sturdee did not place any credence in Major Gillis' assertion, and instanced this, that in the case of his own regiment, blank ammunition had been furnished upon application.

An important Greek papyrus has been discovered by the German Oriental Society at Assiut, near Sakara, in Egypt. It contains the dithyramb on the Persian wars by Timotheus of Miletus, a poet who lived about 400 before Christ, whose name only had been preserved. The poem is long and is the first specimen of that kind of poetry that has come to light. The manuscript itself is the oldest of all Greek papyri known, and belongs probably to the fourth century before Christ.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

New York Paper Prints Sketch and Portrait of Canadian Premier.

The New York Commercial of July 28 presents an excellent portrait of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with the following sketch: A man of foreign race teaching loyalty to a British people beyond the seas, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a unique figure.

He is not fond of society or city life. He likes to get away to his home at Anse-au-Loup, a farm in the quietest way, and it is in her home that you see her best. Home is where she is.

There, among their own people, the Canadian premier and his wife and neighbors of French freedom of intercourse marks their life; and the woman whose name is great wherever the flag flies looks up the village cobbler for a chat.

Bright Little Bits Which Illustrate the Many Sides of Human Life in St. John.

"They wrapped him up in his sailor's shroud so white. An' sank him in '40 low lan's low."

One of the newest boys singers in a local choir was asked by a lady member during the last practice how he got the air so well.

The dentist had been entertaining his friend, the mining broker, at his country home on the I. C. Railway, not many miles from town—at the same time there is no suggestion that the latter gentleman was seeing double when he started to get into the car.

By arranged on the second floor, for every corner reveals a collection of ancient rifles, etc. Of these latter, Colonel Armstrong has more than 100, no two of which are alike.

From the drawer of a big desk in Colonel Armstrong's office was turned out a strange collection of what a novice in such matters would designate overgrown pistols, but which are blunderbusses, and which bear the unmistakable imprint of age and crudity.

At either side of the artistically arranged display are two long pipes—called thrills—well calculated to send a thrill of horror through the nerves of any military or naval aspirant.

MAY YOHE AND HER P. B. STRONG

Thrilling Chapter in the Latest Sensational Serial News Story.

Paris, Aug. 3.—May Yohe reached Paris this morning and up to night she had not yet seen Prince Bradis Strong or learned where he is. She reached the railroad station here at 6 o'clock this morning in a painful condition, unable to walk or stand, having sprained her knee on the eyes of her departure from London yesterday.

She then opened a gold locket which she wore at her throat and showed two photographs of Strong; she said she had three more photographs of him on the mantel piece in her bedroom.

At the time she said she and her mother had enough money to live on comfortably.

How He Met the Emergency.

By Harriet Bennett Coe.

Rummaging in the attic one afternoon Helen brought to light some old music books that probably had been undisturbed in their dark and dusty corner for more than a quarter of a century.

CHILD OF MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR ABINETTE.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Abinette, who, although residing in this city for only a short time, have made many friends, are tenderly remembering their deep and sincere sympathy in the death of their only child, Arthur Alden, a bright and lovable boy, 10 months old.

MISS LOUISE INGUINY, THE BOZON.

Miss Louise Inguiny, the Bozon poet, who has been lecturing in Ireland on "Rudolph and Spenner in Munster," she has mentioned the fact that she had paid twice the sum, had it been necessary, for the privilege of accompanying your grandmother to the singing school.

MISS JOHNSTON TELLS OF TEACHING THE BOERS.

In First Week the Children Learned 100 English Words—Working Under Difficulties at Beginning—Her Teaching Companion is Miss McLeod, Also of New Brunswick—An Interesting Letter.

Setsagoli, South Africa, June 21, 1902.—Setsagoli is a nice little village 10 miles back from the railway station at Marabogo. We are some 43 miles south of Mafeking in a district named over by the Canadian artillery at the relief of Mafeking.

could not start until Friday; also we had next thing to nothing in the way of materials. Our numerous educational equipments, as well as our tent furniture, etc., were reposing under a tarpaulin at Marabogo station 10 miles across the veldt.

by objects or action. Indirectly they have learned many more. It is curious to watch them listen eagerly for what I will say about the letters they laboriously print on their slate. "Good" and "bad" seem old friends to them; but "that's all right" seems to amuse them intensely.

Miss McLeod and Miss Johnston Together. Setsagoli was only very recently organized as a burgher camp, and great pains were made to have it very nice indeed.

The First School Day. When school time came on Friday morning the scene was not all in place. The black seats, can you imagine, were packed back set firmly in mortar.

I wish you could see the extra warm. We each have a single bed, with comfortable hair mattress and pillow. The pillow slips are white and we make night caps of them and use our own linen ones.

Rival for St. John's Reverend Falls. We find it quite an interesting little place. The native population here is large. Across the river is a reservation of 400,000 acres with a population of 3,000.

Such a time as we did have taking down their names. Insignificantly, the difficulty we had in spelling them, especially among the few ones, who could neither spell nor speak English.

Have Denuded the Country of Trees. The whole country used to be closely forested, but the Boers people have practically ruined it in 18 years, as far as farming is concerned.

John Shipp, in a few well-chosen words, gave cordial welcome to the delegates, and then he made a review of the world's convention down to the individual school, however small.

Final Examinations for Teachers' License. The total number admitted to these examinations (including those who entered for advance of class) was 281, viz., 31 for grammar school class (of whom 31 took only part of the required subjects); 87 for class I and 163 for class II.

Native Customs. There are only 6,000 whites in British Bechnanaland and 40,000 natives. Our next-door neighbor is a Kaffir wastulity and her various customs are of great interest.

Rev. Dr. Brown, pastor of Havrelock Baptist church, spoke on the Sunday school as a means of spiritual conquest. He said the whole of the world is a "sword of the Spirit," is the weapon put into the teacher's hand for conquest of souls.
