RILEY'S PLEA IS APPARENTLY TO BE ONE OF SELF-DEFENCE

Counsel for Accused Brakeman Seem To Be Handling Their Case From That Angle—Opening Day Finds Courtroom Jammed to Capacity.

WITNESSES TELL OF THREATS

With the courtroom jammed to its capacity, hundreds of the morbidly curious turned away, the prosecution endeavoring to prove the murder to be a cold-blooded one, and the defence evidently striving as hard to prove that the act was one of self-defence, and that of a man rendered irresponsible by drink, and who had been attacked by Blackburn, the Riley murder trial opened this morning at the court house before Mr. Justice Kelly.

Thomas Riley, indicted by the grand jury of the winter assizes of the murder of George Blackburn, manager of the Cecil Hotel, on October 3, was placed on trial for his life.

Six of the crown's witnesses were heard before the adjournment was taken at 12:30. The first of these, H. C. McBride, simply testified to the ground floor plans of the hotel, submitted for the benefit of the jury. The others told their story of the events leading up to the shooting of Blackburn.

Quiet Until Ordered Out. Howard Beattie, one of the witnesses of the early altercations between Blackburn and Riley, testified that the prisoner had been apparently peaceable until ordered out of the hotel by the victim in the afternoon.

Harry Andrews, Riley's mate for two weeks, another of the crown's witnesses, threw a somewhat different light on the tragedy than that at first reported, when he swore that Riley had the gun, claimed by the crown as the one with which the shooting was done, in his possession throughout the entire day. It was at first reported that he had gone to his boarding house to secure the weapon, and had then returned to the hotel.

No One Saw Gun. Charles E. Holliday, an eye-witness of the shooting, swore that no one had seen the gun in Riley's hand. The prisoner seemed to hesitate in front of Blackburn; there was a report, a flash, and the victim had fallen to the floor.

William H. Morgan testified that Riley and Blackburn had scuffled during the afternoon, and that Blackburn had struck the prisoner.

Hours before the trial opened, a continual stream of people flocked to the main entrance of the court house, filling the passages until the door was firmly locked and the curious ones were forced to gain admittance through a rear door. Up the stairs a seemingly endless procession pushed slowly to the court above.

Every Seat Taken. Within a scant half hour, every seat was occupied and late comers were forced to stand in the rear, between seats, and anywhere and everywhere where there was room to crowd.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock a hush fell over the whispering assemblage. All eyes were turned impatiently, curiously to the small, partly concealed stairway, up which the prisoner would be conducted to the box to stand trial for his life.

The Prisoner Brought In. "Order!" sounded. The judge entered and took a seat. There was a slight noise on the stairs. The prisoner was coming. A stillness like death pervaded the big room. One could have heard a pin drop, so quiet was it. Accompanied by Detective Harry Down, and wearing a plain black suit, the prisoner slowly mounted to view.

Nineteen Challenged.

Just 30 minutes were used in the selection of the jurors, who were chosen in the order in which they appear. During that brief hour, 43 takersmen were called by Clerk of the Court Ed. Weld. Of this number nineteen were challenged by Ed. Meredith, K. C., and P. H. Bartlett, counsel for the defence, while Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, K. C., asked six to stand aside. There were six still waiting when the twelfth juror was selected.

Both Crown Attorney McKillop and the counsel for the defence appeared to have a decided aversion to having London men on the jury. Every London takersman was challenged or asked to step aside.

As usual, the jury as chosen is almost wholly composed of farmers, nine out of the twelve men being agriculturists.

More Who Were Challenged.

The following takersmen were those challenged by the defence:

John Isaac, London, carriage-maker.

Benjamin Abbot, township of Biddulph, farmer.

J. R. Morrison, city of London, salesman.

M. J. McFadden, London, stationary engineer.

E. A. McKenzie, Biddulph, merchant.

William McKenna, London, machinist.

Samuel Piper, township of Westminster, farmer.

Calls It Cold Blooded.

In making his initial address to the Jury Crown Prosecutor Creswick indicated the crown's endeavor to prove the shooting of Blackburn to be a cold blooded, premeditated murder. With telling emphasis the Prosecutor dwelt on the reported assertion of the prisoner to Harry Andrews, his conductor—"I'd like to shoot that black—" after Riley had left the bar of the Cecil House in the afternoon.

The Crown Prosecutor made no dramatic attempt to play upon the emotion of the jurors as he told the story of the shooting, but his clear and concise summary of alleged crime was effective.

The first entry of Riley, his scuffle with the aged, drayman, Blackburn's admonition to Riley to "cut it out," the latter's throwing of the beer over the bartender, was related to the jury. Then came the recital of the remainder of the drama. Blackburn throwing out Riley, the latter's attempt to apologize, Blackburn's refusal, the ensuing scuffle and Harry Andrews' effort to get him out. Then came the reported statement of Riley to

LATE FRANK COOPER WAS STAR OF EARLY BASEBALL

Played a Great Game With Frank Love, Tom Browne and a Number of Other Prominent Citizens Who Have Gone.

Thomas Gillean, jeweler, chatting with an Advertiser reporter today, recalled some of his early associations with Frank Cooper, news of whose death in California was received here yesterday.

Old Morning Stars. "I well remember the time when Frank Cooper played on the old baseball team that was known as the Morning Stars," said Mr. Gillean. "This team derived its name from the fact that the players were in the habit of getting up early in the morning to practice. The games were played on the old cricket grounds, where Victoria Park is now situated. At that time, at least 45 years ago, the ground was owned by the Government and used as barracks property."

Old-Time Champions.

"The Morning Stars were the champions of the city and a surrounding district. I remember that the time that the Boston Red Stockings came here for a game, Frank Love, Tom Browne, Archie Sugston, James J. Jack, Plummer and others, the most of them now dead, were on the home team, which, by the way, was defeated. Frank Cooper played centre field, I think, and Frank Love, left field. I was younger and did not play on the team, but used to watch the games and envy the older boys, who were so fortunate as to be on the line-up."

Feels Personal Loss. "I knew Frank Cooper intimately, and he was always a good sport. In later years, he seldom missed a game of ball, and was one of the best fans in the city. He was one of our best citizens and took an active interest in the city's welfare. I was certainly very sorry to learn of his death, for he was a great friend of mine. We have lost a lot of good citizens lately."

He had also urged on the Colonial Office the selection of a chairman for the better terms commission. Lastly, he had asked the authorities to sanction the naval volunteer movement.

NOT A MUSCLE OF FACE MOVES AS TRIAL PROCEEDS

Riley Either Stoical to Fate or Indifferent as His Fate Is Decided.

SEES WIFE AND INFANT

Production of Revolver Does Not Make Gum-Chewing Prisoner Wince.

Stoical or brutally indifferent? Which quality actuated Thomas Riley, accused murderer, to assume the nonchalant air he did this morning when the opening incidents of what may be the final chapter of his career, caused such a stir in the courtroom where he is on trial for his life. Apparently the question cannot be answered.

The accused brakeman, indicted as he is of the gravest crime in the criminal calendar—that of murder—calmly sat in the witness box and heard the first witnesses for the crown tell the story that may send him to the gallows. Not a muscle of his face moved during the entire proceedings. It was expressed, devoid of the slightest trace of emotion.

Did Not Look at Wife. As he entered the courtroom this morning in the custody of Detective Harry Down there was never a glance to right or left. The door of the witness-box opened. Riley entered and sat down, sliding into the corner in a comfortable position. Coolly he looked to the front, his lips incessantly moving, as he chewed gum. Not even a glance did he take at his girl-wife and 10-weeks-old child that occupied the front seat of the auditorium to his right.

As the judge entered, several minutes after Riley had taken his place, the prisoner looked at the man whose duty it may be to pronounce the sentence of death with a mingled air of curiosity and indifference. As the court rose to greet Mr. Justice Kelly, the prisoner took his first glance at his relatives—his wife, his child, his mother and his step-father, yet never a muscle of his face relaxed.

Not Interested in Jury. During the selection of the jury the prisoner seemed almost bored and save

HUERTA YIELDS TO PRESSURE AND PROMISES THE SALUTE

But Fleet Will Not Be Recalled Until It Has Been Given, and Orders Go as They Lie in the Meantime.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, D.C., April 16.—Huerta has promised Charge O'Shaughnessy to salute the American flag in apology for the arrest of United States blue-jackets at Tampico. The news was received at the White House today, just as Secretary of States Bryan and Acting Chairman Shively, of the Senate foreign relations committee, went into conference with President Wilson.

Unless Huerta changes his mind, the crisis promises to pass over within the next twenty-four hours.

With smiling faces Senator Shively and Secretary Bryan came from the White House.

"The President has some very interesting news," said Senator Shively. "The situation is highly encouraging." said Secretary Bryan. Then it was made known that dispatches from Charge O'Shaughnessy had described his conference with Huerta last night as "very cordial and satisfactory" and officials said they were convinced that unless the charge had misinterpreted Huerta's intentions there was no doubt that compliance with the American demands for apology would be forthcoming within the next few hours and that the crisis would be passed.

The text of the dispatches was not made public, nor was any formal statement made describing them.

No orders were issued to the ships already steaming toward Mexico nor was there any change in the plans for enforcing President Wilson's demand. Some officials gave it as their personal view that after Huerta had complied with the demand for apology and saluted the American flag, some of the ships now under way might be turned back, but certainly not before.

It was pointed out that all administration officials were gratified by the news that Huerta was about to yield, but there was no disposition to temporize or delay further, and that all the plans for action would go as they lie, until all cause for action had been removed.

Other Dispatches Expected.

Other dispatches from Charge O'Shaughnessy were expected today, but both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan were convinced by the dispatches already at hand that Huerta had yielded to the pressure from Washington and the dispatch of the fleet on both coasts to back up the demands.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, D. C., April 16.—European powers today were advising Huerta to apologize to the United States at once, and end a situation which threatens grave consequences.

Friends of the Mexican dictator in the United States also were assured that unless a salute was fired to the United States flag, the seizure of the ports of Tampico and Vera Cruz and a blockade of Mexico by the American fleet was the Washington program.

President Wilson and other administration officials silently awaited developments while the fighting ships and the marines were hurrying down the Atlantic and Pacific coasts to Mexican waters.

All Pressing for Salute.

Pressure upon Huerta is being brought not alone by Charge O'Shaughnessy, but by the diplomatic representatives of other nations in Mexico city.

Friends of Huerta in the United States, Mexicans and others, have telegraphed him that for the best interests of Mexico, the salute should be fired. They have advised him that the United States "means business" and that there is ample precedent for the salute without loss of national dignity. They pointed out that the United States once saluted the flag of Spain and the flag of Brazil.

Rumor Denied.

While House officials had nothing to say on the general situation beyond denying emphatically published reports that President Wilson was displeased with Charge O'Shaughnessy for his close association with General Huerta, Secretary Tumulty said the President had always spoken of the change in a most complimentary manner and realized the difficulty of his position.

No Delay in Messages.

The messages from Mr. O'Shaughnessy apparently no longer are being delayed or intercepted. White House officials said they were coming through with regularity.

John Lind was the state department again, conferring with Secretary of State Bryan.

No advices were received either at the state department or the Mexican embassy of the attitude of Huerta, who is understood to be consulting members of the Mexican Senate.

President Wilson cancelled travelling reservations for tonight and tomorrow, where he planned to join Mrs. Wilson. He may go tomorrow.

Indorses Action.

Washington, April 16.—The House foreign affairs committee today adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, that the action of the President of the United States in the Tampico incident is sustained by the committee on foreign affairs in the House of Representatives."

C. N. R. HAS ALWAYS MET OBLIGATIONS

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, April 16.—Before leaving for Ottawa last night, Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the Canadian Northern Railway, said that he did not think that there would be serious opposition to any reasonable assistance the Government might give the company. He said that even if the C. N. R., when completed, would have cost $400,000,000, this would work out at less than $10,000 a mile, as there would be 10,500 miles of road. He pointed out that the country had never been called upon to pay for any responsibility which the Government and Parliament might have assumed for the railway in the past.

Sir Donald said that if everything went all right at Ottawa, he felt certain the Company's lines would be hitched up before the end of the year. "A great many of our feeders have been carrying freight to other and competitive lines, while, when our main line is finished, the profit will come to the Canadian Northern," he added.

No railway on this continent has ever completed a main line possessing as many feeders and branches as in the Canadian Northern system.

CAN MURDER WITH IMPUNITY, BUT NO SLIGHTS ALLOWED

Manchester Guardian's View of U. S. A. Attitude Towards Mexico.

ATTACKS WILSON POLICY

Says He Could Have Dealt More Effectively With Villa Than With Huerta.

[Canadian Press.]

London, April 16.—Contrasting the action of President Wilson in connection with the arrest of American blue-jackets at Tampico with what was done when William S. Benton, the British ranch owner, was killed at Juarez, the Manchester Guardian, one of the leading Liberal newspapers, says today:

"Intervention, which murder and robbery failed to bring about, is apparently to be the punishment for a merely symbolic slight on American dignity."

Expressing its admiration for the ability and the motives of President Wilson, the Guardian says it is impossible to suppress doubts and misgivings on his Mexican policy.

It continues: "Why should Villa murder with impunity, and General Huerta be chastized with the whole strength of the right arm of the United States for a mere breach of international politeness? It would be far easier to bring Villa to a better frame of mind than to teach Huerta manners. In the one case it would have been enough to threaten the rebels that the embargo on the exportation of arms and ammunition from the United States would be reimposed, but what sort of guarantee is there that the capture of Tampico by the American fleet will either mend Huerta's manners, or relieve the hardships of foreign subjects in Mexico, or help any of the interests President Wilson is anxious to serve."

"If the United States is anxious for an excuse for intervention in Mexico, an insult to her flag will serve very well, but no one knows better than President Wilson that armed intervention once begun cannot easily be confined to the limits that are set for it at the beginning. It is next to impossible for one country to make itself partly responsible for the good government of another and independent country."

Interesting Case Before Justice
Falconbridge—Teacher Not Qualified.

[Canadian Press.]

