THE RIGHT OF SONS OF TEMPERANCE TO INTERPERE IN POLITICS.

To rear Environ or Haspan's Galaxies.

Sin—Strenuous effects having been appealedly made of late, by an individual whose consistency, as a Son of Temperande, is, to say the least, in more respects that one, a matter of serious doubt, to make it appear that the Official Members of the Order, and sayself in particular, have adopted a course, with reference to the recent General Election, directly at variance with the rules and principles of the Order, I beg permission, through you, to give the assertion a positive and impushified desimil. The course recommended and in most cases pursues by the Sons in this Island, on the consistent and in not only in strict accordance therwith, but also in entire harmony and consistency with the precisionous generally understood and followed throughout the entire Body. Without further, how bling you on this subject at present, a sake the liberty to enclose, for insertion herewith, a copy of the Report of the Committee of the National Division on the State of the Order, adopted and published by that Body last year. This masterity document was printed as an Appendix to the Journal of the last Annual Session of the Grand Division of this Island. Of the existence of this document, he individual above alluede to can scarcely plead ignorance, as it was he who printed the Journal in question.

The State of the report of the Control House, Rep. 20, 1886.

The State of the Rep. 20, 1886 fatal cases had also occurred. Meetings of the local board of Gateshead and of the board of guardians of Gateshead and Newcastle have been held, at which Mr. Grainger, the medical inspector of the General Board of Health, attended, and urged the immediate exercise of such powers of cleansing and medical visitation as are vested in the local authorities. The mayor of Leeds has issued a circular, calling attention to the progress of the cholera westward, and urging the reorganisation of district sanitary committees, with a view to check its progress should it reach Leeds. A fatal case of cholera has occurred in Southwark, and the Registrar-General reports two other cases of decidedly Asiatic cholera in one house, within four days, at Bermondsey. The following is the latest report by the General Board of Health, Whitehall, in reference to Newcastle:—Sept. 14: Deaths, 38. Total of deaths from August 31 to Sept. 14, 214. Gateshead: Deaths, 83. The disease is developing itself, though, but for the great activity that has been shown by the local authorities in providing extra medical aid, it is believed that its progress would have been much more rapid, as a very large amount of

to the Emperor Nichelas due the first and inde-pendent language he has heard in the last few manths from the Cabinet of Vienna. Prince Felix Schwarzenberg, on whom the recollection of past obligations to Russis sat like a painful and uneasy burden, was often heard to exclaim, "I will one obligations to Russis sat like a paintul and uneasy burden, was often heard to exclaim, "I will one day astonish the world by "my huge ingrastione;" and, had he lived to carry on the affairs of the empire in the proud and resolute spirit he manifested during his hinfer administration, he would soon have shaken off all autouviency to Massis and taken the lead in the policy of Contral Enterpolicy. The second has a constant the states of the Eastern question that they are resolved and prepared to support the independent policy of their country without any compromise to foreign influences, and they have accordingly sincurred an amoust of displeasure from the Emperor Necuo-Las which is, after all, one of the best compliments a Minister can earn from a foreign Soverign. The barrier which has most powerfully contributed up to this time to arrest, the policy of Russia has been the close unique the four other great Powers. The Emperor of Russia has so entirely failed in deluding Austria and Prussia as to the nature of his operations, or in winning their ascent to his aggressions, that one of the very last communications ander to thim by M. DE Buol., the Austrian Minister, was a request that he would name a day for the evicuation of the Principalities; and, although it has sometimes been said that the price of the Russian intervention in Hungary in 1849 was a secret treaty which made Austria dependent on the will of her powerful neighbour, nothing in the recent conduct or relations of the two Powers essents to confirm that assertion, and we hope that Austria will still have the spirit to show that it is wholly unfounded.

will still have the spirit to show that it is wholly unfounded.

