CRISIS MAY BE PRECIPITATED IN WEST AS RESULT OF UNION GOVT'S DELAY IN ANNOUNCING ITS POLICY OF IMMIGRATION

Veterans in Prairie Provinces Indignant Because Dilatory Methods at Ottawa Have Resulted in Heavy Influx of Mennonites—37,000 of These People Have Come to Canada in Last Six Months.

Regina, March 28.—Indignation over the delay of the Union Government in announcing its immigration policy is bringing on a crisis that may lead to serious results from the three prairie provinces, according to statements given out by the Great War Veterans' Association officials here yesterday.

The wrath of the veterans is centered on the alleged tremendous influx of Mennonites and what they term the dilatory methods of the minister of immigration in dealing with the situation.

Veterans stated yesterday they had an unofficial estimate that 37,000 Mennonites have sought sanctuary in Canada during the six months.

'ERCOME MESSENGER

Express Car Uncoupled and Taken Mile From Rest of Train.

Marion, Ark., March 28.—Two masked bandits last night held up a St. Louis and San Francisco passenger train near Bridge Junction and escaped with about $6,000 in currency, taken from the express car. When the engineer warned the robbers he was due to pass another passenger train at the junction, he said they told him they had sent a man ahead to flag that train to prevent a

The bandits, the engine crew asserted, climbed over the tender and forced the engineer to give up his throttle. Bringing the train to a stop, they uncoupled the train behind the mail and express cars and ran them ahead about half a mile. They confronted the express messenger, compelling him to surrender the money. The robbers then left the train and the crew brought it back to Marion. No trace of the bandits has as yet been found, according to reports received here.

Quarantine Against Influenza Ordered On Alaskan Coast

Travelers Must Submit To Five Days Detention at Skagway.

Dawson, Y. T., March 28.—Quarantine because of influenza against Skagway and all ports south of Skagway or elsewhere on the Alaskan coast has been established by Governor Riggs of Alaska, according to advices received today by Governor Mackenzie of Yukon Territory. No one will be allowed to leave Skagway southbound until after five days' detention in quarantine at their own expense, Governor Riggs' message said. The Yukon still enforces a quarantine against persons coming into the interior from Skagway.

GERMAN OFFICERS' WIVES HELPED IN PILLAGING FRANCE

Report of Commission Tells of Systematic Destruction of Huns.

Paris, March 28.—The Senate considered yesterday the report of a commission which was sent to investigate conditions in portions of France which were occupied by the Germans during the war. M. Reynald, reporting for the commission, said that the Germans methodically destroyed property, and that many German officers brought their wives to the occupied regions to help them carry away goods taken from French homes.

Describing the systematic pillage of St. Quentin and Rheims, M. Reynald said: "The Germans did not understand the soul of France, and did not realize that by their methods they but strengthened our resistance."

Examples of German atrocities against the people of Northern and Eastern France, and instances of wanton destruction, were cited by the speaker, who introduced a resolution asking the Senate to take action on the commission's report.

6,000 BELGIAN CIVILIANS DIED RESULT OF HUN ILL-TREATMENT

Brussels, March 28.—Six thousand Belgian civilians died during the war as the result of German ill-treatment, according to an official report made in the Chamber of Deputies Thursday during a debate on the reparation due civilian victims of the war. Seven thousand children were made orphans, and 125,000 men were deported from Belgium by the Germans.

The indemnity which can be claimed from Germany by Belgium on this account is estimated at 900,000,000 francs. The minister of economic affairs declared that all damages will be fully indemnified by the Germans.

SASKATCHEWAN PREMIER CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE TARIFF REVISION

Hon. W. M. Martin, in Address Calls For Reduction in the Present Tariff Before Industries Are Re-established — Urges Voters To "Watch the Tariff and Watch the Franchise."

Saskatoon, Sask., March 28.—Hon. W. M. Martin, premier of Saskatchewan, in an address delivered last evening at Tisdale, insisted that there should be an immediate revision of the tariff, and a substantial reduction, as now is the very time when a revision should take place, before industries are re-established on the basis of the present tariff. He urged his hearers to keep close watch on the western representatives at Ottawa, and to "watch the tariff and watch the franchise." In Western Canada, he said, there is only one opinion on the tariff question that the people demand a substantial reduction in the tariff, and especially on all articles used in connection with the production of grain, and on the necessities of life.

CONCILIATION BOARD RECOMMENDS NINE HOUR WORKING DAY

Report Is Made On Stratford Furniture Manufacturers and Employees Dispute.

COUNCIL RECOMMENDED

The Entire Industry, Involving 11,000 Workers, May Adopt Plan.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, March 28.—An Ottawa dispatch says the board of conciliation, which today reported to the minister of labor on the dispute between the furniture manufacturers of Stratford and their employees, recommends a day of nine hours, 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., except on Saturday, when the hours shall be from 7 a.m. to noon, and time and a half for overtime, and 54 instead of 59 hours to constitute a week's work.

Concluding the report, the arbitrators say points agreed upon by Stratford manufacturers and their employees are likely to become effective throughout the entire industry on May 1, which will affect approximately 11,000 employees. The board recommends an industrial council, such as Whitely council in Great Britain, be instituted by the Government, with the consent of the furniture manufacturers of Canada and the labor unions representing the employees to discuss, and if possible settle, all disputes or differences.

The furniture manufacturers of Ontario has passed resolutions favoring conditions as embodied in the Stratford report, but the manufacturers of Quebec were not unanimous and declined to commit themselves.

BRITISH SOCIALISTS URGE EARLY PEACE TO STOP BOLSHEVISM

Special Campaign Against the Bolshevik Teachings To Be Waged.

London, March 28.—At a meeting of the executive body of the National Socialist Party and the Socialist members of parliament yesterday, a resolution was unanimously adopted urging the completion of a preliminary peace at the earliest possible moment, "in view of the chaos and anarchy developing throughout Europe as a consequence of the delay in fixing the terms of peace."

At the same meeting arrangements were made for carrying on special propaganda throughout the country, especially in the industrial centres, with a view, it was stated, to exposing the dangers and fallacies of Bolshevism. A series of meetings will be held, which will be addressed by leading Socialists, including Henry M. Hyndman, the Socialist party leader, and Will Thorne.

Europe Bought More Than Two Billions of Goods from U. S.

Report of Bureau of Foreign Commerce Shows Heavy Trade.

Washington, March 28.—A report by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce today shows that Europe ranked first among customers of the United States, taking $2,717,795,082 worth of goods in the first eight months of the fiscal year. Exports to other grand divisions included $888,037,063 to North America, mostly to Canada, for shipment to England.

Details of imports into this country showed $302,401 received this fiscal year from Germany and $97,766 from Austria-Hungary.

SIR THOMAS WHITE'S PREMIERSHIP HOPES RECEIVE DEATH BLOW

Borden Announcement "Rings Down Curtain" On Minister's Fondest Hopes.

DEEPLY DISAPPOINTED

Acting Premier Reads Sir Robert's Message to House.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 28.—Sir Thomas White was forced yesterday to toll the death knell of his fond ambitions. Since the present session commenced Sir Thomas has been grooming himself, and being groomed for the position of premier, and as the days went by and the premier did not come, it began to be taken as a matter of course that he was to step out and let his younger colleague step up. But yesterday there came a rude shock, curtly the premier denied the rumor that he had his eye upon the ambassadorship at Washington. Curtly he declared that "it is my intention to return to Canada and resume my duties as prime minister as soon as the work of the peace conference will permit."

Read To Parliament.

Sir Thomas had to read the message to the House, and there was little enthusiasm in his voice when he did so. The impression gained from the message here is that the reports which the premier has been receiving regarding the progress of his young colleague have been disquieting to him. The acting premier has been coquetting with the western farmers and has been making promises. This fact has no doubt been brought to the premier's attention by his high protectionist Canadian friends in London, and it is believed here that Sir Robert will be back before the budget is delivered.

Fears an Election.

Cabinet reconstruction was on the table before Sir Robert left, but the negotiations ended up in a row, in the course of which hot words were uttered, and a crisis was narrowly averted. The negotiations will likely be resumed on his return. But the difficulty is that there is at present no machinery for the holding of by-elections, and even if there was the Government has considerable apprehension as to whether its men could be elected. It has already been forced for that very reason to take from the Senate no less than three ministers.

BOLSHEVIKI ASK U. S. TO RECOGNIZE THEIR GOVERNMENT

Paris, March 28.—A rumor was current last night that the United States had received a note from Premier Lenine and War Minister Trotzky of the Russian Soviet Government, asking recognition for that government, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris today. M. Hutin adds that he "cannot say that President Wilson is disinclined to give the request favorable consideration."

DRINK AND RUSSIANS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR RHYL DISORDERS

Evidence to That Effect Submitted at Coroner's Inquest.

RIOTS ARE DESCRIBED

Where the Men Got Ball Ammunition Is a Mystery.

Rhyl, Wales, March 28.—Evidence that drink was an aggravating cause in the Kinmel Park rioting of March 5, when five Canadian soldiers were killed, was submitted today at the coroner's inquest by Major Collier. Another witness, Captain Scott, stated that the Russian element in the camp was responsible for the rioting as well as the drink. Testimony from soldiers who saw rioters firing ball cartridges, and from officers who swore that no order was given the men opposing the rioters to use ball ammunition or their bayonets, was also taken.

At the opening of the inquest, the coroner asked Major Collier if he had found anyone who could pick out a rioter who had actually fired. Major Collier said that Sergt. Roberts, who was in court, saw a rioter go down on one knee and take deliberate aim and fire in the direction of Pte. Gillon, who was one of the men killed. The witness said that there were 50 or 60 men among the rioters whom he would describe as ringleaders. All those concerned in the disturbance were now, he believed, in captivity.

In reply to a juryman, who asked if the witness attributed the rioting to drink, Major Collier remarked that he did to a very large extent. It was an aggravating cause.

Lieut. E. W. Wilde was with Pte. Gillon when the latter was shot. He said that when they realized that the attacking party were using ball ammunition, some of the defenders procured ammunition from some place or other and returned fire.

Not Ordered to Fire.

The coroner asked if the men were ordered to fire, and the lieutenant answered in the negative. He said they were not issued ammunition. He had no idea where the men got it from unless they brought it over themselves. Capt. Scott spoke of seeing several rioters taking deliberate aim, and added that after they started firing he used ball ammunition. Some of the defending party returned the fire of the rioters. Two of the captured rioters were intoxicated, and each had a bottle of whiskey. A few hours prior to the riot, hearing rumors of the threatened attack, the commanding officer of camp 19 held a parade and warned the men against using ball ammunition. The witness did not see any in the defenders' party using bayonets. No orders were given to the men to fire. The witness added that it was not drink entirely, but more the Russian element that caused the riot.

Sergt. Rogers, Canadian Engineers, gave evidence that the rioters had twice been repulsed before any firing took place. Then he saw one rioter fire. He could not say whether or not it was this shot that killed Gillon. Other rioters came forward with revolvers and started firing, and he did not think it was safe to stick around. He thought he could recognize the man who fired just before Gillon fell.

ASSUMES NEW NAME

St. Louis, March 28.—The National American Women Suffrage Association will become the League of Women Voters following the national convention of the association in 1920, the new name having been selected last night in the jubilee convention, in session here. It is assumed by the association that the federal amendment will have been passed by that time.

A rearrangement of the program is expected to complete all convention work by Saturday noon. Saturday morning will be devoted to election of officers for the league of women voters.

Parliament Having Refused to Sanction Daylight Saving, Govt. May Try to Compel Railways to Adhere to Standard Time

Representatives of Rural Districts May Insist On Such Action Being Tried—Minister of Railways Is Now Considering the Question—Ottawa City Council Will Call a Special Meeting For Purpose of Reintroducing Daylight Saving Time.

Ottawa, March 28.—Possible developments arising out of the refusal of Parliament to sanction daylight saving, and the apparent determination of the railways to make their timetables conform to those of the United States when the scheme comes into effect in that country, are being discussed in the corridors of Parliament today. It was pointed out during the course of the debate last night by A. E. Fripp, Ottawa, that if the railways conform to the American time the situation would be much the same as it was last year for the farmers, and that they will be handed a "lemon." The representatives of rural constituencies in the House will be disposed to insist on the Government compelling the railways to stick to standard time.

When questioned in regard to this aspect of the matter in the House last night, Hon. J. D. Reid said that he had not considered the matter and would not cross the bridge until he came to it. The question naturally arises as to what action the Government can take to compel the railways to keep in line with the opinion expressed by Parliament short of the passing of an act of Parliament. It is understood that the matter is being considered today by the minister of railways.

The question incidentally arises as to what Parliament will do in the event of Ottawa adopting daylight saving. Complications will ensue for members if the House sticks to standard time and the city clocks are advanced an hour. While Parliament may exercise its undoubted power over the railways, there would be no attempt to interfere with Ottawa's municipal rights, and it is quite possible that April may see the business of the House building conducted by standard time with the city clocks an hour ahead. It is held by some legal authorities that Ottawa municipality has authority over civil service time. If this is so, the service would conform to city time, no matter what Parliament does.

RAILWAYS WILL ADVANCE TIME TABLES IF GOVERNMENT ACTS

Montreal, March 28.—The executive committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association considered daylight saving yesterday. No report of the meeting was handed to the press, but it is understood that it was strongly in favor of the reintroduction of the scheme.

A meeting of all the important business organizations in Montreal will be held at the city hall this afternoon, when the administrative commission will be urged to pass a municipal bylaw introducing daylight saving to Montreal.

Should the Government decide not to permit the railways of Canada to adopt the daylight saving, railway officials pointed out today, it will in any case be necessary for the railway companies to set their timetables ahead one hour. They must make connection with the United States lines at the border, and even if it is not technically known as daylight saving, it will be necessary that timetables be advanced one hour.

SUMMER TIME IS LIKELY TO BE ADOPTED BY MAJORITY OF PLACES

Ottawa, March 28.—Defeat of the daylight saving resolution in the House last night ends the possibility of a Government bill to re-enact summer time this year. But, although clocks will not be advanced by federal statute, the decision of the railways to adopt summer time will have the effect of virtually putting it into effect, as it is regarded as probable that most municipalities will put on their clocks to avoid confusion.

OTTAWA CITIZENS FAVOR DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME, WANT IT AGAIN

Ottawa, March 28.—It is probable that a special meeting of the Ottawa city council will be called tomorrow to discuss the question of municipal daylight saving. Notice of a motion to enact it has already been given by Ald. McKinley.

The impression here if that if presented to the council (which would not ordinarily meet for another fortnight), daylight saving will be adopted by the city, and will become effective on April 1.

Last year's experiment was particularly satisfactory to the capital, and civil servants particularly were benefited by it.

Should it pass, then, Parliament, which yesterday voted against a federal measure, will be placed in the anomalous position of being forced to accept the time which they rejected, or going without their meals.

LENINE URGES HUNGARIANS TO MARCH AGAINST VIENNA

Promises To Advance Huge Amount of Money To Help Finance the Project.

London, March 28.—Premier Lenine has sent a wireless message to the Hungarian Government urging it to send an army against Vienna, according to a Budapest dispatch received in Berlin and forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph Company. Lenine promised to advance 100,000,000 kronen to finance the project.

FAILED TO EXPLODE.

Halifax, March 28.—When a shack of the Halifax shipyards containing a quantity of dynamite caught fire yesterday, the residents of the great explosion, left their homes and made for the open spaces of the neighborhood. The shack was burned to the ground and the dynamite destroyed, but there was no explosion.

ALLOWED TEMPORARY LIBERTY.

Paris, March 28.—Paul Comby, a lawyer, who for the past year has been under arrest charged with complicity in the Cailliaux and Bolo Pasha cases, has been allowed to leave the prison temporarily, because his health was found to be breaking down under close confinement.

L IS URGED PROVIDE MONEY FOR NEW SCHOOLS

School Trustees Point Out Necessity For Increased Accommodation.

TAX RATE STAYS HIGH

Council Failed in Effort to Cut Down Rate of 34 Mills.

After another night's wrestling with the estimates the city council has not succeeded in lowering the tax rate below the 34-mill rate. Besides considering the estimates at the meeting last night the council heard a delegation from the board of education in reference to the proposed debenture issue, F. Soper also addressed the council in support of the request of the residents of Lambeth for aid for the motor bus service, and a deputation from the C. O. F. was heard in reference to a grant from the city towards a celebration this summer at the Foresters' convention which will be held here.

The school question was referred to No. 1 committee. The two grants were approved, $200 to Foresters and $500 to bus line.

In considering the estimates, the salaries of the employees of the assessment department were boosted by $200 a year. The temporary assessors were on motion of Aldermen W. A. Wilson and C. G. Moorhead, given a salary of $90 a month instead of the $100 which Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant had recommended. The temporary clerks were raised from $18 a week to $20 a week. The temporary assessors have been paid $85 a month.

Oppose Increases.

Ald. John Colbert made a motion, which did not have a seconder, to the effect that Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant and Assessor M. O'Sullivan be not given increases in salary. "I think the assessor's department is one that gives the city poor service. It needs a cleaning out," said the alderman, "if we expect our city to grow to the 100,000 mark. Since coming on the council I find that the school board has been employing a man at $100 a month to check up the work of these men, and I think that they should not be given any increases."

"To show you what the department is I will give you an instance which came under my own notice. A man of wealth came to the department and asked to have his assessment decreased. It was granted. I asked Mr. Grant why he had allowed the decrease, and after pressing for an answer the commissioner said, 'Because he is a good fellow.'"

Ald. Colbert thought this a peculiar reason for lowering a man's assessment. "If the poor man wants his assessment adjusted he is compelled to go before the court of revision," said he.

On the vote being taken, the council decided to grant $200 yearly increases to the assessment commissioner and the assessor, as well as the others.

Advocates Star Chamber.

Ald. O. J. Cunningham thought that the whole question of salaries in the city hall should be thoroughly discussed in camera, and he intimated that he would advocate this if he is on the council next year.

While No. 1 committee placed $400 in the estimates for increases for Chief J. Aitken and Assistant Chief George Scott, of the fire department, apparently with the intention that each should receive half, the council last night gave $300 to the assistant and $100 to the chief. This makes the present salaries $2,100 and $2,500, respectively.

The salary of James Dean, weigh scales clerk, was boosted from $1,100, which had been fixed by No. 1 committee to $1,200.

Twelve dollars a week was the wage fixed for the three caretakers of the market comfort station. The former wage was $10.50 a week.

The G. T. R. asked the council to take some action toward securing daylight saving time for the city. This was referred to No. 1 committee.

Want School Debentures.

There was a large delegation present from the board of education to support the request for a debenture issue of $155,000 for the purpose of increasing the school accommodation.

Chairman J. S. Barnard called attention to the fact that the board is now under censure of the sanitary inspector on account of the lack of sanitary accommodation at Colborne Street South School. It would cost from $1,500 to $2,500 to correct this, and he thought that the board might better build the new school there now. This section is entitled to proper school accommodation as well as the avenues, according to Mr. Barnard. "There are other things badly needed in the city, but nothing at the present time is as necessary as more school accommodation," said he.

Mrs. David William pointed out that children are the city's greatest asset, and she thought that the additions which the board proposes are quite as necessary as the new medical school. "It behooves every citizen to give the children all possible chances in the line of education," she stated. In reference to the commercial school, we are between the devil and the deep sea. If we cannot increase the accommodation the Government will come back at us and possibly refuse the grant.

Would Provide Work.

A. A. Langford pointed out that in addition to the evident need of the schools, the fact that the program would provide work for returned men should be considered by the aldermen.

W. N. Manning, calling attention to the fact that London stood well in the lead as regards primary education, warned the council that if the proposed work were held up this year it would be to the everlasting loss of the children of London.

H. Hayman also supported the request, on the grounds of necessity and the providing of work.

Edwin Smith pointed out that in the section north of the C. P. R. and east of Colborne street there was no school accommodation at all.

Mayor A. T. Edwards also addressed the council, urging that the aldermen give the request favorable consideration.

Spent on Schools.

Ald. E. R. Seabrook pointed out that since 1913 the council had issued $840,000 of debentures for school purposes. He thought that the city was building types of schools beyond its means.

Ald. Wilson, after paying flowery compliments to the deputation, especially the lady members, said that he could not see his way clear to vote for the issue of the debentures.

A. A. Langford cautioned that, in the event of a fire taking place at the commercial school while two classes are being held in the attic, as they are, the results might be disastrous. He queried where the blame should be attached.

Mayor C. R. Somerville pointed out that the question could not be definitely settled there, and it was referred to No. 1 committee.

The estimates for the fire department, amounting to $110,808.12, which includes the two platoon system, were finally approved.

MEN FROM OLYMPIC COMING IN MORNING

Party of 323 Expected Here at 8 o'Clock.

EN ROUTE TO LONDON.
323 men from Olympic.
217 from Minnekhada.
Canada, due April 3.
Scotian, due April 4.

CROSSING ATLANTIC.
Regina, due March 31.
Empress of Britain, due April 1.
Canada, due April 3.
Scotian, due April 4.

Eight officers and 315 men from the Olympic for dispersal in London are expected to reach here at 8 o'clock on Saturday, as the troop train on which they left Halifax was reported at Campbellton, N. B., at noon yesterday.

The train will be switched over from the Grand Trunk to the C. P. R. east of the city, and the men will detrain at Quebec street station and march from there to the dispersal station at Tecumseh Barracks. Lieut.-Col. G. W. Nelson, O. C., the district depot, expects that the whole party will be dispersed within two hours at the most.

HUNGARIAN OFFICIALS AT GERMAN-AUSTRIAN NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

Hopes for Continuance of Amicable Relations Between Two Peoples.

Copenhagen, March 28.—Emissaries of the Hungarian revolutionary governing council handed their credentials to the president of the German Austrian national assembly at Vienna yesterday, according to a Budapest dispatch received here. Hopes for continuance of amicable relations between Hungary and German Austria were mutually expressed, it is said. The Hungarian delegates also visited the chancellor and the ministers of war and finance at Vienna.

The dispatch states that the revolutionary government has ordered Entente flags hoisted on the hotel where the Entente missions have been stopping, and that posters will soon be issued warning the people to respect all foreigners in Budapest.

GERMAN SECURITIES FOR FOOD PAYMENTS WILL BE EXAMINED

Delegation of Enemy Finances Expected to Reach Paris Soon.

Paris, March 28.—The German delegation of financiers, now at Spa, is expected to arrive soon in Paris on invitation from the supreme council, to consider questions relative to the securities Germany has to offer in payment for food. Germany has increased her deposit of gold at Brussels as a partial payment for relief supplies, and the first cargoes are expected to arrive at Hamburg tomorrow. Neutrals have also been invited to send financial representatives to confer with delegates to the peace conference regarding German securities held in their countries, which might be applied to payments for food. It is understood that an agreement was reached at Brussels on March 14 by which Germany will be permitted to export certain classes of goods in order to pay for food supplies, and that this agreement now becomes effective.

TO RELIEVE CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this

C. OF C. MEMBERS APPROVE PRESENT POSTOFFICE SITE

Hume Cronyn, M. P., Told of Referendum Result.

In view of the fact that announcement has been made in the press that the Government will proceed this year with the erection of the new postoffice, the directors of the London Chamber of Commerce and of a large percentage of the members on the question has been ascertained.

