WOMAN WHAT SHE IS DOING

Who knows? Perhaps when to the world returning... In youth's light joyousness... Well wear some finer jewels we found burling...

Miss Cecil Cameron is the guest of friends in Peterboro. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fitton are in New York for Easter. Mrs. W. F. Robertson has returned from a trip to Utica, N. Y.

Things By RUTH CAMERON

"The world is too much with us; late and soon, Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers." -Wordsworth.

THE other night, long after I should have been sound asleep, I was driven from my bed to my desk by the need of trying to express a mood which I took possession of me.

I went to bed still excited and on the heights, and then the reaction came. This is what I wrote: God keep us all from getting too much wrapped up in things.

God keep us from forgetting that there are other things in the world besides things. Let me remember that, after all, these objects that I strive and work for are only the husks of reality.

I love pretty gowns. I love the rich soft silks and the fascinating embroideries and priceless laces. I revel in the glorious coloring of a beautiful fabric or the fine lines of well modeled garments. I want to own these lovely things.

I love beautiful homes; the dall richness of mahogany, the subdued silvery sheen of old rugs, the fascination of fine linen, the exquisite fragility of beautiful china start my heart strings tingling when I see them. I want to make my home beautiful with things that, after all, I do not want to forget in my love of these things that, after all, kindness and wisdom, fidelity to beliefs, sympathy and truth and love, brotherhood and intercourse with friends are far more beautiful than these material things—and more real.

There are times when the fever of possession gets into my blood; there are times when things shut out the real as the fog shuts out the ocean. And then, just when I am forgetting that there is a wonderful, eternal ocean, a corner of the fog lifts and I realize again that the things we give so much of our lives for are just forms.

And then again the fog comes back. Half of us is soul and half body. The body, but the soul sinks all too easily into coma. I think most of us need to pray every day—"God keep me from stifling that part of me that knows there is something besides things in the world."

HAD RHEUMATISM IN ALL MY BONES

"Sometimes I Could Hardly Walk!"
2 Boxes of Gin Pills Cured Me

SUFFERED FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE for five long years. I also had Rheumatism in all my bones and muscles—could not sleep at night—and sometimes could hardly walk. I was treated by some of our best physicians, but without relief. Losing fifteen pounds, was very weak, and friends, who had not seen me for some time, were astonished. One day, I met one of our leading hotel keepers, who had been cured by Gin Pills, and he advised me to try them, so I bought two boxes at my druggist's.

Before I had used one box, I felt a big change for the better, and before the second box was gone, I was completely cured. I assure you I can hardly believe it for if I had known what I know now about Gin Pills, I would not have spent over one hundred dollars for nothing, when two boxes of Gin Pills cured me.

Anyone suffering from Kidney Trouble or Rheumatism, should never be without Gin Pills.

EUGENE QUEBREL,
Chief City Circulation Agent,
"La Patrie" Montreal.

Drive your old enemy out of your system. Be free of pain. Be able to walk and work and enjoy life. Away with pain in the back, Rheumatism, and Kidney Troubles. Take Gin Pills. A few boxes now, will mean ease and comfort for the rest of the year.

Remember, Gin Pills are sold on a positive guarantee to give satisfaction or your money refunded. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. You may try them before you buy them. Sample free if you write the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto.

EASY STREET
By HOWARD L. RANN

EASY STREET is the home address of people who have money out at 5 per cent. and nothing to do but prevent the assessor from finding it.

No matter what part of town a man lives in, he figures on eventually landing in Easy Street with some bank stock and a cluster of first farm mortgages. If he is accustomed to hard work, soon after he moves in he will be attacked by dyspepsia, insomnia, and nervous indigestion, and will be willing to trade a few of his bonds for his old two-edged appetite and the ability to sleep from 8 to 6 without engaging several lusty night men in mortal combat.

A great many people have saved and crimped and taken the half cent so long that when they finally get on Easy Street they are astonished to find that they can't spend any more than they used to without being overcome with remorse and shooting pains. It is harder to spend money than it is to save it, after a lifetime devoted to going to work and breakfasting on oatmeal and XXX coffee. Easy Street is full of people who are never so easy as when a sewer extension falls to pass the city council.

