CALL FOR REPRISALS

"Hit the Germans and Hit Hard" Urges London Daily Mail.

By Courier Leased Wire

London, Sept. 25.—Fifteen persons were killed and 70 injured in last night's air raid over London. The Zeppelin which crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts did not penetrate inland, being driven off by gunfire.

The following official report was given out by Lord French, commander of the Home defences:

"Airplane raid. The latest reports concerning last night's airplane raid show that the group of raiders which approached London was driven off by the fire of anti-aircraft guns. Only one, or at the most two machines, penetrated the defences. The casualties in all the raided districts reported by the police up to the present are:

"Killed 15; injured 70. The material damage was not great.

"Airship raid: Enemy airships crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts between midnight and three a.m. There is no evidence of their having penetrated to any distance inland. They were driven off by gunfire, from various defended localities, which they attempted to approach. Bombs were dropped at one coast town, three women being slightly injured. Little material damage was caused."

London, Sept. 25.—Reports from a Kentish town say that about eight bombs were dropped in last night's air raid. According to a telegram from an Essex coast town, the first intimation of the raid came about 7.30 o'clock when anti-aircraft guns opened fire and the droning of the airplanes could be heard. The bombing over this town continued for about two hours at intervals, but so far as could be learned, only three bombs were dropped, and apparently there was no great property damage.

The Daily Mail, in an editorial commenting on last night's air raid, calls for reprisals, saying:

"The British people would view these attacks with entire indifference if they knew that every one of them was followed by an attack in which twice the weight of bombs dropped here was showered on German towns. Let's hit the Germans, hit them hard."

Reports from Yorkshire indicate that the Zeppelins which appeared early this morning off the Lincolnshire and Yorkshire coasts dropped bombs and aerial torpedoes. The amount of damage has not been ascertained. The signal that all was clear was given at about 5 o'clock this morning.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—In addition to several charges against Henri Monette, alias, Girard, arrested last week, including an attempt to murder Lord Atholstan and family, is a charge of attempting to kill Detective Bisette of the Thiel detective agency, when Bisette attempted to arrest him.

This latest charge of attempted murder was made yesterday. Monette is also accused of attempting to murder Conrad Therrien, a chauffeur, whose automobile Monette is said to have taken for the use of the dynamiting gang with which he was associated.

STRIKERS HAVE NO JUSTIFICATION

Action of G. N. W. Operators Reprehensible, Says High Official.

By Courier Leased Wire

Montreal, Sept. 25.—Senator G. D. Robertson, vice-president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, when interviewed in connection with the Great Northwestern Strike, said the company's action was, in his opinion, wholly indefensible under the circumstances, because it had become quite a well established principle in both Canada and the United States that industrial disputes should, during the continuation of the war, be settled by arbitration methods, and all concerned respect decisions or awards rendered. The company's refusal to respect the recommendation of the board of conciliation made it responsible for all inconvenience occasioned by the strike.

The Senator was further of the opinion that railroad telegraphers who handle G.N.W. commercial business on a commission basis, would probably refrain from working with strike breakers during the duration of the trouble.

FOE TAKES TO LIQUID FIRE AGAIN

Used By Huns Without Avail Against French Lines Last Night.

ATTACKS REPULSED

Teuton Assaults Repulsed, With Heavy Losses Inflicted.

By Courier Leased Wire

Paris, Sept. 25.—Liquid fire was used by the Germans in an attack on the French lines in the Beaumont region, north of Verdun, last night. The French have repulsed the assault with heavy losses to the Germans, the War Office announced to-day.

The bombardment that has been in progress on the east bank of the Meuse in the neighborhood of Chamme wood, was kept up by the German guns during the night.

The statement follows: "There was active artillery fighting on the Aisne front, in the sectors of Hurtebise and to the south of Yvaincourt. We checked surprise attacks on our small advanced posts east of Teton and north of Hill 304. On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the enemy continued the bombardment in the region north of Chamme wood and renewed his attacks on our trenches, near Beumont. We withstanding the intensive employment of flame throwers, he was repulsed with heavy losses without obtaining any advantage."

In the Vosges there was reconnoitering patrols. "Three German airships were brought down yesterday by our pilots."

BRITISH OFFICIAL

London, Sept. 25.—"We carried out a successful raid last night, east of Epehy and captured a few prisoners," says to-day's war office statement, on the Franco-Belgian operations. A hostile attempt to rush one of our forward posts, northeast of Lens, was repulsed after a "bomby fight."

The enemy's artillery was active during the night, east and north of Ypres.

HUNS SEEK TO ESTRANGE ALLIES ON WEST FRONT

Carry on Nefarious Propaganda To Create Dissension Between British, American and French Armies—Rumors of Discord in Medical Ranks is Given the Lie.

By Courier Leased Wire

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Sept. 14.—(By mail)—German agencies recently have been spreading broadcast on the continent the report that serious differences have arisen between the British army medical service and the American surgeons and physicians, who have been working with the British forces in France. The story has been given a careful publicity by its sponsors in Belgium and France. For the purpose of proving or disproving this statement, the correspondent of the Associated Press accredited to British general headquarters, has made a careful investigation of the facts, visiting not only British hospitals which have been taken over by American medical units, but also clearing stations in which American surgical teams are working. Here is the truth:

"The utmost cordiality has and does exist between the British medical service and the Americans who are working with them. The assertion that there has been any quarrel between the two bodies is without foundation. As one eminent American puts it:

"The story is a gross canard. The reasons for circulating it are obvious. The Germans are trying to create between Belgian and French civilians a contempt for America and Great Britain and consequently a hostility towards these two nations. The canard cannot be called humorous, but it certainly is an interesting demonstration of the fact that while the Germans may be a good soldier, he is not a psychologist. He is merely discrediting himself in this instance as he has done many times before, since the war started. These six medical units were sent over from the United States to take charge of six British base hospitals and have become a part of the smoothly running organization that the British have developed. The Americans feel that they are fortunate in their position.

They realize that they have much to learn about base hospitals, and they are having the opportunity of learning rapidly from men who have had more than three years experience."

The British, on the other hand, recognize fully the sacrifices that have been made by the Americans, many of their eminent surgeons with big practices at home, come to France to do their bit in caring for the wounded. These sacrifices are appreciated and the attitude of the British medical service from the director-general down has been most sympathetic and helpful. The excellent work being done by the American units has frequently been the subject of the most complimentary remarks by all ranks of the British medical organizations.

