AT THE CROSS-ROADS. Toronto has said farewell to the delegates who attended in that city the greatest congress of the kind ever convened in this country.

The farmer should no longer neglect these things. The manufacturer pays as much attention to the marketing end of his business as to the producing end.

In England the railways have cooperated with the farmer so that he can sell directly to the consumer, thus eliminating the middleman.

The author is disposed to think that the English are the only people who have really reckoned with human nature, who know how large a part habit plays, who small a part logic plays in human life and development.

It is not Lloyd George's little investment in Marconi stock that the Unionists hate, but his enthusiasm for social justice. It is estimated that at least 100,000 new cottages are required to meet the needs of rural England.

and is likely to command all the reserve forces of wisdom and devotion we possess—and more. It is a question of ever in its long history Christianity has had a greater task laid upon it than today.

There is a strong movement among the more thoughtful people of the United States to correct wrong impressions of British traditions and character—a movement that will ultimately bring about a better knowledge of Anglo-Saxon history and create new ties of friendship and mutual understanding.

The greatest need of the world today is that men and women shall consecrate themselves to the service of childhood. This work is not so spectacular or sensational as the hunger strike and the martyr role, but it is more useful to the state.

The word "economics" primarily meant the science of the house, but modern economics and modern industry are steadily encroaching upon the institution of the home.

The problem of women wage-earners is primarily a question of the family. The principal cause of women being required to become bread-earners is a higher standard of living, with its larger demands upon the wage-earning capacity of the husband, which is unable to meet.

The writer in Scribner's has also found that the mild surprise of the English folk at finding any part of the earth inhabited by any except the English is no more evident than is their conscientious determination to do the right thing by the intruders when at last they see them.

Canadian manufacturers and their political friends in the government have stubbornly opposed any increase in the British preference. When Mr. Carvell, in the House of Commons a few weeks ago, proposed such an increase, he was greeted with laughter by the "loyal" members in the government benches.

The first essential condition in every social reform, every real improvement in the lot of the people, is a thorough and complete change in our land system. Search out every problem, look into every question thoroughly, and the more thoroughly you look, you will find that the land is at the root of most of them.

All the malice that threatened interests can dictate and in continuing it, Canada wants larger markets. As Hon. William Pugsley declared in Parliament, the Minister of Trade and Commerce should be sent to Washington to negotiate an arrangement under which the people of Canada will know that they can produce as much as they please.

It was about this time of year that Isaac Walton wrote: "My honest scholar, it is now past five of the clock. We will fish till nine and then go to breakfast. Go you to yonder sycamore tree and hide your bottle of drink under the hollow root of it, for about that time and in that place we will make a brace breakfast with a piece of powdered beef and a radish or two, which I have in my fish bag."

Good English, and a brave programme for a fine summer morning, but not safe stuff for city men to be reading in a Maritime Province June. By the way, old Isaac was a model fisherman, Christian, gentleman and philosopher.

NOTE AND COMMENT. Surely there never before was so great a number of June weddings! "All the world loves a lover." Well, here's good fortune to all of them!

When the chief of police in Los Angeles advocates woman suffrage as a means of lessening crime he has a strong argument in the actions of the militants. Of course, with weather like this, it is only natural when you describe your symptoms to the doctor for you to hope that he will prescribe a long rest in the country.

The Ottawa Free Press points out that Sir William Mackenzie will not need to go to the Old Country in future in search of money, seeing that it is so easy for him to get it in Ottawa. The Theodore Roosevelt that arrived in Portland yesterday with 15,000 fresh mackerel, is not the ex-president of the United States and mighty hunter of big game. This Theodore is only a schooner.

Does anybody know what is the percentage of happy marriages among the poor? A Chicago society woman, formerly the wife of a millionaire, declares that thirty per cent of the marriages among the rich are unhappy.

A surprising bit of political news comes from Boston. Mr. Russell of that city has deliberately declined the collectorship of the port, the best Federal office in New England, whereupon an onlooker remarks that he is a lonesome hero among a host of Baribaks.

If Mr. J. J. Drummond said exactly what the Standard quotes him as saying about naval shipbuilding and war with Germany he did the Liberal party a good service. If he was misquoted the Standard did him a bad service. The statement that war with Germany is unavoidable is not only incorrect but shameful.

