

A CIVIC EMPLOYE WILL SUE THE LOCAL HOSPITAL TRUST

Mr. Victor Mitchell Wants His Wages for Drawing the Plans for the Proposed New Isolation Hospital.

A sensation was sprung at the city hall today when it was announced that unless the hospital trust pays Mr. Victor Mitchell of the city engineer's office the sum of $240 for drawing the plans for the isolation hospital he will sue the trust for the amount. Mr. John F. Faulds, barrister, is looking after the case for Mr. Mitchell, and the latter has taken the precaution to retain possession of the plans.

Asked to Draw Plans.
When the matter of the isolation hospital was first broached, the hospital trust approached Mr. Mitchell and asked him to draw up the plans, as he was the only man in the engineer's office for such work. Mr. Mitchell pointed out that the work of the department, especially at that time of the year was so heavy that it would be impossible for him to do the work during office hours.

Engineer Graydon admitted that such was the case, and that Mr. Mitchell had enough work for two men. The matter was further discussed, and at last Mr. Mitchell agreed to draw up the plans after hours, provided that he was recompensed for the work, as it was clearly out of his usual order of work.

Mr. Geo. B. Harris and one of the other hospital trustees, it is alleged, agreed to pay Mr. Mitchell from $250 to $300 an evening for his work. Mr. Mitchell then went ahead with the plans. He worked every morning from 5 o'clock until 9, and then took the plans home with him, and worked on them.

Plans Changed.
The plans were drawn on the basis of a $60,000 hospital, that being the first proposition. When the plans were finished, the hospital trust decided that $50,000 was the limit to be spent on the building as the debenture issue amounted to only $75,000 and it would (Continued on Page Eight.)

Collegiate Games on October 4th

Oct. 4, is the date set for the annual field games of the London Collegiate. The outlook for a successful athletic meet is most promising, and this year's affair promises to even out rival that of last year, when over a hundred clever young athletes turned out to Tecumseh Park to compete for glory and the handsome prizes offered.

Several of last year's winners have graduated and the younger boys will have a better chance of winning than they had on the last occasion when they had to compete against older and more experienced boys.

The winner of last year's open 100-yard dash, J. Folinsbee, will in all probability not compete this year, and the way is open for the bringing out of another champion in that class.

In pole vaulting the boys of the Collegiate were somewhat lacking in previous years. Since the last meet, however, they have taken to this great pastime in earnest, and as a result the mark will probably go higher than ever before.

The Collegiate games have always been most popular with all classes of Londoners, and this year's attendance promises to be larger than ever.

BUFFALO WOMAN'S AWFUL DEED; STRANGLED HER THREE CHILDREN

Took Their Lives While They Lay Asleep in Bed—Then Told Her Husband.

Buffalo, Sept. 24.—Shortly after 7 o'clock, Mrs. Bertha Mund, aged 27 years, strangled her three children, Christopher, aged 8 years; Helen, aged 2 years, and Fred, aged 8 months, to death, at their home, 925 Clinton street. Immediately after committing the deed, she went to the Pennsylvania Railroad yards, where her husband is employed as a member of a wrecking crew, and informed him of her action.

Mrs. Mund was placed under arrest.

While They Slept.
"The children were all sleeping when the mother destroyed them. She murdered the boy, Christopher, first. He was asleep on a mattress in the parlor. She wrapped a blanket about the boy's head, covering his face, and then put the clothesline about his neck, turning it around three times, and then drew it tight, and fastened it by tying several knots.

The police say the boy could not have lived more than a few minutes. When found his body was half on the mattress, and half on the floor, with the face downward.

The girl, Helen, was next slain. This child was asleep in a crib in the parlor. Mrs. Mund wound a clothesline around the little one's neck twice, and after strangling the child, she carried the body into the bedroom and put it on the bed and covered it with a quilt.

Fred, the baby, was her next victim. She was asleep in a baby carriage in the kitchen. Mrs. Mund tied a piece of clothesline about the little one's neck once, and fastened it in two knots.

The Woman's Confession.

When Mrs. Mund met her husband she said: "Fred, I have made away with the three children; come home and see."

Mund hurried home, taking his wife with him. When they reached the house, Mrs. Mund sat down at a table and began to cry. Mund notified the police, and the woman was taken into custody. To Superintendent of Police Regan, Mrs. Mund made a statement in which she said: "I killed the children, because I did not want them to grow up and be crazy like me."

The police say the woman does not realize the enormity of her crime, and that she killed the children while suffering with an attack of insanity that suddenly seized her. She has been ill for several months, but had never, prior to this morning, manifested signs of mental derangement.

Action For $5,000 Against G.T.R. Brakeman Sues for Many Injuries

Suit for Alimony Commenced Against a Local G. T. R. Brakeman.

Another important damage action and a writ of lesser importance have been added to the long list of suits set down for the coming assizes. They are as follows:

W. H. Gibbons vs. the G. T. R.—An action by W. H. Gibbons, a brakeman of this city, to recover $5,000 damages for injuries received at Merritt, Ont., on June 21.

Gibbons, who was a green brakeman, was putting down brakes on top of his train when he collided with an over-hanging roof of the Rioran Paper Mills Company's building, which is located near the tracks at Merritt.

Gibbons was thrown between two cars, sustaining the loss of two fingers, his left hand, his face was disfigured, and he was internally injured.

The man was confined in the St. Catharines Hospital for six weeks. Fitzgerald & Fitzgerald for plaintiff. Sarah White vs. Thomas White—An action to recover alimony. The defendant is a brakeman on the Ontario Limited of the G. T. R., and resides in London.

Fitzgerald & Fitzgerald for plaintiff.

LET'S TRAIN BEHEAD HIM

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 24.—Rather than be confined in the inebriate ward of St. Francis Hospital, Thomas McDermott, a wealthy resident of Agnew, laid his neck on a rail yesterday afternoon, and allowed a train to decapitate him. He was being taken to the hospital by relatives. McDermott's death is traced to his inability to keep an agreement to cut down the number of his drinks.

While walking along the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road on the way to the station with his brother-in-law, John Denne, who was taking him to the hospital, McDermott suddenly broke away, and laid in front of a train, and before he could be rescued the wheels decapitated him.

ELECTROCUTED IN WATER

New York, Sept. 24.—Pierre Collin, an employee in Chas. Rell's automobile garage at 71 Graham avenue, Williamsburg, had occasion to go into the basement of the establishment and search around for a section of steel shafting. The heavy rain had flooded the cellar. Collin waded into the water.

The water was heavily charged with electricity. His cries were heard by other employees, who pulled him out of the water, but he died before an ambulance arrived.

The insulation around an electric cable that ran along the floor of the cellar had worn away, and in this way the water had become charged.

HYMAN HALL OPENING

The grand opening of Hyman Hall for the season 1907-8 will be held Friday night, and every Liberal in London is invited to be present.

President Sippi, of the Young Liberal Club, has been assured by Hon. A. G. MacKay, the newly-chosen leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, that he will be present and deliver an address.

Other speakers will be, Mr. Fred Pardee, M. P. for West Lambton, Mr. Duncan Ross, M. P. P. for West Middlesex, and others.

The Imperial Male Quartet will be present and will render a choice programme.

TRAIN DERAILED 32 PERSONS HURT

Cars Leave the Track—Sleepers Burn—The Longworths in Accident.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Thirty-two passengers were injured, none of them seriously, by the derailment of the Chattanooga and Washington Limited on the Southern Railway near Ryan's Siding, Va., on Sunday. A broken rail was the cause of the accident. The entire train, composed of a baggage car, day coach and three sleepers, left the track. The sleepers were almost destroyed by fire.

Among the injured are: Joseph Abrams, Westfield, Pa.; C. M. Davis, Baltimore; C. D. De Linn, cotton broker Collins, Miss.; W. H. Geise, Allegheny, Pa.; W. W. Gennet, Bayonne, N. J.; Charles Kull, Pottsville, Pa.; W. L. Taylor, Baltimore; James Wade, Boston; Mrs. R. E. Wade, and young son, New Haven, Conn.; D. A. Walton, New Orleans.

Ryan's Siding is a small station 30 miles south of Charlottesville.

Cincinnati, Sept. 24.—Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth were in a railroad wreck on the Pennsylvania Railroad on the outskirts of Cincinnati Sunday morning on the last stage of their trip from Honolulu to their home in this city. The locomotive attached to their train struck an obstacle at South Norwood Station, was derailed and plowed across the ties. The train came to a sudden halt and the passengers were shaken up.

GREAT GROWTH OF THE DOMINION

Figures From Mr. Blue's Paper Read Before Manufacturers' Association.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Commissioner Blue, of the census and statistics branch of the Department of Agriculture, read a paper today at the meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Toronto, on "Some illustrations of the growth of Canada in the twentieth century."

Mr. Blue pointed out that Canada's foreign trade in the last year of the nineteenth century was $336,018,000, and in the sixth year of the twentieth century it had reached $518,800,000.

The assets of the chartered banks in the six years have nearly doubled. The amount at the credit of depositors in the chartered savings banks last year was $667,880,000, or $309,590,000 more than in 1900. The same expansion is seen in railways, both steam and electric.

Mr. Blue quotes the recent census of the two new provinces, Saskatchewan and Alberta, to show the rapid growth of the west, and then goes on to give the census of manufactures of the Dominion, which was of particular interest to the members of the association.

In fourteen cities and towns of the Dominion there was an increase of 58 per cent for the five years ending 1905.

In conclusion, Mr. Blue says while it will not be claimed that the older provinces are growing at the same rate as the west, there is, no doubt, that all parts of the country have prospered in their varied industries, and there is no limit within sight to the greatness to which Canada may attain before the century is out.

PURSER "JACK" GREENE.
London man who had a close call for his life on the steamer Picton, burned at Toronto.

HAND MANGLED IN CUTTING MACHINE

Mr. Roland Stevens the Victim of a Very Serious Accident.

As a result of offering assistance to a farmer friend near Delaware yesterday afternoon, Mr. Rowland Stevens, a well-known farmer residing just outside of London South, accidentally got his hand caught in a cutting machine, and sustained a badly-cut right hand.

At first it was thought that some of the fingers would have to be amputated, but Dr. F. C. Cowan, who attended the injured man, found that no bones were broken, and that with proper care the hand would be as good as new within a few weeks.

Mr. Stevens was passing his friend's farm, and, while chatting, the machine became clogged, and he attempted to free the blades. As he did so the machine started, and mangled his hand.

HAD BOTH LEGS AMPUTATED

Terrible Accident to Young Man in Toronto—Fell Under Car Wheels.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, Sept. 24.—Both legs amputated and with only slight hopes of recovery, William Perry, 26 years of age, a carpenter living at 862 Dovercourt road, is lying in Grace Hospital.

Perry was on his way to work this morning, when he went to get on a Dovercourt car. Not waiting till it had stopped he slipped and fell between the motor trailer. The wheels of the trailer passed over both his legs, mangling them terribly. In an unconscious condition Perry was pulled from under the car and laid on the sidewalk. He was then carried into Dr. Carver's office, and then removed to Grace Hospital. He was immediately operated on at the hospital, and both legs were amputated at the knee.

MISS ISABEL WILKIE.

Miss Wilkie is the brilliant Scottish vocalist, who has been engaged as contralto soloist by the choir of St. Andrew's Church. Miss Wilkie is a pupil of Mr. A. L. Galbraith, formerly lieutenant of the Royal Academy of Music, London, Eng. She came to this country from her home in Glasgow to finish her studies here, she having been a pupil of Mr. Galbraith's in Scotland. Miss Wilkie has sung in London at several public functions, and she has created a great impression. She is but 18 years of age.

NEWFOUNDLAND SWEEP BY STORM

Several Vessels Wrecked With Loss of Life—Sea Broke Over Railroad.

North Sydney, N. S., Sept. 23.—Fourteen hours late, the steamer Bruce arrived here, bringing meager details of the awful storm on the Newfoundland coast last week.

At Conception Bay a terrific sea swept the track, threatening its destruction and holding a train for fourteen hours. When the storm subsided the train crossed, reaching Port Aux Basques.

For miles along the railway from Port Aux Basques to St. John's the telegraph wires are down, making it impossible to ascertain anything but meager details.

Several vessels were wrecked in Bonaventure Bay and two lives were lost.

One vessel (Captain Parsons, owner), was lost with a cargo of fish valued at $20,000.

Many fishermen lost their total season's catch.

Action Against St. George's Society; Mr. W. H. Bartram the Complainant

Writ Also Includes Mr. Peter Birtwistle and Mr. George Pritchard.

A writ was issued this morning at the office of the deputy registrar at London of the high court at the suit of W. H. Bartram, barrister-at-law, who is a life member and a past president of the St. George's Society of London, against Peter Birtwistle, Geo. Pritchard and the society as defendants. The indorsement on the writ shows that the plaintiff's claim is on behalf of himself and all others, the injured man, found that no bones were broken, and that with proper care the hand would be as good as new within a few weeks.

Local Police Nail Man Much Wanted

Detectives Egelton and Rider made a clever capture last night when they arrested James Miller of Brantford. Miller is an itinerant typewriter repairer and yesterday afternoon it is alleged, got a machine from a Brantford firm to repair.

It was learned that he had disposed of it, it is said, and was heading for this city. He had only been in town a short time when the detectives spotted him and took him to the police station. He was taken back to Brantford again last night.

May Burn Peat in Lieu of Coal; Important Discovery in District

Dorchester Has a Peat Plant Which Is Delivering the Goods Every Day.

If the story of one of London's most reputable citizens, Mr. J. M. McEvoy, can be credited—and it most surely must be—the coal barons that are so busy at present raising prices on their products must, in a comparatively short time, meet the consumers half way, or go out of business. For over twenty-five years scientists and capitalists have been busy trying to solve the problem of making peat in Canada. Reports state that the United States Government annually spends upward of a million dollars trying to solve the vexed problem.

A few years ago $380,000 was lost in Montreal in trying to get to the bottom of the question. Twenty-five years ago it was thought in London that the secret of making the famous product of the Irish bogs had been found, but the scheme proved a failure.

Millions have been spent in the vain search of the secret which would make its discoverer wealthier than John D. Rockefeller, but all to no purpose.

Londoner Succeeds.

It remained for a Londoner to make the great discovery, and not only has he succeeded in doing so, but his product is even now being used with great success by a well-known local brick concern, and in several private residences, including that of Mr. McEvoy, who declares that for stove fuel the manufactured peat cannot be beaten.

