MASSACRE BY TURKS IN SERBIAN TOWN

Many People Killed and Vigorous Protest to Porte Will Follow

ANOTHER CHINESE HORROR

"Old Style" Troops Loot and Burn Part of Tung Chow, Near Peking and Kill Twelve People—Quebec Law Held Responsible

(Canadian Press)
Belgrade, Serbia, Aug. 26.—Telegrams received here from Szentka on the southern frontier of Serbia say that Turks attacked the town on Saturday and massacred many of the inhabitants.
The news of the massacre caused great excitement in the capital and the newspapers issued special editorials containing editorial demands that the Serbian government protest vigorously to the Porte.
At a mass meeting held on Sunday to protest against the butchery speakers violently denounced the Turkish.
Subsequently 10,000 persons marched to the palace and to the offices club where they shouted their demands that war be declared against Turkey. Later advice received from Szentka say that the Turkish inhabitants of the town opened the arms stores and, after seizing weapons, attacked the Christian population. Mr. Popovich, the Serbian project of Belgrade, was assassinated in front of the courts of justice. The Serbian population entered into mourning and the town was practically destroyed.
It is believed that the recent edict ordering the soldiers to cut off their queues is responsible for the outburst. The government in Peking is reported to be dispatching troops to quell the trouble. A clash with the outlaws seems inevitable.

The railroads in North Wales are partly under water. Passengers are being conveyed between Dolgelly and Barmouth, a distance of seven miles, by motor boats. The river Nant in Northamptonshire is twelve feet above normal and a big flood is threatened at Rundle, a 200,000 city on the river.

CHILD KILLED BY BOY COMPANIONS IN INSECT HUNT

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 26.—Little Joseph Timmerman, a four year old boy, was killed by two playmates, aged ten years. The boys had gone to hunt insects; and the party returned one about.
Five playmates of Timmerman, who were with him at the time of his disappearance were taken to the police station. They are John Farley, ten years; George Donohue, nine years; Rowland Frankymer, John Heibergers, ten years; and Chase Middleton, ten years. They showed no fight.
John Farley and John Heibergers, after telling many conflicting stories, finally admitted the deed. They said they alone were responsible. The two boys sobbed out the confession, incident by incident. They said they stood at the top of the steps on Cliff drive and threw stones down on Joe. One stone hit him on the head and he fell over. The boys say they started to run. Then they came back down the path to him, saw that he was dead and to cover up their deed carried him into the underbrush.

BRITISH PAPERS GIVE MR. TAFT A DRUBBING

Scathing Editorials on Signing of The Canal Bill

"DISHONORED," SAYS ONE

(Canadian Press)
London, Aug. 26.—Most of the morning newspapers print editorials in which they expressed that President Taft signed the Panama Canal bill, and they unite in declaring that the British government will be in its duty if it omits to insist that the matter be referred to the League. They also agree that the president's memorandum does nothing to remove British objections. The Standard says:
"It would indeed be unfortunate if the magnificent scheme which is calculated to benefit mankind in general, proved to be futile and the cause of international bitterness."
The Morning Post, pointing out that if the United States desires to encourage its own shipping, it can do so by decent bounties, says:
"Experience may yet bring the United States to a realization that credit is a valuable asset, and that even material loss is dearly bought when by the loss of the world's confidence."
The Daily Express, in an editorial headed "Dishonored," declares that the protest of the American press has been a splendid vindication of the honor of the American people, but that the signature will remain a blot in the republic's reputation and "it is lamentable," the Express says, "that Mr. Taft is not strong enough to resist the edicts and protest in accordance with the call of national confidence. All English speaking nations must view with sorrow the sign of the United States dragging its honor mud-bespattered before the world."
In the long run, America will be the sufferer. Honest nations as a whole must remain the losers of this policy."
The Daily Mail in an editorial says:
"It might have been excusable merely for the president to sign the bill, but Mr. Taft did not sign it with a clean conscience, and in a memorandum which was worthy of a petting soldier, than the chief of a great republic. The memorandum contains not a single reference of an appeal either to arbitration or to the law courts."

