globe. In order to appreciate fully the ossibilities of this land it is necessary understand something of the conditions which have made possible here the methods of agriculture which are converting the slovenly "mixed farms" of a generation ago into highly specialized plantations, one acre of which frequently pays its owner as much as the old line farmer got from his entire place. Of these conditions

Far back in the prehistoric ages, so geologists tell, there appeared above untold ages until at last it disintegrated into a soil capable of supporting life which swarmed along the shores in What arrangement has been made forms and quantities of which we cannot conceive.

Covered by the Waters.

Then came another great convulsion of nature and over the surface of the new land flowed the waters of a great sea filled with a wonderful wealth of marine life, which formed the basis of the present underlying deposit of fossil bearing lime stone. And in time Southwestern Ontario once more appeared above the surface of the waters. Then came the glacial period, when great masses of ice moved down from the north plowing out valleys, deep into the native rock and piling up great masses of gravel and soil. There are out few spots in this region which show the traces of these great masses of ice. It is destined to descend once more beneath the waters to receive the deep oat of alluvial soil which distinguishes this land from less fortunate sections. It would appear that in those days a mighty river, probably wider than the Lake Huron of today was flowing down oin the north, and that for some rea on its speed was checked in Southwest Contario. Materials held in suspension by its waters dropped to the bottom. At first the river was very deep and the fine particles of deposit took the form of blue clay. Later it became the delta of the river and in this delta were deosited the refined washings of all Northern Ontario. In coming down the stream the large stones and gravel were dropped and the fertile earth of the north settled down here. Waters Recede Again.

Then there followed the receding of the waters and the formation of the Ontario emerged from the water for the last time, a vast expanse of alluval soil the fertility of which is unexcelled y any country in the world. The great bodies of water which surround this tract on all sides produce a condition of climate peculiar to itelf. There are in fact two climates. The mild even climate along the shore is tempered and regulated by the vast reaches of open water so that the tenderest of fruits may be grown in perfect safety Further inland although the weather conditions are more changeable, the regulating effect of the lakes is still felt, and in this part flourish standard apples, fruits and garden truck of all descriptions. The farmer had but little difficulty in supplying his own needs but almost insurmountable obstacles to overcome in finding narket for his products.

Where Difficulties Lay. Situated at the farthest end of the province he was separated by hundreds of miles from the only large cities of the Dominion. On the other hand the stone wall of the United States tariff kept him from the cities across the border. So he kept on raising a little wheat and pasturing a few steers just as his father had done before him.

But with the development of the western cities came a great change. There was a sustained demand for The great fruit and garden truck. water routes to Fort William and Port Arthur offered the best possible facilities for transportation and when farmers found that their pastures could be turned into peach orcharas worth hundreds of dollars to the acre they tegan to get away from the old-ashioned notions. American and British syndicates began to buy land and the settlers whom they brought in began to show the natives how to raise corn Now the cry is for more men of the type of the corn farmers of Illinois, the British market gardener and fruit to grower, and the intensive farmer of continental Europe. Cheap lands are to be had in abundance. They need only intelligent cultivation to assure their owner of an ample income.

"Nemo" Selt-Reducing Corsets Will Help You

Even though you are inclined to be stout, you may maintain the modern stylish appearance and wear the somewhat trying present-day fashions by the help of a pair of "Nemo" Self-Reducing Corsets.

The old idea that the woman with a full (or even a stout) figure, who imagines that comfort can only be obtained by having corsets made to measure, is long since exploded, through scientific corset making. A corset made to your measure cannot improve the form, but only serves to maintain your figure outline, whatever that may be.

"NEMO" Corsets are built on scientific lines with broad bands of lastikops webbing across the front and around the hips, enabling the wearer to lace the corset very fightly, and to reduce the figure almost beyond belief, without a trace of discomfort. No made-to-order corset, even at double the price, is superior to "NEMO," and none more comfortable. Why?

BECAUSE-Every "NEMO" is made with the patented "Triple Strip Reinforcement," by means of which three strips of cloth (instead of one) resist the tendency of bones and steels to push through at top and bottom.

BECAUSE—Every yard of material is thoroughly tested for strength by means of specially devised and accurate

BECAUSE-"Nemos" are made with "double-bone wires," which are practically unbreakable, and with steels of the very highest quality obtainable.