St. John is losing a lot of business because of the lack of a steamer to Nova Scotia ports, particularly on the south shore. While Hon. George E. Foster is looking for trade in Cores this business at our door is being lost. The expenses of the Minister of Trade and Commerce would pay the subsidy required. This is too plain a case to be longer neglected.

Not in years have the roads in this province been so rough. Even the main highways are in a disgraceful condition and great care is necessary to avoid the holes which are frequently deep and dangerous. In many cases little effort has been made to repair the damage done by the spring freshets. There is much dissatisfaction among the farmers.

The Land Inquiry Committee, charged with the duty of collecting information, has provoked the undying resentment of the "ten thousand little Tsars" on whose estates, housing, overcrowding and other conditions. In Mr. George's most significant speech on this question he said: "The first essential condition in every social reform, every real improvement in the lot of the people, is a thorough and complete change in our land system. Search out every problem, look into every question thoroughly, and the more thoroughly you look, you will find that the land is at the root of most of them. Housing, wages, food, health, the development of a virtue, independent, manly, imperial race—you must have a free land system as an essential condition of these. To use a gardening phrase, our social and economic system is now bound by the feudal system; it has no room to develop; its roots are breaking through. Well, let's burst it."

You want the people on the land, and they have been driven off, driven by the difficulty of obtaining access to it, both to the individual and to the community. It is from the homes where the old home ideals have been preserved that the men and women have come who have been the country's strength. These calm and wholesome and permanent centers are the only guarantee for the training of each new generation in the civilization and aims of the preceding one.

All the malice that threatened interests can dictate and in continuing it, Canada wants larger markets. As Hon. William Pugsley declared in Parliament, the Minister of Trade and Commerce should be sent to Washington to negotiate an arrangement under which the people of Canada will know that they can produce as much as they please. Then, so far as natural products are concerned, there would be an unlimited market in the United States. President Wilson has declared that he will be looking about for reciprocity arrangements as soon as Congress passes the present tariff bill. Naturally, Canada will be first on his lists. What will Mr. Borden and the interests do about it?

DO YOU KNOW YOUR IZAAK? It was about this time of year that Isaac Walton wrote: "My honest scholar, it is now past five of the clock. We will fish till nine and then go to breakfast. Go you to yonder sycamore tree and hide your bottle of drink under the hollow root of it, for about that time and in that place we will make a brace breakfast with a piece of powdered beef and a radish or two, which I have in my fish bag."

Good English, and a brave programme for a fine summer morning, but not safe stuff for city men to be reading in a Maritime Province June. By the way, old Isaac was a model fisherman, Christian, gentleman and philosopher. All the preachers, reformers, editors and politicians ought to be condemned to read "The Complete Angler" through at least once a year.

NOTE AND COMMENT. Surely there never before was so great a number of June weddings! "All the world loves a lover." Well, here's good fortune to all of them!

much, in fact, from the small boys. The park attendants are having difficulty in keeping thoughtful persons from teasing the young foxes, the lynx and the raccoons. Human beings ought to show at least as much sense as the imprisoned animals.

This is the age of literary diplomats. Hon. James Bryce, whose articles are giving so much delight to readers of The Telegraph, finished his term as short time ago as ambassador from Great Britain to the United States. President Wilson has sent Walter H. Page to the court of St. James, Thomas Nelson Page to Italy, Henry Van Dyke to the Netherlands and Meredith Nicholson to Portugal.

Concrete for sidewalks is much more attractive and in the long run cheaper than asphalt. Nothing has been done in the town of Moncton in the last twenty years that has improved the appearance of the streets so much as the laying of concrete sidewalks. It should be much cheaper and easier to construct, which is permanent, than to keep patching asphalt two or three times a year.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Macdonald, of the Toronto Globe, was slightly hurt at Port Arthur a day or two ago. A despatch from that place includes this sentence: "Dr. Macdonald was up this morning, though he still has to walk with the aid of a crutch on account of the strain to his left lower limb."

The letter received by the Board of Trade from President Chamberlain of the Grand Trunk Pacific ought to be of particular interest to St. John's representatives in the Federal and local parliaments, to the Mayor and Commissioners, and to all members of the Board of Trade. Whether the money market is depressed or buoyant, it should still be possible to fix a date for the coming of the G. T. P. to St. John and to secure information as to the handling of its export freight when the road is completed from Winnipeg to the seaboard.

