KING IS A GOOD SHOT, RECORD STANDS HIGH

His Nearest Rival was King Carlos of Portugal

London, Sept. 3.—(By Mail)—It is customary to speak of the king shooting over his moors at Balmoral. This is entirely misleading and opens up some curious points of court history. There is the Ballochbuie deer forest, a wonderful stretch of wooded ground, wherein the prince consorted found some grand sport with the deer, and a spot sacred to royal romance—for it was in Ballochbuie that the Duke of Hesse proposed to the daughter of the Princess Alice, and where, too, the lamented Duke of Clarence passed many enchanted hours with our present queen when she was Princess May.

Near the lovely Loch Nagar there are a few acres of moor, and it was a ritual in the days of Queen Victoria that the royal keepers went out at day break on the twelfth, and shot a few grouse. But the noble expanse of moors where the king and his guests shoot ever is leased from the Farquharson of Invercauld; they are divided into Gairnside and Micras, the latter stretching right up to castle domain. This leasing has been in force ever since the late queen had the original Balmoral practically rebuilt.

The question of renewal was considered in view of the economy campaign now in full force in the royal household, but it was felt that it would be a sad break in Balmoral traditions if these moors were given up. The fame of King George as a shot stands very high. Indeed it is safe to say that among European monarchs in the day when there were more crowned heads than now his prowess was unrivalled. His nearest rival was King Carlos of Portugal, and I do not think the following anecdote has been in print before. I had it from an old retainer of Balmoral who is now pensioned off. The last time Carlos was in the Highlands he was the guest of King Edward at Balmoral. A party of guns were out on the heather and the old gillie was in attendance. Carlos made a bet with his late majesty that he would beat the Prince of Wales (our present king) at grouse shooting. The wager was for £10, and the Portuguese monarch lost. He shot six birds that traveled down the line, while the prince bagged eight—a feat that has never been beaten since. The King of Portugal was rather a bad loser and was annoyed at his defeat. The deadly accuracy of King George with the gun testified to his physical fitness.

RARE STAMPS FORGED BY FRENCH ENGRAVER

Clever Artist Swindles Collectors Out of 3,000,000 Francs Before Paris Police Catch Him.

Paris, Sept. 19.—A most ingenious swindle, taking the form of forgery of valuable postage stamps, has been discovered by the Paris police, who arrested its alleged author. A young engraver, whose name is given as Alfred Baguet and is said to be an artist of considerable talent, realising the danger of speedy detection of forged banknotes, decided to employ his exceptional ability in imitating rare postage stamps for which collectors pay very high prices. Having obtained paper exactly corresponding to that used in the various issues chosen for reproduction, he built a special press and engraved plates which are said to be regular masterpieces.

Next, the engraver obtained lists of names of prominent collectors in various countries of Europe and America and entered into communication with them under the pretext that he was a collector of stamps and wished to exchange or sell certain rare examples. On various occasions those buying from the engraver, being great experts, subsequently discovered that the stamps delivered were forgeries, but the clever criminal in these cases unhesitatingly agreed, saying he had been deceived himself, and returned the money and thus avoided trouble.

Encouraged by success, however, he secretly overstepped the mark, for a series of complaints to the Paris police finally led to an investigation and his arrest. The stamp on which the forger actually was tripped up was an English issue engraved in 1840 by Rowland Hill. According to the police report, the forger's profits amount to more than $300,000 francs, while forged stamps of the face value of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 francs were found, together with his printing press.

RUSSIAN FAMINE FIGURES.

Dr. Gran Puts Stricken at 35,000,000—America's Greatest Aid.

Dr. M. M. Gran of Petrograd, speaking at the Pasteur Institute of Paris recently, gave a vivid account of famine conditions in Russia, writes the Paris correspondent of The Journal of the American Medical Association. Dr. Gran has been sent out by the Pan-Russian Medical Union to make known to the medical profession in Europe and the United States the gravity of the sanitary situation created by the famine, which presents certain serious dangers for the countries of Western Europe. According to Dr. Gran, the number of persons suffering from the famine amounts to 35,000,000 of the population, while the number of persons being aided by foreign governments and charitable organizations (for the most part American) is only from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000.

