SUNDAY'S SERVICES

In Memory of the Great Temperance Apostle.

References to the Life and Labors of the Late John B. Gough.

At the City Hall, at Marysville, and at I. O. G. T. Rooms.

The memorial service in honor of the late John B. Gough, held by the W. C. T. U. in the City Hall on Sunday evening, was largely attended, and the exercises were quite interesting and profitable, although a number of gentlemen who were expected to deliver addresses were unable to attend.

Mr. H. O. Creed presided. Several of the ladies of the W. C. T. U., and a number of other citizens, and a choir composed of a number of ladies, sang hymns from the city church choir, and the service was conducted by the choir and audience, Rev. Mr. Crawley read a portion of scripture and offered prayer.

THE CHAIRMAN. In his opening remarks said the members of the union regretted that Sir Leonard Tilley, who was expected to be present and preside at the meeting, was unable to attend, as was also Rev. J. McLeod and others who were expected to address the meeting.

After a few brief remarks, touching upon the life and death of the late lamented temperance champion, the chairman said the W. C. T. U., and the Independent Order of Good Templars and other temperance organizations all over America had been called upon to-day to hold memorial services in honor of the great man.

The choir sang "The Temperance Battle Song," after which Rev. Mr. Crawley read extracts from Rev. Joseph Cook's writings on Gough as a moral reformer. The choir then read extracts from the autobiography of the reformer, touching upon his boyhood life and his christian motto.

AUTOUR GUESTS. These briefly addressed the meeting. He recollects hearing Gough speak in the old Baptist church in this city about 38 years ago. Many of our citizens had never heard a temperance lecture.

MR. GEO. R. PARKIN next addressed the audience. It was fitting, he said, that we should, on the evening of the day consecrated to the Lord, hold a service in memory of a man who had dedicated his life and work to his God. They had met together not to glorify the man but to thank God that such a man ever lived.

John B. Gough was one of the few among the millions in the world who was endowed with great intellectual power, capable of moving men's mind and electrifying his audience with the powers of eloquence and while some endowed with such power chose to prostitute them to the devil he chose to dedicate them to his God. And it was well and fitting that they should meet together on the Lord's day to celebrate the memory of such a man. His work was not done. He had kindled a light in the Anglo-Saxon which would never be extinguished. If society, so debauched as it was from the evils of intemperance in the time of George III and George IV, had continued so, the Anglo-Saxon the world over would have been in a sad and degraded state. When the time is ripe for action a leader is there. Peter the hermit had moved all Europe into action to recover the Holy Land from the Moors. When the time had arrived for the abolition of slavery, a Wilberforce was there. Thank God for such a man as John B. Gough, who had done so much to redeem fallen men from the evils of intemperance. The temperance movement had come to stay. Its spokes of the many lessons to be learned from the life of Gough, notably among which was to never despair in a good work. The speaker closed with an appeal to all friends of temperance to press forward in the great and good work.

CAMPAIGN IN YORK COMMENCED.

The Attorney General at Kingston and Bristol—Messrs. Wilson and Bellamy on East side of river.

The government candidates began their campaign work in the country yesterday. The Attorney General addressed a large number of the electors of Kingston at Mr. Gough's last night. He spoke this morning at Bristol. Dr. Moore joined him at the latter place, and the two will address a meeting at Prince William hall to-night.

Messrs. Wilson and Bellamy have already held three meetings on the east side of the river and are meeting with great success. They addressed a large meeting at Mouth Newick last night.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The students' day at the Normal School—An interesting entertainment.

The members of the Normal School debating society gave a very interesting entertainment in the public hall of the Normal school yesterday afternoon. The students were present in a body, and quite a large number of visitors were in attendance.

Mr. J. W. Campbell, president of the society, presided. The entertainment opened with music by the students. Prof. Caldwell presided at the organ. The debate, which was the most prominent feature of these entertainments, was more than usually interesting, yesterday, and the students who took part acquitted themselves admirably.

It was generally conceded by the visitors to be the best public debate ever given by the Normal school students. The subject was "Resolved that the sword has done more for civilization than the pen." Mr. Murray led off in the affirmative and the negative side of the question was taken up by Mr. H. Hartington. Both gentlemen making many strong points in favor of their respective sides. Mr. Campbell and Mr. Moore made capital speeches in support of the affirmative, and equally as good speeches were made by Mr. Taylor and Mr. M. R. Bell, who supported the negative. At the close of the debate, the chairman, Mr. A. Plummer, gave his decision in favor of the affirmative. Principal Mullin and Mr. H. O. Creed highly complimented the speakers, and deservedly so, for the able manner in which they handled the subject and the speaking talent they displayed during the debate.