While the German emperor is giving assurance that he will do all in his power to preserve peace with Great Britain, Tory newspapers are declaring that war with Germany is unavoidable. On Monday the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of Emperor William to the imperial throne was celebrated, and on that occasion the Kaiser, in receiving a delegation from the British church in Berlin, said: "I can assure you that I shall continue to do my best to preserve peace and promote the friendly relationships existing between our two countries."

Not in years have the roads in this province been so rough. Farmer Looking Forward with Dread to Triumph of Weeds - Can Cope with Most Common Varieties by Using Simple Remedies - Increasing Dairy Production - Fattening Stations.

When one receives certain enquiries concerning the control of weeds he always hesitates. There is no royal road to weed eradication, but there is something about the recommendation to pull the weed out and not allow any more to grow that he fears for his reputation. However, in some cases this is the best advice that can be given. That farmers are not alive to the importance of weeds and the economic loss caused by them is certain, for weeds are everywhere. Weeds are allowed to grow in and to displace desirable plants, and in some sections fields are left to their own destruction, rapid and complete.

Weeds with cultivated plants are ruinous and for two reasons: They take up plant food badly needed by the crop plant, and continue to take up moisture from the soil. Very few types of soil have sufficient of the essential elements to sustain two crops on one area, and it is the farmer who does not care if he has weeds and crop plants to grow side by side.

There are other losses caused by weeds, less direct but none the less real. Some weeds are poisonous, and thus injure stock; weeds prevent the proper curing of some crops, while the strain on machinery during the harvesting is always greater when weeds are present.

JUNE WEDDINGS

How we have fallen away from the trencher work of ancient times. So much so that we are astonished when we learn the achievements of our ancestors at the table. But although many say that trencher work is a thing that would not be wise to go back to the old custom of heavy meals for these would be too great a strain on our powers, an undigested food is poison to the system.

Our course appears to lie in the direction of a selected diet which may and easily digested and yet provide sufficient work to strengthen and develop the assimilative functions.

It has been proved by scientific tests that milk is a most quickly digestible food it possesses the valuable quality of directly strengthening the digestive and assimilative functions.

father Carney thought, was wrong, and he urged that some action be taken to better the arrangement.

He urged that the Irish graduates of the college be taken an interest in their Alma Mater and rally to its assistance. It seemed to him that Irish graduates have left the institution and he said, "but it can be used also for evil, and he warned them that if they followed the precepts and rules by which they were guided in the college they would not go wrong."

At the conclusion of the closing exercises, his lordship gave the benediction in the chapel of the college at which more than 600 people were present. The Te Deum was chanted. Afterwards an elaborate banquet was served in the dining hall. All the instructors, students, graduates and visitors were seated and his lordship presided. During the banquet the college orchestra, with Leonard McGuire leading, supplied music.

The laying of the corner stone was the most important feature of the day. The ceremony started about 2:30 o'clock and fully 2,000 were present, including representatives of the college, visitors and country people from far and near. His lordship Bishop LeBlanc officiated and on the platform were members of the faculty and the speakers. Rev. P. Belliveau, Grand Digne, was the first speaker and his address was in French. He referred to the history of the college and the future that was in store for it. He spoke of the close relationship between the French and Irish and the good that had resulted therefrom. He enumerated the various improvements and additions that had been made to the institution since its founding and he thought that the coming year would mark a new era in the college's progress and advancement of the college.

Rev. F. L. Carney, of Fredericton, was the first English speaker. He had been invited, he said, to give the address, if he would be willing to live his student days in St. Joseph's over again and he had answered "that he was quite satisfied with the life he had lived and would not wish to run the college over again, but he would prefer dropping out and leaving his place for others. After attending the closing exercises, though, his opinion in the matter had changed and he would be glad to go over again for the college life. He referred to the many changes that had been made since his days there. He saw yesterday for the first time a French bishop presiding, and he heard for the first time the president of the college deliver a public address in English.

His lordship reviewed the history of the institution since its founding, speaking of the great and noble work of its presidents and instructors who labored hard and faithfully in their respective places. He spoke of the building of the old wing and the large contribution that had been donated by Rev. Father Carney to assist the college in this project.