FIND AUTO DRIVERS LAX AT CROSSINGS

Half of 306,306 Automobilists Did Not "Look Out for the Cars." Test Shows.—Many Cross at High Speed.

The Association of Railway Executives has published figures giving the results of their "check-up" of an investigation made at 800 prominent grade crossings on the larger railroads in the U. S. to test the public's interest in a "careful crossing campaign" which was carried on during the summer months.

The check-up showed that more than 50 per cent. of the motorists using the grade crossings failed to stop to observe whether trains were approaching in either direction.

At the crossings in question a surprise test was made on July 15 and 16 last. This showed that of a total of 306,306 automobiles that passed over the crossings, the drivers of 164,097 apparently made no observations whatever while approaching or passing over the same.

The fact, however, was also developed that only 26,443 of the observed automobiles passed over the crossing at a higher rate of estimated speed than twenty miles an hour.

It is proposed, according to the association, to conduct another surprise test on the same basis probably at the same crossings. Hope is expressed that as a result of the publicity given to the "careful crossing campaign," progress will be noted.

"There is still much to be done to impress drivers with their obligation to approach and cross over railroad tracks with great care," according to railroad executives, "particularly when it is remembered that practically all automobiles contain innocent potential victims if carelessness follows."

NEW YORK HAS A WILD NIGHT OF STRAW HAT RIOTS

Gangs of Young Hoodlums With Spiked Sticks Terrorize Whole Blocks—Victims Run the Gauntlet.

(New York Times) Gangs of young hoodlums ran riot in various parts of the city last night, smashing unreasonably straw hats and trampling them in the street. In some cases, mobs of hundreds of boys and young men terrorized whole blocks, complaints poured in upon the police from men whose hats were stolen and destroyed.

One complaint was made of a gang swarming on an open street car and attacking the passengers to get their hats. A man who said he was E. J. Jones, a promoter of 70 West Ninety-third street, telephoned to The Times that this happened when he was riding uptown on an Amsterdam avenue car between 185th and 190th street about last night.

He said the car was attacked by a group of boys who later disappeared in a mob of hats along Amsterdam avenue. Jones said he complained at the West 192nd street station and the mob was dispersed. The police were kept busy trying to protect people on Third, Lexington and Park avenues, between 102nd and 120th streets. Even plain clothes policemen King and Lamour of Inspector Sweeney's staff were walking down Third avenue when ten or twelve boys armed with sticks dashed out of doorways with sticks dashed out of doorways.

WOMAN FIGHTS DETECTIVE

Alleged Shoplifter Wins Sympathy From Uncomprehending Crowd.

New York, Sept. 19.—A well-dressed woman, accused of shoplifting and caught trying to escape, fought a detective amid a crowd at Fifth avenue and Forty-third street before she would submit to arrest.

She gave her name as Lillian Kelly, twenty-nine, and begged detectives not to make further inquiries, saying knowledge of her act would break the hearts of her parents. She said she was a widow and mother of a five-year-old boy.

At the West Forty-seventh street police station she refused to let the detectives take her fingerprints. The woman entered the store of Sulka & Company, 520 Fifth avenue, and asked to see some neckties. A clerk turned her back for a moment. When he again looked her way she expressed dissatisfaction and left. Under her cape, the police say, she had a whole rackful of ties, valued at $240.

Store Detective William Fitzgerald caught her by the arm as she was entering a taxicab. The passing crowd at first thought the detective was beating the woman, but he hauled her back into the store several men threatened him, demanding an explanation of his actions. The woman was charged with grand larceny.

DIES IN SWIMMER'S ARMS

Washington Youth Almost Saved by 14-Year-Old Boy.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Sept. 19.—Richard H. Lane, Jr., of Washington, D. C., nineteen years old, died in the water in the arms of a friend after a small catboat in which he had been sailing with two friends had capsized and sunk off Oak Bluffs. Death came to the youth when rescue was at hand and after he had been kept afloat for three-quarters of an hour by the efforts of his friend, Warwick Boxall, fourteen years old, of No. 985 Charles River Road, Cambridge, Mass.