The other class of folks who reside in Easy Street are those who fell into it by the inheritance route. This class usually puts its money into circulation with a shovel, and prevents the automobile industry from breaking in two in the middle with a loud retort. Once in a while some hard-working business man, who began life by revolving around the corn field on a riding cultivator, will die unrepentantly and leave what he has piled up to a pampered son, who will move into Easy Street and proceed to make his liabilities smother his assets.

After conducting a brisk business in this line, until he couldn't buy a tack hammer on the job, the son usually backs into business life by opening a shooting gallery or driving a grocery wagon.

Easy Street is a delightful place, if it doesn't become so blamed easy that a man isn't good for anything except to call for his mail and pitch horse-shoes.

July 4. Putting the matter in this way has given those who have been sore at Jefferies ever since the Reno disaster a chance to flourish their hammers.

They say sincerely that he received something like a cool one hundred thousand for taking a few of Johnson's uppercuts whereas ten cents would have been ample pay for all the fighting spirit and fighting talent he displayed. From which it will appear that in talking of "sufficient inducements" at this stage of the proceedings Jefferies is venturing on very thin ice.

From the looks of things if Jeff is simply bent on figuring in one match for big money he will be disappointed. The critics and the public will not stand for anything like that. If as some say, his motive is to rehabilitate himself and prove that he is a better fighter than his showing with Johnson would indicate, he may

CATHEART

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The only loyal gentleman we have in Cathcart is Mr. Vanhorn, the foreman of the Temperance House. He is wearing the shamrock in honor of St. Patrick.

Miss Graves of Bright is the guest of Miss Polley on College avenue.

Mr. J. W. Warboys of Brantford made a fly-up visit to our village last week. Mr. J. Chant spent a few days last week in Brantford and Hamilton.

Mrs. Lawrason spent a few days in Burford, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. G. A. Aulsebrook.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. G. Orsee of Burgessville, formerly of Cathcart, who passed away on Sunday morning. The remains will be taken to Princeton for burial. We extend our deepest sympathy.

Mr. Williams of Toronto occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church on Sunday night and preached a very good sermon. The boys were very good; they only laughed when the minister told them to.

Quite a number from Cathcart went to Woodstock on Saturday to attend the opera. Notwithstanding the terrible state of the roads, they evidently enjoyed the trip as well as the play.

A MESSAGE FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER

MRS. E. J. TALBOT TELLS THEM TO FIND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

S. E. Had Rheumatism, Lumbago and Neuralgia and Found the Remedy She Was Looking For in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

HAMILTON, Ont., Mar. 17 (Special).—I know there are a lot of people who suffer and do not know what will cure them. Dodd's Kidney Pills will.

These are the words of Mrs. E. J. Talbot who resides at 293 Wellington street north in this city. And Mrs. Talbot speaks out of her own experience.

"Last July I was very sick," Mrs. Talbot continues. "My heart bothered me, my limbs were heavy, and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. Rheumatism, lumbago and neuralgia added to my sufferings, and the doctor I called in did not help me much.

"I finally decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used seven boxes and I am so much stronger and better that I felt I must recommend them to others."

Mrs. Talbot's complication of troubles all came from sick kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure kidney diseases of any kind. They never fail to do that.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Mr. R. G. McDonald of 33 Charlotte street, ex-champion checker player of Dufferin county, left this city on Friday for his home in Shelburne, Ont., to compete in a championship checker match for the above mentioned county, after which Mr. McDonald will resume his former position on the road as travelling salesman for the Dominion Lighting Red Co., of Teeswater, Ont.

An event being socially much looked forward to is the Golf Club dance and Bridge party, which is to be held at the Conservatory of Music, Nelson street, on Thursday of next week. With Mr. W. H. Webbing and Mr. Harvey Wait at the helm, an enjoyable evening is assured and following as it does Miss Ada Burt's wedding of the afternoon, many out-of-town guests are expected, although it is to be more or less of an informal affair.

