FIGHT TO A FINISH IN QUAKER CITY

The Street Car Company Refuse Absolutely to Arbitrate and General Strike Will Follow.

Philadelphia, March 3. — The directors of the Rapid Transit Company have determined to smother the carmen's union if they have to fight the whole city of Philadelphia, and throw the company into the hands of a receiver in doing so. All pretence of conciliation has been thrown aside.

On the other hand, the 124 unions that have pledged themselves to strike in sympathy with the carmen next Saturday are massing their forces for a battle which will make or break labor unionism in this city. Union men who have been on the most friendly terms with their employers notified them last night that they would have to quit work when the strike goes on.

This is the situation after days of effort on the part of the influential merchants' and citizens' associations to bring about peace. Their failure is due to the remarkable impetuosity of one man, George H. Belton, who does not believe that the results of arbitration could possibly be permanent. He believes that the company would have to make the same fight again with a set of men who have no respect for agreements.

The hope of intervention seems so remote that employers of labor are preparing to make the best of things when the trouble comes to the town on Saturday. Many plants expect to shut up absolutely. Others expect they will be able to run on half-time. It looks as if the theatre will be dark. Managers were notified yesterday.

Just how many men will quit work on Saturday is all guesswork. John J. Murphy, president of the Quaker City Union, boasts that he can crack the whip over 150,000 workmen. Few save Mr. Murphy believe that so many will strike. A conservative estimate puts the number at 25,000.

COLDS Quickly Cured

Everybody has a cold. Some resort to tablets and powders that contain dangerous drugs, and death from heart-depressing remedies is not infrequent.

It's poor policy to neglect a cold—especially when it can be cured so quickly without medicine.

You can get the soothing vapor of the pine woods, the richest balsams and healing essences, right to the cause of your cold by inhaling Catarrhazone. Little drops distributed through the whole breathing apparatus in two seconds.

Like a miracle, that's how Catarrhazone works in bronchitis, catarrh of the nose and throat. You simply breathe its oily, fragrant vapor, and every trace of congestion and disease flees as before fire.

Catarrhazone Cure

No trace of the disease remains after Catarrhazone is used—no more matter to clog up the nose and cause you to cough and spit—no more headache and buzzing ears.

Cure is absolute. Because Catarrhazone contains such healing balsams and soothing antiseptics, it can't help curing every kind of catarrh, throat, lung and bronchial trouble.

Don't experiment longer—Catarrhazone means sure cure. Two months' treatment guaranteed, price $1.00; smaller size, 50 cents at all dealers, or the Catarrhazone Company, Kingston, Ont.

SHINES IN SOCIETY

WOMEN WITH FASCINATING HAIR ALWAYS ATTRACT ATTENTION.

If you are a woman with dull, lifeless, ordinary hair, do not feel depressed. Just make up your mind now that you can have just as luxuriant and captivating a head of hair as any other woman, and quickly, too.

Just go to W. T. Strong this very day and get a bottle of Parisian Sage. Use it as directed, and in two weeks your scalp will be free of dandruff, your hair will be soft, lustrous and beautiful.

If your hair is falling out, Parisian Sage will stop it. If your hair is thin, Parisian Sage will make it grow in heavily. If you have dandruff it will quickly vanish when Parisian Sage is used. It prevents hair from turning gray; stops itching scalp almost instantly; and is the ideal dressing for daily use.

A large bottle costs only 50 cents at W. T. Strong's, or direct, all charges prepaid from the Canadian makers, Cloux Manufacturing Company, Fort Erie, Ont.

WHITNEY SLAUGHTERS TWO MORE MEASURES

Dr. Godfrey's Radical Bill to Eradicate Imbecility De-nounced by Premier.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, March 2.—Two altruistic bills were slaughtered in the Legislature yesterday, the Government pronouncing sentence of death on Mr. Downey's bill to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, and Mr. Godfrey's bill to prevent the procreation of idiots, criminals, imbeciles and rapists. Although private members on both sides of the chamber expressed approval of both measures, the cabinet ministers who spoke expressed the opinion that the time was not ripe for their passing, while the Premier was even more outspoken in his views, and condemned both severely.

Mr. Godfrey (West York), in moving the second reading of his unusual bill, said that he had framed it only after the most serious consideration and investigation. The province paid a million dollars last year to look after the incapables whose procreation would be stopped by the bill he offered. If the same attention was paid to the breeding of children as to the breeding of animals, great good would result. There was much talk of race suicide, but Dr. Godfrey believed that the family request more quality and less quantity. If his bill passed, there would be no imbeciles 50 years hence. If the Government rejected the bill, Dr. Godfrey said he would not despair, but would bring it up again. It had taken ten years to secure the passage of a similar law in Indiana.

Mr. Studholme expressed the opinion that the scheme would be entirely workable, and would solve much of the criminal problem.

Whitney Opposes. Sir James Whitney hoped Dr. Godfrey would withdraw the bill, and if not, that every other member of the House would vote against the second reading. He hoped such a bill would never be introduced in the House again. The Legislature might as well serve notice at once on Providence to abolish its own way of peopling the world, and allow the physicians, perhaps of a low order of morality, to say what proportion of human beings should be allowed to live. It was not worth wasting the time of the House discussing the bill further.

Dr. Godfrey said he was compelled to bow to the first minister's wishes. He had not thought that he was making such a serious mistake in introducing the bill, seeing that the great State of Indiana had made it law, and other states were seriously considering that step. He resented the Premier's remarks about the morality of medical men, saying that there were no fairer, better or nobler men had done more and for less money to uplift the province than had the medical men. Dr. Godfrey said he was not ashamed that he had candidly and conscientiously stated the condition which demanded the remedy proposed by his bill, and though he withdrew it, it was with the determination to introduce it at some future time.

Downey's Bill. Mr. Downey (South Wellington), made his annual address in support of his bill to prevent the spread of tuberculosis. Explaining the clause which he referred to the serious ravages of the disease. It had been calculated that the economic loss to the province from premature deaths by tuberculosis was $1,000,000 every five years. If the old ideas about tuberculosis had been correct, there would be no justification for the present bill, but now it was known that it was a contagious, infectious and preventable disease. Compulsory notification, which was provided for in the bill, was essential in the fight against tuberculosis, because without it any attempt to battle against an enemy whose numbers were not known was like beating the air. There was no intention to placard houses, and a clause in the bill provided a fine of from $5 to $20 for disclosures to unauthorized persons regarding the existence of the disease in families.

Since the last session of the Legislature progress had been made in the direction of adopting compulsory notification. Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan had adopted this measure, while the Connecticut State commission had reported that betterment of conditions was impossible.

Progress has been made by the establishment in Ontario, in Hamilton, and other places of sanatoriums, but the province should not stop there. The necessity for taking a step forward was shown by the fact that despite what progress had been made the death rate was still almost as large as it was ten years ago.

Mr. McDougall (East Ottawa), believed that the Legislature should approve the principle of compulsory notification, and he hoped the bill would pass.

Noting attacks only those who are susceptible to it, Because of a weakened Condition of the body—Generally due to wrong food. would go to the committee. He suggested, however, that municipal medical men, possessed of efficient organized bodies dealing with tuberculosis should not be compelled to adopt the system of compulsory notification.

Dr. Jessop (Lincoln), and Dr. Anderson (South Essex), both spoke briefly on the bill, favoring the general idea of more aggressive measures against tuberculosis, but disagreed with some of the details of the bill.

Whitney Objects Again. Sir James Whitney said that the proposed benefits of the bill were very difficult to set out and understand. The Legislature was not here to legislate along academic and theoretical lines. All agreed that tuberculosis was a dread disease, but it was also known that the death rate was practically stationary, and he believed it would remain so in spite of all efforts. The people who most needed care and attention were those who could not be reached by the bill, for they were outside of the curbing in of physicians. Those who were already receiving the attention of physicians would not be benefited by the bill. Better the attention of one family physician than the visit of a dozen doctors forced upon the family through legislation. What good would it do a patient who was already being treated by his family doctor to receive a lot of printed directions from the board of health?

Mr. Gagey interrupted with a statement that expert instruction was needed, supplemented by common sense. The physician in Ontario did not understand the proper treatment of tuberculosis. This statement drew a chorus of dissent from the doctors in the House.

Sir James, continuing, said he had quite as much confidence in the average physician as in the average specialist. There was something to be said for the liberties and privileges for the people, and so long as he was in possession of his liberties and privileges would be kept in mind. The poor man's home should not be broken into and his family torn asunder on a pretence of benefitting the community, for this would be the result of the bill. The persons who were so poor that they never saw a doctor could derive no benefit from the bill, while a good purpose was served by the discussion. Sir James said his response to his conscience would not allow the bill to go to a committee. He asked that the bill be withdrawn.

Mr. Studholme strongly supported the bill. Hon. Mr. James reviewed the progress already made in the treatment of tuberculosis, and Mr. Downey withdrew his bill.

Amend Truancy Act. Mr. Innes (North York), has a bill to amend the truancy act, as the act now stands municipal councils of cities, towns and villages shall appoint and control one or more truant officers, for the purpose of enforcing the act. The section does not require township councils to appoint such officers, but leaves it optional. The intention of Mr. Innes' bill is to put the township in the same position as other municipalities, that is, that township councils shall appoint truant officers to enforce the act. The education of the children in the country and rural municipalities is as important as the education of children in other municipalities, he says. Mr. Innes also has a bill to amend the public schools act. As the bill now stands whenever a school board deems it expedient to erect a new school building the board selects a site and calls a meeting of ratepayers, and upon the decision of the majority rests the selection or ratification of the site. A site is sometimes selected at the extreme end of a section or otherwise to the disadvantage and detriment of some of the ratepayers.

Mr. Innes' bill provides that where new sites are selected they shall be as near as possible to the centre of the section, thus making an equitable distance to be travelled by all children.

