After being informed that Garloff no longer lived in the building, Martin attempted to enter the kitchen of Mrs. Albert A. Baird, with whom Garloff had formerly lodged. Mrs. Baird, after a few words with Martin, appealed to the janitor to eject the visitor, saying she had been insulted. Hayner ordered Martin to leave the premises and on the latter's refusal picked up a chair to enforce the demand. The men fought down two flights of stairs. Hayner gained the lead, and, dashing into his apartments, seized a revolved and fired two shots.

Hayner surrendered himself to the police, claiming he shot in self-defense. Robert Mackie, sentenced to 10 years

SEVERAL MINES TO OPEN TODAY

Mitchell Is Said to Have Advised Miners' Action-The Men Were Granted Concessions.

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 5 .- It is new believed the coal strike in West Virginia is practically at an end. At a mass meeting of miners from all the Lakes Towing Company has been set coal fields along the Norfolk and Western Railroad here yesterday, it was at once. The conference at which the almost unanimously agreed to end the strike provided the operators will take back all the old miners and the latter have signified their intention of doing this. The miners have agreed to return to work next Monday morning. tain or engineer who were not members It is reported that President Mitchell of the miners advised the strikers to Association April 1, 1902, be discharged return to work, as he realized that winter is nearly at hand and the miners in this field could not hold out much longer, as almost every one is dependent upon the union for food and clothing. It is thought the strikers in the New River and Kanawha fields will soon follow the action of the strikers on the Norfolk and Western. The Pocahontas mine continues burn, but the operators think they soon will have the fire under control.

No violence has been reported from any quarter of the Norfolk and Western coal field today. CONFIRMED. Wilkersbarre, Pa., Sept. 4 .- President Mitchell this evening confirmed the dispatch stating that the strike of miners in the Pocahontas region had been declared off. He said the strikers were granted some concessions, but he could not say at present just what hey were. Brainwell, W. Va., Sept. 4.—The fire in Pocahontas mine in the Flat Top field is still raging fiercely and the company cannot get men to enter the mine to fight the flames. The fire has extended to the three other mines connected with the Pocahontas. The shooting of guards by ambushed Woman on Car Urged Madden to Make His Mad Spurt-Blamed by President.

New York, Sept. 4 .-- An Evening Journal special from Pittsfield, Mass., says: "The mad dash by a trolley car at 40 miles an hour to beat the presidential party to the Country Club, so the motorman might earn a reward of $5, was responsible for the accident in which President Roosevelt almost lost

This is the statement made today, and it has stirred the city authorities to make a thorough investigation, so as to fix the responsibility. Eugene L. Robbins, a Pittsfield, merchant, who was an eye witness of the accident, says Motorman Madden was urged to run the car at breakneck speed by a woman. The car was crowded with women from the fashionable South street section of Pittsfield. They started late and feared that the President would get by the Country Club before they reached it. Washington, Sept. 4.—M1. B. F. Washington, Sept. 4.-Mr. B. Barnes, assistant secretary to ial party, being in the second carriage the result of the rise in the price of behind that occupied by the President at the time of the accident, has arrived in Washington. He thinks the responsibility for the accident lies between the driver of the President's carriage and the motorman, with the greater burden upon the latter. LITTLE INTEREST FELT. Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 4.-Less interest than was generally expected was shown in the appearance of Motorman Euclid Madden and Conductor James Kelly, who had charge of the car that struck the President's carriage yesterday, before the district court here this afternoon. Not more and still be cheaper than wood." than 50 persons were present. case was not even called, but after a conference between counsel for the street railway men and the court, it was agreed to postpone the matter for two weeks. Bail of $5,000 for Madden and $2,500 for Kelly was continued.

STREET CAR MEN BLAMED. Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 4.-Gov. Crane, in relating his experience, said that he heard the gong of the anproaching car in ample time, and immediately rose and warned the motorman to stop. He says the man apparently paid no attention to his signal, or those of the troopers alongside. Conductor Kelly and Motorman Madden remained in the station house from 10 o'clock this morning until 6:20

A Faithful Postmaster.

Toronto, Sept. 4 .- Mr. A. F. Rutter has received a letter from a friend in Labelle, Que., the town which has been burned down. The letter spoke in high praise of the devotion to duty shown by the postmaster. His own property was burning, but he saved the letters, postage stamps and money orders and let his own goods burn. His loss will be about $10,000 and the English-speaking residents of Labelle have started a petition to Sir William Mulock to try to induce the postoffice department to recognize his devotion

20 INJURED IN CABLE CARS

Point Edward Man Meets Instant Death-High Dive Killed a Bather.

Chicago, Sept. 5 .- From a window of the house, 243 Ward street, Mrs. Theodore Boik, Wednesday afternoon, saw small boys performing in the vacant lot adjoining an Indian war dance around a baby carriage, in which was her 11-months-old daughter Agnes. For torches they had old brooms, which they had ignited at a bonfire. Almost frantic at the danger of her litle one, she shouted to them to desist, and then saw the flimsy trappings ignite and the flames envelop it.

CABLE CARS WRECKED. Chicago, Sept. 5. - More than a were hurt, several of them seriously in a wreck on a Milwaukee avenue cable train here early yesterday. The train, which was composed of a grip and two other cars, was bringing a heavy load of working people down town, when between Girard street and Evergreen avenue the grip struck a raised plate in the track. The second car plunged into the grip and the trailer crashed into the car ahead. The passengers were piled in confused masses in the three cars. A panic followed and all the available patrol wagons in the district were sent to the scene to extricate the passengers from the wreckage. Many of the injured were penned in until the wreckage was chopped or sawed away. It is believed that none will die. HIGH DIVE KILLED HIM. Ypsilanti, Mich., Sept. 4.-William Martin, a soldier of Fort Sheridan, Ill., and a former Ypsilantian, was buried at Highland Cemetery this morning,