Wants Public Schools Improved. The speaker introduced a new topic into his address. He urged that more attention be paid to the public school education for, said he, let it be understood and realized that less than ten per cent. of the people of the province are able to get a college education. For this reason, he said, it behooves us to do all in our power for the betterment of the public school system. The great system in vogue in the province had been adopted by South Africa was lauded.

It was during the discussion of this topic that Father Carney spoke about the system of examinations at the Normal school. He said that he firmly believed in having written examinations to test the qualifications of students, but at present the questions included in the written tests were so arranged as to catch the students. As a result, they are "plucked" and lose their chance, they might have really been qualified. This, he said, was a great pity.

The officers were elected as follows: Honorary presidents, Bishop Charles O'Reilly, Baker City, Oregon; Archbishop Casper, Vancouver; Bishop O'Leary and Bishop LeBlanc, Honorary vice-presidents, Hon. P. A. Landry, Monsignor Hebert, Monsignor Chapman, and Senator Polier, of St. John's; acting president, Rev. B. LeBlanc, vice-president, Rev. Father O'Flaherty, St. Stephen; F. Robitoux, M. P., Rev. Dr. A. W. Mesham, Hon. D. V. Landry, Rev. A. D. Cormier and Rev. McManus, Moncton; Rev. Dr. G. Guertin, secretary, treasurer and Rev. E. Mondou and Rev. Dr. McBride general secretaries.

A large committee consisting of representatives from all parts of the province, was appointed for the purpose and arranging for next year's celebration. The representatives from each district for the coming year will be: St. John's, the old students will be gathered together. A fund will also be started. The secretaries have already started communicating with old members and al-

Get An Individual Threshing Machine

Be Independent - Thresh When You Like - Keep Your Garden Free of Weeds

The "Little Giant" Threshing Machine has a 30-year record for efficiency. The Hall people, in P. E. L. have made many of them for our customers. It has been a pleasure to us. Everybody who bought from us has been well pleased.

We now offer these machines in Ontario and the West. It is an advantage to have a private threshing machine. You save tolls. You thresh when you like. You get bigger crops because you keep weeds from being brought to your farm. Being independent, a "mixed" farmer can thresh as he needs straw, keeping the straw under cover in his barn, threshing at intervals all winter.

Chief Superintendent Says Introduction of Manual Training Already Being Arranged

HOLIDAY EXAMS

Explains That it is Necessary to Begin Writing on Dominion Duties of New Director of Agriculture

Advanced education along agricultural and technical lines is forecasted in a report of Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, which will be made to the meeting of the board of education today.

While the report of the technical commission has not been passed upon by parliament, it is expected that the recommendations will be effect in some way.

Physical training courses will be given, as usual, this year at Fredericton, Shediac and the Summer School of Science at Halifax, beginning July 8.

The Summer School of Science will be held this year in Halifax, beginning July 8. There is an increasing number of New Brunswick students taking advantage of these summer schools, in order to not only in their own subjects given, but in physical and agricultural training.

The school of agriculture at Woodstock is well under way, and no doubt the one proposed for Sussex will soon be undertaken.

For some years the accommodation in the Provincial Normal school has been congested, and this year contracts have been entered into for a much needed extension of the school.

$3.50 RECIPE FREE FOR WEEK MEN

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have it Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakness, memory, lack of energy and lame back, brought on by excessive, unnatural, drains, of the follicles of youth, that has cured so many weak and nervous men.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of debility, manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

school, and for the manual training department, as well as a drill hall, which will be used as a gymnasium.

The annual school meetings throughout the province, which are held upon the second Monday in July, will come this year, upon the 14th.

It is proposed this year to hold a Dominion Educational Association in Ottawa, beginning about Aug. 20.

It is proposed that a united meeting of the teachers of Charlotte county (N. B.) and Washington county (N.S.) should be held at Estport during the autumn.

A considerable number of our teachers are taking advantage of the "Hands Across the Sea" excursion, under the direction of F. J. Ney, of Winnipeg.

CONDITION OF HIGHWAYS

Sir: I wish to protest very strongly upon the state of the road leading from the city to Little River.

The road is in a very bad state of repair, and is a constant source of trouble to the people who use it. It is a disgrace to the city and to the province.

