RUSSIANS ARE TIRING OF LENINE

PROBS. SATURDAY: Showery.

10 PAGES, PRICE TWO CENTS

LENINE'S PROPOSAL SAID TO BE AN ULTIMATUM

It is Now in the Allies Hands.

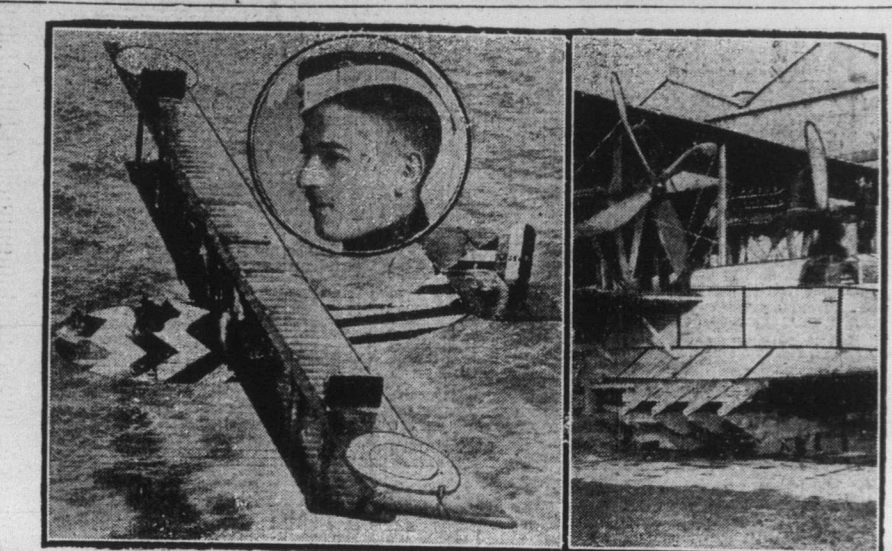

FAILING ITS ACCEPTANCE, HE WILL SEEK AN ALLIANCE

PARIS, April 4. (By Lowell Mellett).—Premier Lenine's informal "peace" to the Allies is virtually an ultimatum, it was learned from an authoritative source to-day.

The Russian bolshevik leader is known to have suggested that a time limit for acceptance of his offer, beyond which he would not undertake to abstain from consideration of Chancellor Schiedemann's proposal, as conveyed to Foreign Minister Trotsky. The time limit is understood to be a matter of only a few weeks.

The German government was, unofficially reported recently by have sent Karl Kautsky to Russia for the purpose of studying the situation there, and possibly effecting an alliance between Germany and Russia.

The recent statement in the house commons, Andre Bonar Law, spokesman for British government denying that the Allies have received a formal peace offer from Russia, is technically correct. The fact remains,

THE LATEST IN BRITISH FLYING BOATS. The above photographs show the F2-A flying boat, the latest thing in British seaplanes. A crew of five is carried, two pilots, an observer, an engineer and wireless operator. The picture on the left shows the "bird" while in the air with a complete wing spread of 98 feet. On the right is a photo of the hydro-plane at rest. Inset is a picture of Lt. M. A. Gardiner, R.A.F., Toronto, who has just returned after seeing service with the North Sea Patrol.

Bulgaria Has the Fever

BOLSHEVISTS AT VARNA ACTIVE.

PARIS, April 4.—The Sofia correspondent of Le Matin reported today that extremists in Bulgaria have attempted a bolshevik movement. The town he said, was immediately occupied by British troops, who declared martial law.

Varna is an important Bulgarian port on the Black Sea, 250 miles directly east of Sofia.

BOLSHEVİK TROOPS WERE BEATEN OFF.

LONDON, April 4.—Bolshevik troops delivered an attack on the Archangel front without artillery preparation, during the last 48 hours, but were beaten off with a fair amount of losses. Allied losses were slight. Attack occurred at Bolshevo Ozera.

Pass Resolution Re Housing Question

THE BOARD DO NOT ASSUME THE RESPONSIBILITY AND expense of arranging for a public meeting, but that the Board cooperate with the Mayor and City Council in making a success of the same, and that the Fire Marshall be advised to that effect.

Allies Representatives Deliver Danzig Terms

TWO CONFERENCES HELD YESTERDAY.

SPA, April 4.—The German armistice commission today was in possession of the Allies' decision regarding the Danzig controversy and instructions concerning observance of the armistice. These were communicated to the enemy representatives in two conferences yesterday.

Provinces May Have to Foot the Bill

IN CONNECTION WITH G.T.P. GUARANTEES

OTTAWA, April 4.—The statement made by Sir Thomas White, acting prime minister in the house yesterday, to the effect that the government would not pay the interest on Grand Trunk Pacific bonds, guaranteed by the provinces, has created considerable interest at the capital.

Atlantic Flight to be Tried Next Thursday

Machine is Now Being Assembled for Trial

SAYS PILOT HARRY HAWKER.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 4.—Pilot Harry Hawker will make his attempt to fly across the Atlantic next Thursday at the latest, according to present intentions.

1700 MORE CANADIANS ARRIVE.

ST. JOHN, N. B., April 4.—The S. S. Scotian, with 1700 returned men, arrived this morning and will dock this afternoon.

FOUR CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH.

QUEBEC, April 4.—Four children died in a fire that destroyed the home of their father, Alphonse Dube at St. Donat, Quebec, today.

Marshal Foch conversed with Mathias Erzberger, chairman of the armistice commission, on the former's special train for forty minutes, beginning at 1:30 a.m. Foch and Erzberger held a second conference in which General Weygand, the Marshal's aide, General Nudant, French representative on the allied armistice commission, and General von Hammerstein, present chairman of the German commission, participated. This meeting was held in Neuilly villa, starting at 11 a.m., and continuing for an hour and a half. The American members on the commission gave a dinner in honor of Foch.

While the Grand Trunk Pacific is in the hands of a receiver, the government takes the view nevertheless, that this fact does not change in any degree the G.T.P.'s liabilities in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific. In the past however it would appear that the interest on the bonds guaranteed by the provinces has been paid out of the federal advances made to the company. Now apparently the provinces will have to foot the bill.

The work of setting up the Sopwith airplane, in which Hawker and his navigator Mackenzie Grieve, will make the flight, started today at the aviation field near here. The mechanics, who had been delayed by icefloods, which held up their steamer, arrived last night. Hawker and Grieve were busy today studying meteorological reports, covering the whole area of the proposed flight, from Newfoundland to the British Isles. These reports show a light south wind and fine weather from here to the longitude of the Azores and from there to the British Isles a moderate, northerly wind. The aviators regard prospects of making a successful flight as exceedingly favorable.

PARIS, April 4.—Although President Wilson was confined to his room with a cold, the council of four met in his residence as usual. It is understood that all necessary matters will be referred to the sick room or that the council will consult the President personally if occasion arises.

A communication was received from W. G. Clark, representing the Clark Machinery Company of London, stating the company wishes to locate nearer Toronto and favors this city. They wished the Board of Trade to assist them in finding suitable site and placing some several thousand dollars stock in his company. President Davidson had received a call from Mr. Clark and assured him of the utmost of cooperation on the part of the Board, but that we could take no part in stock selling. The secretary was directed to reply, confirming the action of the president.

Britain Would Go to Aid of France

IN CASE OF ANOTHER NECESSITY.

PARIS, April 4.—Premier Lloyd George, in an interview published in the Petit Parisien today, declared that should Germany ever again attempt to attack France, the British would again fight at the side of the French.

G.T.R. NEGOTIATIONS CONTINUING.

According to the Drayton-Aworth report, the Grand Trunk Pacific branch lines company has outstanding bonds for $9,879,408, guaranteed by the province of Saskatchewan and for $2,589,596 guaranteed by the province of Alberta; or a total of $12,469,004. For these bonds $12,688,544 in cash was realized and on this amount interest must be paid.

Aviator Morgan, with his Martins machine, in which he will also attempt to fly across the Atlantic, is en route to St. John, on the steamer Sachem. Morgan plans to make his start not later than April 15.

PARIS, April 4.—The Italian transport Umbria, with two thousand officers and soldiers on board, bound from Venice to Tripoli, has struck mine and sunk. Several on board were killed and hundreds injured.

PARIS, April 4.—The Italian transport Umbria, with two thousand officers and soldiers on board, bound from Venice to Tripoli, has struck mine and sunk. Several on board were killed and hundreds injured.

He denied rumors of dissensions between British and French delegates in peace conference. "Naturally there have been discussions," the Premier was quoted as saying. "They are necessary to reach an agreement on any question. But the Anglo French alliance was never more complete than it is now."

The newly opened negotiations with the Grand Trunk through Mr. Kelly are proceeding. For the present, the government will not discuss the probabilities or the nature of the new proposals but it may be stated that they will not be more favorable to the Grand Trunk than the cases which were made before the negotiations were broken.

Four U. S. Airmen Killed in France

TWO AIRPLANES COLLIDED IN AIR.

TREVES, April 4.—Four American aviators were killed and two injured today when two airplanes collided near Wettlich, falling in fragments and bringing down two others out of control. One of the machines fell in the Moselle river, the other landed in a field.

100,000,000 Quarts Liquor Were Drunk Under Physicians' Prescriptions Since Sept. 1916.

MR. FLAVELLE UPHOLDS THE ACT.

TORONTO, April 4.—Since Ontario went under prohibition in September, 1916, and up to March 1st of this year, over 100,000,000 quarts of liquor have been sold under physicians' prescriptions, by legal vendors, under the Ontario Temperance Act.

U. S. Flying Machine to Enter Contest

OF BEING FIRST TO CROSS ATLANTIC.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The big flying machine N.C.-2, with which the United States navy's attempt to cross the Atlantic will probably be made, is ready for the flight today.