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 4 .- Stephen H. Velle, jun., drove his horse and runabout up the steps of the Kansas City Club and into the cafe in a spirit of adventure and to win $1,000. Robert Goodlett, of the firm of Goodlett & score of men, women and children, Levens, stockbrockers, had wagered that no horse and no driver could accomplish such a feat. With his own horse, a handsome bay, hitched to a runabout, Mr. Velie drove up to the stone stairway of the clubhouse, passed through the doors, and thence by a skilful turn into the cafe. Then as safely the horse was driven out again and there was no mishap to mar the adventure. Mr. Goodlett promptly laid down a check for the thousand dollars, but Mr. Velie refused to accept it, feeling sufficiently repaid by the fact that he had so thoroughly accomplished the Part of the land was made into artificial lakes, into which millions of gallons of water were pumped from artesian wells. This was stocked with fish of several varieties. New buildings replaced the old farm structures and herds of the best blooded stock were shipped here. From the milk thousands of pounds of butter were made. The people were advised to watch for trespassers, to patrol the fields and drive off all intruders. The news spread rapidly and a bitter feeling was soon aroused. Young Roosevelt applied at a farmhouse for a drink and the dogs were set upon him. Wherever the private train of H. R. McCollough and Marvin Hughitt, jun., passed the eyes of these two and their young guest from the White House were met with threatening notices to "keep out or look out for buckshot." These notices could not be slighted without danger and the railroad offi-

But It Didn't Come From the Poles-His Majesty Makes One of His Yigorous Speeches.

Posen, Sept. 5 .- A statue of Emperor Frederick was unveiled here yesterday in the presence of Emperor William, Empress Victoria, the Crown Prince Frederick William, Field Marshal Count Von Buelow, the cabinet ministers, and many other notabilities. The imperial party subsequently proceeded to the Provincial Diet House, where they received an address from the provincial authorities. The president of the Diet presented the Emperor with a loving-cup. His majesty replied to the address with a speech of some length. There were similar functions at the Provincial Assembly House, where the Polish members were conspicuous by their absence.

Replying to the address of the Provincial Diet, Emperor William enjoined the Germans to lay aside their inherited tendency to engage in party strife, and to work together for the good of the country. Referring to the Poles his majesty said:

HIS REGRETS. deeply regret that a section of my subjects of non-German origin appears to have difficulty in falling in with our conditions of life. The reason for this may possibly be found in two misapprehensions. Firstly, the fear of interference with their religion is kept alive among them. He who asserts that difficulties are placed in the way of my subjects of the Roman faith in regard to the exercise of their religion, or that they will be forced to depart from it, is guilty of telling a downright lie. whole reign and my words and actions prove how highly I value religion, and such a person insults by a calumny of this nature the successor of the great King, who said, 'Every one is entitled to obtain blessedness in his own fashion.' The second misapprehension consists in the fact that the fear is kept alive that their racial peculiarities and traditions are to be extirpated. That is not so. The kingdom of Prussit is composed of many races who are proud of their former history and their individuality. This, however, does not prevent them from being first of all good Prussians. It should be the same here.

"Traditions and recollections may live in peace, but they belong to history—to the past. This day I recognize only Prussians here, and I owe it to the labors of my forefathers to see that this province shall become irrevocably bound to the Prussian monarchy, and that it shall, moreover, be good Prussian and good German soil."

TO PLACATE THE POLES. Emperor William's speech was designed to conciliate the Poles, in so far as this could be done by phraseology that did not imply weakness, and to reaffirm the continuance of the present policy, including making German the only language of the schools and the administration. Polish newspapers have received the Emperor's speech in silence. Inquiries made among the Poles and Germans of the city indicate that both elements consider the race quarrel in the province as likely to continue and likely that it will result in hard feelings and hard usage on both sides, trade and social boycotts, secret societies and the employment of spies. Only one arrest, that of a woman who was talking on the street, has been made for lese majeste.

The attendance was disappointingly small, there evidently being some dissatisfaction with the regulations regarding the distribution of free ammunition. A motion to suspend the league's operations until the policy is changed was defeated. The report of the executive pointed out that there had been a serious falling off in the number of teams competing, owing to the policy of cutting off the supply of free ammunition.

It was decided to make Ottawa the permanente headquarters, and with that end in view the following officers were elected: President, Lieut.-Col. Sherwood, A. D. C., C. M. "We seem to think that to master books is the only way to become learned, and that to become learned is the object of education. One can gain nothing by second-hand observation from books, and the object of education is not to make men scholars. 'The time when a man can become learned from books alone is already passed. We live in an age of science, and observation and experiment are fundamental methods. Quest After Boys.

Fled to Her Arms.

Chicago, Sept. 4 .- Mrs. Mary R. Mc-Cullough came from Kansas City, Mo., Sunday afternoon, to look for her two lost sons, whom she has been seeking for six years. Within an hour after she had stepped from the train she was guided to the little street stand where her youngest child was selling papers, by a youth whom she had stopped in the street to ask her way to the nearest church. The same youth informed her that her oldest son was in the John Worthy School, and that she could probably get him out and take him home by apply ing to Judge Tuthill for his release. As soon as she saw her youngest boy ed little lad who had been spirited her arms sobbing and laughing at once and calling "Mamma." Forgetting the news stand completely, talking, laughing and sobbing by turns, the child and the woman walked off down the street and back to the hotel where Mrs. McCullough is stay-

Later the two went out to the John Worthy School to visit the other boy, and there the story was retold for his benefit. Mrs. McCullough obtained a divorce ten years ago from John Cummings, and secured the custody of her children-two boys and a girl. Cummings left Kansas City and came to Chicago. Four years later S. R. Cummings, the boys' grandfather, was coming to Chicago, and he asked permission of their mother, who had remarried, and was then Mrs. McCullough, to take the boys with him for a little visit to their father. Mrs. McCullough consented, and from the day they left until last Sun-day she had never seen them, their father or their grandfather.

Both she and her husband, who was a policeman on the Kansas City force, made repeated efforts to find them, but all their exertions were futile.

Four months ago Mrs. McCullough's husband died, leaving her an estate of $2,000. She bought a modest house, and then started out with the determination of finding her boys and bringing them back to share the little home with her and their little sister.

Both boys are wild with joy at finding their mother and are eager to go home with her. They say that though their father would not permit them to leave him, he did not provide them with a home or with food or clothing, and that they have been forced to make the streets their home ever since their separation from their mother. Eddie is 17 and Johnnie is 14, and both have been in the John Worthy School, more, it is said, to take them off the streets than to punish them for any grave misdeeds. Mrs. McCullough will apply for Eddie's release today and will start home with both boys as soon as the necessary formalities of release are finish-

DOUKHOBORS IN BAD WAY A SENSATION IN 'FRISCO

ton Settlement.

