INTERESTING TALK ON TOWN MANAGEMENT

Mr. R. Fraser Armstrong, Town Manager of Woodstock made the following comments regarding the Town Manager System, at a recent luncheon given by the Rotary Club of St. John.

Mr. Armstrong said, "many people seem to think that the Town Manager plan was suitable for small towns only. It would do just as well in large towns. Several large cities in the United States had adopted it with success. The idea was simply carrying out the system in use in large mercantile corporations. The electors were the shareholders, who appointed the City or Town Council as directors, and the latter appointed the general or business manager. The Town Council meets twice or three times a month to discuss the various town problems and decides on the policy to be adopted. The Manager simply carries out their directions. By this means a lot of time and trouble were saved. The manager, of course, must be a practical man, versed in the several matters which a town has to take in hand, and naturally he plays a considerable part in advising the Council as to the best steps to take. The ordinary aldermanic system, or even the commissioner system, has its drawbacks the chief of which is the lack of continuity of operation. For instance after an election, the chairmanship of the various committees of the council are allotted, to men who have no special knowledge of the particular work they are to oversee. By the time they begin to know something about it, another election comes around and they may lose their seats. Then another new man comes in, who will probably know no more of the matter than his predecessor did to begin with, and he may have altogether different ideas. The result is that in all probability a good deal of what the previous man accomplished, will be undone. Another is that with a town manager the members of the council do not have to devote much of their time to town affairs, as the chairman of a committee does. To a busy citizen this is a great advantage. All the committee have to do is to attend the meetings for a couple of hours or so each month, give their instructions and the manager does the work. A Town Manager must, of course be a trained man, or he cannot be a success. This is one of the faults of the committee system. The Council may consist of capable business men in their lines; but because a man is a good tailor, grocer or dry goods merchant, or what not, doesn't qualify him to take charge of streets, sewers, lighting or any other branch of civic administration.

H. W. BORING, a well-to-do Kansas farmer, says he has gained twenty pounds and is in better general health than he has been in years, since taking Tanlac.

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past." was the straightforward statement made a few days ago by H. W. Boring, a prominent and well-to-do farmer living at Overland Park, Kans.

"During the two years I suffered I tried everything I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac. My appetite was poor and my digestion was so bad I could hardly retain my food. Nothing seemed to agree with me; in fact, I was almost a confirmed dyspeptic. My whole system seemed to be out of shape. I would have pains across the small of my back so bad at times I could hardly move around.

"My nerves were all unstrung and I would become upset at the least little thing. I seldom slept well at night and finally, became so weak and run-down that I lost weight rapidly. I was also troubled a great deal with catarrh and of mornings had to spend a half hour or more clearing up my head.

"This is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac and it certainly has been a blessing to me. It just seemed to be made especially for my case. I improved from the first. My digestion now is perfect and regardless of what I eat I never suffer any bad after-effects.

"The pains across my back have entirely disappeared. The catarrh has left me, too, and my head is perfectly clear. I am no longer nervous and rest well at night. I have regained my lost weight and am feeling better and stronger than I have in years. I am going to keep Tanlac in my house so it will be handy at all times."

Tanlac is sold in Newcastle by E. J. Morris, in Redbank by Wm. M. Sullivan, in Doaktown by G. H. Hubbard and in Nelson by Mrs. James Nowlan.

Millerton Women's Institute

On Thursday evening March 10th, Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Kirk, Kirkwood. Present: 12 members and 1 visitor. The 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. J. D. Lyon, was in the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada."

Roll call was answered with "Something to cause laughter."

The Sec'y read a letter from the United Farmer's Guide of Moncton requesting that reports of our meetings be sent in to them for publication on their Country Woman's Page. The Sec'y was requested to send a copy of this report to the U. F. G. and ask them to send us two copies of their paper in which this report is published.

The Sec'y reported that a jar of the water from the School well had been sent to Ottawa for analysis and the expenses on same amounted to $2.20 which was ordered paid. Also that since last meeting 75c has been received in two donations.

The President informed the meeting that one member who was not present suggested that we meet in the school House it being a more central place. Those present were unanimous in their disapproval of such a change as they considered it more sociable to meet in the homes.