Cornwall, April 15.—At the spring assizes which concluded here today before Sir Glenholme Falconbridge, chief justice, an interesting case concerning the introduction of the French language in a school in Glangarry County occupied the attention of the court. Donald D. McDonald and other English-speaking ratepayers of separate school section No. 14, Green Valley, took action against Mederic Poirier, John Menard and other trustees, and Leontine Senecal, to restrain the trustees from employing Miss Senecal on the ground that she was not a properly qualified teacher and that she had been illegally engaged, also to restrain the trustees from using the rates of the section to pay Miss Senecal's salary and to prohibit the defendants from using or allowing the use of French as the language of instruction or communication in the school. J. E. Jones, at Ottawa, separate school inspector, was a witness at the trial and correspondence between Mr. Jones, the trustees and the

ARRAYS THE WEST AGAINST THE EAST

Oliver Wilcox Accuses Liberals of Pampering the Former —Mr. Carroll's Reply.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, April 15.—The Government is anxious to escape its inquisitors, therefore it will ask Parliament to sit in the morning.

Today the budget debate was continued. The most interesting contribution was made by Oliver Wilcox, who was the only speaker on the Government side.

Mr. Wilcox, it will be remembered, is the gentleman who publicly upbraided the Minister for Militia for neglecting to act upon his alleged patronage "understanding" in the purchase of automobiles for officers at Windsor. He also, some months ago, gave Parliament an expose of the operations of the spots system in the customs department of the present Government.

East Against West.
Mr. Wilcox, frankly arrayed the east against the west. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he said, had shown himself "intensely interested, altogether too much interested," in the Western farmers. This had "cost him his job" and the Gordon Government, Mr. Wilcox assured the House, was not going to make the same blunder. "We, on this side, sympathize with the West," he commented the man from North Essex.

"And that is all," observed Sir Wilfrid.

"We recognize that they are in a pioneer condition," replied Mr. Wilcox. "But the most of it is only hollering 'wolf, wolf,' when there is no wolf. We all recognize their condition and it is all right to do so. But I'm not so sure there is a common ground."

What East Has Done.
The Liberals pleaded for the west and pictured it as enduring great hardships. "But the fact is," continued Mr. Wilcox, "that when they're frosted out we're willing to buy them more seed. When they're hauled out we're willing to help. We've built them railways. We're building them elevators. We are doing everything in reason for them, and the pioneer conditions which prevail in Western Canada do not begin to compare to the pioneer conditions that prevailed in Ontario when my forefathers settled there."

Too Much Interested.
The whole trouble was, declared Mr. Wilcox, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was "intensely interested, altogether too much interested" in the western farmers. "He is not usually scared," proceeded the speaker, "but he got scared when the big deputation came down by thousands from the wild and woolly west, where the gophers howl by night and the coyotes howl by day, and spread themselves over as many seats as possible in this chamber. And one would think, according to the Liberals, that after September 21, 1911, a great fog had settled upon Western Canada."

Mr. Wilcox was tired of hearing Liberals urge consideration of the west, and he said so to the best of his ability. He reminded the House that E. W. Green had declared that the deputation that waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier before the reciprocity negotiations were announced represented less than three millions of dollars in capital. Mr. Wilcox didn't think that any special plea should be made on account of such a citizenry. He said he was sure his hearers that Liberalism had been "on the wrong side of every great question since the confederation."

And, finally added Mr. Wilcox, to clinch his argument, "if there's anything I adore it's seeing the Liberals ballyragging the manufacturers with hot air and shaking hands with them on the street."

Not a Partisan.
Mr. Wilcox, after describing himself as one who was not a partisan, congratulated Hon. Mr. White on the surplus announced and called Sir Wilfrid Laurier "the past grand master at putting false gods before the people." Passing on, he twitted Mr. Carroll with inconsistency and sectionalism in advocating tariff protection for the steel industry at Sydney and denouncing protection for other industries. As for himself, he said as a farmer, he favored reasonable protection for Canadian undertakings.

As to Mr. Cockshutt.
Mr. Carroll, of Cape Breton, dealt with Mr. Cockshutt bare-handed. "He opened with an attack upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier," declared the Cape Breton man. "He concluded with some jingoistic flag-flapping. And the body of his remarks was a prayer for the protection of the Minister of Finance, the continuance of the tariff duty on pig-iron, and the refusal of any consideration to the farmers."

Government Afloat.
Canada, said Mr. Carroll, needed wise and progressive statesmanship, at this juncture. With the advent of the Borden administration the most serious change for the worse that had ever been experienced had set in. Mr. Cockshutt, however, did not concern himself about hard times or unemployment. All he cared about was "a high tariff wall against the importation of plows and big profits and monopoly for the Cockshutt plows." He even censured his own Government for not carrying out its naval contributions policy by granting an introductory budget of fifteen millions this year. This, Mr. Cockshutt had declared, had the support of the Canadian people. "Has it?" asked Mr. Carroll. "When Liberalism sought to force an appeal to the country last session the Government ran away from its own issue? It dare not go to the country on the issue even now. The Government has no naval policy. It is afraid to repeal the Laurier naval act and it dare not bring down a permanent policy."

"The Worst Over."

Hon. Mr. White had assured Parliament that "the worst was over." He had used the same words in making the same prophecy at Montreal eight months ago, and the people were not likely to again credit his prophecies. The Minister of Finance had said the same thing in his introduction of the immigration bill in the House. He had said that the immigration of worthy citizenship to take up the work of production upon the land. Dealing with the tariff announcements, Mr. Carroll stated that irrespective of party affiliation he held that infant industries which had reached that strength when they were able to capture the home market should be encouraged, but that when an industry had not only captured the Canadian market, but also had been able to go abroad and successfully compete in the markets of the world, it was no longer entitled to consideration at the hands of tariff makers.

The Steel Industry.
How about the Dominion Steel Company? asked Mr. Lalor. "I am going to state my views, and I will not run away from any issue," replied torted the Sydney man. Hon. Mr. White had talked about "adequate protection," which was as indefinite as Anthony's in Hon. Mr. White. "I do," replied Mr. Carroll outspokenly. "It is not a usual thing to put such a string to a tariff resolution."

The treatment of pig iron was, Mr. Carroll stated, "a blow at the pig iron industry and at the Canadian consumers."

String to Changes.
This was no way for the Government to deal with tariff changes. Hon. Mr. White also had attached a string to his tariff resolutions, under which importations contracted for before a certain date were not to be influenced.

FICTION versus FACTS

THERE IS NO FICTION about the fact that for over 40 years you were forced to pay ridiculous prices for your drug needs.

No fiction, but a real fact, that the old way was enriching itself at your expense.

No fiction about the fact that until the Standard Drug, Limited, started modern methods and modern prices you suffered a rank injustice.

No fiction about the fact that our two stores are crowded with self-satisfied customers, glowing with gratitude for the blessings we have brought them.

No fiction, but a real fact, that Standard Drug have and always will save you money

JOHN MAXWELL SENT DOWN.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Alymer, April 15. — John Maxwell, of London, is doing a month in jail here as a result of not being able to pay a fine of $20 imposed on him today by Magistrate Summers, for being drunk. "You should have been given two years," said the court in sentencing Maxwell.

WAS SUBJECT TO SEVERE BRONCHITIS.

Doctors Only Gave Temporary Relief.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup CURED HIM.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. Neglected bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recommend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

Be sure and get the genuine "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and manufactured by The F. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Epidemic of Measles Swept Every Home in Trowbridge

Trowbridge, April 15. — Trowbridge is just recovering from the worst epidemic of measles it has had in fifty-six years. So rapidly did the disease spread that the school had to be closed and it was decided to close the church.

Not a home escaped and in many houses everyone was ill with measles of a most malignant type.

Trowbridge has passed through epidemics of diphtheria and other contagious diseases without suffering half the annoyance caused by the measles outbreak.

It is now thought that the worst is past and if possible the church will be reopened on Sunday next.

LAMBTON GAS FIELD GREATEST IN WORLD

Drillers in Oil Springs District Are Most Optimistic

Petrolia, April 15. — The Union Gas Company has closed a contract with Dr. C. O. Fairbank to purchase the entire production of his Oil Springs gas well. The company has rushed things along, having the pipe for bringing gas to Petrolia in Oil Springs before the contract was closed.

It also has two thousand acres leased and drilling has been started by several rigs under the superintendency of W. Stover.

The Union company will pipe the gas to Sarnia and possibly to London. Many gas and oil experts state that Tilbury gas fields are practically played out. The gas flow has weakened so much that several plants in Sarnia have laid in a supply of coal. This, it is claimed by local men, is unnecessary as Oil Springs will supply Western Ontario if given a chance. One man deeply interested in this field stated to The Advertiser tonight that "Without doubt, Lambton is and will be the greatest gas field in the world."

YOUNG LONDONER WEDS PRETTY WYOMING GIRL

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wyoming, April 15. — A very pretty Easter wedding took place here this evening at the home of Mr. John E. Anderson, when his youngest daughter, Gladys, became the bride of Mr. Ernest Westland, of London. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Ross, of Wyoming. The bride looked charming in a gown of white duchess satin trimmed with pearls, and wore a train and bridal veil. She had as her bridesmaid Miss Pauline McInnes, of Toronto, and Mr. W. Saul of London, was groomsmen. The Wedding March was played by Miss Mabel Travis, of Wyoming, cousin of the bride. Following a wedding dinner and reception Mr. and Mrs. Westland left for California, where they will spend two months. On their return they will reside either in London or Winnipeg.

Nowhere will you find so large a range of Records from which to choose as this kind from ragtime to the most classical.

LICENSE REDUCTION WILL BE DEMANDED

Woodstock Divines Will Attend Commissioners' Meeting.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, April 15. — The North Oxford license commissioners will meet here tomorrow for the purpose of granting the licenses for the ensuing year. A deputation from the Ministerial Association will wait on the board and will ask for a further reduction of the licenses and the application of Charles Rapson, proprietor of the Grand Trunk Hotel. This license was cut off some years ago.

Rev. A. S. Colwell, president of the association, told The Advertiser that they would ask the board to refuse two of the present license holders on the grounds that in the past they have not lived up to the license act. Mr. Rapson will present a petition to the board to grant him a license. A petition from Bright will also be presented to the board asking it to cancel the license in Bright. The feeling in the city tonight is that there will be no further reduction nor will there be any new licenses granted.

RUMORED C. P. R. MOVE WOULD AFFECT LONDON

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, April 15. — There is a well-founded rumor to the effect that the C. P. R. will run its two fast passenger trains, between Chicago and Montreal over the Michigan Central, between Waterford and Chicago, after June 1.

The new route would cut about five hours off the running time between the two cities, cutting it down to twenty hours. Two hours will be cut off the run from Toronto to Detroit, the M. C. R. tunnel under the Detroit River making this possible. Only three stops will be made on the Canadian division, Waterford, St. Thomas and Windsor.

The C. P. R. is stated, will still continue to use the Wabash tracks between Detroit and Chicago for their freight services, the two fast passenger trains, Nos. 17 and 18, only will use the M. C. R. tracks.

JOHN BOTT DIED SUDDENLY. [Special to The Advertiser.]

Thorndale, April 15. — John Bott, a well-known and respected resident of this district, passed away on Sunday night, from the result of a heart attack. He had been ill only for a few days.

Mr. Bott was born in Yorkshire, England, 71 years ago, and came to this country when a young man. For many years he lived near Guelph, and two years ago moved to West Nisour.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Raymond, and William, of Winnipeg, and a young daughter.

Though he was of a retiring disposition, Mr. Bott had a very large circle of friends. He was an adherent of the Presbyterian Church at Crumlin. He was a Liberal.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon from his residence on the fourth concession, to Clipperton Cemetery.

AN AMAZING CURE FOR NEURALGIA MAGICAL RELIEF FOR HEADACHE

Nerviline is the Most Effective Remedy Known.

The reason Nerviline is infallibly a remedy for Neuralgia, resides in two very remarkable properties Nerviline possesses. The first is its wonderful power of penetrating deeply into the tissue which enables it to reach the very source of congestion.

You know when a congestion is overcome, pain ceases.

Nerviline possesses another and not less important action—it equalizes the circulation in the painful parts and thus affords a sure barrier to the re-establishment of congestion.

You see the relief you get from Nerviline is permanent.

It doesn't matter whether the cause is spasm or congestion, external or internal; if it is pain—equally with its curative action upon neuralgia—Nerviline will relieve and quickly cure rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, strains, swellings or enlarged joints and all other muscular aches.

Nerviline is a guaranteed remedy. Get the large 50 cent family size bottle; it is far more economical than the 25 cent trial size. Sold by dealers everywhere or direct from the Carthage Co., Kingston, Canada.

ted to more advanced legislation. The Conservative party remains where it was. The Conservative party in Ontario today has a great opportunity. It can afford to adopt radical measures on the temperance question. It would doubtless lose much support if they did. But with the general loyalty of the rank and file upon which to depend, and with the Liberal party supporting them on this line, they could sweep the country. Are the bonds which tie the Government to the liquor traffic so strong that it dare not rise to the occasion?

WOMEN AND THE WESTERN.

ONE thing that many women of this region will soon demand of Western University is a thorough course for women along sensible lines. An honor department is wanted in household science, which shall not be too householdy nor too scientific, but generous home science, calculated not so much to turn out teachers of household science, dietitians, and all that, as just women qualified to be wives and mothers.

A cry against university education for women sometimes is that they are drawn away from marriage. Statistics have shown that there is nothing much in this charge, and, anyway, the university study may often be a symptom rather than a cause of withdrawal from matrimony. But colleges should promote the natural life work of women. If men have vocational courses provided for them, the same provision should be made for the greatest of all callings, that of the mother.

A very successful institution is the Horticultural College for Women, at Swanley, England. Its one difficulty is said to be "The continuous epidemic of matrimony," which snatches away the teachers and the girls even before they can graduate. They are taught not higher mathematics and Latin grammar, but carpentry, gardening, dairying, poultry raising, bee-keeping and cooking. Why not an honor department in Western University along lines such as these, with pass requirements in literature, biology, history and psychology? To turn household science into chemical and physical research may steer women away from marriage than ever Greek metaphysics did. But there is little need of either. Young women who want biological research may as well head for Toronto, but Western has a chance to be distinctively practical, looking to serve the nation in the broadest way. There will be a great demand for a sane department of domestic science.

