MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN BABY CONTEST AT FAIR THIS YEAR

Thirty-Eight Babies Entered—Some 28 Prizes Awarded—Health by Condition of Entries Reflects Much Credit On Mothers and Public Health Nurse.

More than the usual interest was manifested this year in the Baby Contest at the B. H. Fair. Thirty-eight babies were presented for examination, ranging in age from three months to two years and in weight from twelve to thirty-six pounds. A large majority of these entrants were of an exceptionally high order of development and reflected much credit on the mothers, who are largely responsible for their fine physique and healthy appearance. Two credits were also given to the Public Health Nurse, whose frequent visits to the homes of the poor children and sound practical instructions to young mothers, must of necessity result in greater attention being given to these in early life, who will be called upon to assume the duties of citizenship in the years to come. The mothers of the babies were arranged in four classes according to their ages.

Class A—Numbered seven and embraced those under six months. In this class seven first prizes, three second prizes and one third prize were awarded.

Class B—Numbered fourteen and embraced those from six months to one year. In this class five first prizes, two second prizes and one third prize were awarded.

Class C—Numbered eight and embraced those from one year to eighteen months. In this class six first prizes and two second prizes were awarded.

Class D—Numbered five and embraced those from eighteen months to two years. In this class five first prizes were awarded.

The judges consisted of a local physician and two hospital nurses and they endeavored to be fair and impartial in their decisions.

Cancellation Of Salmon Licenses In Restigouche To Be Investigated

Resolution of Councillor Belle Isle Passed at Recent Municipalities Convention Being Considered By Fisheries Department.

At the recent convention of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities held in Campbellton, a resolution requesting an investigation in regard to the cancellation of some twenty salmon fishing licenses on the Restigouche River, was passed. The following correspondence, received yesterday, gives a glimpse of a satisfactory settlement of this matter. The following are copies of letters received by Councillor Belle Isle regarding the case.

Mr. J. J. Cowie,
Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir—

In enclosing you a copy of a letter which I received from Mr. Cowie, Acting Assistant Deputy Minister of Fisheries, regarding your resolution of cancellation of salmon fishing licenses, in the Restigouche River.

Yours truly,
J. KING KELLY

Mr. Cowie's Letter
September 10, 1923

Sir—

I am in receipt of your letter of the 30th ultimo, explaining that at a meeting of the New Brunswick Municipalities you were urged by formal resolution to press upon this Department the injustice which had been done residents of the Restigouche River by cancelling the right to catch salmon by nets from the shore, the Union being informed that twenty licenses had been cancelled in the vicinity of Campbellton without good reason.

In reply I may state that this Department's information was to the effect that some fifteen or more salmon nets were under license from this Department in the district, immediately north of a straight line drawn across the river from the Ferry wharf at Campbellton to the Ferry wharf at Cross Point, Quebec Province, but that only about two of these licenses were actually operated by the licensees, the others remaining unworked.

Owing to the fact that they were of little value and in other instances the licensees were receiving a sum of money each year from the Restigouche Fishery Club in lieu of conducting fishing operations with their licenses, the prohibition of their fishing above the line stated in previous portion of this letter, consequently prevented net fishing by about only two licensees. In so far as actual fishing operations were concerned, the other licensees were, to some extent, least, inactivated. In the licenses granted by this Department and inasmuch as such is not permitted by this Department and that the Department obtained an amended report to the regulations prohibiting net fishing for salmon above Campbellton.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant
(Sgd.) J. J. COWIE
Acting Assistant Deputy Minister of Fisheries.

Councillor Belle Isle writes regarding the matter.
Mr. Editor—

Touching the above, I may say that during the Convention of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities held here in August last, I was appointed on the resolutions Committee and at that time, Councillor Duncanson brought to our attention the gross injustice that had been done to the repair owners of salmon fishing licenses in the Restigouche River by cancelling the right to catch salmon by nets from the shore, the Union being informed that twenty licenses had been cancelled in the vicinity of Campbellton without good reason.

