of Carbolic Acid.

New York, July 17.—Willie Atlee, 8 months old, lived with his grandmother, Mrs. McLoughlin, and his Aunt Aunie on West Sixty-seventh street. Lately he had been peevish, and a soothing mixture for him was in the ice-box.

Yesterday Mrs. McLoughlin purchased a bottle of diluted carbolic acid for a hair tonic. This the servant saw on a table, and she placed it in the ice-box. At about midnight Willie, who slept with his aunt, aroused her by his restlessness. She called to her mother to get a spoonful of medicine, at the same time telling where it was kept. Mrs. Mc-Loughlin measured out the required dose in the dark, and returning to the halilighted bedroom, gave it to the child. The moment Willie took it in his mouth he

Mrs. McLoughlin had given him carbolic

Willie's aunt realized that something was wrong with the dose, and tried to snok the poison from his mouth. Her lips were badly burned, and she accomplished nothing for his relief. Dr. King, who lives in the same house, was summoned, but Willie had been fatally burned. He died in two hours.

No excuse was given by Miss Hueston except that Baker swore at her and jerked her arm as he met her at the door. The wedding was indefinitely postponed.

The people of the village of Belmont and surrounding country are very much exercised over the financial difficulties which have compelled Adam Alliston, private banker and grain buyer of that village, to make an assignment. Mr. Alliston has done, in the last few years, a very large and widely-extended business, and if his affairs are in the condition reported the effect of his assignment will be far extending. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market."

THE WORKER'S REST-TIME. The speech of Mr. Charlton, M.P., on the observance of the Sabbath, delivered in the House of Commons last month, has been reprinted in pamphlet form. The question is discussed with reference to the day as a civil Sabbath only. In the opinion of a great number of men, eminent not only in religion but in politics and science, it is a crime to deprive man of his day of rest against his will. The story is told of a college professor, who, calling some students to account for hazing their fellow-students, said: "Do you know that this conduct of yours is displeasing to God? It is, and furthermore I will not stand it." With regard to depriving man of his rest it is certain that it is not only displeasing to God, but that man himself ought not to stand it. Such a bill as that under consideration is demanded not only by the Christian sentiment of the country, but it is demanded in the interest of labor, and in the interest of the employer of labor. After quoting the opinions of various Catholic and Protestant author-ties on the subject Mr. Charlton gives the of jurists and labor organizations all inlorsing the Sabbath as a political institution. Mr. T. V. Powderly, chief of the Knights of Labor, and Henry George are strongly in favor of Sunday rest. Thirtyone railway managers, in response to circulars or letters issued by the Sunday rest promoters gave it as their opinion that Sunday railway traffic was totally unnecessary, that it might with every advantage to the public and without organizations all inlorsing the Sabbath as a political institution. Mr. T. V. Powderly, chief of the

Mr. Charlton is to be complimented or

HOPEFUL VIEW FOR THE FARMER. world's food-consuming population to the production of food, especially grain, has hensive and thorough study by Mr. C. Wood Davis, whose contributions to the reviews and agricultural papers have attracted widespread attention. He shows that while bread-eating populations' have increased more than 60,000,000, or 15 per cent., as against an increase in the wheat creage (any part of the product of which finds its way into the channels of commerce) of but 2.3; while the productive power has acreased less than 2 per cent, owing to the reduction of the productive area of Britain as against an increase in less productive regions. With regard to growing populaions we find that by the recent census India shows an increase since 1881 of 29,000,000, and though they eat largely of ADVERTISER PRINTING CO'Y, rice, millet, etc., yet it is said that 89 per cent. of the wheat product is consumed at home. Besides this is consumed at home. Besides this for such vast increases in population food from some source must come, and whether rice or wheat it matters but little. Furthermore, a reputable writer in the English

Furthermore, is it not the case that, with the spread of Christian civilization, the decrease of wars and death-dealing plagues and epidemics, population will increase with still greater strides? Of this proposition India is a signal proof.

If the pinch is not already on, he asks, how is it with the European product for the harvest of 1890, greater 70,000,000 bushels than the average of the past ten years, and that of the world greater by 50,000,000, that the price is ately so much higher than during recent

WHAT THE "ADVERTISER" THINKS ABOUT IT.

Among the things which mystify readers of books or papers about electricity are the names of the units by which electric currents are measured. A certain horse power is something that can be calcu lated or guessed at, but the constant recurrence in works of electricity of volt, ohm, ampere and coulomb is bewildering It is some relief to know that these four words represent simply the names of so nany eminent electricians-Alexander Volta, an Italian; George Simon Ohm, born and bred in Germany; and two Frenchmen, Andre-Marie Ampere and Charles Augustin Coulomb.

A DRY season prevailed previous to Monday last, on which day in about a score of places drums were beaten vigorously and almost unceasingly throughout the day. Scientists tell us that concussion will bring rain, and the fact that rain did come generally and in great abundance on Tuesday morning, verifies the theory of the scientists! Hereafter, when drought prevails too long a remedy may be resorted to; and the effect will doubt less be the same if each individua drummer does his thumping at home as if they congregate together in stated places to vie with each other in feats of agility and strength.

The Western Fair office is a busy place Committees are actively at work in the direction of making the Great Western the exhibition of the year. Correspondence is rolling in, and everything indicates that the exposition of 1891 will, if possible, eclipse its predecessors. A great deal of attention is wisely being given to special attractions. Cowboys and Indians will depict wild Western life in all its startling reality. Balloon ascensionists, including a daring woman have contracted to make thrilling aerial voyages. Crack marksmer will exhibit their skill with the rifle, and with the rain with the rain, and renowned jugglers will puzzle thousands with their mysterious feats. A cross-cut sawing exhibition will be given daily in front of the grand stand, and many other novelties will afford recreation for the multitudes of visitors.

Negotiations are now in progress with Jamaica authorities with a view to securing the splendid Ontario exhibit at the great Jamaica fair for the Western. It secured, this will be a rare addition to the always interesting display.

The American Shorthorn Breeders' Asso

This has been supplemented by the Western Fair Association, which offers $50 for solid light and the state of the second s Western Fair Association, which offers $50 for a similar match open to any breed.

Dr. Shaw, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, has kindly offered the services of his able assistant, Mr. C. A, Zavitz, to conduct the dairy tests.

In the main building, in the machinery hall, and in all the agricultural departments the displays will be marvels of immensity and excellence. Long live the Western Fair!

Mod's Sarsaparilla tones the isomach, creates an appetite, promotes healthy signath, creates an appetite, promotes healthy digestion, relieves sick headache, clears the mind, and cures the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia. Read the following:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. Hou's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced. It relieved me of that faint, tired, all-gone feeling. I have felt so much better since I took Houd's Sarsaparilla, that I am happy to recommend it." G. A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

He was astonished at the arguments which had been advanced to show that the National Policy had improved the country would be flooded with agricultural products from the United States if we had reciprocity even in natural products; that we would suffer from this as we had suffered from the influx of American manufactured goods before the National Policy was imposed. The member for Huron quoted strictions of the loss of ballot boxes for taking evidence by the returning officer, and in case of the loss of ballot boxes for taking evidence by the returning officer, and necessary machinery was provided for getting an order from the Superior Court judge compelling a County Court judge to make a recount where the aggrieved party was entitled to it.