Under these circumstances, the Emperor Nicholae tests the influence he hopes to exercise over the policy of the Austrian Cabinet on one point-namely, his personal ascendency over the young Emperor Francis Joseph; and it is evident that the approaching visit to Olmutz is intended; to detach the head of the Austrian monarchy from the traditional policy of his empire, and from the counsels of his western affices. These Imperial interviews have constantly been a favourite diplomatic resource of successive Russian Sovereigns from Thist downwards, and the Emperor Nicholas is perfectly qualified to play his part in them with consummate ability. No tiam ever knew better how to give to an uncerupatious policy an air of chivalrous disinterestedness, at to justify actions that admit of no earthly excuse by an appeal to the transcendental rights of irrespensible power. Such language and such artiflees come with additional weight when they are employed by a Sovereign who has occupied one of the loftiest thrones of Europe for more than a quarter of a century, and are addressed to a Prince who is still on the threshold of his life and his reign. The interview, therefore, which the Emperor of Austria will shortly be called upon to hold, is one of no common moment to himself and to his people. He will find himself face to face with the traditional policy of Russia, which has been dissembled or suspended for the last few years from other causes. Perhaps the gravity of this conjuncture in the affairs of Europe will be increased by the ardour for war which has been manifested by a party in the Turkish Councils and Turkish army; and the necessity of taking part decidedly with one side or the other in this impending conflict will be urged upon the youthful Sovereign. Territorial advantages have true this been held out by Russia to foreign States on similar occasions, and nothing will be omitted that may stimulate cupidity or ambition. The Emperor of Austria enters upon unfounded.

as the remains determined to prevent the invaded of northern armies beyond that burrier the Turkish Empire cannot be overrun, for she takes in flank the whole power of the invader. But if Austria, faithless to her traditional policy and her permanent interests, ever allows herself to participate in projects heatile to the independence of those countries, she removes the barrier of the East, and no direct interfequence, of other Sates could rescue those countries from invasion by the two greatest military monarchites of the continents. She might gain Boains and the Herzegowina—a slender compensation for the extension. Russis would acquire; but by the name rule her possessions in Italy would be exposed in the utmost danger, and the peace of Europe would be at an end. The decision of Austria, may ward off the impending extastrophe, and secolerate the reatoration of peace, if it be disturbed, provided she remains firm to the principles of the Powers; but, if any cause whatever chould induce her to swerve from the course she has hitherto: followed, the joint resolutions of Burope would have lost their authority, and the questions which have hitherto occupied us would assume a far-wider importance. We trust, therefore, that with this great responsibility before him the Emperor Francis Joseph will prove to Europe that, whatever his persent relations with the Emperor Francis Joseph will prove to Europe that, whatever his persent relations with the Emperor Francis Joseph will prove to Europe that, whatever his persent relations with the Emperor Francis Joseph will prove to Europe that, whatever his persent relations with the Emperor Francis Joseph will prove to Europe that, whatever his persent relations with the Emperor Francis Joseph relations with the Emperor Francis Joseph relations with the Emperor Francis Joseph relations and the passing the first the read of Francis down the interests of that nation through which the Dunube flows. A few days ago, the driver of a stage coach between two portions of the Ottawa, unnavigable for steam vessels, but which the government is now readering navigable told me that he came to this district in 1841; with one dollar in his pocket, and I learned from a gestleman with whom he had originally worked as a common absource when he first came out, that he is now worth. £1000, and has a capital farm. On my expressing surprise that a man like him could have an average of savings of £80 a year since he arrived, I was assured that, so far from this being a solitary case there was, hardly an frishman who is industrious and temperate—the latter is just us necessary as the former quality—that is not, more less in the same position.

Tun Roston Atlas states that Mr. McKay, of East Boston, is now at work upon a clipper ship of 2,400 tons, the model of which is much sharper than the Sovereign of the Seas, and is considered more beautiful. The ship is intended for the Australia trade, and is owned by Messre. James Baines & Co., of Liverpool, England. Mr. McKay says that she will ontail any vessel he has yet built, and he will do his best to make her a perfect ship. She has very bollow lines, and her ends will be as nearly alike as practicable. Mr. McK.'s recent trip in the Sovereign of the Seas suggested, several important improvements in the modelling of clippers.

