Head of the C. P. R. Has Busy Morning In London

NOBODY ELSE WEARS A HAT THE WAY THE BEATTYS TILT IT.

E. W. Beatty, president of the C. P. R., rivals his equally famous nameake, the admiral, in the jaunty tilt he gives his hat, as you can see from the above picture taken by an advertiser photographer this morning.
From left to right in the group are
R. H. Dowler, president of the London chamber of commerce; Col. W.
M. Garsshore, A. R. Ford, President
E. W. Beatty, and Robert Greene.

A sturdy man of medium height,

a mouth that radiates good humor,
wearing a suit of dark brown worsted,
a light topcoat and a gray felt hat at the jaunty Beatty tilt, and carrying a light cane embellished with a single thin band of silver, this is E.
W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who arrived in London this morning for a brief, informal visit.

At 4 o'clock, long before London had awakened, the private car Thorold, named after the president's home town, attached to the Detroit-Toronto train arrived with the party, and there on the siding the occupants did just what so many want to do but are rarely able to do, sleep in.

It was after 9 before Mr. Beatty started out to make several calls of a strictly informal nature. By noon
he had been to Kellogg's, Limited, McClary's, Hunt Bros., Limited, and

METHODIST SESSIONS HIT STRIDE

Committees Continue Work
Preparatory To General
Meetings Tomorrow.

42ND CONFERENCE

Rev. A. E. Millson Will Speak
On "Religious Thought in Russia" Tonight.

Committee meetings of the 42nd session of the London Methodist conference, which got under way yesterday afternoon, are continuing at Centennial Methodist church today.

Rev. Herbert J. Uren, Colborne street church, London, president of the conference, presided at the meeting of the probationers' record committee, which was the first to convene yesterday afternoon, and also at the first session of the stationing committee last night.

Morning and afternoon sessions of the stationing, statistical, religious education and missionary committees of conference were held today. The district journal secretaries and the financial secretaries conferred today, with the secretaries and treasurers of the conference.

The feature of the sessions today,
and in fact what will really constitute the opening of the conference, is the meeting in Centennial church tonight at which Rev. A. E. Millson, Brownville, will deliver the annual theological union lecture on the subject of "Christian Thought in Russia."

Mr. Millson travelled as far into Russia as Omsk with the Canadian expeditionary force, and is thus qualified to speak on the subject.

Tomorrow morning the ministerial section of the conference will convene for its sessions, prior to the opening of conference on the following day. Mr. Uren will occupy the chair, and Rev. Charles L. Goodell, D.D., New York city, will deliver the first of his series of half-hour devotional addresses preceding the daily morning sessions until the close of the conference on Tuesday of next week.

The business to be taken up by the ministerial section tomorrow embraces the preparation of its report to be tabled at the conference later in the week.

Rev. Principal James Smyth, D.D., of Wesleyan Theological college, Montreal, and Rev. T. A. Moore, D.D., general secretary of the department of evangelism and social service for the Methodist church in Canada, will be the speakers at a public meeting to be held at Centennial church tomorrow night.

Bell was chosen out of four applicants

BECK IMPROVED BY TRANSFUSION

Sir Adam's Condition As Result of Treatment Is Encouraging.

Special to The Advertiser.
Baltimore, Md., May 18.—It was learned at the Johns Hopkins hospital today that the condition of Sir Adam Beck, on leaving for his home in London Saturday night, was distinctly better than it was on his arrival here.

The count of red blood corpuscles, which was only 1,500,000 when he arrived here, has increased with rest and six transfusions, up to about 3,500,000. The normal count is more than 5,000,000.

While it was encouraging that Sir Adam held his gains well, it was hoped that the fifth and sixth trans-fusions would result in a tenacious greater increase in the number of red corpuscles.

While medical circles here understand that Sir Adam was in an improved condition when he started for home, they do not suggest that he has completely recovered from his attack of pernicious anemia or that the disease, which is of a tenacious character, can be entirely shaken off.

York Central's "Twentieth Century

gonac, Mich. Each is 33 feet long,

12-cylinder engines, and claimed to be capable of more than fifty miles an hour.

CABINET MINISTER OPENS 'BLOSSOM WEEK'

Hon. J. S. Martin Points Out Wonderful Sights To Be Seen in Niagara.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Beamsville, May 18.—"There is nothing like it in all Canada," said Hon. J. S. Martin, minister of agriculture, in formally declaring "Blossom Week" open last night at a gathering of a thousand people in the new community hall at the Beamsville
high and vocational school.

The minister remarked on the splendid soil and climatic conditions with which the Niagara district is favored, which, together with the enterprise of the people, has given to Ontario and Canada a district which cannot be duplicated anywhere on the continent.

"California boasts of her orange blossoms, but as far as I am personally concerned, they are not half so beautiful as the apple and peach blossoms with their baby delicate colors and soft, beautiful tints."

"Blossom Week" is the result of the co-operation of the chambers of commerce and boards of trade of St.
Catharines, Hamilton, Niagara Falls,
Beamsville and Grimsby.

Addresses were made by representatives of each municipality.

Men You Know—H. B. Beal

H. B. BEAL.

principal of the London technical and commercial high school. Herbert Benson Beal, who was born and educated in London, has served the local board of education in varying capacities for the past 25 years. He was made principal of the technical school when that institution was first opened in the Alexandra public school in 1912. Mr. Beal has guided the affairs of the technical school since that date with unfailing energy and ability until now, with a plant and equipment valued at $600,000, it is the largest educational unit in the city and one of the foremost of its kind in the dominion. A second new addition, rendered necessary by the ever-growing attendance, which now stands at 900 day students and 1,200 evening class enrollment, will shortly be built at a cost of $70,000. Mr. Beal is a member of Dundas Centre Methodist church, and his clubs are the Rotary club and the London Hunt and Country club. He is an enthusiastic golfer, but his real hobby is the London technical school.

modate the 1,010 students of the Central and east units. Mr. Cairncross plan is a rebirth of the scheme for one Central collegiate, which was fathered by Trustee William G. Murray (on the right) at the beginning of the year.

Keep Your Doors Locked Is Warning From Police As Sneak Thieves Prowl

Petty Daylight Thefts Have Been Prevalent During Last Few Weeks.

WOMAN LOSES $22

Returns Home To Find Front Door Ajar and Purse
Missing.

Prevalency of sneak thieving in the city during the past few weeks, and as the result of a robbery yesterday at the home of R. M. Young, 11 Cove road, police this morning issued warning that front doors of homes should be kept securely locked during the day as well as night.

While Mrs. Young left the rear of her house for a few minutes shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday, the front door was entered. She returned to find it ajar. A purse, containing more than $22, had been stolen. It was taken from a dining-room table.
Other articles were not touched. Mrs.
Young immediately notified the police.

Investigation leads the police to believe the money was taken by a passing stranger. Later in the afternoon, V. Griffiths, 74 John street, reported to the police that an overcoat and cap owned by him had been stolen in the same manner when he was in the cloakroom of the Talbot street Baptist church was entered.

at 4 o'clock, to be followed by a reception.

FERGUSON IS UNAWARE OF ROUYN RAILWAY MOVE

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, May 18.—"I haven't heard of any such move," was Premier Ferguson's comment today in regard to a despatch from Quebec, stating that Ontario interests favoring the extension of the T. N. O. railway into the Rouyn gold field are to make efforts at Ottawa and Quebec to obtain permission to start the construction work pending a reference to the court as to the right of Quebec province to object. According to this report in the event of the province of Quebec being upheld in its attitude, the railway authorities would agree to remove their rails and construction work.

SUBWAY IS SCENE OF PANIC

Seventy-Five Persons Injured in Mad Scramble For Exits.

LAMPS EXPLODE

Short Circuit On N. Y. Railway
Creates Scene of Wild Confusion.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, May 19.—At least 75 persons were injured, two of them probably fatally, in a mad panic which swept a crowded east side subway train as it was about to leave the Grand Central terminal station today.

A blown fuse followed by a series of electric lamp bulb explosions, was reported to have been the cause of the accident. The train, literally jammed with humanity, came to a sharp stop a block from the terminal.

Men, women and children, massed in one of the cars, were swept from their feet in confusion, which knew to panic proportions when the cars began to fill with stifling smoke, caused by burning insulation.

Caused By Short Circuit.
A short circuit had occurred causing the motorman to halt the long string of cars. Immediately after he had attempted to start it up again, with the result that every light bulb in the train exploded. This was the signal for the panic, which sent scrambling, fighting passengers surging toward exits and seeking to escape from their cage-like imprisonment by smashing windows.

Scores were knocked to the car floors and trampled. The confusion was added to when guards prevented opening of emergency doors.

The lounge and several salons of the nearby Hotel Vanderbilt were converted into emergency hospitals,
where 25 persons received treatment.
Thirty others were removed to Bellevue hospital.

The electric current in the third rails of the subway was turned off to permit the panic-stricken thousands to stream their way through the tubes to emergency exits. The result was that some several blocks from the scene of the accident.

Darkness Adds To Terror.
The accident occurred at the very height of the morning peak traffic when Manhattan's subway and elevated lines move hundreds of thousands of persons to their work.

At the train's abrupt halt, a great sheet of flame flared up from outside the car. A number of girls in the ten-car steel train began to shriek. Still others threw themselves on the floor in terror as clouds of choking, blinding smoke began to float through the cars. Some men kept the lights blazing, the darkness adding to the terror of the scene.

The motorman started his train again and had gone about a block when the lights blew out with a loud report. The panic could not be stemmed this time. Screaming girls and women fought for the exits and smashed windows, the darkness adding to the terror of the scene.

One Hurt—All Feel It.

Two London men were walking down to work on Monday morning. Naturally enough they discussed the frost of Sunday night, which was severe enough to make itself felt on early beans and adventurous tomato patches, although the latter had been covered.

