NORTHCLIFFE NOT GUEST AT EMBASSY

Says Curzon Has Carried the Fight to Washington.

Declares Minister is Employing Methods used in India Against Newspaper Men Who Went Against Him.

Washington, July 29.—Because "for reasons of which he is not aware," an invitation to stay at the British embassy while in Washington has been withdrawn, Lord Northcliffe, the British publisher, now visiting the U. S. is listed among the patrons of a local hotel today. Disclosure that embassy hostilities previously tendered had been barred to the British publisher, made in a statement issued by him after his arrival in Washington yesterday, and on being asked as to rumors that invitations to stop at the embassy and attend a dinner there last night had been withdrawn on instructions from London.

That Lord Northcliffe, views the incident as the outgrowth of recent editorial attacks on the royal George and Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, in the London Times, the chief Northcliffe paper, opposing the suggestion that officials represent Great Britain at the Washington disarmament conference, is left in little doubt by the publisher's statement.

"Knowing the methods in India of Lord Curzon," the statement declares, "Lord Northcliffe is pretty certain that Lord Curzon has adopted those methods here."

The editorial attacks were followed down on the privileged news rights enjoyed there by the Times for shutting out of the news supply of newspapers that criticized him and placed a social embargo on their writers. On the present occasion Lord Northcliffe says Lord Curzon is not dealing with Indian natives or the owners of small Indian newspapers.

Beyond the statement that the reported circumstances of the withdrawal of the invitation were "inaccurate" the embassy had nothing to say about it. Lord Northcliffe added in his statement that he was "astonished concerning the cancelled embassy dinner," by the fact that he will meet at a private dinner in the city on Monday.

The British Embassy was in semi-darkness last night. It was learned that the invitation to Lord Northcliffe to make his home at the British Embassy during his visit to Washington was extended by Ambassador Geddes several months ago and long before the London Times criticized Lord Curzon as an unfit person to represent Great Britain at the disarmament conference called by President Harding. As set out in Lord Northcliffe's statement, he and his friends of long standing and it was understood that the extension of hospitality in the embassy and his staff was on a purely personal footing.

MAXIMUM FEE FOR OPERATION $1,000

Physicians Attending Hospital Patients $35 a Week—Dictum of Johns Hopkins Trustees.

Baltimore, July 29.—The board of trustees of the Johns Hopkins Hospital yesterday issued the following dictum: "The maximum fee that any surgeon ought to charge for an operation, no matter how wealthy the patient may be, is $1,000. The maximum charge that any physician ought to make for attending patients in a hospital is $35 a week. The dictum takes on the force of an order to physicians and surgeons practicing in the hospital, limiting fees. The ruling was issued after long consideration of all the conditions surrounding physicians and surgeons, the cost of living, scale on which physicians and surgeons required to live, and the like. It is in many eminent scientists at the hospital concurred."

DEATH WINS IN RACE WITH AIRSHIP

Lima, Ont., July 29.—Death won in a cross continental airplane race when Timothy Spellacy aged sixty-three, a Los Angeles oil man, died here in hospital as his brother, Michael, raced eastward from Tulsa, Okla., to his bedside.

Fifteen minutes after receiving a message that the death of his brother was imminent, Spellacy had engaged an airplane and the race began. Death came yesterday before the Tulsa man reached Lima.

IN COUNTY COURT.

Before Judge Armstrong in the county court this morning hearing was resumed in the case of Kelly against McGoldrick. The case is unfinished. G. H. V. Belyea, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff and L. A. Conlon for the defendant.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY

Three harbor commission acts were passed before the St. John act was proposed.

If the government found it could not live up to the terms of any of them, why put the same terms in the St. John act? Was it because Mr. Ballantyne says that hereafter the government policy will be to call upon all the harbor commission ports to live up to those terms? But those terms applied to St. John would prevent the development the citizens desire. Defeat the act and call for a square deal.

MORE FIRES IN PROVINCE WOODS

General Situation Again is Precarious.

June was Record Month for Marriage in New Brunswick—Fredericton Men Chased by Moose on North Shore.

Fredericton, N. B., July 29.—Conditions generally are as bad as in most parts of the province. Newcastle experienced some showers yesterday and heavy rain fell at the Bald Mountain look-out. A shower fell here this morning between six and seven o'clock. Fires still continue to break out. The telephone lines are out of order.

Another blaze near Minto burned over fifty acres, but is now under control. This fire started yesterday afternoon.

A fire reported from Rockwell yesterday is now extinguished. Only one acre was burned over. Reports have not been received from two other fires reported by the department of Lands and Mines yesterday.

On Thursday afternoon a blaze was reported from Woodland on the Nashua River. Owing to a defective fuse the house of John Pond, of that place, caught fire and the flames soon spread to the two barns, both of which were destroyed. The strong wind carried burning shingles to the wood in the vicinity and started a fire there. About two acres of woodland were burned over. The fire is now extinguished.

The department of health of New Brunswick reports 987 births, 382 marriages and 382 deaths during June. The month shows the great number of marriages and a very low death rate.

J. H. Grisdale, of Ottawa, deputy minister of agriculture, and J. A. Ruddick of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commission, arrived in Fredericton Thursday afternoon on a tour of inspection of creameries and farms in the upper St. John Valley. They state that Madawaska and Victoria counties have crops superior to Carleton and Victoria counties and compare very favorably with those of Ontario and Quebec. Harvey Mitchell, deputy minister of agriculture for New Brunswick, accompanied them. Mr. Grisdale returned to Ottawa and Mr. Ruddick went to Prince Edward Island.

Leslie Wood, N. B. poultry superintendent, and J. K. McIntyre, have returned from the North Shore where they were working in the interests of poultry. They report wild game plentiful. They were chased some distance in a road by a bull moose.

LABOR MINISTER HAS CRITICISM OF SOME MERCHANTS

Says Some Manufacturers and Retail Men Cry Buy in Canada and Charge War-Time Prices.

Hamilton, Ont., July 29.—Domestic manufacturers and retail merchants who cry "Buy in Canada" and yet hold out for war-time prices for their goods, were warmly criticized by Hon. Walter Rollo, minister of labor, at a mass meeting of unemployed.

To such business he strongly commended the attitude of manufacturers and retail merchants of the United States, who had accepted their losses courageously, he said, because they believed that the sooner they did so the more quickly would industry and commerce be rehabilitated.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, July 29.—Opening. Wheat, July, $1.29; September, $1.24 1/2. Corn, July, 64 1/2; September, 60 3/4. Oats, September, 38 7/8; December, 41 3/4.

CAUTION NEEDED TO PREVENT RUPTURE

Relations of England and France Over Silesia.

General French Public Not Apprehensive But in Some Circles View is Taken That Entente Has Ceased to Exist as Originally Planned.

Paris, July 29.—The instance of both Premier Briand of France and David Lloyd George, on their divergent views as to the procedure to be adopted in settling the Upper Silesian question is being followed in political circles, with intense interest. It has not, however, caused any apprehension on the part of the general public or serious consequences foreshadowed by the pessimists a week ago.

The mere fact that the question of procedure has become the subject of cabinet deliberations in both countries is being emphasized, that, according to the meaning that both sides consider the negotiations have almost reached a deadlock and require complete direction to prevent a rupture.

The opinion being more and more freely expressed in circles not particularly pre-British is that the Entente has ceased to exist as originally planned, that British statesmen no longer, with the French, maintain the original object of the Entente is eliminated in the British mind, while divergent interests make the maintenance of such an understanding difficult.

Official circles do not encourage the idea that a rupture of the Entente would be a matter of indifference for France. They maintain optimism with respect to Franco-British relations, on whose co-operation a solution of many problems is held to depend. Lord Hardinge, however, is foreshadowed by unofficial political critics.

Paris, July 29.—Great Britain's reply to the latest French note on the Upper Silesian question was delivered at the foreign office this morning by Lord Hardinge, British ambassador in Paris. The cabinet will meet at 3:30 o'clock to consider the British reply.

The British Note. London, July 29.—Great Britain's note to France regarding the Silesian problem refutes the allegation that Great Britain is not in agreement with the French and was thereby strengthening the German attitude. Officials describe the note as a friendly character, in marked contrast to the attitude displayed in the French note to which it is a reply. The note is a declaration, it is still anxious to consider any means by which the French can be met, but it is not prepared to accept the terms of the French note, which is described as "the extraordinary action on the part of France" in endeavoring to act independently of the supreme council in insisting upon the immediate despatch of troops. It points out that this is an impossible basis upon which to pursue any future policy together and that no good purpose will be served by further insistence upon the terms of the note. The note further expresses the view of the British government that "it is not in the interests of either country to believe" that the French note represented the considered opinion of the French government.

WORD OF CHEER FOR HILTON BELVEA

The Mayor Sends a Telegram of Encouragement—Good Weather at Course for Today's Race.

Mayor Schofield this morning sent a wire to Hilton Belvea, wishing him luck at the aquatic regatta in St. Catharines this afternoon and encouraging him to keep up the good work for the honor of St. John.