The above correspondence goes to show that this very important matter has been stirred and it is now up to the interested parties to immediately get together and meet Councillor Duncanson and myself so that we may arrange for an early investigation in the matter and have justice meted out to the injured parties.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I beg to remain,
Yours very truly
A. C. BELLE ISLE

MAN KILLS BARBER PAYS TRIBUTE TO WHEN CALLED NEGRO RED CROSS WORK

Porto Rican Fired When Italian Dominion Organ of New Brunswick Health Minister.

New York, Oct. 4.—James Formica, 28, a barber, was shot and killed in the barber shop at 1,875 Third Avenue yesterday morning, when a fellow-barber refused to shave a Porto Rican in the belief that he was a negro. The slayer was Julio Rodriguez, 29 years old, who told the police that he had come to this city six weeks ago from Mexico, where he had been employed as a cowboy on a ranch.

Joseph Viviano, the barber who had refused to shave Rodriguez, was wounded in the left thigh by one of the two bullets fired by the Porto Rican. Rodriguez told the police that when he entered the shop and asked Viviano to shave him, the barber said: "We do not shave colored men here." Why don't you go to the colored man's barber shop, three blocks down the avenue?"

"I had been to two other barber shops before I entered this place," said Rodriguez, "and I needed a shave badly. I lost my head when the barber said that I was a negro. I called out my pistol and began to shoot. I didn't mean to kill anybody. I just want to secure them."

After Rodriguez had fired the first shot at Viviano, who jumped into a chair, the Porto Rican then whaled about on Formica, who was standing near the window of the place and fired a second shot at him. The bullet struck Formica in the right temple and he fell dead.

Formica then ran out of the shop, but was soon captured.

GEOGRAPHY TAKES NEW IMPORTANCE

Universities Paying More Attention to It's Study At Present

London, Oct. 6.—Geography has assumed a rapidly increasing importance in connection with commerce and science in recent years and now ranks in Manchester University, Geography is a "honour" school for geography ranks accordingly with other subjects in which one may specialize in the faculty of arts and possibly students with honors, and for those university students who do not wish courses of instruction in geography to be specialists in the subject there are numerous ways of acquiring the ordinary degree of B. A. For the needs of commerce students the university authorities have provided a special one-year course in geography.

Emphasis is placed by the prospect of the new school in the geographical value of the course in geography. It states that there is a growing recognition that in these days it is desirable to lead not only foreign fields, either as leaders, administrators or missionaries, only those who have the geographical knowledge of the region or whose training results in the ability to acquire it. Business men who are engaged in international trade are finding that it is essential that those who occupy posts of responsibility should, in addition to their technical knowledge, have a sound knowledge of the area with which they do business and to which they are called to render service.

BOY'S STRANGE TALE OF WOODS

Indian of Nine Makes Bow and Arrows—Lives Off Country
Saskatoon, Oct. 6.—After 17 days of wandering alone in the wilderness around The Pas, Man., George MacLeod, a nine-year-old Indian boy, was yesterday found unharmed. Except for a quantity of matches he had no supplies with him in the 100 or more miles of his travels, but, according to his story, which cross-examination failed to shake, he made himself a bow and arrow and lived off the country.
Seventeen days previous the child ran away from McKay boarding school at the Big Lake, six miles from The Pas. He was found at Starogon Landing to reach there he would have to make his way through bush and around deep bays, and cover a distance of at least 100 miles.
In an interview he stated that he had made himself a bow and arrow, with which he had killed rabbits, chickens and other small game. He had found no difficulty in catching all the fish he wanted, and once got away unscathed from two large hawks from a trapper's cabin.
Old timers at The Pas experienced in hiding out the boys through a cross-examination and led to admit the youngest possessed a natural sense of direction and resourcefulness without equal so far as their memory goes.