One of the men, who works in a downtown store, made this remark: "Well, I'm glad I'm not out on a fruit or vegetable farm facing a frost like that. It must be fierce to face a situation where your work would be wiped out in a night."

Of course he meant that remark to be sympathetic. In his own garden he had seen his few rows of early beans and his little patch of tomatoes smitten, but he failed to see that even in his own business he would have to share in the loss of a frost that had inflicted damage on the district in a larger way.

It does not take much reasoning to see that a frost, storm or drought that hits the district is going to hit the stores where the men in the city work. Anything that adversely affects the prosperity of the people in this district does the same thing to the business places in this city, or to any other place that depends for its existence on the trade of the district.

It is a more local application of the larger truth that makes it difficult for us to connect the troubled condition of Europe with business defects here. The plan is not right up on the surface where we can follow it like a road map, but it is in existence just the same. None of us moves in circles that are self-centered and all-sufficient. A man's arms and head may be all right, but if he has a sore foot the rest of the members are going to feel the effect because they will be brought down to the pace of that injured member. So it is with the business of the world.

"Daddy" Allen and His Work.

"Daddy" Allen of Elyria, Ohio, well known to many Londoners through his several appearances here, is an example of a man to whom a great personal loss was a turning-point in life. Some years ago his own son passed out of his life as the result of an accident, and also because the proper facilities for special treatment were not available.

He was in the lumbering business, but since then that has not had much chance to receive attention from him. Instead of spending his days in mourning, he has devoted his time, energy and means to the cause of the crippled child, and some idea of the extent to which he travels in this work can be gathered by the fact that he has so far this year covered 20,000 miles organizing, working, giving direction and creating new interest.

"Daddy" Allen claims that in such work there is scope for three sides of a man's nature, and he classifies them as economic, humane and spiritual. To him it is a wonderful thing to see a crippled child cured so that he is removed from the debt to the credit side of the national ledger; his pencil finds some satisfaction in putting it down that the child has been changed from a dependant to a prospective producer, but after all these calculations he finds the real reward in the broad smile and the wholesome laugh that comes when he sees a child, for years a cripple, able to walk and run as other children.

His idea is that London should be, by its location, its institutions and its personnel, a center for orthopedic work in Western Ontario. He wants people to realize that it is no disgrace that their child may be a cripple, but that it is a shame if that child is left in that condition to face an unequal struggle with life.

His suggestion about making London an orthopedic center is sensible, and his vision of the service that can be performed in this way is worthy and vivid enough to call forth the best effort of which the community is capable.

"Daddy" Allen has made use of the Rotary clubs to carry on his work, but he is eternally reaching out for others, and that is why he addressed a joint meeting of Rotarians and Kiwanians in London. It's a good thing to have met a man like "Daddy" Allen.

It Is Your Business.

During 1924 United States motorists killed 5,700 children and 13,300 adults, a total of 19,000, while the number injured exceeded 450,000.

By way of comparison, the total of dead and wounded in the American army overseas was only 275,948. The national bureau of casualty and surety underwriters applies this terse comment:

"As the sun went down each day the statisticians recorded for the closing 24 hours the daily average of 52 killed and 1,180 injured."

The reader of this may say, "Oh, I've seen figures like that before—it's old stuff." So is war, death and disease. Right here, though, we are dealing with a disease, the cure for which is in the hands of the people themselves. The same people who have prepared the figures used above have analyzed them to show why there are so many accidents, and their analysis gives the contributing cause as chiefly inattention. The state of Connecticut is used to illustrate this point, and of the 20,781 accidents there in 1924, 14,559 were due to carelessness of motorists. The casualties were 302 persons killed and 7,158 injured.

Inattention caused 4,228 accidents. Failure to grant the right-of-way comes as a strong second with 3,566 cases. The saying that a good many people die maintaining their right-of-way thus has the additional backing of fact. Summarized, the results are:

Inattention	4,228
Right-of-way	3,566
Skidding	1,786
Wrong side of road	1,169
Careless backing	653
Inexperienced drivers	626
Failure to signal	615
Following too close	465
Past driving	405
Intoxication	289
Cutting in	282
Cutting corners	117
Passing on wrong side	57

Experts who have followed the drift of accidents year in and year out are not enthusiastic over spasmodic efforts to cut down the casualty figures. They say that such efforts as a "safety week" are of no avail, but real progress has been made by publicity that awakens in the mind of the individual the truth that he is responsible for accidents.

That seems sensible. It is you, Mr. Driver, the man who takes his car out of the garage, starts it on the road, comes to crossings, meets other cars. It is your business, your responsibility—not car drivers in general, but you.

That is part of the campaign. The rest is on the part of children, carried out for them and by them. Many cities have well-made programs for the schools, where the danger of playing on the street is taught, where the necessity of carefully looking before crossing a street is stressed. Chicago traces a direct decrease in street accidents to this work; New York claims a cutting-down of 30 per cent. Kansas City and Cleveland also report the same results.

Accidents can be cut down, but the price is an eternal realization of the danger. It does not mean living in a state of alarm, but it does necessitate a distinct realization of the fact that in the midst of danger it is quite possible to move about in safety.

A Mother To Her Children.

Mrs. Lydia Harding Hammond died a few weeks ago in a little town in New York state. She was the widow of Rev. John Dennis Hammond, a Methodist minister who predeceased her several years. There was a letter written by her with instructions that it should not be read until after her death. It might even be called her will, but it was so entirely different from the average document bearing that name that it seems more appropriate to call it simply a letter from mother to the children. It was:

"Dear Children,—I've just made my will, and this is to tell you what I want done with my little personal belongings. Don't keep anything just because it was mine; they are just things, worn and shabby at that; love doesn't need such things for remembrance.

"Most of my books are old, and many of them I haven't looked into for years. I have loved and kept them because they have enlarged my life. Henry is to have them, my Bible, typewriter and the Verdon case.

"I won't be separated from any of you, dear children. I'll just be closer to God and understand better the ways in which prayer and faith can open ways through which God can help you, and I'll be able at least to love you with all my heart and without anything in that love that will make you feel as though I wanted to control you or bother you.

"Bury my body as cheaply as you can and forget it. Don't wear mourning unless, of course, 'Lynx' wants to. And think of me as alive, alive beyond your farthest thought, and near, and loving you, and well at last, far as the winds of heaven and learning more and more the things I want to know and growing more toward what God wants me to become.

"I think, maybe, John will have our home ready when I come and we'll have a real home at last.

"Love one another. Hold fast to that, whether you understand one another or not, and remember nothing really matters except being kind to one another, and to all the world as far as you can reach.

"Your Lovingest Mother."

That letter, last will and testament, or whatever you may choose to call it, has received more comment and attention than similar documents disposing of millions of dollars worth of property. The Boston Globe says the faith that runs through the lines "is the best evidence of those things this woman believed. She lived them and her faith revealed through her will shines like a star. Here in very truth is the victory that overcometh the world, the life eternal, lived now in the midst of time."

Sir Adam Comes Home.

Sir Adam Beck followed a very natural instinct when he left Baltimore, six hundred miles away, and came to London. He wanted to get home.

He was surrounded in Baltimore by those who could give him the very best of attention and advice; they could tell him exactly what should be done to deal with his particular ailment, and they could and did see that it was done. Sir Adam is not a well man yet, nor has he recovered, but the instinct to get home prompted the trip.

And now that he is home we hope that familiar surroundings, the enervating air of this northern climate and the rest in his own home will complete the work of recovery. After all, it's a great thing to get home.

Note and Comment.

Tomato plants seem to take frost more to heart than anything else. When they are well nipped they don't simply droop and look sad—they disappear.

Governor Dawson thinks prisoners would feel better on three smokes a day. Why three? We know one old man who uses a clay pipe and seems to do well on two—the first from breakfast to dinner, and the second from then to bedtime.

A man in England fell 200 feet down a precipice and suffered only a sprained ankle. John Bull has often been accused of blundering through and coming out all right, and it looks as though his sons had learned the same trick.

Politics makes queer bedfellows. In Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, the Progressives nominated Thomas E. Fear as their candidate, and a representation of 22 Conservatives attended to endorse the move, and their assistance was accepted.

Hail the Optimist

Instead of cussin' at his luck and stormin' at his shiny flivver, he sings his praises at the hack that made him walk to shake his liver.

I like to meet the optimist who dwells up where the air is rare, when clouds are hangin' in the sky he says tomorrow will be fair. When he has lost a game or two he doesn't mope a spell or whine, but reckons how he'll try again and turn the trick some other time.

One chap I know he drives a car, he's a pudgy sort of jay, the doctor told him weeks ago to walk about ten miles a day. He claimed his liver was too slow and needed exercise each day, that he should frolic on the green and with the youngsters run and play.

But still he drove his cart around and never walked a bloomin' step, he knew his liver was a slouch, a-lackin' in such things as pep. He always said some day he'd start and exercise as how he should, he'd gouge great holes into the ground and split eleven cords of wood.

Two days ago he left the town to see a buxom country lass, before he left he shined his boots and bought six dollars worth of gas. When he was settin' in the house a-talkin' there like how he should, and speakin' of the time when he would be a-savin' down the wood, there came a storm and soaked his car and flooded out his spark plugs too, the engine wouldn't budge an inch no matter what he'd say or do.

Him havin' to get home that night and bein' far on a country road, with none a-passin' at that hour a-cartin' in a half a load, this jay decided how he best be makin' for the city street, he made the ten miles into town a-walkin' on his weary feet.

Most folks would swear about such things, and cuss each step they had to take, and say the engine what they drove was nothin' but a varnished fake.

This jay come whistlin' into town, as bright as any man could be, he had six blisters on his hoof and mud was splashed upon his knee.

