NOTICES OF THE WISDOM OF THE KING

Rev. James Bennet,

ST. JOHN, N. B.

EVIDENCES of deep and serious thought throughout the volume."-Belfast News Letter, Jan. 24, 1871. "Succeeds well in seizing on the salient points of the words of the Royal Preacher, and in bringing them home to present duty."—Glasgow Daily Review, Feb 6, 1871. "Characterized by directness of aim, sound sense, and right appreciation of the sacred writer's meaning."—The Preachers' Lantern, (London), Feb. 1871.

"It is a good book of sterling value."—The British and Foreign Ecclesiastical Review, Apri

"The production of a highly cultivated mind.

"It we have read several works on Ecclesiastes, and well remember the pleasure with which years ago we perused the 'Royal Preacher,' but for fine criticism, comprehensiveness of thought, striking illustration and unastentations, yet eloquent and forcible style, The Wisbom of The King, we think, surpasses them all."

—St. Croix Courier, March 6, 1871.

"The volume is not an unworthy companion of Dr. Buchanan on the same book."—The Ho milist (London), April 1871.

milist (London), April 1871.

"A series of charming Essays. . . Each cnapter branches out into innumerable topics of a secondary and collateral nature, giving to the work a boundless diversity. enriched with stores of ethical as well as of spiritual wisdom, evinoing at once acute observation of social life and of human character, and containing the noblest lessons for practical guidance. Our author's style is remarkable for its free, uncon strained flow, almost colloquial at times, but invariably signalized by elegance. force, adaptation to the subject, and not seldom by originality of thought in combination with terseness and beauty of expression. There is about it a freshness, as well as a fullness of practical teaching, rarely to be met with in ordinary Biblical commentaries."—Londonderry rdinary Biblical comm Standard, Feb. 15, 1871.

"This is a bright, breezy book, both interest ing and instructive. We can most conscientiously commend this book generally, as one o the most sprightly, attractive and instructive works of its kind that has fallen under our observation."—Boston Evening Traveller, May "Every portin of the work indicates ex-tensive scholarshin and mature thought."— Relfast Northern Whig. April 8th, 1871. "The force, raciness and robust manliness of Mr. Bennett's style and mode of treatment will arrest attention and excite interest in quarters where preaching or writing of the average quality would fall flat and dead."—Home and Foreign Record. March, 1871.

Foreign Record. March, 1871.

"So plain yet so suggestive, so practical yet so profound are these Lectures that while ou read them you feel their deep truth and reality; that you are in contact with realities both visible and invisible; that you are in close contact with the beating heart of nature and humanity, and that all their life and hope flew full and free from God alone."—Fredericton Head Quarters, March 1st, 1871.

Head Quarters, March 1st. 1stl.

"The writer is evidently well acquainted with the literature of his subject, and that acquaint nee reveals itself almost unconsciously in every page. There is no ostentation of reading or learning, but there is everywhere the gleaming forth of light which cannot be hid.

The style is simple, intelligible, graceful. It shows at once that Mr. Bennet is a man of literary culture, who can express his thoughts with scholarly chasteness and good taste. We could not open a page without meeting some thought vigorously expressed. The work is eminently freeh and readable."—Pres. Witness, Halifax.

"He reveals in the treatment of his themes strong common sense, a firm grasp of thought, a logical acumen and a cleer insight into human character. Even when dealing with trite ideas he imparts to them a novelly and interest by which they are lifted into an importance they searcely deserve. The style throughout is lucid, pure, compact, forcible,—and it is his own—the garb of his own thinking. We have met in our perusal of the book within numerous paragraphs of finished and brilliant rhetorio-fine specimens of pulpit oratory. He is never tame nor tiresome. We have not found one siin shod sentence in the volume."—Christian Visitor, (Baptist) March 6th, 1871. "He reveals in the treatment of his theme

"We were not prepared to find him writing in such a finished style and issuing such a volume as the result of certain preparations made for an evening lecture to his congregation." If all his nulpit perfermances are equal to these, his people have reason to rejoice in the Providence which guided his steps to them."—Evangelical Witness, May 1st. 1871.

Providence witch gathers, May 1st. 1871.

"This is a remarkably thoughtful, solid book Mr. Bennet is evidently at home in Metaphysics and Ethics, and he is a shrewd observer of human nature in its ordinary manifestation; consequently he ranges over the lessons of the Preacher with a power of illustration which shews his mastery of the subject. The style is close and direct, and yet so lucid, that any reader may understand every sentence in the volume.

I will, we doubt not, take its place, as it ought to do, among our household expositions of this treatise of observation and Jewish, wisdom "—The Presbyterian (Philadelphia), May 20, 1871.

"The lessons to be learned are drawn with a master's hand, and are expressed with a combined force and beauty that we have rarely seen surpassed in the production of any author. The ordinary reader will find noth ng that is above his comprehension, and yet it would be difficult to find a common place thought or fam of expression. A combination of these requisites we deem the highest merit a writer can possess.
"We will be much disappointed if the book do not command a wide circulation. Wherever a sound literature is felt to be a deside atum, The Wisdom of the King has but to be known to be prized as a work that the world will not yournat.

Journal.

"The Wisdom of the King is well worth careful reading. Indeed you cannot read much of it at once. There is a constant play of fancy about the thoughts, and often the very words, that is admirably suited to the Scriptore book, of which this is an exposition, but which demands such constant attention on the reader's part that he gets tired, for he does not know where it is to end. The style is compact, lucid, often sparkling and epigrammatic, the sentence cut sharply, but with a poeric fullness of original illustration that redeems them from all hardness,"—Halifax Monthly Record, (Church of Scot land).

No public moneys will be received by Districts which fail to establish Schools under the Act. It will be observed that the amount of Provincial and County moneys to be expended in any District in aid of Schools will depend almost exclusively upon local exertion or the direct efforts made by the people of the several Districts in maintaining their own Schools. The sum to be received by the Teacher from the Province is definite, but the exact amount that will be received by the Trustees from the County Fund on account of the average attendance of pupils, cannot be known at the time of the School meeting. The meeting should, therefore, be careful in voting its estimates to authorize a sum amply sufficient to enable the Trastees to meet the liabilities of the School year. Any balance remaining in the hands of the Trustees, is, of course, t. be carried to the credit of the next School year, while any deficit arising from an authorized expenditure may be carried forward and provided for in the estimates of the following year.

And it is mutually agreed that this Contract shall continue from School Year to School Year, unless notice in writing of an intontien to determine the same shall be given by either of the parties hereto at least one month before the time herein limited; or the time to which the same may be so as above mentioned.

Witness-I. K.

(2) Fixed Solaries: The amount which the Board of Trustees of any District is to receive from the County Fund, being largely dependent on the regularity will which the pupils are kept at School, and therefore unknown at the date of the written agreement (Reg. 2.) to be made with any Teacher or assistant, the Chief Superintendent is not to recognize any contract by which a Teacher or assistant may agree to receive such unknown sum as a portion, or the whole of his or her remuneration from the Trustees, but shall require that a fixed and definite sum or rate be distinctly named in each and every agreement.

THE Second Anniversary of a Christmas season in business naturally awakens a spirit of thanksgiving towards friends, when the fact is felt, that since his first start in trade, he has, up till date, been the rectivient of a very generous patronage, he would, at this festive period, offer neartfelt offerings for good to all, and trusts, when another year hath elapsed, he may feel in position and spirit, with greater force of speech to present his manifold congratulations for prosperity vouchsafed to a liberal people.
