The river at Indiantown does not show any noticeable signs of a rise today, the weather standing at about the same level as yesterday. It is expected that the warmer weather that has struck the province will cause a further rise, however. Reports from up the river show higher water at various places, but so far the effect has not been seen at St. John.

NEW STEAMER IS BADLY DAMAGED

HALIFAX, N. S., May 13.—The steamer Mikatad, from Tynas to Dominion Coal Co., has arrived at North Sydney with her bows damaged by ice. A survey was held today and after an examination of the bows, which were found to be badly dented and a number of rivets started by the ice, surveyors ordered the steamer to proceed to Halifax to go into dry dock for repairs. The Mikatad is practically a new steamer, having been built only last year. She was built and fitted up especially for the coal trade. She has double hull, space between inner and outer shell, having capacity of 3,000 tons of water ballast. The steamer will leave early tomorrow morning for Halifax.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mr. F. McLaughlin's Lumbago

LACHUTE MAN, AFTER FOURTEEN YEARS SUFFERING, FINDS HEALTH AND STRENGTH IN AN OLD RELIABLE KIDNEY REMEDY.

LACHUTE, Que., May 12 (Special).—After fourteen years of suffering, which started from pleurisy, followed by dropsical swellings, and culminated in lumbago, and confined him to his bed, Maich F. McLaughlin, a well-known resident of this place, has entirely recovered his health, and he says without hesitation, "I am sure I owe it entirely to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I was laid up with pleurisy, which affected my kidneys," Mr. McLaughlin continues. "I suffered a great deal of pain, especially in my back. I was also terribly troubled with dropsical swellings, and finally, after many attempts to get rid of my trouble, I found myself compelled to give up and was confined to my bed with lumbago. I tried many medicines but they failed to do me any good. Then I turned to Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after taking one box I felt greatly relieved. I took several more boxes and found myself completely cured."

"EXPOSE BRIBERS" DECLARES TAYLOR

BOSTON, May 14.—The crust has been broken, or at least it has been seriously indented. John I. Taylor, owner of the Boston club of the American League, golf, yachtman, dog fancier and all-around sportsman, has come out flat-footed in favor of sifting the base ball bribery scandal to the breeze. Taylor is the first magnate to express himself upon the subject, but now that he has cut in others will doubtless venture to speak up in school.

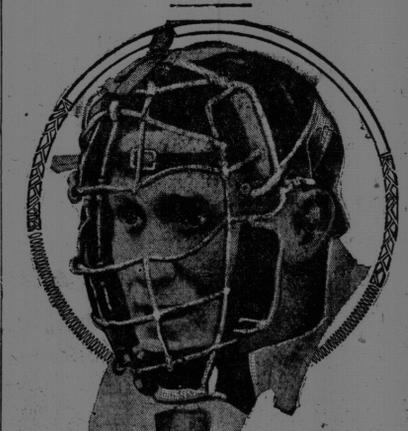

Complaints of petty persecutions and of stained glass windows broken have been received at the central police station from members of the Jewish synagogue in Carleton street. In connection with the latter complaint Oscar Beck of Paddock street and Douglas Walsh of Carleton street have been reported, while Harold Moore and Harry London will be called as witnesses. Stained glass windows to the value of $40 were ruthlessly destroyed on Wednesday night. The two boys now under report will meet with no mercy should they be found guilty, for the Jewish fraternity have decided to put an end to the destruction of their property and to the persecutions and insults heaped upon them when entering or leaving their house of worship by a gang of boys who make it their duty to spread the edifice and insult the worshippers.

WITH J. KLING OUT OF THE GAME. "RED" DOON IS BIG BASHABAZOOK

CHARLEY "RED" DOON.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Want to know why the Phillies finished so high in the National League race last year and are up there fighting this season? Well, the answer is, Charley Doon. Doon is one star backstop, and with Johnny Kling running that 182-empire of his in Kansas City and Roger Bresnahan carrying added weight as manager, is believed by his friends to be the big bashabazook of the league. Doon never had a press agent working for him like Kling. When the latter was working for Chicago Murphy always had advance men invading cities ahead of the team with literature and action moving pictures, to prove that Johnny was the discoverer of how to play the backstop job. And the best of it was Kling took Murphy seriously and now he won't report unless he gets three or four times the sun paid other good moph. He iterates and reiterates it isn't a question of wages, but, oh, mamma, you $10,000. So his lets Kling out and makes the brick-chaired Doon cock of the walk. Besides being a cock ball of pepper, Doon is a good general and death on foal flies. He usually does about 80 per cent. of the work back of the fat for his team, apparently being immune from injury. (This is written after rapping on wood.) Managers of the red put point to this to prove their assertion that he is the most skillful of backstops, claiming his freedom from injury is due to the fact that he has cut down to a science.

FLORAL CANTATA PLAY 17 INNINGS WITHOUT DECISION

CHICAGO, May 13.—Chicago and Washington battled for seventeen innings today and the game was called on account of darkness with the score 1 to 1. Manager Cantillon's tactics in the seventeenth inning probably saved his team from defeat. The locals had men on second and third with one out. Manager Sullivan then took himself out of the game and sent in Walday, a left-handed batter. When Cantillon saw this move he sent Hughes, who was then pitching to right field and sent in Gray, a left-handed pitcher. Sullivan countered by taking out Walday after Gray had pitched one ball to him. Then Cantillon tried to withdraw Gray and send Hughes back against Owens, a right-handed pitcher. According to the rules it was up to Gray to finish pitching to the man who was then batting or give a pass. After some heated argument the umpires forced Gray to continue pitching to Owens. He did and passed him. Tannhill was the next man up and Hughes returned to the box while Gansley went to right field. Tannhill hit to Hughes and Altier was forced at the plate. White ended the chances with a grounder to Delehanty. White allowed only one hit in the last ten innings. Score: Chicago, 0; Washington, 1.