Favors Present Site.

A referendum vote on the question of the site received to date strongly favors the present site, and immediate action, thus indorsing the opinion of the directors that all possible work should be afforded as soon as possible to avoid unemployment in this demobilization centre. The following are copies of telegrams exchanged between the Chamber of Commerce and Major Hume Cronyn, M.P.:

The Query.

London, March 21, 1919.
Major Hume Cronyn, M.P.,
House of Commons, Ottawa.

Unconfirmed rumor here says no start will be made on postoffice this year. Is there anything we can do to expedite matters? As demobilization centre we will find great difficulty in avoiding unemployment.
Gordon Philip.

The Answer.

Ottawa, March 24, 1919.
Gordon Philip, Chamber of Commerce, London:

No provision in main estimates for new postoffice. Will be considered for supplementary estimates. It is thought opinion in London divided on question of location. Has the Chamber of Commerce reached any definite decision on this point.
H. Cronyn.

The Explanation.

London, March 26, 1919.
Major Hume Cronyn, M.P.,
Parliament Buildings, Ottawa.

Yours 24 postoffice. Directors strongly favor building on present site. Referendum to all members today. Result Monday. Citizens generally believe present site already decided, and consider city hall situation a different and local affair.
Gordon Philip, Secretary.

LOCAL NEWS

GETS THREE-DAY ENGAGEMENT.—The Henderson Juvenile Pipe Band has been engaged for a three-day celebration to be held at Arthur, Ont., August 4, 5 and 6, the occasion being an old boys' reunion.

MEETING TONIGHT.—In "What's Doing Tonight," published in Thursday evening's paper, the labor mass meeting was included by mistake. The meeting is tonight, and a large attendance is expected.

ADDRESS ON "MUSIC."—The Lord Roberts Mothers' Club received a treat last evening when Rev. G. Q. Warner delivered an address on "Music" before a large audience assembled at the school. A cello solo by him also added greatly to the program, as well as a vocal solo by Miss Minnie Fox with cello obligato. Miss Raymond was at the piano. A reading by Miss Sibyl Higman completed the program. It was announced at this meeting that the concert given a short time ago by the club had been very successful financially, and $25 was turned over to the Child Welfare Association. Mrs. Eberhart, president, was in the chair.

POSTPONED DECISION

Montreal Stock Exchange Members Discuss War Loan Commission Question.

Montreal, March 28.—Members of the local stock exchange met at the close of the market yesterday to act upon the much-discussed war loan commission question, but after a discussion lasting half an hour or more, decided to postpone a decision for the present, a month's adjournment being taken.

Lack of unanimity disclosed itself at the meeting, and discussion became somewhat involved, owing to the fact that the exponents of the idea of reducing the commission rate on war loan transactions to one-eighth instead of one-quarter, so far as the bond houses were concerned, had their arguments mixed through a supplementary proposal to reduce the rate to one-eighth on all business involving dealings in $10,000 and over.

HOMES OF LAWRENCE TEXTILE WORKERS ARE AGAIN ATTACKED

State Police Are Called to Investigate Recent Disorders.

Lawrence, Mass., March 28.—Homes of workers in the textile mills were again attacked last night, notwithstanding precautions taken by the police to prevent a renewal of disturbances of this character reported last week. No arrests were made.

Officers of the state police who have been called here to investigate a number of cases of suspected incendiarism were notified today of the discovery of an apparent attempt to start a fire last night at the rear of a tenement block.

Former Hungarian Premier Claimed To Be In Budapest.

London, March 28.—Count Michael Karolyi, former Hungarian premier, is enjoying complete liberty in Budapest, as are other members of the government who were compelled to resign when the soviet uprising took place, according to a Hungarian Government wireless dispatch received here.

MEMBERS OF GERMAN IMPERIAL REGIME ARE PUT OUT OF OFFICE

Majority Socialists Appointed to Positions Under Prussian Government.

Berlin, March 27.—That the new Prussian Government is grossly attacking the problem of ousting the members of the imperial regime from important posts in the provincial administration, was indicated today by the appointment of Herr Phillips of Breslau, as first president of Silesia, and Herr Polter of Kiel as head of the administration of Schleswig-Holstein. Both men are Majority Socialists.

GRAND JURY SEES NO REASON TO REOPEN EXPLOSION INQUIRY

Halifax Supreme Court Jurymen Recommend Improvement in Police Methods.

Halifax, March 28.—The grand jury at the March criminal trial sittings of the supreme court of Nova Scotia, charged with the task of investigating the February riots, reported yesterday recommending that additional facilities be provided for assembling the police in cases of emergency, and that civil, naval and military police co-operate to the fullest possible extent in quelling all future riots. The grand jury also found that no good was to be served in reopening the question of responsibility for the explosion of December 6, 1917.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS AT RHYL PROTECTED S. A. HEADQUARTERS

Commissioner Howard Tells of Occurrences There and Discusses Cause and Effect—Has Faith That Britain Will Emerge More Democratic Than Ever.

He looks like a Kentucky colonel, with his grey hair, snowy chin beard, clear, twinkling eyes, skin as fresh as that of vigorous youth, and straight, slender, athletic figure.

In reality, he is Commissioner T. Henry Howard, chief of the staff of the Salvation Army, London, England, and his speech immediately betrays the fact that he couldn't possibly be anything but English, if he is a high official in an army that knows no national boundaries.

Three score and ten years he confesses to, as he tells that he is on a farewell tour around the world in the interests of the Salvation Army, yet he scarcely looks 50.

"Work never kills when it is associated with contentment and peace of mind," he says, as he tells that he is "stepping down from the saddle to let a younger man take his place and carry on during the reconstruction period in the world, with all the tremendous problems this will involve for five or six years, at least, problems as serious, or perhaps more so, than the problems of war." When he goes back to England he expects for the remainder of his years to give the benefit of his 38 years' experience in the army to the cause, somewhat in the capacity of Japan's "elder statesmen," so he says himself.

For an hour or so this forenoon he talked forcefully and illuminatingly of problems facing the world at the present, with special reference to Britain and her colonies.

Studying Big Questions.

Prominent among these problems discussed were the future of industry, safeguarding democracy, and making democracy safe, and demobilization.

"I came over in the Adriatic to Canada," he said, "with 2,000 Canadian men returning home. As I watched them day after day for ten days I was struck by the fact that they were such fine, upstanding fellows, 'men with heads,' I called them. I said two things to myself about those men. First, 'Canada can be proud of that lot,' and secondly, 'The Canadian Government will have its hands full with that lot of men.'"

This statement brought upon the commissioner's head a question concerning the disturbance at Rhyl. He had just left Liverpool before it occurred, but, Commissioner Richards, chief officer for Canada, who was present, had a letter just received from the Salvation Army chaplain at Rhyl, Capt. Penfold, telling of the riot, and one striking feature, the manner in which the men took upon themselves to protect the Salvation Army headquarters where the Salvation Army women workers were stationed.

Protected S. A. Quarters.

At the time of the outbreak Capt. Penfold was on his way to the Salvation Army hut, when he heard a shot fired. His first surmise was "that some fool-farmer was shooting birds with a service rifle." Just then he saw a man running with a red flag. Immediately after the man was shot down. A stalwart Canadian was standing sentinel over the door of the Salvation Army hut. When asked who had appointed him to do so, he replied that the men were going to see that the Salvation Army women workers were protected. When Gen. Hunter came down to Rhyl from London, to try to settle the trouble, according to Capt. Penfold, the Canadians announced that the Salvation Army was their friend, cheering for the Army.

The comment of Gen. Hunter was that the Army must have proved itself in a wonderful manner to win such unanimous approval from 15,000 soldiers.

What caused the Rhyl riots? Who was to blame?

No One to Blame.

Commissioner Howard's answer to this was: "Nobody was to blame. It was just a case of conditions. The men had grown weary of being held there while others who had been less time overseas, many of them never to the front, were getting back home first. I don't think anybody should be singled out for blame. Officials and governments accustomed to handling perhaps 20,000 men have not in four years been able to master the art of successfully handling millions without ragged edges and gaps somewhere in the administration. For example, in the London citadel, it was possible for me to put my arms right around my small audience, figuratively speaking. It was quite another story with the immense audience that packed Massey Hall, a much more difficult thing for me to encompass my audience. So it is with the problems of demobilization, and so it was with the war. With a war area extending to Gallipoli, to Palestine, there were bound to be some mistakes. Governments and nations must be very patient with the men and the men must be very patient with governments and nations.

Has Faith.

Notwithstanding the labor and social unrest in the Old Country, the commissioner has the firm faith that Old Britain will emerge from the chaos and struggle to give to the world perhaps the finest example of democracy that it has ever known. Britain, he states, has very little, if any, Bolshevism.

The danger there, according to his view, is that men will throw off the guidance or control of duly constituted leaders for irresponsible leadership, or the leadership of charlatans. "This," he says, "constitutes a danger for British labor."

True democracy, he points out, is government of the people, for the people, by the people. The desire of the underdog to be on top and put someone else down who has been enjoying better advantages, he holds, is contrary to the principles of democracy, the cropping out of kaiseristic instincts inherent in human nature.

"You can't get ideal social conditions simply by turning the social machine upside down," he says.

In this connection, he referred to the levelling effect of the war in England in breaking down caste distinctions. Conscription, he considers, has been the greatest leveller of all, with the lord's son and the laborer's son called out together to serve under equal conditions.

Real Bolshevism.

Concerning Bolshevism as it exists in Russia, he related with evident relish an incident which occurred in Petrograd, as told to him by a Salvation Army official there. After police duty and all government was suspended, an old woman persisted in walking down the tram tracks. Others remonstrated with her, but she persisted in walking the rail. If it held up traffic, hadn't she a perfect right to do as she pleased.

Others thought not, when it interfered with traffic and their rights. And so someone else took the whip-hand over the determined old lady.

Asked in regard to the likelihood of a continued tenure of office for Lloyd George, Commissioner Howard didn't think by any means that the British premier had reason to be getting ready to step down.

"Walking a tight rope is always a difficult position," he said, "and the political tight rope is as dangerous as anything else. People are always ready to shake the rope or pull at the end of the pole in order to overbalance the performer."

The commissioner believes that no matter how conditions are socialized, there are always bound to be leaders who will hold the office by virtue of "force of character," if you so like to call it. The important thing, Commissioner Howard considers, in order that democracy may take good care of itself, is that character and force of character be developed by education, not academic necessarily, but education in good citizenship.

Personal Letter From Suffering Jew in Jerusaleum Shows Vividly Destitute Condition of the People

Solomon Aliach Writes Detroit Friend For Aid and Pictures the Tortures That Are Being Endured in the Holy Land.

In a letter received from Jerusalem by Abraham Richter of Detroit, and forwarded by him to his cousin, Mr. Sopher, who is a teacher at the local Hebrew School, the agonies that the people of Palestine are undergoing as a result of the ravages of the merciless Turks, and their ally, starvation, are graphically described. The letter follows:

Jerusalem, Jan. 13, 1919.

Peace be unto my dear and worthy friend, Abraham Richter.

Although it is very unpleasant and painful to me to write you what I am about to write, my condition is so unbearable that I must—I am helpless, I am hopeless, I am despaired.

You have probably already heard of the fate of my son Pinkes. He was sentenced to death by the Turkish Government, but succeeded in evading the law by fleeing to Tiberias. A reward of 50 liras was offered for his head, but being unable to find him, the Turks decided to make me suffer his penalty. Fortunately I learned of their designs, and one night I escaped to Damascus. There I worked on the highways and earned enough for bread and water. I was there until the Holy Land was finally freed from the yoke of the oppressor by England's mighty arm. Then I returned to Jerusalem.

Why should I have fled? Horror met me when I returned to Jerusalem. My wife had died, my two sons, Aaron and Joshua, had died; they died of starvation. And soon I got word that my son Pinkes, too, had perished of hunger in Tiberias. My friend, I am old and broken. This has been too much.

Now, three widows and six orphans are left to my care by my sons, and I can scarcely support myself. There is nothing left in my house that I can sell. It is empty, save for a few mattresses and pillows. Can you imagine my tortures when I see my daughters-in-law and their children? They are hungry and ill-clad.

My dear friend, in my despair I have decided to turn to you for help. It is so painful. Yes, but I must. I cannot write you any more, my heart is too full of sorrow. Your unhappy friend,

SOLOMON ALIACH.

Many other Hebrews are in the same plight as the author of the above letter, and money is needed to provide food to alleviate their sufferings. The Palestine relief fund opens in this city on April 1, and continues all the following day.

MANUFACTURERS AGREE TO BIG CUT IN PRICES

Pittsburg, Pa., March 28.—Representatives of 98 per cent of the nut, bolt and rivet manufacturers of the United States and Canada agreed upon a cut of from 20 to 40 per cent in war prices of products made by their companies, at a meeting here yesterday.

"This is in line with the action of the steel industry concerns," said Charles J. Graham of Pittsburg, who presided. "We believe that our action will be a great stimulus to the business of the entire country and Canada."

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM CITY HALL

Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant has made a recommendation to the city council that the temporary assessors be paid the $100 a month for which they have asked, and that the clerks receive $20 a week. The assessors are receiving $85 a month and the clerks are being paid $18 a week. The other employees of the department also are recommended for increases in salary. It is probable that the increases will be granted. This will be considered on Thursday evening by No. 1 committee prior to the meeting of the council.

RAILROAD STRIKE IS CALLED IN AUSTRIA

Walkout Call For Higher Wages and Sympathy With Hungary.

Vienna, March 27.—A railroad strike has been called and threatens to spread to all the roads in this country. The strike was called partly for higher wages and partly because of sympathy with the Hungarian revolution. It is feared it may lead to the establishment of a soviet republic in German Austria.

The trouble began last night when men employed by the Southern Railroad walked out. All traffic over this road is at a complete standstill, even allied food trains from Trieste being stopped. As a result of this interruption of transportation of supplies, Vienna is threatened with famine. The situation is considered extremely grave.

INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK OF CANADA APPEARS BRIGHT TO AVIATOR

Capt. G. W. Curtis of C. P. R. Quite Optimistic.

"So far as I can see, the industrial outlook in Canada appears very bright at the present time," was a statement made to The Advertiser yesterday afternoon by Capt. G. W. Curtis, industrial agent of the C. P. R., Montreal, who was a visitor at the chamber of commerce headquarters during a short stay in the city.

Capt. Curtis is back again in the harness of civilian life after years of overseas service, two of which were spent in "high-flying" over the Alps.

He talks in a nonchalant manner of an altitude of 18,000 feet and the splendid panoramic view obtained therefrom.

Twenty thousand five hundred feet he admitted to be pretty high, the highest flight he had taken in fact.

He has vivid recollections of a magnificent view upon which he looked down one day from a height of 18,000 feet over Verona when he could see Venice 100 miles away, so wonderfully clear was the air.

Fighting the Foe.

What was he doing "up in the air?" Out in the Italian fighting zone, to be sure, with the R. A. F., doing his bit in the war in the fighting branch of the air service. The "Bristol Fighter" was his machine from which he soared about on the top of the world, battling with Austrian airmen, making long reconnaissances to spy out the land.

"What about the damage done to Italy by the invading enemy?" was a question asked of him.

"Nothing like the damage in Belgium, France or Serbia," was his opinion. To be sure, they did rather destroy things, but "we never considered the Austrians as bad as the Germans."

Big Family Party.

Capt. Curtis arrived home on Christmas Day, returning to the service the C. P. R. in time to participate the big reunion of officials from coast to coast which took place last week Montreal, and of which an outstandi feature was a grand banquet attend by 500 C. P. R. people. "Preside Beatty shook hands with everyone the 500," said Capt. Curtis a precisely, declaring the event w just like a "great, big, family party

The third "annual" banquet of t C. P. R., it was nevertheless the fi to be held since 1912.

Among those present were seve who, like Capt. Curtis, had given yea sidered the Austrians as bad as the of service in the great war.

Just One Moment Ladies and Gents; Edgar Spots Dime

Motorman's Eyesight For Money Envy of Other S. R. Employees.

His training under the supervision of Chief W. T. T. Williams is responsible for the fact, according to his associates, but at any rate the street railway men say that Edgar Fowler has as sharp eyes as any man on the road. As an evidence of this fact the following story is told, and the truth of it is an assured fact.

Yesterday, as he was driving a North Belt car down Dundas street, he received the bell to stop at Colborne street. The passenger who had given the signal stepped out the front door, and the car had scarcely started on its way again when the brakes were suddenly applied. The passengers strained their necks in an effort to see the reason for the delay.

No one but Motorman Fowler knew, however. He quickly stepped out of the front door, and, stooping as if to examine one of the pneumatic tires with which the cars are not equipped, he was seen to pick up something off the street. After the car was well on its way again he turned to the passengers and waved his find.

It was a 10-cent piece! It is said Motorman Fowler is able to sight a dime on the street farther than any other man on the road.

IS GIVING VOCATIONAL TALKS AT THE SCHOOLS

Donald McLeod, who has charge of the boys' work in the Y. M. C. A. for Eastern Ontario and Quebec, is in London today and talks to the boys at both the Collegiate Institute and the Technical School on the question of their future vocation. This is another of the steps in the campaign that is now under way in this city and that will, it is expected, bring good results in giving the boys of London real information with regard to what a man may do in any particular occupation.

Particular effort is being made to have a large attendance of the older boys and young men at the Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, when Charles W. Bishop, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for Canada, will speak on "What is Your Life Work?" and will particularly emphasize the Christian motive that should enter into any life work.

A meeting of the executive of the club will be held in the near future, when plans will be completed for the event.

COMMISSIONER PAYS FAREWELL VISIT TO S. A. CITADEL HERE

T. H. Howard Was General Booth's Chief of Staff.

GIVEN GREAT RECEPTION

Tells Interesting Facts of the Work Done Along Various Lines.

Commissioner T. Henry Howard, the aged chief of staff to Gen. Bramwell Booth of the Salvation Army, was given a wonderful ovation as he rose to address a crowded audience in the Salvation Army Citadel on Clarence street here last night. The cheering and clapping lasted several minutes. It was the commissioner's first visit to London, and it will be long remembered in Salvation Army circles here. Commissioner Howard is on his way to Chicago on his farewell American tour. He was one of the founders of the Salvation Army, and was the right-hand men of the late Gen. William Booth for many years.

Commissioner Howard stated that he brought greetings from Gen. Bramwell Booth, who, it was hoped, would visit Canada soon. There had been no slackening of the army's operations. It was still trying to make the world a better place to live in. It was well named "the army of the helping hand."

Thousands Saved.

The speaker proceeded to back up his statement by telling of a number of cases in which the Salvation Army had reclaimed men and women. Thousands in the city of London, England, had been saved through the army's ministrations. He also touched on the work being done in the missionary field in India. The Salvation Army had 3,000 centres of operation in that great country. There were 500 schools under the direction of the army, and the children were being brought up staunch advocates of the principle that they were being taught. A number of them had grown up to be officers.

Citing a few of the callings these Salvationists in India were called upon to fill, he mentioned the occupation of preacher, teacher, doctor, lawyer, banker, nurse, matrimonial agent and undertaker. All were in the course of the day's work.

Work Among Criminals.

The criminal class of India numbered some three million people, and had been a great source of trouble to the Government, which had finally called on the Salvation Army for help. Over 8,000 of these born thieves were now in settlements under the direct care and influence of the army, and were learning to become useful citizens. There were also some 2,000 lepers that were being ministered unto by representatives of the Salvation Army, who were making their last days on earth as happy as possible.

The speaker touched on the war activities of the army and the wonderful work that had been done among the soldiers.

Accompanying Commissioner Howard on his tour are Brigadier Joy and Capt. Cutshaw, his private secretary. The brigadier gave several songs that were greatly appreciated, the audience joining heartily in the chorus.

Commissioner W. J. Richards of Toronto acted as chairman of the meeting, while Col. J. Rawlings, divisional commander, introduced Commissioner Howard. Col. John McMillan, chief field secretary for Canada, read the Scriptures. Bandmaster W. Jolly and his excellent band rendered several selections that were much enjoyed.

"The Greatest Little Revolution Since 1776"

Less than four years ago, when the sense of economic grievance that rankled in the hearts of North Dakota's farmers had been fanned to a flame by the refusal of the legislature to establish a State-owned terminal grain-elevator, a man named Arthur C. Townley jumped into a small hired automobile and began by a farm-to-farm canvass the organization of the Non-Partizan League. For months the old line politicians regarded this "flivver campaign" as a joke, but today they see Mr. Townley's league of farmers grown to a membership of more than 200,000, with a political organization in thirteen states, representation in the U. S. Congress, and completely in control of North Dakota's government.

The St. Paul Dispatch terms the league "the most revolutionary political machine that ever gained complete autocratic control of legislative affairs in any state in the Union," while The Minneapolis Tribune speaks of it as "Townleyism, the political prairie fire that is now raging in North Dakota and spreading to surrounding states," but, as The New York World reminds us, "North Dakota and her people will pay the bill and the rest of the country will profit by the demonstration."

Sands Are Hot and Goat Is Ready For Ceremony Tonight

Thebes Sanctorum Prepares for Visit of Brantford Degree Team.

The sands are quite hot upon the desert in the vicinity of the Oasis of London. After much preparation by the members of Thebes Sanctorum, Oriental Order of Humility and Perfection, everything is ready for the long-anticipated visit of Adonis Sanctorum from the Brantford Oasis tonight. The strangers are expected to arrive via the G. T. R. at 8:30 o'clock. They will be met at the station by a large deputation of the London members of the order. The goat, which has been extra well fed during the last few weeks, will also be at the station, and will accompany the company on a short march through the central section of the city.

Adjourning to the I. O. O. F. lodge room in the Alma Block, the fifty candidates who have decided to brave the journey across the burning sands of the Desert of Sahara will be put through their courses with the aid of "Billy."

A supper will be served in the lodge rooms by the London members. The local Orientals have made an extra effort to make this occasion one of great pleasure. The work of conferring the degree will be done by the Brantford degree team.

JUMPS FROM FALLING LADDER; LANDS ON DOOR OF PARKED AUTOMOBILE

Movie Stunt Pulled Off on Dundas Street, Due to Wind.

Some Douglas Fairbanks stunts were pulled off on Dundas street this morning, when an advertising sign was being erected over the window of a store. A gust of wind came along at an inopportune moment and blew the sign far out of reach and the ladder on which the workman was standing, began to slide sideways. Realizing what was happening, the workman jumped from the ladder and found himself seated on the door of an auto which was parked directly in front of where the sign was being erected. The sign was recovered and work resumed as though nothing had happened. The movie camera should have been on the spot. Some clever acrobats in London these days.

LADIES' BIBLE CLASS HAD ENJOYABLE BANQUET

A most enjoyable time was spent at the Egerton Street Baptist Church on Thursday evening, March 26, by the members of the married ladies' Bible class and their friends. An excellent banquet was provided by the class, and about 100 married ladies sat down to the tables so bounteously loaded with the good things of life. A good program was provided which was enjoyed by everyone.

Rev. A. C. Bingham acted as chairman in such a humorous way that it added greatly to the enjoyment.

The following ladies took part in the program: Mrs. Chavanage and Mrs. Hodgins, instrumental; Mrs. Delany, solo; Mrs. M. P. Pellow, recitations.

