The Veteran Ontario Statesman to the Electors of North Oxford.

Why He Has Entered the Dominion Arena at This Time,

A Tribute to His Late Colleagues and

Good Advice to the People. Woodstock, July 24.-Sir Oliver Mowat has addressed a letter to his late constituents in North Oxford in which 216 Dundas St., London, Ont. he refers to his long connection of 23 years with the riding as its member and as Premier of Ontario. He continues: "Provincial honors more than contented me as far as honors were con-cerned, and I had the satisfaction of knowing that my position afforded me the opportunity (of which I availed myself to the best of my ability) of rendering some service to my native province, in assisting to settle some important questions of great difficulty, and in devising and carrying out the measures for the development of the answers, however, are not yet in. As my memory recalls what has been done by the Reform Government and Reform Legislature during the last quarter of a century, it adds greatly to my satisfaction to know that the people of North Oxford appreciated the course of my colleagues and myself in the government of the country and the direction of its Legislature, and that there has always been thorough sympathy between the Liberals riding and myself in regard to public affairs. It is on the support and favor of the Reformers that I have relied, but it gives me pleasure to know that many Conservatives also have shown towards me their good "For many years suggestions had occasionally been made that I should leave the Provincial service and enter the field of Federal politics; and un-til the last few months I answered every such suggestion in the negative. But some weeks before the election campaign which has just terminated so happily, the change was urged upon me by some of the chiefs of the Liberal party and by bers. They made it manifest to me that my entry into Dominion politics was the general wish of the narty and of those who had its confidence, and in view of the arguments and opinions they presented to me, I felt that are a public mee. I felt that the meet of the public that, as a public man, I could not refuse to accede to the general wish. I therefore agreed to make the plunge, though I did so with reluctance, be-cause of my age and of considerations personal to myself and family. The plunge has been made, but, though I have now ceased to be your repreentative in the Provincial Legislature, I shall never cease to feel a warm interest in the people of North Oxford. My thoughts hereafter are to be given to the affairs of the whole Dominion; but it is a comfort to me to know that in doing any good to Canada as a whole, I shall be doing good to Ontario as one of its provinces, and to that county of Ontario with which my name has for so many years been associated. "There are so many residents of your riding who would make able. faithful and useful members of the Provincial Legislature that you may have some difficulty in making a selection amongst them. I hope that in the interest of the Liberal party and the country, whoever is selected will receive the unanimous support of the Liberal electors. It gives me pleasure to know that my successor in the representation of the riding will certainly be of the same political faith as myself, and that he and I shall be brothers in Oxford Liberalism, though we shall be working in different fields. "Now that I am leaving the Pro-vincial Government I have the satisfaction of leaving it in the hands of the esteemed associates to whose House when he struck town. He signability and patriotism has been largely due the success of my Premiership, and who may be relied on to carry out its traditions faithfully and ably. The two new members are able and reliable Reformers, and are familiar with provincial affairs. They have for several terms rendered good service as private members and they will give increased strength to the administration, and therein to the cause of good government in the province. The Legislature happily contains several such men-men quite equal to the duties of cabinet positions and who will occupy such positions in the future if they remain in public life until their turn comes, as I hope they

Charles Brown Says He Saw Brane

Do the Deed, The Accused Man Strongly Protests His Innocence.

Halifax, July 24.-There are no new theories in the Herbert Fuller triple tragedy. The police are apparently satisfied that Mate Brane was the perpetrator, and that there will be lit-tle difficulty in fastening the crime on him. Brane has been recognized by several parties, who knew him in New York and elsewhere. It is said that some person, while conversing with Brane, remarked that Brown said he saw Brane kill the captain. To this

Brane replied: "He could not see me kill him." There seems to be a growing belief that others besides Thomas Brane, the mate, who is the one chiefly suspected of being the murderer, must be implicated in the affair, and from incidents that have come to light the possibility that a well-matured plan to seize the schooner and sell it to the Cubans had been completed before the vessel sailed from Boston, seems well founded. It has been learned that Monks, the passenger on board the Herbert Fuller, received a direct intimation that he had better not make his proposed trip on that vessel, but whether or not the warning came from the mate is not positively known. Charles Brown, who was at the wheel on the night of the murder, says that when looking down the companion-way while at the wheel, he saw the mate killing the captain with an axe.