The debate being over, the students sang "Rebels from the Lake," a recitation entitled "The Chase" from the Lady of the Lake was then given by Miss Duke, a trio in French was sung by Miss Legge, Miss Richard and Mr. Doucet. Miss Wilkinson sang very beautifully a solo entitled "Roses underneath the Snow," a reading "The Irish Schoolmaster" by Mr. Murray, came next on the programme, after which Mr. J. W. Campbell entertained the audience with a stump speech. The students sang the national anthem and the very enjoyable entertainment was brought to a close.

A Runaway Horse Falls from the Bridge.

On Saturday morning last, Mr. Charles Gutter, of Queensbury, was driving along the highway road in that parish, and when near the bridge in front of Con. Murell's residence, his sleigh slowed and three horses became frightened and started to run.

The horse became frightened and attempted to run away, but Mr. Gutter managed to keep hold of the reins and the horse dragged him down the hill and upon the bridge. When about half way over the bridge, the horse was thrown against the railing, the railing not being able to sustain the weight, gave way and the horse and sleigh tumbled over the side of the bridge.

The sleigh (bottom up) struck the snow bank below and the horse fell on top of it being tightly wedged in, on its back, between the runners. Fortunately, the snow bank underneath the bridge was pretty high and the fall was not over eight or ten feet. The horse when gotten to the top of the bridge was not in any way injured, but was badly damaged.

Church Notes.

Rev. A. J. Mowatt, pastor of St. Paul's church, preached an appropriate and eloquent consolatory sermon, on Sunday morning last, particularly for those who had lost children and friends by death during the past winter. Of the large number of deaths that have occurred in this city during the winter, a large proportion of them were members or adherents of the Presbyterian church and congregation.

Rev. Mr. MacIntyre, of King's Co., occupied the pulpit of the Free Baptist church on Sunday evening last. The forty-hour devotion services in St. Dunstan's church was concluded on Sunday evening.

Rev. John Read, of Marysville, and Rev. Jos. McLeod, of this city, left for St. John's, on Sunday last. Both of the reverend gentlemen are deeply interested in the Scott act content in that city.

Baptism at Marysville. Rev. J. E. Read, pastor of the Free Baptist church at Marysville, baptized twelve persons (nearly all of whom were young men) at the close of the morning service at Marysville, on Sunday last. The converts were baptized in the Nashwaak, and the ordinance was witnessed by an unusually large number of people. During the evening service the right hand of fellowship was extended to 23 persons received into the Free Baptist church at Marysville. The revival services still continue.

Wm. Richards' Lumber Camp at Dunbar Burned. A large lumber camp belonging to Wm. Richards on the Dunbar was burned to the ground on Sunday last. The camp contained a large quantity of driving supplies, including provisions, all of which were destroyed. Mr. Richards estimates his loss at between $300 and $400. The origin of the fire is not exactly known, but it is believed to have caught from the cooking stove.

The Marysville Ministers. The Marysville ministers announce another entertainment to be given in the hall at Marysville on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. The Marysville orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. Caldwell, will furnish music at the entertainments.

Order of Foresters. Court Millets, Independent Order of Foresters, of this city, are making arrangements for a grand concert to be given in the City Hall some time in the near future.

Near St. John's in the Dunbar. Mrs. Nelson Whitehead, of Nixon, was a chronic sufferer from dropsy, and was scarcely able to take the most simple nourishment. Even a swallow of water caused great distress. Two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured her, when all else failed. She heartily recommends the use of it to all sufferers.

Supreme Court. The master term of the Supreme Court opened this morning. Judge Palmer's seat is vacant. A number of common motions were made this morning. The Gadsby estate, in which "Foggy's Ferry," "Gulph's Ferry," "Dew Drop," and "Florence" are involved, will be argued before the court tomorrow.

HOME RULE

What is Said of Gladstone's Scheme.

Views of Justin McCarthy and James O'Kelly, M. P.

Opposition Growing More Formidable.

Negotiations in Progress for a Coalition Ministry.

Amendments to be Made to the Home Rule Bill.