LA MARQUISE de FONTENAY

New Comptroller of King George's Household—Percy Illingworth Becomes Chief Government Whip

Lord Say and Sele, who has just been appointed to the office of comptroller of King George's household, is the eighteenth baron of his line, and the head of the historic House of Finesse, pronounced "Kynes". In still existing records of the reign of William the Conqueror it is set forth that he conferred on one of his principal lieutenants, John de Finesse, the office of count of the sea coasts, for himself and his heirs for ever. It is on this account that when King George's Household was created in 1868, Lord Say and Sele put forward a claim thereto, and publicly protested against its subsequent bestowal on Lord Bessborough.

The Lords de Finesse were among the barons whose names figure in the Magna Charta, and were even in those days regarded as of the most illustrious ancestry, since they were descended from that Count of Boulogne, who married Goda, sister of King Edward the Confessor. This house, among the forebears of Godfrey de Bouillon, the Crusader King of Jerusalem. The original Barony of Say and Sele came into the Finesse family through the marriage of Lady Joan of that ilk, sole heiress to William Lord Finesse, hereditary warden of the Cinque Ports and tenth in descent from the Kinan and companion of William the Conqueror. The grandson of Lady Joan was summoned to parliament in 1446, as Baron of Dover Castle, for himself and his heirs for ever. He was also lord high treasurer of England, but happening to be a prisoner in the Tower of London when Jack Cade's mob stormed that stronghold, he was dragged thence by the rioters to Chesham and there beheaded. His son, William de Finesse, second Lord Say and Sele, of the 14th creation, was one of the chief allies of the great Earl Warwick, the King Maker, and was killed at the battle of Barnet.

It is a picture of forestal and gripping interest, dealing with love and adventure in the civil war, and presenting scenes true to life and with plenty of spirit.

NOT THIS YEAR. The Amherst News understands that the Moncton Tramway & Gas Company have definitely decided not to bring their pipe lines to Amherst this fall, which will probably require an investment of fully half a million dollars to pipe the gas from the gas areas in Westmorland and Albert counties through Sackville and Amherst, and to build distributing plants in those places.

GOOD ROADS The New Brunswick Automobile Association has made a practical suggestion with regard to raising funds to make a beginning in the work of building permanent roads in this province. Some such action is imperative. Partly because of the very wet weather, but chiefly because of a lack of system, the roads of the province this summer have been in worse condition than for very many years, and the people should insist upon an improvement.

AFTER THE MIDDLEMAN Here are some figures on the progress of the co-operative movement in the Atlantic north-west. "Fifty-five co-operative stores in Minnesota, 75 in Wisconsin, twelve in the Dakotas, three in Washington, and one in Illinois are doing an annual business of approximately $7,000,000. The total capitalization in $100 shares is around $2,000,000, held by approximately 15,000 men and women. And the profits divided last year among the customers of these stores amount to more than $600,000—a net saving of about 8 per cent. on the entire purchase of more than 20,000 families; for every share of stock represents at least one family, and the proportion of customers who are not stockholders is considerably more than one-third."

HOW VERY SAD Seated at little tables in an old-fashioned coffee house were a number of honest workmen, partaking of their humble dinner. Presently there entered a poor, haggard man who was bitterly weeping and who looked the picture of misery. "My dear little Nellie," she sobbed, "she's just been run over and killed."

TAFT DECLARES UNITED STATES HAS RIGHT TO FAVOR ITS OWN PEOPLE IN MATTER OF TOLLS Washington, Aug. 24.—President Taft signed the Panama canal bill at 7:15 o'clock tonight. Following this he sent to congress a memorandum suggesting the advisability of the passage of a resolution which would declare that this measure was not considered by the government a violation of the treaty provisions regarding the canal.

THE PANAMA CANAL BILL IS SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT The Panama canal bill is being constructed by the United States wholly at its own cost, upon territory ceded to it by the republic of Panama for that purpose, and that unless it has restricted rights of ownership and control in concluding the right to allow its own commerce the use of the canal upon such terms as it sees fit. The sole question is: Has the United States by the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty deprived itself of the exercise of the right to pass its own commerce free, or to permit tolls collected for the use of the canal?

INDIAN CHILD TOLLERS The Bombay correspondent of the London Times reports that one of the principal provisions of the rumored compromise between the government of India and the owners of the jute and cotton mills over the Indian factories bill was to increase the working hours of children. The last official inquiries proved that in Bombay and Bengal the factory law was practically a dead letter, and that from 30 to 40 per cent. of the half-time staff were under nine years old (nine is the legal age) while many children of six and seven were working seven and eight hours daily in the jute mills.