BECAUSE—The scientific designing of all "Nemos" assures the smallest possible degree of strain upon the corset.

BECAUSE-Every "Nemo" is subjected to rigid examination by skilled inspectors (following each stage of manufacture) and any work which shows the slightest flaw or defect is cast

Besides-The latest feature of the self-reducing "Nemo' acts upon the flesh like the fingers of the skilled masseuse, and is said not only to reduce the figure by a comfortable adjustment of the flesh, but actually works the wonders of a scientific massage in vanishing the fatty tissue. Ask to see the "Nemo."

A STUPENDOUS ENTERPRISE.

The Panama Canal, which it is proposed to open in 1914, will be a great credit to the United States as a work of engineering and overcoming of climatic and labor difficulties. Infinite skill, patience, science and financial resources are called for. Only Great Britain besides the United States could undertake such a task, and perhaps to the Pacific Coast. Mr. McBride and only the United States could pay for it, as she does, out of current revenue.

the commercial world, even though some temporary inconveniences may be caused here and there by the deflection of traffic from present lines, and the general readjustments. Canada will be interested more than most countries. Great Britain will no doubt benefit most; the slight decline if any, in traffic via her Suez Canal, will be nothing to the gains that will accrue when Cape Horn no longer has to be ify his remarks on the judicial recall. rounded. What its Government confrom an American ship with one hand and hand it back with the other.

Any Government has, of course, a right to subsidize its own concerns, in a general way. But that does not justify some particular kinds of "subsidy." Mr. Taft says, "the practice of many governments of subsidizing their own merchant vessels is so well established in general that a subsidy equal to the tolls, an equivalent remission of tolls, cannot be held to be a discrimination in the use of the canal." He is right in his premise, but wrong In his conclusion, the Manchester Guardian rightly characterizing the proposed "subsidy" as "an unworthy subterfuge." It is to say the least, a piece of sharp practice, and probably most unbiassed judges would call it dishonest. Mr. Taft seems to be himself aware of the faultiness of his reasoning, for he adds another premiss which has nothing whatever to do with the conclusion, viz.: "We own the canal. It is our money that built it." But that does not justify a violation of a treaty.

The fact is that American shipping is so dead that the Government seems ready for any desperate device to bolster it up. President Taft should go to the root of the matter, and make ships and ship-materials free of import duty, as Germany has done.

WESTERN ONTARIO'S MAIL SERVICE.

The Toronto News, which has been pulling strings at Ottawa for the removal of the "Flying Post," says the Government has no right to subsidize morning newspapers at the expense of evening newspapers. What evening newspapers? Speaking for itself, the Advertiser has no complaint to make. The Woodstock Sentinel-Review, the Stratford Beacon, the St. Thomas Post" have protested against the efforts to deprive Western Ontario of its new mail facilities. Like The Advertiser, they are secure in their own field, and are not disturbed by fear of the competition of the morning dailies. They take the broad view that the interests of the people of Western Ontario of breakfast food," interpreted Joseph.

is absurdly untrue. Any benefits are shared with the Globe by the Toronto Mail and Empire and the Toronto World. Rivalry from that quarter concerns the evening newspapers of Western Ontario less than that of other eastern dailies which are sold for less than the cost of the white paper.

A promise to cancel the "Flying Post" was extorted from the Postmaster-General a few weeks after he had occasional reign to their sense of hu-taken office. Mr. Pelletier has since been made aware of the general demand in Western Ontario for the retention of the most amusing remarks that ever the train. A SNAP ELECTION. Premier McBride of British Colum-oia has decreed a provincial election on March 28.

The last election was in November 1909, so that the present Parliament will have lived little more than two years. What emergency justifies this premature dissolution? The Government has 38 supporters in a House of be preserved." 41. It went to the country in 1909 to ask indorsaton of the Premier's ailway policy. The policy is being carried out on the lines laid down, and there are no new developments calling or another appeal. The election is a surprise to the province. The British Columbia newspapers have conveyed no hint of it.