Roughly speaking, the six base hospitals conducted by the Americans have beds for about 1,500 patients each, and there are many times when they are filled to overflowing, for they are filled to capacity, not only for their own wounded, but for Germans as well.

The six base hospitals have in addition to their other work furnished some ten surgical teams for service in casualty clearing stations, near the firing line. These teams usually consist of a surgeon, an assistant, a nurse and an orderly. American surgeons whose names are famous internationally, are laboring beside youthful medical officers who have sat under them in the class room at home.

Dr. Crite of Cleveland, Dr. Cushing, of Harvard, Dr. Brewer, of New York, Dr. Harle of Philadelphia, Dr. Murphy of St. Louis, and Dr. Beesley of Chicago, they call them majors over here—all have been or are at present working night and day in casualty clearing stations, which have been caring for the wounded from the last great offensive.

These surgical teams have had one characteristic experience. Their work is hampered and their lives are endangered by German airmen, who persist in hurling high explosives down among them. In one of the latest raids, the German aviators killed or re-wounded many of their own men who were prisoners being cared for in one of these hospitals.

The War Situation

The double air raid on England by German Zeppelins and airplanes last night resulted in the death of fifteen persons and the injury of more than seventy. Nearly all the casualties were caused by the airplane division, two of the machines of which reached London. The bombs of the airplane fleet accounted for all the killed and all but three of the injured, according to the official reports to-day. Three women were injured by bombs from Zeppelins, which crossed the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts, but did not penetrate inland.

On the French front in northern France, the Germans are keeping up their activities north of Verdun. Their guns are still bombarding General Petain's Chauns wood positions, where the German infantry attacked yesterday, but failed to drive the French from any portion of their line. A new attack was delivered last night in the Beaumont region, so the southeast of Chamme wood and in this liquid fire was employed by the crown prince's troops. Here again they failed to gain ground and suffered heavy losses from the French fire.

FRIGHTFULNESS

By Courier Leased Wire

Montreal, Sept. 25.—Details concerning the treatment by the Germans of British prisoners in German East Africa, are contained in a white paper just issued. The paper contains a mass of testimony recited by prisoners and others, including a number of women, to the effect that the Germans deliberately adopted a policy to lower the prestige of the British in the eyes of the natives, forcing them to do all manner of degrading work and subjecting them to terrible hardship without proper food clothing and shelter. Bed linen was offered to the prisoners, but they were forced to lodge in native huts which were damp and all became ill. The commandant, according to the testimony, declared the prisoners, had no rights, and that anything was good enough for the British.

IMPOSSIBLE TO ENFORCE DEMOCRACY

Germany Will Not Be Ruled By Foreign Dictation Says Cardinal.

IS IMPRACTICABLE

Imperial Rule Could be Established in the U. S.

By Courier Leased Wire

Montreal, Sept. 25.—A special cable for the Gazette from Rome says: "The proposal of President Wilson to enforce democracy in Germany is impracticable. Cardinal Gasparri, discussing the reply of the Central Empire to Pope Benedict's note. He adds:

"You will understand the impossibility of any country submitting to foreign dictation in regard to its internal affairs. It is sufficient to imagine the position reversed. Suppose the Central Powers insist that they will not conclude peace until England becomes a republic, or worse still, until America is ruled by an emperor."

"This could only be obtained by force of arms, but the moment the last German soldier crossed the Channel or embarked from America, King George would be again the most popular ruler who ever existed, while Wilson would be elected President by universal acclamation."

DECEMBER ELECTION EXPECTED

Impression Prevails at Ottawa That Delay Will Not Be Great.

BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Work of Revising Election Lists to Be Undertaken at Once.

By Courier Leased Wire

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The impression still prevails in government circles that the general election will not be delayed longer than the month of December. No definite decision will be reached in regard to the dissolution of parliament or the fixing of the date of the election until after Sir Robert Borden returns to the capital early next week, but official opinion still inclines to the view that an effort will be made to have the vote taken before the Christmas holidays set in.

Owing to the counting of the soldiers' vote in England and France, a month will elapse before final results are known in all constituencies. This is believed here to be what Sir George Foster meant when, speaking in Toronto last night, he said that it would take four weeks to count the vote.

The work of preparing for the revision of the election lists as provided for by the war times election act, will be commenced as soon as Hon. Arthur Meighen, secretary of state returns to the capital.

NO PEACE

By Courier Leased Wire

Petrograd, Sept. 24.—Minister of Foreign Affairs, Tere-stchenko to-day issued the following statement:

"Rumors published recently by the newspapers in various countries, regarding peace negotiations said to have been initiated by certain powers are entirely false. Equally devoid of foundation are reports attributing any particular importance to the conference in Bern, which has been convoked by the co-called 'Alliance for the Realization of Durable Peace' with which neither the Russian Government nor her allies had anything to do."

ITALIAN AIRMAN FLIES TO ENGLAND

Capt. Laureati Makes Flight of 700 miles in 722 Minutes.

By Courier Leased Wire

London, Sept. 25.—Captain Laureati, one of the most daring Italian aviators, twice decorated with military medals for valor, accompanied by an observer, made the first Italy-to-England flight to-day, repeating the feat of 1910, of the late George Chaves, in crossing the Alps. Captain Laureati covered 700 English miles in 722 minutes. His machine, of a new type, started from Turin this morning. Captain Laureati flew at a height of 10,000 feet. He encountered high winds, fog banks, rain storms and clouds on the route, which lay over Modena and Pavia in southeastern France, thence over the French battle lines in northern France to Cape Grizner and across the English channel. He brought mail to the American ambassador.

On May 30 last, a British biplane, with five persons on board, arrived in Rome, direct from London, having stopped only at Paris, Turin and Pisa, on the way.

Witnesses testified that Rube Munson, state organizer, and Home Spenz, state secretary of the Working Class Union, which they said was directly affiliated with the Farmers and Laborers Protective Organization in Texas, had told them that the organization was 35,000 strong in Oklahoma and fifty thousand strong in Texas.

Forty eight organizations, according to the testimony, were to join under the head of the I.W.W. in a nation-wide revolution, in which was included plans to seize small towns, attack cities, loot banks, burn bridges and cut telegraph wires. Spenz told the members of the union that two carloads of rifles would be ready for their use, it was testified. Stors were to be burned after being looted for provisions, according to the plan said to have been outlined, and railroads were to be seized for utilizing the rebellious organizations which, members were told, would greatly outnumber the troops left to protect President Wilson and Governor Williams of Oklahoma and defend the Mexican border.