The third person in the boat was Miss Josephine Garrett of New York city, who has been staying at Edgartown. Boxall said he was taking in a reef, with Lane at the tiller, when the sail jibed and the boat capsized and sank. "I went to Miss Garrett's assistance and held her up," he said. "She swam very well and made for the shore. I then went to Lane's assistance. He did poorly, and soon gave out. I supported him, keeping him afloat as I made for the shore. I kept him up about three-quarters of an hour, and saw a boat coming toward us. About five minutes before the boat reached us Lane turned blue, blood came from his nose and he died in my arms there in the water."

Lane's father is an official of the Southern Railroad. An aunt, Mrs. Frank H. Lovell, Jr., lives at Madison, N. J.

FRIEND FOR WIFER OF "GOD HELP THE POOR"

A Prominent New Yorker Will Give $20 If She Is a Fit Custodian For Baby She Abandoned.

New York, Sept. 19.—From several sources there reached Bellevue Hospital inquiries about an expression of interest in the two-day-old girl baby found on Wednesday night on the roof of an apartment house near Riverside Drive, the sole clue to the child's identity being in a scribbled note attached to her white sash reading: "Baby was privately baptized. God help the poor."

From a prominent New Yorker who read of this case there came to The Times yesterday this letter and offer of financial assistance to the mother: "Sometimes a woman in desperate need, with a breaking heart, abandons her child. There is some language on the slip of paper left with his baby which suggests that it may relate to such a case. Of course, there are many possibilities that it does not. If you can think of a way through advertisement in your paper of learning the facts of this case I should be glad to contribute $200 if the mother can be found, and being found is ascertained to be a fit custodian for the child."

No news due to the mother's identity has yet been obtained.

LAUGHING THUGS GET $200

Tell Joke to Delicatessen Owner, Then Rob His Cash Register.

Police of New York are searching for the latest in hold-up men, the "laughing thugs" as they are called at headquarters, although their laughter is admittedly one-sided. They held up the delicatessen store of Max Gold at Amsterdam avenue and 102d street. Fifty shots were fired in an effort to catch the two men, but they escaped in a taxicab.

They went in to the store and one of them told the other a joke which set the second of the two holding his sides with laughter. The contagion of mirth swept Gold and his clerk, Harry Krechman, into equally convulsive laughing. One of the hold-up men pressed a pistol against Gold's ribs and told him to open the cash register.

Patrolman Brennan of the West 100th street station, who was on sick leave, chanced to pass the store at the moment and saw the glint of the pistol.

NIECE OF TOLSTOI SEEKS COUSIN IN U. S.

Reporter Directs Beautiful Refugee to Residence of Famous Writer's Son.

New York, Sept. 19.—The role of fairy godmother fell to a reporter when a beautiful young woman, calling herself Countess Anna Zarnekau, came to ask help in finding her cousin and childhood friend, Count Ilya Tolstoi, son of the famous Russian writer, who now lives in retirement, near Stamford, Conn.

The Countess, whose identity as a member of one of the oldest and most popular families of Russia was vouched for by Vladimir Roumizstrow, president of the Russian Aid Society, has been living in a Staten Island boarding house several weeks. Her husband was shot before her eyes by the Bolsheviks. She escaped from Russia by sleigh across the White Sea to Finland. Afterwards she lived in Paris with friends.

"I want very much to see Count Tolstoi," she said. "He is my first cousin through my father's family, and was my childhood playmate. Jasnyaya Poliana, the estate of my uncle, Count Leo Tolstoi, was only about four hours from ours. We used to take long horseback rides together. I played tennis with him when he was 82 years old."

MUST COMPLY WITH THE LAW

Several Cases in Court Today, Income Tax Returns Not Sent In.