No Preparations Made for the Coming

Montreal, Sept. 4. — According to a dispatch from a Star special correspondent, 4,000 Doukhobors who settled in the Yorkton district, N. W. T., will starve or freeze to death, or be on the verge of starvation this year, if the Government does not take active steps to prevent their present religious mania from going further. The dispatch says:
"The Star correspondent traveled through a wide area settled by the Doukhobors. He found that a religious mania, the like of which has perhaps never been seen in this country, has possessed the people and made them completely oblivious to the severe winter ahead of them.

"Their fields were lying idle, although as a rule they had good harvests, and their horses and cattle were running at large through them, sleek and fat. Nearly every one of the Doukhobors seen was clad in the lightest of cotton garments. They would afford no protection from an October breeze, to say nothing of a severe winter blast, and they say they will wear no other. In many of the houses visited a bag of flour was the only food visible.

"The Doukhobors will eat a few vegetables, but in a few instances had they even brought them into their homes. Men originally strong were gaunt, hungry wrecks, and I was informed that on a recent trip into Yorkton for flour a dozen big men, harnessed like mules to a heavy wagon, almost fell by the roadside through exhaustion and starvation. "The women so far have escaped any of the work that must fall on the men since they have discarded the use of animals, but if this year's crop is to be harvested they will soon have to harness themselves up to the heavy wagons as the men do. I found that they have made absolutely no provision for the future, and what is per-haps worse, the religious mania that possesses them is becoming more intense, and is spreading.

"The attempt by the Dominion Government to help these people has apparently had no effect. How it will end will probably be told when the intense cold of that district sets in. Responsible men in the district say that if the mania does not abate before October hundreds will be mere physical wrecks before January, on account of lack of clothing and little food."

Father Lucchesi says the disease is something like the black death which ravaged all Europe a quarter of a century ago. The victim is stricken down without warning, but does not die for several days. Recoveries are few, about 20 per cent., and the disease is highly contagious. This frightens the Eskimos, and when a member of a family is attacked the others immediately decamp, leaving the patient to his fate, without food or attention of any kind.

San Francisco, Sept. 4 .- Fred Marriott, the publisher of the San Francisco News Letter, was shot three times and seriously wounded at his home last night. His assailants were Thos. H. Williams, jun., president of the California Jockey Club, and Truxton Beale, a former United States minister to Persia and Greece, and a well known clubman of this city. Neither will say who did the shooting, but Marriott says it was Williams.

The following account of the shooting was given by Marriott:

"An appointment was made by telephone for a meeting by Truxton Beale. About 9 o'clock Beale and Williams came to the house and I answered the door myself. When reaching to take their hats, Beale struck me a heavy blow in the face, and made another slash at me with his fist. 'Smash him, the-' cried Williams. I retreated, as the blow on the forehead almost blinded me. I then started up stairs and Williams began shooting." The first shot fired shattered Marriott's left leg below the knee, and he fell to the steps. As he rolled to the bottom of the stairs two more bullets struck him. One cut through the thigh a few inches below the hip, passing clear through the leg. The other struck him in the right hand. Mrs. Marriott, hearing the first shot, came to the head of the stairs in time to see her husband fall. Sne started down to him. Then, it is claimed, the revolver was turned in her direction, and two more shots were fired.

Williams said: "We considered it our duty to punish Marriott for publishing an article last week reflecting on the reputation of a young lady." Beale said that although the lady's name was not mentioned her identity was so plainly indicated that they felt bound to resent the publication. After the shooting Williams and Beale went to the Pacific Union Club, where they were placed under arrest. Marriott's wounds, it is thought, will not result

Looking Toward Canada.

Mr. Cy Warman, the popular American writer, who has made his home in this city, testifies to the growing interest in Canada shown by publishing houses across the line. Mr. Warman has familarized himself with nearly every portion of the Dominion, and his pen is in constant demand by American magazines and newspapers for Canadian articles. He is enthusiastic over this country, and is doing it a notable service by bringing it graphically before the reading public in the United States. His contribution to the September number of the American Review of Reviews, which was featured by the publishers, has already brought many inquiries from landseekers. The Glories of the Thames.

We are glad to see our esteemed contemporary, the Chatham Banner-News, putting in a good word for the Thames. It says that thousands from the State of Michigan annually seek the pleasures of the river between Chatham and

Unbounded Thames shall flow for all

The Banner-News sings the beauty of the Thames in raptured prose:

To the stranger who traverses the Thames for the first time, the river is long series of delightful surprises. Winding through fertile, smiling fields, and orchards, and vineyards, with its own banks frequently clothed to the water's edge with a verdure almost tropical in its varied luxuriance, the historical stream reveals new fascinations at each turn, opening up vistas fit for the best endeavor of the painter's brush and exciting enthusiastic delight in the tourist. Once past the 'flats' of hind their acts of such a nature. The Chatham end of the river may have more water than the London end, but not more scenery by any means. In this neighborhood it also meanders through fertile fields, more or less smiling; through pretty stretches of woodland, between banks with verdure clad, with charming vistas at every turn, and turns galore.

Blessed Thames's shore the brightest beauties vield.

We readily join hands with our Chatham contemporary in building up an appreciation of the Thames. It goes far toward wiping out the reproach of being an inland city. Those who sigh for the water in the summer season are enubbing one of the prettiest of river Arips, at their own doors.

A Lesson From Edinburgh.

Edinburgh has been called the modern Athens. This has reference to its stately architecture. The site of the Ity is beautiful, and there is no direction in which one may approach it that he does not get a new and enchanting view of it. Beauty is stamped on its buildings, its site, its gardens and streets. Nature did much for it and art has done quite as much to heighten its natural charms. The residents of Edinburgh appreciated what they had by nature and improved and made the most of it, and the very fact that they did so and that they live in surroundings so tasteful has of the Ameer of Afghanistan was had an effect upon the culture of the people. But it is not to appearance only that they look. We read in Wilson's "Beyay. The taxes might frighten some, hind the Scenes in the Transvaal": glass arm when he has a pane in it, but they are found to be very small compared with the benefits derived. London boasts of its beauty and with some reason too, but when the absence of recreation grounds and bowling greens is so apparent, why is no move made to remedy the defect? We have frequently called attention to this great drawback, and pointed out also places that ought to be secured. We hope the question will be taken up, if not by the City Council, then by some body formed to secure whatever may be necessary in the direction indicated. We hope to see recreation grounds and

Gen. Botha's Shock From a Kodak.