The subject for discussion was "Husband, Wife and Home". Several members contributed towards the subject which made it most interesting. Miss Pauline Crocker read a poem entitled "The Mother's Insurance". At the close of the program Miss Jessie M. Lyon rendered a solo "Home Sweet Home".

While lunch was being served Mr. Kirk and Miss Kirk entertained with violin and organ music.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. L. W. Flett, subject "Making a Home on the Farm". Roll call. Thoughts on gardenings.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

President Harding's Cabinet

Seven of the ten members of the United States Cabinet are from the territory east of the Mississippi River one is from the Central West, one from the Southwest and one from the Pacific Coast, and the South is not represented at all. In the group there are five lawyers. Mr. Hughes is the best known member of the cabinet, having been Governor of New York, associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, and the Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1916. Mr. Weeks served as Senator from Massachusetts, Mr. Fall is one of the Senators from New Mexico, Mr. Denby has been a member of Congress. Mr. Hays is the chairman of the National Republican Committee, Mr. Wallace is the publisher of a number of agricultural papers in the middle West, Mr. Mellon is a well-known banker in Pittsburgh, Mr. Hoover is known throughout all the earth for his management of relief agencies. Mr. Daugherty is a conspicuous figure in Ohio politics and the personal friend of the President, Mr. Davis has been identified with the labor movement. The case of Mr. Hoover in connection with this piece of cabinet making is an unusual one. It seems that he did not consent to enter the cabinet until his terms were accepted by the President, and these were that his program of constructive work for the Department of Commerce, and that he continue for a time at least, to have supervision of the expenditure of the thirty or forty millions of dollars he has secured for European relief from the American people.

Circuit Will be Organized At Moncton

Fredericton, March 16—Notices have been sent out calling a meeting of the Maritime and Maine Harness racing circuit which operated last year and in 1919 for Moncton on Tuesday, March 22. When President S. D. Heckbert's call for the annual meeting was sent out in December, the response was not sufficient to go on with a meeting and since then there have been few signs along the line of reviving the circuit. Recently, however, Phil Belliveau leased the Moncton track, and it is believed the calling of the meeting at Moncton is part of his plan to organize a new circuit, which will be composed of Moncton and other tracks east of there in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and perhaps some in Prince Edward Island.

"California Syrup of Figs" is Child's Best Laxative

Financial Statement of Government

Ottawa, March 14th, 1921—The financial situation, intensified by railway deficits, holds the centre of the political stage. All political parties are agreed that the position is one that calls for careful handling, and no one outside a few extreme partisans attempts to blame the Government for the situation that has developed. The Ministry, so far as has been possible, has practiced economy. It has kept down expenditure on militia and on the navy, reduced capital outlay by many millions and turned off expenditure taps in various other directions. What growth of liability there has been, and it is serious enough, is almost wholly traceable to the war, to our enormous national debt, to pensions, to re-establishment plans, and to railways. For this, the Government cannot be blamed. It is expenditure which Canadians as a whole have sanctioned, expenditure which few red-blooded Canadians would care to shirk and any Government withholding the projects responsible for it would be promptly hurled from power. Nor is the railway case much different. The railway problem in Canada today is not of this Government's nor of this Parliament's making. It is a legacy of the railway intoxication of bygone years, the price we are paying for the folly of 1904. It is futile of course, to speculate on what might have been, but surveying the present situation it is difficult not to regret that the advice of Sir Robert Borden on transportation in 1904 was rejected by Parliament. Sir Robert, with a vision far ahead of his time, realized that Canada was being over-railwayed. He perceived that the Dominion's development had not reached the stage where three transcontinentals were necessary; and as a substitute policy for Sir Wilfrid Laurier's scheme of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the National Transcontinental, he proposed that the Intercolonial Railway should be linked up with the Canada Atlantic and Parry Sound roads to form part of a transcontinental line to the Pacific coast. It was sensible advice, but it was not heeded. Sir Wilfrid's eloquent talk about the twentieth century being Canada's century and his "pray God it may not be too late" speeches carried the day, the country sanctioned his policies with overwhelming voice, and the National Transcontinental from Winnipeg to Moncton, a road running through a wilderness, was built. That was the genesis of Canada's railway trouble. A country with eight million people found itself saddled with 53,000 miles of railway, with a multiplication of through roads and the consequent maintenance of needless transportation facilities. The result was inevitable; but it was hastened by a period of depression, by the great war; and a situation developed by which the country had no choice but to take over the railways to save transportation from chaos. Then, to make the problem more difficult, came the totally unforeseen and enormous increases in wages. In 1910 the total annual payment in salaries and wages to railway employees was $67,167,000; in 1914, $111,762,000; in 1918, $158,000,000; and in 1919, $208,000,000. For 1920 the total was probably $250,000,000 in 1910 the ratio of salaries and wages to gross earnings was 38.61 per cent. and in 1919, 54.56 per cent. Today, according to official statistics few railway employees receive less than $1,000 a year, while for the great bulk of the workers the annual earnings run from $8,000 to $3,000. These awards originating in the United States, explain such remarkable increases. In order to avert a strike on the American roads, Congress, under pressure from President Wilson enacted the Adamson law establishing an eight hour day materially increasing wages. This was followed by a second increase while Mr. McAdoo administered the American railways, and by a third award seven months ago which gave a further advance of 21 per cent. or a total increase in wages of $625,000,000 to the employees of American railways.