"The British did not come to fight beside France merely that France should enjoy comparative tranquillity for a little time. They insist that France have good security for the future."

If the commission is increased from five to seven, there will have to be a readjustment of the members Judge Mathers is Chairman.

Mr. Flavelle further stated that it did not include liquor obtained by physicians for their own use. Mr. Flavelle also said he believed that despite the fact that the department had collected more than a million and quarter dollars in fines for infraction of the act, there was no comparison in the condition of sobriety of the province now as against conditions before the act went into force.

THE CHIEF OBJECTION raised by those who were disposed to erect houses was over the vacant lot question. It was claimed that there were too many vacant lots being held by their owners, many of whom reside outside and who have no interest in the city, for speculative purposes. The high cost of building materials was also blamed, and as some of this is due to foreign demand no immediate relief is in sight.

On April 15, a three days' drive will be started in Winnipeg, to provide $100,000 for the Children's Hospital of that city.

SENATOR EDWARDS MAKES A PREDICTION

NEW YORK, April 4.—Two New York morning newspapers, the Tribune and American published the following today from Atlantic City: "That Canada will be annexed to the United States within the next ten years, is the prediction made here today by Senator William C. Edwards, for more than thirty years a member of the Canadian parliament and one of the foremost business men in the Dominion."

Returned This Morning

Private Arthur Ashcroft, who enlisted with the 256th Railway Construction Battalion, returned to the city this morning, after being in the army for three years. He enlisted with the 11th Battalion in Galt, but was discharged, after a few weeks joined the 256th. He saw active service in France for eighteen months. His friends will be glad to hear that he is in the best of health.

WATERLOO NEWS RECORD

Among the visitors at the late Mr. Homer Hind's funeral were his mother, Mrs. A. E. Hind, from Durham, Mr. Flint and Mr. Ira Hind, brothers from Detroit and Mr. Forbes Hind of Toronto.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Naylor, Charles Street, Waterloo, when a number of friends gathered together to spend the evening in honor of their gallant son, Pte. Edgar Naylor. The evening was spent in cards and music followed by dainty refreshments. On leaving for home all voted the evening one of the most enjoyable possible.

France and America Not Wholly Agreed

DIFFER ON IMPORTANT POINTS

PARIS, April 3.—President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando continued their discussion at President Wilson's residence to-day. Other peace conference organizations also met. All the conferences tended to unravel the tangled issues still standing in the way of peace. The meetings proceeded amid another through the conference over lack of tangible results after the council of four had labored continuously for ten days. This was accompanied by well-founded reports from those close in touch with the council of four showing that the situation, while not desperate, was at least serious because of radical differences on some fundamentals in the settlement of Germany's western, the Franco-German and the eastern Polish frontiers.

One of the American experts gives the following glimpse of what is going on behind the scenes:

"The situation is extremely difficult, particularly as regards the western frontier of Germany. President Wilson in a conciliatory spirit, has been willing to do most anything to assure French security short of mutilation of engagements made at the time of the armistice.

"The French have been assured of every military protection across the Rhine, even to the extent of considering that any military activity in that section shall be looked upon as a hostile act. But this is not considered enough and additional claims lead to the conviction that they are open to construction as meaning something more than military security and verging on territorial control.

"The president is not willing to go that far in creating more Alsace-Lorraine situations, and it is this stand against these claims which is causing the delays until some middle ground is found."

Concerning reparations, it was added that there were good prospects for an early agreement. This will not

MUSIC LOVERS HAD RARE TREAT

Re-Creation Demonstration a Revelation.

The music lovers of Kitchener who availed themselves of the invitation to attend the concert by Mr. Glen Ellison and Miss Pauline Lawrence at the Star Theatre last evening will never forget the experience.

From the moment when Mr. Ellison announced that he would sing in unison with a RE-CREATION of his own voice on the New Edison which stood upon the platform, we were skeptical. To attempt to match that lovely voice with a sound produced mechanically by a thing of steel and wood! It was preposterous.

When the first notes of the song came to the ears one was waiting breathlessly. And one continued breathless throughout the evening. At first Mr. Ellison's voice and the voice from the mahogany cabinet beside him came to us indistinguishably blended—the two voices so completely one that no ear could detect their duality. Suddenly we realized that Mr. Ellison's lips had ceased to move, though his voice went gloriously on. He sang again and again stopped only by watching his lips could we tell whether his voice came to us from his throat, or from the magic box at his side. It was his voice in both cases—there was no question of that from the start. No mere echo or "record" could make us doubt the evidence of our own eyes. His voice was there, whether he sang or was silent. Equal in tone, in clearness and in beauty, it filled the room, literally RE-CREATED by some magic power for our bewilderment.

After the cessation of the applause which he took with his arm thrown affectionately across the cover of his mahogany cabinet, Miss Lawrence stepped forward to the Helntzman & Co. piano to play a duet with herself—the other half of the duet being a RE-CREATION of the New Edison. The notes from the cabinet matched those of the piano as perfectly as they had those of Mr. Ellison's singing. Here again the instrument continued when the artist ceased and we hear no difference in tone. This piano selection was especially marvelous to those who are familiar with "talking machine" records of piano music, also an orchestral number in which the tones of the various instruments—strings, woodwind and brass—lost none of their individuality. Other vocal numbers were RE-CREATED with equal fidelity. Interspersed among these rare musical treats were delightful selections by Mr. Ellison and Miss Lawrence always accompanied by their identical performances upon the New Edison. And each time one witnessed the miracle the wonder grew—wonder at the wizard mind that could, with a man-made instrument, rival nature's production of music.

Features worthy of note which were deeply appreciated were a number of solo encores and three recitations. It should be added that the photograph used is owned by Mrs. Hartman Krug, who has been the possessor for four years, and who kindly donated its use for the occasion.

Re-creation one has never believed in it before perhaps, it may have been considered merely a trade-mark—catch word. But for those who attended the tone-test, Re-creation is no longer a word—it is a reality. A wonderful new art presented to the world by the greatest of living inventors—Thomas A. Edison.

The recital was arranged by Mr. D. S. Cullen.

Ottawa Is Seeking Broad Tax Powers

GRADED SYSTEM OF REDUCTION ON BUILDINGS AUTHORIZED

TORONTO, April 3.—The Ontario Legislature gives promise of becoming radical. For years past various municipalities in the province have been making ineffectual efforts to secure them to assess buildings at a lower rate than land, but this morning the private bills committee upset all expectations by giving the City of Ottawa carte blanche to put land taxation alone into effect by a graded system of reductions on buildings. The city asked the right to drop 25 per cent. off buildings each year providing the ratepayers of the city so voted. At the outset there was a good deal of opposition, but several Conservative members with the habit of thinking for themselves came out flatly in favor of letting Ottawa try the experiment. If it failed then the province, which was interested would have something to go by. If it proved a success, then the members of the Legislature would have to recognize the fact and act accordingly. The section was carried unanimously, subject to a provision, that if the people were dissatisfied after a trial of two years or more, they might vote to go back to taxation of improvement.

TRAVELING SALESMAN Tells How He Regained Strength, Ambition and Vim.

Atlan, Iowa.—"I am a traveling salesman and was run-down, worn out, no appetite and no ambition my druggist told me Vinol was what I needed and within a few days after taking it I commenced to gain and it built up my health and strength so every spring and fall I take it to build me up and it keeps me in splendid condition."—W. E. Brockelsby.

The reason we guarantee Vinol is because it is a constitutional remedy containing beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates the most successful tonics known.

HUNGARY AND THE HUNGARIANS

The area of Hungary is about equal to that of the State of New Mexico. Hungary is unusually rich in its mineral deposits. Its mines contain almost inexhaustible quantities of gold, silver, lead, copper, iron, coal and rock salt.

Hungary, like Austria, is inhabited by several distinct races, but since the ninth century, when the Magyars invaded the region from Asia and conquered it, they have controlled the government.

Self-government through parliament in Hungary is of ancient origin, being founded upon a charter called the Golden Bull, which dates back to 1222, and is thus almost contemporary with the Magna Charta of England.

Budapest, the capital city of Hungary, consists of the sister towns of Buda and Pest. Lying on either side of the Danube, just at that point where it definitely sets south, Pest spreads itself out over the flat lands plain on the left bank, while Buda occupies a series of small and steep hills on the right bank.

The central regions of Hungary are watered by the Danube and Theiss rivers, and from their valleys vast plains stretch away to the mountains in the north and east, furnishing an area particularly adapted to agriculture. The region is one of the best wheat-growing districts of Europe. Tobacco, flax, hemp and culinary vegetables grow in great quantity; choice fruits are produced in every part; its vineyards yield the most delicious grapes in so rich an abundance as to supply a larger amount of export wine than in any other portion of Europe.

The great national hero of Hungary was Louis Kossuth, whose memory is revered by Hungarians as that of Washington is revered by the people of the United States. Kossuth visited America in 1851, and it is a matter of history that no foreigner save Lafayette ever received at the hands of the American people such marks of esteem as were bestowed on the Hungarian exile.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST HAVE MATURED ON $10,000,000 G.T.P. LOAN

Ottawa April 2.—The Grand Trunk Pacific the Government is advised has not met the principal or interest maturing yesterday of a 10 year loan for $10,000,000, made in 1909. The loan was to the G.T.P. in connection with the completion of its line and was guaranteed by the Grand Trunk.

Another maturing interest obligation was in connection with the Lake Superior section but there is so far no word as to whether it has been met. The road is rented by the Government system, and as the rental would be sufficient to meet it, the belief is that the obligation will be liquidated. Open Question Again.