The most reasonable inference is that the Premier wishes to avoid the navy issue. The Conservatives of British Columbia fought the Laurier Government on the ground that its naval law gave inadequate protection ter yesterday." his followers cried for a complete fleet unit. The abandonment of the Canadian navy project would be a blow to A great boon will be conferred upon the party in British Columbia, and it is no doubt shrewd tactics on the part of Mr. McBride to forestall the surrender of the Borden Government to the Nationalists on this question. ### SKIN SUGGESTIONS

BY CYNTHIA GREY.

The natural skin is a beautiful piece of lace work, through the pores

Where torpidity of the skin exists the soft parts of the face become illed with secretions of dust or smoke, which form by neglect what are called liver spots or moth patches. These spots first appear slightly yellow and afterward darken until they become brown and are most disfiguring to any face.

I can understand why women who work hard neglect their faces at times from fatigue. But women who do not work hard have no excuse for any facial defects, as it really takes but a little time each day to keep the skin in perfect condition. All facial defects are caused by Cleanliness is the first and most important rule to be followed if anyone desires a perfect skin. The woman who prides herself on the fact that she never puts water or soap on her face admits that she is unclean. The flesh cannot be perfectly clean if it is not allowed to shed its outer cuticule Water to the skin is like water to the stomach, absolutely necessary to the health. Flushing the face with water-first warm, then cold-will draw out many impur-One-third of the facial sins are caused by neglecting the cuticule. The other two-thirds of the trouble come from within.

Neglect of the body's functions will cause stagnation. This sets its mark mmediately upon the face as a warning. If you do not observe this warning in the shape of yellow spots and eruptions and attend immediately to the inner machinery, getting it working regularly and clean, it will revenge itself upon you by placing disfiguring marks upon your face and then allowing them to darken and enlarge until you are unsigntly.

Remember: A beautiful skin is more than skin deep

MIDDLESEX BAR DINES

Chief Justice Falconbridge Guest of Honor, Responded to Toast to Bench.

Chief Justice Falconbridge, and Mr. MacGregor Young, K. C., crown prosecutor at the Middlesex spring assizes, were the guests of honor at the dinner of the Middlesex Bar, held last night in the Tecumseh House. Forty prominent members of the legal fraternity of the city were present. Mr. F. P. Betts, K. C., president of the association, was toastmaster, After the health of the King had been drunk, "The Bench" was proposed by Mr. Betts, and responded to by Chief Justice Falconbridge. He pointed out the high plane the English bar had attained. The standard was such as the bench of all nations should emulate. The bench in Canada had not yet attained so high a position, but the judges of Canada were doing their best to hold to the best traditions of the English judiciary. England owed its liberty to the bar and bench which had worked together for centuries to preserve the best in English life.

Criticizing the Bench. cir George Gibbons proposed the a bad position when the people lost faith in the judiciary. That gone, there was nothing left to hold the nation together. Sir George deprecated the criticisms of the bench in the United States, and declared that the symptoms did not augur well for the future of the bar there. British institutions were much better and the judiciary above reproach. Referring to the Bar of Middlesex, he spoke of the many good men, who had gone from London to fill the most responsible positions

Mr. Edmund Meredith, K. C., first responded to the toast, and in a witty speech spoke of the achievements of London barristers.

The Bar of Middlesex.

Mr. T. H. Purdom, K. C., dealt with the subject historically. There had been leaders of the bar, who had gone elsewhere to take most responsible positions in the judiciary and in other walks of life. He particularly paid tribute to Sir William Ralph Meredith, one of the early memters of the London bar, whose influence would be lasting on the law associations of Middlesex. They were indebted to him for the establishment of the Law Library here, and the law school, which formerly flourished in London. It was to be regretted that the school had been moved from London. Instead of students as in the old days, there were typewriters, and the change had done much to take away the social life of the association. Sir William Meredith, neved that the grant was due largely to Sir William's interest in London.

Speaking for the bench briefly, he thought that the salaries of the judges of Canada were much too small at the present time. The Legal Tariff.

Short speeches were also made connection with this toast. Mr. J. H. Flock, K. C. and Mr. M. D. Fraser, K. of the tariff for legal services should be made, as the present schedule was ery old now.