The Railway Brotherhoods are international organizations, one eighth per cent of whose members are employed in Canada, but not unnaturally perhaps, they insisted that the concessions secured through Washington for American railway workers should apply to the railways of Canada. The result was that, as compared with pre-war scales, wage increases on Canadian railways represent something like 150 millions a year. Then on top of this, came an increase in the cost of supplies. They were increased with which passenger and freight rates could not keep pace; and the consequence is, and was bound to be, deficits.

Such, in brief compass, is the railway problem. It is a problem, the solution of which will not be found in the grotesque proposal of Mr. Crerar to tear up our railway tracks, nor in the mere partisan criticism that aims at nothing but political advantage. It will be found rather in the facing of realities, in the reduction of operating costs, something which can be achieved by co-ordinating fortuitous lines and by bringing wages back to normal. This, there is reason to believe, is the policy of the operators of the roads.

Apart from the railway and financial problem, the past week produced little of importance. Awaiting the Budget members are indulging mostly in academic debates. The Budget is expected about the middle of April.

Raspberry Plants Have Many Diseases

Raspberry plants are subject to a great many diseases, some of which are very destructive and cause much loss to the grower, and unfortunately, most of them do not respond to remedial or control measures.

In such a short article as this, it would not be possible to describe the symptoms and causes of each of these diseases in detail; reference to them can only be made in a general way. A very complete description of them will be found in the bulletin on "Bush Fruits and their Cultivation in Canada", which may be obtained by application to the Publications Branch, Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

With the exception of the Crown Gall and the Yellows or Leaf Curl, these diseases are all caused by fungi. In Crown Gall, a bacterium is responsible for the knobby swellings on the roots and lower part of the stem, causing the plants to become yellow and sickly and very much reducing the yield of fruit. There is not much that the grower can do to control this disease, except examine young plants prior to setting them out, discarding any which show the knot-like swellings on the roots or stem. The cause of the Leaf Curl or Yellows is unknown. It has proved very destructive to certain varieties, such as the Cuthbert in some localities. There is no means of control known for this disease, and all the grower can do is to plant varieties known to be resistant in his locality.

Spraying or dusting for any of the Raspberry diseases has not yet been demonstrated to be of sufficient economic value to be recommended. The fungus diseases the Cane Blight, Anthracnose, Spur Blight, and Orange Rust are of fairly common occurrence and at times very destructive, but in no case is there any definite treatment, the removal and burning of infected plants, or the changing of the location of the plantation being the only precautionary measures to recommend. It is good practice to change the plantation about every 5 or 6 years, because this not only prevents diseases from becoming established, but land becomes impoverished in the food requirements of the Raspberry plant in an old plantation. After the crop has been harvested, the canes which have borne fruit that season should be carefully pruned out and burned. By so doing the plantation will be rid of much material which would harbour diseases.