LONDON, THURSDAY, MARCH 3.

A CASE OF HYDROPHOBIA.

The authentic case of hydrophobia at Hamilton will cause many people to revise their opinion of the present dog regulations.

There has been always a good deal of skepticism as to the reality of hydrophobia. It has been shared even by medical men. Very few physicians have seen a victim, and there is little testimony even in medical literature. One reason for incredulity has been a popular legend to the effect that the patient barked like a dog at the sight of water. The word hydrophobia ("fear of water") indicates that this conception of the nature of the symptoms may have been held by medical science when the term was invented. As there were no authoritative reports of any such manifestations, disbelief in the existence of hydrophobia itself became widespread.

The case in the Hamilton hospital was watched and recorded carefully, so that we now have trustworthy data. The boy was bitten on the lip by a pet dog nearly six weeks ago. One tooth penetrated the inner side of the lip, and the wound was cauterized at once. On Sunday last the lad complained of a pain in the chest, and was treated for a cold. On Monday he was very restless, and could not sleep. He showed no fear of water, but could not swallow, and any attempt to do so brought on a fit. The same effect, however, was produced by charges in the air, through the opening of doors or windows. On Tuesday he was removed to the hospital. The same symptoms were exhibited, in an aggravated form. He passed from one violent paroxysm to another, with intervals of coma. He was in great agony, but even inordinate doses of morphine had no effect. The froth at the mouth was viscid matter, not peculiar to hydrophobia, and in trying to expel it and clear his throat the boy made sounds that give rise to the report that he barked like a dog. The trouble in the throat was partly the cause and partly the effect of the inability to swallow liquids.

This horrible experience should reconcile dog-lovers to the temporary discomfort of their pets. The law has been generally obeyed, but it must be rigidly enforced. A thousand dogs may be confined or muzzled, but the one unmuzzled cur roaming the streets may be the death of a human being. The civic authorities should see that the regulations are strictly carried out, but they should also make certain that the impounded dogs are well treated, and, if unclaimed, are humanely disposed of.

THE KING AND THE CRISIS.

Its exemption from party strife and animosity has been the security and strength of the British monarchy for nearly a century. There are those who fear that the sovereign, through no fault of his own, will be dragged into the party arena by the expected conflict between the House of Lords and the House of Commons; but the crown is absolutely safeguarded. The modern meaning of the maxim, "The King can do no wrong," is that his ministers are responsible for his actions, and that he acts only upon their advice. This is the straight path of the constitution, and the sovereign who walks in it need fear no violence of faction or party. If there is a deadlock between the upper and the lower chamber over the veto question, the King will be advised by his first minister. If this advice reflects the mind of the House of Commons it will be accepted by the King, however unpopular it may be. He will have no constitutional alternative. In anticipation of a demand upon the King to create new peers to overcome the obstruction of the House of Lords, the enemies of the Government accuse it of contemplating a coup d'état. This is wild language. There would be nothing revolutionary in such a request or in the King's compliance. It would be the constitutional way out of the impasse, and one which Victoria and William the Fourth were prepared to sanction on two historic occasions. There is no greater authority on the British constitution than Bagehot. What does he say?

"The ultimate authority in the English constitution is a newly-elected House of Commons; no matter whether it be the imposing of a tax or the issuing of a paper currency; no matter whether it be a question relating to India, or Ireland, or London—a new House of Commons can despotically and finally resolve."

"The head of the executive can overcome the resistance of the second chamber by choosing new members of that chamber; if he do not find a majority, he can make a majority."

"The value," says Bagehot, "of a discreet, calm, wise monarch, if such should happen to be reigning at the acute crisis of a nation's destiny, is priceless. He can prevent years of tumult, save bloodshed and civil war, lay up a store of grateful fame to himself, prevent the accumulated intestine hatred of each party to its opposite." Such a sovereign sits on the throne of Great Britain today. He will act constitutionally, which means that he will act impartially.

THE TREK TO CANADA.

The New Haven Register considers the exodus from the United States to Canada as "the most heavily financed heira in the world's history." The Cleveland Plain Dealer says the Americans who are coming into Canada intend to make their homes here, which they will be as proud as they will always be of the land of their birth. They are seeking happiness for themselves, but in this search they are unconsciously adding to the strength and importance of their new country.

The Americans who are settling in Canada in great numbers are for the most part hardy, experienced farmers, with money to build homes. They make farming operations a success from the start. Statisticians estimate that an able-bodied immigrant entering the United States is worth approximately $5,000 to the nation. Taking that as a basis of calculation the New York Evening Mail figures that the United States exports of men to Canada last year added about $450,000,000 to the wealth of this country over and above the $90,000,000 in cash which they brought with them. "A shrinkage of exports of this class," adds the Evening Mail, "would be regarded here in the United States with equanimity, if not with positive rejoicing."

It's a fine day, P.S.—Overhead.

Canada will put no surtax on one class of American importations—the incoming farmers.

Treatment for rabies cases has been established at Toronto. Some of these Toronto war-mongers need it.

Tariff commissioners travelling from Washington to Ottawa is not history repeating itself, but reversing itself.

John Redmond predicts a general election in a few weeks. John can have one tomorrow if he wants it. He's the cock of the walk just now.

Mr. Rockefeller has decided to get rid of a large part of his fortune. This is the doctrine of "ransom," which Mr. Joseph Chamberlain preached in his Radical days.

The Conservative Toronto Telegram is very severe on our local contemporary, when it says:

"Organs which tell Hon. George E. Foster that the libel suit verdict is a vindication do not make themselves ridiculous. Nature made them that way."

Patten, the Chicago wheat king, says he has made all the money he wants and will retire from business. It is likely that he will be unhappy. The wealthy man who can enjoy leisure, and make it conduce to his own development or to the well-being of others, is a rare being and has solved much of the problem of life.

The London Times approves of the stipulation that the Canadian navy shall not leave this country without the consent of the Canadian authorities. "In principle," says the Times, "the proposition is indisputable. It applies to all and every form of co-operation or contribution towards imperial defence." The Times is in danger of being cut off the exchange lists of the Toronto Mail and other Opposition papers.

The attack on Earl Grey in Mr. Bourassa's paper, Le Devoir, was penned by Oliver Asselin, not by Mr. Bourassa himself. He speaks of Earl Grey as "one of the audacious prelatists formed in the school of banishment of Chamberlain and Cecil Rhodes, whom the ministers at Ottawa in the last dozen years have permitted, some from a love of power and some from cupidity, to reduce Canada to the rank of the negro colonies." This wild language will hurt neither the governor nor the Government.

FARMER MAY NOT SAY SO.
(Hamilton Herald.)
How nice it would be if the slaughter of "blind pigs" in Cobalt would bring down the price of hogs!

THE FOSTER CASE.
(Stratford Beacon.)
This verdict is a distinct declaration for strict integrity in the administration of trust funds. It is also a victory for the liberty of the press. It means that when a journalist attacks what he believes to be a public wrong, the political allegiances of the majority cannot be counted upon to protect the man who has been guilty of wrong-doing, no matter how high his standing may be in a political party.

[Hamilton Times.]
Our amusing contemporary, the London Free Press, affects to regard the failure of Foster's suit for libel against Mr. Macdonald, editor of the Globe, as a great victory for Foster, who, it intimates, has been "again vindicated." We are inclined to think that Foster himself has no liking for such "vindications." Instead of foolishly seeking to extract subsequence from that verdict concerning, let the Free Press get busy to help the party collectors to raise that little bill of costs.

[Montreal Herald.]
The real verdict in the case was rendered when Conservative newspapers announced, as they did long ago, that Mr. Foster's political usefulness was at an end. From the effects of that sentence he has been struggling to recover, and so far as it rested with the display of his own abilities he was succeeding. But there is more than that to be done, for the incident had stamped indelibly upon the public mind an impression of what the moral character of the man amounts to, and with that impression against him, Mr. Foster can never play a really great part in the public life of Canada.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
The significance of the verdict from the viewpoint of the country at large is the application to our political life of the good Biblical principle that candidates for public office must be above suspicion, and also of the circumstance that no man can afford to oppose the determination of the electorate to maintain the purity of the stream of political life.

[Stratford Herald.]
We must say that the story of the various deals which were engineered by old trust funds under Mr. Foster's care as manager, is not agreeable reading to Mr. Foster's many political friends and backers.

CERTAINLY.
(Cleveland Leader.)
"Now, children," asked the teacher, "what is the use of a calendar?"
"Please, mum," answered Willie, "it tells where you'd better get your life insured."

THE CHAMPION OPTIMIST.

A friend met a cheerful Irish citizen who had plainly suffered some hard knocks.

"Well, Pat, how are you getting along?" he inquired.

"Oh, O'm hard up yet, but O' have a fine job in Honolulu, and fare paid. O' sail tomorrow."

"Pat had endured too much cheerfulness," he discouraged.

"Well," he replied, "I'll not be worrakin' in th' shade all th' time."

What makes the average dog mad is to see so many men going around without muzzles.

THE INVINCIBLE ARMADA.

[Branford Expositor.]
This is the statement of the growth of British naval power given by Admiral Fisher on his retirement from office. It is an effective reply to the insinuation of naval decadence which Lord Bessborough so recklessly made political capital against Admiral Fisher and the Liberals.

THE PATHWAY.

[Amy E. Campbell.]
Long years I sought to know a way That led straight on mysteriously, An untraveled, tangled path, Where no one else had trod but me.

I wished to find along this path My resting-places yet unknown, And I have found them dimly seen, The seeds by fairy fingers sown.

My resting-places I had named, Despairlessness, Joy, Sympathy, Faith, Love, and Trust, and I have found them, Constancy, Truth and Purity.

And this lone pathway I called Love, And sought to find it dimly seen, When, lo! I met you wandering, And found its entrance in your eyes!