The whole question will be discussed again in the House shortly now that all the papers bearing upon it have been produced. One aspect of the case is as to whether in placing the Grand Trunk Pacific in the hands of a receiver when at the particular time the road was not in default the Government has in any way released its hold upon the company.

Such an effect is claimed in some quarters but scouted at Ottawa. The situation is complicated further by the fact that Western provinces have guaranteed certain branch lines bonds. There have been no negotiations between the Government and the company looking to the purchase of the system but in Government circles it is stated the are imminent.

TORONTO FOREIGNER SEEKS CONSOLATION FROM FELLOW COUNTRYMAN

WINDSOR, April 2.—Mike Kotek, of Toronto, valued his wife's affections at the modest sum of $10,000, and because Peter Anonek, of Ford, alienated those affections, Mike has instructed Barrister F. W. Wilson to enter suit for full amount.
Anonek not only alienated the affections of Kotek's wife, but he married her and she has two children by the second marriage. As Mrs. Kotek did not go through the formality of obtaining a divorce before marrying Pete, she will be tried on Friday in Ford police court for bigamy.

THE RAINBOW CHASERS

"It's fine and wise to be optimistic," admitted the Capable Matron "I don't believe in meeting trouble half way but rainbow chasing isn't pessimism it's folly. There's a big difference between the two a mite of optimism will keep heart in you when things go wrong and help you to get over the rough places but a rainbow chaser never sees the promise of success in the thing he is doing to his eyes the rainbow of promise is always hanging over the job that somebody else is doing, that is why he drops his job at the first cloud and starts chasing again."

There's Dick and Nellie when they got married Dick gave up his position in the bank because there was no future in it he said. They got a little place in the country and started to keep chickens and grow truck for market. They didn't do so badly either, when you consider that they had everything to learn after they started. They were full of it the first year the healthy independent life and all the rest of it but before two years had passed Dick was saying "you've got to get into the city to make money that's where the money is."

So he gave up the little place in the country and started a small cash grocery in a poor district of the city. Nellie and he both worked all hours, from eight in the morning to eleven at night. They were in the city but didn't seem to be any nearer the money than they were in the country. They found that they couldn't do a cash business in the district they were in and they couldn't afford to do a credit one. They were finally bought out by a peddler who will do doubt make it go.

"Dick sees a new rainbow but he doesn't have enough money to help him catch it. I wish I could explain the rainbow theory to him. A rainbow isn't something that you can catch it's something that you must create. It is a sign to the world that the worst in the struggle is over. You must make your rainbow and I must make mine and Dick must make his. It's no use chasing the rainbow come other fellow has made the only rainbow for you is the one that's hidden in your own cloud."

You Can't Find Any Dandruff, And Hair Stops Coming Out

Try this! Your Hair gets Wavy glossy, and abundant at once

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair, soft, lustrous, fluffy wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Keweenaw's Danderine now for a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet—really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few minutes—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS TO DEAL WITH TARIFF

As a result of the American elections in November, the control of congress has passed from the Democrats to the Republicans. Consequently, it is probable that a special session will be called and a new tariff passed before the end of 1919.

As is well known the Republicans have always made a protective law the main plank of their party. Prior to the war, the Democrats had placed the Underwood tariff law on their statutes, in the belief that the United States had reached a point in industrial development where it could compete against all other nations. It was argued that the American consumer merited foremost consideration.

Consequently they made the experiment. With the result that imports from foreign countries increased and employment decreased. Large numbers of men were workless and business stagnation was everywhere in evidence. The war remedied the situation. European countries, which had been increasing their sales in the United States, not only ceased doing so but became purchasers of goods from them.

With the war ended, there are many indications that the next few years will witness a commercial struggle among the nations, a struggle to regain old and get new markets. Industrial nations everywhere find themselves obliged to gather in every dollar's worth of trade they can lay their hands on, both at home and abroad.

This, primarily, to provide employment for the millions who have for more than four years been bearing arms and who merit the benefits of steady employment at a fair recompense; and in order to meet the heavy annual instalments on their war debt. Neither obligation can be dodged.

More than ever before, these industrial nations will recognize the importance of home markets. The trade conditions there, as between home and foreign manufacturers, can be regulated. That nation which throws down its tariff bars in the hope that those who sell to it will buy freely of the country so doing, will be badly left. Obviously, it is sound sense before assuming the role of a St. Nicholas for the benefit of others.

The Underwood, or Democratic tariff, framers assumed that if the consumer could buy more cheaply in a foreign market than in his own, goods should be imported. This sounds well. But those who advocate it do not stop to consider that were this generally practiced, very few home-made articles would be purchased, were there no tariff to keep them out. The reason for this is that wages in the United States and Canada are higher than in any other part of the world.

Remove the tariff and not only would articles made in Canada, for instance, have to compete against the cheaper made goods of Europe but to compete at all would these have to be made cheaper. This would entail a lowering of wages to the European level or not attempting to compete.

A year ago the British Labor party drew a list of demands, aiming to better their conditions. One of these was a request for a minimum wage of 30 shillings. In Canadian money, this would be the equivalent of $7.50 per week. While this was placed as the minimum, to Canadian eyes it seems ridiculously low.

There is a free trade country. In normal times they may secure a cheaper loaf than do we, but cheap bread means low wages. The Canadian mechanic who earns, in peacetime, twice as much as his European contemporary, can afford to pay say 50 cents more per week for bread. A cheap country has never proved to be a good country in which to work. Were it attractive, China and Japan would become Klondikes.

In considering the tariff question, it should be regarded from the peacetime rather than the wartime angle. Canada is in a position of transition from war to peace. There was inflation during the world conflict. Adjustments are under way, and bristle with problems.

There is no escaping this period of adjustment to new conditions. Then, which is the wiser: to stick to that which has been tried and found good or monkey with new and untried schemes?

The object lessons afforded by the United States and other industrial countries ought not to be lost upon Canadians. These regard the providing of steady employment and the meeting of their national obligations as of more importance than purchasing cheap foreign goods.

Are we Canadians so assured of continued trade prosperity and employment and have we so inconsiderable a national debt that we can afford to remove our tariff and assist foreign workmen to get employment and foreign countries to pay their war obligations?

Admittedly Canada is in no position to play the role of Rich Uncle to any other country.

LONDON AND ITS REQUEST

For some years London, Ontario, has been endeavoring to obtain legislation enabling it to adopt the commission form of municipal government.

It sought special legislation this session but its bill was on Thursday rejected by the Private Bills Committee. The root over which the Committee tripped was that which purposed having a Commission of Twenty govern London and all of its civic expenditures.

Had the bill run the gauntlet in committee, the commission would have received control over the expenditures made by the public school board. Mr. Lucas objected to this and the whole proposal fell to the ground.

Opinions will differ as to whether a city council or commission should control school expenditures. The majority of the members of our city council are convinced that they should be given revisionary powers over school estimates.

Probably the majority of them are also in favor of city government by commission but would not include the schools, collegiate, parks and library. They do, however, consider it advisable to amalgamate the utility commissions and council, and placing them into the hands of say five commissioners, with a city manager.

As has been previously noted in this column, Guelph has a new city government plan, which may be described as a halfway house between a large aldermanic body and commission government.

London would, as mentioned, favor a commission of 20, which would control all city expenditures. This city, as far as can be estimated, would prefer a commission of five members.

The main point is that all progressive cities are groping their way toward commission government. The matter is important enough to warrant the Hearst government in appointing a special commission to make a thorough investigation of the whole question, at cities where commission government is in use. Upon its reporting it could draft a measure that would more nearly meet the needs of enterprising centers.

The appointment of a commission to study this newer form of municipal government was years ago, recommended by the Associated Boards of Trade. Thus far, the request has received scant consideration.

At this distance, it appears as if Mr. Lucas' committee is content to use the hose whenever a commission-government-proposal is made.

Has it never occurred to its members that it has not discharged its whole public duty until it has investigated the requests of various municipalities, and learned what commission government consists of and does?

Extinguishers are good in their place but are not effective remedies for all municipal ailments.

AN EPOCHAL MOVEMENT

Deep interest attaches to Senator Robertson's proposal that certain industrial corporations in Canada be jointly controlled and operated by capital and labor. His idea was born of the suggestions contained in the Whitley and Rockefeller plans for industrial councils and has for its object the securing of industrial peace in Canada.

It is in the big corporations that employers and employees lose touch and where mutual cooperation is most difficult of attainment. There the employee is only known to the directorate by a number, whereas in lesser establishments there is personal contact with the owners and any grievance that may arise can be adjusted.

In proposing that corporations adopt the Whitley plan or variations of it, Senator Robertson finds that several large firms have already adopted similar expedients, where shop management, hours and pay are adjusted by joint committees of owners and employees, and, by intercourse with other heads of large, concerns finds a readiness to adopt any sane plan whereby industrial peace and maximum production in their works can be secured.

He announces that the federal government is to name a commission of five men, consisting of capitalists and labor men, to study industrial conditions at first hand, with the object of arriving at the feasibility of the question of joint control of industry.

He assures all concerned that the five men to be appointed for the task will absolutely command the confidence of the public. They will be requested to proceed to all centers of industry, to survey the situation, to get all the facts and make recommendations. Their appointment is to be immediately announced and their report made before May 15 next.

Upon this report the government proposes basing a policy for the promotion of greater harmony in the industrial and labor world of Canada.

Until this commission has formulated its report, and its recommendation can be examined, it would be unwise to pass further comment.

FOREIGN CREDITS FOR SALE OF CANADIAN WHEAT

J. A. Maharg, M. P., says that Canada cannot expect to export to the United States wheat of the 1919 crop. The fixed price in that country will keep out the Canadian product, for the Americans would not allow cheaper Canadian wheat to undersell their own, which remains at the 1918 fixed price.