Lower Your Coal Bills

With 'HECLA' PIPELESS FURNACE

It will cost you less for coal to heat your whole house with this furnace than it will to try and heat it with stoves.

It will cost you less for coal with a "Hecla" Pipeless than with any other heating system!

The "Hecla" Firepot has three times the heat radiating surface of any other furnace because it is ribbed with flanges of steel. For that reason it gives quicker heat—and more heat.

Owners say that this exclusive "Hecla" feature applied to pipeless heating means wonderful fuel economy.

At today's price of coal you do not need to save many tons to pay for a "Hecla" Pipeless.

Patented Fused Joints are another superiority of the "Hecla" Pipeless. They are proof against leaks of gas and dust.

And in the "Hecla" Pipeless you get an extra big waterpan—that runs all around the furnace. Thus, every room in the house is supplied with air that contains a healthful degree of moisture.

It takes but a day to install a "Hecla" Pipeless. Our booklet "Buying Winter Comfort" describes all the other advantages fully—tells why it keeps the cellar cool for vegetables, why it heats every room properly, why we guarantee it absolutely. Write for it now. There's lots of zero weather ahead. Why not enjoy the comfort a "Hecla" Pipeless gives, and begin saving your coal bills now—this winter.

SINGING IN THE SCHOOLS

Music is a language. When Tennyson exclaimed,—"I would that my tongue could utter, The thoughts that arise in me,"—he voiced what he felt to be the limitation of words.

Words express thought, but melody and harmony express feeling. Thoughts may be good or bad, but the emotions caused by music are always good. Some times so-called music causes us moments of agony, but that is because it is not real music. Of all the refining influences at a teacher's command song is the one most available, the one that will give most pleasure.

So many teachers make the mistake of thinking that silly rhymes set to equally silly tunes are the only songs suitable for children. No wonder our musical standard in Canada is low! Consider the contents of almost any of our prescribed school song books and we wonder that a shred of musical taste is left in a people whose musical education has been obtained through such a medium.

It is a mistake to think that songs moderately difficult are unsuitable for school use. Children have flexible voices and with a little intelligent instruction, they can use them with good effect.

Patriotic songs are always most desirable provided they are good ones. There are many that stand out prominently as such. "O Canada," written by the French Canadian composer Lavallee, is as good as any in existence. We sometimes make the mistake of singing it too slowly, but this applies to all songs sung in school—and usually elsewhere.

Then there are "Rule Britannia," "The Star Spangled Banner," and "The Marseillaise." Is there any reason why we should not sing the beautiful patriotic songs of our Allies?

I once heard a lot of school children sing that wonderful chorus, "The Heavens are Telling," from Hayden's "Creation." It was arranged in two parts, the altos and the older boys taking one part and the sopranos the other. The ages of the singers ranged from seven to seventeen. The work was given with an artistic finish which might profitably be emulated by many trained adult choirs.

In the same school Hubert Bath's difficult Scottish rhapsody, "The Wedding of Shoon McLean," was also given.

Some songs not too difficult for any school are, "The Veteran's Song," by Stephen Adams; "Death of Nelson," by Graham; "Larboard Watch," by Williams; "Killarney," by Balfe, and the Scottish songs, "The Standard on the Braes O'Mar"; "Where has Scotland found her Fame?" and "The McGregor's Gathering."

Too much should not be attempted. Half a dozen good songs, such as have been named, are enough for a year's work.

Do not fear that the pupils will tire because they do not learn a new one every week. This would happen in the case of "rags" but not with songs of this class.

It must be remembered that music is the only subject that extends beyond the schoolroom. If one member of the family comes in contact with its influence, every member of that family gets some benefit from it. Many of the pupils receive no musical education save that which is given in the schools, and it is therefore important that such instruction should be neither puerile nor vulgar.

The English evidently appreciate the value of good music in educating the child, for we have Sir Hugh Allen, principal of the Royal College

Glad He Tried The Tonic Treatment

Through Its Use Strength and Vigor Was Restored.