The uprising against the government was set for July 27, witnesses declared. The anti-draft rioters in Seminole, Hughes and Pontock counties began their raids August 2. Coincident with the inception of the riots, Spenz was arrested at Helderbergville and his activities are now being investigated by a federal grand jury at McAlester. The arrest of Spenz and nearly 500 of his followers effectively ended the disturbance.

Beaten to Death.

New York Sept. 25.—That the Inquest into his death on Thursday will show that Commander Henry C. Gunn of the land battleship Recruit service act are under discussion at a conference to-day between the military service council, the general officers commanding the eastern districts and registers for the eastern provinces. The purpose of the conferences is to reach a uniform understanding as to the operation of the act.

The board of selection established to appoint one member of each local tribunal under the act, will probably not complete its work for a few days. Under the strict terms of the order-in-Council, the appointment of all local tribunals should be completed to-day. Otherwise the Minister of Justice is empowered to fill the vacancies. While, however, no official announcement is made, it is understood that the board will be given till the end of the month to complete its selections. It is anticipated that with very few exceptions, the tribunals will be completed by that date.

HOSPITAL SHIP

Quebec, Sept. 25.—A large hospital ship reached Quebec to-day from overseas with eight hundred invalid soldiers. The ship entered the harbor at noon.

MARKET COMMENT

(Written especially for the Brantford Courier).

Delaware and Hudson—The Delaware and Hudson Company's surplus for August, over and above fixed charges, was $370,076, against $354,147 a year ago. The surplus for the first eight months of the current calendar year was $2,387,851, against $2,317,484, equal to 7.03 per cent on the capital stock outstanding, against 5.45 per cent a year ago.

American Co.—There has been quiet accumulation of American Gas common recently, based on the certainty of large profits in the present year and the outlook for the continuation of very satisfactory earnings during 1918.

It is estimated that for the year to end December 31st next, earnings will equal at least 20 per cent. of the common stock, after allowing 7 per cent. on the preferred, or practically 50 per cent. of the current market price of the junior issue.

Orders for Submarine Chasers—The Submarine Boat Corporation has received an order for ninety submarine chasers from the Italian Government, and the English Government, has ordered thirty vessels of the same type. This company completed an order for 550 of these vessels for England not long ago. In addition to these orders the Corporation is building sixteen motor boats for the United States Navy.

Henry R. Case, president of the Corporation, says that in addition to the contract for twenty-four submarines for this Government the company has uncompleted contracts in process for work to be done in the United States amounting to about $2,000,000. Submarine orders aggregate $31,000,000 and cargo boat contracts $40,000,000.

New Haven's Financial Status—The discount at which New Haven obligations are selling continues to increase. The 5 per cent. collateral trust notes, due April 15 next, have dropped to a new low, as also is the case with New York, Westchester and Boston 4 1/2 per cent. first mortgage bonds, due July 1, 1946, guaranteed by the New Haven. The call for the New Haven annual meeting at New Haven on October 24 is expected to go out within a few days and the circular relative to the proposed $45,000,000 preferred issue and the financial position of the company, probably will be sent to stockholders. The preferred stock proposition is to be voted on at the annual meeting. The company has already bought in $780,000 of the $45,000,000 note issue, and may be able to do something further in this direction before the meeting.

Cuba Cane Sugar—The total gross operating income of the Cuba Cane Sugar Corporation for the current year is expected to run between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000, against $14,729,000 in the preceding year. Considering the revolution and other developments that hampered operations the showing will be regarded as more satisfactory for the coming crop is regarded as favorable. There is a scarcity of sugar all over the world, and with this in view good prices are looked for.

Lackawanna's Net Earnings—Lackawanna Steel's net earnings for the stock in the current quarter are estimated at between $6,250,000 and $6,750,000, or slightly less than in the record June quarter, when the net was $6,907,631. Estimating earnings for the current quarter at $6,500,000 and allowing $1,000,000 gain over this in the December quarter, Lackawanna's net for the year would total $26,198,217, equivalent to approximately $75 a share on the stock. From them, however, must be taken excess profits taxes. Estimating these at 40 per cent. the net for the stock would be reduced to $45 a share against $34.81 in 1916.

BAVARIA REPLIES

Bavaria Take One

By Courier Leased Wire
Berlin, Monday, Sept. 24.—The Bavarian Government has made an individual reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict, according to a special despatch from Munich to the Zeitung Am Mittag.
The procedure which had resulted in the sending of two replies to the Pope from Germany is explained on the ground of international and diplomatic law. As the German papal delegates are accredited to Bavaria, the Pope's note was delivered to King Ludwig, whose reply is said to have reached the Pope. It is stated the two notes concur in material aspects.

ASK EXPLANATION

His explanation was that he wanted to give dubious ones a chance to pay for their winter's coal.

THE SITUATION.

The Crown Prince is still trying to get some sort of a decision on the Vardar front, but without avail. Yesterday German troops were hurled against the French lines at many points along a front of over a mile, but they were repulsed after sustaining very heavy losses. Enemy raiders have once more been taking toll of non-combatants in the Old Land. Attacks were made at many points and manifestly without any purpose, save that of creating promiscuous damage and causing terror. It seems to be quite generally felt that there is likely to be a systematic continuance of such visitations, but they will not accomplish anything beyond still further strengthening the bull dog grip.

The Austrians made several heavy counter attacks on the positions which the Italians captured in the Mamolada district. They were beaten off and suffered heavily. The position of affairs with regard to Russia is as nebulous as ever. The best that can be said is that the Muscovites do not seem to have just recently inaugurated any marked falling back.

The United States Government has advanced another $35,000,000 to Great Britain, making a total to that country thus far of $1,130,000,000, and to all the Allies to date, $2,426,400,000.

The freight had slowed down for the river bridge. A heavy fog was the cause of the collision. The passenger engine turned into the ditch, but both the engineer and fireman escaped injury.

BORDEN AND FRANCHISE FOR WOMEN

That the women of Canada appreciate the expansion of the franchise to relatives of soldiers, and also appreciate the difficulties in the way of a general enfranchisement at the present time, is shown by the manner in which the Franchise Bill has been accepted by the women of the country and advocates of woman franchise. Sir Robert Borden has given a pledge without equivocation that he will, if returned to power, give the franchise to all the women of Canada.

Speaking in the House on Monday, September 10th, he declared: "We are emerging to the point at which the women of this country must be entitled to the same voice in directing the affairs of the country as men, and so far as I am concerned I commit myself absolutely to that proposal."