[From the London News.] A curious experience came in the way of General Louis Botha after the ermination of the war. He lighted by chance in a shop window in the streets of Durban on some photographs of the destruction of his own louse, apparently taken by a British officer who was with the troops that destroyed the house. He recognized the place from the first of the series of pictures, which showed the soldiers round about the house with wagons, on which the furniture was being loaded; on one of them was tethered a smal monkey belonging to one of the family, and the animal was clearly to be seen in the photograph. The second view showed the house at the moment of being blown up. The third depicted the wreck.

Election of Officers-New President Chosen-Interesting Papers.

Hamilton, Sept. 4.-The fifth annual convention of the Canadian Horticu!tural Association was concluded towhen the new president, Mr. Thomas Manton, Toronto, was formally introduced to the gathering. The next convention will be held in Toronto. This morning the visitors taken on the H., G. and B. Electric Railway to Winona and Grimsby, and were shown the big peach orchards and large nurseries on the line of the electric railway. They returned to the city and were entertained at luncheon at the Mountain View Hotel by the local florists. Mr. A. Alexander, this city, read a paper to the convention on "The Hardy Perennial Border." Prof. Hutt, of the Ontario Agricultural College, gave an address on the "Relation of the Professional Florist to the Local Horticultural Societies." Mr. Roderick Cameron, of Niagara Falls, read a paper, entitled "Advantages of Cold Storage of Plants to Gardeners and Florists." At the closing session this evening Messrs. Gurney & Co.'s engineer, Toronto, told about heating greenhouses. Mr. Wm. Hunt, of the Ontario Agricultural College, gave an essay on "Summer Flowers for Flor-Mr. Wm. Gammage, London, reported for the special committee appointed yesterday to look into the quesion of establishing a trade paper. Mr. Gammage said the committee had not had time to do much, and as considerable correspondence would be necessary, he merely reported progress. The convention decided to continue the committee in office, and it will have a report ready for the next gathering. Following were officers elected: Thomas Manton, Toronto, president; George Robinson, Montreal, and E. Mepsted, Ottawa, vice-presidents; A. H. Ewing, Woodstock, secretary; H. Simmers, Toronto, treasurer; J. Campbell, Simcoe; A. Wilshire, Montreal; Mr. Algie, Brampton, executive committee. The usual votes of thanks were passed, and a report presented on the trade exhibits at the floral fete held yesterday and today at the Thistle rink.

ENGLISH COAL

Is To Be Supplied to Philadelphia Schools This Winter.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5. — The board of education of this city has completed arrangemenes by which anthracite coal will be imported from Engand to furnish fuel for the public schools during the winter. Owing to the mine workers' strike the proposals of the board for furnishing about 25,000 tons of hard coal brought ne bids, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, and the Lehigh Valley Coal Company announcing that they could not quote prices.

The average price heretofore paid for coal for the city schools has been $5 50 a ton, but under the arrangements just effected the cost of importation will be about $6 50. The work of transferring the fuel from the wharves to the schools will in-volve an additional expenditure. The amount appropriated by councils for the current year is $56,000, and an additional appropriation will by the board to meet the increased expense.

Railways and Navigation STORM ON LAKE ONTARIO

Has Interrupted Navigation for the Past Two Days.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 5.-Lake Ontario is experiencing a storm that has interrupted navigation for the past two days. The steamer Caspian which left Summerville yesterday for Port Hope was unable to get out very far and had to return to port. The steamer North King, plying between Summerville and Toronto, was compelled to remain in port all day yesterday, but will make another attempt to clear today. The wind last night was at hurricane velocity and early this morning showed little signs of abating.

Steps are being taken by Mr. Crealman, superintendent of Ontario agricultural societies, and others interested in the success of township fairs throughout the province, to eliminate from the fairs in future such attractions as horse racing, shell and other confidence games, the Wild Man from Borneo, etc., and to substitute for them features that are calcluated to be more instructive in character and less destructive to the pockets and morals of the people.

TORONTO. Toronto, Sept. 4.—Receipts at the cattle market today were 78 loads, with 1,227 head of cattle, 2,086 sheep and lambs, 722 hogs and 50 calves. Business was at no hogs and 50 calves. Business was at no time brisk, but still a fair amount was done, and prices were steady. Choice butchers' cattle were scarce, and there was a fair demand for the good cattle of this class. Medium to fair butchers were worth from $3 to $4; choice picked butch-ers from $4 50 to $5, but very few good ers from $4.50 to $5, but very few good enough quality to realize the top price. Export cattle, heavy were selling at $5.50 to $5.75; a couple of loads of extra choice heavy steers, bought by William Levack for export fetched $5.85. Stock bulls, $50 to 1,300 lbs, were selling at $2.50 to $3.50. Mixed loads of butchers and shippers, $4.3744. Lambs were easier, with prices off to $3.75 and $4. Export sheep, $3.50. Hogs were unchanged, at $7.25 the top, with the market closing weak and prospects lower for next week.

William Levack bought 225 head of cattle; exporters, $5 25 to $5 70; 2 loads of extra choice, $5 85; butchers, $3 75 to $4; picked, $4 75 to $6 25; medium, $3 25 to $3 85. Crawford & Co. bought about 3 loads of mixed cattle; exporters, $4 50 to $5 27½; butchers, $3 to $4 50; fair to medium butchers, $3 to $4 50; fair to medium butchers, $3 to $4. C. He says:

"Sometimes the pain in my back was so severe that I could not turn myself in bed. A slight cold or hard lifting would bring on a fearfully painful attack. I commenced a treatment of Kidney Pills and in a short time the pain left my back and it be-came as strong and stout as ever, and I have not since had any return of the $8,000. No insurance.

KAFFIRS ON THE WAR PATH

Expedition Under Way to Suppress the Restless Natives.