Would it be unreasonable to require every woman student to make a pass in at least some of the domestic studies in lieu of courses now taken with men students? It seems illogical to give precisely the same education to young women as to young men, as though they were the same, and had the same sort of careers to look forward to; for they have not, or should not. Ex-President Eliot, of Harvard University, and other great educators have affirmed the need of a somewhat different training for the sexes. Why not recognize the difference of sex requirements in the Western University? Why not give young women the opportunity of a thorough preparation, both vocational and liberal, for the careers of wife and mother? These are suggestions which the governors have probably already taken up, and which will be considered in due season.

THE WORST IS YET TO COME.

WITHIN the last few days the Mexican situation has assumed a graver aspect than has marked it for several months. The arrest of the United States marines at Tampico and the mobilization of the American Atlantic fleet to compel an adequate apology has raised a delicate situation for the Wilson administration. So long as Villa was steadily on to what promised to be the ultimate downfall of Huerta, "watchful waiting" sufficed for Washington, but it now begins to look as if Huerta, despairing of crushing the revolutionists, by a bold move is attempting to bring on intervention. It is significant that the demands of the U. S. Government has come hard on the heels of the heavy blow struck by Villa at Torreon. With little hope of turning the tables, the Mexican dictator may have decided that better Wilson than Huerta. He apologized promptly for the insult to the American arms, but has refused to submit to the further humiliation of saluting the American flag. This has the appearance of a crafty move, for should the U. S. Government resort to arms Huerta will be able to pose as a martyr in the cause of the national honor. However, whether he is sincere in his stand or merely using the Tampico incident to bring on intervention, the United States Government is placed in an awkward fix. It cannot possibly back down, and should that salute not be forthcoming the bombardment of Tampico and occupation by troops would necessarily follow.

American anti-administration papers are hinting that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have been awaiting just such a pretext as the present situation affords to interfere, but the outside world will not readily believe it. If the present American Government takes control of Mexican affairs it will be because of circumstances, not choice. Up to date, Washington diplomacy in regard to Mexico has not been conspicuous by its success. "Moral suasion" was first tried, and this proving futile an intimidating ultimatum was forwarded, neither of them having any notable effect on the dictator. A financial embargo followed, and finally, in order to aid Villa, the embargo on arms was lifted. All attempts to get rid of Huerta have failed until he was ready to go, as the present embargo would indicate.

Meanwhile industrial Mexico is at a standstill, hopelessly crippled for years to come, and it is this phase of the situation that most directly touches the rest of the world. British, American, German and Canadian capital in enormous sums have of late years been put into Mexican commercial, mining and transportation enterprises. If Uncle Sam does not take over the task of straightening things out it would not be surprising if the pressure of financial powers would drive the European governments into some sort of concerted action in regard to Mexico and Latin-America generally. Venezuela and Colombia particularly, at times have deliberately evaded huge financial obligations under the wing of the Monroe doctrine. Revolutions and insurrections, unsteady and demoralizing to business, are becoming so frequent that outside capital is being withdrawn or withheld and the South and Central American republics, rich in possibilities, are being denied adequate development. Even Brazil, the most stable and conservative of the lot, has recently crushed, at its inception fortunately, what promised to be a prolonged civil strife. Unless a speedy and drastic remedy be applied the Latin American republics will presently be in much the same social and industrial condition as is Mexico. Perhaps the first step towards the bettering of things would be the occupation by the American Government and a revision of some unwritten clauses of the Monroe doctrine.

Tramp—One moment, boss; can you spare de price of a meal?

Accosted Party—Certainly! I'm on my way to get it now.

NOT A CENTIPEDE.

[Sydney Bulletin.]

I'm very, very glad, indeed. That I am not a centipede.

For think of walking in the street or garden with a hundred feet!

For how they would get in my way whenever I went out to play.

And, oh, how cross my nurse would get if all my hundred feet got wet!

Suppose, when I began to run that half my feet should stop, for fun.

While fifty more went rushing past—What would become of me at last?

And, oh, what pain if someone chose to tread on my five hundred toes!

Oh, yes, I'm sure I'm quite agreed I would not be a centipede.

Another pin! O, see the sleeves—they're flatter than a board.

And each has creases sharpened like the edges of a sword.

The shoulders hunch up to my ears; the skirts are chill and cold—

Another pin! O, say, ain't this a wonder to behold?

And, by my soul, another pin! Well this one is the last!

The back is full of starch that makes the crumpled fabric fast—

Not much it ain't! I'm being soaked for some forgotten sin;

I'll have to break more fingernails to get another pin.

POOR OLD DAD.

Here's a chance for poor old dad. The law relating to moving pictures is to be amended so that all children under fifteen years attending picture shows must be attended by a parent or guardian. Nine thousand temperance Conservatives have asked the Whitney Government to "step faster" in the temperance reform, and have intimated that in the event of its failure to do so, they will have to support the Rowell policy. CHATHAM'S PROGRESS.

[Chatham Planet.]

A very important proposition was presented to the city council at their last meeting, when the Workingmen's Club sent a deputation to ask that the city go into the business of providing homes for workmen by building the houses on easy terms. Before this can be done it is necessary to petition the Legislature for power to undertake it, and the council was asked to make such petition in time for it to be dealt with at the present sitting of the Legislature. The council took the necessary steps to secure the power to act favorably upon the request.

A map of the United States, showing the suffrage states in white, the non-suffrage states in black, and the partial suffrage states with dotted or shaded lines, reveals the southeast seaboard and its hinterland in solid black.

This was the "solid south." It was the land of slavery. It is the land where women have no votes upon any question or candidate. It is the land of chivalry. It is the land of child labor.

On the suffrage map it is our darkest America. Missionaries are needed to work in the south.

CITY CLERK QUITS JOB; GOES TO 40-ACRE FARM

Leaves $18-a-Week Place and Starts His Spring Plowing—Has Lots to Learn and Plenty of Work.

(Editor's Note—The following story by W. M. J. is one of the best far-fetched stories for city people ever written. It is the story of William Carlston's "One Way Out." The writer was once a clerk in the city and is now a successful farmer. He withholds his name and address because he has not the time to answer an avalanche of letters.)

BY W. M. J. CHAPTER 2. Of the many localities we had considered, we finally decided on what looked like the raw material for a reasonably bright farm success. It was a 40-acre tract of land, two miles from a little village.

Thirty acres of it was a well-drained clay loam. Ten acres was a fairly good swamp. There was a fairly good house, and a barn on the place. The owner

FARM WOMEN PLAN A MODERN FARM HOME FOR PANAMA EXHIBIT

Special Correspondence.
Denver, Col., April 15.—Mrs. Agnes L. Riddle is one of the group of farm women who are planning to have a modern farm home at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco during the exposition. The novel feature will be "mothered" by the entire International Congress of Farm Women. The site has already been donated, and ground will be broken in May.

Mrs. Riddle has served two terms in the Colorado Legislature as well as being a very successful farm woman in her own state.

RHUBARB IS MORE BENEFICIAL IF THE TENDER SKIN IS LEFT ON

Wilted Rhubarb Contains Less Water So Is Best for Pie-Making—Ss Says the Doctors

Thousands of cooks and housewives are in the dark as to the proper method of preparing and cooking that much-beloved vegetable rhubarb, which comes so near being a fruit.

Our mothers usually pulled the stalks, cut off the leaves and took a knife and stripped off the skin in long, narrow strips before the remaining portion of the stalks was cut into short pieces for cooking.

The proper way is to remove the leaves and an inch or more of the stalk next to the leaf, and then thoroughly wash and remove all that slippery matter that is on the end next to the root.

Leave Skin On.
If there are any rusty spots, or worm holes, those should be cut out, but all the rest of the skin should be left on the stalk, and the whole thing cut into short sections and cooked with the skin remaining.

The highly-colored skin gives the cooked product a much nicer appearance, and better still, there is a flavor derived from the skin that cannot be secured in any other way.

Physicians say that rhubarb cooked or baked in pies or puddings is much more healthful if the skin is left on and cooked with the centre of the stalks.

Another important fact not generally known about rhubarb is that it is not spoiled when it wilts or withers a bit in lying about the market or the kitchen.

The fact is, when rhubarb is somewhat wilted and looks as if it were rather stale, it is nearer right for making pies than when it is just freshly pulled. Some experienced cooks will let rhubarb lie about for two or three days before they use it.

The reason for this is that the plant is a great part water. When prepared for food it is very juicy, and when baked in pies the most of the juice bursts and allows the surplus juice to run out in the pan in which they are baked, making an unpleasant mess and causing the pie to be ruined, so far as appearance is concerned.

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

From School Girl.

Dear Miss Grey.—As you help so many others I am going to trouble you with a few questions:

1. What is the meaning of Mona? It is a girl's name.

2. I am five foot four and am fifteen years old, what should I weigh?

3. What is good to clean brown kid gloves? Yours truly,

A SCHOOL GIRL.

Ans.—1. Mona is a girl's name derived from a Latin root meaning lonely or remote.

2. About 104 to 108 pounds would be a good weight.

3. Many of the stores where gloves are sold sell patent pastes and other preparations for glove-cleaning. To wash them in gasoline is a very favorite method. Be sure to do the wash away from fire.

To Be Married in May.

Dear Miss Grey—I am to be married in May. I want to have a rather small wedding, with just my dear friends and a few close relatives. How can I omit the numerous relatives without hurting their feelings? I hardly ever see them and care nothing about them, and still I am certain that they will feel that they should be invited. Is it proper nowadays for the guests all to kiss the bride?

A.—I think I would send out announcement cards to all friends and relatives, and then write informal little notes to those whom you wish to witness the ceremony. When a girl marries is one time in her life when she has the privilege of having things just as she wishes. If a guest offers to kiss the bride, she has to accept it, but in your case they will probably be only those present who would feel sure that their caresses would not be unwelcome.

For Box Social.

Dear Miss Grey—Would you kindly answer the following questions:

1. What would be nice to put in a box at a box social, and how to arrange it?

2. What will remove warts?

3. What are the meanings of these names: Dorothy, Aubrey, Hattie, Clifford, Lilian, Olive and Douglas?

4. Hoping to see this in print as soon as possible, we remain,

CHUMS.
A variety of sandwiches, home-made pickles, hard-boiled eggs, tarts, cake and an orange apiece.

2. Generally to keep a wart well saturated with castor or sweet oil for some time finally causes it to disappear.

3. Dorothy, the gift of God; Aubrey, ruler of spirits; Hattie, from Henrietta, meaning the head of a house; Clifford, able adviser; Lilian, a lily; Olive, peace; Douglas, fiery chief.

It is a Wonder.

Dear Miss Grey—I read your column every day, and certainly it is very helpful. I am a wonder to me that you aren't about dead answering such tiresome questions. But you have one consolation, and that is: they are appreciated.

1. I am 17 years of age, have fair hair and blue eyes, but a very pale complexion. What are my colors?

2. Can you tell me anything about Miss Ada Jones, the singer?

3. What education is required to post-graduate in singing and elocution? What education is required to become an actress like Billie Burke and Lillian Russell?

4. Don't you think an actress can lead a good life? Some people think that the life of an actress is in the person, not the position.

5. What education has Billie Burke? Thanking you ever so much, I. H. O.

A.—I am sure it is very kind of you to say that this column is appreciated. I sincerely hope that it is of help to its many readers.

1. As you are pale and fair, you will be able to wear dainty colors, such as rose, pale blue, mauve, etc., especially well. Blue will be particularly becoming, I think.

2. Sorry, No.

3. Your question is almost impossible to answer. It is not altogether a matter of education; ability counts for more, I think, than the education itself. Any amount of the latter will not make you sing, recite or play well, unless you possess particular talent along one of these lines. If you were to write to an advanced teacher, or to a conservatory and arrange for a test, they could then advise you whether you possessed sufficient ability, and give an idea of the cost as well.

As to becoming an actress, here again it is ability that counts for most.

4. An actress probably encounters more temptations in her life than any other woman, yet I think it quite possible to become an actress and still remain good.

5. I do not know. She received her education in schools in London, Eng., and Paris, France.

Your last questions were of such a personal nature, and as I cannot see that any end is to be gained by answering them, I am omitting them entirely.

CAROLINE COE'S RECIPES

Spring Onions.

The onion is considered the most valuable of all cooking flavoring except salt. It possesses strong irritant properties; is diuretic and stimulating and is supposed to promote sleep.

The young spring onions are most delicious cooked. Peel off first layer of skin, dip the green tops, lay in cold water for half an hour, drain off into saucepan with hot water just to cover them. Cover tightly. Cook until tender. Salt after cooking. Drain off water. Cover with rich cream sauce and serve. May be served on toast same as asparagus.

Boil Spring Onions in Brown Butter.
Brown onions in butter. Drain and arrange on platter. Brown one tablespoon of butter in saucepan. After taking from fire, and one tablespoon of lemon juice. Turn over onions and serve at once.

The green tops of spring onions may be minced fine and used the same as chives in any soft cream cheese. They also give a fine flavor to sauce for steak. Use them this way: One tablespoon of butter, one teaspoon minced onion tops. Salt to taste. Mix all together. Add one teaspoon lemon juice. Spread on steak just before serving.

SLITLESS SKIRTS FOR SPRING SUITS SEEN BY MAYBELLE MORTIMER.

(By Maybelle Mortimer.)

The new tailored suits are made with skirts without a shadow of a "slit," which means that, although the narrow skirt is still with us, its reign is doomed.

From Redfern comes a black broad-cloth skirt with a long, loose coat of black poplin.

This is trimmed with wide white cuffs and collar of heavy Irish lace and of black poplin.

The green tops of spring onions may be minced fine and used the same as chives in any soft cream cheese. They also give a fine flavor to sauce for steak. Use them this way: One tablespoon of butter, one teaspoon minced onion tops. Salt to taste. Mix all together. Add one teaspoon lemon juice. Spread on steak just before serving.

