ASQUITH DELIVERS ULTIMATUM TO COMMONS: 200,000 TROOPS RAISED, OR ELSE CONSCRIPTION

In Secret Session Premier Tells Members 200,000 are to be Forthcoming Within the Next Four Weeks, Then 15,000 Weekly Until 200,000 Men Enlist.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 26.—Premier Asquith at the secret session of parliament yesterday presented on behalf of the government proposals foreshadowing general military conscription...

TO MEET THE SITUATION "To meet the situation, the government determined upon three relative minor proposals. "First, prolongation until the end of the war of the service of time-expired men whose period of service under the present law can be extended for one year only."

The government, Mr. Asquith said, will "forthwith ask parliament for compulsory power" unless at the end of four weeks ending May 27, 50,000 men have been secured by voluntary enlistment. The same course is proposed if any one week after May 27, 15,000 men have not been secured by direct enlistment.

SITUATION IN IRELAND IS SATISFACTORY Lord Lieutenant Wires London That Revolt is Being Mastered. By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 26.—At the opening of the House of Commons to-day Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, said it was difficult to say whether any routes to Ireland were open or closed.

NOT ENOUGH MEN. "Results of recruiting, more particularly since August last, when registration was carried out, were very bad. It was shown that the results obtained to date had fallen short of requirements which were necessary to fulfill our proper military effort."

FINANCE AND RECRUITING "The bearing of finance on the question of recruiting and in particular on the financial assistance rendered to the allies, was then explained. From these inquiries were deducted the number of men that could safely be spared from industry for military purposes during the present year and the anticipated effect of calling up these numbers at the rate proposed was explained."

FORGETTING THEIR WOUNDS IN THE CHASE There is nothing our wounded enjoy more than a bit of sport. A number of them at Harlow, Essex, joyfully accepted an invitation to have a day out with the Blake Hall Beagles, which are now being hunted by Miss C. Waters on behalf of Capt. HEADQUARTERS OF IRISH REBELS ARE CAPTURED Martial Law Proclaimed in City and County of Dublin. By Special Wire to the Courier. LONDON, April 26, 3.20 p.m.—Liberty Hall, headquarters of the Dublin rebels, and Stephen's Green, which was captured by them, have been occupied by the military, Premier Asquith announced to-day in the House of Commons.

25 CASUALTIES AS RESULT OF GERMAN RAID Bombardment of Lowestoft Lasted For Twenty Minutes. BRITISH CHASED THEM AWAY Raid Was Probably Part of a Filibustering Expedition. By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 26.—Twenty-five casualties in dead and wounded resulted from the bombardment of Lowestoft by German warships and the consequent running fight with the British light cruiser squadron and destroyers, so far as can be learned. All the British ships have returned safely.

NO CASUALTIES. LONDON, April 26, 4.22 p.m.—One hundred bombs were dropped by the zeppelin dirigible balloons in their raid over England Tuesday night. This announcement was made by the official press bureau. There were no casualties. Billy Sunday closed his Baltimore campaign on Sunday night.

INVESTIGATION INTO CHARGES OVER FUSE CONTRACTS STARTED THIS MORNING IN OTTAWA

Sir Sam Hughes Present and Also Col. Allison—Col. Carnegie Took Stand and Gave Evidence—Correspondence Produced Between Old Country and Militia Department.

PRICES FOR FIRST SHELLS

By Special Wire to the Courier. Ottawa, April 26.—Investigation into the charges laid in the House of Commons by G. W. Kytte, member of the House of Commons for Richmond county, N.S., that huge contracts were let to and large profits were made by two "mushroom" concerns in the United States with the approval of Major-General Sam Hughes, minister of militia, was begun this morning by the royal commission, consisting of Sir William Meredith, Toronto, and Mr. Justice Duff of the federal supreme court.

ENGAGED BY SHELL COMMITTEE. Col. David Carnegie, M.P.C.E., R.S.E., said he was engaged as a shell expert by the shell committee for three months at a salary of $3,000. He was not engaged or paid by the militia department. He explained his previous experience as a munition expert with the imperial government at Woolwich Arsenal. He was in Canada at the outbreak of the war on private business at Welland. His brother was a member of the shell committee and suggested to him that he should take up work for that body.