In the absence of Mr. J. M. McEvov Mr. U. A. Buchner proposed the toast to the "Junior Members of the Bar." Responses were made by Mr. F. E Perrin and Mr John M Gunn "Our Visitors," brought an eloquent response from Mr. MacGregor Young, C., Toronto, crown prosecutor. During the evening brief addresses were made by Mr. Hume B. Elliot, K. C., A. H. Marshall Graydon, and

Songs were rendered in excellent voice by Mr. W. A. McCutcheon and W. McIntosh. Mr. C. Wheeler acted as accompanist. Mr. C. G. Jarvis, by request, recited "Casey at the Bat" and also "Casey's Revenge.'

Those present at the banquet were Messrs. F. P. Betts, K. C., Chief Justice Falconbridge, MacGregor Young, C., Toronto; Sir George Gibbons, T. H. Purdom, K. C., Edmund Meredith, K. C., Hume B. ### WINTER HAS DONE ITS WORST WANT STREET RAILWAY

All Railway Lines Are Open Now and the Officials Are Very Optimistic.

TRAINS ARE ON TIME

6t. Marys Branch, the Last Line "Plugged," Is Again Doing Business In the Same Old Way.

All the railways running out of London are opened up, and the officials of the various companies are hopeful that the lines have been blocked for the last time this winter. This morning the Pere Marquette and Michigan Central trains went out practically on time, while the traction company's lines are clear, and cars are working on regular schedule. The Huron and Bruce is open also, and the Grand Trunk is running a regular service on the St. Marvs

The trains on the main lines of the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. are running more closely to scheduled time than for weeks.

The St. Marys branch was opened up last night, the morning train arriving at 6:30 o'clock, after a long battle with the snow near St. Marys The road was blocked before that time, but Monday morning a fierce blizzard again plugged it. By persistent effort a train was at last got through. The rain during the after noon and night melted away large quantities of snow, and enabled the trainmen to get it properly opened.

On the Pere Marquette Line. The Pere Marquette was practically in the same position. For four days the line was blocked, it being impossible to run trains through. Monday morning both the M. C. R and Pere Marquette sent their regulars over, but the storm again tied of traffic. It was an all day's fight, but at night the snow had been cleared off the tracks. Today there is no obstruction, and all the trains are running on scheduled time.

The London and Lake Erie had some trouble, but as soon as the rain started to fall they had the better of the storm king, and maintained regular time table late in the afternoon and evening.

Today the trainmen are jubilant and declare that they will have no difficulty from this time on. "We are past the worst now," said one official. "We will have one or two stormy days, no doubt, but I do not think there will be any further obstructions to traffic."

The Case of Harold P. Bushy

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing, cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the medicine-I could feel its soothing, by taking Ferrozone at meals. #### INGERSOLL CASE AROUSES INTEREST

With Charge Laid Under Liquor License Act.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, Feb. 7.-A case that is remarkable in several respects will be heard in the police court next Monday at 10 o'clock. It was instituted under the liquor license act, the defendant being William Kirwin, for a number of years proprietor of the Kirwin House. He is charged with selling liquor without a license.

There are complications of a very unusual nature. About a year ago the license for the hotel was transferred to Patrick Walsh. Recently Walsh left town, and an application was made to have the license transferred to J. Monohan, jun., which, however, the commissioners did not do. Mr. Kirwin then assumed charge of

REAWAKENING OF WESTERN ONTARIO THE FINEST LAND FOR YOUNG MEN

Last year hundreds of young men left the farms of Ontario for the wheat fields of the west. Hundreds more will go this year. And when the vast stretches of Northern Ontario are opened up for settlement another army of farmer boys will pitch their tents for

"Far hills look green." Thousands upon thousands of dollars have been spent in advertising the wheat lands of the west. Thousands will be spent to attract immigration to the great northern clay belt.

Within the next few days The Advertiser will place before the people of Western Ontario some idea of the opportunities which lie at their very doors. Here, in the old home province, surrounded by all the comforts of civilization, are thousands of acres of land, rich beyond the wildest dreams of western real estate agents, awaiting only the touch of intelligent cultivation to bring forth agricultural wealth in such profusion as has never before

This is not a dream of a theorist, but a fact based upon results already achieved in Western Ontario during the last six years. And so far the fringe of this region's possibilities has scarcely been touched.