Miss Rogers particularly, and Mrs. Rogers' pupils in general, deserve the highest praise for the excellent execution of a long and difficult programme which they carried out with marvellous ability last evening in Trinity church school room. Special mention must be made of the fencing exhibition by four young ladies of the senior class, who clearly showed their ability in the clever exercises which brought such general applause. The programme was utterly disappreciated in the respect of "no scores"—although no errors were rendered—the audience could not refrain from calling for them. The concert was highly successful, and Miss Rogers has again proved her high ability as a trainer in education in "his" many branches.

BOSTON, May 13.—In a hard-fought thirteen inning contest today during which Umpire Cusack was assaulted by one of the visiting players and three of them were ordered off the grounds, Boston defeated Cincinnati by a score of 3 to 2. Starr's two base hit in the eleventh inning sent in the tying run for the locals and his single in the thirteenth scored Matten from second, giving Boston the victory.

THROUGH SCARCITY OF LABOR.

Lack of labor is the rather unusual explanation given for the failure of a local factory which formerly carried on a fairly large business here. The explanation at first sight does not seem reasonable as it usually appears that there are more men than work around the city. As told by a former manager however, the explanation is made clear. He said that they needed skilled labor in the business and for many years had trained up their own workmen. Of late years the supply of apprentices had fallen off and they were not able to get enough. At the same time the older men were leaving, tempted by the better opportunities in the larger cities where most of them are now earning very good salaries as foremen and superintendents. New men could not be obtained to take their places and the result was that the factory was not able to run on a profitable basis for lack of hands.

The experience of this one factory may help to indicate why St. John has not advanced more rapidly as an industrial centre. The difficulty of securing apprentices, who will give several years to learning their trade has been met in other places by the division of labor so that the work performed by each man is extremely simple and easily learned by any laborer. In other parts of the province the factories who are either survivors of the old style of work or who are graduates of trade schools. Such positions are always open to men who understand the theory as well as the practice of the trade and who can work from plans and direct the work of others. To supply this demand the trade schools are turning out large numbers of graduates each year.

There is unfortunately, no such institution in this city or province and the local industries have not been able to get the assistance which they would give. We have three universities in New Brunswick and half a dozen others in the neighboring Maritime Provinces, but so far the claims of technical education have been almost entirely overlooked. The people who are paying the most attention to practical education of this nature are today leading in the race for commercial success. Germany for instance, has held one of the most prominent places as a manufacturing country not because of natural advantages, but because of her highly developed system of technical education. This province might well afford to follow the methods which have proved so successful in other places and by the establishment of trade schools endeavor to stimulate the industries of the province.

F. E. ISLAND TRANSPORTATION. The introduction of a new system of management in the Intercolonial Railway should be a good time for consideration of some of the more important complaints made by Prince Edward Island against the method of transportation under which it now labors. The one great demand from the Island Province is for the tunnel, next to this in importance is the request that the island should be classified as a freight and passenger district, and that it be granted through traffic rates to and from all outside points. The people of the Island province have reason for complaint at all seasons of the year, but it is during the winter months that they most feel the unfairness under the present policy.

The island railroad is part of the government system, under control of the railway department. Navigation across the Straits is maintained during the winter months by government steamers, which are operated by the Marine Department. They connect on the mainland with the Intercolonial. Thus two departments of the government are concerned in the Island's transportation system, and these operate not as one, but independently, and each seeking a profit on the business done. The result is that a merchant wishing to ship from Charlottetown to Halifax is quoted, not a through rate for his produce, but three distinct local rates, two of which are collected by the railway and one by the Marine Department. This is equally true of shipments to the island from outside points. When it is remembered that in winter the steamers run to Georgetown on the eastern end of the island, and that the bulk of the goods to be exported come from Queens Co. and the West, the disadvantage under which island shippers labor is readily apparent.

As regards passenger traffic, a resident of Charlottetown can come to St. John during the summer months for $6.20, while a Summerside man can make the trip for $4.75, the figures given being first class fares. In the winter the resident of Charlottetown must pay $9.50 for his ticket, and in addition is compelled to spend a night on the road at a cost of $2.50, and pay for three extra meals at an additional cost of $1.50 at least, making a total of $12.45, as against $4.70 in summer. The Summerside man would pay $2.25 more for his fare, as instead of crossing the Straits to Point du Chene, he would have to go to the other end of the island, taking a steamer to Pictou and around by rail via Truro and Moncton.

If the winter steamers were operated as a part of the government railway system, as is done with the car-ferry at Canoe, work could be simplified, and by that arrangement it would be an easy matter for the railways to quote reasonable through rates both ways, at perhaps slight advances over the summer rates. This would be a concession to which the island is certainly entitled and would be in the interests of business men and others throughout Eastern Canada.

As a matter of fact, it costs more to send a carload of produce from Moncton to Charlottetown in winter than from Winnipeg to Moncton. In the latter case a through rate is given, while from Moncton to any Island point three separate local rates are charged, although the goods are carried only over government lines. If the island could be placed on the same basis as the freight districts of the Maritime Provinces, and given a rate proportionate to that enjoyed by St. John or Halifax on shipments from the West, one of the grievances now felt in the isolated province would be removed, business would be encouraged and undoubtedly the returns to the railway would be fully what they are at present.

