MILAN WORKMEN SEIZE TWO HUNDRED CHEMICAL PLANTS

SOCIALIST UPRISING IN TRIESTE IS PUT DOWN AFTER CASUALTIES ARE INFLICTED BY GOVT. TROOPS

Fighting in Streets of City Was Furious While It Lasted—Socialists Dug Trenches in the Streets—Government Artillery Placed for Concerted Attack When Revolting Forces Decide to Withdraw.

Trieste, Sept. 11.—A Socialist revolt in which barricades were erected in the streets, and artillery, rifles, machine guns and bombs were freely employed in a struggle between the rioters and the military, broke out here yesterday afternoon. Italian troops and naval forces, however, succeeded in completely restoring order last night. The fighting was sharp while it lasted. The Socialists, who were well armed and amply supplied with ammunition, challenged the troops to advance upon their barricades. Both sides then opened fire and sharp volleys were exchanged. Several of the soldiers were wounded by bullets from the rifles of the entrenched Socialists, while numerous casualties occurred in the Socialist ranks.

Artillery Makes Ready.
As evening drew near the military drew up in position and prepared for a concerted attack. Before this was delivered, however, Civil Governor Mosconi sent an ultimatum to the Socialist leaders ordering them to withdraw from the streets. The leaders of the revolt ultimately decided to bow before the governor's threat of more drastic measures, and the rioting was down. The government troops, however, had abandoned the fight, and fell back from the streets. The carabinieri and the royal guards, who had been stationed in the vicinity of the hill in the heart of the popular section which the Socialists had held, thereupon were withdrawn from their barracks through the streets, the men shouting cries of "Victory!" from their cannons.

Destroyers Take Part.
The destroyer, which played a part in the action to put down the revolt, arrived in the harbor during the afternoon and anchored immediately facing the public square. Civil Governor Mosconi issued an order for the destroyer to open fire on the streets at 10 p.m., and also forbidding anyone looking out of windows or balconies in the district, where sniping has been frequent. The Socialist wounded had been taken to an improvised hospital in

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY DESTROYED HUNDRED TOWNS AND VILLAGES

Damage Was Far Greater Than Earlier Reports Indicated.

Florence, Italy, Sept. 11.—More than 100 towns and villages were destroyed or badly damaged in the district north of this city, which was shaken by the earthquake on Tuesday morning, according to latest reports received here.

RED FLAGS OF BOLSHEVISM ARE HOISTED ABOVE ITALIAN CHEMICAL PLANTS IN MILAN

More Than 200 Factories Are Occupied by Workmen at a Given Signal—Order Came From the Chamber of Labor—Seizure Was Made to Assure Metal Workers of Materials to Carry on Industry.

ITALIAN TROOPS SEIZE BOMBS IN LUCCA FACTORY.

Paris, Sept. 11.—Three companies of Italian infantry have seized a factory at Lucca, which had been occupied by workmen, and have forced the men in the plant to surrender 60,000 bombs, according to dispatches received here. Another report states that workers, using armored trucks, invaded a French-owned factory at Turin. They are said to have distributed arms to workers there, and to have searched all the employees not joining in the movement.

KING VICTOR MAY BE CALLED UPON TO ABDICATE.

London, Sept. 11.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy may be asked to abdicate to avert bloodshed in the industrial revolution of Italian workmen and communists, according to a dispatch from Milan, where the general confederation of labor convened today. Deputies are taking part in the great labor conference at Milan, which is to consider the policy of all organized labor in Italy toward the Soviet republics of the iron and steel workers.

Think "Communism Workable."
Socialist delegates to the third international at Moscow were quoted as saying that they believed "communism is working" in the Italian situation. The real crisis in the Italian situation is expected when the troops try to retake the factories that have been seized by the workers.

The Italian newspaper Avanti prints a cartoon of a soldier and a working man shaking hands, as indicative of its opinion as to what would happen if troops were sent against the workmen.

POLICE SHOOT UP TOWN AND FIRE BUILDINGS

London Hears of Terrifying Scenes During Reprisal by Constables.

London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Westminster Gazette from Dublin says County Carlow, where a constable was shot and killed yesterday, shot up the town last night, and that during the night a number of buildings were set on fire. At midnight the constables, flying across in the town, and some of the inhabitants left the place and spent the night in the open country.

When the constables arrived Thursday to hold an inquest over the body of the constable, none of the workers had been summoned to the call.

Australian Audience Breaks Up Concert When "God Save the King" Is Left Off Program

Adelaide, South Australia, Sept. 11.—The concert given here Thursday evening by John McCormack, the noted tenor, was broken up by a demonstration, part of the audience rising and singing the British National Anthem, and some shouting that McCormack was a Sinn Féiner. Mr. McCormack has cancelled the other concerts he was to have given in Adelaide.

The audience, it appeared, resented the omission of the National Anthem from the program. In explanation, the tenor, who is in Australia on a tour of the world, which he started from the United States last May, says he had understood the anthem was usually sung only when the governor was present.

REACTOR GROUP.

Hebert Lewis, business agent of the Machinists' Union, said that the progressive wing of the trades union movement took the congress seriously no longer, and that the invitation to the premier to attend the congress was an endeavor to control the movement for the withdrawal of union organizers.

"We know what the premier will say. It will be like his other speeches that all who are not of his party are Bolsheviks. I will take no insults from him," declared James Simpson, with emphasis.

While it was suggested that the attendance at the congress would amount to 1,000 delegates, union organizers doubted if it would exceed four hundred. They admitted that the "Bolsheviks" of the trades union movement, organizations of different parts of Canada had made serious inroads into the ranks of the trades union movement. They said that the representation from the maritime provinces and western Canada would not be as large as in other years.

To Ask Withdrawal.
Members of the Carpenters and Joiners' Union and the Machinists' Union announced that the delegates to the convention of these crafts, which will be held next month in Indianapolis and Rochester, had been instructed to ask for the withdrawal of Canadian locals from the Trades and Labor Congress. The Machinists' union, however, has no intention of withdrawing from the congress.

The representation to the Toronto convention will be about 60 delegates. They will leave on Sunday evening, arriving in Windsor in time to take part in the parade.

CITY SECURES ANOTHER BIG PLANT WHICH WILL EMPLOY 700 HANDS

London Bids Fair to Become One of the Most Important Motor Manufacturing Centres in the Dominion—Work to Start on Large New Factories Immediately.

Announcement was made today by Aid. John Bridge of the Chamber of Commerce of another large new industry for London, in the shape of a motor truck factory which will employ 700 men.

The location in London of this industry, in addition to that of the Ruggies Motor Truck Company, which was announced recently, means Mr. Bridge's vision of a third large industry. This will be a malleable iron foundry, which will make castings not only for the motor truck factories, but for any firms in London and district requiring material of this kind.

The new motor truck plant will be located in the southeastern section of the city, and tenders will be called at once for the construction of three factory buildings, 100 by 200 feet, of brick and steel construction, to cost $250,000. These are the first of a number of buildings.

The new firm plans to make all its work here, as well as to assemble the trucks. It is under the management of Paul Moore of Watnech, Indiana.

With the recent announcements of these two large motor truck plants being secured for the city, and the plants that the Ford Motor Company has for expansion, London bids fair to become one of the most important motor centres in the Dominion.

SECRETARY HUNT PREDICTS RECORD ATTENDANCE AT FAIR

Fifty-Third Annual Exhibition Promises To Be Best in History—Rush for Space Unprecedented—Entries Smash All Former Records.

The formal commencement of London's fifty-third annual exhibition was marked this morning by the manning of gates at the exhibition grounds, and while the attendance on preparation day is not great, the official prediction is that the process of record-smashing will be undertaken on Monday.

All exhibitors are hard at work today, for they are under obligation to have everything in readiness for Monday. Then the first grandstand performance is to be given, and the school children of the city are to enjoy the benefit of reduced rates and an augmented program.

Before 10 o'clock this morning, all of the cattle exhibitors were in their barns, and sheep were coming in at a rate that astonished officials. Practically all out-of-town exhibitors have been set up, and only local displays remain unfinished.

Rush For Space.
During the past twenty-four hours two or three exhibitors have rearranged their displays and rearranged smaller portions of the space they had previously reserved. A scramble for the ground followed and scores of exhibitors displayed their wares in the most haphazard manner, and other farm equipment is receiving unusual attention. Several man-

NO REPLY FROM LLOYD GEORGE TO TRADES CONGRESS

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 10.—During the forenoon's proceedings of the Trades Union Congress a delegate asked if a reply had been received from the government to the telegram sent by the congress demanding the release of Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork. The president of the congress answered in the negative, and declined to accede to the delegate's request to have the subject introduced, pointing out that the only resolution the congress could pass would be one in favor of a "down tools" policy. This matter, the president declared, was not on the agenda of the congress, and therefore, the congress was not competent to discuss such a resolution.

The congress supported the president's ruling.

MASSWINNEY SPENDS BAD NIGHT; STILL IN CONSCIOUS STATE.

London, Sept. 11.—Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, was still conscious this morning, although he passed a very bad night, and was in an extremely exhausted condition, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self Determination League, following a report from Brixton Prison.

The bulletin issued by the league this afternoon said that at 1 p.m. Mayor MacSwiney was very despondent. He had not spoken all morning. It was added, "The 3 o'clock bulletin given out by the league said the mayor was much weaker."

"He appears to have completely collapsed," the bulletin stated. "His mind is getting dull, but he is still conscious."

LITHUANIANS AND POLES EXPECTED TO REACH AGREEMENT.

Warsaw, Sept. 11.—Negotiations between Poland and Lithuania relative to their frontier controversy continue, despite the advance of Polish troops in the Suwalki sector, which has resulted in the occupation of Krashopol and Sely. Wireless exchanges, which are believed to be in progress toward an amicable agreement, are going on, and the Lithuanian suggestion for a conference at Kalvaria seems to have been favorably received.

CANADIAN LIVE STOCK BRITISH TROOPS THRIVING IN GREECE OCCUPY TOWN OF SHAREBAN

Hens From Dominion Proving Satisfactory in New Country.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—By the Canadian Press.—The humble Canadian hen is doing her best to lay the foundation of a poultry population in Greece, and incidentally the noble Clydesdale and Canadian horse is enhancing the value of the Greek live stock as the result of the security of the country at the present time by the Greek Government.

Some time ago there was purchased for the government of that country a shipment of prize poultry. These included Plymouth Rocks, Orpingtons and White Wyandottes, all of famous Canadian strains. At the same time a number of Canadian Clydesdales and Canadian-bred Clydesdale grade horses were purchased and shipped to Greece. The poultry and animals will be the subject of tests to see how the Canadian stock will prosper in the Greek climate, and under conditions as they obtain in that country.

If the first shipments do well in Greece after they have become acclimated, it is expected that this will be the beginning of an important export trade in live stock for Canada.

LOWER BREAD PRICES PREDICTED; POTATOES AT SIMCOE CHEAPER

New Wheat Crop Expected to Bring Down Flour Quotations.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—(By the Canadian Press).—That the cost of bread has reached the peak, and in view of the abundant crop of wheat, lower prices may be expected.

Coming into general consumption during the present month and October, is the opinion expressed by the economic revision of the board of commerce in its report on the cost of the production of bread in Canada for the month of July.

The report shows that the average cost of producing and delivering the 24-ounce loaf worked out at 13 cents for July. The total cost per average pound of bread for July was one-tenth of a cent over the June price.

BIG SALES OF CATTLE MADE

Toronto Buyer Secure $250,000 Worth of Choice Animals.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Naim, Sept. 10.—Toronto's buyers have completed arrangements in this district in the past few days for cattle, which will cost them close to $250,000. More than 1,500 of the finest beef cattle in the district have been sold at prices ranging from $150 to $175 each.

Shipment will commence in a couple of weeks, and the animals will be killed as soon as they arrive in Toronto.

District cattlemen have more than 6,000 head of beef cattle for sale this season, and at present quotations will realize well over a million dollars for them.

REAL BOOTLEGGING

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—There was some actual evidence of bootlegging in a liquor case in the police court here.

Edward Lang, who was in charge of the West Hotel, Main street, was charged with having liquor on the premises. A bottle of whiskey was found in a pair of long rubber boots, and these exhibits were produced in court. A fine of $400 and costs was imposed.

LIQUOR TO BE CONFISCATED

Court Order License Inspector to Take Action in Lobo Case.

To receive notice from an express company informing you that there are 40 cases of whiskey waiting you at the railway station is no mild shock, but when you ignore the notice, and then receive a summons to appear in police court on a charge of having liquor for sale, it is adding insult to injury.

This was the experience of Angus Fonger, of con. 3, Lobo Township, about three miles from Konoctia station, where the whiskey was delivered. It appears someone used Mr. Fonger's name without his knowledge.

License Inspector J. C. Kenney laid the information against Fonger, which is correct under section 70, sub-section 1, but the summons was issued to Fonger before the court can make an order for confiscation of any shipment of liquor.

The court ordered Inspector Kenney to take action against the liquor. The charge against Mr. Fonger was automatically dismissed.

Canadian Major Now In Praise of Tanlac

Former Member of Mounted Police and Overseas Officer Says It Restored Him to Complete Health.

"I have tried Tanlac and give it my unqualified endorsement," declared Sgt. Park of Victoria, B. C., who formerly was connected with the Royal North-West Mounted Police, and during the war was a major in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

"For the past two years my health declined, brought on by a chronic case of stomach trouble," said Major Park. "My appetite was gone, and I ate very little of anything, for gas would form on my stomach and give me a heavy, bloated feeling and cause my heart to palpitate till I could hardly breathe."

"I was constipated, had awful headaches and many times I wasn't able to work. While in France I was shell-shocked and my nerves were simply a total wreck. It was hard for me to get to sleep at night, and then I was disturbed by terrible dreams. My back, too, was weak and pained me constantly."

"A few weeks ago I started taking Tanlac, and I feel better and stronger in every way, and am enjoying the very best of health. My appetite is fine and everything agrees with me perfectly. I am not troubled with constipation or headaches and my back never hurts me at all. My nerves are quiet and steady and I sleep fine every night."