London, Sept. 5.-A report has been received from Kenhardt, Cape Colony, that an expedition has been raised to suppress a party of 60 Kaffirs which for the past six months has been roaming in the extreme northwestern part of the colony, along the Orange River, and close to the German border, looting farmers of their stock and committing other outrages. It is understood that the German authorities will co-operate in the measure against the Kaffirs. Owing to the impossibility of using horses in the district where the natives are committing depredations, it is a difficult one in which to operate. All supplies and other things must be carried on foot. The natives are well armed, and have up to the present time defied all the attempts made by the British authorities or the Boer farmers to capture them. The London Times' Cape Town correspondent says Premier Sprigg has asked the Progressives to meet him today, but it is understood no prochement is possible unless Sir John consents to introduce measures necessary for the maintenance of British Pelee's Mouth Grows Larger-Mountain Peak Has Fallen Into the Crater.

New York, Sept. 5.-It is generally believed that the Island of Martinique is doomed to total destruction, and the fear is that when the catastrophe comes Guadaloupe will be visited by an all-destructive tidal wave, cables the Point-a-Pitre, Guadaloupe, correspondent of the Herald. Crops on Experimental Farms Show a Hi Average-Would Like More Hands.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 4.-The C. N. R. is shipping stray cars of new wheat, but the general movement of grain is not expected to start until next week. So far the company is confident that there will be little difficulty in supplying the demand for cars, and wherever requisitions have been made cars have been supplied.

The movement of grain on the C. P. R. is also sporadic. The officials of that company do not look for any rush, al-though inquiries for cars have been numerous. The rainfall did no damage, and the work of cutting was not de layed beyond a few hours. Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 4.-Dr. William Saunders, director of the experimental farms, has returned from his annual tour of investigation in the west. During his absence he has inspected and arranged the work of the western experimental farms and made many inquiries as to the general condition of agriculture in the western parts of the Dominion. The crops on the experimental farm at Brandon are good. The yields of wheat and other cereals will be considerably above the average. Peas, Indian corn, roots and potatoes also promise excellent returns. The grain crops were nearly all out on the Brandon farm when teh director left there on Monday last. The hay crop had also been good, and had given from 2 to 21/2 tons per acre. At the end of last week it was estimated that two-thirds of the entire wheat crop of Manitoba had been cut. He had a most useful and successful career in public life in the Northwest Territories, and from all that I can learn has won the confidence of the people of the Yukon district in a very great degree. I may say, further, that had it not been for most unfortunate illness which has for the present made it impossible for Mr. Ross to engage actively in official duties, I should have expected him to be called to share with myself and Senator Templeman the representation of the west in the cabinet. It is, however, quite out of the question Mr. Ross to incr any undue excitement at present."

THE CALL FOR MEN

The West Still Wants More Laborers for the Harvest. [From the Gazette, Montreal, Sept. 2.

1902.1 The Canadian West is just now a laborer's paradise. It is not a case of the man looking for work, but of work looking for the man.

The labor problem was, perhaps, never so hard to solve in the west as it is at present. Advices from Winnipeg state that employment offices are besieged with applications for help. The employment agents say they are not able to fill one-half of the applications made for laborers, and wages have gone up in consequence. The fronts of every employment office are covered with announcements of "Help wanted" in many lines. Men are needed on the railways, in the coal mines of the west, as cooks in camps, and in some trades. An announcement today offered 35 cents per hour for carpenters "until freeze-up." Free passes are invariably offered men who wish to go out of the city, and still the demand cannot be filled. An employment agent who sends out hundreds of men every week, says: "We are at our wits' end to get men to fill jobs in here open. We have received no relief from the large number of eastern laborers who have arrived here, as they have nearly all gone to the harvest fields, where they believe they can secure more money. We can supply work to hundreds of men right through the winter, but we can't get them just now. Wages will take another jump soon, as we must have men.

Although there is such a big demand for men, there are quite a number ly-ing around idle. They represented a certain class of "harvesters" that came up on the excursions, and it is safe to predict that if the farmers of the west depended upon them to gather in the record crops, the output this year would be very small. These men wore in some instances patent leather shoes and very tight trousers. Others had the "white wings" shoes, stiff hats, and very high collars. A local provincial immigration agent when asked what the natty-looking harvesters were going to do, said: "They apparently don't know themselves. Some of them modestly ask for $50 per month and board, and they have never been in a harvest field. I would not be surprised if some of them made a stipulation for 9 o'clock breakfast, separ ate rooms and feather beds. nately the proportion of this class of laborers that came from the east is very small. The men who wanted to work, and knew what working in the harvest fields meant, have all been placed, and we need more of them." Toronto Fair.

home-grown figs are now being dispatched every week from Worthing, which is the center of the English fig-growing industry. A REQUISITE FOR THE RANCHER.

On the cattle ranges of the west, where men and stock are far from doctors and apothecaries. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil men and stock are far from doctors apothecaries. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is kept on hand by the intelligent as a ready-made medicine, not only for many human ills, but as a horse and cattle medicine of surpassing merit. A horse and cattle rancher will find matters and cattle rancher will find matters and cattle rancher will find mat greatly simplified by using this Oil. The biggest balloon ever made was by a German named Ganswendt, about 20 years ago. Its capacity was 20,000 cubic yards. It weighed 22½ tons and would raise 3½ tons of air.

THE IDEAL BEVERAGE. A Pale Ale, palatable, full of the virtues of malt and hops, and in sparkling cond tion, is the ideal beverage. And when chemists announce its purity, and judge its pants of the car to the floor, and Mrs.

bulance was called, and she was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where she was attended to by Dr. Beatty, of London. It was feared at first that her spine had been injured, but she was merely badly shaken up, and the shock upset her greatly. She is getting along well, and it is expected that she will soon be able to return to London

"You can make up your mind to proposed at once for the hand of Ida Montrose in an honorable, manly fachion or you can take yourself. hand of Ida Montrose in an honorable, manly fashion, or you can take yourself out of my sight and consider yourself henceforth an alien from your home. I will not countenance a son of mine in playing fast and loose with the daughter of my dearest friend, who, I know, would feel that he had been irreparably wronged through his idolized child. As for Miss Waldemar, I acknowledge that it will be rather hard on her, as well as upon you, and I wish, for your sake, it could be different, but not half the mischief could result in breaking with her that there would be in the desertion of Ida, for you were in a crowded city, coming and going with different people all the time, while you say that your relations with her were known only to yourselves and her parents, I will give you just one week in which to decide this matter," and with these words Mr. Halstead walked with an air of stern dignity from the room.

agreeable business, and beg them to allow our engagement to be announced at once. That will settle all this trouble forever. Then my father's decree of banishment taking effect—as it will, for he never vet broke his word—I will put my shoulder to Fortune's wheel and wait, with what patience I can, until she rewards my labors and puts me in a position to claim my bonny bride."