Jeff Still Insists He Knows More Than a Bank

By "Bud" Fisher

Of course Jeff has plenty of coin left but he has it in the vault. He only carries a checking account of eight or ten thousand dollars at a time, a little pin money as we say at the club.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THAT? I WAS NEVER SO MORTIFIED IN MY LIFE. JEFF GAVE ME A CHECK FOR $100 AND I WENT TO CASH IT AND THE BANK REFUSED. THEY SAID JEFF HAD OVERDRAWN HIS ACCOUNT.

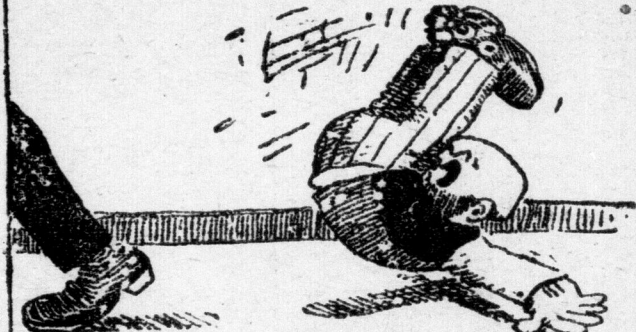

YOU POOR SIMP, SEE THAT CHECK OF YOURS? WELL IT CAME BACK MARKED OVERDRAWN. YOU'VE OVERDRAWN YOUR ACCOUNT.

WHO ME? SAY! THAT BANK IS DAFFY.

HERE'S MY CHECK BOOK AND THERE'S STILL FOUR CHECKS LEFT IN IT. COUNT 'EM YOURSELF.

TROOPS STOP RACING ON THE TULSA TRACK

Judge's Orders Disregarded and Militia Take Possession.

MEET IS TEMPORARILY OFF

General Orders Horses Shot If They Run on the Track Again.

Tulsa, Okla., April 15. — Disregarding a restraining order issued by Judge M. A. Breckenridge, of the superior court, state troops today took possession of the Tulsa fair grounds, proclaimed under martial law by Governor Lee C. C. and when an attempt was made to run the races carded for the afternoon, fired a volley over the heads of the jockeys.

With this show of force and the declaration of Frank M. Canlon, adjutant-general, who was in personal command of the troops, that if another race were started the militiamen would fire to kill the horses officials of the Tulsa Jockey Club ordered the spring meeting, which began Monday, abandoned at least temporarily.

Today's action culminated over the right of "bookmakers" to operate on the track. Open betting was permitted on Monday, and that night application was made by county officials before District Judge L. M. Poe, asking that an injunction be issued prohibiting the state's anti-gambling laws continued, and last night the proclamation declaring the track under martial law was issued.

What will be the next move on the part of the jockey club to test the legality of the order declaring martial law, has not been determined. Preparations had been made to apply to the court for common pleas in Oklahoma City for writs of habeas corpus in behalf of the three men arrested today, but the release of the men early tonight has made necessary the abandonment of this plan.

Officials of the club and their attorneys were in conference for several hours tonight, and the state events were employed today in stopping the races. First the stands were cleared of spectators, and the races ordered discontinued. Ten horses entered in the first race, however, were sent to the post. The starter lost no time in dropping the barrier, and as the horses entered the stretch the militiamen fired over the heads of the jockeys.

J. M. Stewart, a private detective, a stable boy, who attempted to lead a horse from the track, and a spectator, who tried to force his way through the guard lines, were arrested.

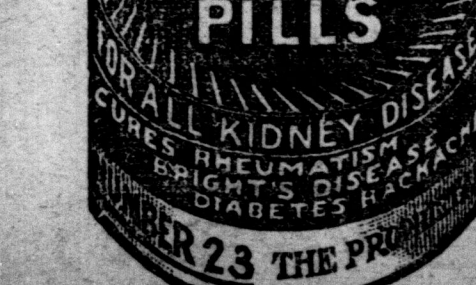

TAVISTOCK ORGANIZING FOR FOOTBALL SEASON

Tavistock, April 15. — Now that the spring weather has set in football is again booming, and the fans are already out for practice. Although the grounds are still very soft, they will be in fine shape in a week or so. The prospects for a good team this year are good. The president, Mr. H. C. Zimmerman, is busy forming up the boys, and the chances for landing the trophies look very good.

Some of the village sports are making plans for arranging a demonstration for July 1. It is several years since we have had the last one, and if the boys get together in time a good program could be arranged.

KNOCKOUT PUNCH RESULTS IN FORTNEY'S DEATH

Billings, Mont., April 15. — Kid Fortney, of Indianapolis, was injured here last night in a prize fight with Roy Coughlin, of Cody, Wyo., and died today. He was knocked down in the seventh round and his head struck the floor. From then until he died he was unconscious. Coughlin is being held on orders of the coroner. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

WOODSTOCK PREPARING FOR BASEBALL SEASON

Negotiating for Exhibition Games With Canadian League Teams—Officers To Be Elected Friday Evening.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, April 15.—The Woodstock baseball team will hold a meeting Friday evening to elect officers and consider matters of vital importance. The club is negotiating with the Canadian League teams for exhibition games during the coming season.

Manager Jimmie Bradley will be in the city on Friday and will unfold his plans before the club. Interest in the coming of Bradley is only rivaled by the prospect of the visit of the Duke of Connaught, and the fans are looking forward to the opening of the ball season with a spirit which will put Woodstock on the baseball map in bold letters this year.

The blizzard has abated and the temperature is only eighteen degrees below zero. Candle is a few miles south of the Arctic circle.

MONTREAL RACEHORSES SHIPPED TO TORONTO

Montreal, April 15.—The first string of race horses to leave Montreal this spring to be put in active training in preparation for their season campaign, left tonight for Toronto. The horses are all locally owned and in the public stable under the care of their trainer, Allan Bullock. The majority are Canadian bred and eligible for many of the stakes to be run at the spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club, which opens at the Woodbine, Toronto, on May 23. The owners of the ten animals shipped include H. S. Ekers and the Inverloch stable.

HAMILTON REJOIN BROWNS

Parsons, Kan., April 15.—Earl Hamilton, pitcher, who jumped from the St. Louis American League club to the Kansas City Federal League team last Thursday, today agreed to rejoin the St. Louis team. Hamilton reached his decision after an all-day conference with President Hedges of the St. Louis club, at Hamilton's home in Oswego, Kan., near here.

STOVALL AWAITS DEFINITE NEWS.

Kansas City, Mo., April 15.—George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City Federal League club, who jumped from the St. Louis American League team last week, said he would not believe Hamilton had jumped to the Kansas City Federal League until he had definite information from the pitcher himself. To secure Hamilton, Stovall offered a five thousand dollar bonus and a three-year contract for a total of $21,000. The pitcher came here and worked out at Federal League Park. He was in such good condition Stovall decided to use him in the opening game.

HAMILTON AND HEDGES HEAD FOR ST. LOUIS.

Parsons, Kan., April 15.—Hamilton and Hedges left for St. Louis tonight. While neither would discuss the day's developments with newspaper men, Hamilton told friends he was getting a "big increase in salary" from the St. Louis manager, and considered it to his interest again to join the St. Louis team.

ZBYSCZO'S MANAGER ARRESTED IN MONTREAL

Hermann Alleged To Have Failed To Pay Fine at Niagara.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, April 15.—John H. Hermann, manager of Zbyzsko, the Polish wrestler, was arrested last night on a warrant issued in 1903, which charges him with promoting a prize fight in Port Erie, Ont. Hermann, it appears, was convicted upon this charge and sentenced to pay a fine of $500. This fine, it is said, Hermann never paid, and the authorities of Niagara Falls, Ont., learning that he was to be in Montreal, asked for his detention. Hermann was released on bail of $500.

WALLACE ANOTHER SLABMAN REPORTS TO MAN. CRAVEN

St. Thomas Has Strong Pitching Squad and President Stanley Says They Do Not Care Whether Baker Reports Or Not.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, April 15.—C. O. Stanley, president of the St. Thomas Ball Club, has added another twister to his already long list of boxmen. "The new man's name is Wallace, and he hails from Athens, Georgia. He will report at once to Manager Craven at Charlotte, Mich. Six of the pitchers have reported, Wilkinson, Clements, Howick, Killey, and Hughes. Baker has not been heard from and Stanley says that "Wild Bill" can do as he likes about it as he is not worrying any whether Baker reports or not. The St. Thomas Club has one of the strongest hurling staffs of any of the Canadian League clubs and the management, players and fans are confident that the Saints will give the pennant a hard run the coming season. The new pitcher was secured through the advice of "Glad" Graneley, left fielder for the Cleveland American team, who was in town one day this week.

JOHNSON LIKELY WINNER OF ALASKA DOG RACE

Is Leading the Second Man By About Twenty-Four Miles.

[Canadian Press.]

Nome, Alaska, April 15.—John Johnson, with his team of eighteen Siberian wolves, early today is leading in the 412-mile all-Alaska sweepstakes dog race, driving over the snow toward the goal at Nome more than 21 miles ahead of "Scotty" Allan, his nearest competitor. At 7:07 last night, Johnson passed Telephone, 122 miles from Nome. Twenty-eight minutes later Allan was reported at Haven, 146 miles from the finish, while Fred Ayer, who left Candle an hour and a half ahead of Allan, was bringing up the rear somewhere between Gold Run and Haven. It is snowing again on the trail. The race probably will be finished tonight.

MORGAN REPRESENTATIVE LEAVES N. Y. CENTRAL

Ledyard Succeeded on Directorate by Robert G. Lovett.

New York, April 15.—Lewis Cass Ledyard retired today from the board of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company at the annual meeting of the stockholders held in Albany. Mr. Ledyard, who was regarded as a Morgan representative as well as one of the railroad's legal advisers, was succeeded by Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific Railway Company which has large holdings of New York Central stock in its treasury. The retirement of Mr. Ledyard marks another step in the gradual elimination of the so-called Morgan influence in the railways of which the Morgan banking house was many years fiscal agents.

BRANTFORD LEAGUE TEAM WILL TRAIN AT Y. M. C. A.

President Nelson Arranges to Have His Team Put Up at That Institution During Entire Season.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Brantford, April 15.—The Y. M. C. A. will be the headquarters of the Brantford Baseball players during the training season at least, and probably throughout the entire season. Yesterday afternoon President Nelson closed a deal with the Y. management for rooms for all of the players from next Monday until the opening of the playing season on May 7 and it is likely that the majority of the team will retain their rooms for the balance of the season. The players are also to have the use of the shower and Turkish baths and the well equipped gymnasium for training purposes and in that respect no team in the league will be better situated than the Red Sox.

This is but another evidence of the determination of the management of the club to have the players in the best possible condition when the umpire calls "Play ball" on May 7. In addition to having the facilities of the Y. M. C. A. at their disposal, the players will have the use of the armories during the two weeks preceding the opening date, providing the weather is not favorable for outdoor work.

ERIE CANADIAN LEAGUERS PLAY A GAME TODAY

Manager Smith and Owner George O'Neil Will Have Team in Action for First Time This Season.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Erie, Pa., April 15.—Manager Heinie Smith and his Canadian Leaguers will play their first exhibition game today, when they stack up against the Erie All-Stars on Perry Field.

Perry Field has been a scene of busy preparation getting the grounds in shape for the coming of the players, patching up the fence in parts where the wintry wind played havoc, and cleaning up the clubhouse and shower baths. As an able assistant to Manager Smith, Tom O'Connor, the best 117 fan in Erie, has been taking an active interest supervising the work.

Twenty players, making 21 with Manager Smith, will be seen in action at Perry Field before the end of the week. Included in the bunch will be two old faces, Frank Gagli and Jack Dawson. Then there will be other celebrities, "Dummy" Taylor, former New York Giant twister; John Butler, formerly a catcher in the International League; John Schaffer, leading slugger in the Canuck circuit last season, and Charles Behan, conceded to be the best shortstop in the league last year.

George O'Neil, of London, owner of the club, arrived here yesterday, and will see his team in action for the first time today.

VILLA IS CRUSHING OUT LAST OF FEDERAL FORCES IN NORTH

Huerta's Army Being Pounded to Pieces—The Rebel General Receives Aid From Unexpected Quarters.

Chihuahua, Mexico, April 15.—The Federal forces defeated San Pedro de las Colonias are being pounded to pieces between two forces of rebels, according to a telegram received today by General Carranza from General Villa. Villa received aid from a totally unexpected quarter, supposed at the time the telegram was filed to be the forces of General Pablo Gonzales, commanding the department of the east, who has been operating in the state of Tamaulipas, of which Tampico is the principal seaport, and Nuevo Leon, of which Monterrey is the largest city. The retreating Federals, loaded on to

FINANCIAL and COMMERCIAL

LOTS OF MAPLE SYRUP BUT DEMAND IS SLOW

Prices Remain High—Butter a Little Easier, With Eggs Up Half Cent.

The expectations of the buyers and the majority of farmers were not reached on the local market this morning. It was expected that the attendance today would exceed that of any other day this season with the exception of Saturday, as farmers will at once begin seeding operations. The feature of today's market was the large supply of maple syrup, over 350 gallons being on sale. Notwithstanding the fact that this was practically the last of the season, the demand was slow at $1.35 to $1.50 per gallon.

The dairy market was exceedingly small, only a scattering of farmers' wives being present in the dairy hall. Crock butter was quoted at 26 to 27 cents per pound, while rolls ranged in price from 27 to 30 cents per pound. Creamery butter was firm at 28 to 30 cents. Eggs were slightly higher, the prices advancing half a cent a dozen.

Apples, as usual, were offered in fairly large quantities with the price firm. Potatoes were plentiful, but the majority of the loads were disposed of before noon at the prices which prevailed on Tuesday, 90 cents, wholesale, and 95 cents to $1 per single bag.

The supply of hay and oats was small today, and it is expected a large supply will be offered on Friday to fill the demand, which will become acute as the farmers start seeding. Twenty loads of hay brought in found a ready market at the prices of yesterday. Oats were firm at $1.25 to $1.30 per hundredweight.

Dressed hogs were slow at $12 to $12.25 per hundredweight. Beef steers were slow at $12 to $12.25 per hundredweight.