DISPUTE OVER CABLE. A dispute then arose over a copy of a cable sent in the Fall of 1914, from the War Office authorities in England to the Militia Department, asking if a certain type of shell could be secured in Canada. Mr. Carvell wanted the original cable and was told it was a secret cypher. Mr. Carvell was assured by Mr. Nesbitt that the copy which was read to the commission could be verified. The cable in reference to shells which dealt with the first request from England for shells was answered by General Hughes, which the War Office acted.

THE SHELL COMMITTEE APPOINTMENT. A laconic order appointing the original shell committee and signed by General Hughes was then introduced. It consisted merely of the names of General Bertram, Thomas Cantley, Colonel Laferriere and George Watts, was marked "for action," and signed by Sam Hughes. Further cable correspondence between the Shell Committee and the War Office acted.

Mr. Helmhuth said that the system ultimately. The cables he had read had to do with the arrangements for the first shell orders from England. At the same time another French aeroplane and a Zeppelin fought a duel at an altitude of 4,000 metres off Zebrugge to-day. The aeroplane fired nine incendiary shells at the Zeppelin, which appears to have been damaged. The engagement, occurring more

WHEN FEELING TIRED

Hood's Sarsaparilla Builds Up the Whole System—Makes Pure Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality. Just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich, red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

VESTRY MEETING AT ST. LUKES

Very Satisfactory Reports Received, and Church is in Good Condition.

MANY MEMBERS IN KHAKI

The annual vestry meeting of the congregation of St. Luke's was held on the 25th inst., at 8 p.m. in the Sunday school room, under the presidency of the Rev. Wm. Stout, incumbent in charge.

Proceedings were opened by singing the paraphrase of both Psalm and prayer. The church warden's report rendered showed receipts of $255.42 and expenditures of $78.50, with a balance in cash of $87.82, after meeting all current demands to date. The auditors, Messrs J. Mavin and Wm. Clark, reported the absolute correctness of the warden's financial accounting, and on motion of Mr. C. Mavin, supported by Mr. J. Mills, both reports were adopted. Messrs W. Clark and F. Ashby were elected auditors for the ensuing year on motion by Messrs Haradine and Jno. Mavin.

It was moved by Messrs C. Mavin and F. Ashby, that J. Haradine be vestry clerk and adopted. The incumbent appointed Mr. W. J. Clifford as rector's warden; and on motion of Messrs C. Mavin and Mills Mr. Geo. Wilton was elected people's warden, and on motion of Mr. Wilton, supported by Mr. F. Ashby, Mr. Cyril Mavin was elected delegate to Synod. And on motion of Mr. Mills, supported by Mr. Clifford, Mr. Ashby was chosen substitute delegate to the ensuing Synod meeting. It was decided not to appoint a select vestry for reasons set forth.

SECRET SESSION OF THE COMMONS

Asquith Delivers Speech Regarding Recruiting Needs.

ROSEBERY IN ATTENDANCE

For First Time Since War Began Was in House of Lords.

London, April 26.—General compulsion to swell the ranks of the British military forces was forestalled by Premier Asquith in the secret session of Parliament yesterday. According to an official announcement made through the Press Bureau last night, the Premier warned the assembled members that unless 50,000 voluntary recruits were forthcoming within the next four weeks and a minimum of 15,000 weekly thereafter, until a total of 200,000 recruits had been enrolled, general compulsory measures would be adopted and enforced.

FIRST SECRET MEETING

Yesterday's session was the first secret meeting of Parliament during the war. In the House of Lords the only procedure was to give notice that no one except members would be permitted in the Chamber. Traditional customs were followed in the House of Commons, which was open as usual to attaches, representatives of the press, and other persons until the end of the question period. At that time Premier Asquith observed the ancient practice of taking notice that strangers were present. The question was put that strangers which does not permit of debate or amendment.

LORDS LARGELY ATTENDED

The session of the House of Lords like that of the House of Commons, was the most largely attended in many months. Earl Curzon made his first appearance since his illness. The Earl of Rosebery, who has not been seen in Parliament since the commencement of the war, was in his seat.

The Marquis of Crewe, Lord President of the Council, in moving that the sitting of the House of Lords be in secret made a statement as to why this course should be adopted. Although the members of the Cabinet were all set on the achievement of a victory, the Marquis said, they did not agree concerning the number of men or the kind of men who were available for service in the army and navy, nor did they agree as to the proper means for securing those who were available.