Cases dealing with failure to make returns to the income tax inspector were before the police magistrate this morning. J. A. Barry appeared for the taxation authorities, and H. C. Wilson, accountant at the local office, was present. Two cases against Myer Budovitch were laid over until next Tuesday morning, as he is out of town. S. E. Morrell, appearing for John H. Hamilton, asked for the same concession. K. J. MacLae explained that Thomas J. Dean had gone out of town and that his car had broken down. He was granted until next Tuesday to appear. E. S. Ritchie said that J. H. Doody was out of town and his case was postponed until the same date.

F. T. Walsh did not appear, and there is a provision for his being brought to court on a warrant. In this connection Mr. Barry said that people were unaware of the indulgence granted by the department in these cases. Instead of having men arrested on a warrant and lodged in jail, as the act empowered them to do, officials had given them the opportunity of coming to court on being notified. If this was not sufficient to bring them there it was a very simple matter to have them arrested, as provided by law.

In the case of a man arrested on Saturday it might prove very awkward, as there was no provision in the act for last night's arrest. The man would therefore have to remain in jail over Sunday. It was hoped that persons would spare the department the necessity of taking this course, but the instructions were to use a firm hand in dealing with these cases. The law provided a penalty of $100 a day for every day of default. The latest instructions were that default should be charged on two days only, and that the penalty should be reduced to $25 a day, that being the minimum.

Albert J. Boyer was charged with on July 28 and July 29, 1922, failing to make return for income for 1920 as required by law. He said that he had lost his papers in a fire, and pleaded guilty. He was fined $25 and given until Tuesday to make his returns.

E. W. Hatheway, represented by G. Earle Logan, appeared and pleaded guilty. He said that the return had been filed since the summons was served. A fine of $25 was imposed, and the matter will be reconsidered on Tuesday.

Michaud, minister without portfolio, secretary, and Hon. J. P. Byrne, attorney general, treasurer. The St. John and Quebec Trust Co. was authorized by law passed at the last session of the New Brunswick legislature to act as trustees for the bondholders of the St. John and Quebec Railway Co., in place of the Prudential Trust Co., which was nominated as trustee by the government in 1912. By agreement entered into a short time ago, the Prudential handed over the trust funds which are now being handled without cost to the government.

YANKEES WIN; BROWNS BEATEN

New York Team Two and a Half Games Ahead

Babe Ruth Scores His 34th Home Run and Ken Williams His 39th—Other Features Yesterday in the Big League Contests.

(Canadian Press) New York, Sept. 20.—The New York Yankees were a notch nearer their second consecutive American League championship today as a result of defeating Ty Cobb's Tigers, 4 to 3, in the first game of the series while the St. Louis Browns, again without the services of George Sisler and showing a reaction from the effects of their losing streak with the Yankees, succumbed to Washington by the same score. The Yankees increased their lead in the race to two and a half games. They can clinch the pennant by taking seven of their remaining nine games, even if St. Louis wins all eight of its contests. Sam Jones of the Yankees, and Herman Pillette, Cobb's ace, both got off to wobbly starts, but Jones was alright after the second inning, while his rival weakened in the seventh and eighth, when New York pushed over the tying and winning run. Babe Ruth's thirty-fourth homer, a double steal by Schang and Jones and extra wallop by Pipp and Meusel, were scoring factors for the Yankees. Ken Williams of the Browns, matched Ruth's circuit clout with his 39th, putting him two ahead of Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals, and increased the probability that he will displace Babe as this year's home run king. The New York Giants, holding the seemingly impregnable lead of five and a half games, were ready to battle the second place Pittsburgh outfit in the first of a three game series today. The Pirates gained a half game in the race by trimming Philadelphia, 6 to 1, while the champions were idle. The Giants, to clinch their eighth National League title since 1900, need win but seven of their thirteen games, even if the Pirates capture all ten of theirs. Two recruit twirlers, Metevier and Winn, pitched Cleveland to a double victory over the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 4, and 8 to 2. Neither issued a base on balls. Hornsby hit safely in his thirty-third consecutive game, while St. Louis downed the Boston Braves, 8 to 4, in the only other game played in either major league.