The peat leaves absolutely no ashes to clean away, there is no odor con-

Most Peculiar Case of Albert Hughes

Dr. Hadley Williams stated this morning that an attempt will be made to cure Albert Hughes without cutting his arms off. Hughes is the unfortunate individual who was brought to Victoria Hospital last winter from the House of Refuge in Stratford.

He suffers from what the doctors believe to be a nervous disease which caused his muscles to contract to such an extent that he suffers excruciating pain. He has told the authorities repeatedly that rather than endure such agony he would be willing to have his arms amputated.

Dr. Williams believes that by cutting some of the muscles of the arm, the contract might be counteracted, and while a complete cure might not result Hughes would be freed from the terrible pain which he now suffers.

West Middlesex Physicians Meet And Form a Medical Association

Dr. L. Hyttenrauch is the First President—Another Meeting in November.

At a meeting attended by twenty-five of the physicians of the western district of Middlesex held at Stratford yesterday, a medical association was organized with the following officers: President, Dr. L. Hyttenrauch, Appleton; vice-president, Dr. O. L. Berdan, Stratford; secretary-treasurer, Dr. W. H. Woods, Mount Brydges.

The following committee was appointed to draw up the constitution and bylaws of the association: Dr. J. Ware, who will read papers.

R. McCabe, Stratford; Dr. W. H. Woods, and Dr. L. Hyttenrauch.

Dr. James MacArthur of London, representative of the Ontario Medical Council, was present, and assisted materially in the organization of the association. He explained the work of such associations, and referred to the good work being accomplished by them for the medical men.

The matter was thoroughly discussed by all the members present, and by a unanimous vote it was decided to form the association.

The first regular meeting of the association will be held in Stratford early in November, at which Dr. McCabe, Stratford, and Dr. Mitchell, of Delaware, will read papers.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS

There Were 456 in the Dominion During August.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The Labor Department has been advised that there were 456 industrial accidents during August. Of these 166 were fatal and 270 resulted in serious injuries.

The collapse of the Quebec bridge increased the fatalities last August, as compared with August, 1906.

EDWARD ARNOLD

HAD LEG BROKEN

Was Climbing Onto an Express Wagon—Legs Slipped Through Spokes.

Edward Arnold, of 351 Clarence street, a boy of about 12 years of age, was climbing onto an express wagon last evening to take a ride when his leg slipped through the spokes of one of the wheels and the limb was broken. He was removed to his home, where a doctor set the fracture.

MRS. EVERARD BARING.

Famous English beauty, heroine of the Bishop of London's life romance. Two years ago the engagement of the Bishop to Mrs. Baring, then Lady Ulrica Duncombe, the youngest daughter, was announced. Dr. Ingram was heart and soul in his work among the poorer classes and his fiancée was deeply interested in his plans. For some unknown reason the engagement was abruptly broken three months after it had been announced. The Bishop appeared stunned by the blow which temporarily, at least, wrecked his happiness, and he left England for a time. Lady Ulrica was afterward married to Colonel Everard Baring.

Seven Workmen and Girl Shot Down Without Trial.

Lodz, Russian Poland, Sept. 23.—Seven workmen and one girl were executed by shooting here this morning, without trial, for participating in the murder of Marquis Silberstein, owner of a large cotton mill, who was killed by his employees Sept. 13 because he refused to pay them for the time they were out on strike.

Police and troops, Sept. 20, made a sudden descent on the mill, and arrested 800 of the employees.

JAPAN'S WARNING TO THE WORLD

Prince Ito Says: "Keep Out"— Significant Interview on Reforms in Korea.

Tokio, Sept. 24.—Prince Ito, the Japanese resident general in Korea, leaves for Seoul. During the month that Prince Ito has been in Tokyo Korea has been his only theme, and the result of his labors is that the emperor and his ministers have given unanimous approval to his programme for a reform administration in Korea. Discussing this subject Prince Ito showed a depth of feeling unusual in a Japanese.

"It is right," he declared, "and therefore must be done. It must succeed if it is possible of human accomplishment."

Prince Ito has been opposed steadfastly to the annexation of Korea. Instead he drew up a programme providing for equitable land laws, a fair system of taxation, the protection of life and property, education for everyone, the establishment of fair courts of justice and the abolition of corruption. The estimated cost of these reforms to Japan is $10,000,000 in five years and this has been approved. It will not become a tax upon the Korean people, but it is an investment by Japan. Continuing the prince said:

"Some people in Japan believe it is a mistake to annex Korea, but I am convinced that annexation is merely a crude and cruel means of securing the desired friendship and assistance of Korea in order to build up the two countries, whose interests are mutual."

"I want the missionaries of America and England to know that I am anxious to help them. We are all working for a common object, namely, the building up of civilization. But the missionaries should not mix into politics; let them attend to their work and I will confine my energies to mine."

"Unthinking people may hamper us," Prince Ito continued, "but they will not prevent the attainment of our purpose. We are going ahead in Korea in spite of opposition from any source or from any country. I concur with the late John Hay, the great American statesman, who said that in diplomacy as with individuals honesty is the best policy."

"Japan has counted the cost of these reforms in Korea, and nothing shall prevent us from carrying them out. It is true that Koreans themselves may prevent the accomplishment of our purpose to give them a system of government and an army of their own, but the people of Korea and the entire world must understand, once for all, that the political supremacy of Japan in Korea is to remain firmly established."

"We are not asking advice from anyone regarding this policy. If the people of Korea refuse to accept this fair and friendly assistance they will, by their own act, write annexation into history, for as a nation divided in sentiment from Japan Korea cannot stand."

The prince then said: "America is our friend, and we are the friend of America. The recent talk of war finds no support among the statesmen of Japan or the United States. War between these two countries is unappealable and impossible."

RIDGETOWN'S FALL FAIR

Promises To Be Equal If Not Ahead of Previous Shows.

Ridgetown, Sept. 23.—The annual exhibition of the Howard Agricultural Society opened today with a good attendance.

The arrangement for the stock pens this year is more convenient than in the past, and the number of exhibitors promises to be as large if not larger than previous years. A great many special prizes are being offered, one to go to the farmer's son guessing closest to the weight of two cattle.

The horses exhibited are heavy draught, general purpose, carriage, roadsters and thoroughbreds. The cattle shown are Hereford, Polled Angus and Jerseys. Sheep, pigs, and poultry are shown as extensively as in other years.

In dairy products and fine arts the display is exceptionally large.

Following are the officers of the society: J. S. Clark, president; Thos. Stevens, vice-president; Geo. McDonald, secretary; E. D. Mitton, treasurer. Directors for 1907—J. D. Brien, J. R. Serson, D. F. McKinlay, John Mason, F. L. Arnold, W. Steen, H. Albright, J. N. Willson, W. Geddis, Directresses—Mesdames McIntyre, Clark and Young, and Miss Belle Butler. Honorary directors—J. M. Bowyer, M. L. Rheumatism, Munyon's 3X Cure

Think of a remedy that relieves sharp shooting pains in any part of the body in from one to three hours, and effects a perfect cure in a few days. It is a relief to the soul and takes all inflammation and soreness away. It is a relief to the body and takes all rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or neuralgia. Have you stiff or swollen joints, no matter how chronic? Ask your druggist for Munyon's 3X Rheumatism Cure, and you will quickly find it will be cured. If you have any kidney or bladder trouble, ask your druggist for Munyon's 3X Kidney Cure. Money back if it fails. Munyon's Vitalizer makes weak men strong, and restores lost powers.

AFTER NEGRO WIFE; FORCED TO, LEAVE

White Man Who Advertised for Black Wife Threatened With Lynching.

Colorado Springs, Col., Sept. 24.—Threatened with lynching or a coat of tar and feathers if he did not immediately leave town, George T. Wells, a faddist student, who has been advertising for a coal black wife, has departed for other fields. He says he will not return to Colorado Springs until he has secured a black wife. He was instrumental in inducing him to quit the city have informed him that should he come back it would be at the peril of his life.

His aversion for a negro wife is, he says, inspired by the loftiest of motives, both physical and religious, and is founded on his Biblical study. He was held in much esteem here prior to his advertising for a negro wife, because of his mental attainments and strong religious beliefs.

Immediately after his advertisement was published, however, his landlady asked him to find new quarters. Before he moved a crowd of about thirty men and boys appeared in front of the boarding house, and through the committee of two sent Wells a warning of lynching if he did not leave town. Wells told the committee that he would remain. A few minutes after the entire crowd of thirty was on route to his room. He barricaded the door by moving heavy articles of furniture against it, and a siege was maintained for some time.

Finally communication was established with Wells through a window. He was given to understand that the crowd was not joking, and when he saw that his life was really in danger he agreed to leave Colorado Springs. He left his room at No. 207 East Huerfano street. He barricaded the door by moving heavy articles of furniture against it, and a siege was maintained for some time.

Wells formerly lived at Delaware, Ohio. He has claimed to be a deep student of the Bible, and has many radical ideas of life, but he is not now an advocate of free love or any similar unconventional tenets. He is 37 years old. His brother is one of the most prominent politicians in Ohio.

Before departing Wells made a statement regarding his views on the subject of intermarriage between races. He said: "I am entirely sincere in my wish for a black wife, as I believe I could make a woman of that color happier than one of my own race. Furthermore, I would be happier myself. I wish to marry and be happy, and I also wish to have children, and healthy ones. I believe that if I marry a colored woman as dark as possible, and of a calm, pleasant temperament, the children of such a union would be the most likely to be strong and healthy. Those who doubt this should read Luther Burbank's 'The Training of the Human Plant.' He arrives at the same conclusions that I do."

"The human race has, as a whole, declined in strength and vigor, and has degenerated more and more the last few centuries. The reason for this is that the children of each race have been marrying among themselves, and since no fresh blood has been brought into each race they have lost their primal vigor. Every one knows that the reason why the Americans are such hardy people is the great amount of intermarriage we have. Those that do not prove that when new blood is introduced into a race the people as a whole are benefited by it?"

The ill-feeling between the white and colored people is simply a matter of prejudice, and has no physiological or psychological basis. What difference is there between the white and colored races? The first human pair were perfect specimens of the kind. The organs and elements composing their makeup were in such well-balanced condition that they were able to survive nine hundred years of life.

"From the meaning of the word Adam, which in Hebrew means 'red earth,' we can see that Adam was a red man. Color in the human race is simply a matter of color pigments. Adam had just the proper amount of color pigments."

Now, let us see how the color came to change. If Adam was a red man, and he was in the Garden of Eden, where the elements were perfectly adapted to his growth and development, each succeeding generation would have been as perfect as the first. But Adam sinned and was cast out of Eden. The succeeding generations grew up where the environment were not perfect, and consequently the children had some abnormal features which made them different from their ancestors.

"I believe as the nations have advanced in civilization the tendency toward amalgamation has gradually increased. The United States has made the most progress and I think the best is yet to come. I think the amalgamation of the white and black races is not far off, and then all the different families of the world will finally be united. And when that time comes universal peace will prevail."

The richest unmarried woman in France is probably the Princess Marie Bonaparte, daughter of the late Prince Roland Bonaparte. She inherited a vast fortune from her maternal grandfather, the late Edmond Blanc—'Monte Carlo Blanc.' She is 25, pretty, and accomplished, and, although not affianced so far, is very likely to find a husband among the royalties of Europe. Princess Marie has also golden expectations from her uncle, Edmond Blanc II, who is a multi-millionaire.

In Guadalajara, Mexico, there are public horse baths, where the animals thoroughly enjoy swimming after the day's heat and dust. After the bath the horses are given a thorough scrubbing and rubdown in the shallow, shady part of the pool.

LONDON, TUESDAY, SEPT. 24.

PUBLISHERS LOOK TO CANADA.

There is more than a tincture of irony in the position of many newspaper publishers in the United States, who are clamoring for the reduction of the tariff on paper. The Newspaper Publishing Association, embracing the owners of the majority of the great dailies of the United States, has unanimously declared war on the paper trust, but many of these newspapers have been, and are, the advocates of a trust-breeding fiscal system. They are scarcely consistent in squealing because they are pinched by one trust, when millions of Americans are pinched by other trusts for which these newspapers have no condemnation, and which they have helped to create by preaching high protection.

The situation is a serious one for the newspaper business. Within the past three years the price of print paper has advanced $12 per ton. When paper was at its cheapest, publishers resolved to give their patrons more for their money, but it is not easy to reduce the size of newspapers now that the cost of paper is going up. It is estimated that in ten years the operating expenses of the New York World, one of the most prosperous of metropolitan newspapers, have increased 40 per cent. Paper materials are being rapidly exhausted in the United States, and the publishers claim that paper manufacturers have combined to put up the prices, and make a profit out of the anticipation. "The publishers have met to protest against this artificial promotion of prices," says the Detroit News, "and they are practically a unit for throwing down the foolish and expensive barrier which bars out the product of Canada, and thus fortifies domestic producers against competition."

The question has a serious interest for this country, from which American publishers expect to draw an increasing supply of paper materials. There is a growing opinion that these materials should not leave Canada in a raw state, but in a more or less finished condition, bearing the impress of Canadian labor. It is more profitable to Canada to have Canadian pulpwood converted into pulp or paper in Canadian mills than to ship it abroad for that purpose.

THE WOMAN IMMIGRANT.

The cable report from Liverpool of a "remarkable exodus of marriageable young women from England to America and Canada," is calculated to leave the impression that these thousands of Eve's daughters are coming out here for no other purpose than to secure husbands. The fact more likely is that, while none of them may object to becoming the wife of a good honest Canadian or Yankee, the remarkable exodus spoken of is really an answer to the loud call for female help, that has been sent out by the housewives and factories on this side of the Atlantic. The scarcity of such help is becoming more marked every year, and even in this city it is such as to seriously embarrass industry, while it seems impossible to satisfy the demand for domestic servants.

The position of the young immigrant woman arriving in Canada or the United States is often fraught with much moral peril for her. She does not come over "under contract," and when she arrives she is exposed to the most baneful of influences until she secures employment, and a comfortable home. Even then she is not entirely safe, for, being a stranger in a strange land, she has much to learn of the snares and pitfalls that everywhere beset her. The question arises, what is society doing to protect these newcomers? It is an extraordinary fact, as a writer in the Atlantic Monthly points out, that in dealing with the question of immigration the women are almost entirely neglected. Yet the number of immigrant women is ever increasing, and for the year ended June 30, 1906, over 300,000 women, or nearly one-half the number of men, were admitted into the United States. It is certainly high time that the many serious and important problems connected with this phase of immigration should receive attention.