This means that Canada's exportable surplus of wheat must find a market abroad, which further means that it must be sold on time. Mr. Maharg says that many solvent nations want it, but that they cannot pay cash, so if sales are to be made large credits must be granted.

The Dominion Government is willing to grant these credits, but its ability to do so is dependent on the extent to which it can borrow money from its own people. If the money is forthcoming all the credits required will be granted, but Canadians must make these possible. For Canada to borrow money abroad for this purpose would be out of the question.

War Savings Stamps help solve the problem of credits, for they enable the Government to borrow at home the money it requires. Besides, the price of the stamps is placed so low, $4, that every person earning wages in Canada can afford to buy them. The farmers of the West should be eager to get them, for they are vitally interested in seeing that foreign credits are granted.

Mrs. Newhall on Verge of Despair

Oshawa Woman Says She is Feeling Fine After Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac was the only thing that gave me any relief, and I am convinced that it is the right medicine for people in the condition I was in," said Mrs. Elizabeth Newhall of Oshawa, Ont., recently.

"I had been in a general rundown condition for over a year," she continued, "was extremely nervous, had no strength nor energy and the least little exertion would so exhaust me that I would feel faint. I ached all over and felt half dead all the time. I had no appetite and would skip meal after meal. Nervous, blinding headaches would almost drive me distracted; my nerves were shattered so that the least little thing would upset me and I'd get up in the morning feeling so miserable I could hardly keep on my feet."

"After taking Tanlac a few days I began to feel better. My appetite is now splendid and nothing I eat hurts me at all. Those terrible headaches are all gone. I have more life and energy and my work is a real pleasure to me."

"Tanlac is sold in Kitchener by E. O. Ritz & Co., in Galt by R. W. Melickham, in Huron by Jno. R. Phil, in New Hamburg by W. H. Boulton, in Milbank by R. B. Hamilton, in West Montrose by A. E. Riebert & Co., in Preston by H. L. Frick, in Waterloo by A. B. Learn, in Doon by L. C. Bullock.

CATARH OF THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS.

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thinned and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition is on broods deadly disease in the future, unless the blood is purified and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can drink it. The hot water washes the mucous from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the bisurated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hydrochloric acid. Moreover the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.

MONCTON SHOWS APPRECIATION OF MR. VIVIAN SNELL.

Moncton, N.B., April 2nd.—To mark their appreciation of his keen interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of Moncton several representative bodies have made presentations to Mr. V. G. Snell, formerly Commercial Agent of the Grand Trunk System here, now Division Freight Agent, Stratford, Ont. The Moncton City Club has presented him with a silver cigar and cigarette cabinet, the Delphic Club with a gold headed cane, and the Moncton Curling Club with a silver cigarette case.

The Moncton "Times" commenting upon Mr. Snell's promotion says that he was a citizen that Moncton could ill afford to lose. He was always ready to offer his valuable assistance and advice in connection with the numerous patriotic appeals and was an active supporter of good clean sport. The Maritime Province regretted the loss of such a capable and courteous officer.

A CHANGE IN BUSINESS

I take this opportunity of notifying my customers and the public in general that James W. Washburn has become a partner in the business formerly known as George Harrison, Merchant Tailor. Mr. Washburn before going overseas was in the employ of the above firm and it is with much pleasure we solicit the patronage of our former customers, and as many new ones as it will be our good fortune to obtain.
Mr. Washburn is leaving for New York to take up a complete course in cutting and designing and will return with the most modern ideas in the profession.
Our place of business is over John Fennell & Son's hardware store, No. 77 King St., West.

man with a frown "Except for me," hastily, "I-I alone came to their rescue."

"That is true. It was quite what I should have expected of you." It was not, however. This is a mere facade de parer. Nothing under heaven had more astonished the son than the father's sudden expressed wish to support his orphan nieces. It had indeed raised him fifty per cent, in his good opinion, and shown lines of loveliness in a nature that up to this had seemed stony beyond hope of impression.

"Why should you expect it? There was no reason," says the old man sharply. "It was of my own free will. I took them. There was no coercion, no—"

"Of course not, I quite understand." The younger man being rather deep in thought, is looking with unconscious earnestness at the other, who presently seems to writhe beneath his glance and to draw back from it "But still you must remember always that they are your brother's children," goes on Salton, a shade of solemnity falling into his tone. He leans forward in his chair and looks earnestly at the old man.

"What do you mean by that?" cries Dysart shrilly. His face has changed, and his now of an ashen grey; and he puts out his hands involuntarily, as if to ward off some hateful thought "What of that?" he cries hoarsely. "What do you mean by your tone? Don't look at me like that, boy! What have I done to them? Have I not housed, sheltered fed—"

"True, all true. But surely there is something more that might be done. Kindness, affection—"

"Ah!" Dysart interrupts him with a heavy sigh—one of relief it almost seems.

"I fancied 'I fancied you spoke as though you thought I were compelled to support them,' he says, glancing sideways at his son a cunning light in his brilliant eyes—horrible eyes contrasting painfully with the death-like pallor, the unearthly emanation of the face—torches set, as it were in the sockets of a corpse. "Do you then question my kindness to them?" His tone is hard and repellent now. "What more am I to do for them? Would you have me kneel at their feet and do them homage?"

"It merely occurred to me that be-

SPRING CLEANING DANGERS

Every housekeeper knows how often little injuries are met with during "spring cleaning" time and how easily the sore place becomes infected with dust and germs. The danger of this lies in the fact that injuries—slight at first, if not attended to, may become inflamed, fester, cause great suffering and inconvenience, and frequently lead to blood-poisoning.

To safeguard yourself, apply Zam-Buk at once to all cuts, scratches, abrasions, burns and scalds. This antiseptic balm immediately destroys all germs and prevents any danger of festering or blood-poisoning. Zam-Buk also ends pain and stops bleeding so quickly that no time need be lost by those who apply it as soon as an injury is sustained. Then the healing essences in Zam-Buk actually grow new skin, so that in a comparatively short time the wound is completely healed.

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, boils, pimples, rashes, ulcers and piles. All dealers, 50c. box.

ing so much alone as you are, leading so solitary a life—I unfortunately can give you so little of my time—that you might be glad to look upon them as daughters.

"Well, do I not? Have I not explained to you how desirous I am of making one of them my daughter? Hah! I have you there. I think! Is not that affection? Am I not willing to receive her? You should best know."

Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Tells Safe And Simple Way To Treat And Relieve At Home.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Eucalypti (Double Strength). Take this balm and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dizziness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

Under-Currents

By The Duchess

"Why will you bring up this discussion again and again?" she says with remorseful impatience. "Why not let me go my way unquestioned, and you yours? What am I to you when all is told? I am outside your life, I never shall be; yet it seems to me as if you were bent on compelling my likes and dislikes."

"You are right," says he going closer to her, his face very pale; "I would compel you to do more than like me."

"Compel!" She has drawn back from him, and her eyes now uplifted look defiance into his.

"If I could," supplements he gently. He turns and leaves the room.

"Now see, see what you have brought upon me," cries Vera, facing Griselda with vehement agitation.

"Oh, I am so sorry," says Griselda, immense contrition in her tone. "I never thought he would get angry like that! I didn't intend. And I thought it such a good opportunity; and I do so hate those chops and—"

"Oh, don't! That will do!" says Vera growing cold again and putting up one hand as if to command silence.

"But I must explain to you," persists Griselda really unhappy; "I am so afraid you think that I was—"

"You are vulgar!" says Vera jeily moving away to a distant window.

"Oh darling, what a horrid thing to say! Don't talk to me like that. Was it vulgar not to pretend it was luncheon? O shouldn't I have said anything about the chops at all? Vera you know I'd cut my tongue out before—Why you're crying! Why, Vera. Oh! are you afraid he will speak to his father and make things even more uncomfortable! You needn't; I am sure he won't."

"Oh yes, he will speak to his father; I saw that in his eye. Nothing will prevent that. But I am not frightened!" proudly. "I shall wait until his interview is at an end, and then I shall go—to Uncle Gregory, and ask him as a favour not to alter anything where we are concerned."

"Then it will be mutation to the end of our days," says Griselda with a noble effort at resignation. "as that old miser beyond will be only too delighted to fall in with your wishes, on this subject at all events."

CHAPTER XV

In this world so much treachery, little truth; here all things are traps; here everything is beset with snares.

Meantime Seaton has been having a tussle sharp and severe with his father, a task most ungenial as the old man is hard to battle with, and it is difficult for a son to enjoy a victory that of a parent's mind. Having wrung from him however, a promise that means a considerable increase of comfort to the girls in future, he makes a still further effort to show the righteousness of his cause.

"They are all alone in the world," he says.

Gypsy Romance Ends Badly

$2,000 PAID FOR HAND OF 15-YEAR-OLD "PRINCESS" NOW WANTED BACK—ARREST AT MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, April 3.—A romance of gypsy bands, with scenes set in the far west, the east and Montreal, appears on the records of the local police force.

Two gypsy bands lived near Saskatoon. One was ruled by a "king" called Frank Marcovitch, the other by one styled Stevenson Demetri. The former had a daughter, King Demetri has a son. On the son's behalf he made an offer to his fellow king for the hand of the princess, then fifteen years old. The offer was accepted, it being agreed $2,000 was to be paid to "King" Marcovitch for the loss of his daughter.

A gypsy celebration of marriage was held, and the princess moved to the other camp. Matters did not proceed as smoothly as she desired, and the bride appealed to the Northwest Mounted Police, who held court and decided that there had never been a marriage.