DICKENS IN CAMP

(The following poem is founded on a simple incident in a California mining camp where about 150 miners once listened, spellbound, to the reading of Dickens' story of the death and burial of Little Nell. The Sierra hills are in Kent, England. The Sierra are the Sierra Nevada mountains, so called by the Spaniards. The word Sierra means a "saw" and also a ridge of mountains.) Above the pines the moon was slowly drifting. The river sang below: The dim Sierras, far beyond, uplifting Their minarets of snow.

The Oil Fuel Question

Writing on the subject of oil as fuel, The London Iron and Coal Trades Review says: "Only in localities where the supply is cheap and continuous, as for instance on the Pacific coast of the United States, is oil fuel used in any considerable degree, and it is noticeable that even oil carrying steamships generally have coal in their bunkers. There is no evidence that the great trans-atlantic lines contemplate any change in this respect. They continue to build coal-burning steamships, and it may be assumed that they would be the first to lead the way were that course warranted. Such has not been the case, however, and it is not probable that any important change to oil fuel will be made in our mercantile marine so long as coal is readily and cheaply obtainable and the results of its use remain as reliably satisfactory as they are at present.

Seeing that at our various ports we supply ships in the foreign and coasting trades with some 22,000,000 tons of coal annually, to say nothing of the quantity sent abroad from our collieries to foreign coaling stations for a similar purpose, any general adoption of oil as fuel by the mercantile marine of the world would speedily affect our coal industry very seriously. As it is, there is a tendency toward overproduction in this country, and the prospect of the loss in the immediate future of such an extensive volume of trade would certainly not encourage the investment of capital in British coal-mining undertakings. Fortunately we are faced by such a manufacture, and so at present our "withers are unwrung" by the competition of oil with coal as fuel in the furnaces of ocean steamers."

Good Apple Prospects

The prospects of the apple crop are favorable. From nearly every quarter the growth is reported to be excellent, and many cases larger than usual. At the same time the apple tree is likely to be smaller than in previous years, owing to the St. Lawrence valley yet done serious injury. In fact the report says:—"A luxuriant growth has been induced."

Good Apple Prospects

The prospects of the apple crop are favorable. From nearly every quarter the growth is reported to be excellent, and many cases larger than usual. At the same time the apple tree is likely to be smaller than in previous years, owing to the St. Lawrence valley districts is less than half a crop, and in some instances total failures are in some instances reported.

The conditions of the market, so far as Canadian apples are concerned, are fairly reassuring. The apple crop in Europe is universally short and this shortage has a direct influence upon the export price of Canadian apples. Imports from the average of 3,000,000 barrels of apples from the surrounding continental countries annually and there seems no reason why there should not be a splendid opening this year in Germany and probably other countries on the continent. The prospect for improved transportation from Canada direct to Germany is good. France may be expected to take fairly large quantities of the late winter varieties of apples and the British markets, where there is undoubtedly a general shortage of fruit, offer more than ordinary attractions this year.

Pears Are Failure

Pears! No! Perhaps in 1913 but not in 1912. In Eastern Canada pears are light and in the Lake Ontario countries north to Sherbrooke and Georgian Bay they are almost a failure.

Housewives in Ottawa who intend to eat their own plums and peaches will have to content with fruit from Nova Scotia. Even so the weakness of the Canadian crop and the competition of the great canners will materially affect the amount of the fruit placed on the general market. The shortage of canners' goods makes it probable that the canneries will use a much larger portion of the crop than usual. In Eastern Canada the use and European plums have proved too tender in many parts and shipments from Nova Scotia will have to take their place. In these districts several native varieties of excellent quality will likely to take the place of the European and Japanese failures in the near future.

Grape Crop Excellent

But here's better news! The grape crop is excellent and all the good ones who are already hanging for their grape jam, their grape wine and their great bunches of juicy grapes may rest peacefully in their beds by night, for the crop is one of the best, and, oh! joy, possibly earlier than last year.

What the report has to say about small fruits and cherries is most of interest to growers. It is seen that the small fruits trade of Canada is suffering a decline, the causes being (1) difficulty in getting pickers, (2) the inadequate transportation facilities, and (3) sometimes low prices.