The axe was found covered with blood, and was thrown overboard for many representatives and other mem- | fear it might be used a second time. In an interview Mate Brane said: "I having done it, but I am as certain that he is a murderer as I stand here. It could be no other. I could not kill a man or woman; it is not in me. You need not say I have done this in a fit of insanity; that is impossible. I am wrongly accused, and if I suffer, it will be for the crime of another man. He is putting it on me to save him-self; he may be able to do to me what I cannot do to him. The public think I am the man, but they are It looks hard against me, but by the Police.

F. A. Hastings Captured at Sarnia

Hired a London Horse and Rig and Did Not Come Back-Sold the Animal at Strathroy and Hired Another.

Mr. J. Young, liveryman, now regrets the visit of F. A. Hastings, & man who called on Wednesday afternoon to hire a rig for a few hours. He got the rig, and Mr. Young has seen neither Hastings nor the rig since, Hastings put up at the Fraser ed the name Hastings, and to some gentlemen there, and to Mr. Young, he represented himself to be agent for a binder which bound grain with its own straw. He is a man of about 40 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, smooth shaven and hair inclined to be gray. He wore a black dress suit day last, and worked Forbes for a rig in the same way. When in Seaforth he talked about electric lamp. The police there now think he is more than a talker, and the London police authorities are sure of it. He put up in Seaforth under the name of Mc-Cann, and secured the rig under the name of Scott. The horses were bays in each case and the vehicles were top buggies. At 10 o'clock this morning the London police were notified that the man had traded the buggy for a cart before he reached Strathroy, getting so much to boot. He disposed of Mr. Young's horse at Strathroy, and immediately went to Watford, where he hired another horse and rig. drove to Sarnia, where the authorities were on the look-out for him, and soon landed him in the cells. have no doubt that the man intended to dispose of the horse and rig that he hired at Watford also.

Hastings will be tried at Sarnia on the charge of stealing the Watford horse. The detectives are busily engaged in trying to locate the outfit stolen from Forbes at Seaforth.

LONDON VS. GENESEO. There was no sting in the defeat of the Alerts yesterday. The college boys from Geneseo, N. Y., are such modest, well-behaved boys that no one begrudged them their victory. the bags. No fewer than nine Alerts were left on bases. Hynd had his eye on the ball. In the first inning he drove the pigskin to the right field for a homer, and in the seventh made for a homer, and in the seventh made gathered from the following table: a triple. He and Mertsch did most of the batting. The score: ALERTS.

Windsor, Ont., July 24.-Popular sympathy does not appear to be with the men, who, on Tuesday night, rethat Watts intended to kill his son duced the homes of three families to ashes because they were employed by the Cameron Road Company to collect toll at Essex, Maidstone and Old-castle. At Oldcastle two old women were the toll takers. They were turned out of their home on a ment's notice and it was burned down t was the work of one large gang, It started at Essex, and drove in rigs to Maidstone and Oldcastle. At Essex an immense crowd witnessed the affair. The toll takers would have fired on the assailants only for fear of being lynched. The men had their faces blackened, but wore no other disguise. The investigation will be conducted by the coroner, who may lay information before a police magistrate, and thus bring the suspected to trial. The gates are owned by the Talbot Street Gravel Road Company, which is really the Cameron estate.

London, Friday, July 24.

The United States pays $7,000 a day, all the year round, for imported eggs. A considerable portion of the supply is sent from Canada.

A student of the names of the successful pupils in the London Collegiate Institute entrance examinations must reach the conclusion that even in higher education our school system is a pretty democratic institution. All classes and conditions of the people of London are represented in the list printed in another column of today's "Advertiser." The question remains, of course, whether our system of education is as practical as it might be.