Student Put Peroxide in Bottle Which Usually Contained Bay Rum.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 13.—A prank of a student at the Cascadia Preparatory School here has caused an epidemic of masculine blondes during the past few days. The student mislaid a great deal of bay rum used for toilet purposes. Suspecting his classmates in the dormitory, he refilled his bottle with peroxide of hydrogen.

As a result, the guilty ones were transformed into blonde beauties when they appeared in classes. Two who formerly had jet black hair were blondes, while another with red hair is adorned with locks of silvery whiteness. Some have shaved their heads to kill all trace of the bleach.

GAME WORTH THE CANDLE

OTTAWA, May 13.—A representative delegation of the Intercolonial Railway arrived in Ottawa tonight to press upon the government the advisability of making a substantial grant towards the proposed Solik Central Exhibition in 1912. The delegation which consists of representatives of the board of trade and city council will see the government tomorrow morning and will leave for home again in the afternoon. As a preliminary to their interview with the ministers they met the western members of the Commons this evening and asked their support. They told of what a great advertisement the proposed exhibition would be for all Canada, how it would attract visitors from all over the world, and how the inevitable result must be an enormous influx of settlers and of capital into the west, with all that it involves for the industrial centres of the east.

The speakers were Mr. J. A. M. Aikens and Mr. Martin, the latter gentleman giving details of the financial side of the subject. He summed up the proposal by stating that the Winnipeg exhibition would involve an expenditure of $1,000,000. Of this the city of Winnipeg would give $200,000, and it was estimated that the receipts would be $1,000,000, so that there remained a balance of $2,000,000, which the Dominion would be asked to vote. He considered that in view of the certainty of the results which would accrue it would be a good investment, and the M. P.'s present, without distinction of politics, decided that the advertisement would be worth the cost.

MONACO IS EAGER FOR FULL LIBERTY

A Crisis in the Smallest State in Europe.

Its Citizens Demand the Right to Groupers at Monte Carlo—History of the Garden of Eden Repeated.

PARIS, May 13.—The days of absolute monarchy are certainly over. One by one the rulers whose word has been law for their peoples are finding themselves indicted with a curb in the form of parliament, duma, melles or assembly. After the Czar of Russia, the Shah of Persia and the Sultan of Turkey, it is the turn, if a writer in the form of the Parisian press, to find himself face to face with a revolutionary movement.

Of the 89 million citizens of the principality 725 have just signed a categorical declaration which a committee is to present to their sovereign at an early date. Their demand is not the separation of the Church and State, they do not seek the constitution of an ambition lead them toward a parliament. No, all they want is permission to become members of the Monte Carlo gambling tables.

The trouble has arisen from the regulation, forming part of the concession for gambling opened in 1863, that no citizen of Monaco can enter the gaming rooms. Thanks to the immense sum that M. Blanc pays as sole concessionaire, the Monegasques pay no taxes, submit to no civil or military obligations, enjoy beautiful boulevards, marvelous gardens, perfect systems of irrigation and water supply absolutely free of cost and in a word should be the happiest citizens of the civilized world; but the Casino is closed to them. No native of Monaco can try his luck at roulette or rouge et noir; the gambling table is forbidden.

History is once more repeating itself. The drama of the Garden of Eden is again being acted, with the Casino as the apple, while the role of the serpent is being taken by a Frenchman, one M. Roger.

Prince Albert possesses a castle in the Alpes Department in France and M. Roger was formerly prefect of that Department. Hence any attempt to become governor of the principality, M. Roger, moved by admiration for the Prince as a man and scholar, possibly also influenced by a salary of $12,000 a year and a residence in an earthly paradise, accepted.

He could not change his Republican principles. He brought with him an army of revolution, a rights of man atmosphere that quickly republished the Monegasques.

They began to talk of a national syndicate to exploit the gambling tables and divide the profits among the citizens instead of their being squandered on the pleasures of the Prince's yacht, the Princess Alice and on the Prince's hobby, the Oceanographical Museum. They went further, they began to formulate grievances against their ruler, they complained that he spent only a few months each year in his realm, and was more interested in science than in his principality.

From information received from the usual highest authorities it may be said that the Prince, deeply moved by the ingratitude shown by this revolutionary spirit, at one time meditated abdication, but his court persuaded him not to desert his high post. His position, however, is serious. He cannot rely on his army, for the seven-and-a-half companies of whom it is composed, are under suspicion. Both they and the police force, fifty strong, are believed to be in sympathy, passively if not actively, with the republican movement and cannot be counted on to fire upon their Monegasque brethren.

What the outcome will be it is hard to tell. It is possible that a certain number of born Monegasques are engaged as croupiers and employees at the Casino the existing effervescence may calm down. If, however, the Prince remains obdurate the revolution may break forth.

Should this take place it will raise many interesting points of international law. France would find itself in a particularly awkward position, for the competent authorities have held that although the principality of Monaco is included in French territory it is a sovereign state. Hence any attempt on France's part to intervene, either to protect the throne of a monarch prince, to whom the President of the Republic is at this time paying a cordial visit, or to assist a people struggling to be free, would have no justification.

In these days when Austria ignores a treaty and annexes two provinces, when a Bulgarian suzerain prince makes himself a Czar, France might overlook legal technicalities and absorb Monaco, if trouble broke out there, and then it might occur that France would remember the many protests made by the people of its own Department, the Alpes-Maritimes, against the existence of a gambling hell in their immediate neighborhood, and take radical measures for its suppression, so that the Monegasques after knowing the joys of living without paying taxes and after dreaming of a syndicate which would yield them fortunes might find themselves reduced to simple taxpayers to the French budget.