A delightful little children's party was given by Mrs. T. J. Fair, Park avenue, in honor of her little daughter, Miss Annie's 10th birthday, on Saturday afternoon of last week from 4.30 to 8.30 p.m. The pretty tea-table was carried out in St. Patrick's form. Dainty favors of little green horses and carts with silver leaves and candy filled, were at each place, the decorations being most artistic. Covers were laid for eighteen.

A most enjoyable euchre party and dance claimed Mr. Lamonte Brandon as host on Monday evening—another St. Patrick's affair. The Irish Shamrock was used profusely in decorations throughout the house, tally cards and supper table carrying out the same Emerald hues. At nine tables the game was played, the lucky prize winners being Miss Kathleen Reville, Miss Mona Coulson, Mr. Harvey Ryerson and Mr. G. Matthews.

The recent week-end visit of the Ottawa Skaters to Toronto was the occasion of various pleasant entertainments which brightened up a rather dull season. On Saturday night the Toronto Skating Club gave a large dinner for the visitors at the Hunt Club, Scarborough Heights, and on Friday night after the beautiful exhibition of fancy skating at the Arena, Mr. Beardmore, of Chudleigh, asked some of the party to supper. Mr. and Mrs. Matthews entertained them at luncheon on Saturday at the York Club.

In the "Hearse-Breakers" which is appearing at the Grand Opera House to-day—matinee and evening performances—are some really catchy songs. "Your Eyes, Your Smile and You," "My Honolulu Honey Love," "Somewhere, She's Firting with Someone," "The Bashful Bumble Bee" amongst others. There are two acts, the first taking place at the Saxon Club in New York, and second at Munger Castle in the Adirondacks.

A great many people who have had the pleasure of hearing the Montreal

Opera Company, either in Montreal or Toronto since their organization three seasons ago, will hear with regret that next winter at least there will be no recognized opera season with them. While they have been appreciated, public support has not been great enough to carry on such an organization without terrific expense. So for next winter at least no grand opera will be given, although the company is an incorporated body and will not disorganize.

The various members of the Women's musical club are all very busy these days disposing of the tickets for the annual concert which takes place in Victoria Hall on Wednesday evening of next week. Bringing such artists as they have secured means terrific expense to the local organization, but Brantforders are pretty sure to recognize the treat that is before them on that date, and no doubt a large and representative audience will greet the Torontoians on their appearance here on the night of the twenty-sixth.

Quite one of the most enjoyable of this season's affairs was the seventeenth of Ireland evening which claimed Mr. and Mrs. James C. Spence, Wellington street, as hosts, on Monday night. Invitations had been out for some little time in advance and the event was eagerly looked forward to by their many friends, a great number of whom appeared in costume and who on their arrival were greeted by a thoroughly Irish host and hostess garbed in peasant style.

The house was profusely decorated with shamrocks, green carnations and other fragrant flowers. From an Irish pie each guest drew a card which indicated the number of the table at which she was to play (euchre being the game of the evening). These tables were each a specialty in themselves, centred with various articles, the score cards particularly being emblematical and altogether charming.

At seventeen tables the game was played. The prize winners were: Dr. Hart, Mr. Harry Weeks, Mrs. Frank Leeming, Mrs. Morgan Harris and Mr. Frank Leeming. Then followed a delicious supper with Irish menu and before the adieu were said a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Spence caused much merriment and brought a very jolly evening to a close.

'Airshipitis' Upsets Nerves of So Called Stolid Race

England Cannot Quite Get Over the Scares She Has Had in Regard to Tales of Hostile German Military Air Craft Hovering Over Her Coast and Her Home Gibraltar,

A CUCKOO STORY THAT ILLUSTRATES THE CASE

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. ENGLAND is suffering from another bad attack of "airshipitis," which is another word for "nerves." Every day for the last fortnight the newspapers have been full of stories, communicated by "eye witnesses," of strange apparitions in the air, of airships with red lights, green lights, searchlights and star lights, North, south, east and west these ghostly visitants have been watched with open mouths and scared eyes. The same nervous cry has been raised as a year or two ago that they were German Zeppelins spying the land, and the government was accordingly denounced for not taking up the matter with Germany and asking for an explanation. But the government has been away enjoying itself, every member of it recuperating on the Continent, leaving the government of the country to the suffragettes, who they have been accomplishing by pillage, plunder and incendiarism.