"Tanalac is sold in London by Standard Drug Limited, and by an established agency in every town."

MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

(University Extension Committee of Western University.)
BY H. W. HILL, M.B., M.D., D.P.H.
Director Institute of Public Health of Western University, London, Ontario, Canada.
A Column Devoted to Public Health in All Phases.
Questions Addressed as Above Will Be Welcomed.

One hardly thinks of iodine as a necessary part of every meal, but G. Ennis Smith, chemist, formerly in the Institute of Public Health of Western University, London, did some excellent research work. The results of which, indicated, amongst other things, that a lack of iodine in the vegetables, fruit, etc., used in parts of this country was responsible for the enlarged thyroid glands which disfigure the necks of so many of our young girls and boys. By taking 15 cents worth of sodium iodide a year to make up for this deficiency these enlargements can be prevented from appearing entirely in the majority of cases; while if they already exist, the same method will reduce or get rid of a very large percentage.

Nor doubt the open-faced waists which young ladies affect makes the enlarged neck more obvious in the girls case than in the boys, so that many people think of it as almost entirely a girl's disease, but boys have enlarged thyroids as well as girls, although they are more common amongst girls, in the proportion of six girls to one boy.

REGULATES THE AMOUNT.

One of the things done by the thyroid gland is the regulating of the amount of food which is used by the cells in the body, somewhat as a chauffeur regulates the gasoline fed into the cylinders of his engine. When the chauffeur "steps on the accelerator" more gas enters the cylinders, and the speed of the engine is increased, unless there is something wrong with the accelerator. So, when a thyroid does not behave properly, it is as if the accelerator were out of order.

The thyroid is situated at the base of the neck just above and behind the top of the breast bone. When it enlarges, it generally makes a swelling at this point, which is quite evident to all observers. It would appear that this enlargement in young girls and boys usually means that the thyroid is having a hard time to do its duties properly, chiefly from lack of iodine, which it needs in its business. In the majority of cases, if you supply the proper amount of iodine in almost any form, the strain is removed, after which everything goes well again in its line, as it should, and the thyroid returns to its normal size.

CAREFUL TESTS.

Akron, Ohio, has made some very careful tests of this treatment amongst the pupils there since 1917, under a grant from the American Medical Association. The fourth annual report of this investigation shows that of 2,305 pupils in the fifth to twelfth grades, who had no enlarged thyroid to begin with, 495, or more than one-fourth, developed thyroid enlargements while under observation. These children had no iodine except as their diets supplied it. Of 2,190 other pupils, who were given the equivalent of three grains of sodium iodide a day for ten days in the spring and ten days in the fall, only five showed enlargement. The iodine in the food alone was not sufficient; extra iodine was needed. Not only was the extra iodine thus supplied successful in preventing thyroid enlargements in those school children who had none to begin with, but it had excellent effects also on those children who already had enlarged thyroids, before the iodine was given. Thus of 1,046 pupils with thyroid enlargement, not treated by iodine, 145 showed a decrease in size of the thyroid, while under observation; that is about 14 per cent improved on their own account. But of 1,182 pupils with thyroid enlargement who received extra iodine, 775 showed decrease in size of the thyroid, or about 65 per cent.

NEED MORE IODINE.

The conclusion reached by these investigations, and widely endorsed by leaders in public health, is that children between 11 and 17, especially girls, should receive extra iodine, beyond that furnished in an ordinary diet, to the extent indicated above. It may be given in many ways; the essential point is to have the proper amount at the proper time.

Another development, suggested by E. Ennis Smith while in London, is the prospective relief of what is known as the enlarged thyroid of pregnancy. It has long been said that for each child the mother loses a tooth. Mr. Smith's suggestion is that administration of iodine during pregnancy will save the mother's teeth and hair to the mothers by relieving the strain on the thyroid; and this also has received high endorsement from the leaders in these subjects. This is an item of the Prenatal Clinic, of which one of the first established in Canada is that at the Victoria Hospital, London, held every Wednesday since last January.

Attention to the thyroids of London children has been given in the past, but a regular study is to be made by the school nurses, in order to determine the actual number and percentage of children affected. The parents of those found affected will be notified, with a suggestion that they take the children to the family physician for treatment. But all parents would be wise to do the same for all their children, especially girls between the ages of 11 and 17; and thus make sure that they will secure the amount of iodine indicated, sufficient to prevent the thyroid from enlarging, or to remedy the enlargement, if it already exists.

ANDREW MARTIN DIES

Andrew Martin, the young Greek resident who was so badly burned when a gas stove exploded at Springfield on Wednesday morning, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 8:30 o'clock Friday night.

Martin, who is survived by one brother, Thomas, of the city, served overseas in the American Expeditionary Force for a considerable length of time, and returned to the city only last winter. At the first of the summer he opened a booth at Springfield Park, and had been there for a charge of it until the time of the accident.

MAKE REGULAR STUDY.

Members of the Central Veterans' Council, the Trades and Labor Council and the Labor Representation Committee have formed a joint committee to interview Mayor E. S. Little on Monday morning to see what information he had regarding the coal situation, and to give him any information which they may have. This action was decided on at a meeting held in the G. W. V. A. rooms last night. The meeting for the purpose of establishing co-operation with the mayor will be held Monday morning.

On Friday evening next the various representatives of the three organizations will meet again to discuss ways and means of securing coal for the city. Regarding government subsidies in connection with the coal situation in Canada, there was a strong report. It was said that the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations were urging the Government to use the money to subsidize the mines in the Dominion.

HARRY WARNER HIT BY ENGINE

G. T. R. Yard Foremen May Have Foot Amputated Today—Head Injured.

Harry Warner, aged 57 years, 340 Lyle street, repair track foreman on the Grand Trunk, was run down by G. T. R. yard engine 737 about 5:30 p.m. Friday and received serious injuries, which may necessitate the amputation of his right foot. In addition to the above injury, Warner suffered head and face wounds, and the physician in attendance at Victoria Hospital, where he was removed following the accident, stated that Warner is suffering greatly from shock. The victim was walking down the repair track between Rectory and Egerton streets when struck by the engine, which was in charge of Yard Foreman McLeod. The police ambulance was called, but broke down before arrival at the scene, and the police auto, which is a touring car, was pressed into service. In the meantime first aid was rendered to Warner by Yard Foreman Lamont, and J. Chick, yardmaster's chief clerk, who were in the vicinity at the time. In the opinion of the attending physician, their efforts saved Warner from bleeding to death, and the two fellow employees accompanied him to the hospital, holding the injured man in the touring car.

Spectators of the accident state that the engine backed down on Warner, whose foot caught in the rails, and the danger of the wheels passed over it. The crushed member may be amputated at the hospital today.

THREE RESIDENTS OF TORONTO ARE HURT

Auto Ditched When It Strikes Gravel Patch On Longwood Road.

Three Toronto residents, Alexander Moorvan of Woodbine avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Van Slaven, were more or less seriously injured when a motor car in which they were riding left the Longwood road four miles east of Glencoe at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Moorvan, a provincial officer, who was en route to Windsor, was injured about the head and arm, Van Slaven and his wife, who were riding with him, were more seriously injured. The car, which was a 1919 model, was hurt about the chest. All three will recover.

At the point where the accident occurred the road had been freshly graveled, and although the car was not going at a fast rate of speed, it was ditched and had all four wheels smashed when it struck the spot. The injured were rescued by passing motorists, and after being taken to Glencoe were removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, London, where they are resting quietly.

GRAHAM MOFFATT BELIEVES IN APPEAL TO GENERAL PUBLIC

Scotch Actor, Dramatist, Does Not Cater To One Class Alone.

The Advertiser had a delightful chat with the celebrated Scotch actor and dramatist, Graham Moffatt, at the Tecumseh House yesterday afternoon. Stocky of figure naturally, he appeared even more so in his native tweeds. And as he talked, his rugged face, rather serious in repose, relaxed into a charming smile with hints of the deep-rooted humor for which his plays are famous. The Moffatt family has long been celebrated for its dramatic talent, the actor's father having been the pioneer in modern platform entertainment in Scotland. His wife, who plays with him, and has accompanied him to Canada, is well known as a touring car, was pressed into service. In the meantime first aid was rendered to Warner by Yard Foreman Lamont, and J. Chick, yardmaster's chief clerk, who were in the vicinity at the time. In the opinion of the attending physician, their efforts saved Warner from bleeding to death, and the two fellow employees accompanied him to the hospital, holding the injured man in the touring car.

LATEST CREATIONS IN FALL HATS SHOWN BY SMALLMAN & INGRAM

Amid a bower of autumn flowers and foliage, Smallman & Ingram offer to the public of London the latest creations in hats designed by French milliners, and also imported hats of the latest millinery opening all this week.

A new French milliner has been engaged, and is in charge of the millinery workshop, where daily the smartest models are turned out. Duvelty, panne, velvet, chenille cloth and feathers are the trimmings used in the latest models. One of the most charming hats to be seen is one fashioned of maroon velvet, with brown hair at the sides, with coque trimmings and touches of gold. Another smart model created by Marie Guy is of hatter's plush, with jet tassels and a brim which turns up like a top hat.

Most popular this season are hats made of duvelty, chenille or velvet in a rust shade that look particularly well when worn with navy blue. A hat of feathers in this shade is shown with touches of navy. Hats in plain velvet, with silver or gold metallic trimmings, will also be very fashionable, and some smart models using these materials may be seen. A large assortment of tailored hats, including Pike and Gage models, and the famous Cupid hats, may be had in a range of colors and shapes. Very pretty are the children's hats of becoming little bow and drop shapes, made of almost every material.

RESCINDED BYLAW TO SAVE TOWN EXPENSE OF PROTECTING CROSSING

INGERSOLL, Sept. 10.—Through the rescinding of a bylaw passed in 1911, the town will not be put to the expense of placing gates and maintaining them at the crossing of the Grand Trunk. The former bylaw made the street an open crossing while in reality it served private interests. The matter was taken before the railway board by the council last week, and on advice received the bylaw was rescinded at a special meeting.

Increase Pastor's Salary. Recognizing the important service he has rendered, the quarterly officials of the Methodist Church have granted an increase in salary to the pastor, Rev. E. Sheppard, whose salary is now $2,400 per year.

ARVA

Arva, Sept. 10.—T. Lawrance distributed two carloads of fertilizer to the farmers in this vicinity on Wednesday. There will be a large acreage of wheat sown.

An evangelistic campaign will be started in the local Methodist Church on Sunday, Sept. 19, by Evangelist Johnson and helpers, who are now at Police Island.

The township council held its monthly meeting on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Cortam of London will address the W. M. S. at their anniversary services on Sunday evening next.

Registration continued next week. The registration for day classes in the Technical School, which opened this week, has been so large that additional classes are being organized. This will be completed for the Monday following the Western Fair, and so registration has been extended to the end of next week. CLANDEBOYE

Clandeboy, Sept. 10.—After an absence of 40 years, John F. Dedman visited the village recently, and with the permission of the owner, camped in a tent beside his auto for a few days on the site of the log house, where he and his six brothers and two sisters were born. The few old-time neighbors still living in the vicinity called on Mr. and Mrs. Dedman in their tent and gave them a hearty welcome.

Mr. Dedman's father was one of the pioneers who settled on the Bidulph side of the Bidulph-McGillivray town line, and saw that section of the London-Goderich road in the making, and also in its palmy toll-gate days now past. He was a "vet" of the old school, one of those men good in emergency, who were a very important element in the rough, dangerous life of the settlers in that early time.

John F. and several of his brothers have followed their father's example, and write V. S. after their names, most of them practicing in Michigan, where they moved on leaving Clandeboy.

WILL SECURE DATA BEFORE DECIDING JAIL MAINTENANCE

Arbitration Board to Hold Another Session in October.

The special board of arbitration appointed to apportion the payments toward the upkeep expense of the jail and county buildings met here on Friday afternoon, and after hearing City Solicitor T. G. Meredith and County Solicitor J. C. Elliott, the board adjourned until the next session, which will be held on October 1, at the call of the chairman. Quoting other arbitrators as a precedent, J. C. Elliott urged that the board determine the payments on a basis of usage, and not on population.

or assessment, as desired by the city. G. Meredith, who presided at the arbitration, submitted other cases of a similar nature heard at Sarnia, Windsor and Waterloo, and wherein arbitration was based on population. He maintained that the latter was the fairest means, as the two populations were about equal. There were types of humanity termed "floaters," he declared, mentioned in the city court to terms in the jail, and some came from Middlesex County. These he contended should not be charged up to the city as jail inmates. He further outlined the decrease in civil court actions, due, in his opinion, to the workmen's compensation act, and argued that such a decrease meant less cases for citizens of London to be heard in county courts, as the records show.

WORTH FIVE CENTS. "The city does not admit that it owes the county one cent for this court house," he declared. "It does not admit that the county owns the building. The jail proper is a disgrace, but I do not wish to prejudice the county. It is worth a contribution of about five cents a year. We have compromised for a settlement have been in existence since 1918. The overhead expenses must be borne by the county. The arbitrators asked several questions of both counsel regarding the extent that the court house is utilized by the city and county. It was reported that aside from division court sessions, the court house holds no meetings in the building, while township bodies of the county stage gatherings of various nature there. The council for the respective municipalities were armed with an imposing array of documents, but were not called upon to deliver extensively into them.

Population Basis. While no definite basis of reckoning the allocation of upkeep costs was announced by the board, it is likely that they will follow that of population, according to the request of the city solicitor, as both parties were asked to prepare an official population census of the municipalities affected, to be consulted by the board before the next session. The decision of the board is to cover the county jail upkeep for the next five years, and to be retroactive for the years 1918 and 1919, provided both parties are agreeable. The personnel of the board is as follows: Judge L. Wallace of Woodstock, chairman; K. W. McKay, editor of the Municipal World, St. Thomas; J. C. Elliott, city of London, and C. St. Clair, city of St. Thomas, selected as county representatives.

Miss Terry, who has been showing marked talent here for some time past, originally came from Amherstburg. She went to Toronto on Thursday, accompanied by her teacher, Mr. Willoughby, who played for her during the contest. After the contest, she was chosen winner for that day over the other contestants. Miss Terry was eligible for the final competition, which took place yesterday. The result was that she shares the $150 scholarship with a Toronto girl.