The great majority of the women who come over come for work. Sometimes they band together and emigrate in small parties, without any aid from men, to improve their material condition. Eighty per cent or so of the women admitted at New York give domestic service as their occupation, but the majority do not remain in that service. The number who enter housework and desert it within a year or two is said to be alarming from the point of view of the housewife. Many marry young, but the majority desert to the trades, finding factory and store work more attractive, if less remunerative. Thus there is always room for newcomers.

A notable advance in the direction of aiding and protecting women immigrants has recently been made by the Illinois branch of the National Women's Trade Union League. It is found that the difficulties of these young women, many of them being mere girls, are greater in inland cities than at the ports of arrival. By means of deceptive advertisements and misrepresentation such girls are often sent from New York and Boston to Chicago for immoral purposes. They arrive in the latter city with false addresses, and in their helplessness are apt to welcome aid tendered by persons stationed at the depots to receive them. It is to prevent these evils in future that the league has arranged with the immigration authorities to send it, at its expense, the names of all women and girl immigrants who give Chicago as their destination. Ten interpreters and other agents are employed to meet such immigrants, direct them to respectable lodgings and assist them in their search for honest work. Each week sees the arrival in Chicago from New York of a hundred or more girls, and the league's task is consequently no easy one.

The work in which the league is engaged is a most commendable one, and the splendid example set by the Chicago women will, no doubt, be followed elsewhere.

JAPAN'S DEBT BURDEN.

A glance at Japan's financial position should be sufficient to convince the most imaginative American that if the Mikado and his advisers have any designs on the Philippines or the Hawaiian Islands some years must elapse before it will be possible to put them into execution. Her triumph over Russia in the late war was a costly victory for Japan, and today she is carrying a national debt burden of nearly one billion dollars.

In 1906, as a result of extraordinary receipts derived from increases in the land, income and stamp taxes, an excise duty on sugar and the assumption of the tobacco monopoly, there was an addition to the general budget of $77,000,000; yet, notwithstanding this,
the debt increased during the last fiscal year by $57,000,000. This was due to continued outlays for strengthening the naval and military establishment and meeting the expenses growing out of the war.

It is little wonder, therefore, that Japanese four per cent refunding bonds, which at the close of the war and when the market for stocks and bonds was active, were well taken, at a price near par, have declined to 85, and that efforts to float a small loan for the Manchurian Railway, have been unsuccessful. It is clear that for some time to come the Japanese people must continue to bear the heavy interest charges imposed by the necessities of the war.

That Japan will in time be able to pay off this debt, which is less than half that of the United States at the close of the war in 1870 was at that little doubt. A similar burden imposed upon France by Germany at the close of their war in 1870 was at that time considered staggering, yet it was easily and speedily liquidated, and there is no reason to suppose the Japanese, though a much poorer people than the French, will be found less resourceful. While Japan's debt per capita is about $22 60, that of the United States was approximately $63 50 at the close of the civil war, and today stands at about $11.

More to be feared, however, than inability to meet the interest charge per capita—at the outside $1 15 or 5 per cent on the outstanding debt—is the increase of the debt to meet annual deficits caused by extraordinary expenditures for military and naval purposes, for Japan evidently aspires to hold a leading place among the great powers. However, if her statesmen are wise they will devote their attention to the peaceful exploitation of territories they now control in Formosa, Korea and the mainland, rather than to reaching out for world conquests.

King Edward has entertained a colored man at dinner—the President of Liberia—and has thereby lost all chance of being received by "society" in the Southern States.

Hon. A. G. MacKay will address the young Liberals of this city Friday night. The new leader is losing no time in taking his coat off, and he could not make a better start.

The Hamilton Herald suggests that Mr. MacKay is the last man whom Premier Whitney would have chosen as leader of the Opposition. The Premier is naturally averse to coming in contact with a live wire.

Dr. English gives a certificate of character to Hamilton's filtered lake water. The worthy doctor, as chairman of the board of health, shut down on the cutting of ice in the North branch of the Thames, on the ground that ice taken from there was a menace to the health of the community. How does this square with the claim that the north branch is

"a series of springs?"

It appears that the natural gas on the Free Press premises was discovered while boring for water. This confirms the impression that our contemporary has been for some time mixing gas with the water question.

Hamilton's filtration plant is out of gear. The Times urges a general cleaning up during which citizens are advised to boil the water. Of course, such a state of affairs could never happen in London if we drank filtered river water!

Marconi promises that next week
his stations will be open for trans-Atlantic business. It is a matter for congratulation that Canada has been the seat of this great experiment, and that on both sides of the ocean the system is on British soil.

WERE HE A BIRD.

(Chicago Record-Herald.)
With an ugly sneer he tossed aside the bread which she had made with her own hands.

"If I were only an ostrich," he began.
But the young bride cut him short.
"Yes, if you only were," she snapped,
"then I might get at least a few decent feathers for that old hat I've worn since my wedding day."

DEDUCTION NEEDED.

(Toronto Star.)
Sir Conan Doyle was married yesterday.
One apprehends that this is a blow to literature, much of Sherlock Holmes' interest being hereafter required to contrive excuses for arriving home late.

NOT SO CERTAIN.

(Pick-Me-Up.)
Parson (on a bicycling trip)—Where is the other man who used to be here as keeper?
Park Gatekeeper—He's dead, sir.
Parson (with feeling)—Dead! Poor fellow!
Joined the great majority, eh?
Park Gatekeeper—Oh, I wouldn't like to say that, sir. He was a good enough man, so far as I know.

THE SAFEST WAY.

(Chicago Record-Herald.)
Statistics go to show that Walter Welman's plan of reaching the North Pole by airship is much the safest kind of Arctic exploration.

I WHISPERED TO THE BOBOLINK.

(Isabel E. Mackay, in Canadian Magazine.)
I whispered to the bobolink,
"Sweet singer of the field, sing and Teach me a song to reach a heart
In maiden armor steel."

"I only know one song," said he,
"And that I cannot tell to thee."

I whispered to the sweetest rose,
"What doth thy fragrance stir?
Tell me the charm, that I may touch
The deep, sweet heart of her."

"In the wind, the charm you seek,
But of the name no rose may speak."

I whispered to the quiet lake,
"What draws the stars to thee?
Tell me, so may her star-like eyes
Create a heaven in me."

The calm lake rippled this reply:
"The stars are mine—I know not why."

"Sweet maid," I said, "I cannot learn
A charm to make thee mine,
And in my heart no grace I see
To lift it up to thee."

Stooping, I caught her whisper low:
"I love thee—why, I do not know."

LOVER'S LANE A YEAR AFTER.
(S. E. Kiser.)

He walked with her through Lover's Lane
And wandered at the beauties there.
The leaves were wet with recent rain,
The charm of spring was in the air.

Within his hand her hand was laid,
Through Paradise they seemed to stray;
He won the promise of the maid,
And joyously she named the day.

A season passed, and with a sigh
He halted in the lane's moonlit glow;
Then starting on he wondered why
He'd thought it Paradise before.

AS HE UNDERSTOOD IT.
(Mobile Register.)

One of the jokes James Lewis Carroll, the author of "Alice in Wonderland," didn't dare publish, according to his biographer, who found it among his papers, is the following:

A schoolboy asked, "What is the meaning of average?" at once replied, "The things hens lay eggs on."
When requested to explain his answer, the boy said: "I read in a book that hens lay on an average 200 eggs a year."

SONG OF THE WINDS.
(Will F. Griffin, in Milwaukee Sentinel.) The winds they come like hounds of the night.

And they will not let me be;
Whirling the leaves in their wayward flight.

Sweeping the hills and leas,
What of their song when the branches sway.

Ere the night shades lift to the dusk of day?
A ship is lost and a heart in vain waits and hopes at the window pane,
There by a cold, gray sea.

The winds—those trailing dogs of the night—
Hark, hark, to their whispering;
They moan of a soul that has taken flight,
And never a hope they bring.
The lights of the night gleam cold, so cold,
Over the hills and the upland wold,
And yonder a night bird, lonely, grieves
For you out there 'neath the sod and leaves—
And thus do the night winds sing.

SOME POLITICAL HISTORY.
(Belleville Ontario.)

Mr. Borden has much to say on the subject of electoral purity, but he is very reticent with respect to certain money used for campaign purposes by the Conservative party, in which the names of William Mackenzie, of Mackenzie & Mann, David Russell and Hugh Graham, of the Montreal Star, figure, and in which certain promissory notes for $200,000 and $100, 000 are prominent features. It must not be assumed that history has been forgotten, or that political crimes, such as those committed by the Conservatives, can be eliminated from any discussion touching the merits of the two political parties.

BRILLIANT STAR IS AT BENNETT'S

Miss Rose Coghlan Makes Great Hit in "The Higher Law."

Miss Rose Coghlan, the charming and talented actress, appeared at Bennett's Vaudeville Theater yesterday afternoon, and she instantly won the respect and admiration of the audiences for her excellent work in a pleasing playlet, entitled, "The Higher Law."

Miss Coghlan is not unknown to Londoners. In fact she has been a prime favorite here for many years, and her every appearance in the city has been well received. Yesterday she scored heavily at Bennett's. The playlet deals with the schemes of an adventurer, who seeks to entrap the son of the man she had ruined, and compel him by the most emotional ad-resses to assist her in gaining social recognition—the ambition of her later life. She does not secure her aim, of course, but during the working out of the plot, there are many exceedingly dramatic situations and all are splendidly taken.

Miss Coghlan was at her best, and demonstrated that she was yet the peer of any of the emotional actresses.
There was nothing overdone, nothing mawkish about it. Miss Coghlan is assisted by Mr. Sains, an actor of much ability and good appearance.
There is a great deal of very clever dialogue throughout the play, and it pleased a very critical first-night audience immensely.

The Chadwick trio, old favorites of London, are back again, and are bigger favorites than ever. They present a sketch entitled, "For Sale—Wiggins Farm." Mr. Chadwick, as a down east Rube is splendid, and he makes a hit.

The special feature of the sketch,
however, is the dancing of Miss Ida Chadwick, who is one of the cleverest dancers yet shown on the Bennett stage. She was forced to respond to repeated encores yesterday at both performances. There should be a better place on the bill for this act.

Geiger and Walters are back again in their musical novelty, "In the Streets of Italy." Geiger is a violinist of uncommon ability, and gave imitations on that instrument worthy of Remenyi, Miss Walters sings well, and altogether the act is very strong.

Barry and Halvers, who were seen in "Wonderland," and the "Wizard of Oz," put on an act that is notable for the funny dancing of Charles Barry. It is horse-play, pure and simple, but it got the crowd last night. Miss Halvers sings and dances very well.

Poster and his dog, "Wise Mike," are deserving of most honorable mention. "Mike" is a clever one, undoubtedly the cleverest dog yet shown at Bennett's. This is said ad-visedly, as there have been some very clever canines shown at this popular playhouse. Mike is worth the price of admission alone.

Alexander and Scott put on a black face act that surprises, while the Devoile trio does some clever acrobatic work. Frank Bernier and Blanche Stella open with a singing and dancing turn that is fair.

On the whole, the bill is the strongest yet put on at Bennett's, and is particularly so owing to the fact that it takes in nearly everything that make a vaudeville bill worth while.

A DOUBLE WEDDING

An Event of Unusual Interest in a Denfield Home.

On the 18th inst., a very interesting event took place at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Andrew Henry, of Denfield, the occasion being the marriage of their two daughters, Misses Jennie and Corra, to Mr. Mitchell Haskett and Mr.
R. E. McLean, respectively.

At 11 a.m., to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, which was beautifully played by Mrs. McTurk, of Lucan, the two brides, who looked charming in becoming dresses of French palette silk, and carrying handsome bouquets of bridal roses and maidenhair ferns, were given away by their father. The two flower girls, Lilly May Henry, sister of the brides, and Isabelle McTurk, carried baskets of asters and ferns. The ceremony took place on the lawn under a beautifully-decorated arch of evergreens, Rev. Mr. Spidel, of Denfield, officiating in the presence of over a hundred guests and relatives from Lucan, London, Wingham and other places.

Both couples were recipients of many beautiful and costly presents, testifying to the high esteem in which they are held. After a sumptuous repast, the guests were very pleasantly entertained with songs and in other ways.

Amidst showers of rice, and with the hearty congratulations, the happy couples left on the evening train for an extended trip to Cleveland, Pittsburg and other points. The brides' going-away gown were of blue and gray brocade, with hats to match.

QUEBEC BRIDGE DISASTER

Engineer Testifies That Defective Materials Were Used.

Quebec, Sept. 24.—Mr. E. A. Hoare, the Quebec Bridge and Railway Company's engineer, who prepared the outline plans for the structure, was the principal witness at the sessions of the royal commission yesterday.

Mr. Hoare stated that he was on the bridge all day on the 28th. Mr.
McLure reported to witness that chord
A 9 L showed deflections in all four of the members, that he showed witness a sketch of the same, and said
Mr. Kinloch had drawn his attention to the defect. "He also suggested that I go to New York, and I told him to make a thorough check, taking levels, etc., and then to proceed to both New York and Phoenixville, with sketches of defects."

Mr. Hoare, continuing, said that Mr.

J. H. CHAPMAN & CO.

"The Best at the Price, No Matter What the Price."

Record Prices In Manufacturer's Linens in Fine Tablecloths, Table Damasks, Table Napkins

PRICED AT ALMOST HALF

The most attractive values—Wednesday morning and continuing until all are sold—that we have ever offered. These "offerings" are few and far between, so don't miss this one. All of the lines in this splendid assortment consist of a special lot of Fine Linens obtained from one of our oldest manufacturers (one standing high in the linen trade). All of these linens are "seconds," each with a slight flaw, which in most cases you will not be able to detect, and will really wonder why they are so classed. Perhaps nothing but a missed thread or a dropped stitch or a slight, scarcely-noticeable mark in the whole table cloth or set of napkins—nothing to speak of. But we carefully point out the reason each piece has been sent to the "seconds" table. Hotelmen will do well to take advantage of this chance:

Table Cloths ranging 1½ and 1½, 2, 2½, 3, 3½ and 4 yards long, at almost half price. Priced as follows: 50c, 65c, 85c, $1 15, $1 25, $1 50, $1 75, $2 00
Fine Pure Linen Cloths, 2 yards square; worth regularly $2 00, for $1 15
2½-yards Tablecloth, worth $2 25, for $1 25
2½-yards Tablecloth, worth $3 50 and $4, for $2 50
2½-yards Tablecloth, worth $3 75, $4 50, $5 00
for $3 00
2½-yards Tablecloth, at $1 90, $2 35, $2 50, $3 00 up to $7 00; worth as much more.
3½-yard cloths, finest linen at $2 35, $3 00, $3 75
up to $9 00
4-yard cloths, at $2 35 to $9 00

Table Damask, by the yard; slightest imperfec-tions. 45-inch pure linen, bleached damask, regular 60c value, for 45c

66-inch heavy Damask, 90c value for, per yard 65c
68-inch heavy Damask, $1 00 value for, per yard 68c 72-inch heavy double damask, $1 25 value, for per yard 75c
84-inch heavy double damask, $1 35 value for, per yard 85c

Seconds in extra fine Table Napkins; these are very slightly imperfect, at each 7c, 12½c, 15c, 20c, 25c and 35c

FORCED TO MAKE ROOM
UNDERPRICING SALE OF CARPETS, LINOLEUMS, ETC.