But all he did was grin and say, "the doctor told me weeks ago, about the things what I should do and of the way that I should go. That car she has more sense than me, it's going to make me well and strong, and keep my gizzard in its place and stop my liver from goin' wrong. I tell you there be wisdom here and brains is centered in that hack, I did just what the doctor said, I rode and walked the ten miles back."—ARK.

School Board Matters.

Ratepayer Says Board Should Go Ahead and Bring in Best Solution To Save Spending Money.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—There seems to be a difference of opinion about the wrecking of the Rectory street school to make room for a collegiate, and I am glad to see that there is. The wrecking of that school will make necessary the erection of another public school some years in advance of the need for it.

Some of the trustees seem to think that they have to do what some people want them to. I may be wrong, but I think the school board's duty is to go ahead and bring down the best solution for the secondary school business in London, and this business of having three colleges and a technical school doing practically the same work in a city this size is putting it on too thick. Toronto, with ten times our population, has only eight or nine academic colleges. I think the members of the board who are in favor of striking out on a new plan should be encouraged.

FAITH AND ACTION.

(From the Salvation Army War Cry)
DOCTRINE and duty go hand in hand. He would not entrust his money to a bank if he did not believe in the bank's solvency and its officials' integrity. He would not ship his goods to a distant city if he did not trust the carrier and confide in the commission merchant and accept as a fact the existence of a city which he never saw. He would not sow his good grain in the plowed ground if he did not believe that, after lying there for a time, it will spring up and yield a large increase. The basis of every intelligent act of man is a belief of some kind. Experience, practice, deeds, may confirm the faith, but the faith lies back of them, as the fundamental principle of activity.

PEACE TALK AIDS PEACE FORKE TELLS COMMONS

Attacks Militia Expenses As Breeding War Possibilities.

LAKES FLEET HIT

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Says U. S. Not Observing Treaty Laws.

By E. C. BUCHANAN.
Special to The Advertiser
by Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, May 18.—Indication that the government sympathizes with the idea of having the session concluded by the middle of June was given in the House of Commons today. Asked by the Hon. H. H. Stevens as to when the legislation for the adjustment of railway freight rates might be expected, Hon. George P. Graham declared that it would be introduced in ample time for full consideration and discussion before prorogation, even though the session ended by June 15. It may go somewhat longer, however. Most members will be satisfied if they get away in advance of Dominion Day.

In Capable Hands.

The minister of railways made Mr. Stevens' question occasion to assure the House of the importance the government attached to the freight rates question and of its desire that it should have the adequate consideration of parliament. The bill, when it is presented, will be in the capable hands of Mr. Graham himself, and it is believed that it will go as far as is possible to accommodate the interests of all sections of the country.

This afternoon the commons was the scene of a pacifist demonstration of considerable vigor, the occasion being committee consideration of militia estimates. Robert Forke, the Progressive leader, W. C. Good, the leading reformer of parliament, and W. S. Woodsworth, the labor leader, presented the case against armaments and preparedness for war amid a demonstration of approval from Progressives. The "Preparedness" on the part of Canada that gave rise to the peace drive was an appropriation of $725,798 for salaries and contingencies in connection with the militia force and the regret of General G. A. Clark and others that the government did not provide sufficient money for the maintenance of militia units, these having to be financed by their officers.

Hear Expert Advice
The ocean rates committee spent three hours tonight hearing some first hand information as to the kind of ships Sir William Petersen proposes to operate on the Canadian Route under the government subsidy. The information came from two officers from the Petersen ship now in the port of Montreal, Captain Richard Hocken and Chief Engineer Alexander McIntosh. They proved of the possibilities.

FORKE AIRS VIEWS.

Ottawa, May 18.—"If we talk peace we shall have war," said Robert Forke, Progressive leader, in the House of Commons today, when defense estimates were under consideration.

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg Center, undertook to charge the statement that armament was a guarantee of safety. Advocates of military preparation had had their innings and the advocates of disarmament and world peace were growing in numbers and were demanding a hearing. Mr.

Woodsworth said that personally he was opposed to the last war, and would oppose the next. Press reports had stated that an American fleet of small ships was to be put on the Great Lakes, armed to prevent rum running. Everyone knew that the government had not succeeded in putting down smuggling operations from Canada to the United States. Under the Rush-Bagot treaty armed ships on the Great Lakes were limited. The surest preparation against United States putting armed ships on the Great Lakes would be for the government to see that the law was maintained in Canada.

ASKIN STREET LEAGUE.

The annual banquet of the Young People's league of the Askin Street Methodist church was held last evening at 7 o'clock under the convener-ship of Miss Florence West, who was assisted by Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Hammond and Miss Clara Mitchell. The tables were most attractive with green crepe paper, apple blossoms, tulips and lilacs. Following the supper hour a dialogue was given by Capt. Dunnett, Dr. LeRoy Hiles, Carlton Wells and Fred Mitchell. J. H. Childs spoke on "The League," pointing out to those present individual things that they must do to make their league a success. The new officers were then introduced by the retiring officers, after which Miss Helen Baker gave a charming little reading, "Jimmie's Prayer." A singing throughout the evening was most enjoyed and they were led by Dr. Hiles, who also acted as chairman.

HALE STREET LEAGUE.

A citizenship meeting featured last night's session of the Young People's league of the Hale Street Methodist church, when an excellent address was given by Bill Wainwright on "Canadian Nationality." Humorous readings were given by Will Bedgood, who also presided over the meeting. Next Monday night the league members will go to Centennial Methodist church where they will attend the league night of the Methodist conference.

RIDOUT STREET LEAGUE.

The members of the Young People's league of the Ridout Street Methodist church held a very jolly picnic last evening, when they motored to Hyde Park, leaving the church about 6:30, and had supper on the river bank. While bacon and eggs were being cooked over the fire, a game of soft ball was greatly enjoyed, and following the delicious refreshments, Gordon Scott led the group in a round of merry songs while they sat about the roaring bonfire. There were over fifty present, and Miss Effie Brown was in charge of the happy event.

ROBINSON MEMORIAL LEAGUE.

The regular meeting of the Young People's league of the Robinson Memorial Methodist church was held last night under the direction of the literary department. Miss Doris Tanner presided and Miss Ruth Tanner sketched in a very excellent manner Lady Gregory's play, "Spreading the News." Following the evening's program a social hour was enjoyed, when several jolly games were played.

KNOX Y. P. S.

The members of the Young People's society of Knox church held a short business meeting last night, when they made arrangements for their summer tennis schedule, which they plan to have ready for June 1. Stewart Kennedy, the president, was in the chair.

WELLINGTON STREET LEAGUE.

Miss Julia Sampson presided over last night's regular meeting of the young people's league of the Wellington street Methodist church, when Emily George read the lesson, after which a reading was given by Miss Ethel Cameron. The topic was "The Good Samaritan" and the pleasing evening closed with games.

NO TALK OF CROSSING OR NEW UNION STATION

Decidedly relieved when Mr. Beatty stepped from the car, they had been waiting for him and even searching in vain for him all morning. In fact while Col. Gairdner was at the chamber of commerce offices Mr. Beatty was over at McClary's.

The members of the president's party, J. J. Schreiner, general manager of eastern lines; H. C. Groat, general superintendent of the Ontario district; W. C. Whitaker, local freight agent at the London busmen talked over general business conditions until noon.

Mr. Beatty believes that Canada does not desire nationalization of the railways. Asked what he thought of a reversal of the proposal by having the Canadian Pacific absorb the Canadian National, he said:

"The government has never suggested such a plan, and for that reason it could not be discussed. If the government had made such a suggestion, it would have to be taken up then."

No Level Crossing Plans.

"Has your visit anything to do with the problems of level crossings here?" "No, nothing. It is just an informal visit," answered the president. It was hoped that the chamber of commerce might have Mr. Beatty as guest of honor at luncheon at noon, but his time was so short here that it was impossible for the president to accept.

R. H. Dowler, president of the chamber of commerce, said he hoped that Mr. Beatty would be able to accept an invitation to address that body at an early date. He left for the Toronto train at 1:25 following a meeting with W. J. Stinson, acting divisional superintendent, and William Neill, assistant vice-president, who arrived in town on the 11 o'clock train from Montreal.

At Hunt Bros., Limited, mill this morning Mr. Beatty spent about half an hour with Charles Hunt, president; Gordon Hunt, vice-president, and John L. A. Hunt, president of the Goddard Elevator and Transit Company.

WILL RE-CLASSIFY ROADS SYSTEM

Conference With Minister of Highways To Be Held Next Week.

Special to The Advertiser By a Staff Reporter.

Toronto, May 19.—A conference between representatives from about half the counties in Ontario and the provincial highways department will take place next week to consider the reclassification of the county road system. There will be representatives from six different counties each day on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

It was forecasted last session that, if thought advisable, the counties should have a flat assistance of 50 per cent in place of the present arrangement of 60 per cent for provincial highways and 40 per cent for county roads. The proposed new system, Hon. Mr. Henry stated today, might mean a little more expenditure for the province, as the present method averaged in the neighborhood of 45 per cent. However, it was problematical whether it would mean more total outlay on the part of the province, for there might be little extra assistance, the mileage might be lower.

SHORT WEIGHT BREAD CHARGE IS WEAKENED

Inspector Fails To Find Enough Infractions To Warrant Prosecutions.

Complaints of short weight bread having been received, Inspector R. H. Sanders spent this morning looking for loaves less than the regulation weight. He did not find enough, however, to warrant any prosecutions.

The law stipulates that fifteen loaves in a wagon or five in a store must be found under weight before a prosecution may be made. This protects the honest baker whose loaves may be both over and under weight. Mr. Sanders this morning found both kinds of loaves. The short weight loaves would be as far short as two ounces and the over weight loaves not quite as much. The law does not recognize a short weight until it reaches two ounces. The inspector was satisfied that London bakers are law-abiding in the matter of weight.