St. Catharines, Ont., July 29.—Weather is perfect for the Canadian Henley this morning, cool and windless though rain threatening. The Henley course is smooth and some of the oarsmen were out early.

Last night there was a little gathering of C. C. A. O. members at the Club, at which Mayor Lovelace welcomed the oarsmen to the city, expressing the hope that the added interest and extra efforts put forth by St. Catharines this year to provide proper accommodations for oarsmen would result in the Royal Canadian Henley becoming a permanent fixture in St. Catharines, as was the intention when the course on the Welland Canal was first chosen about a score of years ago. Mayor Church, Toronto, replied briefly.

THE JINNEYS.

A set of by-laws is now being prepared by the city covering the parking of Jinnys in the public streets. So soon as these have been put into effect, the cars will be moved from in front of the shops in King street to the regularly appointed parking place on the north side of King square. Robert Harris, who was recently appointed inspector, was today engaged in checking up the drivers of vehicles for chauffeurs' licenses, and warning those not in possession of a certificate that it must be obtained immediately from W. H. McQuade, provincial inspector of taxation.

As Hiram Sees It

Two women were seen in the street.

"Say," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "did you ever hear how they got old Pete Hicks out to the Settlement to vote for the dog law?"

"I do not believe I did," said the reporter.

"They told him," said Hiram, "that it wouldn't apply to his dog. I spoke to him here in St. John now he'd vote for harbor commission because somebody told him it didn't mean the harbor commission act."

"Very likely," said the reporter, "I am sure that there are Hicks in the city. The advocates of the commission act say so, and I suppose."

"Mebbe they don't know," said Hiram. "Mebbe they are only guessin'."

"Well," said the reporter, "we will know on Monday."

"I ain't here in St. John now he'd vote for harbor commission because somebody told him it didn't mean the harbor commission act."

LOSS MAY PROVE NEAR MILLION

Trail of the Missing Bank President Leads Towards Alabama.

Chicago, July 29.—With the trail of Warren C. Spurgin, missing president of the closed Michigan Avenue Trust Company, apparently leading to the vicinity of Mobile, Ala., and authorities predicting a speedy apprehension, attorneys and investigators today continue their delving into affairs of the defunct institution and its president.

Jas. McShane, assistant state's attorney, said that Spurgin, another man as the closed Michigan Avenue Trust Company, apparently leading to the vicinity of Mobile, Ala., and authorities predicting a speedy apprehension, attorneys and investigators today continue their delving into affairs of the defunct institution and its president.

Spurgin left Chicago on July 15, today intimated that the loss would be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. That depositors might expect to retrieve sixty-five cents on the dollar.

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA HEAR

Fear Uprising Along Yangtze-Kiang River.

Southern Government Sends Invading Troops Into Province Under Control of the Peking Government.

Peking, July 29.—Fear of a general uprising along the Yangtze-Kiang river is felt here as a result of hostilities between the provinces of Hunan and Hupeh, the former under control of the Canton or southern Chinese government, and the latter under jurisdiction of the Peking or duly constituted Chinese government.

Troops from Hunan have invaded Hupeh with the evident intention of ousting Wang Chan-Yuen, inspecting commissioner of the two provinces, whose authority, however, is not recognized by Hunan. Wang Chan-Yuen is one of the three "war lords" who met recently at Tien-Tsin, to impose their will upon the Peking government, causing a re-organization of the cabinet.

Dispatches from Canton, seat of the southern government, would seem to indicate that the invasion is prompted by Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, head of that government, and in line with his plan to establish a coalition of the Yangtze-Kiang and southwestern provinces against Peking.

Canton, July 29.—The constitutionalist government here has issued instructions to the provinces of Hunan, Sze-Chuen, Kwan-Tung, Yunnan and Szechwan to cooperate in efforts to abolish the military domination of the Yangtze-Kiang river territory by the Peking government.

Troops from Hunan and Sze-Chuen provinces are advancing for the purpose of eliminating Wang Chan-Yuen. In addition to these troops, the Canton government is sending other forces from three other directions with Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, head of the Canton government reported to be personally leading one division.

RED JELLYFISH STING BATHERS

Thousands Driven from Nantasket Beach and 150 Sent to Hospital.

Boston, July 29.—More than 150 bathers were treated in a hospital and thousands more driven from Nantasket beach and adjoining beaches yesterday when a school of red jellyfish drifted ashore and severely stung all who came in contact with the tentacles.

This species of red jellyfish is commonly known as "Stingaree" and sometimes the "Australian Stingaree," because it is commonly found in Australian waters. The tentacles exude a poisonous substance which infests the skin and causes swelling and pain.

The despised Sparrow, of the coast-guard station at Hull, said that never before in a lifetime spent on New England shores had he seen so many jellyfish. He attributes their presence to unusually hot weather. Hospital physicians at Allerton asserted that the night that none of those stung would suffer more than 12 hours.

SOME DAYS BEFORE CABINET FORMED

May be Eight in Alberta Government—Woman May be Minister of Public Health.

Winnipeg, July 29.—Premier-Elect Greenfield of Alberta is not likely to announce his cabinet for ten days or a fortnight, according to some of the members-elect of the United Farmers of Alberta who have returned to Edmonton, says a special despatch from that city to the Manitoba Free Press.

According to present indications, says the despatch, the new cabinet will consist of eight instead of seven members as at present. Mr. Greenfield is likely to take over the portfolio of municipal affairs in addition to the premiership.

Public works and labor will likely be amalgamated under Alexander Ross, Labor M. L. A. for Calgary, or Y. E. Smith, U. F. A. member for Camrose, say the correspondent of the paper.

Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney-general under the Rutherford regime in Alberta ten years ago, is understood to be under consideration for the attorney-generalship, as is John Brownlee, U. F. A. counsel in Calgary.

The despatch says that Perrin Baker of Medicine Hat seems certain of the department of education, and Mrs. Pearlby, of that of public health.

The portfolios of provincial secretary and treasurer are likely to be amalgamated. J. C. Clark, former U. F. A. member at minister of agriculture, and Geo. Hoelzer, who was spoken of as a possibility for the premiership, is now said to be the choice for speaker.

THE DOLLAR DOWN TO ELEVEN TODAY

New York, July 29.—Sterling exchange today was steady at 35 1/2, cable, 35 1/2. Canadian dollar 11 per cent discount.

ABOUT TAXATION

It is darkly hinted that if the people reject the harbor commission act taxes will go up.

What about the $175,000 to $200,000 additional burden put upon the harbor before a new dollar is spent? Do not forget that harbor revenue must provide three and a half per cent on the cost of the grain elevator and government wharves, including the marine wharf, and must also provide the increased cost of administration.

Whether you call it direct or indirect taxation there it is. How much will be left to provide interest and sinking fund of new expenditures? Think it over.

He said it was impossible to make any statement at the present time as to the probable outcome of the work of the commission.

MORE TODAY IN CASE OF "MYSTERY CAR"

Robert J. Ritchie Makes Denial of Statements at Former Hearing.

Further evidence was taken this morning in the police court in the "mystery car" case. Robert J. Ritchie, manager of the Great Eastern Garage, was the only witness examined. The defendant was represented by K. A. Wilson and W. H. Ryan appeared for Mr. Ritchie. An adjournment was made until Monday morning at 10.30. The charge against Fawcett is one of the theft of a motor car of an approximate value to the value of $65. R. J. Ritchie, examined by Sergeant-Detective John T. Power, said that he was the manager of the Great Eastern Garage. On June 16, he said there had been a car in his garage belonging to Mr. Savage. It was an Overland. That evening the car was taken from the garage by the defendant. It was towed in again the next day. Mr. Savage had floor space in the garage and had given verbal orders that Fawcett was to have permission to take the car out. To Mr. Wilson the witness said he was at the garage when the car was towed under Fawcett's control. When he rented a stall to a man to keep a car he had to take over the phone. He had not instructed Cammack to go out and get parts from the car in the Red Head road. He had told the detectives it had been there for some time. He had not seen the car until the next day. He had had no conversation with Fawcett about the car on the Red Head road and was not present during any conversation. He had had no conversation with Cammack after the Savage car was towed into the garage. He had not had a telephone conversation with Cammack and he did not recall seeing him. He had not seen the car until the next day. He had not seen the car until the next day. He had not seen the car until the next day.

START WAR ON SUNDAY SHOWS IN QUEBEC THEATRES

Quebec, July 29.—A committee of citizens complained to a recent meeting held yesterday and decided to wage war on the Sunday theatres. A sub-committee appointed to research and consult legal opinion and decided that the Lord's Day Act was very clear in this connection. The theatres operating on Sunday were not within the law. It was accordingly decided that action be taken to close the theatres that remain open on next Sunday. The members of the committee interviewed the managers of the various theatres and found that there were three that do not intend to open their doors next Sunday.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, July 29.—(10.30).—Gains of one to two points by active issues at the opening of today's stock market indicated that shorts were anticipating their customary week-end covering of contracts. General Electric, Bethlehem and American Locomotive, which were among yesterday's heaviest features, led the rally. Rails and oils were mixed, showing fractional advances and declines. Shipings, tobacco and chemicals were inclined to ease. Demand exchange and London was quoted at $2.86, but no business was reported at that figure.