Every available foot of space in our Carpet Department is crowded, yet advice to hand of several more English shipments. We're pressed for space, and in a very real sense this is a "forced sale." And you will have the truth of this statement brought home to you when you see the carpets and values. English carpets are and will be higher, and these very carpets now offered have been considerably advanced since we purchased these splendid offerings. Furnish your home now while these material savings are possible. We will fill mail orders, carefully pack and ship the goods. Freight prepaid on everything $25.00 and over. Come for full particulars.

J. H. Chapman & Co., 126, 128, 128½ Dundas St

McLure had also informed him that

Mr. Yenser would not move the traveler out, to which he replied, that is all right. It was afterwards moved out, Yenser believing it safe to do so.
Mr. Birks was of the opinion that repairs were necessary. He reported that the chord was badly bent in the different members, and expressed his opinion that at least some of the members were in that condition prior to being placed in the bridge.
Mr. Hoare also stated that it was his opinion that Mr. Yenser only intended to move forward the little traveler, and then the large traveler, but, not to add any more metal, awaiting instructions from New York and Phoenixville. He had not made a personal inspection.

THE MOUNDBUILDERS

Professor Montgomery Gives Result of His Latest Search.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 24.—After spending three months traveling in Manitoba and Saskatchewan in search of the prehistoric moundbuilders, Prof.
Henry Montgomery, of the University of Toronto, has concluded that this mysterious race inhabited the continent as far north as one hundred and forty miles above the international border line. Professor Montgomery was in St. Paul yesterday on his way back to Toronto. He said: "I have devoted 25 years to the study of mound-builders, and cliff dwellers, and I believe that the moundbuilders were re-

CRAZED BY TROUBLE WITH AUTO

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Driven insane, his friends say, by worry over the frequent repairs necessary to his automobile, John J. McGowan, a wealthy Ithaca, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head while sitting in the automobile last night. Mr. Mc-Gowan was 43 years old, and single, and his friends say that his mind has been affected for some time, and that he has been constantly brooding over the many accidents and breakdowns of his automobile.

MORMAN CONVERTS FROM ENG-LAND.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—A party of fifty Mormons, mostly women, reached port today on the Dominion. They are bound for Utah and left for their destination tonight. They were for the most part recruited in the British Isles.

Recent explorers insist that there are three natural bridges in Southeastern Utah as much larger than the Natural Bridge in Virginia as Pike's Peak is than Mount Washington.

UNCLE SAM O. K'D
THIS WOMAN

Secret Service Work—Incident of Prince Wilhelm's Visit to New York.

New York, Sept. 24.—An illustration of the many uses to which Uncle Sam's secret service is put was afforded here during the recent visit of Prince Wilhelm of Sweden.

Prince Wilhelm, as those who came in contact with him were pleased to observe, proved to be a rather entertaining young person without a great many of the frills ordinarily attributed to royalty. Nevertheless he felt it incumbent upon him to observe rigidly one of the rules of royalty, which has become traditional in Sweden.
That is, that no improper person should be presented to him.

This rule pertains especially to women. It is an old tradition in Sweden, it seems, that a woman whose social status has been affected by scandalous conduct is regarded as condoned the moment she is received by any member of the royal family.

While the prince was in New York it happened that a woman who was a native of Sweden asked for a chance to meet the prince at his hotel. The woman was one whom the prince had heard a great deal about since she had come to America, but because of this rule it became necessary to know something of her past if she was to be received.

The situation was explained by the Swedish minister to the state department, and in a short time a telegram passed between Washington and the secret service force here. "But a few hours' work on the part of the Government's secret learn that the woman's been irreproachable and breath of scandal had never."

This was duly reported to the prince who had the prince in their care, with the result that the woman's reception by the prince followed soon afterward, and there was no one who seemed more delighted at the way it had turned out than the royal visitor from Sweden.

While the prince was making his tour here he was attended most of the time by a secret service operative who was assigned to remain with him from his arrival in this country until he

The White Cat

 Copyright by Bobbs-Merrill Company.]

"That will be tomorrow, I trust. But by that time we must have something definite to report to her. Today, if possible, I am going to find out exactly what the doctor is up to. I shall hold back for no scruples; I'll listen, I'll lie and I'll cheat to find out his game and how to outwit him!"

"I'll do anything you say, too, Mr. Castle. I'm willing to take the same pledge." This was, for her, the consummate sacrifice. She would, I am sure, have given her honor, if necessary, to save her mistress.

We were interrupted then by Miss Fielding's appearance—I dare not call her Edna, lest one forgets that in almost every outward aspect she was unchanged. Indeed, had her body, instead of her mind, been metamorphosed, I think it would have been easier to adjust one's self to the strangeness of it. But Edna's words and Edna's actions constantly gave me the lie to Joy's voice and Joy's face. One could not even treat her as insane. It was definitely another person in masquerade. My soul went out to her at the sight, to return chilled at the revelation of that strangeness. I was constantly being tricked by my memory. When I had become so interested in the conversation as not to notice her appearance it was easy enough to feel that I was talking to quite another than Joy, but upon my first sight of her, or when, after having looked away for a while my eyes returned suddenly to her, the surprise of Edna's words coming from Joy's lips gave me a shock. But with all this I had begun to accept Edna as a perversion of a distortion of Joy's self, rather than as a separate individuality, and I was caring too much for Joy, now, not to witness the working of the spell without a constant, fiery protest in my heart.

After our first greetings Leah disappeared, and we went into the dining-room. Edna sat opposite me at the table as I breakfasted, her elbows on the cloth, her chin on the backs of her clasped hands, looking at me.

"Well," she began, "I've forgotten again, Chet."

I wondered what was coming. She seemed more absorbed, more introspective than usual, for what of this phase she had heretofore manifested had appeared usually later in the day. She watched me, too, with a curious intensity.

"But you're not so bad as you have been," I offered. "You know you only lost a day this time."

"No, I'm getting hold of myself, I believe. The doctor is helping me, I'm sure. I used to lose four or five days every week."

"I congratulate you!" I said, falsely.

Asserts Soul Is Material---It Can Be Weighed.

A Boston man says the soul can be weighed. He knows this because he has tested a lot of cases before and after death.

The weight this investigator gives for an average human soul is two ounces.

This is the sort of fool science that some men now give us. It is more to the point to tell us how to maintain a healthy body—how to get well if sick, and how to be able to do good work and keep everlastingly at it.

Poor health is the result of poor blood—if you let your blood get pale and thin, then all the organs of the body are sure to get weak. Ferreroze is the remedy.

Ferreroze is the quickest, surest body and blood builder; thousands have been restored from failing health or complete nervous prostration by Ferreroze, which builds up tired nerves, and helps you to get sound, refreshing sleep every night.

Ferreroze gives an appetite as sharp as a razor—there is lots of pleasure eating when you take "Ferreroze."

Rose color comes back to your pale cheeks and plenty of strength with it, because Ferreroze is the greatest body builder ever discovered. For a tonic to lift tiredness, weakness and ill-health you can't find the equal of Ferreroze. Get a 50-cent box from any dealer and see if this isn't so.

Just go to sleep, and after a while I wake up again. He hasn't been able to do so till quite lately, and I don't understand it very well, anyway. I don't care, so long as I recover. He says I'm a remarkably interesting case."

"So you are, Edna, most assuredly," I replied. "You would be, even if you were all right."

"Thank you for that. I'll put down one good mark to your credit. But tell me—was I pretty yesterday, Chet? She looked up at me earnestly under her brows.

"Very pretty—beautiful!"

"Was I clever, too?"

"Very."

"More than usual? More pretty and more clever than I am today?"

"Wishing to see what she was driving at, I risked a chance shot. "Yes," I said.

"Oh, I hate you!" she cried, and she got up in a pet and threw herself out of the room, scowling.

I hurried after to propitiate her, but she was already outdoors. I overtook her in the lane and tried to take her hand and get her back, but she flung away from me and walked on without answering me. Giving up the chase, I returned to the library, very sorry to have aroused her temper. I knew I should have lied to her for Joy's sake, for the sake of peace, for the sake of final victory.

I was pretty well convinced, by this time, that Edna's eyes were opened, and she knew what was going on. She must undoubtedly have been informed by the doctor the day before. That would account for her behavior at dinner and in the evening. For the first time in her life, she had become aware that, during those lapses when she lost days at a time, someone else lived for her, animating the same body. If, as I was not too modest to imagine, she cared for me, the reason for her anger was evident. Edna was now probably definitely pitted against Joy in the conflict that was doubtless already on. I was determined, therefore, to bring the thing to a crisis that we might, at least, know where we stood.

I had not been alone fifteen minutes when I saw Leah approaching the house. She was sobbing, her head bent down, her handkerchief to her eyes. I ran out to meet her, my heart in my mouth.

She stopped and told me, trembling convulsively as she spoke, that while on the way with a broom to the cabin, intending to make it fit for temporary occupancy, Edna had met her and questioned her. At Leah's attempt to conceal the truth, Edna, who was already in an angry mood, burst into a fury and struck Leah across the face with such force that her cheek was badly cut, inside, by her teeth. The revolver had dropped from Leah's pocket; Edna had picked it up, accused Leah of stealing it, and had gone on down the lane.

"Oh!" Leah cried passionately, "I don't care how much she hurt me—she's not responsible, I'm sure—but I'm afraid that now she'll send me away again. Then what will become of Miss Joy? If she'll strike me, she'll do worse. If we don't do something pretty soon, it will be too late!"

"You must keep out of sight as much as possible for the rest of the day," I said, "especially as the doctor will probably come down. If we could only prevent that!" At the words, an idea occurred to me. "What train does he usually come down on?"

"The ten o'clock train from the city. He usually takes luncheon here."

"Then there's just time, perhaps, to catch him. Come upstairs, I'm going to try to see if we can't find out something. It's a desperate chance, but I'll take it. The thing can't be much worse, even if we're found out."

We went up into the study and I called up the doctor's number. While we were waiting for it I gave Leah her instructions.

"Don't speak loud, just barely loud enough so that he may hear with difficulty, and let him do most of the talking. Pitch your voice as high as you can. Ask him what train he's coming down on. I'll take the receiver and listen, and tell you what else to say."

In a few minutes the bell rang and we were connected with the doctor's office. I heard him say, "Hello! Is that you, Miss Fielding?"

"Say 'yes,' I whispered. Leah did so.

"Anything the matter?" he asked. Leah said, "No."

"What did you want, then?" was his next question.

"I'm going to take the ten. I'm starting right off. What's the matter with your voice? It sounds different, and it's so weak anyway, I can hardly hear it!"

I told Leah to say, "What?"

"Oh, never mind," he exclaimed impatiently. "There must be some trouble over the line. I'd never recognize your voice at all. Can you hear me plainly?"

"Yes," said Leah.

"Well, look out for Castle," he went on. "Don't let him know that you suspect anything, will you?"

"No," from Leah, at my prompting. "He's trying to make trouble for you; and he will, if we don't look out. He's in love with the other one, and you'd better try and see if you can't get rid of him! Now, Edna!"

DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAN.

6971—A DESIRABLE MODEL FOR A MATERNITY SKIRT.

So many requests have been made for a comfortable walking skirt for the prospective mother, that the accompanying model has been specially designed to meet this need. It is cut in five gores, and while the fullness is disposed in tucks simulating box pleats and so arranged as to be easily let out as necessity or comfort may demand, there is no undue bulkiness around the waist or hips. On the contrary, the skirt is designed with such skill as to be unusually graceful, and it is this quality which renders it so superior to most skirts of this order. It is here modeled in navy blue serge, but any preferred silk or soft wool material may be used with equal success. The medium size calls for 9-3-8 yards of 27-inch fabric.

6971—Six sizes, 22 to 32 inches waist measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

GRAND STAND UPSET

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 23.—A tornado struck the western part of Schuylkill County Saturday, injuring a dozen persons at the county fair at Hegins. The grandstand at a baseball game was wrecked.

A match game between the Branchdale and Hegins teams was about to start when a dark cloud of funnel shape came racing from the west and rain began to fall. The crowd rushed to the grandstand for shelter and several hundred were accommodated, while a hundred or more got underneath it for protection. When the wind struck the stand it lifted it from its foundation and toppled the entire structure over. Those most seriously hurt were under the stand. Buildings on the fair grounds were torn down and houses were unroofed and trees uprooted by the wind.

FIVE YEARS' HAY FEVER CURED.

Don't leave home—don't experiment—just use Catarrhazone; — It cures every case as quickly as it did Thomas Eaton, of Westwood, Ont., who says: "Five years I suffered from Hay Fever and had to leave this part of the country a month previous to the time of attack. Since using Catarrhazone I have not been bothered. My cure is complete."

For Summer Catarrh, Asthma, and Hay Fever, Catarrhazone is guaranteed. Get it for $1 from any dealer.

THE FIGHT GOES ON.

Paris, Sept. 23.—It is officially announced that the peace negotiations at Casablanca, with the hosts the Moors, have failed and that General Druide will resume the offensive.

Best Medicine for Women's Complaints

Women certainly do neglect themselves. They work too hard—over-tax their strength—and then wonder why they suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex.

Most cases of female trouble start when the bowels become inactive—the kidneys strained—and the skin not cared for. Poisons, which should leave the system by these organs, are taken up by the blood and inflame the delicate female organs.

Fruit-a-tives

OR (FRUIT LIVER TABLETS.)

remove the CAUSE of these diseases. "Fruit-a-tives" sweeten the stomach—make the bowels move regularly every day—strengthen the kidneys—improve the action of the skin—and thus purify the blood.