FORESTERS QUIT POSTS FOR CHANCE TO GO TO WAR

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 20.—Foresters working in remote districts of British Columbia have been deserting their posts in the last few days to reach telegraph communications with sources of the war news. Many of the provincial foresters are returned soldiers and they wanted to get back to mobilizing centres when they heard rumors of another war. The forestry department is wiring in every direction telling their foresters to stick to their jobs until they are sure there will be a war.

AUTO GAS IN SEWER, IGNITED, HURTS BOY

Match Dropped Into Pool Causes Blast to Break and Hurl Grating — Scars Residents.

New York, Sept. 16.—Dominick Scanzano, ten years old, of 276 Floyd street, Brooklyn, was injured in a peculiar accident last night. An automobile had been standing at the curb at Third and Berline streets, and gasoline leaking from the tank had dripped into the sewer. After the car moved away, a boy dropped a lighted match into the sewer, and there was an explosion. Pieces of the sewer grating were hurled in all directions and the Scanzano boy was struck on the arm.

SEIZURE IS LAWFUL BEYOND THREE MILE LIMIT, JUDGE SAYS

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Boston, Sept. 19.—In a decision today sustaining the seizure of the British schooner Grace and Ruby, six miles off shore, Federal Judge James M. Morton ruled that rum-running ships were not immune from seizure by the mere fact that they were beyond the three-mile limit.

INTERNATIONAL POLICE CHIEF LEAGUE MOOTED

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

Police chiefs from many parts of the world are in New York this week trying to establish an international organization to aid them in the warfare against criminals. They realize that they are not properly organized, that means of communication between one city and another and particularly between one country and another are too slow and complicated. They know things about criminals which might be of the utmost importance to each other, but the means of communicating them are not adequate. They are working toward the ideal of being able to throw a single word from the wireless which will be carried to all the great centres of the world. This will be done in code which when translated will give the name, and the finger print classification of the criminal wanted and the crime of which he is suspected. The result might be that the day the criminal, having escaped from New York, landed at Berlin or London he would be arrested, and on his way back to the United States within twenty-four hours. The police chiefs, too, will try to bring about greater uniformity in extradition laws, although Commissioner Enright of New York, to whom the international conference is due, says that there is more trouble about extradition with various states of the Union than with many foreign countries.

Foreign Born Criminals

But the United States, we presume, has a far greater criminal immigration than all other countries put together. The English, the Italian and the Russian criminal finds himself at home in the United States, the first because he speaks the language and the others because have so many compatriots to prey upon. The country swarms with foreign-born criminals and anarchists. It is a matter of the greatest difficulty to keep track of them all, but when the police chiefs of the United States are organized the way the police chiefs of Great Britain and most of the European countries are organized the work will become comparatively easy. The probability is that most of the foreign-born criminals who operate in the United States had criminal records in their own countries. If these were at the disposal of the American police they would be in a better position to cope with the most dangerous element in the country.

Political Police Heads

One thing which has hitherto stood in the way of the proper organization of the police chiefs of the United States is the fact that most of the forces are headed by politicians, who are called commissioners, and who never arrested a man in their lives. Being politicians they come and go with the municipal organizations which appoint them. In the hands of these ephemeral commissioners resides the authority to speak for the forces of which they are the feeble heads. Mr. Enright himself is just such a chief, but he realizes the weakness from a police point of view of the system and the new scheme he is sponsor for may materially modify it.

FIRST SOLVE THE ECONOMIC SITUATION

Mandates Question Depends on That in View of Assembly of League of Nations.

Geneva, Sept. 20.—The assembly of the League of Nations today resumed discussion of the mandates question in an air of general listlessness. The entire interest of the delegates is absorbed in a special report by Lord Robert Cecil which declares that disarmament is dependent upon solution of the economic situation, although its claims upon the European countries are not specifically mentioned. The fact that Lord Robert refers to "inter-governmental" and not "international" war debts is taken to mean that he has the United States claims in view as well as those between the European countries. This question remains the only one of interest, since Lord Robert and the other leaders have frankly admitted they can accomplish nothing else until it is settled. A proposal by Dr. Fridtjof Nansen that the league intervene in Asia Minor was referred today by the league assembly to its political committee.