BOYS WORK TO BE STANDARDIZED

The executive of the boys' work board of the city met Friday afternoon at the "Y" to appoint the new officers for the year. They decided to standardize the work as much as possible. The winter program will be drawn up at once. The work of the board among the boys this year will be much more extensive than for some time. There will be a study of the athletes of the Bible. A standard program of tests, including public speaking and physical work will be arranged.

Following are the men who were appointed to fill offices: Chairman, Rev. C. W. Foreman, Chairman of the four sub-committees of the board are: Mr. Foreman, Mr. J. W. J. Knox; physical activities, Robert Allister; S. E. T. promotion, G. T. E. Martin; vocational guidance, E. A. Miller.

MANUAL TRAINING DOMESTIC SCIENCE TEACHERS WANTED

No. 1 Committee Board of Education Advises One of Each.

So that all pupils in the Third and Fourth Books in the public schools of London may have the benefits of a manual training or household science course, No. 1 committee of the board of education will recommend that one more teacher in each of these departments be added to the local teaching staff. This was decided at a meeting of that committee held Friday afternoon. It was pointed out by Inspector C. B. Edwards that there are thirteen classes in this city which are not receiving instruction in these subjects because of the lack of teachers. The subjects, he said, were of the utmost importance, when looked at from several different angles. Thomas Rowe said that all classes should receive instruction, because it would not be fair to show discrimination.

The question, Mr. Edwards said, had been side-tracked three years. The number of classes which were not being taught had grown each year until now there were thirteen classes—just two short of the number which would occupy the two teachers full time.

Several teachers and varying amounts of experience were added to the permanent staff. The question of raising the salaries of the principals also received some attention.

OFF THE RAILS

PAINFULLY INJURED. John Parker, a porter, employed in the G. T. R. baggage-room, was knocked down and injured by a motorcar on Richmond street while going to work at 6:30 this morning. As Mr. Parker is rather up in years, they shook him rather badly. He was removed to his home at No. 2 Stanley street.

WANT WAGE INCREASES. A meeting of the employees of the Canadian Express Company will be held on Sunday afternoon to arrange a new schedule of pay. An effort is being made to secure the same rate of pay on the eastern lines of the G. T. R. as that paid on the Canadian lines. Mr. Roads, except for a few minor changes.

WILL START SOON. It is expected by the officials at the G. T. R. car shops that work on the new athletic grounds, which have been held up for some time, will be resumed in the near future. An effort will be made to finish the construction by the winter, so that winter sports may be held there. In all probabilities a large skating rink will be flooded there. It is little probability, however, that the grandstand will be built this year. Sport in the city, which is the centre for activities along this line on the G. T. R., has been given a great boost as the baseball team both winning the city championships without a loss.

MUNITION CARRYING SHIPS NOT ALLOWED THROUGH KIEL CANAL

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Instructions have been given authorities in charge of the Kiel Canal not to allow ships carrying munitions to pass through the canal from the North Sea to the Baltic, according to a telegram from Kiel. It is stated the orders were issued by the German Government.

HUGE GOLD TRANSFER. New York, Sept. 11.—Nearly $300,000,000 in gold bars is being transferred from the sub-treasury building to the new assay building next door. Most of it was melted from Spanish sovereigns and French 20-franc pieces.

KEEP PRISONER ALIVE UNTIL HIS INNOCENCE PROVED. Cork, Sept. 10.—The father of Sean Hennessy, the 16-year-old lad who is on hunger strike in Cork jail, presented today to permit the nuns to try to keep him alive until it is possible to present to the government evidence of his innocence. These proofs, it is asserted, have been obtained.

The nuns, under direction of the government's physician, are endeavoring to ameliorate Hennessy's condition. The physician today told the correspondent that not only Hennessy, but Michael Burke, Michael O'Reilly and Donovan were in an extremely critical condition, and that it was problematical whether the lives of any of them could be saved, even if they were released immediately.

According to Harold Barry, former high sheriff of Cork, who has been making desperate efforts to save Hennessy's life, Professor Nolan, president of the college at Ballinacorney, the home of Hennessy, telephoned Barry this morning that he could convince the authorities that Hennessy was not implicated in the offence of which he is accused.

Hastened to Jail. Accompanied by the correspondent of the Associated Press, Mr. Barry went to the jail and, in the presence of Jail Governor King, appealed to Doctor Pearson, who is attending to Hennessy's father, who was summoned from his dying bed to the prison yard. The father, however, turned a deaf ear to Mr. Barry's plea. "I gave Sean my word that no doctor should come near him, and he said he would follow God's will, whether he should die or be released," said the older Hennessy.

Consulted Doctors. Still refusing to admit defeat, Mr. Barry turned and asked the doctors, and then took them out to where the father was standing.

"You have confidence in the nuns who are attending your son?" Barry asked Mr. Hennessy, and the latter replied:

"Will you?" Mr. Barry then continued, "permit them under the doctors' direction to keep Sean alive by means other than force feeding for the next twelve hours?"

"Yes," Mr. Hennessy replied, after a long interval. "If it is understood that the doctors will keep away."

Burden As Usual Likely To Fall On The Consumer

Liberal Railway Critic Says New Rates Hit People Hard.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—(By the Canadian Press.)—That the burden imposed by the increase in railway rates authorized by the railway commission, is bound to fall heavily upon the consumer was the view expressed by Mr. F. H. Cahill, member for Pontiac and the chief Liberal critic of the House of Commons, when questioned in regard to the increase by a representative of the Canadian Press. Limited. Mr. Cahill said that while he expected there would be some advance in rates authorized he had not anticipated that the railways would be given practically anything they asked for. As far as the consumer was concerned, Mr. Cahill remarked, the rates would mean a 10 per cent increase in the cost of goods as a result of the judgment of the C. P. R. would be placed in a very favorable condition.

AGRICULTURAL CLASSES IN SCHOOLS SUCCESS

Inspector Edwards Is Well Pleased With Results Obtained.

Senior Public School Inspector C. B. Edwards reports great success in agricultural classes in local public schools. There are nine classes and but for the fact that the government grant is withheld when qualified teachers are not available, more classes would be organized. Senior grades in the schools are taught this subject, which includes school and home gardening. Equipment is provided by the board of education.

In the opinion of the teachers in agriculture, the course affords the greatest opportunity for instructor and pupils to get together. A rural public school teacher in possession of a second-class certificate is allowed to teach agriculture, and grants covering same are authorized, but for city schools higher qualifications are exacted. This "red tape" is resented by the city teachers, because London school children are prevented by it from receiving agricultural training. Ryerson school possessed the banner agricultural class at one time, but the government grant was cut off because of these conditions and the class was discontinued.

In the majority of local public schools the agricultural instructors are women, and some schools have two classes. Many more teachers are qualified to teach this subject, and more classes will be announced in the near future. The following schools have organized classes in agricultural training: Chesley Avenue, Ealing, Lorne Avenue (two classes), Riverview, Simcoe Street, Tecumseh (two classes), and Wortley Road.

POLICE SHOOT

He asked her what day it was. "When I said it was Friday," she said, Miss MacSwiney. "I refuse said: 'It is the beginning of the fifth week of my hunger strike.'"

Referring to the strike to Portsmouth yesterday, Miss MacSwiney said the labor officials at the trades union conference had refused to give her a hearing. She was told by an official that the conference could not help her, and she said she would then go on a strike of her own.

"I did not want to urge direct action," Miss MacSwiney declared. "I desired only to have three minutes of plain talk with the representatives of six and a half millions of working people of England. I was told that they would not be able to get a half million men to leave work."

SAMSON IRON HORSE ARRIVES AT THE FAIR.

Widepread attention is being directed to the exhibit of the Samson Tractor Company, where they are showing a new small type tractor called the "Iron Horse."

This new machine is designed to take the place of a team of horses and will do all manner of farm work which a team of horses can do. It is built to a width so it can be used in cultivating corn and all manner of light work on the farm.

The novel feature of this tractor is the method of operation. The driver can sit on the implement and control the iron horse by means of reins, thus eliminating the necessity of an extra man on the tractor.

The Iron Horse is not yet on sale, but this model is exhibited to show farmers the advancement that is being made towards motorizing the farm.

The Samson Tractor Company, which is a subsidiary of General Motors of Canada, Limited, expect to launch out on a quantity production so as to be able to market the Iron Horse next spring.

This exhibit also shows the Samson Model M Tractor, perhaps the most efficient of small type tractors on the market. Disc harrows, plows, cultivators, etc., are also being shown.

Another feature that is entirely new is the truck designed and built especially for farm use. This Samson Truck works with great efficiency whether across plowed fields, boggy ground, sandy soil or country highways.

A new and patented invention has enabled the manufacturer to overcome to a large degree conditions which prevented the ordinary tractor from adapting itself to the needs of the farm.

Every farmer who visits the fair should make it a point to see the Samson Tractor Exhibit.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE. New York, Sept. 11.—Wall Street, 9:30 a.m.—Trading was unusually light even for a week-end session, at the opening of today's stock market. Price changes were restricted to fractions, which in no instance exceeded half a point. Some of the rule, oil and copper cases while others in the same group advanced. Announcement over the night of very large gold imports brought no relief to foreign exchange.

MONTEAL STOCK EXCHANGE. Montreal, Sept. 11.—The local stock market opened with a quiet but fairly strong tone, the majority of the transactions recorded showing fractional consideration gains from yesterday's close. Riorion opened up a point higher at 21½, and moved almost on the nose to 21¾. Abitibi showed a gain ¼ to 1, and Brompton was ¼ better off the initial sale at 75, going immediately to 76½.

Canada Forgings, the only stock to show a loss, the first few minutes of trading was off ½ at 117½.

POLICEMAN ARRESTS THREE MEN SINGLE-HANDED

KITCHENER, Sept. 10.—P. C. Parrell of the local police force, after a struggle, arrested three suspicious-looking drunks behind a billboard on Poundry street north this afternoon.
The plucky policeman, while in the midst of the fracas, commandeered a passing taxi and after receiving a few minor bruises succeeded in landing the trio inside the vehicle, climbed in after them and held them down until he reached police headquarters.

During the ride one of the prisoners smashed the cab windows in an effort to escape. It is believed the window smasher is a noted crook. His fingerprints will be forwarded to the authorities at Ottawa.

TIRE TRADE QUIET

Kitchener Firm Places Employees on Unusually Short Shifts.

KITCHENER, Sept. 10.—The approach of a quiet industrial period in Kitchener appears to be indicated by the information given out today at the Dominion Tire plant that production is being vigorously cut down, owing to the prevailing dullness of the rubber market. It is also rumored that several hundred men have been laid off, but this is denied by the officials of the company. It is admitted, however, that employees are working on unusually short shifts. It was also admitted the plant is working on stock.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Peter Heenan, M.P.P., mayor of Kenora, Ont., and a deputation from Kenora interviewed Premier Durney and other members of the Government here today to try and secure the English River timber limits for the Backus interests. Mr. Heenan urged the necessity of keeping Kenora alive by establishing a pulp mill and a saw mill there, but it is understood that no encouragement was given to the deputation that the sought-for timber concessions would be granted.

East Elgin Tories Pick John L. Stansell, Bayham, to Carry Party Standard

Sir George E. Foster Puts United Farmers in Same Category As Bolsheviks—"One Almost As Bad As the Other"—Convention Characterized by Smooth Running.

[By Staff Reporter.]
ALYMER, Sept. 10.—John L. Stansell, a cattlemen and farmer of Bayham Township, was selected this afternoon to lead the National Liberal Conservative forces in East Elgin by-election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of David Marshall, M.P. Michael McKnight was also nominated, but withdrew in Mr. Stansell's favor. Nominations preceded the mass meeting to select the candidates. As Mr. McKnight, opening the mass meeting, did not announce the nomination of Stansell, he was whispered at the doors of the town hall, which was perhaps slightly more than one-third filled, it certainly did appear "all cut-and-dried." Mr. Stansell made two short, neatly-worded speeches which aptly illustrated some of the scholar's remark about language being made to conceal thought. Mr. Stansell in his opening speech, announced that he came to the meeting with the "express intention of withdrawing from the race." Mr. McKnight, who had been in the hall for some time, was "oppressed with a strong sense of duty," and it was "hard to say to one's friends," if there were a possibility of Mr. McKnight reconsidering his withdrawal, Mr. Stansell would prefer to withdraw his name.

Honors Late Member.
Referring to the death of the late member, Mr. Stansell said that he held many monuments to the ability and integrity of David Marshall. Mr. McKnight, in withdrawing, made the sage remark that if the election was to be won, there would have to be hard work done. Everybody must put his shoulder to the wheel. Both Mr. McKnight and Mr. Stansell succeeded in conveying the impression of sophisticated nomination every day in the year must of necessity arrive. Mr. McKnight was not any more spontaneous in his manner of the well-trained younger man. Canada had done more than any other country for her war heroes, he said.

The old Tory machine was certainly nearly camouflaged under the colors of the new N. C. combination, but when Sir George E. Foster had made a dramatic last address, Mr. Stansell arose again to say:
"After listening to this inspiring address, and under strong pressure from my friends, I have consented to accept the nomination," well, one merely wondered whether he had been misled by the chairman had called on Mr. Stansell to speak first at the beginning of the evening and given him an opportunity to be the first to withdraw.

U. F. O.—Bolshevik.
Sir George went, perhaps, a trifle strong in his denunciation of the United Farmers of Canada, who were the opponents of the Winnipeg strike who were the opponents of the "Bolshevik" government, he declared:
"Soviet, Bolshevik, miners, farmers—no matter which one is almost as bad as the other."