To be tired after exertion is natural. Rest and food restore the body to normal after such fatigue. But to be tired all the time is a symptom of an anæmic condition that will not be corrected until the blood is built up. Such an anæmic condition is so gradual in its approach and generally so lacking in acute pains that it is often difficult to persuade the sufferer to do anything for it. But it is not a condition that corrects itself. If the blood is not enriched the trouble will increase. The nerves will be undernourished and neuralgic pains will follow. Digestive disturbances often result from thin blood, sleep is disturbed and a general breakdown may occur.

Mr. Wilson Johnson, Nineveh, N. S., says: "A few years ago my system was in a badly run down condition. My nerves seemed always on edge, and I found myself so weak that I could hardly do any work. I suffered from headaches and from pains in the back and under the shoulders, and was often so sleepless at night that when morning came I felt as tired as when I went to bed. I was taking medicines all the time, but it was doing me no good. Then I read the testimonial of a man whose condition had been similar to mine, and who strongly recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to give this medicine a fair trial, and when I had taken six boxes I felt much better. I continued taking the pills until I had taken six more boxes, and I can only say I am glad I did so, as I am now enjoying the best of health, and I advise all men who feel run down to give these pills a good trial." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

of Music, announcing that he is ready to go out and play a barrel-organ in White chapel, and he is ready to do this in order, as he says, to educate the children up to good music. He explains his attitude by stating that bad music is worse than the measles and a much serious disease. This, it appears, was the dictum of an address he delivered in London before the Incorporated Society of Musicians, but Sir Hugh would go further than merely educating the children, for, said he, that would be no good unless you educate the parents at the same time. So he would have a school which parents would be compelled to attend until they could detect one good tune out of a lot of bad ones.

And he is out with a plea to the public-spirited to start a society to send barrel-organs with good music about the streets. He finished his notable address by announcing that many of the songs one hears today make a musician feel hot and cold all over, and that it is not the pantomime and the movies that are alone to blame, for even the Churches are not free from criticism with their empty, rapid hymn tunes. And so say all of us!

NORTHUMBERLAND M. L. A. S. It has been suggested that Mr. Fowle, the farmer member of the Northumberland Independents, may finally move over with the farmer-labor group. "I know Mr. Fowle would be more at home on the other side of the House," said Mr. Fawcett, leader of the farmer-labor group, this morning, "and I have reason to believe that his colleagues would too." Mr. Fawcett admitted that he had been discussing the matter with Mr. Fowle.

"If there were cross-benchers in this house that's where I would be," frankly declared Mr. Fowle, when asked about his position by a reporter. "I am an independent and intend to continue to be one," declared John W. Vanderbeck, another of the Northumberland's independents. He admitted, however, that he expected to be asked to attend the government caucus, but did not know whether he would attend or not.

TUXIS BOYS RUN INTO UNFAIR SNAG

The following article was clipped from the Gloucester Northern Light of Bathurst under date of March 18th 1921, and deals with the game of Hockey recently played there between the Tuxis Boys of Newcastle and Bathurst. If the allegations made therein are true, the matter should be carefully looked into by the responsible parties, and a stop put to such unsportsmanlike tactics.

If untrue, then those responsible for the spreading of the report should be brought to task. The Tuxis Boy's Organization is one which aims to destroy such contemptible actions.

"Not a little dissatisfaction is being expressed about the town over the recent hockey game between the Tuxis Boys of Newcastle and Bathurst, which was won by the former by six goals to two. Newcastle came here last Friday as the guests of the local Tuxis organization, suitable arrangements were made for their entertainment, a considerable measure of their expenses was guaranteed, and a general good time was on the cards for everybody.

Yet it appears that Newcastle came here under false colors, that several of the boys on their line-up were not Tuxis Boys at all, and that they could not possibly be Tuxis Boys; also that others of them did not even belong to Newcastle, but were drafted in from Chatham in order to draw up a combination of players to beat the Tuxis Boys of Bathurst, an organization that has done a great deal during the past year to develop among the younger bluffers of the town.