A. W. Ross, ex-Conservative M. P. for Lisgar, and recognized as a leader, when asked by the Toronto World about the present position of the party, gave utterance to this remarkable sentiment: "The party had run to seed, and the men in the Administration, outside of Sir Charles, represented no one but themselves-nothing but a that while this $6,000 for absolutely selfish principle. A contemporary calls our attention to a mistake arising from a similarity of names which occurred in the recent article in the "Advertiser" with regard to the big new oil deal for the control of the output in Europe and America, and indeed throughout the world. The old-world Nobels are not related to the well-known Noble family of Petrolea, but are Russians. This is the only point in the remarkable statemen? published in these columns which our contemporary assails. Yet it foolishly speaks of it as a "stab" at the Petrolea

The "Advertiser" gave this news just as it printed the news that negotiations had been in progress to sell out the entire oil industry of Canada to an old-world syndicate. We have no interest in concealing the facts about the oil or any other industry.

The Q. Cs.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto World says.

"In connection with the proposed cancellation of the recently-appointed Queen's counsel it may be pointed late Government. Students of Ontario politics know well that Sir Oliver Mowat has all along contended authorities and not in the Federal authorities, but no action was ever eral Government has for years been is a great season for the speculator. nominating Queen's counsel, and a few years ago Sir Oliver did the and there the matter rested. One of the reasons, therefore, which have led the Minister of Justice to mmend the rescinding of the order-in-council is the point for which he has all along contended.' It is not yet certain that Sir Oliver Mowat has recommended the cancellation of the Messrs. Haggart and Sir Oliver has not so expressed himself. If the list is cancelled it is not likely that the ground stated by the correspondent will be assumed. As head of the Ontario Government, Sir Oliver appointed Queen's counsel. He believed that his Government had a perfect right to do so. But we have never heard that he disputed the right of the late Dominion Government to follow suit.

The origin of the system of appointing Queen's counsel is interesting. Primarily, Queen's or King's counsel were appointed by the English sovereign from among the more eminent and learned professors of law in the king. dom. The King or Queen was in the habit of summoning these men annually to Westminster, to meet the sovereign and the representatives of the people, and give whatever advice was necessary for the proper interpretation wowadays Queen's counsel are not so oned they have never been selieved of the duty. In Canada, the title of Queen's counsel is one of courtesy, and ought to be, if it is not, placed on the same high plane as is the title in England. The privileges of a Queen's counsel in this country entitle him to precedence over a barrister when he appears in court, to wear a silk gown, thetead of one of the ordinary stuff, and to carry a red brief bag as a distinguishing mark. The appointments to the bench of the Supreme Court are always made from the ranks of the Queen's counsel.

As to the right of appointment in Canada, jurisdiction can fairly be claimed for both the Dominion and the Provincial authorities. Queen's counsel appointed by the Dominion Government ought to be eminent lawyers. capable of rendering assistance whenever called on to the Minister of Justice. Queen's counsel designated by President and the Provincial authorities, still following out the British idea, ought to be men learned in the law, able and willing to aid the Attorney-General, the supreme legal authority in the Province, in all matters coming under his jurisdiction. Looked at in this light, there is no clashing of authority, and the Queen's counsel appointed at Ottawa may be called upon to act as Queen's counsel for the Provinces and

The British Isles Would Resemble a Besieged Town

In Case of War and Blockade - More Vulnerable Than a Century Ago.