The course which the Government proposed to commend to Parliament the Marquis added, might not meet with the full desires of persons of either extreme views, but their duty to the country was to do their best. He commended it as far as possible to the opinion of Parliament as a whole, which necessitated the making of a statement containing confidential information. Hence the government had decided to hold a secret session, publishing at an early date, a considered description of the proposal which the Government in due course would make to Parliament and the country.

The Marquis of Lincolnshire, as Lord Great Chamberlain, explained that in accordance with the hereditary duties of his office, he had taken steps to see that the secrecy would be "most strictly and solemnly observed." He had, he said, caused a search to be made "of the whole House, the lobbies and the vaults below."

In the House of Commons extra-ordinary precautions were taken to prevent unauthorized persons over-hearing the proceedings. All the doors leading to the chamber were not only locked but secured by padlocks which had been especially provided, while the police searched every nook and cranny of the great building and even sealed the grille of the ventilator in the floor of the chamber so that nothing said could by any chance reach the ears of anyone below. Before the House of Commons was adjourned last night, it was arranged that the sitting should be re-arranged to-day under similar conditions.

Richard Lutze, driving near Centerville, Wis., the other day found a bag containing nearly $3,000 in gold.

THE STORY OF A MARY ST. WOMAN

The old philosophy that it is a long lane that has no turning has again held true.

Mrs. Martha Watts, of Mary street, Hamilton, who is possibly as well known and has as wide a circle of friends as any woman in this city, states:

"I have begun the Plantan treatment with good result, it having relieved the pain in my back, and has improved my general health."

Plantan is purely a product of herbs, roots and flowers that are gathered from many of the remote and most inaccessible parts of the earth and being free from opiates, narcotics and minerals it may be taken freely by those in the most delicate state of health.

Plantan is the greatest boon to afflicted men and women. It is especially effective in cases of catarrh, stomach, liver and kidney troubles, nervousness, debility, poor circulation, palpitations, loss of appetite and unsound sleep.

Each day at Boles' drug store there is a representative direct from the Plantan laboratory explaining this famous medicine—Adv.

to obtain men required by voluntary enlistment from amongst unattested married men.

"Second, that if at the end of the four weeks ending May 27, 50,000 of these men have been secured by direct enlistment, the government will forthwith ask parliament for compulsory power.

"Third, that if in any week after May 27, 15,000 men have not been secured by direct enlistment the same course will be taken, any surplus over 15,000 in one week being carried over to the next.

"Fourth, that arrangements in paragraphs 2 and 3 are to hold good until 200,000 unattested men have been obtained. In the meantime the position will be under constant review by the government.

OBJECTIONS DISAPPEAR

"It was pointed out that as under this scheme all available unattested married men would be enlisted either voluntarily or by compulsion the main ground alleged for the release of attested married men would disappear.

"The premier also referred to the question of assistance to be given men to enable them in His Majesty's forces to meet their civil liabilities. On the 29th of March Mr. Long informed the House of Commons that His Majesty's Government proposed to meet the needs of men with a view to meeting cases of hardship which might arise out of civil liabilities of men joining the forces, in addition to the proposed amendment of the Control of Enemy Property Act. Mr. Long intimated that financial assistance would be provided through the medium of the statutory committee.

As the statutory committee found they could not undertake this work, it was decided to set up a special committee for the purpose.

FINANCIAL HELP.

"First, the scheme of assistance will apply to all men who joined the forces since the 6th of August, 1914, or who may join hereafter, and in single as well as married men.

"Second, items in respect of which assistance will be granted, include: "Rent (including ground rent and rent of business premises), mortgage interest, payments of instalments in virtue of contracts such as purchase of premises, business or furniture, taxes, rates, insurance premiums and school fees. Relief will not be given for the purpose of enabling any person to discharge such liabilities as ordinary debts to tradesmen.

"Third, it is not contemplated that assistance to be granted in any individual case should exceed £104 per annum.

"Fourth, persons desiring relief will be required to make application in prescribed form.

"Fifth, these applications will be investigated locally by commissioners (who will be barristers) especially appointed for the purpose. Commissioners will make recommendations to a central committee, who will be authorized to make grants.

The Situation. It is one of the anomalies that while the British Empire has never had better fighters in her behalf than men of the Emerald Isle, yet there is always a simmering faction there which represents British rule and holds an undying hatred towards England.

with this important matter—a realization for which Lloyd George must be given most of the credit. "Where was the British fleet?" has been a quite common query with reference to the recent German assault on Lowestoft.