Richard Sanders gave a talk on "Juvenile Delinquency," which was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the mothers present.

MOTHERS' CLUB GUEST OF ABERDEEN TEACHERS

The teaching staff of the Aberdeen School entertained in honor of the Mothers' Club of that district yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6. A delightful time was spent in folk games and contests, the first prize being won by Mrs. W. Cook, second prize by Mrs. Jerdon and third prize by Mrs. Smart, in an art contest. A social half hour was spent following the games, and at the close of the afternoon a vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Logan, the president, and seconded by Mrs. Jerdon, for the delightful entertainment tendered them by the teachers. Principal C. Brown of the school replied.

The Aberdeen Mothers' Club is contemplating the restaging of the playlet so successfully put on by it in the Auditorium a short time ago. This time it will be given under the auspices of the Shriners in the Masonic Temple.

MUST MODERATE PLAN.

While the utilities commission had planned the installation of approximately 1,000 water meters this year as the first installment on its scheme of metering all water services, it will not be able to carry out this as anticipated on account of the action of the spending bodies last night in refusing to pass the estimate of $35,000 for civic water service. Assistant Manager A. O. Hunt says that the commission will go ahead with the work as far as the available funds will permit.

BURNS
Listen To This

Some time ago my daughter was severely scalded about the legs with boiling water. Immediately following the accident we plastered the wounds with "Mecca," keeping this up every day, and the result was the child suffered but little. In a few months there was not a sign of a scar to be seen, although several of the parts scalded were very severe, and scars would naturally be expected.

We have since considered "Mecca" an indispensable household remedy, and with pleasure give to it our hearty recommendations.

Yours truly,

MODERNS SUFFERED MOST SEVERELY AT HANDS OF LECTURER

Prof. Lappin of Buffalo Upholds Victorians.

MAKES COMPARISONS

Especially in World of Letters Does He Consider 1919 Lacking.

Professor H. Lappin of Buffalo delivered an interesting lecture last night at the Western University on "The Victorians and Moderns," dealing with these more particularly in the field of letters. The result was that the moderns suffered from the purging fire of his criticism, fanned not a little by an apparent scholastic prejudice for the classics. Matthew Arnold was held up so that Rupert Brooke appeared at a disadvantage, "because he lacked that scholarly seeking after truth which is the aim of the best poets." Clayhanger lost in comparison with George Eliot, because he did not rise to moments of spiritual exaltation.

With Masefield, a man is a characterless bundle of aching desires, while with Tennyson he is one who is governed by his strength of will. Mr. Wells is a great ego who seized upon the novel to propagate his own ideas.

One Exception.

Joseph Conrad was the only man among the moderns whom the speaker considered worthy of placing among the great literary men of the Victorian period. Of him he says: "No one understands the secrets of the seas as Conrad. It seems to me that he occupies the same place in English fiction as 'The Ring and the Book,' by Browning, does in English poetry."

The speaker referred to the fact that the Victorians have received no mercy at the hands of the modern critics. "They consider it an age of prosperity and beautiful charity; of piety and ugly furniture; of stability and self-satisfaction. Yet how untrue and unkind they are to the Victorians. For underneath the apparent calm was a dominant note of revolt characteristic of the age. There was nothing which the Victorians did not criticise and try to overturn. What zeal and what force was that added to the ministry and to science? I say that there was no half century of such high endowment as the years between 1840 and 1890.

Are They Absurd?

"Modern critics speak of the absurd conventionalities restricting women and girls in those days. And yet, are they right in calling them absurd? Now that they are removed today, the results are sometimes none too favorable.

"I predict that in some not too distant time the Victorians will come to their own, just as the eighteenth century is looked upon with favor today.

"There is a greater contrast between the modern and the Victorian novelist than any other man of letters. The modern novelist has established himself either as a preacher in fiction or as a purveyor of his own beautiful emotions. He expresses the immensity of his own ego. He weaves upon a flaming plot his own impressions and ideas, and exploits reality for his own ends.

Wells Criticised.

"Thousands of people have grasped out for the new God which Wells has created. His first book, "God the Invisible King," may be excused, but his attempts to describe the inner feelings of an Anglican bishop, whom he has converted, is a modern joke."

Dr. Tamblyn, in moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, admitted that the moderns needed just such criticism to take away some of their boastfulness, though he thought the speaker had been rather harsh in his criticism. Dr. E. E. Braithwaite was in the chair.

The next of the series of extension lectures will be on Thursday next, by Dr. Louis Wood, on "The Minimum Wage."

Inside Woodworkers Join Union For Better Conditions

Many Application Blanks Filled at Continuation Meeting.

The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union No. 1946, last night held a continuation of the special meeting which was held last Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing and welcoming new members. The majority of the men who were present last night were inside woodworkers, as they are about the only woodworkers who have not some powerful organization behind them. The majority of the outside workers are in the Carpenters' Union, and that is given as the reason they have better working conditions and much higher wages. Organizer James Marsh of Niagara Falls spoke at the meeting on organization. He pointed out what the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America have done for its members, and the different benefits that members can derive by belonging to the union.

Respected by Employers.

He also said that this union is looked upon as a strong organization by employers, and they deal with it in a business manner.

In the union there is a death, disability and strike benefit. The organization paid about $50,000 per month in benefits, and during the influenza epidemic it averaged about $100,000 per month. It also has large assets.

John Flett, organizer of the American Federation of Labor, also was present, and made a forceful speech on the benefits of organized labor, of which he is a strong advocate. He pointed out that a man was a slacker in the worst sense if he did not treat his wife and children square by bringing them home a pay envelope on which they could live, and the children would not have to go to work at 15 years of age to wear out their blood and bone to grind out dividends for "the remorseless corporation," to help make ends meet at home.

What Children Need.

Children of this age should be out in the playgrounds and in God's sunshine to make them fit to face the world when they become of age. A man, individually, cannot get better wages or better working conditions, he said. He needs a strong organization behind him. He showed many instances where the workingmen could better their working conditions.

The meeting was fairly well attended, and the majority of those present filled in the application blanks to become members of the union. Joseph Hill was president and R. H. Hessell secretary. Tonight Mr. Flett will deliver a lecture in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium.

Tremendous Pressure of Work For District Depot

Staff Kept Busy Almost Night and Day at Present.

The staff of No. 1 District Depot has been kept tremendously busy the last few days. Some idea of the work involved when parties of returned men arrive at short intervals may be gathered from the fact that, after the men have been discharged, the documents of each one of them have to be signed no ss than five times before forwarded to Ottawa. War service badges, each one of which is numbered and assigned to an individual man, have to be prepared for issue, and a thousand and one details have to be attended to "between times."

In addition to the 264 men dispersed yesterday, involving more than 1,306 signatures besides those on the discharges which are signed before the men leave the dispersal station, about 1,500 documents, each requiring five signatures, have to be completed within a week for men awaiting discharge This means that in the course of seven days 10,000 signatures approximately must be written.

The staff has gone in for signing bees, for which every available officer is pressed into service. The work has been so heavy during the last few days that Col. Nelson and his staff have been kept going almost night and day.

FINE DINING-ROOMS OPENED AT PERRIN'S

Concert and Dance Given For Employees.

FOUR HUNDRED PRESENT

Most Enjoyable Event To Celebrate New Departure of Firm.

Snowy-white walls, a hardwood floor throughout, large windows with white dimity curtains and the foundation of a library, are just a few of the things which help to constitute one of the finest dining halls in any local factory. This new dining-room has just been built by the D. S. Perrin & Co. for the employees and was opened last evening by a concert and a dance at which over 400 employees were present.

W. T. McFarland president of the company, spoke a few introductory words, in which he said it was the aim of the company to do everything in its power for the social betterment of the employees, and no pains had been spared when erecting the new dining hall on the second floor. Very nice prints adorned the walls, hung from a dark picture molding, which contrasted beautifully with the pure white walls.

Prettily Decorated.

For this occasion the employees had decorated the hall prettily with flags of the Allies and bunting. A stage had been erected at one end, and from this an orchestra, under the leadership of George Lethbridge, played several numbers, evoking much applause. Those contributing to the program were Miss M. Headley, Miss Cora Brennan, S. Dambra, S. Callahan, E. Wooster, W. Karn, Miss Topping, Miss Pink and W. Branch, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Simmons. George Lethbridge was the accompanist of the evening.

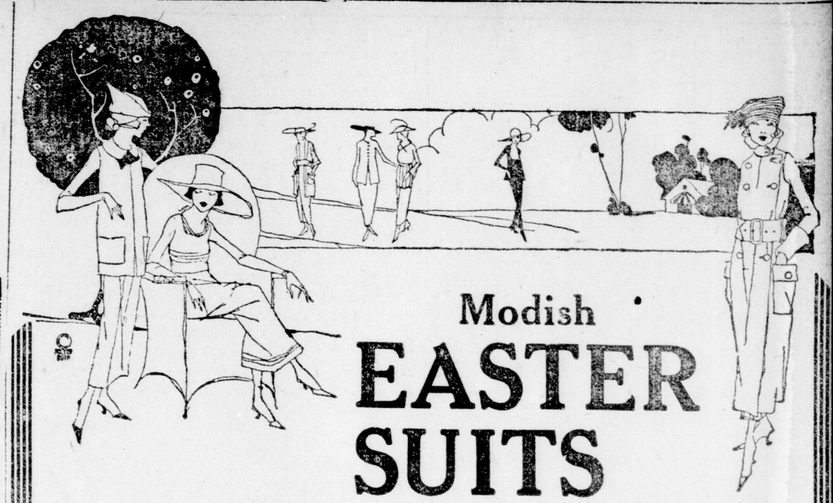

Following the musical program, a couple of hours was spent in social enjoyment and dancing.

Mrs. D. S. Perrin was able to be present for the occasion, and when it was announced from the stage that she was in the audience, a great ovation was given her.

Books Presented.

Others speaking briefly to the employees were Dr. Hadley Williams and Ald. C. G. Moorhead. Mrs. Hadley Williams has presented one hundred and fifty books, all by good authors, to the company to start a library for the employees, and a library will be built at one end of the dining-room, and this number of books will be added to from time to time. Dr. Williams added, that although there was a good piano in the dining-room, he hoped that there would soon be a good Edison machine with good records.

Recently a committee was organized to look after the social welfare of the employees, and many improvements have been made through this committee already.

Bang! Crash! As Government Let Railways Collide With the Rest of the Country

A Government that permits a country to be conducted at such cross purposes as shown in the adoption of daylight saving by the railway war board immediately after the cabinet had decided not to inaugurate the system, is nothing more nor less than downright stupid.

Without arguing the merits or otherwise of the daylight saving, is there a trace of sanity which permits the country and, especially, the entire urban community to be thrown into a state of disorder and chaos?

Already the railways are sending notices to the mayors of municipalities to adopt daylight saving and conform their hours of business to the running schedules of the trains. Immediately confusion will result.

Some cities will decide to adopt daylight saving for themselves. Others will refuse to change from the old time. But the Government does not seem to care. It had to make a decision, and it got out its old blunder-buss and fired a charge of blunder at the country.

Then the railway war board, apparently without consideration of the Government's action, pulls the pin and lets the traffic of the country shoot down the grade in a hopeless jumble upon the helpless shippers and travelers.

The result is this: The country, as a whole, is told not to turn ahead its clocks, the railways are told to turn ahead theirs. The Government permits the country to suffer and allows the railways to do as they see fit.

Strong protests should reach Ottawa at once. Stand by the old system, if that is the decision of Parliament (which few decisions are in these order-in-council days), but make the law universal. What's the use of having railways that operate in advance of the whole community? Let the border connections be looked after by the railways, rather than cause universal disarrangement.

Great Britain Must Keep Firm Hand On Egyptians

In making a case for the keeping of large forces in the field indefinitely, Winston Churchill warns England that the Egyptian situation is very serious. That should strike home to Britishers with good effect. Egypt was a "white man's burden" which the empire took over many years ago, and such progress as the country and adjacent districts of Africa have made are due to England's administration. The land of the pyramids has furnished some of the finest chapters in British military achievements. Chinese Gordon, Wolseley and Kitchener struck down barbarism and introduced stability and orderliness. Their campaign cost vast sums and many gallant lives, but made safe a densely-populated and rich land that was hopelessly stagnant under Turkish tyranny and Mahdist fanaticism. Above all it insured control of the Suez Canal, a vital artery of the empire. Nominally Great Britain is the active member of a three-cornered Egyptian protectorate, the other members of which are France and Spain, but, to all intents and purposes, England is the one and only supreme power in the land of the Pharoahs. Sentiment and safety are strong motives that will not readily permit British surrender of its present powerful influence in Egypt, and whatever measures are taken to restore order are likely to be heartily supported by the nation.

The causes of the widespread insurrection have not been made clear, but there are elements that have always been quick to resort to violence. The Nationalists, a faction akin to the Young Turk party, have frequently gone on the rampage, finding excellent material for turbulence in the densely-ignorant blacks that hive in the larger cities and towns. Another mischievous political faction has for years intrigued to bring back the full sovereignty of Constantinople. As well, it may be taken for granted that the Bolsheviki have not overlooked such an excellent recruiting ground as Egypt. Add to all this the unrest and unsettlement of the war's wake and Egypt has ingredients for a stew of rebellion and riot.

Government Should Extend Vocational Training Chance

A young Londoner recently returned from an overseas service of more than four years. He enlisted in August, 1914, and has been at the front or in training during the time when ordinarily he would be fitting himself for a career. The only business he learned while in England and France was the business of war, and he cannot apply that to the earning of a living, because war as a business has gone out of existence.

As he was quite young, below military age, in fact, when he enlisted, he returns to the country without a trade or profession. He commenced to learn the electrical business before war, but was not far advanced when he put on a uniform. Many times since that day of decision he wondered what he could do when he returned to Canada. He was in it for the duration of the war, but the years were passing when he could be training himself to make a living under peace conditions. He was glad to read in his home newspaper about vocational training and the Government's intention of training returned men for various occupations. He decided that he would take up electrical work where he left off, his old position having been lost through suspension of the plant.

But when he arrived, he found that because he was in a high category, and had come through the war without disability, no provision was made for giving him a vocational course. The only returned men being given vocational training were those incapacitated to such an extent that they could not follow their former occupations.

The Advertiser was surprised to ascertain that such was the case. The Government is doing a good deal for men who suffered serious disability, and it has been argued that vocational training could not be thrown open to all those who returned. Otherwise, it was said, the Government would be plunged into a policy which was beyond its resources to bear. The United States is offering to train or retrain all returning men, but the United States, in proportion to population, has no such problem as Canada.

This argument may carry much weight. It is quite possible that men with a calling and who are as able as before the war to make a living must be told the Government cannot train them because the Government cannot afford it. The country can only pay to the extent of its resources.

But for such a returned man as mentioned in the foregoing case there should be provision made. He returns with another kind of disability than the wounded man, yet it is just as great a handicap in seeking a living as the loss of a leg or an arm. Unskilled labor of some kind is the only avenue open to him, and the Government should not forget that it took him out of the road to special qualification and used him for war purposes during the only years a man can give to the securing of that skill and knowledge which equip him with earning power. If the Government cannot extend the boon of vocational training to all men, it is far from unreasonable to ask that it should be extended to high category men who can prove they were removed from the chance to learn trade or profession. They should be dealt with as generously as any man returned, and the investment should be apparent to the Government as a safe and reasonable one.

Child Welfare Is Great Problem For the Nations

Of the tasks of reconstruction few are more formidable or vital than those relating to the child. It is encouraging and inspiring to learn that this great problem is to have a large part of the attention of the world Red Cross conference, which opens in Paris next month. The child has always been the hope of mankind. That fact is so self-evident as to make a repetition of the assertion boresomely hackneyed. But a fresh reference to it is excusable, because of its magnified importance under the new order of things. The war has been cruel to the children of all nations. One of its anomalies has been the infliction of misery and unhappiness on the little ones for whose moral, spiritual and physical health and happiness during maturity it was largely waged. The free peoples have fought to establish a condition of safety and sanity for the men and women latent in the children, who a few years hence will control affairs. To "carry on" will be their labor. Theirs is to be the work of expanding the better world from its present stumbling, confined beginnings until its beneficence reaches the most remote and backward.

But, if we are to assure the world a race of virile and enlightened men and women that will be required to lead rapidly towards the Utopia we hope for, it will be necessary to at once concentrate on world-wide organization for promotion of child welfare. A large section of humanity has become run down, debilitated by the stress of the war and its dreadful aftermaths. Entire races of the old world are enervated and enfeebled by disease and semi-famine, and, with this weakening is associated a distressing moral debasement. This makes a discouraging starting point for the child, a handicap from which many millions are suffering today. Unborn millions, too, as well as those whose progress towards healthy manhood and womanhood has been set back, will have to be considered. Potential parents must be guided and helped to physical fitness and healthy, contented existence. That, with multiplied sources of education, will provide strong-bodied, wide-visioned men and women to take up the torch of Christian civilization when it is laid down by those who are carrying it today. The conference on child welfare is an essential supplementary to the peace conference.

THE PINK SHEET.

One means of wresting a living from the world that Eleanor Ferguson abhorred above all others was prize fighting. She had never witnessed any pugilistic bouts, but she had heard enough concerning them to form a conclusion that they were brutal and savage and that no one who possessed the least vestige of self-respect could bring himself to engage in such an encounter.

Consequently, when she found the man she most admired gazing up at her serenely from a pink sporting page with the cognomen "Kid Gleason" stretched above his head the feeling of disappointment—of well-nigh despair—that swept over her may well be understood.

Eleanor came across the pink sheet while rummaging in the attic for some long-discarded household utensils that she suddenly felt the need of in preparation for the party at which her engagement was to be announced. The pink sheet had been used to wrap something in, and she came across it quite by accident.

"To announce my engagement!" The phrase had lost its pleasant sound. Now it seemed more like the kneiling of a church bell at a funeral. And the pink sheet was to blame for it all. If only she had stayed away from the attic she would have continued in a happy frame of mind, she thought. On the other hand, it would have been much worse to have become the bride of the man and then have the knowledge of his means of livelihood suddenly thrust upon her—when it was too late.

"A prizefighter!" she wailed, and she seated herself cross-legged on the attic floor and buried her head in her arms and wept. "Anything but a prizefighter? Why, he must be the most brutal of brutal beings. He can't possess the slightest shred of human kindness or sympathy. They never do. All they think of is knocking people senseless and collecting money for it. Sometimes they kill their opponents. He's a savage, that's what he is. He told me he clerked in a store, but he was afraid to tell me the truth. He's just a common savage, with a lust for blood the principal part of his make-up."

Eleanor's lack of definite knowledge was easily explainable by the fact that he lived in Jackson, which was sixty miles from her home city of Kalamazoo. He came over every Saturday night to spend the week-end, and she saw nothing of him on the intervening days.

When he had casually remarked that he clerked in a store she had taken it for granted he was telling the truth. At that time she could conceive of no reason for his falsifying, but now she could comprehend his evident reluctance to discuss his work.

"That settles it," she fumed as she left the attic with the pink sheet in her hand. "There won't be any announcement party. He's coming over tonight, as usual, and I'll meet him at the station as if nothing had happened; but when I get him up to the house I'll confront him with the evidence of his perfidy."

So when Albert Gleason stepped off the interurban car he was greeted with smiles from the girl of his choice, for she concealed her disgust or abhorrence, or whatever her new feeling for him might be termed, and apparently was as glad as ever to see him.

To tell the truth she experienced some difficulty in keeping that repugnance uppermost in her mind; for Albert was exceedingly good to look upon. Broad of shoulder, with arm muscles that clothing could not conceal, and with red, healthy cheeks and a head of luxuriant, tousled, yellow hair and deep, blue eyes and clean, white teeth—yes, he was a good-looking specimen, one that would show off well in evening dress, at an engagement party, for instance.

But—and her forehead furrowed into a frown in spite of herself—he also had the build and poise of a prizefighter, if she was any judge of prizefighters, which she wasn't; but she had her opinion of how they ought to look, and Albert filled the bill.

They took a car for the Ferguson residence.

"His last trip up this way," Eleanor said to herself, firmly, as she accepted a seat from a gallant old gentleman who was about ready to get off, and Albert located a strap that was not in use.

Most of the passengers had a hungry look. It was nearly 6 o'clock and they were bound home for the evening meal. They were impatient, too, for the car was late, the line having been blocked by a fallen trolley wire, and their spirits were low and their good nature all but gone.

Gleason, towering above the rest, swung back and forth as the car groaned around curves and he could not entirely control his feet, which he automatically shifted from time to time to maintain his equilibrium.

On one of these occasions he trod on the feet of a sour-visaged damsel, who occupied three-quarters of a seat, and carried a bulky package of meat on an arm and gazed savagely at the dim lights that were springing into existence along the streets.

"Keep your feet to yourself!" she snapped at Gleason, and the latter doffed his hat and apologized. The operation of being polite upset Albert and he swung across the aisle and sat unceremoniously in the lap of a weazened little man who carried an umbrella, and had been glaring in apparent deep-seated hatred at the world in general.

"Get off, you big brute!" the object of the unprovoked, unintended assault ejaculated. "What you trying to do, commit murder?"

Albert smiled and apologized profusely, but kept a secure grasp on the strap to avoid incurring the enmity of a scrawny, middle-aged lady who wore big glasses and kept fuming about the "impossible service" and who sat directly in the path of Gleason's surging manoeuvres.

The temper of the passengers was not improved by a sudden jolting. At one end and one side the car rose in the air, hung suspended for an instant, then fell with a grinding jar. The impatient crowd gave vent to its feelings in uncomplimentary remarks, and several displayed enough curiosity to get off and investigate, although none of those ensconced in seats risked losing their places.

Soon the trouble, whatever it was, was remedied, and the car prepared to resume it weary journey.

"Ten minutes late already, and a gang of hungry boarders howling for food," rasped the sour-visaged damsel, scowling at the foot which Gleason had trod upon.

"Such rotten service!" growled the weazened man, rubbing the knees that had been bruised by the "brute's" attack.

"Pity they can't get a person home in time to prevent starvation," observed the scrawny lady, glaring out a challenge for anyone to contradict, which no one did.

"Ding! ding!" said the conductor's signal. "Clong! clong!" went the motorman's bell, and the car lurched away. But one of the passengers was missing, and Eleanor could not help noting the fact, for it was Albert.

Her home was only three blocks away and dinner was waiting when she arrived. She was vexed at Albert, although she admitted his desertion might be for the best because it spared her an unpleasant duty.

To her surprise, Albert came puffing into the house when the meal had been under way for perhaps ten minutes.

"Pardon," he grinned, good-naturedly, "but the car we were on ran over a dog, and smashed him up pretty badly. The little girl who owned the animal was heartbroken, so I went into her home with her and tried to make the pet comfortable. I've had a little experience in veterinary work, and do you know I actually believe that dog will get well. They say you can't kill a cat, but I'll take my hat off to a dog. That animal lost more than nine lives right there and he still lives."

After dinner Albert and Eleanor went into the living-room, while her parents obligingly retired to another part of the house. The first thing Albert discerned on entering the room was the pink sporting page staring up at him from the table. He greeted it with an exclamation of surprise.