What the heads of the Tuxis organization in Newcastle think about the situation it is impossible to say, but there is no gainsaying the fact that the local Tuxis Boys are disgraced and their mentors are also very much disturbed over the affair. The question of defeat or victory does not enter into the case at all, and any suggestion to that effect would be contemptible, for the Tuxis Boys of Bathurst are as much injured to defeat as they are sanguine of future success. But if it is possible for visiting combinations of Tuxis Boys to betray their hosts and their organization by playing in their line-up boys who cannot possibly qualify for membership, on account of age, residence, or other disability, then it is time the rules governing the organization were overhauled or thrown overboard altogether.

Of the game itself it is needless, in these circumstances, to say very much. Newcastle scored four times in the first period to Bathurst's once; they each scored one in the second; and Newcastle scored again in the third. In the last period Newcastle registered another goal but it was disallowed because they had seven men playing at the time. There is no suggestion made here that the seven men were on the ice at the same time "according to plan," but in view of the other unfortunate circumstances attending the absence of the Newcastle Tuxis Boys (?) in Bathurst it would be unfair to deny them the opportunity of explanation.

Spring Weather Hard On Baby

The Canadian spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is so often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or banishing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ailments of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hundreds were unable to gain admittance. The Production "Nothing but the Truth" was directed by Miss Alice Morris who is to be congratulated on the success of the play.

Mr. T. C. Creaghan made his first appearance and in the part of Mr. Van Dusen made a decided hit.

Wash Day and Backache

WASH day is the least welcome day of the week in most homes, though sweeping day is not much better. Both days are most trying on the back.

The strain of washing, ironing and sweeping frequently deranges the kidneys. The system is poisoned and backaches, rheumatism, pains in the limbs result.

Kidney action must be aroused—the liver awakened to action and the bowels regulated by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This favorite prescription of the well-known Receipt Book author will not fail you in the hour of need.

Cause of Early Old Age

The celebrated Dr. Michenoff, an authority on early old age, says that it is "caused by poison generated in the intestine." When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons bring on early old age and premature death. 15¢ 30 drops of "Seigel's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound.

The Value of Some Little Used Grasses

On several occasions, particularly through the medium of "Seasonable Hints" issued by the Experimental Farms Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, attention has been called to the usefulness of several grasses which at present are little appreciated in Canada. The grasses to which in the past particular attention has been called as valuable adjuncts to hay and pasture mixtures are Orchard Grass and Meadow Fescue. The former is considered as one of the best for dairy farms in Denmark where, as is well known, dairying has reached a height of perfection unequalled by any other country. The latter grass is also considered extremely valuable in hay and pasture mixtures wherever intensive farming is practised. Our experience is that in Canada, these two grasses would, if added to the standard and often stereotyped mixture of "Clover and Timothy", materially help to increase the value of the hay crops and of the pastures.

But besides these grasses there are several others, the introduction of which into Canadian farming would no doubt prove most beneficial provided that they are used under conditions in which they can prove their real value.

We have especially in mind the use of some grasses which, although of little importance for hay, yet are very valuable as pasture grasses, that is to say may be advantageously put in as bottom grasses in hay mixtures and pastured when the hay has been removed. Among these grasses are the Kentucky Blue grass, suitable especially for loamy soil, the Sheep's Fescue and the Red or Crowing Fescue on light land, the Red Top especially under wet conditions, and the Crested Dog's Tail under similar conditions.

In our opinion it would pay to add these grasses in small quantities to grass mixtures seeded down with the taller growing grasses primarily looked upon as hay producers. Indeed, the experience of countries where the farms are small and where consequently the highest possible returns are imperative to make farming a living proposition, strongly points to the advisability of including four or five or even more grasses in hay and pasture mixtures so as to make it the more remunerative.

How To Introduce A Rotation of Crops

First consider the approximate acreage of grain, hay, pasture and hoed crops which will be required;

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P. O. Box 123, Farnsboro, N. S.
"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance. I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back. In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-tives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since."

Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-tives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me."

next consider the quality of soil which is on the farm. Then decide what rotation would be most suitable.

The following rotations have given good results.

A four year rotation: hoed crop; grain; clover hay, timothy hay. This rotation has proved to be very satisfactory although its acreage of grain is rather too limited for most farms.

A five year rotation: hoed crop; grain; clover hay; timothy hay; grain. This rotation gives a very good proportion of the various crops it is very satisfactory.