The French continue to do well in the Verdun struggle, and the Russian forces in Persia are now only ninety miles from Kut-el-Amara. On all sides they are looming more and more as one of the big factors on behalf of the ultimate success of the land operations of the Allies.

Sir Sam at a Review. A correspondent wrote the Montreal Mail complaining that there was "something very unseemly" in Sir Sam Hughes having reviewed troops in Montreal on Sunday on the anniversary of the Battle of Langemarck.

Enough has been given out to the public with reference to the secret session of the British Parliament to show that the Premier made the statement in no uncertain tones that unless a speeding-up took place in recruiting there would have to be compulsion.

has been heard. Meanwhile the whole subject has been referred to a judicial court of enquiry. Sir Sam in the interim, as it was clearly his duty to do, he did so, would not the interpretation be then placed upon his actions by his enemies that he was conscience stricken and afraid to face the people, whom Kite alleges he has allowed to be deeply wronged?

Some member of Parliament, secure in the knowledge that he could not be proceeded against, might level charges against the editor of the Mail? Would that worthy then deem it necessary to abandon his public work, editorially, until such time as he was vindicated?

NOTES AND COMMENTS. The individual who can keep in out of the wet these days is some stunter. Two soldiers in Berlin broke a constable's jaw. Now they will come before the Majaw.

Maximilian Harden, the noted German journalist, has had a great deal of bombast knocked out of his views. In a recent article touching the U.S. demand, he says: "Germany would lose all her ships lying in American harbors and have to reckon with a considerable increase in the enemy's tonnage."

The regular monthly meeting of the council was held on Monday evening and the following business transacted. On behalf of the Horticultural Society, Mr. Wm. Young, asked the council to beautify the lot near the old market building, and the society would be willing to plant shrubs and flowers.

PROGRAM GIVEN. A pleasant and profitable evening was spent in the Methodist school room last night, when the following splendid program, under the direction of the missionary department of the Epworth League was rendered: Solo, Mr. W. Carpenter of Brantford; recitation, Miss Polsetter; solo, Mrs. R. Schuyler; duet, Misses Loll Daniels and Gertrude Brandon; solo, Mr. Ed. Aver; recitation by Miss Soren, who is a guest at the parsonage. A little play, entitled "A Brahoni Wedding" was also given, showing the customs, etc. of the people of India, sixteen members of the league taking part. The young people of the church are endeavoring to raise $100 for missions, for which purpose the proceeds of the evening will be devoted.

25 CASUALTIES

(Continued from Page 1) The Times naval expert, in discussing the naval engagement off the east coast when the light British cruiser squadron and destroyers attacked the German warships after their raid upon Lowestoft, says: "The raid was not undertaken with wanton risk, but with a definite purpose. Possibly it was a reprisal for the British bombardment of Zebrugge or a reconnaissance to test the strength and disposition of the British squadrons."

SOLDIER KILLS CHILD IN PLAY. Was Demonstrating How He Would Kill the Germans. Toronto, April 26.—Dora Gent, 16 years of age, 156 Queen street east, was shot and instantly killed in Riverside Barracks last night by her stepfather, John Gent, officers' orderly in the 83rd Battalion. Investigation showed that the shooting was accidental.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, April 26, 1916. (Special Wire) Positions on the Verdun front west of the Meuse were bombarded vigorously by the Germans last night. The attack was centered on "Avocourt wood and the first line trenches north of Hill 304.

In the Weverre there was a big gun bombardment.

The official statement of this afternoon, in which these developments are reported says also that a number of German prisoners were taken in the course of yesterday's attack north of the Aisne.

The text of the statement follows: "During an attack yesterday north of the Aisne which enabled us to capture the small woods south of the woods of Buttes, we made 72 unwounded prisoners of whom one was an officer and 7 petty officers. Several enemy reconnaissances which were attempted during the night toward our trenches in the sectors of Faissey and Troyon were dispersed by our fire.

REPLY ON SATURDAY. BERLIN, April 26, via London, 3.55 p.m.—The German answer to the American note may not be expected before the end of the present week. It may be presented on Saturday.

In mental officers, but the authorities declare that the shooting was accidental. Gent is being held pending further investigation.

"IF CHRIST BE NOT RISEN", REV. L. BROWN PREACHES THIRD SERMON ON SUBJECT OF IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL

Shows the Significance of the Very Doubt of the Resurrection—Man Requires a Hope of Immortality, as He Cannot Bear to Think of Annihilation.