It will be recollected that some fifteen or twenty years ago, the Dorking fowls stood very high in England, and for delicious meat nothing coald well exceed them; since which time they have been quite cellpsed by the East India importations, and of late years, the Cochin Chinese, patronized by Queen Victoria; have stood to an the pinnacle of fashion's dunghill. But they, too, appear to have had their day, and to be destined soon too pase into that great throng of things that " have been." We observe that at the great poultry exhibition of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, lately held at Glouester, public opinion, and the verdict of the judges most distinctly pointed to the Dorkings, as the most useful and profitable bird for an agricultural establishment. Perhaps they may be superseded another year. But the real truth is just becoming admitted, that the poultry manin—the Cochin fiver—is actually dying away—at least in England—the same will follow here. At the same exhibition, the principal condition, the principal condition is and the successful weighed, respectively, forty-one, forty, thirty-nine and half, and thirty-nine lbs. each —something more than "fancy," here—three was solid reality.

An awful catastrophe occurred on Wednesday evening, on the route of a non-commissioned officer's escort of the lat Depot from Birr to Athlene, in charge of an artillory soldier who had deserted. The whole party commenced drinking, and the prisoner observing their disorderly state at Rosenellis, where they again drank in a public house, and the opportunity it gave him, struggled to release himself, but was knocked down, and though manacled, one of the soldiers pointed his mucket, and shot the helpices man, who was their prostrate under two of the party.

Truly, if any individual is to be pitted, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive,—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul ahrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom.

Among the numerous discoveries Science has made in this generation to facilitate the business of life—increase its enjoyment, and even prolong the term of human existence, none can be named of more real value to mankind, than this contribution of Chemistry to the Healing Art. A vast trial of its virtues throughout this broad country, has proven beyond a deabt, that no medicine or combination of medicines yet known, can so surely control and cure the numerous varieties of pulmonary disease which have hitherto every from our midst thousands and thousands every year. Indeed, there is now abundant reason to believe a Remedy has at length been found which can be relied on, to cure the most dangerous affections of the langs. Our space here will not permit us to publish any proportion of the cures effected by its use, but we would present the following:—aud refer further enquiry to my American Almanac, which the agent below named, will always be pleased to furnish free, wherein are full particulars, and indisputable proof of these statements.

Under the Patronage of His Excellency Sir ALEXANDER BANNERMAN, Knight.

CEORGE LORD, begs leave respectfully to intitimate to his friends and the public in general, that he has resumed his practice in the VETERINARY LINE, under the patronage of His Excellency Sir ALEXANDE BRANNERMAN, Knight.

After a successful practice of 27 years—14 in England and 13 in America—in the course of which he has been directly instrumental, through his skill, in saving, for their owners, the lives of many valuable HORSES and Cows; he hopes that, in now soliciting a renewal of PUBLIC PATRONAGE, he may be permitted to say that he considers himself to be as well qualified to prescribe MEDICINES and Preform OPERATIONS, in the capacity of a HORSE and COW DOCTOR, as any individual who has ever practised in that line in this Colony; and be, therefore, presumes that he may confidently look forward to a renewal of that patronage which he formerly enjoyed in this Island.

reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm basis, and will be centimed without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly für above all other journals of their class. Biackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher Nordis, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Buiwer and other licerary notables, written for that magunine, and figst appearing in its columns, both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtone" and "My Now Novel," (both by Bulwer), "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messers. DEAN Sim—Atnoying the numerous cures effected by the use of your valuable medicines in this heighbourhood, we sincy mention that of an old hidy living in the Village of Preston, about five miles from this City. She had alcerated wounds in her leg for many years, and latterly they increased to such an alarming extent us to defy all the usual remedies; her health rapidly giving way under the suffering she endered. In this distressing condition she had recourse to year Ointment and Fills, and by the assistance of her friends, was enabled to persever in their use, until she received a perfect cure. We have ourselves been greatly astonished at the effect upon so old a persen, she being above -19 years of ago.