A three year rotation: hoed crop; grain; clover hay. This rotation has a very large area of hoed crop and provides no pasture land. It is, therefore, unsuited to most farms. However, if the fertility of the soil is very poor, if additional pasture land is available, and if considerable stock are kept which will consume the hoed crops, the rotation is very satisfactory.

There are, of course, many other rotations but the above mentioned, have perhaps, the most general application. It is quite probable that portions of the farm, on account of being either too wet or too light and sandy, may have to be farmed under a separate cropping system. Under such conditions if this area is not too large it is undoubtedly more profitable to leave it undivided by fences and to reckon the entire area as one year in the new rotation. With such a system, a field of poor soil may be increased in fertility by a short rotation of crops and by larger applications of manure. A field of low wet land may be left longer in hay.

One consideration should not be overlooked. The fields should be made larger in order to reduce the cost of producing crops and to decrease the depreciation and repair of fences. The rotation should be planned so that the horses would be kept busy as much as possible throughout the year because it costs practice of changing the crops on money to have horses standing idle. While almost all farmers follow some their fields from year to year, very few have adopted a definite rotation of crops. The adoption of a suitable rotation will reduce the cost of production and will make more profit.

Germans Have Great Resources Says Briand

Paris, March 16—Premier Briand, replying to interpellations in the Chamber of Deputies regarding the London reparations conference today, said if the Allies remain firm and united, the Germans will discover that they, (the Germans) have astonishing resources, Germany had been vanquished, he declared, but, unfortunately, psychologically this was insufficiently apparent to the German people.

M. Briand told the Chamber he went to the London conference bound to maintain the reparation figures arrived at in Paris, but ready to make concessions, regarding the methods of payment.

"I frankly told our Allies there was a wall against which we were backed," he declared.

The military penalties, the Premier said, had to be effective although inexpensive. Regarding security, he asserted.

"I might say the Allied guns are trained on Essen and we control the movement of the greatest part of the Ruhr coal," Premier Briand continued. "Today it is a begging Germany, disputing foot by foot and trying to arouse the neutral countries by bought newspapers. But the day we let ourselves be persuaded and seem to abandon our efforts, then that day one will see another Germany, one all ready to attempt in the economic domain the imperialist conquests she failed to achieve in the military domain."

Great Britain And U. S. Can Control The Sea

London, March 16—Baron Lee, of Farham, first Lord of the Admiralty, discussing naval matters at a meeting of naval architects here today referred to the question of disarmament. He said the only question was who would initiate the discussion but on this point the British Government would not stand on ceremony. The Government, he declared, welcomed the hint thrown out by President Harding in his inaugural address and that it would meet with cordial and helpful response here.

"I can only say," Baron Lee added, "that if an invitation comes from Washington I am prepared to put aside all other business in order to take part in a business that which there can be nothing more pressing in the affairs of this world."

Baron Lee said he had agreed with Mr. Denby, the United States Secretary of the Navy, that Great Britain and the United States could control the seas.

"But," he added, "the question is whether we have the right of the direction with regard to our navies when consulting each other. In that respect I think this Government has a clear record. In the present estimates we have set an example of reduction and taken risks and are prepared to go far in a mutual agreement."

"It is not enough to talk about blood being thicker than water. What we want is the plain horse sense characteristic of both countries. From my long knowledge of the United States I have a profound belief in the business of talking and appealing to the square deal. I hold strongly that we are not engaged in a game of bluff but that we ought to lay all our cards on the table."

New Brunswicker Appointed Judge

Ottawa, March 15—Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon, has been appointed to the vacancy in the bench of the Saskatchewan court of appeal.

Hon. William Ferdinand Alphonse Turgeon, K. C., B. A., was born on June 3, 1877, near Bethune, N. B. the son of Onesiphore Turgeon, the present Liberal member of parliament for Gloucester county. His mother before marriage was Miss Baldwin, an English Canadian. He was educated in New York city and at Laval University, Montreal. He studied law and took up practice in Saskatchewan about twenty years ago, residing at Regina. He rose rapidly in his profession and entered politics. On September 24, 1907, he was appointed attorney-general of Saskatchewan, and was elected the following month a member of the legislature for Prince Albert, but in the general election on August 14, 1908, was defeated in Prince Albert. He was elected, however, on the same day for Duke Lake. In the general election of 1912 he was elected for Humboldt and was again returned for the same district in 1917. He is a liberal and a Roman Catholic. In 1901 he was married to Miss Gertrude Boudreau, daughter of Jerome Boudreau of Petit Rocher, Gloucester county, this province, and has several children.