CONVICTS FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

Killed Three Guards—Two Prisoners Take Own Lives At End of Struggle
Eddyville, Ky., Oct. 8.—A storming party late Saturday entered the mess hall fortress here of the Kentucky state penitentiary held by the convict. The prisoners since Wednesday when they were asked, not only for this week, but for all time in eliminating fire risks. The fire destruction of New Brunswick alone during the six months from January 1 to June 30, 1923, exclusive of forest fires, was $1,246,677. Besides this many lives have been lost through fires. The Fire Prevention Board has been active in the campaign and placards have been distributed to the people to the great need for more care in placing and storing of inflammable materials.
While the churches have taken hold of the campaign for reducing the fire losses, the children in schools also will have special instruction during this week in the matter of preventing fires. It has been pointed out that the majority of fires result from careless use of the match, as well as in the use of lighting fires.
The great fire loss in New Brunswick means that each man, woman and child in the province would have to pay $3 for the fire losses during the first six months of this year, but it was pointed out by one citizen that a family average five people, with one of these caring the living for the lot. The fire loss meant $15 each six months to each man, woman and child in the province. By care on the part of every citizen, it was shown that this amount could be greatly reduced. The campaign will be carried on during the week under the direction of the Fire Prevention Board but it is hoped that the people themselves will make the campaign a perpetual affair thus saving themselves and the province from the great losses occasioned by fire.

Need for Care Spoken of From Pulpits—Preventable Losses.
Fire Prevention Week began Sunday, when reference to the need for more care in the matter of preventing fires was made from the pulpits. The co-operation of the people generally was asked, not only for this week, but for all time in eliminating fire risks. The fire destruction of New Brunswick alone during the six months from January 1 to June 30, 1923, exclusive of forest fires, was $1,246,677. Besides this many lives have been lost through fires. MUSICAL HEARSE
PROVES POPULAR

Report Says Many Are Dying To Have a Ride In It.
New York, Oct. 9.—Since John Petrucci has been using a musical hearse his own invention, his undertaking and embalming business has increased 14 3/4 per cent. This fact became known when Mr. Petrucci, at his main office, 72 Thompson street, denied that the five white enamel wooden angels carried in kneeling postures on top of the $19,875 vehicles revolve when the wheels turn.
"You'd be surprised," declared Mr. Petrucci, who is modest in spite of his business success. He stood before the door of his place after descending from the box of one of his cheapers, $7,000 or $8,000 hearses. "Yes, you'd be surprised. Other undertakers keep calling me up to ask if they can hire my musical hearse. I tell them 'No, you can't use my musical hearse.'"
"You see, somebody that has seen my hearse—you should see them stop and look when it comes on the street—needs an undertaker and they tell me they go to that they want that musical hearse. Then when the undertaker can't get it for them—well, the next time they need an undertaker they send for Petrucci."
When not engaged in the undertaking traffic Mr. Petrucci's hearse is stored in a nearby garage, where a M. Iveshoe trade mark, only used a month, will sell at a real bargain, owner going away. Apply at the GRAPHIC OFFICE, Campbellton, N. B. Oct. 4-3-wks.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Have all flues and chimneys properly cleaned before attempting to use them.
2. Look very carefully at the chimney or flue, at the point just above the peak of the room where the chimney goes through, as the lower part may have settled and the upper portion, being held up by the roof timbers, may have pulled away, leaving an open space or break in the chimney that will permit sparks slipping through into the attic or concealed space.
3. Be sure that all flue holes that are not to be used this year have good metal stops, as innumerable fires are caused by sparks from peering over unused pipe holes in chimneys.
4. Clean the ventilating collars around all flues, removing all lint, cobwebs and dust, leaving nothing in the ventilator, in this way permitting the air to cool the pipe where it goes through.
5. Be careful that the supply of kindling wood is not piled up in the yard in such manner as to carry fire to your house, in case your neighbor's house should burn.
6. It is best to keep all lightwood, kindling and boxes in sheds, stables or basements, in orderly piles, and not to have papers or excelsior mixed with it.
7. Extra caution should be used in the handling of gasolene. In the winter months all windows and doors are closed, eliminating the possibility of the air blowing the inflammable vapours away.
8. Never use gasolene inside the house for cleaning, and when compelled to use it for any other purpose do not forget that you are handling a powerful explosive which may endanger your life and property.
9. Remove all dry grass and leaves from your premises before setting one carelessly through a match away.
10. Do not dry clothing and inflammable materials above or near hot stoves.

If you will obey the above commandments, you can prevent many fires and much loss of life and property.