As the excitement grew "experts" sought to prove by long discourses in the newspapers that a Zeppelin had visited England upon a certain night. They noted the hour at which it had been reported in Berlin to have left its base, steering in the direction of the North Sea, and when it returned, estimating that the time required for the voyage was just sufficient to complete a flight and pass over that part of England at which it had been observed.

New Fashions in Jewels and in Complexions Too

Latest Caprices of the Woman of Fashion Are Entertainingly Described in a London Despatch—Yellow and Mauve Are the Colors of the Day for Those Who 'Make Up.'

LONDON, Saturday. [Special Despatch.] NEW fashions in jewels and complexions are the latest caprices of the fashionable world. The day of the brilliant ornaments of a bygone day, making but the latest fashion will serve when fine diamonds are in question. The use of platinum as a setting has permitted a delicacy and grace previously undreamed of. But this new quality has its drawbacks. The setting of platinum being harder than either silver or gold, making the most secure of settings.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S ANNIVERSARY PICTURE

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. Queen Alexandra is anxious that a painting should be made of her family commemorating the anniversary of what would have been her golden wedding, to hang in the royal collection at Windsor, as a companion picture to the one which the late Mr. Frith painted of her wedding. Of those who were present in St. George's Chapel on March 10, 1863, only very few royal personages now remain. Among them are Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, the Duchess of Argyll, the Duke of Connaught and the present Kaiser. The latter was quite a tiny child, and was carefully stationed between his youthful uncles, the Duke of Connaught and the late Duke of Albany. From all accounts these had all their work cut out to keep his impetuous Highness from interfering with the service.

TRYING TO SAVE CRYSTAL PALACE

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. In two months from now the fate of the Crystal Palace, with its extensive and beautiful pleasure grounds, will be sealed. Some time ago the Earl of Plymouth made himself responsible for the purchase of the property with a view to its acquisition by the public, and the price, $1,500,000, is payable on May 1. If this sum is not raised in the meantime, the site will pass into the hands of the builders, who are eager to acquire it. The Lord Mayor therefore has addressed a letter to the various municipal authorities for their assistance to avert this "national calamity." Sir David Burnett says that if he can obtain the necessary guarantee for the purchase of the Crystal Palace, he will feel justified in opening a Mansion House fund to raise the balance.

TO MAKE THE GLORIES OF THE ELYSEE REFLECT THOSE OF THE TUILERIES

WIFE OF THE NEW FRENCH PRESIDENT, "MME. LA PRESIDENTE"

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. Mme. Poincaré, wife of Mr. Raymond Poincaré, President of the French Republic, who took up office the other day, is of Italian origin and was known before her marriage as Mlle. Henriette Bonnet, famous in Parisian society for her beauty. She is a hostess of much charm and tact, and without question is likely that Mme. Poincaré will be 'proved.' In that case the Elysee may burst into gaiety and splendor, a reflection of the Tuileries under the Empress Eugénie. On the other hand, the necessity that the President shall be democratic may make it impossible, or at least improbable, that his wife will bring about such a social innovation.

Oyster Crop of England Poor

Therefore There Will Be a Greater Demand Than Ever for the American Bivalve.

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. THERE will be a greater demand for American oysters this year than ever, and perhaps for some years to come, the demand will grow. English oysters are some good ones and not inferior to those of the United States, and it is no more than the truth, for leading oyster merchants at Billingsgate on being asked confirmed the report.

CANADIANS TO BRAVE PERILS OF ARCTIC

Score of Scientists to Accompany Dr. Stefansson in Explorations North of Banks Land.

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. The government has received an offer from Canada to send a party to the Arctic to find the bodies of Captain Scott and his companions, and convey them to England. This is similar to the Australian offer, and will probably be declined for the reasons given in that case. What the Canadians have decided to do in the case of Dr. Stefansson's Arctic expedition is known only in a general way, but full details may be expected from the explorer when he arrives in London to deliver a lecture before the Royal Geographical Society.