The next proceeding was that Assistant Inspector of Detectives Harry Cowan received a telegram from the Saskatoon police asking him to hold Marcovitch on a charge to be laid by Demetri of getting $2,000 from him that did not belong to him.

Demetri was arrested and has been in custody for some days.

Canada May Take Over G. T. Railway

FORECLOSURE MAY BE USED BY GOVERNMENT

OTTAWA, April 3.—Sir Thomas White announced in the House to-day that Howard Kelly, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, since his return from England, had reopened negotiations with the Government for the purchase of the system. "I cannot, of course, forecast what the course of these negotiations will be," declared Sir Thomas, "but my view is that the Grand Trunk Railway will come into the possession of the Dominion Government. I am not in a position to say that definitely, because we have not reached an agreement in the negotiations."

Sir Thomas said that if negotiations failed there was legal procedure which could be taken by the Government. "I stated the other day," continued the acting premier, "that the Dominion had many remedies which it could pursue. For example, when legal action could be taken, an application to the Exchequer Court for foreclosure under the first mortgage securing bonds of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, guaranteed by the Dominion Government, might be made. There are other mortgages under which the Dominion Government, in the event of default, can proceed—and there has been default—to foreclose an offer for sale. Then the Dominion Government is in a position to sue on obligations which have matured. I think it is unwise to indicate the precise course which the Government will pursue."

Thomas Viers, of Lethbridge, who acted as the spokesman of the Opposition, claimed that the Government should not have seized the G. T. P. in the manner it did, under the War Measures Act. The Government should have waited until the road came into default, which it was not. The company only ceased operating a branch line.

This extraordinary argument was answered by Sir Thomas and R. L. Richardson, of Springfield. "The only reason there has not been any default," declared Sir Thomas, "is that the Government has been voting $7,500,000 a year to pay not only the deficit on operations of the G. T. P., but also the interest upon the guaranteed bonds of the G. T. P., including those guaranteed by the Grand Trunk Railway Company itself. In other words, the Government has borne the entire burdens."

Contains No Alum

On Receiver's Certificate

Sir Thomas denied statement that now that the Government is acting as receiver it will have to pay guaranteed interest. The acting premier stated emphatically that the receiver will only raise money on receiver's certificate to meet deficits in operating expenses.

Mr. Richardson expressed astonishment at the statement of Mr. Viers that the Government should not have taken action when the G. T. P. announced it would no longer operate the Western system, but should have waited until it actually defaulted. "If the Government had refused to act," emphatically declared Mr. Richardson, "that vast country, depending on the G. T. P. System, would have been deprived of any transportation facilities. It was the only possible thing to do. If the Government had not acted there would have been chaos and the honorable gentleman opposite would have been denouncing the Government in unmeasured terms. It is a case of 'You're damned if you do, and you're damned if you don't.' The party with which the honorable gentleman is associated loaded this country by its railroad policy with a debt of a billion dollars and brought about a state of chaos which Dante himself could not describe. It was the most insane policy ever entered into by a free people."

Mr. Richardson had not much sympathy for the Grand Trunk and saw no reason for treating them generously. He thought the Government was, if anything, treating them too well.

Provincial War Tax Has Been Removed

HON. MR. MCGARRY'S BUDGET SPEECH PROMISE FULFILLED

Toronto April 3.—Allan Studholme, labor member of the Legislature for East Hamilton precipitated a storm in the Legislature this afternoon when he charged that a round robin asking for an increase seasonal allowance had been circulated among the members of the House. His statement brought forth emphatic denials from Premier Hearst, William Proudfoot, the Liberal leader, C.R. McKeown, chief Conservative whip and a number of private members on both sides of the House.

The question arose when a motion by William McDonald of North Bruce calling for a reduction in the number of seats in the House was under discussion. Mr. McDonald urged that the Legislature should reduce its membership to 82 in order to conform with Ontario's representation in the Dominion Parliament. At the request of Premier Hearst, however, he agreed to withdraw his motion after the premier had promised that the question would receive his serious consideration.

Young Soldiers' Wills.
V.A. Sinclair of South Oxford secured a promise from Hon. Mr. Lucas to look into a suggestion that legislation be passed to recognize wills made out by soldiers under the legal age. Difficulties were creeping up.

Moratorium Act stays.
Z. Mageau Liberal member for Sturgeon Falls also consented to withdraw a bill providing for the repeal of the Moratorium Act and after July 1 next. Hon. I.B. Lucas and many other members pointed out that the need for the act still existed, and that its repeal at the present time might result in great hardship. It should remain in force at least until the demobilization of the Canadian army was completed.

It is estimated that the sum of $88,300 will be required to complete the Toronto-Hamilton highway, Hon. F.G. McDiarmid stated in answer to a query the cost to date has been $1,088,817.71. The House considered in committee and passed Hon. T.W. McGarry's motion for the repeal of the Provincial Tax Act as promised by the provincial treasurer in his budget speech.

U.S. War Department has organized a special bureau to assist in finding employment for discharged seamen and soldiers.

How To Make Your Hair Beautiful

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair and Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple, old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum Lavon (de Composee) and a little Menthol Crystals. Try three mixed at home in a few minutes work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one night and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavon 6 oz. Bay Rum and 3 drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavon and shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair taking just one small strand at a tie. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt dust and excessive oil and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days use and you will not find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your heads as tight as a vise. Dandruff will disappear. You will find fine downy new hairs sprouting up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity. Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and he know of nothing so effective and certain in its results.

The above map, reproduced from the London Daily Mail, shows the points at which over 500 bombs were dropped by the enemy in their air raids on London. For military reasons the exact places hit were kept secret during the war. In a 522 persons were killed and about three as many wounded. In one Zeppelin raid alone fire damage to the amount of $7,500,000 was done. It will be seen that there are several well-defined curves, each indicating the path of a Zeppelin raid.

Mr. G. D. Hagopian Writes

An interesting letter has been received by the Record from Mr. G. D. Hagopian, formerly of this city, who a few months ago left with Mrs. Hagopian for California where they have taken up their residence. The letter follows:

Yettom, California, Mar. 26, 1919.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I must confess that I should have written this letter long before but sorry to say that some way or other I was not able to do so.

When last November we left the beautiful city of Kitchener and when we crossed the line Uncle Sam was not willing to welcome us, but after a couple of days in overcoming the difficulties we had a very pleasant journey up to here where we were welcomed by our own people and friends. At the place we are located there are continual mountains. They say that the mountains bring forth a river which supplies irrigation water for an ocean wide plain, which is called St. Jacobs valley. At this place are found all kinds of orchards but the main and chief industry are vineyards producing raisins. This industry is in the hands of the Armenians. It is estimated that in Tulare and Fresno counties there are 15,000 Armenians of whom nearly all are land owners possessing from 10 to 500 acres. This agricultural colony of Armenians has flourished to this day. One man because of his success in raising and selling melons is getting known as the melon king.

The cities and towns here are not connected with street cars as they are up in your district or in the eastern states. The reason for this is because there are more automobiles here than there are chickens in the city of Kitchener. All the highways are paved and the automobiles are swarming all over the land.

We had pretty cold winter, they say it was unusual but at present under the burning sun all kinds of orchards are blossoming, birds are singing, spring chickens growing, bees are swarming, sheep and goats are playing with their young ones and all is well. So far, so good, but after all, Mr. Editor, we are proud to be citizen of the Dominion of Canada. For us Uncle Sam is good but British is better and more than that, there is something which gave us joy and happiness, the fact that there is vanishing the unspeakable Turk, the nightmare of the civilized world. In their place will blossom the peaceful people, the Armenians, and in a very short time will bring back the country to its original shape which used to be the Garden of Eden. Thousands upon thousands of Armenians are anxiously waiting and are ready to return to the country as soon as the way is open and we think we will follow but of course before doing so we must come to and visit our beloved city of Kitchener and live there for a time but how long we do not know.

We are receiving the News Record and enjoying the news. Sometime we feel sorry when we note that some of the prominent citizens are leaving us behind. We are always glad to see the bright side of the city. We wish Mr. Editor, to express our deep appreciation through the columns of your paper to our many friends, to our Methodist folks, and to all others.

I remain yours sincerely,

G. D. Hagopian.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved line of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by A. J. Ross in Kitchener and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nerve stress, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not be used in its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Notice to Automobile Dealers

It is not necessary to lose the sale of a car when a good prospect wants to buy on the part payment down plan. The financing of the notes given by a reliable purchaser is done by the Commercial Credit Co. of Canada, Limited. The financing service rendered by this Company to the automobile dealer enables him to use his capital, which would otherwise be tied up in notes, for extending his business and increasing his sales. This plan of Financing the purchase of Passenger cars, Trucks, etc. increases dealers' sales.

Our service, which involves no expense to the dealer, is fully explained in the booklets and circulars issued. This Company invites fullest investigation. We feel that the more thoroughly one knows the details of our plan the better they will like it.

Our representative will be in Kitchener this week.

Senator Robertson Caused Much Interest Inquiry To Be Made At Early Day

JUDGE MATHERS MAY HEAD COMMISSION Ottawa April 5—Senator Robertson's proposal for the democratization of labor by giving it representation on the boards of big industrial companies and otherwise has caused a considerable flutter in Parliamentary circles. It was expected that there would have been an announcement to-day as to the personnel of the commission but it has not yet been straggled. It is understood that President Best of the C.P.R., who was sought as a member of the commission, is unlikely to act because of the pressing character of his duties. commission. Mr. C. Riordan of the Riordan Pulp Company is spoken of as another member, along with two representatives of labor. The commission will travel around the country look into the situation and make a report. What will then follow is a question. For the Government to legislate, and give effect to any recommendations will involve a constitutional question. Legislation of such a subject as is proposed would come under the head of property and civil rights which is a provincial matter. There is nothing to prevent how ever full federal inquiry into the sub-

Tom Moore of P.M. Draper of the Trades and Labor Congress. Begins New Era.