NOON REPORT.

Shipments were under pressure during the morning. Mercantile Marine preferred declined more than four points, and United Fruit added 1 1/2 points to yesterday's setback. Rails showed increasing irregularity. Northern Pacific and Nashville lost that amount. Equipments of the better grade were firm but Crucible Steel was heavy and copper reacted on the lower prices quoted for the refined product. Oils were dull, foreign as well as domestic issues moving within very narrow limits. Call money opened and renewed into next week at 4 1/2 per cent.

WOLVONDA POUNDS ON N. S. COAST

Coal-Laden Vessel Ashore Near Neil's Harbor. Disaster Attributed to Smoke from the Forest Fires—Thought She Can Not be Freed From Rocks.

Neil's Harbor, N. S., July 29.—At 2.15 this morning, the steamer Volvonda, 1,038 tons, Captain James Meilke, went ashore on Neil's Harbor Point, while bound from Sydney to Montreal, with 2,600 tons of coal, and is expected to be a total loss. The Volvonda, owned by the Maritime Steamship Company, was constructed at the company's yards at East River, Pictou, went ashore only about 150 yards from the shore. It is assumed that the vessel could not rise the light because of smoke from forest fires raging through the Neil's Harbor district.

The Volvonda was launched only a year ago. The steamer is now pounding on the rocks, and while she is not expected to go to pieces, her position is such that it is thought that it will be impossible to pull her off.

She struck at high tide, thus minimizing her chance of being refloated. It is thought that all the crew reached shore safely as the ship is only a short distance from the shore. The vessel was being towed into the boiler room.

The steamer Volvonda is well known among shipping men in St. John. She last visited this port on July 1. There are no St. John men among the crew, but a good many of them have made friends while in port here. Meilke is particularly well known, as he has been master of Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company boats for many years. His home is in Pictou, N. S.

TONIGHT'S MEETING

There is to be a final public meeting this evening to discuss the harbor commission act. Let nobody be deceived into thinking that the issue is the bill relating to a plebiscite which was framed by the city solicitor and passed in Frederickton.

Nor will the people be wise if they permit any defender of the act to read into it the exact opposite of what it says. That may be a pleasant pastime for leaders of a bad cause, but it ought not to overcome the sane judgment of the people.

As a matter of fact, the whole issue has been set before the people by the publication of the harbor commission act. That act can only be changed by parliament. Its terms cannot be varied by the city council or by the government.

LET US ALL BE SURE The Globe says that "Mayor Schofield has made a very definite announcement of his position, declaring that he will not sign any conveyance that does not protect the city's rights, according to his interpretation of the commission act."

But why is it necessary for the mayor or anybody else to make such a promise? Why is the issue not made so clear that there could be no ifs about it? Since ifs are permitted, let us ask if the mayor and council are justified in calling for a plebiscite on something so vague that it may involve.

BURDETT COUTTS, M.P., PASSES AWAY Married Baroness and Assumed Name—Prominent in Empire Work. London, July 28.—The Right Hon. William L. Ashmead Bartlett Burdett Coutts, who had been a member of parliament for the Abbey division of Westminster since 1885, died yesterday at Holy Lodge, Highgate.

A NEW RADIO STATION AT SAULT AUX RECOLLETS Montreal, July 28.—At Sault Aux Recollets work on the construction of a new radio telegraph station for the service of the Department of Naval Service has been started. This station, which is to be one of the largest and best equipped in the Dominion, will take the place of the one at present situated at Tarte Pier, and the latter will be closed.

Fire in Winnipeg. Winnipeg, July 28.—Damage estimated at $80,000 to $100,000 resulted from a fire which broke out on the premises of the Union Clothing and Shoe Co., Main Street last evening.

wharves will not fall in pieces in the meantime, or shipping be driven from the port, as it would be driven by excessive charges enforceable under the commission act. At the very outset the three and a half per cent interest and the increased cost of administration will lay on a burden which has been estimated at $175,000 to $200,000. If the government does not mean what the act says let us wait until a proper act is drawn. No interest will suffer in the meantime. Bury the act.

MURRAY AND FIELDING. No man accepts honors with greater modesty than Premier Murray of Nova Scotia, who was so signally honored on Wednesday by political friends and political opponents. A man of simple tastes and gentle manner, Mr. Murray has endeared himself to the people who for twenty-five years have followed his leadership in the provincial politics of Nova Scotia. It is a great record, and yesterday the prime ministers of Britain and of Canada joined the people of Nova Scotia in tributes of personal regard. It must have been a moment of great pleasure for Hon. W. S. Fielding, in the legislative chamber where he had been himself in former years so successful a leader, to extend congratulations to his successor. The province of Nova Scotia may well be proud of both of these her sons, whose public life has been free from stain, and who have nobly upheld the best traditions of the political life of the province and the Dominion. We appear to be approaching a time when there will no longer be two great parties in politics, but a number of groups. Some observers predict that the group system will not last, and that there will be a return to the two party system, but that is by no means certain. Mr. Fielding and Mr. Murray are fine types of the best the two party system produced. Mr. Murray, had he no chosen, might have followed Mr. Fielding into the wider realm of federal politics, but he preferred the quieter provincial arena, and the people have honored him by retaining him at the head of provincial affairs.

The citizens are asked to vote for the harbor commission act on the strength of what the mayor and city council will be able to do after the vote is taken. What have they been able to do in the last two years? What does the Ballantyne correspondence say on that point? By the way, why not publish that correspondence? Why should the city council discuss an act and then ask the people to vote on a theory? Why do the advocates of the harbor commission act refuse to take the government at its word as expressed in the act? Why is the issue not made so clear that there could be no ifs about it? Since ifs are permitted, let us ask if the mayor and council are justified in calling for a plebiscite on something so vague that it may involve.

Need to Be Humored. A groundsman, who had been a caddy in his day, was rather annoyed at a funny individual who bothered him with questions about the upkeep of golf courses.

DESTITUTION IN CITY OF TORONTO

City of Toronto relief has been cut down to food alone, and then only when families are in danger of starvation. No relief would be in a favorable condition. Canon H. C. Dixon, rector of St. Andrew's Church, St. George's street, who has had thirty years experience in relief work in Toronto, speaking to the Globe last night, said that unemployment for the summer months is the worst now he has ever known. He indicated many cases which have come under his notice. Some of them are returned men, who are absolutely without money to buy the necessities of life.

Canon Dixon has been interesting himself during the past week or two in getting the city or the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment to undertake some special form of relief to meet conditions which have arisen through unemployment. He has not been very successful, but has not yet given up hope. He intends to make known again the need of these deserving people to friends who have helped many times before, and he asks the help of all laborers who may be interested.

Canon Dixon related his experience at the City Hall where he went in search of help, and was told that applications for food alone would be considered. He was told that the city has no money for these purposes. Canon Dixon talked with the Globe last night just after he had been in the house saddened by death when there was no money in sight to pay for the funeral.

MR. PATERSON'S REJOINER.

To the Editor of The Times: Sir,—In one of its editorial dealings with the harbor commission question the Globe makes the following remark: "Mr. Paterson admits that amendments can be made to the act, but under circumstances show the need." Permit me to repeat what I did say on this point in my letter I said: "The government has expressed its willingness to accept the transfer to itself of all public properties, rights and privileges of the city; has outlined in writing the terms and conditions under which the transfer may be made and has obtained the consent of parliament to these terms and conditions, which are set out in the act passed by parliament, and in doing so it will be assured that the city's interests are not well protected."

And, further: "I have no objection to accept the present act, it will still remain on the statute book (until repealed by parliament) subject to such amendments as we may get parliament to approve of, and surely the time to have the act made right is before it is accepted."

Having the knowledge that efforts had been made by the city council and through other channels to have the act amended so that the city's interests would be fairly protected, and that these efforts were of no avail, convinced me that the time to have the act made right is before it is accepted.

Said Mr. Ballantyne

Hon. Mr. Ballantyne said in parliament when the harbor commission act was under discussion: "Before the city of St. John will be able to say whether they accept or reject the government offer (the harbor commission act), a referendum will have to be taken."

The referendum on Monday will be on the act. Do not let anyone fool you into believing anything else.

TOM MOORE ON MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Labor Leader Predicts Extension in Next Few Years—Municipalities Union Meeting.