KAISER'S PICTURE ON PLAYING CARDS

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. Society is indebted to the German Emperor for a novel and distinctive idea in the design of playing cards which has attracted the world and behind the rest of humanity. The Kaiser recently gave to a distinguished Englishman one of the packs in use at the Imperial Palace at Potsdam. In this the Queen of the four aces, the Queen of Spades, the Queen of Hearts and the Queen of Clubs. The ace is represented by four royal figures, the Emperor, the Kaiser's two sons, and the Emperor's daughter, the Princess Viktoria, King Victor, the Tsar and King

King and Queen to Attend Many Functions This Season

Busy Week for Royal Pair, Who Take Part in Dinner Parties and Other Social Activities—Duchess of Marlborough and Other Peersesses Work for the Albert Hall Festival.

DENMARK'S KING AND QUEEN TO VISIT LONDON

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. ALL indications point to an unusually successful season here. No social lion has yet promised to come to London for May, June and July, but engagements already have been made by the King and Queen which will insure their presence in London and at many functions for by far the greater part of the season. Proprietors of fashionable hotels are looking forward to a golden influx of transatlantic travellers.

The King and Queen have just passed the busiest social week which they will see until well after Easter, when they will be at Windsor Castle. Twice they had dinner with friends, and they also gave several dinners at Buckingham Palace. They made a start by attending the large party given by Lord and Lady Iveagh in Grosvenor place, where Lord Iveagh has turned two large houses into one, the same as the Duke of Bedford has done in Bedford square.

Other persons to be honored by the sovereign and his consort will be the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, Lord Duke and Lady Lansdowne, the Earl and Countess of Granard, who are now in the Alps Maritimes and will pass a few days in Paris, and Mr. and Mrs. Oden Mills.

The Duchess of Marlborough, who is one of the Americans whom the Queen has singled out for special favors, is going about almost everywhere in London looking more beautiful than ever after her holiday abroad. Unfortunately, Lady Cheslemore will not be much in London this season. Last week she gave one of the few entertainments she proposes giving in her town house, in Princes Gate. This took the form of a dinner party, followed by a dance, which ended with a cotillon.

The King and Queen of Denmark will arrive at Buckingham Palace, about the third week of May, and in the course of their sojourn King George will have the order of the Garter to his royal cousin. They will subsequently pass a few days at Sandringham with Queen Alexandra. The Duke and Duchess of Manchester are among those going to the Italian capital.

General Sir Arthur and Lady Paget are issuing invitations to a full dress ball at the Royal Hospital, in Dublin, on April 2. Lady Paget is another American who is especially favored by the friendship of the royal family. Some anxiety is again felt for the Empress Eugénie's health. She is suffering from a return of the bronchial attack which prostrated her a few weeks ago and is confined to her room.

Mr. Henry Payne Whitney has taken Burley House, in the Cotswolds, district of Gloucestershire. What promises to be a very brilliant fête will take place at Albert Hall on June 11 in aid of a London charity. Queen Alexandra will be present. The fête has been arranged by the Duchess of Marlborough, the Duchess of Portland and Lady Granard.

Lady Maldstone, as lovely as ever, is passing the spring quietly in Grosvenor street. Mr. Francis Ellis Campbell is stopping with his sister, Mrs. Campbell-Bailey, at No. 14 Chesterfield street, Mayfair. Mr. Campbell is on his way to South Africa.

Birds Imitate Rippling Water

Ingenious Idea Is in Operation in London to Teach Feathered Songsters to Sing.

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. CANARIES and bullfinches trilling, tweeting and carolling, owls hoo-hooing, doves mourning, parrots chattering in foreign tongues, is the riotous, exciting babel of noises that greets one on entering an extraordinary house hidden away in the heart of Brentford, where are collected from all parts of the earth birds to be trained for the amusement of London's daughters of wealth. One wall is banked to the ceiling with tiny white cages of sumptuously colored songsters, whose ceaseless music sounds like a vast orchestra of frail instruments tuning up.