"Why, hello, here's old times," he beamed and clutched the paper, gazing at it with an expression of pleasure in his eyes. "The good old times."

She saw that he evidently was sincere, although she could not understand. It was not the first perplexing problem of the evening. The dog episode was so unlike a savage brute.

"What do you mean—the good old times?" she asked. "Do you mean that you are not a fighter now?"

He laughed. It was almost a roar.

"I should say not. I quit four years ago. I was a successful pugilist, if I do say it myself, but I decided it was hardly the thing. So I got that job as ribbon clerk at Hottstander's department store. It's not such a big job, but it's—what you call it—ethical. Yep, this paper's four years old. Of course, you never noticed the date. A woman never does."

WIDE FIELD FOR CONJECTURE.

[New York Herald.]

Ludendorff says it will take Germany a century to recover.

Recover what? Alsace-Lorraine? Junker domination? Kaiserism? Or, possibly, sanity?

KINGSTON'S BRAINY COUNCIL.

[Kingston Standard.]

The ignorance on matters of importance to the city displayed by aldermen who have been for some years on the city council and the finance committee is appalling. The proceedings at Monday's meeting were pretty much in the nature of a comedy, with veterans of the council playing the comic parts.

SQUANDERING TIME.

[Kingston Standard.]

The debate on the address to the throne has already lasted for fifteen days; is not that a waste of both time and money? A great member of the British House of Commons said: "The time of the House of Commons is the treasure of the people." That holds good of the Canadian House. Why should the members squander it?

BUNK.

[Guelph Mercury.]

"I come from a race of Covenanters," says Col. A. J. Currie, "and they never compromise." To think that Currie would give voice to such twaddle in a political issue where the whole breath of life is a continual compromise on one issue after another. And further, "we shall not deviate from or violate the traditional principles of the historic Conservative party." Bunk; pure and simple, and more simple than pure.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING.

[Brockville Recorder-Times.]

The above subject has opponents in some farmers. Not all the agriculturists are opposed to it. The R. and T. was recently informed by a leading farmer that the only periods when the daylight saving is detrimental are in haying and harvesting. It is asserted that in those times the dew is the heaviest and precludes work early in the mornings. Otherwise the daylight saving makes no difference.

IRELAND'S COLOR.

[London Chronicle.]

Princess Patricia's choice of blue as the color of her traveling cloak and gown, "the color of St. Patrick," has been criticized in some quarters. Green, it is suggested, should be the color if Ireland is to be specially remembered by the princess. As a matter of fact, blue is the heraldic color of Ireland, and was the national color of all Irishmen, who sought to make Ireland independent, until the revolt of 1898. At that time the Nationalists of the south and the Orangemen of the north united as the United Irishmen in opposition to British rule, and adopted green as their color because that color is produced by mixing orange with blue.

IN THE CRADLE OF HISTORY.

[New York World.]

The Anzacs who helped Great Britain to defend Egypt during the war are to have a memorial in the shape of a huge equestrian monument on the banks of the Suez Canal. The placing of the monument on such a site, with associations going back to the dawn of time, will be a striking footnote to history, so to speak, as the Anzacs literally came from the ends of the earth to the land of the ancient Pharoahs, and the monument to their vigor and loyalty will almost be within sight of monuments which Herodotus saw, and not very far from scenes connected with the Mosaic account of events in the earliest years of recorded time.

CHICAGO'S WOMEN VOTERS.

[Christian Science Monitor.]

Out of a total 808,093 Chicago voters registered in anticipation of the municipal election on April 1, 303,586 are women. This is said to be the best showing which women in that city have made since they were granted a limited franchise. Those who persist in saying that women would not take the trouble to vote if given the chance should ponder these figures. It ought to be added that, in twenty-three of the thirty-five wards of Chicago, the names of more women than of men were recorded on the final day of registration.

A PRACTICAL SET FOR THE "LITTLE ONES."

2700—Child's Set of Short Clothes. This model comprises a simple dress with round yoke, and long or short sleeves, a style of drawers, comfortable and practical, and a slip with added skirt portion at the back and with or without ruffle. Cambric, lawn and muslin are good for the slip. For the dress, batiste, lawn, cambric, percale, flannelette, challie or cashmere could be used. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 6 months, 1 year, 2 years, 3 years and 4 years. It will require for the dress, 2⅝ yards of 36-inch material. For the drawers, ¾ yard. For the slip, 1½ yards for a 2-year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Name .....

Town .....

Province .....

Age (if child's or misses' pattern) .....

Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

Caution: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure, you need only mark 38, 34, or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 25, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist, and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of application.

TO JULIA ARTHUR.

You came into our lives for one brief while,
To leave the memory forever there
Of the sweet radiance of your sudden smile
Of womanhood so purposeful and rare.

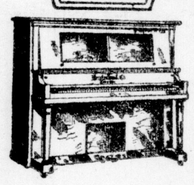

Strewing like flowers, happy-spoken thought,
Glimpses of meaning in the commonplace,
Showing the gold your soul has ever sought
And kept, to give your art its honored place.

"Once a Canadian, always one!" With pride
You left this message, we shall cherish so.
We give you back, to walk your way beside
The pride of Canada, where're you go.

MRS. I. A. HENDERSON.

Mrs. I. A. Henderson is president of the Hervey Institute and lady superintendent of the St. John Ambulance Brigade of Montreal District. Like All Gaul, that Caesar used to divide into three parts, she divides her time between her home, the Hervey Institute and the St. John Ambulance Brigade. As lady superintendent of the Montreal V. A. D.'s, she was one of the few Canadian women who were escorted over the show places at the fighting front in France during the war. She is also one of a small group of Canadian women who bear the title Lady of Grace of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. Mrs. H. A. Boomer of this city is another.

Two Live Questions Come Up

WOMEN IN THE LEGISLATURE.

If the long-delayed bill, permitting women to sit in the Legislature, passes the Ontario House, before whom it has at last come, there is no doubt but that women will take advantage of the right granted. Already many brains are busy wondering who are the logical persons to first represent Ontario women in the House of Parliament. There are so many measures which peculiarly interest women, and although in the past the men have often brought in these measures after public opinion has been incited by the women, yet the women feel there is a great advantage in being on the ground, personally.

MAKING CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS A POSSIBILITY.

The voting of $100,000 by the Ontario Government towards making consolidated schools in Ontario a possibility, will no doubt prove a great impetus in this direction throughout the province. For, although the amount seems very small, when viewed in the light of the hundreds of large, well-equipped buildings which will be necessary, before the system is complete, it is big enough to solve the chief difficulty in question—that is, the transportation of pupils from all parts of the district to the community school.

Just as the modern house has outgrown the spinning wheel, so has the farm district outgrown the old, pioneer, one-room school. The consolidated school aims at giving all the advantages of a city school, in the country district, and thus placing a good education within the reach of every farm boy and girl.

And not only does this type of school make a good education possible, but there is a movement on foot at the present time to frame the educational system in such a way that courses leading to the profession of farming will be instituted in the schools. And the practical part of farming will be considered on the curriculum.

The consolidated school is but the first step in the centralizing of the activities of the country district. Some very advanced persons go so far as to suggest one community building, housing the school, church and auditorium. But whatever may come eventually, the first step has been taken, in the granting of $100,000 to make consolidated schools a possibility.

CYNTHIA GREY'S MAIL-BOX

She's Bubbling Over.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—Will you please to forward to that "sort of an invalid," The Bean Pole, these bits o' silk. I'll rummage my boxes for more some day, but, faith I'm too giddy-feeling these days to settle into a regular search through the various boxes and bags I keep my remants in, and because I'm just bubbling over with the happiness of it. I'll tell you why—my brother is coming home this month, I think. He's a regular bean-pole, too, so I'm practicing stretching upward so I'll be able to reach up and give him a real hug and kiss, bless him. Oh, dear, how I do run on, but once I get on that subject it's hard to stop me.

Love to you, Cynthia Grey. (I'm loving every one these days, sure), and hoping the bits help Bean Pole. Good-by for now.

PADDY.

P. S.—Where is Patrick Kelly these days?

You're Welcome, Jane.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have been wanting to ask for the stocking foot pattern for a long time, but could not think of any way of helping. But now I see where a Bean Pole is asking for some silk pieces, so will send some for her. June Marie was asking about tomato soup. After the milk has been added to the tomatoes the mixture should not boil but just become piping hot.

JANE S.

P.S.—Now, may I please have the foot pattern?

"Pers" to Old People.

Dear Miss Grey,—What punishment does a doctor deserve who would give a prescription to a very old person unaccompanied? AN INQUIRER.

Ans.—Possibly the doctor did not consider it harmful to give the old person a prescription and no doubt would not do so again if seriously requested to this effect by a relative of the one concerned. If, however, it was given in spite of warnings or private request, it would be best to lay the matter before a lawyer and then proceed according to his direction.

Care of a Calla.

Dear Miss Grey,—I read where someone wanted to know what to do with a Calla lily. We put ours to rest at housecleaning time alongside of a veranda on the west side of the house, where there isn't too much sun. About the latter part of September, fill the pail with fresh dirt and put in a window, also water it with real hot water. We have had four blossoms already this winter. BONNY JEAN.

Who Knows This?

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sending a stamped envelope for the address of where I can get stamped mats for to hook. I have tried department stores and they don't handle them now, the ones stamped on canvass. Can you tell me what do those letters stand for on the back of a letter, "S. A. G." Thanking you. E. N.

Ans.—(1) Possibly some reader may know where such may be purchased. (2) I do not know.

Piece For U. S. Girl.

Dear Miss Grey,—Please find inclosed two recitations for a girl from U. S. A. I hope they'll arrive in time for her envelope. I would have sent them sooner only we've had that terrible "flu." Thanks very much, U. S. A. Girl. I don't agree with Al Canadian. I think if anyone did some shouting (who didn't need to) it was the slackers at home who avoided the M. S. A. Let's shake hands with Yankee Farmerette. I am a farmerette, too, in the summer, only I'm.

A CANADIAN TRUE BLUE.

We'll Excuse Babe.

Dear Miss Grey,—Has any reader got a flannelette flag, 8½ inches by 5½ inches which they could spare, as I have enough but one to make a cushion cover? Also would any reader send me some easy crochet patterns, which I need not return, as I am only a beginner in crocheting? BABE 28.

Ans.—Babe is a newcomer, hence I'm publishing her request for a flannelette flag, but nobody's to take that as a hint to begin a "flag exchange" for in that regard "the lid's on tight"—If anyone can grasp that slang! I have Babe 28's envelope if a response is made to her requests.

How To Meet the Lonely.

Dear Miss Grey,—I was greatly taken with Evangelist's letter in your Saturday paper, and would say I quite agree with him regarding the Christians of London, and how they use our boys in khaki. Why do not our churches have a society which would meet, say one evening a week, where the young people would meet our boys in khaki? My home is here in London, and I would be glad to give any of the lonely boys (in khaki) or girls a pleasant evening. I would like some person to explain how I am to meet those people if not through a church, or as Evangelist says, on the streets? Perhaps if Evangelist has not left us yet he would give some ideas on this problem, and if he is still here I would be glad to meet him.

I am leaving my address with Miss Grey, so if any of the lonely people care to write to me I will be glad to have them visit me. LONELY.

Will "Philagator" Explain.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would "Philagator" please explain what she means by "prepared barley" in her recipe "to benefit the skin"?

2. Have you or any of the readers a "tried and true" remedy for pimples? I have tried a number of methods, but without success. I will sign myself,

TOMMIE.

Ans.—1. Referred to "Philagator."

2. Here's an opportunity for someone to be helpful.

Reply to "Mamma's Boy.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper, as I hate to have the Canadians tramped on by a "supposed" Yank. If "Mamma's Boy" would go back to school and learn a little of this war's history it would be better for him, as little boys are to be seen and not heard, especially when they don't know what they're talking about. He must have meant a "few" Englishmen in our Canadian battalions. And as for the Yankees, I agree with the "Soldier's Widow," the Yanks helped—mostly in the shouting, as he is trying to do. A REAL CANUCK.

Canada's First Things.

Dear Miss Grey,—After reading "A Girl of the U.S.A.'s" letter, I could not stay away any longer. I do not agree with her when she says that the Yanks have never lost a war yet. Maybe they do not teach it in American schools, but they certainly do in ours, that the Yanks were beaten in the war of 1812. I would advise her to look up her history and see if this is not right.

"Yankee Farmerette" seems to think that Canada copies everything from people of the States. But I guess Canada has "first things" to be proud of as well as the U. S. I wonder if she knows where the American Y. M. C. A., of which they talk so much, originated? It originated in Canada, the first Y. M. C. A. being started in Montreal. There are other instances which could be told if space was not limited.

If "Loyal Canadian Girl From Kent" will get a copy of the 'Tiser, the edition of February 12, she will read that Sir Robert Borden was offered the ambassadorship to U. S. A. But she need not pity it because he refused.

PARKHILL SCHOOL GIRL.

She Likes "Polly."

Dear Miss Grey,—It seems natural to see "Polly and Her Pals" back in the 'Tiser again. Such a lot of the old 'uns are writing now. They can't be very busy. The page looks like itself again. There is a terrible discussion going on in the page now with the Yankees. I won't take part, though I am a Canadian. Would you please tell me what day October 15, 1907, came on? I am,

JUST ME.

Ans.—A Tuesday.

Small for Her Age.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will "Donta" send me the two recitations, "Reverie in Church" and "Aspiring Dish-Washer"?

I was 14 the 28th of February, and am in the fourth class. Will "Donta" write to me, and I will answer at once? My address is with Miss Grey. I, for one, am very thankful the States went in and helped to win the war. It is a good dog that comes when he is called, and the States need some praise. Can anyone supply me with the words of a song that runs like this:

"The wife of a soldier was starving with hunger,
And close by her side stood a poor little lad"?

I would be very thankful to get them. I am very small for my age, so will sign myself, LITTLE GROWLER.

Sorry for Evangelist.

Dear Miss Grey,—After reading Evangelist's letter I could not resist writing. Evangelist, you cannot realize how deeply you touched my heart by your letter. Can it be possible that with the Christians there must be in London that none have reached a friendly hand to you? Your life must indeed have been lonely, and I can assure you that if ever you come to my home town that at least one friendly hand will be reached forth to you and one home will have the latch open to you—a home you need not be ashamed to enter.

I have experienced that lonely feeling myself when first coming to a strange city, but, thank God, only for a short time, as Christian girls soon reached out a friendly hand to me. Evangelist, I want you to know that your letter has helped me, and by God's help I mean to live a better life.

May God prosper you in the new fields upon which you are going, and in the future I will pray to God that your life may have more sunshine than it has in the past. I have a soldier brother, and it makes my heart ache to think that to those who have done so much for us have been given so little in return. May God be with you is the earnest wish of

A FRIEND.

Daily Bible Question Club

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, March 30, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION. By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

Review: God's Hand in a Nation's Life. Selection for reading, Joshua xxiv., 14-28.

The questions for this week may be used as an original lesson, or as a review of the twelve preceding weekly lessons. The date and the title of each lesson, where found, golden text, and one question selected from each lesson follow during the present week.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

March 2.—THE REPORT OF THE SPIES. Numbers 13:1—14:38. Golden Text—This is the victory that hath overcome the world, even our faith. I. John 5:4.

9. Verses 1-3. Seeing God had promised the land of Canaan to Israel, was it wise, or otherwise, and why, to send spies to search the land?

March 9.—JOSHUA, PATRIOT AND LEADER. Joshua 1:1-8. Golden Text—Be strong and of good courage. Joshua 1:9.

10. Verses 1, 2. What qualities did Joshua have to fit him to be the successor of such a distinguished man as Moses?

Golden Text—Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to my people. Prov. 14:34.

RIGHTEOUSNESS IS THE GREATEST NATION BUILDER.

The great world war has demonstrated, so that he who runs may read, the truth of our text and has taught unmistakably not only the countries that depended upon force for their prosperity, but all the rest of us who claim to be democratic that if we would continue to enjoy prosperity we must be honest and above board in our dealings with other nations, and between ourselves. The greatest nation builder possible is the "square deal." Capital must not oppress labor and labor must not expect more than capital can afford to pay. There never was a time when the doctrine of Christ has been so vindicated, that is, that love for others is the only thing which brings individual as well as national happiness.

TORONTO UNIVERSITY BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Will Play Exhibition Game With Western Boys at University Gym.

Toronto University basketball team will play the Western University boys at the Western "U" gym tonight.

This is the second game of a home-and-home exhibition series. The Toronto boys secured a small lead on the Londoners in the game at Toronto but the Western team expects to overcome the lead tonight.

Cline, Kingswood, Smith, Pritchett, Simpson, Callaghan and McGeoch will be on the Western lineup.

The Western "U" girls and the Strongbows will play a preliminary game. Both teams are from the Western University Girls' Basketball League.

The Western "U" boys will play the second game in the Intermediate O. A. A. semi-finals at Hamilton on Tuesday next.

GALT LACROSSE PLAYER DIED AT MONTREAL

ANGLERS DEFEATED TRAPPERS; HUNTERS WON FROM SCOUTS

Two Fast Games Played in Harriers' Basketball League Last Night.

The Anglers defeated the Trappers by the score of 14 to 8 in the Harriers' Basketball League at the Y. M. C. A. "gym" last evening. The game was fast and the Anglers showed better class than the Trappers. Talbot was the star for the winners, getting four field baskets. Clinger was the high scorer for the Trappers.

In the second game the Hunters won from the Scouts, the score being 14 to 9. Several good combination plays were made by the Hunters, resulting in a win.

The teams lined up as follows:

MICHIGAN-ONTARIO SCHEDULE WILL BE REDRAFTED TODAY

Bay City and Flint Claims Will Be Discussed by Schedule Committee.

DETROIT, March 27.—A session of the schedule committee of the Michigan-Ontario Baseball League has been called by President Joe S. Jackson to convene in this city tomorrow afternoon to further take up the matter of playing dates, which includes a revision asked for by the clubs at the last general meeting. Besides the president, Secretary F. W. Wilson of Toronto and the chairman of the schedule committee will be here. A number of other matters demanding immediate attention will also be considered by the committee, including one having to do with Bay City and Flint claims with which the league members are now familiar. A new territorial claim against a Canadian city will also be inquired into.

There is more or less of a tangle on these matters, but it is believed that it can be straightened out without much trouble with co-operation by the clubs with the officials. The present hitch is mainly due to failure to realize the difference between baseball law and that of ordinary procedure. Secretary Farrell and President Jackson have been in correspondence in regard to the claims and the best way of adjusting them, and the committee will take up the matter at its meeting.

WOODSTOCK COLLEGE WINS FROM GUELPH IN O. A. B. A. SERIES

College Boys Outplayed Royal City Y. M. C. A. Team by Score of 21 to 10.

WOODSTOCK, March 27.—In a scheduled O. B. A. junior fixture Woodstock College defeated the Guelph Y. M. C. A. by the score of 21-10. The local students had a decided advantage in weight and the vistors were unable to hold back the fast traveling locals. The Guelph lads had considerable combination, which they used to advantage, but the heavy local defence frustrated their attempts at baskets. Stibbs was the best man for Woodstock, as was also Morrison. Hamilton and Sowke did stellar work for the visitors. The line-up:

Woodstock—Forwards, Morrison and Stibbs; centre, Jones; defence, Roderick and Denman.

Guelph—Forwards, Hamilton and Buckland; centre, Sowkes; defence, Sorby and Cockman.

Referee—W. Bowman.

As a curtain raiser to the big game the Loyal "Y" five played the college seniors, winning by 37 to 12.

ROCHESTER BOWLERS ON TOP IN TWO-MEN EVENT

TOLEDO, O., March 27.—O. Kallusch and E. Barnes of Rochester, N. Y., went to the top in the two-men event of the American Bowling Congress here today with a team score of 1,305. The pair counted games of 425, 448 and 432, which displaced Pekie and Lellinger of Chicago, who had held the place nearly two weeks with 1,258. Barnes had 706 of the total.

SARNIA BOWLERS TO HOLD ANNUAL TOURNEY JULY 16

SARNIA, March 27.—July 16 is the date set for the Sarnia Lawn Bowlers' annual tournament for 1919. An officers of the club, interviewed today, said: "It looks to me like a banner year for our players. Greater interest than ever before is already manifest. Folks want to forget in a great measure at least the big war, and while the reconstruction problems here to solve are massive, yet we are going to have a little play as well." Schedules and rinks will be drawn up soon.

SEVERAL TEAMS TO ENTER SARNIA BASEBALL LEAGUE

SARNIA, March 27.—Local baseball fans are getting ready for the coming season. The Perfections, Bear-Cats and others will join the City League, and the sport in this wise this summer promises to be full of excitement and interest. Many soldier boys now home from the fight will go back to the ball and bat. It is humored in certain quarters that a soldiers' or veterans' baseball team may be organized.

KENNEDY WANTS CANADIAN RULES USED SATURDAY

SEATTLE, Wash., March 27.—Frank Patrick, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association, has been named as mediator in the dispute between Seattle and Montreal over the question of whether Saturday's game will be played under eastern or western rules. Patrick and Managers Muldoon and Kennedy met at noon today to thresh the matter out. Muldoon is holding out for the western rules, while Kennedy claims the game should be contested under eastern rules, saying last night's tie was a "dud" in the big series.

SKATED TEN MILES IN THIRTY-ONE MINUTES

Stockholm, March 28.—V. Bergstroem set a new world's record yesterday by skating ten miles in 31 minutes 7½ seconds, which is 37 seconds lower than the record held by John S. Johnson of Montreal, Canada.

LONDON CURLING CLUB EUCHRE MEET TONIGHT

The regular Friday evening euchre tournament of the London Curling Club will be held in the club rooms, Lyle street, tonight at 8 o'clock. Two prizes will be given.

VANCOUVER AND OTTAWA FINISH SERIES TONIGHT

Vancouver, B. C., March 28.—Ottawa Senators will meet the Vancouver hockey team in the final hockey match of the season, to be staged in Vancouver, and the last game in the series between the two teams, here tonight. Six-man hockey will be played for the first half, and the game will be finished under western rules.

STRANGLER ED. LEWIS DEFEATED JOHN OTIN

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Strangler Ed Lewis defeated John Otin in a wrestling match here last night. The match was won by a head-lock in 38 minutes. Otin was unconscious 25 minutes following his defeat and had to receive medical attention.

WRESTLING CHAMPION WINS FROM TURNER

Boston, March 28.—"Mike" Yokel, middleweight champion wrestling claimant of the United States, defeated Joe Turner of Washington last night, two falls out of three. Yokel won the first fall in 34 minutes and 34 seconds. Turner won the second in 1 hour 15 minutes and 30 seconds, and Yokel won the third in 17 minutes flat.

JOE KEENAN SIGNS UP CATCHER TREE FOR LONDON TEAM

Player From Hobart, Ind., Will Line Up With London.

The most recent addition to the London baseball team of the Michigan-Ontario League is Catcher L. Tree of Hobart, Ind., who is training in the south with the St. Paul club of the American Association. Manager Joe W. Keenan received word yesterday from this player that he was willing to accept the terms offered by the London leader, and will report here for training in the latter part of April.

With the training this player will receive down south, he should be a valuable man to have on the Forest City line-up. According to his record he is a first-class backstop. "Jo-Jo" has another catcher in view, and when he is signed he will have that part of the team completed.