The announcement regarding the commission to suggest a scheme for labor democratization is hailed as a development of great importance reflective of the advance in public opinion and the new status of labor. The underlying idea is that in the management of certain industries labor should be associated with capital on the principle that the interests of one are identical with those of the other. To what extent this will be applied will be a question upon which the commission after travelling about the country will advise.

The labor situation in Canada it is recognized as in a state of comparative unrest. During the Parliamentary recess, according to one of the ministers, about three-quarters of the time was taken up with labor disputes and demands for improvements as to wages and working conditions. To a limited degree it has been shown that Bolshevism has made its appearance.

In the opinion of the Government the situation cannot be adjusted simply by raising wages, because there is an endless chain of demands and no sooner is one brief agreement ended than another usually on different conditions is sought. Failure to agree has precipitated strikes and while to some extent they were minimized during the war and the process of conciliation has accomplished its purpose, it has been found that it didn't go far enough.

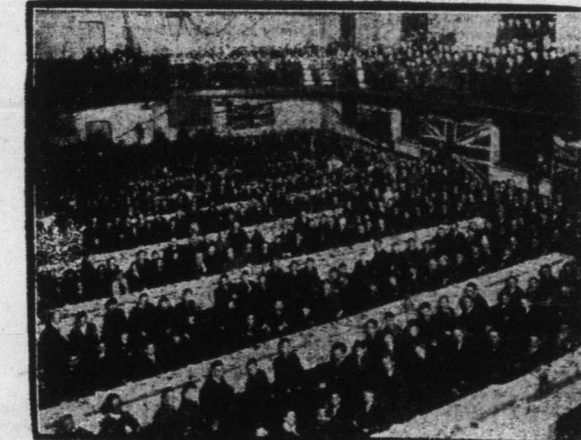

A new plan looking to industrial democracy is, therefore, outlined and substantially along the lines of the Rockefeller plan in the United States. Its advocates have hopes of success from the fact that the representatives of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and labor were able last fall to agree on 12 unifying principles regarding the relation of capital and labor.

The proposal would be regarded as revolutionary but for the fact that in the wake of war most drastic reforms have been suggested and adopted, where heretofore they were never given even a degree of consideration. What the commission now being appointed will advise upon is the feasibility of a plan whereby in the management of industry—particularly co-operated industry the employee as well as the employer shall have a voice and influence in the management of the business. When the report is received the Government will consider the legislation necessary to give effect to it, and the fact that it has to be in by May 15 leads to the conclusion that it will be dealt with this session.

Tax bills will be introduced in New York Legislature for 2 per cent income tax half of 1 per cent personal property tax and an increase from 3 per cent to 4 per cent on tax on corporations.

Women To Be Allowed To Sit in Parliament

ONE OF PROVISIONS OF COMING FRANCHISE ACT.

OTTAWA, April 3.—The new franchise act is unlikely to come down till Sir Robert Borden returns, and only then will its final provisions be considered.

The tentative draft, subject to revision, abolishes the War Times Election Act in name, but perpetuates some of its main provisions for a term of years, particularly as regards the disfranchisement of alien enemies. Draft evaders are also to be banned from the vote. A uniform franchise for women will be established and they will be given the right to sit in Parliament.

The lists would be prepared by Dominion officers rather than by utilizing those of the provinces and municipalities.

CHARGED WITH SMUFFLING.

AMHERSTBURG, April 3.—Roy Kett, Wm. Kett, his cousin, a returned soldier, and Capt. Frank Bernard, all well-known young men of this town, were arrested by a squad of provincial and local police shortly after midnight on Thursday morning as they stepped from a small steam launch here. On board the craft were a cask of wine and keg of whiskey, believed to have been smuggled across the lake from Toledo. The men were arraigned before Justices of the Peace Dr. Fred. Parke, Mayor of Amherstburg, and Police Magistrate Alex. Parke, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

All the men pleaded guilty to the charge and the court imposed fines of $200 and $22.50 each on Capt. Bernard and Roy Kett. In view of the fact that William Kett had seen over three years' service at the front, had been wounded three times and has an excellent record, he was allowed to go after a severe reprimand by the court. Attorney Rodd, of Windsor the launch, which is owned by a local business man and valued at $1,000, was seized by the customs officials.

ISOLDE MENGES STIRS AMERICANS FROM COAST TO COAST

The wonderful young violinist, Isolda Menges, with her Stradivarius and her enormous personality, captured the hearts of Americans in a chain of concerts stretching from coast to coast. She is to appear here in the Roma Theatre on April 9th, and that she will be received with enthusiasm is already indicated by the amount of interest that is being shown in her coming. Isolda Menges and young Heifetz are today the two youngest, but most advanced violinists. The latter has developed the greatest technique displayed in modern times, and Miss Menges is recognized as the best interpretative violinist of the day. Isolda Menges and Heifetz were fellow students in Russia, and both watched each other during their lessons with Professor Leopold Auer.

Wm. H. Anderson, New York head of the Anti-Saloon League says that his organization will not engage in any anti-tobacco movement. Brooklyn N.Y., Board of Education is investigating charges against a teacher of having spread the doctrine of Bolshevism among his pupils.

THE HIPPO BABY

"This Picture Was Made When I Was Just Six Months Old."

I AM six months old today, and I thought I would have my picture taken. Hope you will like it. I ought to be good, as I have just had a bath, finished drinking a gallon of milk, and now I am lying in the sun, so what more could a five-hundred pound youngster ask? My mother thinks I'm pretty whether anybody else does or not, and she ought to know as she has known me ever since I was born. I am so fat and my legs are so short, that when I lie down, I feel just like lying there forever and never getting up anymore. But mother says I must take exercise, or when I'm grown I won't have a graceful form like hers, and that would be awful, wouldn't it? My complexion is a sort of a reddish-pink, and there are millions of tiny bumps all over my skin, that you might think were the measles, but they are not as everybody in our family has them, so just let's call them "beauty spots," and say no more about them. I am very fond of playing in the water, and sometimes I just tumble in the tank, and float and float, with only my eyes and nose showing. There are not many babies that can go to sleep in the bath tub and not get drowned, but I can, and never even try. My mother knows that water is good for me, and lets me play in it as much as I please; and never once since I can remember, has she ever told me not to get my feet wet or I'd be sure to have a cold—whatever that is. Mother and I live in a place they call a Zoo, and there are lots and lots of other animals here besides ourselves. We can't see them all, but when feeding time comes we can certainly hear them. The lions set the air all a-tremble with their deep, throaty roar; the elephants trumpet and blow; the tigers snarl and fuss; the monkeys chatter and scream, while the parrots and other strange birds all talk at once, and altogether, there is such a commotion that I can't hear mother snore. Mother and I don't carry on so when our food is brought, as we know we are going to get it sometime, so what's the use of getting all worked up and in a perspiration about it? In fact, we are rather quiet folks anyway, and don't believe in getting excited over nothing. Sometimes, on moonlight nights, when I can't get to sleep, mother will nuzzle up close, and tell me all about her life before she came here to live—all about the beautiful river in far-away Africa, where she was born; about the tall palm trees that lean over and whisper to their reflection in the water; about the pyramids that have been there ever since the Nile was big enough to crawl by; about the camels that come down to drink, and about the moon that is so wonderfully bright. And when she tells me of all these things, I get right homesick, and wish I could leave this iron cage, and all these queer animal smells, and all the noise, and go back to the dim, quiet river where she lived. But then, if I were to go away, so many little children would be disappointed when they came to the Zoo, and found the cage all empty where the baby hippo used to live, so I guess I'll just make up my mind to stay.

THE JUNIOR COOK

CORNMEAL MUSH

Three cups of water.
Three-quarters teaspoon salt.
Put in a two quart pan and bring to a boil.
Just before the boiling begins, while the bubbles are ready to dance up from the bottom, shake in very slowly:
One cup of yellow cornmeal.
Stir till smooth and then cook for ten minutes over a slow fire.
The success of this cornmeal depends on adding the cornmeal gradually just before the water boils. If done right the mush will be smooth and delicious.
Serve at once with cream and brown sugar.
This makes a nourishing dish for lunch or supper and is very quickly prepared. This amount serves four large dishes.

THE LEGEND OF THE NORTH STAR

THE Ojibway Indians have a legend which tells of how the king of the "little people of the forest" showed the Indians how to find the North Star, the star that never moves.

Once upon a time, long years ago, three Ojibway hunters set out toward a new country to search for meat. For many days they traveled; through forests, across streams and along great barren plains. But though they searched carefully and looked well, as good hunters do, not one bit of meat did they find; not a piece of game did they see.

At last they became so tired that they decided to give up their hunt and to retire, before even though that meant disgrace because of their failure. But when they turned about to go homeward, they found they had lost their way.

For three days they wandered about hunting the lost trail, but all in vain. Their food was gone three days; they had not a drop of water and as rain had fallen in a long time all the brooks were dry and bare.

Footsore, weary, hungry and thirsty, the three hunters at last sat down under the trees, lit their pipes and began to smoke the pipe of hope. They believed that if trouble came to them while they were in the forest they should light their pipes and, as they smoked the smoke towards the trees, the pudwudjinnies, as the little people of the forest were called, would be drawn to them and would come to help them. The Indians had great faith in the help and comfort these pudwudjinnies or tree spirits could give to them.

So the three hunters smoked and asked for help from the pudwudjinnies.