THE EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND GOING INTO DRY DOCK

Empress of Britain to Take Place on the Quebec-Hamburg Route.

Quebec, Que., Sept. 20.—The Canadian Pacific 23,000 tons steamship Empress of Scotland, Capt. J. Gillies, sailed yesterday afternoon for Southampton, Cherbourg and Hamburg, with more than 400 passengers. This is her last sailing from Quebec this season. On her return from Southampton, she will go to Liverpool drydock to be got ready for her winter cruises. The Empress of Britain will take her place, on the Quebec route to Hamburg, until the end of the present season. Passengers on the Scotland included Lady Eaton and Timothy Eaton, Toronto; and W. G. Power, president of the Quebec Harbor Commission, with Mrs. Power and party. A party of thirty members of the Association of American Ports, who arrived at Quebec as guests of the Quebec Harbor Commission, were entertained to luncheon on board the vessel. Captain Walsh, manager of the C. P. Steamships, presided.

ENGLISH BISHOP TO RESIGN

London, Sept. 20.—Right Rev. Edgar Charles Sumner Gibson, D. D., Bishop of Gloucester, is to resign at the end of this year because of poor health. He is a governor of the Charterhouse, the ancient home for aged gentlemen in this city, which was founded by Thomas Sutton in 1611. He was honorary chaplain to Queen Victoria in 1901, and was chaplain-in-ordinary to King Edward VII.

NEWS NOTES ABOUT PROMINENT BAPTISTS

(Maritime Baptist)

Rev. Dr. A. T. Kempton of Cambridge Mass., who with Mrs. Kempton and Mrs. S. B. Kempton, are visiting Wolfville, addressed the Acadia Academy Y. M. C. A. on last Wednesday evening.

REV. M. C. HIGGINS, PASTOR OF THE CLYDE AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, SYDNEY MINES, C. B., HAS RESIGNED. THE CHURCH WILL BE WITHOUT A PASTOR AT THE LATTER PART OF SEPTEMBER.

Our missionaries, Miss Martha and Dr. Zella Clark, sailed from Quebec on the S. S. Empress of Scotland on September 19 on their return to their work in India. They expect to sail from London per S. S. Morea on October 13 and arrive at Bombay about November 1. One of the pleasing incidents connected with the recent convention at Wolfville was the recital of sacred music given in the chapel of Acadia Ladies' Seminary on Sunday evening after the convention had closed, when a well-filled room listened to Miss Marie Wilson, assisted by Miss Rockwell at the piano, as they rendered a programme of rich sacred music. Miss Wilson is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Wilson, and is very gifted singer. Her rich natural gift has been highly trained so that nature and art blend in her work. The recital closed with singing two hymns in which the congregation joined.

POLAND'S POTATO CROP

Country Will Have 225,000 Carloads For Export This Year.

Reports from Poland indicate that the nation will have a surplus of 225,000 carloads of potatoes for export this year. Poland is the second largest potato producing country in Europe, and this year a very large crop will be harvested. The acre is put at approximately 5,400,000 acres of potatoes, or 83 per cent. of the pre-war area devoted to potatoes, and more than 10 per cent. in excess of last year's planting. The greatest improvement is noted in the eastern provinces, where the area devoted to potato planting this year is 133 per cent. greater than last year. It is estimated that this year the Polish potato crop will be 230,000 carloads in excess of last year's production, when 1,680,000 carloads were grown. A decided falling off in the consumption of potatoes in Poland is noted, the amount last year being only about 78 per cent. of pre-war consumption. Improvement of the population must not be construed from this fact, as it has been established that other foods—meat, eggs and dairy products—have been consumed in larger quantities than before the war. Last year only 3,000 carloads of potatoes were exported, largely due to government restrictions placed on exportations so as to insure an ample quantity for food and for seed.

C. P. R. TO CO-OPERATE

Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 20.—The C. P. R. will co-operate through its own colonization department and work in close harmony with the western Canada colonization association, according to a statement here yesterday by President E. W. Beatty. He expressed his approval of the project as outlined by the association and said that, outside of a big governmental scheme paid for by taxpayers, this, with the aid of other existing immigration agencies was the most feasible way of obtaining settlers and helping them to succeed.