Cranberries Plentiful

Christmas will still be Christmas in 1912, and your turkey will have its cranberry sauce. And good cranberries they will be, too, for, listen to the joyful tidings:—"Cranberries in Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are looking excellent and there is every prospect of a full crop." If on the other hand you are told that blueberries are only medium do not be disappointed. Once again Nova Scotia comes to the rescue with 101 per cent. of a full crop.

The canners are making such high bids for tomatoes that the housewife who intends to can her own tomatoes this year had better not be too proud for paying for them in time. Apart from the abnormal demand of the canners the crop is quite good.

WILLIAM WRIGHT STUART RAINNIE--AN APPRECIATION
(By J. James McOskill)

The ecclesiastical life is very often divorced from the interests and varied experience of the common thought of men. Although an idealist and mystic, Mr. Rainnie's life was not so excluded; he was a man of large and catholic sympathies, true as steel, honest as the day. He never suffered fools gladly, but his sympathies went out to qualities of simplicity and straight forwardness, and to all who desired to do the right.

He possessed a continuous tradition of Scottish upbringing and ancestry, with a crossing of the pure stock. Robert Louis Stevenson would have been delighted to acknowledge his kinship to Mr. Rainnie. There was a strong spiritual affinity between the two, and many were convinced they saw an outward resemblance. The strain of Celtic melancholy, with all its perils and possibilities, was upon both these sons of Scotland. Stevenson expressed his genius in throbbing, deathless prose. He was in constant and conscious search for felicities of expression and his taste was exquisitely just. Mr. Rainnie did not express his genius in literature, but those who heard him in his best moods could not but be struck with his felicities of expression, his unique and fascinating power when aroused by his subject, his love of controversy, his subtle wit and sympathetic imagination, his powerful and persistent sense of the spiritual forces that move behind the things of life. The tragedy of Mr. Stevenson's fate was the unescapable assurance that he would not live to do all which such a spirit in a stronger frame would have done for an art he loved so dearly. The tragedy of Mr. Rainnie's death is that he is taken off before the shadows began to lengthen toward the afternoon, in the plenitude of his powers. To those who knew him well, there is a dreary, almost incredible blank created by the knowledge of his death.

He lacked the satisfactions of a sheltered and tranquil existence, but he would never swerve from convictions. There was dignity, chivalry, and sturdy character in his religion. Both his spiritual and patriotic fervor struck their roots deep into spiritual soil. Scotland taught him the lesson of those who die for conscience sake, and he well understood the devotion beaten into her soil by the passions of a thousand years. He carried this devotion with him in his very bones and marrow. No man could better interpret the spirit of that land and of her famous sons. He was close of kin with them.

Mr. Rainnie might have taken Stevenson's motto for his own: "To be honest, to be kind, to earn a little and spend a little less; to make upon the whole a family happier by his presence; to renounce when that shall be necessary and not be embittered; to keep a few friends, but these without capitulation—above all, on the same great conditions, to keep friends with himself—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy." The essential sense of the Mr. Rainnie accomplished, before death entered in with a bludgeon, as it were, and suddenly and clumsily made an end of it all. But the sheath only is cast aside; the sword is clean and bright as ever.

THE MARATHONS IN FIVE LEAGUE GAMES THIS WEEK

Three of Them in St. John—Will Also Play Quincy Team Here This Afternoon

The games scheduled for this week in the New Brunswick and Maine League are as follows: Tuesday—Woodstock at St. John. Wednesday—St. John at Houlton. Thursday—St. John at Fredericton. Friday—Fredericton at St. John. Saturday—Fredericton at St. John.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; AT HOME AND ABROAD

Baseball Charlotte Street Won. The members of the team from Charlotte Street Baptist church took both games from the Victoria in a double-header at Tilton's Corner on Saturday. The scores were 123 and 30. Mr. Clawson, of Fairview umpired satisfactorily.

Halifax Chronicle—Sunny Lamb was the big man with the stick yesterday, having two doubles and two singles for six times up.

Manchester, N. H., Aug. 25—Policeman John Smith, an old-time National League baseball player and the man who started the Lowell team of the New England League and managed it, last week shot a burglar after a chase through the principal streets.