He described the American language to be very much like our own when spoken by educated classes.

The dean said that he had stuck prohibition for three weeks, and I am not sorry to return to my own cellar. I told them that in America.

GUARANTORS MUST PAY AGENT'S DEBT

Judgment Is Given For $1,812 Against Norfolk County Men.

Be sure and read documents before you sign them.

This would be the moral drawn from the supreme court action of the W. T. Rawleigh Company, Limited, of London against F. J. Cade, Simcoe, and particularly applicable to Thomas Curwaine of Simcoe and R. Horne of Jarvis, Ont., who, according to their evidence at the court house today, signed documents for Mr. Cade, without reading them, which instead of being merely references, turned out to be sureties for his debts. Judgment was given against the guarantors for $1,812, without costs. Thirty days' stay was granted by Mr. Justice Logie, presiding judge.

Owed Firm $1,800.

Default judgment was secured against Cade some time ago, who acted as a Rawleigh salesman in the Simcoe district for several years, and who owed the company over $1,800.

Mr. Curwaine announced his age as 71 when he entered the witness box to give evidence in his own defence. "There isn't a man in the county has worked harder than I have for my money," declared Mr. Curwaine proudly.

"I hope that I am as well preserved when I'm your age," complimented his lordship with a smile.

Witness declared that when Cade came to him first, he told witness that the papers he would ask him to sign would be merely a recommendation as to character, and was not a contract or anything that involved money. Cade kept his hand over the paper when he was signing, Mr. Curwaine said.

Never Read Them.

"I never read them. I can't see very well without my glasses," declared Mr. Curwaine, who went on to deny Cade's evidence, that he had told him that if he failed to make good, he (Curwaine) would be responsible for the debts.

Mr. Horne said he had signed a reference for Cade in 1922, but denied that he had signed any paper as a guarantor.

Albert Murphy appeared for the plaintiff company; D. Kelly, Simcoe, for Mr. Curwaine, and R. S. Colter, Cayuga, for Mr. Horne.

HOTELMEN MUST GIVE ALL FACTS

Many Applications Returned Because Certain Details Not Furnished.

Special to The Advertiser By a Staff Reporter.

Toronto, May 19.—The main object of the Ontario license board of officials up to the present has been to get out the standard hotel permits by the 21st, and in the great majority of cases this will have been accomplished.

In looking over these applications, it should be found necessary to re-arrange the application forms, filled in, to the present, particularly as to whether the beverage room was facing a street. Sufficient enlightenment has not been given by many on this point, and this has held up for the time being the granting of permits in these particular cases.

In regard to grocery stores, restaurants and cafeterias, as far as can be gathered, few, if any, applications have been considered up to the present, the officials having concentrated entirely on the hotels.

There has been a huge demand for grocery permits, but it appears that the application forms, filled in, only commenced to reach the board's offices the other day, and it will take some little time before all the cases are decided upon.

WOMEN and THE HOME

SANATORIUM AID EFFECTS FINE WORK IN COMMUNITY

Mrs. John Stevely Elected President at Annual Meeting Yesterday.

1,227 AT CLINICS

Mrs. John Stevely was re-elected president of the women's sanatorium aid at the annual meeting held yesterday at the home of Mrs. C. H. Ziegler, Waterloo street. The year has been an exceptionally active one, 1,227 being in attendance at tubercular clinics during the year, 195 of these new patients; 4,663 visits were made to the homes, where instruction was given by the nurses.

The staff now includes three nurses, headed by Miss Mena Hanson. Their work in the community is one of the finest brought out at the meeting. The aim of the society is not only to bring tubercular patients back to health and strength, but to prevent the spread of this disease in the community.

Plans were made for a garden party to be held at the country home of Mrs. Ray Lawson early in June. Other officers for the coming year are: Vice-presidents, Mrs. Jos. Judd, Mrs. David Cowan, Mrs. W. R. Waugh; treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Greer; secretary, Mrs. W. T. Jewell.

55 Families Supplied. Fifty-five families received weekly groceries, meat, milk, and a great number required rent and fuel paid. The visiting nurses have been untiring in their efforts to relieve distress, and frequent expressions of grateful praise are testimony to this. They are sympathetic and resourceful in finding ways and means to alleviate suffering, supplying the necessities to keep those left in the homes from want while the breadwinner, at the sanatorium, is taking the treatment and cure, which in time will enable them to once more become useful members of society, able through regained health to give the family support.

The afflicted child is one of the greatest cares of the society. Even when the child is restored to the home, after a prolonged stay in the Preventorium, it is tenderly watched; clothing, milk and nourishing food provided to ward off a relapse, and many cases homes found at the lakeside during the summer months.

Nurses' Report. Miss Mena Hanson, head of the tubercular nursing staff, presented the following interesting report:

The number in attendance at the clinics during the year, to April 30, was 1,227; the new patients being 195, including symptoms or complaints. The nurses have been successful in getting a number of contact cases examined. While these have not any definite symptoms or complaints, it has been found that almost 50 per cent are infected. Therefore they are kept under supervision and report at the clinic as advised by the doctors. If undernourished they are supplied with milk from the women's sanatorium aid society.

The nurses made 4,663 visits to the homes, instructing patients, and giving temporary relief where needed. Owing to lack of employment many homes have needed assistance much longer than usual, and milk, grocery and meat accounts have been very heavy during the winter months. At the Christmas season over fifty families were supplied with extra Christmas cheer.

Donations of clothing and bedding have been much appreciated in the homes of the patients. The nurses hope that during the summer months they will be able again to place some of the children (ex-patients of Preventorium) in homes at summer resorts. The results last year were most encouraging, all of them returning very much improved in health, having had a delightful vacation.

Clinic Bi-Weekly. Clinics have been held bi-weekly and the attendance has shown that through the co-operation of all interested in public health patients are now consulting physicians in the earlier stages. The death list was lower, the total being 12.

The usual routine has been carried on at the clinics and patients supplied with all necessary sanitary supplies, such as sputum cups, flasks and neper handkerchiefs. In short, this society stands ready and willing to furnish the means by which tubercular patients may be assisted in regaining their health and strength.

MR. SCANDRETT ILL. Friends of Mr. Scandrett, Broughdale avenue, will be sorry to learn that he is very seriously ill and that he is not expected to recover.

Science finds the safest way to do the family wash

Gillex cleans the stubbornest dirt from daintiest fabrics. Gillex dissolves the oil that holds the dirt in. Dirt particles then rinse out without the rubbing that wears and tears.

Gillex contains no grit or harmful acid. Use no more than quantities specified in directions.

Grease disappears with one rinsing. That's why Gillex speeds kitchen work. Pots, fry pans, milk cans are clean in a jiffy. Paint and linoleums are restored by just wiping over. Why? Because all dirt is oily. Gillex merely dissolves the oil, frees the dirt to be rinsed or wiped off without harm to delicate surfaces. As easy on the hands as it is to clean with. Gillex leaves the skin white, soft, sweet-smelling.

Simple Application That Dissolves Blackheads.

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes. There is one, simple, safe, and sure way to get them out, and that is to dissolve them. Get about two ounces of peroxide powder from your drugist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub briskly over the face for a few seconds—wash the parts, and every blackhead will be gone. Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make larger pores, and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of peroxide powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition.—Advt.

BAPTIST WOMEN WILL MEET HERE

Date Changed for Sessions At Egerton Street Baptist Church.

Of much interest to the women of the Baptist churches of the city will be the convention being held in the Egerton street Baptist church on May 26, when interesting speakers will participate in the program of the women's missionary sessions of the Middlesex-Lambton conference. There will also be an address on "Foreign Missions" by Mrs. Charles Donaghy, of Toronto, who is a daughter of Rev. Mr. Craig, missionary to India. Rev. C. C. McLaurin is also assisting in making the program interesting, and he will give an illustrated address.

It is expected that there will be over 150 delegates. Mrs. Doolittle of Forest, Mrs. R. R. McKay of Sarnia, and Mrs. William Pratt, Petrolia, are expected to attend. The officers for the sessions will include the president, Mrs. J. G. ## Mrs. Teeter Discourages Unc' Billy In His Search For Her Nest of Eggs

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Unc' Billy Possum sometimes is a wee bit short on patience. Then he gets short-tempered. He began to lose patience as he vainly hunted for the nest and eggs of little Mrs. Teeter the Sandpiper, and the fuss she was making began to get on his nerves. If she hadn't made such a fuss he wouldn't have been so sure that those eggs were close at hand. The more fuss she made the more sure he was that he was getting nearer to those eggs. But, look as he would, he couldn't see them.

He went back and forth, back and forth, this way, that way, with his sharp little nose to the ground and his shrewd little eyes looking carefully at everything and under everything. But no nest did he find, and of course no eggs. It was most provoking. Yes, sir, it was most provoking. And it made it all the more provoking to have little Mrs. Teeter take on so. Unc' Billy felt much as you would feel if a stick of candy was held just out of reach and you were told that you could have it if you could reach it.

Finally Unc' Billy quite lost his temper as little Mrs. Teeter cried and took on under his very nose, and he made a quick spring at her. It didn't seem as if he could miss her possibly. But somehow she tumbled out of the reach of his paws, although one of his toe nails actually touched her. This made him lose a little more temper, and he started after her in earnest. He knew that she was only pretending. He wasn't a bit fooled about that. But he was so disappointed by his failure to find those eggs that he hoped that if he rushed quickly enough he might catch Mrs. Teeter and do two things at once—get even with her for teasing him so and have a good meal.

So Unc' Billy actually tried to catch little Mrs. Teeter, and she flopped along the ground just out of his reach in the most provoking manner, until finally Unc' Billy realized how foolish he was and stopped. Mrs. Teeter decided that there was now no danger, so she no longer pretended to be hurt. She flew away and left Unc' Billy to feel as foolish as he pleased.