Rev. Llewellyn Brown preached his third sermon on "Immortality," on Sunday to a large congregation, dealing with the "Resurrection of Christ."

"IF CHRIST BE NOT RISEN," "What Comes of a Dead Christ?" I Cor. 15: 14: "If Christ be not risen."

Paul suggests in this passage the awful possibility of Christ not rising from the dead, even as Jesus on one occasion suggests the awful possibility of his not having come into the world saying, "If I had not come..."

A DEAD CHRIST

If Christ be not risen then is our preaching vain and our faith is also vain. That is what comes of a dead Christ—no gospel to preach, no authoritative word of God to rest upon, no hope of immortality to cherish for our friends who have passed on before us; no heaven to cheer us—that is, what comes of a dead Christ.

Death is strong, but life is stronger. Stronger than the dark of the night, stronger than the wrong of the right, Faith and hope triumphant say, "Christ must rise on Easter Day."

CHRIST AND IMMORTALITY

Paul in another passage tells us that Christ brought life and immortality to light in the gospel. Paul evidently meant by that statement that Christ so emphasized immortality, shed so much new light upon it, called so much new attention to it, made such fresh contribution to it that it came to men as a new truth.

OLD TESTAMENT IDEAS

Read the Old Testament and you will find the ideas of the future life there recorded quite unsatisfactory. The Hebrews pictured Sheol, the abode of the dead as a cavern deep down in the earth—a land of silence and of gloom.

PRIMITIVE IDEAS

"Primitive ideas of the race are at the very thought of death but in the Hebrews had of the future life and so revolutionary was his teaching that Paul terms it as a bringing to light of immortality."

MAN'S THIRST FOR IMMORTALITY

I need not tell you that man has a thirst for immortality. We shudder at the very thought of annihilation. To die, to be no more, is something we cannot bear to think upon.

TENNYSON'S VIEW

"Strong Son of God immortal Love, Whom we that have not seen thy face, By faith and faith alone embrace, Believing where we cannot prove."

ASTRONOMY'S LESSON

On one occasion a certain astronomer while studying the movements of a certain planet could not help observing that it seemed to be influenced in its course by an unseen body. By the use of a more powerful telescope he discovered another planet which was drawing this planet.

EMPTY

"If Christ be not risen then is our preaching vain and our faith is also vain. Empty, void, without content. If Christ be not risen then the Gospel is emptied of its spiritual content."

SCIENCE

Science takes knowledge only of phenomena it can perceive by the senses. Experiment and observation are its avenues of approach. It takes no account whatever of revelation. If the resurrection goes the supernatural goes.

VERDUN

We are witnessing to-day and for weeks past a desperate struggle for the highway to Paris through Verdun. There the hottest battle of this present war has been waged. More blood has flowed there, more lives have been sacrificed there than at any other point since the war opened.

Convention of Librarians Now Closed

Rev. G. A. Woodside, Librarian Henwood and His Honor Judge A. D. Hardy have returned to the city after attending the Ontario Library Association convention at Toronto during the past two days. The attendance at this convention was in excess of all others, said Mr. Henwood, over 80 libraries outside of the city of Toronto itself, being represented.

On Monday, an address reviewing work of the year was given by the retiring president, David Williams of Collingwood. A number of very interesting and helpful papers were read, comprising the following: "How we carry the Public Library By-laws in Renfrew," by W. E. Small; "The Value of Lists of Books," by Dr. Locke of Toronto, who also gave a short list of helpful books of use in present war; "The making of a list of books for girls," and "The making of a list of books for boys," these outlining the work and duties of a children's librarian.

A most interesting address was given on Monday evening by Mr. C. C. James, Minister of Agriculture, Tuesday morning perhaps the most pleasing address of the convention was given by Mr. Justice Riddell of Toronto, who spoke on "The Use of Public Libraries by a public man."

Following were the officers elected: Dr. George H. Locke, Toronto, President; Miss Mary J. L. Black, Port Colborne, First Vice-President; F. P. Gavin, Windsor, Second Vice-President; E. A. Hardy, Secretary-Treasurer; D. M. Grant, Sarnia, W. J. Spinks, Ottawa; W. H. Muench, S. Thomas; David Williams, Collingwood and B. M. Dunham, Berlin, Councillors.