Ottawa, July 28.—At the morning session of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, yesterday, Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, predicted an extension of municipal ownership of public utilities in the next few years. He urged municipal representatives to start undertakings at a time when they would take up the slack from private operations. Thus, he said, municipalities would effect economy by providing employment at a critical time and by buying when the market would be in a favorable condition. "The convention heard the presidential address from Arthur Roberts, K. C., of Bridgewater, N. S., plea for good roads by A. W. Campbell, and a talk on the present status of the public service by C. R. Wood, president of the Civil Service Commission in Philadelphia. President Roberts said that largely through the efforts of the union, including the organization of public opinion, reforms had been made and a better atmosphere created, so that there was not the same urgency in that part of their work, but careful watching and organized defense were still necessary in connection with the off-shoots of parliament in the shape of boards and commissions. The recent successful fight of the union against increased telephone rates was cited as proof that the union as a fighting organization was necessary. The union had also proved a clearing house for municipal experience and ideas. A still more important work it had before it was to constitute itself a medium for the expression and cultivation of high ideals of the duties of Canadian citizenship. He intimated that a permanent while-time paid secretary, with office created, was also systematic and propaganda. There was considerable sympathy and indifference among municipalities as to their aims as a union.

PELLAGRA'S SPREAD CAUSES ANXIETY

100,000 Cases, 10,000 Dead in Cotton Belt—Surgeon General Cumming Says Above Estimates are Conservative.

(Harold Phelps Strikes in New York Evening Post). Washington, July 28.—The Public Health authorities of the United States expressed deep anxiety today over the spread of pellagra in the cotton belt. It was announced that a conference of representatives of the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Commerce, state health officials, and the public health service would be held at a early date, either here in Washington or in Montgomery, Ala., to take steps to deal with the menace of this dreaded disease. Surgeon General Cumming said that the estimates for 1921 of 100,000 deaths and 80,000 cases not resulting in death were by no means exaggerated. The figures were not official, he explained, as the disease is not always reported. They were based, however, on estimates made to the United States Public Health Service by local state officials, and were held by Dr. Joseph Goldberger, the department's pellagra specialist, to be conservative, and they are so regarded by his chief.

"Whatever the cause of the disease, deficiency of diet is what gives it a hold in any community," said Dr. Cumming. "Our experiments with the disease conclusively proved this some time ago. So far as the present economic stress came to be felt in the South as a result of the situation in the cotton market we expected to see a rapid increase of pellagra. The facts confirm on a national scale the conclusions of our experiments. It is very difficult to get actual figures as to the disease because thousands of cases are not reported. Mild attacks probably never come to the attention of the medical profession at all. It is often only when the disease leads to insanity that the case is reported to the nearest doctor. Those who are affected by the disease are undernourished today, due to their inability to pay for adequate food. They live mostly on salt pork, corn, molasses, and rice. A more balanced ration is out of reach of their purse because of their failure to market the cotton crop." Sent up to now no general appeals have been sent out. Such appeals, if held by the Public Health Service, should come in the first instance from the states themselves. In many cases they will be able to look after their own sufferers. But if conditions continue as they are at present, aid on a national scale may have to be sought.

MADE ATTEMPT TO SAVE LIFE OF LOUIS MELLIDAY

Major Ashton, D. S. C., Went to Rescue of St. John Man, But was Forced to Give Up.

A Canadian Press despatch from Ottawa last night said: S. L. Melliday, a visitor to the capital from St. John (N. B.), lost his life while bathing in Britannia Bay around 6 o'clock last evening despite a gallant attempt to save him, made by Major Ashton, D.S.C., commissioner for the soldiers' settlement board, who only abandoned the attempt when he became so physically exhausted by the struggle that his own life was seriously in jeopardy. The body has not yet been recovered.

Mr. Melliday, who only came to Ottawa on Monday last, was staying at the home of his fiancée's parents. He went into the water close to the Britannia pier with his hat, shortly before 6 o'clock. When the storm broke his friends succeeded after much struggling in reaching the pier where they were assisted by some persons who had seen their danger, but Melliday had then gone down.

Major Ashton was bathing some distance inshore with his two young children when he noticed that three persons seemed to be in difficulties some distance out from the pier, and after bidding his children to make for the shore, he leaped a strong swimmer set out for them to give assistance if necessary. As he swam toward them he saw that two who turned out to be McIntyre and his sister had got out of danger, but Melliday in his struggling to reach safety had been buffeted by the waves until he had drifted in front of the pier where the water was deep. He succeeded in reaching the man, but became so exhausted in his struggles to rescue him that he had to abandon the attempt and only reached safety by lying on his back and allowing himself to drift inshore, where he had to be assisted to land. Major Ashton, who earned the D. S. C. while overseas for conspicuous bravery, has both of his hands disabled, and with this handicap, added to the heavy wind and sea, was forced to give up.

Since that time he has continued to take an active part in church affairs. While in St. John Dr. Fotheringham was always interested in questions of the day, his opinions on a subject which challenged his interest were always well founded and his original idea in this city and at his own expense started the system of printed aids to Sunday School teachers which have since become so widespread in the denomination. Favors Giving Workers An Interest In Business

Rev. Dr. John A. Ryan, Professor of Catholic University, at Washington, in Strong Address to Canadian Club, Advocates Granting to Wage-earners Voice in Direction and Share in Profits of Industry.

Describing the present prevailing system of industry as "industrial feudalism" and advocating a remedy for the right solution of the problem of capital and labor...

The phrase "industrial democracy" has many meanings by the variety of people who use it.

Several years ago, Dr. Ryan said, he had published a pamphlet in which he advocated a legal minimum wage, social insurance and other changes...

The present industrial system, the speaker said, tended to produce two sharply divided classes...

"I contend," declared Dr. Ryan, "that this organization of industry, in which the few are owners and the great majority are wage-earners, is not satisfactory and cannot be permanent..."

Having thus analyzed the prevailing industrial system, Dr. Ryan proceeded to develop his theme of industrial democracy.

The industrial system, Dr. Ryan declared, "must be modified before we can feel that we are safe from revolution."

The report of the committee of industrial engineers appointed by Herbert Hoover, Dr. Ryan said, would say that American industry was inefficient to a high degree.

The fact of the matter was that the interest of capital and labor were partly divergent and partly identical.

The workers, Dr. Ryan said, were continually emphasizing the opposition of the interests of the two parties in industry.

The supreme remedy for this condition, Dr. Ryan declared, was to give the worker a vital interest in the industry in which he was employed...

Motor League Seeks to Amend Motor Act Over Issuing of Licenses.

(Ottawa Journal.) Hector K. Carruthers, secretary of the Ottawa Motor Board, stated to the Journal last night that the Motor League has decided to advise the next session of the Ontario legislature of the need of amending the Motor Act...

The situation now in force is intolerable for would-be automobile licensees to present a certificate showing that they have attained a certain proficiency in the use and management of automobiles.

It was the owners, Dr. Ryan said, who always expended the most work and energy in building up their business. The problem was to get the money which impelled the owner to acquire the worker also in a satisfactory production was still far off in the future.

Dr. Ryan said that the workers could contribute to the conduct of the business the benefit of their industrial and technical skill.

It would be largely through co-operation that the program he had outlined would be fulfilled, Dr. Ryan said.

Cardinal Bourne in his pastoral letter during the course of the war, the speaker said, had declared that the war would bring forth a new social order.

The great proportion of wage-earners in the present industrial system, the speaker referred to the report of the Lusk committee of the New York senate which had characterized some of the plants in the Catholic bishops' program of social reconstruction as socialist simply because those plants adopted the encouragement of wage-earners to become owners.

"Industrial feudalism" was the way Dr. Ryan characterized the existing industrial system in which there was this sharp division between owners or directors and wage-earners.

The fact of the matter was that the interest of capital and labor were partly divergent and partly identical.

The workers, Dr. Ryan said, were continually emphasizing the opposition of the interests of the two parties in industry.

The supreme remedy for this condition, Dr. Ryan declared, was to give the worker a vital interest in the industry in which he was employed...

POKER TO FLOURISH ON ENGLISH SOIL

Given a New Impetus by Court's Removal of Legal Ban—Clubs are Jubilant.

London, July 29.—Poker fans are breathing freely again and poker clubs are putting on an unusually jaunty air since the court decision in the Oppenheim and Vaucluse Club case, declaring the great American game legal under English law.

The strange appearance ceased only to have recurrence last Saturday night when Mrs. Slinger and her daughter, who had been playing at the club, were seen in the street, saw a strange animal in the street. They reached the house hysterical.

Among the hunters were three Clive brothers, two Hoffman brothers and one Hal. They searched the woods for a lion. He identified a searching party and the searching party was augmented to nearly a hundred tonight.

The citizens are determined to track the "lion" to its death. It had confined its attacks thus far to poultry and small animals—but they fear it will assert its man-eating proclivities unless dispatched.

Somerville, N. J., July 29.—The wooded section of this town, bordering on the Lottery residential section, was the scene of an aggressive "lion" hunt this week.

Expeditions of the townsmen, armed with nothing but a assortment of shotguns as the farmers of Lexington and Concord used in '76, were scouring the woods seeking combat with the ferocious animal.

And while the men folk were out for when Mrs. Slinger and her daughter, who had been playing at the club, were seen in the street, saw a strange animal in the street.