"Well," muttered Unc' Billy, "Ah, reckon I've done show how foolish an of Possum who knows better, can be. Those eggs certainly are somewhere else. The best thing for me to do is to forget them, and look for something else. Ah, wonder if ah could find a crawfish in the Smiling Pool. Now ah happen to be over this way ah may as well have a look."

So Unc' Billy turned and slowly shuffled over toward the Smiling Pool, for in his chase for little Mrs.

So Unc' Billy turned and slowly shuffled over toward the Smiling Pool, for in his chase for little Mrs.

Teeter he had been led some distance from it. This time he headed straight toward the place where Mrs. Teeter's precious eggs were, but he didn't know it. Mrs. Teeter knew it, however. Although she had flown away she hadn't gone so far but what she could watch Unc' Billy. Of course she wanted to fly right back and try to lead him away again. But that would have warned him at once that he was setting near those eggs. So anxiously she watched, but kept away.

Now, having made up his mind to look for crawfish, Unc' Billy no longer thought of eggs. So it was that presently he passed within a few feet of Mrs. Teeter's simple little nest on the ground and looked straight at four spotted eggs. Yes, sir, he looked straight at them and didn't see them at all. You know they looked much like the pebbles all about them. So Unc' Billy passed those four eggs without seeing them and went on down to the edge of the water to look for crawfish.

WOMEN PLAN TO MAKE MONEY IN UNIQUE WAY

Askin Street Ladies' Aid Already Planning for Autumn Bazaar.

A unique way of raising money in a ladies' aid society has been introduced by the members of the Askin street Methodist organization, who are already making plans for a bazaar in the fall. Their society has been divided into twelve groups, and each group was recently given $5, which they must multiply before the autumn. This increase is to be made outside their booth at the bazaar, and it is the one special feature in connection with each section of the fall sale.

In connection with this plan one group plans to make their objective a $100. This will mean hard work, but in the autumn their $5 will have a splendid increase if they succeed in reaching their aim. The money can be raised in various ways, and several of the groups have already made suggestions. For instance, one plans to have the popular travelling basket, which will make its rounds during the idea of a parcel post, saving-boxes for the odd bits of change is being introduced into another group, and still another group plans to have a sale of home-cooking.

Mrs. Rose Smith, the president of the society, is the general convener. She will be assisted by the following: Mrs. F. J. G. R. Barram; Mrs. T. E. Robson; Mrs. W. J. Carson, Mrs. W. D. Taylor; Lorne avenue, Mrs. S. F. Lawrason, Mrs. H. E. Wheeler; Pottersburg, Mrs. M. S. Dale; Preventorium, Mrs. Castle Graham, Miss Lackie; Riverview, Mrs. J. Bruce Hunter; Rectory, Mrs. M. T. A special meeting of the Municipal chapter, I. O. O. F., has been called for 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Cronyn hall. The meeting will be concerned with plans for the presentation of a play similar to the Cameo Girl in the fall.

Cold-Hearted

A COLD HEART is not good in a human being but it is the acme of excellence in a refrigerator. The Brantford keeps its goodness within itself—frigid, fresh. It has a "cold heart." It resists the entrance of heat.

To resist heat, a refrigerator must be made RIGHT, and the "cold-hearted" Brantford is made to keep food cool, crisp and wholesome. It safeguards your family's health—when the mercury soars in sultry weather.

The Brantford uses one-third less ice than any refrigerator not constructed on the Brantford scientific principles. This means economy—longer life—food kept in better condition.

Ask your dealer to show you a Brantford now so you may benefit by its use for many hot months this summer and for years to come.

Brantford Refrigerators are constructed so you can install electric refrigeration at any time.

Tec's Third Overtime Game Goes To Flint Vehics 2 to 1

Lefty Feigert Holds Fighting Bakersmen to Three Scattered Hits.

ALMOST A SHUTOUT

Special to The Advertiser.
Flint, May 18.—Stout pitching, Lefty Feigert stopped the Tecumseh team today, when the Vehics gained the second successive victory, 2 to 1, in ten innings.
Feigert had a shut-out in his pocket until the ninth, when they dropped an easy fly off Johnson's bat, and Harry, running for Kernan scored to knot the game. Johnson was batting for Droege. Feigert stopped the Vehics with three scattered hits, but his teammates played badly behind him, and won the game only through luck.
Feigert tripled in the sixth, and scored when Droege dropped Sandquist's bag on Trefry. A dozen other runners were stranded by lack of hitting, but Leconier, pinch-hitting for Burley, supplied a base knock to center in the tenth to score Kuehl, who had been stolen second and moved to third when Sandquist outed Hruska at first.

By BOB CRICKSHANK
One of America's Greatest Players
In stroke or medal competition, a ball may be lifted from where it lies and placed behind, or as near as possible to its former lie, but not nearer the hole. The penalty for lifting a ball under these conditions is two strokes. In match play, a ball may be lifted from an unplayable lie and taken back to the spot from which it was played, adding one penalty stroke to the score for the hole. In this latter case, however, the ball must be dropped—not placed—on the spot.

FAVORITES TAKE CONTESTS EASILY

Lady Golf Champions of Britain Sail Through First Round.

Associated Press Despatch.
Trom, Scotland, May 18.—All of the favorites sailed with ease through the first round of the British ladies golf championship today. Miss Joyce Wethered, the present champion, disposed of her first opponent, Miss Wardell of Ireland on the twelfth green, and the former champion, Miss Cecil Leitch, at the other end of the draw, went only that far before knocking out Mrs. Cochrane of Scotland.
Another holder, Miss Doris Chambers, who took the 1923 championship away from Miss Wethered, administered the crushing defeat of the day to Miss May O'Gorman of Providence, I.
After dropping in the seventh, where she was badly bunkered, she rushed on to an early victory over the Rhode Island entrant by a score of 5 up and 1 to play.

Miss Macbeth, Bowdon, defeated Miss Dobson, Brockton Hall, 2 up and 1 to play.
Mrs. Macbeth will meet Miss Wethered in the second round tomorrow.
Miss Cecil Leitch, former British champion, defeated Mrs. Jack Cochrane of Bathurst, 8 up and 1 to play.
Miss Edith Welch, Weston Heath, defeated Mrs. Cautley, Thane, by one up.
Owing to the large number of byes, only 20 matches were on today's program. Among those who drew byes were Mrs. C. K. Allen of the St. Charles club, Winnipeg, Canada's only representative in the tournament.
The first round of the championship was played against Miss Harriet Ellison of London.
Miss Glendon Collett also drew a bye. She will play Miss M. Cox, the Welsh champion, in the second round tomorrow.
Miss Cox today defeated Mrs. Collis Brown of West Hill by 4 up and 2 to play.
Results of other first-round matches follow:
Miss Doris Chambers of Wirral defeated Miss May O'Gorman of Providence, R. I., by 8 up and 7 to play.

DIAMOND GLINTS

It looks as if Mike Baker will have to make his squad at left-handed.
They've shown a distinct weakness against fork-hand deliveries.
It's a weakness, too, especially when the number of capable southpaws in the vicinity as there are in the Mint.
It can be overcome, or at least helped, by plenty of batting practice against southpaw pitching, and a correct mental attitude.
Lots of batters accept too readily the idea that they cannot hit left-handers. But a batter in the hole before a ball is hurled.
Droege's showing is very good, considering he was up against a heavy-hitting club and against one of the very best pitchers in the circuit. Every time he got along with one southpaw, he needs two, although Pete Harris looks like twins to what he did last year.
Perhaps the most outstanding success attained by a minor league player in the past few days is that of Spencer Harris, the smiling young outfielder whom Londoners saw so often and from of yesterday time the Bay City Wolves. Harris at present is batting .300, with five hits, a homer and a triple among them.
Webb is the third Hamilton pitcher to shut visiting teams out without a hit since the M. O. league was formed. Bill Morrisette performed the trick when the team was playing at the H. A. A. field, and Johnny Graze performed the feat the same season. Pete Behan pitched several one-hit games, but never managed to get the clean sheet.

Hinky Haines, now of Kitchener, hurled a no-hit, no-run game here in 1925.
No word has been received from Bill Doak, the Florida reaver, who has been asked to return to the Robins. When Uncle Robbie asked Doak to come back he did not say it with flowers, for Bill says there is no sentiment in baseball. The Robins are using a contract calling for at least $15,000. Every time the Robins visit Doak's field a letter for Robbie from Doak is looked for.

Heinie Groh has gone to Rochester to see time to Dr. Knight, the famous medic who specializes in anatomical kinks of that description.
Four ex-Yanks are with the Reds—Carl Mays, Harry Biehl, Tom Sheehan, and Lou Gehrig.
A number of well known and some of them famous players passed out of the big show or finished their respective careers in major league baseball, but not in baseball. All have a home and all have a chance of hitting in the big leagues again. Derril Pratt, Eddie Ainsmith, Dr. Lavan, Mike Menckey, Jas. Joseph O'Connell, Bob Russell, Walter Schmidt, Moses Strunk, Guy Morton, "Mule" Watson, Ed Pfeffer have said adieu, but it didn't mean a positive adieu, for the heavy invasion of the blood in the spring of 1924 is partly the reason.

LEAGUE OPENS FRIDAY.
The official opening of the new church softball league will be staged at Aberdeen school grounds next Friday night, with Hyatt Avenue Methodists opposing Southern Methodists. The complete schedule has not been arranged as yet, but will be submitted for publication next week.

Frost Loss Is Two Millions

Special to The Advertiser.
Chicago, May 18.—The abnormal cold and frost of yesterday and last night brought ruin to the strawberry and grape crops in the Paw Paw and Lawton, Mich., districts, entailing a loss which will run to more than $2,000,000, Max Sherrod, official co-operative observer at the United States weather bureau here, said today.