LIQUOR REPORT
HOUSES ABOLISHED
An action of the Canadian Gazette has been issued publishing an ordinance under date of October 3rd, in which the keeping of intoxicating liquor in the Province of New Brunswick for export and the exportation of intoxicating liquor therefrom by persons other than brewers and distillers only licensed by the Government of Canada, is forbidden on and after November 30th, 1923.

This action the proclamation sets forth, was taken as the result of an order-in-council of the province of New Brunswick passed on September 19th last.

OLYMPIA UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT
The Olympia Conference, formerly owned and managed by Mr. George Young has been taken over by Mr. Peter Papadimitriou. Mr. Papadimitriou who is a native of Greece, came to Campbellton about a year ago on his second visit to this country. He has had extensive experience in the conference business as on his first stay in America he engaged in business of this kind in the States for several years. He has also had considerable experience in the manufacture of Candy, ice-cream and other confections and his patrons here will doubtless be assured of satisfactory service.

HOW GOVERNMENT CONTROL WORKS

The Westminster Presbytery (which includes over fifty Presbyterian congregations, situated in the cities of Vancouver, New Westminster, North and South Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Chilliwack and the Lower Mainland), at a largely attended regular meeting held in Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, on September 24th, 1923, unanimously passed the following resolution:

Whereas the amount of liquor being sold in the sixty-eight Government liquor stores in British Columbia, is constantly increasing, the amount sold from October 1st, 1922, to April 1st, 1923, being an increase of over twenty-one per cent. above the amount sold for the corresponding six months in the preceding year;

Whereas the amount of liquor being sold in the sixty-eight Government liquor stores in British Columbia, is constantly increasing, the amount sold from October 1st, 1922, to June 30th, 1923, did not import one-half the liquor brought into British Columbia, the figures given in the Senate at Ottawa, on June 27th, being—British Columbia Government Liquor Control Board, 100,881 gallons, and 124,062 gallons by the private export houses;

Whereas it was stated in the Senate on the authority of Attorney General A. M. Manson, that these export houses "sell largely to a string of smaller illicit dealers";

Whereas at Prince Rupert on August 24th, 1923, at the British Columbia Municipalities Convention, it was moved by Reeve Leitch, of North Vancouver, seconded by Reeve Chambers, of Port Moody, and unanimously agreed, "That this convention place itself on record as strongly protesting against the present disgraceful situation throughout the province in regard to the formation of clubs, and the sale of liquor therein; that the present situation is worse than in the days of the open bar, and not only destructive to the morals of the people, but is resulting in bringing about general contempt for law and order; that the Government be urged at the earliest possible moment to consider this situation and enact laws to alter this deplorable state of affairs";

Whereas the effect of the more than two years' Government sale of liquor has been a serious contributing cause to the depression of all lines of legitimate business;

Whereas it is the belief of the members of this Court, that not only has drunkenness increased throughout the province, but also, that bootlegging is now everywhere more prevalent than ever before, with a result that gambling and immorality have become a scandal and a disgrace in many places;

Whereas Vancouver city has licensed 105 clubs commonly known as "beer clubs," one-half of these being located in hotels;

Whereas the Vancouver press has repeatedly claimed that there are more unlicensed than licensed places;

Now, therefore, this Presbytery of Westminster, affirms emphatically that the delay made by the Government sale of liquor would reduce bootlegging, decrease taxation, and result in an increased respect for law and order have been proved by actual experience to be utterly false in every particular.

The Presbytery, alarmed by the spread of lawlessness and immorality, and in the interests of morality and good government to take adequate steps forthwith to rectify the present deplorable and dangerous situation.

It was surprising how quickly Iodo-Bal stopped the pain. I persevered with the Iodo-Bal, and the wound which for weeks had defied all other treatment was healed perfectly. Of Interest to Women

Four Unusually Delicious Duck Dishes

Early fall is the time to eat ducks. Green ducks are supposed to be the full-grown geese and the prime choice among ducks if they have been celerly and vegetable fed. The flesh is tender and white and the flavor is excellent.

In choosing ducks, select those with thick yellow feet, and plump bellies. Cut off the heads and necks to make a French breast, remove the pinions to the first joint, clean them properly, wash them carefully and dry them with a soft cloth. The bird is then ready to stuff.