Thus the Republican trend of the Monaco mile may lead eventually to the disappearance of the Casino and of the possibility, still existent, as was proved last week, of breaking the bank.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT EDMUNSTON

Started by the Upsetting of a Lighted Lamp in An Hotel

EDMUNSTON, N. B., May 13.—Fire caused another great destruction of property here last night. A few minutes before 10 p. m. a guest in the Queen Hotel knocked over a lamp and in a moment the whole room was a mass of flames. The proprietor, Mr. John Eoucy, heard the noise and ran to the room and had to drag the man out of the flames, being terribly burned about the face and hands in doing so. All the other people in the hotel had to leave without saving more than what could be taken in their hands. One servant girl escaped in her night-clothes. Before the fire pumps could be brought into play the whole building was in flames, and the fire had spread to Mr. Joseph Dube's house adjoining and to his barn and Darton's warehouse and from there to a dwelling near the C. P. R. station, and all of these buildings were destroyed with most of their contents. Joseph Dube saved the greater part of his furniture.

Great efforts were made to save Dayton's store across the street, which frequently caught from the intense heat, also the dwelling and shop of F. X. Carrier, to the south, about fifty feet distant. Dayton's building was saved with but little damage, except broken windows, two of large plate. The Carrier building was completely gutted with the fire and flooded with water, but the fire was stopped there.

A small dwelling in the rear of the hotel belonging to Vital Hebert was destroyed. Had the fire not been stopped at Carrier's it would have swept the whole east side of the street, where there was a row of wooden buildings quite close together.

The loss is heavy for all of the owners and partly covered by insurance in the British American Company.

SHE SAYS MEN JUST BLAB, BLAB, BLAB Lecturer Declares Solomon's Advice on Gossip Was Aimed at Them.

CHICAGO, May 13.—Miss Florence E. Austin, of Woodstock, Ill., is here to expose the fact to club-women that man is the original gossip. She voiced her opinion at a May breakfast in the form of a sermon before the women of a woman's club, where the waitresses set their trays down and stood ready to receive the women's attire, Miss Austin continued: "All that old advice Solomon gave relative to gossip was not addressed to the women safe behind the harem walls, but to the men of Jerusalem, and from what he had to say it must have been blab, blab among men just as it now is."

Jury Indignant HAMILTON, Ont., May 13.—That the Kinrade inquest ended abruptly following the private conference held before the final session, and that there was something behind it as indicated in The Sun despatches at the time, it is substantiated by the attitude of the men who served on Coroner Scobie's jury. A number of them held a draft of a verdict drawn up in which R. B. Spera, the foreman, did not hesitate to say that some of them were laboring under a delusion when they returned the verdict. They were of the opinion that the crown had something up its sleeve. The foreman had a draft of a verdict drawn up in which a name was mentioned and it is stated that ten of the jurors were in favor of signing their names to it. The other jurors thought that it might interfere with the plans of the crown and the result was that another verdict was returned.

WHI Not Drop It TORONTO, May 13.—Attorney General Foy stated today that the Kinrade murder investigation had not been dropped by the authorities and never would be dropped until solved. Detectives Miller and Rogers are still working on this case, and the reward offered by the government for information still stands.

Engaged Peculiar Monster Singlehanded and Proves the Pen Mightier Than the Soft-Nosed Bullet.

JUST AS THE GHOOF SPRANG AT HIM, COL. ROOSEVELT PULLED THE TRIGGER.

There is in use in the middle West another table which was designed to avoid the occurrence of duplicate values. This is called the Avondale schedule, and it is based on the principle that if we start with the initial value for bids of six tricks as shown in the schedule just given, but advance 180 points at a time for each additional trick, regardless of the suit, we shall get a table in which there are no two bids of the same value. This is the full schedule:

No. of Tricks Bid.	6	7	8	9	10
Spades	40	140	240	340	440
Clubs	40	130	230	330	430
Hearts	40	120	220	320	420
No trump	120	220	320	420	520

CHANGES IN FIVE HUNDRED.

The Standard Game as it is Now Played—Conflicting Laws Made to Agree—The Game With Three and With Four Players—Methods of Scoring.

Very few games have attained the same popularity in a short time as five hundred. Its favor is probably due to the fact that it is a game which is peculiarly suited to players of widely differing powers, and then it is one of the very few games for three persons. Since its first introduction to the card playing world five or six years ago five hundred has undergone a number of changes for the better. By degrees the conflicting laws which have appeared in various text books have been changed in succeeding editions until now the books are all in accord but one, and the publishers of that one are promising to fall into line with their next issue, which will be in the early fall. The standard game, as it is now played in all first class clubs and wherever tournaments are held, will probably remain with any further change for many years.

How to Save Work In The Home

Lost of the dust in the modern home comes from the floor. It needn't, if you would use Flooriglaze right. And dust isn't merely a bother for the housewife and the maids. It's a danger. Dust spells d-i-s-e-a-s-e. The germs of all infectious dwell, mainly, in floor-dust. Flooriglaze reduces floor-dust to a minimum. When you coat a floor with any of the ten shades of Flooriglaze you have a floor that is creviceless (can't harbor germs), washable (use an antiseptic in the mop-water), and nearly dust-proof. You will get weary watching for it to wear off that floor. Flooriglaze stands outdoor wear, even—verandas, porch steps, etc. And a gallon covers 500 square feet. Cheap!

cards in each playing hand. It is a misdeal to give a different number of cards in the same round, or to deal for the wrong hand. The interesting part of five hundred is the bidding for the privilege of naming the trump, playing against the two other persons at the table. Each player in turn, beginning with the one on the dealer's left, has 300 right to make a bid. There are no second bids, and if a player does not wish to bid at all he can pass. If all pass without making a bid, the game is no trumps, each man for himself. The bidder must have the number of tricks he undertakes to win, playing single handed against the two others, and he must name the suit that he will play without a trump. No bid of less than six tricks is allowed and the usual expressions are: "seven in hearts" or "six in no trumps."