Among the hunters were three Clive brothers, two Hoffman brothers and one Hal. They searched the woods for a lion.

The citizens are determined to track the "lion" to its death. It had confined its attacks thus far to poultry and small animals—but they fear it will assert its man-eating proclivities unless dispatched.

The underpinning is knocked from beneath the various "dry-to-drink" organizations by the decision of the Imperial Privy Council that the legislature of British Columbia had the necessary power under the British North America Act to prohibit the sale of liquor in the province by private parties.

PREPARING BIG WELCOME FOR MACKENZIE KING

Tilsonburg, July 28.—Preparations are under way for a grand reception on the arrival of the 620 p. m. Grand Trunk train from Toronto Friday evening, for Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition, who will speak in Tilsonburg at the annual meeting of the South Oxford Reform Association.

FATHER OF 9, MAKING 330 A WEEK, ADOPTS ANOTHER

New York, July 29.—Nine children of his own, five of whom still live at home, did not deter Gustave Weiland of Brooklyn, who makes $30 a week as a divvy-earner, from adopting another wife and his wife were permitted by court order to adopt Hilja Ryan, six years old, the daughter of a bankrupt farmer, Barbara Ryan. It was said Mrs. Ryan's husband had abandoned his wife and child.

HOW RATS MAY INCREASE

London, July 29.—The Ministry of Agriculture is urging that measures against rats should be maintained. He said: "A pair of rats, breeding uninterruptedly and without checks, can increase to the almost incredible number of 300,000,000 individuals in three years. This is a staggering total which shows that the estimate that the number of rats may be equivalent to the population of the country is probably a very conservative one indeed."

THROUGH RAIL SERVICE ATLANTIC TO PACIFIC

Canadian National Railways Furnish Direct Connections With Famous "Continental Limited" Out of Montreal.

The finest train service to the Pacific coast is afforded by the Canadian National-Grand Trunk "Continental Limited" now leaving at 9 p. m. daily from Bonaventure station, Montreal.

The route of this finely equipped all-steel train to the coast via Ottawa, North Bay, Cochrane and via the Transcontinental to Winnipeg and by Grand Trunk Pacific to Saskatoon and Edmonton and via Canadian National Railways to Vancouver—the finest of scenic routes through the Rockies and over the smooth roadbed.

From maritime province points there is connection by Ocean Limited with the Continental Limited daily, and by the Maritime Express daily except Sunday. The Maritime arriving in Montreal at 7.40 affords the most direct connection, but passengers by the Ocean Limited will have the advantage of a day spent in Montreal. The Maritime arriving at 1.20 p. m. affords connection with train No. 11 leaving Quebec City for Cochrane at 5 p. m. This train makes connection at Cochrane with the Continental Limited, so it will be seen there is really a choice of two distinct routes. There is also the through service to the Pacific coast by train leaving Quebec daily at 10.30 p. m. via Sudbury, Port Arthur, Fort William and Winnipeg. Particulars of these splendid rail services to the west will be explained by all C. N. R. ticket agents, and folders and illustrated matter may be obtained by application to any of the city ticket offices or by writing the general passenger department, Montreal, N. B.

Harvest Excursions via "Canadian National"

30,000 Urgently Needed To Garner In The Bumper Wheat Crop of Canada. To garner in Canada's bumper crop of golden grain, 30,000 harvesters are needed from Eastern Canada and the West.

From all parts of New Brunswick there will be special fares by special train on August 4th and August 11th, via Canadian National Railways. The fare from St. John to Winnipeg by these trains will be $29.00.

There will be proportionately low fares from Winnipeg for those returning. The fare to points beyond Winnipeg is one half cent per mile. Special accommodation will be furnished on these excursions for the carrying of Counter Cars with their tables, serving meals, and the best type of Convertible (berth) colonist cars will form the equipment.

There is a fine opportunity for those who wish to visit the west and participate in the harvesting. The rates are extremely moderate, and the accommodation most comfortable. Particulars regarding these excursions can be secured from the City Ticket Agents of the Canadian National Railways, 49 King Street West, Montreal, N. B.

FINAL MEETING ON HARBOR COMMISSION

The final gun of a general public nature on the harbor commission question will be fired in Imperial Theatre after the first show and starting at 8.30 o'clock. It is more than probable there will be opposing debaters. A real lively session is anticipated.

Mayor Schofield is announcing the meeting over his signature in another part of this issue, and is especially desirous that citizens of both sexes, also the younger generation, lend their presence to hear this important matter discussed.

The big theatre has been engaged for the earliest possible hour—immediately following the first showing of pictures—and those who are present at this first show are of course already settled for the debate. At 8.30 the general public will be invited to take seats. No charge.

SHELTERS PLACED AT CAR STOPS IN EAST ST. JOHN

The East St. John Community Club members were busy last evening placing their shelters which had been constructed at various waiting places along the Red Head road where the residents wait for the city. Four of these accommodations were placed in positions where they will be put into position tonight. The shelters are about twelve feet long by seven feet wide with side seats, and will accommodate between fifteen and twenty persons at a time. They are all painted brown with the name of the shelter on the side. They are situated at the corner of Mount Pleasant avenue, Park avenue, Edith avenue and School street last evening and the other four will be placed at Mount Pleasant, King's Corner and Little River tonight. The citizens of this suburb will undoubtedly appreciate these shelters, especially in stormy weather.

REFORMATORY TERM FOR MOTOR THIEF

Hilma Bredon, aged twenty-five, of Choniere, Quebec, was sent to the Ontario Reformatory for a period of not more than two years less one day, and for a further period of months, for stealing an automobile on the night of June 12, belonging to Frederick Barrett, Ltd., of Montreal. The arrest of Bredon followed shortly after. Bredon's counsel asked time to make restitution, but the magistrate pointed out that the accused had had lots of time in which to make necessary restitution.

FAREWELL TO MRS. McARTHUR.

At the home of Mrs. Charles A. Clark, 128 Wentworth street, last evening the executive of the city union, King's Daughters, paid farewell respects to Mrs. Frank K. McArthur, of High street, North end, who is removing with her family to Cambridge, Quebec county, in a few days to take up residence there, where Mr. McArthur has acquired lumbering interests. An address was read by the city president, Mrs. McArthur's departure was keenly felt but in numerous circles where kind and helpful work is being done will her weight and influence be missed, among them being the active bodies of Central Baptist church and Sunday school.

Weeks Permits Soldiers to Go Home For Religious Holidays.

Washington, July 29. Secretary Weeks announced that furloughs for the Jewish holidays in October will be granted wherever practicable to soldiers of the Jewish faith in the American army.

"The secretary of war desires," the announcement read, "in order to permit members of the Jewish faith to participate in the celebration of 'high holy days' (Rosh ha-Shanah), beginning at the end of September, and the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur), beginning at sundown Oct. 18, and continuing until sundown Oct. 19, 1921, that members of that faith be granted furloughs for such time as necessary to permit them to observe their religious observances, or at places where these observances are held from Sept. 30 to Oct. 6 and from Oct. 11 to Oct. 24, 1921, provided no interference with the public service is occasioned thereby."

URGENT EXAMINATION OF DEAD.

London, July 29.—The movement for universal post-mortem examinations, which was strongly advocated by Prof. David Drummond, president of the British Medical Association, meets with the unanimous approval of hospitals and medical men in England. The application of such a reform, it was asserted, would give a valuable insight into questions of diagnosis and be a tremendous help to the medical profession. The training of medical students depends to no small extent on the knowledge gained from post-mortem examinations. In cases such examinations provide the safest way to advance medical knowledge, it was asserted.

MONETARY REFORM IS RECOMMENDED

Argentine Delegate to the Brussels Conference Would Have Countries With Depreciated Currency Follow Example of His.

Buenos Aires, July 2.—(Associated Press by Mail)—Reconstruction of the monetary systems of those countries whose currency has depreciated, on the plan followed by Argentina in 1899, is recommended by Charles A. Tornquist, international banker, who was Argentine delegate to the Brussels financial conference last year.

Adoption of this plan, he told members of the American Club at a luncheon here had fixed a permanent value for Argentina's then fluctuating paper currency and quickly enabled the country to emerge from monetary chaos into economic stability and prosperity. Many of the leading men in Germany he said, were already in favor of adopting a monetary reform patterned after Argentina's.

Explaining the mechanism of the plan, of which his father was the author, Senor Tornquist said under the Conversion Law of 1899 by which it was carried into effect, a value of forty-four cents gold was fixed for the paper peso and the national financial institution which the law created, was authorized to deliver one paper peso in exchange for that sum of gold and vice versa.

The value, he said, was fixed very much below par, because the depreciation of the paper money had become a permanent one and because values had become adjusted to the depreciation, "that is to say, that, apart from the fluctuations liable to be produced by abnormal causes, the real value of the paper peso measured in gold was forty-four cents."

A popular measure.

The public immediately responded to the law, having confidence in the plan, with the result that the value of the paper peso became more and more stable and it ceased completely to fluctuate even when the country had obtained only a modest stock of gold.