Having arrived at this decision, he

FEET SCALDED; hastive packed his portmanteau, and telling his mother that he should be away for a week or so on a matter of business, he departed without taking leave of anyone size and was soon fully avery of anyone else, and was soon flying over the country toward the great western city where the Waldemars were still de-tained waiting for Mrs. Waldemar, who was convaleding, to regain strength to resume her journey.

CHAPTER VII. Arthur hastened on his journey, but there had gone before him a white-winged missive of Mr. Waldemar from Mr. Richard Halstead, and this, alas! was destined to sadly mix and mar the pattern of two human lives.

Immediately after leaving his son Mr. Helstead had shut himsef up in hi chamber, and there he had written a long letter to Mr. Waldemar, telling him the story of the last few weeks, and coloring it to suit himself.

He represented Arthur as having paid thely young and beautiful guest the most their young and beautiful guest the most marked attention ever since his return from New York, giving the impression that he had entirely won her heart—"per-haps not wantonly." he said, as if will-ing to offer what excuse he could for his only boy, "but, at least, thoughtlessly." And then, when matters had some as far as he thought they ought without a denouement and he had questioned him regarding his intentions concerning Miss Montrose, he had confessed to a prior attachment for Miss Waldemar, greatly to his astonishment and dismay, and attachment for Miss Waldemar, greatly to his astonishment and dismay, and had flativ refused to give her up.

"Perhaps you may be able to imagine." he wrote in conclusion, "something of what my feelings as a father may being edilings as a father may being edilings as a father may being ediling my dear and only son; and I ask that you will use your influence and authority to assist me in repairing the wrong which has thus been done Miss Montrese, That such a measure will doubtless cause suffering and a sense of injury on your own part and that of your daughter, I am forced to admit and bewall. To be frank with you, however, wall. To be frank with von however, I will say that I have already laid my commands upon my son regarding his duty to the young lade in conston, and have threafaned him with disinheritance and banishment in case he refused to obey. While, had not this unhappy epised transpired, I should have been proud of an alliance with so highly respectable a family as your own; yet, I must confess that for years I have cherished a fond wish that the child of my dearest, friend should become the wife of my son. With slucere record over this year unpleasant state of affairs. I am, most truly yours, RICHARD HALSTEAD." This letter keenly wounded Mr. Waldemar, He was a proud, high-spirited man, and he had not read the missive half through before he angrily asserted that Arthur Halstend should never marry his daughter, though his lip curled with scorn as he realized how lightly Mr. Halstead appeared to regard the wrong done her feelings compared with the injury which Miss Montrose was sup-posed to have suffered.

He had been greatly pleased with Ac-thur Halstead—had thought him a nowle-promising young man, and one who would have it in his power to make Audrey very hand; while he knew that she had given herself entirely to him, and it would be almost like rending soul from

Yet, believing now that he had been deceived in him—that Arthur's was an ismoble, or, at least, a week, fickle nature, he resolved that there should be no further communication between them. Thus it will be seen why, when Arthur reached Chicago, he was received with exaspereting coolness, united with the most rigid politeness.

As it happened Mr. and Mrs. Waldemer had just returned from a drive it being a mild day, as he alighted from a carriage which had conveyed him from the station to the hotel where they were parents that day, and was at that mo-ment in her own room, writing letters to some of her friends at home. She had not vet been told of her lover's supposed faithlessness, for her father and mother both dreaded to break the heart mother both dreaded to break the hear of their darling, and were putting off the evil day as long as nossible, and they had not a thought that Arthur him-self would make his appearance among them.

They were both startled and astonished when he sprang forward to greet them in his old hearty, affable manner, and as if exacting to be received upon the same footing as before their separation.

After the first salutations were over,
Mrs. Waldemar stole away to detain Audrey in her own apartment, and to prevent, if possible, a meeting of the prevent, if possible, a meeting of the lovers.

A shock ran through the young man as he became conscious of the cool manner and averted glances of his former friends.

But, like a flash, the truth came to him—he understood it all.

"My father is bound to carry his point at any cost, and has written to them," he said to himself; and then, eager to have everything explained, he asked, as once before, though with very different feelings, for a private interview with Mr. Waldemar.

It was readily granted, and that gentheman at once led him to a room where they would be undisturbed.

Then, before Arthur had had an opportunity to utter one word, he took Mr. Halstead's letter from his pocket and Alleged Insurance Fraud.

Toronto, Sept. 4.-W. B. Farnworth. of Cincinnati, was arrested tonight on charge of attempted fraud. complainant is Mrs. Mary Kennedy, of this city. It is alleged that Farnworth and a confederate canvassed her for life insurance, and on finding that she had policy, stated that if she would pay three months' premium in advance they would get her a rebate. Mrs. Kennedy was taken with the idea, and borrowed the money to do this, but before they returned to collect the money her son had warned her not to pay it. Seeing the men, he followed them to the Union station, and procured Farnworth's arrest. The other man escaped. Farnworth carried a revolver, and will appear in court upon the additional charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He stated that he was merely the companion, the other man being the principal in the affair.

CLOSE OF NIAGARA TOURNEY. Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., Sept. 5 .-The Niagara Golf Club closed its most successful annual international tournament yesterday afternoon at a musicale and tea arranged by the lady president, Mrs. E. W. Syer, and her charming committee. The presenta-tion of prizes was made by Charles Hunter, president of the Niagara Club, with witty and apt remarks. Hearty cheers were given for the officers of the club by the visitors from different parts of the United States and Canada, and althogether one of the most agreeable weeks of Niagara's gay summer was concluded in the pleasant little clubhouse on the historical and picturesque links of Upper Canada's first capital. The prize winners were: Open event, international trophy-Winner, Park Wright, Buffalo, 79; second, Charles G. Heward, Niagara, 81.