Beef steers in price from 12 and 12½ cents a pound to 10 and 12 cents, the highest price obtained for choice cuts being 12½ cents. A large supply was offered.

Hides remained unchanged, with the demand brisk. Flowers were offered in profusion, with prices firm. The offerings included geraniums for transplanting, which were quoted at $1.50 per dozen.

Cow hides, No. 2, lb. 12 to 13 Winnipeg, April 15.—The wheat market was weak during the greater part of the day. Opening prices were unchanged to ½¢ lower on Liverpool cables being somewhat unresponsive to the firmer close of Tuesday. The bearish influences were from Europe.

The bullish tendency was assisted by numerous reports of green bug and Hessian fly from wider districts in Oklahoma. Oats were about steady, but weakened at the close, while flax was strong but weakened later. Trading in options was fairly active.

Wheat opened unchanged to ½¢ lower and closed ½¢ to ¾¢ higher. The demand was fair while offerings were liberal. Exporters were buying moderately for the opening of navigation.

Cash wheat closed ½¢ advance for contract.

VALUED CIGARETTE AND BEER MORE THAN LIFE

Man, Seriously Wounded Rushes From Hospital for Drink and Smoke.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, April 16.—When brought to the Notre Dame Hospital last night, with a bullet in his right temple, Donat Fugere, a storekeeper in Valville, asked the doctors for a glass of beer and some cigarettes. When refused them, he ran out of the institution, with the doctors after him, dashed into a saloon, ordered his drink and smokes, and only returned to the hospital when he had drunk the beer and had consumed a cigarette. His wound, which he said was caused by a revolver going off while he was examining it, is very serious.

FIGHTING CATHOLICS AS A POLITICAL BODY

Dean Saunders Favors Help to Ulsterites, Finding Analogy With Quebec Situation.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, April 16.—"Quebec Orangemen are unanimous in desiring to assist Sir Edward Carson and Protestants in Ulster, because we feel that they are having, in a greatly intensified form, just the same fight that we have to wage here," said Rev. Dean Saunders, one of the committee of the Loyal Orange Association, appointed to deal with the subscription of $1,000 it has been decided to make to the anti-home rulers.

"The same pernicious influences face them there that we have to contend against in Quebec," he said. "If the question were only a political one of giving home rule to Ireland, it would be settled in short order, but it is a religious question as well. It is not against the Roman Catholic Church as a religious body that we are fighting, but it is against the Roman Catholic Church as a political body."

do not say that the Roman Catholic Church and the Nationalists have the same political aims, although they have united for the time being, because both desire the same thing. After home rule became an accomplished fact, I have no doubt that they would soon develop strenuous family quarrels, but we, as Protestants, must stand in a body against the Catholic Church using its political power."

"The countries of Southern Europe, South America and Central America, good examples of the illiteracy and immorality that become prevalent among a large mass of the population under their domination. We do not want the same thing for Ireland."

OTTAWA WOMEN GIVEN TO SMOKING SAID BY L. SCOTT

Prominent Lawyer Says Habit Is Increasing to Alarming Extent in Canada's Capital and Elsewhere.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, April 16.—Women of the best social set of Canada's capital and most of the society girls of Ottawa are cigarette smokers. This statement was made to the Commons cigarette bill committee this morning by W. L. Scott, president of the Ontario Union of Children's Aid Societies. The committee, therefore, was inclined to believe that he knew what he was talking about.

Mr. Scott has for many years given considerable time to the cases in the children's court, and was giving evidence on the evils which can be traced to the use of cigarettes by boys.

H. B. Morphy, of North Perth, called his attention to the statement by the W. C. T. U. of his constituency, that the women of Canada were beginning to smoke.

"Inquestionably they are to an alarming extent," replied Mr. Scott. "It is the women of the best classes particularly who are addicted to smoking. The habit is increasing to an alarming extent."

"Is it a new fad?" asked Dr. Schaffner. "It is a comparatively new thing in Ottawa for women to smoke," said Mr. Scott, "though I understand that the practice has been in vogue among the women of England and the continent for years. Here the practice is spreading rapidly."

"Have the W. C. T. U. women of Ottawa tried to restrain their own sex from smoking?" asked Mr. Morphy. "The smokers do not belong to that organization. The thing is largely a matter of fashion and fashion is a hard thing to disturb," said Mr. Scott. "It is this practice of women smoking peculiar to Ottawa or does it extend to other cities, such as Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton and London?"

"I am not familiar with Hamilton and London, but I know that it is going on in Ottawa," said Mr. Scott.

"How long since this practice was adopted by the society women of Ottawa?" asked Dr. Schaffner.

"It has been introduced within the last six years, and is spreading rapidly," said Mr. Scott.

"Do young girls smoke?"

"The majority perhaps of the young society girls of the best class are smokers," said Mr. Scott.

"Does it affect their health?"

"I cannot say, as I am not a medical man," said Mr. Scott.

"Do they inhale the smoke?" asked Dr. Schaffner.

"I don't know. I have no means of learning. All that I know is that they smoke."

"Has the press of Ottawa ever taken up the question?"

"Not so far as I can recollect," said Mr. Scott.

"I suppose they know of this condition; the press men know about everything," said Mr. Scott.

"So far smoking is confined largely to the exclusive set so that it is not as publicly known as it otherwise would be," said Mr. Scott.

"Do you think the middle and the lower classes follow the example of the women of the fashionable set?"

"I don't think so yet, at least I have not observed it."

"I doubt that. I think that in Ottawa at least the practice has spread beyond this circle."

"I have seen lots of cigarette smoking," said Mr. Scott, "but I must say only amongst the highest classes."

"This finished the evidence as to ladies and cigarettes and the committee went back to the familiar ground of boys and smoking."

NOT A MUSCLE

during the swearing in of the jurors, when the clerk's "prisoner look at the jurors. Jurors look at the prisoner" drew his eyes to those of the selected men. Riley seemed to take but the most casual notice of the twelve men who have the custody of his life entrusted to them, the twelve men who can send him to a murderers' grave or give him his freedom.

When Crown Prosecutor Creswick gave his recital to the jury of the events that transpired during the eventful afternoon and evening of Oct. 3, when Blackburn was shot in the Hotel Cecil, the prisoner was coolly indifferent. The various statements that led to the shooting seemed to pass unheeded.

Riley Chewed a Match. "I'll get you," dramatically hissed the prosecutor as he retold the alleged threat of the juror to the juror. Riley, leaning forward in his chair, his interest centered on the tale being told by the lawyer. The hiss seemed to make their eyes start. Riley sat in his corner and chewed a match.

"I'd like to get that black," growled the prosecutor as he continued his tale. A jurymen started. Riley bit the end off another match, and started picking his teeth.

There was one incident during the course of the morning that might have been expected to draw some kind of an expression from the accused man, but it too, failed.

The Weapon Produced. When Harry Andrews, mate and friend of Riley, told of taking the gun from Riley, Crown Prosecutor Creswick went to have the weapon produced. Detective Sergeant Nickle reached into a bag and produced the huge weapon, "breaking" it within a few feet of the prisoner, but the latter never winked. He stared at the weapon with which the crown accuses him of taking George Blackburn's life, and then let his eyes roam to the other side of the room.

There was nothing furtive in his glance, no sign of fear, no dumb plea for mercy, no trace of emotion, but he seemed to be totally indifferent. It seemed as if Thomas Riley was a mere bored auditor in the great drama rather than his principal character, around which the others simply revolve. There may have been love in the occasional glance he shot in the direction of the seat where sat his family and relatives, but it was not apparent to the observer. "Unmoved" is the only word that describes this big bulging boy.

BOOSTING TAXES ONLY SYSTEM OF FINANCE IN CITY

Enormous Assessment Increase Not Justified by Benefits Derived by People.

ANNEXATION TO BLAME

Lined Pockets of Some, But Placed Heavy Burden on Taxpayers of Old City.

The appointment of a commission of expert businessmen to untangle the tangled ends of London's financial history, is being strongly urged. With the prospect, this year, of a $4,000,000 increase in the assessment to meet the demands of the city spenders, and to look after the interest and sinking fund of the city's ever-growing debt, many citizens have expressed the opinion that the time is ripe for drastic action to ferret out the why and wherefore of city financial affairs.

London's debt, at the end of 1912, according to the city clerk's report, was $2,259,170.33. The recent action of the Legislature in assenting to the City of London bill, tacked $1,628,000 to the first figure, and brought it up to the grand total of $3,887,170.33, which, if proved correct, would be something to be proud of. But it isn't a surplus, and the ratepayers must pay the piper, the latter, in this case, being the bond buyer, who sits at a mahogany desk and slips off the coupons at frequent intervals.

Where Does City Stand? A great many persons are anxious to know how the city stands financially, just how much the annexed districts are costing the ratepayers of the city proper, and just what the prospects are for putting things on a more satisfactory basis.

The present administration, it is pointed out, is not altogether to blame for the condition of affairs that now exists; other councils of the last few years have had their little whack at the municipal budget, and the city's debt has been increasing until it has reached a point that, many believe, calls for the services of expert financiers to suggest changes and improvements with tendency toward keeping down expenses and lowering the liability total.

It would be interesting to know just what the annexed districts are costing the city. The annexed districts of Chatham and Knollwood Park are costing. When these four sections of London Township were taken into the city, a year ago, they were given a straight 15-mill tax rate for a stated term of years. This rate, however, does not apply to new buildings, and the consequence is that the prices of available factory sites in the city have so jumped in price as to be almost prohibitive.

Expenditure Double Taxes. It is said that the city will receive approximately $15,000 this year, in taxes, from these districts, but that the expenditure for school and other purposes will run about double. Just what the ratepayers as a whole, of the older London, will derive from the annexed districts is therefore difficult of explanation. It is true that a few ratepayers, some of them entirely unconnected with the city, have made money as a result of the rise in their holdings in the annexed districts, but the great mass has yet to reap any benefit from annexation.

A Third of Old City. The application of the Rowell policy of taxing land rather than buildings, in these districts, but that the expenditure for school and other purposes will run about double. Just what the ratepayers as a whole, of the older London, will derive from the annexed districts is therefore difficult of explanation.

With all these things in mind, a number of citizens, as was before stated, are of the opinion that a business men's commission should be named to examine and report on the whole civic situation. Where improvements were found inefficient, recommendations would be made, and the city's debt, clean-up and paint-up day, as it is believed, that such a movement would have the support of citizens as a whole.

London is now in the preliminary stages of the first real boom in many years. Building operations during the past twelve months have completely eclipsed all former records, and there is every indication that the present year will see the greatest activity in this direction within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Safe and Sane Government. Great additional expenditures are to be made if London is to reap the benefits of the present movement that is within her grasp, and the situation calls for safe, sane and able men at the helm of the civic ship. First of all, the city must have a sound civic financing, and that the barnacles of other years must be cleaned from the keel of the ship.

With the whole surrounding districts going ahead at a marvellous rate, with countless opportunities for securing additional factories and making in the heart of Midwestern, the greatest city in Ontario, London's future seems assured. But if this is to be accomplished, the city must be guided by men who know how.

TO MAKE LONDON A SPOTLESS TOWN

Proclamation Issued By Mayor and Chairman of Board of Health Calling Upon All Citizens to Clean Up Premises on April 20—City Council Behind Project.

"The board of health of the city of London requests the cooperation of the citizens in making the week commencing April 20, special clean-up week."

"All backyards, cellars, front yards and premises should be made clean and tidy. United efforts will make the city more beautiful."

"The council of the corporation joins in the request to the householders for a general and effective special clean-up week."

The above proclamation, signed by Dr. F. L. Burdon, chairman of the board of health, and Mayor Graham, was issued this morning, and it illustrates the attitude of the civic authorities toward the campaign for a clean-up and paint-up day in London.

Use City Departments. The suggestion has been made that committees be appointed to supervise the cleaning-up process in the various districts of the city. With the aid of the garbage department in collecting refuse from yards and cellars, and the fire department in inspecting all business premises following the cleaning-up, the board of health believes that the campaign for a clean-up and paint-up day can be made a huge success.

Word from Montreal, Rochester, N. Y., and other cities bears ample evidence of the realization of leading people everywhere to the need of such a campaign, at least once a year. As one man interested in the work has said, the agitation is one that will amount to a civic epoch. The idea is to get at the very roots of disease, which are nothing more or less than an unclean city and an unclean people.

Good for the City. The Clean-Up and Paint-Up campaign may be an especially good thing for the broom manufacturers and paint dealers, but it will be a splendid mark of progress for the whole city. There are hundreds of residences in London which, for the expenditure of a few dollars, could be made to look at least 50 per cent. better, and there are just as many houses and other buildings which, for a little downright cleaning and scrubbing, would be 50 per cent. better from a sanitary standpoint.

The advertiser, in commencing his campaign for a spotless town, believes that citizens would welcome the idea, and would willingly do their individual shares toward making the movement a success. The board of health has backed up the idea, and it is now up to the householders, the merchants and the manufacturers to get busy on April 20.

Good for the City. The Clean-Up and Paint-Up campaign may be an especially good thing for the broom manufacturers and paint dealers, but it will be a splendid mark of progress for the whole city. There are hundreds of residences in London which, for the expenditure of a few dollars, could be made to look at least 50 per cent. better, and there are just as many houses and other buildings which, for a little downright cleaning and scrubbing, would be 50 per cent. better from a sanitary standpoint.

The advertiser, in commencing his campaign for a spotless town, believes that citizens would welcome the idea, and would willingly do their individual shares toward making the movement a success. The board of health has backed up the idea, and it is now up to the householders, the merchants and the manufacturers to get busy on April 20.

Word from Montreal, Rochester, N. Y., and other cities bears ample evidence of the realization of leading people everywhere to the need of such a campaign, at least once a year. As one man interested in the work has said, the agitation is one that will amount to a civic epoch.

TODAY'S EVIDENCE AT RILEY MURDER TRIAL

RILEY'S PLEA IS APPARENTLY TO BE ONE OF SELF-DEFENSE

Andrews as they left the hotel. "I'd like to kill the black," he said.

Told by Chapters.
The rest of the story of the drama was told by chapters. Chapter II was the return of Riley, chapter III, the shooting, and escape of the murderer.