But there was no answer. Slowly the sun sank in the West and the dusk of twilight gathered over the forest. The three disheartened hunters covered their heads with their blankets and began to chant a chant of despair:

"No more shall our wigwams see us.
No more shall we sleep in our homes."
"No more shall we hunt;
Never again shall we go out for food."
"Never again shall we fight;
No more shall we do battle against our foe."
"In this spot shall we stay for ever;
Alas we are forsaken and alone."

Just at that minute a pudwudjinie stuck his head out of a nearby tree and looked at them. He listened to their sad chant; noticed their mournful looks and stepped boldly out of the tree to help them.

"Arise and follow me!" he said cheerfully. "I will help you."
The hunters threw off their blankets and followed him in amazement for they had given up all hope of help. They saw before them a funny, wise little old man, whose hands and face and dress were exactly the color of a tree trunk, and who looked as wrinkled and dried up as a leaf in autumn. But they believed in his power as all Indians of their tribe did so without saying a word, they wrapped their blankets around them and followed him.

He led them through the bushes to where a herd of deer were feeding and then he disappeared.

The hunters killed and ate of the deer and were much refreshed. But as they still had no water they soon sank down again in their weariness and renewed their sad chant.

Again the pudwudjinie appeared from the tree and led them to a spring of clear water, one cup of which put new life into the weary men. They followed the pudwudjinie as he led them through the woods, till they came to the home of the king of the pudwudjinnies, who knew all things even every trail of earth and heaven!

"You should never be lost in the forest," said the king to the hunters. "Behold the star I have set to guide you so that never again need you be hungry and thirsty and lost. Behold!" and he pointed through the trees to the North Star.

"Behold the star and never move! Guide your way by it and never again will you lose the trail!"

He showed the hunters which way to start toward their homes and how to keep the trail by the North Star. And so the hunters reached their homes in safety and taught all good Ojibway hunters the secret of how to guide by the North Star as taught by the king of the pudwudjinnies.

"You Didn't Know Your Shoes Were Part Of A Horse Or Cow, Either Did You?" Asked Martin.

A PAIR OF SHOES

GOING down to the shoemaker's shop was almost as much fun for Jamie as reading that fairy tale about the elves and the cobbler, who was a shoemaker, too, you know. There were such mysterious-looking nails and odd-shaped pieces of leather with cleanly-cut edges lying around, and wheels that made such funny noises! The shoemaker himself was strange-looking, old and bent, probably from leaning over thousands of scuffed shoes belonging to boys now grown into men. When he raised his eyes from his work, they twinkled from out his white eyebrows in quite a pleasing way, and he didn't care a bit if Jamie asked questions in things and asked questions. So, of course, Jamie considered him one of his best friends.

One morning Jamie's mother said, "Oh dear! Your shoes need mending again! Take them down to old Martin's and see what he can do with them."

When Jamie got to the shoemaker's little shop old Martin was blackening the soles of a shoe that he had just finished. "Howdy, Jamie," he said, putting the shoe up on a shelf where many others stood in prim rows awaiting their owners. "Shoe need mending again?"

"Yes," Jamie said. "Well, sit down and I'll tell you a story about them. I've got plenty of time today."

Jamie was delighted. He had wanted to know how shoes were made for a long time, and had asked old Martin, but Martin was a busy man, and never before had he had time to do anything except pound and pound with only a word or two between pounds.

First old Martin took a sharp knife and ripped off the worn sole as quick as a wink. "My, they wear out quick, don't they?" Jamie said.

"Yes, but they'd wear out quicker if they weren't preserved," the shoemaker said.

"Preserved?" Jamie laughed. "I never heard of preserved shoes!"

"You didn't know your shoes were part of a horse or cow, either, did you?" asked Martin.

"What part?" Jamie wanted to know.

"The skin or hide," said the old man. "That's what leather is made from."

"Tell me about it!" begged Jamie.

"Well, first the hides are salted to keep them from spoiling. Then they are taken to a place called a tannery. There they are split into two halves called sides and soaked in borax water to loosen the hair and any flesh that has stuck to them. A machine scrapes it all off. Then they are tanned or preserved."

"What with—sugar?" Jamie asked, thinking of strawberry preserves.

"No, with the bark and roots of different kinds of trees, or with a mixture of chemicals. That keeps them from rotting and makes them wear longer."

"Oh, I see. Preserved means to keep good, doesn't it?" My, Martin, that sole comes off easy! What's it stuck on the shoe with?" Jamie asked.

"Cement and thread," said Martin. "See what heavy leather it is made of. That leather has been pounded hard by a machine to make it solid. This sole is called the outsole and is the last thing to be put on the shoe. After the rest of the shoe is made the outsole is cemented on with rubber cement, then pressed down by one machine and sewed by another. Do you see this little extra piece of leather that goes all around the shoe beginning with the heel?"

Jamie nodded.

"That is the welt, and is put only on good shoes. When one doesn't have it, it's called a cheap shoe. It is made of leather. Guess you need new heels, too," the old man said, ripping the old run-down ones off.

"How funny it looks!" Jamie cried. "What's that short piece of leather in the middle?"

"That's the shank, and under the ball of the foot there is a filling of ground cork and more rubber cement," the shoemaker told him. He lifted up the shank a little. "What do you see?" he asked.

"Why, there is another sole there! Is that?"

"That is the insole," Martin said. "The welt is sewed to that by a machine that doesn't stitch all the way through. Feel how nice and smooth it is inside."

machine doesn't make any mistakes. After the uppers are cut the linings are put in and the parts sewed together.

"How do the eyelets get in so nice and even?" Jamie asked.

"Another machine puts them in both sides of the upper at the same time so quick you can hardly see it. The upper is laced together by another machine to keep it in place while the soles and heels are put on."

"What are the heels made of?" Jamie asked.

"Sometimes of wood, but usually of layers of leather cemented together." All the time old Martin was talking he was cutting and pounding, and Jamie's shoes were beginning to look like shoes again.

"Another machine tucks the leather in nice and neat after it is put on a last."

"What is a last?" Jamie asked.

"One of these things shaped like a foot," Martin explained, taking Jamie's shoe off of one. "Then several tacks are driven into the upper to hold it down tight, but they are taken out afterwards, except the one at the heel which go all the way through and are smoothed down on the inside."

"My, it takes an awful lot of machines to make a pair of shoes, doesn't it?" Jamie said.

"Yes, fifty-eight of them. And it goes through one hundred and six pairs of hands before it is done."

"When?" Jamie whistled. "When ever thought of so many machines?"

"A man named Lyman Blake, of Massachusetts, invented the first machine for making shoes, I guess, but was known as the McKay Machine for another man, Gordon McKay, bought it just before the Civil War and spent lots of money on it trying to improve it. So a good many machines of the shoe-making machine that are used now. The ones that make warts have been used only since about 1892—about 25 years."

He smoothed the edges of Jamie's shoes on a wheel that made the dust fly, and picked-up the blacking bottle.

"I wonder who the first shoemaker was, Martin," said Jamie, watching him.

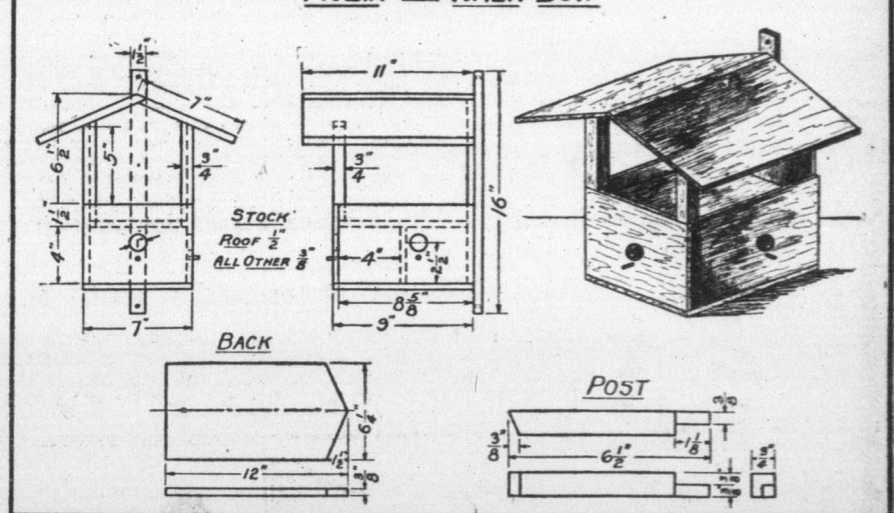

"I don't know, but I guess there have been shoemakers ever since there have been people, Jamie. Folk had to protect their feet from stones or the cold with some kind of shoe in some countries now they wear sandals made of leather or wood or straw. Don't you think you are a lucky boy to have such nice shoes on these to wear?" old Martin asked, handing Jamie his shoes that were almost as good as new.

"You bet I am," said Jamie, as he paid the shoemaker for them. "Thank you, Martin, for fixing my shoes, and for the story about them, too."

TOYS AND USEFUL ARTICLES THAT A BOY CAN MAKE.

BY FRANK I. SOLAR
INSTRUCTOR, DEPT. OF MANUAL TRAINING, PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF DETROIT

ROBIN AND WREN BOX

TWO YEARS ago a little wren built a nest in the eaves of a garage. Not long after the bungalow was fastened in place a family of wrens discovered it and began building their nest. About the time the nest was finished along came Mr. Robin and planted his large nest right on top of the bungalow roof.

This prompted the designing of the combination house shown in the drawing, which was put up in place of the bungalow and inhabited by two families.

It is said that wrens will hatch twice in one season if conditions are favorable, and that they start building the second nest after the young are about ready to leave the first. For this reason the bottom was partitioned off making two compartments so Mr. Wren could stay at home, busy himself building the second nest, while Mrs. Wren was sitting on the first.