The burglar is in a hospital and probably will die. He says he is John Kuitkoski, and came here from Chicago, Mass. The burglar was surrounded in a small square by seven policemen. Smith climbed to a roof, and peering over, saw the man in the man on top of a shed. The fugitive jumped fifteen feet to the ground and Smith fired. The shot hit the man in the back.

left-handers in the business. Collins pitched in Boston on Thursday against Cleveland. In the third inning Peckingspaugh walked. In the sixth Ryan dove the ball over second base and, although "Heine" Wagner made a marvelous one-handed running pick-up, he could not beat the runner and that was the "Naps' first hit of Collins.

In the eighth, with one out, Adams dropped the first clean hit in the right field. Peckingspaugh was safe when Larry Gardner made a running dive for his base and fumbled it, and after Baker, batting for Mitchell struck out on three pitched balls. Krug who had replaced Wagner at short stop juggled Ryan's drive and the bases were filled. Birmingham then popped to Ball.

That was the complete story of Cleveland's offensive against Collins; two hits, one base on balls and two bases on errors. Collins struck six men out. He gave Mitchell three wide ones in the sixth and then put three over, and put Baker a pinch hitter, to sleep with three in succession.

Collins is six feet and an inch tall. He stands on a mound fifteen inches high. He starts to pitch on his toes. Before delivery the ball he reaches both long arms away above his head, as far as they will go. Just before the "let" go, the ball about ten feet higher than the home plate. From that remarkable height—farther up than any other pitcher—he starts his delivery—Collins quickly winds his arm overhand and, as Mathewson says, the batter feels with Collins' arm instead of with the ball. The batter expects to hit under the ball and into the air, but usually hits it to the ground to place it.

H. N. Stetson defeated Andrew Jack in the local golf championship match on Saturday, playing at the top of his form and having a comparatively easy win. Mr. Stetson and Mr. Jack are old opponents, having met before in this event. Mr. Jack has won the championship on several occasions, and Mr. Stetson won it in 1903 and 1908.

This is a 36-hole contest. On Saturday Mr. Jack won the first and second holes, lost the third, and won the fourth; but his opponent squared matters before the end of the first nine. Both were going fairly well in the first round, but in the second round Mr. Stetson played really well, doing the second nine holes in 38 and the third nine in 35, one under par. Jack Hogan as Willie hit his approach very deadily. The class he showed on Saturday indicates him as a formidable contestant in the maritime championship which is on at Ottawa.

SEVEN NEW PYTHIAN GRAVES SINCE LAST YEAR'S MEMORIAL DAY

List of Those to be Decorated With Flowers on Next Thursday—The Plan of Arrangements

Commencing on Wednesday morning floral donations for the annual memorial observance of the Knights of Pythias on Thursday will be received at Keith's assembly rooms, where a large volunteer committee of Pythians and their ladies will arrange the bouquets for their final disposition. This work will be done on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Last year more than 2,000 bouquets were received, all of which were utilized in decorating ninety-eight graves in cemeteries about town and elsewhere. During the last year the order has lost seven members, adding materially to the duties of this year.

Bouquets will be filled with the flowers at the Nickel building, because of the occupancy of Queen's Park, and after the three lodges, New Brunswick No. 1, Union No. 2 and St. John No. 30, assemble at Castle Hall, Germain street, they will proceed to Carlton street and join the flower-laden carriages. The route of procession will be through principal uptown streets to the Church of England cemetery, where the first stop is to be made. In addition to the three subordinate lodges there will be a large representation of Uniform Rank members, both in the old and new style of regalia. The band of the Grand Regiment will play.

At the assembling place in Fernhill the usual devotional and memorial exercises will be held, led by Past Supreme Prelate, Colonel James Moulson, of New Brunswick. Ladies will be in time to make the return to the city before six o'clock.

At the graveside, as the flowers are placed, the officiating knights are to recite these words:—"In fulfillment of the promise made at thy open grave, and because we have a kindly remembrance of thee, in the name of Pythian friendship, we bestow these symbols."

Honors of flowers are requested to send their offerings to the Keith suite during Wednesday, and outside flowers will be taken care of at the depot baggage room. Following are the names of those whose graves are to be decorated:—

THE BATTLE LINE
S. S. Pandemon, Captain Wright, from New York, arrived at Norfolk yesterday to load for Montevideo. S. S. Trebia, Captain Staratt, for New York, was in port at Rotterdam yesterday.