London, July 24 .- A good deal of attention has been attracted to a pamphlet, which has just been issued, by a French naval officer named Duboc, on the vulnerability of Great Britain. The English, according to his estimation, possess 72 ironclads, and 202 ships of less importance, to say nothing of the torpedo boats. Admitting that the Triple Alliance remained neutral, and that France was able to join her navy to that of Russia, the combined fleets do not amount to more than 79 ironclads and 97 light cruisers. If Germany, Austria and Italy were to intervene in favor of England, which would probably be the case, the inferiority of the Franco-Russian forces would be as five against eight, without taking into account the important fact that England at Gibraltar, Malta, Suez, Singapore and elsewhere is mistress of the world. Under those conditions, if the junction of the French and Russian navies was not made before the declaration of war, it would be impos-M. Duboc then points to the weak Secondly, agrito two and a half acres); today she has not got more than 560 hectares, consumes. Hence, in 1887 she was forced to import food products to the colossal sum of 3,300,000,000 francs ($660,000,000). In 1895 this sum rose to 6,900,000,000 francs. M. Duboc insists that the main damage done to England in the last one object in making a treaty suping privateers was by no means for humanity's sake, but for the object of preventing the annihilation of British merchant ships.

He also insists that it is not only as regards food products that England is vulnerable; her situation is equally wool and cottons are necessary. During the civil war in America, when the blockade was in full force, Britportion of 1.40 per cent, and thousands of workmen had to be kept from starvation by the Government. What would the situation be if, to the closing of the factories and the dearth of food, were added the cessation of the maritime commerce? The pamphlet concludes as follows-a literal trans-

"I want to show that in respect to the production of provisions of all kinds, England is today twenty times more vulnerable than she was a century ago. With regard to her industry a curious economical fact may be mentioned, viz., that commerce does not always go back to the road which it has deserted. After the war of secession the American flag did not succeed in reconquering the prosperity it enjoyed previous to 1860, though it is over 30 years since peace was restored, yet the effects of the deeds These figures are interesting, but in felt in the great American republic American corsairs are still opoly of manufactures, as she did 80 years ago. They are now to be found in all parts of the world, and the day when the English are at war the commands will be confided to other manufacturers. Who knows if they will ever return to the Thames or the Mersey? To resume, the most vulnerable point of England, in spite of her great fighting navy, is her mari-time commerce. By attacking it, or even only threatening it, the English would receive a terrible blow from which they would perhaps never re-But to do this, small cover. rapid cruisers, armed with one or two guns, are necessary. These are the sort of privateers to be of use. Today England, so strong by her riches, so powerful by her navy, holds a great place in the councils of nations; maritime empires disappear in a short time. Carthage also reigned over the sea, and Holland has filled history with accounts of her naval victories, but where are they now?

Another National Democratic Convention May Be Called

Bryan's Supporters Dominate the Populist Convention,

Principal Planks of the Populist Platform.

Tammanyites Indorse the Candidacy of Bryan and Sewall.

Chicago, July 24.-After a long debate, a resolution was adopted by the Democratic conference yesterday that it was the sense of the meeting that a National Democratic convention should be held, a Democratic platform enunciated, and candidates for President by the London and Southeastern Rail-and Vice-President chosen, and that the convention should be held not and manages the property for the corlater than Sept. 2. A committee of one from each State represented was call for the convention.

BRYAN'S SUPPORTERS SMILE. St. Louis, Mo., July 24.—The Bryan supporters are jubilant. They demonstrated yesterday, after a stormy fected their permanent organization, lies, so that London has been save installed their candidate (Senator Allen, of Nebraska) as permanent chair-man, and took charge of the machinery of the convention and the committees. They are prepared today to adopt a platform, and indorse the candidacy of Bryan, "the boy orator," for President, despite the opposition and threatened bolt of the "middleof-the-road" faction.

POPULIST PLATFORM. St. Louis, Mo., July 24.—The submittee on resolutions, whose report will most likely be adopted, was at work until after midnight on the platform, to be reported to the full com-mittee today. As far as the platform has been completed, its essential de-clarations are these:

"We demand the free and unre-stricted coinage of silver and gold at the legal ratio of 16 to 1 by the United States without waiting for the consent of foreign nations.
"We demand that the volume of circulating medium be speedily increased to an amount sufficient to meet the demand of business. "We denounce the sale of bonds and the increase of the public inter-est-bearing debt, and demand a law absolutely prohibiting the sale of bonds and the increase of the public