Material can be obtained from a pine shoe box. A shoe box is suggested because the material is about the thickness desired and the lumber dressed so very little planing is necessary.

Get out the back according to the details on the back drawing. Cut to the line and not on it, then carefully plane to the line, splitting it.

Make the side pieces $\frac{3}{4}$ " x $\frac{1}{2}$ " x $\frac{3}{4}$ ", and on one side only locate and bore the 1" hole. If you have not a bit this size it may be cut with a knife. Do not make the hole larger than the dimension given as the hole for a wren should not be larger than a silver quarter.

The front is $\frac{3}{4}$ " x $\frac{1}{2}$ " x $\frac{3}{4}$ " and has the same sized hole bored in the center. The center can be located by the intersection of diagonals drawn from corner to corner.

Assemble the parts already made with 1" No. 16 brads, the construction can be learned from the isometric drawing. Next fit and brad the floor in place.

The partition is $\frac{3}{4}$ " x $\frac{1}{2}$ " x $\frac{3}{4}$ ", and can be fastened to the floor and sides by brads. Next make the floor $\frac{3}{4}$ " x

7" x 5". It should be fastened in place by screws or hinges and a lock, so it can be removed at the end of each season and the old nest cleaned out. The robins will use the old nest often, making some repairs.

The box ends are usually made of $\frac{3}{4}$ " stock and this can be used for the posts, which are next braded in place to support the roof. If $\frac{1}{2}$ " stock is not at hand $\frac{3}{4}$ " may be used for the roof and support which should be well fastened to the back.

Perches are not necessary, but if added for appearance, do not make longer than $\frac{3}{4}$ " as sparrows will light on them and bother Jenny Wren. The box may be covered with bark, twigs or painted gray, white or brown.

Part of Equipment Arrived

The first amusement game apparatus to arrive for the summer park at Bridgeport is the Shooting Gallery, one of the best that is made. It reached here yesterday. Nothing like it has been seen in the city.

A Speeding Charge

A charge of speeding on King Street at 3:25 p.m. was answered by Mr. F. Querin on the police court docket this morning. He stated he was not on the street at the hour claimed by Sgt. Grasser. It might have been 4:25 o'clock. The defendant also pointed out that the number of the car as taken by the officer was not his. The Magistrate reviewing the facts, concluded a case had been established and assessed the autoist five dollars.

Going in Business Again

Mr. Con. Thiel has started business again, his ambitious now being staked in another of his amusements for the public, it being a shooting gallery. He stated that it might be ready by some time next week. He was at one time the owner of Mr. Querin's poolroom.

A Nuptial Event Delayed

A little interesting romance has been revealed. The parties are a local young man, claiming to be twenty-two years of age, and a Listowel girl, fifteen years. At present they are guests at the Coombe's home in Hespeler pending investigation of the motives which were responsible for their adventure.

The parents claim that the daughter left home and ran away with the male escort against their objections. The girl claims she had good reasons for being dissatisfied. The two registered in a Listowel hotel under their own names, beginning their journey which was to end in a honeymoon after getting married. They arrived here. Soon the father followed and the trouble started.

The Juvenile Court are looking into the case.

More Have Had to Be Refused

"Everything is going nicely, in fact so well that not nearly all the applications for space can be received, as I have pointed out on a previous occasion," Mr. G. O. Philip said when the conversation had to do with the coming automobile show in the city. "I regret to state that we had to cancel six tractors, four trucks and sixteen car exhibits on account of not having space and the fact that the expense of putting up a big tent at the side of the auditorium would be too great an expense. At least three of the largest accessory companies will exhibit. Up to the present, it is known, the exhibit value $250,000. Rooms already are being secured at the hotels for people coming to the exhibit and many letters coming in asking for information.

Preston Resident Passed away

The death occurred at Preston of Levi Hagey in his 74th year. Deceased had been a life long resident of Preston. He died on the farm on which he was born. Deceased had been in poor health for some time, but was not taken seriously ill until a short while ago. The cause of death was due to heart trouble and old age. Deceased on his younger days assisted his father on the large farm just at the top of the Krees Hill and which was known to all the farmers in Waterloo County as the Hagey farm. After the death of his father, many years ago, he purchased the farm and conducted the same until about 15 years ago, when he retired from active work. He disposed of the farm on to Mr. James Wood, but reserved a portion of it on which he erected a handsome residence, and spent the past number of years in leisure.

He was of a very pleasant disposition and had many friends who will mourn with the family in the loss of a devoted husband, father and friend. Those who are left to mourn his loss besides his widow are two daughters, Mrs. James Woolner of Kitchener, and Mrs. William Graham of Galt. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, Krees Hill to the Preston cemetery for interment.

Perth County Council Postponed. Adjournment of the County Council at Stratford yesterday was forced after a long debate on the question of a District Agricultural Representative and with calls for division being made. Councillor Armstrong moved the adjournment, claiming that the motion for the appointment of a District Representative was out of order. It is said the motion most likely would have carried had it been put, as several of the Councillors were absent. The Warden, however, upheld Councillor Armstrong's objection and announced the adjournment. In the afternoon the advocates of a District Representative having gone home, advantage was taken and a resolution put through delaying the matter till election next January, when a vote is to be taken.

TORONTO BALL NOTES.

A Toronto summary says: Backstops, big and little, amateur and other, are ambitious of trying out with the Leafs will be made welcome by Manager Gibson next week at the Island. The local club is short on catchers, but long on pitchers, and "Mooney" has written to President McCaffery requesting him to issue an invitation to local and letters.

Russell Gee, the hard hitting and fast footed youth who caught with the Park Nine last season, is particularly wanted, but according to reports, Tom Benson's protegee is angling with "Jo Jo" Keenan, of London, and will not be available. In any event Gee at present is in Midland, and will not be available. It "Red" Fisher fails to answer the call, as has been announced—Gibson will have to do all the catching himself unless some volunteers present themselves. It is the intention of the local club to play half a dozen exhibition games during the spring training, and it is likely that the team will visit London before the regular season opens.

Harry Taylor and Jack White have been engaged as umpires for the "warming up" games. White is the old-time Toronto player, who is associated with "B" O'Hara in a business way. He has all the requisites of a good umpire, and President Fultz would do worse than to give him a trial on his staff.

"Billy Christall, manager of the Bay City team in the Michigan-Ontario league, is expected to arrive in the city today to start active plans for moulding his team for the coming season. Christall went to London, Ontario, last Sunday to represent the local club at the schedule meeting, and since then has been scouting around for players. When he reports here he will probably have a lot of promising material signed up.—The Bay City Times Tribune.

The next meeting of the Michigan-Ontario league managers will be held at Bay City at the week-end when final plans preparatory to the start of the season will be made. The plan of holding the meetings in different cities of the circuit seems to meet with general approval.

George Kennedy manager of the Canadian Hockey Club who was reported ill in Seattle with influenza, is reported to be much worse in a letter to his wife yesterday. Mrs. Kennedy has left for Seattle. Mr. Kennedy wants to get back to Montreal with the other members of the Canadian team, now sick in Seattle and a special train may be chartered to convey them home.

The owners of the Hamilton Arena, who are now making plans to build a new arena, are very anxious to break into pro hockey and they may be taken into the N.H.L.

Ralph De Palma's contribution to the Denver Auto Motive Show was a trip in his aviation motor twin six Packard at the rate of one hundred and twenty miles an hour, down a city street bordered by 30,000 people. The intrepid Italian and his Packard took the cross walks at the speed of 95 miles an hour, and attained their peaks at 120 miles an hour in the short stretches between. The champion adjoined unique record for maximum speed on a city street, and Denver made one for suspending police regulations.

Shag After Some Ex-Ottawa Players.

It is likely that three or more members of the Ottawa team, which won the pennant for Ottawa in the Canadian League, will figure on the Hamilton team this year. While in Hamilton Shagnessy announced that he was in touch with the best of his players of that year, and thought that they would be glad to come to Hamilton. He also has a line on two players recommended by Hughey Jennings, and claims that Hamilton will have an infield that will compare with any in the circuit. He will not be here until the middle of the month, but he is keeping his wires busy mustering a team and thinks that he will have plenty of good talent when the training season opens.

Two or three good amateurs have been recommended to him, among others being Paddy Sullivan, the crack second basemen, of the Twentieth Century club team, but Patrick prefers to remain in the amateur ranks and would not consider an offer to turn professional.

W. F. A. MEETING IN STRATFORD ON APRIL 15TH.

At a meeting of the executive of the Western Ontario Football Association held in Galt yesterday afternoon an invitation to hold the annual Good Friday meeting of the association at Stratford was presented by N. K. Fiebig and was accepted. The meeting will open at 10.30 a.m.

It was decided to circulate all athletic associations, colleges, high schools and Y. M. C. A.'s, inviting them to organize and enter the league. It was reported that prospects for the association this summer were exceptionally encouraging, a number of the entries having already been received in addition to numerous enquiries.

MOST OF ONTARIO GOLFERS NOSED OUT.

Pinehurst, N.C., April 3.—Irving S. Robinson, the North and South champion, was put out of the running by Ned Beall of Uniontown in to-day's second match round of the title tournament.

It was a bad day for the Ontario contingent. Ralph King of Toronto was the only one to come through to the semi-finals, and he won his match by the default of his opponent, J. W. Mitchell of Lambton, Toronto; Edward Seagram of Waterloo; R. S. Dilworth of Lambton and C. E. Abbs of Scarborough, Toronto, lost their matches.

Two babies and their parents were swept out to sea by last week's storm aboard a barge were rescued by a minesweeper off Sandy Hook, N.Y.