A representative of The Advertiser has been visiting this wonderful land, and will tell of its needs and its opportunities. He will try to show the chance it offers, not only to the farmer, but to the city man with a few thousand dollars who dreams of "ten acres and liberty." He will give concrete examples of what has been done and what is doing, names, dates and places. He will tell how the border land of Canada has been made to blossom like the proverbial rose.

The Advertiser invites correspondence from people interested in the opportunities set forth in these articles. It will give publicity to the views of those already on the ground as to the needs of the country. It appeals to its readers to take up the "Stay in Ontario" slogan and help with their ideas and practical experiences in giving publicity to the unparalleled advantages of the

All the world has heard the story of the development of Canada's West. The call of the wheat lands of Alberta has been heard not only throughout Canada's older provinces, but through. out the length and breadth of the civlized world. The wonderful work of converting trackless prairie wastes into the most productive grain lands ever of Christendom.

But not all the opportunities are found on the golden plains of Alberta and Saskatchewan. While the eyes of Ontario, like those of the rest of the world, have been turned westward, there has begun within her own borders a movement as mighty in its way as that which has made the bleak, wind-swept prairies the granary of the world, and raised imperial cities where a few years ago were only muskegs. In a word. Ontario is beginning to discover its own "last great west."

Its development is a direct result of the opening up of the greater West, and promises to be no less wonderful

Six Years Since "Discovery." The discovery of Ontario's west dates from about six years ago, when the ancient counties of Essex, Kent and Lambton began to awake to a new lease of life, when their inhabitants long discouraged by lack of markets for the produce of their farms, and used to tilling the soil by methods handed down from the earliest settler, began to appreciate the possibilities of prices are being paid to farmers by To-conto merchants for cleaned seeds: Red western Ontario and began slowly to wealth beside which the treasures of even the nearby famous oil fields

Lambton County, in common with the other counties of Western Ontario, is experiencing a wonderful agricultural revolution. Last year $40,000 worth known has compelled the admiration of fruit and vegetables were shipped out, one instance of which appears in this illustration, wherea; two years before it was necessary to import the same goods for home consumption. Americans have been attracted by the cheap land. Expert instruction has counted for much. Last year 75,000 fruit trees were planted. This year 250,000 more will be put in the ground. The Advertiser will relate the experiences of other counties in the district, in the hope that young men will come to know that the greatest of all opportunities are waiting at their very doors.

Chief Justice Falconbridge this norning at the assizes dismissed the EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETING action of A. J. Kernohan, who sued the firm of Meredith & Fisher in connection with a certain business deal in which Mr. T. G. Meredith, K.C., had acted for him. The plaintiff claimed that he was unables to secure any counsel to handle his case, and was, therefore, before the court to plead his cause in interest. The attendance numbered person. His ignorance of the rules of the court made it impossible for him to proceed with any degree of ease in the examination of witnesses, and when he attempted to question Mr. Meredith he found himself practicalv helpless. It seems that Kernohan gave a note for several hundreds of dollars to the London Pant and Overall Company, and this was placed with the Dominion Bank. The bank brought action to recover the amount of the note, and in court a settlement was arranged by Mr. Meredith for Mr. Kernohan, and Sir George Gibbons for the bank. Mr. Meredith was authorized to pay over to the bank the sum of $900, and this was ratified by the court. Later, however, Kernohan decided not to pay the money and instructed Mr. Meredith accordingly, but the decision of the court ould not be overruled.

However, Mr. Meredith took the only ourse possible for him, and redeemed the sharp points of the pickets. Dr. after to any person. The judge repeat-Fenian Raid Veteran Passed Petrolea Dismissal Shows RuthMan Accused of Stealing Gold Mr. Avey, of Avey & Jones, Arthur loss Methods of Borden May Now Be In Jail Till who prepared the case.

Standing eight to four for his acquittal, and neither side willing to give in to the other, the jury sent out Monday afternoon to decide the case of Augustus Grau, charged with stealing a quantity of gold from his employers, Avey & Jones, manufacturing jewelers. of this city, returned an hour and If Grau is unable to obtain bail it s possible that he will now be compelled to remain in jail until June next when the next jury sessions will be held here. Having once gone for trial before a jury he cannot re-elect trial by a judge alone. The Evidence.