The old-fashioned sage-and-onion stuffing is always popular. Add a cupful and a half of fine crumbs to salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of sifted sage, a half cupful of seeded raisins, and a finely minced large onion that has been sautéed in a heaping tablespoonful of butter until it has cooked slightly but not browned. Add to it these ingredients a tablespoonful of finely minced celery leaves and two tablespoonfuls of dry apple sauce.

Stuff the duck and truss it as usual, frequently the first part of the time. Roast it about one hour, basting it then let it brown lightly. A few minutes before it is done, dredge it with a little flour over the top to plump the breast. The younger the bird, the more quickly it will cook, so watch it carefully. Apple sauce, stewed gooseberries or mint jelly goes with the duck and green peas.

Some Novel Ideas For the Decoration of the Nursery

Novel ideas for nursery decorations are always of interest to mothers, who make a point of keeping the nursery up-to-date and a place where children can always discover something new to interest and amuse them. These changes are not necessarily expensive, but they must be clever. Children appreciate cleverness much more than we give them credit for doing and they delight in things perhaps more intensely than grown-ups do.

One of the most novel ideas is the hand-painted wall. The wall of the room should be properly primed and painted a neutral color for a background or soft gray or a warm tan color, then a delicate shade of pink, starting at the baseboard and running to about the height of the old chair rail. Or the dado may be made to form a wide band, fourteen to eighteen inches in width, centering on the chair-rail space. At the baseboard and at the ceiling there is then painted a three-inch border of solid color in a deeper shade of gray, or tan, whichever color forms the background of the wall. The ceiling may be either a very pale gray or delicate tan.

The painting on the walls illustrates a favorite book in most cases. "Alice in Wonderland" or "Through the Looking Glass," are favorites and make most attractive borders. The figures in the story are simple, in groups, or in familiar scenes from the story. The Mad Tea Party may be done with the table at which Alice sits with the March Hare, the Hatter and the Dormouse, the paintings following the pictures in the books. The lobster, the story of the Knave of Hearts and the sad story of the Mock Turtle food to the Gryphon are favorite subjects. The squirrel cage is reinforced with a skeleton of wire that cannot be gnawed through, even by this busy pet.

WOMEN CRITICIZED FOR BOASTING

One Of the Faults of Gentler Sex, Says Woman Philosopher.

(New York Sun)

"There is one bad habit I wish women would overcome," said the woman philosopher, "I try to be loyal to my sex; but there are still a few things that make men afraid of women."

"What is it this time?" asked her companion—a man.

"Telling the world of their conquests. Men don't do it—be-men, I mean. No one thinks anything of a man who tells other men how many women are in love with him. No one believes him. He's about as popular as a pair of black shoes in this year's wardrobe, but women—dear, dear, how they love to tell each other how many men are pining away for them. Perhaps it is merely a husband, but they must needs sit up and rave about how madly he loves them after 'teen years of married life.

"Now you know and I know that if a woman's husband loves her to distraction, she need not tell the world. The world will observe it. The woman who has to tell how her husband writes her every day when he's away how he sends her a telegram or phones her from long distance is usually the one who has grave doubts as to his devotion.

"But this is her weakness—she thinks that by constant telling her woman friends how John gave her this or did that for her she will impress upon their minds his devotion and incidentally, her never ending charm and power over him. It's such a silly trick. It makes her the laughing stock, but fortunately, perhaps, she seldom recognizes it.

"When we women get to the point of keeping what we know about men to ourselves, especially when it concerns their affection for us or their devotion toward us, we will have gained much in this game of human relations. That is where we are weak and incidentally, her never ending charm and power over him. It's such a silly trick. It makes her the laughing stock, but fortunately, perhaps, she seldom recognizes it.

"Mother Williams" of Broadway

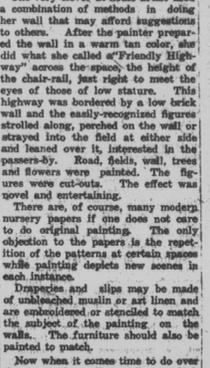

(1) "Mother Williams" with her New York friends, and (2) at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto.