Incidentally it might be observed that Mr. Stansell moves very much "in the light." When the meeting opened Sir George under the oratorical spell of Sir George Foster, it was clearly evident that it was a nice-mannered, perfectly agreeable meeting, and so Mr. Stansell was able to say: "In the light of the nomination," Mr. Stansell was applauded when he further declared that he wanted a clean campaign, whether he was clean or not. He had no desire to do mud-slinging and he wanted no one to do it for him. After Mr. Stansell's nomination was made, Mr. McKnight closed the meeting with the inevitable "three cheers and a hurrah" for the King, Hon. Arthur Meighen, Sir George Foster and Mr. Stansell in the correct order named. And it ought to be noted in all fairness that they were good-sized cheers, much more substantial and uniform than the varying amounts of applause, despite the fact that quite a few people had left the meeting. But when everybody knows that the meeting is actually over and some may possibly cheer the cheer relief of it.

No Flag-Waving.
The meeting was conspicuous for the absence of flag-waving. This was the striking variation from the conduct of usual Tory meetings, according to Mr. McKnight. Whether it was intentional and had anything to do with the addition of the prefix "National" to the name of the party was not clear. The flag was painted on the ceiling, and although a big faded since the Aymer town hall was last decorated, it relieved the speakers of the need for a lot of graphic appeals of patriotism that otherwise might have been deemed in order.

A resolution moved by George B. Lindsay, seconded by Ira Stillman, approved of the selection of Hon. Arthur Meighen as party leader, and declared allegiance to the principles of conservatism actuating the Government, and which the "strenuous" demand was maintained. This resolution was read by T. Merritt Moore, defeated in the last provincial campaign.

Approve N. L. C. Party.
Another resolution moved by Walter Goodman and seconded by Samuel Dawes, declared approval of the policy and platform of the National Liberal Conservative party and credited the comparative absence of economic unrest in Canada, was largely due to the tariff policy laid down by Sir John A. Macdonald.

Dr. Michael Steele, M.P., South Perth, expressed regret at the death of Mr. Marshall, then whom no more during the trying time of the war gave a more loyal support to measures for the good of the country. No riding had more faithful representative, said Mr. Steele.

Never in any period of Canadian history had any body of men striven harder to give devoted support to carrying on the nation's government than the Liberal Government during the war. And no men in that Government had given more faithful service than the Liberal Unionists. The new party was national in its aim and aspirations, national in its policy and purpose. No class, no party, no section, no creed, had been in the minds of its organizers. It represented Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Remembered the Roots.
Sir George Foster, recently recalled his first impressions of Western Ontario formed 50 years ago. The strange root-fences appeared not to have changed any as he passed through the district where they are found. In fact, he thought he still recognized the same old stumps. If the people of Western Ontario would stick like these stumps, still were good for a long time yet. Thirty-eight years ago he had been in Mr. Stansell's position, receiving his political nomination. He took the bit in his teeth, and would do it all over again. There are a lot of unpleasant things in politics, but with a sense of duty and a consciousness of rectitude, the politician enjoyed the work.

Class Name Dangerous.
As for the U. F. O., "a party which comes up to govern the whole country should not tap itself with the name of a class." This was a mistake which would prove a fatal mistake to any class, farmers, manufacturers, labor or miners. The U. F. O. would never get out of this.

Had Reduced Taxes.
Also it had reduced taxes from 30 per cent. to 20 per cent. The Liberal regime, on all dutiable goods to 22 per cent, and yet the opponents of the Liberal regime claimed no tariff relief had been given.

The "strange strike" in Winnipeg was a time for steadiness. It was a time for the Liberal regime, and in fact all over the world. This was not a time for agitation. It was a time for steadiness. It was a time for the Liberal regime, and in fact all over the world. This was not a time for agitation. It was a time for steadiness.

BOY DIES OF SCALDS.
WINDSOR, Sept. 10.—Tripping over some obstacle and falling backward into a painful of boiling hot water at his home on Wednesday, Albert Borden, a half-year-old son of Albert N. Borden, foreman in the plant of the American Auto Company, died last night as a result of scalds and shock to his system. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning to St. Alphonse Cemetery.

A Sure Sign That the Blood Is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons, and the form of anemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs. Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

Most disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Headaches, dizziness, strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, build up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

CHATHAM MAN ARRESTED

Charles Lumley Pleads Guilty—Remanded a Week For Sentence.

CHATHAM, Sept. 10.—The interior of the city police station this morning greatly resembled a general store, the floor being covered with packages of all descriptions containing tea, coffee, sugar, soap and other articles of the grocery trade; brooms, oil, wearing apparel, a pile of trousers, a cardboard box and a large bag filled with cigars and numerous other articles, including two pairs of rubber boots and a fur coat.

For some time past thefts from freight cars stationed on the Pere Marquette transfer siding on Maple Leaf avenue near the local cemetery have been reported, and Pere Marquette detectives have been active, endeavoring to locate the thieves and booty. The culminating point was reached last evening at 8 o'clock, when detectives and city police surrounded the house of Chas. Lumley, 210 King street east, and arrested Lumley.

A search of the premises located large stacks of the above-mentioned articles, a truck load of which was brought to the central police station as "evidence." The charge preferred against Lumley was that "prior to September 9 of this year he did steal from cars on the Pere Marquette lines." He pleaded guilty.

FOSTER'S FAILURE.

It is announced that Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce in the Meighen Government, is going to take an active part in the East Elgin by-election now pending. Sir George Foster may have ample time to spend in this way, but the Montreal Gazette, one of the stoutest supporters of the Meighen ministry, has pointed out, perhaps unwittingly, where the minister might employ his time to better advantage as far as Canada is concerned.

The Gazette prints a column cable from its special London correspondent describing the almost complete stagnation and lack of business method that prevails in the Canadian trade offices in London, England. According to this correspondent there are no less than three so-called trade offices or missions in London, each independent of the other and none of them doing anything of any account. There is first of all the remnant of the old trade mission. W. C. Noxon, its chairman, receives no salary, but has a living allowance of £2 a day, and its staff has been reduced to two officials and some clerks.

"Executive," it is only a shadow of its former self, and either its powers have been so curtailed or its chairman so limits his interpretation of them that for some months it has been doing, practically speaking, nothing, at a total cost of over $30,000 a year. As for the deputy high commissioner and the senior trade commissioner's office, they have been run on strictly routine lines, and it is improbable that the canvas of the Canadian business community would elicit any very enthusiastic eulogium of their efforts."

This is a grave indictment coming from a source always friendly to the Government. At a time when the markets of the world are under fierce competition Canada is represented abroad by a staff that neither knows its business nor has any energy if it did know what to do. The Gazette gives an example of the business methods of the London office that is amazing:

One of our trade commissioners in Britain recently stated that though he put through scores of trade inquiries every month, not 1 per cent of them ever led to any business. The reason is that these inquiries are forwarded by mail to the Trade and Commerce Department (at Ottawa), which, in the present state of markets, is quite useless."

We would suggest that the East Elgin electors before whom Sir George Foster appears to sound the praises of the Meighen Government, should gently but firmly insist on knowing how it is that the minister of trade and commerce can spare time for campaigning in a by-election while chaos rules in his department at the capital and in the offices of the department overseas.

LAMBETH CONFERENCE AND WORLD QUESTIONS.

In a former issue a resume was given of the appeal by the recent Anglican conference at Lambeth, England, on the subject of church unity and reunion of Christian bodies. On this and other subjects its conclusions were embodied in eighty resolutions prefaced by an encyclical letter. Christian fellowship among individuals, churches, communities and nations is given as the keynote of the deliverances of these 252 bishops assembled. They took an unequivocal and sound position in support of the essentially Christian basis of the League of Nations, and ask that the Church of Christ with one voice press its support upon the peoples of the world, urging also the admission of Germany and other nations as speedily as conditions make it possible. They ask for resistance to injustice to native races, particularly in regard to such matters as land tenure, forced labor, the trade in intoxicating liquors, the morphia or opium traffic in China and other abuses.

Viewing the world's perplexities and troubles, the work of Christian missions is naturally given pre-eminence. The presentation of Jesus Christ and His redemption to every race and individual is laid upon the church as a normal function never so insistent as today. The report commends giving wide freedom to indigenous workers in developing work in their own countries in accordance with their national character. Protest is recorded against the perpetuation of war-time restrictions upon missionary effort, and since missions should not be at the mercy of political expediency, missionaries are counselled to show no object, motive or thought beyond spreading the Kingdom of Heaven. National selfishness has been persistent and ruthless, but must give way to a brotherhood of redeemed humanity which the church promotes.

Marriage and the family life are dealt with in great candor. It is almost needless to say the bishops reaffirm the traditional position of the church in respect to marriage as a lifelong union involving deliberate self-control with the continuation of the race through the heritage and gift of children. The indissolubility of marriage should secure to children the continued love and care of both parents, and therefore on their behalf it is the states' obvious interest to preserve the strictness of marriage law. The right is asserted of the church to bear witness to the Christian marriage standard and in its own communion to deal with cases which fall within the exception mentioned in the record of the Lord's words in St. Matthew's Gospel. The people are warned against the grave dangers arising from theories and practices hostile to the family, and parents are counselled regarding sound teaching to their children on sex subjects. Co-operation and pressure are strongly urged in removing various suggestive incentives to social vice.

While the recommendations relating to industry and commerce may be regarded in some quarters as insufficiently advanced, still if the church lives up to the social duty as defined by the bishops there would be little reason for complaint. They ask for the application of the fellowship of good will and co-operation rather than competing in hostility and suspicion. This fellowship will be endangered if those who serve do not share equitably in the results of labor and under such conditions as will tend to elevate human character, which is to be set above dividends and profits. Extravagance and waste are to be avoided, honor and thoroughness in work observed. The prohibition of the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors by the will of the people in the United States and their sale in most of the provinces of Canada, is commended to the earnest and sympathetic attention of the Christian Church throughout the world. Members of the church in other countries are urged to support such legislation as will lead to a speedy reduction in the use of intoxicants and the duty is pointed out of combating the evil of intemperance by personal example and willing self-sacrifice.

The report declares for the admission of women into those councils of the church to which men are admitted and on equal terms, but how this is to take effect is left with the synods. The revival of the order of deaconesses is approved, but the further sharing by women of ministry in the wider sense is conservatively hedged. Several modern movements of thought are informatively analyzed and the supreme sufficiency of the revelation of God in Christ Jesus reaffirmed. The church is admonished to faithful observance of prayer, the sacrament of holy communion and the discipline of faith. She is reminded of the true Source of spiritual and bodily healing, comfort and solace, which are the rightful heritage of those who abide in Divine fellowship and to all such the Divine resources are available.

THE LURE OF THE LEAVES.

"What do we with those who grieve them
Over the fever of the mind?
Beauty's followers will leave them
Far behind."

Summer is the time of memory-storing for the winter months. Remembrance of flowers and trees folds itself away in our beauty-loving hearts, and who can measure the wealth it may prove on a day of grey outlook and faltering faith.

Just before they are autumn-touched to sunset shades, and wind-carried to winter sheltering, the leaves take on a preciousness that belongs to all leave-takings. The summer past has been rich in foliage and spring-kept greenness and the trees have been loved to worship. Unstained by dust and safe from parching heat, they have revelled in a season given over to every mood of the mind and sun and rain, and their beauty and luxuriance have won the notice of the most unheeding eyes.

On a windless sunlit day, or an evening of quiet rain, there is a stillness among the leaves that is reflective and reverent. Like so many beautiful hands outspread in benediction, they keep a hushed, listening quiet that penetrates to the source of every discordant thought within us, dispelling our "foolish fears and futile fret," "blurring remembrance and quieting pain," making room for the peace that is the very essence of their stillness. With the coming of occasional little winds, there is a busyness among them, yet every movement is restful. Beautiful aloofness and inviting intimacy blend in their graceful swaying and display a dignity of purpose and a spirit of playful adventure, withal a comradeship with each other, the warmth of which is past naming.

However furious the storms that sweep and the winds that lash, there is a tenacious devotion to every little twig, a clinging tenderness for the black and silver-grey boughs in each frail stem and silken form. The secrets of the dewdrops, of rainbows, of enfolding mists, of wind-whisperings, of singing birds, of stars and the velvet dark, are all too wonderful to yield without a struggle.

For moments all gay and abandoned, come the stray little gipsy breezes and each leaf takes on a mood all its own and dances each its own little interpretation of the joy of the moment. Shaking with laughter at the antics of another, whirling independently in utter yielding to a mood so gay, each little leaf invites its human companions to the carnival of the breezes and bids care be forgotten and love and laughter reign supreme.

But of all happy moods of the leaves there is none so enchanting as that in which they give forth their silken music at the invisible touch of the wind that comes with fairy fingers to play upon their hidden harps. Loving the touch of each other, their swinging melodies blend and unite in whispered notes that are unforgettable and lovely. On an evening of quiet, the "woodnotes of the rain" fill the shadows with a music like that of distant, flute-like singing, sweet and alluring "as swayed by tides of dreaming or bowed by gusts of thought." The moods of the leaves are many and their ministry ever beautiful for seeing eyes and understanding hearts.

WEEDING OUT THE CIVIL SERVICE.

[Toronto Telegram.]

It is announced from Ottawa that there is to be a general weeding out of the civil service throughout Canada. Civil service reform of various kinds has been a convenient political football for generations.

It is now proposed to put into effect the special act which provides for the retirement of employees over 65 years of age.

If the civil service had not been stuffed with so many political hacks there would not be so much necessity for weeding.

There will be little saving to the country in eliminating those over the age limit, unless more care is exercised in making future appointments. There are cases on record where appointments were made to the civil service of men who had been superannuated by other employers.

A regulation limiting the age at which men may enter the service would appear to be more necessary than a retiring age limit.

At least one myth has been pretty effectively exploded. Profiteers will not be able to fool the public any more with tales of shortage of sugar.

DIG.

[Farmers' Advocate.]

Is your farm noted particularly for any one thing? Surely there is one thing it will produce better than any other? If you haven't discovered what it is, dig!

From Here and There

TRYING TO PERPETUATE ITSELF.

[Victoria Times.]

What respect, for example, does the Union Government show for the wishes of the electorate when, although it was elected as a "war government," it seeks to perpetuate itself for several years by the mere expedient of changing leaders? What sort of political breeding, indeed, does this manoeuvre indicate? And Mr. Meighen tells us that "no political party in the world was ever better born or better bred than the National Liberal-Conservative party." In any case, we would imagine that so rare a child was entitled to a better name.