WITHDRAWN.
Lot No. 130, thirty feet by 141, situated in Wright street, was put up at auction by Auctioneer Potts at Chubb's Corner at noon on Saturday. There were several bidders but the property was withdrawn at 4:30.

ALL RIGHT AGAIN.
The Bay Shore route of the street railway on the west side, which has been disabled for nearly two weeks on account of a cavern near the corner of Queen and Victoria streets has been repaired and the cars are running regularly today. While repairs were being made cars had to turn back when they came to the break, causing the passengers many inconveniences.

POLICE COURT.
A case of assault in which Herbert Currie and John Livingston were the complainants and William Ingraham the defendant, was up before the magistrate in the police court this morning, but was adjourned until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. One woman, a frequent visitor, charged with drunkenness, was fined $8 or two months in jail with hard labor.

HAD A GOOD TIME.
A large number of people attended the Tabernacle Church picnic at Anthony's Cove on Saturday afternoon. The usual games and sports were carried out successfully. A fast game of ball was played between two picked teams, the Greens and the Reds, the Reds winning by a score of 6-2. H. McEachern and C. McEachern were the battery for the Reds and for the Greens, Owens, Gibson, Hulse and Smith. After all having a good time the back-boards brought them to the city about 10 o'clock, all well pleased with their outing.

DUGGAN MAY ALSO MAKE BREAK FROM FREDERICTON TEAM

Gets a Good Offer—Bob Conley Receives Contract—Scott O'Brien of Athletics Here

Manager P. J. Duggan of the Fredericton Baseball Club has received a telegram from President Nevin of the Detroit Americans asking him to send his terms to finish the season with the Providence club, the 72nd year in the International League. He has forwarded his terms, although undecided as to leaving Fredericton until the local league closes. With Brown and Kenney going at the end of next week the capital team would be greatly weakened. Bob Conley has received a contract from the Chicago White Sox, likely for the Des Moines or St. Joseph team. The salary is about double what Fredericton pays. He has not yet signed.

A spectacle at Saturday's games in St. John was Mr. O'Brien, a scout for the Philadelphia Athletics. Dunlop, the new infielder, who has been signed with the Marathons was supposed to report here today, but did not arrive. He is expected along at any time now. The new man is at present playing in New London, Connecticut, and comes well recommended.

MORE THAN THE USUAL NUMBER VACCINATED

Up till the present this year three hundred and forty-seven children have received free vaccination at the rooms of the Board of Health at the hands of Dr. George G. Melvin. This is by far the greatest number of vaccinations since the operation was made compulsory in 1903 for children before entering the public schools. In the whole year of 1911 there were only three hundred and twenty-seven vaccinations, and this, at the time, was thought a very large number.

CASE WAS DISMISSED

A case that has caused much argument was disposed of by the police court this morning, when the magistrate dismissed the matter involving Robert Garnett, a beer manufacturer in Brussels street, who was charged by Isaac Goldberg with assault. The case has been up several times and time has been lost owing to the fact that the complainant could speak English but poorly, and had to submit his evidence through an interpreter.

This morning Goldberg was put in the stand. He was there for some time before any connected statement could be secured from him. The magistrate himself started in to see if he could make anything of it. "Are you married?" he asked. "No understand."

"Well where do you live? Have you any children, you know, little children?" "No understand."

The lawyer for the defence too was forced to give it up after a short while.

The case, it appears, started in a dispute two weeks ago over some beer bottles. The defendant, so it appears, had contracted to buy several hundred barrels of bottles from Goldberg, but when some bottles smelling of oil arrived, he declined to take them and telephoned the complainant to call and take them away. He called, but protested that the bottles were not his. The two then came to words, it appears, and the complainant alleges that Garnett struck him.

The defendant took the stand and told the story about the bottles and added that Goldberg called him liar, thief and everything that he could lay his tongue to. He said he did not strike Goldberg, but only pushed him, and he fell over a barrel, cutting his face.

The case was dismissed. B. I. Gerow was for the complainant and E. S. Ritchie for the defence.

Miss Eva Archambault of Montreal, is visiting her friend, Miss Annie Donahue, St. Paul street.