Again, speaking the following day he declared: "I adhere entirely to the opinion that I have already expressed more than once in this House, namely, that the women of Canada generally are entitled to the franchise, and if the people of this country should give to me the mandate at the next general election I undertake to carry out the purpose that I have already proclaimed."

It is apparent that the leaders of the woman's franchise movement in Canada quite approve of the stand taken by Sir Robert Borden. The following despatch which appeared in the daily press a day or so ago indicates this:

A letter signed by Mrs. F. H. Torrington, Mrs. Albert Gooderham, Mrs. E. A. Steaven, and Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, and referring to the war time election bill, has been issued. The ladies subscribing to the letter represent the National Equal Franchise Union, the Daughters of the Empire, the National Council of Women, and the Ontario W.C.T.U. The letter says:

"The result of numerous enquiries convinced these women that, considering the peculiar conditions which prevail at the present time in certain provinces and the uncertainty of the results in granting a full franchise, it would be desirable that a limited franchise should be given as a war measure in order that Canada may do her full part in the war and remain true to her sacred trust to the Canadian men now fighting the battle of freedom."

FOSTER SOUNDS FIRST NOTE

In a rousing address which he delivered last night in Toronto, Sir George Foster sounded the first call to the patriotism of the country, in connection with the approaching general election. With reference to the precipitation of a conflict he frankly said:

"The Liberal-Conservative Government did not want an election in war time, I am frank to tell you that. I am equally frank to tell you that they did not want it, not because they feared to face the electors, but because they thought they had better business to do in carrying on the war than in stopping war work to win an election."

Sir George reminded his hearers that the war was not yet over; that Germany still held nine-tenths of the best part of Belgium and a strip of the best part of France, in addition to considerable areas in Russia. While there was no cause for alarm yet there was still need for undiminished effort on the part of the Allies, and it was by her ability to "stick it out," to keep on to the end that Canada would be judged in the future.

In this Dominion voluntary enlistment had done very well indeed, at first, but the time had arrived when some other method would have to fill the ranks, or else leave the men in the trenches in numbers, in influence and fighting ability, and finally disappeared from the front. Did any one want that to happen, he queried, and the answer came back from the crowd with a roar of "No, never."

And this, he emphasized, will be the one great issue which will confront the elector in the approaching contest. Either the continued support of the brave lads in the trenches, or else their betrayal.

REFERENDUM ON FUEL AND FOOD AT NEXT ELECTIONS

Ald. MacBride and Fuel Committee Upheld Before Council by a Large Delegation of Ratepayers Last Evening—Council Makes Grant to Italian Red Cross

"Are you in favor of the municipality entering into the purchase and sale of fuel and food?" Such is the referendum upon which, conditional upon the assent of the attorney-general, Brantford electors will vote next January. The report authorizing the submission of the referendum was brought in by Ald. MacBride, at a stormy session of the city council, and passed after three hours of heated debate. A crowd of well over a hundred citizens, of all classes, thronged the council chamber, supporting the recommendations of the fuel and food committee, and cheering Ald. MacBride repeatedly. Mayor Bowby and other members of the council took opposition to the policy of submitting a referendum, maintaining that the Municipal Board would require a moneyed by-law submitted to the property owners. This Ald. MacBride challenged. The report of the fuel and food committee was finally passed at eleven o'clock, and the city clerk was instructed to write the solicitor-general to obtain an opinion on the legality of the referendum. The council rushed through in an hour, including a grant of $600.00 to the Italian Red Cross Fund.

Ald. MacBride, chairman of the fuel and food committee introduced the following report from that body: "That the report prepared under paragraph 29A of section 399 of the Municipal Act stand as read a second time, and that a referendum be taken on the question at the next municipal elections, said referendum to be submitted in the following words:—

"Are you in favor of the municipality entering into the purchase and sale of fuel and food?"

Ald. MacBride in the first place appealed to Mayor Bowby to enforce the rules of debate. He then recalled the report of the committee submitted to the council on July 17th when recommendations were made to fix the price of coal. At the time, it had not been deemed expedient for the municipality to enter into the fuel business, but future developments, or lack of developments, seemed in his opinion, to necessitate such a course. He now called for the submission of a referendum to the people at the January elections.

"Why not sooner?" asked Ald. Kelly. "Because it would be impossible to educate the people to the issue in a shorter time," Ald. MacBride replied. He went on to explain that the referendum was in general, and not property owners alone, a voice upon the future of the by-law. "Democracy," he declared, "is in the ascendancy to-day. The Ontario legislature at its last session, passed a bill authorizing municipalities to enter into such business, after appearing before the Ontario Municipal Council."

Ald. MacBride took opposition to the submission of a moneyed by-law to the ratepayers. "We are here to represent all classes, not the moneyed interests," he declared. The gathering cheered Ald. MacBride's remarks, and were called to order by the mayor. "I don't think," declared his Worship, "that we have the power to decide whether we shall submit the by-law to the public or to the property owners."

Ald. Bragg Wants Action. Ald. Bragg repeated Ald. Kelly's question, "Why not take a vote at once, and get the coal now, if the case is one of emergency?" Ald. MacBride offered to produce a resolution, asking the council of its own accord, to purchase coal at once.

"The people must vote first, or it is illegal," declared Ald. Bragg. "You can't get an intelligent vote on the subject at present," retorted Ald. MacBride, "and I am interested in passing the by-law. If the council chooses to act upon my resolution, it may go ahead and buy coal at once."

"I think we should have an election at once," declared Ald. Bragg. "It will not cost much to put on an election at once."

Ald. MacBride expressed willingness to submit the by-law before Jan. 1, provided a mass meeting were held to discuss the issue with the public. "The issue is plain and clear cut," he reiterated. "You must vote for it or against it, and cease quibbling."

Ald. Tulloch Ald. Tulloch inquired whether any recall could be secured by the city. "After Nov. 15 we can get all the coal we want, when the traffic on the upper lakes is closed," replied Ald. MacBride. He went on to denounce the system of coal dealers in the city, whereby the weaker were being forced out of the trade. "If our destination is one coal yard in Brantford," he urged, "let it be municipally owned."

Ald. Tulloch demanded a reasonable proposition for obtaining coal, before entrusting the sum of $50,000 to the committee. He insisted on being assured of the supply, and suggested that the committee devote its energies to tackling the mines and the transportation systems in order to bring about the need. He took exception to charges made against him by Ald. MacBride.