OF course you have visited New York, and if you have been to New York, you have seen to Times Square; but while you were there did you notice the neat little old lady who has been known as "Mother Williams" for many years? If not you are not in the show business because everyone in the show business knows that "Mother Williams" is on speaking terms with Commissioner Richard Wright, and more than one "top" indented by the old lady—she is seventy-two years old—for her intercession with the commissioner on their behalf.

The candles she burns at the "Church of Mother Divine" for her proteges are innumerable. Many heartless girls have been stopped by "Mother Williams" and sent on her way with more money than they had until the long-sought-for engagement was secured, and the same is applicable to actors, for on more than one occasion she has been seen to "help them change." Nor has she the same to record for her help in always "putting a little bean" into the pocket of the show business musician until advancing age made it impossible to continue as a teacher. From that time until she became a sales agent for the "Billboard" was taken under the wing of the protector, she did as best she could, but always smiling, and giving, perhaps, more to the world than she received from it.

Recently she took a little journey into the province of the Canadian Pacific Railway. For two weeks she visited her old friends in Montreal, and she had travelled with the primary object of caring for her father's grave. From there she went to Toronto where her mother's last resting place was ministered to. A wonderful, cheery old lady, it is a wonder that they call her "Mother Williams" of Broadway!

WOMAN KILLS PRIEST AT CONFESSION

Drew Pistol From Folds of Dress and Fired Five Shots.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The Rev. Basil Stenek, Greek Catholic Priest, was shot and killed by Mrs. Emily Strutyk, 47, at the St. Michael's Greek Catholic church, North York, Pa., as she knelt before him, ostensibly to make a confession, at the nine o'clock mass at the church here yesterday.

Mrs. Strutyk declared to the police that she had drawn a pistol from the folds of her dress and fired five shots at the priest standing before her.

Two of the bullets passed through his head, smashing "Oh, God help me," the Rev. Stenek, staggered to the main aisle and the steps of the church where he collapsed.

Wonderful Guarantee!

Of Over a Million Bottles of Carnol Sold—Only Four Have Been Returned

If you will read the second to last paragraph of the circular which accompanies every bottle of Carnol, you will notice the following guarantee: "If, after taking your first bottle of Carnol, according to directions, you find that it has not helped you, that its action is not already recognizable, and you can say so sincerely, take back the empty (or partly empty) bottle, and get your money back. Remember we refund the purchase price—be honest."

Do you think the manufacturers would make this guarantee if they did not know that Carnol possessed properties of unusual merit? But would it be fair to say that Carnol does not possess merit when, out of a million bottles sold, only four were returned?

If the other bottles sold had not proved beneficial, they also would have been returned.

These four bottles were returned and the money refunded without question, the only explanation being that Carnol had not given relief.

As disease is slow growth it naturally takes time for any medicine to eradicate it.

To get the full benefit of Carnol it is clearly stated in the circular that you should take a "Course of Carnol," although many people have been completely cured after taking one or two bottles.

Perhaps the reason why these people didn't benefit by taking Carnol was because they did not take enough of it—besides it is not claimed for Carnol that it will cure everything.

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

PROGRESS IN I. N. R. DISTRICT

That wonderful strides have been made in agricultural development along the International Railway division of the C. N. R. during the fourteen years since this country was first opened up for settlement purposes was the opinion expressed today by Harvey Mitchell, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has returned from an extensive trip through Madawaska and Restigouche counties. Mr. Mitchell, following completion of his duties in connection with the Dominion Fair to visit particularly the districts surrounding St. Quentin and Redville. Modern farm machinery, including tractors and diggers, which are to be seen everywhere, said Mr. Mitchell, give evidence of the advance of agriculture in this district which was formerly a wilderness.

PROGRESS IN I. N. R. DISTRICT

That wonderful strides have been made in agricultural development along the International Railway division of the C. N. R. during the fourteen years since this country was first opened up for settlement purposes was the opinion expressed today by Harvey Mitchell, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has returned from an extensive trip through Madawaska and Restigouche counties. Mr. Mitchell, following completion of his duties in connection with the Dominion Fair to visit particularly the districts surrounding St. Quentin and Redville. Modern farm machinery, including tractors and diggers, which are to be seen everywhere, said Mr. Mitchell, give evidence of the advance of agriculture in this district which was formerly a wilderness.