Several different tables of values have been used from time to time in various parts of the country. In some of these tables the suits rank one way and in some another, but the influence of the bridge playing element seems to have gradually worn down all opposition, and the suits now rank in five hundred as they do in bridge: spades, clubs, diamonds, hearts and no trumps.

Each suit has a unit value in points for a bid of six tricks, and if the player will commit these five unit values to memory he will have the whole table by heart, because this unit value is added for each additional trick bid in that suit. The initial value of the lowest bid in clubs, for instance, is 60, and as 60 is added for each trick beyond six, it is 120 for seven in clubs, 180 for eight in clubs, and so on.

The following table shows the scoring value of all the bids possible at the game:

No. of Tricks Bid.	6	7	8	9	10
Spades	40	140	240	340	440
Clubs	40	130	230	330	430
Hearts	40	120	220	320	420
No trump	120	220	320	420	520

This schedule has never come into general use, probably because its invention made the common law of copy-lighting it. The table of values first given in this article is a modification of the schedule, in which the suits rank, clubs, diamonds and no trumps. This is now quite out of fashion.

When the Avondale schedule is used there is no question as to which of two bids is the higher, but in the ordinary schedule there are a number of equalities, eight in diamonds, 240, for instance, is the same as seven in no trumps.

The rule in such cases is that the player who offers to take the greater number of points shall have the preference. A smaller number of tricks in one suit will outbid a greater number in another only when the point value of the bid is greater. Six in no trumps, for instance, is better than seven in spades because it is worth forty points more.

The highest bidder takes the three cards in the widow without showing them and then discards three cards, face down, so as to reduce his playing hand to ten cards. He then leads any card he pleases for the first trick, no matter who deals. If no one has made a bid no one touches the widow and the player to the left of the dealer leads first.

Each player in turn must follow suit if he can, but no one is obliged to win a trick if he does not wish to and can avoid it without revoking. The penalty for a revoke is the immediate loss of the amount bid, if it is the bidder who is in error, and the hand is at once abandoned. The bidder is not allowed to score anything, but the other player may score for whatever tricks he has taken up to that time.

At the discretion of the bidder revokes the bidder cannot be set back, even if he fails to make good, but he must be allowed to score what he bid. The individual player in error cannot score anything, but the other player may score for whatever tricks he has taken up to the time the revoke was claimed and proved.

If the joker is led in a trump declaration it is the best trump, and trumps must be played to it. Beginners should be careful to place the left lower with their other trumps, or they may forget that it is a trump and revoke.

If the joker is led when there is no trump the leader is at liberty to name any suit to be played to it, whether he holds any cards of that suit or not, and even if he has previously renounced in that suit. Failure to play a card of the suit called for on a joker led, when one is held, is a revoke.

When four play as partners the one that makes the highest bid takes the widow and leads for the first trick. Every hand must be played out and each individual player must take in his own tricks. The scores are kept on pads ruled for the purpose, one column for each player, and the result of the play is put down at the end of each hand.

If the bidder makes as many tricks as he undertook to win he scores the value of his bid. He cannot score more than this unless he takes all ten tricks. Even if he wins all the tricks he does not get anything extra for so doing unless the value of his bid was less than 250, in which case he gets 250 instead of what he bid. Suppose the bid was eight in spades, worth 180, and that the bidder won all ten tricks. He would score 250, but if his bid was eight in hearts, worth

STAND TAKEN BY PREMIER IS ENDORSED

ST. JOHN, May 13.—The turbulent session of the Chamber of Deputies today ended in another signal victory for Premier Clemenceau, when the government's policy with regard to the postal strike was emphatically endorsed by a vote of 454 to 23, including also the government's insistence that the postal employees and other functionaries have no right to strike, immediately afterwards the Chamber passed a vote of general confidence in the government, 295 to 113.

Shrugged Their Shoulders
The strikers received the Chamber's rebuke with a shrug of the shoulders, declaring that it only served to bind closer their forces, which would soon start the country by a big increase and a rapid extension of the general movement. On the other hand it is intimated that the government has other plans in view to offset any serious growth of the strike.

Up to midnight there was no change in the situation. If anything it was in the direction of a weakening of the strike sentiment. The general conviction is that if the movement does not make vast strides tomorrow, it is almost certain of complete failure.

Mr. Barbeau, the minister of public works, posts and telegraphs, during the course of the debate asserted that 2,387 out of 24,235 postal employees in Paris and the department of the Seine, are out, and that conditions in the provinces were even better. Premier Clemenceau in a typical epigrammatic speech, coolly concluded the exciting session with the declaration that it was merely a case where France must choose between revolution on the one hand and progressive evolution on the other, or between work under republican order, and a spirit of adventure calculated to disorganize and rend the republic.

McIVOR WAS A SLICK ONE

CHATHAM, N. B., May 13.—N. W. McIvor, a young man of promising appearance, who located in Chatham early last summer, has left for parts unknown and has managed in one way or another to take several hundred dollars from citizens who trusted him. McIvor was agent for the Erie Publishing Company of Halifax and the Scarborough Company, and seemed to be doing a good business in selling books and house furnishings, so that money was quite readily advanced to him.