This stock has constantly increased, from barely $3,000,000 in 1902, $90,000,000 in 1908, to $470,000,000 in the present day. Uncovered circulation of $98,000,000 paper pesos was assimilated and placed on a parity with the emissions subsequently made on gold basis.

Today, he said, Argentina had a paper circulation of about 1,380,000,000 pesos backed by a metallic guarantee, which, according to the rate established by the law, amounts to eighty per cent.

"I believe," he continued, "that the existence of such a high proportion of yellow metal gives me the right to affirm that Argentine money is today among the soundest in the whole world."

The result had been that from the time of the sanction of the law, foreign capital had flowed into the country on a large scale, production multiplied, commerce attained extraordinary proportions, immigration increased, "until Argentine production today is one of the essential factors in the world's markets in providing foodstuffs for mankind and raw materials for manufacturers."

Urges Economy Also.

Senor Tornquist advocated as the first remedy for the European economic disorder, adherence to the recommendations of the Brussels Conference for strictest economy, suppression of subsidies and economic barriers, the reduction of armament expenditures and suppression of unproductive works and even certain productive.

"If they will follow these sound recommendations from the Conference of Brussels," he continued, "it is my opinion that many countries will in a relatively short space of time, be able to place themselves in a normal economic condition, under which their production and consumption will be maintained in a proportion permitting the liquidation of obligations contracted by reason of the war. Then, in my opinion, will be the time for these nations to begin to think of readjusting their monetary systems."

It does not appear to me possible to effect this reconstruction of monetary systems by means of disinflation for this would be a slow process and would not do away with the fluctuations in the value of money; and, worse still, it would impose completely unnecessary sacrifices upon industry, commerce, and production.

"On the other hand, I consider the Argentine example perfectly feasible for many countries. Our conversation law, economic barriers, the reduction of armament expenditures and suppression of unproductive works and even certain productive.

its origin, its results, its economic effects, I consider a subject of great importance and great practical possibilities for many countries, and I think the sooner, and the more, your country does in this direction, in view of its enormous moral and material influence in all present world problems the better it will be."

BEAR LOOSE IN BROOKLYN.
Dropped From Cate and Tried to In-vade Apartment House.

That part of South Elliott Place between De Kalb Avenue and Fulton street, Brooklyn, save for the barking of an occasional dog, is quiet and prosaic enough. But a short time ago the neighborhood experienced a real circus thrill, says the New York Times.

A horse-drawn van containing a large packing box turned from the avenue into South Elliott Place. It had proceeded some distance up the block when the box in some manner fell into the high-way, and pedestrians were somewhat startled to see a good-sized black bear emerge from the wreckage, shake himself protestingly, and then romp into the entrance of an apartment house. The driver continued his journey, ignorant of what had happened.

"Hey, mister," shouted a small boy, "you dropped something!"

"G'wan, son," retorted the driver, "it's too hot to joke."

He turned his head nevertheless, uttering an exclamation of surprise at sight of the trouble he was dismayed at finding it empty. The bear, however, was soon located in the vestibule of the house where he had taken refuge. He was swaying back and forth in the manner of bears, pawing at the door occasionally as though he would like to enter. The door was finally opened by an unsuspecting tenant who promptly closed it again. He was plainly nonplussed at sight of the bear. But the United States mail was to be delayed or held up by even a bear, however grave the danger might be, and he bravely dropped the few letters in their respective boxes. At this opportune moment the driver discovered his load quarry.

"Come, bear, nice bear," he coaxed, "get back in your box."

The bear moved farther into a corner of the door, shoving his head disapprovingly. Neither kind words nor threats would move him. A little knot of curious persons collected, and standing at a safe distance they offered suggestions to the driver. A tenant in the house finally solved the problem by presenting a plate of meat to the bear, which disposed of it greedily, licked his chops in a sat-

WAY IS CLEAR FOR BUSINESS BUILDING

Credit and Prices Successfully Defeated, Says New York Expert.

Credit and prices have been successfully defeated and this has been accomplished without serious impairment of the country's economic structure, is the opinion expressed by the New York Commercial by Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, and he adds, the way is now clear for energetic business building. Mr. Sisson presents the following progress already accomplished toward the ultimate revival of industrial and commercial activity in this country, which we may confidently look forward to, are the following:

"The crisis of the deflation of credit and prices has already been passed, and without a financial panic. The deflation of prices has already been accomplished. Wholesale prices are declining at a greater rate than they were a few months ago. A number of commodities are selling at less than their war prices. Retail prices now are declining more rapidly than wholesale. These various developments in the price situation together show that we are really approaching a relative stabilization of prices.

"Wages are declining, although more slowly than prices have declined. This is a familiar occurrence in periods of deflation. It is to be expected that wages will lag somewhat behind prices. The cause of gratification, however, is the fact that when the whole labor is accepting reductions in wages without an excessive degree of resistance.

"The banking position is steadily improving. The reserves of the Federal Reserve Bank are higher than they have been in a long time. Loans are reduced. Moreover, interest have been decreasing. The rate of the Federal Reserve Bank's discount rates for commercial paper. Nevertheless, in time is ready to supply credit that the bank rate reductions will be reflected in further reductions in outside rates.

"Here and there are evidence of a revival of industrial activity in those lines which first experienced in periods of depression. For instance, seem to have passed the bottom and are on the up-grade.

"Retail trade has been holding up in recent weeks surprisingly well. In volume in many localities trade is in excess of that of that year ago, although, of course, measured in values, there is a decline as compared with the year before. The retail trade is progressing favorably enough to warrant the conclusion that accumulated stocks have been reduced and in many cases have already reached a point such that frequent small orders are necessary in order to maintain stocks of merchandise equal to present demands. With a growing confidence, which is to be expected, that prices are relatively stabilized, merchants will undoubtedly increase their forward commitments, with corresponding benefit to the producing industry.

"On the whole, the crops are favorable. It may be said that the whole future will really be able to market his crops at a profit. It is to be noted, further, that in general farm production is increasing. The surplus of the Federal Reserve Bank is steadily increasing. This is significant as indicating a falling in the general purchasing power of farmers. The cotton situation, of course, is still unsatisfactory. The holder is large, but with a greatly reduced acreage, possibly a drastic market conditions which the present crop will meet will not after all be quite so unsatisfactory as at one time seemed probable.

"The railroad situation has been materially improved by the labor readjustment and by the economies which the roads have been able to effect in other ways in their operating expenses. Moreover, commodity rates are being very rapidly readjusted in such manner as to stimulate an increase in the volume of traffic. Crop moving will be unquestionably get new business to the roads. It appears, therefore, that the worst of the adverse conditions as affecting the railroads has already been met.

"On the reverse side of the balance sheet one must, of course, recognize that the trouble of the depression will probably be wide. In other words, the Federal Reserve Bank has assisted in the spreading out of the deflation process. This means that a number of insolvent concerns are still in the running. The vast majority, however, are efficient competitors. This will mean that probably we shall have in many lines of industry a spread-out period of bottom prices.

A NEWFOUNDLAND PULP PLANT GONE

(Canadian Press Despatch.) St. John's, Nfld., July 28.—The pulp plant of the A. E. Reed Company, at Bishop's Falls, Newfoundland, was practically destroyed by fire yesterday with a loss of many thousands of dollars, partially covered by insurance. The building was ruined, only the walls remaining standing, while a large stock carried by the company, was completely destroyed.

A numerous staff of employes at the plant will be thrown out of work as a result of the conflagration.

DEMAND FOR WOOL STEADILY IMPROVES

Canadian Mills Continue to Absorb Very Large Quantities.

The wool market may be described as quietly steady, with prices nominally unchanged since our report of July 9, says the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, the most promising feature being that many mills are beginning to report new activity on the part of their trade. Consequently they are beginning to work longer hours. New custom continues to be forthcoming from our Canadian mills, and there is every reason to expect that the increased volume of Canadian trade predicted earlier in the season is going to be fully realized. Owing to the demand of the consuming public, mill interest is centered largely on those grades from low medium or quarter staple upward. The lower grades are lagging and will be hard to dispose of, for the present at any rate. So far this season we have placed almost 200,000 pounds of the 1921 graded clip. A great deal of this has been eastern domestic at from 19 to 23 cents for low medium staple, 16 to 17 cents for low staple, and 12 to 13 cents for coarse, with the various reget wool at from six to twelve cents. Large amounts of the lower grades above mentioned still remain to be sold, however.

These values partly explain why people from all parts of St. John, Fairville, as well as along the C. P. R., C. N. R. Valley Railway and River, make it a point to purchase their footwear here. The better service they receive is the other reason.

SEAT 20,000 PEOPLE IN LIVE STOCK ARRENA

It will be the Biggest Building of its Kind in the World.

Though the new $1,000,000 arena will not be ready for the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto this year, the big fair's live stock department is already reflecting the stimulating effect of the new equipment, and a very large and very high class entry is coming forward.