"Fruit-a-tives" take away those distressing headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains, and make women well and strong. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices, intensified, with tonic and antiseptic added. See a bottle for $1.50. At all drug stores—or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The Food That Builds

Maybe you think of Mooney's Sodas only as a toothsome tidbit. Don't overlook their food value.

Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas

are made of finest Canadian wheat flour, pure butter and rich cream. There's nothing else of equal size and cost that contains so much wholesome nourishment.

An ideal food.

SAYS THIS IS BEST

A leading health journal in answering the question "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion one ounce; Compound Saltona, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces.

A well-known physician states that these are harmless vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture will clean the blood of all impurities. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Saltona and Fluid Extract Dandelion, works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid, and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

ALL THE WHEAT That's Good To Eat.

A JAPANESE SPY FOR RUSSIA

Traitor to His Country, He Was Hacked to Death by Accomplices.

London, Sept. 24.—During the recent Japanese troubles on the Pacific Coast various persons thought they discovered Japanese spies taking measurements and making notes about the coast defenses thereabouts. The Japanese war office may have a more or less perfect system for gathering information about the defenses of other countries, but it is a safe guess that it never before had to investigate the operations of one of Japan's own people in spying on Japan's own forts in the interests of a foreign power.

The Tokyo Asahi prints an interesting story of this unique treason of a Japanese. Self Mayeda, a former instructor in the Oriental Languages School of Vladivostok and a naturalized Russian citizen, dropped into Tokyo about two months ago after a continued absence of more than ten years. He was highly educated and passed among the gentlemen of the better class in the Tokyo political clubs as a personable man of refinement. Because he spoke Russian fluently and had lived many years in Siberia it was not considered a matter of suspicion that Mayeda spent a great deal of his time with Russian military attaches of the legation.

About the same time that Mayeda came to Tokyo another man from Siberia, Kuzuki Imamura, came down from the Japanese fisheries at Nikolsk in the Primorsk Province, where he had been working since the war. He went to his home in the slums of the city and nobody knew that he ever met Mayeda, the gentleman, or that he knew anything about Mayeda's movements.

On August 9 a Japanese coolie of the low class visited the office of the Tokyo Asahi. The Asahi was then in the hands of the news editor. When the coolie had that functionary carefully secluded in an inner room he told him that if a reporter from the Asahi would follow Mayeda, the gentleman and clubman, on the train to the Yokosuka naval station that night he would learn the truth about the Russian spy who was a traitor and that he was preparing reports of the defenses at Yokosuka for the Russian Government.

Maruo, the coolie, told the Asahi editor that Mayeda had gained his confidence by hiring him as a servant and that the day before Mayeda had asked him to take night trip to Yokosuka, promising that for the work he would do there would be large rewards. Maruo had suspected his master of being in league with the Russians because of his constant association with the legation staff officers, and this Yokosuka trip convinced him, he said, of the treacherous designs of the man.

Japanese newspapers are not slow at scenting news even though the reporters wear cloaks and are happy on a salary that an American newspaper would not think of offering to an office boy. The Asahi immediately assigned a man to follow Mayeda and then notified the central office of the police.

That night when Mayeda and the coolie went to Shimbashi station to take the train for Yokosuka an Asahi reporter and a detective followed. Mayeda thought to throw possible pursuers off the track by taking a Shimonoseki train and changing at a junction beyond Yokohama, but the detective and the reporter were not fooled.

When Mayeda stopped overnight at an inn near Yokosuka the sleuths on his trail camped there also. The Asahi's account says they were suitably disguised, but this probably means that the two pursuers muffled their faces with their kimono sleeves, as the art of disguise is primitive in Japan.

The suspect and his informing servant spent the night in riotous drinking. The reporter and the detective crawled into a nearby room to hear what Mayeda might say through the thin paper shoji. He said enough to convict him.

The next morning when the spy happened to catch sight of the two trailers he decided that it was getting warm for him and tried to double on his tracks, going for a time to the Yoshiwara on the outskirts of a neighboring town, then trying to make a quick loop back in the neighborhood of the forts. All the time the faithful reporter and the detective, faces presumably still muffled, followed like shadows.

Mayeda evidently grew suspicious, for he gave up the trip through the fortification zone on the following night and returned to Tokyo. There it was that his career of treason came to a sudden end before the intervention of the police.

Kuzuki Imamura, the coolie who had come down from the fisheries to live in the slums of Tokyo, had got an intimation through some channel that the police believed that he and Mayeda were in the same plot. On the same day that Mayeda returned after the fruitless Yokosuka trip Imamura went to Mayeda's home and stabbed him a dozen times in the neck and body with a short sword.

Even when Mayeda tried to escape down the street the coolie followed, hacking at him with the sword. Mayeda finally dropped from exhaustion and soon died. Imamura gave himself up saying that he had done his country a great service in killing a spy of the Russians.

The police subsequently searched Mayeda's papers and found confirmation of their suspicions—that he was trading in military secrets. They also found evidence enough to convince them that the patriot Imamura was in the plot with the gentleman Mayeda. So Imamura will get the punishment that Mayeda escaped.

IF ATTACKED with cholera or summer complaints of any kind, and at once for a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and use it according to directions. It acts with wonderful rapidity in subduing that dreadful disease that weakens the strongest men and that destroys the young and delicate. Those who have used this cholera remedy say it acts promptly, and never fails to effect a thorough cure. Tokyo's bank clearings last year were $1,750,000,000, an increase of $500,000,000 over 1935.

ROYAL FAMILY OF HARD WORKERS

King Oscar, of Sweden, and His Sons Lead Anything But an Idle Life.

New York, Sept. 24.—In respect of personality the Swedish royal family, one of whose younger members, Prince Wilhelm, grandson of the king, recently visited New York, is among the most interesting in Europe. King Oscar is a man of many accomplishments. All his sons are also able men. No reigning monarch is more approachable than Oscar II, and none knows better how to set a visitor at his ease.

"How do you do, my good friend?" is his salutation to a visitor admitted to an audience in the palace at Stockholm. He puts out his hand and gives the visitor a hearty clasp.

The king is the tallest ruler and one of the tallest men in the world. But he is 78 and he has been in poor health of late, so he stoops a little. He dresses plainly. The coat is the only peculiar feature of his attire. In shape it is like a single-breasted, round-cornered sack, but is as long as a cutaway.

The king is an accomplished player on the organ. He has composed many pieces. Music is only one of his accomplishments. He has been called the most polished Scandinavian orator of his day. He is a poet and has translated Tasso's "Jerusalem Delivered," Goethe's "Faust" and many other works into Swedish.

Once when he criticized some work of Bjornstjerne Bjornson's the poet accused him of jealousy and actually sent him a challenge. The king took no notice of this, but some time afterward when he was serenaded by a singing society he asked them to sing one of Bjornson's poems and he stood with his head bowed while they did so. On the following day he sent the poet the Order of St. Olaf with an autograph letter.

In private life his fad is collecting pottery, especially Sevres. He is fond of taking his callers into the private dining-room of the palace and exhibiting his treasures. Then he will tell how he restored the room to its ancient beauty, having layer after layer of paint and enamel scraped off to get at the fine old woodwork.

The king gets up at 8 a.m., works an hour and breakfasts at 9:30. The morning is given up to walking for health and pleasure and to business of state.

He has luncheon at 2:30 and spends most of the afternoon in social engagements, including visits to the homes of his children. He sleeps for an hour before dinner, plays billiards or whist from 9:30 to 11 and does his library work in the last hour before going to bed at 12:30.

He drinks several glasses of Bordeaux wine or a little beer every day and smokes very little, using very mild, denicotinized tobacco.

The king has traveled over all Europe and has had many queer adventures. In the palace at Monaco he was assigned to a state room, "The Duke of York's Room," they call it. In the middle of the room was one of those canopied beds that look like catapaults.

In the wee sma' hours the house was wakened up by a bustle that made the sleepers think there was a fire. It was the king and his valet carrying upstairs an iron camp bed that he takes around with him. He stood the short bed of state as long as he could, but had to seek room for his feet before he could get to sleep.

When he was crown prince he stopped a runaway in the streets of Paris. The coachman had been flung off and three women in the carriage were in danger of death. The horses dragged him a block before they stopped.

Then the police came. "What's your name?" asked the sergeant.

"Oscar Bernadotte," was the reply. "Your occupation?"

"Crown Prince."

"Residence?"

"Royal Palace, Stockholm."

They sent him the regular French medal for life-saving with its tricolor ribbon, and he wears it still.

His marriage to the princess Sophie of Nassau, of which they celebrated the fiftieth anniversary on June 6 of this year, was a love match. There is an oak in the park at Monrepos, in which the inscription "S—O—1856," cut deep with a jackknife, is still shown. It is a memorial of the romance of Sophie and Oscar.

All four sons of the king have taken life seriously. The crown prince, Gustavus Adolphus, has devoted himself to preparation for rulership.

Oscar, the second son, gave up royal honors and contingent right of succession to marry a girl of the people. He is known as Prince Bernadotte, and he and his wife devoted themselves to religious work and are at present carrying on a revival movement all through the country upon Salvation Army lines.

Charles, the third son, is a hard-working soldier. He is inspector-general of the Swedish cavalry. Eugene, the fourth son, is a painter.

The crown prince's fad is silverware. He has a collection equal in interest to his father's porcelain. In late years he has taken much routine work from his father's shoulders, presiding regularly at the meetings of the Council of State.

The soldier prince, Charles, wedded to the Danish Princess Ingeborg, has three little daughters. The family live simply in a handsome house in Stockholm, where not so much as a semicircle at the door indicates the quality of the inhabitants. A newspaper photographer tells how easily the couple submitted to having their pictures taken.

The prince helped to wheel a table out of the way. The princess held up a lamp shade while the prince climbed on a chair and unfurled it because it spotted the picture. One of the little princesses looked on wistfully until assured that she would be taken, too, when she danced in glee.

Eugene, the artist prince, lives in a house he built in 1905 at Valdemar-

Udde, near Stockholm. His life and surroundings are those of a private gentleman.

Besides being a painter he is a photographer of great skill. He has a fine studio in the upper part of the house, commanding views of the fjord on which it stands. He has also a kiosk in the grounds where he paints in summer.

When his father visits him they sit there together for hours, watching the sea in the changing light. Lately he has devoted himself to painting decorative panels for the village schools all over Sweden, his purpose being to help in developing the artistic sense of the Swedish people.

TIED TO BELL CLAPPER

Italian Pastor's Terrible Death for Alleged Serious Crime.

Rome, Sept. 24.—Bound to the clapper and crushed to death in the biggest bell of the famous Malaberge chimes, the parson of the church from which the notes sounded paid horribly this week for wrecking the home of the ringer, who compassed his punishment.

The murderer, still chuckling over his victim's fearful ending, awaits trial in the Malaberge prison. His wife has gone mad with horror.

Divided between their feelings that credit rather than blame attaches to a deed of vengeance by a wronged husband, and repugnance at the hideous nature of the punishment inflicted on even an erring man, the villagers know hardly whose side to take.

Against the pastor there is only the one witness—the ringer of the chimes. Going to the church loft to sound the bells for the usual service, he surprised his wife and the pastor, he says. The wife, first to see her husband, escaped. The pastor stumbled as he rushed for the ladder leading down from the loft, and before he could recover himself the bell ringer had seized and tied him hand and foot.

Then binding the helpless man firmly to the clapper of the principal bell he began to sound the chimes. The murdered man's blood streaming upon them from the bell tower conveyed the first news of the tragedy to the congregation. Hurrying up the ladder to the loft, they found the pastor with nearly every bone in his body broken and the ringer still madly crashing the bells.

GREAT CHANCE FOR CANADA.

London, Sept. 24.—The Birmingham Post, speaking of the emigration to Canada, says that the honest serving maid who carried her trunk into the steerage of Atlantic liners has a good sporting chance of driving her carriage in Montreal or Winnipeg before she has lost her beauty and youth.

THEY ARE CAREFULLY PREPARED.—Pills which they carry themselves in the stomach cannot be expected to have much effect upon the intestines, and to overcome constipation the medicine administered must influence the action of these canals. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so made, under the supervision of experts, that the intestines are retarded in action until they pass through the stomach to the bowels.

A convenience much appreciated by every owner of a Pandora is the towel rod attached to the range.

As one-third of the rod is made of emery, it makes a splendid knife sharpener, too.

It's always there handy for you. You need waste no time hunting around for the easily misplaced "steel." Bright idea, eh?

An accurate thermometer is a reliable guide to successful baking, while an inaccurate one is a "cheat" of the worst kind.

Every Pandora thermometer is carefully adjusted and undergoes a practical test by heat—is proven correct before being sent out.

The figures, which show the required degree of heat necessary for the successful baking of bread, cakes, pies, etc., are plainly inscribed in black on a white enamel surface, so that they are easily readable, even when the day is dull.

If your local dealer does not sell the Pandora, write direct for free booklet.

BIG GAME

NEW BRUNSWICK, September 15th

LACROSSE RACING
ATHLETICSBig Entry List for Tonight's Electric Light Athletic Meet

London was ever slow to take to innovations in the athletic line, but it is to be hoped, for the sake of future athletics in this city, that the games beneath electric light at Queen's Park tonight will be well supported.

The Irish-Canadian A. C., which is conducting the meet, has arranged to bring practically every athlete of note in Canada here, and the expenses will not be light.

A glance over the appended entry list, which only includes those who had entered up until 10 o'clock this morning, will give one a better idea of the importance of the meet than a column of writing would do.

The promoters of the meet have made all arrangements to light the track up perfectly with electric lights, and the athletes will be seen practically as plainly as in daylight.

The three-mile match race between Longboth and Grant will alone be worth the small price of admission, not to mention the large number of other events on the evening's card.

The entry list is as follows:

100-yard dash—Jack Sweeney, London Y. M. C. A.; Bobby Kerr, Hamilton Y. M. C. A.; Lou E. Marsh, I. C. A. C.; Toronto; Ralph Bowren, Hamilton Y. M. C. A.

220-yard dash—Sweeney, London;

Bowren, Hamilton; Marsh, Toronto; Hamilton, Toronto.

440-yard dash—The same as in the shorter sprints.

One-half mile—Tom Coley, I. A. A. C., Toronto; Sellen, I. C. A. C., Toronto; Joe Grey, I. C. A. C., London; W. Haddleton, I. C. A. C., Toronto.

One mile—A. Deferre, St. Mary's; Coley, Toronto; Brock, London; Ashford, London; Sellen, Toronto; R. Ashton, Brantford; Frank Osborne, Toronto.