Among those who mourn his departure are J. L. Stewart and Allan Mann, who each went bondsmen for him to the extent of $100. This was at a time when McIvor had a consignment of goods at the express office C. O. D., and he had no money. After he got them out he failed to reimburse his bondsmen. Clyde Johnson and W. J. Grant are on one of McIvor's notes for $25, and several other individuals at times loaned him money. He took a house and had it furnished from the Lounsbury Company establishment, and after getting the use of it for a year he left it behind him in his flight and the company has seized it.

McIvor's wife left him some time ago and returned to her parents because he brought a woman to his home and tried to force his wife to suffer the humiliation. This woman went with him on his trips and they travelled as man and wife. McIvor's wife from Springfield, N. S. He did not remit amounts due to his companies for the past month and they are after him with the law. One Chatham man, W. L. Weldon, was quick enough to catch McIvor. The latter owed him for a suit, and one night Mr. Weldon had an idea that McIvor was going out on the late train. He hired a team and drove rapidly to the station. He searched the cars but did not find the fugitive until the train was under way. McIvor was hiding in a closet of the car, but in a few minutes Mr. Weldon forced him to disgorge the amount he owed, which was for a suit. At that time McIvor was heading for Campbellton.

COMMISSIONERS HOLD THEIR FIRST SESSION

Recommendations Likely to Differ Vastly From Terms of Treaty.

VAN BUREN, Me., May 11--The first session of the international commissioners who are seeking to interpret the Ashburton treaty between Canada and the United States, which dealt with the regulation of logging on the St. John River, was completed today. The various logging and lumber properties in this vicinity were visited and local conditions noted, the observations being later compared with the results of visits to other principal places on the river. Although the members of the commission gathered informally after their tour, late this afternoon, and discussed what they had observed during the day, none of these observations was made public. While some of the ultimate recommendations of the commissioners are likely to differ considerably from the parts of the Ashburton treaty which they are supposed to remedy, the divergence in respect will probably appear greater than it really is, owing to the fact that the present treaty has been in force for over sixty years without modifications of importance.

Although setting the date of the next meeting at Wednesday, May 28, the commissioners did not definitely decide upon the particular place at which they will next look over conditions. It is probable that the place chosen will be on the New Brunswick side of the river. All the commissioners will have left here by tomorrow morning. The plans of the commissioners for their investigation here were made without reckoning with the condition of the river. It had been arranged to tour the stream, but because of a swollen spring freshet necessitated the abandonment of this feature. The river today was at the highest stage for many years. The trip from place to place was made in carriages which were forced to plow through deep mud. It was a bedraggled and tired party of commissioners which finished the trip.

KIDNEY DISEASE COMES ON QUIETLY.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some kind of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc. Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes. On the first sign of anything wrong Don't Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Miss Alberta B. Clark, Stony Creek, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney trouble for several years; my back was weak, I had such terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night and tried everything without any benefit. Meaning's friend advised me to try Don't Kidney Pills, so I got four boxes and they completely cured me. I now feel as well as I ever did and would advise everyone suffering from Kidney Disease to try them." Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or The L. PLAN TO IMPROVE THE RACE.

Drunkards, tramps, scalliwags, gratered, convicted criminals, epileptics, the degenerate and the insane--women as well as men--are to be wiped off the face of the earth, if the plan of some eminent physicians and scientists of Chicago, aided by able lawyers, are executed by state and city governments. Thus the human race is to be improved at the lower end of the scale. At the same time the upper end is to be raised to heights hitherto undreamed of through the establishment of a colony or colonies for the scientific choosing of husbands and wives and the propagation of a perfect race.

It is suggested by some Chicagoans that Mr. Carnegie or Mr. Rockefeller could perform no greater service for humanity than to found and endow a colony for such scientific mating. The plans were first set forth by Dr. Eugene Davenport, dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, in a paper on "Hereditry," which he recently read before several hundred physicians in Chicago. Dr. Davenport argued that the state should pick all the "undesirables" in society--the "culis," as he called them--and send them to colonies where they might be married and without heirs. Not all those who heard his theory elaborated agree with him. Some endorse, others suggest different schemes to accomplish the same end.

MISDIRECTED PHILANTHROPY.

Dr. Harold N. Meyer, one of Chicago's foremost alienists, who has devoted years to the study of the defective classes, including juvenile offenders, convicted felons, epileptics and the mentally unbalanced, denounces some cherished and long established charities in endorsing Professor Davenport's main thesis. He says: "Misdirected philanthropy, of all ages, is most to blame for the degradation of the human race. The reason for the physical and mental strength of the people of the Western world at the close of the Middle Ages lay in the fact that for centuries they had made it a practice to get rid of the 'culis.' Trivial offenses were punishable with death. It was a hard regime, though it a double effect was produced. First, society was no longer menaced by the offender; second, by taking his life it forever prevented his participation in the reproduction of his species, thus relieving itself of any possibility of menace from descendants that otherwise might inherit his malevolent characteristics. Thus the fittest survived.