Crippled Transport Reaches New York

New York, Mar. 16—The United States transport Madawaska, which was badly damaged last night in a collision with the cargo ship Invincible, 29 miles north east of Atlantic City, arrived here tonight and docked at the army pier in Hoboken. The Madawaska was accompanied by a tug and a coast guard cutter. The Invincible, bound for Norfolk in ballast, when the accident took place, also returned here to undergo minor repairs.

Big Hole in Side

A large hole in Number 1 hold beneath the water line of the Madawaska and damage to scores of steel plates will necessitate her being laid up for repairs in the Brooklyn navy yard for several weeks. The transport left Manila, on January 11, picking up forty-six passengers, including twelve soldiers at San Francisco and ports in the Panama canal zone. Both passengers and crew escaped injury.

The Circus Lion

The following is one of the favorite stories of the late Andrew Carnegie:—"The circus visited the village, and there was an Irishman, Pat, who was very anxious to go. But he did not have the necessary 50 cents. Early in the morning he turned up at the grounds and offered to do any kind of work—help pitch the tent, feed the animals, anything, if they would only let him in. The manager said, 'I'm sorry, Pat, but we've got all the help we need. But I'll tell you; the lion died last night, and what's a circus without a lion? We've kept his pelt and if you'll get into it and simply crawl into the cage and lie down over in the corner a couple of hours—asleep you know—I'll give you two dollars in when suddenly Pat saw a great Bengal tiger glowering at him from the further end of the cage. He leaped back with a agility he had not shown for years. The proprietor gave him another shove. MEMORIALS UNVEILED

IN BLACKVILLE CHURCH

A very interesting service was held for the Parish Church at Blackville, N. B. Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock. After shortened evensong had been said by the Rector Rev. H. T. Montgomery, Archdeacon Forsythe unveiled an Honor Roll bearing the names of young men from Blackville who did service in the Great War. The Archdeacon then dedicated a very handsome Alms basin and offering plates given in memory of Theophilus Ellery Underhill who fell on the battle-field in France. The unveiling and dedication were accompanied by appropriate prayers and the Archdeacon addressed the congregation who were deeply interested in the whole service which was admirably adapted to the occasion.

GAY SCENE CHANGES

TO FEAR AND HORROR
It was a gay scene, that, in the flag festooned saloon of the good ship Lady Jermyn, homeward bound from Australia with a cargo of gold. The room was packed with people, cabin passengers sitting, members of the crew and steerage passengers crowding together at one end.

On an improvised platform some of the talented passengers were giving a ship's concert and entertainment—singing, dancing, recitations—to the delight and amusement of the others. A group of little boys and girls dressed in their best were in the audience.

The concert broke up with a jovial uproar, and the passengers went to their cabins without a care or a fear. It came, therefore, as an inhuman shock—the pounding on the doors and the dread cry: "Fire! Fire! Fire!"

What follows forms one of the most realistic pictures of human panic and despair and brutality and heroism and love that has ever been depicted on the screen. It is the big spectacular scene of "Dead Men Tell No Tales," the Vitagraph-Tom Terriss Special production which will be shown at the Happy Hour theatre on Thursday.

The contrast between the concert scene and the horror which follows it is the most gripping and dramatic which has yet been shown on the screen. It is just one example of the tense, vivid quality which makes this production absorbing and fascinating beyond all its predecessors in the field of adventure films.

Settings and action have been selected and keyed in such a way by Tom Terriss, the director, as to get the last ounce of beauty and reality out of the story. There is no need to set forth the virtues of the plot. All that is necessary is to know that it is from the pen of E. W. Hornung, famous author of "Raffles" and other crime and adventure tales, and that it has been edited for the screen by Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chesler.