The pitchers for the London team will be secured when the majors and minors complete their training in the south. A number of good hurlers who are not able to make the higher grade, but who are class "B" players, will be signed up.

The schedule for the Michigan-Ontario Baseball League will be redrafted at a meeting of the schedule committee to be held in Detroit today.

Arrangements for the opening of the league will be made at a meeting of the directors to be held at Bay City a week from Sunday. London will send representatives to this meeting.

WHAT WILL THEY DO WHEN THEY ALL GET BACK AGAIN?

A few first hand impressions by the "Company Runner."

Your old reading acquaintance, Service, of the midnight sun and frozen north fame, was probably the first to wonder out loud, "What will they do when they all get back again?" Distasteful and impossible, he fears, will be that monotonous job of yore, and, in verse, pictures one as disporting himself again with old-time vigor amongst the adorable old flour barrels and biscuit boxes until, "As a flat voice asks for a pound of tea," he depicts one's mind drifting absently back to the sandbag tops with a barb-wire front, neglecting the additional feature, however, of the odd "whizz-bang," which vindictively sprays dirt on the ration of cheese so negligently left on the parados as its owner hurries to pass the word along to the platoon commander that his tea is ready in the usual "sap."

The Uncertain Future.

Unable then or unwilling to adapt themselves to the routine of other days, it would be equally interesting and beneficial to know what becomes of those who, either by reason of phenomenal luck, keen judgment or influential friends, have survived the so-called "great adventure." Undoubtedly those now enjoying the enviable privilege of hiring and firing would view with disapproving eyes such life studies as the erstwhile "bomber" lolling over the sugar barrel, oblivious to the frantic demands of a "star" customer, but absorbed in the glory of the past. (Working party 6 p.m., Crucifix Corner. Every second man take pick as well as shovel.)

What will they do? Not a few are puzzled over the possibilities. Although it has been claimed to be not their burial party, even your late employer, the Government, superinduced may be by the proximity of a general election, or possibly in all good faith, endeavors strenuously to create an impression of whole-hearted interestedness. Many are skeptical as to an immediate rosy future as foretold by the prophets. How are you involved? With arms outstretched have they welcomed you back to your favorite task at the immovable weekly stipend, coupled with the unpromising option of reverting to the growing ranks of those whose time hangs heavy on their hands.

Sweeping Advances.

Have they overlooked the fact that sweeping advances have occurred since the bands outplayed each other, the crowds yelled themselves hoarse and Freddie marched away and later marched back again, thus eluding the Great Beyond because it was laid down definitely according to Hoyle that a certain percentage must inevitably return to relate how they won their medals, have their pictures taken and vote at the next election.

What will they do? If incapable of or reluctant to toil once more for the elusive dollar there are other paths to be followed with uncertain consequence, however. One of our journalistic bewing acquaintances, possibly with a hidden sense of humor, but seemingly in all earnestness, admitting a Bolsheviki inclination, and even aspirations (of a strictly passive nature, of course), suggests the assembling of all such kindred spirits under the wing of that doubtful movement. With this gathering of the clans he foresees an immediate solution of labor and financial difficulties, that will be permanent. Hard times, he senses, will become a memory with congenial surroundings and a full dinner pail a joy for ever. If sincerely applied, this move, no doubt, would in time furnish for many employment of a kind—chair making, perhaps, in one of our larger institutions maintained by the Federal Government, with contracts which might not terminate for 15 or 20 years, depending upon the leniency of the presiding judge.

Experience Teaches.

Brief illuminating sessions in military detention bureaus, however, have instilled in many the laudable policy of caution. "Look before you leap" and other praiseworthy maxims can be safely quoted here. The mashing of policemen's faces with handy rocks and similar pastimes, enjoyable no doubt at the moment, have not always proved profitable. Quieter methods are known to remove from position individuals whose hair was not parted to our liking or whose haberdashery perhaps offended us. Even before now, elections have been sufficiently level to allow popular vote to eliminate an entire objection able political body.

In any event, Castle Carter, through the stress of years, yet maintains its imposing but forbidding appearance on the historic banks of the Thames. The sheriff and his obliging ally, the chief of police, would in all probability be too eager, we fear, ot greet one with that knowing shake of the head, as they murmur one to another, "Old soldier, old sweat."

One Prospect.

What will they do? "Back to the land with a Government grant," they answer in unison. Light your "fag," old soldier, and see it in the smoke for yourself. New-laid eggs, gallons of cool cream, lemon pies, hospital diet beyond the wildest stretch of imagination mixed proportionately with country air, old-fashioned gardens, new-mown hay, a gorgeous sunset (the one in the love stories), with the cooling morning breeze wafted gently through your open window on the east side of the house, and that ever faithful ivy, which still clings to the old garden wall. You know the spot—the ancient homtstead, the family stamping-ground, out on the ninth concession. Is it not remarkable the number of veterans of the Kansas and Dakota harvest fields, experts with the fork or binder, who obtain their "ticket," shed their uniform, and, like the Arab, silently steal away southward, to all appearances unaware of this chance of a lifetime.

For those who desire to answer the call of distant places, some advise, "Go west," and thus ultimately escape walking out of town. Others point assuredly to the east as the land of promise, while the more optimistic ask, "Why travel? A rolling stone gathers no moss, while the future here holds much." Does it?

The Old Struggle.

If not altogether bright and attractive, it promises exhilarating moments, with a renewal of the old struggle, to dodge the bread line and retain an alleged room in which to deposit the Sunday collar. "There's a good time coming when things open up," they shout. What matter if our neighbors have their continual strikes, lockouts, walkouts, feminine workers refusing to leave their jobs, bartenders singing in the choir, the Keeley Institute forlorn and deserted, the anti-loafing act rigidly adhered to, etc., etc.

Location may be difficult, but whatever the chosen occupation may be, shoveling coal, moving pianos, or (again consulting the old acquaintance already mentioned) expounding the merits of somebody's face cream for exclusive people, emphasis must be placed on the rapid strides in the cost of existing. Equally important as the job itself is the adequate salary which should always accompany the same.

New Use.

Elevated safety devices which rescue the suffocated victim from the fourteenth story of the blazing skyscraper need now be employed to reach the necessities of life, while collective bodies of workers can still cash their checks with no inconvenience to our reliable banking institutions, or causing them to pull down the blinds and call in the auditors.

As the made-to-order house representative, with his $19 to $79 s edged 10 per cent off proposit presses forward, the dazed and un cided trooper regretfully fingers $35 complete Government clothing lowance and peruses yonder si "Special to returned men—All he wear cut to $6.48."

"Shades of the Little Panic!" haps that long-haired gink, with Bolshevik propensities (and wouldn't chuck a bomb at a woo Indian to shield his brother from firing squad?) was more convers with getting back to a civil stand than appearances warranted.

Impress upon them the necessity an increased payroll. The bunch eventually all return to work, and spite Mr. Service's grave warn will be only too pleased to confine recollections of sandbag tops barb-wire fronts to such moments leisure, as they sip their near-b and a bolder spirit orders up ch sandwiches for the house.

INGERSOLL TO HAVE BIG CELEBRATION TO RAISE PARK FUNDS

INGERSOLL, March 27.—In connection with the movement for a new central park a big "24th of May" celebration will be held. The matter was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the "Big 8," the fraternal societies which have made a success of many big undertakings during the past year. The gathering indorsed the action of the council in purchasing the Partlo pond property for park purposes. There is much enthusiasm behind the park movement and the celebration planned will, it is expected, receive the cooperation of citizens generally. The proceeds will be devoted to park purposes.

VETERAN ARRIVES.

Sergt. Thos. O. Hey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hey, has returned home after serving 23 months in France. Sergt. Hey, reached Halifax Monday morning on the Cretic and came here sooner than expected. He enlisted in Toronto with the 257th Battalion.

RIGID NEW LAW IS MOOTED REGARDING VITAL STATISTICS

Responsibilities on Doctors, Ministers and Undertakers.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 27.—To carry out a plan decided upon by representatives of the Dominion and the various provinces at Ottawa a few months ago, so as to have uniformity in the registration of births, marriages and deaths, Hon. W. D. McPherson introduced a bill in the Legislature today. Much of the bill is a revision of the existing act, but a number of the clauses are new.

Physicians, nurses, clergymen, undertakers or other persons with a knowledge of the facts regarding births, marriages or deaths under the new act, are compelled to supply information demanded by the registrar-general. The section requiring divisional registrars to make returns monthly, instead of quarterly, provides a new feature, in that registrars who get no registrations must report the fact.

Duty of Parents.

In future, when there is a default in the registration, the divisional registrar will notify the person responsible, and if the default continues for seven days the registrar-general must be notified of the case. A section places the duty of seeing that registration is made, upon the parent or guardian. There is a clause which provides that where there are births at sea, where the mother, being an Ontario woman, is on her way to Canada, or where like births occur in hospitals across the border, they are to be registered in the province.

In the matter of given names, changes are to be allowed if the change is made before the return is sent to the registrar-general. The section in the old act allowing changes to be made within ten years is to be discontinued.

Must Register Still-Births.

A clause is inserted in the bill introduced by the provincial secretary, compelling the registration of still-born children and prohibiting the issue of a burial permit until there is assurance that this clause has been complied with. If a doctor issues a death certificate when he has not been in attendance during the last illness of the person, the act provides that he may be subjected to discipline before the Ontario Medical Council.

Mr. Lucas' bill to provide for the "establishment of the office of public trustee" was given its second reading, and several public bills were introduced and given first reading.

PAYMENT RATIFIED.

TORONTO, March 27.—The payment of $1,300 to Mrs. Mary McDonald, a farmer's wife, of Windham Township, Norfolk County, in settlement of her action against the estate of the late Rev. Patrick Corcoran, one time parish priest at Parkhill, Ont., to recover $6,000 was ratified by Chief Justice Mulock at Osgoode Hall this morning on the application of Wm. Proudfoot, K. C.

Mrs. McDonald was housekeeper for Father Corcoran.

Strong Men and Women to Build Up Canada

It isn't only the doctors and nurses who are now alive to the serious menace of disease and the importance of waging warfare against the foes that prey upon the physical welfare of mankind. Preachers, teachers, ethical leaders, people of all sorts and conditions are beginning to waken up to the fact that a close relationship exists between the physical and moral well-being of a community and nation. The nation's ability to defend itself, its intellectual, industrial and moral strength, depend largely upon the physical status of its people.

Speaking briefly the other day at the meeting of the London Ministerial Alliance, Rev. Dr. Dickie of Chatham, moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Hamilton and London, made the statement that one of the revelations of the war has been the fact that "we have degenerated physically." In support of this statement, he pointed to the number rejected from military service because of physical unfitness. The forces of Christianity, he declared," must do their part in waging warfare upon drunkenness, venereal diseases and other evils making for physical degeneracy."

"Strong men and women to build up Canada" is a slogan which should carry far in the promotion of a nationwide public health campaign for the Dominion.

In the meantime, London is bestirring itself to do its part in nation-building through shining to the best of its ability in its own small corner. So seriously is the question of promoting the efficiency of public health service being considered that the London Chamber of Commerce has given up its March membership meeting in the Masonic Temple this evening to a "Public Health Field Night." Dr. Charles J. Hastings, M. O. H. of Toronto, one of the foremost authorities in Canada on the subject of modern public health administration, is being brought from his many duties and responsibilities to speak on that subject this evening. Recognizing the fact that the women of the city have awakened first to the need of the highest possible efficiency in public health organization to save life and raise the physical standard of the citizenship, the chamber of commerce has extended an invitation to the members of federated women's organizations to be present tonight to hear Dr. Hastings, ask questions and take part in discussion.

The influenza epidemic which gripped the city last fall proved a most awakening experience, particularly to the women of the city, who did their part heroically in fighting the plague.

Conclusions arrived at by close observers of conditions were these:

When the community is sick, business is paralyzed. Sound, healthy people are imperatively needed for the carrying on of a community's business.

The closest possible co-operation is needed between public health agencies in order to prevent recurrence of an epidemic of such ravaging extent as the influenza epidemic.

The closest possible co-operation is needed at all times between public health agencies to save life, reduce disease to the minimum, and to build up a strong, efficient citizenship.

Education along the lines of public health to reach all the citizenship is urgently required.

Education and adequate service cost more money than has yet been deemed necessary for the carrying on of public health work in London.

A campaign of educaton is necessary to open the eyes of ratepayers to the fact that conservation of human life is the best kind of economy from every standpoint, commercially, industrially, agriculturally, in every possible way.

It was because of these conclusions that the Local Council of Women, a federation of the leading women's organizations of London, drew up a resolution indorsing centralization of public health activities under a strong executive head, and adequate financial endowment thereof. Copies of the resolution were sent to the city council, trades and labor council, board of health and chamber of commerce. The board of health has for several weeks been giving serious though to the best plan to bring about centralization, and the London Chamber of Commerce has appointed a live committee on "Centralization of Public Health."

As stated in the public health edition of the chamber of commerce bulletin, just issued, the underlying idea of the public health centralization movement locally is "In union there is strength."

Humans vs. Pigs, Colts, Calves and Trees.

The establishment of a federal department of public health, which, it is understood, will be an accomplished fact of the near future, is just the carrying out of the centralization idea on a larger scale. It means the establishment of a national bureau which, through its statistical department, will have command of definite information in regard to the public health situation in the whole of the country. Infant mortality statistics and periodicals figures from one province can be compared with those of other provinces, and in this way the federal bureau will be in a position to know exactly where the weak links in the chain of public health service exist.

The establishment of a federal public health bureau will bespeak a recognition of the fact that the life of a human baby is as great an asset to the nation as the life of a juvenile pig, a calf or a colt; that human beings are as much wealth to a nation as forests and mines.

The establishment of a federal public health department will bespeak also a recognition of the fact that there is physical degeneracy in Canada, which requires the most skillful and well organized effort of the nation to correct, a recognition of the fact that a renewal of the tide of immigration to Canada will constitute grave physical menace unless public health is in a position to effectively grapple with the situation.

The establishment of such a bureau will conclusively prove that the imminent need has presented itself of "strong men and women to build up Canada."

The Mere Man On "Wimmin's Hats."

"Say, where do they put the money in women's hats?" asked the Mere Man the other day, a martyred expression upon his usually cheerful countenance.

"My wife has just bought a hat," and there everybody within hearing laughed, while the Mere Man scowled.

"No," he said with extreme dignity, "I'm not talking about my wife's hat, but about the hats I have been looking at in the windows. "There's a bit of straw that doesn't look like anything in particular, a jab of ribbon and some pins stuck in, perhaps. The hat looks like about three dollars, and I'd wager the materials aren't worth that much. But there the ticket is, plain as daylight, fifteen or sixteen dollars. "Robbery, I call it, nothing short of robbery!"

The Mere Man was reminded that there is a subtle thing that is called "style," which it is alleged people pay for.

It conveyed nothing to him. "Why should people pay twelve or thirteen dollars for style and only two and a half or three dollars for actual material?" he literally snorted. It was a wrong basis of doing business, altogether, according to his way of thinking. So far as style was concerned, he'd bought a hat five or six years ago, and it was still as good as new.

Well, he had worn caps most of the time, except to funerals. And what was the use of talking thrift and educating people in thrift, if you poured this kind of knowledge into one ear and into the other one sang the siren song of the importance of buying a hat marked at fifteen or sixteen dollars, and worth in reality about three dollars?

"It won't take people long to get away from their war-time standards of simplicity," he mourned, "and you can't tell me people enjoy the simple life. They don't really appreciate things at their actual worth, but at what the dollar mark says. It is high time we were getting to be more discriminating, learning independence of taste and judgment.

"What started me on this? Oh, yes, I remember, the cost of the new spring hats."

"Your wife's new spring hat," replied a member of the circle, who had listened with interest to the philosophical discussion by the Mere Man, entirely with himself, on the subject of clothes and things. But he insisted it wasn't his wife's hat at all.

The foregoing are the expressed opinions of a Mere Man. The writer is merely performing the part of talking machine record, thinking the philosophy of Mere Man might interest more people than those within hearing of his voice.

In Hurry To Get Home, Soldier Beat It When Mons Fell Brought Here From Windsor —Caught After Ocean Voyage.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, March 27.—Deserter and stowaway, Pte. Frank H. Lascelles, 52nd Canadian Battalion, who left his unit at Mons, Belgium, two days after the Canadians took that city, surrendered himself today to Sergt. Bell, in charge of the military police post at Windsor.

Slipping past the outposts in the outskirts of the historic city, while bands were parading the main street celebrating the signing of the armistice, Lascelles reached Antwerp, where he stowed himself away aboard an American tanker. Four days out from that port he was discovered by the crew and compelled to do his bit in the stokehold. Reaching Philadelphia he was arrested by the United States immigration officers for attempting to enter the country illegally. On promising to report to Capt. Brunt, British assistant provot marshal at Chicago, Lascelles was released, but failed to keep his word. He was taken to London this evening.

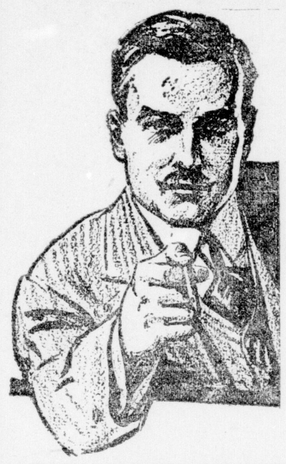

TOOK TILLSONBURG HERO MONTH TO LIVE DOWN HIS REPORTED DEATH

TILLSONBURG, March 27.—Tillsonburg welcomed home two more of her heroes at 1 o'clock today, Pte. C. A. Palmer and Pte. J. Lawrence. Mayor McQueen and the Soldiers' Aid Commission were on hand, and the heroes motored to the town hall for an official welcome. Pte. Clarence "Happy" Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palmer, is one of the few privileged persons in the world to read an account of his own death while in a hospital in England. In the year 1917 a chum of his also in the hospital in England, showed him a copy of the St. Thomas Times, in which was an account of his chum's death. The best or the worst was yet to come, for on looking at the front page, he read n bold type of his own death in action in France. It was three weeks before his parents were informed that such was not the case and now he is home in person to prove his case. The young man enlisted in the 7th Mounted Rifles and was two years and three months n France when he was shell shocked. He is one of the four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palmer to don the khaki, two of whom are yet in overseas service.

HAMILTON'S BILL IS PASSED BY COMMITTEE OF THE LEGISLATURE

TORONTO, March 27.—The private bills committee of the Legislature reported favorably this morning on the City of Hamilton's bill for various matters of legislation, after receiving the assurance of City Solicitor Waddell, of Hamilton that an agreement had been arrived at between the hydro-electric commission and the municipality. The clause which caused the bill to be shelved last week was one giving the city authority to operate a cut-off railway, as well as other lines, within a radius of 15 miles from the centre of the city.

Mr. Waddell was the only speaker on the bill, which passed with very little discussion.

INDUCEMENTS OFFERED TO GRAPE INTERESTS DURING ST. KITTS BY-ELECTION?

Proudfoot Hears Promise Was Made That Law Would Be Left to Permit Making and Sale of Native Wine.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 27.—"At first it was the intention of the Government to submit a single question in a referendum upon prohibition. Now, according to the provincial treasurer, three or four questions, among others beer and wine licenses and Government control of liquor business, are to be voted on. I am satisfied that the people of Ontario will never want the bars back again. We are all opposed to it, and to bring back beer and wine would simply open the bars again," declared Mr. William Proudfoot, K. C., M. P. P., tonight to a meeting under the auspices of North Toronto Liberal Association, which was attended by several hundred people. Other speakers who addressed the meeting were Hartley Dewart, K. C., M. P. P., and Nelson Parliament, M. P. P.

Oh, Oh? What's This?

Upon the recent St. Catharines by-election and the influence of the grape growers of the riding, Mr. Proudfoot said it was stated that in two townships where they grow a large amount of grapes, and where they have a very large industry in grape wine, there were certain inducements held out to them to vote for the Government, namely, that there would be no change in the permission of the Government to make and sell native wines.

"You all remember it was expected in December that a law would be passed to prevent the sale of native wine. Whether it was a coincidence or not I am not prepared to say, but the fact remains that there has been no change in the law, and the election is over, and the people in these townships voted almost unanimously for the Government candidate."

Mr. Proudfoot said that the women of the province would recognize what the Liberal party had done for them, and that it was to the women he looked to return him to office at the next general election.

Attack Upon Lucas.

Declaring that "the searchlights which so lately shone from the outside should be turned on the inside," Mr. Dewart commenced with an attack upon the attorney-general, who, he said, sat smug in his office while the stockyards returned huge profits to the packers and all connected with them. He contended that the stockyards should be under Government control. The Provincial Government had not prosecuted a combine, and he doubted if it would. These firms, he declared, owned both the Provincial and Federal Governments, body and soul. The Liberals, he said, were now almost afraid to introduce a reform, as it would be stolen by the Government overnight. He attacked the preparation of the voters' lists for the by-election.

Mr. Dewart referred to the appointment of Peter White, K.C., a good Conservative, to probe his recent charges which he outlined to the meeting. Mr. Parliament pleaded for more unity between the city and the country, while Sam Carter referred to the appointment of Sir William Meredith to investigate the Dewart charges, and remarked that the chief justice was obtaining many soft jobs.

MOTHERS TO BE

Should Read Mrs. Monyhan's Letter Published by Her Permission.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds, and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. Pearl Monyhan, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

REVOLUTION BREAKS OUT IN GALICIA

Movement Is Reported To Have Started in Oil Districts.

VIENNA, March 26.—A dispatch received from the Soviet Government at Moscow declares that all of Galicia is in a state of revolution. The movement is described as having begun in the oil districts near Drobhobyoz, where the workers established a Soviet Government, and to have spread to the surrounding districts.

Troops dispatched by the Polish Government, the message asserts, joined the movement. The Lemberg Soviet, it is added, has declared a general strike.

British Airplane Coming on Steamer For Atlantic Trip

Steamship Digby Blocked by Ice Within 120 Miles of Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., March 27.—The steamer Digby, which is bound here with Harry G. Hawker and Lieut. Commander MacKenzie Grieves, British aviators, and the airplane which they will use in an attempt to fly across the Atlantic, was stopped 120 miles off this port today by ice floes.

THREE OF FAMILY DIE OF "FLU" WITHIN HOUR; REMAINING THREE ILL

HAMILTON, March 27.—Death laid a heavy hand today on the family of Fred Decotteau, an employee of the Garthshore-Thompson Company. Decotteau, his wife and four small children were stricken with influenza last Friday. Today the father, mother and one of the children died within an hour. The other three children are battling for their lives.

Borden Cables He Is Not Considering the U. S. Ambassadorship

OTTAWA, March 27. — Sir Thomas White in the Commons today stated that from time to to time press dispatches from abroad had associated erroneously the name of Sir Robert Borden with the position of British ambassador at Washington. The matter had been brought, he said, to the attention of the premier and the following cable has been received from Sir Robert:

"You are authorized to state publicly that I am not considering the position of British ambassador at Washington, and it is my intention to return to Canada, and resume my duties as premier as soon as my work with the peace conference will permit."

RAILWAYMEN OF BRITAIN ACCEPT OFFER OF GOVT.