"We demand a graduated income tax, to the end that aggregated wealth shall bear its just proportion of taxation; and we denounce the recent decision of the Supreme Court in regard to the income tax law as a misinterpretation of the constitution.
"We demand that postal savings banks be established by the Government for the safe deposit of the savings of the people. "All agricultural and grazing lands now held by rathroad corporations in excess of their actual needs should, by lawful means, be reclaimed by the Government, and held for actual set-

"The Government should own and operate railroads in the interest of the The telegraph, like the postoffice system, being a necessity transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the Government in the interest of the people." ACTION OF TAMMANYITES. New York, July 24.—The Tammany Hall Association of the 14th assembly district unanimously indorsed Bryan

16 TO 1. Denver, Col., July 24.—The Demo-cratic State committee has issued a call for a convention inviting all who are in favor of the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 to participate in the Democratic caucuses and primaries. An effort will be made to combine the Democrats, Populists and Republicans who intend to vote for Bryan and Sewall in support of a union ticket for State officers. The date of the Democratic convention is left open. THE SILVER CONVENTION. St. Louis, July 24.—The silver convention was called to order by Chairman St. John shortly before 11 o'clock. It was said by some of the leaders that their programme was to take no action until the Populists had adopted a platform and nominated candidates. Then, if Bryan and Sewall should be successful, the silver convention would indorse them and go over to the People's Party convention in a body and ask to be taken into the fold.

P. C. Weir Faints in the Witness Box While Giving Evidence.

Sullivan Committed for Trial-Wm. Diplock's Wife Insane-Miner Cases.

Timothy Sullivan, the young man charged with assaulting P. C. Weir, and who was remanded from yesterday, was again in the docket this morning.

P. C. Berryhill detailed the actions of the two men-Halliday and Sullivan-who went along the street using vile language and acting disorderly. P. C. Weir entered the witness box and proceeded to give his testimony. He said Sullivan had pushed him over, when his foot had caught in the sidewalk, and tried to bite him. R. H. Dignan, who appeared for Sullivan began to examine the little constable, when the witness turned be helped out of the room.

This put a stop to the evidence in the case, to which Mr. Dignan objected. He wanted to examine Weir, and was told by the P. M. that he might have the opportunity before the county judge, and committed the prisoner for trial on the charge of assaulting a constable, and remanded him until next Wednesday on the drunk and disorderly charge. Sullivan has a pretty shady record, having been some 27 times before the P. M., Saunders 537, Percy Stock 552, Percy and the same of the s and has served two or three terms in the Central.

she was first committed. The magistrate committed her for examination and trial. Mr. McMartin, of the Queen's Hotel, was charged with selling liquor during unlawful hours, on the night of June 22. He said Fred Burton had been his bartender for a long time, and had been engaged at 31 per day, Sundays included. He said Burton had recently left his employ because he was troubled with rheumatism, and wanted o get back on the ball team. He had last Tuesday after the information had been laid, and Mr. McMartin didn't know where he was. After the crown had called several witnesses the case was dropped for want of evidence. Arthur Johnston, for tying his horse to a shade tree, was taxed $1.

John McCue, for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk, paid his $1 and was discharged. One drunk was discharged.

It Foul Play?

Frank Lewis, the Young Londoner, Probably Murdered.

The Body Found in Black River - Indications of Foul Play.

The inquest in the case of Frank Lewis, the former Londoner, who was found dead in the Black River, Chicago, is still going on. From the revelations so far, foul play is suspected. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition when discovered, and is supposed to have been in the water Leonard 636, Wynifred Logan 592, from Saturday night until Wednesday

Deceased left Swift & Co.'s on Satura day night about 6:30, accompanied by a fellow-employe, and they took cars 561, Ella Turner 484, Katie Roswell 558, going in opposite directions. His friend saw him get on the car, and what points very strongly to foul play is the fact that the body was found seven miles in the opposite direction. This Information was received by Mr. John Lewis, of the Huron House, this morning, from his son, Mr. Thomas Lewis, who left yesterday for the scene of the tragedy.

> Out of 400 Candidates 322 Win the Coveted Premotion.