Ald. Dowling submitted a report of the proceedings of the fuel and food committee before the Ontario Municipal Board, and asked for its recall which Ald. MacBride characterized as "quibbling." The city clerk read the report in full.

Mayor Bowby "We are now able to get coal," declared Mayor Bowby, going on to tell of the meeting which he attended at Hamilton at the behest of the fuel controller. "You do not need to notify the coal committee of this," observed Ald. MacBride. "I did not see fit to do so," re-

"Fighting Mac."

In regard to fuel supply are, I regret to say, by no means unknown in the City of Brantford. Similar situations have been experienced in the past (although not as serious as now) but nevertheless causing much hardship and suffering to those who through necessity are compelled to buy their fuel in small quantities. Up to date the dealers have been unable to meet the demand. Instances may be quoted by the score where responsible citizens have placed early orders, but so far have been unable to secure delivery. We do not wish to go on record as having any animosity toward the coal dealers, but the fact remains that they have failed to supply our requirements, and in some cases the prices are open to criticism. We feel that the domestic supply should be the first consideration, and a sufficient supply fully guaranteed at reasonable rates. This to date has not been done, therefore realizing the urgent necessity of securing immediate relief we are here tonight to request our elected representatives to take the matter in hand and make adequate provision to meet the needs of the hour.

We further wish to go on record as favoring the establishment of a permanent municipal fuel depot, as follows:

1. An emergency supply for private consumption;
2. In that there are numerous public buildings requiring large quantities of fuel, our judgment teaches us that a supply of this nature would be a public economy.

The creation of a permanent municipal fuel depot need not necessarily mean competition or opposition to our local dealers, but as a central source of supply for public buildings and as a guarantee against a repetition of the present shortage. It would also serve to prevent extortionate prices being charged.

Yours truly,
J. HARVEY CLEMENT.

Various spectators voiced their opinions at this point, sounding a demand for an adequate supply of coal at once, whether by referendum or by-law, and supporting the demands in favor of the by-law.

The by-law was twice read here, with an opposing vote, observed Ald. MacBride. "If you objected to it, you had two opportunities to speak," he declared.

Ald. Second, seconding Ald. Dowling's amendment, did not call for another year of such shortage as last winter, nor did he consider the city in a position to go into the fuel business at the present time.

Refereudum Futile Ald. Wiley considered that in the case of the electors approving a referendum, it would still be necessary to place a by-law before the property owners.

"Quite so," observed Mayor Bowby. Ald. Bragg urged getting down to business at once, without needless referendum, and advocated the placing of the by-law at once before the ratepayers, at no greater expense than the making of a referendum.

"Put in a legal vote," observed Ald. Dowling. Ald. Kelly emphasized the necessity of going into the business in a legal manner, and of laying the matter before the property owners.

Ald. English looked to the Municipal Board to give its sanction for the third reading, and favored a referendum of all the ratepayers, which he considered would convince the board.

The referendum is perfectly legal, according to the city solicitor," declared Ald. MacBride. "Mr. Brewster so informed me this afternoon."

"Mr. Brewster is not city solicitor," declared Mayor Bowby. "He is acting city solicitor," retorted Ald. MacBride.

At this juncture, the following report from the factorymen was submitted by Mr. J. H. Clements:—
The Mayor and Council, City of Brantford, Gentlemen:—With your permission, I will briefly outline the origin of the movement which led to our presence here this evening. Among the average factory men a keener interest than ever before is apparent on questions of the day. This we attribute to the strenuous times and conditions occasioned by the war. Therefore when a request was sent to the factories asking for delegates to confer with the Fuel and Food committee it met with a ready response. At the informal meeting, it was ascertained that practically every factory in the city was well represented in the gathering.

The Key To Success

MAY BUY ALLIGATORS

Alligators are being seriously considered by the board of works committee of the Chatham city council as a means towards furthering the work of cleaning out the city sewers. The committee has learned from various American cities that the animals are employed to good advantage in this work, and a recommendation may be made to the city council that one or more alligators be purchased. Many city sewers are in need of cleaning, and the committee is meeting with difficulty in carrying out the work. Members of the committee declare that the plan has not been broached by some practical joker and are sincere in their desire to experiment with the carnivorous reptile. The alligators accomplish the work of stirring up sediment and refuse in the sewers, thus making it easy to flush out.

SPOTLIGHT ON CANADA'S MEN

Scientists Show Keen Interest in Physical Examination Under Military Service Act.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Medical men throughout the country are taking a keen interest in the coming examination of the physical condition of Canadians who are liable for service under the Military Service Act. This examination will be conducted by medical boards which are to be established all over Canada and will be free to all men who apply. Already the boards are in process of formation. Many authorities have held that Canadians as a race, are unusually hardy, owing to the rigorous weather experienced in this country. Never in Canada's history has there been such a thorough examination of men in the country between certain ages as is to be conducted under the Military Service Act. It will establish a new basis of fact for scientific men to work on, and the records will be of value for universities and scientific bureaus not only in Canada but throughout the civilized world. The object of the medical examination, primarily, is to inform those liable to service if they will be drafted or not, since men found physically unfit are sure of exemption by the exemption tribunals. Employers will also be able to calculate as to what removals they may expect from their business houses, factories, etc. But the scientific importance of the country-wide physical examination of men between certain ages looms large in the eyes of a great many medical authorities.

POLICE COURT

Another of the seemingly endless chain of petty thefts from prominent stores in the city, was disposed of in the police court this morning when Mrs. Zrazem Eazarian, a foreign woman, was ordered to pay $25 and court costs of $7.85 for the theft of a brown suit from the Ogilvie, Lochead store. A mistake had been made in the delivery of the suit, which had been purchased by another customer, and the parcel was left at the home of Mrs. Eazarian, who instantly developed a fondness for the article, and decided to retain it. When suspicion was later aroused and inquiry was made at her house by the store, the woman denied having possession of the suit, and only admitted it when it was turned over to Detective Schuyler, who, armed with a search warrant, visited the house occupied by the woman.

Awaiting the attendance of Dr. Pearson, George Clemens, who, while employed at the American Hotel, attempted to commit suicide, some weeks ago, was remanded until tomorrow on a charge of being insane and dangerous. He was arrested yesterday.

Waiter Ott, a frequent visitor, who has often accepted the hospitality of the station, gave a very unsatisfactory explanation to the Magistrate this morning when questioned as to the source of his supply of liquor. He will spend the next week in cogitation and reflection, in the hope that his memory may be stimulated.

