> (To be continued) PAYING UP.

would," she told herself.

The first day of the month arrives, as scheduled by the almanac, and then, to save the merchants' lives, I toddle up the street and back. Escorted by the village band, I climb up Main streets asphalt hills, and with my checkbook in my hand I pay up all my monthly bills. It's good to see the grocer's face when I arrive, with checks on tap; it's good to see the glad smiles chase themselves around his haggard map. And from the butcher's furrowed brow the shades of trouble flee away, when I would pay him for the cow I bought in fragments, day by day. The weary baker seems quite gay, and heaves no more his heartsick sighs, when I invade his mart and say, "I'll pay you for those concrete pies." Oh, many books have told us how to make the world a brighter place, to speed the optimistic plow, and light up every mourning face. And doubtless all such schemes are fine, and Pollyannas cut much grass; but I contend this scheme of mine will all the other schemes surpass. I might invade the merchant's store and say a lot of sunny things, and he would rate me as a bore, and throw a score of bricks and things. His heart is sick with grievous woes, his trade is slack, he's needing cash; and sunshine words and spiels like those appear to him as tawdry trash. Bu when I come and say, "By heck! Produce your bill-I'll pay it now," he romptly falls upon my neck, and plants a kiss upon my brow.

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON.

it is probably a presumption tempt to criticise in any way what is undoubtedly the children's season, but the desire to do so is irresistible. Christmas a week of work before the Grand Finale to what has been a most eventful year, probably the most eventful of our Island history. Christmas as depicted by the Yule Log and other reminders of the manner in which our ancestors celebrated it, seems to be no longer with us. The spirit of the times is changing and even Christmas could not, to some extent, escape modernization. This is as true as it is unfortunate. This past Christmas would be evidence enough with the above "Anglican" letter. and of this to even the casual ob- accepting Rev. Just as predicted, this issue had a sharp recovery from 80 cents ten days ago to 88 cents on Wednesday last. Then it moved quickly to 90 cents, at which price many 80-cent buyers sold, but the stock kept advancing until it touched $1.12.

Fishermen! Here's the Boot for You-"Excel"!

The Fishermen's Friend All fishermen know from experience what happens to ordinary boots when used in fishing. You've seen now salt water seems to take the life out of rubber and how the uppers crack and the soles wear through in a surprisingly short time.

The "EXCEL" is a different and better kind of boot. It has been made especially to stand up under the unusually hard use a fisherman's boot gets. The rubber and fabric in "EXCEL" boots are of the very highest quality. But it is the special method of curing, under tremendous pressure, that makes the "EXCEL" so wear-resisting. The pressure forces the layers of rubber and fabric together so that they are actually "one-piece", without losing the least bit of the life or resiliency of the rubber. Salt water has practi-cally no effect on "EXCEL" boots. The UPPERS remain pliable and weatherproof, and resist the dryingout action of sun, heat and extreme cold far longer than other boots. Consequently they don't crack anywhere near so quickly. The SOLES are almost wearproof, because they are made like an Auto Tire, with 8 plies of rubber and fabric welded by tremendous pressure into a "tire-tread" sole that rivals an automobile tire for toughness and durability.

These are exclusive features of "EXCEL" boots. The picture, at the right, of an "EXCEL" boot cut apart, with every detail of construction visible, shows how "EXCEL" boots are reinforced at every point of strain. There is not a single feature but what has been proved necessary and desirable by tests of sever-est use. Your own experience will tell you that a boot with these features simply must be a better boot.

Study this picture. Learn these features. Remember them when you compare "EXCEL" boots with ordinary boots. And remember, too, that very important point which the picture cannot show, namely, that "EXCEL" boots are cured under tremendous pressurg. which leaves the rubber pliable, weatherproof and wear-resisting. It is only by the use of this tremendous pressure combined with highest quality materials that the best results are obtained.

"EXCEL" Boots are sold by all reliable dealers from Coast to Coast.

ASK to see our Rid-Jid Ironing Tables. See how efficiently they work—how easily they open and fold up—how light they are to handle and, best of all, how perfectly balanced and absolutely steady they are while ironing. The Rid-Jid lives up to its name—it neither bends, wabbles nor creeps. You can sit on the end and it won't even tilt, much less give way.

Just come in and look at it. We know you'll be delighted.

WHY EDISON RE-CREATIONS ARE SUPERIOR.

2. Economy.-More music is recorded on an Edison 10 inch Re-Creation than on a 12 inch "talking machine" record. While the prices of Edison Re-Creations are necessarily higher than the prices of "talking machine" records because of the more intricate technique employed, this is more than offset by recording of the larger compositions without excisions.