Strengthen Your Business "Morale"

Soldiers know what it means when an army's "morale" is shattered.

The fighting spirit is gone, the men invite defeat.

What is true of military forces is true of some industrial armies.

At the first serious jolt their morale weakens—hope flies, courage disappears—their fighting spirit is lost.

There is no place in business today for the "calamity howler." He is drawing salary or wages under false pretences. More distressing still, he is weakening the "morale" of other workers, and of the business itself.

Strengthen your business morale.

Take stock of your men as well as your goods. Retain enthusiastic, profitable workers even at a temporary loss.

SEEK WAY TO MAKE SUNSPOT HARMLESS

Western Union Officials Now Developing System to Protect Wires from Effects—Comes in 11-Year Cycles.

New York, Sept. 20—The Western Union Telegraph Company, which was damaged to the extent of a quarter of a million dollars by a sunspot in May of last year, is now developing a system of precautions against sunspots like that of the mariner and farmer against the weather.

The sunspots show the earth with excess electric current, producing the electrical storms which now and then paralyze telegraph, cable and telephone service. Arrangements have been made with the United States Naval Observatory for a regular bulletin service on the condition of sunspots.

Sunspots occur in eleven year cycles. The present year is near the middle of the cycle, or in the period when the sunspots are fewest. Last year was a time when few sunspots were normally seen.

Why the spots disappear or sink into the interior of the sun for regular periods and then break out again for regular periods, repeating this history with some uniformity every eleven years, is one of the great mysteries about the sun.

LIBERAL RETURNED BY ACCLAMATION TO SUPPORT DUNNING

Regina, Sept. 19—Donald Alexander McNiven, Liberal candidate for Regina city, was elected by acclamation today to the Saskatchewan legislature.

While the Western Union and other companies may save a good deal of money by preparations, science may be even a greater gainer by the co-operation of the telegraph company, because the statistics which it can collect about earth currents may do much to solve the problem of the connection of the sunspots, the aurora borealis and the earth currents which interfere with wire service.

The exact connection between the three is not known. Large sunspots sometimes appear without any perceptible effect on the earth.

When they move around near the centre of the sun's disk, some of the showers of electrons which are shot into space hit the earth, which is a pinpoint target in space, if an observer could look at it from the sun. The aurora borealis filled the sky over New York and as far south as Southern California during the sunspot and earth-current trouble last year.

ENRAGED ELEPHANT HITS WOMAN AT ZOO

Khartoum, Fed Pebbles for Peanuts, Yanks Off Fence Bar and Throws it—Jealous of Petted Mate.

New York, Sept. 20.—Angered because, when he held out his trunk for peanuts, small boys gave him pebbles, the big African elephant Khartoum flew into a rage, yanked a bar of iron from the fence of his corral at the Bronx Zoo and tossed the piece of metal into the air, seriously hurting a young woman as she swung her two children out of the way.