Strike Resolution Is Rescinded by a Conference of Delegates.

LONDON, March 27.—The delegates to the conference of the National Union of Railwaymen decided today to accept the offer of the Government for the settlement of their demands.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the union, said that the settlement was made subject to satisfaction being obtained on some points yet outstanding. The strike resolution was rescinded by the conference.

An increasing number of miners are stopping work in support of the full terms claimed by the miners' federation, despite the decision of the delegates of the miners' conference to refer the question of a strike to a vote of the members and urging the men to continue work until the ballot is taken.

More than 60,000 men are on strike in South Wales and 7,000 in other Welsh districts. A large number of men also are out in the Nottingham and Derbyshire coal fields.

34,897 CANADIANS DRAWING PENSIONS

OTTAWA, March 27.—In the House of Commons this afternoon, Dr. Sheard asked what number of Canadian soldiers were drawing pensions.

Hon. Mr. Rowell—"There are 34,897. Of these 31,300 are drawing less than 50 per cent disability."

How the Right Road Lightens the Load

THE three illustrations above are reproduced from actual photographs taken on the Toronto-Hamilton highway.

They tell an interesting story—they indicate clearly how farmers profit by the use of a highway which entails minimum tractive effort.

Near Clarkson an old-style road connects the railway siding with the concrete highway. Over this old-style road the farmers of the neighborhood must haul their fertilizer, after unloading it from the cars on the siding. That bit of old-style road is a quarter of a mile stretch which tests the strength of the strongest team, pulling one waggon load of four tons.

Illustration No. 1, shows one waggon load already arrived on the concrete and left there while the farmer goes back with his team for a second load.

In Illustration No. 2 we see him hitching the two waggons together.

In Illustration No. 3, we find him hauling the two waggons with the one team—8 tons—easily hauled on the concrete of the highway, as compared with the 4-ton load which his team could barely pull on the road adjoining the concrete.

The excessive tractive effort required to haul over an earth road or a gravel road, involves a power waste equivalent to the combined energy of many thousand horses daily.

It has been established by careful engineering tests that every ton of freight or produce hauled over an earth or gravel road requires a tractive effort of 218 pounds.

Twenty-eight pounds will move the same load at the same speed over a concrete road.

Thus we get a clear loss of tractive effort of 190 pounds to every ton hauled on an old-style road.

Power-waste is increasing in Canada, as our farm tonnage grows. This loss can be checked by the immediate building of permanent, power-saving highways of concrete.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once if bilious or constipated.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD, HE SAYS

Milwaukee Man Says Mother Suffered Eighteen Years—Tanlac Restores Her.

"If everybody in Milwaukee knew how much good Tanlac has done my mother, there isn't a one who wouldn't think just as I do—that it's worth its weight in gold," was the interesting statement made by Frank J. Passage, brakeman on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, living at 26 35th street, Milwaukee, recently. Mr. Passage's mother, Mrs. Minnie Passage, at the time she came to Milwaukee, four years ago, had been a resident of Shannon, Illinois, for fifty years, and was beloved by all who know her.

"For eighteen or twenty years," continued Mr. Passage, "my mother has had trouble with her stomach, and I can truthfully say that Tanlac is the only medicine I have been able to find all that time to do her any good. Nothing she would eat agreed with her, and she was subject to frequent attacks of acute indigestion. In a little while after eating her food would sour and bloat her up with gas, and cause her to suffer for hours. At times this gas would press on her heart, almost cutting off her breath, and I actually thought she was going to die. She complained of awful pains through her stomach and left side, and would belch a sour gas for hours. I have often had to get up in the middle of the night and doctor her on account of this gas, and I don't believe she ever got a good night's rest on account of the pain she suffered. During the past year she lost twenty-five pounds in weight or more, and all her strength seemed to leave her. During the past six months she has failed very much faster. All she was able to eat was a little soup or milk and soft-boiled eggs, and even this would hurt her. Her condition became so serious that on December 7 I quit work in order to stay home and take care of her.

"One day I noticed a Tanlac testimonial in the paper, which was so straightforward and convincing that I had mother I wanted her to try the medicine. She agreed, and at the time she started taking it she had been down in bed for five weeks, and couldn't stand on her feet but a few minutes, if she tried. Well, she has taken two bottles now, and you may believe it or not, she is up and doing all her cooking and housework, and is just feeling fine she is now 69 years of age, but I declare she gets around like one many years younger. She sleeps like a child, eats anything she wants, and that gas and indigestion has stopped bothering her almost entirely. I have never seen such a change in anyone as Tanlac has made in mother. I am very grateful for it, and she is feeling mighty happy herself. We can't say too much in behalf of Tanlac, and have been telling everyone in the neighborhood about it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drugs, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

COLONEL PRATT DENOUNCES OVERSEAS MINISTER OF CROWN FROM FLOOR OF LEGISLATURE

Declares Riots at Rhyl Camp Were Justified and the Results Prove It, But Protests at 80 Canadians "Lying in English Dungeons."

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 27.—A sweeping denunciation of the red tape in the overseas administration of the Canadian army, together with charges of the most serious nature against many officials at Argyle House, London, and in Canadian camps, was made in the Legislature today by Lieut.-Col. A. C. Pratt, Conservative M. P. P. for South Norfolk. He said the reason for the Rhyl riots was that the men were not being treated properly and that subsequent events proved that the outbreak had been worth while, as the men had promptly been given their pay, and 20,000 had been sent home within a week.

Outrageous Holdup.

He charged that members of the Royal Air Force, who could not get home because of alleged lack of shipping accommodation, found that by "salving" the hand of a ticket-seller they could get a berth and get passage to Canada. These ticket-sellers made at times £75 a week. Col. Pratt charged also that two years ago an officer and two N. C. O.'s from Argyle House Canadian administrative headquarters overseas had passed through a train carrying people homeward and collected about £3,000.

The member for South Norfolk cited many examples of where improper treatment had been accorded to Canadians, both officers and men. He told of the "bull-dozing" methods which a major had to tolerate, and asked: "When a major is treated like that what is a Tommy going to expect?"

Speaks to Crowded Galleries.

Col. Pratt spoke before the orders of the day were called. The galleries were crowded. His exposure of conditions overseas, while not coming within the scope of the Legislature, was frequently applauded by members from both sides of the House.

"I mean to tell the cause of the trouble at Rhyl Camp. Through the interviews I have had with the men and all the officers I could find who have come from there," said Col. Pratt at the outset. He explained that his address was not intended to convey a general condemnation of the powers that be. General Turner, he said, had the welfare of his troops at heart. That commendation, however, might not be extended to the staff of Argyle House, a large number of whom had been there before General Turner assumed command.

Troops Shunted About.

"Now as to conditions at Rhyl," he continued, "there was no coal, for coal is scarce in England, as it has been here. It was a cold winter, and the huts were poorly constructed. The blankets were only two in number, and they were old and worn. The feeding was bad. Many and many a time companies were sent to Liverpool, told that they were going to Canada, and then sent back without a word of explanation. They knew that the Aquitania and the Olympic, two of the best troop ships on the Atlantic, had been given to the Americans. And they knew that the Yanks had not been in the war as long as they had been.

"Then they were told that it was an impossibility to pay the men. Most of them received one pound on December 24, and not a cent more until March 21. The army and navy canteen, a British organization, had a monopoly of supplying the camps with eatables, and if a man wanted to get cigarettes he had to sign up for them a week ahead, and they could only be had for spot cash.

Draftees Get Preference.

"One Monday morning they saw in the newspapers that the third division was going home. They themselves were men from the third, first and second divisions, 25,000 of them who had seen three or four years' service and had been wounded. During the big drive last autumn, when a battalion was decimated, the vacancies were filled up with M. S. A. men. Naturally they wanted to take only full battalions to the Rhine, so that many M. S. A. men marched to the Rhine, marched back again, and were being sent back to Canada ahead of veterans of four years' service.

"On Monday a deputation went to the headquarters of M. D. No. 2 in a perfectly regular manner with a spokesman who addressed the major. They were referred to Captain Patterson, who blustered and bull-dozed them, and said he would have none of this nonsense. They said that if Argyle House was not appealed to before 10:30 p.m. on Tuesday they would riot. Col. Colquhoun said that he had appealed to Argyle House several times and had been able to accomplish nothing.

Protest at Bull-Dozing.

"At 10:30 the riot started. I am sure that it was only to attract public attention to the bull-dozing, domineering, arrogant and incompetent management of the situation, for I am sorry to say, there are a few incompetent officers in the Canadian army. "I do not in the least excuse the riot, but subsequent events have justified it, although the rioters went farther than they intended. In twenty-four hours they were paid off, and within a week 20,000 Canadians were on board ships sailing for home.

"The admiralty told me when the armistice was signed that they had offered sufficient tonnage to the Canadian authorities to take 60,000 men home to Canada every month. By March 1 only 52,000 had been brought home altogether.

"In comparison to this, listen to the efforts of Great Britain to demobilize her troops. From November 11 to February 21, 132,000 officers, 2,192,000 men, and 15,744 miscellaneous, a total of 2,340,470 had disembarked on the shores of Great Britain.

Australia Shipped 92,000.

"Australia had transported 92,000 men, 12,000 miles around the globe, by February 28. Canada had brought only 52,000 men, 2,500 miles.

"The riot was absolutely necessary if the inertia, which had taken hold of certain official circles in England was to be broken."

"There are," Col. Pratt continued, "6,000 air force men in England, who have been trying to get home for months. They go to the air ministry at the Cecil and are told that the ministry cannot get them home, but will give them indefinite leave. They go to Sir George Perley and he regrets he cannot do anything for them. They go to Argyle House and Argyle House regrets they cannot do anything for them. If they get indefinite leave they find they cannot live in London on their allowance. And they do not want to put up with the hardships of the camps.

"Then they hear a whisper that if they salve certain palms and pay their own way back to Canada a passage will be found for them. The hands to salve are those of the ticket sellers. This manner of securing a passage is current talk about London. THE TWO OFFICERS TO WHOM I TALKED, LIEUT. MITCHELL AND LIEUT. ——, SAID THEY PAID £5 TO THE TICKET SELLER AS A BRIBE, AND £23 FOR THEIR PASSAGE HOME, ON THE "D" DECK OF THE MINNEDOSA. THE TICKET SELLER WITH WHOM THEY MADE THE DEAL TOLD THEM HE WAS MAKING £85 A WEEK AT HIS BUSINESS. They found if they went to the air ministry and told them they had secured a passage back to Canada there was no difficulty in securing their discharge."

Eighty in English Dungeons.

At the inquest on the riot it had been stated that 80 Canadians were now in prisons throughout England in consequence of the outbreak. Under the King's regulations, he explained, there is no such thing as the habeas corpus act. A soldier in prison awaits the discretion of his senior officer as to when he shall be placed on trial.

"I protest," he continued, "that Canadian boys have no right to lie in English dungeons for a mistake."

At this juncture there was loud applause from both sides of the House.

"Subsequent events have absolutely justified their course of action," Col. Pratt added.

Col. Pratt denied any intention of replying to personal charges against him. He admitted that he had done nearly as much fighting with Argyle House as with the Germans. He told of his own experience at Dunkirk, where, within a period of two weeks, 48 bombs fell within 100 yards of his dugout. The camp had been bombed 28 nights during September, 1917, and 27 nights in October; some times as often as five or six times a night.

Need for Action.

"I ask you to try to conceive something of what Canadian soldiers suffer under bulldozing officers," Col. Pratt said. "They haven't seen their loved ones in years; they know nothing of what is going on back home; they are led to believe that their relatives there have forgotten them. I beg this House to remember the 215,000 sons of this province who stood between us and all the atrocities of the enemy. The fighting man is entitled to a square deal; he asks no more. A soldier asks no favors, but he has just cause for complaint when men called to service under the M. S. A. are the first to return home, to pick out the best jobs, and perhaps the best girls.

"I don't want the people of Ontario to believe that there is any serious lack of discipline on the part of the Canadians overseas; I simply ask them to treat with charity the boys who are still suffering overseas, who are not yet out of the war."

Bill for Public Trustees.

Following Col. Pratt's address Hon. I. B. Lucas then moved the second reading of the bill to create the office of public trustees.

After the attorney-general had once more summarized the main features of the bill, William Proudfoot, Liberal leader, expressed a wish that it might be laid over for further consideration. He did not believe there was urgent need of its being placed on the statute books at the present time.

V. A. Sinclair, South Oxford, foresaw a wide field of the usefulness of the bill, particularly in dealing with the estates of aliens who died in Canada.

J. C. Elliott, West Middlesex, also asked that the bill be laid over, in view of the fact that strong opposition, he said, was developing throughout the province to it. He asked that those concerned be given an opportunity to voice their views. The bill was given its second reading.

"Flu" Brings Back Hearing and Speech To Tillsonburg Man

Well-Known Hockey Player Now Learning to Talk.

TILLSONBURG, March 27.—Strange indeed were the marvels of nature and a phenomenal occurrence that is exciting much interest among doctors and citizens in Richmond and Thompsburg, is the strange effect that an attack of influenza has had upon Mr. Lloyd Smuck of Richmond. The young man has been deaf and dumb since he had suffered from typhoid fever in his childhood, but recently while ill with influenza he found that his hearing had been recovered and he is learning to talk though, of course, his progress is very slow. Dummy Smuck, as he was nicknamed, is a well known hockey player and has coached the Richmond team the past nine years in the Southern Counties League series held here every winter and this season piloted the home team through to the finals, when they were defeated for the silverware.

HALF SHIPS SUNK IN WAR CARRIED THE BRITISH FLAG

Great Britain Has Lost 3,147 Ships Out of 6,000 Total.

STATES LOST BUT 125

Neutrals and Some of Smaller Nations Suffered Heavily.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—American shipping suffered comparatively little at the hands of German submarines during the war, according to complete figures on allied and neutral ship losses, made available today.

Only 125 American vessels were lost, as compared with 3,147 British. In tonnage figures we lost 385,967 tons, against Britain's 7,518,870, navy department figures show.

Neutrals and some of the smaller entente nations suffered more than the United States. Greece lost 162 vessels and Norway 781.

Grand totals, covering sinkings from August, 1914, to November 1, 1918, are:

	Ships.	Tonnage.
United States	125	385,962
Great Britain (merchant)	2,475	7,747,935
Great Britain (fishing)	672	71,935

DEPUTATION URGES NORTHERN HIGHWAY ROUTE TO SARNIA

400 Representatives of Municipalities See Hearst.

PRESENT A STRONG CASE

Premier Declares Section in Question "Demands Careful Attention."

TORONTO, March 17.—Construction of a main provincial highway from Toronto to Sarnia through Brampton, Guelph, Kitchener, New Hamburg, Stratford, St. Marys, Parkhill and on through the fruit belt in the neighborhood of Arkona and Thedford, was urged on Sir William Hearst, premier of Ontario, and Hon. Findlay G. Mediarmid by a deputation of 400 representatives of the municipalities along the route outlined this afternoon.

The delegation took Queen's Park by storm shortly after 1 o'clock and filled the corridors of the Parliament buildings.

Good Reasons Given.

The gathering was introduced to the cabinet ministers by F. Wellington Hay, member of the Legislature for North Perth, who cited the following reasons for the construction of such a highway:

1. Greatest population served.
2. Most central location.
3. Greatest benefit to the province as a whole.
4. Ease of construction and close proximity of road building materials.
5. Providing a necessary main artery for the capital of the province.
6. Relief of the Hamilton-Toronto highway already overcrowded.
7. Relief of the employment situation.

"Your presence here today assures us that in our good roads policy we have the support of the bulk of the people of the province," said Premier Hearst, in reply to the deputation. He reviewed the steps leading up to the Government's decision to construct a provincial highway.

Will Be Considered.

"Your request," Sir William promised, "will have the serious thought and consideration of the Government. It is a matter which cannot be decided in a moment, but you represent a portion of the province which is not only entitled to, but demands, careful attention."

He commented on the heavy expenditures which the Government's highway policy would necessitate, but declared that road construction would be speeded up in order to meet the requirements of the present labor situation. The province would not curtail its highway expenditure promised because of any grant which it might receive from Ottawa.

C. A. Mayberry, principal of the Stratford Collegiate Institute, and Inspector Smith, supported by a deputation of fifty, urged upon Sir William the claims of Stratford. The premier agreed with all they said in regard to technical education and conceded in their belief that the Federal Government should give assistance to such education. For the province he promised that an official would be sent to Stratford to inspect the situation.

The representation by counties included Lambton, Huron, Perth, Wellington, Waterloo, Halton, Peel, Grey, Bruce, North Oxford and North Middlesex.

The towns on the suggested highway are: Sarnia, Parkhill, Thedford, Forest, Mitchell, Seaforth, Clinton, Goderich, Stratford, New Hamburg, Kitchener, St. Marys, Guelph, Baden, Georgetown, Brampton, Acton, Listowel, Palmerston, Hanover.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Address Your Problems to the Military Editor of The Advertiser and They Will Be Answered From Official Information.

READER: Q.—1. I tried to enlist in the Royal Air Force on May 20, 1918, being at that time 19 years of age. I was rejected by a medical board in London on account of two crippled fingers, and was placed in Category C.2. Are buttons issued by the authorities for such cases as mine?

2. If buttons are issued, where should I write for one?

3. Do you think it fair that the slacker and the man who tried to enlist should be placed in the same class with no mark of distinction between them?

A.—1. No.

2. Buttons were issued (Class D), for those who applied for enlistment and were rejected, but these were discontinued by the military authorities in May, 1918.

3. No. However, being on the outside looking in, as it were, with regard to the management of affairs in Canada, The Advertiser has no recourse to remedy the above sad state of affairs.

FISHERVILLE: Q.—1. I enlisted on January 19, 1915, and was discharged from the service on April 12, 1918. Nineteen months of my service was in France, the remainder being in England and Canada. On being discharged I received three months post-discharge pay. How much war service gratuity am I entitled to receive?

2. I sent in my papers applying for war service gratuity ten weeks ago. Should I receive my first payment of same soon?

A.—1. For three years' service or over, part of which was in France, you are entitled to 183 days' pay and allowances of rank held at discharge, at a minimum rate for married men of $100 per month, and a minimum rate for single men of $70 per month. You will, therefore, receive 183 days' pay at above rates (depending upon whether married or not), minus the amount of post-discharge pay which you have previously received.

2. Yes. However, the task of issuing war service gratuity to discharged men is a tremendous one and it may be some time ere you receive your allowance.

NIOBEITE. Q.—1. Would a man now serving in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, who served in the navy during 1914-15, count both services together in regard to war service gratuity?

2. Would said man be entitled to wear the red service chevron for service in navy during 1914?

3. To whom was the 1914-15 star issued?

4. Is it a Canadian decoration?

5. If so, is it issued to the navy as well as army?

A.—1. Yes. Provided that naval service was in the Canadian navy. That is to say if the man enlisted in the Canadian navy, although he may have been attached to the British navy for service.

2. No. This is an army decoration only.

3. To all Canadian soldiers who saw service in France or any "actual theatre of the war" prior to December 31, 1915.

4. It is issued to Canadian soldiers in conjunction with the British war office, being really an imperial decoration.

5. No.

WARWICK: Q.—I have two sons who enlisted in the Canadian West. They are both in the Army Medical Corps, one being now attached to the 3rd Division and the other in the Central Medical Stores at London, England. If the troops come back in units will they be allowed to remain here on a short visit?

A.—This is a matter which would have to be arranged by them at point of disembarkation from troopships, where soldiers are routed to the various military districts throughout the Dominion. It is quite possible that such a visit could be arranged at eastern port of disembarkation by the soldiers applying for such a visit immediately upon arrival in Canada.

J. S. H.: Q.—1. I was conscripted under the military service act, and served in the army from June 1 until August 8, when I was granted harvest leave. Two months or more after harvest leave was granted I was notified that Ottawa had authorized leave in my case until further orders. Shortly after that I had to report and hand in my kit and uniform. Soldiers whom I knew when being discharged received the $35 civilian clothing allowance. Am I not entitled to this amount?

2. If I were entitled to this allowance to whom would I write regarding same?

3. Why should I not be entitled to same as others who served for the same length of time?

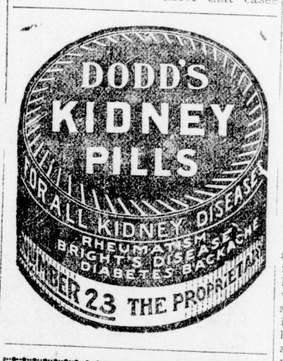

4. Am I entitled to my uniform?

A.—1. Information given to The London Advertiser at military headquarters here is to the effect that cases such as the above are dealt with on their individual merits with regard to the payment of the civilian clothing allowance. There is no distinct ruling and, therefore, it cannot be decided in these columns as to whether you should receive this amount or not. Further than this there is no official information available on the subject at this office.

2. Evidently the decision is against you and nothing could be accomplished by writing to the military authorities. However, if you care to try, a letter to your former regimental paymaster provides the remote chance that your case will be reconsidered with a view to payment of this allowance.

3. A local military officer has suggested in explanation the fact that perhaps you voted wrong at the last election. This may solve the problem and if not we cannot suggest any other reason for the alleged discrimination.

4. According to regulations you are entitled to same, but as it is now in the quartermaster's stores you are the loser, and it is likely that it will stay there until required for further service.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. If Backachy or Kidneys Bother

Eat less meat, also take glass of Salts before eating breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated, and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfa for a few days, and your kidneys w then act fine. This famous salts made from the acid of grapes a lemon juice, combined with lithia, a has been used for generations to cle clogged kidneys and stimulate them normal activity, also to neutralize t acids in urine, so it no longer is source of irritation, thus ending bladd weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot i jure; makes a delightful effervesce lithia-water drink which everyo should take now and then to keep th kidneys clean and active. Druggis here say they sell lots of Jad Salts folks who believe in overcoming kidn trouble while it is only trouble.

WATERWORKS SYSTEMS OF THE BORDER CITIES TO BE AMALGAMATED

TORONTO, March 27.—The private bills committee of the Legislature today approved generally of the Border Cities' utility bill, providing for the amalgamation of the waterworks and other services of Sandwich, Walkerville, Ford and Ojibway, and the City of Windsor, but not until an amendment has been made concerning the department of health of the merged municipalities. This amendment was made on the recommendation of the provincial department of health, and provision is thereby made for two health boards to look after conditions in the border cities.

PLOWING HAS BEGUN IN THORNDALE DISTRICT

THORNDALE, March 27.—Several of the farmers in this district are sugar-making and report a good run of sap. They state that it is of a sweeter quality than it has been for years. Maple syrup is selling at $2.25 to $2.50 per gallon.

The 150-acre farm of the late T. Smibert, concession two, West Nissouri, was sold by auction for $8,975 to James Smibert, reeve of West Nissouri.

An auction sale of household furniture of Mrs. E. J. Harding was held on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Harding has rented her house and lot to Mr. and Mrs. S. Belton, of Wyton.

Farmers have begun plowing in this district.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING RULE FOR DOMINION

Parliament, After Heated Debate, Swamps Measure.