From the line of cross-examination given by Ed. Meredith, K.C., in examination of Beattie, the defence will be based on Riley's drinking.

Repeatedly counsel endeavored to force statement from the witness that Riley's appearance was that of a man on a prolonged spree. Blackburn endeavored to put as a man inclined to swear.

Architect First Witness.
Herbert C. McBride, architect, was the first witness called. He testified to drawing plans for alterations to the hotel cell where the shooting occurred, and gave an accurate description of the location of the doors to the bar.

Howard Beattie, 273 Clarence street, flowed. He testified that he knew Blackburn, bartender at the hotel. He was a short, stout and robust man. Witness went to the hotel at 5 o'clock.

Describes Early Events.
"Where was Blackburn?" he was asked. "Behind the bar," was the reply.

Q.—When did Riley enter? A.—He came in shortly after, accompanied by a friend, Andrews.

Q.—Who were in the bar at the time? A.—There were several draymen, talking and fooling.

Q.—What happened then? A.—Riley and his mate joined them.

Q.—Then— A.—After a time Blackburn, thinking that Riley was getting mad said: "Cut that out." Riley had had a small glass of beer.

Spilled the Beer.
Q.—What did Riley do? A.—When Blackburn asked him to stop, he spilled beer on the bar. Riley left by the north door, but entered almost immediately and apologized. Blackburn would not accept the apology, but said "Get it, or I'll put you out." Riley left and did not see him again until after supper.

After supper I met Blackburn in the office on the west side of the hall. He walked down the hall to the north and turned into the bar. Riley was in the bar and Blackburn noticed him.

Q.—Who were with Riley? A.—Green and several others.

Another Bartender.
Q.—Who was behind the bar? A.—Mr. Brown.

Q.—What did Blackburn do? A.—He started down the hall and came in through the swinging door, bringing him inside the prisoner.

Q.—Where were you? A.—At the north end of the bar.

Q.—What happened on the way to the bar? A.—Blackburn touched Riley on the shoulder and the two walked towards the door. Blackburn was ahead.

Q.—Who were with Riley? A.—Green and several others.

Q.—What happened then? A.—Riley stepped out and turned to the left. They were facing each other.

Sees Flash of Gun.
Q.—Then what happened? A.—I saw a report and saw a flash.

Q.—Did you notice any firearms or ammunition? A.—I did not.

Q.—Do you know whether the prisoner had any weapon? A.—I did not.

"He's Got Me, Bill!"
Q.—When you heard the report, what happened? A.—I saw Blackburn stagger and cry "He's got me, Bill!" They tried Blackburn into the office, and Dr. Baker, who was summoned, attended.

Q.—What time was this? A.—Between 20 and 30 minutes after seven.

Q.—What occurred in the bar when they were drinking? A.—They were very quiet.

The witness was then cross-examined by Attorney E. L. Meredith.

Q.—How long did you stay at the Cecil Hotel? A.—From 10 minutes to five till 6 o'clock. I was standing in the room.

Q.—There was a good deal of drinking going on? A.—No, sir.

Q.—You were drinking during that hour? A.—No, sir (firmly).

Q.—With whom did Riley come in? A.—Mr. Andrews.

Q.—What was he doing? A.—Fooling with the old drayman.

Affected by Liquor.
Q.—You saw that Riley had been drinking? A.—Yes.

Q.—He looked like a man on a prolonged spree? A.—Yes.

Q.—Would you think that the bartender could see that? A.—I think so.

Q.—Did he get more drink? A.—Yes, from Blackburn.

Q.—Did he tip over his beer? A.—Yes; a little fell on Blackburn.

Wouldn't Accept Apology.
Q.—Afterwards Riley wanted to apologize? A.—Yes.

Q.—Would Blackburn accept the apology? A.—No.

Q.—What did he say? A.—I thought I heard him say: "Get out or I'll put you out."

Q.—You came back after supper? A.—Yes.

Q.—The prisoner was standing at the far end of the counter drinking? A.—Yes.

Q.—Was he quiet? A.—I didn't hear him say a word.

Q.—Did Blackburn say to you: "There's that guy again?" A.—Yes.

Q.—And Riley was peacefully drinking at the bar? A.—Yes.

Q.—The man had made no resistance? A.—None.

Q.—Did you see Blackburn put his hand on Riley? A.—I cannot say.

Gets an Admission.
Q.—Then this man was quietly drinking, and Blackburn put his hand on him and walked him to the door? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you hear what occurred there? A.—No, I did not.

Q.—Did you notice what Riley was drinking? A.—I did not.

GIVES IMPORTANT FACTS.
Henry John Andrews, 238 Nelson street, fellow brackenan of Riley, was the next witness. He swore he had worked with the prisoner for two weeks. Riley had not been in the Cecil Hotel for some time before the shooting.

Q.—Where did you meet Riley on the day of the shooting? A.—I met him at York and Clarence streets about 4:40 o'clock. I had not seen him the day before.

Q.—What happened? A.—We walked to Dundas street.

Q.—Did you do any drinking during this walk? A.—No.

Q.—Where did you go after your walk? A.—At Riley's invitation we went to the Cecil Hotel.

Q.—Could you tell to what extent? A.—No.

SAYS RILEY WAS NOT IN HIS USUAL MOOD.
Justice Kelly: Q.—What caused your opinion that he had been drinking? A.—He acted differently from his usual manner. Ordinarily he was reticent, and didn't have much to say. He was jolly on the day in question.

Q.—Is that all that would lead you to think he had been drinking? A.—Yes.

Q.—When did you enter the hotel? A.—At 5:40.

Q.—Anyone with you? A.—No.

GOT ONE DRINK WITH RILEY FROM VICTIM.

Q.—What followed after that? A.—Blackburn told him to get out.

Q.—Did Riley stay in? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you hear what happened? A.—No.

Q.—What happened when Riley came out? A.—I told him to go back and apologize to Blackburn for throwing the beer.

Q.—Did you hear him apologize when he went back? A.—No.

Q.—Then what happened? A.—He came in and said Blackburn wouldn't accept his apology.

Q.—What did you do then? A.—We walked down Richmond street.

Q.—Was there anything said on the way down? A.—Yes.

Q.—What was it? A.—Riley said: "I'd like to shoot the black."

Q.—Anything more? A.—No.

WARNED BY ANDREWS NOT TO GET INTO TROUBLE.
Q.—What did you say? A.—I told him not to get into trouble that way.

Q.—Did the prisoner get on the car with you? A.—No.

Q.—When was the next time you saw the prisoner? A.—At 2 a.m.

Q.—What were the circumstances? A.—We were ordered out of East London at 12:45; but our run was cancelled. I went to the station at 12 o'clock, and found we were not to go out then.

Q.—Had you heard of the shooting? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—When you got to the yards, did you find your caboose? A.—Yes. I unlocked the door and walked in.

FOUND RILEY INSIDE HIS LOCKED CABOOSE.
Q.—Did you find anyone inside? A.—Yes, Riley.

Q.—What did you say? A.—I said, "Hello."

Q.—What did Riley say? A.—He just said "Hello, Paddy." Then I asked him for the gun.

To Justice Kelly—I had heard of the shooting, I said: "Give me that gun, Tom. He did so."

The gun being produced in court, witness said it looked like the one Riley had given him.

Justice Kelly:—You had heard of the shooting then?

Witness:—Yes, I had heard of it. I said: "Give me that gun, Tom." He did.

Mr. Creswick then produced the big revolver with which the shooting was alleged to have been done.

RILEY'S GUN IS PRODUCED IN COURT.
Witness said it looked like the one Riley had given him. He swore, however, that he did not know what kind of a weapon it was or how many chambers had been loaded.

Mr. Creswick:—Did you see any cartridges? A.—Yes; Riley handed me five or six.

A handful of cartridges were then put in as an exhibit.

Witness said they looked like the ones Riley had given him.

To the presiding justice Mr. Creswick declared the cartridges had been marked for identification.

SAYS BLACKBURN TRIED TO PATCH UP QUARREL.
Charles E. Holliday, a bricklayer, who was in the Cecil Hotel on the afternoon was next called. He did not know prisoner. He saw him with Harry Andrews. He gave his version of the scuffle between Pearson and Riley. When he first saw them Riley was wanting to apologize for hurting the old man. Blackburn was trying to coax the old man to shake hands. Riley had then gone to the bar and had splashed the beer over Blackburn. Blackburn had ordered him out.

"When Riley came back to apologize, Blackburn refused to accept his apology," said witness.

London Papers Blame Wilson For Present Situation

[Canadian Press.] London, April 16.—Most London morning papers, in their editorial comment on the Mexican situation, display sympathy with President Wilson in the difficulties which have arisen with Mexico, while at the same time contending that those difficulties were largely brought about by his idealistic policy. Much curiosity is expressed over the intentions of the United States because, although it is generally believed Huerta will yield, it is pointed out that should he remain obdurate the mere occupation of Tampico would not have much practical effect, and that the blockade of Vera Cruz would be the only measure that would deal a serious blow to the Huerta regime. The Daily Telegraph cannot believe that President Wilson intends to put into effect a resolute military intervention and sees no hope of putting an end "to the anarchy which has resulted from the Wilson policy of moral intervention."

Eight Lives Lost When Ship Sinks

Schooner Charles K. Buckley Goes Ashore on New Jersey Coast—Captain and Wife Drown—Only One Saved.

[Canadian Press.] New York, April 16.—The identity of the schooner which went ashore in a northeast gale near Long Branch, N.J., last night, was established by life savers at daybreak today as the Charles K. Buckley, from Jacksonville, Fla., for New York. The schooner is a total loss and Captain Hardy, his wife, and all members of the crew, except one seaman, named Atchison, were lost while attempting to launch a lifeboat. Atchison, who remained on deck, was rescued soon after midnight by being virtually lassoed by a line shot across the bow of the schooner from the shore. Atchison got twisted up in the breeches buoy line and was dragged from the deck into the seething sea. Life savers on shore then ran into the water, dragging Atchison upon the beach more dead than alive. He was

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! as soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poisoning! Not one speck of dirt or germ has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill! Then again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the aching. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this. Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent. Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 191 Delorimier avenue, Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema. All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send self advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Company, Toronto.

have landed the United States and the President himself. "In a situation of the greatest difficulty and embarrassment." The Graphic continues: "Mexico must now be conquered or left alone. The idea that intervention can be limited to the occupation of Tampico and Vera Cruz is a fresh delusion which will speedily be shattered." The Standard says: "The Big Stick which Roosevelt would have used long ago has at last been grasped. The door to peace is still open, but it rests with Huerta to avail himself of the chance." The Mail says: "If President Huerta has the sense with which he is generally credited in Europe, he will lose no time in making his amende honorable to the United States. That he should deliberately provoke war with so formidable a power on the question of a salute seems unthinkable." The Mail thinks that in the event of war and the election of Huerta, a temporary protectorate of Mexico is inevitable, and adds: "President Wilson is too wise and humane a ruler to consign a vast country to the sheer anarchy which

KONG, CHINESE BOY, WILL DENY MURDER

Alleged to Have Killed Vancouver Woman, Trial Begins Today.

[Canadian Press.] Vancouver, B. C., April 16.—Jack Kong, the Chinaman accused of the murder of Mrs. Millard, will be brought up for trial this morning. Kong, according to the police, maintains a stolid and sulky demeanor, which is in strong contrast with his former disposition, which was cheerful and friendly. According to a statement made by the chief of police, Kong will absolutely deny the crime for which he is being held. He now contradicts the story that he told to the husband of the murdered woman and Crown Prosecutor Kennedy.

DISEASE IS DUE TO BAD BLOOD

To Cure Common Ailments the Blood Must Be Made Rich and Red.

Nearly all the diseases that afflict humanity are caused by bad blood—weak, watery blood poisoned by impurities. Bad blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, lumbago and rheumatism, nervousness and indigestion, neuralgia and other nerve troubles, and disfiguring skin diseases like eczema and salt rheum show how impure the blood actually is. No use trying a different remedy for each disease because they all spring from the one cause—bad blood. To cure any of these troubles you must get right down to the root of the trouble in the blood, and that is just what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. They make new, rich blood and thus cure these diseases when common medicine fails. Mrs. John Jackson, Woodstock, Ont., suffered from both nervous troubles and a run-down condition, and experienced a complete cure through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I was a sufferer for a number of years from neuralgia, and a general debility of the nerves and system. I had tried several doctors and many medicines, but to no avail until I began Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At the time I began the Pills I had grown so bad that I could hardly be on my feet and was forced to wear elastic bandages about the ankles. The pain I suffered at times from the neuralgia was terrible. I had almost given up hope when I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the course of a few weeks I felt an improvement, and I gladly continued the use of the pills until I was once more quite well and able to attend to all my household duties." If you are ailing, begin to cure yourself today with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

ICE IN THUNDER BAY PRETTY WELL BROKEN

[Canadian Press.] Fort William, Ont., April 16.—The ice in Thunder Bay and in the Kaministiquia River has been well broken by ice-breaking tugs and heavy winds, and it is considered probable by steamboat men that Monday will see the majority of the steamers which have been wintering in the port clear for the east. VESSEL IN DISTRESS

Revenue Cutter Sent to Assist Ship Off Cape Porpoise.

[Canadian Press.] Kennebunkport, Me., April 15.—A vessel, said to be a steamer or large schooner, was reported in distress off Cape Porpoise today. Rockets were sent up from a point not far from shore. It was snowing hard, and a northeast wind, however, made it too perilous for boats to be sent out. A breeches buoy was rigged, and after many futile attempts the life-savers succeeded in getting a line across the schooner's bow. At a late hour this identity of the vessel and the number of persons on board had not been learned. The rescuers were planning to send one of their number in the breeches buoy out to the ship.

His physical movements are free, and there is no trace of the former stiffness in the left leg."

Thought Nothing But Death Would End Her Misery.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Heart Disease.

Mrs. J. D. Talbot, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from heart disease, and leaking valves. I have had recourse to every kind of treatment I could think might help me, including the skill of several doctors. I suffered so for years that at times I have felt that nothing but death could end my misery. I was advised by a friend, who had suffered untold pain and misery, just as I had, and had been cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, to give them a trial, so I decided to do so. I am now completely cured, and can eat and sleep as I have not done for years."