Speeches in the House of Commons Last Night.

Liberal Associations Resolve to Support Gladstone.

New York, April 11.—Justin McCarthy, home M. P., cables the Herald: The present scheme will probably not pass but will get through the house of commons, very likely, by a small majority.

James O'Kelly, home rule M. P., cables the Herald: Among Gladstone's followers there is no enthusiasm for home rule while there is absolute repugnance to buying out Irish landlords. Hence Gladstone's scheme is accepted with notable reserve, while open opposition grows more formidable.

Lord Hartington's speech last night destroyed any lingering hope that he would only offer an academic opposition to the details of Gladstone's scheme. His appeal for a coalition of members from all sides of the house was a definite declaration of war. It affected Gladstone deeply. Never did I see him so moved.

The World's London correspondent cables: According to lobby gossip, the Prince of Wales, after listening intently to Gladstone's great speech on Thursday evening, curtly expressed approval of the sentiments and proposals of the premier.

Geo. W. Snelley cables the New York Tribune: The general opinion is that Gladstone's bill offers far more than was asked and creates not merely an Irish parliament but an Irish state. His parliament would have powers nominal, but practically unlimited.

Gladstone's bill establishes no tribunal to determine what acts of Irish parliament are within, and what without, their jurisdiction. It retains no authority to restrict legislation or to annul Irish statutes. The veto of the crown, which is a hallowed in passing, is a fiction. The other guarantees are pure illusions.

Gladstone apparently cares little for guarantees, and relies on the loyalty of the Irish when they are once allowed to govern themselves. Sombre acquiescence, says the Times, is the very highest phase of approbation to which Gladstone's most tried and faithful followers can attain, while active and energetic condemnation is freely meted out by the stanchest representatives of every shade of liberalism.

Every important journal in Ireland is dead against it, the Daily News excepted, and even that journal discusses it despondently. Two of the most powerful journals in Great Britain, outside of London, are the Manchester Guardian and Scotsman. Both condemn the measure; both demand its rejection by the country. Such provincial papers of weight as adhere to Mr. Gladstone temper their support with conditions and demands for modification of the various features of the scheme. Such is the action of the leading journals in Liverpool, Birmingham, Newcastle and Leeds. The loyalists of Ulster and Protestants throughout Ireland insist on Gladstone's speech as a voice of doom.

A cablegram to the Herald says the budget, on Tuesday, must be an unfavorable statement, but no new tax will be imposed, and probably they will even take a penny off the income tax. Had any addition been suggested an amendment would have been moved from the Conservative side. The ministerial plan to get over Easter without a crisis and resume on May 3, hoping that the public mind will have become reconciled to the Irish measure. The fact is every day's delay diminishes the prospect of success.

Already members are discussing how the same ministry will be cast aside, and a new one put forward, and the fact that the Conservative side is not in a position to support the measure is a serious matter. The fact is every day's delay diminishes the prospect of success.

London, April 13.—The Liberal associations of Newcastle, Sunderland, Tyne, mouth and Liverpool, and many other liberal bodies have resolved to support Gladstone. The Daily News says it does not know whether Lord Randolph Churchill feared inconvenient disclosures from Parnellites, but that in his speech last night he certainly referred to the Irish party with bitter breath.

Gladstone has submitted a scheme for the issue of Irish consuls, secured on land and railways therefrom, with a view of securing the adherence of the radicals. London, April 13.—The Standard this morning takes the usual course of praising Churchill's attack on Gladstone. The Standard says it is expected that Gladstone will speak in the House of Commons to-night and that he will announce modifications already referred to embracing representation of Ireland at Westminster in ratio of her contributions to the Imperial Exchequer and the extension of the power of veto to Imperial Parliament.

ADOVER NOTES.

Victoria Election, Messrs. Baird and Porter in Active Campaign—See second page.

ADOVER, April 10.—The election contest in Victoria gives promise of being a pretty lively one. Messrs. Baird and Porter are in the field and both men and their friends are actively canvassing the country. Mr. Baird is a supporter of the present government and Mr. Porter runs as an independent.

Mr. John Stewart is shipping large quantities of Tobique plaster rock to the Adover town where it is ground up and used as a fertilizer. Mr. Stewart speaks hopefully of the Tobique Valley Railway.

Mr. Allan Peirce, manager of the Newcombe hotel, Adover, has made extensive improvements about his hotel, lately. He anticipates a rush of American tourists who come down here to fish for salmon and trout on the Tobique river.