A QUESTION FOR DEBATE.

BRITAIN'S DEFENCE.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]
The German chief of staff shook his head.

"No," he replied to the brilliant assembly about the council table, "we are not prepared to invade England."

"The veteran German Kleinschmapp looked amazed.

"But we have the fleet!" he cried.

"And the grand army."

"And the submarines and the airships."

"True."

"We know that the British fleet is scattered and the army unprepared. Why should we hesitate?"

"You forget the suffragettes," said the chief of staff, coldly.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRIS.

Had Given Up All Hope of Living.

Heart Trouble Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Andrew Savoy, Gratton, N.B., writes:—"In the year 1905, I was taken sick and did not think I could live any length of time. My trouble was with my heart and people told me that nothing could be done for a case like mine. I consulted the very best doctors, but they could do me no good. For seven weeks I could hardly cross the floor. I had no peace but was weak and nervous. I could believe how I felt. I had given up all hopes of living and had given my little girl to my sister-in-law."

"One day a friend came to see me, and calling me by name, said, 'Lizzie, if I were you I would try a dose of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as they are good for heart trouble.' My husband got me a box, but for two days I was not feeling any better, but on the fourth day my husband said, 'I believe those pills are doing you good.' I was able to say, 'Yes, I feel a good deal better this morning.' He said, 'Well, I will get you another box right away.' I took two boxes and three doses out of the third one, and I was perfectly well and have not been sick since then."

"I will never be without them in my home for God knows if it had not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I would not have been alive now."

JOHN D. BROADENS SCOPE OF GIVING.

Bill Introduced in Senate to Establish Rockefeller Foundation.

Measure Enables Oil King to Spend Millions in Any Philanthropy in World.

New York, March 2.—Star J. Murphy, one of the incorporators named in the Gallinger bill to establish the Rockefeller foundation, said yesterday that he did not know what endowment the foundation would have.

"The bill introduced at Washington today," said Mr. Murphy, "is intended to broaden the scope of Mr. Rockefeller's philanthropy, and is almost identical in form with the act of Congress of 1902 under which the Rockefeller educational fund was authorized. The new bill makes it possible for Mr. Rockefeller to go into any form of philanthropy in the world, whereas the first endowment was specifically limited. The fact that the incorporators in both instances are almost identical simply means that Mr. Rockefeller believed that their experience will be of benefit in future work."

Estimates of Mr. Rockefeller's past benefactions and present fortune vary largely. It is estimated that in charity he has put out a leader—Andrew Carnegie—and the best opinion is that Mr. Rockefeller has given away something approaching $120,000,000 against $162,000,000 for Mr. Carnegie. The leading Rockefeller gifts have been:

General education fund, $55,000,000; University of Chicago, $25,000,000; City Medical College, $5,000,000; Institute for Medical Research, $1,300,000; churches (known), $3,100,000.

The rivalry between Rockefeller and Carnegie in getting rid of their riches has been the most friendly rivalry in the history of the world. When Carnegie gave $50,000,000 to Pittsburgh charities Rockefeller telegraphed him:

"You have my best wishes in all your grand efforts to help your fellow men. Believe and trust that our people from the country over will be stimulated to emulate your noble example. I believe that, unaided good would result therefrom."

Mr. Carnegie replied:

"Many thanks, fellow worker in the task of distributing surplus wealth for the good of others. I clasp your hand. Your congratulations are highly valued."

How much Mr. Rockefeller has left is even harder to guess than how much he has given away. In 1907 Frederick T. Landon said a Rockefeller's agents in charity said: "Mr. Rockefeller himself has authorized the statement that his fortune cannot exceed $200,000,000, and that in his most prosperous year his income has not been above $20,000,000. The holdings of Standard Oil stock are not above 2 per cent of the total issue outstanding."

On the other hand, the late H. H.

Rheumatic Families.

INHERIT A TENDENCY TO DISEASE.

Medical opinion confirms the view that rheumatism and gout are transmitted from one generation to the other.

Only by combating nerve and blood weaknesses can these be prevented. If they exist in the family, they develop quickly when the blood becomes impure or the nerves weak.

Early in life I was occasionally troubled by aching pains in the back. Later my joints became stiff in bad weather, and lately gouty conditions developed.

These troubles, I knew, were very common in my family. I can recall how stiffened up my grandfather was from enlargements of the joints.

"A specialist in New York told me that only by maintenance of the most rigorous conditions could these family predispositions be prevented. Because of his advice five years ago, when Ferrozone was first introduced into this colony, I began a systematic building up of my system. The New York specialist's advice was justified in my case, and I presume it is generally true."

"Before six months had passed I had gotten rid of every vestige of rheumatism and my health, too, was visibly improved."

"For rheumatism, gout and general bodily weakness there is no remedy like Ferrozone; try it, 50c per box, six boxes for $2.50, all dealers, or the Carruthers Company, Kingston, Ont."

Aftermath of Stock-Taking

is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather and may be recognized by a tightness across the chest, sharp pains and a difficulty in breathing, a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color coming from the bronchial tubes when coughing, especially the first thing in the morning. Cure the first symptoms of bronchitis by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Miss Martha Bourget, Little Pains, Que., writes: "Last spring I was very poorly, had a bad cough, sick headache, could not sleep, and was tired all the time. I consulted two doctors, and both told me I had bronchitis, and advised me to give up teaching. I tried almost everything but none of the medicines gave me any relief. One of my friends advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I had scarcely taken the first bottle when I began to get better and when I had taken the fourth bottle I felt as well as ever, my cough had left me and I could sleep well."

"Dr. Wood's" is the original Norway Pine Syrup. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark and the price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited Toronto, Ont.

Sandwich, March 2. — The suit brought by Frank Davey and wife for $1,000 damages against the City of Windsor and Wallace Fox for injuries sustained by Mrs. Davey in tripping over the hose of a day-cleaning outfit, was settled at the assizes here by the payment by Fox $325. The city was relieved of responsibility.

SEINE RISING AGAIN.

Paris, March 2. — The continued rainfall has raised the level of the River Seine to 21 feet 5 inches today, equaling the flood maximum of 1882. The water is again pouring into the mouths of the sewers. The weather, however, is gradually improving, and the authorities believe that the river will not rise further.

Half a Chance

The Great New Serial Story of Adventure by FREDERICK S. ISHAM
Author of "Under the Rose," "The Strangers," etc.
Copyright 1909, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

For some time nothing save these sounds was wafted to the listener; then a loud disappointed voice, sounding above another voice, came from the half-opened door. John Steele stood still no longer; great hazard, almost certain capture, lay before him in the direction he was going; the street this garden led to would be watched, but he could not remain where he was. Already his enemies were moving about in the neighborhood; soon they would flash their lights over the wall, would discover him, unless he moved quickly forward. As he neared the house, more imposing than Captain Forsythe's, a stream of light poured from a window; through this bright source he darted quickly, catching a meeting view of people within, several with their faces turned toward him. Close to a side of the square-looking house he paused, his heart beating fast—not with fear, but with a sudden, fierce anger at the possibility that he would be caught thus; no better than a mere

But needs must, when the devil drives; the devil was driving him hard now. To attempt to reach the gate, to get out to Surrey road—little doubt existed as to what awaited him there; so, crouching low, he forced himself to linger a little longer where he was. As thus he remained motionless, sharp twinges again shot through his shoulder; then, on a sudden, he became unconscious of physical discomfort; a plan of action that had flashed through his brain, held him oblivious to all else; it offered only the remotest chance of escape—but still a chance, which he seized, determined to take it. It had come to him while listening to the merry voices from the room near him talking of the gay dinner just ended, of the party at the theatre that was to follow.

Already cabs were at the door; the women and the men, several of the latter, flushed with wine, were ready to go. A servant walked out and unlocked the gate, and with light badinage the company issued forth. As they did so, John Steele, unobserved, stepped forward; in the semi-darkness the party passed through the entrance into the street. Taking his place along the last of the laughing dimly-seen figures, John Steele walked boldly on and found himself a moment later on the sidewalk of Surrey road. He was walking, as if to take it; of a light, feminine voice and an abrupt exclamation of surprise, of the quick drawing back of fluttering skirts. But he did not stop to apologize or to explain; walking swiftly to one of the last cabs he sprang in.

"A little grand first driver," he called out. "To—," and mentioned a street—"as fast as you can." His tone was sharp, authoritative; it implied need for instant obedience, rang like a command. The man straightened, touched his horse with his whip, and wheeling quickly they dashed away.

As they did so, John Steele thought through the cab window, he saw, at the gate, the company gazing after him, obviously not yet recovered from their thrill of surprise following his unexpected action. He observed, also, two men on the other side of the street, who now ran across and held a brief altercation with one of the cabs. As they were about to enter the cab several persons in the party apparently intervened, expostulating vigorously. It was not difficult to surmise the resentment of the group at this attempted seizure of a second one of their cabs. By the time the men had explained their imperative need, and after further argument were permitted to drive off, John Steele had gained a better start than he had dared to hope. But they would soon be after him, with haste; yes, already they were dashing hard and furiously behind; he lifted the lid overhead, in his hand a sovereign.

"Those men must not overtake us, cabby. Go where you will, you understand."

The man did. His fingers closed quickly on the generous tip, and once more he lashed his horse. For some time he continued to drive, now skirting the confines of the park, now plunging into a puzzling tangle of streets; but wherever they went the other cab managed to keep them in sight. It even began to creep up nearer. From his pocket John Steele drew a weapon; his eyes gleamed ominously. The pursuing hansom drew closer, casting a hurried glance over his shoulder, he again called up to the driver.

"It's no use, gov'ner," came back the reply. "This 'oss 'as been out longer than 'is."

John Steele turned the first dark corner and slowed down a bit; only a second, afterward, go on your very best as long as you can."