There are 500 men working on the building at the present time, and splendid progress is being made by the contractors, who hope to have it advanced sufficiently for the winter live stock show in November.

Following are a few statistics covering the quantity of material to be used in the construction of the biggest building of its kind in the world: 4,000,000 bricks, 2,000 tons of steel, 12,000 barrels of cement, 175 tons of iron, 1,500 tons of one-and-a-half inch, 6,000 tons of sand.

In the arena and its two annexes there are 8 1/2 acres of floor space under roof. The width of the wings or annexes is 135 feet, and the length 335 feet 6 inches. The arena proper is 237 feet wide and 265 feet long.

With a seating capacity of approximately 20,000, it is estimated that 20,000 people can be seated when an emergency calls for the use of the big ring for that purpose.

RAILWAY WAGES AND RATES

(Toronto Globe.)

An annual wage bill of not less than a hundred and fifty million dollars is affected by the reduction accepted by Canadian railway employees. The managers have secured an average of 12 per cent. This will lessen their payrolls to the extent of at least eighteen million dollars yearly, when office salaries and those of unorganized employees are dealt with, as they doubtless will be, the total reduction will be twenty million dollars or more, which will benefit the Canadian National, including the Grand Trunk, in the ratio of twelve million to eight or the C. P. R.

It is too much to hope that the sum thus saved will be available to lessen the operating deficit of the National System. The demand for a reduction in freight rates cannot be generally met. Something is being done for the shippers of cattle, who state that the railways are destroying the cattle-raising industry by imposing transportation charges beyond the ability of shippers to bear. Representations are being made in primary forms of industry, as well as manufacturing concerns, as well as with a degree of success not at all found in the criticism of railway by shippers. An all-round reduction of even ten per cent. would put a heart into business men, and would probably result in a marked increase in the movement of freight.

THE DELAY IN PURCHASING.

"It is a curious commentary on human nature," says Hayden, Stone & Co's (Toronto) Weekly Letter, "that whereas a little more than a year ago, with prices soaring, everyone scrambled for goods and supplies, today, when everyone realizes that it is a moral certainty that commodity prices are virtually at their low figure, no one will lay in any stock of raw material without actual orders for finished goods. Doubtless the knowledge that large stocks are known to exist in the hands of the original producers deters purchasers, as consumers feel that no difficulty will be experienced in obtaining supplies. The fact that the argument does not take into account is that stocks in the hands of middlemen and consumers are exceedingly small. The difference is chiefly that today all stocks are 'visible,' a year ago they were 'invisible.' When users start to buy, they will all start at the same time, it may not be so easy to lay in a supply as generally imagined, certainly not at current low prices."

QUEBEC CROPS.

Quebec, July 29.—Reports received at the department of agriculture indicate that there is a reduction of at least fifty per cent. in the provincial crop, apart from the Lake St. John, Abitibi and Teniscaming districts, and also that in a section of the eastern townships the production will be fair. The recent rains are said to be ameliorating the conditions considerably, but not sufficiently to meet requirements and all hopes of a second crop are abandoned.

WOOL AND PRICES

Some day the price of clothes ought to come down to a reasonable level. If the wool situation of the world is any indication, prices quoted recently by salesmen for British woolen firms at about half the figure asked for woolen cloth a year ago seem to be indicative of the movement, though it has not gone its full course as yet, from the consumer's standpoint.

There is every reason why the world should be well clothed if the supply of wool was anything to do with it. Excluding eastern Europe, the Balkans and Asia, the total supply of wool on May 1 is now 2,000,000,000 lbs. in a world that is now 93 per cent. of normal. The situation may be summarized: The surplus will not be inclined to spin wool unless they can sell the yarn and cloth; hence, the reduction in prices quoted recently. The situation turns upon the buying power of the people, who in days of adversity have been reducing expenditure to necessities, but, as people prosper, they buy more clothing, even more than they need for comfort.

The Canadian wool market is described by the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers as quietly steady, with prices nominally unchanged since July 9.

"The most promising feature," says the letter, "is that many mills are beginning to report new activity on the part of their trade, and are beginning to work longer hours. New custom continues to be forthcoming from our Canadian mills, and there is every reason to expect that the increased volume of Canadian trade predicted earlier in the season is going to be fully realized."

The Men "Who"

- are the men who do something,
- the men who act,
- the pioneers who open up new lands,
- the manufacturer who scraps the old machine and strides forward,
- those spirits of progress who root up old-established habits for methods that are new and better,
- the men who count.

—For its very life, a nation depends upon its men "who."

Nearly 20 years ago, Gillette introduced his original safety razor. Beards disappeared. Daily shaving became the habit of a nation. He was a pioneer. And with him were the men who discarded their strops and hones, abandoned their age-old methods and adopted the new razor.

Gillette, to-day, is the pioneer of the New Improved Gillette Safety Razor—the first shaving instrument of precision ever known, and with him in the vanguard of progress are many of those same men who were amongst the earliest users of the old-type Gillette. The new razor awakens in them the spirit of the pioneer. They stride forward to the realization of their goal—the final word in shaving comfort.

WHAT ROBERT FULTON PRIZED MOST OF TROPHIES

Thurmer Medal Presented for His "Courageous Conduct" in Single Scull Race on the Kennebecasis in 1873.

To the Sporting Editor of The Times: Sir—In your issue of today, "Old Sculler" writes of the races of the days of the Paris crew. He mentions particularly the day when Robert Fulton, stroke of the Paris crew, rowed in the four-oared race and then stepped out of the four-oared boat into the single scull to row another race against Geo. Bigin of New York. He gives Fulton credit for winning the single scull race through his pluck and determination.

On the day that Robert Fulton rowed against Bigin his rowing tight and slipped and ceased under him while in the four-oared boat, and he was chafed so badly that when the four-oared race was finished he was bleeding. But in spite of this condition he stepped into the single scull and, as "Old Sculler" has already written, won the race against Bigin.

For the courage and determination shown by Fulton was presented by the late Col. Thurmer with what was afterwards known as the Thurmer medal. This medal carried the inscription: "Presented to Robert Fulton for courageous conduct in a single scull race on the Kennebecasis, 1873." This medal Mr. Fulton prized above all others, and wore it on his watch chain until the time of his death.

THE INTERNATIONAL TRACK MEET TIED

Travers Island, N. Y., July 28—The international track meet between the Oxford-Cambridge teams in England and the Princeton-Cornell teams was officially declared a tie tonight after a previous official decision declaring the British winners had been reversed.

The sensation of the meet came in the 100 yard dash, when the English team, led by Stevenson of Princeton, a mere strapping, ran Seagrave, star English distance man, of his feet no less than ten times during the run. Foreman and Seagrave alternated in the lead. In the last lap Foreman drove away to win by a good margin. In a desperate effort to overtake the Princeton lad, Seagrave sprinted the last fifty yards and collapsed in the arms of his teammates.

Nokes set a new international inter-collegiate record for the hammer throw, leaving the ball 160 feet 7 inches on his last attempt.

Abrahams, of Cambridge, was the individual star, winning the 100 yard dash and the broad jump. Rudd, captain of the English team and 440 metre Olympic champion, was beaten in the 440 yard dash by Stevenson of Princeton.

Excitement in the crowd was highest when the athletes went to the marks in the last event, the half mile, because, a victory in this event, meant the winning of the meet for either team. Rudd, by winning, caused a tie in the matter of first places and Milligan, who ran second, beating Johnson of Princeton less than six inches, gave the English athletes six second places and the meet.

ONE-MAN GOLF MATCHES. Chicago, July 28—The Green Valley Country Club has a one-man golf match every day by a man who plays against himself. He is Dr. Harley Parker, known twenty years ago as a Chicago National League pitcher, and later as Director of Athletics at Northwestern University. He is ambidextrous, and plays his right side against his left. Naturally the doctor has to have two sets of golf clubs.

match will start at 2:30 o'clock. The city team will be picked from the following players: Sergeant Weatherall, captain; O. Hudson, R. March, A. Parlett, W. Brindley, E. Dingley, W. Rawlings, Kier, Stearns, Davis, T. Keeble, T. Keeble, D. Darity, Jones, Crookshanks.

CRICKET. Match Game Tomorrow. A cricket match will be played on the Barrack Green tomorrow afternoon between the City Cricket Club and a picked team from the R. C. M. P. C. C. The club mate, L. G. McLaughlin, son of H. B. McLaughlin, one of the veteran golfers of the Truro club. Percy Turcott, of Riverside, is still in the second consolation and will face J. H. Malcolm, of Charlottetown the man who clinched H. N. Stetson. This is the only hope that Riverside has left for honors of any description. All their other representatives have fallen by the wayside, although Westfield has a winner in the "consolation," E. V. Thomson deflating the Maritime meet will be held in either Lingan, C. B., or Charlottetown, and the delegates from the island will confer with the home club in regard to an invitation. The offer from Lingan made by Stewart McAuley will stand only in the event of Charlottetown now being desirous of having the tournament.