On the Side Lines With C.S.G.

THE FAILURE.
Isn't fate a mistress funny?
In my life there is a glut
Of good things bought by money.
Which can't buy a six-foot putt.

You may think that this is mulish.
I hear your faint tut tuts;
But they make me look too foolish,
Those silly three-foot putts.
I've made millions, unmade strong men,
Yet I fear I'm just a mutt,
For my nerves of steel go trembling when I face a one-foot putt.

A PRECARIOUS TRADE.
Pitching is a very precarious trade. The return of Ralph Judd to the Mint league, out of which he soared in meteoric fashion his first season, emphasizes how uncertain is the mound job not only from season to season, but even from game to game.

Consistency in pitching is a rare jewel. Mathewson and Johnson seem to have been able to strike a certain stride over a long number of years, and there were many others who were able to maintain a certain level but not for the period that Senator's veteran has.

There are such examples to point to as Urban Shocker, who through the accident of a broken finger became a really great hurler, although as a member of the Ottawa team in the old Canadian league Shocker was only considered a fair prospect.

It's a glorious feeling for a pitcher to discover that the ball is doing something new for him. That's usually how it comes. He discovers why after some careful investigation; a slight change in his method of delivery; a little more grip on one finger perhaps.

It's equally as usual, however, that while everything is being done as usual, the ball isn't behaving as it should. It has the same speed, but something is missing. That's the first feeling of lost confidence that comes to the star beginning to slip. It's the tragedy that has stalked on to many a mound when the critical fans were least aware of it.

Judd had a curve ball, in fact a variety of them, and wonderful control when he broke in. It is said that he sought to add a fast ball to his repertoire as a lost control in the process. If he regains his control, he'll be better than ever—if he doesn't lose something else in the meantime.

NO SCHOOL TOO SMALL.
It remained for the biggest meet the Wossa ever staged to emphasize the fact that the small schools have just as much chance for fame as the larger colleges, even if they are at a disadvantage due to lesser numbers in aiming at team championships.

A few years ago Listowel high sent down a youngster named Walters who made a great impression in the half-mile. This year Listowel high achieved its measure of fame with Davidson's victory.
Glencoe high school was outstanding in carrying off the intermediate championship, and Tillsonburg high was right up there in the running, with two juniors of the four tied for the individual championship.

The fact that many of the smaller schools have come back to the meets year after year, their number outnumbers by the large colleges, is a splendid tribute to their sporting spirit and assures permanency to the Wossa, with such co-operation.

Orient Intermediate Nine Opens League Wednesday

The Western Ontario intermediate league opens Wednesday night at 5:30 on the Queens Park diamond. The Orioles and Strathroy are the contestants.
The hour has been made near twilight so that east end fans, going on short rotations of baseball since the manufacturers' league became a fact this season, may have that gnawing feeling appeased.
Johnny Burgess has lined up one of the strongest intermediate teams in the province. He has a right-hander, a left-hander, a switch-hitter, and a right-hander. Taylor is a neck and neck. Cooper, a new catcher, has shown much class and is a steady worker.
Burgess has a smart infield. Bryce McLeod is at first. Red Sumner, second. H. Hall at short and young Bill Finlayson, who played senior ball last year, is at third. Southcott is also available for third sack duty.
Dick Christopher, Gray and Carver comprise the fly hawk brigade. They are all good hitters and good fielders.
Strathroy will have most of last year's team intact. That is saying quite a bit. The Orient Intermediate will start at third. Taylor and Strathroy only lacked senior calibre because they lacked pitching reserves.
Pitching is what Burgess has lots of. No less than five hurlers compose his flinging corps. Tiny Balk-

"Amateur" Hockey Player Suing For His Salary

Associated Press Despatch.
Boston, May 18.—Charges that officials of the Boston arena had paid salaries to amateur hockey players have been made public today. The players, some of whom have been brought down from Canada, have been left "to starve" by the arena officials. W. Small, Jr., captain of the United States Olympic hockey team, and a player on the B. A. A. team, announced that he had brought suit for $1,000 against the arena officials. The players are non-payment of his salary.
Small declared that the arena officials had made agreements to pay of $1,000 a season, but had held back the payments under threat of exposing the players concerned for violation of amateur rules.
"The game is now a joke," said Small, "and it cannot come back until the crowd is cleaned up. The players have not been getting a square deal. Some of them have been brought down from Canada, and left to starve while the bosses took all the profits and lived the life of kings."
Small alleged that George W. Brown, a director of the arena and chairman of the hockey committee of the B. A. A., and encountered rain on the journey, resulting in a slow race, with Rawson Bros. and J. Lightfoot battling for first place. Rawson Bros. covered 51 miles in 2 hours 48 minutes 27 seconds, winning first place on the journey.

TORONTO READY FOR PERMIT RUSH

Virtually All Standard Hotel Keepers Successful in Applications.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.
Toronto, May 18.—It is a case of all hands on deck, and extra help to tackle the work at the Ontario license board offices connected with the granting of 4.4 beer permits.

Today everybody was hard at the job, and F. P. Brennan, assistant solicitor of the attorney-general's department, and A. W. Rogers, legal secretary, moved from their own offices at parliament buildings to Grenville street to assist in the work.

Recently the staff of stenographers has been increased at the license board offices to deal with the temporary rush. A large number of applications have been decided favorably already, and it was stated today that in practically every case a standard hotelkeeper would be granted a license.

There was a report that the King Edward hotel in Toronto had not made application, but on inquiry this was found to be incorrect.

Though the sale in hotels and other places does not commence until Thursday, breweries with permits can deliver from today, this being to enable distribution in time.

Deliveries from breweries of the new 4.4 beverage commenced this morning in Toronto, and other outside points in the province. Despatches from Windsor state that hotel men and restaurants in that city are receiving their supplies, which will be on sale after the 21st of the month.

Breweries that have permits already in their possession, are entitled to commence shipments to their customers, providing that none of the beverage is retained prior to Thursday next," stated the attorney-general.

The Carling brewery had received no intimation yesterday that they could start delivering 4.4 beer immediately to hotels and other places in order to circumvent the rush on Thursday.

"We have received no intimation from the government as yet about that," declared Manager Burns.

C. A. A. Decides To Restrict Loop To Four Teams

St. Michael's Club Protected, However, if Entry Made Next Year.

For the coming season the Holy Name baseball league at Sunshine Park may operate with only four teams, St. Michaels, St. Martin's, St. Mary's, and St. Peter's. The executive at its meeting last night decided that the league would not be accepted, as it was received long after the fact, and would not be accepted. St. Michaels will be protected, however, to the extent that if they care to enter team next year they will have first call on the players who made up their team in 1924.

Arrangements were made at the meeting for opening day this Saturday, when St. Michaels will play St. Martin's. The game will be played at 2:30 p.m. in the first game of the season. The game will be played at 2:30 p.m. in the first game of the season.

The Forest City racing pigeon club held its weekly race on Saturday at Stony Point, a distance of 11:30 a.m. The birds were released at 11:30 a.m., and encountered rain on the journey, resulting in a slow race, with Rawson Bros. and J. ## KITCHENER MINTERS BEATEN BY DAUBERT'S HOMER IN EIGHTH

Hams Come From Behind to Win By 3-2 Score.

Special to The Advertiser.
Hamilton, May 18.—Knotty Lee's Colts almost won a ball game here this afternoon—almost. Leading by a 2 to 1 score going into the final half of the eighth, and with Pitcher Brown sailing along under ease and extremely slinky with his hits, the Colts appeared all from the first game of the series, but when Riley, first man up, singled this situation changed. A sacrifice put the home one up, a lead they held to the end. Duckworth also had a homer.

Brown pitched a great game, but, like Wernke, he got into trouble early on. Riley, Ryan pitched the final frame for the home team.

During the fourth inning, Kamm and Schalk scored the winning runs in the fourteenth. After the Athletics had taken the lead through poor support behind Thurston, and opportune hitting, Shelly tied the count for Chicago by smacking out a home run with one man on.
Thurston went the entire route and pitched great ball. Groves, who replaced Baumgartner, also pitched well and was given remarkable support in the pinches.

VILLA IS GREAT LITTLE MACHINE

Rosen Springs Surprise By Staying Limit with Abe Goldstein.
CHAPTER XIII.
The Villa-Schwartz and Goldstein-Rosen Bout.

Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, is one of the greatest little fighting machines in the history of the ring.
I referred for Villa when he fought Benny Schwartz, the crack Baltimore boxer, in 1923. It was a fifteen-round bout, the first championship affair that Baltimore had seen in years.
The men came out fighting in the first round and stepped at a fast pace, with honors in Villa's favor. I had to warn Schwartz in the second when he used three kidney punches in a clinch.
Villa gave Schwartz a nice jolting in all but the fifth and tenth rounds, which might have been given to the local boy by a shade, but in all the other sessions Villa had a safe lead. Villa tried hard to put over a hay-maker. His adversary was all in at the finish and was pleased to think that he had the honor of going the limit with the champion.

Villa tried hard to put over a hay-maker. His adversary was all in at the finish and was pleased to think that he had the honor of going the limit with the champion.
Both men weighed in under the 118-pound limit. Abe weighed 117 and his rival one-half pound less.
Rosen, one of Detroit's rising bantams.
Rosen was stopped three times. Rights to the chin did the trick on each occasion, but Rosen is a sturdy lad who can take a good sock and recuperate quickly. Moreover, he was as game as the proverbial pebble. Abe connected so perfectly that I thought sure I would have to count Rosen out before the limit was reached, but to my surprise he was in there battling in his best form at the end of the tenth.