Two hundred dollars and costs for having liquor in an unauthorized place, was the penalty imposed on Harry Sirotski.

Mrs. Annie McNeill, George Cooper and Mrs. Sarah Cooper, were participants in a pleasant little inter-family rumple recently. As the result Mrs. Cooper charged Mrs. McNeill with assault, and the latter retaliated by going one better and preferring a counter charge of assault against Mrs. Cooper and George Cooper. The tangle will be straightened out to-morrow.

BRITISH MENACE "CLAPHAM JUNCTION." The accompanying map shows the present battle line and the main line of the German defences. (shown by the broken line), in the Ypres sector where Field Marshal Haig resumed the offensive Thursday. The German line rests upon two natural strong pillars, namely the forest of Nouthest on the north and a dominating oval-shaped hammock more than a mile astride the Ypres-Menin road. The British Tommies have given the summit the name of "Clapham Junction." It is against the lower pillar the greatest strength of the attack was exerted.

THIRTY BEFORE MEDICAL BOARD

Majority of Men Examined Last Night Were Unfit for Service.

Thirty-one applicants for medical examination went before the medical board for Brant County, appointed under the Military Service Act, at the armories last night. About fifty men, whose ages included them in the first draft, turned out to offer themselves for examination, but the time of the board was taken up on thirty-one men who were inspected.

Contrary to the experience of other Canadian cities, the "E," or unfit class claimed the most of the applicants, fifteen being placed in this category. Six were declared fit for call "A," general service, three in the "B," or noncombatant service abroad, seven in "C," noncombatant service in Canada, and the remaining fifteen were declared unfit for service.

Major Nettles, Ashton, supervisor of the medical board, which consists of Col. Palmer, and Capt. Fissette and Chapin, speaking to the Courier to-day, expressed satisfaction at the ready manner in which those men between the ages of twenty and 34 who will be claimed under the military service act, have come forward voluntarily to be examined.

The board will sit at the armories every night at half past seven, with the exception of Sundays.

past a stationary street car from which passengers were alighting were preferred against Frank Balne and Mary Switzer, but the evidence being none too substantial, were withdrawn.

RALLY DAY.

Rally Day was fittingly observed at the Congregational Church Sunday School last Sunday. Supt. J. L. Dixon presided and with him on the platform were three of the deacons and the pastor of the church. A splendid rally address was given by Miss Dixon in which she gave a pleasing feature, and recitations by Stanley Mays and Phyllis Hills added to the delight of the goodly number present. Rev. J. L. Dixon, pastor of the church, in his own behalf, presented an address, accompanied by a beautiful book, and on behalf of the Sunday School Teachers and Bible Study Club, a gold mounted fountain pen to Miss Ethel Dixon, a teacher and pianist of the school, in token of appreciation of valuable services rendered. Miss Dixon is about to leave the city to pursue her educational studies at Toronto University, and she was assured that the best wishes of the Congregationalists as well as her many other friends would follow her. The Rally of the church will be held next Sunday, to be followed with the usual Rally social on Monday evening.

WHY "SHINE" DECIDE

White Sox Pitched--Battered Say Paraffin Put on--Lava Hand--Sp

Some people say there is no ball. Maybe. But some people there was no spitball and no ball. Several of the shrewd most level-headed managers of American League teams "shine" is an American League institution. White Sox institution, to be specific—say positively that a shine ball. They are men not fanciful or given to things which don't exist. They are men who are likely to know they are talking about and on is sure, they have no doubts in their own minds that the "shine ball." They've seen it, they've seen its effects.

Bill Donovan, manager of the Yankees; Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics; Clark Griffith, manager of the Washingtons—brains, if there are any brains—have expatiated from time to time in the public prints "shine ball," the peculiar, fling, the mysterious ball, three of the Chicago White Sox, namely, Cicotte, who has been to be its most expert; Danforth and Williams. The New York Giants are engaged the White Sox in the series.

Giants vs. "Shine Ball." What effect will the "shine ball," granting there is a thing, have on the batting? The Giants and the White Sox have battled against it. If illegal delivery, which is not followed, they would not be called to bat against it. It is those conditions would fair.

As yet, however, there is no formal or informal protest National League sources say "shine ball" as a potential called to the attention of the president of the American League, by managers in his own but he has not said that, illegal, though these managers protested against its use, he claimed their belief that force is used on the ball.

The use of foreign substances on the ball is forbidden by the rules. The "shine ball" rubs the ball on his trousers and rubs it on his shirt, clothing. The "shine ball" necessarily is an unwholesome though it has proved effective in the past, because it has been discarded time if it hadn't. The Giants hit it. One of them remarks "We'll hit any other day. We'll hit any other hitting."

It does not seem that a veteran of excellent record would persist in using an illegal delivery knowing it to be wrong. He is those who have his pitching closely who are paraffin is on the clothing, substance is in the glove or ball is rubbed on the clean alien substance cleans off the area on the sphere somewhat than the size of a dollar, smooth, clean, white, and the laws of physics, as per uncanny flights of the ball pitched, enter. The ball "stun" from that spot.

Physics does the trick. The ball is in motion, and physics adds. There's been shine ball talk that it will have a psychological effect on you about to face it. Any goes up to the plate with what may be on the ball to hit safely than he will with his mind solely on ball.

UNIQUE "SHINE BALL" MAY DECIDE THE WORLD'S SERIES

White Sox Pitchers Have it Perfected--Batters in American League Say Paraffin or Candle Grease is Put on--Laws of Physics Also Take a Hand--Spot is Rubbed Smooth

Some people say there is no "shine ball." Maybe. But some people say there was no spitball and no curve ball. Several of the shrewdest and most level-headed managers in the American League—the "shine ball" is an American League institution, a White Sox institution, to be more specific—say positively that there is a shine ball. They are men who are not fanciful or given to imagining things which do not exist. They are men who are likely to know what they are talking about, and one thing is sure, they have no doubt whatever in their own minds that there is a "shine ball." They've seen it, studied it, seen its effects.

Bill Donovan, manager of the Yankees; Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics; Clark Griffith, manager of the Washingtons—baseball brains—have expatiated from time to time in the public prints on the "shine ball," the peculiar, baffling, the mysterious ball, used by three of the Chicago White Sox pitchers, namely, Cicotte, who is supposed to be its most expert exponent; Danforth and Williams.

The New York Giants are about to see the White Sox in the world's series.

Giants vs. "Shine Ball."