NO DOUBT THEY WILL.

[La Presse.]

The women have demonstrated throughout the whole of the long campaign for woman suffrage a tenacity and an ardent alikes remarkable. Now that their desires have been granted, it is to be hoped they will apply an intelligence in exercising their right to vote equal to the passion they showed in their campaign to obtain it.

JOLLY LITTLE CHIPMUNK.

The place the chipmunk fills is small and inconspicuous, but his sylvan chirrup plays a minor strain in the wordless diapason which the slightly blue soul of nature is forever singing in her forests; solemn and consoling to heal earth's scars; jubilant and glad for the free of heart. Inonating ever some clear, sweet note of mystic melody for those who listen, to awaken a dreaming bliss or to thrill an untired fibre into quivering life.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY TELEGRAPH.

[Ottawa Journal.]
A Danish scientist, Thorvald Anderson, has invented a process for transmitting photographs by telegraph. He was invited by the London Daily Express to go to London to demonstrate his invention. While he was on the way the editor of that paper sent to Anderson's brother in Copenhagen photographs of the King, Lloyd George and Miss Irene Vanbrugh, the actress. The brother then sent the Express three cables in code, which Thorvald translated in the newspaper's dark room, the result being excellent likenesses of the three subjects. The inventor had never heard of Miss Vanbrugh, and imagined her photograph to be that of the Princess Mary.

As photographs consist merely of lights and shades, it is, so it seems, merely a matter of the receiver of the wire photograph shading the telegraph blank where it ought to be shaded, and leaving it light where no shading is required. How to do that simple thing has been the trouble up to the present, but the secret of Anderson's success seems to be almost out. The sender of the photograph tell him in code where to put down shades on the blank receiving form. The receiver decipheres the code, throws the shades on the sensitized plate (in the proper place, of course), and there you are.

It is now predicted that the exchange of photographs by telephone is a possibility of the near future.

MAKING THE PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME.

[Christian Science Monitor.]

Apart from technical legal question, there is common sense in the sentence of the Massachusetts judge who ruled that an ice dealer who had been found guilty a second time of giving short weight should supply ice free for the rest of the summer to the people he had cheated. Not only does it teach the offender a lasting lesson, but it is more satisfactory to the victims than the justice sometimes meted out. The proposal to sentence automobile law-breakers to drive their cars at a speed not above four miles an hour might be worth considering.

PLACING THE BLAME.

[Chicago Herald.]

Listening to the voice of Labor, a stranger might be excused for thinking that the sole aim of the British Government has been to find some excuse or other for declaring war on Soviet Russia. Certainly nobody could be expected to conclude from the attitude of Labor that the very reverse has been the case, and that we have for weeks been doing our best to get Russia to come to terms with her adversary and conclude a lasting peace. Yet such is the fact, and for whatever delay there has been in the opening of negotiations Labor has to blame Russian friends, and not the Allies—least of all the British Government.

MEDIOCRITY AND DEMOCRACY.

[Boston Globe.]

Of course, there is a way of extolling democracy and singing the virtues of the common man which amounts to little more than flattering mediocre people in their mediocrity. Of this believers in democracy must beware. Democracy means a dead level of plenty of things to eat and wear. It means an equal chance for everybody to work his hardest to develop whatever abilities he has. For mediocrity, or the state of being fifth-rate, is not absence of talent. Mediocrity is absence of effort. The only person who is really commonplace is the one who won't try.

HUMAN LIFE NO VALUE.

[Guelph Herald.]

The desire to make money is so strong with bootleggers that they do not consider the value of human life. A lot of the stuff they sell is poison that causes blindness, sickness and death.

A CHANGE OF STYLE.

[Boston Transcript.]

A western organization published a book containing what are said to be messages sent by Colonel Roosevelt from the other world. He is quoted as referring to his departure "from amongst your midst." There will be general agreement that it is unnecessary to read further.

AN OVERWORKED WORD.

[E. W. Howe's Weekly.]

We Americans make too much of the word "PEP." If a man has efficiency and reliability, he does not need "Pep," which is the sort of thing a Y. M. C. A. secretary has when he stands before a tired audience and urges that the second verse be tried again, with more spirit. A good, steady man needs no Pep, nor need he be a Live Wire. The Pep Gentlemen are mainly trying to do things that need not be done. And while I am grumbling, I will confess I do not care for the word "Constructive." All the Pep Gentlemen use it too much, and in it a complete defence for all their mistakes and programs. There was once a monthly publication called Pep. The editor somehow obtained my name, and resolved to adopt constructive measures and force me to subscribe. Every week for a considerable time I received a letter from him, and the Pep talk became as disagreeable to me as the Pep man. It made me so mad that nothing on earth would have induced me to subscribe to the Pep magazine. All Pep measures are annoying to me.

THE TRAFFIC TOLL.

[Montreal Star.]

The huge increase in motoring and the consequent loss of life through accidents has aroused much comment. Secretary Williams of the American National Safety Council points out that three times as many people are now killed in motoring accidents as in all the factories and by the railroads in the country.

The arousing of public opinion against this trend is a slow process and somewhat clumsy at best. A quicker cure seems to lie in regarding loose motoring methods as bad business for the automobile industry. Continuance of the present rate of killing may have its influence upon the market. Swift, certain and heavy punishment by the courts is also due to those who may be found guilty of careless or reckless driving. The foot in the motor car is pointing a loaded gun in the face of the public.

ATHLETICS AND FRIENDLINESS.

[Spokane Spokesman-Review.]

A good means of making boys friends is to have them play together. Men remain boys in their liking for play, and nations are masses of men. Nations that play with one another have an incentive for international friendliness. Olympic games for the world and Anglo-American contests for "America" cups contribute in their degree to the fellowship of people and the peace of man.

INFLUENCE OF POETRY.

[Montreal Gazette.]

Sir William Pierson often expressed his regret that so little poetry was taught in the schools. He recognized that the teaching of poetry would refine and uplift the mind, and spiritualize the whole nature. Such a teaching is especially urgent in a young country in the formative stage when the danger, through individual struggle under forbidding circumstances, of conserving a sordid materialism, is urgent.

Poetry and Jest

THEY ARE CALLING ME "JIM."

[James W. Kelley, Denver, Colorado.]
They are calling me "Jim" at the Rotary Club.
The boys who are friendly and true,
Who hearken with zest to the words
I shall say.
Who have interest in all that I do,
We are brothers and pals on the highway of life.
Forgiving each crochets and whims,
They know I am human and likely to err.
The boys who are calling me "Jim."
I am "Jim" in my home to the wife
of my love,
But the wide world is formal and cold,
And my soul cries aloud for the voice of
a friend,
That tone that is purer than gold.
So these Rotary men fill the void in my heart.
And the tide of despair quickly stems,
I'm no longer alone in the crowd as I
was.
For they're all of them calling me
"Jim."

When I answer to "Jim" at the Rotary Club,
As some good friend gives me a
hand,
I feel like a mariner on the wide main
When he sees the first glimpse of a sail,
I must steer a straight course on the ocean of life,
In the wild gales my sails I must
trim;
In the years that go by I must not disappoint
Those boys who are calling me
"Jim."

JOY IN THE YEAR.

[Frank L. Stanton.]
There's joy, my dear, in the noon o'
the year.
When the harvest hints of gold.
And the soft sun streams with its gleams and dreams
On your beautiful hair unrolled:
There's joy, my dear, for the world is
fair,
And Love is the brightest blossom
there!

There's joy, my dear, in the grey o'
the year.
When the snows are drifting white,
And the cold winds cry to the starless
sky,
And the last rose weeps "Good-
night!"
There's joy, my dear, for the world is
fair,
And Love like a lily is blooming there!

SUPPLICATION NEEDLESS.

[Indianapolis Star.]
"I suppose," said the village deacon to the minister, "that your constant prayer is that you may ever remain poor and humble."
"Well, not exactly," replied the minister. "I pray that I may remain humble, but my congregation attends to the other part of it."

IT MIGHT BE WORSE.

[Chicago Herald.]
If everybody's misery was written in
his face,
There'd be but little pleasure here
among the human race.
The glow of cheerful happiness would fade away and die.
And all the springs of joy and mirth
would soon be running dry.
So don't you grow discouraged then, if ever you see a frowny face.
For if you wait a streak of joy will surely come along.
Don't keep a-moping all the time as mournful as a hearse.
But gulp your trouble down and say it might be worse.

MAKING IT FIT.

[London Opinion.]
"Did you hear about the defacement of Mr. Skinner's tombstone?" asked Mr. Brown a few days after the funeral of that eminent captain of industry.
"No, what was it?" inquired his neighbor curiously.
"Someone added the word 'friends'
to the epitaph,"
"What was the epitaph?"
"He did his best."

ANOTHER DAY.

Another day, anew to rise,
To strive to win a worthy friend;
To learn what in each effort lies,
While wondering what will be the end.
Another day our strength to test
With those more strong than that we must meet,
Resolved to do our very best,
If victory crown us—or defeat.

Another day—what will it add
To those that have their cycles run?
Shall we more happy be, or sad,
Than when across the morning sun?

Another day the world to face,
Between the good and ill to choose;
To be moved up or down a space,
Perhaps to win, perhaps to lose.

Another day to live and hope,
To play the part we think we must,
With inward enemies to cope,
And learn our better selves to trust.

Ah, yes; another day is ours;
It means so little or so much,
According as the passing hour
For right or wrong our fingers touch.

A REAL DIFFERENCE.

"Mama," asked 7-year-old Charles,
who was studying his Bible lesson,
"what is the difference between high church and low church?"
"I know," exclaimed his little 5-year-old sister.
"Well, what's the difference?" asked their mother.
"One says 'Amen,' and the other
says 'Amen,'" she replied.

SEA TWILIGHT.

[Christian Science Monitor.]
The birds are dark against the sunset
sky.
The ocean shines in blue and dappled
gold.
On one bright spire keen light is like a cry.
But the still woods look strange and black and old.

A little foam is crisping on the shore;
New colors on the wavering waters ride.
The birds are flown. Where waves can reach no more
A broken line marks the departed tide.

REAL CHIVALRY.

[Toronto Mail and Empire.]
At a place "somewhere east of Suez," an intoxicated gentleman, after being ejected from a moving picture theatre, was discovered on the door step of the back entrance with a large bouquet in his arms. A policeman arrested him.
"Did he give any reason for his extraordinary behavior?" asked the traveller.
"His speech was a bit indistinct, your honor," answered the policeman, "but from what I could gather, he was waiting to see Mary Pickford home."

SANCTUARY.

[Una Malleson in Poetry Review.]
Strange fancies haunt me at the even-tide,
In the last dusky hour before the
night.
Faint, piteous wraiths of lovely things
that died,
And sad, sweet, amorous dreams of dead delight.

They throng about me as the days
depart,
The tired ghosts of wistful bygone
years,
Pain lifts her head and listens in my heart
To the slow, bitter fall of useless
tears.

Silent I gaze into Life's hopeless eyes,
While 'round my heart the waiting shadows creep.
Till Night, O Mother infinitely wise,
Folds me within the tender arms of sleep.

No Message Rates Here

It is not the intention to apply the message rate plan to telephones here!

It is only in the larger cities (Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, and Quebec) that message rates become necessary. The intensive use of the service by many business subscribers in large centres means the creation of an operating load the cost of which, under a flat rate, bears unfairly on the small user. Hence the message rate for big cities.

Here, telephone service will continue on the flat rate basis as hitherto.

HEPPELWHITE FURNITURE.

It is odd to think that every first-class manufacturer of furniture in this country and in Great Britain is today busily engaged in reproducing the designs of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries.

The four great makers of furniture in England and who are closely associated in time and art are Chippendale, Sheraton, Heppelwhite and Adam. They are probably better known today than they were in their own day, and doubtless much of the work of other men, even of shape not at all connected with them. The reason for this is that the designs of these four men have been published in books of designs, thus leaving permanent evidence of their art, and greatly increasing the art of their contemporaries and successors.

In 1790 Heppelwhite published a set of designs for English domestic furniture, and from these his characteristics can be learned. The graceful and natural lines which mark a great advance from Chippendale, Heppelwhite chairs have sometimes shield-shaped backs, pierced backs, and delicately fluted woodwork, and legs elaborately turned. Instead of the straight heavy Chippendale legs, Heppelwhite believed that the line of beauty is the curve, and he avoided the straight line in his best pieces. He used mahogany and satinwood, and some of the most beautiful pieces have hand painted upon satinwood panels, a form copied from French styles of Louis XV. Another favorite decoration was the Prince of Wales feathers, carved upon the centre of the openwork back or japanned upon the seat.

The influence of Heppelwhite persists, and we have beautiful more beautiful furniture in our homes because he lived and wrought with such care.

What the Press Agents Say About the Shows

AT THE ALLEN

"ON WITH THE DANCE."

Allen Theatre Secures for Fair Week Most Sensational Spectacular Film of Year—Gorgeous Pageant of Dazzling Color; Beauty and Thrills, Starring the Beautiful Mae Murray.

Ziegfeld Follies beauty, Mae Murray, displaying all her graceful charms, supported by David Powell and an all-star cast, which includes such famous stars as Alma Tell; New York night life seen in all its mad dizzying whirl of lust of pleasure and wine, women and song. A revelation of the life of the Gay White Way—such is "On With the Dance," the exceptional attraction secured for the Allen Fair Week.

Never in the annals of moviedom has there been a picture produced which possessed to such a successful measure the ingredients of popularity full of dazzling color; sensational with thrills, and scenes of the street of pleasure, and the life in New York's notorious cabarets, a fashion show, continuing from the opening scene until the flash of the final picture, with all the latest Paris and New York creations in gowns, jewels, clothes, motors; the picture is a revelation of beauty, of feminine charms and youthful grace.

You will see the intrigues of the multi-millionaire in his palatial apartments high in the Tower of Measure; you will see the sensational after four frolics in the much talked about Cabaret Montmartre; the Masked Dancer will charm you with her graceful swaying sinuous interpretations; the mad search after more and new sensations and pleasures of the beautiful young Russian who steals the hearts from a hundred men, and drags them down with her to destruction; you will thrill to the shot that ends the revolting scene of the Peacock Room, and you will realize after seeing the picture that "On With the Dance" marks a new era in motion picture production, that it is an epic in beautiful settings, and the most amazing sensational story that the screen has yet entertained the public with.