THREE THEORIES HELD IN POISON CANDY CASE
Suspected Man Held For Attempt to Injure Sarnia Girl.
Special to The Advertiser.
Detroit, May 18.—Investigation of three possibilities in connection with threatening letters mailed from out-of-town in the Mexican consulate "poison candy assassination plot" was claiming the attention of postal inspectors today.
One possibility is that the sender of the letters visited Baltimore and Chicago to post them. This was discounted by E. E. Fraser, chief postal inspector here.
While the charge against Charles Henderson, suspect in the plot, who is free under $5,000 bond, deals only with the mailing of poisoned candy, the origin of threatening letters plays an important part in the case.
Both the candy and letters were mailed to Louise Havers, former Sarnia girl, now a Book-Cadillac hotel floor clerk, and friend of Alejandro V. Martin, Mexican consul here, and Carl Grimm, vice-consul.

COMMONS TOO BUSY TO DISCUSS SENATE
Proposed Revision to Curb Powers Will Not Be Talked.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, May 18.—It is not likely that the proposed changes in the British North America act to curtail the power of the Canadian Senate will be formally discussed in the House of Commons today, session.
Premier King, answering a question from Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen in the House of Commons today, doubted if the house would have time before the end of this session for such a discussion. The government has not yet considered an agenda for the provincial conference which it was proposed to call for the purpose of considering such changes in the constitution.

WOODSTOCK COLLEGE LEADS SOCCER LEAGUE
Students Trim the Vets 2-0 in Hard-Fought Game.

Special to The Advertiser.
Woodstock, May 18.—The Woodstock college soccer league got a strange hold on the championship of the city soccer league and maintained their unbeaten record by defeating the G. W. V. A. eleven by a score of two goals to nothing in the last football game seen here this season. The collegians had the more speed of the two teams and the better condition, and these were the deciding factors in the game. The veterans had the most of the play, but were unlucky in front of James making some miraculous saves of what looked like certain counters. Walther, who scored first goal in the first half of the game from a pass from Lane, and duplicated the feat in the second half. Boyden, the veterans' back, was knocked out, and the game was stopped for a considerable time. Walther and Montez were very effective for the college, with Dolson and Tarr good on defense. Brown, Boyden and Harris played well for the veterans.

Let Tanlac restore your health

If your body is all fagged out and run down, if you are losing weight steadily, lack appetite, have no strength or energy—why not let Tanlac help you back to health and strength?

So many millions have been benefited by the Tanlac treatment, so many thousands have written to testify to that effect that it's sheer folly not to make the test.

Tanlac, you know, is a great natural tonic and builder, a compound, after the famous Tanlac formula, of roots, barks and herbs. It purges the blood stream, revitalizes the digestive organs and enables the sickly body to regain its vanished weight.

You don't need to wait long to get results. Tanlac goes right to the seat of trouble. In a day or so you note a vast difference in your condition. You have more appetite, sleep better at night and the color begins to creep back into your washed-out cheeks.

Don't put off taking Tanlac

Protect your gums and save your teeth

Just as a ship needs the closest attention under the water-line, so do your teeth under the gum-line. If the gums shrink, serious dangers result.

The teeth are loosened. They are exposed to tooth-base decay. The gums themselves become tender and bleed easily. They form sacs which become the doorways of organic disease for the whole system. They often disfigure the mouth as they recede. If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyloritis or checks its progress. Forhan's is safe, efficient and pleasant-tasting. It preserves gum health, corrects tender gums, hardens gum tissues so they will offer proper support to the teeth, and keeps your mouth fresh and healthy.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyloritis. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

GAS IN STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

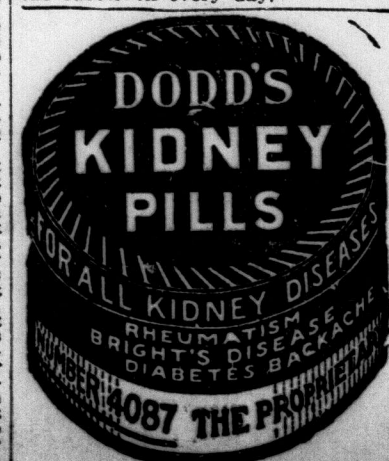

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloating out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk)—is harmless to the stomach, is expensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion—Advt.

Guy Lombardo's Orchestra

Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadian orchestra of Londoners received a wonderful welcome home at Loew's yesterday afternoon and evening. London is proud of the success the orchestra has made in the United States, particularly Cleveland, and the crowd that taxed the theatre to capacity last night simply could not get enough of the rapturous melodies and insisted on encore after encore.

The minute the name Lombardo appeared on the vaudeville announcement slide, the audience started to applaud and when the orchestra commenced Home Sweet Home as an opener, the applause became deafening. The boys were back before a home town audience and it gave each of the five numbers added zest.

During the last few months there have been some outstanding orchestras at Loew's, but none of them could compare with the Lombardos. Of course everyone who would like to hear them could not possibly have attended the theatre last night. However the Lombardos will be here today and tomorrow and if you do not avail yourself of the opportunity of hearing them, you will be missing a rare musical treat.

Yearning was followed by the rollicking strains of Mamie. Then came the Indian Love Call and Alabama Bound. For encores the boys played Ah-Ha, Jimtown Blues, Blame Me, and Oh, Katherine. They would be playing yet if the audience had its way.

The orchestra completed a two weeks' engagement on the Keith circuit before coming here and made such a hit broadcasting programs from station WTAM, Cleveland (the Willard Battery broadcasting station), that it has been signed up for another season. After leaving London, they move on to Richmond, Ind., where they will make Victrola records, later returning to Cleveland for a summer engagement at Sophie Tucker's Lake Road Inn.

Members of the orchestra, who first gained fame in London, playing at Springbank and Port Stanley, are: Guy, Carmen and Lebert Lombardo, violin, saxophone and trumpet, respectively; Fred Kretzer, piano; George Gowans, drums; Jim Patton, trombone; Francis Henry, banjo; Fred Higman, saxophone, and Bern Davies, tuba.

Goddie and Beattie are two young women who can sing both rapt and ballads. Their enunciation was ### particular good, and we could hear every word at the back of the theatre.

Miss Goddard's best number was Hot Tomate Mollie.

Mae and Ed Davis in comedy talk and songs were both good. Mae making a great hit with her song, Nuthin's Going to Stop Me Now.

The picture part of the program is just as good as the vaudeville and that is saying a whole lot. Alice Joyce and Neal Hamilton in The Little French Girl, are stars of one of the best films seen at Loew's in a long time. Mary Brian as the little French girl is excellent, and the supporting cast is all that could be desired. Space will not permit us to dwell on the plot, but it is out of the ordinary.

A Mack Sennett comedy All Night Long drew ripples of mirth every minute. Pathe News closed the picture part of the program.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Sackcloth and Scarlet.

Sackcloth and Scarlet, the feature presentation at the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week, is a distinct achievement for Henry King, who directed the picture from the popular novel by the same name by George Gibbs.

Alice Terry is featured at the head of an excellent cast, and her work in this film is equally as pleasing and finished as in her former successes, The White Sister and Scaramouche.

Sackcloth and Scarlet tells of two girls, orphan sisters—one a flapper and irresponsible, the other, level-headed and serious. As John Freeman, Miss Terry looks after and cares for her younger sister until one day the young girl leaves a comfortable home in New York and goes west—"to visit an aunt"—in reality in search of adventure. She gets into marital difficulties while campin' in the Rockies.

It is one of the most entertaining pictures of the year, well screened, well acted and well worthwhile.

Walter Hells again makes his appearance in a delightful short comedy, this time, The Tenderfoot. He is here screamingly at his best. A Pathe news film shows an excellent program, which is supported throughout by the Capitol Little Symphony orchestra.

THE NIGHT OF THE WEDDING

By C. N. and A. M. WILLIAMSON.

Copyright, 1924, by Public Ledger Company.

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY.

EVILYN HASTE, beautiful and rich girl, who sits down at the piano on her wedding night—and mysteriously disappears.

KENNEDY HASTE, her husband, who suspects complicity on the part of his old war comrade.

SIR RAWDON WELLS, an amateur scientist, who has insisted on lending the couple Hidden Hall Court, his gloomy and mystery-ridden estate, for their honeymoon, and who is found after the disappearance in a secret chamber.

PANDORA, a gypsy-like girl, adopted sister of Kennedy, and secretly in love with Wells.

MISS GILLETTE, an ex-war nurse, who fell in love with Haste in a hospital, and who is an intense person.

DAGON, youthful Scotland Yard detective, who has done glorified "spy work" in the war. He is of vivid Latin temperament, thorough Canadian in training.

INSTALLMENT XXIII.

The Knocking. Dagon had tried the gardeners, asking if the place had been lent or let, and whether—as it was a picture—moving pictures of it had been taken, say, by the company of which Mr. Magrini was a star. But the men who had been through the spot through the war years were old, and discreet or forgetful.

The Masquer's "business" was to strike a bargain with Pandora. Haste was to tell him all she knew about Rawdon Wells and Eve Carroll, including the evidence which might connect Rawdon with the disappearance. Pandora was also formally to take back in writing her confession of guilt. She was to state on oath that she had made this confession in the hope of saving Wells, but that on second thoughts, she found it impossible to continue her perjury. She was to add that she had escaped from the police station through the connivance of a friend, and that she intended to keep out of the way until the trial of Sir Rawdon was over. This, a void being called upon as a witness.

In return for writing such a letter Pandora would be released by the Masquer from imprisonment under the pool and placed in a comfortable, common-place farm house, where the only restraint would be her own word of honor. Later she would be freed. If she refused to comply with these terms, she would be kept where she was for an indefinite length of time. Her obstinacy would benefit no one, as in prison she could not again testify in favor of Wells, and her escape from the police station at Ardrey-le-Mare would be taken to mean that she had lied and was afraid of being found out. Besides, the Masquer hinted, the time might come when it would be inconvenient to rely on her in her present quarters. It would, however, be still more inconvenient to set her free if she were an avowed enemy. As to the attempt, she might draw her own conclusions.