Another sovereign changed hands, and shortly after the vehicle dashed into a side street. It appeared as likely by place as any for his purpose. John Steele, hardly waiting for the man to draw rein, leaped out as far as he might. He landed without mishap, heard a whip snap furiously, and darted back into a doorway. He had just reached it when the other cab drew near; for an instant, he felt certain that he had been seen; but the

NAME ON EGG WINS HUSBAND

Bedford, Ind.—Miss Daisy Talbott, a farmer's daughter near Bono, wrote her name and address on an egg, which was sent with others to a wholesaler. The latter shipped the egg to Decatur, Ind., where it was bought by Joseph Palmer, who wrote to Miss Talbott. Letters were exchanged, which resulted recently in a wedding.

pursuers' eyes were bent eagerly ahead.

"This'll mean a fiver for you, my man," he heard one of them shout to the driver. "We've got him by—"

A harsh, jubilant cry cut the air; then they were gone.

John Steele did not wait; replacing the weapon in his pocket, he started quickly around the corner; his cabman could not lead them far; they would soon return. As fast as possible, without attracting undue attention, he retraced his way past the house and out of the tortuous thoroughfares; by shops from whence came the smell of frying fish; down alleys where smaller lurked. Although he had by this time, perhaps, eluded the occupants of the cab, he knew there were others keenly alert for his capture whom he might at any moment encounter. To his fancy every corner seemed to be a trap; he did not underestimate the resources of those who sought him or the cunning of him who was the chief among his enemies.

Which way would he move? At that moment the city's multitudinous blocks seemed like the many squares of an oriental checker-board; the problem he put to himself was how to cross the city and reach the river, the river, there to make a final effort to look for—What? A hopeless quest!

His face burned with fever; he did not heed it. A long, broad thoroughfare, as he walked on, he could see unfolded itself to his gaze; one side of this highway shone resplendent with the flaring lights of numerous stands and stalls displaying vegetables and miscellaneous articles. A hubbub assailed the ear, the voices of nuncios; and hawkers, vying with each other to dispose of their wares; like ants, the pedestrian throng thronged the pavement near these temporary booths.

About to turn back on this animated scene, John Steele hesitated; the road ran straight on, and toward the destination he wished to reach, while on either hand lay a network of devious ways. Amid these labyrinths, even one familiar with the city's maze might astray, and again he glanced down the single main road, cutting squarely through all intricacies; noted that although, on one side, the lamps and the torches flared high, revealing every detail of merchandise and incidentally, the faces of all who passed, the other side of the thoroughfare seemed the more murky and shadowy by comparison.

He decided, crossed the street; lights glared in his way. He pushed his way through the people unmolested and strode on, followed only by the noise of passing vehicles and carts; then, without warning, he was stopped, on the other side, apart from the headlong busy stream. A suspicion of mist hung over the city; through it, people after assumed shapes unreal; above the jagged skyline of mountains, the heavens had taken on that sickly hue, the high dome's jaundiced aspect for London in autumn.

THE GRAND'S RAMPAGE

Ontario Government Asked to Help Prevent Annual Floods.

[Special to the Advertiser.] Toronto, Ont., March 2. — A large deputation waited on the Ontario Government today to present requests of cities and towns along the Grand River for aid in preventing the annual floods. There were representatives from Brantford, Galt, Elora, Hespeler, Paris and other places. At times the river is a raging torrent, carrying down its banks, its wake, at other times it falls to insignificant proportions, impairing the value of the water powers connected with it, and otherwise diminishing their utility and detracting from the beauty of the scene. The petition to the Government to investigate by commission or otherwise the entire subject, including the present troubles, and their cause and best remedies to be adopted to mitigate the evils, together with plans of necessary work and with estimates of cost of same.

THE INSURANCE BILL

Senate May Finish With Measure by End of Week.

[Special to the Advertiser.] Ottawa, March 2. — The banking committee of the Senate has made substantial progress with the insurance bill this morning, and the indications are that they will finish their work on it this week.

The provisions allowing Canadian property-owners to effect outside of Canada insurance on Canadian risks and have them inspected and adjusted by unlicensed companies were reported by a sub-committee appointed for that purpose and the report was adopted.

The life insurance clauses were then taken up and a contentious point was settled by agreeing that there should be policyholders' directors on the boards of Canadian life companies, and that shareholders should be ineligible to act as such directors.

FLOODS IN OHIO.

Cleveland, O., March 2. — Fully a thousand persons homeless, other thousands living on the second floors of their homes, traffic impeded, and business almost at a standstill, are the situation in Ohio today, the result of the recent floods. While the high water has receded somewhat in most river valleys, in others danger from ice gorges is threatened.

STRIKE AT MANILA.

Manila, March 2. — Following the refusal of the owners to grant a series of demands, the crews of the inter-island steamers struck today, tying up the vessels and so holding the mails. The strike breaks a two-years' pact entered into by the owners and crews last fall.

COLLISION AT SEA

R. M. Steamer Tagus Run Down a Schooner Off Jersey Coast.

New York, March 2. — The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company steamer Tagus ran down the schooner Republic in the fog about 20 miles east of Barnegat on the New Jersey coast today. The Republic was damaged to such an extent that call for assistance was sent out for her. There was no report of any damage to the Tagus.

The Republic's request for assistance was answered from this port, the wrecking tug Relief sailing shortly after 9 o'clock.

The Tagus stood by the Republic to render any necessary aid pending the arrival of the Relief.

NICELY NABBED

Windsor Patrolman Does Clever Stunt in Chasing a Fugitive.

Windsor, March 2. — Patrolman Wigle got a tip last evening that William Garvey, 25 years of age, wanted by the authorities for four months for theft, was in the Grand Truck yards.

Wigle got there in time to see Garvey on the rear of an engine on a freight train.

Wigle knew a passenger train was about to leave and running to the station caught it. When the passenger train overtook the freight near Walkerville, Wigle jumped off and nabbed his man.

THE BALKANS AGAIN

Three Nations Ready to Act to Prevent a Conflict.

Berlin, March 3. — Though the German foreign office admits the seriousness of the present crisis in the relations of Bulgaria and Turkey, it does not take a completely pessimistic view, but still hopes that an appeal to arms will be avoided.

This confidence is based on the fact that the new regime in Turkey has made domestic questions its chief concern, has no interest in going to war, and may therefore be counted upon to do its best to restrain the ardor of the war party.

On the other hand, King Ferdinand has always proved himself such an accomplished diplomat that confidence is felt that he will also do everything to avoid a war with Turkey. It is not disguised, however, that the Bulgarian army is in a high state of efficiency, and desires nothing better than to try conclusions with Turkey.

The powers are resolved not to permit an armed conflict. The foreign office states that Germany, Austria-Hungary and Russia will immediately step in to prevent a war which would seriously disturb the status quo in the near east, which they have just signified a desire to see maintained.

CAUTERIZED BY PRIEST, SHE DIES

Father Montnerri Says He Only Made Use of a Remedy Common in Italy.

New York, March 2. — Rev. Father Innocent Montnerri, a priest attached to the Church of Mary, Help of Christians, in the East River, was yesterday by Coroner Feinberg in an investigation of the death of Maria Logiudici, last Thursday. The coroner is inquiring whether the cauterization given by the priest to relieve the woman contributed with pneumonia to her death.

Isidore Costanzo, a secret service agent, heard of the case, and looked up Dr. A. Crocchi, who had been called, but arrived too late to see the patient.

He found the body in charge of an undertaker, who called attention to burns on the abdomen of the deceased, according to Costanzo, said the wounds were terrible and had been caused by "burning" iron. The doctor's written statement was shown at police headquarters, and Father Montnerri was taken to the tomb's corner.

Father Montnerri said that about 11 days before her death Mrs. Logiudici required the priestly offices. He found her in great suffering, and at the urgent request of her husband he blistered her abdomen with an aluminum button that he heated in a gas jet. This was a simple remedy that was common in Italy, he said, and one that he had often used. He showed the coroner scars on his hand, that he said were made the same way.

The heroic treatment seemed to help the woman, said Father Montnerri, for three days later the husband again summoned him and the cauterizing was repeated. What he did was intended as an act of mercy, he explained.

BRAZIL'S ELECTIONS.

Rio Janeiro, March 3. — Incomplete returns for the presidential election throughout Brazil indicate a victory for Marshal Hermes Fonseca, the former minister of war, who was nominated by a proclamation signed by 175 senators and deputies.

Dr. Ruy Barbosa, a senator and ex-speaker of the senate, who was nominated last August at the convention of the opposition party, was the only other candidate. Returns received up to an early hour today give Marshal Fonseca a great majority in the capitals of ten states, which practically assures him of victory. The figures received here give Fonseca 17,919 votes, Barbosa, 8,472.

A Little Diapiesin Makes Your Out-of-Order Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, Dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach, is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapiesin. If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs but a re-inforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak Stomachs should take a little Diapiesin occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Farmer and High Prices.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Now that every newspaper is full of expressions of the cost of living, and the reason for and solution of the evil, it seems an opportune time to give publicity to a few facts that are plain, and ideas that have occurred to the writer.

The tendency for all things is to move along the lines of least resistance; and so with the farmer; since the city has become more attractive for his boys than his home, in ways that are many, the native sons of the soil are ever migrating to the cities.

This will continue and labor for the farmer will be scarce, and prices for produce will mount even higher until the country home is made more attractive, both for the native sons and the emigrant who has labor to sell.

Experience has taught the writer that man raised on the farm is by far the most reliable, and if we are to get results from the fields it is to this class that we must pin our hopes.

Therefore, the thing to be desired is—keep the young men on the farms.

But how are we to do it?

Today the farmer is the most painstaking and hardest worker in the whole army of men. Why if he were paid for the brain-work and overtime of hard toil he would receive a greater salary than any city worker. But what does he get? Often and often bitter disappointment and a life of care and economy must be exercised to eke out a bare existence.