For Fair Week the Allen will show as an extra attraction the special Sunshine comedy, "The Jazz Bandits," while the famous Concert Orchestra will be augmented for this extra special occasion. There will be a special matinee daily for school children, and we advise you to attend as early as possible, so that you may have the opportunity of avoiding the rush of the great evening crowds.

MAJESTIC

AN HOUR SPENT BEHIND THE SCENES OF A CANNIBAL ISLAND, WHERE PEOPLE LIVE TO EAT; WHO KNOW NO GOD, AND FEAR NO MASTER.

"SHIPWRECKED AMONG THE CANNIBALS," AMAZING AND INSTRUCTIVE, AUTHENTIC PICTURES OF HAIR-RAISING ADVENTURES.

Never has there been shown before, and most likely never will there again be taken, pictures such as you will see in that great film "Shipwrecked Among the Cannibals," the attraction that opens at the Majestic Monday for Fair Week.

Absolutely true and real, yet surpassing in drama the wildest fiction of the novellists. When Edward Laemmle and William F. Alder set out to obtain some pictures of the South Sea Islands they had no expectation of being shipwrecked—least of all on a cannibal island whose only foreign visitor, a missionary, had met his terrible end a few months before their arrival. As a result these pictures have a reality about them which convinces as nothing else could do.

Six reels of almost unbelievable pictures, made at the bottom of the world—in an island God forgot. Where men slash and tear their bodies to seem beautiful—where men torture their faces out of all human semblance to make them appear ferocious, where a million bones attest a thousand cannibal feasts.

View these most dramatic of all real pictures ever taken since the world began, and you see in an instant that here is something that is bound to be remembered as a photographic page from the history of a humanity that we know little of, of a people fast vanishing from the face of the earth.

This picture is induced by the boards of education of Toronto, Ottawa and Ontario, and the countryside, and it is recommended that every man, woman and child should take the splendid opportunity offered in seeing this unusual and exceptional offering.

Special children's matinee daily. Continuous performances throughout the week.

first entry attired in the brown garb of a priest, with a hood over his head, no one recognized him, and he was on the stage twenty minutes before his identity became known, and the reception broke loose.

Mr. Cowles' career since that time is well known. He won honors with the Bostonians, and later with the Alice Nielsen Company in the United States and London. His appearance in "Chu Chin Chow" brings back one of the finest robust bass singers in the

MOORE AND MURPHY, THE WELL-KNOWN COMEDIANS, COMING WITH "MY SOLDIER GIRL." It will be good news to local theatre-goers to learn that Moore and Murphy, the clever comedians that have been featured two seasons with the firm of Le Comte & Flesher, are to be seen again in the musical novelty of "My Soldier Girl," when the new edition of this clever musical play will be seen in this city, at the Grand, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 23, 24 and 25.

It was nearly five years ago that Billy Moore came to the firm directly from the Essanay Studios; he had just completed two years with the screen producers, but favored the stage, and decided to return to it. His clever screen portrayals were recognized by the firm of Le Comte & Flesher, and they lost no time in signing a contract for an indefinite period. At this time Billy Murphy was doing third comedy with the same firm in one of their Chicago successes. Although a young man, he displayed marked ability as an eccentric comedian, and since that time has created many new roles from year to year, as the firm sent forth their new productions. It seemed to him to be a lot to be cast in the same productions, and from the first were recognized as two clever comedians long before they thought of forming a partnership.

When "My Soldier Girl" was produced Moore was assigned the black-face comedy, while Murphy drew the half-witted, care-free boy whose particular aim in life was to become an actor. Mr. Moore's ability in black-face has long been established, while Mr. Murphy has become known as an exceptional eccentric type—thus they distributed comedy and joy over the audience with their clever songs, dances and clean, snappy comedy. They are an asset to the popular play, "My Soldier Girl," and those who remember this pair will gladly welcome them upon their return to this city. Seats go on sale Monday, September 20.

AT LOEW'S

Revolution in the Methods Employed by Leading Vamp—Constance Talmadge Establishes Radical School of Advancement—Vamping—Put Taboo On Staged Evening Dress.

Nothing is more interesting than a peek at a woman before her mirror, while she is doing her hair and looking beautiful. Flanked by jars guaranteed to remove the telltale signs of creasing age—the facial wrinkles, and powders concocted to bring to faded cheeks the bloom of an eighteen-year-old flapper, the woman presents a spectacle of Vanity's grapple with age. But who has the woman of swan-like throat, peach-bloom cheeks, and beautiful figure—in her attempt to look beautiful and youthful? But it has been done.

Constance Talmadge, in her latest first National attraction, "The Perfect Woman," which comes to the Loew Theatre for three days, commencing Monday, presents a highly humorous glimpse of a young lady in her pretty little boudoir, distorting her well-molded features into grotesque shapes, scientifically as protruding and vulgarly as "tough," dimming the entrancing gleam of her wonderful eyes with a pair of tortoise shell glasses, and hiding her beautiful figure under clothes that are as tight as a drum.

Ah, but the pretty little Miss had designs, and quite unlike the perennial vamp who ensnares over sentimental males with black jet evening gown and rakish—nay, rascally and eachet, this little dear resorted to the unusual artifice of looking intellectual, rather than inviting—whatever the difference may be.

A Sunshine comedy, "Marv's Little Lobster," Loew's Pictorial and Loew's supreme vaudeville complete the bill for the first three days of next week.

At No Time in the History of the Written Book, or of the Stage and Screen Presented Play, Has There been so Popular a Demand for the Great Love Story Entwined With the Spirit of the Days When Stout-Hearted Men Fought for the Heart of My Lady as Gracefully as They Paid Their Court—Will be Seen Loew's the last half of next week.

It is most emphatically true that all the world loves a lover. It is just as triumphantly true that the same world loves the lover a great deal more if he is guiding his affections through the wonderful recesses of romance.

And it happens that the old world of today, after all its war and wrath, is turning back to that old world of yesterday and finding a revival of the romance that ruled the universe.

People are turning to the stories with the dash and courage of the men who "in days of old when knights were bold" went after their lady-loves undaunted and unafraid; who, though wearing armor and carrying a dangerous spear, could sing love lays beneath the tower and, if need be, abduct self-same lady.

This is why William Fox chose for one of the most pretentious productions he ever made the wonderfully appealing

"Grumpy," the delightful English comedy, made famous by Cyril Maude, which comes to the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of Fair Week, includes in its all-star, all-English cast, Violet Hall Caine, niece of Hall Caine, the distinguished English actor.

ing, the all-romantic love story, "If I Were King," and gave the leading role to that greatest creator of romantic parts, William Farnum. For on the whole stage of the world there is no player who can so truly and delightfully portray the lover of romance as William Farnum. No actor who lays his felt hand across his heart and takes his sword in his right and goes forth to woo and to win ever played such a part with the romantic rounding out, the true sentiment, the dash, the spirit and the vigor that William Farnum brings to such a role.

Nowhere in all the long gallery of his best remembered portrayals is there to be found a better role for the real William Farnum than this of the vagabond versifier Villon, who becomes the Grand Comptable of France and who, facing the gibbet with a laugh, wins the woman he loves and with it the love of France.

No actor on stage or screen has the record for romantic parts possessed by Mr. Farnum. No actor can touch him with rapier or strength of arm. His whole stage life has been devoted to the making of fascinating "he" roles.

It is William Farnum's opinion that this part of Villon in "If I Were King" is the best role he ever brought to the screen for his host of admirers. It is Justin Huntly McCarthy's tribute to his art, "I Could Almost Believe I Was Hearing William Farnum's Voice."

It is William Fox's assertion that he never has produced for the screen a story which he believes carries so much charm, so much drama and so much that is all appeal as this production which so sumptuously surrounds the art of William Farnum.

Loew's Pictorial, a Hank Mann fun frolic with a thousand laughs and snickers, and Loew's supreme vaudeville complete the program for the last three days of the week.

There is no curve in the cowl, giving the car a higher appearance in front. TRIS SPEAKER TIES SISLER IN BATTING HONORS FOR LEAGUE

Joe Jackson and "Babe" Ruth Are Next in Line.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, regained his batting eye during the past week and tied George Sisler, the St. Louis star, for batting honors in the American League, according to averages released today, and which include games of last Wednesday. Sisler went into a slump and dropped into .391, the mark which Speaker has attained. Joe Jackson of Chicago stands in third place with an average of .384, while "Babe" Ruth, the New York home run king, is in fourth place with .375.

Ruth cracked out his 48th home run during the past week, and broke the home run record held by Perry Weir of Minneapolis. He is now the greatest home run hitter of all time. Speaker is leading the run-getters, with 110 runs to his credit, while Rice of Washington, is far in front in stolen bases with 49.

Nicholson of Pittsburgh has dethroned Hornby of St. Louis for batting honors in the National League. The slugging Pittsburgh outfielder is hitting .387, while the St. Louis star slumped to .355, with 28 runs of Boston pushing him with .351.

Williamson of Philadelphia, cracked out another homer and has brought his string up to .344, while Carey of Pittsburgh, continues to show the way to the base stealers with 48 thefts. Bancroft of New York is the best run getter, with 89 tallies.

SARNIA C. OF C. TO FIGHT TRANSFER OF GAS BY COMPANY

Reported Sending of Gas To Hamilton and Other Towns Causes Action.

SARNIA, Sept. 10.—It was announced tonight that the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce may take action as a result of a rumor that one of the gas-producing companies in Dover Township recently made a contract with the Dominion Gas Company for their output, and if this contract is carried out that 700,000 cubic feet from this company will go to Hamilton and other places. At the present time Sarnia, Chatham and Windsor are getting the benefit of this production, and to cut off this quantity in the face of the winter would be a serious matter. By building a pipe line along the miles long the Dominion Gas Company could take care of this piping, and they might induce other producers in the Dover field to give their production to others than the Union Gas Company and make the West suffer a shortage.

Successful Season.

The steamer Noronic, which leaves on Saturday on the Leitch cruise, will make her last trip of the season, and on return will go into winter quarters. Trips to Duluth will terminate on the completion of the sailings of the Noronic and the next trip of the Harmonic, which left here Thursday, and the steamer Huronic, which leaves on Tuesday next. The two later boats will handle the traffic to the Soo, Port Arthur and Fort William until the close of the season, which, according to reports, has been one of the most successful in the history of the line.

Relaying Tracks.

An agreement having been reached between the city and the Sarnia Street Railway Company, work was commenced today on the changing and relaying of the company's tracks at the corner of Wellington and Milton streets, the railway company with a slight concession from the municipality agreeing to finance the work.

Building Active.

Sarnia's prosperity is evidenced by the amount of building done during the month of August, when 64 permits totalling $104,454 were issued as against 52 permits amounting to $70,746 for the month of August, 1919.

The New Twenty-year Capital Return Policy

(Issued by The Canada Life)

A Young Man and His Future

He takes his first step in business affairs, is examined by the doctor, and creates an estate of $5,000.

He improves the shining hour and impresses upon an important person that he is in possession of an "estate."

His tendency to save and invest is noted by his employers.

He finds his savings of great assistance in buying a home.

And as time goes on he is enabled to enjoy many of the good things of life.

Absolutely guarantees the return at the end of twenty years of all annual deposits, with accumulated profits, after giving you insurance protection for twenty years.

Easily Understood:

1st. Deposits are made yearly. This is what you are saving, and at the end of 20 years, the Canada Life guarantees the return of every dollar paid in.

2nd. Your life is insured from the day you make the first deposit,—for $5,000, or whatever amount you decide.

3rd. Dividends are paid at stated intervals in addition to the return of all deposits at the end of 20 years.

4th. These dividends may be used to reduce the amount of your yearly deposits, or be allowed to accumulate at interest for 20 years.

5th. The cash value of Policy and Dividends represents a valuable asset, useful in business, and your "estate" is protected by the insurance.

6th. At the end of Twenty Years you can draw out all you have paid in, along with the accrued dividends—

---OR---

you can draw a Special Cash Guarantee, together with the Accumulated Dividends, making a substantial sum, and leave the $5,000 Policy fully paid for and continuing to earn Dividends as long as you live—

---OR---

this Special Cash Guarantee may be applied to increase the amount of your policy to more than $7500.

An Immediate Estate

The great advantage over any other form of investment is that a small percentage paid yearly creates immediately an estate of $5,000, or more.

These active, progressive years of life in which you are earning the most money are the years in which premiums can be more easily met.

NEARLY every music teacher and concert pianist owns a Heintzman Piano. They should know the best.

The London Institute of Musical Art, under the direct supervision of Mr. A. D. Jordan, has just purchased a Heintzman Grand which will be on exhibition at the Western Fair.

If you contemplate purchasing a piano this year, could you do better than follow their example.

Fill Your Blood With Iron If You Want To Be Strong WITH PLENTY OF ENERGY AND POWER

Says Physician—Explains How Organic Iron Like Nuxated Iron Increases the Strength of Weak, Nervous, Run-down People In Two Weeks' Time.

You cannot expect to forge ahead in life with plenty of energy and power if your blood is thin and watery any more than you can hope to run an automobile on water instead of gasoline. It takes pure, red blood—rich in iron—to keep the human machine working right. Without iron your every action lacks power, your red blood corpuscles die by millions, the strength goes from your body and you drop among the weaklings and failures.

"But when such men and women supply the right kind of iron to their blood, a most surprising change often takes place," says Dr. John J. Van Horne, formerly Medical Inspector and Clinical Physician on the Board of Health of New York City. "The weak, colorless blood which had been moving sluggishly in the veins becomes rich and red and courses through the body, building healthy tissue, giving renewed force and increased strength. Without this rich, red blood with plenty of iron in it, there can be no physical perfection or force to carry on one's work. Yet to take the wrong kind of iron may prove worse than useless just as the wrong sort of food will often fail to give the proper nourishment. Organic iron—Nuxated Iron—by enriching the blood and creating new blood cells, strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the muscles and helps instill the whole system with fresh vigor and endurance whether the person be young or old. I strongly advise every man of woman who is lagged out by worry, work and other strains to build up strength, and

Acosta, Griffith's New Cuban, Is Clever, But Temperamental

His Prima Donna Tactics
Amusing—Leaves Game If
Support Isn't Good—
Chooses Opponents, Too.