Runners up—First, B. S. Horne, Pitts-burg; second, J. Cummings Smith, Indianapolis. Men's handicap-1 Ernest Lansing, Niagara; 2 Frieze Martin, Hamilton; prize for gross score, George Lyon, Toronto, 79. Approach and put-1 J. C. Harvey, Hamilton; 2 Ernest Lansing, Niagara. Driving-1 George Lyon, Toronto; 2 J. C. Harvey, Hamilton.

In addition to the above Ernest Lansing, captain of the Niagara Golf Club, won the cup presented by President Charles Hunter. The runner up was J. Cummings Smith, of Indianapolis. Mrs. Syer, the president of the ladies' club, has this year presented a beautiful silver cup that remains in perpetuity, the annual winner of which re-ceives a gold medal, and has her name engraved on the silver shield on the ebony base of the cup. Mrs. E. Byron Postetter, of the Niagara Golf Club, was the lucky winner this year.

RAIN INTERFERED WITH RACES. 1:031/6. Cleveland Racetrack, O., Sept. 4 .- In consequence of the heavy rain of last night and the cold wind today the racing committee of the Gentlemen's Driving Club decided to postpone until tomorrow the Boston Challenge Cup race at the Glenville track, with Lord Derby, The Monk and John A. Mc-Kerron as starters. Only three of the class races will be trotted today. Those are the 2:18 class, 2:15 pace and 2:16 trot. Charter Oak Park, Hartford, Conn., Sept. 4.-The Grand Circuit races, including the $3,000 match race between Anaconda and Prince Alert, were postponed today on account of rain.

AT HARLEM. Chicago, Sept. 5.-Stemwinder, the even money favorite, won the Sapling stakes at Harlem yesterday, Adios at 25 to 1, forcing him to run the half mile in :47% to win by a neck. It was an exciting finish, Adios beating Bad News, the second choice only a neck for the place. But for the fact that he was in a pocket most of the way, Adios would probably have won. Track

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 5. - Although 19 showered at Kenilworth Park yesterday, the track was fairly good, but the sport was not above the ordinary. Second choices won five out of the six races, and the finishes were not exceptionally close in any of the events. The weather was cold and uninviting, but the betting was stronger than any day since Labor Day. The racing was without any special feature, although a good deal of money went into the books on Rheta in the third race. Jockey Jackson claimed after the race that he had been struck in the face with a clod of dirt, which hindered his winner when she seemed to have a good chance. Summaries:

Failures in Canada.

New York, Sept. 5 .- Dun's returns from the Dominion of Canada covering insolvencies during August were conspicuously favorable in comparison with the corresponding month last Failures numbered only against 132 a year ago, while liabilities were $409,349, against $1,045,514 last year. There were fourteen defaults in manufacturing for $81.650, compared with 35 for $491,317 in 1901, and 68 in trading for $386,499, against 96 last year involving $553,497. Numerically the decrease was very generally distributed, but the improvement as to liabilities was most striking in the division embracing failures of manufacturers. This was partly due to the fact that there were no large disasters this year, while in 1901 two contractors suspended owing $280,000. Aside from this special difference, however, the exhibit is very much better than a year ago.

FINISH THEIR PRACTICE.

The annual musketry practice of No. 1 Company, R. C. R. I., will be completed at the new ranges today. Since it was supposed that a bullet had passed through one of the butts there, a careful examination of them made by the barracks authorities shows that such was not the case. The officers who made the investigation say that it is impossible for a bullet to go through SEVENTH BAND AT WESTERN

FAIR. The Western Fair Board has made good move in engaging the Seventh Regiment Band to play, afternoon and evening, at the fair this year. The band, under the leadership of Band-master W. E. Hiscott, is diligently practicing the latest popular music, with which to delight the patrons of the fair. Londoners take great pride in the Seventh Band, which has never yet failed to give complete satisfaction. The band will be fitted out this year in new blue uniforms, and will make a very good showing in appearance as

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN TAYLOR,

The death occurred in this city yesterday morning, after an illness extending over a considerable period, of Mrs. Taylor, wife of Mr. John Taylor, baker, at the residence, Tecumseh avenue. Mrs. Taylor was the eldest daughter of John Taylor, sen., High street, and at once time was a promin ent contractor, and is one of London's oldest residents. Her parents and one brother are living in London and three brothers in California. She married Mr. Taylor in 1869, and is survived by her husband and six children—William, Joseph and James, and Dollie, Mabel and Edna. The deceased was a member of the Episcopal Church. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to Woodland Cemetery. DEATH OF OXFORD PIONEER. Ingersoll Chronicle: The death occurred yesterday at his home in West Oxford, of Mr. Malcolm McNeill. Mr. McNeill had been suffering for some time from a cancer, and his death was not unexpected. Deceased was in his 62nd year, and had resided in this district for 40 years. He was well known throughout the county and was highly esteemed. Mr. McNeill was a native of Scotland. He came to Canada when about ten years of age, and had resided here ever since. Besides a widow he leaves one son and a daughter, James, and Eva, both at home, also two brothers and a sister, as follows: Neil, of the postoffice staff, London; Duncan, of Embro; and Mrs. Colof London. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock to the Rural Cemetery.

The persistent cutting of prices is hurtful to trade, and hurtful to tradesmen. It is a practice in which anybody can indulge for a season, and it is an example which is likely to be followed by many in other directions in order to get even with the fellow who started it. People expect dealers to make a fair profit, and are willing to pay a reasonable price for what they buy. In the long run the price cutter gets the worst of it.

High Water in Thames Creates Problem for Board of Works.

St. James Street Ratepayer Complains of Dangerous Culvert.

At the regular meeting of the board of works last night, Mr. W. D. Buckle complained of what he thought was a dangerous culvert on St. James street, near Colborne street. Several large holes, which required filling in, had also been worn in the road. Mr. Buckle said he would pay for repairing his frontage of 81 feet If the city would supply the pipes to carry off the water from the creek, which would be ne-cessarily filled in. The members of the board saw the justice of Mr. Buckle's proposition, the only difficulty being the insufficiency of funds to do the

Mr. Buckle argued his case very that, seeing that No. 4 ward has re-ceived its share of the money for the last few years, he could not conscientiously recommend the board to act on the proposition. The engineer believed in trying to give all the wards fair matter was finally disposed of by Ald. Dreaney moving that the engineer make an estimate of what the work would cost and also see whether there was any money with which to do it. The motion carried. The river has been so high of late that local gravel contractors have been unable to get gravel. Contractor Griffin reported to this effect, and asserted that unless he was instructed to use pit gravel at a higher price he would have to throw up his contract. The committee left the matter in the city The pay sheet for the week amounted

MUSIC AND DRAMA TOMORROW'S PERFORMANCE. "For Love and Honor" is the attraction for tomorrow at the New Grand. A special bargain matinee will be given, at 25 cents to all parts of the house. The scenes depicting the play contain a variety that should satiate every critical person. War, horse races, stock exchange, copper mine and a railway train will fill in during the performance.