To my mind the farmer has never had a fair chance with the rest of humanity, and still in spite of this the sons of the soil have mounted to the highest positions in the land. To attain these exalted positions the farmer has had to be deserted and left far behind. But it was on the farm where true economy and the worth of things were learned: Lessons which usually stay with these men through life because the teacher was stern necessity.

If it were not that some or many poor are feeling the pinch of poverty through the high price of food, it would seem ridiculous to kick because the farmer happens to get a few cents more for his eggs or butter than of yore when we hesitate not to pay any old price to see a show that happens to come to town.

The real difference is that in the former case the money stops in the country and returns to the spender again, but in the latter goes into the pockets in most instances of some stocks or show concern that has no home or even country.

It is not that our farmer gets so much above what he did years ago when it is compared with the extra expense he is put to in the production, but it is the middle men who are getting the benefit of the present condition of affairs of the farmer is practically at the mercy of the merchant and the middle man, and this condition has been brought about by the disgraceful state of the highways.

At the seasons the farmer wishes to market his crops the roads are in such a condition that he cannot come to town with a load and he, therefore, railway and who sets the price to the consumer. Here, at least, are two profits tacked onto the price the farmer originally got for his produce. Better, the system is not satisfactory.

People who buy would be better pleased if they knew where the stuff came from and how long it had been handed about before coming to them.

If someone is to get the extra price that city folks are kicking about, why should it not go where it belongs—to the farmer, who worked for and produced the necessary things we must have? Has he not a right to the full of what he has earned and produced? The farmer has been the slave for the rest of the world and when it comes to giving him a fair deal we all put up a royal kick. Until the mass of the people learn that it is to the interest of all to give the farmer facilities for trading direct with the townspeople, by giving him decent highways upon which to come to town, high prices will continue and the property will not go into the pocket of the farmer either; and until the people as a whole demand that adequate highways shall be constructed and maintained throughout the country, so long will the young farmer desert his home for the more attractive life in the city, and so long will there be neglected farms and high prices.

When a city's streets get vile and dangerous who raises the row? Is it the patient worker? No, it is the businessman and the man of pleasure. The former says, "My business suffers from bad streets," and the man of pleasure says, "The streets are positively dangerous."

Who loves the country more than the city man, yet he cannot live there because he cannot conveniently get about. There are no good roads so he is also forced to live where life is easy—in the city, and consequently,

GRAIN TRADE IS DULL

Canada Is Being Undersold in the British Market.

Toronto, March 2.—I have scarcely known such a dullness in the grain trade of Canada, or at least, in this portion of the country," said Mr. C. B. Watts, secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Millers' Association today.

"The demand is bad all over," continued Mr. Watts. "The price of export grain seems to be too high, for it is not in demand, and Canada is being undersold in the British market. Even in our own Province there is not the demand there should be."

Asked if the price was abnormally high for the time of the year, Mr. Watts replied, "No, I don't think so. If I remember rightly it was a little higher last year than it is this year. It is not quite so high as United States grain even then. We are just at present waiting to hear as to the stocks throughout the province. There are very few stocks at present, as confirmed by us, that frost has got at the crops in Essex and Kent Counties, and practically ruined them. If the crops of other parts, however, are equal to expectations they will offset this disaster."

Canadian Mining Institute Takes Exception to Some of His Statements.

Toronto, March 2.—At the opening session of the annual meeting of the Canadian Mining Institute this morning what was practically a vote of censure on Hon. Clifford Sifton, chairman of the conservation committee, was passed. It was moved by R. E. Riggstock, seconded by J. E. Hardman, of Montreal, and carried. "That the Canadian Mining Institute regrets that the chairman of the conservation committee, Hon. Clifford Sifton, has made statements reflecting on the mining and metallurgical practices of Canadian companies without being fully acquainted with the facts." The resolution followed the address of the president, Dr. Miller, provincial geologist for Ontario, who, in the course of his remarks, took exception to Hon. Clifford Sifton's statement at the meeting of the commission on conservation respecting the number of accidents in Canadian mines and responsibility therefor. It is expected Dr. Adams, of McGill University, Montreal, will be unanimously elected president of the institute.

THE COCKNEYS PROVE FINER MUDRUNNERS AND GET AWAY FROM NORTHERN PLAYERS IN SECOND HALF OF GAME ON SLUSHY ICE

Fourteen Hundred Fans See Home Hopes Work Visitors Off Their Feet in Contest for Intermediate Championship of Ontario Hockey Association.

"CROW" CARROTHERS SHOWS GREAT FORM AND HELPS THE LOCALS TO WIN

Capt. "Cupid" Bernhardt Another Star—Good Old Lifting Match Turned the Trick When Forest City Men Started in to Break the 3 to 3 Tie—Referee Wettlaufer Might Have Been Drowned.

The London hockey team paddled their way to victory last night, defeating the Collingwood septette 6 to 4 in the first game of the finals for the intermediate O. H. A. championship.

The game was a good one, considering the ice. The term "paddled" is used advisedly in discussing the contest.

The ice was covered with a nice clean coat of water before the game commenced.

At quarter-time there was more water and piles of slush.

At half-time the skaters were almost lost in the muck, and at full-time the same held true.

The players found the going extremely tough, and were a weary set of demoralized athletes when the supper bell rang.

It was impossible to get a line on the teams.

The mix-up was not a test of either team's strength, and no judgment could be formed of the seven's relative merits when the going is good.

Mud-Runners Only Could Stand the Gaff.

Both showed themselves great mudrunners in the game last night. Fast, accurate passing or hard shooting was out of the question, and only one rush worthy of the name of combination was pulled off.

Collingwood had the distinction of manipulating this, and it resulted in the only score tallied by the northerners in the second half.

All the rest of the time the players struck out alone, trusting to fortune and bad bounds to get scores.

On the form last night the locals had it on the visitors in every way. They skated faster, checked back better, and shot more frequently and with better direction.

They had fully three-quarters of the play, especially in the second half, and the sailors were fortunate to escape with so favorable a score.

"Crow" Carrothers Star of the Game.

All the London team played real hockey. It might be mentioned that Mr. "Crow" Carrothers was the heavy artillery man for the locals in this position.

The big boy never showed to such good advantage as in this mix-up. He played his check completely off his feet, and in addition carried the fight right to the enemy's goals.

He shot scores of times, and only the worst kind of hard luck kept him from adding many notches in his stick.

He did get one goal, but that was a poor return for his hard work.

"Cupid" Bernhardt was also there all the way. The diminutive cover-point was in the muck all the time, and never failed to get going.

He was clean both at offence and defence, and showed regular class.

Mallen was also in his best form. However, the midjet was given a very great deal of attention.

Every time he started anything about three Collingwood men made a race for him, and he was smothered.

However, he kept pegging away, and got the goals.

Jimmy Orr, Producers, Casselman and Pearson were there also.

Fryer Collingwood's Best.

While speaking of players, it would not do to omit mentioning Mr. Fryer of Collingwood.

The gentleman with the peroxide that has been here on former occasions, and his ability was always respected, but last night it was a different story.

He was the whole plant for the Collingwood team, and was one of the bright bonanzas of the game.

This boy is some.

The Cook family also grabbed a bit of the spot light.

Mr. Cook, it might be remarked, is a goalkeeper, and while the Cook clan have lost the honor of discovering the North Pole, the long, lean boy from Collingwood has discovered the safe and sane method of turning away deadly shots.

Last night there were more well-directed shots at him than there were in the battle of Santiago, in the recent Yanko-Spanko muck, but he kept all but six, and if that is not travelling at top speed, look out.

Goalkeeper Cook a Player.

He was a hand-painted daisy, make no mistake.

Cameron and Belcher looked the best of the rest.

The game had some peculiar features worthy of mention.

The first half was regular up-to-date hockey.

Of course, a lot of the finer points had to be omitted, owing to the condition of the ice, but both teams tried the real thing.

In the second half the locals varied the nature of their attack, and it worked wonders.

It reminded one of the brand of hockey in vogue when Noah was a boy. "1812 hockey," shouted Secretary W. A. Hewitt when he saw it tried.

It was no more nor less than the high and lofty lifting of the good old days.

The point and coverpoint would lift it high and dry, and the forwards would pile on top and take a shot.

It was old, but it was good, and that justified it.

It was the only sort of stuff to play under the conditions.

Referee Had Nasty Job.

Eddie Wettlaufer refereed, and as usual he did it extremely well.

Once during the first half about five players were scrambling for the puck, considering the hard ice, and it was not until the second half that a shower of water directed over Eddie that he had to ring that bell for help.

The crowd gave him a gentle laugh for it, but it illustrated the dangers of his job.

He might have been drowned.

There was little roughness.

The number of penalties were very few, considering the hard ice, and there was little or no deliberate roughness.

London won the toss and elected to defend the west goal.

After receiving their instructions both teams started off very fast.

London Carried the Battle.

London took the battle right up to the visitors, and proved their quality as mudrunners.

Mallen and Producers both took shots on goal, but Mr. Cook refused to allow them to simmer in.

The Collingwood defence in a bad way. After three minutes play, he started a daisy. Cook stopped it, but Mallen got it on the rebound and put it through.

Two Visitors Put Off.

Cain got rough at this juncture and went off for cross checking. Cameron immediately followed for slugging.

The locals, even with the advantage of two men, could not score.

Fryer at this period played marvellous hockey.

After four minutes "Crow" at last notched a goal, making a beautiful shot. Several more were tried, but they could not get by Cook.

The game ended London 6, Collingwood 4.

Timers—Ken Murray, Berlin, Patterson, Collingwood.

TOMMY KILBANE BETTER IN PAUL SIKORA BOUT

Easily Entitled to Decision If Windsor Regulations Allowed Giving of Such.