BY ERNEST J. LANIGAN.

Washington got an iron man and a temperamental athlete besides when Clark Griffith bought Joe Acosta from Rochester. The Cuban curver this year did the Joe McGinnity and he also displayed prima donna tactics, once taking himself out of the box because he thought he wasn't getting proper support.

On June 14, with his team facing a flock of double-headers and short-handed for pitchers, Acosta worked twice against Syracuse and won both his games, the scores being 3 to 1 and 3 to 3. In the two sections of the twin bill he allowed 19 hits. The double performance didn't seem to hurt him, for on his next appearance on the mound he blanked Jersey City.

On July 11 the Rochester team took the field against Syracuse with a record of twelve straight defeats and with Acosta pitching. He disappeared from the hill at the end of the sixth with his team behind 3 to 1, probably peeved over something.

Owner Chapin of the Hustlers came down to the press box later to find out how many errors had been made behind Acosta, and found that the Cuban's supporting cast had performed faultlessly.

Acosta, in the international, was in the habit of pitching against the clubs he wanted to. There were some he wouldn't face. He was reckoned as one of the smartest pitchers on the Futa circuit.

Griff seems to like to have Cubans round him. He had Marasans and Almeida in Cincinnati and in Washington he has had Calvo, Balmadero, Acosta, Torres and now Joe Acosta. The old fox has also bought from Rochester an outfielder named Holahan, who is putting in his first year in professional ball. One of the things Holahan did this year was to triple and forget to touch first. Holahan reports when the international season is over on September 20.

Chicagoan.

Roslyn, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Charles Evans, Jr., Chicago, and Francis Quimet, Boston, each of whom has previously been amateur and open golf champion of the United States, will play tomorrow at the Engineers' Country Club for this year's amateur title as a result of their victories in the semi-finals today. Quimet defeated Bobby Jones, the youthful star from Atlanta, Ga., 6 up and 5 to play, while Evans eliminated Edward P. Allis, Milwaukee, former Harvard captain, 10 and 8.

Quimet and Evans have met but once before in match play. Last year in the amateur tournament for the national title at Oakmont, Pa., Quimet eliminated Evans in the second round by one up at the home green.

Brooklyn, Sept. 10.—Brooklyn won from St. Louis by a score of 9 to 8 in eleven innings today, and strengthened its hold on first place. The Dodgers gave Marquard a three-run lead in the first inning, and he held the Cardinals to three hits in six innings, one of which was a long homer over the right field wall by Hornsby. Marquard weakened in the seventh, when the visitors scored four runs on Heathcote's triple, a pass, a single and Fournier's drive over the right field wall.

Brooklyn tied the score in the ninth on three singles and a pass off Schupp, who had pitched brilliantly from the first inning. St. Louis bunched four hits off Pfeffer in the eleventh, but the Dodgers came back with five hits and a sacrifice fly for four runs off Sherdel.

Schultz let Wheat's single go through him for two extra bases in this inning. A double-header is scheduled for Saturday.

Tariff Commission Starts "To Get Facts" as Meighen Shouts For 'National Policy'

Members Leave Ottawa For Winnipeg Tonight To Commence Investigation — Words of Premier Send Commission Away With Something of a Prejudgment.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—The first ministerial tariff commission since 1907 starts on its travels of inquiry tomorrow night, going directly to Winnipeg where the investigation will commence. Sir Henry Drayton is at its head, and associated with him are Hon. G. D. Robertson and Hon. Dr. Tolmie. The latter will later be replaced by Hon. J. A. Calder, who is now overseas. The commission jumps from Winnipeg to Medicine Hat and thence direct to Vancouver, so that Mr. Calder will be on the job when the commission reaches his own province of Saskatchewan, and it is stated that the grain growers' case is as carefully prepared as is that of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Basis of Revision.
The inquiry is to form the basis of a "revision" of the tariff, which will probably feature the next budget. In the meantime, however, the Government, through the mouth of its new leader, Hon. Arthur Meighen, has laid down in a general way the policy which it intends to pursue. Premier Meighen is on record in the past few days as favoring heavy reductions in the duties on agricultural implements. He is also on record as stating that just as soon as any industry having secured control of the home market, protection should be withdrawn from it. It is obvious that if these principles were carried out there might be a goodly consensus of opinion between the farmers and the Government.

Necessities of Life.
On the matter of the necessities of life, the premier has just made a declaration at Kingston. There he stated that "if the necessities of life are not taxed, what is left to provide the necessary revenue? From the standpoint of the integrity of the country," he declared, "it cannot be done." While Premier Meighen's declarations have been general in character, they have been definite enough to send the commission away with something of a prejudgment in favor of the principles of the national policy.

"We are out to secure the facts first hand," said Sir Henry Drayton this morning, however. The commission, it is anticipated, will complete its inquiry before the end of the year.

Manager John G. Kent stated today that as an accident might occur and the lives of people on the exhibition grounds be endangered, the directors had decided to cancel the contract.

Manager Kent said the fact that the aeroplanes had been carrying an advertisement had some bearing on the directors' decision.

Slighter shocks also were reported in the Swiss Alps around Zermatt and Pontresina, but there were no casualties.

DRURY MOVES FOR CONFERENCE OVER DISPUTE

Premier Makes Effort To Settle Electrical Workers' Grievance.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Premier E. G. Drury this afternoon went to the Toronto Railway Commission and the Toronto and Niagara Power Company, asking why they had not accepted the award of a board of conciliation which had granted the employees increases of from 10 cents to 12 cents an hour. The premier said he would arrange for a joint conference of the parties interested in the matter.

This action followed a conference in which James T. Gunn, business agent of the Electrical Workers' Union, John Munro and Philip Thomas represented the electrical men in the employ of the companies in question, and Premier Drury and Hon. Walter Rolfe, minister of labor. It was pointed out to the ministers that a strike as was threatened would tie up the street railways of Toronto, Niagara Falls, Welland and St. Catharines and all industries supplied with power by the McKenzie-Mann interests, including some larger corporations in Buffalo and international complications might result.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

THE VALUE OF GRADING UP THE AVERAGE DAIRY COW

(Experimental Farms Note.)

The breed is only one of the many factors to be considered in carrying on profitable milk production. Sometimes breed is overestimated, but more often it is underestimated.

Our present dairy breeds represent the efforts of many breeders along certain lines, covering a period of several generations. This work is of inestimable value to the pure-bred breeder, but equally valuable to the dairyman of the present day, for a close study of their breeding work reveals the fact that they placed a great deal of stress on the selection of the herd bull, just as do the good breeders of today. Why? Because from years of practical experience they found that the herd bull was approximately half the herd, and that in order to increase the average production in an short period as possible at a minimum cost it was necessary to select, not only the best cows in the herd, but also select sires from high-producing dams. Now the example set by these successful breeders has done much toward raising the standard of the average dairy cow, nevertheless, it must be admitted that our present standard is at least 2,000 pounds per cow lower than it should be. In the past, the practice of using the scrub bull on the average dairy herd.

In order to show the value of using pure-bred sires selected from high-producing dams on the average dairy cow, a grading up experiment was started at the Experimental Farm, Nappan, N. S., in 1911.

In this we have two crosses from one foundation lot of cows, namely, an Ayrshire cross and a Holstein cross. Each are being bred with pure-bred lines, that is to say, all Ayrshire crosses are being bred to pure-bred Ayrshire bulls, selected from high-producing dams. Holsteins along similar lines. As space will not permit of detail only a few of the outstanding facts can be given, and they are indicative of the possibilities in grading up to a much higher standard the average dairy cow by using pure-bred sires, selected from high-producing dams.

Comparisons of Cows.

When comparing the progeny of the Ayrshire crosses with their dams, over a period of three consecutive years, the following results were recorded. One of the most outstanding features to be noted was the propensity of the dams in stamping into their progeny the breed and dairy type characteristics. This is true of not less than 75 per cent of the progeny of both the Ayrshires and Holsteins crosses. In the latter the breed markings and coloring is more pronounced than in the former, but so far as dairy type is concerned little difference can be noted. In the second and third crosses these characteristics are intensified to a still greater degree, thus demonstrating consistent breeding.

In comparing the production of the progeny with that of their dams at the same age, it is found in the case of the Ayrshire crosses as 2-year-olds 50 per cent were superior to their dams, as 3-year-olds, 28 per cent, and as 4-year-olds 33 per cent were superior to their dams. In the Holstein crosses as 2-year-olds 50 per cent were superior to their dams, as 3-year-olds 16.6 per cent, and as 4-year-olds 40 per cent were superior to their dams.

During this period no selections were made, that is to say, all cows with progeny were retained in herd for experimental purposes. This would naturally tend to keep down the average production per cow, notwithstanding the fact the average production was increased 85 pounds per cow per lactation period for the entire herd of 24 cows, of these 14 were progeny of the original 10 foundation cows.

Now under proper dairy conditions, a rigid method of selection would have been practiced, and all dams or progeny falling below a set standard would have been eliminated. Had this been carried out with the above herd of 24 cows, setting a standard of 4,000 pounds for 2-year-olds and 5,000 pounds for 3-year-olds, the following results would have been realized.

Fifteen out of the 24 cows would have been retained, of these 60 per cent were progeny of the original 10 foundation cows, namely, first-cross Ayrshire and first-cross Holstein. Out of the 10 foundation cows 60 per cent were first-cross Ayrshires 8.7 went over the 4,000 pounds, of the 6 first-cross Holsteins 66.6 per cent went over the 4,000 pounds. Out of the 15 that qualified as 2-year-olds only 9 qualified as 3-year-olds, that is, produced 5,000 pounds or more per cow per lactation period, of these 15 cows were first-cross Ayrshires and 25 per cent were first-cross Holsteins and 50 per cent of the first-cross Ayrshires and Holsteins who qualified as 3-year-olds were from dams who did not qualify as 2-year-olds; that is, they produced less than 4,000 pounds per cow per lactation period.

The average production per cow for nine cows qualifying as 3-year-olds was 6,000 pounds. Therefore taking into consideration that the average production of the foundation cows as 2-year-olds was 4,339 pounds and as 3-year-olds 5,079 pounds, and as 4-year-olds 5,679 pounds, which places them above the average of the dairy cow. The foregoing results may be taken as a pretty fair evidence of the value of grading up the average dairy cow by the use of the pure-bred sire selected from high-producing dams.

LARGE VS. SMALL HIVES.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

To contain the combs in bee-hives, the Langstroth frame measuring 17 1/2 inches wide by 11 1/2 inches deep, has been used for many years been the size employed by most beekeepers. Some years ago it was the fashion to use a small 8-frame hive, however, does not provide room enough for the eggs that can be laid by a prolific queen, and the 10-frame hive has been found more satisfactory, especially where Italian bees are used. In fact, where Italian bees are used, the 10-frame hive is produced. A movement to use a still larger hive is now making progress. These larger hives usually contain either ten frames of Jumbo size, which is two inches deeper than the Langstroth, or twelve Langstroth frames, the latter making a square hive. Colonies in such large hives retain more stores for winter, and this is an advantage where they are unwholesome. These large hives help to prevent swarming to some extent, but they are apt to be unhandy and cumbersome, and heavy to lift or move about. Comparison between the 10-frame Jumbo and the 12-frame Langstroth hives at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, for one year has shown the former to be more satisfactory on the whole; the bees winter better in the Jumbo hive and it takes the 10-frame Langstroth hive, while the 12-frame hive requires a specially large size of these super containing twelve Langstroth frames when full of honey is heavier than many people care to lift. Combs deeper than the Langstroth frequently give better results in wintering.

The question of large hives is, however, chiefly one for the beginner, and those who intend to enlarge their apiaries. Those who already have 8-frame hives can make them satisfactory by using two chambers instead of one, that is to say, a second hive body placed as a super over the regular brood chamber, for brood rearing, and even for wintering. Those who have the regular 10-frame size and consider it not large enough, can use a shallow super 1 1/2 inches deep, over it. There are, in fact, some important advantages in having two shallow chambers for brood rearing and wintering. One can usually tell when a colony is preparing to swarm by simply prying up the upper chamber and looking for queen cells containing larvae along the bottom bars of its frames. If such cells are present the colony will probably swarm within a week, and it will be advisable to treat it without delay. The capacity of combs for brood rearing is often reduced by stretching of the upper parts of the combs. This stretching may be prevented by using diagonal as well as the horizontal

HON. MANNING McPHERSON of the Drury cabinet, who, because of criticism of the cost of his western business trip, has insisted on paying the bill. His visit to a brother on the trip led some critics to insinuate that he was using the government car for personal purposes.

While experiments with the larger hives will be continued, and we are favorably impressed with the 10-frame Jumbo for certain bands, we have not yet sufficient data to modify the general advice that has been given to beginners to adopt the 10-frame Langstroth hive.

A LONG-DISTANCE LAYER.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

As a rule, hens lay two or three eggs and then miss a day. Some good hens will lay more before they take a day off, and we have known individual hens to lay five and six dozen eggs and not miss a day, but a record in long-distance laying, without a miss, has, as far as we know, been established by the Experimental Farm, Poultry Division, at their Kentville, N. S., station, where a Barred Plymouth Rock pullet laid 104 eggs in 104 days.

This Barred Rock, whose leg band number is 63, did not start to lay very early. In fact, her first egg was laid on the 25th of January. She laid two eggs and missed a day, laid five eggs and missed a day, four eggs and missed a day, one egg and a miss, then two eggs; but on the 11th of February she got down to business and laid every day for the rest of the month, every day in March, every day in April, and every day in May up to the 27th, when she took two days off. After this time she took an occasional day off until the 30th of June, when she became broody. When she went broody her total record was 136 eggs in 147 days.