"Nowadays the offender is fined or sent to the workhouse or to the penitentiary. After he is punished as the law requires he is allowed, often helped, to contract or re-enter the family relation. If his wife has his tender ties the children of the family are half bad at birth, and they go on helping to increase the ever-growing number of criminals." "What proportion of the population of the earth would you say belong to the classes of 'undesirables'?" was asked. "There are the drunkards," replied Dr. Meyer, making a mental calculation, "the criminals, the epileptics, the juvenile offenders--well, including the insane and scalliwags, I would say, without pretending to be exact, that about 2 per cent. of the population belongs to the class that might be denominated 'culis' and subjected to colostration." "With a population of eighty million in the United States, Dr. Meyer's statement means that there are one million six hundred thousand people in this country who, under the Davenport scheme, ought to be segregated for the rest of their lives from their fellows, and doomed to die childless." "No one would contend that the severe methods of the Middle Ages ought to be restored," continued Dr. Meyer, "but the same results should be accomplished. The colonization scheme of Professor Davenport affords one means, but there is another. Indiana already has a law providing for

SEARCH FOR MURDERER POINTS TO ONE MAN

Police Searching for Man Last Seen With Young Woman Whose Battered Body Was Found in Cemetery.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 12--The search for the murderer of Miss Laura E. Register, of Cranston, whose body, covered with wounds and bruises, was found in the Jewish cemetery on Reservoirs avenue, in Cranston, last Tuesday morning, had narrowed down tonight to one man only, according to the police. It is said that this man had been seen in company with Miss Register quite frequently and that he had been missing from his home since last Monday. The police were devoting all their efforts tonight to an endeavor to locate him and get his story of his movements since last Monday. Several other young men with whom the young woman had kept company at different times have been interviewed by the police, but all have told a satisfactory story. Miss Register was recently engaged to be married and she was returning from the dressmaker's, where she had tried on her wedding gown, when she met her death. She left a Reservoir avenue trolley car at about 8:40 on Tuesday evening and started to walk to her home, which was some distance beyond the end of the carline. Her way led past the Jewish cemetery and it was in this cemetery that her body was found next morning. The face was bruised and battered, the nose was fractured and there was a wound on the top of the head as if made with a club. The opinion of the medical examiner that the woman died from strangulation was confirmed by the appearance of

PORTUGUESE EARTHQUAKE SUFFERERS NEED HELP

Many Homeless and Starving--Consul at Boston Makes an Appeal.

BOSTON, May 12--Advice which have reached the Portuguese consul in this city, Viscount de Valle de Costa, concerning the earthquake inhabitants of that region that he decided today to make an appeal for assistance to the American people. In Lisbon itself there was great property damage, according to the dispatches received by the consul and the towns of Samora, Benavente and Salvaterra de Magos, on the south side of the Tagus River opposite Lisbon were entirely destroyed, only three buildings being left standing. The ruins are in such a dangerous condition that no one can enter. Forty-six persons are reported to have been killed, as many missing and "scores and scores" hurt. The villagers are destitute and are living in tents and in the open throughout the countryside. Owing to the failure of the crops in that portion of Portugal last year, the inhabitants of the places not affected by the earthquake can do little to relieve the suffering of the homeless. Viscount de Costa appeals to "philanthropic souls" in this country to give as they are able to prevent the unfortunate people from starving and will receive contributions of money, clothing and imperishable provisions at the consulate, 382 Hanover street, Boston.

MACKEREL FISHING WAS A FAILURE

GLOUCESTER, Mass., May 12--The southern mackerel fishing by the Gloucester vessels was a complete failure. The fleet began to arrive here this afternoon and out of a dozen that came up the harbor, but one had fish on board. Fifty vessels sailed. The fishermen declared that the mackerel fishing was the worst in the history of this city. A good catch in the southern waters "prosperity for the sailing men and their families here." The southern fleet is manned by about a thousand men and represents about three-quarters of a million dollars. Tomorrow the boats will be again re-fitted, previous to the sailing of the fleet to try their luck on the cape shore grounds.

BOSS BABY OR THE BABY WILL CERTAINLY BOSS YOU

Every woman knows that the surest and quickest way of making her best woman friend her worst enemy is to tell that friend how to take care of her baby. Young mothers, as every grandmother will tell you, are especially sensitive upon this subject.

The so-called scientific method of baby training seems to be the sensible method. An infant is taught to sleep at night. Of course there is a nervous, heart-tearing night when he doesn't want to go to bed and cry his little head half off when he faints and turns down and he is left to have it out with himself. But he does not have to learn this lesson twice, and when it is all over once there is an end of it. When the baby learns that he can have some things and other things he cannot have, he will be just as content as when he has learned that he can have everything he cries for. A baby can be trained easily enough if common sense is applied. The mother who permits her judgment to be overcome by her complete love and devotion is doing herself an injustice and her baby a harm. Anyhow, a man thinks that this is true.

OPPOSITION TO INCREASED ARMAMENTS IS GROWING

According to Members of the Peace Society--They Stand for Reductions.

BOSTON, May 12--Opposition to further increase of armaments is steadily spreading among the people, according to the expressed belief of the American Peace Society, voiced at its eighty-first annual meeting held in Boston late today. Secretary Trueblood in his annual report stated that "the most commanding duty of the hour is the limitation and gradual reduction of the enormous and menacing armaments of the nations. Concerted action to this end is the clear obligation of all governments party to The Hague conventions." The society announced that the 18th International Peace Congress would be held at Stockholm, Sweden, from August 21st to September 24th, and the election of delegates was left to the board of directors. An important motion which prevailed was to endeavor to secure a national charter for the society. The secretary's report declared the membership of the society was now approaching 2,000 and had doubled during the past year. The boughs that bear most hang the lowest--Virgil.