Detroit, March 2.—Tommy Kilbane, in his bout with Paul Sikora at Windsor last evening, had so decisive a lead all the way through that there could have been no question as to the decision had one been given.

It was a grand battle, however, and the regulars the best of the club have ever staged. Not an idle minute marked the contest.

The first four rounds were lightning fast, and Kilbane all but had Sikora out in two of them.

Collingwood had the distinction of manipulating this, and it resulted in the only score tallied by the northerners in the second half.

All the rest of the time the players struck out alone, trusting to fortune and bad bounds to get scores.

The final game will be played in Collingwood on Friday night.

This announcement was made by Secretary W. A. Hewitt, of the O. H. A., last night.

As a result the London team will leave this afternoon at 4:25 for Toronto, remaining there all night, going to the northern town Friday morning.

"The game will have to be played," said Mr. Hewitt. "There is no use in delaying it.

"The ice will not be perfect, of course, but at this time of year you cannot depend on any ice. There may be some colder weather later, but the ice of the night will be gone, and it will be practically as hard then to get ice as it is now."

Caldwell, of Barrie, will referee. He is a good man, and will give satisfaction.

GOSSIP OF THE GAME
BY COVERPOINT

There was $510 to divide among the O. H. A. and each team after the expenses were paid. Each team got $170, and the same share went to the governing body.

That first goal of Collingwood's was rather fluky. It struck Jimmy Orr's skate and took a bad bound for Pearson.

There were not many Collingwood rosters on hand, but they made some noise. They had a regular choir with them, and sang some fine songs in the intermission period. Of course, there was not a Caruso voice in the gang, but it relieved.

It was rather a busy night for Eddie Wettlaufer. He got one shot amidships during the game, and it made the stout little Berliner think of a cool shady nook.

Producers and Fryer possess almost the same hued locks, and when both got going they simply painted the rink red. When it comes to speed, these boys make lightning look like a picture on the wall.

Casselman's high and lofty lifting put one of the gas lamps to the bad. It made the light very poor for Homer Pearson in the second half, but he stopped some nice shots.

Billy Hewitt, of the Toronto Star, secretary of the O. H. A., looked after the arrangements. Billy is extremely popular with the boys, of course, and spent the evening fanning with them.

The Collingwood boys were entertained at dinner by the locals after the game.

TREATMENT FOR RABIES AT TORONTO HOSPITAL

Provincial Authorities Secure a Quantity of Serum From New York.

Toronto, March 3.—Beginning today, Pasteur inoculation for rabies cases will be done in Toronto at the General Hospital, at a cost of $25.

Dr. C. A. Hodgkins, secretary of the provincial board of health, has returned from New York, bringing the news that Toronto is sufficiently near New York to allow of the transportation of the delicate serum. The bill of $25 must be paid in advance by the individual or by the municipality sending him in. A further charge of $1 a day will be made by the hospital, where additional hospital treatment is required. Persons requiring treatment should notify Dr. Amyot, of the Provincial Laboratory, or Dr. Brown, of the General Hospital, at the earliest possible moment.

MUZZLING ORDER GOES FOR SOME TIME YET

Minister of Agriculture Says No Intention of Cancelling at Present.

Ottawa, March 3.—In the Commons yesterday Hon. Sydney Fisher said that the outbreak of rabies in Western Ontario had seemed to call for some action by the Dominion authorities. The veterinary director-general had communicated with the Ontario authorities, and as a result of negotiations it was decided that the Dominion department of agriculture should issue an order to put certain parts of Ontario under a dog muzzling order.

The provincial authorities issued an order at the same time, that the municipalities should issue a similar order. He was not in a position to note any condition which would justify the cancellation of the order. Major Currie asked if there was any possibility of compensating farmers whose stock had been destroyed by mad dogs. Mr. Fisher replied that they would have recourse against the owners of the dogs.

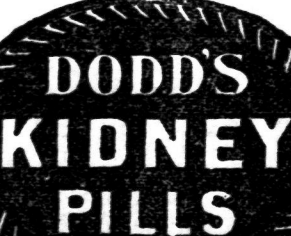

TRAINMEN APPEAL RE ASSESSMENT BASIS

Want Exemption Up to $1,500 on the Ground That They Have Double Expenses.

Toronto, Ont., March 3.—About fifty representatives of the working trainmen of Ontario formed a deputation yesterday called on Hon. W. J. Hanna yesterday to urge the Government to exempt the raising of the amount of their exempted incomes from $1,200 to $1,500. The brotherhoods of engineers, firemen and conductors were represented by men from all the big railway towns and cities of the Province from Kenora to Hamilton. They were introduced by several members, including Dr. Preston, the Conservative whip, and Messrs. Machin, Jessop, Torrance and Johnson. Mr. W. J. Lawrence, of St. Thomas, spoke for the engineers. He urged that an exemption of at least $1,500 be established, giving as his reasons the increased cost of living, and the fact that the working trainman had to spend from $200 to $400 extra owing to the amount of time he spends away from home. He did not want class legislation, and alluded to the proposal that all wage-earners should have the same exemption. Mr. Harry Hall, of Toronto, did not think that the exemption asked would be class legislation for the railwayman. The commercial traveller, also much away from home was not in the same class, because his expenses were paid by his firm. Mr. Hanna went over the whole matter with them, and, expressing his sympathies with their views, promised that the Government would consider their case.

LONDON HONORS T. R.

London, March 3.—The court of common council today unanimously adopted a resolution conferring the honorary freedom of the city on Theodore Roosevelt in recognition of "the distinguished services to civilization during his presidency and his efforts towards the maintenance of the peace of the world." Mr. Roosevelt will visit London in the middle of May.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

CRUSHING DEFEAT OF NICARAGUAN REBELS

Chamorro's Force Was Annihilated, Nearly One Thousand Being Killed.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, March 3.—News of the crushing defeat of General Chamorro at Tisma on Feb. 22 leaked out here today, and was officially confirmed by the Estrada Government.

Chamorro's force was wiped out and he barely escaped with a handful of his followers. His loss in killed, wounded and captured is given as 800. Chamorro reports that his opponent's loss was 1,000. He ascribed his defeat as due to the giving out of his cartridges. As a military menace the provisional army now seems to merit no higher classification than that of guerrillas.

Successful Recital. Another very successful afternoon recital was given yesterday by the Women's Glee Club in the Masonic Temple. It was a Glee day and the programme was arranged by Mrs. Ernest Smith and Miss Isabel C. Armstrong from the work of that composer. Those taking part in the recital were Miss Fenwick, Miss Dodo Simcox, Miss Effie Weid, Miss Juliette Steele, Mrs. Dockstader, Miss Marjorie Saunders and Mrs. Maurice Paine. The programme consisted of a variety of songs and recitations. The success of the recital was due to the excellent support given by the ladies, and the excellent supporting company, a handsome band, and the most notable organization on tour this season.

Madame Nazimova in "A Doll's House." The mere announcement that Madame Nazimova is to present "A Doll's House" on Saturday will be highly gratifying to those who have watched the success that has attended her three years' career of this notable woman on the American stage. Her performance of Ibsen women and the intellectual drama in New York and the principal cities of this country has created for her a following such as few women of longer experience have enjoyed. The Messrs. Shubert, Madame Nazimova's managers, have given her an excellent supporting company, a handsome band, and the most notable organization on tour this season.

ested in the power scheme. Then the row commenced. "I object to Mr. Elliott asking questions on Government policy," shouted Mr. T. W. McGarry. "I refuse to answer the question," said Hon. Adam Beck, taking the cue.

"The witness is capable of taking care of himself," Mr. Elliott informed Mr. McGarry. "One moment—" began Mr. McGarry. "I object to being interfered with," said Mr. Elliott. Several voices were raised at once, but Mr. Elliott went on with his question.

"Mr. Elliott is not putting his question as he was before. When he says he did he is stating what is absolutely and deliberately false," said Mr. McGarry. A great deal of disorder followed and Mr. McDougall jumped to his feet.

"You are out of order, withdraw!" he shouted. "You've no right to interrupt motives."

"I didn't," "You did. I ask the chairman's ruling."

"I rule that you and Mr. McGarry allow Mr. Elliott to proceed," said Mr. Ferguson.

A Bear Garden. "We're not going to allow that sort of language here," said Mr. McGarry, coming to Mr. McDougall's rescue. "You're turning this place into a bear garden."

"I insist on a ruling," said Mr. McDougall. "We've given one," said the chairman. "Then, I'm not going to stay," the member for Ottawa declared, and he marched out of the room.

Took It Back. Mr. Elliott insisted on a ruling, and demanded that Mr. McGarry take back the offensive statement. Mr. McGarry did so, but the committee adjourned, and no further information was obtained on the question.

The row is characterized as one of the sharpest in some years. Mr. Elliott was certainly well within his rights in asking the questions he did, but the Conservative members seemed very loath to allow any information whatever to be given out.

NEW TENDERS FOR FIRE HOSE

No. 3 Committee Decided Last Night to Ask for New Figures.

SQUIRE TAYLOR LOSES

City Has Full Confidence in Market Clerk Maker and Weigh Scales Clerk Dean.

Tenders will be called for immediately for 2,000 feet of hose to augment the amount at present used by the fire department. This was decided after some discussion at the session of No. 3 committee last night.

An imposing deputation from East London was present to lend weight to a petition from East London citizens asking that a steamer be purchased for the East End Hall, which petition was favorably received by the committee, though no definite action was taken.

A large number of other matters of minor nature were also attended to. The motion that 2,000 feet of hose be purchased was presented by Ald. Fitzgerald and Rose.

"I don't think that we should economize in this matter," said the mayor, when Chairman C. Armstrong showed a tendency to favor cutting down the amount. "It is certainly poor policy to economize in fire protection," was the opinion of Ald. Rose.