"I have said that I would not harm you except under great provocation," the man reminded the girl. "But—if you insist on giving me great provocation—you know the saying, 'Safety first!' I might be obliged to rid myself of a menace."

"Meaning me?" Pandora asked. "Meaning you?"

This hint chilled Pandora's spine. She jolly thought if the man had described the plan for eliminating such perfidious persons. Her imagination supplied the details. She could see herself, bound and gagged, shot up into the deep green water of the pool by that "one workman" whom he would trust. Well, it would spare her the horror of black darkness through the long nights!

"Who are you?" she called. "The voice behind the echo answered, but Pan could catch no words."

"Good gracious, if it's Eve Carroll!" the girl gasped, half aloud. Oh, it must, it must be Eve! Rawdon Wells had not killed her. At worst he had shut her up. But, surely, he had not done even that! He had done nothing to Eve. He was the wholly innocent. The Masquer was the guilty one.

Pan had not liked Eve. The girl was frankly aware that she'd been jealous. She had never tried to excuse herself. It had almost broken her heart when Don fell in love with Miss Carroll. In her despair she thought it quite broken, and that life was over. But she hadn't hated Eve then. She had only been sad. It was when Eve threw away the love for which she—Pan—would have given half her youth that the girl had felt actual hatred.

In those days—the days when Eve and Kennedy Haste were first engaged—Pandora would have been glad had she heard that Eve Carroll was dead. Yet she had not been quite so desperately miserable as when Don had been Eve's lover. Something of the old "palship" between Pan and Rawdon Wells had been saved from the wreck of his happiness. At first he had said nothing about the blow that had fallen on him. He had seemed glad to have Pan with him, though he had forgotten her while the sunshine of Eve's favor had shone upon him. Then one day—not long before the wedding—his anguish had burst forth in a torrent of words. He had not meant them, of course, and Pan had tried to put them out of her mind. But there had come a time when she couldn't help remembering. Even then it was Eve she blamed—Eve would be responsible for everything no matter what happened. Now, however, when she thought that Eve was a prisoner like herself in this secret place under the pool, Pan's heart warmed faintly toward the other girl.

"Eve—Eve!" she called, and beat upon the door. There was an answer, but again the voice was muffled by distance. "I wonder if she understands telegraphy?" Pandora thought. She herself had learned during the war, when she had wished to qualify as an airwoman. She had practised much, for Ken had written from France and begged her to give up the plan; but she remembered the letters of the alphabet in the Morse code.

Now she snatched off her little brown suede shoe, and began to rap out with its heel the name of "Eve Carroll." To that she added, "Do you understand?"

There was silence as she tapped, and the instant she stopped, knocking began again. But it was not in code. It had a meaning, she was sure; and regretfully the hope of exchanging messages had to be given up.

the bed as the Masquer threw her off, and the key had turned in the lock before she had got to her feet again. But at least she had something to think of besides the man's threats! She thought at the door across the narrow passage; and before her mind's eye she hastily sketched a plan of the reconstructed "Hidden Hall" as she now imagined it.

"It's very simple," Pan told herself. "For some reason they wanted separate rooms down here, so they made small ones of this size by running up walls and making a passage just wide enough for a man to squeeze through. Now I know where the voice that followed the echo came from! Somebody is in a room across the corridor, and when I yelled the person there yelled back. Then the Masquer made a noise coming down, and everything had to stop."

Masquer might have gone to pay a visit to that opposite room, but Pan thought not. Her ears were sharp, and she would have heard his key in the other lock.

Perhaps he was lurking outside, to listen in case she cried for mercy—begged to be taken out at any price rather than be left alone for two whole days without food! Well, she wasn't going to cry for mercy. She would wait for a few minutes until if he were out there—he'd lose patience and desert. Then she would try for the echo again. But, meanwhile, who was Masquer? The girl racked her brain in a desperate effort to guess the mystery of the man.

The disguised voice was so well disguised that, if she'd heard it before, she could associate it with no one she had ever met. The figure, with its queer stoop, was rendered unrecognizable by that and the cloak. What with the big soft hat and the melodramatic mask of crepe, the man might have been an apparition without face or head!

Though Pan had no idea of time save for the faintest delight, her eyes were by now well accustomed to the green glimmer, and she peered anxiously through the dusk which, it seemed to her, was deepening toward night.

"Is it five or ten minutes since the brute went out and locked the door?" she asked herself. "Anyhow, when I've counted sixty I'll pound on the wall and call out again."

But she had not got to thirty-five when the silence broke. There came a muffled knocking, which sounded far away. But there was no mistake, knocking it was!

Fly Irish Flag On High Seas After 500 Years

Associated Press Despatch.

Hoboken, N. J., May 18.—The Irish flag will return to the sea tomorrow morning when the North German Lloyd steamer Bremen departs on its initial trip for Ireland. This will be the first time in 500 years it is said, that the Irish flag has been flown at the mast of a vessel at sea.

The German steamship company decided to fly the Irish flag on the Bremen when the regular service to Ireland was begun. It was explained. The steamer will call at Queenstown.

COUNCIL BACKS CREDIT OF $50,000 TO L. & P. S.

Mayor Wenige and Alderman Neely Only Opponents of Motion.

SCALES UNCHANGED
New Market Equipment to be Built on Present Site.

The city council last night decided to grant the London Railway board the $50,000 credit for which it had asked. J. P. Moore, one of the commissioners, appeared before the council explaining why it was needed at this time of the year to take care of purchases before the summer recess came. Only the mayor and Alderman Homer Neely voted against it.

On the vote on the position of the new city scales, Ald. Smith and the mayor were the only members to vote against the present site. The scales will be built on the present site in spite of recent controversy.

Hon. John Martin, provincial minister of agriculture, came in for sharp criticism by Ald. Neely. In a recent letter to the trades council here the minister stated that there was no provincial fund to establish settlers on the land in New Ontario.

Ald. Neely quoted Col. W. R. Smythe of the department of colonization to the effect that there was a provincial fund of $50,000 for this purpose and added: "If the minister would take the trouble to cross the corridor to the office of Col. Smythe he would know this. I would move that the council send this letter back to him, and draw his attention to his ignorance of the real state of affairs." The council, however, decided there was nothing to be gained from attempting to educate a provincial minister on his own specialties.

When the matter of the housing commission came under discussion and the appointment of a salesman considered, the mayor made himself plain.

There is nothing wrong with our housing commission," he said. "The only thing wrong is that common nuisance, the press. If we appoint a live-wire salesman now we can recoup all our losses."

He announced during the evening that he had received a letter from Premier Ferguson saying that no tender for the new pumps for the fire department were to be in by Wednesday of this week. On the motion of Alderman Frank McKay, which was adopted, the time will be extended to Wednesday, May 27, to give further time to some makers who had not received the specifications. These specifications will not be changed, as was suggested at the last meeting of the finance committee.

London's new weigh scales produced much discussion. Two aldermen, Aldermen Bottrill and McCork, declared that Market Clerk Baker had changed his mind recently on the matter, and that he had originally been in favor of the present site.

"Mr. Baker has said in the papers that he favors the corner site," said the mayor to Ald. Bottrill.

"Very well, then I move that he be suspended on the strength of that paper statement," replied the London West representative. "When Mr. Baker spoke to me a few days ago he was strongly in favor of the present site. Since that time he has for some strange reason changed his mind."

"Do you move that, Ald. Bottrill?" "I certainly do." However, the matter was dropped when the council voted twelve to two to use the present site.

Ald. Neely objected that the trades and labor council, in sending the answer from How John Martin to the council, was more anxious to "get him" than to attend to the needs of the unemployed. J. F. Thompson, secretary of the trades council, objected strenuously that this was not the case, and continued until ruled out of order.

Ald. Neely objected to a motion asking the provincial authorities to withdraw their order moving Harry Wray from the city, and Ald. Douglas took up the cudgels in defence of the W. V. A. president. He considered Mr. Wray a sufficiently worthy citizen for the council to undertake this action.

Bylaw Referred.

Two bylaws in connection with the public utilities commission, were referred to the finance committee on the mayor's request. One was for $75,000 for electric light works, and the other was for $99,000 for waterworks purposes. The mayor said he wanted to discover whether the assets of the commission were increasing in proportion to their debt issue in recent years.

Elgin Fishermen Are After Trout

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, May 18.—The season for trout fishing has arrived and every morning sees a motor car leaving the city, with rods strapped to the sides, heading for the trout streams in the county. A. W. Baines left Sunday morning for his annual fishing trip in New Ontario.

originally been in favor of the present site.

"Mr. Baker has said in the papers that he favors the corner site," said the mayor to Ald. Bottrill.

"Very well, then I move that he be suspended on the strength of that paper statement," replied the London West representative. "When Mr. Baker spoke to me a few days ago he was strongly in favor of the present site. Since that time he has for some strange reason changed his mind."

"Do you move that, Ald. Bottrill?" "I certainly do." However, the matter was dropped when the council voted twelve to two to use the present site.

Ald. Neely objected that the trades and labor council, in sending the answer from How John Martin to the council, was more anxious to "get him" than to attend to the needs of the unemployed. J. F. Thompson, secretary of the trades council, objected strenuously that this was not the case, and continued until ruled out of order.

Ald. Neely objected to a motion asking the provincial authorities to withdraw their order moving Harry Wray from the city, and Ald. Douglas took up the cudgels in defence of the W. V. A. president. He considered Mr. Wray a sufficiently worthy citizen for the council to undertake this action.

Bylaw Referred.

Two bylaws in connection with the public utilities commission, were referred to the finance committee on the mayor's request. One was for $75,000 for electric light works, and the other was for $99,000 for waterworks purposes. The mayor said he wanted to discover whether the assets of the commission were increasing in proportion to their debt issue in recent years.