Five miles—Joshua Nicholas, Muncey, Toronto; Toronto; Louis Nicholas, Muncey; Vincent Adams, Y. M. C. A., London; Walter Chapman, London; A. Deferre, St. Mary's; Sellen, Toronto; Albert Rooke, Y. M. C. A., London; R. Peacock, London.

56-pound weight—Tim O'Rourke, I. C. A. C., Toronto; Con. Walsh, Woodstock A. C.; H. Bowie, I. C. A. C., Toronto; Joe Grey, I. C. A. C., Toronto.

16-pound shot—Con. Walsh, Woodstock A. C.; Tim O'Rourke, Toronto; Joe Grey, Toronto; H. Bowie, Toronto.

Running high jump—Frank Osborne, I. C. A. C., Toronto; Mel. Brock, London Y. M. C. A.; W. Haddleton, Stratford; Alfred Deltz, St. Thomas.

Broad jump—Mel. Brock, London; A. Deltz, St. Thomas; F. Osborne, Toronto; W. Haffy, St. Thomas.

Unbiased Prophets.

C. Comiskey, of the White Sox—We are watching with keenest interest the beautiful fight between Detroit, Philadelphia and Cleveland for second place. I would prefer to see the Athletics get it.

J. Kilfoyl, of the Naps—Our team has been galloping along for some weeks with the other contenders, but Mr. Lajoie tells me that he will bid them good-bye tomorrow. We do not wish anyone to think from our work in the remaining games that we have been holding back in the past. We have been merely keeping our real strength in reserve.

Ben Shire, of the Athletics—The American League pennant race is settled. We have nothing to fear from train wrecks, as we are through traveling; our city is not subject to cyclones or earthquakes, and none of our players has heart disease. Aside from the foregoing we see nothing to be afraid of.

W. Yawkey, of the Tigers—The public will have no fear that Detroit will not be able to take care of its share of the world's series. Our stands are being built, new car tracks are being laid, and I believe a couple of 20-story hotels will be erected. I wish to take this occasion to thank each and every one for our loyal support, and we promise to deport ourselves creditably in the contest for the world's championship.

Manager Jones, of the White Sox—I told Comiskey to go ahead and have the invitations for the next pennant raising engraved. The only thing that worries us is how many to have struck off.

Napoleon Lajoie, of the Naps—The only people who will experience any surprise are those who are benighted enough to think we are fighting the battle of Waterloo. It's Austerlitz, as will be very shortly noted.

Hugh Jennings, of the Tigers—Ya! Ha! Ho! Yo! Ya! Connie Mack, of the Athletics—It would be unbecoming of me to speak while so many brave fellows are making a hopeless fight. Let the conquered do the talking.

Former London Horse Wins at Ottawa's Big Trotting Meet

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—The annual autumn meet of the Central Canada Racing Association closed on Saturday evening, after a day of great racing, marked by the fast mile over trotted on the local track. The new record is 2:14, made in the second heat of the free-for-all by the Wanda, a Pembroke owned animal. The short proved too much for the fast one from the Upper Ottawa, for with two heats to her credit she was all in, and little Sandy, another Pembroke flyer, romped home first in the next three heats. Sandy stepped some, too, his best time being 2:15.

It required but one least to settle the three-minute class event, carried over from Friday. Fairview Belle, of Hamilton, won it, with Johnny K., of Toronto, second, Little Prince, of Ottawa, third. The Ottawa horse got second money. Toronto carried off the honors in the 2:35 trot and pace. This time Johnny K. showed his class over his field. It was his third win of the meet. He took the first heat, but broke badly in the second and came home sixth. There was nothing doubtful about the next two, however. D. U. C., of Ottawa, got second money, and Star Benton, of Merriekville, third.

The Hamilton Starter Is Barred Out

New York, Sept. 24.—The Morning Telegraph today says: "The first real effect of the jockey club rule outlawing any person in an way connected with the Jamestown Exposition races will come with the opening of the Hamilton, Ont., race tomorrow, when the association rider, will, if it wishes to work in unison with the jockey club, be compelled to get another starter in the place of William Murray, who had been engaged for the position. Murray has been doing the starting at Jamestown, and comes under the ban of the jockey club, which affects starters as well as owners and trainers.

For two or three years Murray has been doing the starting at Hamilton, and was looked upon as a fixture for this position there. However, the Hamilton folk, like the other associations in Canada, have reciprocal relations with the jockey club, and last night the president of the association wired to New York to know the standing of Murray under the conditions. "A representative of the jockey club said that the ruling would surely be operative in Murray's case, and it is safe to assume that he will be superseded by some other starter at Hamilton."

TIPS TO ASPIRING
GRIDIRON STUDENTS

Walter Eckersall says that when a student appears as a candidate for a football team, he should remember these things:

That the coach's word is law and gospel.

That the player knows less about his needs than his trainers.

That hard work, regularity and willing sacrifices are the three gridiron virtues.

That condition counts for more than pounds of flesh.

That condition is a prize that is won by those who labor.

That victory is worth more than all a player gives up.

That there is only one time to play football while there is much time coming for amusements.

AMERICAN LEAGUE NOTES

Clymer, who is leading the league, has made 57 hits in 40 games.

Washington leads the American League in stolen bases, with 165.

Charley Jones, of the Washingtons, averages just a hit a game, as he has 90 in the same number of games.

Nicholls, for a youngster, has proven a find. He is an adept at laying the ball down, as his 25 sacrifice hits prove.

The Athletics lead the league in doubles and home runs, but are way down in triples, having but 35 in 118 games.

Young Milan, the National's young outfielder, has cracked out 14 hits in 10 games, among them a double and three triples.

Jimmy Collins has certainly added strength to Athletic batting, for he has made 11 hits in 69 games since joining the team.

Rube Waddell has pitched four long extra inning games in Boston. He has won 17, 18 and 22-inning contests there and the fourth was a 13-inning tie.

There have been 19 games in the American League that required 10 innings to decide, 9 of 11, 13 of 12, 13 of 14, and 1 of 15, so far this season.

Unglaub keeps up his good stick work, even after he was relieved of the management. He has made 116 hits in 117 games. Among his hits have been 22 doubles, 12 triples and a home run.

Seibold, the hard hitter of the Athletic team, is able to crack out home runs, even if he is so large that he cannot run. He fools them, for he hits over the fence, and saves that trouble to circle the bases at a fast clip.

Here are the number of games in the American League won by one run this season: Cleveland, 20; Chicago, 18; Detroit, 23; St. Louis, 12; New York, 17; Philadelphia, 21; Boston, 23; Washington, 10. Here are the defeats: Washington, 23; Boston, 23; Philadelphia, 13; New York, 17; St. Louis, 26; Detroit, 11; Chicago, 13, and Cleveland, 14.

ARDELLE DEFEATED
FOR SECOND TIME

Columbus, O., Sept. 23.—Citation today gave Ardelle, the Geers' favorite in the 2:05 pace, a beating by going in 2:03½ in the first heat of the second week's grand circuit racing, and finished better in the final heat that Rudy Kip won. This defeat is the second for Ardelle in all her racing career, and Citation's time the best ever made by a pacing mare over the Columbus track.

Clay Latus raced true to form and won the Hostler-Columbus consolation away from Jack Leyburn, on whom there was considerable ring play. The 2:07 trot was Lillian R.'s all the way. Daniel was the favorite in the 2:15 trot, and won about as he pleased, reducing his record a full second by trotting the third mile in 2:08½.

Sundown followed soon after the finish of the third heat in the 2:13 pace, in which three horses have heats. Prince Patrick paced a long mile, but won the first time round, taking a new record. Flying Jim reduced his mark when he won the second heat by half a length from Pacemaker, who got the third heat from the Gosnell horse by a neck.

GORRIE WINS FINAL

Gorrie, Ont., Sept. 23.—In the final game of baseball between Gorrie and Fordwich, played on the Wroxeter Park grounds on Saturday afternoon, the former won by a score of 11 to 5. The game was umpired by George Paulin, of Wroxeter, who gave entire satisfaction. The batteries were Williams and Greer, for Gorrie; McQuibban and Dobson and Fisher and McQuibban, for Fordwich.

WE ALL HAVE MISSIONS IN THE WORLD.—There is a work to do for every man on earth, there is a mission to perform for everything on earth, animate and inanimate. Everything has a mission, and the mission of Dr. Thomas' Eucalypti Oil is to heal burns and wounds of every description, and cure coughs, colds, croup and all affections of the respiratory organs.

Three Teams Claim the Pennant;
Each of Trio Looks for VictoryWestern Teams Figure Phillies Unable to Withstand Their Fierce Onslaught.

While conditions favor the Philadelphia Athletics in the remarkable pennant race in the American League now within two weeks of its end, there is no sign of weakening on the part of the contenders—the Tigers, the Chicago White Sox, and their staunch and true admirers.

Everybody Thinks They Have Chance.

All hands offer similar arguments in favor of their chances. The western fans think the Athletics will not be able to withstand the terrific onslaught of the western clubs on the present trip, while the Tigers and the Sox expect to gain ground at the expense of the Highlanders, the Nationals and the McGuirettes, of Boston.

The Philadelphia fans were surprised and somewhat grieved by the results of their recent games with the eastern clubs. Judging by this experience those who expect to see some of the world's championship games played in the Quaker City look to the attack of the Tigers and Sox, leaving the field clear for the Athletics.

Quakers Like Their Chances.

To Philadelphia fans the figures for the remainder of the season look good. Beginning with last Friday the Athletics had to play 14 games—four with St. Louis and Detroit and three each with Chicago and Cleveland. When they encountered the same clubs on their last whirl they won 13 and lost 3 games.

Assuming they are equally successful in the present series, they will win 11 of the 14, but even if they do not quite so well as that, their pennant chances will not be seriously endangered, for the reason that both New York and Boston have shown marked improvement in their play during the last six weeks, and may be expected to toss the contenders when they least expect it.

The Philadelphia idea is that in their desperation to remain near the front, both Detroit and Chicago have been working their best pitchers out of turn—giving them more to do than they are really capable of. Towards the end of the unusual strain upon the pitching talent will begin to tell; in fact, it is already beginning to tell on all of the stars save Will Bill Donovan, who probably knows more about overhauling his resources than any pitcher in either league.

Walsh, the great twirler of the Chicagoans, has been working overtime. He was worked twice in three days against the Athletics in Chicago, and though he won the first game all right, he was easily beaten by Waddell in the third game. Under the circumstances no pitcher could have won against the Ruben, who shut out the Sox, but it would have been better for Walsh if he had been reserved for another day.

TORONTOS ARRIVE HOME TODAY

Toronto, Sept. 24.—The Eastern League season, so far as Toronto, the pennant winners, are concerned, closed yesterday, and immediately after the game at Newark the Leafs will start for home, arriving here this afternoon to rest up for their post-season series with Columbus, who will probably arrive in Toronto on Wednesday morning.

An impression seems to be abroad that the price of admission to the series will be increased. This is incorrect. The admission fee will be exactly the same as that charged during the Eastern League season. The free list will, however, be entirely suspended.

There will be no ceremony of any kind in connection with the opening game on Wednesday, except a presentation of a

It is true that Manager Mack has been compelled to make strenuous use of his own pitchers, due to the number of double-headers, and the games the Athletics have had during the last few weeks. But from now on until they go to Washington, at the end of the season they have but three double-headers at home, it will be possible to get the pitchers working in their regular order.

Quaker Experts Busy.

In computing the chances of the Athletics experts in the Quaker City have figured that by Sept. 27 Connie Mack's team will have the pennant clinched. This computation was based on previous performances, there has been reversal of form to date.

"It is in the dope," says one authority, "that unless the unforeseen happens, Connie Mack and his men will be open for congratulations on the morning of the 28th."

Chicago Looks for Pennant, Too.

Charley Comiskey, president of the White Sox, the old Roman of baseball, cannot see the Quaker City arguments or figures. "We must still be counted in the fight," says he. "We are depending on the teams of the west giving the Athletics just as tough a battle as they have given the White Sox. Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago will win many a game from Connie Mack's gang, and we hope the White Sox will win enough from Detroit, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Washington to give us the final victory."

"The Athletics should be far ahead of us by this time, after the long stretch of games with the eastern second division teams. Now they must face the tough propositions from the west, if they could not gain on us under these conditions, isn't it likely that we will gain on them with the conditions reversed and the Athletics playing the first division clubs while we play Boston, New York and Washington?"

Jennings Says His Men Are Stayers.

"I'm proud of my team; there isn't a quitter on it. They're just as sure as can be that they are going to be champions of the world for another year, and confidence is half the battle."

Gallant Hughie Jennings, leader of the Detroit Tigers, the sensation of the season of 1907, is brimful of "confidence, confidence, confidence," the watchword for the Tigers.

"Why shouldn't I feel confident," says Jennings. "Haven't I seen the Tigers put crimps in the hopes and ambitions of every other club in the league? Didn't they turn in and wallop the lives out of those dear White Sox when they thought they had us one run?"

"We will not be denied. We are paid to win and we are going to win. Nobody can convince me by figures, or dope, or whatever one may wish to call it, that the Tigers will not win the American League pennant. They must show us by actions, not by figures."

TORONTOS ARRIVE HOME TODAY

Toronto, Sept. 24.—The Eastern League season, so far as Toronto, the pennant winners, are concerned, closed yesterday, and immediately after the game at Newark the Leafs will start for home, arriving here this afternoon to rest up for their post-season series with Columbus, who will probably arrive in Toronto on Wednesday morning.

An impression seems to be abroad that the price of admission to the series will be increased. This is incorrect. The admission fee will be exactly the same as that charged during the Eastern League season. The free list will, however, be entirely suspended.

There will be no ceremony of any kind in connection with the opening game on Wednesday, except a presentation of a locket to each of the local players, on behalf of the Toronto ball club management. Play each day will start at 3 o'clock, and there will be games on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, Friday being an off day.

Manager Clymer, of the Columbus team, will probably take his turn each day on the coaching line, and the fans are thus promised a big treat. He is of the Jennings type, and it is worth the price of admission alone to hear and see him at work.

It is not generally known that Clymer was asked to manage the Toronto team this year, before negotiations were opened with Joe Kelley. He is one of the cleverest baseball men in America, and will probably have charge of one of the big league clubs next year.

PUGILIST KILLS OPPONENT
GANS READY FOR KETCHELL

Young Mees Dies as Result of Blow Over Heart.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—John Mees, a lightweight known as "Young" Mees, died in a hospital here today from the effects of a blow over the heart received in a fight with Neil Dever on Saturday night.