BAKING QUALITY OF THE LOWER GRADES OF FLOUR.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

With the ever-increasing cost of living, it has become necessary to find corresponding means of saving. The housewife is the person on whom most of the responsibility of economizing rests. The use of some of the cheaper grades of flour instead of the highly expensive first patents is another means of saving that may be added to the already long list. During the war all members of the community were forced to use government standard flour which was of a lower grade than most people had been accustomed to. Nevertheless, most of the bakers succeeded in furnishing bread so good that few people would have considered it distinctly inferior had it not been for the difference in color. Too much attention has, however, always been paid to color in flour and bread. Bread that is really very pale is not so healthful as bread made of somewhat lower grade of flour, and the war-time bread was really superior as a food to the extremely white product in use previously. Lower grades of flour somewhat similar to the government standard flour can always be purchased, but are not usually in much demand on account of their inferior color. These second and third grade flours, however, contain a higher percentage of protein and assimilable phosphates. These features are distinctly advantageous.

While the lower grades of flour may require some slight modifications in the baking method in order to produce the best possible bread, these changes are not serious, and as a rule no difficulty whatever will be experienced in handling such flours. When we consider the lower price of the cheaper grades of flour and their high nutritive value, we see two distinct advantages in using them. The claims made for the whitest flours are nearly always much exaggerated, and are sometimes quite absurd, and the public would do well to insist on obtaining the really superior materials which are sold as inferior.

AUTO THIEF SENT TO REFORMATORY FOR YEAR

Guelp Returns to Standard Time at Midnight on Sunday.

QUELPH, Sept. 10.—Magistrate Watt today sentenced Gordon Gallagher, a young man, to one year in the Ontario reformatory for the theft of a Ford car. The auto, the property of George Watson of Elora, was taken last Saturday morning, but was recovered at Acton later in the day after a thrilling chase by the police in that town. Gallagher made good his escape, but he returned to the city yesterday, and was arrested by Detective Greenway last night.

Change Time Sunday.

The fact that many complaints have been received in the city hall regarding the return to standard time in the middle of the week, has caused the council to decide that the change shall take place on Sunday, Sept. 12, at midnight, instead of Wednesday, Sept. 15, the day originally set.

BILIOUSNESS

How To Prevent and Cure

Among the earliest symptoms are furrowed tongue and dull headache.

Then come dizzy spells, bad taste, quick pulse, fever and cold sweats.

Finally, sleeplessness and vomiting make the condition of the sufferer almost intolerable.

The root of biliousness is with the liver which is clogged and can't keep bile from getting into the blood.

Nothing works with the certainty of Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they act directly on the liver, restore bile to its proper course and prevent it from contaminating the vital fluid.

Of course, the bowels are ordered and relaxed by Dr. Hamilton's Pills; the kidneys receive new tonic, the blood is renovated, and the result is a renewal of good health.

No need for delay, the sooner you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the sooner you'll feel the brisk, keen satisfaction of a healthy, well-regulated system. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c.

LIQUOR THIEVES POSE AS O. T. A. OFFICERS

Rob Farmer of His Stock of Whiskey by Daring Ruse.

KITCHENER, Sept. 10.—A farmer named Reinhart of New Germany, near here, and the county police are looking for three men who visited Reinhart's farm in the small hours of this morning and robbed him of his store of whiskey at the point of a gun. Reinhart claims the method, followed by the liquor thieves at first put him off his guard. They claimed they were O. T. A. officers, and had warrants to seize his whiskey. Reinhart told them to go ahead, believing he could get his liquor back by proving his right in court. He became suspicious, however, when one of the trio started to remove the air from the tires of Reinhart's automobile while pretending to search the garage. Reinhart grabbed the man, but was promptly stopped by a revolver placed to his head. He claims he recognized one of the three and has his suspicions of the identity of the others.

DOHERTY RAPS BRITISH BARRING CANADIAN HOGS

Minister Resents Charge of Disease, Calls It Camouflage.

HITS BACON CONTROL

Raises Protest Against Control Exercised On English Market.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture for Ontario, in a speech at a luncheon of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition today protested against Great Britain's embargo on Canadian hogs. It had been proved that Canadian hogs were not suffering from pleuro-pneumonia as had been alleged, Mr. Doherty said.

"If they want to keep the embargo on our hogs let them do so," he added, "but let them do it as protection for the Irish farmer or the English farmer and not camouflage it under the allegation of disease Canadian stock."

The control of Canadian bacon on the English market was also protested against by Hon. Mr. Doherty. The Ontario Government's campaign for the improvement of Canadian cattle would be on in earnest in about six months, the minister promised. He intimated that the Government might have to step in and help to secure better sires for Canadian horses and cattle.

Speaking of Ontario's big grain crops this year, Hon. Mr. Doherty said they were greater, per man, per acre, than in any province in Canada.

OVER 500 CASES OF WET GOODS SEIZED IN THREE DAYS

Facts Do Not Bear Out the License Officials' Statements.

RAIDERS GET WHISKEY

Twenty-One Cases Seized by License Inspector Are Stolen.

WINDSOR, Sept. 10.—Although officials in North Essex deny the charges made this week by the Dominion Alliance that bootlegging and rum running operations here are still being conducted on a tremendous scale, investigation tonight showed that nearly 500 cases of wet goods have been seized on the border within the last three days alone.

Windsor police this afternoon raided a house on Windsor avenue, undergirding repairs, and took away 100 cases of whiskey. The owner of the dwelling was placed under arrest on a charge of having liquor in other than a legal place. At the time of the raid half a dozen men were engaged in repairing the foundation under the house.

Labelled Confectionery.

Late Thursday night, License Inspector Mousseau aided by Inspectors Churchill and Nash, took away another 100 cases from a garage on Moya avenue, and yet another 100 cases from two freight cars at the C. P. R. freight yards. Both these shipments were addressed to the Carleton Confectionery Company, a fictitious name, and were labelled confectionery.

At the same time Inspectors Sykes and Hoggood at St. Joachim took 81 cases from the office of the Dominion Express Company, and a little later Inspector Mousseau found 100 more cases in Windsor en route to St. Joachim.

Stole 21 Cases.

Whiskey raiders last night stole 21 cases of liquor, seized recently by License Inspector Stone in South Essex, that had been stored in the rear of an insurance office in the town of Essex. The theft has created a sensation in town and rumors are rife involving several well-known men. Inspectors Sykes and Hoggood left Windsor tonight to conduct an investigation.

Heads Will Fall Like Chips From Axe, Says Wilhelm

Former Emperor Credited With Statement of Extraordinary Character.

BERLIN, Sept. 10.—An extraordinary declaration by former Emperor William, made on the grounds of his residence at Doorn, is reported by Vorwaerts, in a story purporting to emanate from a Prussian junker, who recently visited him.

It is stated that the former emperor was chopping a tree when he suddenly exclaimed as he struck furious blows with his axe: "This is the way heads will fly to the right and left when I return to Germany."

Commenting on the remark, Vorwaerts says: "It shows Wilhelm in all his old greatness as a politician."

SOLUTION FOR COAL CRISIS IS STILL FAR OFF

British Officials Hold Out Little Hope of Early Settlement.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Little hope was held out in official circles this morning that a solution of the coal crisis would be found in the near future. Sir Robert Horne, president of the Board of Trade, had a conference with Premier Lloyd George this morning, and it is understood that Mr. Lloyd George expressed entire approval of the manner in which Sir Robert has acted. It is stated that the Government does not intend to deviate from the terms offered by Sir Robert, and that these will remain open to the miners.

Meanwhile, from Portsmouth, where the trades union congress is in session, comes word that the miners are resolute in their intention not to alter their claims. Active preparations are being made by heads of government departments to deal with a strike situation should it arise.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 10.—Yesterday's conference at London between Sir Robert Horne, president of the Board of Trade, and the miners' leaders held in an effort to end the coal crisis, was discussed at length here last night by the miners' delegates to the trades union congress, and by a sub-committee of the "triple alliance" of labor. This morning James Henry Thomas, as president of the congress, stated that the miners had nothing to add to the statement they made to the Government yesterday to the effect that the Government's offer did not change the situation or afford any hope of settlement.

In a speech here tonight C. T. Cramp, secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, declared that the miners were fighting the battle of the working classes.

TORTURED BY
TERRIBLE ECZEMASuffered Three Years Until
She Tried "Fruit-a-tives."

DAME PETER LAMARRE.

"Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q."

"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me.

"I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors, and they did not do me any good.

"Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-

Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it a marvelous cure because no other medicine did me any good, and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of,

without benefit until I used 'Sootha-

Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives'."

"Fruit-a-tives" cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and

'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure.

Sootha-Salva is a wonderful cure for Eczema, Psoriasis, and all skin diseases.

LITHUANIANS REFUSE

TO WITHDRAW ARMY.

WANT PARLEY FIRST

Warsaw's Reply to Note Calls

for Immediate Departure of Troops.

WARSAW, Sept. 10.—A note has been received by the Polish foreign office from Lithuania refusing to withdraw the Lithuanian forces to the Poch line,

but asking that a conference be held in Mariampol, situated on the demarcation line. At the close of Thursday night's conference of the council of ministers, the secretary of foreign affairs, Minister Sapieha, announced that the Poles had replied demanding withdrawal of the Lithuanians without further discussion. The Lithuanians refused to accept this demand, saying that a conference would be held with the Lithuanians concerning boundaries,

but not otherwise. The Lithuanians,

he added, must also guarantee not to be friendly with Germany and Russia

at the expense of Poland.

The council of ministers also considered the Ukrainian question. Thursday, no decision was reached.

POLES CAPTURE

23,000 PRISONERS

WARSAW, Sept. 10.—The Polish armies on the northeastern front delivered a series of successful attacks

upon the Russians yesterday and took 23,000 prisoners, four guns and two armored trains.

The Polish troops in these operations

advanced their lines, occupying Kuznica, just to the south of Grodno, and five other towns.

A Bolshevik counter-attack was repulsed and the Poles again advanced,

dispersing seven Soviet Infantry regiments.

The communiqué from Polish headquarters in which these operations are reported,

The MASON & RISCH EXHIBIT AT THE WESTERN FAIR

The South-East Corner of the Annex to the Palace Is an Interesting Spot

HERE you find a display of Pianos and Player-Pianos—Mason & Risch Pianos—of a quality beyond which improvement is UNPURCHASABLE, instruments which cap the effort of the piano-making industry for inward and outward perfection. In their inner excellence, and in outer aspects, these Mason & Risch instruments are undeniably better than ever.

No Musical Demand Is Too Great

to be satisfied through the superb instruments of our make. They please the leading musicians. Conservatories and colleges guard and sustain their reputation by the choice of the Mason & Risch. Such an instrument in your home provides ALL of musical pleasure and this is surely what you want in your piano purchase. Mason & Risch Pianos are home-built and home-guaranteed. You have all the protection that this affords as well as the great advantage of saving the middleman's profit:—It comes to you direct from factory to home and on terms that make buying easy. See the different designs of Pianos and Player-Pianos, upright and grand, that we have on display. A visit does not place you under any obligation—and the value to you of knowing fully of these instruments cannot be over-estimated.

In dealing with us, you have the assurance of getting the utmost value it is possible to obtain for your money, because:—

1. We sell and handle the FINEST instruments made in Canada.
2. A purchase made at our store is a purchase made DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURER and combines all the advantages that come from direct dealing with a manufacturer who KNOWS his production and whose PRODUCTIONS ARE KNOWN, and whose guarantee stands as solid as a rock.
3. We have an Exchange Department, in which may always be found the very best of used Pianos, for it is natural that the house that does the largest business in high-grade NEW instruments should take in the largest number of the BEST USED instruments to be had in exchange. Here you may learn the invaluable lesson that a GOOD used Piano need not necessarily be a HIGH-PRICED one.
4. Thus the purchaser may select from practically all the standard Pianos and Player-Pianos of the world at the greatest possible range of prices, styles and tone qualities.
5. The Mason & Risch absolute ONE-PRICE system assures the selection of an instrument of artistic worth alone, free from deception of secret prices and discounts.
6. Each instrument shown, whether new or used, is of the highest artistic value at its price, and may be purchased either for cash or on terms of time payments, which make buying convenient. Selling conditions at the Mason & Risch store involve little drain upon the purse; they are absolutely unprecedented in the piano business and not approximated elsewhere.

And thus it is worth remembering that whatever your final choice in new or used instruments, you may rest secure in the knowledge that the price you pay is—

1. The lowest obtainable anywhere.
2. An unvarying price.
3. Shorn of middlemen's profits.
4. Subject to convenient terms of payment.

You Are Also Invited To Hear The Mason & Risch Phonograph

It is a really unusual Phonograph. Hear it—come to our store and we will play your favorite music. Then you will admit that the musical performance of the Mason & Risch Phonograph stands out as a thing distinct, unique and unusual, that it is a definite, positive QUALITY of musical execution uncommon among phonographs.

If EVER you have heard the great musical notables, you will agree that the Mason & Risch sustains the test of direct comparison with living singers and instrumentalists—that a record played on a Mason & Risch Phonograph is identical with the "master pattern" from which it is made.

IT IS A NEW PHONOGRAPH—but it has been many years in the crucible of creation—a fact which explains the high artistic conscience behind this wonderful Phonograph. As to its outward appearance, the attractive lines of the different models will be apparent to you at a glance.

If You Want a Good Used Piano

Come to our store and see the number of used instruments we have on hand. They are pianos that do credit to your sense of value, and your capacity of appreciation. The money you put in ANY of these instruments is in the nature of a "lifetime-satisfaction" investment—at the prices they are offered for sale and on the easy terms you may now get one, these bargains are beyond compare. For instance:

One Grinnell Upright Piano, nearly new, cost $700.00. Sale price $475.00
 Sherlock-Manning Piano, mahogany case, used three weeks. Sale price $150.00 less than original cost Less than original cost—Heintzman & Co. Upright in good condition $285.00

Player-Piano, eighty-eight note, used three months, a bargain at $200.00 less than original cost
 Piano-Cased Organ $40.00
 Square Piano $50.00

We have many others, all offered at actual economical savings and advantages. BRIMFUL VALUE! EASIEST TERMS!