EFFIE ELLSLER'S POPULAR PLAY The duchess-queen, Princess Mary Tudor of England, who was described by the chroniclers of her time as the only good woman in the court of Henry VIII., will be introduced to the play goers of this city at the Grand Opera House on Monday night next, by Effic Ellsler, in Paul Kester's dramatization of Charles Major's novel, "When Knighthood Was in Flower." Miss Ellsler is said to have a play which gives satisfying opportunities for the display of her comedy style, and of that emotionalism which has often lifted her work to heights of artistry.

WAITER PLOTTED TO DROWN WIFE

FARMER'S WIFE TOOK POISON

Young Man Shot Himself as He and His Sweetheart Sat in a Hammock.

Cincinnati, Sept. 4 .- There are sensational developments today in connection with the suicide last Tuesday night of George Conrad, head waiter of the Gibson House.

His wife, on apprehending letters from the wife of a prominent business man to her husband, was suing Conrad for divorce, and a wealthy society woman for damages, on account of alienation of affections. The attorneys for Mrs. Conrad appealed to the postal authorities, and among the letters from Conrad to the woman of whom he was enamored, there was found one in which Conrad outlined his plan, "to take his wife to the middle of the Ohio River, upset the skiff, as though by accident, swim ashore himself and leave Mrs. Conrad to drown."

When Conrad was confronted by his wife and attorneys with this letter, and knew he would be prosecuted criminally, he had a hurried interview with the woman for whom he had deserted his wife, and then killed himself. Mrs. Conrad says he repeatedly invited her to take boat rides, but she had been forewarned. The implication of a well-known woman here in the damage suit of Mrs. Conrad has caused a great sensation.

SUICIDE OF FARMER'S WIFE. Keene, Ont., Sept. 4 .- On Wednesday morning Mrs. John Wood, aged 65, wife of a farmer in comfortable circumstances, living about three miles east of Keene, after milking three cows, went into the house and took a very large dose of corrosive sublimate. Medical aid was called in as soon as possible, but too late to do anything for the patient, who died the same afternoon. No cause is known for the woman's rash act.

WHILE IN A HAMMOCK. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 5.-A special from Cincinnatus, N. Y., says that last night George Taylor, of Pitcher, 22 years of age, committed suicide in the presence of his sweetheart, Miss Alice Rorapaugh, by shooting. The couple were sitting in a hammock when the shooting occurred. The young woman said they had not quarreled, and that he was holding her cheek against his face when the shooting occurred. From the facts at the inquest, it is supposed that the young man intended to kill the girl as well as himself.

AT DEATH'S DOOR. New York, Sept. 5.-Mystery surounds a shooting affray on the beautiful Huntington estate at Throggs Neck, in which a kitchenmaid was probably fatelly wounded by a gardener's assistant. Mrs. C. P. Huntpolice and coroner until threatened with arrest. The kitchenmaid was Elizabeth Connell, 24 years old, and the man now under arrest charged with the shooting is Daniel Hawkins, 45 years old, who lives on the estate with his wife and seven children. The victim of the shooting is now so the point of death, suffering from three wounds.

TRIPLE MURDER IN YUKON.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 5.-Dawson advices give details of the remarkable solution of a Yukon murder case, just accomplished by officers of the North-west Mounted Police. On Aug. 1 they became convinced that a triple murder had been committed on the Upper Yukon. A month later two men believed by the police to be the murderers are in custody, and what seems to be a complete web of circumstantial evidence has been woven around them. Ed. Labelle was arrested Monday at Wadsworth, Nevada, and is now en route to Dawson. Peter Fournier was arrested at Dawson on Aug. 24. These two men are charged with the murder of Leon Boutillette, Guy J. Beaudoin and Alphonse Constantine, three French-Canadians from Quebec. Constantine had been on the Yukon for several years, and had induced the other two men to join him last spring. He met them at Vancouver in June. At White Horse they met Fournier and Labelle. These two men had been "boosters" in a Dawson gambling house. They were French-Canadians also. All five purchased a boat t White Horse and started down river. The boat was numbered, and its departure noted in the police records at White Horse. It never reached Dawson, but was found later on the Yukon banks. Fournier soon appeared in Dawson. Labelle did not reach there. July 14 the body of Boutillette was found near the Indian River, with bullet wounds through the head. The body of Constantine was found above Selkirk, 130 miles above where Boutillette's body came to the surface. Beaudoin's body was found Aug. 1. The police believe that Fournier and Labelle murdered these three for what money they possessed. Boutillette was a contractor, of St. Frances, Beauce county, Quebec. He left Vancouver with $1,100 in Quebec notes. Such notes to the amount of $400 were found on Fournier. He is 23 years of age and a college graduate. The police traced Labelle to Tacoma, thence to Spokane, and through Montana, Idaho, Utah and Nevada to Wadsworth, where he was found working in a railroad camp. PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Woodstock, Sept. 5.-A threshing machine was being drawn into James Pullin's barn at Sweaburg Wednesday, when the rope broke, and the machine started back down the hill. W. A. Edwards was standing on a bridge at the bottom of the hill, and in endeavoring to get out of the way of the machine he fell off the bridge, fractured several ribs, and was severely bruised. FELL FROM A TRAIN. Pickering, Ont., Sept. 5.-Gilbert Gardner, the young man who was killed on the track here yesterday, was with his brother William, making his way to Hamilton to see a sick sister. The two brothers came from near Belleville, where they had been working on the railway. Soon after boarding a freight at the new bridge, Gilbert fell to the ground and a number of cars passed over him. Another brother was fireman on the same train. The coroner deemed an inquest un-