What effect will the use of the "shine ball," granting there is such a thing, have on the batting of the Giants and their chances of winning the series? The Giants never have seen this "shine ball." They never have batted against it. If it is an illegal delivery, which by no means follows, they should not be compelled to bat against it. Its use under those conditions would be unfair.

As yet, however, there has been no formal or informal protest from National League sources against the "shine ball" as a potential weapon in the big series. The matter has been called to the attention of Ban Johnson, president of the American League, but he has not said that the ball is illegal, though these managers have protested against its use and proclaimed their belief that foreign substance is used on the ball.

The use of foreign substance on a baseball by a pitcher or the willful discoloring of a ball is forbidden by the rules. The "shine ball" pitcher rubs the ball on his trousers, rubs it and rubs it, but nothing in the rules forbids rubbing the ball on the "shine ball" pitcher's clothing. The "shine ball" is not necessarily a "shiny" ball, though it has proved exceedingly effective on numerous occasions. It would have been discarded by the time it had hit the Giants, if it had not been so marked the hit it. One of them remarked the other day, "I'll hit anything if we're hitting."

It does not seem that Cicotte, a veteran of excellent reputation, would persist in using an illegal delivery knowing it to be such. Yet there are those who have watched his pitching closely who are positive paraffin is on the clothing or alien substance is in the glove or the ball is rubbed on the clothing the alien substance cleans off white area on the sphere somewhat larger than the size of a dollar. This shiny, smooth, clean, white spot is where the laws of physics, as pertain to the uncanny flights of the bulb whose pitched, enter. The ball gets its "stuff" from that spot.

Physics and Metaphysics.

Physics does the trick once the ball is in motion, and possibly metaphysics adds. There's been so much shine ball talk that it has had its psychological effect on some who are about to face it. Any batter who goes up to the plate with his mind on what may be on the ball is less likely to hit safely than he who goes up with his mind solely on hitting the ball.

Said one American Leaguer to the writer: "The shine ball is practically the same as the barred emery ball in its actions. The preliminaries are different. The first thing the shine ball pitcher does when he gets a new pill is to slap the palm of his glove into the dirt. Then he spits in his glove. Then he rubs the ball in his glove, and then he rubs it on his breeches. He rubs it several times, and presto! there is a white, smooth area, and you have your shine ball."

It is declared by those who maintain that foreign substance is used for the shiner that this substance sticks in the seams of the ball. This spot always is made where the seams of the ball are, and the shine ball has a shoot on it much the same as the hop or shoot accompanying the fast one of Walter Johnson. Johnson, with his great natural speed, can impart that shine to the ball. But there is only one Johnson, and he needs no artificial aid.

Breaks Three Ways.

The shine ball breaks three ways—to the left, to the right and upward. It fields with the spot on the left the ball will glide to the left. If it is on the right, the ball will break, or jump, or skip, or sail, whichever term you prefer, to the right; that is, it throws by a right-handed pitcher it will break in to a right-handed batter. The favorite term of the ballplayer for the course is "sails." The emery ball's eccentricities also were described by "sail." When it comes to a question of an upward sail the ball is delivered with the spot on top. Then is a matter of vertical plane.

The theory of the shine ball—the science of it—is this: On the side of the ball, where the shine ball is rubbed shiny and smooth, there is less air resistance than on the other side. The shiny place does not catch the air as does its rougher opposite. The result is there is more pressure on the side not slicked, and in the direction where there is the lesser amount of resistance, which sounds simple enough.

The shine ball, according to the dissection of the man who explained it and its kinks and quirks to the writer, sails fast and quick, but has no big break—not more than six inches. Only Walter Johnson, paragon of the ball, is supposed to be able to make a ball sail. It is not an unusual strike-out ball. Rather the batter hits it, but does not hit it square, and not where he wants to hit it, and in good working order it is a base hit preventive rather than a strike out ball.

It is gripped the same and thrown the same as a fast ball; it has the quick shoot of a fast ball; it revolves over and over like the fast ball, and is more effective than the emery ball, which comes up and takes its sudden slant there is the optical illusion of the whirling white spot on the shiny background to add to the batter's perplexities.

JACK HORNER AND MOTHERGOOSE REAL

Originals of Famous Nursery Tales Lived in Parts of Old Land.

"Were it not that they are so wide apart," writes Mr. Norman E. Venning in Great Thoughts, an English publication, "it would be not at all a bad way of spending a few days' leisure for those on holiday bent on getting out to view the different spots in our land which still stand as the originals of some of our most famous nursery tales."

"It is surprising how few people have any idea that nearly all these old nursery tales have a real foundation in fact and history; and still more surprising how few talk have the least idea that the places, the houses, the environments which gave their birth can even to-day often be seen and easily recognized."

From Cherrington Manor, the pretty black-and-white timbered survival in Shropshire, we get the famous story of "The House that Jack Built." Cherrington Manor was erected somewhere about 1635, and less than twenty-five years ago was still surrounded by the celebrated moat which doubtless was the home of the rats whose renown in connection with the story is hardly less than that of Jack himself. There, too, beside the moat, is the very old Milk House, which once gives the clue to the rat-which-ate-the-malt lines of the tale.

Noted for Cats.

According to local tradition, Cherrington Manor was renowned through long decades for its noted breed of cats, which were much sought after as rat catchers by farmers whose buildings were infested by those vermin; and there can hardly be a doubt that these cats were so prominently in the story. As you gaze on Cherrington Manor to-day with its lovely lawns and old trees, its splendid preservation from the Stuart era, and see the beautiful fields close beside every feature of the fine old nursery tale seems there again brought to life especially for your benefit.

"Another favorite tramp of mine when near Thetford, in Norfolk, was to see Merton Hall, one of the seats of Lord Walsingham. With that eye and yet with what keen enjoyment and interest, I first gazed on this grand old relic of bygone days! I stood right in front of that nobleman's house so often seen in childhood's fancy as I listened at my mother's knee to the entrancing story of 'The Babes in the Wood.' For Merton Hall was the scene of their sad adventures. There, not far away from the house, still stands that

COMING DEFEAT OF GIANTS AND WHITE SOX WILL BE NOT

Comiskey Has No Love for New York, and McGraw Less for Chicago.

DOPING THE SERIES

Sox Have Been Invincible in Previous Series; Giants Oft-Beaten

So it is to be the unbeaten Chicago White Sox against the oft-beaten New York Giants in this year's classic. One non-favorite came through but from what I can find out about the two contestants, neither White Sox nor Giants are favorites as winners of the big fall event, the playing and writing talent being agreed that the two contestants are about evenly matched in the matter of nerve, or "dutch" as the gamblers term it, in the matter of skill in the matter of brains. The almost invariable answer to the query of "Who will win the World's Series?" is the short one: "Search me."