Mees and Dever, who is known in local pugilistic circles as "Young" Dever, went on for a six-round bout before the Frankford Athletic Club. They were in the midst of a fierce exchange in the second round when Mees fell from a blow over the heart and was carried helpless to his corner.

His seconds tried to revive him, but he failed to respond to treatment, and was hurried to the hospital, where he died after lying unconscious for several hours.

The police arrested Joseph Feeney, the promoter, and Stephen Ott, referee, together with "Young" Dever.

GANS READY FOR KETCHELL

Lightweight Champion Asks Ben Selig To Arrange the Bout.

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Een Selig announced today that Joe Gans had told him to open negotiations with George Ketchell at once, for a go for the welterweight title. Manager O'Connor, representing Ketchell, is willing for the bout, but doubts if his man can make 142 pounds, the weight asked by Gans. Jimmy Coffroth instantly bid for the fight, and said that Ketchell could have a return match with Thomas first, if he preferred, the winner to meet Gans. Ketchell weighed 147½ pounds in the go with Thomas, Labor Day.

THE TURF.

POOL ROOMS TURNED DOWN. Cincinnati, Sept. 23.—The Latonia Jockey Club yesterday refused to furnish racing news to pool rooms, and refused to allow the Interstate News Company to telegraph race descriptions from the track. The officers say the stand taken is for the purification of the turf. Also, the club announced that scratches, odds and other information valuable to race players, would be withheld until past time of each race. Today's entries were held back to prevent their posing for the playing of tomorrow's races.

JEROME RESSPERS, owner of one-fourth interest in the Latonia Jockey Club, yesterday sold his entire interest to George B. Cox, of Cincinnati.

BOWLINGNew Rugby Union Is To the Front AgainHamilton President Talks Plainly to the C.A.A.U.
Officials.

Hamilton, Sept. 23.—On Saturday it was announced that the new Inter-Provincial Rugby Football Union was all off, as the C. A. A. U. insisted on a form of affidavit of amateurism that the easterners would not sign. Today the prospects are brighter, for the C. A. A. U. has agreed to a new schedule has been drawn up. There is nothing now in the way but a small protest from Ottawa about having to play the Tigers in the opening game. The Rough Riders want something they think will be easier—Montreal or the Argos.

He Talked Out.

The change was effected on Saturday night in Toronto, when President Seymour and other football representatives saw the representatives of the C. A. A. U. The C. A. A. U. announced that it would require an affidavit from the suspended players by which they had received money for participating in athletics, and would not play with or against professionals in the future, according to the rules of the C. A. A. U. The C. A. A. U. was mentioned in the affidavit six times, and it was one that the Montreal players, belonging to the A. A. F., the rival amateur union, could not sign without throwing down the A. A. F. Frank Nelson insisted on having assurance that the reinstated players would not go back to professional hockey this winter. President Seymour said that as the C. A. A. U. officials had given assurance that they would accept the affidavits signed by the Montreal and

Ottawa players, and which were forwarded to the C. A. A. U. secretary, the C. A. A. U. must carry out its promise. If it did not, the Tigers would play Montreal and Ottawa anyway, cutting loose from the C. A. A. U., and the Argos could play whom they would. The following affidavit was then drawn up, and was quite suitable to Captain Jimmy Craig, of Montreal. The affidavit form is:

What It Reads Like.

"That I have never at any time received any remuneration for competing in athletic sports, and that I have not violated the amateur definition, except in respect to that clause which prohibits competing with or against professionals. That in consideration of the removal of my suspension from competing in amateur sports, I declare it is my intention to continue as an amateur in good standing, according to the definition of the Interprovincial Football Union, which is the same as the Canadian Rugby Football Union, which I have read and fully understand."

A New Schedule.

It is believed that this affidavit will be perfectly satisfactory to the eastern players, and Captain Craig has vouched for Montreal's compliance. A new schedule was drawn up, by which clashes with intercollegiate teams are avoided. The schedule is:

Magistrate Love Had Very Busy Day

Magistrate Love had a busy time this morning, as a whole cage full of prisoners were waiting to learn their fate when his worship took the bench.

Jefferson Smith was disposed of first.

Smith has been up on several occasions for being drunk, disorderly and ill-using his wife. Some time ago his worship ordered Smith to keep away from the house where his wife was living, and the prisoner did so until Saturday evening, when he went out and got drunk and went down to the place and proceeded to smash himself by smashing all the windows.

Mrs. Smith was too frightened to do anything, and Smith would probably have carried out his threats to demolish the whole building had not some of the neighbors intervened and turned the man over to a policeman.

After hearing the evidence against Smith his worship remanded him for a week for sentence intimating that the offender will be taken care of for some time to come.

A Sore Shoulder.

Sergeant McDonald found William D. Long driving a horse the other day with a very sore shoulder. The harness was chafing it and the horse was having a most agonizing time. The sergeant took Long in charge, and this morning the case was enlarged for a week.

Two youths who interfered with P. C. Ewen while he was making an arrest were bailed to appear in a week. William Hie pleaded guilty to being drunk and paid a fine of $5 and $2 costs.

Drove Over Walk.
William Fox charged with driving on a sidewalk in East London explained that there was no roadway where he wanted to go and that he had used all precautions not to damage the sidewalk. In consideration of these facts his worship dismissed the case.

A young man who rode a bicycle on the sidewalk contributed $1 and three first time drunks were allowed to go.

In the juvenile court the boy who stole a bicycle last week appeared again on a charge of having stolen another wheel. The lad seems to be a specialist in stealing bicycles. He was turned over to Mr. Saunders, of the Children's Aid Society, to deal with, and if he does not reform will likely be sent to the reformatory.

A CIVIC EMPLOYEE WILL SUE CONDENSED LOCAL NEWS

ake nearly $25,000 for land and such things.

So Mr. Mitchell took the plans and changed them, taking a story of each wing and making other necessary changes to meet the reduction.

The plans were submitted to the hospital trust, and were declared to be highly satisfactory.

Then the local board of health looked them over, and declared them to be exceedingly satisfactory.

The provincial board of health asked to see them, and that board said they were very good, and accepted them without making an alteration. So far so good.

Bill Presented.

Then Mr. Mitchell presented his bill for $240. This was politely ignored, not even the newspapers getting an inkling as to what was going on.

Mr. Mitchell was told by Chairman Sereaton and other members of the trust, it is alleged, that the bill would not be paid, and that it was his duty to draw such plans, as it was in his department over, and declared them to be exceedingly satisfactory.

City Engineer Graydon was appealed to, and declared that such work did not belong to his department, and that Mr. Mitchell should be paid his salary.

The action of the trust was declared to be outrageous. He cited examples. When the improvements were being made to Victoria hospital, and Mr. Mitchell was told by Mr. John M. Moore, a civic employee, and he was paid for the work as he was justly entitled to be paid. Mr. Mitchell had done the work, which was outside of his department, after hours, and should receive the compensation due him.

Sought Legal Advice.

Chairman Sereaton of the hospital trust was appealed to, and he absolutely refused to pay the bill. The matter was kept very quiet by the trust, as the members of that body did not care to have any publicity about the matter.

When he had been turned down so completely, Mr. Mitchell decided to seek legal advice, and consulted Mr. Pauls.

It was decided to take action against the city for the full amount of the bill, if it is not paid forthwith.

Mr. Mitchell is one of the hardest working employees in the city hall, and a most faithful servant.

Mr. Graydon says he worked in a most conscientious manner, and the plans and the efforts produced excellent results was shown by the fact that the plans were not only approved of, but highly commended, by the Provincial Board of Health.

Among the witnesses, if the case comes to trial, will be several civic employees who can swear to the extra time that Mr. Mitchell put on the plans. For two or three months he worked on the drawings and estimates every morning and evening, before and after hours.

The mayor had a talk with Engineer Graydon and Chairman Sereaton, but the plans at noon today, but it is not known what decision was arrived at.

It is said his worship has all along opposed paying Mr. Mitchell for the plans.

A SUPERB CHRONOMETER

May Be Seen in the Window of Sumner's Jewelry Store.

A superb marine chronometer, said to be the most perfect timepiece in the city, was recently purchased by Mr. C. R. Sumner, the well-known Richmond street jeweler, and can now be seen in the window of his store.

The chronometer was manufactured by Messrs. Adams, of London, Eng., makers of the instruments on the Prince of Wales' yacht, and also for his home, and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is inclosed in a handsome case, and so arranged that it cannot become unbalanced through any jolting.

The chronometer is rated from Greenwich Observatory, and the rate card shows that its records are perfect. It has not varied a fraction of a second since Mr. Sumner got it, and railroadmen or others desiring perfectly accurate time can have it by setting their watches by this instrument.

WU TING FANG FOR WASHINGTON

The Clever Ex-Representative of China Gets Coveted Appointment.

Pekin, Sept. 24.—The reappointment of Wu Ting Fang to his former post as minister of China at Washington was gazetted today.

Wu Ting Fang was recalled by his Government from Washington in 1903. It was reported at the time that the empress dowager and her advisers were dissatisfied with him, but he was appointed to office on his return to China. Sir Chen Tung Lian Chiang succeeded Wu Ting Fang, and has about four years in Washington. Liang Tung Yen was appointed to succeed Sir Chen Tung Lian Chiang, but never started for this country, and recently was transferred to the foreign office at Peking.

The reappointed minister of China was here during the Boxer troubles, and worked hard in the interests of his Government. He is a lawyer and an able orator, having practiced before the British courts at Hong Kong where he learned to speak English fluently.

While popular during his stay in the United States for his witty after-dinner speeches, he at times awoke sharp antagonists. This was especially so when the church and religious communities severely criticized his comparison of Confucianism with Christianity, to the disadvantage of Christianity, and his remarks concerning the founder of the Christian church which were construed to be flippant.

SKIMMED THEIR MILK

A Quartet of Farmers Fined $20 to $30 Each.

Hamilton, Sept. 24.—Four Binbrook farmers appeared before the police magistrate this morning in his private office on a charge of adulterating milk. It was claimed by Irvin N. Farrington, the Government inspector, that they skimmed the cream from the milk before delivering it to a cheese factory.

Woodburn. The four farmers pleaded guilty to the charge.

Edward Kidman and Edward Ramsbury were fined $30 each, as once before they were warned when caught at the same offense.

John E. Laidman and John McEvoy were fined $20 each, this being their first offense.

PEOPLE MAY BURN PEAT

connected with its use, and above all, it is much cheaper than even the finest grades of anthracite coal.

Dr. MacWilliam the Man.

The discoverer of the much sought for secret is no other than Dr. John MacWilliam, of Thamesford, now of this city.

Dr. MacWilliam has been interested in the problem for a great many years, and has spent the good part of a decade in studying out the scientific problems offered in the making of peat.

He first made himself thoroughly familiar with the various chemical parts of peat, then he looked around for a man, or some men, whom he thought would be capable of handling the mechanical end of the discovery.

One of the persons of the Messrs. Milne (three sons and the father), of Hamilton, he discovered the very persons he sought. These parties understood the science from A to Z.

Plant at Dorchester.

Three years ago the Milnes and Dr. MacWilliam began the building of a plant such as they required for their experiments at Dorchester, on the site of a peat bog, which is estimated to contain 1,500,000 tons of the precious peat.

Several times they thought they had perfected their arrangements for putting out the products of the bog in useable form, only to discover that some important thing had been overlooked.

Farmers Use It.

In September they began the steady manufacture of the peat in brick form, and today the farmers living nearby use the peat as fast as it can be manufactured.

For the sake of further experiment, a large order was placed with the Jarvis brick concern of this city, and they have found the fuel more satisfactory for their purposes than coal.

Mr. McEvoy recently paid a visit to the factory, and he describes the working of the plant as most interesting.

Making the Peat.

Over the top of the bog, which has been cleared of timber and all refuse, has been laid a series of railroad tracks at a distance of perhaps five yards apart.

Over the tracks runs what are known as collectors. The collector can be compared to a large electric car, equipped with a large suction pan.

From the side of the car protrudes a large pipe, perhaps two feet in diameter, at the end of which is a shoe with a "lip," through which the dry peat dust on the surface of the bog is drawn into the pipe by suction and deposited in the car.

As the car moves along the rail the amount of peat which is drawn up is scarcely perceptible to the naked eye, and yet one collector will pick up 50 tons of dust a day.

The sun quickly dries the exposed surface which has been uncovered by the collector, and the same process is then repeated.

The dust is taken from the collector into the factory, and run through a large pipe, or covered trough, through which runs a screw similar in shape to an auger. Around the outside of the pipe or trough is a steam jacket placed several inches from the pipe to allow steam to pass through the space between in order to dry out the dust passing through the inside of the pipe. The dust is ground fine enough to pass through at 100 mesh, or, in other words, finer than flower.

Placed in a Press.

The dried-out dust is then placed in a unique press, the like of which Mr. McEvoy states he has never seen before, and at a pressure of 200 degrees, and at a pressure of 80 tons, formed into bricks. In two days, after going through the press, the bricks are harder than coal, and of nearly the same color.

Even more remarkable, however, than the bricks is a process by which the dust itself can be treated and used as fuel in large furnaces. The dust, after being treated, is blown into the furnace in the same fashion as coal dust is used in brick kilns, and one advantage of the peat dust over coal is that it explodes, and makes gas within ten feet after being blown into the furnace, while coal dust must go twenty feet before forming into gas. The heat of the former fuel is also said to be much greater.

The Dorchester Plant.

The plant at Dorchester is capable of furnishing a much greater steam pressure than 80 tons, and yet but two tons of the peat dust a day are required to operate it.

When it is considered that at present the peat in brick form can be sold for $5 a ton, and that hard coal costs in London $7 50 a ton, the value of the new discovery can be at least partially realized.

Mr. McEvoy claims that there is enough peat bogs between here and the Soo to supply the world with peat bricks and dust for upwards of a century.

At Stratford alone there are 1,300 acres of peat bog, while in other nearby places there are bogs almost as large.

However, there is a difference in the quality of the peat bogs, and it requires the best form of peat to make good quality of brick. At present the Dorchester plant is capable of turning out only a ton an hour, but it is merely a question of installing additional machinery to increase the supply to the quantity required.

Something Yet.

One important question remains yet to be settled before the peat bricks can be used successfully in large plants. The grates at present used for coal are too large for the peat, for the reason that after the bricks burn while they crumble into a dust, and much of the fuel drops through the grates.