"These," said the keeper and trainer of the birds, "are our newest sensation for our London patrons. They are called piping bullfinches, and they come from Germany. They are, after the nightingale, the very highest price, and they are very popular because the Germans teach them famous operatic arias. They get the name 'piping' because they are taught by an instrument which the Germans call the 'water pipes.'

"A series of reeds is so adjusted that when water is run through them from a reservoir they can be made to repeat the song notes of any bird, or indeed, to play any operatic or popular air, with variations inserted, which only the throat of a finch is capable of producing. When the water pipes are properly adjusted a number of these finches is placed near them for a sort of preliminary rehearsal. About one in a dozen is found to possess talent enough to make it worth while to continue his education.

"The gifted birds are then singled out and made to attend a daily rehearsal of a given aria from the water pipes. Soon they get interested in the succession of notes, hop about nervously, try a stave or two of their own wild song, and then suddenly burst into exact harmony with their bird conservatories."

"From the mass of cars he drew out one labelled 'Caruso, Primo Torsador,' and placing it against the wall began nodding his head and uttering cawing and cooing words. The little singer, clad in white and golden ruff and capped with a sooty hood, hopped toward the wizard's face, puffed his feathers out nervously, gave his sheeny bill a preparatory wipe right and left on its perch, and sang. It was a thoroughly recognizable rendition of the famous melody, and sang it with all the wild sweetness of the voice of the nightingale."

LEGISLATURE FINISHING UP

Sir James Holds Conference with Ministers, To-day

[Canadian Press Despatch.] TORONTO, March 24.—To-day a statutory holiday at the parliament buildings, but Sir James Whitney, Hon. W. J. Hanna and Hon. Dr. Pym attended a meeting of the cabinet council.

No member of the cabinet will express an opinion as to how soon the legislature will get through its business, but at the most three weeks are expected to see the end of the present session and probably two weeks more will be required. The municipal committee has not met this session and there is little work for it to do as the municipal act has been thoroughly revised and it is before many changes are made expected, get through this week as well as the private bills.

Any temperance legislation they may be of of such a character as not to invite opposition and there is not expected to be much discussion on the matter is certain to go on and is to be referred to a special committee.

JOS. J. INGLIS PASSES AWAY

Former Well known and Popular Brantfordite is Dead at Vancouver

The funeral of a well-known form Brantfordite is taking place in Vancouver, B.C., this afternoon. The person of the late Joseph Inglis, who passed away in the hospital the last Friday, after an illness of two weeks. His death will come as a great shock to his many friends in the city.

The deceased left Brantford for the Pacific Coast about three years ago and settled in Vancouver, where he was doing well. He was taken about six weeks ago, and on Friday he passed away.

The late Joseph Inglis was well known in the city as a member of Doric Lodge, No. 121, A. P. & A. of Mount Herber Court, No. 20, O. de St. Amant Lodge, I.O.O.F., Brant Campment, I.O.O.F., Court Telephone City, G.O.F., St. Andrew's Sons of Scotland and Burns Club.

The late Mr. Inglis at one time served on the Council Board, the Public School Board and the Library Board. A wife and two children, Gordon and Josie, also three brothers, Murray and Richard (Toronto), Bert (Brantford), and one sister, Mrs. John De (Boston, Mass.), are left to mourn the loss.

Seated Tuesday.

MANY APPLICANTS FOR ROYAL ASCOT

[Special Despatch.] LONDON, Saturday. Viscount Churchill, who is the King's representative and senior steward at Ascot, will have a hard task this year in choosing the most desirable people from the many thousands of applicants for tickets admitting to the royal enclosure at Ascot. Requests for tickets are already pouring in, though the staff which deals with the work will not commence to work till May.

Viscount Churchill himself examines every application, and his work is the more difficult owing to the fact that certain persons with distinguished names, but everything else doubtful, have sold their tickets for large sums of money to "undesirables." This year the strictest investigation will be made into the character of every applicant.

Simplified Cincinnati Enquirer—"Is Douglas a society man?" asked a woman. "I think he belongs to the N. K.," replied a man. "And what is the N. K.?" asked the woman. "The Knights of Columbus," replied the man.