Why the past and present governments have allowed this great danger to traffic to continue is something beyond our comprehension.

THE MINISTER OF RAILWAYS AT BATHURST

Sir, The minister of railways, accompanied by his $20,000-a-year general manager, passed through here yesterday.

After taking a hurried look at the ruins of our station, recently destroyed by fire, he did not condescend to bestow in passing, his answer to the urgent request made by the civic authorities.

After leaving Bathurst the minister took a hurried jaunt over the Carleton Place and returned to Gloucester Junction that same evening.

These make up the following scholarships which have been promised to the Summer School of Science for the year 1913:

Donor. Solicitor. Amount. Mathew Lodge, M. Annie Steeves, $20. Pius Michael, M. P. Bessie M. Fraser, $10.

These make a total of sixty-four scholarships with a value of $294 for competition at the school. The registration is approaching 200 now, and this looks like a record-breaking attendance.

Very truly yours, S. A. STARRATT.

ASK FATHER CAREY FOR SPECIFIC CASES OF UNFAIR EXAMS.

Chief Superintendent Carter Resents Criticism of Normal School Tests TO INVESTIGATE

Papers Set by Most Reliable Educationalists of Province, He Says Why Dominion Day Exams Are Necessary—The New Inspector.

Thursday, June 19. Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, was in the city yesterday to attend a meeting of the board of education.

When asked about Father Carey's statement that the principal of the Normal School or the license examinations, but I propose to ask him to give specific instances of any attempt on the part of the examiners to ask catches.

The papers are prepared by some of the best educationalists in the province, such as Chancellos Jones, Dr. H. S. Bridges, and others, and if any specific instances of unfair questions can be presented, I shall be very willing to take up the matter.

As far as I am aware, all the questions given are taken from the prescribed work. I should have been very clear to draw any attention to the matter, before he made his statement, and some students require very little encouragement to offer excuses which may cover deficiencies of their own.

With regard to the matriculation examinations being held on Dominion Day, Dr. Carter said that if the first papers were not held on that day it would be impossible for some of the students to reach their homes by Friday, and if the examinations were put off a week it would shorten the holidays.

Dr. Carter also spoke highly of the new inspector of school, A. T. Brooks, who was appointed yesterday morning by the local government to succeed Inspector H. P. Steeves.

Mr. Brooks is a St. John man, and a graduate of the University of New Brunswick in 1911.

WEST SIDE MARCHES OVERBOARD DROWNS FEW FEET FROM STEAMER

Powell S. Ogler Failed to Grasp Life Buoy Thrown from Prince Rupert While Lying at Digby Wharf and Perished in Bay—Passengers Have Criticism.

Thursday, June 19. Within a few yards of the docks and with many people looking on, Powell S. Ogler, aged 21 years, pantryman aboard the steamer Prince Rupert, son of Mrs. Helen Ogler, of 89 Laddow street, West St. John, was drowned about 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the port guard of the steamer as she was moored at the wharf in Digby. The body was recovered from the water after had been in the water for more than half an hour but all attempts at resuscitation failed and the coroner took it in charge, deciding to hold an inquest in Digby this morning.

Passengers who were aboard the boat seemed inclined to think that the man was forced into the water by some rough horse alack on board and that the attempt to save him was not prompt or efficient. Members of the crew deny this and say everyone on board will be vindicated at the inquest. Several of them interviewed last evening tell a straightforward story of the shocking occurrence.

James Muise, second cook on the steamer, said that he was an eye-witness of the affair and was within a few yards of Ogler when he went overboard to his death. "On the lower deck or cargo deck," he said, "there were the chief cook, Russell Canty, the boat's electrician, a fireman named Gullian and myself, besides Ogler. The door at the outside of the boat was open and we had a fish there having some fun with it. We had fastened a string to its tail and were going to pull it in the water. Ogler was sitting about fifteen feet from us and about ten feet from the edge of the boat. As soon as the fish was dropped overboard he rushed to the side to see it squirm in the water. I did not notice Ogler at this time nor do I think that any of us did. We were stooping over the edge when Ogler cried out. I turned around just in time to see him toppling over the edge. It appeared to me as if he was underneath the water for several minutes and when it

NEWS COMES OF WIFE'S DEATH ON EVE OF REUNION CAUSED $75,000 FIRE IN TRYING TO SPANK CHILD

Years of Separation End in Disaster for George Lawrence—Motherless Child Will Never See Happy Home

Wednesday, June 18. Waiting at the railway depot in a fever of anxiety for the Montreal train to pull out and carry him to his dying wife who had been taken ill at Montreal on her way to rejoin him after separation for three years; George Lawrence, engineer on the steamer D. J. Purdy, was handed a telegram which told him his proposed trip was in vain and that his wife had died last evening at her home in Montreal.