The showing made by London public schools at the recent high school entrance examinations is much better that at any year previous. Out of 400 candidates, 822 were successful. The largest number of successful pupils from any one school was 52, from Princess avenue school, of which Mr.

B. Bryant is principal.
The highest marks—659—were made by Fred C. Bowman, a son of Prof. J. H. Bowman. He will get the Robb medal and the Governor-General's medal, if they are to be given this year. All pupils in the city compete for these medals. Fred will also get the Boyle memorial, which is awarded to the pupil standing highest in each public school. The other winners of Boyle memorials are:

Walter Reid, of Simcoe street, 643. Jack Hunt, of Victoria school, 604. Edna Leonard, of Princess avenue,

Thomas Moule, of Lorne avenue, 607. Harry Winslow of Aberdeen school, Gustav Schaef, of Talbot street, 602. Mabel Hodgins, of Waterlog street, Tessie McMechan, of Colborne street,

Miss Edna Leonard will also receive the McRobert medal, which is competed for by Waterloo street and Princess avenue schools. According to re-cent regulations of the Educational Department, the decision of the board of examiners shall be final regarding the admission or rejection of any candidate. No appeals are to be made to the department. So the following list of successful candidates is complete and final:

The Usual Summer Quietude Continues -- Money Markets Unchanged. Dun & Co.'s weekly report says: The Montreal wholesale trade shows little change during the past week, and is of a generally quiet character. The regular midsummer dullness prevails in most commodities. There is little apparent prospect for any immediate improvement in cheese and butter values, but the export movement in the former article is very fairly maintained. Grain crops are reported to be looking remarkably well in this district. Hay has picked up some, but will be below an average in a good many quarters. The money market remains on about the same level. The wholesale trade at Toronto this week has ruled quiet, and in but few branches of trade is there anything approaching activity. What concerns dealers most at the present time is the crop situation and outlook The yield of grain will vary considerably. In the midland distric, it is reported that the acreage of wheat has increased, while in the west it has decreased. Spring grains are looking well in most districts, but the hay crop of Ontario is generally below the average, although the yield will be probably greater than last year. Cheese and provisions are lower week.

The money market shows little change. Failures for the week are 29, as against 27 for the same week of last year. Steamship Arrivals. At. From.

Mr. E. L. Fausey, engineer, M. C. R. yard engine, was severely injured at St. Thomas Wednesday morning about CHICAGO.

Chicago. July 23.—The wheat market today was stronger, the reasons for which were found in the weather conditions, higher cables, lighter receipts both here and in the northwest, and a steady stock market. Corn was firmer, following the strength in wheat. Oats were firm, because of light receipts and fair buying orders. Provisions—Trading was active and prices firmed toward the close.

The leading futures closed as follows:

4 o'clock, by being struck by the tender of No. 14 express engine. Mr. Fausey was thrown over two tracks. No bones were broken, but he was bruised all over the body and badly shaken up.

-A bicycle and rig collided at the corner of Richmond and King streets about 2 o'clock this afternoon. As a result the front wheel of the bicycle was twisted almost beyond recognition. The wheelman was Mr. R. Dromgole, of the Merchants' Bank, Mitchell, who is spending a few holidays here. He very fortunately escaped injury.

The Southern Congregationalists picnicked at Springbank yesterday, and had a delightful time. The day was pleasantly spent in games and feasting. After doing ample justice to the good things they separated, and went their different ways until 8:15, when they returned, all satisfied with their day's outing.

-The man who cut the rubber valves on the L. E. and D. R. R. cars at Port Stanley is still at large. Mr. Richard McBride, caretaker of Aberdeen school, saw him do the deed. Mr. McBride was sitting on the station at the time, waiting for the train, and noticed a stranger, about 30 years old, apparently feeling the valves and examining them very closely. Mr. McBride had no suspicion that the man had any other motive than curiosity, and saw no knife, as it was rather dark.