Therefore all the heads of the Maritime Golf Association were not elected and the Amherst officers will control affairs until definite word is heard from either club. The directors will be W. A. Henry, K. C. Hallifax, H. N. Stetson, St. John, Stewart McAuley, Lingan, W. H. Semple, Truro, and P. C. Black, of Amherst.

The long driving competition was won by D. S. Biggs, of Amherst, with three drives that aggregated 610 yards. Five men were tied in the approaching and putting contest. L. G. McLaughlin, Truro; Gerald Meille, Brightwood; John Purvis, Lingan; R. T. McCully, Amherst; and W. B. Calhoun, Amherst. In the professional contests Tom Corroft of Halifax won the driving and putting, Corroft of Lingan, Meille, of Westfield, Brunsell, of Riverside, and Quesnel of Brightwood, were all tied.

A new feature has been added to the programme of the Maritime meet, a newspaper championship, and Stewart McAuley, of Lingan, has offered a shield for competition between golf journalists and newspaper men in order to create greater interest in the ancient pastime.

R. M. Ross, of the Amherst news, and P. B. Edwards, of the Halifax Herald, started this year, Ross winning 13 up and 12 to go.

Summary, semi-final rounds: Gerald Meille, Brightwood, beat D. S. Biggs, Amherst, 6-2.

COMING MONDAY—"HEARTS OF YOUTH"

TO GUARD THE AMATEURS. The Ontario Government Athletic Commission makes the following announcement: "The Ontario Government Athletic Commission wishes to call attention of directors of fall fairs and the committees of "Old Home" weeks to the prevalent and growing custom of offering cash prizes for athletic games and for baseball and soccer contests. The placing of these prizes on their lists makes the competitors professionals and along with them anybody and everybody taking part in the sports.

In future years these boys will be asked to take affidavits to the effect that they have never received any money for playing games, and experience has shown that they do so rather than keep out of games. It is a pity to place a temptation like that in the way of a young boy for the sake of a $2.00 prize. Perjury is prevalent enough without the responsible people of the Province almost teaching it on young boys.

There is no special need for cash prizes. The equal foot in the way of a medal or other prize will not only serve the same purpose but will be more appreciated. The Commission is also warning boxers to make sure that any bouts they engage in are under permit from the Commission. Each boxer is responsible to the Commission, and each must see to it that he is not taking part in an unpermitted show. The penalty will be a long rest and possibly more.

COMMERCIALIZED SPORT. (Toronto Mail and Empire). At bottom it would appear that the baseball scandal has been brought about because both owners and players think a good deal more about money than they do about sport or the honor of the game.

FAST AMERICAN TEAM TOMORROW

Auburn Nine of Cambridge, Mass., in Afternoon and Evening Contests With St. Peter's.

Fans will be delighted to learn that the fast Auburn team from Cambridge, Mass., is in the city and arrangements have been completed for them to play St. Peter's two games, tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock and in the evening at seven. The team is made up of fast college boys and are all bona fide amateur players, with credentials to protect them. Manager Carr, in conversation with a Times reporter today, said that they had no intention of competing against any professional clubs, as it would kill his players' chances to compete in college sports.

The team has twelve men. Three of them are good catchers and outfielders, two crack pitchers, who have received offers to enter the professional ranks, but decided to remain amateurs until they have completed their college courses. A third pitcher, noted through to Moncton, but was wired for today to report back here.

The team is on a tour through the maritime provinces in automobiles, and will play several games before returning home. This afternoon the team worked out on St. Peter's diamond, and from all indications the local team will have to be at their best to hold them. Their first baseman is fast and covers a lot of ground, while the entire infield were picking up everything that came their way, and the outfield a speedy trio.

In a recent issue of the Boston Post the Auburns were lauded as the fastest amateur baseball team around Boston. Out of sixteen games they have played this season, they lost only one. The team is made up of ex-college and high school stars and is under the management of E. C. Carr of Cambridge. The Cambridge players will go to Halifax as part of their tour.

The Maple Leaf ball team wish to state that they will be unable to play a game with the Carletons tonight, on account of the water sports. They will be able to play on Monday night.

The Carletons and St. George's will play on the Queen Square diamond tonight. It is likely that Daley will pitch for St. George's, and Matthews will be on the mound for the Carletons.

St. Peter's and the Pirates will play in a regular Senior League fixture on the East End grounds tonight. The Pirates have been sensationally successful in the last few games by the absence of some of their regular players, but tonight, it is announced, they will have their regular line-up.

The Fairville Nationals protest the claim of the Young Carletons to the junior baseball championship. The following is the statement of the Nationals: "We protest that the Young Carletons are not the champions, because when they defeated the Beavers, the Beavers were not the champions, the title being then held by the Imperials. The Imperials were then defeated by the Fairville Nationals in a series of three games, the last game being played on July 21."

DID THE JOB BUT REFUSED TO TAKE THE EMOLUMENTS

The events which led up to the suspension of the street car service in the city and the consequent flock of motor cars, big and little, which appeared in the streets soon afterwards, have been responsible for some peculiar and amusing situations. Perhaps the most interesting yet recorded is that of Mr. Prominent Business Man who one day this week was on a sauntering trip in King street.

Parking his limousine the regulation "six inches from the curb," he entered a shop to make a purchase. While he was there several public cars bearing all manner of signs informing the public of their routes drew up both sides of his cars to await passengers.

On reaching the street he was surprised to find three middle-aged ladies seated in the back seat of his car, each clutching in her hand a dime. He sensed the situation immediately, and courteously asked, "North end, ladies?"

Receiving an affirmative answer, he proceeded in the desired direction and landed the ladies safely.

But it was the passengers' turn for a surprise when their pilot politely refused to accept the fares tendered him at the end of the journey. The ladies are still wondering, while the car owner has not ceased to enjoy the joke of which he was on the receiving end.

POLICEMAN ON CYCLE AT STRAIT SHORE

Plan, to Check Fast Auto Driving in That Section—Cases in Court.

The police are receiving many complaints about excessive speeding along the Strait Shore road and in Hillyard and Harrison streets. As a result a policeman mounted on a motorcycle has been assigned to duty in these streets. The sharp turn under the railway track at the beginning of the Strait Shore road is a very dangerous place and some serious accidents have been narrowly averted there.

Wesley Lamb was charged with speeding in Hillyard street at midnight on July 27 in automobile number 3638. He pleaded not guilty and denied present ownership of the car, but he owned it at one time. He said he had disposed of it to a man named James Alexander at the Main bridge. The case was postponed until the ownership of the car is determined.

A. E. Kierstead was charged with having no rear light on his car and no license tag. The car was numbered X-905. He was assessed the usual amount.

Clifford Hannah, driver of car number 2396, was charged on information of Policeman Lewis, with not giving a signal at a cross street while coming down King street and with stopping on the wrong side of Water street on July 26. He was also fined $10.

Five men were before the police magistrate this morning charged with violations of traffic laws. Fines were imposed in all cases, but one. Detective Saunders was the informant and appeared to give evidence. He said he had been assigned to duty in Harrison, Hillyard and Chesley streets, as the result of frequent complaints about the way cars were driven in that vicinity.

Cecil Stokelod, driver of automobile number 1635 was charged with exceeding the speed limit in Harrison street on the evening of July 26. He pleaded not guilty. A fine of $10 was imposed.

Thomas Smith, driver of car number 1064 was charged with exceeding the speed limit at the corner of Hillyard street and Chesley street on the same evening. He pleaded not guilty. A like fine was imposed.

HON. F. B. CARVELL IN THE CITY TODAY

The Douglas Avenue Crossing—St. John Should be Thankful for Cool Breezes.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the Canadian board of railway commissioners, arrived in the city in his private car last night from Woodstock. He was accompanied by his wife.

Mr. Carvell told a Times man this morning that he was here on private business. He said that he understood the way was now open for the board to consider the matter of the elimination of the grade crossing at the falls end of Douglas avenue, but so far no formal application had been submitted by the city.

Asked regarding conditions in Carleton county, Mr. Carvell said that all the up-river counties were suffering from the protracted drought and there would undoubtedly be short crops in many lines. In spite of the shortage of water, however, the Woodstock Light & Power Co. had been compelled to use coal for one week. This was due to the fact that last year the company built a new dam for water storage which was giving results.

Mr. Carvell said that while Ottawa sweetened, the people evily read in the newspapers that St. John was enjoying cool and refreshing breezes with the thermometer registering around 65. Last night for the first time in nearly two months, he said, he had slept with his clothes over him.

Mr. Carvell will return to Woodstock this afternoon and go from there back to Ottawa.

FEW TYPHOID CASES.

In connection with the present report of the state of the water situation it is of interest to note that thus far in the month of July only eight cases of typhoid fever have been reported at the local office of the board of health. One of these cases was reported on July 6, another on July 11, one on July 13, two on July 14, and one each on July 20, 23 and 27. None of these cases were reported from the West Side. None have proved fatal. Several cases were traced to outside sources.