The motion finally passed unanimously. East End Fire Engine. A largely signed petition was presented from the citizens of the East End, asking for an extra steam fire engine, to be stationed in the East End Hall.

Mr. Thomas Shaw urged that the East End was situated a mile away from the central fire hall, where the only steam engine was kept. That part of the city comprised nearly one-third of the population and one-third of the area, and it was a matter of life and death for the people there. The people there were paying extra insurance because of the lack of means to fight fire.

Mr. Arthur W. White said that factories were moving in that direction, yet the water pressure at present was not sufficient to give three streams. A large main west to east was necessary, and the principal cities of this country had fire protection, but with a fire engine, he thought, that in cases of necessity the engine could draw from the other services.

Chief Aitken stated that the cost of another engine would be about $5,500, while a hook and ladder truck with equipment would amount to $2,500. It would also require ten men and five horses to operate the proposed apparatus. "Another fire engine in the East End," said Mr. Fred W. Coles, of the Globe Tackler Company, "would, I believe, have saved us half our loss."

Mr. George Belton was of the opinion that if there were a big fire in the East End everything would have to go, and strongly urged the necessity of a new engine to cope with the growing conditions in this part of the city.

Chairman Ashplant assured the deputation that the matter would be given the most serious consideration of the committee. Some Charges Made. Some charges were made against Market Clerk Maker and Chas. Dean, weigh scales clerk, and for a time the discussion waxed fast and furious.

Mr. P. B. Burt, who presented a complaint entered by Mr. Taylor, it was urged that the two gentlemen in question, paid officials of the city, had purchased market commodities on credit, and used the credit to augment their salaries. It was urged that a man trafficking on the market could not act impartially. It was also said that these gentlemen showed prejudice, and that the business should not be allowed in connection with their official position.

Mr. Dean definitely denied that he ever accepted a commission for anything that he had done, and that the business should not be allowed in connection with their official position. He also denied that any favoritism was shown in the treatment of people on the market.

"What about bad language?" asked Ald. Jeffries. "I haven't spoken to Mr. Taylor in two years," replied Mr. Dean. Mr. Maker also emphatically denied that he had made any charge for buying goods.

"Often," he said, "people send a boy down to get a load of hay, and I have bought a load for him."

"I have always found Mr. Maker a good servant for the people on the market," he said, "and I think the city has two servants there that it would be hard to replace."

Resort to the Courts. Several other gentlemen spoke in the highest terms of the two officials in question. "I don't see that anything can be done," said one.

They Actually Cure Rheumatism

GIN PILLS PROVE IT.

It is one thing to claim to cure Rheumatism. It is quite another to do it.

Gin Pills bear out every claim we make for them are not a "favorite prescription" or a "marvellous discovery" or a "wonderful secret preparation."

They are simply a common-sense, scientific combination of medicines that have been used for centuries in Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, and Disorders of the Liver.

Ogden, N. S., July 1, 1909. "I have been troubled with Rheumatism so bad that I could not work. A doctor tended me and advised me to go to the hospital but all of no good until a friend told me to try Gin Pills. I did so and after using a few boxes I am perfectly cured. I am recommending Gin Pills. D. J. LAWLER."

There is no reason why Mr. Lawler's case should be any different from yours. He took Gin Pills and cured himself of Rheumatism. Why don't you take them and cure yourself? We will let you test them free. A sample of Gin Pills will be sent you absolutely free, if you write the National Drug and Chemical Company, Limited, Department G, Toronto.

REAL ESTATERS ARE NOT AFTER BAKERS

Say They Want a Standard Loaf and Will Pay Reasonable Price for It.

The Real Estaters are still following up the bread question, and at the present time are getting figures from all over the district, which they hope will prove that the bakers are charging the citizens of London too much for their bread.

It has been learned that bread is being supplied to people miles out of London for exactly the same price as prevails in the city," said a member of the association to The Advertiser.

A One-Sided Bill. "This whole business needs readjusting," said another member looking to me like a one-sided arrangement, decidedly in favor of the bakers. What chance is there of inspecting loaves, after they leave the bakery? Our association contends that the bread should be open to inspection at any time before it is delivered to the consumer. This business of only allowing inspection up to the time the bread leaves the shop is all wrong, and we will use every effort to have it done away with, and also to have a standard loaf. We want a two-pound loaf. Bakers are wrong in stating that we would not expect to pay more for it. We would pay any reasonable price, but we want a standard."

ST. JAMES ST. GIRL BITTEN BY A PUPPY No Blood Was Drawn But the Dog Will Be Destroyed. A 10-year-old girl residing on St. James street was bitten by a terrier puppy yesterday afternoon while she was in the yard of a neighbor. The terrier jumped at her and its teeth penetrated through her coat and dress and just scraped the skin on her side. No blood was drawn. The child's mother at once summoned the side walk police, and the dog was notified. Mr. Crowe's office. He treated the slight marks with an antiseptic solution, and no serious results are expected. A very large crowd of people, and the police are looking into the case, and will destroy the dog, as it is stated that it snapped at people before.

A RECORD CROWD IN HYMAN HALL

Rival Euchre Players Finished to a Tie Last Night.

The largest crowd in the history of the Liberal Club was present last evening to take part in the contest between the Globe Casino and South London Liberal Clubs, for the handsome trophy donated by Mr. W. T. Strong. After the play was concluded the score was a tie—27 points each. The finals will be played to-morrow night at the South London club. Mr. R. Welsh won the individual prize, donated by Mr. James McCormick. Minstrel practice will be held this evening. A full turnout is requested. Arrangements for the minstrel show are progressing very favorably, and it promises to be a great success.

FOUR SCORE PERISHED IN AVALANCHE HORROR

Great Northern Passengers Have No Chance, Being Buried 48 Hours.

Everett, Wash., March 3.—It is now almost certain that the death toll in the avalanche that carried away two Great Northern trains and several electric locomotives will total 82. Few believe that any of the 67 listed as missing will be found alive, for it is now more than 48 hours since they were buried beneath the tons of snow and ice and twisted wreckage that swept over the ledge of the high line and dropped in a heap to the bottom of the canyon, 200 feet below.

The rescuers themselves are in a perilous position, for the danger from snowslides is not over. Warm winds, accompanied by frequent showers, are melting the snow, and the loose snow, which is 18 feet deep on the level, and hanging down the steep slopes. Rumors current last night that one of these avalanches had buried the rescue party cannot be confirmed. No news of such a disaster has been received at Skykomish, the nearest telegraph office to the scene of the disaster. The Great Northern division office here has received no word of it.

A LONE WOODMAN EATEN BY WOLVES

Fought a Fierce Battle For His Life—Ally, Mo., Scene of the Tragedy.

Springfield, Mo., March 3.—James Smith, a woodman, was eaten by wolves in the woods, near Ally, yesterday, after fighting a desperate battle for his life. The wolves attacked the man while he was alone, awaiting the return of a brother. When the latter returned he found his brother's bones in the centre of a circle of five dead wolves, while an empty cooking rifle showed that he had been overpowered before he could reload the weapon.

NICARAGUAN REVOLT PRACTICALLY ENDED

Bluefields, Nicaragua, March 3.—The insurrectionary movement, headed by Gen. Estrada, against the Nicaraguan Government, has been practically crushed.

The insurgent campaign in the west has petered out, and nothing is left to the provincials but a resort to guerrilla warfare, encouraged by the desperate hope that the United States may yet intervene in a wish to put an end to the disturbed situation in the republic.

FRENCH ROUT TRIBESMEN

Casablanca, Morocco, March 3.—The French column under General Monnier surprised and routed, with severe loss, a band of Arab tribesmen, who recently murdered a French officer. The French in this attack lost two killed and thirteen wounded.

EAST LONDON LONDON CANNERS TO CENTRE ON TOMATOES

Local Concerns To Be Part of a Grant Merger Shortly.

The merger of the Canadian canneries which is being completed, will materially effect London in that it is the intention to make this city a special centre for the canning of tomatoes.

Mr. Gorman, of the firm of Gorman, Eckert & Co., stated to The Advertiser today that he expected that his firm will be one of those in the merger.

"Parties were in the city last week and looked over our plant," he said, "and we expect that when the merger is completed we will form part of it. It is likely that a large addition will be built to the factory, and also that it will be used exclusively for the canning of tomatoes. It is as far as I know the policy of the merger to develop different products in the districts most favorable to them. London is a great centre for tomatoes. It is likely that a great many more will be grown around here in the future."

Mr. Bates, of the London Canning and Evaporating Company, stated that his firm has a standard loaf, and also that he wished to deny any reports that it was.

EAST ENDERS FEEL THEY'LL WIN OUT

Members of Deputation Are Confident City Will Place Steam Engine in No. 2 Station.

The members of the deputation of East London businessmen who waited on No. 3 committee of the city council last evening to present a petition for a fire engine for No. 2 station are confident that their request will be granted.

Those on the deputation were Messrs. J. W. Coles, of the Globe Tackler works; J. K. McDermid, of the Sen-Sen Chicle Company, formerly C. R. Somerville's; Arthur White, of George White & Sons; George W. Bellon, of the Sargent, owners of lumber mills; Manager King of the street railway company; Mr. Mower, of Gorman-Eckert Company; Mr. Thomas Shaw and others.

The matter was laid over until the next meeting of the committee, and in the meantime a report will be received from the fire chief.

Wait for Underwriters. The committee will not make any recommendation until after the visit of the underwriters' inspector.

Mr. Arthur White objected to the move at the meeting, stating that the engine would not be purchased for the protection of the fire underwriters, but for the property-owners. Mr. George Belton also showed where the city's money was being spent. He stated that the taxes of the city come from East London, which has 35 factories employing well over three thousand men.

The Big Mains. The East Enders are taking a deep interest in the question of big mains and a fire engine, and will enforce their demands by frequent visits to the committee and council, as well as to the water commissioners.