ENGINEER BOATH'S DEATH. At the inquest held in Thamesville yesterday before Coroner Stewart, to inquire into the death of Engineer Boath, who was killed there last Friday, the jury returned the following verdict: "That Boath came to his death by jumping from a G. T. R. engine, No. 742, to save himself from an inevitable collision. That a misunderstanding seems to exist among the crews as to the necessity of closing the north main line switch, and there is not sufficient evidence before the jury to enable them to determine Brake-man Wilson's duty as to this." DIVISION COURT.

The Case of the Bell Piano Company Against Alex. Burness Dismissed. Judge McKenzie, of Sarnia, held a sitting of the Division Court in the west end this morning. There were about 40 cases in all, including twenty judgment summonses. One interesting case was that of the Bell Organ Company vs. Alex. Burness, late manager of the company. The Bell people sued him for $99, the rental of a piano which Burness had thought they were safe have found at his residence while employed as manager. When he quit the company's services he notified the Bell Company to take away the instrument, and was told that the plano would be taken away when they got ready. A third manager, Mr. Percy

Geo. Leonard's Wife Secures His Release

George Leonard, who threatened to take his wife's life, threw water over her floors, and pulled up her potatoes, and who has been in jail since July 4, was brought before Judge Wm. Elliot this morning for want of sureties to keep the peace. Mrs. Leonard pleaded for her husband's release. She didn't want to have him lying in jail, but all she wished was that he would leave her alone. This he promised to do, and the judge discharged him. The old couple followed each other out to the corner of Dundas and Ridout streets, where they held a short conversation. They shook hands, George kissed his better half and went away. She stayed there a few minutes, when Leonard came back again. After throwing up his hands as though to make a vow, she took his arm and they walked off together.

Report That Sir Donald Smith May Join the Laurier Government.

(Special to the Advertiser.) Montreal, July 24.-It is stated upon excellent authority that Sir Donald A. Smith, president of the Bank of Montreal, and the Hudson Bay Company, and ex-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and lately High Com-missioner for the Dominion in Great Britain, will enter the new Laurier Cabinet as Minister of the Interior. Though Sir Donald has been staunch Conservative, it is stated he has virtually agreed to accept the portfolio on the plea that he can do the Northwest an enormous amount of good, and that he should take hold of this opportunity irrespective of party feelings. "I will do it, Kushat. But, mind you, I am not worthy of your devotion. I am bad, thoroughly bad."

"Another could not say that to me. I know not whether you be good or bad, as the white men use these words—I only know that I love you."

"Then you remain with me," said Henry, taking her little red hands and raising them as if he were going to raising them as if he were going to raising them as if he were going to kiss them. But he did not do so. "It will make me stronger to know that I am not wholly worthless and degraded. Your love will keep alive my self-respect. But even here I see my own selfishness. Kushat flew off, silent as a shadow, and came back in a few minutes mounted on a spirited, graceful animal. Henry Kyle saddled his horse, and with the Indian girl by his side rode out of the silent valley.

Board of Works' Funds Becoming

The Work Has Been Rushed and Much Has Been Done - Expenditures to Date - Asphalting Wolfe Street and Market Lane.

'Ald. Parnell (chairman), Dreaney, John Heaman, Pritchard, Cooper, and Engineer Graydon were the city solons present at last night's meeting of the Board of Works. The chief thing discussed was the absolute necessity of curtailing expenditure out of the appropriation. There seems to be a great deal to do, but little to do it with, although splendid work has been done so far. The improvements have been rushed forward, and are everywhere evident.

The engineer and member for the ward will investigatee Mr. A. Keenleyside's request for a sidewalk on Alma street, and if the funds will stand it, the will get it.

Mr. George Oliver said he had done a great deal of work in the vicinity of the old college grounds, and wanted encouragement from the city in the shape of a good road and sidewalks around his property, on St. James street.

Ald. Cooper thought something ought found in his room addressed to his to be done to St. James street. It was wife and to the foreman of the brewin bad shape.