It has been found that by adding a certain quantity of coal to the peat no loss is entailed.

"The time is not far off," said Mr. McEvoy, "when every householder and every factory-owner in this part of the country will be using the peat bricks and dust exclusively for fuel. The mere fact that there are no ashes to haul, no odors, or gases to annoy, should appeal to everybody, not to speak of the enormous saving in coal bills."

$700 AND COSTS FOR ASHTOWN

Compensation for Explosion of Bomb in His Lodge.

Waterford, Ireland, Sept. 24.—Lord Ashtown has been allowed $700 and costs in a suit for compensation growing out of the explosion of a bomb at his hunting lodge near Clonmel the night of Aug. 13 last.

Lord Ashtown is one of the landlords whose activity in the cattle grazing war has aroused the most bitter animosity. He was asleep in his lodge at the time of the explosion. He has characterized the outrage as an attempt to kill him and declared it was the work of peasants from the west of Ireland.

The trend of the defense was in support of the crude folk allegations that Lord Ashtown himself had planned the explosion of the bomb, and this, added to the police report suggesting that the alleged bomb had been prepared within his lordship's own residence, drew a sensational interest to the case from all over the United Kingdom.

Much of the evidence was contradictory and there was some stubborn swearing to alleged facts by both sides. Judge Fitzgerald declared the outrage to be the most malicious, and said there was no foundation for the allegations against Lord Ashtown.

The defense was conducted by Timothy Healy, Nationalist member of Parliament for the north division of Louth, and the importance attached to the case was indicated by the brilliant array of counsel on both sides.

EXPECT HOT TIME AT NEW YORK TODAY

Primary Elections Likely To Be the Stormiest in Years.

New York, Sept. 24.—Predictions are rife among politicians that the legislative primary election to be held here today will be the stormiest in recent years, owing to the feeling among the Democrats.

Preparations for emergencies have been made by the police department, sheriff's office, the board of elections, and the district attorney's office, and by Democratic district leaders, most of whom are members of Tammany Hall.

There is much bitterness between followers of Charles W. Murphy, Tammany's head, and Mayor McClellan, which has cropped out in minor disturbances. Struggles for Tammany Hall supremacy will take place in 17 out of the 35 assembly districts in Manhattan, and the Bronx, and on Staten Island. Republican leadership is involved in the primaries in six districts in Manhattan, and two in Brooklyn.

THE DANGEROUS LEVEL CROSSINGS

Galt Jury Recommend That They Be Abolished—The Hespeler Disaster.

Galt, Sept. 24.—The deadly level crossing came in for criticism at the Galt jury trial today, the death of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Reid, of Goderich, who were killed at the G. T. R. crossing three miles north of Hespeler on Friday.

Its great danger was emphasized in strong terms by both Coroner Dr. Radford and Crown Attorney Bowly, whose views were agreed with by the jury.

Crown Attorney Bowly said he would like to see level crossings done away with, as they were very dangerous. Scarcely a day passed without some accident from this cause. In Berlin they have numerous level railway crossings, and recently several people have been killed.

The post-mortem made by Drs. MacKendrick and Verdon, of Galt, showed the body to be that of a well-developed male, aged about 27 years, height 5 feet 10 inches and weight 150 pounds.

The only external injuries found were a few abrasions and bruises over the head and face and contusions over the lower part of the back. Internal examination disclosed the spine and pelvic bones broken and blood vessels ruptured at the seat of the fracture, a large amount of blood in the abdomen, and also surrounding the left lung, which was injured. Death was caused from shock and the result of the injuries.

The crew on the train which struck the vehicle was called, Engineer Palmer, Conductor Cameron, Fireman Bailey, Brakeman Volsky, Brakeman Kennard all testified that the whistle blew and the driver of the rig attempted to cross the track in front of the fast-moving train.

The train stopped and the injured people on board and brought to the shore only ran a distance of 150 yards and all the members of the crew considered the animal quail.

Ernest Haines, a farmer's boy, heard the whistle of the engine, but William Haines, the father of the boy, did not hear the whistle. James Piper, roadmaster, testified that the curve was not very bad at this point and that the whistling post was 440 yards from the crossing. If a person did not know the crossing and was not looking back for the train it would be dangerous. He only knew of one horse being killed there.

Following is the verdict: Your jury finds from the evidence submitted that the late Frederick Reid, of Goderich, came to his death by being struck by a Grand Trunk train while crossing the Waterloo road on Friday, September 20, 1907. Also that on account of the great number of accidents at level crossings would recommend that the railway commission do consider the advisability of having them abolished."

DOSED TO DEATH

New York, Sept. 23.—From taking an overdose of medicine containing several poisonous ingredients, which he had himself prepared, for a malady from which he had suffered for many years, Dr. Peter M. Wise, 50 years old, died here yesterday. The coroner's physician decided that death was purely accidental.

For many years Dr. Wise suffered from locomotor ataxia. He has tried numbers of remedies without obtaining relief, and about a year ago prepared a prescription for himself. This he had since been taking and early today took an overdose.

RAN OVER HIS BOY

Brantford, Sept. 24.—Lewis Williams, the 14-year-old son of William Williams, an Indian, residing on the reserve at Oshweken, was killed in a peculiar manner on Saturday night.

The lad was subject to fits. Being out in the field about 7 o'clock he felt a spell coming on and started to run for the house. Before he had proceeded far he fell unconscious. His father, in drawing in grain, passed over the prostrate youth, the wheels fracturing his neck and killing him. In the darkness the father did not notice the lad, of whose predicament he knew nothing.

Boy Injured.

Yesterday afternoon a 5-year-old Harold McGuire, the little son of Mr. Robert McGuire, of Bruce street, was playing about the barn he fell from the hayloft, a distance of perhaps twenty feet, and sustained a severe scalp wound. Dr. F. C. Cowan attended the unfortunate child.

THE BLYTH SHOW

Has a Large Collection of Fine Exhibits—Good Attendance.

Blyth, Sept. 23.—The annual fall fair of the Blyth Agricultural Society opened here today and continues tomorrow. The attendance today was very gratifying, but tomorrow will doubtless see the big crowd.

The entries this year are numerous, and of a high degree of excellence. Special reference should be made to the live stock, which has always been one of the features of Blyth's fall fair. This year appears to have exceeded the high standard attained in 1905 and 1906. Grain, vegetables, flowers and fruit are also an exhibition in abundance.

A feature of this year's fair is the school children's competition in writing, drawing, map drawing, and essay writing. This evening an organ and piano competition was held in the hall, for which prizes were awarded.

The officers of the fair are: J. B. Ternary, honorary president; Robert Ferris, president; T. W. Sloan, first vice-president; Frank Metcalf, secretary-treasurer. Directors: A. B. Carr, Geo. Taylor, John Scott R. Corley, J. Cumming, J. G. Emigh, R. B. McGowan, A. Elliott, John Barr.

LOCAL MARKET.

Today's market was fairly brisk for this day of the week. The supply of the various lines was quite large. There was not much change in prices. Grains—The demand is brisk and prices firm. The eight of ten loads of new oats sold quickly at $1.50 to $1.53 per cwt, and the old oats sold at $1.45 to $1.48, the highest price in years. Wheat sold today at 90c and 91c per bushel.

Hay and Straw—There was 18 loads of hay offered and prices were firm, as nearly all of the loads sold at $16 per ton. Straw sold at $6 and $5.50 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was scarce today and is likely to be so for some time as the stocks of the dealers are exceedingly light and the supply is not sufficient for all requirements. Sales were made at 23c to 24c for creamery, and 24c to 25c for country. Eggs are firmer at 19c to 20c for crates and basket lots. Many are at the lowest point for this year.

Vegetables and Roots—Potatoes were easier at 75c to 90c per bag. Onions sold at 80c per bushel. Cauli flowers were plentiful at 15c to 16c each. Tomatoes were dull at 20c and occasionally 25c per basket. Corn sold strongly at 10c per dozen. Green and red peppers, 8c to 10c per dozen. Cabbages were plentiful at 40c to 65c per dozen. Celery 40c per dozen.

Fruit—Apples dull at 80c to 90c per bushel. Peaches scarce at $1.25 to $1.75 per bushel. Plums, 60c to 65c per basket. Peaches scarce at $1.20 to $1.50 per bushel.

Poultry—Trade was a little slow today and the following prices were most frequently paid. Spring chickens were in fair demand at 8c per pound alive, or 10c dressed. Old fowl, 7c per pound alive, or 8c dressed. Turkeys sold at 11c alive or 12c dressed. Ducks 8c per pound alive, or 10c dressed.

Dressed Hogs—Nearly all that was offered today sold at $8.50 and $8.65 per cwt.

Butcher's Meat—Beef sold at $4 to $5.50 per cwt. Lamb, 10c to 12c. Veal, 8c to 9c per cwt.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

—Miss Annie Mason, of Hill street, is visiting relatives in New Orleans.

—In the prize list of the Sacred Heart school, the name of Roy Harrison was omitted. He won the prize for history.

—Mrs. Wm. H. Lake (nee Madden) will be at home to her friends on Wednesday afternoon and evening, the 25th inst., at her new home, 693 Grey street.

—Mrs. J. A. Powell, of Edmonton, Alta., accompanied by her little daughter Edith, left this morning for home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. G. H. Thomas, of Adelaide street, London.

—A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. O'Byrne, Grey street, when Mrs. Emily Wench was united in marriage to Mr. Richard Hobbs. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. S. W. Howard, only the relatives of the contracting parties being present. Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs will reside in this city.

Epworth League Meeting.

An enjoyable gathering of the members of the Epworth League of Wellington Street Methodist Church was held in the lecture-room last evening. Mr. George Jackson made a capable chairman, and had charge of a programme that was greatly enjoyed by every one present.

Wheel Recovered.

Norman McCallum, the C. P. R. messenger boy, whose wheel was stolen, recovered the machine yesterday morning. It had been carried away and hidden—probably as a joke—in an alleyway at the rear of the Bell Telephone Company's building on Park avenue.

Body Shipped.

Superintendent Heard, of Victoria Hospital, in accordance with the wishes of a brother of the late Henry Fretwell, the Buffalo man who died here under such pitiable circumstances, today handed over the body to Smith, Clark & Sons, undertakers, to be shipped to Adrian, Mich., where the brother resides.

Are Very Grateful.

At a meeting of the jubilee committee of the Diocese of Huron, held last week, it was resolved, on motion of Archdeacon Young, seconded by Canon Dann, that the thanks of the committee are due, and are hereby tendered to the ladies of the city of London, acting with the wives of the city clergy, in providing and serving the luncheon in Croyn Hall, on the occasion of the visit of the Bishop of London.

The Bank of North America has opened up three branches during the past half-year—one in Toronto, one in Cainsville, Ont., and one in this city, at the corner of the Hamilton road and Egerton street. This last makes three branches in London—one on Richmond street, the Market branch, and the one mentioned above. The growth of the bank's business in the city has been little short of phenomenal, and the institution is at present going ahead rapidly.

ANNUAL HARVEST HOME SERVICES

Held by the Salvation Army Proved Very Successful—Neat Sums Raised.

The annual harvest home services of the Salvation Army were brought to a close last night by one of the most successful concerts ever given in the barracks. The services lasted three days, and were well attended, especially the one on Sunday, when the hall was filled to overflowing.

At last night's concert, excellent addresses were given by Adjutant Hobbs and Staff-Capt. McMillan. At the close of the programme an auction sale was held, at which the offerings were disposed of. The army have been attempting to raise $300, and as a result of their efforts have succeeded in raising considerably more than that amount.

MICHIGAN FRUIT

ARRIVES IN LONDON

Peaches Sold at Market at From

$3 to $3.50 Per Bushel.

A carload of peaches from Michigan arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and found a ready sale on the market today. The consignment comprised about 300 bushels, and sold from $3 to $3.50 per bushel. The local grocers were by far the largest buyers, and some of them propose to repack the fruit and sell it in twelve-quart baskets.

CRUELTY TO PIGS

ON THE MARKET

"There is a practice that should be stopped," declared a buyer on the market this morning, pointing to a wagon load of swine which a farmer was industriously poking with an iron prong in an endeavor to make them go down an incline to the market scales. "Those pigs," continued the buyer, were stuffed so full of food before they were brought here to be weighed that they are stupid and barely able to move. Cattle, when they are fed too much, get into the same condition. The man who buys that load that you see there is liable to lose not a few on the trip to the packing house, especially if the trip be a rough one."

When questioned, an employee of the market stated that the law in reference to weighing swine called for the use of no food on the morning of the weighing. One reason given for the laxity in applying the law on the London market is said to be that the competition between the buyers is so keen now-a-days that they are willing to put up with almost anything to keep their factories supplied.

The supply now being brought in is much lower than in former years, although the prices of wholesale pork has not advanced in proportion.

YOUNG PEOPLE
HOLD ENTERTAINMENT

Miss Wilkie, Late of Scotland, Scores Heavily With Vocal Numbers.

The Young People's Society in connection with the New St. James' Presbyterian Church gave a social evening last night to the members and friends, and the affair proved one of the most enjoyable ever held by the society.

Conundrums occupied the early part of the evening, followed by an entertaining and instructive address by Mr. Samuel Baker, city clerk, on his recent trip to the old country.

Miss Margaret Laidlaw also gave a splendid recitation.

The following musical programme was rendered: Piano solo, Miss Elsie McCrimmon; solo, Mr. Galbraith; solo, Miss Wilkie; solo, Mr. Beech; solo, Mrs. Edward Wyatt; solo, Miss Wilkie; solo, Mr. J. L. Galbraith;

Mrs. Wyatt's numbers were delightfully rendered. She has a clear soprano voice of much strength and sweetness.

Miss Wilkie is a stranger to Londoners, but she won the hearts of the audience completely. She possesses a magnificent contralto voice, which electrified her hearers.

She is a pupil of Mr. J. L. Galbraith, and will doubtless be heard often in London during the coming season.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of a most enjoyable evening.

THE BANK OF B. N. A.

Half-Yearly Report Shows This Excellent Institution To Be Still Forging Ahead.

The half-yearly report of the Bank of British North America has been issued, and shows that this well-known bank is making rapid strides. The profits of the half-year, including $95,439.86 brought forward from last account, amount to $331,607.45, out of which the directors have declared an interim dividend of 30s per share on October 4 next, being at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, leaving a balance of $176,173.45 to be carried forward.

The sum of $29,492 has been transferred from the profits of the half-year to the credit of the bank's investment in Consols, which now stand at 83.

The directors also appropriated from the profit and loss account for the