Mr. A. W. White was at the city hall this morning obtaining data regarding the main service in that section of the city, and was given a chart of the city, showing where are situated water mains.

"We are going to press our claims to the fullest extent," said Mr. White. "We want an engine right away, and we will have it bigger mains in the very near future."

FATHER DIED IN BRIER CREEK, SASK

Word Received by Mrs. C. E. Howard, of 793 Adelaide Street.

Mrs. C. E. Howard, of 793 Adelaide street, received word this morning of the death of her father, George Cockburn, at Briar Crest, Saskatchewan, where he had resided for the past seven years. Previous to that time he was a resident of London and London Township.

Mr. Cockburn was in excellent health, but no particulars of his death were contained in the message. The body will be shipped to this city on Sunday, and will be held by Mrs. Howard's residence.

The deceased, who was in his 55th year, came to this country from Scotland 30 years ago, taking up his residence in London Township, where he lived until seven years ago, when he went west. His mother is still living in Scotland. He is also survived by his wife and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. C. E. Howard, Mrs. C. A. White and Mrs. Wm. York, of this city; Mrs. John Watson, of Toronto; Mrs. John McGee and Mrs. Hugh McGee, of Briar Crest, Sask.; George, of Borden, Sask., and Fred and William, of Briar Crest.

A Little Puzzled. "How does it happen then," asked Crown Attorney McKillop, "that you have $17 in your purse here, and that you have two $5 bills, one of them a Bank of British North America bill, similar to that stolen from Miss Anderson?"

Witness could not say. "You know you are not telling us the truth," said the court.

Mr. Fred Higginbottom, Grand Juror, assistant ticket agent at the depot, swore that on Tuesday morning Miss Van Buren came to the depot office and bought a single fare ticket to Detroit.

Found Guilty. "You are not telling us the truth at all," the court said to the woman, "and I must find you guilty. I fully believe that you stole the money and jewelry yourself and you have admitted taking the suit."

"Yes," said the girl. "I did it in a moment of sudden temptation."

"I find you guilty," said the court, "and remand you for eight days for sentence."

Whitney Bullard, for being drunk, was fined $5 or 10 days.

FONSECA ELECTED.

Rio Janeiro, March 3.—Marshal Hermes Fonseca, the former minister of war, has been elected president of Brazil over the opposition candidate, Dr. Rube Barbosa, ex-president of the senate. While his returns have not been received the vote as it stands at present gives Fonseca an overwhelming majority.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

BUTTER AND EGGS
WERE LITTLE HIGHER

Both Were Scarce Today on Local Market and the Demand Was Very Strong.

There was only a very small market this morning, considering that it is a regular market day, but the sales were very brisk.

There was a strong demand for butter and eggs, but they were practically unobtainable, save in very small lots, as a result the prices tended to advance. One buyer paid 2 1/2 a dozen for fresh eggs, and 1 1/2 a dozen for stale eggs, and the whole sale price for the latter was 25c by the case and 2c by the basket. Even at these prices, however, there was not enough offered to come anywhere near meeting the demand.

Butter Scarce.

Butter was scarce, and many anxious buyers had to turn homeward without having obtained the desired supply. What was offered, however, sold without change in price.

Vegetables were fairly plentiful and sold at moderate prices. Lettuce was in great demand at 4c a dozen, and a few new onions were offered at the same figure. Radishes at 5c a bunch and rutabaga at 10c a bushel, though there was only a comparatively small amount offered. Cabbages, turnips and potatoes were the most plentiful commodities, the latter being offered at 10c a bushel, and as high as 6c and 5c for individual bags.

There was quite a supply of apples offered, of very good quality, but the demand for them did not seem to be very brisk.

In the butcher's stalls, however, there was a great deal of activity. There was a fair supply of meat offered, but there was little chance in price, and only a very moderate demand.

Other prices remain as follows:

Grain.

Wheat, per bushel, 1.18 to 1.19
Oats, per bushel, 1.12 to 1.13
Corn, per bushel, 1.12 to 1.13
Barley, per bushel, 1.12 to 1.13
Rye, per bushel, 1.12 to 1.13
Clover, per bushel, 1.12 to 1.13
Timothy, per bushel, 1.12 to 1.13

Hay and Straw.

Referred to Bad Side.

At the lecture on Dr. Robertson, in the First Presbyterian Lecture Hall last night, reference was made to the numbers, especially of ladies, who had traveled the hard walking tour, and walks to attend. The Rev. Mr. Macbeth said that in the little town of Paris the police would get after the people and take them to the police station, but he presumed London was such a large place it took the police longer to get after them. Mr. Macbeth evidently did not know London and its ways.

SEARCHED BY GORY HAND

Bloodstains in Murdered Man's Pocket

Suggest Robbery as Cause.

Parry Sound, March 3.—An important clue as to the motive for the murder of Michael J. Davis has been found on an examination of the clothing of the murdered man. Davis was fully dressed when killed and blood has been found on the lower edge of his vest and in his trouser pockets, showing that after killing Davis the murderer put his blood-stained hands in the murdered man's pockets. This gives color to the theory that Davis had been talking of a loan on his farm to the murderer as well as he had done to others, and that robbery was the motive. This is the only discovery reported.

SEVENTH REG'T. WILL

HONOR THE DATE

Notice To Be Taken of the 25th Anniversary of Departure for Rebellion.

A reunion to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the departure of the Seventh Regiment for the Northwest to take part in putting down the Riel Rebellion, will be arranged by the officers of the regiment at that date. Col. A. M. Smith, Col. W. M. Gartshore, Capt. Geo. M. Reid and others have the matter under consideration, and it is probable that a banquet or some form of celebration will be arranged for April 7. There are a large number of the veterans in London and vicinity, and it is expected that a very interesting time will be enjoyed.

OSLER TO RESIGN

Toronto, March 2.—It is rumored that Mr. Justice Osler will resign the bench, and that in the near future he will become president of the Toronto General Trusts Company. It is said that he will retire on full salary. He has been 30 years on the bench.

A COLD STORAGE PLANT FOR CHEESE

Fair Board Will Provide One in the Dairy Building—The Poultry Committee.

A cold storage plant for cheese will be installed in the dairy building at the Western Fair this year. Secretary Hunt made this announcement at a meeting of the dairy and honey committee of the Western Fair, which was held in the fair offices yesterday afternoon. An appropriation for this work had been made by the executive and financial committees.

It is expected that this will materially add to the number of exhibitors, as heretofore the fact that there has not been any protection for cheese has prevented many from exhibiting. Offers were received from the Canada Salt Company of Windsor of a silver cup for the best-making competition.

A Silver Cup.

The A. M. Smith Company, of this city, also donated a silver cup for the cheese, scoring the highest number of points. It is also expected that there will be quite a number of other prizes donated by city merchants and manufacturers. The judges in this department were then chosen.

In the house section on account of the absence of a couple of members of the Beekeepers' Association, who were to meet the committee, business in this section was adjourned till a week from Saturday. It is expected that the results of this meeting will be the arrangement for a practical demonstration of the care of bees.

Those present at the meeting were: Mr. Wm. McNeil, chairman; Messrs. W. J. Reid, J. M. Gillon, R. S. Hunt (Scottsville), Frank Hens, J. Miller (Kaling), George McCormick, W. McNeil and A. M. Hunt.

Poultry Committee.

The poultry committee met in the evening, and arranged for the distribution of the $250 extra prize money, granted by the executive at their last meeting. Fifty cents will be added to the first prizes in every section, thus putting the list practically on a par with Toronto.

In the pigeon classes the prizes were made $1 25, 75 cents and 25 cents. The pigeon classes were also revised, according to the list sent by the Pigeon Association.

A communication was received from Mr. Donovan, of the Poultry Review, offering a bronze medal for the poultry department, to be placed as the committee sees fit.

The fourteen silver cups donated by the Poultry and Pet Stock Association will be competed for again this year.

Those present at the meeting were: Ald. Saunders, chairman; Messrs. W. J. Reid, Wm. McNeil, R. Oke, W. A. Guernsey, R. McCurdy, John Pringle, George McCormick and A. M. Hunt.

CATHOLIC RECORD

PAYS TRIBUTE

London Looks Forward to the Day

When Bishop Fallon Shall Arrive.

The Catholic Record says: We are pleased to be able to announce that the probable date has been named for the consecration of the new Bishop of London, Ont. On the 23rd inst. the bulls arrived in London.

The bulls, and were conveyed to the bishop-elect in Buffalo by the Rev. J. T. Aylward, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral. It is expected that the consecration will take place in the Cathedral city of this diocese on Monday, April 25. This date will be a day that will mark a notable event in the history of the Diocese of London. To the administration of its spiritual affairs will come one who has, we may say, an international reputation for all those qualities that combine to make an ideal bishop of God's Holy Church.

He brings to us youth and strength, and may we not hope, therefore, that his administration will be given length of years—he brings to us an intellect matured and brightened in the great schools—he brings to us personal characteristics which will make him beloved by priests and people alike.

He brings to us a character which will make his life work an inspiration to all to become devoted children of the mother church and ideal citizens of our great country.

London Diocese has reason indeed to be proud of the choice which has been made. One and all in Ottawa and Buffalo congratulate us most heartily upon our good fortune in the possession of an ideal bishop. From those cities, on the day of consecration, will come a large concourse of Catholics, old and dear friends of the new bishop, to offer congratulations and renew in a pleasant degree the friendships of old.

London looks forward with joy to the day when it will have an opportunity of extending to Father Fallon a welcome warm of Catholic faith, and a pledge of fealty to him in all his undertakings.

Premier of Being a Separationist.

Ottawa, March 3.—Mr. T. W. Crothers, West Elgin member, carried on the naval debate yesterday.

Others who took part in the discussion were Messrs. Nantel, Roy, Montmagny, and Dubeau, all from Quebec.