A slight fire in the engine room of the steamer Seneca at Indiantown yesterday was put out by a stream from the steamer's fire hose which happened at the time to be in use in filling the boilers. Another fire started in the house under dispute between Captain Porter and D. J. Parley at Indiantown. The blaze is supposed to have caught from a spark from one of the river boats. The house is occupied by George Upton, and the fire caught in a mattress. The blaze was extinguished without the aid of the fire department.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Falon, at Union Mills, was badly damaged by fire Sunday afternoon. Very little of the furnishings, accumulated during a long lifetime, could be saved as much sympathy is pit for the aged couple in this sudden disordering of their home. The loss is estimated at about $1,000, covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have started about the chimney.—Courier.

Robert Stewart, a thirteen-year-old boy, started out on Saturday last to sell newspapers for the first time. Not being satisfied with a legitimate profit on his sales, he began on Monday to steal papers and was caught this morning by Policeman McCollum. He was placed under arrest on the charge of stealing ten Suna and four Standarders from the doorway of George Merrick's shoe shine store on Union street. These papers are left in the doorway every morning before seven o'clock by the carrier boy, and on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the fourteen papers were stolen. Besides the loss, the boot black and his customers were inconvenienced.

In the police court this morning the young prisoner pleaded guilty to stealing the papers each morning, saying that when he took the papers he sold them at one cent each.

The boy's father was in court and presented a note from the youngster's school teacher giving him a good character. Mr. Stewart said that he would not allow the boy to sell any more papers and that he would not steal any more if allowed out.

The magistrate said that the affair was a rather serious one. The boy was doing wrong in stealing the papers, and he knew that there was a commandment saying, "Thou shalt not steal" and that other boys have been sent to the reformatory for four years for stealing papers. If young Stewart would look into the matter and re-mand do better, yb thKASB should maned the boy to the cells.

Last Night—Passengers Had Unusual Experience

The steamer Elaine, which broke her propeller at Gagetown yesterday, reached Indiantown in tow of the tug Admira at two o'clock this morning. She will be placed on Hilyard's blocks where a new propeller will be fitted. It is hoped that she will be ready for the route by Monday.

The Hampstead left this morning at eight o'clock to take the Elaine's place on the Fredericton route.

When the Elaine struck the log yesterday and stripped her propeller, she was off helples and at the mercy of the high wind. The intervals is flooded to a depth of six feet and she was blown a considerable distance from the channel before she grounded. Here she had to stay until rescued by the Admira which towed her to the Gagetown wharf where her passengers were transferred to the May Queen.

Thomas Connell is Sought for Eratively

Beating an Old Man Named Lyons

A gray haired laborer named Lyons, of 633 Main street, who is about 70 years of age, was an object of commiseration when he entered the police court this morning.

The old man's face was badly swollen and cut, his nose had a nasty cut on it, and both eyes were blackened and swollen so that he could hardly see. He complained that he had been unmercifully beaten by Thomas Connell, who is not more than 25 years old.

An information was sworn out for Connell's arrest on the charge of assault.

Connell is a ticket of leave man from Dorchester, where he had been sent to do time for stealing live geese the lot of Jacob Myers, the Main street junk dealer. At that time Connell was found hanging from a second story window by his fingers. His liberty as a ticket of leave has apparently not made much improvement in him.

MORE EVIDENCE HEARD IN

MURPHY ASSAULT CASE

Neighbors and Daughters of Injured Woman

Tell of the Disgraceful Incident.

The case in which Charles Arthur Collins is charged with assaulting Mrs. Murphy in a White street house last Saturday night, was resumed this morning in the police court.

Mrs. Murphy's mother, who testified that when she called Collins, the defendant, went into the kitchen, placed a lamp on the floor and fell across Mrs. Murphy's head.

Thos. Nelson gave evidence that he resided upstairs over the Collins family. He heard a girl call out that her mother was bleeding to death. He told the Murphy girl to run for a doctor and he ran to examine the ambulance. Mrs. Murphy was lying on the floor near a window and defendant was holding up the injured woman's head.

Wm. Brown was the next witness. He resides in the same house with Collins and said he heard "singing and later heard moaning. He saw Mrs. Murphy lying on the floor and defendant holding her head.

Rose Murphy, a daughter of the injured woman, testified that she went to the Collins home and asked her mother to come out, and Mrs. Collins requested her mother to remain and sing to her. When her mother was lying injured on the kitchen floor Collins poured some water on her face from the tea kettle.

Another Murphy girl was in court to give evidence, but as she did not know any more regarding the case than her sisters, her evidence was not taken. The prisoner was remanded.

CHOKED OFF

In the police court this morning Wm. Cook was charged by Mary Margaret Campbell, keeper of a little Brussels street grocery, with calling her names not fit to repeat.

She said that she sued Cook for $123 and Cook offered to give her 45 cents as payment in full. When she referred him to a constable he called the bad names and said he would go to jail before he would pay her. He said that she owed him, for two baskets of coal and a wash stand, and she said that was not so.

Cook took the stand and denied having used any of the bad language attributed to him and repeatedly remarked, "No, madam, I did not call you those wicked names."

The magistrate put a sudden end to the case with: "Now, you both will get your names in the papers. Neither of you has much to be proud of. I don't favor women coming to court. You can all go."

Cook thanked the court and was told to go out as there was nothing to be thankful for and if he used the language the woman said he did he should be ashamed of himself.

Rev. Dr. I. N. Parker, who will shortly finish his work for the year, discharged his duties without missing a single service. Younger man than he failed to reach their charges on some of the stormy Sundays during the winter, but Dr. Parker never failed to be in attendance. The doctor, too, looks good for many years of faithful service in the ministry.—Sussex Record.