The evidence of a number of witnesses was taken yesterday by the prosecution testimony being given by Miss Caroline Stanton, a public stenegrapher, who wrote the correspondence which Grau directed to J. E. Wilkinson, f Toronto, to whom he sold the gold: Clerk Luker, of the Grigg House, which hotel the prisoner received his correspondence; J. E. Wilkinson, a Tironto wholesale merchant; Thomas H. prisone

Prisoner Testifies.
The testimony of the prisoner himself was alone taken for the defence. He claimed that two years ago he was in business as a manufacturing jeweler, being president of a company. This organization made an assignment, and Grau purchased it at the sale conducted by the assignee. He then resumed business, but some months later sold out the plant and the manufactured stock, taking with him about $500 worth of ingots, scrap gold and filings. These, he claims, he has carried about with him ever since in the hope that he would be able to go into business for himself again.

Sold His Stock.

However, as he was only paid from $5 to $10 during the three weeks he was at Avey & Jones, he claims that ne was compelled to sell some of his stock to live. In order to make his bars of gold more easily handled, he passed them through the rollers of a mill at Avey & Jones, and thus it came about that the stuff which he endeavored to sell in Toronto was marked with a flaw on one of the Avey &

Jones rollers. The story was apparently not taken by Chief Justice Falconbridge, for he charged the jury strongly against the

Thirty Seven Claimants for Cash of Toronto Blacksmith. [Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Feb. 27. - Master-in-Ordinary Alcorn, at Osgoode Hall, has been investigating an interesting case, that of the intestate Felix Corr, blacksmith and wagonmaker, who died at No. 357 Queen street west, in May, 1910. He iled in squalor, but a search of his premises revealed several thousand dollars. Thirty-seven claimants came forward to share in the estate, and the master-in-ordinary is passing upon their claims. After directing the solicitors' engaged in the matter to search the census records at Ottawa to see if any information can be discovered there as to the place of the dead man's origin and the date of his birth, the inquiry was adjourned. So far as is known he had no church record in Toronto, and no the outside to the jall at the rear. He no military corps.

MUTUAL CONCESSIONS TO PREVENT STRIKE

An Early Settlement of English Coal Trade Dispute Seems Assured.

[Canadian Press.] London, Feb. 27 .- An early settlenent of the dispute in the coal trade which has threatened to throw neary a million miners out of employment on March 1, is apparently more than probable, although it cannot yet be definitely announced.

The executive committee of the niners' federation has agreed to meet the representatives of the owners, together with some members of the Government and representatives of the board of trade, at the Premier's official residence in Downing street this afternoon. This meeting of the disputants with the mediators in an effort to smooth away the rough places is confidently regarded as foreshadowing the avoidance of what promised to be the greatest industrial struggle of modern times in this country. This clearing of the atmosphere followed a conference between Premier Asquith and some of his colleagues with the members of the executive committee of the miners' ederation, 160 of whom discussed the situation with the premier for neary two hours this morning. Mutual concessions are to form the basis of the expected settlement of

AN ARTISTIC RECITAL

Programme Rendered by Pupils of Mr. Charles E. Wheeler.

A large and appreciative audience atended the recital given in Heintzman Hall on Monday night by the pupils of Mr. Charles E. Wheeler. "The Norwegian Bridal Procession," by Greig, arranged for two pianos, was admirably presented by Misses Marjorie Ross, Ruth Young, Nena Watson and Jessie Mitchell. Miss Edna Ramsay, of Mount Brydges, played Mozart's "Concerto in D Minor" with rare inderstanding and technique. Chopin's 'Nocturne" was artistically given by Miss Marjorie Ross. Beethoven's "Sonata," by Miss Vera Lochead and his "Concerto in D Major," by Miss Blanche Munroe, were both excellently rendered. Two pretty numbers. Forsyth's "Nocturne" Herbert's "Mountain Brook," were given by Miss Ruth Young. Miss Munroe also contributed Liszt's "Rhapsodie Hongroise" extremely well. Miss Ramsay gave evidence of especial musical ability in "The Witches' Dance" of Paganini numbers by Miss Libbie Smith, "The Valley of Laughter" and "Rejoice with Me, O Sea," were greatly appreciated by all. The orchestra parts to the concertos were played by Miss Munroe and Mr. Wheeler. These recitals will be given from time