The series apparently will be for blood, as well as for lace and renown. Charles A. Comiskey, the noblest Roman of them all, loves his Chicago and loves not his New York, and it was seldom that he could be persuaded to attend any of the American League meetings staged in Gotham. John McGraw, lover of New York and hates anything with a Chicago label. The Cubs of Cook county took away from in 1908, a pennant he almost lost to his New York, and it was seldom that he could be persuaded to attend any of the American League meetings staged in Gotham. John McGraw, lover of New York and hates anything with a Chicago label. The Cubs of Cook county took away from in 1908, a pennant he almost lost to his New York, and it was seldom that he could be persuaded to attend any of the American League meetings staged in Gotham.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If mixed with Sulphur, it darkens so naturally Nobody can tell. Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Generations in 1900. Seventeen percent have been awarded in this league. The East has won 11 to the West's six.

Combining the two leagues, 43 championships have been played for. The East has won 42 and the West 1.

The championships have been won by the following teams:

National League—Boston, 13; Chicago, 10; New York, 7; Brooklyn, 4; Pittsburgh, 4; Baltimore, 3; Providence, 2; Philadelphia, 2; Detroit, 1.

American League—Athletics, 5; Boston, 6; Chicago, 3; Detroit, 3; Cleveland, 2; Philadelphia, 2; St. Louis, 1.

The only cities in the National League which have not been favored with championships are Philadelphia, which won its pennant in the National League the first year the league was formed. The Philadelphia team was then called the Athletics, as that city's American League club is now known. Detroit also once held a franchise in the National League, as did Providence.

In the American League it is noticeable that the 17 championships have been held in a rather close corporation. Only four cities have shared in the festivities—Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston and Detroit.

Oscar Felsch has done more damage to port-sized pitching than any other player whose salary is paid by Commy. His average is .356. Joe Jackson is over the .300 mark, too, the General's average being .324. Fred McMullin is close to it, with .286, and Eddie Collins not very far below it, with .275.

Buck Weaver, great ball player in more ways than one, has been handed a .249 clip; John Collins, .322; Sved Ribberg's, .221 and Ray Schalk's, only .184.

Yes, the Sox certainly can hit left-handers.

Whether they will or not in the World's Series, soon to be played remains to be seen.

They certainly will have the opportunity.

Diving into the records of baseball some interesting facts are disclosed in connection with the inter-sectional side of the game. Since the National League was organized in 1876, 46 championships have been decided up to this year. Of these, Eastern cities have won 31 and the West 15.

The American League began op-

BRITISH AVIATOR WINGS TWO HUN ARMEN AS THE SOLDIERS CHEER

Forces Oer German Down a Captive, and Within a Few Hours Routs Second Poo—Second Hit Under His Machine

Joseph W. Grigg, a staff correspondent of the New York World with the British armies in the field, writes: From one of Britain's most brilliant airmen I obtained to-day the thrilling details of two air fights that occurred in the last few days. He is a young Irishman of medium height, with a ready smile and long list of victories to his credit. He comfortably smoked his pipe as he told of these two encounters, which were both witnessed by thousands of soldiers. In both instances he got his enemy as the latter made a desperate attempt to get away when within 1,000 feet of earth. "A Hun plane was reported coming over the lines, and I immediately went up," he said. "The Germans never come over our lines to fight, and when they come for observation they go very high and return at full speed as soon as we go after them. This fellow was evidently ordered to attack a certain one of our observation balloons, and he came down quite low. While he was doing this I ascended some distance away. He didn't notice me until I had got between him and his machine, and he very advantageously height. Then he suddenly wheeled and started for his lines. Shot Off Own Tail "I made a long steep dive for him and he came so close I could see him looking over his shoulder at me. He manoeuvred to bring his gun into action, but I dived under the tail of his machine in his efforts to hit me. He completely shot his tail away and sent his machine into a headlong dive to earth, where hundreds of soldiers were wildly cheering me on. I could plainly hear them as could the Hun pilot. I hadn't hit him in any vital spot and his fall did no fatal injury. I went around to see him in the hospital next day. "The second fight, which happened within a few hours after the first was with a two-seater plane. The noted airman, describing this fight, said: "I was well up in the clouds when I saw a Boche machine over our lines, but near enough to his own, as he must have known to make a getaway if necessary. I mounted him and kept well behind the clouds until I got a position where I could again dive and cut off his retreat and make him come down, in our hands. He saw me as I began to dive for him, and instantly turned for his lines and dived to make a quicker descent. But I closed in on him. He couldn't get over his lines. Again there was a great crowd of soldiers below watching the chase. I got so close I could see him look at me. "I didn't want to hit him if I could make him land without doing so. I gave him every chance to land voluntarily. But I must say he tried to get away even after he had gone down to about 1,000 feet and knew it was all over with him. Then I had to let him have a burst from my gun. His pilot was killed and his machine fell into our lines. I saw the soldiers cluster around it, and was told afterwards that when the German observer, who was uninjured, had disentangled himself and saw them he hid under his machine, which had turned over. He finally came out and was made a prisoner. "Many of the recent air fights have been forced upon the Germans by the British at points eight or more miles inside the German lines. The Germans have painted some of their battleplanes scarlet in the belief that the sight of one of them dashing toward the British would have a nerve racking effect. Other machines have insignias upon them imitating the marks on British planes. The British airmen are greatly interested in the Hun air program in America, and an officer in charge of one of the principal squadrons which has done such brilliant work said: "Your Americans should make a wonderful record in this war."

Rippling Rhymes

From mountain and from sea resort the tourists are returning, and they have freckles by the quart, and sunburn fiercely burning. No doubt you gambled with the rest, where sylvan torrent gushes, where little robins build their nests, and sparrows chase the thrushes. No doubt you're full of thrilling yarns, that you desire to tell us, of ocean waves or mountain peaks—which tales you brag about. Have you brought back a lot of pep for your employer's service, or have you still a lagging step, and are you full of nerves? Have you brought back your rural scout's cap? Unless you have, I surely feel you've had a useless outing. Have you brought back a glad desire to quit your lazy nodding, and labor like a house afire, and beat the boss around? If you still hunt the easy chair in which we've oft surveyed you, your tan won't get you anywhere, your freckles will not cure you.