Khartoum has been sulky because he feels neglected while his mate, Alice, parades around the grounds of the Zoo with a big hamper full of children on her back, is petted, scratched, fed and fussed over. It is against the regulations to feed the animals peanuts. This law is violated as far as Alice is concerned, but enforced strictly by the public against Khartoum. According to the keepers, this is Khartoum's own fault, because he is full of rages, furies, wraths, cholera, moods, displeasures and indignations. Khartoum has ears as big as the mainsail of a small yacht. When these began to wave those who understand elephants began to edge away from his corral. Then he threw up his trunk and trumpeted his indignation, raised a stiff breeze with his fall-broad ears and dashed for the fence. Instantly he wrapped his trunk about a cross-piece of railroad iron and jerked it out of place. Hundreds of spectators had fled at the first trumpeting. The party leading away from the elephant house was choked with disorganized caravans of baby carriages. Mrs. Josephine Glegerich, twenty-two, of 4010 Third avenue, could not escape because she had two babies—two-year old Frederick and ten-year old Leonard. The children, who had both been sitting on the ground, hopped in different directions when she tried to pick them up at the same time. Before she could seize them both and start away Khartoum wreathed loose the iron bar and flung it into the air. It struck Mrs. Glegerich in the side as it struck the ground, knocking her down and injuring her severely. She lay prone too much hurt to move, while her children, frightened but unhurt, fell on both sides of her. Khartoum was snorting, blowing a gale with his wing-like ears and ripping away at the bars of his corral when the first keeper arrived. This was Dick Richards, who served an apprenticeship with the late Gunda, the worst bad elephant on record in the New York Zoo. Running into the cage, Richards seized a long-handled pike and punched Khartoum in the side. With a grunt the elephant withdrew his trunk from the iron fence. Keeper Walter B. Richards, who chaperones Khartoum's mate, Alice, entered with another pike. The keepers jabbed Khartoum on either side, steering him toward his stall inside the elephant house. The trumpeting changed to despairing trunk tones. Khartoum entered his stall, trembling and entirely subdued. Richards ducked under Khartoum's stomach wrapped a chain around his leg, made fast to a ring in the concrete and slammed the door. Mrs. Glegerich was treated at the Zoo offices by an ambulance surgeon, but was able to go to her home, where she is under a doctor's care.

Nine Players in Fight.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 20.—The seventh game of the Central League championship was almost broken up in the sixth inning here yesterday when nine of the Ludington and local players engaged in a fight over an umpire's decision. Grand Rapids continued the game under protest and won in eleven innings, 4 to 3. The locals require one more victory to win the pennant and the right to meet the Michigan-Ontario champions in the state inter-league series.

Junior Baseball.
The executive of the Junior Baseball League of the city have decided that there will be no trophies or medals given this year on account of the unsatisfactory ending of the league. This they regard as unfortunate but as several games scheduled were not played and the various teams interested were declared not to have lived up to the rules as regards playing men of the proper age limits and it was said some of the teams used players who were not eligible. There were several protests, and as it was declared impossible to satisfy everyone the executive decided to take the course referred to.

Geological Survey Reports That San Juan Mts. May Contain Rich Deposits. E. S. Bastin of the United States Geological Survey, who was assigned to a study of the ores produced in the region around the San Juan Mountains in southwestern Colorado, has rendered a favorable report indicating that rich deposits if operations are carried far enough.

The return record of ducks of other species, banded near Toronto, have afforded valuable data relative to their migration, the report continues. The lake where the banding was done, Lake Scugog, is surrounded by marshes and thus offers excellent opportunities for the ducks to feed and rest before starting the long flight to the South.

So far we only know that some breed in that area but we do not know just where the migrating birds come from that use that route.

The district including the San Juan Mountains is one of the most interesting mining regions in the United States geologically, historically and geographically. Silverton, Telluride, Ouray, Rico and other mining towns are situated there.

Sir Henry Lucy, better known as "Toby M.P.," has published his diary notes made between 1890 and 1910, or rather judicious extracts from them. A great opportunity exists for checking heart disease mortality in later life through the discovery and relief of these children's points out the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in a statement just issued.

While cardiac disease may cause death in later life, they are often cured during childhood. The cases of New York school children, the survey has brought out that in large numbers cases there were significantly less of tonsillitis, rheumatism, diphtheria, dental disease, and St. Vitus' dance and that measles, pneumonia, whooping cough or scarlet fever present an antecedent.

The intelligent care of children who have had infection disease is therefore of primary importance. So is the prevention of heart disease. The early diagnosis of rheumatism is especially important. So is the increased practice of tonsillotomy, and so, also, is better care of the teeth.

Viewed from the standpoint of mortality alone, heart disease is a very important cause of death. Comparing the loss of life to various cardiac impairments among wage-earners, children with the so-called "children's diseases" is found that at ages of 1 to 4, heart disease causes approximately one as many deaths as scarlet fever or one-quarter as many as whooping-cough. At ages 5 to 9 these cardiac heart troubles cause more deaths than do any of the so-called children's diseases with the single exception of diphtheria.