The snow has nearly all disappeared and wagons are seen on the streets again. If the weather continues warm the ice will not last long.

The Bridge. On Saturday night the heavy work of the bridge was completed, debris cleared away, and the crowds of promenade that usually frequent the bridge on the fine Sundays had the solid planking and a clear track on Sunday last. While few readers of the paper's brush and some light finishing work, and the Fredericton bridge will be completed.

SPORTING. The Beautiful Filly Maud F., and her Half-Brother Conductor. In the Capital of the 10th inst. the statement is made that the beautiful filly Maud F., in her race at Bangor as a two year old, "baild" out. It is not correct. In the first heat Maud F. was third; in the second heat she did not square away on account of some change that had been made in her rigging, and she was not sent for the heat. There was only two heats trotted. Last year at St. John she trotted and won in straight heats and was not defeated, proving her to be a trotter and one of the best horses in the country. Conductor, the magnificent stallion owned by Mr. A. Laforest, was second; Carlmont, the highly bred and promising young horse owned by Mr. Johnson, was third. These three are all the best of the breed in the province. Maud F., a most wonderful trotting mare, was an American bred horse, brought by parties from the west at large price. Mr. Laforest has refused an offer of $800 for Conductor, who is only three years old, but he can beat any four year old in York county.

Murphy of New York, Accepts the Challenge of California's Champion. Charles M. Anderson, of California, signing himself champion long-distance trotter of the world in this week's Turf, Field and Farm, challenges any man in the world to ride a race of any distance from twenty miles up, over any properly surveyed track, for $200 to $2,000, in twenty days, to have the use of five horses or more, according to distance, and to be beaten by every mile. Mr. Anderson would prefer to ride against Mr. John Murphy of New York, Chamberlain's champion. Mr. Murphy has accepted the challenge. He will ride Mr. Anderson's race, twenty-five miles for $1,000, to be beaten by five miles or more, and place to be agreed upon hereafter.

The date of the great purse at St. Louis which it was hoped would bring Sam Woodford and Fred Hooper together, has been fixed for June 7. Ten thousand dollars will be given if those two famous flyers start.

PROVINCIAL SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Work of the New Brunswick Sunday School Association. The executive committee of the New Brunswick Sunday School Association have published a small pamphlet containing a report of the Sunday School work of the province. A map of the province is inserted in the form of the book with the counties marked thereon, and counties that are organized are marked with a star. The counties so marked are Carleton, York, Queens, Kings, St. John's, Lunenburg, and Antigonish. Two of the above counties, Carleton and York, have no Sunday school organizations, and these are marked upon the map with figures denoting the number of scholars in the county. A tabulated statistical report of the Sunday schools which fill over one-half of the book. The number of scholars is 1,481; number of average scholars, 143; number of officers and teachers, 3,421; number of scholars, 26,216, with an average attendance of 18,943. About 4,000 of these pamphlets have been printed and circulated free of charge among the officers and workers in the Sunday schools, and a large number of mercantile advertisements which fill over one-half of the book. A Sunday school superintendent publicly announced in a paper on Sunday last, that the Sunday school work being done in an advertising medium, and further stated that the work had better remain as printed, if any better means could not have been obtained for defraying the cost of publication.

Trouble about a Pier. During the last few days the Messrs. Glaziers, of Lincoln, have had a number of men employed in the construction of a pier in the river opposite the City Hall landing, to assist them in towing rafts through the bridge. A considerable portion of the pier has been built. Mr. Parker Glazier, who was superintending its construction, received a notice yesterday from City Clerk Beckwith to desist from the work, threatening also to place an injunction on it if the work were continued. Mr. Glazier has agreed to stop work until an understanding has been arrived at. In the meantime, the pier is sinking from its heavy weight and will probably be at the bottom of the river in a few days.

Canadian Pacific's Bonds. Toronto, April 12.—To-day Barrings will invite applications for twenty million dollars of Canadian Pacific Railway first mortgage bonds bearing interest at five per cent. The issue is in pursuance of the new arrangement with the Canadian government. The price of the issue is 104 per cent. The list will be opened simultaneously in London and Amsterdam. The official statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company shows a net revenue last year's working of an incomplete system of $100,000 in excess of the working expenses and all fixed charges. The opinion is that the issue will be a success.