Mr. Lawrence came to St. John about three years ago and has been lately serving engineer on the river steamer. His wife planned to come to him directly but her sister dying in the west she left from Glasgow by the Donaldson Line steamer and took her sister's little child for adoption. She was then to return to St. John and the young engineer was looking forward to a comfortable home after the years of struggle and separation. He was greatly shocked on receiving a message yesterday through the local office of the Robert-Reform Company, Limited, that on arrival at Montreal his wife had been taken ill.

He planned to go to her at once and was at the station when the second message came. Mr. Lawrence did not go wishing Godspeed to the members comprising the expedition. The Karakul prising in the harbor this morning adjusting compasses and at 3 o'clock cleared for the north. There was an interesting conversation aboard the Karakul yesterday afternoon when a deputation of civic dignitaries composed of Mayor Morley and a number of aldermen presented four Canadian flags to the captain of the vessel. Mr. Stefanssen was charged with the safekeeping of the flags, which will be played on any land that comes within the British Empire as the result of discovery made by the expedition.

WHOLESALE PRICES IN ST. JOHN MARKETS

The sharp advance in flour overshadowed all other changes in wholesale prices this week, the different grades advancing from 15 cents to 25 cents a barrel. The pinch on the Chicago cattle market did not affect beef prices here while pork and mutton were a little easier. The prices follow:

STEFANSEN SAILS FOR THE ARCTIC Explorer Wished God-Speed by Lieut.-Governor and Sir Richard McBride.

Victoria, June 17—Karluk, with the Stefanssen expedition aboard got away late this afternoon. At 1:30 o'clock this morning the Karakul turned within hailing distance of the coast of Alaska, where the lieutenant governor and Sir Richard McBride boarded the vessel, wishing Godspeed to the members comprising the expedition. The Karakul prising in the harbor this morning adjusting compasses and at 3 o'clock cleared for the north.

NEARLY THROUGH WITH MILK FARM INSPECTION Report of Progress in Testing Herds and Premises Comes Day After Board Asks for Information.

Thursday, June 19. Following inquiries made at the board meeting on Tuesday a report was received by T. M. Burns, secretary of the Public Health Commission, saying that the work of inspecting the milk farms which supply St. John has been almost completed by the government inspector, N. W. Evelyn. Because of the transference of the former inspector and the late appointment of Mr. Evelyn the work was not begun as early as usual this year, but is now well along.

CONDENSED NEWS; LOCAL AND GENERAL

Ontario patents advanced 20 cents Saturday. F. E. Williams has donated two red coats to Rockwood Park. The work of replacing the present rails on the Fredericton branch of the C. P. R. with heavier steel is now well under way. Because of a clash with Halifax dates, the time of the D'Amour exhibition has been changed to Sept. 22 to 26, the week following the Fredericton fair. Arthur Langille, a farmer, on the Black River road, lost his house and barns by fire on Saturday night. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

TORY HOPES BLASTED IN MARCONI "SCANDAL"

Charges Collapse. London, June 19.—It is already clear that the opposition can expect no more kudos from the Marconi affair. The situation. The speeches of the accused ministers, while every idle tongue was wagging, proved more effective as a reminder of there is another side to the case than even their friends had hoped.

The charges against the conservative press this morning makes this evident even more than that of the liberal organs. The less responsible sheets make much play of the probable announcement that an apology is not the usual penalty for ministers who are "found out" by the press. The more solid newspapers somewhat belatedly give great prominence to the complete collapse of the gross charges, and admit that the bottom has fallen out of the charge of conspiracy. The Daily Mail, Conservative, goes so far as to express surprise that the Unionist motion was not withdrawn last night. Some journals, however, emphasize the fact that it is clear that the scandalous charges were always confined to one or two obscure organs.