BUT RAILWAYS ADOPT IT

Farmer May Find Railway War Board Has Handed Him Lemon.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, March 28.—For once in a long, long time the farmers have won a victory in the Commons, the Government conceding their demands. Daylight saving so far as a Federal measure is concerned is a fond memory. It went down to defeat at a late hour tonight by a vote of 105 to 51, or by a majority of 54. The majority was secured all over the House, and the vote was an absolutely non-party one, the Government refusing to take the responsibility for a resolution on the matter, and leaving it to the private members.

Generally speaking, the vote was divided on rural and urban lines; that is, to say that every man who represented a city centre or a district in which labor predominated, voted for daylight saving, though in a number of cases, particularly in Quebec seats which are rural, the members also supported the return of the new time.

Cabinet Even, Divided.

The cabinet was divided on the matter, Sir Thomas White and Messrs. Carvell, Crerar, Calder, Rowell, Reid and Burrell voting against it, and Messrs. MacLean and Ballantyne on the losing side.

The debate was commenced on a motion by Cooper of Vancouver, seconded by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, that daylight saving be renewed in conformity with the time which will be adopted next Sunday by the United States.

To this motion Archie B. McColg of West Kent, seconded by Duncan Ross of West Middlesex, moved an amendment calling for the six months' hoist. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who as solicitor-general at $5,000 a year, thought that he had better do a little more to earn his salary, rose to declare that the amendment was not in order. Mr. Speaker had to remind him that even if he were solicitor-general he didn't know the rules. He didn't say so in exactly these words, but that is what he meant, for he declared that the amendment was perfectly in order, and Mr. Guthrie sat down forthwith.

Gets Twelve Months' Hoist.

Then MacKie of Edmonton went one better and moved the twelve months' hoist, which after all, means just the same thing as a six months' hoist, namely the killing of the measure. It was on the sub-amendment that the vote was taken and the one-year hoist carried.

There were all sorts of arguments advanced against the reintroduction of the measure. The early morning dews, the trouble encountered by the dairying industry in getting milk to the station an hour earlier than usual, the housewife's trouble in getting the children to sleep before daylight had expired—all these arguments were advanced, seriously and semi-seriously, by the opponents of the bill. Its advocates spoke for the labor man and the man in the office to whom an extra hour of the evening meant much.

Purely Non-Party Vote.

The vote found the leader of the Government and the leader of the Opposition standing together. It found men of both races and both religions united. In fact it was probably the most purely non-party vote which has been taken in the House for many a day. The cabinet was divided. Probably it was because some of them knew in their hearts that the farmer, after all, may be simply getting a lemon, for Hon. Dr. Reid, though he voted against daylight saving, could not give any information to the House as to how his vote was going to help the dairymen in getting his milk to the train, or the truck farmer in shipping his produce. The railways of Canada happen to be run by the railway war board over which the Government doesn't appear to have any jurisdiction, and the railway war board has already decided, without apparently consulting the Government, that they will adopt the American time. Even the National Railways, over which Dr. Reid is supposed to have some control, will adopt it, and there you are.

Cooper Bill Introduced.

Sir Thomas White stated that the Government was receiving numerous communications from various sections of the country with regard to daylight saving. As the question was not a party one, and involved no definite policy, he thought that it might be beneficial to have a discussion on the subject. He therefore moved that the House take up the proposed resolution of Major R. C. Cooper, Vancouver South, that the daylight-saving act of last year be re-enacted.

Major Cooper said that, while the cities and towns were practically unanimous for daylight saving, the farmers were not. The question simply was whether the legislation would benefit the largest number of persons in Canada. Major Cooper went on to say that the larger proportion of the Canadian citizens dwelt in the cities and large towns.

W. F. MacLean, South York, declared his sympathy with the point of view of the farmer, but having regard to the necessity of working harmoniously with the United States in railway administration, he said he would have to support the resolution. He concluded by asking if Canada was to be the first country to go back on progressive legislation.

General Sir Sam Hughes interjected that they should let the farmers alone to mind their own business.

Mr. P. E. Dutremblay, in supporting the resolution, said that daylight saving had been given a trail last year and had proven satisfactory.

Burrell Favors Measure.

Hon. Martin Burrell disagreed with the view expressed by one of two previous speakers that the Government was shirking responsibility in not bringing in the resolution as a Government measure. He thought that free discussion which had developed on the matter was a good thing. On other occasions the Government had been accused of making a party issue out of matters which did not merit such action. He said he was going to support the resolution.

Mr. Lemieux declared himself a supporter of daylight saving.

John Best of Dufferin, declared that in his belief a great majority of the people were against daylight saving. Mr. Best thought that the measure had erected no saving in fuel.

H. E. Lavigueur supported the resolution.

McColg Moves "Hoist."

A. B. McColg opposed the resolution and moved an amendment, "that this resolution be not now adopted, but that the consideration thereof take place this day six months hence." He said that in the constituency which he represented it was impossible to hoe certain crops, such as beans and sugar beets, while the dew was on the ground. The saving in coal through the daylight saving act was, in his opinion, of little importance.

Mr. Donald Sutherland, of South Oxford, also opposed the resolution. He argued that it would not help to reduce the cost of living. The farmers in his constituency were almost a unit against it. He said a bitter feeling was growing up between the rural and urban constituencies, aid this should not be aggravated by mischievous legislation.

Brief speeches against daylight saving were also made by Messrs. Nesbitt, of North Oxford; Glass, of East Middlesex; Capt. Reid, of Queens, P. E. I., and Henders, of MacDonald, Man.

D. C. Ross, West Middlesex, opposed the resolution on the ground that not only the farmers disapproved of it, but also the majority of the laboring classes.

H. C. Hocken, of Toronto, declared there was never a more popular measure put through by the Government, as far as the cities were concerned.

Pardee Supports McColg.

F. F. Pardee declared that the one question to be considered was, that there was a very decided cleavage of opinion between the urban and the rural residents. It was decidedly unpopular in the country and, as the real basic prosperity of Canada to a very large extent depended on the rural population, he thought their requests ought to be acceded to.

Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways, opposed the resolution. He thought that the railways should change their time at the border. Of course, the railways would make their time to suit the people they were serving. Personally, he would like to see the old standard time kept.

Hon. F. B. Carvell also opposed the resolution. As a farmer, he said he could agree with the contentions which had been put forward by those representing agricultural communities. As far as the railways went, he thought that if daylight saving were not adopted they should be able to arrange their schedules in some way so as to fit with the United States roads. He felt that the farmers suffered a real financial loss under daylight saving.

The division was then taken on the amendment to the amendment which was carried by 105 to 51.

The resolution as amended was then put and carried on the same division, the effect being that daylight saving failed to receive the endorsation of the Parliament.

Did Canada Release Trotzky?

Sir Sam Hughes asked at question time in the House this afternoon if Leon Trotzky, the present Bolshevik premier for Russia, was in 1916, in custody of the police authorities of the Dominion or of the city of Halifax? If so were any representations received in favor of Trotzky's release from Canadian custody?

Hon. Martin Burrell replied that there was no record.

Mr. Sinclair asked how many prosecutions had been brought by the department of justice under the authority of Section 7, Chapter 19, of the acts of 1916, relating to the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor shipped from an outside province in to a dry area?

Hon. Mr. Meighen.—"None."

Tributes to Senator Taylor.

Sir Thomas White paid tribute in a brief speech, to the memory of the late Senator George Taylor.

Mr. D. D. McKenzie, on behalf of the Opposition, expressed his desire to join in all that Sir Thomas had said. The late Senator Taylor, he said, was remembered with respect and kindly feeling. He had occupied many public positions and had brought to them a feeling of responsibility for the trust reposed in him.

Hon. T. A. Crerar intimated to the agricultural committee today that $50,000 would be placed in the supplementary estimates as a start on the same system as they have in the United States of regular inspection of herds for tuberculosis and the awarding of certificates for herds free from this disease.

The House adjourned at 11:55 p.m.

J. B. MARTYN BURIED IN WARDSVILLE CEMETERY

WARDSVILLE, March 27.—The late J. B. Martyn was buried this afternoon in the Wardsville Cemetery. The funeral service was conducted in the Anglican church. The pall-bearers were: D. L. Purcell, Frank Henderson, R. J. Pitch, Jack Simpson, Peter O'Malley and W. Randles.

The late Mr. Martyn came to Wardsville about 24 years ago. His wife died about fourteen years ago. He leaves three sons, Charles, Percy and Rugger, all overseas, and four daughters, Mary, at home; Kathleen and Florence, in Windsor, and Eleanor, at home. Gilbert Martyn, of London, is a brother.

A reception was held at the home of P. O'Malley tonight for Pte. Leonard Purdy, recently returned from overseas.

The pupils of the high school are making Pte. Purdy a presentation.

Rev. Mr. Jefferson is leaving Wardsville in June.

OAK HALL

CITY WILL NOT ADOPT NEW TIME FOR WEEK AT LEAST; WAITING FOR OTHER PLACES

Muddle Is General, Even Post office Not Knowing What To Do—Daylight Saving Throughout Country Is the Common Demand.

That the action of the Dominion Government in refusing to adopt daylight saving and the order of the railway board compelling the railways to conform to the advanced time as adopted by the United States will cause no end of confusion is the opinion in city hall circles this morning. Mayor C. R. Somerville thought that the Government should have adopted the time instead of leaving it to the various municipalities.

Week's Delay Anyway.

London will not adopt the new time for at least one week at any rate. The question came up before the council at a special meeting last night, but was referred to No. 1 committee. This committee will not meet until next Wednesday afternoon, and then a recommendation will be prepared for presentation to the council at the meeting the following Monday.

Mayor Somerville says that while it would be preferrable for all municipalities to adopt the new time London will probably follow the lead of the other cities. If they are in favor of it generally, London will adopt it.

P. O. Doubtful.

The postoffice employees have not been informed as to under which time they will work. Word is expected at any time from Ottawa regarding this. In any event the mails will have to be made up in time for the trains, and it is thought that the collections will be made in accord with the daylight saving.

London's own road will likely adopt the new time also. This has been under consideration, and, while it is not definitely decided as yet, it is thought that this road will follow the new time.

Somewhat Muddled.

Local wholesales and business houses are in somewhat of a quandary as regards the time. They of necessity must work to the time of the railroads, including the express companies and the mails, and if the city does not adopt the daylight saving conditions will be slightly mixed. The general opinion among the businessmen is that the city should conform to the railroad time.

While the local stock market will follow the new time, the banks will conform to the time as adopted by the city.

Alderman L. S. Holmes, chairman of No. 1 committee, is of the opinion that the question should be settled by the Dominion Government in order to make the measure uniform. He is in favor of the new time, but he thinks it should be uniformly adopted. If the other muncipalities favor the new time, London will certainly fall in line, says the alderman.

RAILWAY OFFICE STAFFS TO FOLLOW CITY LEAD

Whatever course the city follows in regard to daylight saving, the local office staff of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada will adopt, it is said. The trainmen and all those who have to do with the actual operations of the trains will adopt daylight saving time, however.

According to Superintendent C. G. Forrester, the Grand Trunk could not do anything else but fall in line with the move of the United States, in order to make train connections at the border.

MOTOR BUS SERVICE, LAMBETH TO LONDON, STARTS NEXT WEEK

This Is Expectation of the Promoters.

BIG CAR IS ON ORDER

Will Hold Nearly Forty Persons and Make Regular Trips.

By the end of next week, if present expectations are fulfilled, a regular motor bus service between Lambeth and London will be available for the convenience of residents of the village, who for business or other reasons find it necessary to make frequent journeys to the city.

W. A. Finch and F. W. Soper, the prime movers in the venture, applied for, and were granted $500 by the city council last night toward the expenses of the undertaking.

Company Formed.

A limited liability company has been formed for the purpose of bringing the plan to fruition. The capitalization is placed at $10,000, of which rather less than half has been subscribed up to the present, largely by farmers along the route of the bus line. No dividends will be paid, the intention being to inaugurate a non-profit making service purely for the benefit of those people, who, by the discontinuance of the London and Lake Erie Railway, have been deprived of the means of transportations between village and city.

Big Bus Ordered.

A bus capable of holding about forty passengers has been on order for some time, and delivery has been promised by April 2. The chassis is being purchased from a United States firm, and the body is being specially constructed by the Walkerville Body Company. The completed vehicle will be one of the best and most up-to-date of its kind ever made, and will be lighted by electricity.

Star in Morning.

The present intention is to make about six or eight round trips daily, commencing at an hour convenient for children coming into the city to school and continuing at regular intervals through the day. The fare will be 40 cents, and small parcels will be carried as freight. If the business warrants, a trailer will be added later to carry freight only.

ANGLICAN CHURCHES TO HOLD A SPECIAL PEACE SERVICE WHEN WAR ENDS

Choirmasters and Organists Meet To Arrange Musical Program.

All choirmasters and organists of the local Anglican churches met in Cronyn Hall last night to make arrangements for a special peace service which is to be held on the day that the peace treaty is signed. Canon L. N. Tucker was in the chair. He and Bishop David Williams are the honorary presidents.

Clarence E. Gilmour, organist at St. Paul's Cathedral, was elected conductor of the peace service, which is to be held in the Cathedral. Charles Percy of St. James' Church was elected president; Miss K. Moore of Cronyn Memorial, secretary; Miss Arnold of St. John's Church, treasurer.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the first practice for the peace service will be held.

RIVER BANK PROTECTION.

The proposed river bank protection along Ridout street south will be between 20 and 25 feet in height and will extend from the bridge to the edge of Mrs. Updaruch's property. City Engineer H. A. Brazier will present a report as to the cost at the meeting of No. 2 committee next Tuesday evening.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Oats took a jump on today's market and are now quoted at $1 95@2 per cwt.

Hay is selling from $18@20 per ton; 50 loads have been sold on the market in the last two days.

Straw is slow; the price quoted is $7 50@8 per ton.

The live hog market is somewhat unsettled; the price is $18 50@18 75 per cwt.

The price of eggs remains the same; it is not expected that it will be any easier, owing to the quantity being at its best at this time of the year.

The cold weather will most likely help the maple syrup crop considerably; the syrup is still selling at $2 25@2 50 per gallon.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, March 28.—Oats opened ⅜c to ⅛c lower for May at 70@70⅛c.

Barley opened ¼c lower for May at 94½c.

Flax opened unchanged for May at $3 37.

Inspections on Thursday totaled 206 cars for all grains. The contract grades of wheat were 52 cars.

Chicago, March 28.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 47¾; July, $1 36½.

Oats—May, 64⅜c; July, 62⅝c.

Chicago, March 28.—Some weakness developed in the corn market today, owing to the larger receipts here and to word that Argentine exports included a considerable quantity to the United States. On the break demand improved, and a rally to well above yesterday's finish took place, but the effect failed to last. Fine weather was an advantage to the bears. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1¼c lower, with May at $1 47½@1 48, and July at $1 36@1 37, were followed by a moderate general setback, with substantial upturns not well maintained.

Oats sympathized with the fluctuations in corn. After opening unchanged to ⅝c off, prices continued to sag, except for brief intervals.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 28—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Stocks were active and strong at the opening of today's session, further buying for both accounts resulting from the more encouraging trend of international events. Motors, oils, leathers and tobaccos led the advance at gains of 1 to 2 points, and a better tone was manifested by rails, Canadian Pacific rising 2½ points on publication of the company's very favorable annual report. Shippings and steels were freely absorbed, and the special group was featured by Industrial Alcohol at a gain of 4 points.

Ask Courts To Stop Railway Extension on Wellington St.

St. Thomas Residents Object to Proposed Line to M. C. R.

ST. THOMAS, March 27.—The residents of Elgin street, from Wellington to the M. C. R. tracks, have already taken action to proceed through the courts if the city should decide to tear up the street and lay street railway tracks along the centre of that thoroughfare. The work, according to the city engineer, would cost $11,000, and the residents will not stand idly by while such action as this is taken.

Judge Colter, one of the largest property holders, is quite indignant to think that the city council should even consider such a move. He addressed the street railway committee some time ago, and asked that no action be taken. Regardless of this, however, estimates have been prepared by the city engineer and the work may be considered at any time, providing the route system is a success.

CANCEL DEBENTURES TO REDUCE LONDON'S TAX RATE, NEW PLAN

Treasurer Announces Brilliant Idea Just Evolved.

NEW LIMIT IS 32 MILLS

Soldiers' Insurance, Natural Gas, Stables and Motor Tractor Cut.

There are more methods of reducing the tax rate than by cutting current expenditures. This has been proved by the action of the local council in cancelling enough unused debenture issues to make this year's rate approximately 32½ mills. This was the announcement made by City Treasurer James S. Bell this morning when questioned in reference to the taxes.

The Cancellations.

The following cancellations have been made in debenture issues: $25,063.82 for soldiers' insurance; $5,849.77 for natural gas mains; $2,603.56 for civic stables, and $2,429.79 for a motor tractor for the city. The soldiers' insurance will be provided for without the debentures. Natural gas will probably not be available for London for some years, and the council decided that the debenture might be cancelled.

Not Needed Now.

The civic stables project is also done away with, as is the proposed purchase of a motor tractor. The city has been providing sinking funds for these debentures, and the cancellation will save one mill on the tax rate. In addition, it has been decided to provide only six months' sinking fund and interest on the debentures contained in the city of London bill, thus saving approximately $16,000. In all the city saves $51,946.94 on these items.

Widow and Sons Divide An Estate of $19,499

C. J. Hard, London Township Farmer, Died Without a Will.

Charles J. Hardy, a London Township farmer who died on March 17, 1919, left an estate of $19,499.12, which will be divided equally among his widow, Catherina Hardy, of the Township of Westminster; a son, Fred Gordon Hardy of Durham Township; and Joseph Homer Hardy, of the Township of London, another son. The deceased had not made a will.

Following is an inventory of the estate: Farming implements, $700; horses, $500; horned cattle, $1,600; five sows, $200; book debts and promissory notes, $408.28; moneys secured by mortgage, $1,416.50; securities for money, $2,556.97; cash in bank, $573.37; farm produce of all kinds, -300; other personal property, -250; real estate, -11,060. Of the real estate, -8,500 worth was in the Township of London and $2,500 worth was in West Nissouri.

CORRECTION.

At the council meeting the statement was made that Assistant Chief G. Scott's salary would be $2,100 under the new schedule, but this was an error, it was discovered this morning. His salary will be $1,900. He has been receiving $1,600.

AMHERSTBURG LIBERALS CHOOSE DELEGATES FOR ESSEX CONVENTION

AMHERSTBURG, March 27.—Captain Henry Cook has been appointed master on the tug Columbia, of the Sullivan Dredging Company's fleet, of Buffalo, N. Y.

John R. Hamilton has been appointed fire chief of the Amherstburg fire department.

Pte. William Black, of Guelph, just returned from France, is opening up a cigar, soft drink and shoe shine parlor at Apsley and Murray streets.

Thursday, April 17, has been set aside by the council for a general clean-up day of streets and back yards.

There was a big turnout of Liberals at the meeting on Tuesday night, when they appointed delegates to the convention at Essex.

LOCAL NEWS

FIRST RECRUIT IN WEEK. — One recruit volunteered for service in the mobile company today. This is the first recruit that has been obtained in a week. His name is Clarence H. Spinks of Woodstock.

WHIST PRIZES AWARDED.—Last night the prizes were given for the members of the G. W. V. A. who held the highest score for the weekly whist parties at the end of the month. The ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. N. Kendall, it being a silver vase. The ladies' consolation prize was won by Mrs. Sharp. The gents' first prize was won by Sergt. W. J. Hurrell, this being a fountain pen. The gents' consolation prize was won by B. Saunders. The prizes were donated by Abdul Hamed of the Metropole Cafe. Next month euchre will be played each Thursday evening and the prize will be donated to the player who holds the highest score for the month.

U. F. DELEGATES TO CONVENTION TO BE CHOSEN QUITE LATE

Decision Reached by Executive On Thursday.

That delegates for the coming convention of the United Farmers of Ontario be not appointed until one week previous to it, was the decision of the executive of the West Middlesex branch of that organization, which met in the county buildings yesterday afternoon. Every delegate must be an actual farmer. From each polling subdivision of the riding there are to be four delegates chosen. Two of these are to be women.

There was much discussion as to the proceedings of the convention. Although nothing definite was accomplished along this line, the advisability of placing candidates in the field at the next elections was discussed.

Harold Currie of Adelaide Township, who is president of the association, and Donald A. Graham, who was warden of Middlesex in 1918, are said to be seeking nomination as United Farmer candidates.

Sid Edwards of Parkhill was elected secretary, as J. H. Gladall of Melbourne, the former secretary, has retired.

LECTURE ON INDIA

Mrs. Pescott Draws Attention to Responsibility of Britain and Church.

In the course of an illustrated address on "India," which she delivered last night in Dundas Centre Sunday school, under the auspices of the Mission Circle, Mrs. W. E. Pescott, wife of the pastor, drew special attention to the advantages which have accrued to India under British rule. At the same time she emphasized the fact that the British Government has a tremendous responsibility on its hands at the present time, and that the church also has an enormous task to perform in religious, social, educational and economic fields.

About 100 fine slides were shown. Some years ago Mrs. Pescott visited India with her husband, and has most vivid recollections of impressions received at that time.

Much appreciated musical numbers were contributed by Miss Margery Talbot and E. A. Webster.

TO DECIDE DATE.

Mayor C. R. Somerville stated this morning that in reference to the federal square the special committee will meet Major Hume Cronyn shortly to decide upon a date for the reception of the committtee by the federal authorities at Ottawa.

HERE'S QUICK RELIEF FOR YOUR TIRED, STRAINED MUSCLES

When your muscles become tired and swollen and the joints become stiff, your circulation poor, and your suffering makes you irritable, an application of Sloan's Liniment gives you quick relief—kills pain, starts up a good circulation, relieves congestion. It is easier and cleaner to use than mussy plasters or ointments, acts quickly and does not clog the pores. It does not stain the skin. Made in Canada.

For sprains, strains, bruises, "black and blue" spots, Sloan's Liniment reduces the pain and eases the soreness.

Certainly fine for rheumatism, stiff neck, sciatica, lame back, toothache.

You don't need to rub—it penetrates.

Its use is so universal that you'll consider Sloan's Liniment a friend of the whole family. Generous size bottles at druggists everywhere.

JUMPED BOARD BILL.

ST. THOMAS, March 27.—Frank Shaff, formerly an employee of the Pere Marquette Railway, came to this city some time ago and boarded with William F. Langdon. When he returned to Blenheim, however, he left an unpaid board bill, amounting to $25.70. He was arrested there last night. He will appear before the city police magistrate tomorrow morning, charged with fraudulently obtaining board and lodging.

DOCUMENTS OF LICENSE BOARD ARE ASKED FOR

Col. Machin Demands Attendance of Ayearst, Morrison and Saunders.

Will Not Employ Anyone in Opposition's Behalf, Despite Precedent.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 27.—This morning the public accounts committee was organized and plans were made to begin the investigation of the public accounts for the last six years relating to the license board and enforcement of the Ontario temperance act, following upon the charges of H. Hartley Dewart last week against Chief Inspector J. A. Ayearst.

Three motions were made for the production of documents and papers relating to the enforcement of the act.

The first was by Sol. Machin of Kenora for the production of all accounts for the past year of the license board and the appearance before the committee to give evidence of Inspector Ayearst, provincial officer, and Solicitor Saunders.