Lord Cromer Would Let Militants Die

Takes Another Fling at Them at Society "At Home."

[Canadian Press.] New York, April 16.—A cable to the New York American from London says: Lord Cromer, "the great mogul of Egypt," has been having another fling at the militants. He was in the van of the hostile forces at Lady Haversham's anti-suffrage "at home" at her house in Grosvenor street last night, and made one of his scorching speeches. The speech of Lord Cromer was punctuated with applause, especially when he said that he could not imagine anyone giving in to the militants now. He was further in accord with those who held that if a woman in prison refused to take her food she should be allowed to commit suicide.

WOMAN SHOT DEAD; OUTCOME OF A QUARREL

[Canadian Press.] Erie, Pa., April 15.—Mrs. Nora McBain was shot and killed early today at Macabee Hall. Her husband and Samuel Stanton were arrested. According to the police, all were guests at a party in the hall, and the shooting was the outcome of a quarrel over another woman.

UNKNOWN BOAT ASHORE

Rough Seas Prevent Aid From Reaching Her.

Seabright, N. J., April 15.—In the heavy gale which blew along the coast tonight an unidentified three-masted schooner struck near here and was carried a mile down the coast to Galilee, where she stuck fast, flashing signals of distress and exploding rockets. West End, North Long Branch and Monmouth Beach stations sent life-saving crews. Tremendous combers and a 70-mile-an-hour wind, however, made it too perilous for boats to be sent out. A breeches buoy was rigged, and after many futile attempts the life-savers succeeded in getting a line across the schooner's bow.

AN INTERNATIONAL ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION

One Projected to Start in 1915, England and Sweden Taking Part.

[Canadian Press.] New York, April 16.—A London cable to the New York American says: It is now practically certain that another Antarctic expedition will start in 1915. This enterprise will be international in character, in that England and Sweden are negotiating and are expected to carry it through. The plans contemplate establishment of a scientific station in Graham land for the exploration of the surrounding area, and an investigation of the whales which inhabit the southern seas.

TEACHER MOVES TO
ABOLISH MILITARISMS. W. Michener, of Lambton, Condemns the Training in Public Schools.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, April 15.—S. W. Michener, of Lambton, introduced a resolution to the Public School Section of the Ontario Educational Association this morning which when it comes up for discussion tomorrow morning is liable to cause some liveliness. In a few words this school teacher condemned the militarism and military training in the schools, and concluded with a motion that the public schools, as institutions of peace, should show the authorities their disapproval of the whole military trend of the day. The motion was received in deadly silence, though some of the ladies present showed signs of approval.

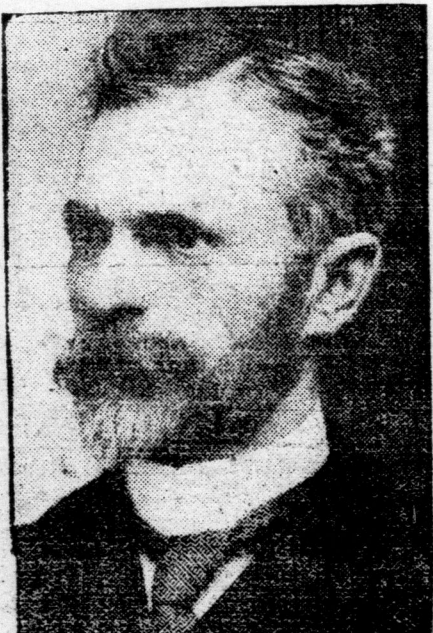

"Effect of Military Training."
"Some of the reasons," said Mr. Michener, "for military training in schools are obvious, and appeal directly to our spirit of loyalty and devotion, so much so that the larger aspects of the problem of which school discipline only forms a part are commonly overlooked. Seemingly good features of military training have been magnified and its fallacies obscured to the teaching profession. After long continued peace our combativeness is being directed away from the moral, mental, and spiritual, from the real enemies of the race, such as diseases, vice, and poverty, to the physical side of the question—mere pugnacity. Military preparation tends so to operate on the common mind as to cause the very war it would claim to guard against, making more probable a resort to force."
"Military training makes class distinctions which are a detriment to any country, and it takes time away from other school work. It does not improve these most in need of physical development, but rejects the unfit. Any good system of calisthenics contains all the virtues claimed for military drill without its defects, and finally I urge that military drill is contrary to the genius of education, and to the teaching of the great teacher who is the Prince of Peace."

Cling to Victoria Day.
The resolution to abolish Victoria Day from the list of calendar holidays for Ontario public schools fell on the loyal ear of the public school department meeting with the effect of a bomb, and was annihilated in an explosion of "No's," chiefly feminine.
Essex Principal Speaks.
A. W. Massey, principal of the Essex high school delivered an address before the high school principals' section, speaking on "American and Canadian Schooling—A Comparison of Their Courses and Timetables." He discussed the examination question fully, and the system of admitting students to the university on a certificate from an approved high school was described. Mr. Massey then gave statistics to show that students admitted in this way "did as well, if not better, than those who had passed the regular examination."

Toronto, April 15.—The Ontario Educational Association, at its annual convention in Toronto, attended by about 200 teachers, unanimously passed a resolution tonight in University Convocation Hall, against the cigarette.
The anti-cigarette resolution was moved by R. Alexander, Ottawa, and William Scott, Toronto, and was to the effect that cigarettes should not be manufactured, sold, or given away, and that no cigarettes, cigarette papers or wrappers should be im-

GODERICH MAN SAVED
BAD SMASH ON C.P.R.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Goderich, April 15.—Had it not been for the quick action of Joseph Lynch in flagging the 7:15 C. P. R. train, and thus preventing it from running into a landslide, the lives of several passengers and those of the train crew might have been lost. When coming to work he noticed that several tons of blue clay had slipped down the embankment at the foot of the old Cameron castle. He ran along the tracks and flagged the train.

MINE WORKERS SPLIT

Inaugurates Form the Industrial Mine Workers' Union.
Pittsburg, Pa., April 15.—Denouncing their officials as "unscrupulous," declaring the miners' organization was a dictatorship, and that the United Mine Workers of America, "like all other craft unions, has outlived its usefulness," the "insurgent" mass convention in session in Monacahele City, Pa., today voted to withdraw from District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America and appointed a committee to launch a new organization to be known as the Industrial Mine Workers' Union.

PERIL IN OPENING
OF PANAMA CANALRedistribution of Yellow Fever
and Cholera Threatens.SO SAYS DR. STRONG
Expert States That Heavy Disturbance of Trade Is To Be Feared.

[Canadian Press.]
Boston, April 15.—Fear that the opening of the Panama Canal may be followed by a world-wide redistribution of yellow fever and cholera which will threaten very great commercial loss was expressed today by Dr. Richard P. Strong, head of the Harvard Medical School of Tropical Medicine.
Dr. Strong was formerly at the head of the Government Biological Laboratory in the Philippines, and later became prominent through his work in combating the pneumonic plague in Manchuria. Last year he led the Harvard Medical School expedition to Peru, where an extensive study of tropical diseases was made.
"The troubles to be feared from the spread of tropical diseases by traffic through the Panama Canal," he said today, "are rather heavy financial losses through the disturbance of trade than any great loss of life."

Queen Mary is now arranging and cataloguing her collection of English laces at Buckingham Palace.

AYLMER SHOCKED BY PICTURES OF TANGO

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Aylmer, April 15.—The mayor today received a complaint regarding a picture shown at a local moving picture theatre last evening, and as a result, has written to the Ontario Board of Censors to have the film banished. The film complained of showed a young woman more or less scantily dressed doing the tango, and it is alleged the pictures caused a great deal of comment.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone in the Bladder.
GIN PILLS PASSED IT.

Joliette, P. Q.
"During August last I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder.
He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.
They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller, but he could not remove it, although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise, and joy I passed the stone.
GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world, and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life."

Pain in Top of Head
Was Almost ConstantTwo Doctors Recommended Surgical Operation as Only Hope—Wonderful Results From Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Headache is sometimes described as the cry of the brain for more blood. One thing certain, headache is the usual accompaniment of exhaustion of the nerves and disappears when the depleted nerve cells are restored by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
What this treatment actually does is to increase the red corpuscles in the blood, or, in other words, make the blood rich in nourishing and building-up qualities.
For this reason the cures effected are both thorough and lasting. The relief you get from headache powders and tablets is only temporary, and is obtained at enormous expense to the nervous system. Again and again the headaches return until your nervous system is worn out and helplessness of mind and body results.

Mrs. T. Gray, farmer's wife, Earlton, New Ontario, writes—"I had nerve and heart trouble, and was very much run down. I suffered terribly from headaches, and my eyesight was so bad I could scarcely read or sew. The pain in the top of the head was almost constant. Two doctors found they could not help me, and wanted a surgical operation.
"I had heard of many being cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and decided to try it. Altogether, I used six boxes, and with the most marked benefits. They did me good in every way. It was not long until I was about and doing my own housework."
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest of nerve restoratives. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50. All dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

BILL TO AMEND ELECTION LAWS

Measure Introduced by Mr. Hearst—Important Change in Regard to Nomination of Candidates.

Toronto, April 15.—Signs of an early election are thickening. Mr. Hearst brought in a bill in the Legislature today to make a number of amendments to the election laws of the Province.

One change gives the right to the leader of the Government and the leader of the Opposition to say whether manhood suffrage lists prepared within a year for a Dominion election shall be used in a provincial election. If the Dominion election is within six months of the issue of writs for a provincial election a registration shall not be necessary; if it is within a year the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council may determine the point. Where there is a registration, the board must complete its sittings within ten days of the election, not start seven days after the issue of the writ as under the present law. In unorganized districts the old certificate lists shall be used if a new list is not available.

An important change is to be made in regard to the nomination of candidates. The amendments provide that the nominations shall be in writing on a form to be signed by at least fifty duly qualified voters of the electoral district, and the candidate shall be nominated on a separate nomination paper. If the nominator is not present in person, such absence shall be stated, and the nomination must be accompanied by the written consent of the candidate to such nomination. If a request is made by the returning officer he must make an examination of the nomination paper to ascertain if it is regular, and his certificate in writing shall be final and the validity of the nomination shall not be open to question on any ground whatever.

STRONG CRITICISM OF SURVEY REPORT

Labor Council Opposes Action of Investigators to Reduce Licenses.

CITY IS WELL GOVERNED

Probing Social Conditions Regarded as Reflection on Authorities.

"We strongly oppose the action of the Social Survey and ministers of the city in attempting to cut off the licenses of hotels on 'Whiskey Row'."

This is contained in a resolution read at the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night. It will be sent to the city commissioners at once. Edward J. Norman, brewery worker, read the resolution, adopted after considerable discussion.

City Has Good Management.

The resolution stated that London had efficient governors, in the mayor and council, the board of control and police force, and that the ministers were intruding.

"Little gets by the chief of police, and Inspector Galpin is second to none in Canada," Mr. Norman said in putting the resolution. "These well-conducted hotels are better than low dives on the sly, the result of too few licenses. The minister's attack is an onslaught of a handful, who make their living from cheap talk," he said.

No improvement to conditions. Cutting off licenses only improves the value of hotels which have them. It does not improve conditions. This has been the case in Toronto," Joseph said.

Government statistics comparing Toronto and Sheffield, England, were quoted by John Jacobs, Toronto, with 120 hotels, has 60 drunks per 1,000, while Sheffield, a city of the same size, with 1,000 hotels, has only 28 drunks per 1,000.

"Temperance people have yet to prove that cutting off licenses does good," the speaker said.

The resolution was opposed by a few, but was carried almost unanimously.

CONVENTION ENDS WITH ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Rev. W. D. Spence Made President of Western Association of Congregational Churches.

"If the early Christians had manifested more of a missionary spirit instead of spending their time wrangling over disputes of dogma, there would never have been the millions of Mohammedans who are in the world today," said Rev. W. D. Spence, formerly of Waterville, Quebec, who leaves the 1st of May for the mission field of the American Board of Missions in Asia Minor, where he will teach in Ephesus, Coege at Harpoot, Armenia, in an able and interesting address before the Western Association of Congregational Churches, which last night closed its spring convention in the Southern Congregational Church.

Plea for Mission Activity.

Rev. Mr. Spence made a strong plea for greater missionary activity and interest on the part of the churches. He described the country, people and conditions where and among whom he is to work. All commercial development is discouraged by the Turkish Government, which fears that the spread of American civilization will weaken the despotism which the Turkish power now exerts over the inhabitants.

Among the delegates to the convention was Rev. Armen Amirkhian, superintendent of the Armenian mission, Brantford. Mr. Amirkhian is working among 450 of his compatriots in the Telephone City. Educational classes are held three days a week, besides well-attended services on Sundays.

Rev. W. Spence is President. Rev. W. D. Spence, of Guelph, is the new president of the Western Association. Other officers elected at the afternoon session yesterday are: Rev. M. T. Walker, Bellwood, secretary; Rev. Byron Simmons, Burford, treasurer; Rev. W. H. A. Claris, London, home missionary representative; Rev. W. E. Gilroy, Scotland, chairman of the credential committee, and Rev. D. A. Armstrong, registrar.

"Voice of God."

At the afternoon session Rev. Robert Stevenson spoke on "The Voice of God," and Rev. W. H. A. Claris gave an address on "The Minister's Prayer Life." Preliminary arrangements were made for the ordination of Rev. G. E. Morley, lately of Toronto, as pastor of the Scotland Congregational Church. The retiring president, Rev. H. D. Whitmore, of the First Church, London, presided at last night's session.

LONDON YOUTH HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Alleged to Have Used Check He Found—Remanded at Woodstock.

[Canadian Press.]

Woodstock, April 15.—Frank McFadden, a youth, aged 19, who claims to have lived on Colborne street in London until two weeks ago, was arraigned before Magistrate A. S. Ball this afternoon on a charge of having made use of a check "payable to bearer," which was lost on the street by Mrs. M. E. Beard, a widow. When Mrs. Beard discovered her loss she telephoned the Bank of Commerce to stop payment on the check, and was informed that it had already been cashed on the account of Grafton & Co., merchants.