The engineer did not believe the appropriation large enough to carry on so extensive an undertaking this year. The committee and Mr. Graydon agreed to meet to investigate. Ald. Cooper claimed that Carling's Creek on Central avenue should be attended to, as it was washing away the street. He said there was $7.689 unexpended.

Ald. Parnell warned the board to be careful. All the snowplowing until the end of December had to be paid for out of the remaining funds, and there was danger of an overdrawn bank account, which the mayor declared he would not sign.

strange fast of Mrs. Henry Ingram still continues. Days and months roll Ald. Cooper's motion that the pipe be carried 35 feet further was lost. Ald. This passed, Ald. Parnell explaining that the work would not go through if this were not carried. Ald. Pritchard's motion to call for tenders for asphalting the Market Lane was adopted. Tenders for the remodeling of the City Hall ground floor, so as to remove the mayor's and engineer's offices downstairs, were laid over till next ettled on the Village Site Over 60 Years Ago-A Useful Life.

Middlesex lost one of its sturdy pioneers yesterday-Mr. Thomas Hawkins, who died at the residence of his son, Mr. G. A. Hawkins, lots 5 and 6, con. 4, London township.

Mr. Hawkins was born in Dublin, Ireland, 82 years and 3 months ago. In 1832, when 18 years old, he came to Canada with his folks, settling first in Hamilton. In the following year he moved to London, then a mere fiamlet, and he and his brother took up 400 acres of land on the present site of London West. They worked it for Cars Leave Corner of Dundas about ten years, when deceased moved ed by the entire community.

Mr. Hawkins was married in London when 19 years of age, and enjoyed 63 years of happy married life. His aged wife survives him, at the age of 86. Eleven children blessed the union, of whom are living Mrs. Gleason, of Nebraska; Thomas, in Michigan; Mrs. Elijah Prudham, of Westminster; Mrs. McGregor of Forest; Mrs. Ware, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mr. G. A. Hawkins, on the old homestead. The others are buried in the English cemetery at St.

THE WASHINGTON CONVENTION.

Gregor Give Their Impressions

Many London Christian Endeavorers who were denied the pleasure of attending the great Washington convention, had it graphically described for them at Cronyn Hall last evening by Rev. Canon Richardson, city, and Rev.

The canon spoke in very flattering terms of the beauty of Washington. and the hospitality of its people. He the convention. Though so diverse in nationality, not a discordant note was struck. He also spoke of the missionary effort of the Endeavorers and stated that the roll of honor contained 560 names, representing 8,200 societies, contributing during the lear. The aggregate collected from these societies alone was $150,000, and 32,000 other societies had done their share, the total for missionary work received in the year being $300,000. The reverend gentleman's favorable impressions of the convention, and his experiences in Washington, were dealt with at length by the "Advertiser"

some days ago. Rev. Mr. McGregor put in a plea for more brotherly love between the two great English-speaking communities in Canada and the United States. Speaking of temperance, he said that if all this time that is causing the howl. guard their own spirit, their words would have ever so much more weight | the world, because they say they inon the general public.

Found Dead in a Hay Mow. St. Thomas, July 24.—Mr. Henry David Burgess was found dead yester-The quiet village of London West is occasionally stirred up by trouble, which is generally of a municipal character. It is the assessment roll character with the day morning in the hay mow in the barn of Mr. Chas. Waite, Sparta road, two miles east of Union. Mr. Burgess had recently taken possession of the Armstrong farm on the Sparta road, heteron Union and Sparta. He was between Union and Sparta. He was in the city yesterday morning, seemingly as well as usual. He returned home about noon. About 3 p.m. he left to engage hands, intending to do his threshing. He went over to his sister's-in-law, Mrs. Charles Waite, to see if he could get his nephew Robert to help him. While there, he was weak and sleepy. He laid on the lounge, and after a short time said he was better and got up. He went out, saying he was going over to Geo. Bailey's to look for help for yesterday. This was the last seen of him alone. Not returning home, his family be-came anxious, and a search was in-stituted, and about 2 a.m. the de-ceased was found in the hay mow of Mrs. Waite's barn.