Mr. Dewart moved for the production of the documents since 1913 and the appearance of the same witnesses.

Mr. H. Eilber, South Huron, asked for the production of papers in connection with the expenditures of the enforcement of the Canada temperance act in Huron County.

Mr. Charles McCrea of Sudbury was named chairman.

Another meeting will be held next week to begin the taking of the evidence.

Refuses Liberals' Request.

Efforts of the Liberals to persuade the Government to provide and pay counsel to represent the Opposition before the royal commission to inquire into the Dewart charges against officials of the license board, were bluntly refused by the prime minister and the attorney-general in the Legislature this afternoon. They similarly refused to accede to the request of Wm. Proudfoot, K.C., the Opposition leader, backed by Mr. Dewart, K.C., to have the royal commissioner, Sir William Meredith, investigate not only the specific charges made by the members for Southwest Toronto, but also "the enforcement of the liquor license act, and the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act, and all matters relating to the administration of the Ontario temperance act."

Sir William Hearst had told the Opposition that the Government desired to be absolutely fair, and it felt it was doing so.

Is Invited to Make Good.

Mr. Pourdfoot, thereupon, urged that it accede to the request, so that the Opposition after the inquiry was completed could say they had received an absolutely square deal.

Speaking before the orders of the day were called, Mr. Proudfoot asked whether the appointment of Sir William Meredith as a commissioner would come before the House as a motion for consideration; if counsel who could call witnesses would be allowed and paid for to represent the Opposition upon the hearing before the commission; if the scope of the commissioner's powers had been more fully considered by the Government; if the commissioner's powers included an investigation into the administration of the O. T. A., and the enforcement of the law and matters arising out of, or relating to the conduct of the liquor branch of the department, and when the report of the license commissioners would be brought down.

Wants Whole Question Probed.

"As far as I am concerned we are anxious to see that the whole question should be gone into," declared the Liberal leader vigorously. "Important charges have been made in reference to certain individuals who occupy very important positions in the administration of justice, but the charges are also against the working of the department. We think that the act should be enforced and if, through want of care or for other reasons, it has not been enforced in the manner it ought to be, we want to know it. I think we are all interested in seeing that it is properly enforced. That is the only desire that I have in reference to the matter at the present time. I am sure that not only the Government, but the Opposition and the people of the country at large, are interested in finding out exactly how the proceedings are being conducted."

Lucas Rather Scornful.

Hon. Mr. Lucas said he wanted to satisfy any legitimate curiosity of the Opposition leader. The commission had not been issued yet, but he hoped it would be within a day or two, when the Liberal leader could examine it in detail, "and I think he will find that it is wide enough," added Mr. Lucas, "to leave it to the commissioner to investigate all that ought to be investigated and that it seems proper to investigate in connection with the various charges, statements, insinuations and innuendoes and all the other words contained in the speech of my honorable friend from Southwest Toronto."

It was not customary to bring the commission down to the House, he added. It was not the intention to refer to the commission the accounts of the license department from 1913-19. These would go before the public accounts committee. He saw no reason why the Government should pay for counsel to represent the Opposition and provide other counsel to prosecute. The procedure gefore the commission was a matter for the commissioner.

Mr. Dewart said that in making the motion last week, he felt that by having a special committee of the House, the affairs of the license board could be investigated without interfering with the work of other committees and very economically. He had taken certain responsibilities in making the statements he did and he felt it only proper counsel should be provided to appear before the commissioner. He referred to an investigation in 1903 when the Government of the day had appointed two senior counsel and one junior—the latter the present provincial secretary—to represent the Opposition. He told the attorney-general that before the investigation was completed, he (Mr. Lucas) would have reason to withdraw the remarks about "innuendoes and insinuations."

MY SOLDIER HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S CONTINUATION OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

The Way Madge Unthinkingly Disclosed To Dicky the Secret of Her Work.

Dicky settled luxuriously into his old chair at the head of the dining-table and spread his serviette across his knees.

"Gee! but it's good to get my feet under my own table again!" he said heartily, and we all beamed at him, none more warmly than Katie, deftly serving the oysters for which Jim had made a hurried trip when Mother Graham first heard her son's plan to come home for the evening.

"This sauce of yours alone is worth coming home for, Katie," he declared, dipping an oyster with the deliberation of an epicure into the concoction which is one of Katie's culinary triumphs.

Katie giggled and blushed, but to my great relief made him no answer. I had seen the frown upon my mother-in-law's brow at her son's lack of dignity, feared any incident which might upset her further than my refusal to set the dinner-table before Dicky came had done.

I had tried to pacify her as much as possible by giving up Dicky to her as soon as we entered the house. That first rapturous greeting at the gate, and a hurried walk up the path to the door, had been all that I had seen of my husband until dinner was ready to be served. The laying of the table, the arrangement of the flowers, the last bits of assistance to Katie, had kept me busily occupied. But I was rewarded by seeing Mother Graham almost in good humor again when she came into the dining-room leaning on her son's arm, although a shade of stiffness in her manner told me that she hadn't yet entirely forgiven me.

Did You See Them?"

Little recked I, however, of forgiveness or displeasure, only as it might affect Dicky's comfort. I was delirious with happiness at the sight of my husband's beloved figure once more in his place at the head of the family board, a place I had often feared with a terrified thrill that he would never fill again. But here he was, thinner, yet still bronzed and athletic, the only difference being his crippled arm, which, however, he had found time to assure me—in his characteristic phraseology—was "nothing in the world to throw a fit about."

So happily I cut up his food and helped him as unobtrusively as I could, too blissfully excited myself to do more than taste the delicious dishes, all Dicky' favorites, in which both Katie and Mother Graham had outdone themselves.

"I'll bet Jack Bickett and Alf Durkee would be a deep, dark green if they could see me this minute," Dicky chuckled as he extended his plate for another helping of chicken.

"Oh, did you see them over there? Where?" I asked breathlessly.

"It seems to me, Margaret," Mother Graham said stiffly, "that it would be kinder not to interrupt Richard's first dinner with futile questions."

"Don't worry, Mother," Dicky smiled at her even as he gave my foot an understanding pressure with his. "I'll eat all the more for talking, especially about those chaps who haven't got here yet—sort of gives an edge to one's appetite, you know."

The Careless Words.

"Like the comfort one feels in being snugly inside a house while the winter wind is blowing outside," said my father.

"Exactly," returned Dicky. "But thank goodness, neither Jack nor Alf have very much longer to stay. They both ought to be home in a couple of weeks more. Jack's pulling wires now so Katherine can come over on the same ship. They could both have come before, I fancy, only Katherine is so very much the whole thing in Ed's work. But she's pretty much on the blink herself from the long strain, so Ed's going to ship her back as soon as he can—not fill her place, for he told me he never could do that—but get the best bet he could instead."

"Do I gather from your very curious language, Richard," my mother-in-law asked a trifle stiffly, "that Dr. Braithwaite's work is so dependent upon Mrs. Bickett's presence?"

"She's old Ed's right hand, Mother," Dicky answered, and I glowed with pleasure at this news of my little friend's success, although the old misgiving at the famous surgeon's interest in her would creep into my mind. I wondered if Mother Graham shared my feeling about her noted son-in-law. I was not long left in doubt as to her attitude.

"It's time she came home, then," she said tartly. "Nobody's indispensable in this world. May I trouble you for the olives, Margaret?"

She had effectually shelved the subject. Dicky raised his eyebrows at me, then struck another vein of conversation.

"By the way, Madge," he said, "I saw Mrs. Durkee today, and she's busier than a hen with one chicken. She's just had the news that Alf will be home shortly, and I had all I could do to hold her down. Incidentally, she wants you to see to notifying the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, more especially the gas, water, telephone and electric light offices, to restore all those conveniences to her empty house. Also she wants to know if we'll have a fire built to take the dampness out of the house, so she can come over soon and get ready for the boy. Guess she's going to quit the job at camp part of the time at least. You can see to all those things tomorrow, can't you, Madge?"

"Yes, I'll attend to all of them directly after school" I promised unthinkingly, and then saw, by the consternation in the faces of my mother-in-law and my father, that I had unwittingly divulged the carefully guarded secret of my wage earning.

JIMMY COON BRINGS SOME NEWS.

Dick Otter was told by Jimmy Coon that Mr. Red Fox was coming to Mirror Pond to visit all the Little People there, and to see the Slide. (You know, Jimmy Coon is a great traveler, and he hears all the news of the Great Forest and the Beaver Meadow.)

And when Dick Otter heard of the coming of Mr. Red Fox to visit Mirror Pond people, Dick decided to give Mr. Red Fox a very cool reception. Dick Otter was very smart indeed ,and he knew that Mr. Fox was planning to make this visit for mischief; for Mr. Fox had paid several visits to Mirror Pond, and every time he came he sneaked around the back doors of the houses of the Otters, Minks, Muskrats and Beavers, and carried off several of the babies of these leading families inside of his hungry stomach.

So Dick Otter planned to give Mr. Fox a very cool reception indeed. In fact, it would be one of the biggest surprises in his "foxy" life. You know, Mr. Fox is one of the smartest and slyest and most cunning enemies of the Little People of the Great Forest. And it takes an awfully cunning chap to get ahead of Mr. Fox. And Dick Otter was the chap to fool Mr. Fox this time.

Tom and Jerry chuckled, and were delighted with the idea.

The first thing that Dick Otter did was to visit Tom and Jerry Beaver at Beavertown. And he swam down Mirror Pond at a clipping pace, and called out: "Tom and Jerry! Hey, there, come on down to the dam and let's have a pow-wow!"

"And Tom and Jerry Beaver dived off two of their "Lookouts," near their house, and swam rapidly to the big dam to talk with Dick and his brother Billy.

"I want to tell you Beaver Twins," said Dick Otter, "that Mr. Fox is coming on a visit to Mirror Pond, and you know what that means, don't you? It means that he plans to sneak around the back doors of your house and mine and eat up some of our baby brothers and sisters. He is awfully fond of the tender and sweet meat of young Otters and Beavers."

"I know that well," replied Tom Beaver, "but what can we do? You know that he is bigger than any of us Mirror Pond people, and he is a cunning and very fierce fighter."

"Well, I know all that, but I have a fine plan to scare Mr. Fox almost out of his skin, so that he'll keep away from here for a long time," answered Dick Otter.

Tom and Jerry chuckled, and were delighted with the idea that they could fool Mr. Fox. You may be sure that there will be lots of fun when these four furry heads get together—the furry "noodles" of Dick and Billy Otter, and of Tom and Jerry Beaver.

For, these four, and Jimmy Coon, were about the smartest little rascals on Mirror Pond. It would take a pretty clever fox to get ahead of this bunch!

Tomorrow—Dick Otter's Secret Plan.

Lovely White Skin!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

By all means, girls, prepare a lemon lotion to keep your skin flexible and young looking. You will soon realize that true loveliness does not mean the powdery look or waxen colorlessness of some hot-house flower, but is typified by the velvety softness of your skin, your peach-like complexion and rosy-white hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer, and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29.

Another day crowded with interesting events and memorable experiences is promised by this day's long chain of Lunar as well as mutual aspects, some of which are brilliant and big with promises, and others calling for just a word of forewarning. The latter has to do mainly with making radical changes or undertaking important journeys. Also there is an admonition against all impulsive acts or speech, and a caution to sign papers with discrimination. These injunctions followed there should be many advantages, certain prosperity and new friendships and associations.

Those whose birthday it is are promised a prosperous and interesting year, with many advantages and new friends. A child born on this day will be kind, generous, affectionate and lovable, with a tendency to be erratic or wayward.

56 TROOPS OFF ROYAL GEORGE HERE LAST EVE

Majority Spent Night in City and Will Proceed Home Today.

SOME OLD, OLD VETERANS

Men Who Enlisted in 1914 Are in Party — Some Were Prisoners.

A party of 56 Western Ontario soldiers, who left England thirteen days ago on the steamer Royal George, reached London at 9.03 o'clock last night in two coaches attached to the regular west-bound Grand Trunk train. They were taken to Tecumseh Barracks in A. S. C. motor busses and private automobiles, arriving at the dispersal station at about 9.20 o'clock.

By 10 o'clock all of them had been discharged, and by 10.15 the last of the stranggiers who had stayed to cash checks, etc., were on their way downtown again.

All but eight of the men live outside of London, but, although some of them could have caught trains for their homes, practically all of them decided to spend the night in the city. Some went to the Y. M. C. A., others to the homes of chums with homes in London, but the majority chose to sleep in downtown hotels, declaring that they wanted to experience the feeling that they, like other civilians, could command service for which they were willing to pay.

The military and civilian cars which took the men to Tecumseh Barracks waited and conveyed them downtown again.

Crowd at Depot.

At the station the C. G. R. Band and an escort were on hand, as usual, and a large crowd of citizens bade the returning men welcome with hearty cheers. The coaches containing the soldiers were "spotted" opposite the passage-way between the baggage-room and the express sheds, and the veterans passed directly through this passageway to the waiting automobiles. Many of them were accompanied to Carling Heights by relatives and friends, who had met them at the station.

The London men in the party were: Gunner W. T. Allan, 1031 Frances street, London; Sig. A. W. Barnes, 280 Egerton street; Sergt. F. H. T. Cook, 661 Central avenue; M. H. Higgin, 143 Arundell street; J. H. Raison, London; S. Roy, 372 Rattle street; C. Winhill, 787 Hill street; O. M. Wilkins, 394 Adelaide street.

Several original 18th Battalion men were in the party, which included also a number of men who went overseas with the 63rd Battery, one man who had been a prisoner of war for two years and eight months, and another who had been at the front with an A. M. C. unit since August, 1914, and wore the Mons star ribbon on his tunic.

The 18th "Originals" included the following: Corp. S. Slatterley, of St. Thomas, who spent more than three years in the fighting line, and was sent to England on December 17 of last year with a lowered medical category; Sergt. Bert Dennison of Walton, who was wounded at Ypres in June, 1916, and who served with the 18th before and after that time for a total period of more than three years; Sergt. William Grace of Galt, who was wounded at St. Eloi, and again at Vimy. He won the M. M. at Cambrai on October 11, 1918, for carrying on with his platoon against heavy fire after all the officers had been killed; Pte. G. F. Lewis of Aylmer, who was transferred to the 4th Machine Gun Brigade soon after landing in France, and who served at the front continuously until wounded at Arras on September 13, 1918.

An Original First.

Pte. T. W. Byatt of Parkhill went overseas with the first contingent as a member of the 3rd Battalion, in which he enlisted in Toronto in August, 1914. He went to France in February, 1915, and served at the front until the early spring of the following year, when he was captured by the Germans and sent to a prison camp not far from the Dutch border.

For the first six months, he said, he almost literally starved to death, and became so thin and weak that he could hardly walk. Afterwards parcels of food from Canada began to arrive with fair regularity, and the food problem at least was solved.

Pte. Byatt declared that none of the stories of German cruelty to prisoners had been exaggerated. He and other prisoners, for some time after his arrival at the prison camp, were put to work at stokers in a gas plant. They were made to work twelve hours a day, except every other Sunday, when twenty-four hours was the length of their working day. Any refusal to work or failure to work fast enough and hard enough to suit the guards placed over them was punished by beatings with rifle butts. In this connection Pte. Byatt bore out the statement of another war prisoner recently repatriated that the guards, armed as they were, never attacked a British prisoner, single handed, having a wholesome fear of the consequences to themselves before their victim could be subdued.

Pte. Byatt and all the prisoners in the camp, where he was interned, were liberated on the same day that the armistice was signed.

Sergt. E. R. Knight of Windsor spent just four years and three months in France, the same number of months as the war lasted. He enlisted in No. 2 Stationery Hospital, which went to France in 1914. He is one of the few Canadians entitled to wear the Mons star.

"PEGGY DOES HER DARNDEST" ONE OF MAY ALLISON'S BEST

Fine Picture and Five Well-Balanced Acts at the Grand.

Capacity houses at the Grand Theatre yesterday afternoon and evening greeted a well-balanced five-act vaudeville bill, and a feature film, "Peggy Does Her Darndest," with May Allison at her best. A Ford educational film, "A Mile in the Sky," completes the program which will be shown today and tomorrow.

Billy Chase and Charlotte Latour in "Vaudeville Nonsensities," provide ripples of laughter throughout their turn, offering a very clever line of comedy, with clever repartee. The costumes are above the average, and the excellent singing of this duo evoked rounds of applause.

Kayle and Coyne, comedy jugglers, perform some very difficult stunts, using a great variety of articles, from straw hats to rifles. The fun introduced in this act is of exceptional merit.

Betty Frederick and Company, in a comedy sketch, "Betty's Mistake," present in a delightful manner a glimpse of married life as it should not be, and many humorous situations are involved before hubby and wife conclude that a practical joke may turn out a serious affair for both parties. The special costumes and scenery are in keeping with the merit of this little playlet.

Jay Raymond, appearing as "A Representative of the House of Mirth," cleverly impersonates the old-time soap box orator canvassing for votes as a political candidate, and, incidentally, introduces some original material which scintillates with wit. His rendition of "Lizzie" was very favorably received, and his act is one of the best on the program.

The feature offering, Dora Dean and her Dancing Sunbeams, starring Miss Dean, supported by Edgar Connor, John Vaughner and five clever girl dancers, provides a fast cycle of song and dance. The costumes in this offering are original creations and the singing and comedy presented goes over with a punch. Each member of the company is a specialist and all entertain in turn.

The feature film, "Peggy Does Her Darndest," starring May Allison of Metro fame, is a play of exceptional merit and entertaining humor. Peggy, daughter of a millionaire jeweler, is a girl of keen athletic ability, and tutored by her student brother she develops into a regular gymnast. Her mad-cap escapades are a constant source of mortification to her elder sister Eleanor, but are a delight to her father, whom she seeks to protect from robbery after taking an extensive detective course by mail.

Her services are not accepted however, but Peggy continues to do her darndest and succeeds actually in protecting her father when a real detective hired for the purpose failed. Peggy appears in many peculiar situations before she has the last laugh, and Miss Allison in the title role displays her dramatic ability in a very capable and humorous manner. The scenario of this play was adapted from the story of the same title written by Royal Brown, and appearing in the Red Book Magazine recently. Special music by the Grand orchestra complete the above program of merit.

"QUEEN OF THE SEA" DELIGHTS AUDIENCES AT THE PATRICIA

Annette Kellerman Performs Thrilling Feats in Submarine Film Spectacle.

Annette Kellerman in "Queen of the Sea," a submarine film spectacle, attracted capacity audiences to the Patricia Theatre yesterday.

This wonderful aquatic production, featuring the most perfectly-formed woman in the world, will be presented at the Patricia again today and Saturday.

This beautiful photodrama of the sea was produced at a cost exceeding one million dollars. It is an artistic triumph in every respect and can without hesitation be classed as one of the screen's greatest masterpieces.

Sensational swimming and high-diving feats, for which Miss Kellerman is internationally famous, are combined with the genuinely dramatic story, which brings fairy-lore right up to date with the latest destructive appliances on land and sea.

Battles in the air, on the earth and under the waters are waged between Boreas, master of storms, and Annette Kellerman. As the title indicates, the picture is a submarine fairy story, calculated to display the aquatic achievements as well as the acting ability of this spectacular swimming star. In the five reels of this popular picture have been packed more sensational high-diving and deep-sea swimming "stunts" than could be encompassed by any other aquatic performer in an unlimited feature film.

The phantom ship of "The Flying Dutchman" is presented with perfect illusion for the first time on stage or screen in "Queen of the Sea." This is only one of the numerous achievements in aquatic photography in this submarine romance. As a sensational climax Miss Kellerman makes a record dive of 85 feet from a wire into the boiling surf. One can hardly believe without seeing that she could do it without breaking her neck. "Queen of the Sea" is a water-falry story which delights old and young alike.

Two comedies, one a two-reel Big V Comedy, "Jazz and Jailbirds," and a Mutt and Jeff cartoon, "Around the World in Nine Minutes," are replete with ludicrous scenes and situations.

In vaudeville the Cooney Sisters present a high-class singing act.

The above program will be repeated today and Saturday.

"ALIAS MIKE MORAN" IS GRIPPING TALE SHOWN AT MAJESTIC

Wallace Reid Shines in Title Role—Chaplin in "The Squarehead."

Heart-gripping, realistic, a tale of heroism and romance that will stir any red-blooded individual, and at times will make one's eyes turn moist, is "Alias Mike Moran," the Paramount feature, playing at the Majestic again today. With versatile Wallace Reid in the stellar role, what more could be desired? To say the least, he takes advantage of the many opportunities offered to display his remarkable ability as a screen artist.

Millions of staunch and gallant hearts the world over are responding to the bugle's call to the battle for freedom and liberty, and Larry Young, a young department store clerk, is about to be drafted. Larry is a slacker, however, and he bribes Mike Moran, an ex-convict, who wanted to "go over" but couldn't on account of his prison record, to assume his name and go in his place when called, which Moran agrees to do. Larry has fallen in love with Elaine Lebaux, a beautiful girl whom he believes to be the daughter of Mr. Vandecar, a wealthy shipbuilder, and which belief the girl hasn't denied.

Larry deceives the girl into believing that he is also rich. Moran rescues Larry and the girl from a band of thugs one night and thus gains the friendship of both. When Moran leaves for camp as "Larry Young," Larry also has to leave the country as "Mike Moran." This is done unknown to Larry's sweetheart, who thinks her lover has gone to France. Larry goes to work in a distant seaport at a shipbuilding plant. The news comes that "Larry Young" has been killed in action and honored for bravery. Larry's spark of manhood now flames and he enlists in a Canadian regiment as "Michael Moran" and sails for France. Seeing a chance to rescue a wounded officer, he takes his life in his hands, wishing to repay Moran by glorifying his name. Later he awakens in a French hospital with his right hand shot off. Larry's sweetheart, having heard of his supposed death, has gone to France and engaged in war work as a tribute to his memory.

She goes to the hospital and the lovers recognize each other. Larry confesses all to her. She in turn confesses that she is not the daughter of Vandecar, but only Mrs. Vandecar's companion. They are happily united.

"Rip and Stitch, Tailors," a Paramount-Mack Sennett comedy, indeed measures up to the high quality of the entire performance. There is a laugh every time the operator turns the crank of the moving-picture machine, and there are numerous smiles in between the laughs. All the necessary material, including trained dogs, a trained cat, a mischievous toddling youngster who takes every opportunity of making trouble for its unfortunate father, a villain, a swimming pool, and a pretty female. It is without doubt the most side-splitting comedy that has yet appeared at the Majestic.

Parillo and Frabito, a man and woman, present a musical novelty act that is well worth hearing. These clever artists received many well-deserved encores and curtain calls at yesterday's performances. Their singing and playing is worthy of considerable praise.

Charlie Chaplin who needs no introduction as to his ability as a laugh-producer and a chaser of the blues, appears in the funniest comedy that he has yet produced, namely, "The Squarehead."

This splendid bill is concluded by a British and Canadian Pathe news film, showing the various current events that are described in the daily newspapers. The first scenes of the German revolution to reach this continent are shown.

SPRING SHOW OF LONDON BICYCLE AND MOTOR SALES IS DRAWING GOOD CROWDS

The London Bicycle and Motor Sales bicycle show is attracting a great deal of attention and praise at the Wellington street depot.