McFadden was charged with theft and remanded for a week, to give the authorities an opportunity to test the account he gave of his recent past.

He claims to be an electrician, and secured employment here as such, but lost his position after two days' work. He said he was born in Essex County.

MRS. ALEX. SUTHERLAND STRICKEN UNEXPECTEDLY

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Seaford, April 15.—Mrs. Alex. B. Sutherland died suddenly today after a short illness. She had risen yesterday feeling as usual, but during the forenoon was taken ill with a violent pain over her heart. Drs. Scott and McKay were quickly summoned and opiate administered to relieve her sufferings, but no chance of recovery was held out for recovery, and the family were telegraphed for. She rested quietly during the afternoon, but through the night had another severe attack and gradually grew weaker until her death, shortly after 7 o'clock. She was a native of Scotland and in her seventy-sixth year and leaves a husband and four children, Margaret, at home; Mrs. William Murdie, of Lucknow; John A. of Welch & Son, of Toronto, and A. D., deputy postmaster, Seaford. The funeral takes place on Friday afternoon to the Maitland Bank Cemetery.

BIG POSITION FOR DR. ST. CLAIR DRAKE

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, April 15.—A St. Thomas old boy, Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, has been appointed a member of the state board of health at Chicago to succeed Dr. Egan, who died in April, 1913. He is a son of A. A. Drake, Roseberry Place and has been in Chicago for the last sixteen years. Dr. Drake is at present assistant chief of the bureau of vital statistics of the health department of the City of Chicago.

ALCOHOL CAUSED DEATH

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Galt, April 15.—The jury empanelled by Coroner Radford to investigate the death of Mrs. Isabelle Dempsey, the nurse who died Sunday night at a farm near Galt, returned a verdict that the deceased came to her death from an overdose of alcohol taken as a stimulant for her heart.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are most unfortunately healthy and normal. The real trouble, which causes all the pain and difficulty, is the acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but food fermentation, the most past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonsful of saturated magnesia. This is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the saturated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.—Adv.

WHY HE IS A LIBERAL

A conservative paper intimates that the issue, Banish the Bar, is steering the Liberal party toward dangerous rocks.

I am a Liberal because that party has had the courage to declare its opposition to an infamous evil. I am a Liberal because that party under the leadership of N. W. Rowell, has declared against the drink system. I am a Liberal because when that party voiced its sentiments against the bar it purged itself of the most corrupt element of Canadian society.

I love the Liberal party because it believes in preserving the good and destroying the bad. Every good man, every civilized citizen wishes to preserve the good and destroy the bad. The Liberal party says "Abolish the bar and force men to become respectable."

The Liberal party says, the liquor traffic is a disgrace to Canadian civilization.

The Liberal party says, abolish the bar and you will have produced the emerald fringe of the mantle of refinement which will finally spread over this fair land.

The Liberal party says to the drunk, en and vicious man, "We are going to banish the bar, and you will be forced to reform. You must be better next year than you are this, you must climb the great hill of human progress, and you must continue to climb until you have reached the shining summit of respectability."—Extract from a speech by Alonzo Phillips, Wallaceburg, Ont.

ANOTHER RICH GAS VEIN STRUCK AT SHELTLAND

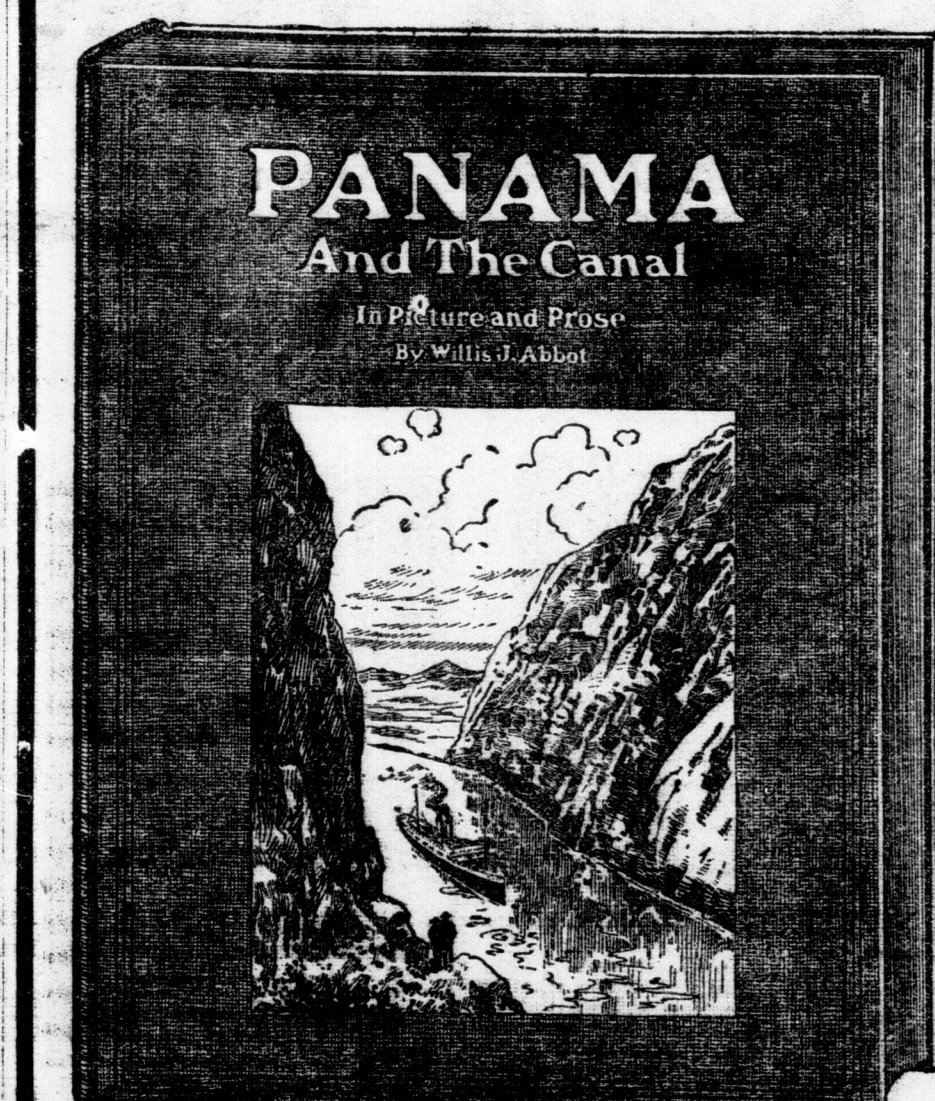

Shetland, April 15.—Drillers for the Walkerville syndicate which struck a fine gusher here on Saturday afternoon continued their work today, and at 1,650 feet tapped a second vein. To-night it was stated to The Advertiser that the flow is 750,000 feet, and the gas of fine quality.

As a result of the recent strikes this district is having the greatest boom in its history and more land is being leased than ever before.

Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose Educates As Well As Entertains

Willis J. Abbot, the author of this book, takes you in at the front door of Panama, tells you of the time when Columbus searched for a natural waterway to the Pacific Ocean, brings you up through the centuries of revolution and warfare, and on through to the realization of the greatest achievement of this day and age. He tells you of the people and the country, of the past as well as the present, and even dips into the promises for the future. The story is inspiring—filled to the full with local color and human interest—a story that will live as long as the great Canal itself.

PUREBRED STALLIONS

EXCLUSIVELY AFTER 1918

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 15.—Under legislation introduced by Hon. James S. Duff, minister of agriculture, the improvement of live stock in the Province is to be secured by prohibiting any but pure bred stallions to be used for service after 1918. The stallion enrollment act is to be amended requiring compulsory inspection by Government officers. The various classes of grade stallions are to be eliminated gradually so that only pure bred stock will be available after the year above named.

Another bill to protect pure bred stock imposes a fine on the owner of any bull that runs "at large," which means that the animal must be attended when it is travelling in the highway or away from its home.

CITY MISSED CHANCE DUNDAS CENTRE TO SAYS RAILWAYMAN BUILD PARSONAGE

G. T. Supt. of Eastern Lines Work Will Be Begun Almost Immediately on New Home for Pastor.

NO ELEVATED TRACKS YET $3,000 IS SUBSCRIBED

Toronto and Montreal Work First—Traffic Promises To Be Heavy in Ontario.

"As far as I am aware, there is nothing doing for London in the way of track elevation until the wants of Toronto and Montreal have been satisfied," said C. G. Bowker, general superintendent of the eastern lines of the Grand Trunk, when seen by The Advertiser yesterday afternoon shortly after his arrival on train No. 171 in his private car, No. 2900, from Stratford. Mr. Bowker explained that he was en route to Montreal after an extensive trip over the middle and western division lines of the road.

Missed Opportunity. "There is absolutely nothing new regarding track elevation for London," he stated in reply to a question as to when construction operations might be expected here. "The city missed its opportunity several years ago, at the time when the company was elevating west of the city. Since that time there has been little consideration given to the local situation. Certainly there are things in store for London, but the company is engaged in extensive works at Toronto, while the situation at Montreal demands immediate attention to relieve traffic congestion. It is probable that a new station will be considered in the Quebec city in addition to track elevation. With the completion of the work at Montreal, London will in all probability be the next centre to command the attention of the company."

Canadian Trade Brisk. Comparing trade conditions here with those on the American side of the border, Mr. Bowker stated that business was moving much faster in the Dominion.

"While travelling over the western lines," he said, "I noticed many cars standing idle on sidings. Particularly the freight traffic seems to have suffered. On the other hand, conditions in Ontario are quite the reverse. The company is adding several hundred freight cars of the latest equipment and about 50 of these will be placed on this division. Indications point to a heavy season for the road."

Mr. Bowker left for Montreal on express No. 4 at 3:43 this morning.

LABOR MEN PROTEST TRUSTEES' ACTION

Criticize Awarding Contract to Stratford Firm for Work in London.

CITY TENDERS ARE LOWER

Wrecking of Aberdeen School Goes to Outside Firm—Will See Controllers.

The Trades and Labor Council will send a letter to the board of education protesting against the letting of the contract for the wrecking of Aberdeen School to a Stratford firm. The amount to be paid for the work is about $1,900, and about $100 less than the tenders of London firms.

Will See Controllers. A committee will be appointed by the council to approach the board of control, asking that all city contracts be let to London firms whenever possible. Delegates elected to attend the Labor Educational Association Convention in St. Thomas on May 25, were: Walter Higgins, Joseph Hill, and William Burleigh. The convention is an annual congress of all Ontario labor bodies and trade unions. It will take up the question of selecting labor candidates to municipal councils and school boards, as in Great Britain. Plans for the strengthening and safeguarding of labor interests will be discussed.

May Go to St. Thomas. The next meeting will decide whether a deputation of unions will go to St. Thomas on Labor Day, or whether it will be celebrated here. Delegates were undecided last night what to do in the matter. Reports of a committee appointed last night will be heard at the next meeting on the excursion rates of the railroads, which the council propose running in the summer.

HERMITS' EASTER DANCE A SUCCESS

First Large Affair Since Lent Attracts 150—Tango Not Given Look-In.

The Easter assembly given by the officers and members of the Hermitic Club in the Masonic Hall last evening, was a thoroughly enjoyable affair and a distinct social success. More than 150 prominent people of the city, along with a number of out-of-town guests, were present, and though the affair was of an informal nature, many very handsome gowns were in evidence.

The tango, one-step, hesitation and other dances of a similar character were not to be had by their absence. No direct order was issued against them, but the general understanding that the Hermits did not countenance the Cliff-Picer effect, the dancers reined in from anything like a suggestion of the popular ball-room fancies. Dancing was from 8:20 to 12, and exquisite music was supplied by Signor Tony Cortese and his orchestra. The numbers included: Rastime Arabian Nights, Rose Bud, Mandalay, Symphonic, Get Out and Get Under, You're the Heart of the City, Sit Down, You're Rocking the Boat, My Dearie, Too Much Mustard, Springtime, Crazy Bone Rag, When You Sang the Rosary To Me, Trombone Trouble and You Broke My Heart. The harp solos by Signor Joe Cortese were particularly delightful.

The patronesses were: Mrs. T. H. Baker, Mrs. E. Victor Smith, Mrs. George A. McLaughlin and Mrs. Chester F. Stevens, while the committee in charge consisted of R. W. Garrett, chairman; Harold A. Tanton, G. H. Pincheschampe, L. H. Gillies, J. A. McDonald, E. J. Worth and E. A. Shaw.

CLERKS EXCLUDED IN WORKMEN'S BILL

Do Not Get Compensation Unless Board Decides.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 15.—With five committees sitting and the heavy debates of the session all out of the way, the Legislature is now in the home stretch of the law-making grind for this year. A great many odds and ends of legislation were dealt with this afternoon.

A few more clauses were passed in the workmen's compensation bill, when it was explained by Mr. Lucas that the Government did not intend to include clerks within the provisions of the new law. It would be left to the board to determine what particular hazard should bring a clerk within the schedules as being entitled to compensation.

This point was emphasized by Mr. Studholme in the case of the office staff of a main or work where blasting operations were carried on. While nominally removed from the hazard of the industry, yet they would be subject to danger in case of an explosion. These men, said the minister, would be included in the bill.

North Grey Inspector Finds System Faulty.

Toronto, April 15.—"There are scores growing up in Toronto who receive no education. They are unable to read a newspaper paragraph with any degree of intelligence, and yet their names are on the rolls of the schools." This statement was made at the meeting of the trustees and school inspectors of the Ontario Board of Educational Association by H. H. Burgess, inspector of public schools in North Grey, today. Mr. Burgess took his own inspectorate as an example, saying he could not access who were so irregular in attendance at school that they learned nothing. He would substitute for the different school section trustee boards a township board made up of five or six members elected by the whole population of the township, and have the schools supported by equal taxation.

HAVANA ELECTRIC EARNINGS. The Havana Electric Railway, Light and Power Company's gross earnings for the week ending April 12 were $53,132, an increase of $884, and from January 1, $500,075, an increase of $10,933.
